CARRIZOZO, N.M. 88301

Bob Stearns of Moore Insurance Agency leads a "parade" down Central Avenue, Monday, when a house was moved to two miles west of Carrizozo. The lot from which the house was moved will be the location of a new building for Moore Insurance Agency—with construction to start very soon. The lot is north of the Citizens State Bank. Johnson and Margaret Stearns are owners of Moore Insurance Agency.

Looking north on 4th Avenue, a house appears in this 1917 photo. The house was moved this week to make room for a new Moore Insurance Agency building to face Central Avenue. The building on the left is now Gamble's.

New building planned

Moore Insurance Agency will soon be housed in a new building at Central and 4th Avenue, with construction to start very soon, Johnson and Margaret Stearns have announced.

Monday an old house—on location since at least 1917—was moved off the lot which is directly north of the Citizens State Bank location.

Stearns said that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hollis will redo the house at its new location—two miles west of Carrizozo on the Tularosa highway.

The new Moore Insurance Agency building will contain 1,120 square feet of floor space and will be Spanish style block construction. It will face Central Avenue.

Moore Insurance Agency personnel, Margaret Stearns, Bob Stearns, Dorothy Straley and Virginia Curtis are looking forward to the new building.

The agency was founded in 1948 by the late J.G. Moore, who was a State Senator. Mrs. Straley is his daughter.

Dutch Cox is contractor on the new building.

Outstanding Wool

The Victor Perez Inc. Ranch of Encino at a recent sale at the Roswell Wool-Mohair sold to Dick Wooten, wool buyer, the 1975 wool clip for the price of 82 1/4 cent grease.

This outstanding clip has been at the top of the wool sales year in and year out.

Lake Lucero Caravan

An auto caravan to Lake Lucero, part of the area that is the source of the White Sands, is scheduled for Saturday, May 17, 1975. The caravan will be limited to 30 cars and reservations are required. Interested persons should call monument headquarters - 437-1058.

Fair Board seeks funds

The Lincoln County Commission at its last meeting, on Friday, pledged to scan the budget carefully to find some funds for the Lincoln County Fair Board to help finance the fair complex at Capitan.

Asking for some help in meeting expenses were Charlie and Elinor Jones who outlined to the commission the services provided by the fair complex to the people of Lincoln County.

"We do appreciate everything you have done for the county fair," Mrs. Jones told the commission.

Facilities there are used by the Valley Masters Roping Club, New Mexico Wool Growers Assn., Forest Service, 4-H clubs, rodeo clubs, historical society, Lincoln County Development commission, senior citizens, extension clubs, Mounted Patrol, fire department, survival group, Junior Livestock Sale, and more, the Jones told the commission.

Three funerals and a wedding reception were held there the past year.

Only source of revenue, other than donations, is the Smokey Bear Stampede, the Jones' said.

They said the fair board has agreed to store voting machines there and to use the fair grounds as a voting place.

Outlay the past year was $10,379 in operational expense. Income was much less than that.

Although the main building is paid for, "We need to replace lots of things," Jones told the commission. The fair board has borrowed money to buy five adjacent lots for expansion in the future.

Labor has been donated, but last year $720 was spent for panels for corrals, $5,000 for used pipe for sheds, $1,160 for iron for the livestock shed, $500 for cement and gravel, $693 for catalogs, $756 for premiums, $850 for insurance plus other expenses.

The complex, Jones said, is worth $100,000 and belongs to the people of Lincoln County. "We've done this for Lincoln County," he said.

"If we can keep one kid out of Springer, it is worth while."

Commissioner Bill Hart complimented the fair board on operation of the annual fair and the complex.

"When we rework the budget, we will do all we can to find you some money," Hart said.

Some $2,500 was budgeted last year for the fair, with $500 of that earmarked for a booth at the New Mexico State Fair.

