County commissioners meeting Nov. 8th restored original school estimates. District 16 $685, District 23 $660, District 27 $505, District 29 $585, District 35 $560. The board is ready to receive bids on the old courthouse property at Lincoln, and there being no bids made in sufficient amount, as required by law, the board doth reject any and all such insufficient bids.
Fort Stanton - The first meeting of the committee to arrange for a minstrel show was held in Library hall Saturday. Indications seem strong that work will begin at once.
Last Saturday G. E. Cardwell, principal, Mrs. M. L. Blaney and Miss Humphrey, committee to pass on articles for the county exhibit at the state teachers meeting met and opened the boxes from Jacks Peak primary classes, Ruidoso No. 3, Osuro, Nogal, Tinnie, White Oaks, Lincoln, Mountain View, Capitan and Carrizozo. "I confess I was amazed by the amount of truly good work sent in, knowing the handicaps."
Mrs. W. L. Gumm.
W. M. Barnett has opened a hay and grain business in the stable on El Paso avenue. He is also prepared to accommodate teams.

Dear Santa Claus: I have been a good boy this year. Please bring me a trumpet and a football suit and a scraper hauler. Goodbye, Joe Moore, Carrizozo, N.M.
Nature usually comes up with some unusual weather this time of year. High winds and blowing dust held down the deer kill. Some Carrizozo streets on Wednesday looked like the morning after - littered with dirt, weeds, cartons and what have you. A street sweeper would come in handy to clean up the mess. How about that Santa?
Work is well under way on a dental building being erected by Dr. Al Sadowski
Mrs. Ruth Rickerson, town clerk of Carrizozo, has submitted her resignation saying "I want to spend more time with my husband and family".
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Skelton of Eunice have purchased the Lyric Theatre from A.P. Sitton, Jr.
Work about complete on new Frontier Motel. The motel will be attractive with its facing of knotty pine and Corona flagstone from the Yancey Bros. quarry.
Captain - Boney Zamora Sr. and Eddie Zamora Sr. both killed their deer in the early morning of the first day of hunting season.

Another oldie from Johnson Stearns is the scene of El Paso Street in its youth and prosperity. Again, does any reader recognize the Carrizozo residents. We believe the picture was taken around 1909. Rachel West recognized the pretty girls all dressed in white dresses and hats that we ran several weeks back. The picture was taken on a Sunday in 1913 for no special reason except perhaps to be run in the NEWS some 63 years later. The ladies were Bessie White (Boone), Bessie Gray (Haley), Schalla Textor (Hughes), Katy Textor (Gillett), Rachel Hughes (West) and Euna Harley (Textor). The young ladies were from 14 to 16 years old at the time.

Old misery was back this morning. There are a lot of Old Miseries in life but this particular one is an ice coated windshield at day break when you didn't have time for coffee.
There are many cures for this seasonal condition common in the auto age. Build a garage. Buy a can of that gunk to spray on. Keep a pot of water boiling and finally but best - buy an extra copy of the NEWS. No, dear heart, I do not mean the news is that hot but a sheet taped over the front and back windows of your auto does hold down the icing.

W-W

The hunters may be pleased with the cool weather. They say the deer stay high when the weather is warm. There is a different excuse when the mountains are covered with snow. Hunters are rather like West Texas farmers. Mama says in sixty years, she cannot remember a single year that it either didn't rain or (yes, one time) had too much rain.
Willie Silva, Pat Dunning and a lot of other local folks do believe that the deer crop is in poor shape. Hank Lacy who ranches over by Capitan said that thus far around him they have shot five does, two cows and one hunter.
Willie suggests that the state close down hunting for a couple of years with perhaps one long weekend for local residents only.

W-W

The problem with that, Willie, we might find ourselves more lost than ever if the hunters didn't have to look at the road maps once a year. Being lost from the rest of the nation is not necessarily a bad thing but at times, like income tax paying time, it does make you wonder.
Before moving to this glorious place, we were annual summer visitors. This following bit is the absolute truth, not only once but many, many times.
"Where are you going on your vacation this year?"
"Camping in New Mexico."
"Mexico? Do you speak Spanish? Aren't you afraid of bandits?"
"No, New Mexico. About 600 miles west of here."
"Well, be careful and for heaven's sake, don't drink the water."

W-W

When Frank Hoff (Action Photos) was doing time pumping gas, he had a customer ask how far it was to the border.
"Border?" says Frank. "Oh, about 150 miles straight south."
"Well that's not too far," says the man. "Sure will be good to bet back to the old U.S. of A."

W-W

The New Mexico Department of Development keeps a file of some of the more amusing indications that we have not yet joined the Union.
From Arkansas: "I have read about Mexico very much. I would like a flag."
Texas writes, "Please send any and all information about Mexico City, Acapulco, and Tasco."
From Mississippi, "I am a senior at High School and we are too (sic) make a Spanish notebook. I would, if you would, send me any information concerning Mexico. My teacher says Mexico is a Spanish speaking country."
Minnesota wants: "Mexican travel posters, and ideas of Mexican decorations and pictures of same."

Bank files for Zozo branch

The Ruidoso State Bank has filed applications for a branch bank in Carrizozo, Mike Capps, Vice President, said this week.
The applications have been filed with both the State Banking Department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.
The bank now has its main office in Ruidoso with branches in Capitan, Ruidoso Downs and Gateway district of Ruidoso.
"We feel that the Capitan area has a great future and the Ruidoso State Bank can contribute to that future," Capps said. "We believe that friendly competition is in the best American tradition and serves as a stimulus to business."
"It will be our purpose, if our application is approved, to assist existing residents and businesses, and to help attract new business and industry to the area," Capps said.

CARRIZOZO, N.M. 88301

Something old and something new - last week's picture of Fred English's new fountain caused one NEWS reader to ask for a second look. The sign on the brick wall reads: Carrizozo Trading

Co. In addition to groceries, shoes, dry goods and clothes, the store sold "Tents and Wagon Covers" and advertised, "Highest prices for Furs and Pelts."

Sheriff reports

Bonita skull is identified

The skull, clothing and bones found near Bonita Lake by hunters last week have, been positively identified as Kenneth Smith, age 27. His parents who live in Kentucky have been notified.
The identification was made from dental records by Dr. Vernon McCarty of the Anthropology Department of the University of New Mexico.
Smith had been camping in Turkey Canyon for more than a year. His camp had been vandalized some time early last year and he had reported to the Sheriff's Department. There was a bullet hole in the skull.
A Cessna 182 belong to Donald Lewis of Chicago crashed and burned on the Freeman Ranch Landing Strip, north of Lincoln near Forest Road 57. Neither Mr. Freeman or his passenger Bob McEvers were injured. Damage is estimated at $50,000.
Seven hunters were arrested and charged with criminal damage to property and larceny on the Precioso Salcido Ranch in Alamo Canyon south of Hondo.

