P.O. DRAWER 459

CARRIZOZO, N.M. 88301

All are invited to sunrise service

All persons of every color, creed and condition are cordially invited to share "this shower of glory" — The Easter Sunrise Service at Valley of Fires State Park out of Carrizozo at 7:02 a.m. Easter Sunday morning, according to Chaplain Alfred Kline of Capitan.

Chaplain Kline is putting the program together and says, "Sunrise bursts into Valley of Fires State Park at 7:02 a.m. This shower of glory starts the ninth anniversary celebration of the Easter Dawn Drama which was first presented in 1966, the same year Valley of Fires was officially dedicated to be a New Mexico State Park, thanks to public spirited Clara Snow and others of Carrizozo."

Methodist young people will have breakfast from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. Sunday following the 20-minute sunrise event — at the church in Fellowship Hall.

Greeting the first flash-of sun across the crest of Carrizo Mountain at Valley of Fires this Easter will be two trumpets, chorus groups from Las Cruces and Socorro, the staff and hosts who present the drama and all who drive to the base of the three 17-foot crosses.

Closing the service will be a large white cross formed by combined chorus singers. Centered in the cross will be five persons in purple, representing races of different colors. Purple clad singers will sound forth the verses. White clad will sound the words of the hymn chorus.

Cowboy coffee and donuts will be served by Rainbow Girls immediately after the service. In case of inclement weather — severe weather — the service will be in the Carrizozo High gymnasium.

Chaplain Kline says: "Nearly 2000 years ago, the first 'Easter Sunrise' gave a glad shock of 'Good News' to the 3 women who came to the grave of Jesus, on the 3rd day after his death, to announce His supposedly lifeless body with spices. (See Mark 16:1-8 of T.E.V. Translation of the Bible) He was no longer dead! He was gone! He had risen! This was His Resurrection!"

"This year, countless numbers of persons will be streaming to selected inspiring settings in the dark of the morning to learn much more of the meaning of the Resurrection of Jesus, the Christ...and to experience the liberation of their own half-dead souls, believing they are rising into personal resurrection with Christ."

Sunrise service speakers of past years include: Father John Rebold, Santa Rita Catholic Church in Carrizozo, Rev. Wendell Chino (president of Mesquite Apache Tribal Council and president of the National Council of Indians in 1969), American Legion Boys' Nation President Greg Gray of Gary Indiana (16-year-old young man) in 1970, and The Rev. Mrs. Isadore Fox of Vermont, wife of one of the Four Chaplains who gave their life-belts to four persons who had none on the sinking troopship Rochester on Feb. 3, 1943. These chaplains were Jewish, Catholic and Protestant.

Chaplain Kline is founder of the annual celebration.

Joe Light is bowling with the pros in Dallas this week, but no word on how he's doing. He's doing good, we betcha. He had a real chore during the recent PBA Open tourney here. He had to run the show and bowl too. He burned a little midnight oil during his own tournament.

Hope he brings home a big trophy from Dallas — and cash.

Mayor Bill Payne is back in circulation, we're told, after some painful but not serious surgery. It's good to have that type of thing behind you. The next Town Council meeting may be delayed a week — until April 15. April 15, ugh. That's the deadline for sending Uncle Sam money. And his money needs are excessive. Those who get refunds have no fear of April 15. But many people have to visit their friendly banker before April 15 to settle up with Uncle Sam. We heard the other day that the national debt of $500 billion or so is more money than it took to run the country its first 100 years.

But enough of bad news.

W-W

The good news is that it's Easter — it almost. And the service set for Valley of Fires at 7:02 a.m. Sunday sounds like it'll be excellent. Chaplain Kline always provides a super special experience for all who attend this service.

He has calculated sunrise to the second, almost, so the 7:02 is on the money. One year he neglected to take into consideration that the sun moves north and south as the seasons change. He figured Easter sunrise time a long time before Easter — meanwhile old sol moved behind Carrizo Mountain. Came time for Easter sunrise service and it was pitch black — no sunrise. The sun did eventually come up — like always. Candles would have come in handy that morning.

Mark May 1 on your calendar — and May 2, 3, and 4. That's when Tularosa stages its annual Rose Festival. Tularosa classes of 1930 to 1940 will be especially honored.

