CARRIZOZO, N.M. 88301

Industrial park ● fully funded

Carrizozo has $317,000 for development of an industrial park adjacent to the municipal airport.

The office of U.S. Sen. Pete Domenici announced Wednesday that the Economic Development Administration and the Four Corners Regional Commission have awarded $252,200 to the town of Carrizozo.

This will be added to the town's share of $64,800 to complete the total cost of the project. The $64,800 is in hand from a recent $80,00 bond issue.

The industrial park will encompass 24 acres and will be designed to encourage industries to expand and to attract new plants to the area.

The Four Corners Regional Commission provides $62,000 and the Economic Development Commission, a $190,200 grant.

"We'll get to work on it immediately," Mayor Floyd Siegrist said of the industrial park.

Square dancers from wide and near gathered at Sunda Tennis Villa at Nogal, Saturday night, and danced until the wee hours on the tennis courts there. Host club was the 'Zozo Twirlers. Clubs or dancers came from Carrizozo, Carlsbad, Roswell, Tularosa, Alamosa, Holloman Air Force Base and Ruidoso. About 65 persons were present. Pictured after the action are Beth and Gary Hightower of Ancho, George and Ruth Cooper of Ruidoso and Lee and Dorothy Straley of Ancho and Virginia McCarthy of Palm Springs, Calif., cousin of Mrs. Roberta Burkstaller whose husband, Herman Burkstaller, is tennis camp pro.

Helicopter, medics available

Critically injured people—in auto accidents, plane crashes, any accident or disaster—can be evacuated to hospitals via helicopter through arrangement with Fort Bliss.

County Manager Les Olson said the county is a part of an area where an emergency evacuation program out of Fort Bliss at El Paso is in effect. Say, a person is injured near Corona—critically injured where life is in danger.

An ambulance driver can radio direct to Fort Bliss and request a helicopter which would come to Carrizozo to transport the injured party to Ruidoso or possibly El Paso.

Doctors in Carrizozo would stabilize the condition of the victim as much as possible in Carrizozo while the chopper was on the way.

The same would be true in the Hondo Valley—the victim would be transported to Ruidoso, however, and then possibly by helicopter to El Paso.

Or doctors can make the request for a helicopter if suddenly there is a threat to life during treatment of, say, an accident victim.

Old Lincoln County Historic edition is published

The Lincoln County News this week has published a comprehensive history of Lincoln County and its communities combined with many treasured old pictures of the early days within this historic county.

The Bicentennial-historic edition is in tabloid form and is included with week's Lincoln County News to regular, paid subscribers.

Copies of the 26-page special historic edition may be obtained by mail for 50 cents (plus 25 cents postage and handling charge) from Lincoln County News, Box 459, Carrizozo, N.M. 88301.

Or, they are available at Books Etcetera in downtown Ruidoso or at Williams News Stands at 212 N. Richardson, Roswell.

Carrizozo area residents may purchase extra copies at the News office on Central in Carrizozo.

The historic edition contains pictures and stories about the early history of Ruidoso, Alto, Capitan, Ancho, Corona, Hondo, San Patricio and other towns within the county—those that exist today and those which have faded away but which still have a history.

Read about Nettie Lemon, 91, of Carrizozo, who was brought by her family to White Oaks in 1887. Her father was a sea captain who lived in the Samoan Islands for many years and who married the daughter of an English missionary over there.

Read about the Wingfields on the Ruidoso. Read about the fabulous poker game at the pool hall in Carrizozo when steam locomotives were going by to drown out the talk—"I've got four queens; what do you have?"

Mining, railroading, apple-growing, sawmills, the old Parsons Hotel, Billy the Kid, the Lincoln County War, coal mining, Charles B. Eddy, Nogal as a booming town with seven saloons and a hotel, pictures of early-day school children, many of whom reside in Lincoln County today—the section is packed with information and photographs.

The News had a press run several hundred over normal on the Bicentennial-historic edition. Copies will be available at least through the month of August.

Cattleman to speak

The South Central Mountain Resource Area RC&D will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, Aug. 5 at the Chaparral Motor Hotel in Ruidoso Downs at 1 p.m.