The men were Faustino Ortiz, 20, Richard Tegada, 21, Vicente Salcido, 25, Salvador Padilla, 18, Louis Salcido, 21, Raymond Lopez Salcido, 18 and John Warner, 20.
The Sheriff's Department responded to a call for assistance from State Policeman Tim Sharp. Dennis Cleaver and two Roswell officers, Gene Ridgeway and L.B. Caldwell, assisted in the arrests.
Locks on the ranch gates and gas tank were broken. Gas was stolen as well as a rifle.

Public meeting

The Village of Capitan has been facing real problems with its city water system. One of the answers cost wise, the Village Trustees believe the annexation of rural lands now being served by the Village.
December 1 residents of the village as well as residents of the proposed annexation area will have the opportunity to express their opinions.

Ag money short

Farmers and ranchers in New Mexico are going to be short of commodity and conservation money in the coming year, according to Tommy Perez, State Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.
He was guest speaker at the South Central Mountain Resource Area RC&D meeting at the Carrizozo Recreation Center Tuesday.
He explained that the primary responsibility of his organization is to improve the economic stability of agriculture and to take care of the domestic use and exporting of products.
The Commodity Credit Corporation helps both the consumer and agriculture. The ASCS tries to improve and protect soil and water resources. The programs administered deal directly with the farmer through state and county committees.
Perez stated that the appropriations bill for the coming year has been signed and the progress will probably open next March. It was his feeling that funds will be less than adequate for the state.
Robert Bell gave the report of the Executive Committee in the absence of vice-chairman Ernest McDaniel. They endorsed formation of a state RC&D council, with strong ties to the State Association of Natural Resource Conservation Districts. He also reported that the Executive Committee will appoint committees to work on individual projects in the future.
Two project proposals were accepted by the Steering Committee as project measures. Knollene McDaniel and Bud Bagley requested assistance for telephone service in the Claunch area as PM-169.
Bonito Water Users Association, asked assistance to determine water use by crops for the purpose of increased water allocation.
The third proposal was tabled until a future meeting. It concerned a tree project at Ft. Stanton.
Various members gave progress reports on projects. Robert Bell stated that bids will be opened December 22 for the Pinon Pipeline project. This involves a water supply to approximately 20 ranches and 19 domestic users in the Pinon area.
Dennis Jeter requested that the SCMRA continue the mid-school educational talks given by various agencies because it was very successful last year.
The Valley of Fires Outdoor Classroom project now has a sign which is ready to be erected and a brochure will be printed soon which will guide individuals on the nature trail.

Agnes Crouse reported that the museum at Ft. Stanton is progressing.
R. C. Nunez reported that four sanitary landfills have been constructed in the county.
Jerry Longbotham with the N.M. Dept. of Forestry mentioned that Lincoln County now has a nursery which intends to grow 5 to 6 million trees a year and will furnish seedlings to the area. They have the largest seed extraction machine in the nation and with their closeness to seed sources they will export to other parts of the nation.
The next meeting will be January 6 in Ruidoso.

Carrizozo will ask for grant

Carrizozo has a chance at an up to $100,000 federal grant for improvements, the Trustees were told Tuesday night by Bill Gomez.
Last year the town failed in its efforts for a Housing and Urban Development Community Development grant but Gomez, who is the community development expert with the New Mexico Extension Service, thinks the town has a good try at it this year.
Although the exact amount and procedures have not been outlined yet, the application must be in before the first of the year.
A public meeting is called at the town hall on November 25 at 7 p.m. to discuss possible projects. Some of those funded in the past have been street improvements, water and sewer improvements, housing, and blighted areas removal.
The trustees urged citizens to attend and help in the selection of a project.

Demos propose Hart for judge

The Lincoln County Democratic Party Central Committee has recommended the appointment of County Commissioner Bill Hart as Magistrate in the Ruidoso district.
The recommendation has been sent to Gov. Jerry Apodaca according to Roy Jones, Democratic County Chairman. Judge Austin A. Fritchett has announced his resignation from the position effective December 31.
Hart said he will resign his position on the County Commission if his appointment meets with the governors approval.
In the event of Hart's appointment as Magistrate, the Central Committee recommended to the governor the appointment of John Sudderth as County Commissioner to replace Hart.
Sudderth has announced as a candidate in the Democratic Primary for the position. Hart is ineligible to run for that position this next election.

Babysitters to meet

The November meeting of the Babysitting CO-OP will be Nov. 24, at 10 in the home of Mrs. Debbie Basker (504 G. Ave.). Topics being discussed will be a CO-OP toy-box, more nutritious snacks, and crafts for kids under 5.

...Way West

Most of us know how to wash a chimney and trim a wick but very few can get past the fuse stage if the electricity goes out. It is a lot easier and safer to cuss a piece of wet firewood than to mess with a balky propane furnace.

Do not misunderstand. I use a blender, toaster, mixer, vac, telephone, car, TV, and the NEWS has some pretty fancy equipment, but still...

In the days of old, according to the Western writers, women were pure but spunky. Men were honest, fought fairly, died bravely and hard work was rewarded with success except when temporarily set-back by a sidwinding, blackhearted, lying, cussing no good horse thief. I'll go along with all of that. But there are times in the first of a book that you can tell the quality and feel the love or lack of it that went into the writing.

The best of the Westerns have been carefully researched as to geography, life styles and history. The worst...well, they are really terrible. Last night I picked up a beaut.

A good part of the action was set in Liberty, Texas and believe you me, that writer has taken liberty with the geography. He had a hot desert wind blowing across the little adobe village located just across the border from Mexico.

For those of you not blessed with a knowledge of Texas geography, Liberty, Texas is located in the south east part of the state surrounded by rice paddies, about twenty miles up from Galveston Bay on the Trinity river. It is hot and wet and adobe would melt before it could be laid. The only thing close to being Mexican, is the nearby Gulf of Mexico. The heroes and villains in this pot boiler would have had a long swim to Mexico.

Not too long ago, I ran into another such bit of nonsense. The so called author had a cowboy driving a herd from the Texas Big Thicket to Mustang Island. It would be a pretty big job to move cattle through that swampy, hot, rough country. I will guarantee that it could not have been done overnight as the writer said. It is at least 260 miles as the crow flies.

All of us writers have accuracy problems from time to time. Last week I had a non-existent address in a story. But at least I wasn't better than 200 miles off.

