SANTA FE - Governor Bruce King thinks New Mexico's "exports" of its college graduates and daughters is too high.

And he told the Governor's Presidential Conference on International Trade here late last week that he has appointed an Advisory Committee on Critical Employment Problems to work on the problem.

King said also that "the climate is ripe for New Mexico to enter into an extensive export promotional program of its manufactured, mined and farm-branch products."

The task force is composed of the personnel directors of major New Mexico firms, the placement directors of New Mexico universities and colleges, the state personnel director and Department of Development Director William C. Simms.

"The duty of this task force is to make New Mexico executives aware that we must hire New Mexicans first," King said. He added that "all any prospective employer has to do is to contact the placement officers of the state institutions and inform them of current vacancies in order to be put in touch with prospective employees."

Relating exports of products to jobs for both white and blue-collar workers, King pointed out that, nationally, exports account for about three million jobs.

To increase New Mexico's exports and achieving a favorable balance of payment, King said the DOD's export expansion program would be directed toward increasing export production of those firms already in existence and reducing imports, establishing U. S. markets for New Mexico products, and attracting into the state new industry that would sell its products outside New Mexico.

DOD Director Simms told conference participants the export expansion section "is to see that all available opportunities are brought to the attention of New Mexico manufacturers, agricultural firms and producers, and to provide the impetus for capitalizing on such opportunity."

He emphasized the DOD stands ready to assist firms of any size to succeed in export endeavors.

"Programs are being designed to aid the small manufacturer or producer who is interested in exporting," Simms said, "but who does not have an international trade department or expertise in the export field."

He noted that smaller firms, which often tend to manufacture specialized products, "are more likely to find export markets than larger firms manufacturing a general product."

To speed up exports, Simms said, the DOD's export expansion section will perform four basic functions: trade promotion, through trade mission, various international trade meetings and state exhibits; research, including the preparation of studies on international trade; coordination of promotion and research on agricultural exports; and promotion of foreign investment in the state of New Mexico.

The conference, attended by more than 120 New Mexico business, agricultural, manufacturing, mining, transportation, banking and education executives, was called to bring attention to New Mexico's export problems and to describe possible solutions and supportive services.

Speakers were Thomas Deseve, Washington, D. C., deputy director, Marketing Support Services, Department of Commerce; Philip McCallum, Washington, D. C., deputy vice president, Overseas Private Investment Corp.; Bureau of International Commerce (OPIC-BIC); Joseph R. Williams, Washington, D. C., loan officer, Export-Import Bank of the United States (Eximbank); John C. Clark, Washington, D. C., Board of Directors, Eximbank; and Alfred Granum, Albuquerque, president, Regional Export Expansion Council; Simms and Gov. King.

Describing some of New Mexico's export problems, the governor said that, according to a U. S. Department of Commerce report, this state was the only one in the union with lower foreign sales at the end than at the beginning of the 60s.

"The major depressant in New Mexico's trade was the slump in foreign sales of primary metal products," King said. "These shipments declined from the $10 to $25 million range in 1963 to between $1 and $5 million in 1969."

Earnings from agricultural exports have also dropped in recent years, he added. In fiscal 1969-1970, five cents of every dollar earned by New Mexico farmers were derived from foreign sales, compared with nearly nine cents on the dollar in fiscal 1965-66.

New Mexico shipments of potassium, which accounted for about 85 per cent of U. S. production in 1969 and accounted for the major portion of the nation's foreign sales of potassium compounds, dropped when large Canadian shipments to the U. S. caused a drop in domestic production and also competed in foreign markets.

Six Grizzly tracksters qualify for state meet

Six Carrizozo High School speedsters have qualified for competition in a statewide track meet set for May 12 and 13 at Albuquerque.

They are Koen and Andre Hoff, a brother team of distance runners, and medley relay team members Willie Gallegos, David Roper, Gaby Chavez and David Lee.

All were standout performers in District 5-AA competition last Saturday at Artesia, a meet won by Jal High School with team points totaling 123. The Grizzlies were second with a total of 62 points.

Individual events went like this:
440-RELAY: First, Jal, 4:8. Carrizozo was fourth with 46.4.
120 HIGH HURDLES: Jal, 15:2. Carrizozo's Matt Ellison placed sixth.
100-YARD DASH: Won by Ruidoso's Frank Calderon, 10:2.
440-YARD DASH: Won by Gary Harrell, Hagerman, 51:3.

GOP Women host candidates

Republican candidates for county offices were guests of the Lincoln County Republican Woman at their luncheon meeting held Tuesday in the Medallion Room at the REA building in Carrizozo.

Kenneth Vega, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vega, presented the flag for the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Harriet Kline offered a prayer.

The candidates were introduced by the club president, Mrs. Gerald Tully of Glencoe. Candidates present were:

Mr. Paul Pacheco of Arabela, candidate for county commissioner, District 1; Mr. Bud Payne, Carrizozo, candidate for county commissioner, District 2; Mr. Leroy Acker, White Oaks, also running for county commissioner, District 2; Dr. Kuhn, Ruidoso, candidate for probate judge.

Barbara Lovelace, a Lincoln County resident for nine years, and present assistant county clerk, is a candidate for county clerk, Julia Samora, Carrizozo, candidate for the office of county assessor has been a special deputy in the office 6 years and deputy 4 years, and Mabel Vigil, Carrizozo, incumbent county treasurer, seeking a second term.

At the business meeting which followed plans were made for a meeting in June at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pfingsten for the annual Flag Day picnic for members and their families. The July meeting will be held at the Block Ranch with Carol Canning as hostess. The August meeting will be held at the Pacheco Ranch at Arabela.

A fund raising project of the club is the sale of Liberty Bell Wind Chimes.

GOP announces platform panel

ALBUQUERQUE-Willard Lewis of Las Cruces, state Republican Party Platform chairman, has announced a schedule of regional hearings around the state "to give interested groups and persons an opportunity to contribute information and testimony to the 1972 Republican Platform."

Lewis said that groups will have the opportunity to present both oral and written testimony to the advisory committee. He explained, "we have divided the state into regions and scheduled public hearings for each area pertaining to a specific subject. We are encouraging greater participation by all citizens that they might have direct input to Republican Party activities. We believe our system can work if people will get involved in the decision making process. This is their chance to get involved."

He explained that "grass roots" meetings at the county levels will also be held and will be publicly announced as they are scheduled.

The schedule of public hearings is as follows:
Southern New Mexico hearings will be held as follows:

May 20 at 1 p.m., Sierra County Courthouse, Truth or Consequences. Subject: "Law and Justice."
May 25 at 7 p.m., Chaves County Courthouse, Roswell. Subject: "Taxation and Fiscal Policy."

