

by Mary Rich

I can't remember his name but I can see his face to this day. There are weeks, the good Lord knows, when I wish I had heeded his advice.

The beginning of my unlearned lesson took place in the summer of 1944.

Our nation was engaged in a might struggle for survival and the lives of our young men was the barter we offered. Only the old, the disabled and the very young males were left for home front employment.

Women and girls became welders, pipefitters, builders of guns, tanks, ships, meat packers, bus drivers. And one young woman got a job as a vacation replacement police reporter for the El Paso Times.

Bill Saffold, who writes heavenly headlines, did service as a teacher of journalism at what is not UTEP, and summer duty as city editor on the Times.

Undoubtedly Bill, viewing a non-existent labor force, thought anything beats a blank but a poke in the eye. With visions of by-lined glory I went to work that summer as a reporter.

The Times is a morning paper and most of the news is written at night. One of those late late nights, a hard bitten reporter, I think a sports writer, decided to break the pattern and take notice of "that girl" who had invaded the city room.

He always typed with a stub of a cigar in his mouth. His nearly hairless head was covered by a bowler type hat. He never smiled and usually granted in reply to a question.

That night, he asked a question. "Girl, why do you want to work on a newspaper?"

I muttered the usual inanities about excitement, opportunity, people, travel...

That smart old man, shook his head, knocked an ash off his cigar and said, "Little girl, pick up your pocketbook, put on your hat and walk out of here, once and for all. If you don't someday you will remember my words with regret."

Probably you will grow up to be editor. By that time, if you ever had time to catch one, your husband will probably have left you. You'll neglect your children and since your associates will be thieves, madams, politicians, cops and baseball players, they'll probably grow up to disgrace you. If however, they are successful, certainly they will change their names to avoid identification with you.

Your parents will move to another town rather than attempt to explain the misspelled names, the mistakes, the editorials and the plain perversions of truth that will daily be called to their attention by friends and preachers.

Finally, as your hair turns white, your only living kin that still acknowledges you, your 88 year-old grandmother, will find herself in trouble. One night, such as this, as you are sitting at the typewriter, a call will come saying that your grandmother has been arrested and you are needed to make bail, find a lawyer and comfort the old lady.

Now, girl, I have a friend who runs a pretty clean house and she is short of girls. If you really need a job, I'll call old Ruby. She'll put you on and if you pay attention and learn the trade

LAW enforcement agencies of New Mexico are using new equipment to detect alcohol in the system following arrest on DWI charge. News staffer Frank Hoff is blowing up balloon which is attached to "sober-meter" held by Carrizozo Policeman John Works.

Three color bands green mean you could be drunk

A small gadget called "sober-meter" is now being used by New Mexico law enforcement agencies which seems simple to operate and conclusive in its results.

A person charged with driving under the influence of alcohol has most likely committed another violation. It is the duty of the arresting officer to inform the person that he/she is under arrest for DWI.

The suspected DWI is requested to submit to a breath test. Under N.M. law, anyone who operates a motor vehicle within the state is deemed to have given consent to tests of his/her breath to determine alcoholic content of blood. A person can refuse test, then will be asked to sign statement of refusal, which is submitted to the motor vehicle department.

The test itself amounts to person blowing into balloon. Part of the breath is squeezed off as waste breath after each expiration. It is only the last part of the breath that is the alveolar breath, of the type that is needed for the test.

A collection bag is filled which air is piped into tubes that are used to determine amount of alcohol in the blood. One tube goes to state lab which findings will be used in court. The other tube has bands of chemicals which turn green and indicate percent of alcohol in system. One color band turning green is .00 percent, .10 percent, two bands green up to .20 percent, three bands green up to .30 percent you've had it by then.

A volumetric bag of air is saved for testing by the lab to determine that there are no holes in the bag and the sample is true.

Officer John Works demonstrated the DWI testing system to Lincoln County News people last week.

Bicentennial Ojos de Amigos Tour

by Elva Wilson

June Straley, Moda Vick of Corona were also on the tour.

When June and I boarded the tour bus, Mayor Siegrist and Charley Wilson were on hand to wish us well.

In Santa Fe we were welcomed at the Gover's Mansion with tea, coffee and cakes. A tour of the mansion high atop a hill in interesting Santa Fe was enjoyed. On to Dodge City, Kansas with its front Street, Boot Hill Cemetery, Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson attractions of the past. Then to Abilene, Kansas home of Dwight Eisenhower Library and the Place of Meditation, the final resting place of Dwight Eisenhower and son, David.

In Topeka, Kansas we met with Governor Robert Bennett. The Kansas Capitol is famous for the John Stewart Curry Murals of abolitionist, John Brown. His simple home, now a part of a state park, served as a station on the "Underground Railway" for runaway slaves. Here we were met by Senior Citizens who directed our tour of the Rain Forest. Mrs. Marge Parker and Senior Citizens of Topeka entertained the tour group with a party.

On September 24 we visited the Harry S. Truman Library in Independence, Mo. Exhibits in the museum were a table on which the UN Charter was signed—a large scale model of the battleship U.S.S. Missouri.

The Japanese surrender document was signed aboard the Missouri on Sept. 2, 1945. The ship's silver service and the piano the President played in the White House, the Presidential limousine and a mantle from the State Dining Room of the White House were on display.

We were treated to a luncheon in the First United Presbyterian Church prepared by the Senior Citizens of the city. This church was erected in 1888. We viewed Trinity Episcopal Church erected in 1880. Here President and Mrs. Truman were married in 1919. After a tour of

County gets jobs

County manager Les Olson began interviews this week for a representative to serve full time in Lincoln County with the Employment Security Commission.

Olson expects to fill the position immediately and set up the local office. Unemployed persons will be able to file for compensation and obtain assistance in finding jobs in Carrizozo.

Subdividers to get new county rules

The Lincoln County Zoning and Planning Committee recommended a new set of rules to the County Commissioners this week.

After months of deliberation and meetings with developers and conservationists the committee has come up with development requirements that are simplified in language and procedure.