Charlie Lee, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers will be the program speaker. He will discuss the plans and objectives of the cattle growers in New Mexico and his concern over membership. His goal is to get a wide range of representation on the committees and to prove that his organization is a working one and not a social one. Their main concern is the future of the cattle industry.

Project measure progress will be discussed. Lewis Merritt, newly elected chairman of the SCMRA, urges all interested people to attend and take part in the discussions and if you have a special project in mind, attend the meeting and present it to the steering committee, he says.

Billy the Kid (Bill Shrecengost) tunes in on a conversation between Frank Coe (Jim Nethaway) and Mrs. McSween (Diane Shrecengost) as a prelude to presentation of the Billy the Kid Pageant this weekend at the outdoor set in Lincoln. Showtime will be 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. Dress rehearsal was last night.

The stage is set and dress rehearsal was scheduled for last night in old Lincoln town for presentation of the annual "Billy the Kid Pageant" this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The pageant will be presented at the outdoor old Lincoln set in Lincoln, with Bill Shrecengost playing the role of Billy the Kid for the seventh year. Diane Shrecengost, his wife, will play Mrs. McSween.

Also scheduled this weekend is the Pony Express Race starting from White Oaks at 7:30 a.m. Saturday and winding up some two hours later at Lincoln—with the winner to win a specially designed saddle produced by Yarborough Saddlery of Las Cruces.

The White Oaks-Lincoln route is through Capitan Gap.

As the winner crosses the finish line he must dismount and deliver his mail pouch to the Lincoln County Postmaster.

All riders will carry first class letters and anyone desiring to have a letter postmarked with the two-inch Pony Express seal may do so.

All letters to be carried should be mailed to Pony Express, Box 217, Carrizozo, 88301 through today—the deadline.

Affix a 10 cent stamp to each letter to be carried by Pony Express and include 25 cents for each letter for handling.

As many letters as desired may be mailed to Carrizozo in one package.

The Post Office already has letters earmarked for mailing to foreign countries and hundreds and hundreds to points within the country.

The Billy the Kid Pageant will be presented 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Also scheduled is an Arts and Crafts Fair, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

The trophy presentation for the winner of the Pony Express Race will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, while a "Fiddlers" Contest is set for that afternoon in the pageant area.

Barbecue will be served Saturday and Sunday both noon and evening.

A parade is set for Sunday at 1 p.m.

Sanitary landfills ready

Sanitary landfills for Hondo and San Patricio are scheduled to be opened next week—and one just west of Lincoln already is available, Les Olson, county manager, has informed the News. The one at Lincoln was acquired through arrangement with Bert Pfingsten for the land.

Peter Hurd donated the land at San Patricio, while the one at Hondo will be on State Highway Department land.

Sanitary landfills are required currently by law in various areas of the county.

This is a photograph of the Gateway area of Ruidoso long before structures of any kind were in that area. The Lincoln County News this week published a 26-page Bicentennial-historic edition containing voluminous histories of communities in Lincoln County, interviews with old timers and many pictures of early-day Lincoln County and the personalities involved. Copies of the Bicentennial Edition are 50 cents by mail, plus 25 cents handling charge from Lincoln County News, Box 459, Carrizozo, New Mexico, 88301.

Elissa Pacheco of Arabella will play the role of her grandmother, Juanita Mills (pictured), in the Billy the Kid Pageant Friday, Saturday and Sunday in old Lincoln. Juanita Mills later married Patricio Miranda and lived in Lincoln. They had three sons and one daughter, Herman Mills is one of the sons. Elissa Pacheco is his daughter and is named after her aunt. The three sons live in California.

Kenneth Cox, president of Ruidoso State Bank, and wife, Joyce, were among bank officers and stockholders enjoying a stockholders' dinner at Tinnie, Wednesday of last week. Cox earlier in the day had presented a very favorable report on the past six months operation of the bank to stockholders. Some of the decor of the "Silver Dollar" is evident in the photo.