W-W

Bud Crenshaw has retained some of the old West mannerism. He just never uses improper language in front of the ladies. Three of his buddies from Louisiana hunt in Lincoln County every year. They are affectionately referred to by themselves and everyone else as the "coonasses". Buddy was on the phone to Cleo Dugger, making arrangements for the gentlemen to hunt on her land. "Cleo, those three men who hunted on your place last year are back again. Sure, you remember them Cleo. You know, those three coon..." and at the last minute remembering he was talking to a lady, "those three coon rear enders, Cleo."

For the rest of their visit they were known as the rear enders and there is more about those gentlemen else where in the NEWS.

Doc Dean is NRC D President

D.H. "Doc" Dean, long-time rancher and conservationist in Lincoln County, was elected president of the New Mexico Association of Natural Resource Conservation Districts at their annual meeting held in Raton recently.

"Doc" was elected as a supervisor of the Claunch-Pinto NRC D in 1954 and has served as their chairman twelve years. He has served as vice-president of the New Mexico Association of Natural Resource Conservation Districts for eight years.

Mr. Dean has been a leader in conservation practices for years. His ranch has been used for numerous tours to show good conservation techniques when grazing both sheep and cows. The old duned bean fields around Claunch that were shaped and reseeded show what can be done by applying good conservation practices.

In his acceptance speech, "Doc" thanked all his many friends that had helped him and said he is only a figure head and still needs all their support to get the conservation job done in the state.

...Tax tables

converted figures used by county treasurer to dollars per thousand of assessed valuation.

Simple sample-
House valued at 20,000
Land valued at 10,000

Total 30,000
Divide by 3 to get assessed valuation of $10,000. Say you live in Ruidoso school district, but outside of town, 3-35-Out your tax rate is $25.80 per thousand. Multiply 10 (thousand) times $25.80 and you get your tax bill of $258.00.

Here is the list of tax rates:
You could be paying several special levies, all listed with code numbers in upper right hand of your tax bill.

Payton's residence tax bill has .75 under special levy and this lines up with code 15 which means we will pay hospital levy (Code 15) of 75 cents per thousand. Our net (home) taxable value is 3,023 times 7-In Carrizozo levy of 51.04 equals 154.28 plus the special hospital levy of 75 cents times 3.023 which come to $2.27 added on to 154.28 to get our total tax bill of 156.55.

Treasurer Veta Allen mentioned one important fact-if for some reason you do not receive a tax bill, you are still liable for the entire amount by N.M. state law, and should inquire at the treasurer's office before the delinquency date of Dec. 1.

The number of tax checks being received from out of county, out of state and out of the United States would surprise a lot of people. Here is a small sampling of where checks come from: Balboa, Canal Zone; New York City; Ponomia, Calif.; Austin, Texas; Salt Lake City, Utah; Whittier, Calif.; Burns, Oregon; Garden City, Kansas; Miami, Florida; Fufaula, Oklahoma; Cairo, Egypt; Hill AFB, Utah; Perry, Oklahoma; Indiana, Penn.; Daytona Beach, Florida; Ocean Springs, Miss.; Huntsville, Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Cooper returned from a visit to their daughter in Whittier, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reid of Alto were here Thursday spending the day with me. While they were here we enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Mary Johnson.

It was my pleasure to enjoy the "Across the Street" Open House Friday afternoon. The refreshments and fellowship were super at both Judge Payne's and the J. G. Moore Agency. But the high light of the afternoon was visiting with the "Two Grand Ladies" of Nogal-Pearl Stearns and Mollie Bosh.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McDaniel recently were her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Pflingsten of Nérberg, Oregon.

Mrs. Frances Lovelace was in from the ranch at Ancho and visited with Mrs. Mable Rentfrow Thursday—spending the rite with her—

It was quite a pleasure to visit with Billy Clarke of Ruidoso when she was here last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ortiz visited with their children Tommy, Bobby and Gloria in Albuquerque on a recent weekend.

John Garcia, his wife and children are here for a visit from Hayward, California with his parents and Mrs. Robert Callaway. John is hunting and the boys Billie and Robbie are fishing. They will stay here for Thanksgiving.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Jesse English and Mrs. Frank Vega had guests from far away places—

Mrs. Alton English, Jesse's mother, headed the list and her home is in Atmore, Ala. Others were: Max Seguin and sons Mike and Mark of Lottie, Ala., Watson Bishop of Perdido, Ala., and Norman Wilkinson of Holt, Fla. This was the first trip west for Watson and Norman so you may be sure they were given a tour of every interesting place in the area. They were all delighted with the beautiful scenery, climate and friendly people. They hiked—did a lot of horseback riding—and at times were so enthusiastic they tangled up with cactus stickers and probably took some of them home in their legs as a reminder of where they had been. While they were all here Mrs. Martha Sanchez, Sue English's sister, and daughter Mrs. Veronica Bernal and children Jessica, Chris, Anthony and Johnathon of Los Lunas, N.M. joined the crowd.

This week Frank Vega, Jr., and sons Edwin and Ronnie of Las Cruces visited the family—They are here to hunt and were unable to arrive in time to be counted among the long lists of guests the previous week.

Mary Johnson went to Capitan Sunday to see her sister Lou Ferguson—then they went on down to visit Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McKnight another sister.

Recent visitors in the Lane Sisters' home were Mr. and Mrs. Wade Lane and little daughter of Ruidoso. While here they did some hunting and were lucky enough to get a deer the second morning. Wesley Lane and Mrs. Don Warren of Cloudercroft stopped on their way home from Albuquerque where they had attended a school meeting there.

The White Oaks Historical Association will have an important meeting in the Medallion Room at 7:00 P.M. Saturday Nov. 22. According to Mrs. C. A. Snow, President, it will deal with some business matters and there will be an interesting speaker. Everyone is welcome to come and enjoy our Lincoln County Heritage before it gets away from us. We must do all we can to record and keep this memory of our pioneer ancestors.

The United Methodist Women had their month meeting in the church Wednesday Nov. 12. Mrs. Laura Farris gave the devotional taken from Norman Vincent Peal's Guide-Post. Agnes Hein gave the lesson which was on prayer. Both were very interesting. Refreshments of cake, coffee and hot tea were served to the following with Joy Gallacher as hostess: Agnes Hein, Secretary, Laura Farris, Mrs. C. A. Snow, Mrs. C. E. Degner and Frances Degner, Mrs. Bobby Shafer, Mrs. Jack Heiker, Mrs. Alma Sherill, Margaret Lane, Irene Hayes, Ethel Roberts and the hostess and President Mrs. Joy Gallacher. Prior to the program a report was made on the Bazaar which went over "big". We want to thank all who came to buy articles and to eat with us.

The Benjamin I. Berry American Legion will have a covered dish "Thanksgiving" dinner at the Medallion Room at 6:30 Thursday Nov. 20th. All members please take note of this and COME!!