There is an emphasis on land management with an eye toward the suitability of the soil for development.

In the future, most subdividers will be required to have a soil analysis made as a part of their early planning. Either the Soil Conservation Service or a specialist in soils must advise the committee as to the suitability of an area for roads, septic tanks, house foundations.

If so, conditions appear to present problems, the developer will be expected to present engineering solutions before proceeding. An example would be a development of a rocky mountainside. Access to home sites, road locations and the feasibility of septic tanks would present problems not found in a flat sandy land situation.

Terrain management must be included in the plans of future subdivisions. The county will expect dividers to take steps to prevent erosion, both wind and water, and to at least consider the environmental impact of a development.

Finally, the street requirements have been simplified into one set of basic designs. The new minimum standards allow use of locally available materials. There will be an emphasis upon adequate drainage and strict enforcement of the time limits for completing the streets.

County Manager Les Olson believes the new regulations will assist developers in planning. He says that a land company will be able to more accurately estimate the costs of development in the early stages before spending large amounts of money on engineering.

At the same time, he believes that the public interest in the land will be protected by the new requirements without putting a burden on developments.

The County Commission will consider the recommendation at its regular meeting November 7 and will set a public hearing if the recommended regulations are acceptable to them.

Women's Club cancelled

The special program on Mental Health announced last week for Thursday night has been postponed because of the death of Welcolm Armstrong. The President, Carolyn Cantrell said that another date will be announced soon.

Also on the job front, the ESC-Manpower division funded two truck driver jobs and nurse for the medical center in Lincoln County.

At Friday's Commissioners meeting it was decided to keep all courthouse offices open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. The offices will no longer be closed for lunch.

The equipment sale last Saturday netted the county $3340 which was more than expected.

Several road projects were approved at the meeting. The drain problem in from the Bonita Lou Cafe in the Nogal Canyon area will be corrected with concrete drains. The plans were submitted by Tom Mann Engineering and are subject to the approval of the owner, Mrs. Louise Payton.

The county also accepted a survey of the Gavilon Canyon Road prepared by Tom Ward. The right-of-way shows some encroachments on private property which will be negotiated with the owners.

The road superintendent reported that the Mesa Verda Road south of Capitan will be repaired so as to eliminate a dangerous curve. Also the low water crossing in front of Bob Stearns home in Nogal will be improved.

The Commissioners will meet with state and federal officials to submit a rural safety program for county roads with include signs, center striping and is to be federally funded if approved.

Finally, it was announced that the Water Canyon Road through the Stephenson ranch will be opened during hunting season.

Last game of season

22-6 Reserve triples money

The Lincoln County News jackpot football contest money goes to $30 for this week's contest. See the contest games in the football ad and pick up an entry card at your favorite merchant's place. It costs nothing to enter and the money is getting good.

The cause of this $30.00 jackpot was Reserve beating Carrizozo 22-6 when a majority of the jackpot fans picked Carrizozo to win.

Alfonso Lucero scored this game Reserve 20, Carrizozo 6, Juanito Luerro 20-12, and rest were pretty wild.

Quite a few of the Zozo fans were giving the Grizzlies 20 or more points and Reserve all the way from 0 to 14 for Reserve.

Cards can be mailed to the News, brought in our door or dropped through our mail drop before game time.

This is the last week of the 1975 season. Jackpot money will be awarded on point-spread basis if there is no winner.

HALLOWEEN

Carnival is tonight

The Carrizozo Band Booster's Halloween Carnival will be held tonight (Thursday, Oct. 30th) from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. All youngsters and parents are invited to attend this fun event and make it a success. Proceeds from the Carnival will be used by the band to purchase sweaters, and other necessary equipment needed by the Carrizozo Band.

There will be lots to do and plenty of entertainment at the carnival; such as bingo, a prize walk, a movie, the drawing of a food basket which is being raffled off, plenty of booths, such as penny pitch, fish pond, pitch bottle and many more.

The Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department will be there to give out candy filled bags to the youngsters. Later on in the evening a contest for the best halloween costume will be held, with the winner receiving a prize. So all you youngsters wear your halloween costumes and join in the fun.

All prizes to be given away at the carnival have either been donated by the towns people or purchased with funds donated by them. Local organizations have also pitched in and will help with the operation of the booths tonight. Don't forget the time, 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the high school cafeteria.

Parents are urged and invited to bring their youngsters and help support this worthy cause, as it might very well benefit their own children, in later years when they join band. The band program now being carried on is a fine one, with lots of young students involved, and within a few years Carrizozo should have one of the finest bands in the area. But, this can only be accomplished through the co-operation and involvement of the parents in Carrizozo. Attending the carnival would be a good way of showing your support of this program.

Kids, don't forget to come dressed up in your halloween costumes and enter the contest. A report of all profits taken in tonight will be reported next week.

ELVA WILSON talked with Congressman Harold Runnels on the Capitol steps. The visit was a part of the Bi-Centennial Tour that Elva and other members of the Lincoln Senior Citizens Center made this month.

Zamora's return from vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Christobal Zamora are back at home again. They had a marvelous trip. They went from here to Albuquerque to board a Continental Airways plane to Denver, Colo. At Denver they continued on their way on a United Airways plane to Spokane, Washington where their son, Joe, and his wife live. Mrs. Zamora went on to Cheney about 17 miles from Spokane where another son, Lt. Col. Emilio Zamora and his family live for one week's visit with them. She said Emilio had a beautiful garden and they also have a lovely home. She was amazed at seeing how things grow out there. Mrs. Zamora then went back to visit with Joe and his wife for a week while Christobal went to Emilio's for a week.

While there, they went farther northwest to Wenatchee, Wash., where so many apples grow, and saw many beautiful places. One of which I will describe in more detail later.

They so thoroughly enjoyed every bit of the trip and now are enjoying their own place in Lincoln again.

On Oct. 3, 1975 Lynda A. Cooper of Lincoln and James Sanchez of San Patricio were married in the "City Different", Santa Fe.