Preston Isaacs, a vice president of Ruidoso State Bank, center, talks with Joel Chambers and wife at the annual stockholders dinner of the bank held at the Silver Dollar in Tinnie. Minimum Downs purse increased RUIDOSO DOWNS--Horsemen at Ruidoso Downs will be splitting up the highest minimum purse in the track's history during the four-day period of Thursday through Sunday (July 24-27). According to General Manager Al Rosa, the minimum purse has been beefed up to $2,100 for this period. This means every overnight race in the four day stretch is up at least $300 over the original condition-book figure.

In addition, Saturday's Zia Stakes at 400 yards has been improved from $4,000-added to $5,000-added.

The total amount to be disbursed from Thursday-through-Sunday is a whopping $138,000. During the same period last year, the minimum purse was $1,700 and the total handed out was $114,000.

The $2,100 minimum, Rosa pointed out, sets a new Ruidoso Downs record. The previous high of $2,000 was established during the Labor Day Weekend in '74.

The soaring purse-figures are following on the heels of a record-breaking mutual trend. The current daily wagering average is now around the $316,000 range, and is running a remarkable 16 percent over last year's comparable daily average. Especially impressive is the fact last year's betting figures were the best (at that time) in the track's 28-year history.

The topper on Thursday's program is a 5 1/2-furlong sprint for three-year-olds. The purse is a thumping $2,900.

Loud Hather, who'll have LeRoy Coombs aboard at 118 pounds, is the apparent favorite. Last time out, the gelding made a good move in the final stages of a 5 1/2-furlong sprint and finished second. Before that, Loud Hather showed plenty of speed while ending up second-beaten only a half-length.

Here's the way they'll line up for Thursday's headliner: 1-Treasury Lass, 116; 2-Mac Andrew, 115; 3-Pretty Evil, 116; 4-Loud Hather, 118; 5-Dobbie J., 118; 6-James of Imbros, 113; 7-Hitter's Choice, 116; 8-Polly Blight, 111; 9-Time Is Right, 113; 10-Three Setter, 115.

Mac Andrew enjoyed quite a season in '75 when he converted 12 starts into a hefty winning of $16,078. But he's had a little difficulty getting back on target this season. Last time out, he finished seventh at 8-1 in the betting. That was the affair in which Loud Hather made his last outing and ran second.

Three Setter came in sixth last time out. But the gelding has been going against some pretty swift company. Early in the meet, he grabbed a nose victory. In mid-June, he banged out a good third against allowance foes.

The highpoint of the racing weekend comes up on Sunday as Easy Date, the richest quarter horse of all time with winnings of $718,695, takes a shot at the $65,815 World's Championship Classic at 440 yards.

Water in Nogal Creek flowed heavy Tuesday after rains high in the mountain country and at Nogal sent the stream roaring over a waterfall in Nogal. Rains assured visitors to the county this week that there is little fire danger in the forests. Nogal Creek normally is very slim this time of year—in fact, most years, its dry by late July. Not this year.

PONY EXPRESS
Riders in the Pony Express Race Saturday will be Ted Clements of Picacho, the Hindis from Duran as a team and Bennie Runnels.
Truman Spencer and Bob Scribner are starting judges at White Oaks, 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

The Nogal Water Users Assn. had a big election the other day. Pete Jones is the new president; Miles Williams, vice president; Archie Witham, secretary-treasurer; Sam Cox, director, and Carl McDaniel, director.

As is usual with such elections, not everyone was pleased with the outcome.
At Nogal, someone has to watch the tank and be sure its brimfull—otherwise water pressure goes down.

Mr. Jones evidently is the man to do that now. It's a demanding job.

Speaking of directors and such, the Country Club will elect directors or a director, Saturday night.

Fern Sawyer of Nogal was moving cattle, Thursday. She had much help. Riding with her was Roberta Burkstaller of Nogal who hadn't spent a day on a horse in several years. We hear Roberta will get over her sore muscles and aching back in a week or so. Fern is on a horse all the time—no problem with sore muscles there.

Bill Payton of La Luz and Nogal participated in a big "Retreads" gathering at Cloudford last weekend. Retreads are motorcycleists over the age of 50 or so who gather and ride with their bikes. Payton has a new bike, a Honda 1000—real machine.