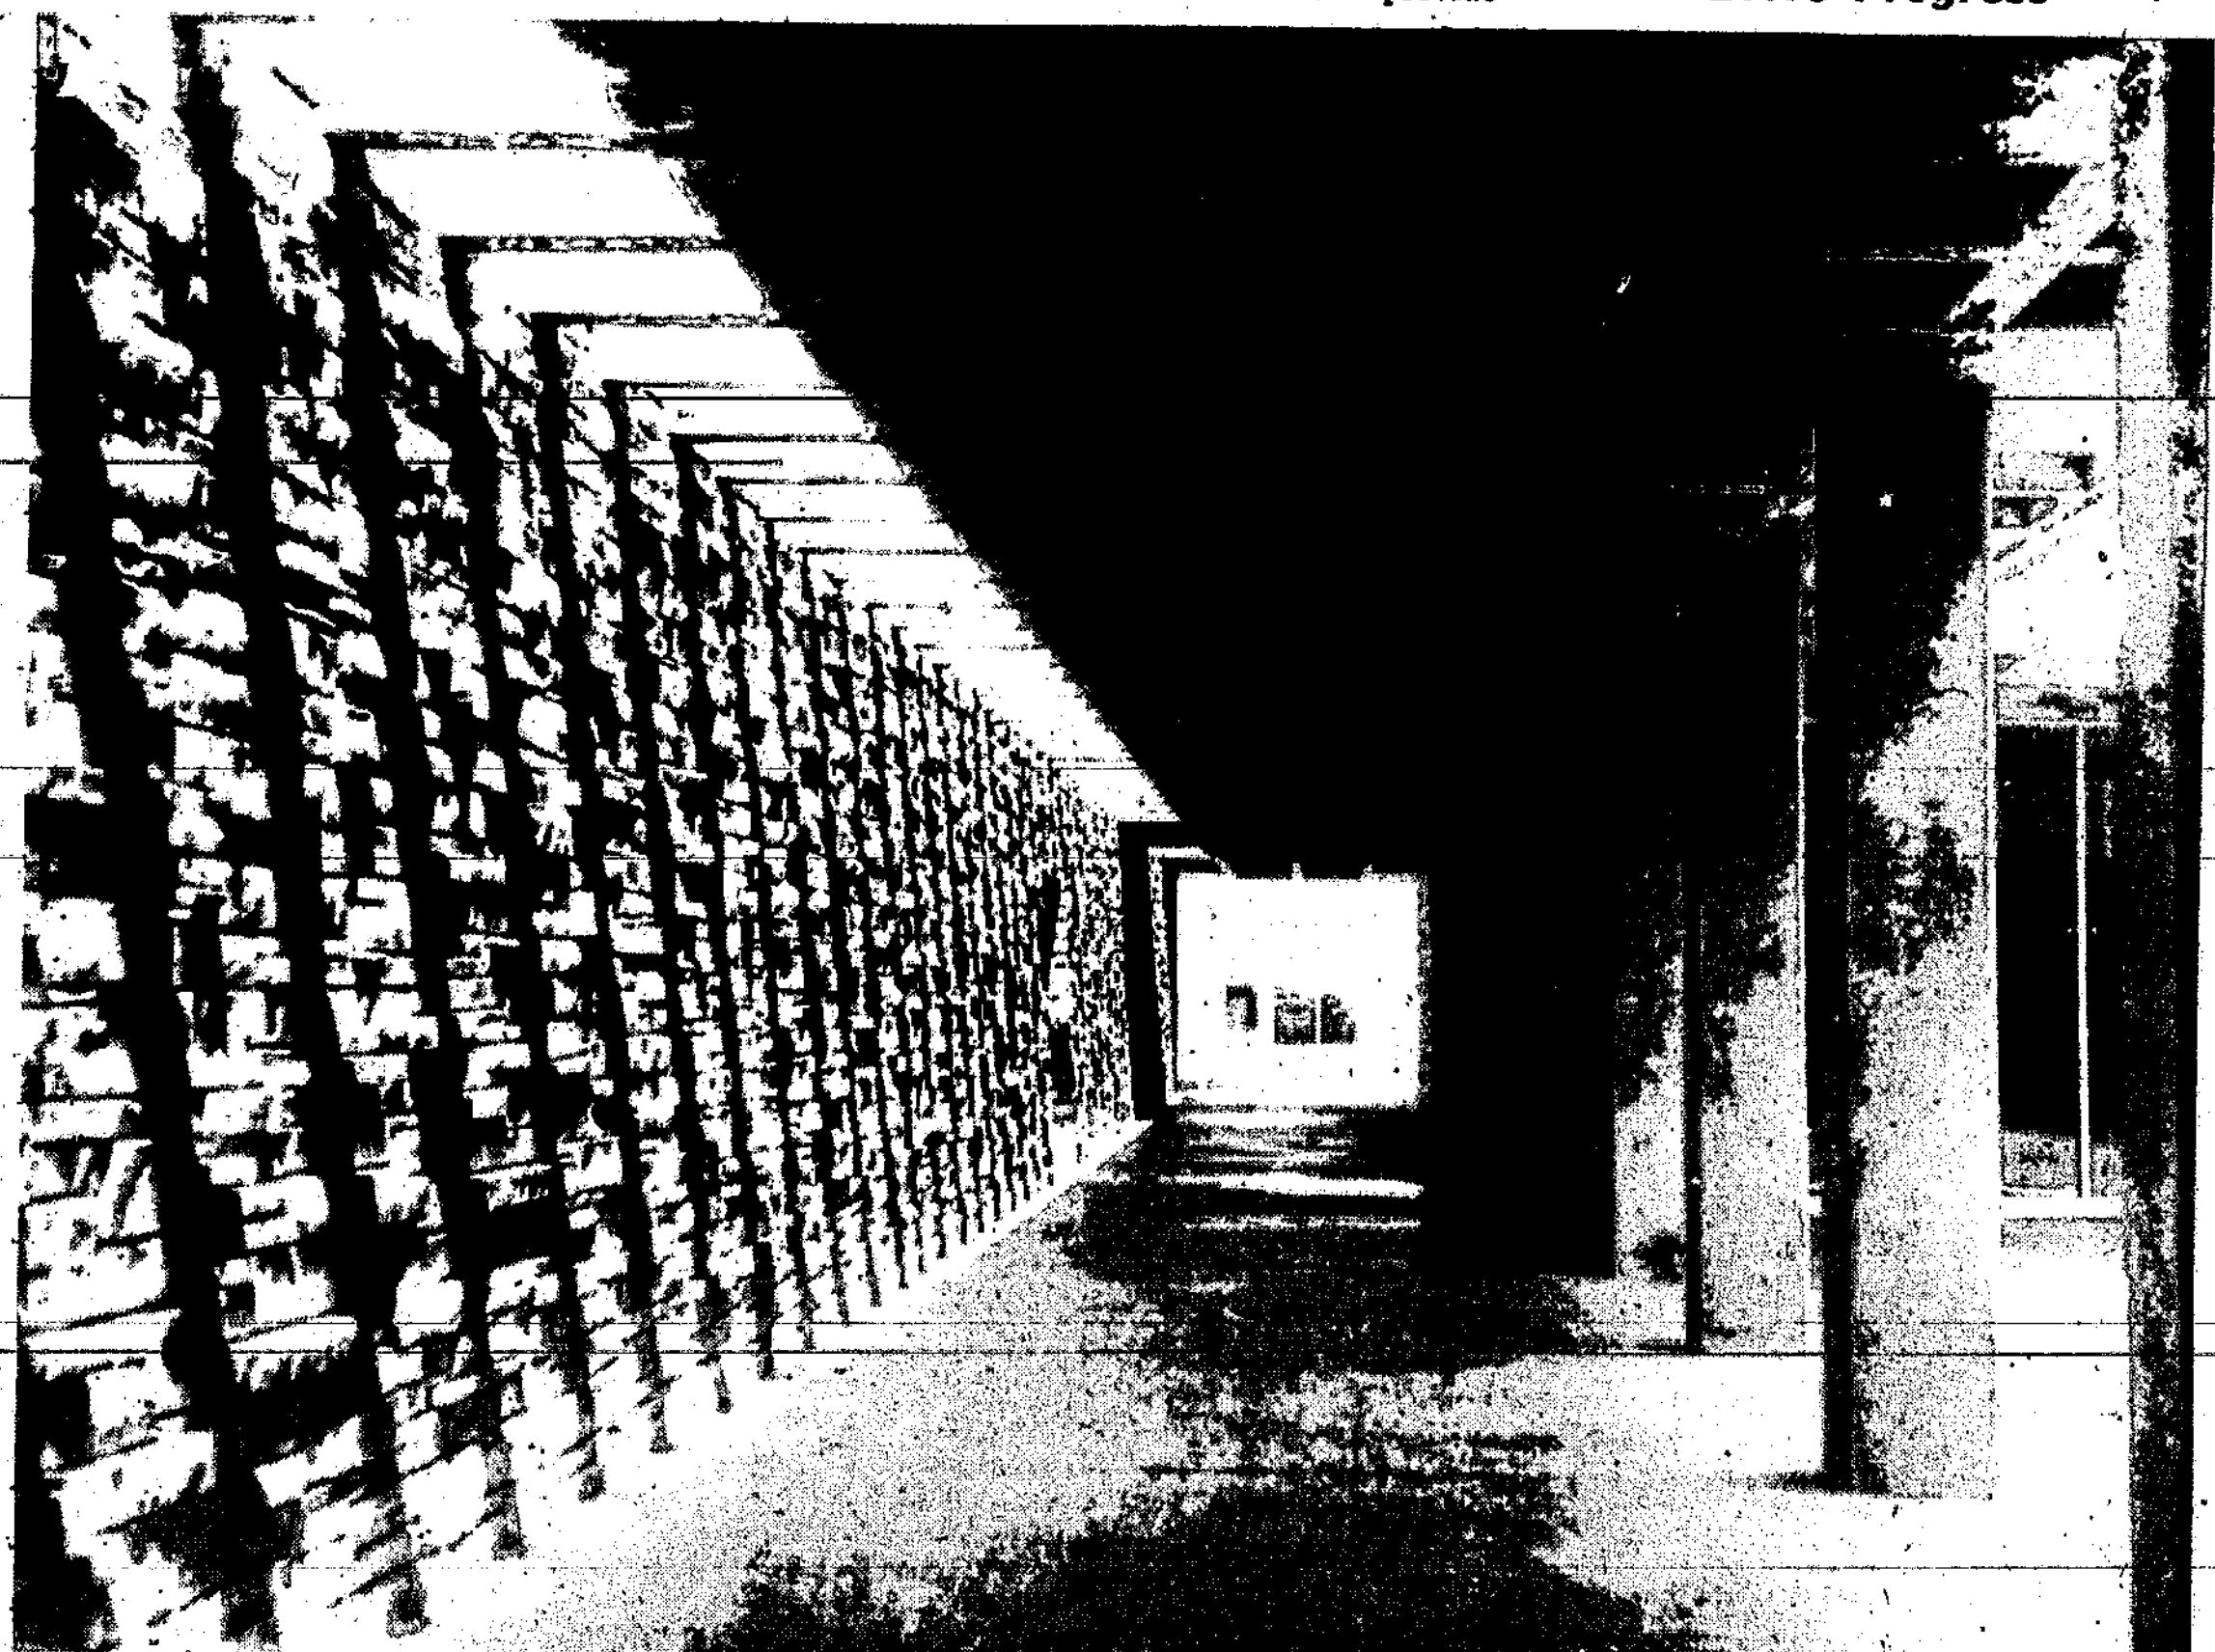

But, since the building was paid for last year, Hart said, "The county was not aware of further need."

"We can use anything you can provide," Jones said.

The sun, stone and shadows plus concrete create interesting patterns along a walkway at the Lincoln County Courthouse just off the patio or courtyard.

Carrizozo village trustees will seek a public retraction from Carmel V. Fenter, former town clerk who resigned this month, concerning allegations that the town council held a secret meeting weekend before last in violation of the open meetings law.

Mrs. Fenter wrote the attorney general in Santa Fe asking that his office look into the matter. She alleged that the meeting she says was held was to name a new town clerk and at the time she had not officially resigned.

The new mayor of Carrizozo, Floyd Siegrist, polled members of the town council at a regular meeting Tuesday night and asked each trustee: "Did you call a meeting...did you attend a meeting?"

In each case the answer was "No."

The acting village clerk, Johnny Johnson and the town attorney, Bill Payne, were asked the same question.

They replied, "No."

When Mrs. Fenter's letter to the attorney general was made public, Mayor Siegrist said: "What meeting? If one was called, I was not there."

At the council meeting, Mayor Siegrist said Mrs. Fenter's letter was a "very serious error..."

Trustee Willie Silva said he was embarrassed by the allegations made by Mrs. Fenter and that they are totally untrue. He asked the council if members desired to demand a public retraction. The council agreed and will request a retraction in a letter as a start.

The council indicated other action will be taken through the district attorney's office is a retraction is not immediately forthcoming.

Silva said the letter to the attorney general was libelous and damaging to his reputation. "We could seek damages," he said.

In other action and considerations, the trustees Tuesday night approved the mayor's appointment of Trustee Roy Harman as mayor pro-tem.

Mayor Siegrist, who was sworn in May 1 after Bill Payne resigned as mayor, then named Trustee Duff May to the Recreation Commission and in charge of parks; Willie Silva as trustee in charge of streets; Roy Harman, temporarily in charge of water and sewer matters until a vacancy on the council is filled, and the mayor, in charge of City Hall and the Carrizozo Police Department.

