"If it wasn't for faith, there would be no living in this world; we couldn't even eat hash with any safety."

School bus routes are "far piece" in Lincoln County

Corona school superintendent Lewis Stratton was guest speaker at Rotary Club in Carrizozo last week with some interesting comments on the school situation in general.

The Corona school district encompasses 2061 square miles. If Cardinal students were scattered equally over the district there would be one student in each 27 sections of land. It amounts to one of the largest attendance areas in New Mexico and probably several other states.

The west line of the district is at Bingham in Socorro County and heading east the district stretches 80 miles to Ramon which is on the east Lincoln County line. The north-south distance is short, only 36 miles.

Valuation of the Corona school district amounts to 30 percent of the total of the five school districts in Lincoln County. Corona furnishes about 30 percent of county funds and gets back less than 8 percent for its share.

Windfalls do come to Corona school district, like the family of seven way back up in a canyon 40 miles one way from school, which indicated they would be sending children to Corona. It will be worked out one way or another, making around 155-plus total students this coming year. Cost of education per student is around $1,500 at Corona.

With small enrollment and small teaching staff the thing at Corona is to be "versatile". Their teachers can handle several subjects, anything from 7th grade through physics classes.

Stratton said that small schools all over the state are fighting consolidation -- which also concerns Carrizozo. Officials in the small school districts (not small districts) do not want more or believe in consolidation. Thinking stems largely from loss of local control.

The question was asked about benefit of consolidation of administration in Lincoln County, like one superintendent for all five school. Stratton said he did not think such a move would save much money. Each school will still need a man to run the school, full-time, on the job in the several towns, with full responsibility for daily activity in the school and this man would draw as much or nearly as much money as is now being paid to superintendents.

In big schools like Albuquerque they will have directors for lunch programs, transportation, and many other such school functions. At Corona the superintendent does all of these things.

School bus drivers at Corona travel enough miles each year to take them around the world several times, should they decide to see the world instead of seeing a big portion of Lincoln County, New Mexico five days a week during school months.

Politics are hotting up in Nevada. Tony there managing campaign for congressman. His latest is 30,000 tabloid newspapers for his candidate, will use door-to-door and insert in some newspapers. Message to Leroy (from Tony) "I've been plenty busy with campaign and my game is going to hell."

Comment for this week -- Mark Wilson, age 14, is a new resident of White Oaks, recently from way south Texas. So, he asked, "How does it feel to live in a real live ghost town?"

Supt. Lewis Stratton of Corona was guest speaker at Rotary Thursday, with some pertinent thoughts for Lincoln County. His school is small, or maybe large on a per-pupil-cost basis. They've won three football games in the last 5-6 years and sure expect to field a team this year. Lewis says they gather in lots of sales tax money (of school tax) in Albuquerque... and where does it come from... much of this money from out in the districts of the state.

Got to apologize to Ruth Corbett over not getting her classified ad in. Her mother's two houses in Carrizozo are for rent or sale -- see the classified section. Was a time when Payton and Olds lived in the smaller of these two houses and entertained the neighborhood with fine mouth harp and ukelele music. Since that time the neighborhood has improved.

Read in a Sunday paper where California town is doing exactly what we think would work good in Carrizozo -- Constructing a shopping mall with lots of small shops, instead of the several big supers (plus some small) that now make up shopping centers. They plan to include craft shops, import shops, artists painting at their easels, old timey places, shoe repair, clock shop, fabrics, art gallery, hobby shop -- really nothing that couldn't be done right here.

While thinking about future here, this reminder: Nobody, but nobody, including all the town around, state and federal agencies -- is going to do much if anything for the home town. People here have got to do it for themselves. Albuquerque is not going to say to any business, "We don't need you, go to Carrizozo." Nor is Alamogordo, Ruidoso or any other town going to do a thing like that.

Swiped from Duffy -- Little boys who constantly whine probably become groan men. Have you heard about the husband that was so hen-pecked he always does the dishes -- even when they're using paper plates.

Old-Timer: One who can remember when presidents used to live in the White House twelve months out of the year. The modern gal never seems to think of clothes when she tries to hide her age.

Wheels was going to the race track and we had the choice of expert advice from two pros, so we sent a small bet. Now we're looking for another expert.

Good chance to rummage around the Methodist church Friday and Saturday. Gals got a sale going there and sure to have something you need.

Family up in Minnesota or Wisconsin called Friday, said we're coming to Carrizozo, what's for rent or sale there. Don't have name but we'll see them in due time. Art Kudner, new owner of O Bar O, was in to subscribe, said his family sure was enjoying Lincoln County.

Ass't coach still hunted

Registration in Carrizozo schools was scheduled to be completed this week but the search for teacher-replacements still continued in most county schools.

Carrizozo Schools needs two teachers for the academic year opening shortly -- and one of these will do double duty as teacher and assistant football coach.

New Free and Reduced Price Lunch Policy
The Carrizozo School District has long recognized the need for helping meet the nutritional needs of its students. All schools serve a well-balanced nutritious lunch each school day. The charge to students who can pay is 30c. However, since some families find it difficult to pay this full price, the school will provide these meals free of charge or at a reduced price to those children determined by the principal to be unable to pay the full price for their meals.

Families who feel that their children may be eligible for free or reduced price meals are urged to apply. Copies of the application form will be sent home in a letter to families August 22 or they may be obtained at the high school office. The completed application, signed by an adult member of the family, should be sent to Mr. Wilkinson, Principal, Carrizozo Schools. Such applications will be reviewed promptly, and within 3 days the family will be notified as to the decision made. Families may appeal this decision by contacting Mr. Steinepreis, Superintendent of Schools, to request a hearing as established in the Fair Hearing Procedures set forth by law. All information provided on the application will be held in the strictest confidence. Decisions for approval will be based on the Eligibility Standards set forth on the application forms.