The double-ring ceremony was bilingual and Santa Fe was the perfect place for it. To further symbolize their pride in New Mexico's heritage the turquoise inlay rings were special ordered and made by S. Pacquin of Isleta Pueblo.

The bride was lovely, I know in a floor length blue dress, trimmed with white lace. The groom in a dark blue suit.

Mr. Sanchez is the High School Counselor at Ruidoso and is a native of Hondo Valley, while Mrs. Sanchez, though a native of Arizona, has lived in New Mexico for many years. She attended U.N.M. where she studied Sociology and Anthropology. She also spent sometime in the Peace Corps.

They have a daughter, Katherine.

An interesting note: they were married on the N. Mex. Governor's birthday and he happened to be celebrating his birthday at the same restaurant. He sent over a bottle of wine and personally visited with them, even took a picture of them (Hope I can get to use it later). This added a nice touch for a perfect day for this lovely couple. They are so well-liked by all who know them. We wish them much happiness in their life together.

Mrs. Pat Ward's mother is very ill at her home in Lovington.

Rosalie Dunlap and Betty Shrecengost are going to Carrizozo every Thursday evening. They are taking some college courses offered by N.M. School of Mining and Technology of Socorro.

News from the County Agent

If you have some Johnson Grass on your place you should watch for Prussic-Acid Poisoning at the first frost. Animals often die within a few minutes after eating Johnson Grass after frost and there is usually no time for treatment. If a poisoned animal is discovered in time, a drachm of molasses diluted with water may be helpful. A veterinarian should be called immediately to give quick additional treatment. The veterinarian may also be able to save animals not yet affected by the prussic acid obtained from Johnson Grass, Sudan Grass or grain and forage sorghums. Young plants are higher in Prussic acid than those approaching maturity. Small plants and young suckers and new regrowth are high in prussic acid. Sudan Grass and sorghum-sudan hybrids are normally safe to graze after they are 18 inches high. Sudan Grass seldom kills animals in New Mexico unless it is contaminated with other sorghums.

Grain and forage sorghums are generally unsuitable for pasture and are unsafe to graze in all stages except after the plants are mature and no new growth is present. Even mature sorghum is unsafe for grazing after frosting or freezing. Frosted or frozen Johnson Grass should not be grazed until it is completely dry with no evidence of new growth.

The prussic acid content in frosted Johnson Grass or sorghum can be reduced to safe levels by allowing the crop to become completely dry before pasturing. Care must be taken to insure that thick stalks and joints are completely cured.

Forest wants your opinion

Supervisor John A. Hafterson announced today that his office is soliciting comments on proposals concerning off-road vehicular use on the Lincoln National Forest in compliance with the Secretary of Agriculture's regulation 36 CFR 295.1-9.

Copies of the proposals are available for public review and comment at the following locations: the Ranger District offices in Cloudercroft, Mayhill, Carlsbad, and Ruidoso and the Forest Supervisor's Office in Alamogordo.

Supervisor Hafterson asks that all comments be sent to him at the Supervisor's Office, Federal Building, 11th and New York, Alamogordo, New Mexico 88310 by January 1, 1976.

Clockwise from top left: Mountain sheep and tan temple in a repeat design. Sympathetic mountain sheep with wary interior, pierced by hunters' arrows. This striped talon with its Mambres style bent tail stands upon a three pronged base. Petroglyphs dot the boulders along a mile long ridge — a prehistoric art gallery watching across time. A strange, crested bird is in the company of a cross in circle motif. A mountain lion's paw, pecked into the rock.

The rock art of Three Rivers

not — that's too far back in time, and these glyphs are thought to be a thousand years ago, if that...but, still, part of the joy of being at a rock-art site is the joy of being able to let the mind rove over fact and fancy.

And Three Rivers will give you plenty of that. I picked Three Rivers for this visit because, one, it has a rich concentration of petroglyphs in a relatively small area — some rock-art sites in the Southwest will stretch for many miles. The second reason is that Three Rivers is a good example of what a well-run Bureau of Land Management program can do, preserving natural treasure houses for everyone's enjoyment and enrichment.

The BLM, the government agency charged with watching over public lands that don't fall under National Forest Service jurisdiction, began the work at the Three Rivers site in 1967. A campground was constructed at the foot of the rock-art ridge, with tables and shelters curving overhead. A fence was built around the ridge, because, shame to say, there are those who come to destroy the good things of the land, not knowing they destroy a little of themselves in the process.

So, fence — to keep out the marauders who've forgotten the joy of walking, who've given up their legs for wheels. And guard, a full-time recreational aide who's on the scene to guide visitors, lecture in the open-sided "lecture hall" through which you pass to zigzag through the stile that leads to the discovery path beyond.

They've built a trail, outlined with rock, and in some ways this is a shame, because part of the nature experience should be the sense of discovery, the illusion of being the first to walk in a particular place, in a world where new discoveries are seemingly few and far between.

But, being wise as well as mindful of the visitor's needs, the trail has been improved only for the first 150 yards or so.

"That's for the mildly interested," grins the guide. "They'll walk up about that far and then turn back to picnic. The rest," he says, "will keep on going, and you could spend a week — a month — and never really see all there is to find up there."

The ridge keeps changing with the changing light of day. The first touch of morning sun brings out designs that fade as the flat light of midday comes, while other come into view. There is light and there is shadow and, everywhere you turn, another new design to beckon you on and on to ridge's end.

And then the golden light of late afternoon, rich and sweet in the clear, high air, as in no other place on earth, when everything turns warm, and deep colors soak the stone. This is my favorite time of day (that, and first-light), when you can stand on ridge top and imagine you're the first human to walk that way in all those thousand years, look up to the snow-capped peak of Sierra Blanca in the east, across the drainage plain, look up the evening canyons, shadowed in deep blue, and wonder what they lead to, look to the west, where white sands and the dark glow of old lava beds shimmer.

Sit still a while, up there on that ridge, and dream. You're not running any races, and part of the enjoyment of being in the field is experiencing the changing light of day, the wind, the way shadows play among the rocks — the reaching out across the years to touch the work of another human's hand, feeling that human presence across the gap of time.