The special edition of the Lincoln County News, a 28-page tabloid, contains much history of old Lincoln County. But we overlooked the names of persons living in the Corona area whose ancestors helped settle that area. The names are DuBois, Simpson, Atkinson, Sultemeier, Penix, Bryan, Brown, Davidson, Dishman, Thompson, Jenkins, Franks, Bond, Lovelace, Brooks, Owen, Beaver, Jones, Stroope, Wade, Killingsworth.

Also, old timers at Corona noted that a fire in the spring of 1928 burned McClellan's store building, a cafe, barbershop, meat market and pool hall.

What a history Lincoln County has—fabulous!

Wm. G. Shrecengost of Lincoln has been in Indianapolis for a month instructing with the National Guard. He and wife and family—some of the family—returned this week—in time for the Billy the Kid Pageant.

Bill and Pat Ward and the Shrecengosts are up to their ears in "Pageant" this week and other activities scheduled in old Lincoln town. So are dozens of other people.

Want a kitten? Call J.N. McDaniel, 648-2967. They are black and white—and there are two of them—twins, no doubt.

Thanks to Virgil Hall of Virgil's Garage for rescuing wife who ran out of gas on a dirt road out of Capitan, Wednesday. The gauge didn't show clear empty. What other sad stories are there around?

People from near and far participate in the Billy the Kid Pageant. Can-Can girls are from Pictown, Santa Fe and elsewhere as well as from old Lincoln town. Pictown somehow is associated with polo—the historic edition has a feature on polo in Lincoln County. It's quite a sport in the Hondo Valley—almost every weekend and holidays here or in Pictown.

County Manager Les Olson and wife and some others are thinking of forming mountain-climbing club in the area. This weekend they may tackle Carrizo Peak. Quite a formidable looking mountain, Carrizo. Its moods change all the time. A beautiful piece of divine architecture.

Don't overlook the kids rodeo at Capitan Saturday, part of the Old Lincoln celebration.

White shark reigns as lord of the sea

Washington — The facts about great white sharks are as awesome as the fiction.

The great white shark, star of the current movie, "Jaws," is the real lord of the sea, the National Geographic Society says.

Large or small, fast or slow, peaceful or aggressive, every other shark—and all marine creatures as well—gives sea room to the great white shark, or man-eater.

The average length of an adult great white is 18 feet; one taken off Cuba measured 21 feet. Some grow even larger. The tooth of the man-eater dredged up from the Atlantic Ocean floor measured more than five inches long. The tooth of a 20-footer is two inches.

Fortunately, great white sharks seem to be rare. Few people have seen more than two together, though by itself one is deadly enough. They have earned their reputation as man-eaters.

In 1916 a shark or sharks attacked five swimmers along the New Jersey coast. Four died and the fifth lost a leg. Shortly afterward a fisherman caught a great white shark with human remains in its stomach.

As the years passed, fishermen from Maine to Nova Scotia reported great whites charging their boats. In the splintered wood around an eight-inch hole in one dory was part of the unmistakable serrated, triangular tooth of a great white.

Great white shark attacks on humans also have been documented along the California coast, but experts minimize the danger from this and other species of sharks.

Writing in National Geographic, Nathaniel T. Kenney estimated that in a normal year sharks kill or maim not less than 40 or more than 300 people around the world. Bee stings kill more people than that in the United States alone every year.

"Thus you can go into the sea...with far less risk than you run every time you take a trip in an automobile," Mr. Kenney writes. "You must not, of course, provoke a shark into attacking—not even the small, slow species frequently encountered in coastal waters. If you step on one of these or tweak its tail, it can—and often will—bite hard."

Sharks Are Unpredictable
Most of the time when a shark meets a human, the fearsome carnivore will cruise on past. But don't count on it.

"Any moment the time may come when one of the enigmatic creatures will attack a man," Mr. Kenney says. "Results can be gruesome. Razor-edged teeth may remove an arm or leg or cleanly take out a 10-pound piece of flesh. Hide rough as a rasp can flay, edges of fins and tails cut like swords. A shark is all lethal weapon."

Of the some 250 species of shark, only a handful are proved man-eaters. Besides the great white, they are mako, bull, lemon, tiger, dusky, blue, the largest hammerheads, and the whitetip, which lives on the open seas away from land.