The council voted to seek applications for a town clerk and for a manager for the municipal swimming pool prior to a special meeting Tuesday, May 20, 7 p.m. when these positions will be filled.

Johnson last week named acting town clerk until the position is filled permanently.

Mayor Siegrist indicated he will name next Tuesday a replacement for Trustee Earl Fenter who resigned effective last Tuesday night. Fenter was not present for the council meeting and had said he would not serve beyond the May 13 meeting. The council officially accepted his resignation, Tuesday night.

Trustees Tuesday night agreed to purchase five lots "across from the priest's house" on the east side of Carrizozo for a mini-park for younger children.

The lots will be purchased for $75 each plus tax liens against them from Elizabeth Padilla at a total cost to the town of $625. The area will measure 150 by 100 feet.

Grants up to 75 percent can be obtained for developing the park, Payne told the trustees.

Of two bidders, Citizens State Bank purchased Carrizozo municipal water and sewer bonds in the amount of $85,000.

The bank bid an interest rate of 6.80 per cent over the 10-year life of the bonds. Only other bidder was Stillwell and Co. of Albuquerque which bid 7 per cent on bonds maturing to 1981 and 6 and 7/8 per cent on bonds maturing from 1982 through 1985.

The Citizens State Bank bid was called excellent by a bonding attorney from Stern Brothers, a Mr. Ratcliff.

Proceeds from the bond issue will provide $60,000 for improvement and enlargement of the town water system and $25,000 for improvement and enlargement of the sewer system.

Moore Insurance Agency of Carrizozo was awarded a contract for insurance on town property, with the annual premium set at $678. Value of town property is estimated at $201,195.

In other action, the council: Took under advisement a proposition from the State Police for the town to purchase sophisticated radar equipment. The State Police said they would issue enough tickets within the corporate limits of Carrizozo to where fines would pay for the equipment. The machine is an MR-7 which costs $2,400 and which can be paid for over 36 months in monthly installments.

State Policemen Max Watson and Dale Housley made the presentation to the council. They said they hope to offer the same proposition to Capitan and Corona.

A contract was approved with an auditor-king-to conduct the town audit the next fiscal year at a price of $1,040.

Consideration was given the railroad crossing and approach across from White's and Central Cafe.

A plan to move the crossing has been advanced by the Planning and Zoning Commission. A meeting with State Highway Department people was set up for late Wednesday on that and other matters at town hall.

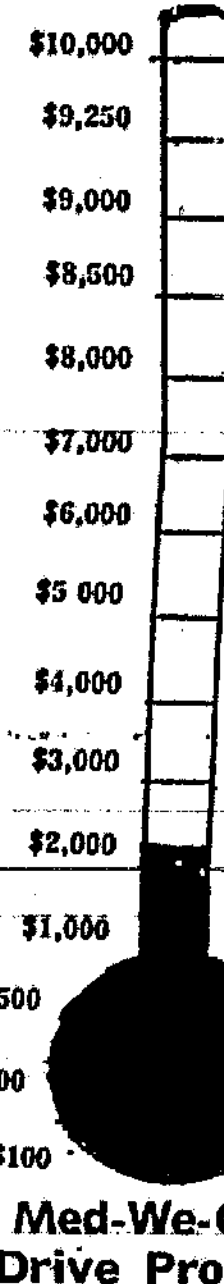

The council also approved a fire siren for across the tracks and a direct phone hookup between the fire station and the sheriff's office. Avenue "D" will be closed at the Sands Motel, as per a previous request from Ray Wells who plans to add living quarters on to the motel.

Marvin Rowin and wife, 1306 "B" Avenue, appeared at the meeting and asked that a hole be filled in their area. Rowin said he put four loads of gravel in the hole at his own expense, but that the Town "graded it out."

He said a street in the area is "nothing but chuck holes" and what drainage is the area is poor. He said whenever a fireplug is opened in the area, "it floods my back yard."

The town agreed to inspect the area and to do work in the area.

The town is looking for a swimming pool manager who can also lifeguard. Specifications for the job are contained in a legal notice to be published this week.

TABLESPOONS OF THOUGHTS ABOUT COYOTES

Despite man's efforts to trap and shoot him out of existence this intelligent, persevering creature goes right on adapting to an ever-widening environment.

Some years ago, a government trapper was trapping Coyotes just as he had done many hundred in the past; set several on the much traveled trail, just to find later, that the trap had been carefully dug up and sprung. For weeks the trapper waged a battle of wits with the Coyote, each time the coyote out-smarting him. Regardless of all effort to kill this creature, he keeps tiptoeing over the landscape. He has expanded his territory to Central America, northward to the Arctic coast, east to the Atlantic sea board, and closer to the cities.

The average male stand 21 inches high and weighs 25 lbs. The female is a little smaller. They have pointed erect ears and bushy, drooping tail. Their color being gray with a tinge of yellow on flanks and neck, and black on forehead, tip of tail, and at the tail's base. They work together, one might chase a rabbit another may wait behind a bush to leap upon the prey as it runs by. They are cunning and strategic. One retired trapper, who supervised all government trappers was convinced that a race of super coyotes has emerged. Their dens are harder to find now, and they no longer eat poisoned carcasses. They are thought to have a sense of humor, by the way they tease dogs some times.

The male and female help provide for their young, they hunt together and they both maintain family life together. The pups are born by mid April in the northern states and later in May in the South. A coyote, if captured early in life can be domesticated, and makes a great playmate.

The coyote greatest playmate is the badger. Since ancient times these two have been seen together. "The coyote on his long legs can travel a lot faster than the badger," says a trapper, but pretty soon he stops and waits for the badger to catch up." The Coyote eat rabbits, carrion and rodents. Also Mesquite beans and fish. Occasionally they attack and kill large animals-pronghorns and deer. But is appetite for lamb-and mutton, that keeps him in hot water.

Many western sheepmen see their industry as doomed unless the ban of coyotes is relaxed. The cattlemen has a little different view. Some lose calves, but some have a few that help them get rid of rabbits and rodents that eat the grass.

After many studies and statistics they found that the more coyotes that are removed from the area, the more pups the remaining adults will produce. Perhaps the ancient Indian tribes who believed that "Brother Coyote" would be the last animal on earth were truly prophetic.

 Gee! the wind is trying to bowl Spring in for good, I hope it gives up soon. Nogal has a few apples but not as many as they thought. There are some cherries-but alas! that's about all!

Mrs. Stearns had a surprise visit by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poage, (her son and his family) It was nice having them back again. And Sunday was a Special day-because Louis is home in Nogal-he went tripping over the hills yesterday trying to visit everyone. He is delighted with his school, his teachers, and life in general. Sunda is very glad to have him home-again.

Mrs. Canning made a visit this week, it seems that Hap Canning has been very sick with Pneumonia, but he is doing better now. I saw Bill Ward in Carrizozo and he said that his son has to have another operation. Do hope he gets along alright. Fern is back on the Tennis courts

America's parklands varied

Washington - Fire and ice, salt and sand, water and stalactites, that's what National Parks are made of.

Fire-sprouting Kilauea and its sister volcano Mauna Loa dominate Hawaii Volcanoes National Park, 352 square miles of lava-built scenery on the "big island" of the Hawaiian chain, according to the National Geographic Society's book, "The New America's Wonderlands."

One of the world's most active volcanoes, Kilauea has been erupting for the last 150 years, but it outdid itself in 1959 when fountains of fire from a long-dormant vent soared 1,900 feet, highest ever recorded in Hawaii.

Tossed in Gin

A hotel owner, troubled with failing business when the volcano became inactive for nearly three years in the 1930's, decided on drastic action. He tossed a lei of sacred ohelo berries into the lifeless fire pit and added a bottle of gin, since the goddess of volcanoes is said to prefer strong drink.

That did the trick. Smoke mushroomed, lava filled the crater, and visitors flocked back to the hotel.

The lure of ice on a dormant volcano draws crowds to Mount Rainier National Park in Washington state. From Rainier's lofty cap, rivers of ice stream down like arms of a starfish, moving at most 12 to 18 inches a day. The mountain holds 26 glaciers, more than any other U.S. peak outside Alaska.

At Glacier Bay National Monument in Alaska, rivers of accumulated snow turned to ice. Glaciers within the 4,381-square-mile monument are remnants of a "little ice age" that began 4,000 years ago.

A sheet of ice 4,000 feet deep covered the bay until a warming trend around 1750 made the ice recede. Since then, the glaciation has fluctuated. Some glaciers continue to grind irresistibly down the Fairweather Range into the Pacific Ocean or Glacier Bay. Others retreat. Muir Glacier receded five miles in seven years but still presents an awesome 200-foot-high snout of ice.