Watch the rocks flare up in the last glow of setting sun, then fade — and pick your way, filled with quiet satisfaction, back down the ridge to where the campfire is glowing, the smell of fresh-made coffee greeting you as you come "home".

A visit to a rock art site is an emotional experience you'll carry with you all your days — and New Mexico is rich in such.

Old businesses to get new look

Two old Carrizozo businesses have new owners and will soon have a new look. Dick and Jackie Bradley have purchased the Reil Motel along with an adjacent triangle and are planning to remodel in the near future.

Leon "Hoot" Gibson bought R.A. Cox's liquid feed business and a large building on Central Avenue. He has added another feed line, Pro Lix Liquid Feed, and plans to remodel the building and expand into vet supplies and livestock tack.

The Bradleys, who also own and operate Carrizozo Crafts, have renamed the motel the Sunset Inn. Remodeling will include carpeting, paneling and exterior work. Jackie had put in new drapes and is planning new furnishings. Plans include apartments as well as rooms. The Bradleys have not yet decided on a use for the triangle which was a Mobil gas station until recently.

Gibson is married to the former Linda Stearns and the couple have a 5 year old daughter, Jonna. They moved to Carrizozo from a ranch east of Roswell and are living in the house that was Bill Payne's law office.

The Gibsons have purchased a building adjacent to the old Johnnie's Bar and Central Feed at 1206 Central. Following complete renovation of the building, the business will be expanded to include ranch supplies.

ABOUT HARDENING OF THE ARTERIES
 So many people have hardening of the arteries right here in Lincoln County, and many of them have felt that there is no cure. This is not true with many cases. According to Dr. J. Rinco. He read from the point of view of a chemist. He studied the composition of cholesterol and what happens to it inside the body. He discovered that cholesterol is produced in the liver which also regulates its production in the fatty substance depending on how much is present in food. If the diet contains considerable cholesterol, the liver produces less. It is used for the manufacture of bile acids (a digestive juice), hormones and vitamin D.

Dr. Rinco compiled a diet-of brewers yeast, raw wheat germ bonemeal and lecithin, plus safflower or soybean oil and added vitamin C - other minerals were added sulfur and garlic. Adding a better vegetable and fruit diet he found that you can live a normal life because this cleaned out the arteries. This is just a sketch of what can be done for you if you have hardening of the arteries. This article is published in its entire program in the mag published in the health food stores, please visit a health food store and ask for it.

ANOTHER EXCELLENT FOOD IN YOUR LIFE!

Man's most useful tree is the coconut tree. Botanists consider palm trees second only to the coconut which nourished millions of people. Copra is made from the coconut and then pressed to make oil. The oil is made into soap-margarine and is added to a vegetarian diet as a meat substitute. It has 7.2 percent protein, and amounts of iron, and potassium. Why not eat more coconut and you will love it.

Hints for the wise!
 If your decorator candles have become soiled looking you can clean them easily and effectively just by sponging them with a piece of cotton dampened with alcohol.
 Most tie racks can be converted into nifty hangers for neckties. Pegboard on the back of a closet door is another easy way to hang this type of jewelry.
 Bacon is best when baked on a rack in a pan at low heat. The fat will drain into the pan and your bacon will always be crisp.

DO YOU KNOW?
 About the Babysitting Co-op? It is one year old. Try it.
 Recall that the Bookmobile stops at the 4 Winds every month. What you are missing? By missing the book club it will meet the third Tuesday.
 Senior citizens will have a halloween party on Friday night, Costume Halloween Party.

 Nothing ever becomes real till "it is experienced. Even a proverb is no proverb to you till your life has illustrated it.

AROUND THE BOWL
 The beauty in Nogal is startling with oranges, yellows, browns. The Crouses' pumpkin garden is especially nice with many shapes of pumpkins, it gives a real halloween feeling. Listen!
 The wind is howling.
 The lights have flickered low.

Nogal had a surprise visit from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis formerly Mrs. Wandell lived in Nogal. We are very happy about her marriage however it seems that half of Nogal was out of town and she didn't get to see so many she wanted too. Maybe next time try it again.
 Ma Stearns had a birthday and we wish that dear lady many, many more!
 A nice thing happened. Archie Witham gave an excellent speech to the Republican Women on Wills. You better check your own will.

 Louise tells me that Jeff Payton visited his father recently. He is stationed at Fort Huochua Ariz. at present and that Marylou Rummels is home from N.M.S.U. for the weekend. It is really nice to hear from Lou and Bill.

 A little bird flew in from Colorado last night and told me that Damon C. Burkstaller is on the Honor Roll this semester. We congratulate this young man from Nogal.

The Carrizozo Grizzlies were defeated by Reserve last Friday, 22 to 6.
 I had a nice chat with the former Governor Bruce King last Saturday morning at the 4 Winds restaurant, he and his wife were on their way to Las Cruces to see his son for Homecoming.
 He asked about our football team and school. He said to give his compliments to our school. It was nice meeting him. I hope he travels threw Carrizozo again soon.

BATHROOM DOORS!
 I said two weeks ago one door would be returned to the girls bathroom stalls. As of now they still aren't back on. I had a talk with Mr. Wilkinson this morning and he said he did not know when the doors would be returned. I feel the girls and the boys should have privacy when using the restroom! Your guess is as good as mine as to when the doors will be returned.
 I would like to talk about a teacher who has taught at Carrizozo High School for 16 years. He worked in a print show for many years. He married a home ec teacher. This man I would like to talk about is Mr. Lawson. Mr. Lawson is a math teacher, his hobbies are gardening, electronics, guitar, arts and crafts and just about anything you can do with your hands.
 Mr. Lawson has had the same room for 16 years now. When I asked him why, he said its like an old shoe; its comfortable. Mr. Lawson has been called Mr. Cornflakes for many years. But he's not a Mr. Cornflakes; he is a fine teacher!