More than most sharks, the great whites prefer a mammalian diet—whales, seals, sea otters, and so on.

"The inference is obvious," one expert told Mr. Kenney. "Man is a mammal too."

The queen contest at the New Mexico State Fair is now in its 26th consecutive year.

Domenici will come to Carrizo from a breakfast appearance in Roswell at the Roswell Inn—where he will discuss the Quarterhorse Hall of Fame proposal.

On Aug. 12, he will appear at a Roswell-Chavez County Federated Women of the Republican Party watermelon and hot dog feast, 6:45 p.m., in Cahoon Park.

He will appear in Hobbs and Carlsbad before the Roswell talks and in Albuquerque the afternoon and evening after his noon appearance in Carrizo.

Sen. Domenici recently joined in co-sponsoring an amendment that would increase to 60 per cent the amount of royalties given to states by the federal government for mining on federal land within a state.

Author of the amendment was Sen. Cliff Hansen (R-Wyo.)

The additional 22.5 per cent would be taken from the reclamation fund portion of federal royalties.

This amount would be specifically earmarked for planning, construction, and maintenance of public facilities and for providing other necessary services in those areas known as "boom town areas." These are parts of a state which suffer very rapid growth as a result of mining or mineral exploration.

"This additional money would be very important to public lands states, such as New Mexico," Sen. Domenici explained. "We all know that local government needs help to cope with very rapidly growing communities in energy and mineral development regions. It is very important to avoid the mistakes of the past as we develop our resources and this amendment is one way of doing it."

The amendment was passed by the Senate. During his second "People's Tour" Domenici will visit 18 counties and 47 communities in the state.

The tour is designed to give New Mexicans the chance to discuss with him first-hand issues they believe are important.

"Too often elected officials fail to consult with their constituents," Domenici explained. "This means they get out of touch. I hope this tour will keep me in touch with New Mexico concerns and New Mexico views."

Rachers travel extensively

The Rachers on a vacation came back through Leftbridge, Alberta, down through Montana, Yellowstone and Grand Tetons, took in Salt Lake City and on to Colorado.

Mrs. Racher remarked that they had seen so much beautiful and lush growth that when they came to a point just inside New Mexico, that was desert like appearance. She enjoyed seeing it.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis and their friends, including me enjoyed so much being able to get acquainted and visit with one of Mrs. McGinnis' girlhood friends, Mrs. Mildred Dye of Palmdale, Calif.

They went through grade and high school together in Spencer, Nebraska and they attended different colleges, then were in the same town and could visit each other.

They had such a wonderful time reminiscing and visiting.

Mrs. Eliha Merrell had a coffee in her honor on Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanchez were very happy when their children came on St. Anne's day to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with them. Their date is Aug. 4th but they were unable to come on that day.

The following families were there: the Henry Sanchez Jr's, Alfred Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. (Patsy) Vigil of Albuquerque and Mr. and Mrs. (Jean) Osuna of Las Cruces. Their seventeen grandchildren were all there. Mr. Nethaway joined for the party.

Debbie Sanchez brought her grandmother a lovely gold colored dress, Henry's wife brought a pot of lovely gold chrysanthemum. The children all together brought them a new electric clothes dryer and many other gifts.

The Alfred Sanchez's son who will graduate this year from the University in Albuquerque helped Henry paint their house, inside and out and it looks beautiful.

Mrs. Sanchez feels that they were particularly blessed when it hailed on gardens and orchards on each side of them and somehow completely missed their garden and fruit trees.

Joan Evans reports that the group of young people in her riding school are doing real well and they and the girls who are dancing in the pageant will be staying with her all during pageant time. It's this weekend!

It's fun to drop by in the afternoon and see and hear them all having a ball in the swimming pool. If gives one a lift!

Mrs. Cille Dockery is busy at their store in Lincoln part of the time and is having a terrific amount of business at the shop at Silver Dollar.

Mickey Thomas reports that pageant practice has been going very well. We'll have to all try to see the show, as well as the Pony Express Race, Arts, Crafts, etc, this weekend. See you there!