Enough salt to melt plenty of ice lies under Utah's Canyonlands National Park. The legacy of landlocked seas; a salt deposit as big as Maryland and as much as 2 1/2 miles thick underlies southeast Utah and part of Colorado.

Acts Like Putty
 Under pressure from hundreds of feet of rock, the salt rises like putty into faults and weak spots, warping the surface upward. As the rock strata crack, water seeps in and dissolves the salt away, letting the surface drop.

It is this heaving process, combined with erosion, that creates the land's fantasies in stone. Thousands of spires, buttes, arches, and balanced stones dub the park with curious names: the Doll House, Druid Arch, Paul Bunyan's Potty, Land of Standing Rocks, Upeyval Dome.

Gypsum sand so white it could pass for salt seasons White Sands National Monument in New Mexico. Utah and Australia have similar deserts but neither rivals White Sands' 228-square-mile gypsum deposit located in a valley called the Tularosa Basin.

Rain and melting snow dissolve gypsum beds in surrounding mountains; runoff collects in Lake Lucero, the basin's lowest point. Evaporation-leaves selenite crystals, and the wind pulverizes and whirles them into gleaming patterns.

Perhaps the busiest man in the park is the road grader. The more the wind blows, the harder he works. "We used to fight the sand," he says. "Now we cooperate with it. If a dune wants to cover the road, we plow another route around it."

Shadowed by Barracuda
 Water blends with sand and tropical vegetation to create the Virgin Islands National Park. "In only one national park was I ever followed by a barracuda," writes Nathaniel T. Kenney in the Wonderlands book. "It happend, of course, in Virgin Islands, where the most popular trail is blazed in ten feet of water."

Swimmers tour the National monument's underwater trail at Buck Island Reef, just north of St. Croix. Following markers and arrows easy to read beneath the crystal water, they view multi-colored fishes and coral formations. Among the dangers on the trail: stinging fire coral, sharp sea urchin spines, and sunburn.

Drop by drop, eon by eon, water and time carved New Mexico's Carlsbad Caverns. The calcite crystals remaining after the water evaporated formed bizarre shaped ceiling deposits that led to stalactites. Where the drop continued, droplets falling to the floor built stalagmites that grew upward.

Sometime stalactite and stalagmite met and grew together in a pillar or column. One of the most popular formations in the caves is a pair that didn't quite meet, but came tantalizingly close. It's called the Frustrated Lovers.

Hawaiian technology has increased the yield of sugarcane fields since 1900 from four tons to an acre to 11 tons, National Geographic says.

again, and two tennis students are coming up to Sunda next week for private lessons. Mr. and Mrs. House from Capitan visited Nogal-do come back soon.

Mother's Day is coming up very soon-let's think about making it a great day.

A deputy sheriff to serve the Hondo Valley has been named by Sheriff Leandro Vega, Jr.

Ralph Romero, who has been with the sheriff's department in Chaves County (Roswell) several years, will join the Lincoln County force.

Ralph, Sheriff Vega said, has been chief investigator for the Chaves County sheriff. He will live in Ruidosos at least temporarily and plans to rent a trailer.

Romero was expected to be in Carrizozo today to begin orientation.

Romero will occupy the shoes worn by former Deputy Ernest Sanchez who was relieved of duties by the county commission because of the nepotism law which the commissioners chose to enforce.

Sanchez is the sheriff's brother-in-law, and this was the center of controversy when the commissioners decided he could no longer be a deputy.

Medical equipment vital

The total amount thus far featured in the Vital Equipment articles for weeks 1 and 2 is $3700. These pieces of equipment will help the Med-We-Care doctor better serve the Carrizozo Medical Trade Area.

Two pieces of equipment are being featured this week, an otoscope-ophthalmoscope set and a headlight.

VITAL EQUIPMENT (Week No. 3)

The otoscope-ophthalmoscope set are the specialized lights with lenses and adapters that the doctor uses to examine your eyes and ears. A set with rechargeable battery handles and a desk-top recharger cost $210. We should have two.

A headlight is used instead of the "head mirror" which was seen in most cartoons of doctors a generation ago. It allows the doctor to use both hands and have a good light for ear and throat examinations. Cost (Welch-Allyn Full Beam type) is $85.

Total cost for the items featured this week is $885.

Any donation, large and small, toward these pieces of equipment or to the general fund will be appreciated. Send donations to Med-We-Care, Inc., Citizens State Bank, Carrizozo, New Mexico. All donations to Med-We-Care, Inc. are tax deductible.

Fiesta Dancers do well

by Hattie Phillips

We, in Lincoln will miss Glenn Bradley along with his many friends and family - and deeply sympathize with his family in their loss.

Schar Ward is now at home with his parents and can get around a little with crutches, but still has a great deal of pain. In the last operation, they put pins in his leg which will, hopefully, hold the bones in place until they heal.

Lincoln people are very proud of the two fiesta dancers from our town - Kate Evans and Albert Booky. They danced beautifully as well as Kate looking so beautiful and Albert so handsome. We're bragging! The dancers were all outstanding and the Queen was as lovely as could be, along with the other girls. I heard someone remark that the boys too, were very graceful and handsome. Ruth Penfield and I attended on Saturday evening and thoroughly enjoyed it. It's really fantastic that everyone works together to such a degree as to accomplish a performance such as they give. Mrs. Barbara Radkloff and her art class did a great job in decorating and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. Montes and Cecelia Booky and the youngsters who performed did the same as well as everyone connected with the school helping in some way. We will just be looking forward to another such performance next year. The Valley wouldn't be the same without it and it seems hundreds of others agree.

I hate to have to report that my son-in-law, Sam Welsh is in Clovis Memorial Hospital with pneumonia and complications. He is very ill but seems to be gradually improving. His son, Sammy, and family have come to be with him as long as needed. Sammy is stationed at the Air Force Base in Oklahoma City.

Vera Beall is gradually getting better. Hopefully she will soon be back to normal. We enjoy having her back again. Mrs. Ruefina Maes went to Alamogordo to be with her daughter Susie Kassage Maes who is very ill. Mr. Alston of Lovington was coming to see his grandson, Schar Ward and the family Sunday, but he didn't quite make it, as he was in a car accident in Roswell and was injured. Pat Ward went to Roswell to see about him. I don't know how badly he was injured but one report I heard was that he had a broken collar bone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap were in Belen and Albuquerque last Friday. Rosalie had to go for her health check-up.

Ralph Dunlap accompanied the County 4-H wool judging team to Clovis Saturday for the State Wool Judging Contest. One of the senior teams placed second. They are expecting their son, Wayne Dunlap, home during the last week in May for a visit.

Cinderella horse for Downs

RUIDOSO DOWNS-Scenic Dancer, the Cinderella horse who was voted the champion three-year-old of the '74 meeting at Ruidoso Downs, will be heading back to the mountain track.

The gelding is included in a strong string of horses which Trainer Buffalo Wooten will be campaigning this summer.

Last year, Scenic Dancer capped a sparkling set of Ruidoso performances with a win in the top sophomore event of the season—the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Derby. Earlier in the year, Scenic Dancer was operating in claiming competition at Sunland Park.

The Wooten contingent also includes Stacks Bludady, the recent winner of a Sunland feature. He also has some solid prospects which were recently acquired in Hot Springs: Kaytee D, Loud Hather and Ship To Port.

The new racing season, covering 63 race days and offering a total purse disbursement of over $4 million, gets rolling on Saturday, May 17. The season extends through Labor Day and culminates with the nationally-televised $1,030,000 All-American Quarter Horse Futurity.

Over 300 horses are currently stabled at Ruidoso, but the figure will jump sharply to about 1,600 next week. Racing Secretary Tom Dawson had his hands full in recent weeks processing a record inflow of about 2,400 stall applications.

One of the kingpins in Southwest thoroughbred circles is Trainer George Cosper. He'll be shipping to Ruidoso with 15 head, and each member of the stable is a tough one. The group is topped by Floating Star, the multi-stakes winner in the Southwest. Recently, the durable gelding raced under a $15,000 claiming price at Louisiana Downs.

The Cosper lineup also features Lu Ven, the stakes-placed filly at Ruidoso; the sharp stakes-winning sprinter, Master Salls; the stakes-winning filly, Chiadora; and such stout allowance campaigners as Martha Custus, El Tasador and Hairsnirt.

Trainer Bob Arnett, a longtime powerhouse at the mountain track, got the green light for 35 head, and once again figures to be in the thick of things. (Arnett ended up fourth in the standings last year).

One of Arnett's big guns is Let's Get Started, who recently picked off a crack field of stakes-winners in Sunland's Thunderbird Handicap. Arnett will also be dealing a strong hand with Running Star, the winner of last year's prestigious Ruidoso Mile. He also has Miss Flurry, who finished second in a division of the Sunland Derby and knocked off two allowance wins during her Sunland campaign. Her hard-hitting stablemates include Tux N' All, Hap-pamatic, True Balcony, and a well-balanced assortment of claiming horses.