Former Zozo resident in USAF war games

A 1965 Carrizozo High School graduate - now Air Force Lieutenant Manuel Torres - took part in mid-April in Strategic Air Command (SAC) missile combat competition at Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

Lieutenant Torres, a missile launch officer in the 351st Strategic Missile Wing at Whiteman AFB, Mo., competed with other top missilemen from SAC's six Minuteman and three Titan wings.

He represented his Minuteman unit as a deputy combat crew commander.
During the annual meet, combat crews matched their skills in electronic, computerized simulators which are virtually identical to operational launch control centers at SAC missile bases.

Fed, State Foresters Issue Danger Warnings

SANTA FE-ALBUQUERQUE - "Extreme fire danger" exists in New Mexico's forest regions, State Forester Manuel Ortiz said again this week - despite recent scattered rains over the state, including in some parts of the Lincoln National Forest.

The Ortiz warning was echoed by a federal forest agency spokesman - Regional Forester William D. Hurst.

Said Hurst: "So far this year (as of the beginning of this week), 292 man-caused fires have burned 3,161 acres in Southwestern National Forests - 89 fires in New Mexico burned 1,860 acres and 203 fires in Arizona have burned or damaged 1,301 acres." (A five-acre fire in the Lincoln National Forest between Cloudcroft and Mescalero - caused by the crash of a Holloman AFB-based F-4 jet fighter-bomber - was isolated and contained over last weekend. See related story, Page 1.) Hurst last weekend ordered fire and smoking restrictions in all of New Mexico's National Forest areas except for the Carson and Santa Fe Forest in the northern part of the state.

He said the ban became necessary "because of extreme fire danger brought about by hot, dry and windy weather of the past several weeks." The federally-ordered ban prohibits open fires anywhere in the forests of New Mexico and Arizona except in Forest Service camp and picnic grounds unless a fire permit is obtained from a local Forest Ranger.

Petroleum-fuel stoves may be used without a permit - but only in the camp and picnic grounds, the order said.

Smoking is also forbidden by the Hurst order - except in vehicles with ashtrays (and then only on surfaced roads) and in Forest Service camp and picnic areas.

Ortiz, meantime, said he hesitated to order a statewide fire closure - which would restrict use of fires on state and private lands outside of municipalities "because of hardship." He said: "Such a closure places hardships on farmers and ranchers using open fires for the sustenance of their crops and livestock."

However, Ortiz urged "extreme caution" by persons traveling and working in the forests and rangelands of the state.

"I am reminding everyone," he said, "not to burn forest debris, weeds in-irrigation ditches and trash on days when winds is high, humidity is low or high temperatures are expected..."

"Many fires have resulted within the last week from what landowners believed to be 'controlled' fires."

Ortiz reminded that fires on state and private lands should be reported to any of his regional offices, including the State Forestry Service district office at Capitan.

In addition to the plane crash-caused blaze on the Mescalero Reservation last Saturday, a number of smaller fires occurred in the Lincoln National Forest over the last weekend - most of them believed to have been caused by lightning. The News was told by a Forest Service spokesman.

Boosters banquet slated for Wednesday

The Carrizozo Athletic Banquet Wednesday, May 18, at 7 p.m. at the Carrizozo School Cafeteria. All school athletes, including the girls basketball team members, will be honored at the event.

Don Maynard, New York Jets star, will be the principal speaker. He is a native of Pasaosa and played football at Texas Western before his pro career. Students will be selling tickets this week in Carrizozo. Adult tickets are $1.75 and student tickets are $1.25. Adults are asked to sponsor a student for the banquet, according to Fred Chavez, chairman of the organization.

Air crash points up fire dangers

MESCALERO - The crash near here last Saturday of a Holloman AFB-based F-4 Phantom jet fighter-bomber pointed up the critically-dry state of the Lincoln National Forest and adjacent terrain.

The plane went down in rugged country near Nogal Canyon on the Mescalero Apache Reservation - in a northward-pointing finger of the reservation to the west and north of Cloudcroft.

Approximately five acres were set afire by the crash; the fire was isolated by fire fighters from the reservation, plus National Forest Service slurry planes flying from Alamogordo. Five slurry missions were flown.

Crews watched the area for about 48 hours, a Bureau of Indian Affairs spokesman at Mescalero said.

Two airmen died in the crash - Captains Harold E. Bethel, 31, and Bob Evans, 30, both of the 49th Tactical Fighter Wing which has been ordered to overseas service.

A public information spokesman at Holloman said Bethel and Evans were on a routine training mission at the time of the crash. No cause has yet been assigned. The crash is being investigated.

It was the second fatal crash of a Holloman-based aircraft in a 10-day period: Another F-4 went down April 27 southwest of Corona, killing Captains Steven E. Bowman, 31, and Geoffrey Lamantia, 25. The April 27 flight was also a routine training flight, a Holloman spokesman said.

Crenshaw re-trial unlikely: Bloom

The trial here of Robert (Bud) Crenshaw on a charge of aggravated assault ended in a mistrial and is "not likely" to be re-tried, District Attorney Norman Bloom of Alamogordo said Wednesday.

Crenshaw was accused specifically of "pointing a rifle" at Deputy Sheriff Leandro Vega last November.

Parents can get teenagers to talk

LAS CRUCES—Getting teenagers to talk about their problems is one difficulty many parents share. But more teenagers will talk about their disturbing conflicts if parents handle the situation correctly, believes Leo Yates, extension family life specialist, New Mexico State University.

Perhaps rule one in parent-teenager communication is for the parent to listen, he adds. When a young person rushes in with something disturbing, silly or trivial, he needs a listener. Often he is not looking for an answer, he just needs someone to talk to.

If the parent says, "I'm busy, tell me later," or "Ask your teacher," and closes the door, he may close the door of communication between himself and his teenager for a long time.

In addition to listening, a parent needs to learn how to hear, Yates says. Catch the feelings expressed by using your parental "inner ear." The words "Daddy, may I come in?" may really mean, "Please include me in your life."

After listening to your teenager, try to avoid asking unnecessary questions. One of the biggest complaints teenagers about parents is that they quiz "like F.B.I. agents."

Sorority Founder's Day

BETAS MARK ANNIVERSARY — Delta Theta chapter joined Xi Beta Epsilon and Gamma Theta chapters of Corona to celebrate the 40th anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi. The affair took place at High Country Lodge at Alto.

Attending were: Linda Allen, Jackie Brown, Judy Eschberger, Patsy Gustin, Beverly Luna, Sue Sanchez and Eva Wilborn. Delta Theta chapter will hold a Bake Sale May 13 at Mountainair. The sale opens at 10 a.m. and proceeds go to the "Dale Goar Fund."