Copies of this release are available for any interested party upon request.

Obituary

Raymond Edward Lemon

Funeral services for Raymond Edward Lemon, 89, of Carrizozo will be held Thursday, Aug. 10, at 2 p.m. at the Carrizozo Methodist Church. Lemon, born in White City, Kansas, had lived in Carrizozo for sixty-four years.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. James Reynolds. Masonic graveside services will follow at White Oaks Cemetery. Lemon was a member of both the Masonic Lodge and the Knight Templars.

Lemon came to Carrizozo in 1908 as cashier for El Paso Southwestern Railroad. Here he met his bride-to-be, Jeannell Lee, who was working in the Exchange Bank.

Lemon went back to work for Rock Island and was stationed at Pratt, Kansas. He could only get leave on a Saturday and Sunday, so the couple decided to meet in Delhart, Texas, where they were married on February 16, 1911.

The Lemons lived in Pratt almost a year before returning to New Mexico. Lemon went to work as bookkeeper for the Store, Power Company and Mine in White Oaks. Maurice R. Lemon was born here in 1912. When the mines closed, the Lemon family moved back to Carrizozo, where they have remained.

Lemon retired after twenty-three years with the Lincoln County Branch Bank, where he served as vice-president for several years. Pallbearers for the Lemon services include

Republicans show gain

Lincoln County Republicans have considerably narrowed the two-to-one Democratic party lead of past years, according to the County Clerk's latest registration figures.

This week, the Democrats had registered 2096 21-year-old and over voters and 63 18 to 20 year-olds for a total of 2159. Republican voters, thus far, number 1493 over 21 years, and 43 18 to 20 year-olds for a 1536 total.

There are two minor party registering and 182 voters chose no party. The County Clerk says that there is some increase in totals.

Registration closes at 5 p.m., September 26. Citizens who failed to vote in past general elections should check to assure qualifications for the general election in November.

Sloppy seals spoil canning

LAS CRUCES - Faulty or improper seals are the most common cause of spoilage in home-canned foods, says Miss Louise Garrett, extension nutrition specialist at New Mexico State University. She suggests that you run a check on your equipment and home-canning habits to reduce chance of spoilage. Here are some things to look for:

Nicks around jar rims will prevent an airtight seal. Do not use jars not meant for home canning. Lids and caps may not "seat" properly on rims of these jars.

Wipe all food from the jar rim before putting on lids. Small particles of food can keep the lid from sealing properly.

Air bubbles can also destroy the seal. "Knife out" air bubbles before sealing jars.

Follow specific directions carefully for filling jars and putting on lids. Be sure to leave the recommended amount of headspace between the food and jar rim.

Underprocessing can also cause a poor seal. Always use recommended procedures and temperatures when processing vegetables and fruits.

Test the seal on your home-canned foods before you store them. Wait until the processed jars have cooled. Then tilt each jar to see if it leaks. Next, tap the metal lid with a spoon. If the jar has a true vacuum inside, there will be a clear, ringing sound. A dull sound means a poor seal or food touching the lid (too little headspace). If you find a jar with a faulty seal you can refrigerate it; use the food immediately or reprocess.

Your Weekly Horoscope

(August 12 through August 18)

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Travelling is your bag, Ari, so take your things in a tote and take off, if only for a tiny trip. You will return with renewed vigor and your head on straight. Before week is over, you stumble onto first-rate idea which could help solve old riddle.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Opportunity beckons, Taurus. You may have to hurdle a few fences to take advantage of it, but so what? Contrary to popular opinion, very often the grass truly is greener on the other side of the fence. You'll never really know unless you're willing to give it a go.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Confrontation with associate likely, Ari/Leo involved. Since Ari and Leo are both fire signs, and you are an oil sign, spontaneous combustion apt to occur. Keep fire hose handy. Energy returns slowly and on last day you are as brisk as a bee.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Tidy up the joint, Moonlove, for you are most apt to have unexpected guests. And while you're at it, don't forget the medicine cabinet. A quick peek by outsider could prove most embarrassing, right? Tensions mount as week wears on. Launch pacification program in your own back yard.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Some anxiety is normal, Leo, but you must learn difference between what is normal and what is neurotic. Normal tension is needed to function, but becomes harmful when wasted on imaginary problems. Ease pain of another who suffers and you gain inner calm. Take five minutes a day to relax and s-t-r-e-t-c-h.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Energy may be low, Virg, so don't push yourself. Avoid those who hassle. Pick up a paperback (something totally fresh) and head for the nearest hammock or swing. Eat lightly, drink plenty of fluids and don't mess with Old Man Sun. Week ends on key of B. For beer, barbecue and bikini. Ummm.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Week begins in humdrum fashion, Lib, but by fourth day you have chance to experience true joy. Just remember that joy is for sharing, so don't be piggy. Week ends with a giggle.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): After tacky beginning, pace livens. Do not permit moaches to sweet-talk you into parting with cash/valuables. Casual relationship takes on new dimension, Scorp. Feeling of intense camaraderie.