CARNIVAL
 The Band Booster Club is sponsoring a Halloween Carnival October 30 in the lunchroom. The money raised will go to buy sweaters for the band. See you there!!!
 The Carrizozo Grizzlies will meet the Capitan Tigers on the ZoZo field Friday, October 31. Be sure to get out and help the cheerleaders cheer the Grizzlies on to a V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!!!!!!

 "Don't worry," replied one of the brothers. "From where Pop is, it'll look like 6 percent."

Lincoln County Postmasters meet

Frances Fuller is president

Mary Louise Joiner - Reporter
 Sunday afternoon October 12, the Lincoln County Postmaster's Association met at Captain in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw. Fanette McKinney, President, called the meeting to order and the Postmasters and guests were introduced. Pauline Britton, Sec.-Treasurer read the minutes and report of the last meeting. An interesting and informative session on timely Postal changes and problems were discussed by various postmasters as the items were selected from a hat.

W.H. Baird, our Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster from Roswell, answered and explained a number of questions asked by the postmasters. A discussion concerning the updating of the History Books of Lincoln County Post Offices was brought to the attention of the group. A committee was appointed to explore the possibilities of up-dating the history books as a Bicentennial project.

Officers elected for 1975-76 are: President, Frances Fuller, Corona; Vice President Maxine Wright Capitan; Sec.-Treas., Pauline Britton, Fort Stanton; Reporter Mary Louise Joiner, Hondo.

Get Well cards were signed by the group to be sent to Josephine Kimbrell, Picacho Postmaster, who was still in the hospital in Albuquerque recovering from injuries she received during a robbery some weeks ago, and Art Miering, former Roswell Postmaster who was in a hospital recovering from eye surgery. Postmasters who retired this summer were presented lovely gifts.

Halloween - a safe night

October 31 will bring with it the age-old tradition of Halloween or the day for "trick-or-treat" activities.

It seems that with each passing year, more and more accidents are surrounding this nationally known and accepted children's activity.

Children are being struck by cars as they engage in their fun and games, or become deathly ill by eating candy laced with harmful drugs, or become seriously incapacitated after munching an apple containing razor blades or needles.

By following a few simple precautions, many of these accidents can be prevented.

The following suggestions are based upon the safety rules recommended by the National Safety Council and the program of the National Confectioners Association of the United States. The information comes from the Carrizozo American Legion Post.

1. Advise children to wear costumes which are light in color, short enough to prevent tripping, and non-flammable. For greater visibility, the costumes can be decorated with reflective tape or bands so that it "glows" in the beam of a car's headlights.
2. Issue a special warning to motorists to exercise extreme caution on "trick-or-treat" day between the hours that your community has selected.
3. Warn against the wearing of Halloween masks by youngsters. (Masks restrict vision.) Colorful facial make-up can be used instead.
4. Advise children to carry flashlights after dark. If a pumpkin is carried, it should be lit with a flashlight, not a candle.
5. Encourage participation by young children only. Youngsters older than 13 years of age should be discouraged from taking part.
6. Suggest that children's "trick-or-treat" visits be confined to their own neighborhood.
7. Urge that parents or other responsible adults accompany young children on their "trick-or-treat" rounds.
8. Admonish children to wait until they get home to taste their "treats", rather than to eat the goodies while they are making their rounds.
9. Ask the residents who wish to participate to keep their porch lights on. Likewise advise chaperoned children to call only at lighted homes.
10. Lastly, promote the basic pedestrian rules of the National Safety Council through the press, radio and television:
  - +Cross only at corners, never between parked cars, never diagonally across an intersection.
  - +Look in all directions before crossing the street.
  - +Watch for and obey all traffic lights.
  - +Walk, never run across the street.
  - +Use sidewalks, not the street, for walking.
  - +Wait on the curb, not in the street, until the street is clear to cross.

It is unrealistic to think that trick-or-treat will soon be stopped as a Halloween activity. Why not encourage the children to do this right after school, perhaps from 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., and before the evening meal? Parents should not let any young children out after dark by themselves. Parents should see that the children never eat any treats until the parents themselves have had a chance to sort through the goodies to eliminate any suspicious items.

If children wear Halloween costumes, parents should see that these garments are flame resistant. If the costumes treated with flame-resistant properties. These should be treated after cleaning or discarded when dirty.
 Reflective tape should be applied to the arms and legs of the costumes or costumes with reflective decorations should be used after dark.

Polly's Bulletin Board
 If it wasn't for children there would be no carnivals, no schools and no toy factories. Here is a poem by an unknown author for 'guardians' of children:

The Soul of a Child
 The soul of a child is the loveliest flower
 That grows in the Garden of God.
 It's climb is from weakness to knowledge and power
 To the sky from the clay to the cloud.
 To beauty and sweetness it grows under care.
 Neglected, 'tis ragged and wild.
 'Tis a plant that is tender, but wondrously rare.
 The sweet wistful soul of a child.

Be tender, O Gardener, and give it its share
 Of moisture, of warmth and of light,
 And let it not lack for the painstaking care
 To protect it from frost and from blight.
 A glad day will come when its bloom shall unfold
 It will seem that an angel has smiled
 Reflecting a beauty and sweetness untold
 In the sensitive soul of a child.

4H's receive awards
 The Annual 4-H Awards Day Program will be held at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 2, 1975 in the Carrizozo Recreation Center.
 The program will consist of the giving of County Medals, State and National Awards. Completion Pins will also be given.
 Mistress of Ceremonies will be Debbie Clark of Ruidoso, newly elected president of the Lincoln Co. 4-H Council.
 Featured speaker will be Dub Williams of Ruidoso.

Here, there and yonder!

by Aileen Lindamood

Myrtle Williams was in Albuquerque as a participant in the Title VI D Teacher Training session sponsored by the State Department of Education, Division of Special Education. The pre-convention workshop was held at the Western Skies Motor Hotel on Oct. 21 and 22. Oct. 23rd she was in attendance at the workshops of NEA New Mexico Teacher's Convention.