Trainer Brooks Claridge will bring in 20 head, including Zonic, the winner of Sunland's Albuquerque Stakes. He was the beaten favorite in the Fall Thoroughbred Futurity. Claridge also has Inky, Mr. Mayor, Foolish Edition, plus an excellent collection of two-year-olds including the stakes-winning Admiral's Blade and the stakes-placed, Man Of Sultra.

Trainer Jolly Driskill is expected to make plenty of noise with Arran Dunce, a winner of close to $40,000 so far. The 18-head contingent also features a couple of real speed-burners in Flashy Country and Mama Minnie. Driskill is also well-stocked in two-year-old talent.

Cliff Lambert has two top stakes horses, Cheyenne Cosper and Yufala Pres. The latter recently achieved quite a feat by becoming the first horse in Sunland history to capture the Sunland Derby and Sunland Handicap in the same season. Lambert's potent 35-head string includes the Gordot Howell contingent—Tippy Queen, Faraway East, Eromanga, Guadalupe, among others.

Whitey Nolen's 33-head lineup is bolstered by the stakes standouts, Cutarusty and Wit N Wisdom, plus such tough customers as Texas Drifter, Nail Warrior and Daddy's Little Man. Doyal Roberts got the green light for 28-head, including Bay Gem and I'll Hum.

Bill Hitt will be bringing in a 10-head group which includes Sir Virge, plus the Denver winners, Sandy Steve and Time to Shine.

Some prominent thoroughbred trainers who'll be shipping to Ruidoso after an absence of several seasons include Leroy Henson, Fred Danley, Skip Vandevender, Lewis Germany and Bill Harper.

Coy Hendrix and Bob Hirst, a couple of well-known Ruidoso regulars, will also be back and look well-stocked.

Among quarter horse trainers, the list includes such talent as Bubba Werner, Jake Caselo, Bubba Caselo, Don Farris, Hugh Tucker, Larry Sharp, J. B. Montgomery, Walter Merrick, Tommy Dean, Jack Brooks.

Werner, who won the championship last year with 39 wins, usually campaigns a powerful crop of two-year-olds.

The grandstands may have been empty up until now at Ruidoso Downs track, but this weekend will be different as the 1975 racing season opens Saturday. Trainers, jockeys and about 1,600 top thoroughbreds and quarterhorses will be converging on the Downs this week. Well

Bowl of Activities from Nogal A big Pinch of Health!

By Roby Burke
 Everyone should have some type of daily exercise, Yoga, calisthenics, or the Williams exercises. Betty Ford's doctor ordered this treatment for her.

Many of us in the holding-pattern span of years are familiar with so-called muscle spasms, whether it's a mildly stiff neck or the locked feeling known in the Ozarks as a "hitch in the gitalong." Some have cramps in the legs and etc.

Dr. Paul C. Williams is an orthopedic surgeon whom people with serious back problems flew to Dallas to consult. The Williams exercises have become so widely accepted in medical practice in this country that their use amounts to a quiet medical "break-through".

1. Never sleep on your abdomen. Sleep on your side, curled up in a semifetal position. Never stand when you can sit.

2. Try to keep the car seat in position so that the knees are higher than the hips. Put a pillow under your knees to adjust the car seat.

3. To relieve the back—Now lay down on the floor on your back facing an easy chair, head on a pillow and back flat, lift your legs, placing your thighs parallel with the front of the chair and your lower legs in the seat, which has been built up as necessary with other pillows or an afghan so that your lower legs are at a right angle with your thighs. The built-up chair seat should be high enough so that there is a slight tug on the "hamstrings" under your thighs.

Do this about 20 minutes, and you can talk on the phone or watch T.V. while you are doing this. It does wonders for the spine. This position is great for older people who do not get circulation in the legs.

HAPPENING AROUND THE BOWL!
 Yes! It is sunny and warm, and there are all kinds of activities going on at the Villa now. The new craft room is almost finished. Jimbo-Johns came up this week to help get things in shape for the tennis camp. Damon Burkstaller will be home the 20th of this month. Louis Caraveo Wilkerson's square dance lessons last Friday night; by the way he will teach this Friday, too. Thanks Wilkersons!

Molly is enjoying being home and seems to have a steady stream of visitors. Remember that Nogal Mesa Ranchmen's Camp Meeting is from the 16th to the 20th of July. Mrs. Urban Crouse had the U.P.W. meeting in her home this week, and it was enjoyed by all. It was nice to have Sheron Bandy from Lincoln. The Richardsons have been very busy this summer, do slow down a little and tell us what is happening.

Mother's Day couldn't have been more perfect, weather-wise, and I am sure all the mothers received many cards - and phone calls, presents and visits. Let's hope every mother had a happy one!

Bye now, Roby

'Poppy Day' is in May

Six members of the American Legion Auxiliary met May 6 in Corona for a monthly meeting.

Sympathy cards were sent to members who have had deaths in their family.

Everyone is looking forward to a Bicentennial Celebration and a parade. Date of this event will be July 4.

Saturday, May 24 is a very special day in New Mexico - it is "Poppy Day". Veteran made poppies are sold each year on this day (last Saturday before Memorial Day).

How many of us truly know the full meaning of this little red flower that we so proudly wear on Poppy Day?

It is more than just a flower, it is a symbol of the American way of life - a reminder that we still have disabled veterans in our V. A. hospitals, who were disabled fighting for our country so that they, you and I could continue to live in this great land.

These Veterans are paid three cents for each flower they make, and this small income helps them to provide for their families - as well as being good therapy for some of their arthritic hands. One third of the sales the American Legion Auxiliary members sell is retained in the unit for child welfare and rehabilitation for local children and veterans care.

Two thirds of sales goes to the V. A. Hospital in Albuquerque and Las Vegas for the same purpose.

Seniors go on trip

By Margaret Rench

Memorial Day will be observed at Angus, Sunday, June 1. Schedule as usual, preaching service at 11 a.m., basket dinner at noon, followed by business. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the full day's activities and visit with old friends.

The officers of Lincoln County Republican Women's Club will meet May 13 at the home of Mrs. Cathy Annala in Ruidoso for a special membership brunch. The time is from 10 a.m. until noon. Each member is asked to bring either fruit, juice, cinnamon roll, jelly or a special something that you enjoy for the brunch. Their desire is to reach a 45 new membership. They urge each member to bring a guest, two or three.

Mrs. George Richardson of Roswell will be their special speaker. She is going to discuss the Constitution. They want you to come to hear her and re-learn some of the reasons our country became the great nation that it is.

The United Methodist Women's Bake Sale held last Saturday was a big success. No wonder as they have such delicious home made goodies for sale. Everyone is always anxious for them to hold them often. Each time their sales grows.

The Capitan seniors accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ric Allen, Mr. Hornbaker and Mrs. Harriet Kline left on their trip to Flagstaff, Ariz. Monday after their baccalaureate address Sunday morning. Their commencement will be Friday, May 16, at 8 p.m.

A very large crowd of friends and their families attended a pot luck dinner and farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Englekling and Loy last Sat. from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at the Phil Richardson ranch home.

They were presented a silver dish inscribed for their good deeds to our community. They started and worked hard with several projects with youngsters and gave so much joy and such interest.

The Junior Riding Club is one project. Successful as many other ones are. Janice Elderidge will continue to carry on. The Daily Master Cul and there are so many others too numerous to mention. Thank you, to the Englekings for everything. We do appreciate it far beyond words of expression. Doris was our city clerk and had been for over five years. She was a very good one and loved by all of us. Doris, Charlies and Loyd expect to get moved by June 1 to Midway, Texas, where they will be in ranching. We will certainly miss them. Our great loss and Midway's gain. Thank you again from all of us, and we do wish you worlds of happiness and success in your new location.

Mr. and Mrs. John House and Mrs. Bolash of Albuquerque stopped by at Mrs. Rench's home Monday morning with some nice plants while en route to Ruidoso where they were to take their treatments with Dr. D'Elia that day and spent the night and again their treatments before returning home Tuesday Morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr. accompanied by his brother, Harold Dean, of Bingham visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean, Ed Howell, Ethel Pepper, Stanley Pew, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Randle last Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell. All are doing nicely. I wish them continued health.

Earl and Kay Allison and three children of Ruidoso had to wait a long time for a house in Capitan but finally got located at the former Key home on East Second Street and are very happy here with us. Earl became Manager of Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas Co. earlier this year. Kay became our city clerk starting Monday morning, May 12. Their three children ages 12, 14 and 16, really are enjoying our school and are happy with us, welcome to our community. We are so happy to have you permanently. May you have many years of joy and success and happiness with us.

