

Deputy rescues child in White Oaks gun battle

The courage of a Lincoln County deputy sheriff and two young women probably saved their lives and resulted in the capture of an armed man, after a shoot out near historic mining and ranching town of White Oaks.

Paul H. Isler, 21, a resident of Tucumcari is being treated for gun shot wounds in Gerald Champion Hospital in Alamogordo following a Monday afternoon gun fight just outside White Oaks.

An afternoon of terror began at about 1:45 when the Lincoln County Sheriff's office received a call from Monte Vista Service Station in Carrizozo. Two travelers from Cedar Falls, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Earwicker, reported that a man in an orange-yellow compact car had attempted to run their min-home vehicle off Highway 54 about five miles north of Carrizozo. The couple said the man had a rifle in his lap.

Mrs. Earwicker was driving and Mr. Earwicker attempted to locate a gun he carried in the vehicle. The couple succeeded in evading the other car and reached Carrizozo.

Deputy Quill Bradley was on duty and started north looking for the reported car. State Police Dale Housley was driving on Highway 54 coming south when he heard the call. Bradley and Housley met at the intersection of HW 54 with State Highway 349, the road to White Oaks.

The officers decided that Bradley would search the White Oaks road while Housley looked on other near by ranch roads.

Only a few families now live in what was once Lincoln County's largest and liveliest towns. In its gold mining heyday, shoot-outs and brawls were nothing unusual to the town. In a Carrizozo bar is the backbar from White Oaks marked with a bullet hole that some claim was put there by Billy the Kid.

But now what remains of the town is mostly quiet and the impressively beautiful countryside has lately attracted a number of young families seeking a peaceful rural life.

Among those families are Jimmy and Teresa James and their two children, Angela and Brent.

Monday, Teresa, three year old Angela (who looks like a golden haired angel) and a guest, Brenda Lane, came into town in two cars—one to be left for repairs.

The James' have built a beautiful home far up on Carrizo Mountain and the primitive road to their mountain home is often impassible during wet weather. Recent snows make travel difficult for anything but four wheeled vehicles.

The two young women and Angela were almost back to White Oaks when they were stopped by a car blocking the road. When they attempted to go around the vehicle, a bright orange 1973 Opel, their left front tire was shot out, stopping their International truck.

Forces women into car

A man ran up to their car, ordering them out and into the Opel. They drove to the end of the pavement at White Oaks and Teresa, exhibiting what Sheriff Leandro Vega terms great courage and self control, persuaded the man that it would be impossible to drive the Opel further on the muddy roads. She told him that if he would return to her truck and change the tire, she would take him to her house.

The man wanted to walk to her house but she was able to convince him that it would be impossible to take Angela through the snow and mud all the way up the mountain.

The four people returned to the truck sitting about one mile west of White Oaks.

About the time the women and the man reached the International, Deputy Bradley rounded a curve traveling about 70 miles an hour. At this place in the road there a series of rather sharp curves and hills.

He saw the two cars in the road and slammed on his brakes. The Sheriff's car came to a halt about 30 feet from the other vehicles. Bradley saw the orange car and before he could move, a man took a rifle from the car and started toward the sheriff's auto firing. Bradley ducked down in the seat as bullets flew past him. He raised up and took aim through the windshield and fired at the man, hitting him in the chest and arm.

Holds gun on Angela

The man grabbed three year old Angela and put his rifle to her head, demanding that Bradley throw out his revolver. He gave Bradley the count of five, yelling he would shoot the little girl.

Bradley says it was a long, long count. He was convinced that if he threw out his revolver the man would kill everyone. At the count of four, Bradley heard the rifle click and realized the gun was empty. He jumped out of his car and captured the wounded man.

The man, who was identified as Paul H. Isler, was taken to the Carrizozo hospital and then by ambulance on to Alamogordo. Wednesday he was still heavily sedated and in serious condition but expected to live.

Investigation revealed that the sheriff's car had been shot a number of times with the 30.06 rifle carrying armour piercing bullets. Two shots had gone through the speedometer.

"The man up there was watching after Quill Monday afternoon," Sheriff Vega said. "It is almost impossible to understand how he missed being shot. It took a lot of courage and ability to perform the way Deputy Bradley did."

Son of Quay deputy

Further investigation by the Sheriff revealed that Isler is the son of Quay County Deputy Sheriff Francis H. Isler.

He had taken the car belonging to his mother and the gun belonging to his father without permission Saturday and had been reported missing since that time.

This is not the first time Paul Isler has been in Lincoln County. Several years ago he had worked in the Carrizozo area and had introduced himself to Sheriff Vega as the son of the Quay County Sheriff.

Sheriff Vega said that a major tragedy was averted by the bravery of Deputy Bradley and the cool-headed courage of the young women.

Charges of assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer have been filed against Isler and Sheriff Vega says other charges will be filed by the district attorney.

At the present, the Sheriff's department is unable to explain the behavior of Isler, but an intensive investigation is underway. Vega told the NEWS.

Southside Zozo paving urged

A comprehensive street and drainage program for the southside of Carrizozo was urged at the town's project for HUD funds at a special public meeting of the town Board of Trustees.

A petition with seventy five names was presented by Petra Sandoval calling for the paving of the street in front of the Lyric Theater and the streets on the southside of town.

Bill Gomez of the New Mexico Extension Service Community Planning division told the meeting about previous request for funds and the necessity to submit a request that would meet with governmental favor.