Corona sorority hears talk on floral design

Xi Beta Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its 87th regular meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Rogene Alford with President Sherrill Perkins presiding. Plans were finalized for the Founders' Day dinner to be held in Ruidoso jointly with Gamma Theta and Mountainair chapters.

Members voted to buy a $15 dollar ad in the high school yearbook. Words given were "heather and health."

Roll call was "What natural materials in your locality may be used in flower arranging?" Answers included wood, rocks, branches, winter fat, yucca, devil's claw, ram and deer horns, and cow chips.

Mrs. Jack Davidson, Jr., presented a program on "Fun and Flowers" developed from the outline "The Home We Make." She stated that there are three types of flower arrangements: line, as used by the Japanese to represent heaven, earth, and man in their lovely works of simplicity; mass, full bouquets, and line-mass, which is a combination of the two.

Mrs. Davidson then gave five rules of design: It must have shape, a circle, oval, triangle, crescent or line, inverted curve or an S. It must have a focal point established, have harmony, have an effective rhythm in frozen motion, and have color harmony.

Mrs. Gary E. Caldwell was invited to repeat her talk on "The Art of Thinking" from the outline, "Conduct, Expression and Purpose", which she had prepared for Gamma Theta chapter. She defined thinking as more than exercising the mind and said that we should program our minds to a purpose and then center our lives on accomplishing it. We build character, even with the set backs, while achieving our purpose, we improve concentration and study habits by controlling the mind, she said.

A social evening followed with table and refreshments highlighted by the birthday cake and its five candles. Orange flowers formed the centerpiece and matched the hostess' attire. She served coffee, lime sherbet punch, egg rolls, alopias, nuts, mints, and the cake. Present were Mrs. John D. Holleyman, Mrs. R. Arch Perkins, Mrs. Rand Perkins, Mrs. Frank Sultemeier, Mrs. John Tracey, Mrs. W. T. Tyree Jr., Mrs. Caldwell, Sherrill Perkins, and Mrs. Alford.

MERIT SYSTEM:

It has been the practice in Lincoln County for many years that with each new administration, many county employees who did not belong to the same party as the incoming commissioners were discharged. This patronage system has been a costly affair for our county — in that new employees must be trained and expensive mistakes are often made. As your county commissioner, I'll keep experienced, capable employees on the job through a county employee merit system.

Inside the capital

Santa Fe-Sens. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and George McGovern of South Dakota emerged as top contenders for New Mexico's 18 national convention votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace is a threat in New Mexico to move into the top two voter getters in New Mexico's first presidential primary June 6. Washington Sen. Henry Jackson halted active campaigning in primary states after a poor Ohio showing. But Jackson's name will still be on the New Mexico ballot. Only the top two vote getters will share New Mexico's 18 votes.

Maine Sen. Edmund Muskie's New Mexico organization continued to campaign for him, although Muskie also stopped active campaigning in primary states. Muskie's name also remains on the New Mexico ballot.

Humphrey benefited from the Jackson and Muskie pullouts. A New Mexico Humphrey campaign organization was finally assembled. Mrs. Gloria White of Clovis is chairwoman. Her husband, Ken White, is Humphrey Curry County Coordinator. Taos County Humphrey leaders are V. B. Martinez Sr., Betty Martinez and Fernando Dominguez of Taos and Rose Gonzales of Questa.

Humphrey headquarters merged in Albuquerque with Jackson headquarters. Drew Cloud, New Mexico Jackson manager, will be state Humphrey co-chairman with Albuquerque lawyer Paul Demos, ex-administrative assistant to U. S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya. Montoya was a 1968 Humphrey delegate.

Senate-running Lt. Gov. Robert A. Mondragon, born in La Loma, Guadalupe County, says his primary campaign budget is only $5,000. Bob, 31, predicts 40,000 votes will win the Democratic nomination in a total turnout of 150,000. June 6. Mondragon, a liberal, appeals especially to young, liberal and minority voters. He is easily the best know of 9 Spanish-American surnames in the huge 25-candidate field.

Moderate-conservatives Jack Daniels of Hobbs and Tom Morris of Albuquerque and Tucumcari were rated as the leaders but Mondragon could surprise. Atty. Gen. David Norvell of Clovis and Santa Fe was mounting a well-financed campaign in the key U. S. Senate Democratic race with heavy labor support.

Meanwhile, Reginaldo Espinoza III, 33, of Santa Fe and Espanola, says he is campaigning statewide in the same race. Espinoza planned to canvass Carrizozo, Ruidoso and Sierra County early this week. He says he campaigned in Quay, Curry, Lea and Guadalupe Counties last week.

Esposito co-owns a Santa Fe vending machine firm with Joseph M. Montoya Jr. Young Montoya, son of the junior U. S. senator, seeks the Democratic nomination for a State Senate seat in the Albuquerque Valley in the primary.

Esposito's father, Reginaldo Espinoza of Santa Fe, is a Republican state highway commissioner.

Ex-Santa Fe Mayor George Gonzales, 34, campaigned Sunday in Guadalupe County bidding for the Democratic nomination in U. S. House District 1. Gonzales says he counts supporters in both the Taos County Democratic Vigil and Duran factions. A professional entertainer, Gonzales is staging a colorful campaign with his singing and guitar playing. An entourage of musicians, dancers and singers accompany him to many rallies.

Gov. Bruce King named Albuquerquean George P. Jackson to replace Pete Sahd of Penasco. Sahd resigned from the State Parole Hearing Board to run unopposed for the Republican nomination for the State Senate in a Taos-Mora-San Miguel-Counties district. Incumbent C. B. Trujillo of Taos faces Philip G. Vargas of Taos and Carlos D. Lopez of Santa Fe in the Democratic primary.

Gov. King endorsed his 15 judicial appointees for election. Included was District Judge Filo Sedillo, D-Belen, in the 13th District (Valencia and Sandoval Counties). Sedillo is unopposed for his party's nomination.

Valencia County Democratic leaders Bolso Romero and Ramon S. Ortega endorsed State Treasurer Jesse D. Kornegay of Santa Fe in the Democratic U. S. Senate race. Romero is Valencia County Democratic Party vice chairman. Ortega is a ward chairman. Ortega withdrew from a county commission race.

The Highway Commission will open bids May 19 on a Curry County project, 3 of one mile long from about 2 miles south of the US-70-NM-18 junction toward Clovis. Drainage construction is the major part of the project. The commission will also open bids on landscaping on US-60 at Cannon-Air Force Base main gate in Curry County.