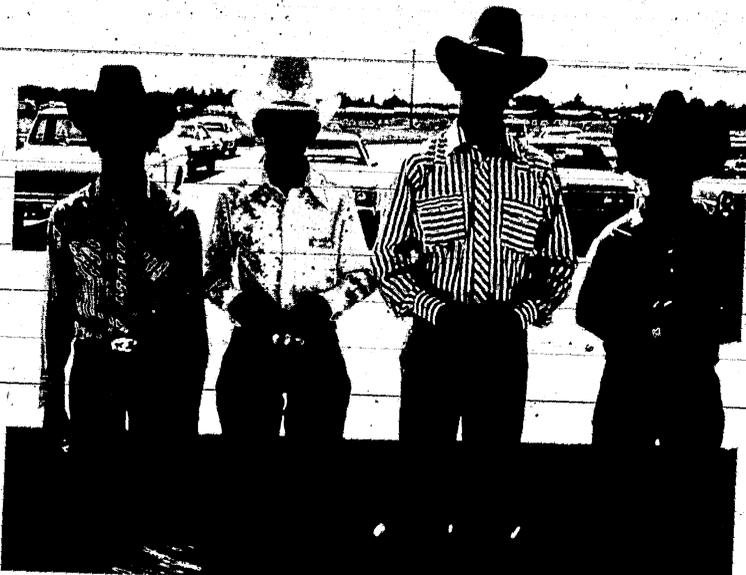

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Old guilt knocks at your front door. Be a sly devil and sneak out the back. Mind Olga and week passes rather splendidly. Study advice to Scorp for additional message.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): At times, you are a regal dickens, Cap, and week ahead is one of those times. Bask in the secret knowledge that your great expectations will be partially fulfilled.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Fantasy is highlighted. Dreams within dreams prove puzzling. Conserve energy. Where is it written that ALL dreams must be understood? Some are just for enjoying. So enjoy.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Red hot week ahead, Pisces. In several ways. Romantic situation should warm. That's the good news. The bad news is that the charis jubilee may burn your little tongue.

Clarinetist Pete Fountain is the first jazz star ever booked to headline the popular Tingley Coliseum Rodeo at the New Mexico State Fair. He will appear at the 1972 exposition Sept. 22-24.

Old

by HATTIE PHILLIPS

The "Big Days" have come and gone in Old Lincoln Town with hordes of people enjoying themselves. The Pony Express race drew a large crowd on Saturday morning with excitement mounting to a high pitch when Benny Rannels came in two hours and six minutes to claim the beautiful saddle given as first prize. J. B. Morris was the second one to come in.

A total of 875 letters were post-marked in the Lincoln Postoffice.

The pageant went over with a bang - literally and was enjoyed by the crowd, as were the other events, fiddling contest, etc.

Mrs. Louise Joiner and Mrs. Aileen Lindamood came in to help cancel the stamps. Their kindness in helping do this was greatly appreciated. Hand cancelling runs into quite a job with a large volume of mail.

Recent rains have made this part of the country beautifully green and the weather has cooled considerably. This we appreciate.

I have no information on the results of the bicycle race now, but some of the contestants did come in.

The parade on Sunday afternoon was held up for a while due to a shower but went on a little later. I don't know the winners in it as yet either, but will have more information later.

They had been in Tucson, Arizona where Mrs. Hulett visited her son and family and Mr. Miznak visited friends and were enroute home when they stopped here.

Last Tuesday I was in Carrizozo on business. I met Ethel Roberts. How happy it made me to know that she and her husband, Ernest are back in Carrizozo to make their permanent home. Ernest retired in May and they moved their beautiful trailer home to its proper location in Carrizozo from Tucumcari, June 1. Welcome home. It is great to have you back. I will see you in Star, Ethel. How great it is to have you with us again for always.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Eldridge and Betsy left on their vacation August 2, to Yellowstone National Park in their new motor home. Its a beauty and we know they will have a grand time. That is great traveling. I am happy for them.

Tim Livingston left last Tuesday in his new pickup and camper to Maryland to get his mother and bring her to Ruidoso where she is going to make her home. He will work there and live with her. He worked here for the forest during the summer. After he was laid off, he and his fiancée rode their motor cycles to visit his parents in California and then traveled up the coast on a 3000 mile tour before returning home. They reported a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw of Capitan and Mrs. Jeff Shaw of Deming attended the Shaw family reunion at Mountainair, last weekend. Reported a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bader of Manchester, Mo., Mrs. Olga Bader and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Willson of Union, Mo. arrived last Sunday to spend a week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Anderson. They then will take their children Kent and Tim, who have been with their grandparents for the last four weeks, home with them. The children have been so happy here they really do not desire to leave.

Our Lincoln County Fair will be August 25 and 26 this year. There will be a Junior Rodeo at I.P.M. Saturday August 26 for Lincoln County kids. There has been lots of work done at the Fair Barns and grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins and two sons David and Danny left last Sunday afternoon for a few days vacation.

The Nazarene Camp Meeting closed last Sunday afternoon, with the largest crowds they have ever had.

Large crowds attended the Lincoln Pageant everyday. Many of which filled Capitan motels. Juanita Nowalk broke her left foot in two places last week. I wish you a good recovery.

The Capitan City Marshal is Tommy Johnston. When you need him call 354-2467. He will respond. He is doing a good job.

Mr. and Mrs. Johan Soderback sold their house that Mrs. Joan Pumphrey and family lived in to Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Garcia and they moved in August 1. They have their trailer home for sale now.

Mrs. Pumphrey and family moved to the trailer home of JoAnne Lease. JoAnne and her daughter, Janie moved to Dallas, Texas, where she will teach school. She will live near her son and family.

HARRY STURGIS DYER - Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dyer of Hobbs report that Harry Sturgis Dyer was admitted to the Veterans Hospital at Albuquerque in May and has undergone amputation of a leg, the result of after effects of a burn suffered 24 years ago. They report Sturgis has, because of his illness, been unable to attend the last two White Oaks Memorial Day services and that he "wishes to hear from friends and classmates." His address: Harry S. Dyer, Veterans Hospital, Bldg. 20, Room 2019 2E, Albuquerque, N. M. 87110.

Forest picnics fee removed

ALBUQUERQUE - Recreation fees will no longer be charged for use of picnic areas in the National Forests. Recent Congressional action concerning the Golden Eagle passport program provides that no special fee shall be collected for the use of picnic areas.

William D. Hurst, Southwestern Regional Forester, said 73 picnic grounds in Arizona, New Mexico and western Oklahoma will be affected by this action.