Mayor Floyd Siegrist asked about the possibility of applying for the possible $100,000 to upgrade the hospital so it could be opened. Gomez said that this particular fund would not be available for that purpose.

A number of residents spoke in favor of the south Carrizozo project. City manager Johnny Johnson said that it would take most of the hoped for $100,000 to provide adequate drainage in the area and that drainage must be provided before any paving could be done.

Fred English asked if this could be a part of a comprehensive plan that could include resident contribution to expand the program. Gomez said that was possible and desirable.

Bill Payne said that the project would meet the greatest need of the community and was one for which other funds were available in the foreseeable future. He moved that the Board of Trustees apply for the funds for grading the street in the south part of Carrizozo and for providing drainage for the area.

Manny Hernandez seconded the motion and those present voted unanimously for it.

The Board of Trustees will hold another required hearing on the matter at its regular meeting Dec. 9 at 7 p.m.

Bake, rummage sale set

The Carrizozo Women Club will hold an all day rummage and bake sale at the Women's Club Building Saturday. The members will also be selling poinsettia plants in a repeat of their Christmas flower sale last year. The large plants sell for $5 and $6.

As reported several places in this issue of the NEWS, I returned to my place of birth in Texas last week, for turkey dinner. Going along for the ride were, two members of the NEWS staff: Frank Hoff, a native of Holland, and Tammy Hourigan, probably an immigrant from New York.

"Daddy says the people in Texas talk funny and not to drink the water," Tammy commented as we neared the border.

"Peculiarly," I corrected.

"Yeah, it's probably peculiar how funny they talk," she said.

"You are a little peculiar," Frank told me with a certain amount of bravado "but Tammy, you can't go around the world not drinking water."

We stopped for gas late that night in Sweetwater. We were filled up, offered free coffee and treated with the utmost courtesy and friendliness by a young man who did talk with the most, or second, most, western drawl I've ever heard.

"See," said Frank, "the people in Texas are nice and you didn't HAVE to drink the water."

"They do talk funny, though," said Tammy.

"Strangely," I corrected.

"Yeah, it's strange how funny they talk," said Tammy.

Mama has a deep South accent and Tammy whispered to me that she had never in her young life heard anyone that talked so funny.

"Differently" I reminded. Coming back, somewhere in West Texas, we were served by a young lady who sounded about like Lynn Anderson.

"Daddy was right. They sure do talk funny in Texas."

"Yeah," I said. "They sure do talk funny in Texas."

W-W

More funny talk discussed in the NEWS office later drew the following bits of trivia.

Frank has a pet peeve and has spent considerable time researching the correct pronunciation of "COUPON." It is, Frank

Put name up in lights

Instead of mailing Christmas cards in town, the Carrizozo Hospital Auxiliary suggests that you put your name on a giant Christmas Tree for everyone to see.

At the same time you will be helping the hospital buy badly needed equipment and your donation is tax deductible.

The plan, a first in Carrizozo, is to build a giant Christmas Card which will be displayed in Fred English's fountain park next to the hardware store.

A minimum donation of $1.00 to the Lincoln County Municipal Hospital Auxiliary will get your name printed on the card for all your friends and neighbors to see.

That way, says Dr. Amy Barton who came up with the idea, you can be sure not to leave anyone off your card list.

Checks should be made to the Auxiliary and sent to Charlotte Ladd. Checks for more than the $1.00 minimum will not be refused.

Alleen leads the way deep into the little Mack mine. Notice that the car tracks are still in place.

Capitan annexes Mesa acres

Annexation of a section of Mesa Verde subdivision was accepted by the Capitan Board of Trustees following a public meeting. Monday night that produced some heated opposition.

The town had been petitioned by more than fifty percent of the residents of the area who wanted to join Capitan. Owners of that part of Lincoln county usually hold between five and ten acres and the vote in a petition for annexation is determined on a one vote to one acre basis.

Residents appearing at the hearing who disapproved of the move seemed to base their objections on taxes and a misunderstanding about restrictions.

Archie Witham town attorney, told the meeting that letters had been sent to all owners of property residing outside the area requesting those favoring annexation to execute a power of attorney in favor of Hollis Cummings.

Frank Torres, a resident of the subdivision, said that Cummings had stated in public that he had not given permission for his name to be used.

Witham agreed that Cummings had not consented to the use of his name initially and that it had been used through misunderstanding. Later, according to the town officials, Cummings did consent and voted the proxies he received.

Mayor Jay Johnston told the group that water had become a key issue and problem in the annexation issue. Recently the city tripled the rate of users not in the city limits. Johnston said that the town had been compelled to pass a water bond to upgrade the system. He and other trustees felt it unfair to expect tax payers to bear the entire cost when people outside the town had equal use of the water.

While, Johnston said, the rates were not being used as a club, if the annexation was accepted, rates in the newly annexed area would return to the same level as those inside the city limits now.

Pat Huey, who operates a cement and contracting business outside the present limits and whose property is not included in the annexed area, asked if water rates would be reduced when "all this settles down."

He was told that the city does not contemplate reducing rates but, Johnston said, the town might consider a separate contract for him. Huey said his existing water bill was something around $150 a month.

The trustees said they would probably look

Our girls played Cloudercroft here Friday night.

Girls A-Varsity-Cloudercroft won 38-11
Girls B-J.V.'s-Cloudercroft won 11-8
Better luck next time!