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Merritt from Yeso were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Holmgren Tuesday, Mr. Merritt was in Carrizozo from the R.C. & D. meeting of which he is district president.

Payton goes Demo!?!?

Wienie Roast

by Paul

CCAPA has brought many entertaining programs to Carrizozo—the Antonio Mendoza performance at the Country Club was one of the very best we have heard. His classical guitar numbers were a kind of music rarely heard live in Lincoln County and enjoyable for sure. Flamenco music was mostly composed for guitar of some kind and Mendoza brought out sounds and rhythms only an artist could manage. We thought he was at "his best" and enjoying his own efforts the most when he started singing and playing Mexican folk songs. They sort of "brought the house down". Thanks CCAPA for this wonderful evening of live entertainment.

W-R

We have another form of entertainment at the Payton home, especially for Paul's birthday early this month. The gift came from Nick Payton in St. Louis and was the complete score of the stage play about President Harry-four sides of LP records. We had already heard part of this performance on Channel 5 but they edited out a lot of Harry's salty language for the TV show—the records are quite something. Some of you "watchers of the political scene" may not realize that Truman's stature as president grows with each passing year. He was an honest guy, to say the least. Wrote Nick a letter and told him we were going to have a Demo party at our house so people can hear these records which will be another first in Carrizozo.

W-R

Carrizozo's other editor, Bob Stearns "puts out a real good newspaper (for Rotary). The following is from Bob's paper— All New Mexicans are constantly being accused by Yankees and pilgrims of being part of Mexico and not one of the 50 states. Heard an amusing story about a couple of local ladies on a senior citizen bus tour. The bus stopped in Springfield, Ill. and was greeted by another group of senior citizens. The Springfield group was prepared for their foreign visitors. They were carrying banners written in Spanish and had also brought along interpreters so that the U.S. group would be better able to communicate with the citizens from across the border—New Mexico!

W-R

Payton and probably the large majority of Lincoln County folks value the freedom of owning a gun of any kind—this freedom is being shot at with strong possibility that there are more votes against guns in the troubled east than in western states. If you wish to oppose legislation banning all handguns or any new gun legislation (probably the best course) you should write to one or all of our legislators—addresses here.

Can't thank Geraldine Perkins enough for all the news work she has done in past years both for the Corona community and the NEWS—we feel like she has done a wonderful job—thanks.

Erdine Kiefer is starting this week doing news at Corona and we know all you north county people will cooperate with her.

W-R

Erdine said her entire family had been down with a combination of flu and Montezuma's revenge. We have a simple remedy for this problem from Country Wisdom. "Mix and drink a mixture of cinnamon, sage, and bay leaves, and add a little lemon juice. Drink warm. Drink hot ginger tea freely. Take a dose of quinine every six hours. Drink juice of citrus fruits, often. If this does not bring about a real speedy cure, could be your drinks should be laced generously with vodka which will keep you from worrying too much about the other ailments.

W-R

News next week is going in mail Monday night, thanks for cooperation from both news and ad people.

It's a matter of life and breath.

Linda Apodoca, Lincoln, is the county's new animal control officer. She is married to Charles Apodoca who is a carpenter. Linda has worked around and with animals. She was a helper in a Florida Zoo, likes fishing and skin diving. Linda can handle a gun, but believes that is a last in animal control. "When I have to shoot an animal, there is no other way." She considers herself an environmentalist but is realistic about the need of wild animal control.

Students told to apply now

Applications are now being accepted for summer employment with Federal agencies. Many positions require a written examination, for which applications must be postmarked by January 16, 1976. Because of the limited number of summer jobs in New Mexico, interested applicants should apply by Dec. 12, 1975, for maximum consideration.

Copies of the Summer Employment Announcement and application forms may be obtained from the Federal Job Information Center at 421 Gold Ave., S.W. Albuquerque, New Mexico, or by calling 766-2557. Toll-free telephone service is available from other locations within the state by calling 1-800-432-6837.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for appointment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, political affiliation or any other non-merit factor.

Oregon Pflingstons in town

Family and friends have suffered a great loss in the passing of Travis Werner of Capitan, who passed away on the morning of November 11 at St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell, N.M.

We are glad to report Mrs. Bessie Cummins is now at home and doing well.

I enjoyed having a dinner party for Helen Pflingsten to celebrate her birthday recently.

Some deer hunters have been successful in getting their deer and others haven't had much luck. That's the way it happens and I'm sure they will all be waiting and ready to try their luck next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pflingsten of Newberg, Oregon, visited relatives and friends round about including Helen and Fritz Pflingsten with whom they had dinner and came back for a weekend visit. They had a grand time visiting.

Jack was reared on the Mesa above Capitan and Nogal and when I first came to New Mexico, Thelma, a daughter of Mr. NAND Mrs. Benton Yates was a small girl and the family lived in the foot hills of the Capitan Mountains near where we settled.

They moved to Capitan and were our neighbors when we lived in Capitan, so I was disappointed that I was unable to go to visit with them when Helen invited me.

Mrs. Fronie Ramey has company at her house. Her sister, Edith Womack, husband Chester of Albuquerque and their brother Alfred Hulbert of W. Paso are visiting her.

Clark Pflingsten was one of the lucky deer hunters. Isn't often that he can't find a buck when hunting season comes around. Lincoln people are very proud of their grand Fire House and the people who respond when there is a fire. It really helps to know that they are there if needed.

Helen Pflingsten accompanied Jewel Bonnell, Frankie Smith of RRoswell and Edna Hassinger of Alto to Albuquerque on November 13 and returned on the 17th.

They attended the Grand Court Order of the Amaranth. They also had fun doing some Christmas shopping.

Others who attended Grand Court from Ponderosa Court No. 6 of which Helen is Royal Matron were Ray and Doris Littlefield, Gladys Knox, Inez Kilbren, Louella Counts, Clarence and Dorothy Craft and Dixie Ellen Cox.

My daughter, Mary Lou Welsh of Logan, came with their son, Jim Welsh, his wife Susan, daughter Kim, and twins Dustin and Mindy to attend Travis Werner's funeral. Her husband Sam, could not come because of school business.

Openhouses at Carrizozo

A 94 Year Span and four generations were at the J. G. Moore open house all at once. From the left they are Johnny Bob Stearns, Bob Stearns, Mrs. Pearl Stearns, Joanna Sue Gibson, Mollie Bash, Linda Gibson, Mrs. Roy Shafer, Margaret Stearns.

Mae Shafer and Mable Rentfrow talk it over with Alto Whitaker at the open house. Bill Payne is in the far back behind all the ladies who gathered at his open house Friday.