We had a cloudy quiet day last Saturday and from the gently warm afternoon came loud thunder, followed soon by a gentle light shower of rain with small hail. But, it was so encouraging and so fresh and the atmosphere gave one such vibrant ambition. We were grateful for that little moisture as it is so very dry. It has been much warmer since but so cold at night. Lots of wind, but, we do have so much to be thankful for. We must count our blessings with constant prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sharp and baby of Ruidoso are moving into the former Monroe Howard property on West Fourth Street. He is a carpenter. Welcome to Capitan.

Clara Snow and Ruth Wilson stopped by at the Champ Ferguson ranch to visit her sister, Lorene Ferguson, for a short time while en route to Ruidoso this Monday morning.

Mora Titworth of Tinnie was also a guest there for the day.

Lorene reported that they are getting two new neighbors who are going to build new homes. Mr. and Mrs. Craft have had a well drilled and are ready to go to building. They are northeast of the Champ Ferguson ranch and to the south Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Townley are building a home. All of this on the former Herbert Lee Traylor property. They are so happy to have neighbors. Both families will live there.

I enjoyed a Mother's Day dinner at the home of Doris Pounds Sunday evening with Doris and her lovely family.

Superintendents shift

Inside the capital

SANTA FE— This is the season for changes in public school superintendents and seven are leaving their posts.

A.D. McDonald is retiring as Texico schools superintendent. Texico High School Principal James Pierce will replace him. Los Lunas Supt. Raymond A. Gabaldon resigned. Clor Clory B. Tafoya, a Los Lunas elementary school principal, is his successor.

By Fred Buckles

Benito Duran is retiring at Ojo Caliente and Horace Martinez resigned at Questa. The posts were unfilled at the weekend. The 1974 Legislature boosted retirement benefits for Educational Retirement Association members.

Court Administrator Larry Doughenour suspended Bobby Silva as magistrate at Fort Sumner May 1. Silva, a Democrat, can appeal the suspension in Santa Fe District Court within 30 days.

Doughenour said Silva failed to file monthly reports and remit fines and court costs for February and March. He said a $378 shortage was determined by an audit by auditors of his staff and State Auditor Max Sanchez. Coughenour said a decision will be made later on possible action on the $378.

Silva was elected in 1974 to a 4-year term. He took office Nov. 27.

Rep. Alvin Castillo, D-Colfax-Union, pushed in Santa Fe for state officials to drop the appeal of a U.S. District Court decision on State Miners' Hospital, Raton, Castillo talked with the State-Hospitals-Institutions Board and Atty. Gen. Toney Anaya.

Complying with a court order, the 1975 Legislature re-created the Miners' Hospital board and voted $2.2 million to restore money to the hospital's trust fund.

Rep. John Bigbee, R-Lincoln-DeBaca-Guadalupe-Torrance, says land use planning "should be on the local level." Bigbee noted the 1975 Legislature adopted two county ordinance laws.

A general county ordinance authority was adopted for county commissions in a bill by Rep. Richard Carbajal, D-Belen. Another new law permits adoption of ordinances for flood plain control. It is linked to federal disaster aid.

Rep. Bigbee talked to the New Mexico Association of Counties at Albuquerque. He said New Mexico does not need federal land use planning. Bigbee, an Encino rancher, seeks appointment to the important interim Legislative School Study Committee.

State Corrections Secretary Howard Leach fired five New Mexico Girls' School teachers. Leach said their action in failing to report for work and appearing instead at a Corrections Commission was insubordination. Corrections Department teacher-employees have sought treatment for years comparable to that accorded public school teachers.

Two State Boys' School teachers also appeared at the Corrections Commission meeting. One supported the commission position and the other sided with the Girls' School teachers.

Costilla Mutual Domestic Water Consumers Assn. will receive a $7,000 loan and a $22,000 grant from Farmers Home Administration to complete a central water system project. The money will be used to modernize water services to 57 homes and other connections.

The State Highway Commission was set to meet today (Thursday) in Clovis. Approval of sales of excess land near Fort Sumner and Lordsburg and a quitclaim deed near Lordsburg were on the agenda.

The State Environmental Improvement Agency said a childhood lead poisoning control project finished screening of 718 children in Clovis. The children are one to five years old. Screening results are pending completion of tests by an Albuquerque laboratory.

U.S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya backs a proposal for an Amtrack passenger train from Atlanta to Los Angeles via Clovis, Belen, Grants and Gallup. Montoya said he supports the proposal for the Clovis Chamber of Commerce.

Gov. Jerry Apodaca says one state building named after former Gov. Bruce King is enough. An office building in Clovis is the Gov. Bruce King Building. A state office building under construction in Santa Fe was named the King Building before Apodaca took office Jan. 1. Ex-Gov King says he did not originate the idea but approved it.

King said he was proud of accomplishments of his administration and noted a sizable surplus remained. He was governor in 1971-74. Apodaca, no political ally of King, said crisply no state building should be named for a politician while he is alive. He said he will talk with King about renaming the Santa Fe building. The State Finance Department's Property Control Division chose the name.

George R. Garcia was hired by the State Racing Commission in the new post of steward assistant at $8,952 a year. The job is exempt from the State Personnel Act.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Cox are shown after they were married, Saturday, May 10, at the First Christian Church in Ruidoso by the Rev. Mr. Kenneth Cole, pastor of the church. Mr. Cox is the president of Ruidoso State Bank; his bride is the former Joyce W. Prewitt, an officer of the bank who is retiring. Matron of honor was Suzy Mansell of Mesa, Ariz., while Herbert Cox of Farmington, brother of the groom, was best man. Mrs. Prewitt is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Whelan of Ruidoso. A reception followed the wedding.

ACKNOWLEDGED "father of the helicopter," Igor Sikorsky test flies his VS 300 in 1940. An incredulous onlooker called the machine "the biggest lie I ever saw."

Weighing 1,150 pounds, the VS 300 could carry a man 75 miles at about 50 mph. The new 9,535-pound "Sikorsky 76" can move 14 people more than 690 miles at 178 mph.

Whirlybirds aerial workhorses

WASHINGTON—The energy crisis has added new fuel to the helicopter.

Orders from the petroleum and coal industries have made the versatile craft more in demand than ever.

Coal companies are using choppers to bring personnel and equipment to remote mines and to reseed areas laid bare by strip mining. Petroleum companies use the machines to carry workers to offshore rigs and to hunt new deposits in formerly inaccessible land areas.

Masters many tasks
A jack-of-all-trades, the helicopter ranges far beyond coal and petroleum fields. Whirlybirds perform mercy missions, herd livestock, dust crops, and fight crime, the National Geographic Society says.

Many government agencies use helicopters in the wide open spaces for reseeding forests, stocking fish in remote lakes and streams, and pollution control projects. Fire-fighting copters have saved thousands of acres of valuable timberland.

Helicopters regularly fly pollution patrols over places like San Francisco Bay. "Weather permitting, we make these surveillance flights everyday," noted a pilot working out of San Francisco. "We just fly and look, and, believe me, sometimes flying and looking is like patting your head and rubbing your stomach at the same time."

The helicopter brought increased speed to the Coast Guard's search and rescue operations. In 12,000-foot mountains where you wouldn't dream of getting an ambulance, recalls a doctor who served on the versatile craft.

"Cowboy" copters are popular in many parts of the West. They search hidden canyons and distant hills for stray cattle and calves.

It's not all rosy on the range, however. Enticed by rising meat prices, rustlers occasionally resort to helicopters. Not long ago, a whirlybird swooped out of the sky in Iowa and spirited away a number of large hogs.

Helicopters long have served the law as an extra eye in the sky. Officers claim the mere awareness of one above serves as a powerful crime deterrent.

The first helicopter destined for useful work was not seen publicly until an early Sikorsky model rose from Bridgeport, Connecticut, in 1942 for delivery to the United States Army Air Corps at Dayton, Ohio.

It mystified onlookers on its 600-mile maiden voyage. Reported one started air-raid spotter, "A windmill just flew by."

Rodeos Scheduled

The Lincoln County High School Rodeo will be held this week-end, May 17 and May 18. The rodeo is a sanctioned rodeo and the Capitan Rodeo Club has been hard at work getting ready for the big event.

There will be three rodeo performances Saturday at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. There will also be dances Friday and Saturday nights, May 16 and May 17. Music will be by the Westerners and dances will be from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. The dances will be in the Fair Building.

Admission at the gate will be $2 for adults and $1 for children, ages 6 - 12. Advance tickets are available from any Rodeo Club member at a discount price.