Douglas Jarrard went to Albuquerque this past week to the NEA New Mexico Teacher's Convention being held there.

Another Carrizozo teacher attending the NEA Teacher's Convention in Albuquerque was Marion Pherigo-while there she participated in all of the workshops.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton B. Whittaker of Nogal have returned from Denver. They had been there for a week visiting their son, Alton B. Jr.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Witham over the weekend were his mother, Mrs. Wall Witham of Nogal and his sister, and children, Mrs. Beverly Rooney and Tommy and Randy of Phoenix.

Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Sherrill enjoyed a visit from a niece, Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Cummins of San Antonio, Tex. and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sutton of Roswell and son, Verron on Sunday.

To celebrate Mrs. Pearl Stearns' birthday, her son, Johnson, and wife, Margaret, took her to Albuquerque to visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poage the past weekend.

Mrs. Roy Shafer has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J.B. Howell and husband, J.B., in Albuquerque.

Weekending with Mrs. M.J. Barnett were her children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnett of Las Cruces and Mrs. Ruth Swift of Tucumcari.

They returned via Ruidoso to visit Mr. Spencer Sr., his daughter-in-law and husband Col. and Mrs. Norman Rogers of Lubbock.

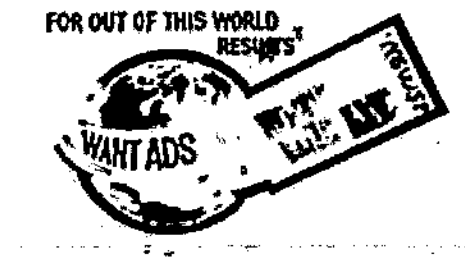

Thursday afternoon Cora Dutton of Capitan and Mrs. Ralph Barber and daughter Rebecca visited with Aileen Lindamood.

Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Leste Lanelli of El Paso and Karen Millican of N.M. State were guests of Aileen Lindamood. It's interesting to note Karen has been living in Kahala, Hawaii with her parents who are still living there. When it was time for her to go to college she chose N.M. State. The high light of their visit was an afternoon at White Oaks with Roy Harman-as our guide and where could a better one be found? They were impressed with all of the things to see in that ghost town. Their hostess enjoyed it too as it's always a pleasure to go to the house her parents lived in after their marriage in 1897. The old school house is another pleasure as her father John A. Haley was a teacher there.

Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Thornton returned recently from a Texas trip to Waco, Big Spring, Italy and Buchanan Dam. In Waco they visited her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. P.M. Hill, her niece and husband Mr. and Mrs. Roland Meharg in Italy, her niece Doris Peters in Big Spring, and the stop at Buchanan Dam was to do some fishing.

Monday Tola Underwood and David Wiegand of Albuquerque stopped to visit and take Aileen Lindamood to lunch on their way from Ruidoso to Albuquerque.

Mrs. L.N. Farris has a letter from Mrs. Bernice Nickles of T or C saying that she is back from California, to visit with her children. She was quite ill and in the hospital while there but is well now. Mrs. Farris expects her for a visit

New nursery harvests seeds

By Hattie Phillips

Sometime ago I asked Mr. Serven if he would give us something on the project, progress, etc., of Lincoln's new business. He graciously agreed and here it is.

We in Lincoln are very happy with this new development, as well as the people who have come in with it, and hope they will have great success and enjoy being with us.

I am enclosing his write up.

October 24, 1975

Dear Ms. Rich:

We would appreciate your publishing the following article as it means in inform Lincoln County residents of our activities.

News Release - Mountain Valley Nursery.
Perhaps you've noticed a newly graveled road just east of the old Lincoln cemetery and wondered about who had built it and for what purpose. This road marks the first development of Mountain Valley Nursery, a new enterprise for Lincoln County and Rio Bonito Valley.

Presently the road leads to the construction site of a tree seed extractory which will be used to process seed cones harvested from forest areas in New Mexico and Arizona. The seed produced, principally pine, fir and spruce will be packaged and sold to nurseries growing seedlings for reforestation and other purposes throughout the United States and in some instances the world.

Beginning in the spring of 1976, the Nursery will expand operations by planting four to five million seedling trees for use by the Forest Service and Bureau of Indian Affairs in reforestation projects in New Mexico and Arizona. We will also be selling to private parties interested in reforestation, beautification or Christmas tree production.

Eventually, Mountain Valley Nursery will be producing a crop of approximately ten thousand pounds of seed and at least fifteen million seedling trees annually.

The staff of Mountain Valley Nursery wishes to extend an open invitation to all interested residents of Lincoln County whom would like to see the extractory in operation, after a predicted opening of November 15.

We are particularly pleased with our location in Bonito Valley and look forward to becoming a permanent part of the Lincoln community. So when you have a moment, stop by the we will gladly explain who we are and what we are doing.

Thank you for giving us an opportunity to inform our neighbors and invite them to come see for themselves, our development.

Schar Ward had his operation and at last account up and around in his new fiber glass cast, seemingly doing well.

Helen Pfingsten was installed as Royal Matron Order of Amaranth last Saturday evening in Ruidoso Court No. 6.

It was a beautiful and impressive installation and Helen was lovely in a formal red gown trimmed with blue and white.

Frances L. Strash of Portland, Oregon and Sue Nightingale of Walnut Creek, California were here for the installation.

Ms. Strash, was secretary, for ten different generals over a period of ten years, each general serving two years in Europe.

She met Helen in Azores, in 1959, where she was transferred from Frankfurt, Germany, Secretary to Gen. Daney and billeted by Helen.

She says they shared everything from soap to fur stoles. She left there in 1968.

Ms. Nightingale says that after serving six years in South Pacific, her husband was transferred to Azores, where they met Helen and Fritz.

Fritz having a nice garden at his quarters was about the first place her husband headed for and of course anyone knowing Helen and Fritz know they have green thumbs, and always want to share.

From time to time Helen sat (with their cat) when they were away from the Island. They left there in 1969.

Their friendship is a wonderful thing which I'm sure will last for their respective life time.