We would like to thank Mr. Bob O'Connor for his interest in school affairs. As I asked last week, we need all the "in put" we can get. I would like to repeat however that Mr. Ray Wells acted in unison with the school board vote to return the doors and to channel moneys in order that the "DOOR" problem could be remedied (sic). It is happening, and it brings to mind an old adage, "The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly well." We hope!

If any of you guys are interested in writing to kids in other parts of the world, let me know and I'll get names, addresses and we can find out what is going on elsewhere. Might be fun!

Food for thought: Blessed is the person who can laugh at himself. He'll never cease to be amused. Have a happy day!!!

Suicide course offered at ENMU

Mental Health Workshops on "Mental Health, Depression, Suicide" and the "Schizophrenic Personality" will be offered by the division of Psychology at Eastern New Mexico University during December and January.

On Dec. 20-22 the "Mental Health, Depression, Suicide" workshop will be held from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-5 p.m. and include discussion of clinical approaches to depression and suicide, separation and depression, and the problem of depression and suicidal behavior.

"The aim of the course is to learn about the core nature and causes of depression and suicide through literature, psychology, and psychiatry," explained Dr. Natavid Allen, professor in Psychology and director of the workshop. "We will place emphasis on prevention and treatment."

Featured guests with the workshop are Dr. William Baldwin, professor in psychology; Dr. Charles Meister, professor in English; Henry Hahn, professor in psychology; and Dr. Ray Cavanaugh, assistant professor of psychiatry at the University of New Mexico Medical School.

The "Schizophrenic Personality" workshop, also under the direction of Dr. Allen, will meet from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-4 p.m. on Jan. 2-5. The course will attempt to evoke an understanding of the nature and genesis of schizophrenia and to review current research on the schizophrenic personality.

Topics in this workshop are "Schizophrenic Art," "Clinical Approaches to Schizophrenia," and "Types of Schizophrenia." Dr. Baldwin, Dr. Cavanaugh, and Henry Hahn will also be featured speakers in the "Schizophrenic Personality" workshop, in addition to Fred Hensley, district attorney for the Ninth Judicial District.

Both workshops may be taken for graduate or undergraduate credit. Additional information may be obtained by contacting H. G. Codling, director of Continuing Education, 562-3322.

Miss America search on Saturday Night-April 17th-What will you be doing? If you are a young woman 17 to 28 years of age, you could become Miss Lincoln County 1976. The Miss Lincoln County Pageant is the only official local preliminary pageant for Miss America.

Miss Lincoln County competes in the Miss New Mexico Pageant in July. The winner of this pageant goes to Atlantic City and has the opportunity to become Miss America. All of these titles may not sound like much, but they represent 70,000 young women across the country.

Miss America is not the most talented, most beautiful or the most intelligent. She is a combination of all these things.

Anyone owning property or a resident of Lincoln County may enter the competition. We need our local girls in order to have a state pageant, and, possible, send a winner to Atlantic City.

If you have read this article, you are an interested candidate. Fill out the entry blank and if you have any questions contact Vivian Bowen, Entries Chairman, P.O. Box 3067 Hollywood Station, Ruidoso, N.M. 88345.

For those who are not eligible to become a contestant, but still have an interest, we need your support and time to make this the best pageant Lincoln County has had.

Notes from County Agent

Blackleg has been reported in this area. Usually a dead animal that swells quickly is the first thing that you notice. The dead animal has a crackling feeling when touched. Blackleg is very infectious especially in beef cattle. Vaccination is the only practical means of control.

Blackleg generally occurs in young beef animals under two years of age. It is caused by clostridium bacteria that forms spores which can remain dormant in the soil for many years. Blackleg and Malignant edema are very much alike and impossible for the livestock owner to tell apart.

If you have not vaccinated your calves do so immediately or if your calves were under three months old when they were vaccinated they need to be vaccinated again for a lasting immunity. Also in areas with actual cases of Blackleg it would be a good precaution to revaccinate them.

Always use the Blackleg-Malignant Edema vaccine. Remember it takes about ten days for the calf to develop immunity.

Athletic club meets today

Winter with its snow and ice came in Friday evening and Saturday. The mountains have lots of snow Ruidoso way. Here it is all melted and the cold wind blows. We were very happy for that moisture as it was badly needed.

The Capitan Athletic Club will meet Thursday Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

I wish Rev. and Mrs. Harold Cartwright many more happy years of wedded life. A reception will be given for their 25th or silver wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon Dec. 14 in Bisbee, Arizona. They are a wonderful couple and have such a nice family. We do miss them here but wish them all the continued happiness in this world.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lee Miller returned home Friday from Hutchinson, Kansas where they visited Mr. Miller's aunt, Mrs. H.T. White while she was in the hospital.

The Senior Citizens Center Capers has a full calendar of wonderful events for December. Their Center will be closed Wednesday Dec. 24, Thursday, Dec. 25, Friday, Dec. 26, Wednesday, Dec. 31, and Thursday, January 1. They hope the Holiday Season is enjoyable for all you as they know it will be for the staff. Their special wish are that the holidays and the year ahead will be filled with everything wonderful for you, the Senior Citizens.

From Last Week
Winter cold is with us through moisture. It was 2 degrees below zero Sat. A.M. at 7. It is cold thru the days and nights. The Mountains have had light snow.

Hunting season is over and things are quiet again. I am so glad the lost hunter in the Tucson Mountains this last weekend was found.