Recreation fees will continue to be charged for use of group picnic areas requiring advance reservations. Campground fees will also remain in effect and will apply to all uses of those areas.

There are competitions for seven breeds of horses at the 1972 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

National tests come to N.M.

SANTA FE - Every New Mexico school child in the first, fifth and eighth grades will take a nationally standardized test this fall in the continuing analysis of pupil performance by the State Department of Education (SDE).

By checking children in the same three grades each year, explained Jean Padilla, statewide testing coordinator, each school system, and the SDE, can get a cross-section of how well students are doing through the first eight years of school, while only using three tests.

Each school system in New Mexico can see how their students are progressing as compared to the other districts in the state and also compared to national results. They can also compare the different grades and see if students are making satisfactory progress as they go through school, Mrs. Padilla explained. More sophisticated analysis is also available to individual schools, she said, who wish to know just exactly what kinds of things are being taught - and learned - above or below average by students in each class.

"A great many things can be learned from a complete testing program like this," said Mrs. Padilla. "The program is costly, but it is worth every penny if we use it to help improve teaching and learning in the schools."

"Not only will the SDE analyse the results from all over New Mexico, but we are certain that each school will look very carefully at this test program's results in their district. The only way we have of really measuring how well children learn is through tests."

It isn't the purpose of school to teach children to pass tests, any more than the purpose of an automobile is to make the speedometer turn - but that's the way you measure how fast and how far you drive," she explained.

By the end of August, local education agencies should have their materials. Then in the middle of September, pre-test workshops will be held in each of the state's 88 school districts, to inform local test coordinators and the teachers who will administer the tests to a total of about 60,000 young people across the state.

On special video tapes made by the SDE, representatives of the test publishers will explain how teachers should give tests in a uniform way, so each child has an equal opportunity to show how well he can do. The workshops will be given by local test coordinators with the assistance of SDE representatives for MAP, the department's Mutual Action Plan for state and local cooperation.

Stabilization, 'dry barrels'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dan Murphy of the Park Service staff at Gran Quivira National Monument reports this week on how the ancient walls of the Monument are preserved without being reconstructed. He notes also that, at the monument, "the rain has been sufficient for a really spectacular flower display - great carpets of the blue trumpet-like Gilia (which the hummingbirds like so much they are neglecting my feeder), some areas of yellow and red firewheels still hanging on and expanses of white pepperweed. Why do people voluntarily live anywhere else?")

by DAN MURPHY

A visitor just came back down the trail here at Gran Quivira National Monument, real puzzled. "Did the Indians here have cement? Where did the cement in the walls come from? Has the Park Service been tampering with the ruins?"

It's a legitimate question, one we get asked a lot. The answer is, "No, we haven't been tampering." The Park Service is quite strict about this, in fact. We don't reconstruct unless it is necessary for the understanding of a historical spot, and unless we are dead certain we can make it just like it was. An example: the reconstruction of a colonial village at Williamsburg, Virginia. Also at Bandelier National Monument near Los Alamos they reconstructed some small sections of the ruins and clearly labeled that they had done so.

However, here at Gran Quivira we are involved in a stabilization program, stabilization, not reconstruction.

The "mortar" the Indians made was merely local soil mixed with water, and as our neighboring ranchers can tell you, our soil is sandy, with almost no clay in it at all. As long as the ruins are buried beneath the trash and debris of the centuries, this is OK. But as soon as the archeologist begins to clear out this trash so he can learn about the people, and so you can see how they lived, this old mortar begins to crumble. It might as well be dirt for all the good it does. Left alone, the ruins would rapidly disintegrate.

So right behind the archeologist comes the stabilization crew. The crew foreman here is a local man you may know, Vernie Wells, who is quite expert at it. Their job is not to rebuild the walls back to how they used to be, but rather to make sure that they will always be as good as they are now.

To do this they scrape out the outer inch or so of that crumbly mortar the Indians used, and replace it with modern waterproof mortar. (They even match the original color.) But that's not enough. Since there's no roof remaining on these buildings rain will soak down into the middle of the wall, where there's still the original dirt. The side of the wall may be pushed out then, especially if it freezes. So Vernie and the crew take off the top layer or two of rocks and reset them in cement. They call this "capping the wall."

Even this doesn't completely solve the problem. We all pray for rain, for the crops and fodder; but it does give us some problems when water sits in these open rooms. That original mortar in the middle of the wall will suck it up like a lamp wick sucks up kerosene. In some rooms we can rig up a hardly noticeable drain to get the water out. In others we dig a hole in the middle of the room, fill it with good sized rocks, and put dirt back over it: a "dry barrel." It doesn't disturb the appearance of the room, and the water can go down into it and be dissipated deep in the ground, where it can't do any harm to the walls.

Incidentally, you might wonder how the original builders and inhabitants got along with these walls, if they seem so crumbly now. For one thing, the rooms had roofs then that kept the

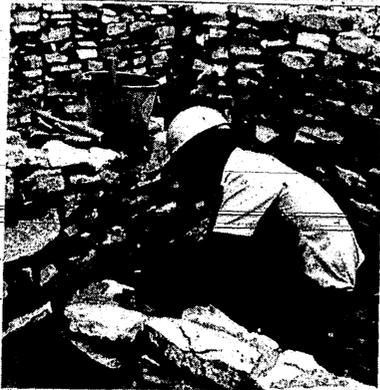

Massey cattle entered at Fair

ALBUQUERQUE - Massey Hereford Ranch of Hondo has entered five head of Herefords in open beef competition at the 1972 New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

The 35th annual New Mexico State Fair--the "Biggest Show in New Mexico"--officially opens a 12-day run in Albuquerque Wednesday, Sept. 13, and continues through Sunday, Sept. 24. Additional horse shows and pari-mutuel racing will be held on Sept. 9 and 10.