Linda Moore Shares punch with her hostess Margaret Stearns.

Cake decorating is club topic

Cake decorating will be the main topic when the Carrizozo Woman's Club meets Thursday at 2 p.m. The members are asked to bring a small unfrosted cake which Ramona Ortiz will teach them to decorate.

The organization at its last meeting voted to have the restoration of the Lyric Theater as its community project for the year. Interested members are asked to meet at 1:30 Thursday at the Theater for a tour prior to the regular meeting at the Club Building.

Members will also vote on a proposed meeting time change at the November meeting.

Aileen Lindamood Tries the dips and chips at Bill Payne's open house. From 3 P.M. on the town of Carrizozo socialized on both sides of the main drag.

Sorority holds ritual

Xi Beta Epsilon-Gamma Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its regular meeting in the ranch home of Mrs. John D. Hoyeyman, on Monday November 3rd, at 7 P.M.

Following the business meeting the Exemplar Ritual was given for Mrs. Bob Byrd, and followed by the Welcome ritual for Mrs. Holleyman, a former member of Xi Beta Epsilon.

Mrs. Frank W. Sultemeier, Jr. presented her program of "House and Home" in which she discussed how improvements in the past have brought about the home of today.

After the program, a going away social was held for Mrs. Travis Johnson, who will be leaving Gamma Theta Chapter and moving to Elida where she and her state policeman husband, have been transferred. She was presented a macrame hanger and candle, and mizpah disk by the chapter and also received other gifts from various members.

A beautiful cake decorated with yellow roses was used as the centerpiece for the refreshment table. Also served was sandwiches, chips, dips, candy, cookies, coffee and tea.

Those present were Mesdames Travis Johnson, Bob Byrd, W. T. Tyree, Jr., Frank Sultemeier, Jr., Lerry Bank, Rand Perkins, Archie Perkins, Robert Williams, Emery Owen, Wayne Fish, Corrine Mullins, Rogene Alford, Claude Foster, Clay Crist, and hostess John D. Holleyman.

Polly's Bulletin Board

Over heard at Spider Park! "How do you do?" "Howdy." "Nice looking town you have here." "For them that likes it." "Live here all your life?" "Not yet."

And now from my cluttered bulletin board a few hints to make life easier (I'm not kidding)! Teach young cooks to separate eggs by letting them practice with eggs that are to be scrambled. Be sure to pick up bits of shell before cooking cause they can be hard on the gums. Ha Ha.

Dry small rugs without that clothesline crease in them. Slit cardboard cylinders, (saved from rolls of waxed paper or foil) and slip over the line) drape rugs over the cardboard. Wish wax paper came in 3ft. widths....

Give extra life to your son's worn, not-so-white T-shirts. Dye them a color to be worn for work or play. Like Grime Gray, or Dingy White.

Keep a record of your child's inoculations on back of his birth certificate, but if you have a tattoo artist in the family that would be best. If you misplace your birth certificate just search for your kid.

When you pack lunches in paper bags for children, go wild with the felt-tipped pen. After writing in their name add a famous quotation or mention a historical date. (But you risk one the "darlings" coming in from school and saying, "Hey mom, would you knock off this Bi-Sentimental jazz!

Police report

Recently the Carrizozo Police Department had our curiosity challenged by a gas hungry, tire stealing thief. We have had several complaints on gas being stolen, tires stolen, and glove boxes rummaged through. The complaints come mainly from our Carrizozo Bowlers who after a night of strikes and spares, come out to find that their car or truck is no longer containing as much gas as before they headed for that night's bowling session.

They come back to find that their spare tire is missing from their pick-up truck, or that their

Zozo boys go to FFA convention

The Carrizozo FFA chapter was represented at the 48th National Convention in Kansas City Missouri by Phil Straley, Gary Lindsay, and Billy Bob Shafer.

The three Carrizozo boys traveled to Kansas City with members of the Gadsden High School FFA. The group of FFA Students left Friday afternoon and arrived in Kansas City Sunday around noon.

The FFA'ers were privileged to hear addresses from Jimmy Carter former Governor of Georgia, Col. Harlan Sanders of Kentucky Fried Chicken, Jerry Clowery, Nelson A. Rockefeller Vice President of the United States and outstanding retiring addresses from the 1974-1975 National FFA Officers.

The Carrizozo boys were joined in Kansas City by over nineteen thousand other FFA'ers from all over the Nation and Puerto Rico.

Dear Editor:

Thanks for the coverage you have given us. Our Christmas Seal Campaign is beginning. I will be sending quite a few articles during November and December. I hope you will use as many as possible. Good statewide newspaper coverage is very important if we are to have a successful Christmas Seal campaign.

I am enclosing some coated proofs that I hope you will be able to use as fillers during the Holiday Season.

Thanks again. We really do appreciate your help.

Dear Mrs. Rich:

I address myself to a problem that is somewhat unique to Carrizozo, the one mile (approx.) of Hiway 370 west from the intersection of Hiway 54. There has been two or three accidents in this area. Recently, one involving a school vehicle full of children, and very fortunately no one has been seriously injured.

The problem is at least three fold. Depending on your direction. The early morning and setting sun, make it near-impossible to see into on coming traffic, depth perception is definitely effected. Secondly, at about the midway point the speed limit increases. Also after you leave the over pass going west "it's all down hill" and the "honkers" know it. The last problem is that there are over a dozen roads that intersect "370" from the signal to just west of Means Auto. Some are provided with stop signs some are not. In most cases the entrance on to the Hiway is very steep and the dirt roads cause dust. When you put it altogether it's a pretty grim picture.

I would like to suggest that the city, county and state take a close look at this section or Hiway. And reduce the speed limit to 30 M.P.H. from west of the Means Complex. Also that a sign be erected at these two points informing the motorist that there is "Heavy Side Road Traffic" "30 M.P.H. Speed Limit." "Strictly Enforced."

We can do nothing about the past but we just might save someone in the future.

Thank you,
Jerry Hourigan

Dear Mary:

Nice of you to make a picture and put some in the Lincoln Co. News! I'm sure it gave a lotta folks laughs and Conservation. I know many and mostly friends in Lincoln Co. thank you, Mary!

This news- this week is especially good. The article and picture of G. Wimsatt-Cloudcroft Bear Grease Man has been of interest to me since I heard of him several years ago. I was happy to read about him and his forecasts with Bear Grease. I've cooked with it and it is good as any grease. The whole paper is really fine. I know you've done a lot of work. But your helpers must like you and are working too. The pictures of some of my fond friends, the Wards and Bud Crenshaw pleased me as it will many many others.