Last Thursday morning just after Harriet Kline and family smelled smoke and checked and their house was on fire on the roof next to the pipe. She called our Fire Department and they extinguished it quickly. A four foot hole was in the roof but the roof only.

Ten members of the Roundtable Club met at the home of Harriet McGinnis for their regular meeting on Thursday, November 20. Mora Tisworth and Mary Dean who were away from home were unable to attend.

The table was beautifully decorated in the Thanksgiving motif and with the cold crisp day and the bountiful food served it seemed as though Thanksgiving had arrived.

Those present were, Marie Edgar, Frankie Tonn, Hattie Phillips, Vera Beall, Eltha Merrell, Bessie Cummins, Bessie Jones, Lorene Ferguson, Francis Shaw and the hostess Harriet McGinnis.

During the business meeting, Officers for 1976 were elected, New Rosebuds drawn and plans for the Christmas party and the packing of the food boxes for our Senior Citizens were made.

The white elephant gift was won by Marie Edgar. Next meeting to be at the home of Frances Shaw.

The First Baptist Church of Capitan invited and fed 50 Senior Citizens last Sunday starting at 1:30 p.m. for Thanksgiving. Their special message was "This Special Thanksgiving dinner is our way of further expressing our gratitude to God for His manifold Blessings throughout the past year and also provides our Church family an opportunity to express their sincere appreciation for our Senior Citizens."

Thank you Baptist Church for remembering. All of us do appreciate your kindness. Though I was unable to attend I do appreciate it. May God Bless you each one.

Here, there and yonder!

Lois Ann Lane of Albuquerque was here Thanksgiving visiting her relatives, Margaret Lane, Mr. and Mrs. O.V. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Sherill.

Mrs. Edena Brown is in the Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo. She was taken there Sunday after suffering a fall in which she came up with a broken hip. She would be pleased to hear from her friends as days get a bit long in a hospital.

Gabe Chavez, son of Mrs. Fred Chavez, went to Tucson, Ariz. with a college friend to spend Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thornton and children Carl Alan and Gennie Lois of Santa Fe were visiting the J.E. Thorntons during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Faecke returned recently from a trip to Ft. Worth and Dennison.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callaway during the Thanksgiving holidays were their sons, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Garcia of Hayward, Calif. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garcia and daughter, Denise, of Woodland Park, Colo.

Rick Cocca was the lucky winner of the Thanksgiving Basket given by the Junior Extension Club.

Mr. and Mrs. S.M. Ortiz had Gloria, Bobby, Tommy and a friend, Susie Demarest, here to enjoy Thanksgiving with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vige and children, Robert, Michelle and Merile of Longville, La. were visiting here for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Vige is the former Sue Schrum. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stamps and children Patty, David Hardy and Tommy Lee of Flagstaff, Ariz. joined the group making a large family gathering at Mary Schrum's.

The November meeting of the White Oaks Historical Association was in the Medallion Room the 22nd. Clara Snow, president, presided over the business meeting. Following that, Roy Harman gave an interesting talk—he always has worth while talks to give as he's capable of bringing past history to life—Nice refreshments were served before the evening came to an end. The next meeting will be in the Medallion Room, Jan. 24, at 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hernandez celebrated their Thanksgiving dinner Sunday, Nov. 23, with all of their family, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Hernandez and daughter Yvette, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hernandez, Jr., and son Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roper and Ray Gene and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heck of Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Payne and children were in Santa Fe on the 22nd to attend the 25th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Gallegos. The celebration centered around a special Mass at St. Anne's Church followed by a reception. Mr. and Mrs. Gallegos are the parents of Mrs. Ralph Garcia of Carrizozo.

Paul Harvey put Dexter and Roswell on the map in his broadcast Nov. 24. He mentioned the Senior finalist in the Make It Yourself With Wool Contest held in the Goddard High School Little Theatre. The finalist was a male with great talent. Not only does he make clothes but he quarterbacked the Dexter High School football team. His name is Robert Cobos and he will compete in the statewide contest in Santa Fe, Dec. 7 at the Sheraton Inn.

Roy Harman was in El Paso Thanksgiving enjoying the holiday with his son and family.

Had a nice visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wetzell of Alamogordo in the 4 Winds Tuesday. They were on their way to Lamar, Colo. to visit their daughter and family for Thanksgiving.

Paul and Eleanor Payton went to Aztec, N.M. to spend Thanksgiving with Paul's brother Dwight and his family. The trip there on Wednesday was very lovely—then came the storm and they were snow bound. The snow fall wasn't too heavy but the wind drifted it and made travelling a bit hazardous. Sunday dawned bright and clear and they headed home.

Mrs. Kelley Stephenson is home after a stay in El Paso due to illness.

Tammy Hourigan and Frank Hoff were guests of Mary Rich at her mother's home in Stephenville, Texas, over the Thanksgiving weekend. Mary's mother, Erma Rich, had dinner for her Carrizozo guests and Mary's children, Mark Wilson, Chris Wilson, Lucy Wilson and Lucy's fiancé, Randall Chapman. Tammy and Frank spent one day sight seeing in Dallas with Mark as their host. All three of the NEWS staff returned safely Saturday night.

The Wayne Fish family spent the holidays with LaNell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mulkey and sister, Cindy, in Roswell. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mulkey and two sons, Don and John, of Cohoma, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Edwards of Roswell, were also visiting in the Mulkey home on Thanksgiving. It was a nice reunion for all.