The all-star rodeo at the annual New Mexico State Fair - which is approved by the Rodeo Cowboys Association - is ranked as the Number One State Fair Rodeo in the USA.

water off. Even so, the walls were not what we would call stable. We quite often find collapsed walls, rebuilt walls, and reinforced walls. Last summer up at an excavation near Santa Fe archeologists found where a large wall had fallen on two men and killed them; the kinfolk apparently figured that was as good a burial as any and just left them there! So the builders of these walls four or five centuries ago had quite a time getting them to stand. We hope that with our stabilization program they will still be standing for a long, long time.

The four pictures show the stabilization now underway at Gran Quivira. From the top, John Gamblin seals cracks in a room in Mound 7. Wayne Brazil shovels sand for Andy Luna to mix in mortar. Ken Wells fixes room in Mound 7 and, bottom, Andy Luna brings mortar to Wayne to fix ceremonial structure in the plaza. Mound 7 is in the background. All these men are on our maintenance crew.

Monument visits up

GRAN QUIVIRA - For the month of July, Gran Quivira National Monument had 5,140 visitors. This brings the total number of visitors for this year to 23,169. This is an increase of 26 per cent over last year for the same period.

Visitors for the first seven months of this year have come from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and 20 different foreign countries, including Greece, Yugoslavia, Malaysia, Thailand and Nepal.

The visitor center is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. through Labor Day, then from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Christmas.

At the visitor center are various exhibits and artifacts which have been found during past excavations. Guided tours are available to organized groups. Visitors may use the self-guiding trail.

The ruins consists of 21 pre-Spanish pueblo Indian dwellings, two of which are excavated. There are also two 17th-century Franciscan missions at the Monument.

There is no campground at Gran Quivira, but a picnic area is available for those who wish to use it.

Gran Quivira was established on Nov. 1, 1909 and is administered by the National Park Service. In 1916 when Congress created the National Park Service, Gran Quivira was one of the 22 National Monuments to comprise the new National Park System.

The Monument, located in central New Mexico, is on a ridge of the Chupadera Mesa. You can reach Gran Quivira a number of ways. By turning south off U. S. Hwy. 60 at Mountainair, and driving 26 miles on State Hwy. 14, one can reach the Monument on a paved road.

From Carrizozo drive 16 miles north on U. S. Hwy. 54 and then turn west on State Hwy. 14 for 39 miles west of San Antonio on State Hwy. 380.

When you reach Bingham, go north on State Hwy. 41 for 41 miles. This road is almost all sand and clay, and should only be used in good weather.

SMOKEY THE BEAR

Smokey can afford tailor

Washington columnist Jack Anderson reported last week that Lincoln County's own Smokey the Bear makes big money.

Said the Anderson column item: "SMOKEY'S SUCCESS - Smokey the Bear, the fire-fighting figure who began 20 years ago in dungarees and a weather beaten hat, can now afford Brooks Brothers suits.

"The famous beast earns more than $200,000 a year in royalty payments for his creators, the Department of Agriculture, which has sold 40 Smokey the Bear licenses.

"To its credit, government has taken pains not to allow Smokey's puritanical image to be abused. The government recently took action, for example, against the Smokey Bar in Reseda, Calif., for displaying Smokey's slogan and pictures on its walls."

Jimmy Wayne Means:

Zozo native cited as hero

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE -- Heroic action to extinguish a fast-spreading brush fire on White Sands Missile Range, singlehandedly, has earned the Meritorious Civilian Service Award for Bravery for Jimmy Wayne Means of Socorro.

The 25-year-old native of Carrizozo, is a parts keeper employed by an element of the WSMR Logistics Directorate at Stallion Range Center, near Socorro.

The Department of the Army award was presented to Means last week by Major General Arthur H. Sweeney Jr., commanding general of WSMR. It consisted of a medal, a certificate, a lapel pin and a check for $100.

Attending the ceremony in the commanding general's office were Colonel L. E. Mullen, director of Logistics; Lieutenant Colonel Roy S. Batey Jr., chief of Equipment Management Division; and Orval Duncan, Chief of the Stallion Branch. Also attending was Michael Lengal of the Civilian Personnel Division.

Means is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Means Jr. of Carrizozo. He was born May 31, 1947, in Carrizozo and attended schools there. He was employed by his father, owner of Means Motor Supply, before accepting his civil service appointment.

He began as a laborer at Stallion Range Center in 1967, appointed under the Special Program for Employment of the Handicapped. He was promoted to parts keeper in 1969.

Means' prompt action in fighting and extinguishing the rapidly spreading brush fire was credited with preventing considerable damage. The fire also was a serious threat to the ecological balance in the area.

On Saturday night, April 15, 1972, Means was returning to Socorro alone in his car on U. S. Highway 380, after a visit in Carrizozo. About two miles east of the North Oscura Range Center access road, he came upon the brush fire, which already had covered a 50-foot area.

Rushing to the emergency telephone at the access road, Means called the Stallion Range Department. He then returned to the fire and began a 45-minute battle against it, using a seat cover blanket from his car.

The fire was in a remote area on the edge of the Missile Range, 33 miles from Stallion Range Center. Upon arrival firemen found that Means had singlehandedly extinguished the flames, although by then they had covered a 1,500-foot area.

The citation accompanying the award commended Means for his bravery and resourcefulness. "His foresight and willingness to fight the fire at great risk, with only a blanket, saved many dollars in property damage to the government," the citation said.

My report and impression of American Legion Boys' State

First of all I would like to thank my sponsors, Post 11, American Legion and Carrizozo Lions Club, for having given me the opportunity to attend the American Legion Boys' State.

As you all know, it was held on the premises of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, New Mexico. Under the direction of Mr. Al Ortiz and fellow counselors, I learned many facts about the Government in which we abide in. What I learned about the Democratic Government was its functions and how they were put to use. I will now give you a brief summary of daily activity.