Fondly and admiringly,
Louise Coe Payton

Dear Editor:

Last Tuesday the matter of not having doors in the girls lavatories at the school was brought up at the school board by some concerned citizens. Ray Welk, chairman of the School Board ordered the doors to be put back.

The issue is that the girls did not have the privacy they desired when attending to personal hygiene. I myself looked into the matter Monday at noon and was conducted on a tour of the school by Principal Larry Wilkinson.

I thought that it was just a matter of putting up a few doors (wooden ones), and they should be up by this time. It also wasn't clear in my mind just what doors were being discussed.

On the tour Larry pointed out the problems. All doors leading from the halls into the girls lavatories were on. The doors in question were the doors to the individual stalls. Larry said that at least fifty per cent of the stalls had doors on them. We didn't go into any of the girls lavatories, but he showed me some of the boys lavatories as an example.

The stalls are of metal construction and consequently have to be special ordered. This, the educator of some ten-years experience, explained to me, presented another problem. Because of the "equal rights" that when the doors to the stalls of the girls lavatories are put up, the doors to the stalls of the boys lavatories are to be put up, also.

One boys lavatory we looked at had no doors on the stalls at all (a four stall lavatory). Consequently it's going to run into some money acquiring and putting up some (a rough estimate) fifteen doors.

The Principal and the School Board are aware of the situation and something is being done to remedy the situation. Larry pointed out that he has a small crew of maintenance men, but that the doors will go up.

Commentary: Be patient, girls, you have a point but it will take time to remedy. I, too, wouldn't like to be in your position to have to attend to personal hygiene in front of someone or to wait in line to do so.

To John Q. Public, to parents and to myself: I say that our future belongs to our youth. Let's take an interest in them, not only when something as this comes up when other needs make themselves known.

How many of us have attended school functions and school board meetings? How many of us have called up the principal or any teachers, and let them know we appreciate what they are doing for our children and our country?

Sincerely,
Bob O'Connor

Dear Editor:

The following editorial was written by Jeter Bryan of the Alamogordo Daily News and brought to the Lincoln County NEWS Publisher by Margo Lindsay. Margo suggests substituting the word Alamogordo with Carrizozo.

Discipline, or the lack of it, has become one of the major social problems facing America today.

Discipline runs the gamut from the very young to the very old. Self discipline starts, or should start, in the home, when a child is in his or her formative years. Then it will, in most instances, carry over into school age years, and later life.

A perusal of the history of these United States unquestionably reveals that discipline was one of the underpinnings on which the strength of the nation grew. Conceived in an era of oppression and undue demands made by the Crown of England, Colonists in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution set up a free society, a government offering its citizens the greatest freedom yet experienced in the history of man.

Yet, those Founding Fathers were wise enough to recognize that freedom includes the necessity for each individual to recognize the rights of others, and not infringe upon that person's freedom. Thus, discipline enters the picture.

We are reaping the tawdry results of an undisciplined nation in all segments of society today. Much of today's lack of discipline can be attributed to the permissive teachings of Dr. Benjamin Spock, who wrote a widely read, and accepted book, a generation ago. He authored many other writings on "how parents should rear their children."

Later rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court, lower courts, the U.S. Congress and state legislatures have further eroded the discipline that is required to form a cohesive, united nation.

And, I distinguish between discipline and tyranny.

We have reached a point where all too many parents do not start disciplining their children an early age, and wait until they enter school, and then expect teachers and administrators to discipline already unruly youngsters. We have reached a period when children who are not able to "get along" in their hometown schools, are sent to relatives in a distant town or state, and enter school.

This is not unique to Carrizozo. It is happening all over.

Then, there are parents who condone, or uphold, wrong doing by their youngsters at school—and elsewhere. They fail to find out the entire story and thus many a child who should be disciplined at home is not. Thus, he gets away with it this time, and thinks he can get away with anything, anytime, anywhere.

These children and those parents do not constitute a majority of children and parents, but point up a problem area.

Another area where the lack of discipline is hurting this country is in the armed services. For an efficient defense program, there must be discipline. When troops fail to obey orders, an army breaks down.

The continued existence of this nation as a free society could well hinge on this one issue.

During this Bicentennial period would be an excellent time for parents to re-examine their responsibilities, and begin the right kind of discipline of children, and teaching them. In fact, our educational program really starts at home.

Editorial in Del Norte Lance

Achieving goals is essentially the same as writing your diary in advance. That sounds strange, but by really setting strong goals you can achieve what you desire. "Whatever the mind of man can conceive and believe it can achieve." "Whether you think you can or can't, you're right."

If your goals are strong enough, they will inevitably produce results. The power of the subconscious, when programmed with goals that are really set, operates like a mechanism, automatically correcting your course until you achieve your goal.

One goal should lead to another. So you should know the ultimate long range goals. All shorter range goals should tune themselves to the long range goal.

Look at things on a daily basis. It's less discouraging that way. Decide each day what you can do to become closer to that goal. No matter how small a thing it may be, it will move you closer.

Therefore, if you are really determined and really believe you can reach your goals, you will be pulled like a magnet towards steel, and find that nothing is unattainable.

A pinch of Good Morning America on channel 7. There is a program just being born that educates young mothers with their babies in teaching better preschool child care. They attend classes and it helps them to be more aware of any handicaps that may appear early in life. Such as eye, ear and nose problems, etc. It is programmed to lift young mothers out of the world of diapers and physical care into a world of joy and interesting new things happening every day in a child's mind.

Cont. from last week—A cup of color—1. Do you prefer pure colors or tints. Ans. At hunters College in New York, psychologists separated students into two groups. Those who liked tints best tended to be more philosophical and more introverted. They adapt less readily to the outer world. They were more discriminating in their tastes, more appreciative of subtleties, more likely to feel that their friends didn't understand them. More given to thought than to direct action.

Those who preferred pure colors possess all the qualities of the extrovert. They are seldom given to soul-searching, were far more materialistic than the other group, showed much less interest in philosophical thought. They were more gregarious and less changeable in their opinions or attitude. (To be cont. next week.) Practical Palmistry is Fun (From last week) Hold your hand out in front of you.

My recipe this week is—

Cranberry Bread
4 c. flour
2 c. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. Baking powder
Put into small bowl, Juice of 2 oranges and grated rind (Or frozen orange juice.)
Add: 4 tablespoons mazola oil, warm water to make 1 1/2 c. liquid. Add this liquid mix to the dry ingredients. Also add 2 beaten eggs, 2 c. sliced cranberries.
Mix and cook in a med. oven.

Construction abuses 'terrific'

ALBUQUERQUE—Rep. Von Rue Crawford, R-Hidalgo-Luna, says: "The penalty for unlicensed construction in New Mexico is practically nil and the abuses are terrific."