According to Douglas Jarrard he told me he went to Albuquerque and Las Vegas over the Thanksgiving weekend to attend to some business and have a turkey dinner.

To old timers in Carrizozo another era has come to a close with the departure of Grace Jones. Her address now is 9227 Langdon Ave., Sepulveda, Calif., 91343. Her niece, Dorothy Zenda, lives there and wanted her aunt near her. Grace is in a Nursing Home where she has professional care as needed.

It will be remembered that this gracious lady was a successful business woman for many, many years. Before entering the business world she was a teacher of note in the community. At the time of the bank closures in the 20's she became the receiver for them. When that assignment was completed she became the owner of the County Abstract Company. With her ability and knowledge she conducted this business successfully until she sold out in Sept. of 1956.

Tasters prefer ready mix cakes

To all of you people who came by the home economics classroom and tested the various cakes which were on display, we thank you. To those who did not come by an explanation is due.

The Consumer Education class of the Home Economics department baked a chocolate fudge cake from scratch, one from a box mix and used a frozen cake. Each of these was labeled with a letter so that those who tasted the samples would not know which cake they were sampling.

Results indicated that 36 people preferred the taste of the box mix, 29 preferred the frozen cake and 20 preferred the homemade cake. The cost of the three was $1.95 for 24 oz. mix cake, $1.95 for 24 oz. frozen cake, and $1.41 for 24 oz. homemade cake. The cake from the mix and the one from scratch have rather inflated prices since each was iced with canned frosting, costing 94 cents.

Now, would your votes remain the same? Could it be that more people are familiar with the taste of box mixes?

Women offered aid on Social Security

A new booklet, "A woman's guide to social security," is available free at any social security office. The 16-page booklet contains social security information of particular interest to women, according to Tim Hassen, social security field representative.

Included are explanations for how working women building social security protection for themselves and their families; how wives, widows, and divorcees can get monthly payments on their husbands' social security records; and what women should do if they hire household workers.

The "Table of Contents" lists the following chapters: "What the woman worker should know—while you work—if you interrupt your career—when you retire." "What a wife should know—a wife—young widow with children—aged widow—remarried widow—divorcee—Medicare for widows." "What every woman should know—household workers—if you change your name—for more information."

Mr. Hassen may be contacted at the County Commissioner's Room in the Court House in Carrizozo, on Tuesday, Dec. 16, between the hours of 10-12 and 1-2.

Leanne Surratt

Leanne Surratt is NMSU Zeta

Leanne Surratt is a fall 1975 pledge of the NMSU social sorority Zeta Tau Alpha. Leanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Surratt. Leanne, a freshman, has become involved in NMSU intermurals. Her hobbies are horseback riding, motorcycle riding, and water-and snow skiing. Leanne is an elementary education Major. She is a graduate of Corona High School where she was a varsity cheerleader.

The pledges have been actively involved this fall. Their social activities have consisted of: Pledge Presentation, Panhellenic Pledge Social and civic projects with the Sigma Nu and Phi Tau Fraternities on campus. Their money making project was an "Old-fashioned Box Supper Auction" and hayride. The pledges have been working hard to fulfill the requirements to become active. This includes knowing the History of Zeta Tau Alpha and the Zeta Creed. Other "Zeta" oriented activities include a skit that was performed for the Zeta National President, Mrs. Shearer, who visited the Beta Nu Chapter this October 30.

Arts Commission fellowships up

January 2 is the deadline for applications to the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, for grants under four categories of its Architecture and Environmental Arts program.

Design fellowships of up to $10,000 are available to practicing professional designers of exceptional talent who wish to engage in independent work or studies to improve their capabilities in design. Each candidate is required to formulate a project which will be evaluated in terms of its potential impact on the profession of architecture and the applicant's personal development. Applicants must have been active for the past five years in architecture, landscape architecture, city and regional planning, urban design or industrial design. Although the program is addressed especially to persons involved in private practice, others will be considered.

Grants of up to $20,000, matching, are available to universities and other qualified non-profit organizations for research projects.

"Matching grants of up to $20,000 are also available to organizations under the Public Education and Awareness program—to assist projects which will provide public information on design issues, will advance public appreciation of beauty in the man-made world, or will assist groups and individuals seeking ways to improve the quality of their surroundings. Grants of up to $10,000 are available to individuals under this program, also, on a non-matching basis."

Grants generally not exceeding $20,000 are also available to assist projects which will improve the effectiveness of design-related national professional membership organizations in the fields of architecture and environmental arts.

Information, guidelines and application forms for all of these grants may be obtained from the Architecture-Environmental Arts Program, National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C. 20506.

Interested persons may also contact the New Mexico Arts Commission, Lew Wallace Bldg., Santa Fe 87503, for further information. The phone number is 827-2061.

The New Mexico Arts Commission elected new officers for the coming year at its November meeting in Las Cruces. Mrs. James C. Thompson of Espanola was chosen as Chairman, Phillip Hart of Tesuque became Vice-Chairman, and Mrs. Lawrence B. Ingram of Tucumcari was elected Recording Secretary.

Mrs. Consuelo S. Thompson has been a member of the Arts Commission since 1972, and has served in that body as Vice-Chairman and as Secretary. She has served in many civic and arts organizations, and been a prime mover in bringing cultural events to depressed areas of the state, in keeping with her philosophy that the arts enrich people's lives and thus should be fostered and encouraged.