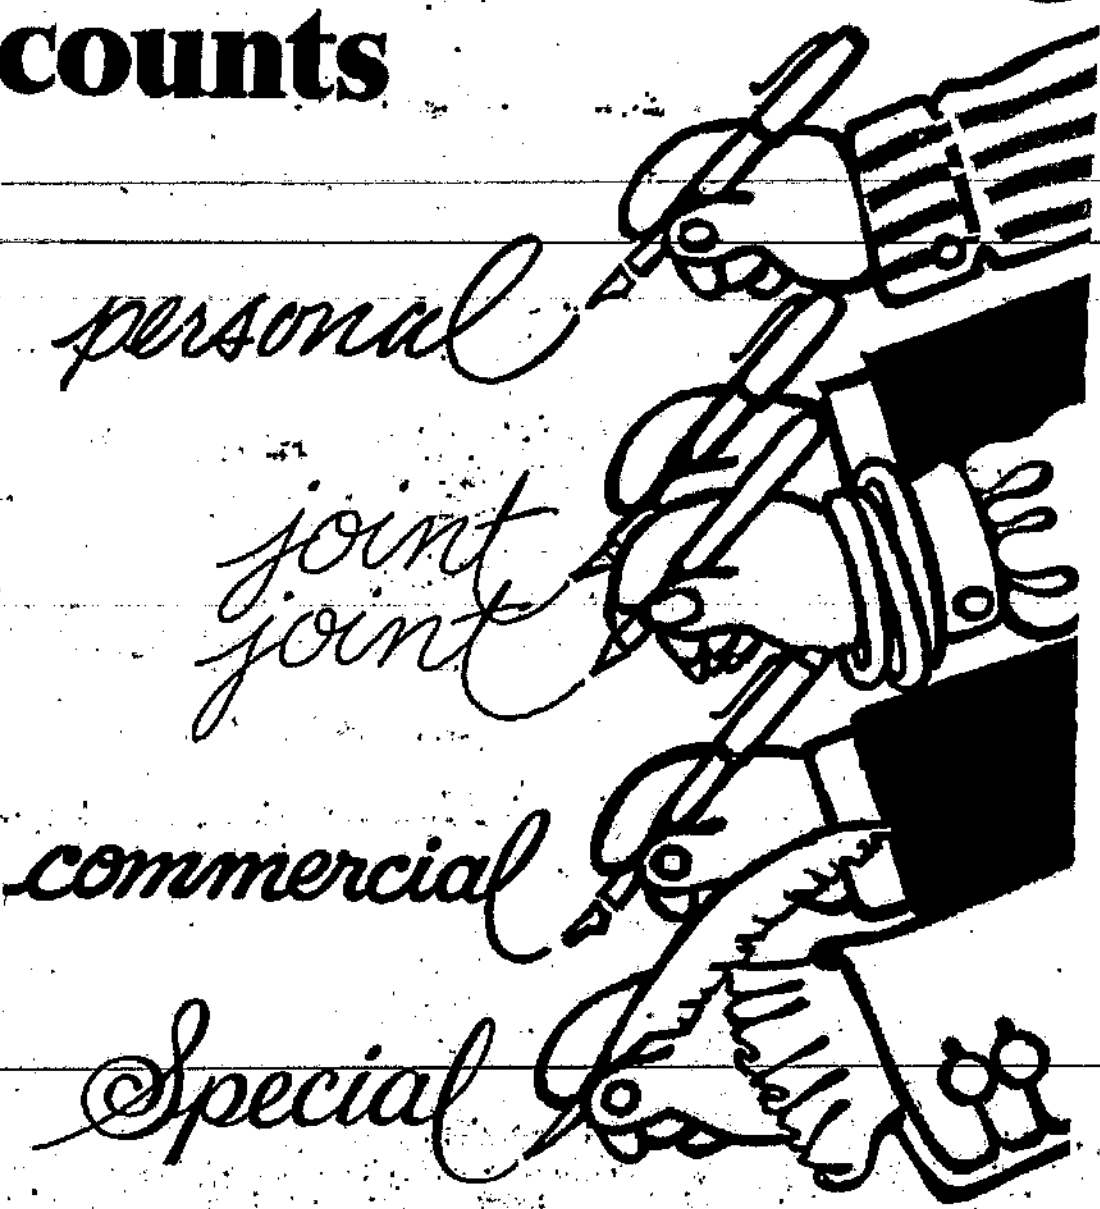

Pilgrimage to Torreon

Johnny Sedillo fulfilled a vow this week, as he wheeled his wheelchair from Estancia to the Torreon Church and back, with a statue of Saint Martin. Sedillo has been confined to a wheelchair for about two years following an auto accident. He will enter an Albuquerque hospital soon for further therapy which may enable him to walk with crutches, says his wife.

Sedillo was accompanied on his pilgrimage by Ray Chavez and Sam Laws. They started about 11 a.m. Monday and came back Tuesday to Estancia.

UNM graduation
A variety of graduation-related events, highlighted by Sunday's 83rd Commencement, are on tap during this week at the University of New Mexico.

Lincoln reunion festive occasion

A group of Lincoln County Natives, with a few Otero cousins thrown in, spent an enjoyable Saturday evening recently at the Tularosa Lions Hut. Livestock is in fair condition, with 95 percent of ranchers supplementing cattle. Soil moisture remains adequate. Some loss of cattle to poison weed and calf losses to coyotes are reported.

Wilkinson was the speaker. The Kindergarten graduates are shown as they sang one of several numbers for the large audience. Diplomas were presented by School Supt. Jim Steinepreis.

4-H'ers will be learning water safety again this summer. Pictured are 4-H'ers during a rest period at Carrizozo municipal pool.

Championship

The Estancia girls track squad earned Estancia's first State Championship this past Friday and Saturday by winning the Class A State Track Championship.
 The Bears topped off a very successful year in their girls athletics by adding the state title to their Roswell, B.V.C., and District Titles in Track.

On the way to the victory over 46 other class A teams that qualified to state broke 4 state records in the 880 Relay, 880 Medley Relay, Mile Relay, and Mile Run, plus establishing school records in 8 events.

Leading the way for the girls were, Marilyn Quintanilla, Susy Kamerzell, Stanna Newton, Bitty Luttrick, Stancy Kamerzell, Nona Leasure, Julie Campbell, and Cheri Carlson all of which are individual champions. Also, contributing to the team scoring were June Meredith, 2nd in Discus, Susy Kamerzell, 5th in 440. Yvette Howell, 4th in Mile Run.

Swimming program near

A unique swimming program will be underway at the Carrizozo municipal pool this summer. It is a program for Lincoln County 4-H members supervised by long-time 4-H leader Mrs. Truman Spencer Jr.
 It emphasizes, "Better Be Safe Than Sorry" and "Don't Overestimate Your Ability."
 This is the fifth summer for the program. Nancy and Jackie Dross, qualified lifeguards under the Red Cross program, assist Mrs. Spencer and are former 4-H members.
 Classes are verbal as well as swimming and are conducted on Tuesday mornings. Valuable first aid information is learned including prompt attention for sunstroke, heatstroke, insect bites, snake bites, eye and fish hook injuries, broken back and neck from diving and preventative measure for lightning-storms.

Lifesaving trucks from trash dumps are learned also as they contain floatable objects to throw to a drowning person.
 Can you pass this Red Cross swimming test? Members of 4-H can as did 2,589,203 Americans:

1. Breast stroke 100 yards.
2. Sidestroke, 100 yards.
3. Crawl stroke, 100 yards.
4. Back crawl, 50 yards.
5. On back, legs only, 50 yards.
6. Turns, on front, back, side.
7. Surface dive, underwater swim, 20 feet.
8. Disrobe, float with clothes, five minutes.
9. Long shallow dive.
10. Running front dive.
11. Ten-minute swim.

The award was presented by Ginger Jensen, and is an award presented to the man voted the most deserving.

Could you pass this

Red Cross swim test?

Anybody who's taken a Red Cross swim course knows how tough it can be. There's a good reason. We believe drowning is a serious business. Last year alone, we taught 2,589,203 Americans not to drown—in the seven different swim courses we offer all across the country. (Incidentally, most of the teaching—as with almost everything American Red Cross does—is done by dedicated volunteers.)
 A good many of the youngsters not only are learning to keep themselves safe. Thousands upon thousands of them are learning to become lifesavers.
 And the life they save—may be your own.

Anaya's office warns elderly

Santa Fe - A warning has been issued by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office for consumers, especially elderly residents owning older homes, not to hire a group of individuals who may be traveling through New Mexico soliciting business door-to-door to waterproof roofs, driveways, foundations and basements with an aluminum spray-on substance.

Mrs. Beverly G. Ortiz, Director, issued the warning after receiving word from the Iowa Attorney General's Office that four members of this group were arrested this week for violating the Iowa Door-to-Door Sales Act.