We have a special treat coming this weekend — a second look at No. 1 grandson, three months plus old of Midland, Tex., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stubbs. We won't show you any pictures unless you request same. Grandparents are bad that way — they always have pictures and do not hesitate to spring them on anyone. What's wrong with that?

Take in the Grizzly Relays Saturday starting at 8:15. Plenty of action is promised. And Carrizozo has some real standouts.

We are real impressed with the job being done by Med-We-Care. But the group needs your help via checkbook. Medical services are very important to Carrizozo and its medical trade area — which takes in a lot of territory.

Hospital board applies for infirmary license

The Lincoln County Municipal Hospital board of trustees Monday approved the filing of an application for an infirmary license, adopted a set of personnel policies and procedures for the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital and Annex and put their hopes in widespread newspaper advertising to increase the number of clients in the annex.

The annex is utilized as a rest home and has currently seven clients.

"Twelve are needed to break even," Les Olson, administrator told the board of trustees — Nancy Knight, chairman; Dimmitt Bond, Romona Ortiz, Bill Edgar and Vernon Petty. Also present was Mary Hernandez, business manager of the annex, and others.

Olson cited experiences in Lordsburg where advertisements were placed in many New Mexico newspapers soliciting clients for rest home there. He said the campaign was successful and indicated that a current such campaign out of Lincoln County could increase the client total appreciably.

The alternative, the trustees indicated in a vote, is to reassess the annex and deficit spending.

Trustees agreed that 60 days will be the maximum that the trustees can afford to operate the annex without an improvement in the income picture.

The annex currently is losing $2,600 per month — made up from a total of $27,000 reserves in the hospital fund from an endowment and mill levy.

No problem is anticipated in obtaining an infirmary license which would give Carrizozo and its medical trade area a 24-hour emergency care facility which will be tied in with the arrival of a new doctor in Carrizozo, April 15, Dr. Marie Cortelyou.

The infirmary license will enable Carrizozo to provide in-patient and out-patient services, provide for delivery of babies here and other needed by limited medical services.

There will be no major surgery, but doctors here can take emergency x-rays and such, trustees were told.

Staff needed for the infirmary will be a supervisor who will be a registered nurse, two LPN's, a couple of aides and an orderly.

The facility — at the hospital — now closed — will provide a capacity of nine beds on an overnight or several days stay basis.

Trustees pointed out that the facility will not feature long-term hospitalization or non-emergency care after hours.

An infirmary is described as "a patient care unit of an institution whose primary purpose is to provide other than hospital services but which provides to its residents, on a continuing 24-hour basis, in-patient facilities and resources for short-term emergency medical and nursing care."

The project is tied in with Med-We-Care's linkup with National Health Service Corp, a joint effort to provide this medically deficient area with adequate medical services.

Med-We-Care President Joan Means told trustees of infirmary needs for the initial period of operation. An additional telephone line, offices, examining rooms, etc., will be needed in addition to "start up" supplies.

Opening is set for the period April 15-30.

Med-We-Care is conducting a fund drive since that organization will provide "start up" funds and will share profits, down the road, if any, with National Health Service Corps which will pay the salary and other expenses of Dr. Cortelyou.

Mrs. Knight lauded Med-We-Care members who she said deserve a big medal for their work in getting a new doctor to Carrizozo and in setting up facilities at the hospital for her practice.

Dr. Amy Barton attended the meeting and helped plan the infirmary operation with the trustees.

Olson said the annex is in trouble financially because the "endowment has run out."

The big question, he said, "is how long you want to run on a deficit basis."

One measure which will be instituted, he said, is "two patients to a room" at the annex.

A contract will be drawn up on hospital space to be furnished Med-We-Care by the hospital board. That "in-kind" support of the medical program figures into the financial formula between Med-We-Care and National Health Service Corps.

Nancy Knight, president of the Lincoln County Hospital board of trustees, at end of table on right, presides when the trustees Monday decided to pursue a license for an infirmary at the hospital in Carrizozo to be operated in connection with a new doctor coming to Carrizozo. The infirmary will be available for medical emergencies 24 hours a day. Other trustees are Romona Ortiz and Dimmitt Bond, across table, and Bill Edgar and Vernon Petty.

Spectators invited to Relays

Carrizozo and area residents are invited to view the various action events that will made up the 1975 Grizzly Relays here this Saturday starting at 8:15 a.m.