We entertained Round Table Elect members, and families and other guests Sunday at our house and thoroughly enjoyed doing so.

As we had forty two people, won't name them, but we certainly enjoyed every one of them and missed the ones who couldn't come.

Sun. evening my granddaughter, Nancy (Welsh) Humble and sons came for a visit and she told me that her father, Sam Welsh has been released from the doctor's care to go ahead with his job as teacher.

The Lincoln County 4-H Horse Judging Team placed second in the State Contest at Tucumcari July 25, 1975. The team consisted of G.L. Straley, Phil Straley, Tim Curtiss and Betsy Eldridge.

Sheep school planned

LAS CRUCES—A sheep and wool production school is set for August 4 and 5 at New Mexico State University. The school coincides with the Annual New Mexico Wool Show, says James Sachse, Extension sheep specialist at NMSU.

The informal two-day school will stress lamb and wool evaluation. Current industrial production problems and opportunities will also be discussed.

During the lamb evaluation session, producers will appraise live and slaughtered lambs. This comparison allows producers to consider production techniques to satisfy all industrial interests.

Other sessions will concentrate on wool grading, poisonous plants, Navajo Reservation sheep and wool production, nutrition and new research influencing the industry.

A 200 fleece exhibit in the NMSU Agricultural Building is part of the Wool Show. Registration starts Monday, August 4, at 9 p.m. in the Agricultural Auditorium.

The school and Wool Show is sponsored by the New Mexico Wool Growers Association and NMSU.

Artists, artisans invited

Tom and Dorothy Bell Knapp will conduct a joint workshop in sculpture, drawing, painting, and sketching August 11-22 as part of the summer Carizzo Art and Craft Courses in Ruidoso. The joint workshop will be loosely structured and informal with students free to move from one media or instruction to the other.

Dorothy Bell Knapp is a creative and talented artist who is also a brilliant teacher. Her charcoal and pastel character studies capture the very essence of the personalities they portray. Her watercolor and dry brush scenes of the Southwest landscape display her exceptional drawing capabilities and color sense.

Mrs. Knapp will concentrate on basic drawing accepting both beginning and advanced students working in the media of their choice. Sketching on location in the Hondo Valley is a favorite part of the workshop and features some of the most interesting and spectacular scenery in the Southwest.

Tom Knapp has gained a national reputation in bronze sculpture and casting. His students will gain a firm foundation in the art, exploring various techniques and materials including clay, wax, plastic, stone, and bronze.

Lecture material and basic demonstrations will be included. A casting session August 16 at the sculptor's Buckhorn Foundry will highlight the workshop.

A former Walt Disney artist, Tom Knapp studied at California College of Arts and Crafts and the Art Center School in Los Angeles. He is represented in major private art collections and galleries throughout the country.

The State of Texas and the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washington, D.C. are among public collections featuring his work. He has recently accepted commission of a series of Alaskan mammals to be cast in bronze.

Dorothy Bell Knapp studied at Hendrix College in Conway, Arkansas and with Louis Freund and Elsie Bates Freund. She is represented in many private collections and galleries throughout the country.

A unique couple the Knapps and their Buckhorn Enterprises are fast becoming a legend in the Hondo Valley in Lincoln County, New Mexico. Over the last few years the Knapps have transformed the historic old Buckhorn into a gracious home, work-center, and foundry where hospitality and talent abound.

Elizabeth Racher married

The beautiful garden at the Coe Ranch Restaurant was the setting for the evening wedding of Elizabeth Racher, San Patricio and Gerald Montes of Hondo. Ric Allen, pastor of the Capitan Church of Christ, officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony, on June 23.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Taylor of Lincoln and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Albert Montes of Hondo.

Mr. Bob Yankee of Capitan played the wedding music on the organ which had been placed in the garden for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her brother, James R. Taylor, the bride wore a beige cotton gown from Mexico. It was fashioned with long sleeves and square neckline with wide bands of matching lace on sleeves and full length skirt. Her short veil was of matching beige lace attached to a small head piece.

Maid of honor was Charlann Cooper who was attired in light blue cotton over taffeta styled with long sleeves and high neckline. She wore a matching blue picture hat.