Annual public school budget hearings so far have produced these changes in superintendents' salaries: Springer, Fred Pompeo, up $700 to $13,700; Maxwell, Oliver Newton, up $300 to $11,300; Cimarron, Joe Pompeo, up $770 to $14,770; Raton, C. E. Williams, replaced by Russell Knudson, down from $17,500 to $16,500; Clayton, Taylor Stephenson, up $715 to $13,715, and Des Moines, Robert Parnell, replacement unannounced, up $500 to $12,000.

New Mexico Republicans set a series of platform hearings preliminary to the state GOP convention July 15. A hearing on law and justice is slated May 20 in Sierra County Courthouse at Truth or Consequences.

Your Weekly Horoscope

May 13 through May 19

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You, Ari, are a person who cannot not-love. Whether honest or carefully, love tends to dominate your major decisions. Remember this in week ahead. Hold reins lightly as far as emotional commitments are concerned. Week ends quietly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Week filled with much activity. Taurus honey. Expect the unexpected and you will manage to get through the week just fine. Message arrives to cheer your spirits and warm your heart. If you plan on plunging into deep waters financially, keep your water-wings handy. Share problem with trusted friend. By verbalizing what bugs you you feel better. Week ends on note of inner peace.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Dispute with daily associate can be avoided if you use your head. Gem. You are big on words, but in this case, words will only turn cooling waters into a raging blaze. Keep your trap shut. By your silence you win over adversary. As week ends, your heart may tend to meander. Take care. The grass which appears greener, just may be a well-tended lawn of weeds.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Friendly vibrations surround and embrace you in days ahead, dear heart. Do not be slow in responding to gesture made. Offer is genuine. Secret transmitted by end of week. No words are used. Be alert.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Spiritual union is heightened, and dominates entire week. Accept this wondrous gift from the gods graciously, and it will grow-and-blossom-into-something-of-rare-beauty.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): First part of week could be ruined by remark of addepleted twit, if you allow yourself to be put into compromising position. Virg. Steer clear of cozy corners. Avoid associates of questionable character. In short, my friend, be clever, crafty and circumspect.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): You hear news before third day. Others may be upset, but you are more sensitive, dear Lib, and you understand what is being said. Give it. Before week ends, something that seems sweet will be offered. Accept if you desire, but know this: After the sweetness fades, it may leave a tart taste on your lips.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Not wise to bare your soul to one who questions your behavior, Scorp. Do not lie, either. Just be evasive. Tatoo. This bit of advice on your forehead, dear one: "Always tell the truth, but don't ALWAYS be telling it."

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): The trees are green now, Sag, so get out and find yourself a river to sit by and listen to the birds sing. Observe Nature at her loveliest. Take someone you enjoy with you. It is possible that you could even fall back in love again. Week ends happily.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Temptation to lounge about and take things easy must be fought. What you desire in your career is waiting for you, if you motivate. Otherwise, one who is less able will snatch opportunity and you will wind up with naught.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Establish personal rapport with one who seems distant. This person wears many masks. You, Aquari, have ability to penetrate facade. Follow your hunches. Friendship benefits both of you.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Tick-tacky week ahead, Pisces love. Partner/mate may be unusually touchy. Observe warning signals and save yourself a hassel. Progress can be made concerning money matters if you seek expert advice before you act. Last day finds you bushed, beaten and totally tuckered-out.

Cattle, hog kill shows upward trend

LAS CRUCES - There were 34,000 head of cattle slaughtered in New Mexico in March of this year (latest total available), reports the state Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

That total is up 3,000 head from February of this year and betters March of 1971 by 2,500 head, the reporting service said.

Also up, according to the service, was the March hog slaughter total. A total of 10,500 head were killed last March, an increase of 1,600 over February and 2,500 head higher than for March of last year.

Red meat production in New Mexico for March totaled 21,061,000 pounds compared with 19,201,000 in February and 19,561,000 for March of 1971.

Farm slaughter of cattle and swine is excluded from the statistics of the reporting service.

Yearling sale draw scheduled at Downs

RUIDOSO DOWNS--The drawing to decide the sale positions in the All-American-Yearling Sale has been scheduled for June 10 in the All-American Turf Club at Ruidoso Downs.

The sale, an annual event, is open to Yearlings which are eligible for the following season's All-American Futurity.

In a recent meeting at El Paso, the All-American Sale committee, headed by Mike Coen, set the date of the sale drawing and put the drawing in the hands of the American Quarter Horse Association.

Among those attending the meeting were Don Jones, executive secretary of the American Quarter Horse Assn.; Art Johnson, president of Fortuna Corp. (owner of both Sunland Park and Ruidoso Downs); and Richard Thompson, Ruidoso general manager.

"The way prospects are shaping up, we're expecting about a 25 percent increase in the quality of sale yearlings," Thompson said. "We expect to catalogue 340-350 yearlings, and we're looking at a record sale gross of about $2 million and a record average sale of about $7,000."

In 1971 sale topped nine previous editions with a record total of $1,795,775 and an average of $5,647 per head.

The sale will be held in the All-American Plaza, a new sales pavilion which will be constructed on the track grounds. The Plaza will be located in the backstretch area, not far from the half-mile chute.

Thompson reported construction of the Plaza got underway this week. The completion date is July 1. Parking for 1,000 cars will be provided. This new area will also handle "overflow" parking during race days.

The new sales facility will measure 100 by 150 feet, and will have a seating capacity of 1,100. Total cost of the project—including the 120 stalls already constructed to accommodate the sale yearlings—is $115,000.

The '72 sale will be held Aug. 30, Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2. Each of the four sessions will get underway at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Kid Charge, who earned $200,842 for his win in last year's All-American Futurity, was a graduate of the '70 All-American Sale. He changed hands for a low $4,100.

Also at the El Paso meeting, approval was given for working out details on plans for a regional, live telecast of the All-American Futurity next Labor Day.

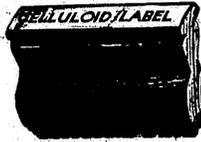

This year's addition of the All-American is expected to reach a gross purse of nearly $925,000, far surpassing last year's record $753,910. The All-American is the richest race in the world, by far.

With prices what they are today, trying to save is rough! We understand.

After all, most of us are in the same boat. We're trying to raise families and make budgets stretch—just like you. We know how hard it is to come up with an extra ten or twenty dollars a month for savings. But we also know how very important it is.

And less pleasant, but equally important things like large hospital expenses—or the time you might lose your job.

Stop by Citizens, and talk to Johnson Stearns. He'll be delighted to tell you about the different types of savings plans we offer for all kinds of budgets. Johnson is an expert at helping you decide which is right for you. You'll see. He understands.

And we just can't tell you often enough—save! Save! For vacations. College educations. Retirement income. A new home.

News from the County Agents' office

Fires . . .