The Commission voted to adopt new funding guidelines for the coming year which will result in the holding of three funding meetings for the various funding categories instead of one meeting, as in the past. However, those institutions in any category which feel that they must know what their budget will be for the coming year may apply for a hearing at the first funding meeting of the year, which will be in May. Generally speaking, music and theatre projects will be funded in May, dance, crafts and special programs in July, and architecture and environmental arts, literature, visual arts and public media in September.

The Commission will publish a complete description and full rules and guidelines after the first of the year. It was announced at the meeting.

A PINCH OF ADVENT-ISM HERE-

The first week in December begins the Advent season which includes four Sundays and ends on Christmas Eve. This is a perfect week to teach your little ones the real meaning of Christmas. Advent means coming and the season was first inaugurated in the Gallican churches of France and Spain, and before Christmas day had spread to these regions, it was a penitential season of fasting preparatory to the baptisms administered at Epiphany—the color used was purple. There are many symbols and projects that help a family celebrate—a pretty Advent Wreath is one of the prettiest things the children can make—came from Central Europe.

Use a round foam, piece of evergreens or anything around the house you can make a circle out of. (This is the circle of eternity—meaning God was, is, and ever shall be.) Evergreens are the symbol of life eternal, then get four candles, which represents the four weeks before Christmas, and also their light being a symbol of Christ. Your ribbons should be purple, they are used around the candles or around the wreath. Get the children interested in making one.

One table-spoon of an idea—Tobacco Makes a safe Pesticide
In a gallon of water boil 4 ounces of non-filter cigarettes or 1/2 lb. of filter tip cigarettes for half an hour. Strain the resulting clear brown liquid through a nylon stocking. It'll keep for several weeks (if you need to store it in a stoppered bottle, labeled POISON.)

Water it along rows of young vegetables or flowers or mix a quart of the solution with an ounce of soft soap or soap-flakes for spraying. But don't spray it on anything you're going to eat within two weeks. Then wash vegetables good before eating.

Recipe given by L.D. Hills, director of the Henry Doubleday Agriculture Research organization fireplace, scarfs and gloves, winter plants, wreaths.—HAVE FUN SHOPPING Around the Bowl

The nicest thing about Lora's and Mert's Well is that it is full of water—sometimes they are dry you know—! Nogal is cold and ice is everywhere. Thanksgiving was pretty quiet. The Breiger's stayed home without company. Ma Stearns went to Sue's. Molly had dinner with her son in Alamogordo. The Crouses ate at Dot's. Burkstaller and Faye Stokes came up from Roswell.

By the way, the Richardsons are delivering some good milk—and they also have a new car. This is a very quick look at the bowl and everyone seems to have been too busy eating to tell me any news

I will continue the Palmistry next time.

Roby's Box

The recipe this week is very fancy for Christmas. Brownies sent to us from May Sharpe.

Buttermilk Brownies
2 c. flour sift together in mixing bowl
2 c. sugar
4 t. cocoa
1 c. cold water bring to boil
1 stick margarine Pour over
1/2 c. salad oil dry ingred. & beat until creamy
1/2 c. buttermilk add this to
1 t. soda above & beat
2 eggs thoroughly
Bake in greased Jelly roll pan 18 by 16 by 1. Bake at 400 for 20 min.
Iceing

1 stick butter
1/4 c. cocoa
one-third c. buttermilk
Bring this to boil then add 1 box of powdered sugar, 1 t. vanilla. Spread on Brownies. Delicious. Thank you May. bye now Roby Roby's Box. Two drops of health. Dear Roby—I have tiny broken veins on my legs. Any suggestions?

A. Vitamin C protects the health of blood vessels since it is essential for manufacturing the very substance of which they are made. Dear Roby—I cannot find an analysis of the nutritional value of caraway and poppy seeds. Can they be used freely, like sunflower or sesame seeds?

A. In general all seeds have approximately the same nutritional contents. People have eaten caraway seeds freely for thousands of years. They are referred to often in ancient herbs. Poppy seeds were given to children, in former days, to induce sleep. They have no drug properties, however, Opium is made from the other parts of the Poppy, not the seeds. Do You Know?

A friend of mine took her small son to visit a department store Santa Claus. "And what would you like for Christmas?" asked the Jolly old saint.

The child stared at him, horrified. "Good-grief!" he wailed "Didn't you get my letter?" On a snow-rutted Vermont road my jeep passed a farmer sitting in his truck, which was almost completely covered by snow. "Are you stuck?" I called. He shook his head. "Would be if I was trying to get out."

The News goes to a Senior play

"Laughter is the best medicine", a saying that goes back many years, was found to be true by the NEWS photographer the evening of November 21. The subject matter being the Capitan Senior play "We Dude It"; a three act comedy directed by Mrs. Emma Gene Hall.

The setting of the play was in a ranch house somewhere in Texas. The ranch belonging to a lady from back East who had just inherited it from her uncle. Upon careful consideration and deliberation with the ranch hands she decides to turn it into a "Dude" ranch. Little did the lady know that with that turn of events many more would follow and perhaps a few situations that not every Easterner would be accustomed to.

Throughout the play each member of the cast was well aware that "Laughter is the best medicine" and was doing a fine job providing it. Several spots would be rather shocking if one would have had their eyes closed. Gunfire was used in several episodes to add more realism to what was the Western Style the play was following. No western play is complete lest it had some Indians in it. Jim and Maria provided that and also an old style ranchhand named Charlie Mudd.