Action on the Carrizozo High cinders will feature Carrizozo, Hagerman, Cloudercroft, Capitan, Fort Sumner and Quemado athletes.

Coach Fidel Sosa expects some strong performances from Carrizozo High participants in several events.

Carrizozo should be hard to beat in the 100-yard dash featuring Ray Beltran and Ernie Beltran. Ray Beltran, and Eugene Vallejos are primed in the 220-yard dash, and Vallejos, Ray Beltran, Bobby Beltran and Ernie Beltran are figured strong contenders in the 440 relay race. And Coach Sosa expects some fine performances from other participants from Carrizozo High.

Other events and "Zozo" competitors are as follows: 440 — Eugene Vallejos and Jim Owens, 880 — Dickie Portillo, Willie Vega and Bobby Ventura.

Two-mile — Willie Vega. 180-yard low hurdles — Ernie Beltran and Michael Vega.

880 relay — Dickie Portillo, Bobby Beltran, Jim Owens and Michael Vega.

Shot put — Clifford Sambrano and Paul Zamora.

Discuss — Clifford Sambrano. Javelin — Ray Beltran, Clifford Sambrano and Michael English.

Long jump — Willie Vega.

Larry Wilkinson will be announcer for the relays, Sammy Webb and Gracie Sosa, scorers. Larry Wilkinson is meet director, Bill McVeigh the starter.

Other officials and helpers are as follows:

Clerk of the course, Coach Webb and Gilbert Archuleta; head finish judge, Wally Ferguson; pickers, Frank Gallegos, Mike Barela, Tommy Saiz and Paul Baes.

Head timer, Weldon McKinley, and timers, Nick Serna, Charley Castillo, Joe Light and Bucky Zumwalt.

Jerry Beltran will be head field judge; Mel Monreal, shot put; Ray Roper, pole vault; Emilio Beltran, discuss; Loreanzo Beltran and Cosme Gallegos, high jump; Leroy Amoya, long jump; Jerry Beltran, javelin.

Fire does damage

A fire in the deep fat fryer at Pizza King on Central Avenue, Carrizozo, did considerable damage to the roof and extensive smoke damage to the building, Friday, about 5:30 p.m.

Owners of the business are Bill and Chea Smith.

Dr. Amy Barton attempted to extinguish the grease blaze with a small extinguisher she had in her car, but the blaze apparently was too large for the small device.

The Carrizozo volunteer fire department was called, and three larger hand extinguishers were used to put out the fire. One fire truck was brought across the street to cool the lower portion of the fryer so that grease would not ignite anew.

The Smith's daughter went into the smoke-filled interior to retrieve the cash drawer during the fire.

Firemen, in a regular meeting Monday night, said all Carrizozo businesses should have "live" fire extinguishers available to combat such fires.

The Pizza King fire would have caused much less damage had a fire extinguisher been available, the firemen said.

125 'private label' welders are shipped

A truck bearing 125 'private label' arc welders bound for California was driven out of Carrizozo, Saturday, for delivery of the "Weld Mark" 135 amp welders to a national welding association.

Involved in the shipment was Dennis Hartnett, new sales manager for H. C. Scott Industries, producer of the machines. Hartnett was until recently associated with Harley Industries in Wichita, Kan.

The shipment of arc welders Saturday was the first bulk shipment of the arc welders under the private label.

The welding association became interested in the Scott arc welders when representatives saw them demonstrated in Hawaii at a convention.

A man in Canada had purchased one, and so had a man in California. Both men demonstrated the machines at the Hawaii convention. The initial order for 125 of them resulted.

Also witnessess to the first shipment to California and supervising were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cantrell, who head Scott Industries.

They obviously were pleased with the large initial order.

Hartnett and his wife are now full-time residents of Carrizozo.

BLM will enforce wild burro, horse act

The Bureau of Land Management said this week that it will enforce the Wild Horse and Burro Act pending appeal of a ruling that the act is unconstitutional.

Arthur W. Zimmerman, BLM state director for New Mexico, said the Department of Justice is expected to appeal the ruling and that the appeal may take several months to resolve.

On Feb. 28, the U.S. District Court at Albuquerque with three judges sitting as a panel held the act unconstitutional and permanently enjoined the Bureau from enforcing it.