All of New Mexico this week suffered from a shortage of moisture, cattle ranging especially being described as "extremely dry" in the weekly report of state Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Here is that report, for the seven-day period ending Monday:

Shortage of moisture continues to concern farmers and ranchers. Topsoil and subsoil moisture is reported short to very short in most areas. Scattered showers were reported over the State last week. A large number of cotton acres were reported hailed out in the Carlsbad area on Friday.

Harvesting of alfalfa is active throughout the State with the crop reported fair to good with tonnage in some areas reduced due to earlier frost. Plantings of corn, cotton and irrigated grain-sorghum continues. Very little dryland sorghum has been planted because of lack of moisture. Wheat and barley are heading but shortage of moisture will decrease yields. Irish potatoes are good. Lettuce harvest in the Mesilla Valley continues. Cattle are reported fair to good. Supplemental feeding continues in most areas. Sheep are fair to good. Some sales are reported due to lack of grass. Range conditions are poor to fair.

Small grains:
Dryland wheat is heading out. Acreage left for harvest is thin and short because of lack of moisture. Dryland wheat is being grazed out in many areas. Irrigated wheat is good and most acreage is in the jointing stage. Irrigated barley is heading out and is reported good in most areas. Very little dryland barley reported.

Cotton and alfalfa:
Cotton in southern producing areas is reported good. Planting continues in all areas although cool weather has slowed planting and emergence of the crop. Alfalfa harvest is underway in all producing areas. First cutting is nearing completion in the south while harvest is nearing the halfway stage in the north. Cool weather has hampered growth in all areas.

Miscellaneous crops:
Harvesting of lettuce in the Mesilla Valley continues. Onions are fair to good. Freeze damage earlier in the season virtually eliminated any prospects for apples except in scattered areas.

Range and livestock:
Ranges remain extremely dry in all areas of the State. Showers were reported in widely scattered areas last week, but much more is needed to "green up" the grass and eliminate supplemental feeding. Livestock remain in fair to good condition, mostly due to supplements. Stock water is becoming short in some areas.

Weather roundup:
Showers mostly in northeast half of State on weekend. Showers locally to half inch and to more than one inch at Carlsbad. Continued dry in southwest half of State. Lowest temperatures early in week warming to highest temperatures on Thursday then cooling. Temperatures generally averaged a little below normal except in Southwest.

Horses arriving for season kick off

RUIDOSO DOWNS-- The top 10 trainers from the '71 season at Ruidoso Downs will be back for the new meeting which gets underway on Saturday, May 20.

Dean McKinney, racing secretary, received stall reservations from Bill Thompson, C. W. Cascio, Bob Arnett, Cliff Lambert, Paul A. Smith, Carl Woolen, J. B. Montgomery, Gerald Marr, James Chapman and Perry Walker.

"We're pretty pleased at the way things are going," McKinney said. "It appears we'll have the highest quality horses in the track's history."

In the jockey department, the top pilots from last season are also headed toward the high country. The list includes Larry Byers, Willie Lovell, Richard Bickel, Jim Bannowsky, Jeff Thrasher, Luke Myles, Jerry Nicodemus, Jerry Burgess, Johnny Cox, Jack Wallace and Keith Asmusen.

McKinney reports some 300 horses are already on the grounds, getting ready for the new season. About 1,200 stalls are expected to be filled by opening day.

Starter Butch Murray of Phoenix plans to start schooling races from the gate this week. The track's $670,000 improvement project is just about completed.

Included in the renovation was a massive expansion of both the All-American Turf Club and the Jockey Club.

The Inaugural Handicap, a $3,500-added dash at six-furlongs, is expected to get the new season off to a winging start on opening day. Nominations will close May 15. Although it's a bit early to size up the potential candidates, McKinney expects much of the contention to come from such proven performers as Paso Peace, Cutarusty, Calimbo, Smack M Lips, Ataboy Jr., Caneslep, Ligero Diablo and Stubby's Kid.

Paso Peace, owned by Dr. Robert Butchofsky of El Paso, has the makings of a tough customer in the Inaugural. During the current Sunland season, Paso Peace racked up four wins—the last coming on March 25 when he lowered the five-furlong track record down to 56:4.5 seconds. Paso Peace will operate at Ruidoso out of the stable of trainer Chuck Mattox.

Trainers who already have portions of their stables on the grounds include Joe Welch, Dean Breyer, Jimmy Jones, J. B. Montgomery, Elmo Sanchez, Tommy Dean, Wendell Armstrong, Gerald Rich, Rex, Jack and Monty Brooks, Frank Chapman, Hugh Buffalo, E. R. Beddo, Budda-Werner, Vern Goodman, Jack Showmaker, George Cosper, and Don Farris.

The opening weekend also includes the Dale Robertson Stakes on Sunday, May 21. The 350-yard sprint is geared to three-year-olds and up. Included among the list of probable contenders are Cinder Leo, the national champ of 1970; the stakes winning Turf's Best; plus such Hard-Hitters as Native Empress, Past Carin and Barr Passum.

Watch for screwworms

Two confirmed cases of screwworms have been found in New Mexico — one in Otero County April 17 and one in Hidalgo County April 26. Drops of sterile screwworm flies were started in Hidalgo County April 21 and in the infestation in Hidalgo County was hot-spotted with sterile flies beginning May 1. Prevention of infestations and detection of infested wounds are of major importance. Livestock producers should treat all dehorning, castration and docking wounds as soon as surgery is performed. Treat individual wounds with spot sprays or give animals an overall spraying with Co-Ral or Korlan if large numbers have been operated on.

Examine animals frequently for wire cuts and other wounds and collect any worms that can be found. Treat wounds after collecting specimens. If no worms can be found in wounds, treat them with an aerosol spray containing Korlan (ronnel) to prevent possible infestation. Even wounds made by ear tags should be treated. When spraying for horn-flies or other summer pests, use Co-Ral or Korlan instead of insecticides that are not as effective against screwworms.

After collecting specimens from wounds, take them to your county extension agent, veterinarian, or livestock inspector. It is best to place specimens in alcohol, but clean water can be used. Addressed mailing tubes containing a vial of alcohol are available from county agents, veterinarians, and livestock inspectors.

If a confirmed case is found, livestock owners can have their entire herd sprayed at no cost, if they will corral their animals. All ranchers with positive cases should take advantage of this service. The Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program is doing all it can to stop this outbreak, but cooperation is needed from all livestock producers and pet owners. They must continue to inspect animals, treat wounds, and collect and send in samples for identification.