The four, Leo Frank, 33, Miami, Florida; John Frank, 39, Sharon Hill, Pennsylvania; Steven Mitchell, 24, and Peter Alex Mitchel, 28, no address; pleaded guilty. They were fined $500 each, given a thirty day suspended sentence provided they leave Iowa by "sundown," and ordered to make restitution to their customers, according to Iowa Assistant Attorney General Douglas R. Carlson.

Carlson said he has reason to believe that the group, numbering about 300, has dispersed and are now headed for various Midwestern states in pick-up trucks and trailers.

Mrs. Ortiz said that New Mexicans should be especially wary as the State Legislature this year rejected Attorney General Anaya's proposed Door-to-Door Solicitations Act which would have protected consumers against unscrupulous business practices, such as these.

Bowling Banquet is near

The annual post-winter leagues Bowling Banquet will be Friday, May 16, at 7 p.m., at the Carrizozo Country Club with a gala evening planned.

Featured will be the dinner, trophy presentation and dance following the presentation. Joe Light, manager of the Carrizozo Recreation Center, made some bowling news recently.

He won the West Texas-New Mexico Master's Bowling Association Tournament at Ruidoso at Holiday Bowl. Forty-eight bowlers were entered in the event.

Light averaged 237 for the 10-game finals and received $250 in first prize money.

Actually, he won tournaments back-to-back. Last month he was winner at Bolero Lanes in El Paso—a tournament sponsored by the same organization as the one which sponsored the Ruidoso event.

The group has a tournament once a month, but in different bowling alleys. Light won $300 in El Paso.

Fred Vega of Carrizozo was second at Ruidoso and led the qualifying. Light overtook him in the finals.

Pat Sandoval also was in the Ruidoso tournament.

Infirmiry funds sought

The Lincoln County Municipal Hospital Board of Trustees Tuesday decided to ask the Lincoln County Commission for just over $8,000 in revenue sharing funds in addition to $25,000 already in the County budget from revenue sharing funds for the proposed infirmary.

An infirmary, featuring 24-hour emergency care, is scheduled to be opened at the hospital here about July 1.

The hospital board decided Tuesday to hike room rates from $40 to $45 to reduce an anticipated deficit of about $13,000 the first fiscal year to $8,000 plus.

British react

During the last week in May two hundred years ago, a message sent by Massachusetts to Arthur Less, its agent in London, was circulated widely throughout Great Britain. This document described the events at Lexington and Concord on April 19.

The news of this event shocked England and created mixed reactions. Friends of the colonies were dismayed that blood had been shed. Several military officers resigned their commissions rather than to face the possibility of service in America where they might be forced to fight their countrymen.

On the other hand, those who had taken a hard line against the Americans were convinced by the events of Lexington and Concord that their original judgements had been correct. As far as they were concerned the Americans were rebels who would have to be handled with force. It would have to be done quickly and decisively.

In the meantime, on May 25 British reinforcements arrived in Boston with Generals Howe, Burgoyne, and Clinton in command. Such new forces would provide the manpower, so the hardliners thought, to force the Americans into submission if they did not come to their senses soon.

During the latter part of May, the Continental Congress also made its first decision about Canada. Even though the way had been opened into Canada by the military victories earlier in the month, Congress decided not to pursue a military course to bring Canada into the newly-forming union. Instead, on May 29 Congress approved an address to the people of Canada asking them to join the Americans as "fellow sufferers" of British tyranny. Later Congress would reverse itself and decide on an attempt to take Canada militarily only to face defeat in the venture.

Meanwhile in New Mexico, Spanish Governor Mendinueta was continually concerned about military defenses. As already noted earlier, he never had adequate weapons, horses, or soldiers to protect the residents properly. Therefore, he spent much time in futile chases in trying to recapture stolen property and in a vain attempt to punish the Plains Indians for their raids.

An example was the raid made on the pueblo of Nambé on May 27, 1775, by a party of sixty Comanches. They took two girls captive and carried off most of the horse herd. The two captives were rescued, but a two-day chase accomplished little more than the regaining of a few horses.

Such were the frustrations of life in New Mexico for Spaniard and Pueblo alike.

Drama Theater

Two persons from New Mexico State University were at the Manzano State Park near Quarai State Monument Thursday to do preliminary work for a professional feasibility study of an Outdoor Drama Theater which is proposed to be adjacent to the new state park.

Four Corners Regional Commission is considering funding for the project and if the study is satisfactory, it is possible that some funding will come from that source for construction of the drama theater. Bruce W. Kimzey, associate professor from the College of Business and Economics at NMSU, will head the group working on the study. Assisting him will be another professor, two graduate students, and two undergraduates.

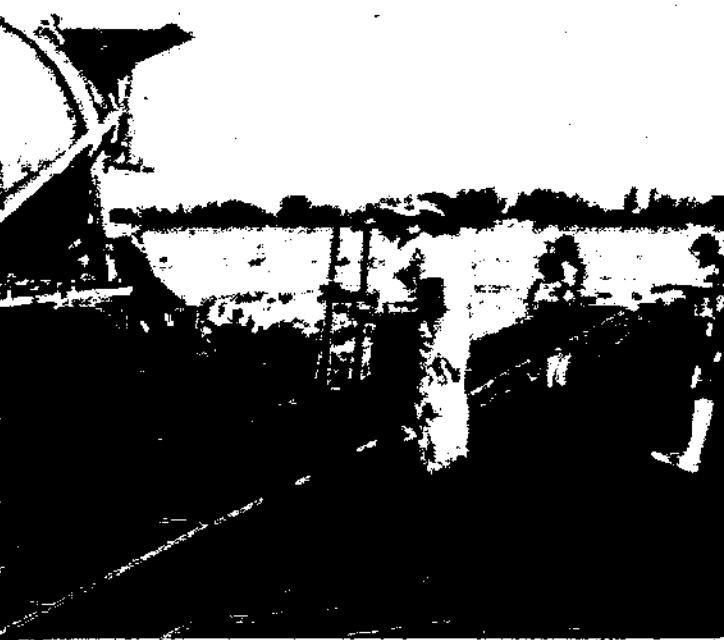

Professor Kimzey is on sabbatical leave and should return to full-time work about June 1. It is hoped that the study will be complete within a few months. Four Corners Regional Commission has awarded $15,000 for the study.

Madge Harrah and Paula Paul, playwrights who have written a drama about the area, were present Thursday to discuss some factors about Outdoor Drama with the NMSU personnel. They pointed out that in other outdoor drama theaters in the nation, it has been found that people who visit outdoor theaters especially like the idea of a pilgrimage to a site where things happened which the drama is about.

Other persons who were present at the meeting last week were County Commission Chairman Eleno Candelaria and his wife, Juanita, and R.T. (Slim) Floyd.

Ticonderoga and other battles

As the Second Continental Congress assembled on May 10, 1775, two men later to become controversial figures carried the war to the British.

Late in April after the battles of Lexington and Concord, the Massachusetts Committee of Safety authorized Benedict Arnold to raise 400 soldiers and to attack the British post at Fort Ticonderoga on Lake Champlain. However, in the meantime, Arnold discovered that Ethan Allen and his "Green Mountain Boys" of Vermont were planning a similar campaign.

Arnold's forces joined those of Allen, but Arnold's attempts to take command failed. Instead the two forces operated together to surprise the 42 British soldiers at Ticonderoga and to capture the post with only one minor casualty. Ethan Allen later claimed that the British surrendered when he demanded it "in the name of the great Jehovah, and the Continental Congress."

Two days later Crown Point, just north of Ticonderoga, was also taken by the Americans. On May 16, St. John's, across the Canadian border, was captured by Benedict Arnold and his forces.

Even before Congress received news of the capture of Ticonderoga the members had decided that they must act to defend themselves against British forces. Therefore, on May 15, a resolution was adopted to put the colonies in a state of defense even though few had any idea yet of how that might be accomplished.

When the news of Ticonderoga arrived in Philadelphia on May 17 and the actions at Crown Point and St. John's a few days later, the Congress was somewhat stunned. Whatever the individual reactions, the importance of these events was soon clear. For one thing, much needed military supplies were taken by the Americans. More important, however, was the fact that the way had been cleared into Canada if Congress were to decide that acquisition of Canada was a desirable objective. That question proved to be a very troublesome one in years to come.

The victories over the British were exhilarating although few could say what ultimate importance they might have.

Meanwhile, in Spanish New Mexico a serious raid was made on Taos by a group of Comanches. Described in detail by Governor Mendinueta we know that the attack was planned as a surprise by Comanches who came to Taos under the pretext of trading with the residents. The plan was frustrated when local residents came out in the morning armed to hunt wolves. Thus, their unexpected preparation made it possible to resist the Comanche attack.

Such episodes continued so that life was very uncertain for many of the Spaniards and Pueblos who could never be sure when they might face an enemy.