Fritz's two sisters, Winnie and Nell and Nell's husband Fred Elington also visited them recently.

James and Lynda Sanchez are having their house painted and had a porch built. It looks very nice.

The Dockerys are working on their house and Adobe wall too.

THE SUN was out and the golden leafed roads too beautiful to resist, so the Happy Homemakers took to the Spencer Ranch roads for a run and a romp at their Halloween party.

MARIAN SPENCER was the hostess for the Carrizozo Happy Homemakers annual Halloween party. The girls took a moment out to try to "out witch" the witch on the table.

GOURDS became Halloween faces with the imagination of the Happy Homemakers at work. Mona Payne, Sandra Morales, Teri English and Monique Gibson show some of the party funny faces.

TODAY'S ARMY is still accepting volunteers

Sure, we're looking for highly qualified young men and women to perform the more than 300 good jobs the Army has to offer. And we've been successful. In the last two years without the draft, over 400,000 young Americans have chosen to serve in the Army. We've been so successful that some young people have doubts that they can qualify. Why not accept the challenge and see if you can qualify? You probably will be surprised to find that you're more highly qualified than you think. We have all kinds of jobs for all kinds of people and chances are we have one for you. You have nothing to lose and you stand to gain a whole new life of travel, challenge, good pay and a host of other benefits that most civilian jobs can't match. Step up into the good life now. See or call your local Army representative for a personal interview. We'll bet he has an offer you can't refuse.

Mountains have first light snow

by Margaret Rench

We are having real fall weather. Heavy ice at night and the days fairly warm. Chilly enough though for a light wrap. A few days there was winds but not to bad. The leaves are falling fast now but there are many more to turn color, in other words it needs more cold. Mountains are beautiful between here and Ruidoso. There was light snow Friday night. Saturday morning there were traces that made us realize there had been sleet. A beautiful but dry fall. One evening last week we had a light rain shower. That we did appreciate.

Sunday was the last day of muzzle loading hunting. Deer season opened November 8 thru 23. The season is stratified.

The Smokey Bear Museum had many visitors last week from various states. Pauline McGarry took all of her nursery children thru one day. They enjoyed it very much.

The Chuck Inn opened Wednesday for business after two weeks vacation in Texas. Everyone is welcoming their good food.

The Idle Hour Enchantment Ceramic Shop was closed for five weeks. They now are holding evening classes there every Tuesday evening. We missed it while they were enjoying their vacation. It is great to have Sharon back there with her smiles and hard work to give us confidence in our learning.

Pauline McGarry now has a helper at the nursery who lives with her which makes it good for them both in that work.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr. have the foundation ready for the construction of an addition to their home. It will be built of cement block.

One night last week the Smokey Bear Restaurant was robbed. A rest room window had been overlooked and left open and there the bugler entered and stole all of the cash.

Ronny Eldridge and Pat Joiner recently returned from 10 days elk hunting. Ronny was the lucky one. They had a good vacation and a great time.

Paul Jones, Ray Page and son Billy and George Martinez spent 12 days in Tres Piedras area hunting elk. They did not have any luck but they did have a good time.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met at the home of Eltha Merrell Thursday, October 16, with nine members present and they were Vera Beall, Mary Dean, Marie Edgar, Lorene Ferguson, Bessie Jones, Eltha Merrell, Hattie Phillips, Frankie Tonn and Mora Titsworth. Nona Anderson and Winifred Cozzens were special guests.

They enjoyed the usual festive luncheon at noon. Chicken casserole, salads, relishes, vegetables, With pumpkin and mince meat pies.

Lorene Ferguson, President called the meeting to order. After business Eltha Merrell gave each member seed beads from Hawaii.

Mora Titsworth won the apron bonnet which was the white elephant.

Winifred Cozzens and Mora Titsworth gave an article on the sunflower.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Harriet McGinnis near Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDaniel and family of El Paso, Texas spent last weekend with his sister Mr. and Mrs. Gary Palmquist and family.

The Capitan School Carnival is Saturday, November 1, at the school. Go and help them have a success and lots of fun.

Janie Randle and Joe Paul of Deming, spent last weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean, Sr.

Harriet Lantz of Philadelphia, Pa., who has been in Ruidoso taking treatments with her Dr. D'Elia for one month left via bus to El Paso, Monday. Tuesday she took the plane home.

Catherine Gantham went to Lubbock, Texas Saturday, October 18 to see her new grandson Jason Lee who was born to her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Mike Westbrook, October 8. She enjoyed all of them. She says that the baby is the grandest one ever. Returned Wednesday 22, very happy after that nice vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Shaw of Las Cruces spent last weekend thru the holiday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw.

Travis Werner entered St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell for tests last Sunday evening. I wish you a good report, Travis and good health.

A report on Mrs. Bessie Cummins and Mrs. Ethel Pepper who is in St. Mary's Hospital are good. Each at this time are greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Pafenroth of Albuquerque visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hammons.

Work is going on in Tinnie Cemetery Nov. 8. Bring your lunch and equipment. Join in and help in this good deed.

Hondo Valley

by Reporter Raythe Gibson

Hondo Valley 4-H Club planted two beautiful pine trees in front of the Hondo High School last week in observance of the Bicentennial year. They were donated by the Soil Conservation Service. Left to right are: Jim Cooper, Charles Chavez, Godfrey Gomez, Billy Surratt, Jamie Gipson, Ginger Cooper, Raythe Gipson, Eugenia Polaco, Maxine Chavez, Carlos Pacheco, and Lloyd Salcido.

County Council President Carlos Pacheco reported that at the last meeting of the year the Council had voted on each club in the county observing the Bicentennial year in some way.

During this year the clubs are to gather pictures, newscippings, and stories of their 4-H members in action. These momentos will be preserved in a capsule. After ten years these members who will then be alumni will gather at a special celebration and open the capsule. He also reminded the members of another project voted on earlier in the year by the council—that of 4-Hers submitting stories and pictures of old timers to the newspaper also in observance of the Bicentennial Celebration.