Lawn grasses do not thrive on reduced diets. If you want a beautiful lawn, there are several good management practices you must follow. Regular feeding is one of these practices. Although lawn grasses require all plant nutrients, they feed most heavily on nitrogen. Available nitrogen in the soil is unstable and is easily removed by leaching. If heavy applications of an available form of nitrogen fertilizer are applied, much is lost before the grass has need for it. For this reason nitrogen fertilizer should be applied in small amounts, but frequent enough to meet the plants needs. The so-called "slow release" fertilizers permits heavier applications without appreciable loss by leaching.

The consumptive use of nitrogen by lawn grasses is affected by many factors, such as variety, time of year, type and depth of soil, amount and frequency of watering, and mowing height. Bermuda and other warm season grasses usually require 5-7 pounds of elemental nitrogen per 1000 square feet per season while blue-grass and similar cool season grasses may require 7-10 pounds per season. Single applications should never exceed three pounds of nitrogen (elemental) per 1000 square feet, and 1-2 pound applications are preferable.

Federal regulations require that analysis of a fertilizer be listed on the package (e.g., 5-10-5, 16-20-0; 16-0-0, etc). The plant nutrients contained in the formulation are expressed in per cent of total by weight. Thus a 100 pound bag of Ammonium Sulphate (16-0-0) will contain 16.0 pounds of elemental nitrogen. If you wished to apply a sufficient amount of ammonium sulphate to deliver two pounds of nitrogen per 1000 square feet of lawn area, you would employ the following formula: 2:16x100=12.5 lbs. If you wished to use Ammonium Nitrate (42-0-0) then: 2:42x100=4.76 lbs.

An application of phosphorus may be needed annually on sandy soils, but probably only once every second or third year on loam or clay soils. Five to seven pounds of phosphate (concentration designated by the center figures in the fertilizer formula, 5-10-5, 0-45-0, etc.) should be sufficient for an annual application. Phosphorus moves very slowly through the soil and is not lost by leaching, permitting annual needs to be applied in one operation.

Potash, the last figure in the fertilizer formula, is seldom needed in New Mexico soils, and should be applied only when soil analysis indicates a deficiency.

Lawns often become yellow even after fertilizer has been applied. This condition is usually due to iron deficiency. To correct this condition, you may apply 1-3 pounds of Iron Sulphate or Iron Chelate per 1000 square feet. You will find it difficult to spread this amount over 100 square feet unless you mix it with about 7 pounds of sand, or the iron can be mixed with other fertilizers. Fertilizers containing iron are available, and are good in maintaining a lawn, but may not correct an existing deficiency.

Lawns should be watered immediately after each fertilizer application to carry plant nutrients into the root zone.

Quality of life seminars scheduled

LAS CRUCES—The New Mexico Environmental Institute Wednesday announced a series of environmental quality seminars throughout the state in May and June. Kieth Austin, extension leader in community resource development at New Mexico State University said the seminars would be held as follows:

- May 30, 4-H Center, Albuquerque, 1:30 p.m.
- May 31, Chamber of Commerce, Gallup, 2 p.m.
- June 1, City Schools Building, Las Vegas, 7:30 p.m.

Civil Service Job openings announced

ALBUQUERQUE—The Albuquerque Area office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission is accepting applications for Junior Federal Assistant positions for employment with Federal agencies in New Mexico. The positions involve support work in supply, accounting, personnel, general administration and other related fields.

An urgent need for persons with procurement clerk experience exists at the present time. Opportunities in other fields are limited. Starting salary is approximately $516 a month.

To qualify, applicants must have a minimum of two years of education above high school, or two years of responsible experience or a combination of both.

All applicants are required to take a written test which involves questions on vocabulary, reading comprehension, abstract reasoning and arithmetic. The test is given at a number of locations throughout the state.

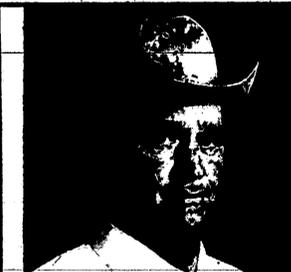

Interested applicants must apply under Announcement No. 411. This announcement and the application form for the written test may be obtained from the Federal Job Information Center, Federal Building, 421 Gold Avenue, S.W., Albuquerque, New Mexico 87101, or call toll-free in New Mexico 1-800-432-6837.

Applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, color, national origin, sex, political affiliation, or any other non-merit factor.

Two men were seated in a bus. One of them noticed that his friend's eyes were closed. "What's the matter, Bill? You feeling sick?" "No, I'm all right," answered Bill. "It's just that I hate to see all these ladies standing."

UNM students polled in the Senate tilt

ALBUQUERQUE -- Republicans have already chosen their candidate for the U. S. Senate but Democrats are in for a hassle, if a survey of students at the University of New Mexico is an indication of the mind of the state.

The poll of 1,200 students, conducted by the Statistics and Research Committee of the Associated Students at UNM, showed Pete Domenici with 62.8 per cent of the Republican students voting. David F. Cargo had 25 per cent and E. Lee Francis had 3.4 per cent. Still undecided were 8.3 per cent of those Republicans voting.

On the Democratic side, Robert Mondragon had a slight edge, with 13 per cent support from registered Democrats voting. Next was David Norvell, with 12.1 per cent, followed by Jack Daniels with 11.4 per cent, Jesse Kornegay with 5 per cent, Clarence Gaillard with 4.9 per cent and Tom Morris with 2.2 per cent. Over half the Democrats polled, 55.7 per cent, were not yet decided on support of any candidate.

Of students being polled, 50 per cent were registered as Democrats and 31.5 per cent were registered as Republicans. The remainder were independent voters or members of minor parties.

State labels Bonito 'good-fishing' area

The State Game and Fish Department's latest report on fishing conditions in southeastern New Mexico lists Bonito Lake as a "fishing good" area because of recent stocking.

The picture in other lakes in the area, according to the department:

Tularosa Creek -- Fishing fair; high winds. Nice fish taken during week. Pressure slow over weekend.

Alamogordo Lake -- Water level low. Fishing poor to fair. Some nice catfish taken on trollines in sheltered coves. High winds.

Alto Lake -- Not open yet. City has not finished with sanitary facilities.

Bonito Lake -- Fishing good. Recently stocked. McMillan Reservoir; Pecos River, above and below reservoir -- Fishing slow. Few catfish taken on trollines with prepared and cut bait.

Pecos River, Carlsbad Area -- Fishing slow. High winds.

Eunice, Greenmeadow, Lovington Lakes -- Some nice catfish and bass taken.

Chaparral Lake -- Opened last weekend. Fishing slow; Pressure light.

Bitter Lakes Refuge -- Some nice catfish taken on Refuge.

Lake Van -- Crappie and catfishing fair to good when wind not blowing.