On the arrival of the first day, we were registered and assigned to our quarters which were divided into cities and counties. On the second day, we were inducted to the activities of Boys' State such as going through all the stages of daily routine (like Flag Raising, Chapel Services, Calisthenics, Clean Up Cities, Sick Call and City Inspection). After that was done we were introduced to the functions of a City Government. Our counselors then requested that some boys should voluntarily run for a City Office. Eventually some boys were put into various City Offices. On the third day, the County Government with its functions were introduced to us. Thusly, boys voluntarily ran for County Offices. It was made clear to us that any person that ran for a County Office could not run for a State office. Also on this day, we were given lectures on various law enforcement agencies such as the FBI and State Police. On the fourth day, all persons that ran for a county office that passed through the primary elections (County Primary Elections that is!) were then sworn in to their county offices. On the afternoon of this day, the state government was introduced to all Boys' State Citizens. On the fifth day, all Boys' State Citizens that wanted to run for a state office were given the chance to do some party campaigning for an hour and a half. After the campaigning was over a state primary election was held. All those that passed the primary elections were given the opportunity to run for a general election. I overlooked something, after a primary election, a general election was held from this election, thus were Boys Staters sworn into their offices. On the sixth day, all offices were put into use for 2 hours. Other than that, we went through our daily routine. On the seventh day, lectures were given to us from a Dr. Jack Means who lectured about city-county and state government in operation. That night, a talent show was held by the Boys' State Citizens. On the last day, attendance certificates and other awards were presented to Boys' State Citizens. After cleaning up, a barbeque was held in dedication to 25 years of Boys' State. After the barbeque, we departed (Boys' Staters departed) to their home towns. Once again I would like to thank my sponsors and the other people who made it possible for us to attend the American Legion New Mexico Boys' State, and in great appreciation, I would like for you to give another person the great opportunity to attend Boys' State.

Fair books Mexico stars

ALBUQUERQUE -- Three top Mexican entertainers--Jose Alfredo Jimenez, Alicia Juarez and Jose "Pepito" Lozano -- have been booked to star at the popular Spanish Heritage Program planned at the 1972 New Mexico State Fair.

State Fair Commissioner Juven Sanchez and Spanish Heritage Program Chairman Val De La O made the announcement that the trio would headline the show on Wednesday evening, Sept. 13, in Tingley Coliseum.

Jimenez, ranked as Mexico's most popular and best-known composer, has been a recording star with RCA for the past 20 years. He has some 25 albums to his credit. Among his most popular songs have been "Caballo Blanco", "Camino de Guanajuato", "La Enorme Distancia" and "Ella". Seven of his better known tunes have been the title of movies, and he has starred in many of them.

Appearing with Jimenez will be the charming and attractive Alicia Juarez, who also records for RCA. A popular singer in Old Mexico, she has waxed two albums with Jimenez.

Also headlining the Spanish program at the State Fair this year will be Jose Lozano, who is generally known as "Pepito, El Comico Imitador". He has made two previous appearances in Albuquerque and both times he captivated his audiences. He is best known as a singer and imitator of Latin stars, including Cantinflas, Resortes, Javier Solis, El Piporre and others. De La O says a survey was conducted and "Pepito" was the top choice to appear at the fair.

The three will be featured with outstanding New Mexico talent of Spanish ancestry at the Coliseum show on opening night. There will be no rodeo with that show.

Tickets for the show are now on sale at State Fair offices, or by mail. They are priced at $4 each for box seats and $3 each for reserved. General admission will be on sale the day of the performance; the same as all tickets for Tingley Coliseum shows. Mail orders may be addressed to: Ticket Office, New Mexico State Fair, Box 8546, Albuquerque 87108. No phone orders are accepted.

The 1972 New Mexico State Fair--The Biggest Show in New Mexico--officially opens a 12-day run in Albuquerque Wednesday, Sept. 13. Additional horse shows and pari-mutuel racing will be held the preceding weekend, Sept. 9-10.

'Pony' missives went to all 50

Mail with the special Pony Express seal on it went from here to somebody in every state in the nation -- including Hawaii and Alaska.

The special mailings were part of the annual Lincoln County celebration of the days of Billy the Kid which included a pageant last weekend at Old Lincoln and a Pony Express Race from White Oaks to Lincoln (see related story, Page 1).

Teachers seek standardization

SANTA FE -- New Mexico teachers have indicated they would like a few things made more clear in the standard form used throughout the state for teachers' contracts.

A team of State Board of Education members and officials of the State Department of Education (SDE) have heard from teachers school administrators to that effect.

Board members Virgil Henry and Doro Holmes serve on the panel with E. A. V. assistant to the state superintendent of schools and SDE attorney E. P. Ripley. The committee was formed at the state board's direction to determine if changes should be made in the standard New Mexico teaching contract.

Basically the same form is used in everyone the state's 88 school districts, except that salary provisions vary between districts. The committee will report its recommendations to changes to the state board, which may then act on the proposals.

Among the thoughts which have come out of the sessions of the committee, said Ripley, are suggestion that a specific expiration date be made part of each teacher contract, to avoid possible misunderstandings.

He also noted that several teachers have asked that the present 60-day notice requirement for teacher's resignation be changed back to 30 days, which was the standard until 1971.

School buses and auto rules:

More than 1,300 public school buses transporting 130,000 students twice a day will converge on the state's highways as schools open shortly.

The safety of these students is dependent on the cooperation of all motorists, says C. B. Lemon, School Transportation Director with the State Department of Education.

Lemon pointed out some areas of motorist responsibilities:

"Every New Mexico citizen is interested in the safe transportation of students to and from school and we ask that every motorist in the state continue to follow the basic guidelines regarding the approachment of school buses," said Lemon.

Every attempt is made to establish school bus stops off the traveled portion of the roadway, if conditions permit, so that traffic will not be impeded, but this is not always possible.