Crawford was on a governor's task force on licensing that recommended wholesale revision of state construction and related trades licensing laws after statewide hearings. Gov. Jerry Apodaca was cool to the panel's request to send licensing revision to the 1976 Legislature meeting Jan. 20. Crawford says the problem is urgent and should be considered in the 1976 lawmaking session.

Rep. Crawford is also on the interim legislative Water Resource Conservation Committee that heard city officials underscore problems to finance compliance with the new federal Safe Water Drinking Act. Crawford said the lawmaker panel is leaning toward a recommendation to earmark part of state severance tax revenue for cities to fund compliance with the federal law and water resource studies. Sen. Odis Echols, D-Clovis, is Water Resource Conservation Committee chairman. The federal act will be effective in December, 1976.

The interim Legislative Environmental Health Study Committee heard State Environmental Improvement Agency Director Aaron Bond also detail problems of compliance with the federal law. Rep. Fred Luna, D-Los Lunas, is committee chairman. Rep. Bobby Duran, D-Taso, is a panel member.

A flood of complaints that inspectors were not available for utilities in mobile homes sparked an emergency meeting and a hurried, emergency resolution by the new State Mobile Housing Commission. Action permits an exception to routine inspection if an installation of utilities in a mobile home is not in a location where an authorized inspector is readily available. But before a utility connection is made a public utility must receive a written statement from a licensed installer declaring the installation or repair conforms with Mobile Housing Act provisions. Gas, water, sewer and electrical connections are affected.

A.D. (Tony) Apodaca, executive director of the Mobile Housing Commission, said complaints against lack of inspections began to pile up two weeks ago. Reportedly Southern Union Gas Co. at Truth or Consequences was told not to install meters at mobile homes because state inspectors were unavailable. Apodaca said State Mechanical Board inspectors will make mobile home utilities inspections for 15 days ending Dec. 1 under the commission's emergency action. The Mobile Housing Commission's staff of a chief inspector and six inspectors accumulated a heavy backlog.

The new emergency procedure can be used if a mobile home installation or repair has not been inspected within five days after the commission has been notified of completion.

Rep. H.B. Barnard, D-Clovis, sharply criticized expenditure of $758 by the State Division of Human Resources to publish a "Glossary of Abbreviations and Acronyms." Herman Grace, the agency director, told Rep. Barnard his was the only objection "in the face of an overwhelming number of favorable responses." The glossary lists hundreds of public and private agencies and commonly used alphabetic abbreviations for them.

A geophysicist, Rep. Colin McMillan, R-DeBaca-Chaves, predicted a drastic drop in New Mexico oil and gas exploratory wells if pending legislation in Congress is adopted. Action was set Tuesday on a conference committee report on the key legislation. Rep. McMillan said. "In 1975 there were more exploratory wells drilled in every oil-producing state in the U.S. except New Mexico." He blamed federal natural gas policies and a $3-a-barrel oil tax bill that cleared the New Mexico House but died in the Senate early this year.

State Banking Commissioner Herbert Hughes said Ruidoso State Bank, Ruidoso, filed an application for a branch at Carrizozo. The state agency was processing the application.

Des Moines-Folsom Telephone Cooperative petitioned the State Corporation Commission to require Baca Valley Telephone Co. to improve service at its Des Moines exchange or reduce its rates. The SCC set a hearing Tuesday (Nov. 18) on the complaint. The cooperative alleged local and long distance phone services to its members have been severely disrupted and impaired "on numerous occasions for extended periods of time."

The State Park and Recreation Commission approved a joint powers agreement for 3.5 miles of fencing and two cattle guards to control livestock at Rio Grande Gorge State Park. The pact was sent to the State Highway Department for its action.

John R. Cupp is Corona law

A former Security Policemen with the Air Force, John R. Cupp, comes to the Lincoln County Sheriff's department with 3 years experience, to serve the Corona area.

John, his wife, Sharon and seven month old daughter, Cory J.M., moved to New Mexico in August of this year. In October he was hired by Sheriff Leandro Vega.

While in the Air Force, he served one year in England where he was stationed just prior to his discharge. He was with the Canine Corps and is currently training four dogs-one for his personal use and two to use for tracking purposes (to help locate lost people in the area).

His next project will be to train two Doberman Pinsers for use as burglar protection by a businessman plagued with burglaries.

John and his family came to New Mexico "because I like the people, and it is open country in other words, I like to be free." They find New Mexicans "friendly and willing to help. When something needs to be done, they pitch in and help." Sharon, from St. Louis, says, "We may look like 'city' folks, but really we aren't. We like the country."

With the help of Ken Fuller, Mayor of Corona, and the towns people, John hopes to eventually be able to enforce the dog ordinance there. He is definitely a dog lover (although they have one small kitten too) but he does not like to see dogs run in packs through the streets. He says, "Even though they haven't hurt anyone yet, the time will come when they would. Also the chance of rabies goes up much higher when you have so many running free."

One of his future plans includes a dog obedience class for those interested in such a class. The old saying "You can't teach an old dog new tricks." doesn't hold with this young couple.

NEW MEXICO 1975

The Christmas Seals are different this year. They are reproduced from original paintings by children all over America; one from each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia, Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and Samoa-Guam. Pictured is New Mexico's seal, featuring Eagle Dancers, dancing at an Indian pueblo on Christmas Day. The seal was designed by Bobby Catron, a 12 year old Indian boy from Los Alamos. Horacio Montoya, Chairman of the New Mexico Lung Association's fund raising committee, reported that Christmas seals have already been mailed to many New Mexico homes, and that the final mailing should be complete by the middle of November.

Deer season is satisfactory

The stratified deer season appears to be accomplishing its purpose, according to Walt Snyder, chief of the N.M. Game and Fish Department's Game Management Division. "We recommended the stratified deer season to spread hunter pressure more evenly throughout the deer season. From experience in other states, we can also expect a reduced deer harvest. From what we were able to tell during opening weekend patrols, a substantial number of hunters will wait until the last hunt period to go hunting," Snyder said. The stratified system divides the 16-day season into three hunt periods. Opening weekend, A-One, was the first. The second period, A-Two, opened Tuesday (Nov. 11) and continues through Sunday, Nov. 16. It overlaps for the weekend with A-Three, which opens Nov. 15 and continues through Nov. 23. Because of the overlap, and because fewer hunters were afield opening weekend than were expected, the second weekend will very likely have the highest number of hunters afield, Snyder predicted. Violations related to the stratified season were limited, Snyder said. As expected, the most common potential violation involved hunters' taking wives or children afield with licenses for the A-One hunt period when the father's or husband's license was validated for a later season. "In some cases, of course, it was certainly a matter of planning a more extended family outing," Snyder said. "In others, which we prosecuted when possible, the man in the family went afield fully expecting to shoot deer for his wife or children on opening weekend, then returning to the field later to shoot one for himself." In addition to answering the problems of too-heavy pressure on opening weekends and a too-high deer harvest, the three-hunt-period system may also answer another complaint of hunters: too many other hunters in the field.