The department reminds fishermen that the new license year went into effect April 1, and that they should be sure they have the valid 1972-'73 license before fishing. Fishermen are also urged to pick up a copy of the current regulations when purchasing licenses and check them over before going on the lakes or streams.

Lincoln May exhibit will be 'wooly' one

Wool -- and its spinning, dyeing and weaving, 19th Century-style -- will be a principal feature of the "Open House" opening at La Placita in the Tunstall Store in Old Lincoln May 20 and 21.

Spinning, weaving and dyeing of wool will be featured at the "Open House" of La Placita in the Tunstall Store Building in old Lincoln Town on May 20-21st.

Looms, spinning wheels and many types of weaving equipment will be demonstrated as the raw wool is transformed into yarn and the finished woven article.

On display will be skeins of wool that have been dyed with such natural dyes as walnut, mistletoe, sour dock, algerita, lambsquarter and juniper.

The open house is to mark the start of the second year of this exhibit reviving the ancient art of spinning. Many handmade woolen articles will be for sale -- no two alike.

The open house will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Also featured will be members of the Pen and Brush Club of Capitan, Noga and Carrizozo; Mrs. Dave Townsend and Dell Buchanan and weaving students of Alamogordo; Ernest McDaniel of Glencoe with macrame and woodcarving; handcraft by Mrs. Hob Lucero of Lincoln; and paintings and sketches by Walter Henn of Lincoln and others.

One more time for inter-tribal meet

GALLUP -- Thanks to one final delay of construction plans by the highway department, the annual Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial will hold its famed exposition "just one more time" on the grounds it has occupied since its founding in 1922.

While efforts continue to fund an expansion of the basic four-day event into a year-around cultural center, visitors will have one last chance to enjoy the colorful experience of immersion in Indian culture in the form and style the Ceremonial has maintained for the past 51 years.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR Commissioner of Lincoln County

PLACE 2 CAPABLE - WILLING

Your support is earnestly solicited. This is my first to be a candidate for public office. My teen-age years were spent on a combination horse and cattle ranch with some farming.

From age twenty to age 56 was spent in the Postal Service with start in Kansas City, Missouri, a stop over in Beaumont, Texas, and the finish in El Paso. The last ten-years at White Oaks as a retiree. I will try to meet as many of you as time and circumstances permits.

Being "A Jack of all Trades", I have many and varied interests. As a retiree, I have plenty of time to devote to Civic affairs.

It is your duty to vote June 6th either for me or against me, but do not default.

THANK YOU y GRACIAS

Capitan, New Mexico

Clean up days scheduled for Capitan's weekend

The mountain-surrounded Village of Capitan has a new face -- new school building, new bank building, several new stores, restaurants, bars, arts and crafts shops -- and the like.

But its old face was a little smudged. So Capitan's First Lady, Dorothy Johnson, has organized a face-lifting operation.

Clubs and individuals, the Forest Service -- state and national -- cooperating, the Village of Capitan is cleaning up.

Three trucks have been furnished. Plastic bags are available -- and the idea is that this week all debris in the Village will be collected.

Pickups of the trash thus accumulated will take place Saturday and Sunday at City Hall.

For more details, Mrs. Johnson is available to answer questions.

Among those taking part in the face-washing effort are the 4-H, the Women's Club, Lions, Junior Riding Club -- and, it appeared this week -- everybody in Capitan.

Johnson proclaims Capitan 'Progress'

Capitan Mayor Jay Johnson this week issued the following proclamation, in tribute, he said, to Capitan's continuing efforts to 'make itself a better place to live in and to visit':
 "Whereas, the Village of Capitan, blessed by Nature in its beauty and location; and
 "Whereas, the citizens of Capitan daily, individually and collectively, take great pride in their village, its past, present and most especially its future;
 "Now, therefore, I, Jay Johnson, Mayor of Capitan, do hereby proclaim May 13 through May 20
 "CAPITAN PROGRESS WEEK."

Wool -- and its spinning, dyeing and weaving, 19th Century-style -- will be a principal feature of the "Open House" opening at La Placita in the Tunstall Store in Old Lincoln May 20 and 21. Spinning, weaving and dyeing of wool will be featured at the "Open House" of La Placita in the Tunstall Store Building in old Lincoln Town on May 20-21st.

Old Original Smokey

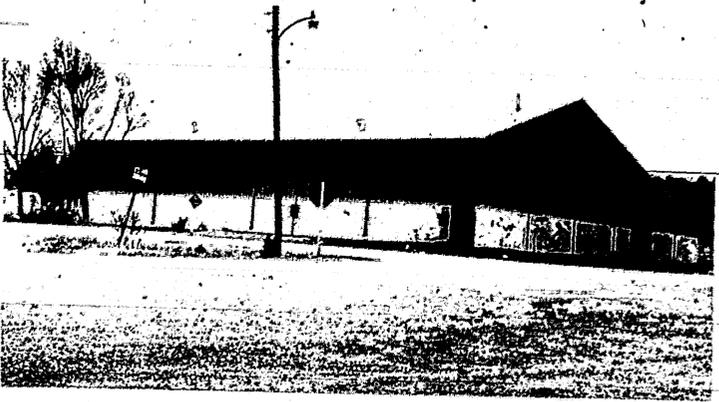

SMOKEY, a Capitan native, grew into an international symbol for good manners and caretaking in the forests. The original Smokey was rescued after a 1950 fire burned out 17,000 acres in the Capitan Mountains. He lives now in a Washington, D. C. zoo. The people of Capitan built a museum in Smokey's name.

Sierra Blanca boys 'treeing' Capitan

State Forester Ray Polaski, Phil Benfer a few local people and some of the Sierra Blanca Boys set out a great number of trees around the Lagoon last Saturday. They will plant at the school next.

Recently they planted at the new Baptist Church ground.

Thank you so much for all of your work and efforts. Please all of this Village do cooperate with them, release the past and go forward. Capitan is going to grow and let us grow with it. We do love all of our new people and want them to know it. They see the future and I am so proud of them. Let us pull together and now. We do have something great here and many do not see nor appreciate it. The new ones did see before they came and they are happy here. Help them make our town grow. Please do go forward.

Mrs. Joan Perks of the Ceramic Studio expresses her gratitude for the fine turn out of people visiting her studio on the first week of opening. They have enough signed up to start their classes in various hobbies next week. They are especially grateful for the warm welcome the merchants of Capitan has given the Studio and don't forget they will have a program starting June first for children 12 thru 15 years of age.

I sincerely wish them the best for this is a great hobby and a nice lady to teach. She loves the work and Mr. Perks helps. Welcome to Capitan.