State law requires motorists to stop their vehicles at least ten feet from a bus loading or unloading children on a road way when the special red school bus flashers are in operation. Motorists should remain stopped until the red flashers are turned off and the bus resumes motion.

Motorists are not required to stop for a school bus loading or unloading pupils outside the traveled portion of a roadway when warning lights are not in operation.

However, drivers should reduce their speed and pass the bus with caution as the actions of young children are sometimes unpredictable.

Motorists traveling in the opposite direction on a divided highway do not have to stop for a school bus when red warning lights are flashing, but motorists following a bus on a divided highway are required to stop and remain stationary until the children load or unload and the bus resumes motion.

A new safety factor that will also benefit the motorist is yellow caution lights which are standard safety equipment on new buses now being delivered. Designed on the same principle as a traffic signal, the yellow lights will be activated previous to the standard red flasher lights, warning a following motorist the bus is preparing to stop.

'Keep it local' is tax advice

SANTA FE—Your property taxes could be vitally affected by actions of the New Mexico Association of Counties voted by officers and trustees here.

The counties association reacted to sweeping property tax proposals under study by the interim Legislative Tax Study Committee. The TSC will send a package of bills to the 1973 Legislature.

New Mexico Association of Counties recommended retaining county boards of equalization unchanged. County commissions serve as boards of equalization and hear appeals of tax assessments. "Keep it on the local level," said Mrs. Ginger Yearley, Alamogordo, the association president and Otero County county administrator.

Association officials unanimously recommended to the TSC assigning authority for property appraisal maintenance to county assessors. Unanimous voice vote action came on a motion by Mrs. Ruth King of Deming, Luna County deputy clerk. Mrs. King, a Democrat, is a former Luna County county clerk. She is unopposed for election again to the office Nov. 7. She is Association second Vice-president.

State Property Appraisal Director Haskel Smith told county officials present law is vague on pinpointing authority for property appraisal maintenance in county assessors of county commissions. A spokesman said county commissions are administering programs in Bernalillo, Otero, Curry, Lincoln, Valencia and Chaves Counties. Assessors are managing property appraisal maintenance in other counties.

The issue is highly controversial. Valencia County Assessor Clovis O. Herrera and the Valencia County Commission have battled many months over a property appraisal maintenance contract. The Valencia County scrap was unresolved late last week after Gov. Bruce King's office and Atty. Gen. David Norwell tried unsuccessfully to shape an acceptable solution.

Rep. Eugene Cinelli, D-Albuquerque, TSC chairman, soundly whacked the practice of letting property appraisal maintenance contracts. Rep. Cinelli said: "I don't like private contracts to outside firms."

If the TSC recommends the legislature hand counties the property appraisal maintenance job by law, Rep. Cinelli said, the lawmaker committee will also probably support return of one-half mill of property tax to counties to finance the heavy task.

County officials recommended elimination of the present requirement for annual renditions of property for ad valorem tax purposes after the first rendition with exceptions. Action was voted on a motion by Quay County Commissioner Milton Terry of Tucuman. Terry is association first vice president.

Renditions would be required annually for these exceptions: Personal and business property; agricultural land if property has been sold; if property value has been raised more than $1,000 or if a casualty loss of at least $1,000 has occurred.

Rep. Cinelli emphasized property owners would still retain the right to protest tax bills from year to year, if the one-time property rendition proposal becomes law.

Other county officials at the two-day meeting included Colfax County Assessor Anthony M. Jellicoe; Curry County Commissioners Mack Hendershot and James R. Williams; DeBaca County Assessor Lamar Juna; Guadalupe County Assessor Arsenio C. Sanchez; Luna County Commissioners P.D. Torres and P.O. Viramontes; Luna County Assessor Hazel Supak; Quay County Clerk Clara Lewalling; Quay County Treasurer Johnnie Smith Parish; Sierra County Commissioners James W. Allen and John A. Tipton; Taos County Assessor Jose R. G. Archuleta; Union County Commissioner Leo Edward Bray, Jr.; and Valencia County Assessor Herrera.

Mrs. Yearley named a committee to look into the longstanding problem of placing value of out-of-state transient livestock on tax rolls. She appointed Terry, Bray, Tipton and San Miguel County Commissioner Alfred Maez, Jr. The panel will appear at a TSC meeting Aug. 16 or Sept. 18-20.

The counties association officials endorsed a TSC recommendation calling for filing of transfer affidavits when property is sold. But the association objected to a TSC recommendation to make affidavits classified information and closed to public inspection. County officials said all courthouse records should be open to the public.

The State Racing Commission approved present Ruidoso Downs racing dates for new owners of the horse racing pari-mutuel track. The commission tentatively set a hearing on licensing of new owners early this week.

Control of two New Mexico tracks -- Ruidoso Downs and Sunland Park -- was sold July 27 to Kodiak Industries Inc. of San Diego, Calif. The firm bought more than 95 percent of Sunland Development Corp. which operated the race tracks.

Kodiak Industries Inc. is now owned by Alvin J. Rosa. Alvin Rosa was among the three original incorporators of Kodiak Industries Inc. Rosa bought stock held by his brother-in-law, Dominic Alessio, and Alessio's uncle, Anthony Alessio.

A Narcotics agent told the Legislative Universities Study Committee drug usage is common on the University of New Mexico campus. Agent Abenicio Cordova of the Albuquerque Police Department said pushers sold narcotics in the Student Union Building and dormitories. Albuquerque Police Sgt. Ron Ghion estimated about one per cent of UNM students or 180 persons have sold drugs. But he said many "street people" who are non-students sold narcotics at UNM. Sen. I. M. (Ike) Smalley, D-Luna-Hidalgo-Sierra, is USC chairman. Rep. Richard Carbajal, D-Belen, is a USC member. Gila Hot Springs Vacation Center Inc. of Gila Hot Springs was incorporated here. Also chartered was Contemporary Art Gallery, Inc. Taos. Incorporators are Robert C. Ellis and Rosamaria Ramirez de Ellis of Taos and Joseph M. and Barbara B. Mack of Indiana, Penna.