The court ruled on a suit brought by the New Mexico Livestock Board. The suit contested the bureau's claim to 19 burros removed from federal lands 13 months ago by the state and later sold at auction in Roswell.

The court subsequently granted a stay of the judgment and injunction to allow the Government opportunity to appeal, and to protect the wild horses and burros during the appeal process.

Zimmerman said his agency would enforce all provisions of the ACT pending resolution of the appeal.

"We have been advised by the Justice Department to stop short of arrest of any person," he said. "But we will document any alleged violations of the Act, warn the individuals involved and ask them to cease taking of horses falling under protection of the Act, and advise the U.S. Attorney of the circumstances if anyone performing an allegedly illegal act refuses to abide by our warnings and requests."

Zimmerman said that a reversal of the Feb. 28 ruling might lead to prosecution of persons involved in any gathering of horses protected by the Act.

Polly's Bulletin Board

There's no question about it, the television set in a household is here, to stay. From Captain Kangaroo to the late, late movie, there is something for everyone.

Sometimes the commercials are the biggest hits!

There's a little person around here that goes around saying, like an old broken record, "who's got my pickle."

I have a boy that must play underground with moles because he comes in from the backyard full of dirt and mud. All he can say is, "Tide will get it out. Kids will be kids."

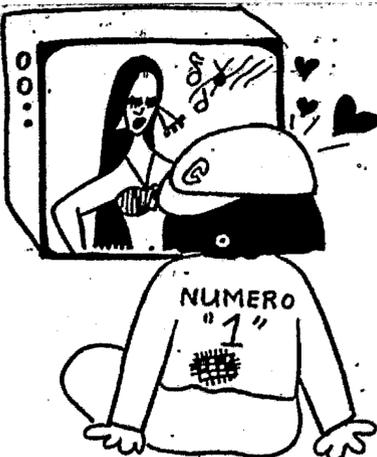

From the kitchen I hear, "you got chocolate in my peanut butter!" and "you got peanut butter in my chocolate!" I go in and there is really a honest-to-goodness battle going on. I yell, "Stop this fighting this instant. There is chocolate on my kitchen-curtains and peanut-butter on my bulletin board!"

And there is Michael...for breakfast I feed him his Krunchies, for lunch I give him his Campbell's soup, for dinner I 'do' his french fries in Krisco. I wash his dishes with Kascade. He takes his bath with my Kamay. I clean his ring around the tub with Komet. Does he notice?

He is watching his favorite program and I reach down, ask him for a little hug and at the same time I ask him, "Like me for a mommy?"

He says, "No, I want Cher for my mommy." Is there such a thing as a (three) 3-year old male chauvinist piglet?

Oh well, that's the way the Kookie Krumbles...

News From The County Agent

by Ralph Dunlap

If it is poison weeds it's bugs. I have had several people ask me about what can be done about peavine and mustard weed poisoning. The only answer is to give the animals plenty of TLC (Tender Loving Care) and if possible move the animals. If you are unable to move them some extra feed will help.

The bugs are the worms that are cutting off the grass roots below the ground in some areas. This worm is the larvae of the May Beetle. They take three years to complete a life cycle and develop into a brown beetle about 3/4 inch long. They are attracted to lights and are very noticeable when they emerge in late May.

A cattleman who is seeking to improve his beef herd wonders what his cow herd will look like in 5 years. The answer to that question can be found by looking at the bull he is now using or the one he is thinking about buying.

"Time is a big factor in improving beef cattle." Changes made in a breeding program now by a cow-calf producer will not affect his pocketbook for 18 months. The generation interval in beef cattle is slow - 5 to 6 years in most herds. Thus a cow-calf producer who is 40 years old will only have 5 or 6 opportunities to change the genetic make-up of his herd. This is why production traits are so important. The most profitable trait a bull can possess is the ability to pass on high growth rate, efficient feed conversion and acceptable carcass quality to his offspring.

Restores benefits

The Veterans Administration today reminded widows of veterans whose pension and compensation payments were terminated after their remarriage that a 1970 law, allows restoration of these benefits if they become widowed a second time.

VA officials noted that prior to enactment of PL 91-376, VA benefits for a widow were permanently discontinued if she remarried.

Auston Snow stopped in Carrizozo last week to see his grandmother, Mrs. Austin Wooten. He had just returned from Heidelberg, Germany where he had been stationed for four years. He has completed his tour of duty there and was on his way to Lancaster, California, where he plans to work with his father, Jim Snow, in construction work.