Best man was Henry Duran from Las Vegas, N.M., a long time friend of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the garden where wedding punch and cake was served to the scores of friends and relatives gathered to extend good wishes to the happy couple.

After a short wedding trip to the Northern part of the state Mr. and Mrs. Montes are at home in San Patricio.

Mr. Montes is employed by the Hondo Valley Public Schools as coach and counselor and received his Master's Degree from Highlands University this summer.

Marriage August 16

Miss Angie Zamora and Bening Trujillo of Capitan will be married August 16, 1975 at 5 p.m. at the Bonita Club at Ft. Stanton. Relatives and friends are invited.

Montoya announces $35,000 grant

Sen. Joseph Montoya announced Tuesday, two federal grants totaling $90,000 have been approved for the Middle Rio Grande Council of Governments and the North Central New Mexico Economic Development District.

The Middle Rio Grande Council of Governments, with offices in Albuquerque, will get $35,000 for helping pay costs of economic growth projects in the counties of Bernalillo, Sandoval, Torrance and Valencia, Sen. Montoya said.

High Beef Numbers may drop prices

LAS CRUCES—The sharp May increases in cattle numbers could signal a decline in fed beef prices in October, says Robert Coppersmith, Extension economist for New Mexico State University.

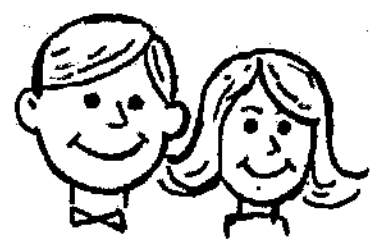

May's feed lot placements increased 20 per cent over last year. This, combined with March's 26 per cent increase and April's 8 per cent increase, will boost fed beef supplies as early as July or August. However, the June total on feed remains 26 per cent less than last year.

The increase in fed marketing could coincide with an increase in non-fed slaughters as pastures decline in late summer or fall.

These factors tend to dampen fed, feeder and other beef prices.

Polly's Bulletin Board

I am always using "slick tricks" to save time, energy and some times $$$$. Here are some that I have picked up here and there.

1. Make individual meat loaves in muffin pans. Saves baking time. Kid size.
2. Make an emergency sewing kit from an old lipstick tube. Clean out tube and put in a threaded needle and small safety pins. Handy for the picnic outing.
3. Kids need something new to play with? Let them have a few large nuts and bolts to put together. Invent a game or contest.
4. Give a little girl 2 popsicle sticks and a bit of yarn, someday she'll make an 'ojo de dios'!
5. Surprise Junior with a patch work cushion for that bare little chair.
6. Cut rolled biscuit dough with cocoa can that the lid and top has been removed. Great shape!
7. Roll pizza dough directly in a cookie sheet. Who says pizza are supposed to be round?

The Blessings of

LIVING

And Doing Your Shopping in the Small Community Hometown, Carrizozo

The Small Business Tries Harder

There just isn't any doubt about it — big cities are cold and unfriendly, whereas small communities are warm and cordial in just about every respect. This is especially true with the shopping district. Quite often you deal with the store owner, your friend and neighbor, who has many, many reasons for wanting your friendship continued.

Good Neighbor Dependability

Who can you depend on these days? Ever hear that question, or ask it yourself? Well, the answer is one that is worth thinking about — you can depend on the people who depend on you, and that is your hometown neighbors, the civic clubs, the local Chamber of Commerce. For all-around dependability? Shop in Carrizozo!

The Clerks are Always Friendlier

You've heard this said about rental cars and other things, but its truth was never more apparent than with the small business that has to really compete for your shopping dollar. The big try starts with quick service and no waiting around for some clerk to pay attention, and it continues through with highest quality merchandise and fair prices.

And Savings of Both Time and Money

With the price of gasoline what it is, you simply can't drive your car very far and figure you are making savings on anyone's discount prices. [The arithmetic is easy at 60 cents a gallon — think about it.] And besides, you can always get parked easy and close to where you are going in the small community shopping center, which is what Carrizozo business district actually is. And you will find Carrizozo's pricings competitive besides. Check and see for yourself.