Farm prices rise again

New Mexico farmers and ranchers got more for their products in the 30 days preceding July 15 than they did in the month before that period.

The combined federal-state statistical report on agricultural activity said this week that the "Index of Prices Received for ALL Farm Products" rose four points in the 30-day period. And the report said that, compared with the same 30 days in 1971, the index was up 16 percent.

The increase was almost entirely because of higher prices being received for all livestock. Cotton prices were down for the period -- while prices received for grain sorghum, alfalfa hay, cows, sheep and milk "remained unchanged."

The Livestock Index was 12 per cent up from the May 15-June 15 period -- and 17 percent higher than one year earlier.

Calves, steers and heifers showed an increase of $1 per cwt., lambs were up $2 per cwt. and eggs were up two cents a dozen. Up by one percent in the reporting period was the Index of Prices Paid by Farmers for Commodities, Services, Interest, Taxes and Farm Wage Rates.

And this index was six percent higher than for the same 30 days of a year ago.

The wage-rate portion of this index was down slightly, but was offset by a six percent increase in prices farmers were paying for living items, feed, building and fencing materials and feeder livestock -- above the same period in 1971.

S-S benefits will increase

Social Security benefit payments to residents of New Mexico will be increased by a total of $31 million in calendar year 1973 as a result of the 20 per cent benefit increase passed by Congress and signed into law by President Nixon on July 1.

In 1973, the first full calendar year during which the higher benefits will be payable, the 120,000 social security beneficiaries in New Mexico will receive a total of $184 million in benefits, compared to the estimated $153 million they would have been paid if the 20 per cent increase had not been enacted.

The first checks to include the 20 per cent increase will reach beneficiaries in Lincoln County October 3, the regular date for the delivery of checks covering benefits for September -- the month for which the increase is effective. Beneficiaries need not take any action since the increase will come to them automatically.

While the majority of social security beneficiaries in New Mexico are older people, 44,000 are under age 60, Mrs. Graves said. These include disabled workers and their dependents; widowed mothers and children; and the children of retired workers.

Mrs. Graves may be contacted at the County Commissioner's Room, Lincoln County Court House in Carrizozo, the fourth Wednesday of each month from 10 a.m. to noon.

State engineer holds hearing

L. G. Boles, State Highway Engineer, New Mexico State Highway Department, announced today that a corridor route public hearing will be held in Ruidoso.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the proposed improvement on a project at the junction of State Road 48 and State Road 37, a distance of 4.8 miles in Lincoln County. The proposed roadway will consist of 2 eleven foot driving lanes and six-foot shoulders; 2 major structures (bridges) in addition to other drainage features and utility adjustments. Additional right of way will be required on this project.

The meeting has been scheduled for August 9th at 7:00 p.m. in the White Mountain Elementary School in Ruidoso.

All interested persons whose property is affected by the project will be heard at the meeting, with regard to proposed improvements and to discuss the economic effects of such a change.

Dan Sadler, highway specialist, for the road organization will conduct the hearing. Other highway and city officials will also be in attendance at the meeting to answer any questions that might arise concerning the location of the project.

Maps showing the proposed corridor route will be available for public viewing at the following locations: U. S. Post Office, Alto, New Mexico; Chief Grocery Store, Angus, New Mexico; U. S. Post Office, Ruidoso, New Mexico and the U. S. Post Office, Alamogordo, New Mexico.

Boles urged all residents of the area who are interested in this project to attend the meeting and to participate in the discussion with state and local officials.

There are 18 departments devoted exclusively to junior contestants at the annual New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

PCA officials back from meet

ROSWELL -- Representatives of the Roswell Production Credit Association have returned from a two-day credit seminar in Albuquerque. Sponsored by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Wichita, the training session was on the subject of large and complex agricultural loans. Attending from the Roswell PCA were board members Britton Coll, William J. Edgar, John A. Richardson and Roy Choat, and office personnel W. C. Bradshaw, Jerry Beach, and Bill Schwartz. Attending credit seminars in Wichita, Kansas and Colorado Springs, Colo., were Richard K. Davidson and Kenneth Jennings.

The Roswell PCA is a farmer-owned, locally controlled agricultural credit cooperative. It lends operating credit to farmers and ranchers in Chaves, Lincoln, Eddy and Lea counties. Last year the association loaned $7,783,809. to 163 members in these counties. The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Wichita provides lending funds to PCAs in Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, and New Mexico -- money that is obtained from the public sale of FICB debentures.

The meeting program consisted of discussions by representatives of PCAs, the bank, Farm Credit Administration and certified public accountants

Petty chosen outstanding man

John Dalton Petty has been chosen for inclusion in the 1972 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America, according to the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce.

Nominated by the organization earlier this year, he was chosen for the annual awards volume in recognition of his professional and community leadership, a spokesman said today.

Sponsored by leading men's civic and service organizations, Outstanding Young Men of America honors men between the ages of 21 and 35 whose demonstrated excellence has marked them for future leadership in the nation.

"These young men," according to Doug Blankenship, chairman of the Board of Advisors, Outstanding Young Men of America, "are truly outstanding because they have distinguished themselves in one or more aspects of community and professional life."

Nominations for the awards volume are submitted each year by civic organizations, college alumni associations and military commanders.

In complimenting those in the awards volume, U. S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson III has said that for all their diversity, the Outstanding Young Men of America have "in common -- and in abundance -- that quality of civic energy. They are activists. Though they are young, they have already made their imprint -- in their neighborhoods and in the nation."

John is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Harkey of Carrizozo.