A bad guy (not with a black hat) was ever present in the character of Zeb Lewis who was trying to 'Con' Doris Meachem out of the ranch. To the rescue was Mr. Logan a wealthy ranch owner and also next door neighbor. As the play progressed Mr. Logan seemed to be more and more attracted to the lovely Mrs. Meachem.

Boarders at the Dude Ranch were of mixed backgrounds starting with a professor Calvin Hinkley; a movie star Carla Vayne with a daughter who just could not stay out of mischief. Also the Cute French Maid Yvette and the wealthy Mr. Logan's daughter Donna. The efficient secretary of the movie star Miss Padgett was also present to keep the movie stars money matters straight.

It was a delightful play and well received by many. The stage props were very well made and added much realism.

Members of the cast were: Pat Griego, Bernie Gomez, Kenny Cummins, Burt Shrecengost, Susie Abercrombie, Kandie Huey, Ricky Richardson, Jerry Willis, Kirk Phillips, Sally Abercrombi, Megan LaMay, Jenann Kline and Stage Manager John Taylor.

A strange prospector, (Jerry Willis) gives Doris Meachem and one of her beaux Kirk Phillips a hard time.

The Indian (Bernie Gomez) can take only so much of the little paleface and decides to take discipline into her own hands. The pretty daughter (Kandie Huey) of the millionaire cheers on the event.

All the guests have gathered in for dinner and poor Doris Meachem is getting hit from all sides.

The eastern maid and baby sitter is fed up with the crazy dude-ranch.

(Photography by Action Photos)

Movie actress Carla Vayne can't take the excitement of the Indian attack; or is it she can't take the lack of attention.

A small dispute between Doris (Susie Abercrombie), owner, of the ranch, and Carla Vayne (Jenann Kline), famous movie star, over the man in their life.

Mrs. Meachem takes the guns and moves out on her own. The prospector is pretty thrilled at the thought of Indians and so is the little movie stars daughter, Stinkey.

Mrs. Meachem may be a little scatter-brained but she does know a line when she hears one. Zeb Lewis, (Kirk Phillips) is known for his smooth talking ways.

English invade mines

Over a ton of ore at a time came to the surface from about two hundred feet below. The man who operated the hoist was another expert whose skill was necessary to the mine operation.

The hills are silent except for an occasional bird call, a clatter of rock, a stir of breeze. The reminder of those days when the mountains around White Oaks were honeycombed by miners; the boom of dynamite and the clang of picks is attested to only by an abandoned mine shaft and frequent mine tailing.

Rabbits and squirrels scamper among the cedars and cactus. In the summer a mama cow and her calf wander among the abandoned buildings hidden in the hills. It is wise not to reach into a hole without looking first. A rattlesnake might be living there.

White Oaks rancher Bud Crenshaw shows the Little Mack mine scaffolding to English visitors Ian and Aileen Jackson. Ian runs a large cake factory in Manchester, England.

Wienie Roast

The hairiest hairy dog story we ever heard was told to us by Brother Dwight at Aztec. Here is the short version. An explorer had been hearing for years of a spot on coast of Africa where porpoises came close to achieving immortality by living forever. He immediately began planning the long trek to see if he could find this hidden spot. His travels were treacherous and rugged but after severe ordeals in the dense jungle he sighted markings that indicated he was near his goal. Just at the time he spotted a large lion laying right in the path and making not a move. So eager to reach his goal, he drew back and with a tremendous leap cleared the lion and headed down to the beach. Just at the moment he was grabbed by the local law and never heard from again. —The moral of this story is, you shouldn't cross a staid-lion for immortal porpoises.

W—R

Eleanor and Paul drove into Aztec Wednesday evening to spend Thanksgiving with Dwight and Gladys Payton, and wonderful hosts they are. Good snow that night and off and on through Saturday. Aztec, in San Juan County, has growth pains almost as bad as Farmington. They have the usual for new housing, lots of mobile homes, lots of low-priced housing, and what seemed an equal number of the $40,000 and up type houses. And, the usual fussing by people in the expensive homes not wanting the $15,000 places anywhere near.

W—R

Aztec has a near new municipal center, a monument to local hired city official, which the town does not know (yet) what to do with. According to Dwight, very little usage made of this large, government financed (mostly we think) structure.

W—R

We would still like to see how Artesia laid it on Pius in the 4th quarter. Also can't quite understand, at the same time seeing it happen, how a team can have 12 turnovers and still win the game—UCLA over USC. Dennis Burns had a tremendous season at Dexter but will have to wait for his state championship, Eunice beat the Demons.

Swiped from Duffy: Rock music: something that goes DIN one ear and LOUD the other. Everstoptothink?—a pickpocket is a "Helping Hand." Second Sudden Thought: It's going to be fun to watch and see how long the meek can keep the earth after they inherit it. Have you heard about the archaeologist who practiced Skull Dugger? From Dudley Serjus: There's nothing wrong with health care in this country that wouldn't be solved if people could afford it. A really good friend is someone who mails you an unsigned birthday card, so that you can mail it to someone else on short notice.

Heard one college athlete tell about the kind of jobs on campus for the guys who could make the team. He told this for the truth and as typical jobs— one was to swat the flies in the press box, another to turn fan on flag during games.