THE HONDO 4-H Club undertakes tree growing with the planting of two pine trees at the school as a part of Bi-Centennial observance.

EACH Saturday the William Sylskar family of wife Marge, Lori age 6 and Mike age 4 drive to Lincoln County where William (Bill) serves as preacher at United Methodist Churches in Capitan and Carrizozo. Bill will serve in the USAAF until June of 1976 and then expects to attend a Methodist seminary. The Sylskar family came from Grand Rapids, Michigan.

ANTONIO Mendoza will be the guest artist at the annual CCAPA membership dinner November 8 at the Carrizozo Country Club. Mendoza, a guitarist of the first rank, produces unusual and beautiful sounds on his instrument. He is also a composer and artist of national reputation.

CCAPA Concert features guitar

Antonio Mendoza of Santa Fe and Taos will be featured guitar concert at the membership dinner of CCAPA, Carrizozo Country Club, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Mendoza is an accomplished guitarist, composer, and artist; and several of his paintings of northern New Mexico landscapes will be on exhibition. The concert program will consist of classical, flamenco, and folklore music from Latin America, interspersed among these selections will be several of his own compositions written exclusively for the guitar.

Recently, Mr. Mendoza completed an intensive course of study at the National Conservatory of Music in Mexico City where he received a degree awarding him professional status. In September, he offered a guitar workshop and solo performance at the University of Texas at El Paso.

Under the auspices of the New Mexico Arts Commission, he completed a guest artist engagement in the Espanola, N.M., public schools, and is currently involved in a similar two-week guitar workshop in Carlsbad, N.M. He has been honored, in a tribute given annually to an outstanding Mexican artist by the University of Chihuahua, by an invitation to perform there in early December.

Eastern New Mexico University at Portales will see him perform in February as at its Ethnic Music Festival. Until recently, Mr. Mendoza also performed in the nightclub at the historic La Fonda Hotel in Santa Fe. The range of his virtuosity extends from baroque to popular dance music.

Mr. Mendoza is a native of Ignacio Allende, Durango, Mexico, and came to Taos, N.M., in 1960. Since then, his popularity as an accomplished guitarist have grown steadily throughout both New Mexico and neighboring states. He is now well-known as one of New Mexico's outstanding musicians.

The dinner concert is open to the public. Tickets are $4 per person.

Capitan upsets Mountainair

The Capitan Tigers put on an impressive offensive show last Wednesday night as the Tigers scored in every quarter to down the upset minded Mountainair Mustangs. The Tigers attack was led by senior, Kenny Cummins, a bonafide add-state candidate as he ran for 100+ yards and passed for 150 more.

Cummins was 9 for 11 through the air.

Robbie Richards and Pat Griego both had fine nights also as Richardson rushed for 145 yards and Griego came up with some dazzling runs of his own. The Capitan tacks ran through gaping holes made by linemen David Cummins, Ricky Richardson, Rocky Willingham, David Hightower, Bert Shrecengost, David Granger and Danny Chavez.

It wasn't all offense though as the Tigers pulled down 6 interceptions in the second half alone. Two apiece by Kenny Cummins and Robbie Richardson, David Granger and Adam Aldaz both had one each.

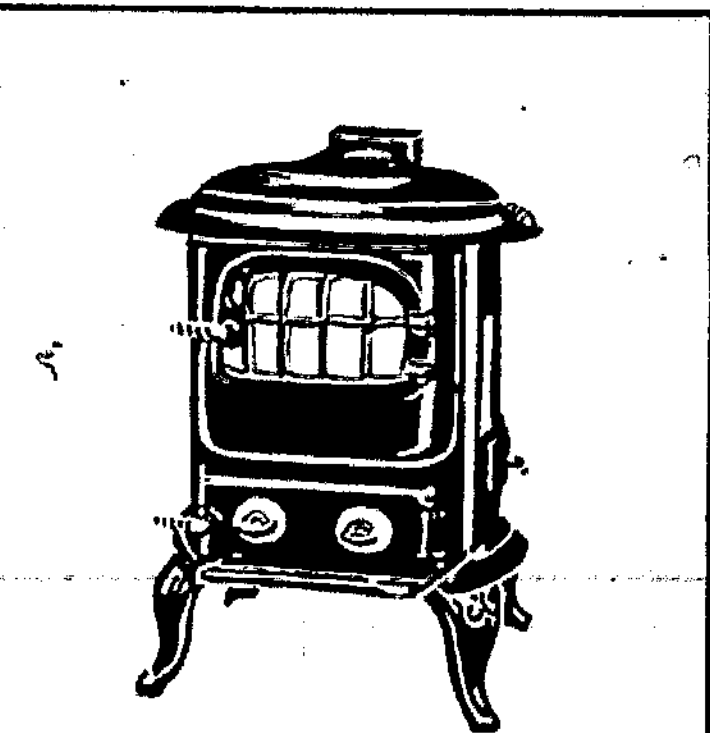

The game started as the Tigers marched for 70 yds after the opening kick-off. Cummins capped the drive with a 40 yd scamper to put the Tigers in control. After a stalled Mustang drive the Tigers took one on their own 33 yd line. The first play saw Robbie Richardson twist and bull his way 67 yds for the TD and the longest run of the night. After another drive of the Mustangs fell short later in the 2nd quarter, Cummins hit Kirk Phillips for a 40 yd TD pass. The Tigers scored one more time as Kenny Cummins scrambled out of his pocket and ran for 56 yds which gave the Tiger a comfortable 28-0 half time lead.

In the second half, the Mustangs came out determined but they could not stop the mighty Tiger offensive machine. The next TD came early in the third quarter on a 45 yd Pass Run play from Cummins to Phillips. The remainder of the game saw the Tiger freshmen battle the squad from Mountainair. The young Tigers surprisingly marched 47 yds to pay dirt led by QB Adam Aldaz. Aldaz sneaked over from one yd out and also kicked the extra point.

The Tigers travel to Carrizozo next Friday to determine the Lincoln County Championship.