Joe West and his mother, Mrs. Rachel West were in Albuquerque Monday on business.

Robin and David Evens, students at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque plan to spend the Easter weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Snow.

'Dozer' is purchased

The Lincoln County commissioners have purchased a used D6C dozer from Rust Tractor Co. of Albuquerque after reviewing bids and ascertaining which bulldozers offered the county met specifications and needs of the county on rocky terrain.

Commissioners continued a March 14 meeting last Friday to accept the Rust Tractor bid of $41,950 on the machine which has logged 2,441 hours and is a 1971 model.

Other bidders were Border Machinery Co. and Construction Machinery Division of Leonard Motor Co.

County Manager Les Olson told commissioners they have about $73,000 to pay for the dozer and to meet other obligations the rest of this fiscal year. Also to be purchased before June 30 is a Mack truck for $14,400.

Sale of a grader to the village of Ruidoso plus revenue sharing funds helps make up the $73,000. Commissioners were offered a dozer at a lower price than $41,950 — a Massey-Ferguson, 1973 model "500", with 700 hours.

The commissioners decided, however, that it is important to have equipment where parts are interchangeable. The Massey-Ferguson is not as wide as the D6C and Massey-Ferguson machines are "metric" which would complicate maintenance, the commissioners indicated. Resale value was a consideration.

In other action, the commission approved use of road crews on school bus routes in the White Oaks area before the crews must be moved into Gavilan Canyon.

Commissioners agreed that the county couldn't afford a new dozer of "cat" which cost from about $58,000 up.

Portions of the original old barrel stave steel-belted water pipeline from Bonito Lake along State Road 37 headed toward Nogal surfaces along the dirt portion of the highway at several points. Bonito Lake originally was created to furnish water for railroad steam engines. Currently it supplies drinking water to Alamogordo and Holloman Air Force Base.

Change in school board is passed

SANTA FE - The legislature passed a constitutional amendment moving from an elected to a governor-appointed State Education Board. The major change cleared the House 37-32 and the Senate 24-14.

Inside the Capital

by Fred Buckles

It will be on the 1976 general election ballot with proposed two four-year terms for seven elected state officials, including the governor, and other constitutional amendments. The legislature voted return of the pre-primary nominating convention, subject to political boss control of party public office candidates. Sen. Odis Echols, D-Clovis, sponsored the consecutive 4-year terms and pre-primary nominating convention measures.

The 32nd Legislature did not complete its work in the constitutional 60 days of regular session. Gov. Jerry Apodaca called an immediate special session. Among 24 bills he sent to the special session was a major proposal allowing city commissions to levy .25 of one percent of added local gross receipts tax without a voter referendum.

Accomplishments

Senate Majority Leader C. B. Trujillo, D-Taos, listed major legislative accomplishments: Approval of $7.5 million state severance tax bonds to raise gates of Ute Dam, Quay County, and boost capacity more than 100 percent. Linked to the state project is a $9 million federal proposal for 7 pumping stations and distribution lines to pipe the additional water to nine Eastern and Southwestern New Mexico cities. Jal, Eunice, Clovis and Texico are in the group of cities.

Also, Trujillo cited $2.7 million for a children's psychiatric unit at Albuquerque under State Hospitals-Institutions Dept. operation; a $13.37 million bailout state general fund appropriation for the State Highway Department; comprehensive energy development legislation; a 10 percent salary boost for all New Mexico magistrates and a $2,500 pay hike for district, Court of Appeals and State Supreme Court judges.

Pending in the special lawmaking session was a proposal by Sen. John Conway, D-Colefax-Union-Harding-San Miguel, for a new parttime magistrate in the Cimarron-Eagle Nest area. The salary would be $3,800 a year.

Rep. Dan Berry, D-Eunice, strongly favored a House-passed version of the local gross receipts tax measure: Authorizing cities to levy up to .5 of one percent of tax with voter approval. Berry also supported a defeated bill by Republican House Leader Hoyt Pattison, Curry-Roosevelt-Lea, reducing the state gross receipts tax .5 of one percent.