The post office does a job in locating us. From Germany came a letter addressed to "Santa Fe, New Mexico, Zentral Amerika". From Aden, "Chamber of Commerce, New Mexico, Mexico. A Canadian travel writer sent hers to, "Santa Fe, S. America."
All New Mexico Post Offices are familiar with packages stamped "foreign". But one in Lincoln County came addressed to NEW MEXICO, in the U.S.A.

W-W
A lot of the information comes from the Manzano High School newspaper and the kids say that the U.S. Navy had geography problems. An information officer at an Air Station in Texas requested "brochures, money exchange rates, insurance information and any other information you have on New Mexico."
A school teacher (?) in New York wrote for "foreign posters" so her students could learn more about "their ethnic backgrounds".
And just lately, we are told, that when our delegations of Senior Citizens arrived in Washington, they were thoughtfully provided with three interpreters. Is that Right, Elva?

If we are lost and somehow separated from the rest of the Union, lets demand a new series of negotiations before we join up again. And let's put Mesalero Tribal President Chino on the negotiation committee. The Apaches have had a lot of experience with treaties. We might write the U.N. and ask if they are holding a seat for us and...

A public hearing has been set for that night at 7 P.M. at the town hall. The proposed annexation will take in about 255 acres in the Mesa Verda Acres subdivision.
That section is currently being supplied water and will be offered garbage service. There are no sewer connection presently.
Town officials say there will be no restrictions on livestock other than any that might already exist in the subdivision restrictions. Some of the property owners in the section have object to annexation on the grounds of animal restrictions.
"There are no restrictions as far as the town is concerned in that area," said Mrs. Dorothy Johnston.
The alternative to annexation appears to be drastic charges for water in sections not in the city limits. Earlier this fall the Trustees voted sleep water rate increases which have brought protests from some property owners.
"There appeared to be no other way that was fair," said Mrs. Johnston. "The bonds for filtration plants have to be paid for and it is not fair to expect the whole burden to be borne by present residents."

... Zozo

Arl Cope, Jr., president of Tularosa Cable TV appeared at the Board meeting to discuss the possibility of a cable TV franchise in Carrizozo. Cope, who said he was not sure that his company would come to Carrizozo, told the Board that he received numerous requests for service from Carrizozo.
If he is granted franchise, he said his company would guarantee service, would bring in El Paso, Juarez and Albuquerque Channels and would meet FCC regulations.
Tularosa charges for the cable. Cope said, are $7.50 a month and $1.00 for each additional set.
The Trustees instructed Attorney Bill Payne to investigate other working franchises and report back to the next meeting.
In other action the board accepted purchase by the Fire Department of an $18,850 mini-pumper which, Wes Lindsay said, would save wear and tear on the large pumper. The truck is being acquired on a lease purchase plan and the department has funds available for the acquisition.
The trustees voted to pay 25 percent of the cost of medical insurance for city employees. The sum of $831.85 will be spent for the balance of the fiscal year (thru June 1). Employees will be required to pay the remaining 75 percent if they desire coverage.
The city will test the proposed new garbage collection system in the next few weeks. City manager Johnny Johnson will accept the offer of a company to run a trial of the automatic lift system in the next few weeks. It is felt that the system will eliminate much of the flying debris and litter which now plagues the town.
At the October Board meeting, the Cemetery Association was requested to submit maintenance projects needed to the city. Mrs. C.A. Snow sent the town a list of work suggested and Mayor Siegrist said that with the direction of Roy Harman and Albert Roberts, much of the work had been done. Projects included, mowing, road repair, fence removal and general cleaning.

Rich Sims opens Lincoln County headquarters
Rich Sims who labels himself a "conservative Democrat" was in Lincoln County this week to open his local campaign headquarters.
Sims announced that R.A. "Dutch" Cox, Carrizozo, would be his county chairman and Bill Ward of Lincoln and Becky Hall of Ruidoso, his vice chairpersons.
Headquarters were scheduled to open in Ruidoso this week and shortly there after in Carrizozo.
Sims' campaign platform appeared to be somewhat contradictory in these initial stages. He called for doubling or tripling welfare payments to the "aged, blind, crippled and all people who really need it" by removing from the rolls those who do not need it. He urged a defense second to none; energy solutions by research and exploration; re-evaluation of foreign aid and equal and just taxation.
At the same time Sims called for a complete abolition of the Internal Revenue Service.
The candidate claimed to be only 7 1/2 per cent behind incumbent Senator Joseph Montoya. Sims said he had wide support in Lincoln County and is an anti-politician, politician.

Alfred and Virginia Silva's Home in Carrizozo burned to the ground Monday morning. Their two daughters are in an Albuquerque hospital suffering from severe burns.

Howard Abercrombie, Soil Conservation Service, Louis Merritt, president of South Central Resources, and Tommy Perez, guest speaker discuss farm and ranch problems at the district meeting in Carrizozo this week.

NOTICE
Public meeting Town of Carrizozo
Town Hall - Carrizozo, N. M. Nov. 25, 1975 7 p.m.
The Carrizozo Board of Trustees is holding a public meeting at the Town Hall on November 25, 1975, at 7 p.m. to obtain Citizen Input on the needs of the town. The town is eligible to apply for a grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development Community Development fund. Carrizozo will be in competition with applications from many other cities and towns throughout the State of New Mexico.
All projects which are within the guidelines of the Community Development Act will be considered when the final town selection is made by the Board of Trustees. Selection of any project or projects does not mean that they will be funded because the Department of Housing and Urban Development has the final say on what projects will be funded. It is therefore possible for the town to receive anywhere from a maximum of $100,000 to no funding at all.
Some of the projects funded in the State of New Mexico last year were:
1. Street improvement projects.
2. Water system construction projects.
3. Sewage system construction projects.
4. Sanitary land fill development projects.
5. Acquisition of land for public use.
6. Rehabilitation of substandard housing.
7. Historic restoration of public properties.
8. Demolition of old structures.
9. Construction of storm drainage.
10. Construction of community centers.
Town Hall Carrizozo, N.M. November 25, 1975 7 p.m.
THE MOST IMPORTANT THING TO KEEP IN MIND IS THAT THE ONLY WAY THAT YOU CAN HELP YOUR COMMUNITY IS TO COME TO THE MEETINGS AND PRESENT YOUR COMMUNITY NEEDS.