Be certain to go visit the lovely Popes Flea Market. It is of great interest and you are missing something if you do not see it. Again, I am telling you the outside know and appreciate it. Another good business. Fine people own and operate it. I do wish you worlds of happiness and success.

I thank all of the new business who have the confidence in our town, for this is a great place to live. A good climate, good people, good schools. Well everything is just O. K. I have loved it for 42 years and stand for progress. May God Bless our Village and everyone herein. Lets make this even a better place.

Recently the Baptist Church purchased the Warren Harris home north of Hollis Cummins home for a parsonage.

Ray Polaski is replacing broken glass with colored glass at the Catholic Church.

At the State Forestry office and home, work has been done which truly shows. They have the yard plowed ready for seeding. Outside of the fence south for a drive they have graded and put good gravel.

The Antique Museum has more improvements. Two lanterns lighted outside. Truly has such a nice appearance. That corner is alive and how proud we are.

It is good to see clouds floating in our clear blue sky. We have had several threats of rain with a very light sprinkle though it looked as if it did rain in the east Capitan Mountains. It still is very, very cold.

Two of the Cabins have been moved away on a truck. At the El Paisano the other two are raised and waiting for the return of the truck for moving. So progress goes on and that is good.

How we do appreciate that new bank. It is such a nice addition to our town. Mike Capps so gracious meets everyone with a smile.

Mr. and Mrs. Tranquilino Montoya have purchased home and lots across from the Soderbacks, from Pearl and John and soon will make their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Richard House have lived there for this school term.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Lowe, Mrs. Tom Pope and Mrs. Rench attended the regular meeting of Eastern Star last Thursday at the Masonic Hall in Carrizozo. We had a nice time and certainly did enjoy the evening.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw this last weekend were their son Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Shaw of Silver City and Mr. and Mrs. Micheal Riska of Clovis. Mike and Diane had spent the week with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chaffins are living in their new 14 x 72 foot trailer home in the sub-division. They are very happily located and just love being in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tilletson have moved to Ruidoso where he is employed.

Mrs. Winifred Cozzens returned last Tuesday from one months vacation in California.

The AMA Motorcycle Club met at the home of one of its members Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland. Members wives and friends. Twenty-three in all enjoyed a delicious barbeque Friday night April 28.

Eddie Jones and Jimmie Lacy made Boys State. Robert Barber is alternate. They will go to Roswell at the Military Institute when the time approaches.

Tina Goodrich made Girls State. Elva Sherrill is alternate.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nethaway went to San Diego, Calif., to visit their daughter Allison Pfingsten, little Pete and Jodie for three days last week. All were just okay and happy. Pete is in Vietnam at this time.

Mr. Hollis Cummins and four sons went to El Paso and met his wife Gloria and their mother last Sunday. Then he attended the Annual Associated Grocery meeting and they returned home Sunday night. Gloria had been away for a week due to illness in the family.

The Community was saddened by the news of the death of Linke as she was known and remembered here. Mrs. Lynn Bagley who was born here April 4, 1907.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston Phillips of Truth or Consequences brought Dolly of Oregon to spend sometime with her aunt Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr., met their daughter, Janie Randle and Joe Paul in Alamogordo last Saturday night and spent the night. They attended the Golden Wedding celebration at the Desert Aire in Alamogordo honoring Mr. and Mrs. James H. Howard. They brought Joe Paul home with them for a week.

Mr. Larry Trujillo son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilario Trujillo who is attending Western College in Silver City made the honor roll last semester.

Mr. Joe Shafer is our Village Marshal. We are happy to have him. We needed him for a long time. We do appreciate all of his efforts. Let us cooperate and keep our town going right.

Mrs. Vera Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Champ Ferguson attended the golden wedding anniversary honoring Mr. and Mrs. James Howard in Alamogordo last Saturday. They also visited Champs sister Mrs. Bessie (Joe) Evans at the hospital there. She had a stroke Saturday afternoon. I wish you a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edgar, Mrs. Louise Ferguson and many other persons from Capitan and all of this vicinity surrounding attended Mr. and Mrs. James Howard 50th wedding anniversary at the Desert Aire in Alamogordo last Sunday. A very large crowd enjoyed their happiness. I do wish them many more very happy years together.

Mr. and Mrs. Brazel Hartley and three sons of Las Cruces spent last weekend at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Champ Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Williams in Nogal and with Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. C. A. Snow in Carrizozo.

Mrs. Rench, Mrs. Maude Kingston and Miss Lou Harris made a business trip to Ruidoso last Friday. After we came home we went to Hondo and enjoyed the delicious food prepared by the PTA at Hondo school. Then attended the Fiesta. How we did enjoy it and there was a very large crowd as always. Those children performed so well. It was perfection. The time seemed so short. Such wonderful enjoyment and to try to select the winners was out as they all were excellent.

The Capitan Branch of the Ruidoso State Bank cordially invites you to Open House in their new location Sunday May 14, 1972, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. We are very proud of this bank. We wish it to grow with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Booher and Maxine spent Sunday visiting her sister Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haddock and three children in Socorro and on their return home, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Booher of Plainview Texas and sister Mrs. Pat Chambers and two children were waiting for them. They had been to Ruidoso and did spend the night with them.

Leo Powell of Bonita came to Capitan on business for a few hours last Saturday. He reports lots of fisherman there. That the new road from Angus is being worked on now. Widening it etc. Preparing to make a good highway that way to Bonita. Lots of Campers and camping. This is his first trip back since he left March 25. Stay well and happy fishing when you can.

Mr. and Mrs. Berl Cheney, Mrs. Clark and Dub, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Coor, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stone and family attended the Jehovah Witness Assembly in Alamogordo Friday thru Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Soderback recently returned from a five day trip by plane to Seattle, Washington where her mother Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and her sister Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burrell met them. They took them to their home in Quilcene, Wash. It is a beautiful country.

As Time Goes By
The neighborhood gossip approached Mrs. Brown just bursting with excitement.

"You'll never guess whom I saw at the beach yesterday," she began.

"Well, whom did you see?" queried Mrs. Brown, knowing that this was what she was expected to say.

"Your 17-year-old son, Jack," declared the gossipy woman triumphantly, "and he was cavorting with a blonde in a bikini!"

"Huh!" retorted Mrs. Brown. "What did you expect at his age... a pair and shovel?"

Mayor

MAYOR OF CAPITAN is Jay Johnson, who this week issued a proclamation calling attention to his town's Progress Week. Johnson, manager of the Alto Village golf course, together with his wife, Dorothy, formerly managed the Parsons Hotel in Nogal Canyon near Capitan and Carrizozo.

Postmistress

DISTRIBUTOR OF THE United States mail at Capitan is Mrs. Jack Shaw. She takes care of these chores in a brand new Post Office building at Capitan.