Rep. Berry favored return of .5 of one mill of property tax from the state to counties, a bill that cleared both Houses and went to Gov. Jerry Apodaca. Rep. Berry and Sen. Bill Lee, D-

Lovington, backed a section of the general appropriations act to help school districts absorb loss of property tax revenue from abolition of ceding - a cities-school district property tax swap outlawed Jan. 1.

Lee is on the Senate Finance Committee that proposed to allow school districts to use an amount equal to 60 percent of funds they had received from ceding from cash balances June 30 this year. The method could be used next fiscal year only. The general appropriations act was the major bill pending in the special legislative session early this week.

Bill killed
 The Senate killed a bill by Rep. Bobby Duran, D-Taos, that would have allowed Sunday package liquor sales by adopting 38-4 a motion to table indefinitely. Duran's constitutional amendment for county local option elections on legalized gambling also died.

Freshman Sen. Willie Chavez, R-Belen, steered through the Senate 30-7 a bill allowing beer distributors to designate territories in New Mexico. The bill sponsor was Rep. Richard Carbajal, D-Belen. The bill went to Gov. Apodaca for his action.

Two of five racing bills by Rep. George Fettinger, D-Alamogordo, cleared the legislature. The approved bills broaden chemists who can qualify to conduct tests of race horses and call for second tests of each horse at no added cost. Fettinger's bill to deny a racing license to convicted federal felons died.

A bill by Sen. Echols appropriates $300,000 for water research, conservation and development. It cleared both Houses. Another legislature-approved Echols bill creates a new, separate State Mobile Homes Commission. It divorces mobile homes regulation from the Construction Industries Commission. The bill was heavily lobbied by New Mexico Mobile Homes Assn.

The legislature approved an added $20,000 appropriation for Williamsburg State Park. Senate President Pro Tem I. M. Smalley, D-Hidalgo-Sierra-Luna, sponsored the bill. The legislature voted $239,300 for electrical system improvements at Currie Tingley Hospital for Crippled Children at Truth or Consequences in a capital improvements bill. The emergency clause is attached to the bill, cleared without a dissenting vote. If Gov. Apodaca signs the bill, it would be effective immediately.

Two bills by Rep. Pattison were pending in the special lawmaking session. A bill with an $85,000 appropriation would move the State Education Dept's vocational agriculture section from Santa Fe to Las Cruces near New Mexico State University. Another bill allots $450,000 for NMSU off-campus agricultural stations expansion and improvements.

The legislature created and appropriated $50,000 for Smokey Bear State Park at Capitán with the emergency clause sponsors were Sen. John Conway, R-Lincoln-Otero, and Rep. John Bigbee, R-Guadalupe-DeBaca-Lincoln-Torrance.

Nogal Bowl of Activities

by Roby Burke

Happening around the bowl:
 Let's get to know our neighbors:
 Here is a "hello" to Mr. Alva Sitten;
 If you can catch him driving that blue and white Chevy on the road to Tularosa or Carrizozo. Like two 19-year-olds, he and his wife, Josie, hit the road every weekend, rain or shine.

Alva entered this world Oct. 1901 in Tyler, Texas, where his father ran an ice plant. The Sittens moved to Neosho, Mo., then to Galena, Kansas, and to Providence, Mo., in a span of eight years. His father operated electric light plants and owned his own garage. Collecting and saving a little more money each year, they bought a brand new Ford for $450.00 when Alva was almost 11 they decided to move to Tularosa. They arrived in 1911 in the worst dust storm of the time. The Sittens bought an 80 acre farm and settled down. Temporarily, they rented the farm and Alva went to the Capitán school in 1914 to 1916 while his dad worked as chief engineer at Ft. Stanton.

They moved back to Tularosa and Sitten started building a theater. During this time Alva went to college in Las Cruces A. & M. with an enrollment of 350 students. He took mechanical engineering and worked with his dad at the theater in between times. He took a job at the city garage and there he met Josie Ritchie, with whom he fell in love, and soon made her his wife. Alva ran the Tularosa theater and after his father retired, he leased the city garage with Fred Tully. In the mean time they had bought a theater in Carrizozo. Needless to say he was a busy man. They moved to Carrizozo and lived there ten years. Then Alva sold out and bought a little five acre orchard from A. H. Aguayo and moved to Nogal. They loved this place but Alva's health let him down and they retired on part of their land.

Life has always been a challenge to Sitten and he is curious about everything he is exposed to. He worked in many organizations, but enjoyed his Masonic work best of all. He is a colorful strong individualist with a conservative viewpoint. When he was in the school laboratory in college he accidentally breathed too much chlorine gas and at another time he was exposed to sulfur dioxide. This caused damage to his lungs and started a pretty bad case of emphysema and poor circulation. Last year his neighbor Herman Burkstaller took him to the hospital for an emergency leg amputation. This operation is an extreme shock, to the spirit to the mind and to the body. But with great patience from his wife, Josie, and bold courage and fortitude by Alva he is gaining strength every day. Not only that, but he is back on the road again driving with one leg and a determined spirit. His blue eyes a little lighter under his broad brimmed hat when you pass him - you're waving at a brave man.

Easter!
 When life is slowly bursting forth anew!
 When it is springtime in parks and gardens and the roof.
 When the Holy Spirit of Spring is working silently!
 When Christ rose from the dead!
 When Easter Lillies raise their heads
 When life is showing every-where
 And love is flowing in the Air!

 Our Recipe this week is a spring salad:
 1 large can of pitted dark sweet cherries
 1 cup sweet port wine
 1/2 cup almonds
 1 pk cherry or raspberry jello
 Drain cherry juice, and heat - dissolve jello in heated juice add wine, cherries, nuts and pour into pan and chill. Serve with whip cream.

This is lush!
 I have made it many times.

The 1975 New Mexico Cattleman of the Year is Bill Littrell, New Mexico rancher and Philmont Scout Ranch General Manager. His selection Monday highlighted the 61st annual convention of New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association, held in Albuquerque.

In 1954, Littrell and his wife Billie, moved to Cimarron, where he was appointed superintendent of the Philmont cattle operation. He served in this capacity until January, 1974, and was able to improve the cattle operation and the Philmont herd of commercial Herefords tremendously.

There are signs of spring. Spring flowers have been blooming and some are just now starting. Leaves are on the currents and it gives life to see the new life appearing.

Letter to Editor:

To: The Editor

We, the residents of Bonito Fire District, who reside in the 108 section of prime timber and some of the most beautiful land in Lincoln County extending from Alpine Village to the Ski Area over to Nogal Peak on our northern boundary then East to Ft. Stanton and almost back to the Ruidoso Airport extend our gratitude and much thanks to the Lincoln County Commissioners for their cooperation and foresight supporting our needs to procure better and proper fire fighting equipment for this vast area.

The voters of this area are also appreciative for the new facility at Sun Valley Fire Station which takes the place of the old Angus Community Center with no heat and no restroom facilities. THANK YOU COMMISSIONERS!

The Obituary of Highway 37

Bow your heads and start shedding tears, You natives who've wanted "37" paved for years! Commissioners, Senators, Representatives and all; They ain't for it, it's destined to fall! Four and six tenths of paving that is, Mention it to an official and they get in a fuzzi! Cause most of them don't even know where it is.

Tourists may come and tourists may go, Why this roads not important, I'd like to know! Wonder why Ruidoso don't get up in arms, and start pushing the politicians, with all their charms?

To go to Lincoln Co. Courthouse is a must, Looks like Ruidoso would get "37" finished or bust!

Guess its no hair off'n their backs or arms, They don't live on this route of U. S. Mail, school buses, ranches or farms!

It was said the Game Dept. fears for lives of the deer, But we're most inclined for our "dear ones" to fear!

Crockett Canyon road on hiway "37" is a terror to behold, But "it just ain't on the agenda," we're told. They say, "Wait until politics are right!" Now, they'll say, "Oh, can't do it now, the cost would be outa' sight!"

We've heard, "Get petitions signed and send them in!"

We have, with plenty of signers, no help, no interest, ya' just can't win!

For 30 years Highway 37 has been dangerous curves and mud.

When I hear, "Perhaps in 1976," my heart goes thud, thud, thud!

Surveyors have come and three times set up their poles, Wonder who in -ells paddin' the SHDs payrolls?

How much time does it take to pave four miles and six tenths?

If you ask me, we're on the wrong side of the fence!

Guess we could go to the State Capitol and storm the SHD, Please finish up paving hiway "37" is our plea you promised it would be finished in 73! They'd just pass the buck and say, "Go to your governor, maybe you'll have better luck!"

This has been the Obituary for "Hiway 37", If it's ever finished, I'll probably be dead and in heaven!