Otis has gotten old enough so he couldn't whip a six-month-old pup of any breed, yet he dominates the back porch and sleeping bunk. We slipper him a bit on the rear as he goes in the bunk but that does not stop him from growling at the other dogs as they come in.

We're trying to prove Malcolm Duncan, farmer up west of Estancia, wrong about ground pinto beans. He says birds or even hogs will not eat them. We've got some put out for out birds, but the test is not yet conclusive. Livestock will eat wet beans but the not the dry ones, says Malcolm.

Father Joe Sys is the new Catholic priest serving Lincoln County and he will probably find the rough western life civilized compared to his past service.

Father Sys studied in Detroit, Belgium, North Africa and Quebec Province. He was ordained in Ottawa Canada in 1941 as a member of the "Missionaries to Africa" popularly known as the "White Fathers".

In the middle of World War II he managed to reach Uganda which was then a part of British East Africa. After twenty-one years of service there, his health and the present government there prevent his returning.

Before coming to Lincoln County he worked for a half year in Los Angeles and at Nativity Parish in Alameda, New Mexico.

Notes from agent

With the New Mexico State University A Livestock Seminar will be held in Carrizozo on December 11, 1975 at the Carrizozo Recreation Center starting at 2:00 p.m.

The program will start with a panel discussion on "Predator Management." Panel members are Tony Treat, Woolgrower from Picacho, Bill Stephenson, Cattlegrower from Carrizozo and Frank Lamb, Fish and Wildlife Service. James Sachse, Extension Sheep Specialist at New Mexico State University will be moderator. Frank Lamb will give the group information on present Predator Management Research and Program. Tony Treat and Bill Stephenson will describe the predator situation in the sheep and cattle of the area.

"Getting the Most from Your Supplemental Feeds" will be discussed by Larry Foster, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist at New Mexico State University. A few of the things he will discuss are protein needs of livestock and when to feed.

Gene Ott, Extension Farm Management Specialist at New Mexico State University will review some of the information a rancher will consider in making decisions on selling their livestock.

Everyone interested is invited to attend this Livestock Seminar.

Nov. 24, Carrizozo FHA was treated to a very special program on law enforcement by S.M. Ortiz and Mr. Romero. Mr. Romero's presentation concerned the difficulties in which juveniles can become entangled and ways to avoid such entanglements. His many humorous side remarks kept members and guest keenly aware of what he was saying.

Mr. Ortiz spoke on the Children's Court, misdemeanor cases, and felony cases. He also explained how the probation system operates. He told of the process of filing a complaint and making an arrest. The National Crime Information Center reports that missing children is the number one problem for juvenile law enforcement and drugs and drinking make up the number two problem.

But there are plenty of rocks showing the kind of quartz that carries gold and Aileen and Ian Jackson, two White Oaks visitors from England, had quite an exciting day prospecting the White Oaks gold rush country.

The couple who live in Derbyshire County, near Manchester, England, were in New Mexico visiting their sister, Maureen Black, a correspondent in Alamogordo for the El Paso Times.

Bud Crenshaw, the unofficial mayor of White Oaks, agreed to show the visitors something of the old and something of the new in the area.

Bud is a part owner of the Little Mack mine. It is one of the more recently worked gold mines in the area and is safe, with an experienced guide, for a little mine crawling.

The Industrial Record of 1901 says about the Little Mack, "This property has been idle for 18 years on account of litigation. It is said that in the fall of 1883 the Little Mack produced some of the finest specimens ever seen in the district. The ownership of this mine is scattered all over the United States, from a forty-eight interest up, and for this reason the mine can not be worked. J.Y. Hewitt owns the largest interest. It is thought that somebody will have to buy the property and change the ownership before it will ever be worked. It is a free milling quartz gold proposition, 240-foot shaft and 600 feet of drilling.

Evidently it was bought because in 1938 and up to 1944 Bud along with Johnny Hall, Jake Fulmer, Rex Lewis, John Lewis and Bill Smith worked the mine.

They built a mill and one day took their gold to the mint in Denver. Bud said they had quite a trip. He doesn't tell how much gold they had but it was more than enough to make the trip worthwhile.

They also took three barrels of tungsten concentrate to Colorado. Bud showed his guests from England a seam of pure tungsten valued at $10,000.

He says there is a lot of gold left in the mine. The rails are still in place and the timber appears to be strong. He said the mine was ready to work.

It is one of the few mines, Crenshaw told us, that has both a vertical shaft and a horizontal mine entrance. We looked down the long shaft and then walked quite a distance down the mountain to the mine entrance.

At one point in the mine a porcupine glared at the visitors and a few bats fluttered past. The English couple and Maureen took a few samples out of the mine before we wandered back to day light.

A lot of folks feel that there are fortunes yet to be had in the many mines that are hidden in the White Oaks hills and mountains.

Little Snowflake?

Vanilla gorilla is a daddy

Snowflake, the "vanilla gorilla," has put away his dolls and settled down to being a father-at the ripe old age of 10.

The only albino gorilla known to science recently became a father for the second time. His first offspring died, but the second, a male named King, survived and is living with his parents in the Barcelona zoo.

Like the first baby, the second has the usual dark fur of gorillas. Biologists were not surprised. They had predicted there was only one chance in 50 that any progeny would be white.

Shares Cage with Female

Snowflake shares his cage with Endengui, a female donated by the National Geographic Society, which has supported an intensive study of the white gorilla.

Scientists hope the pair may start a line which could produce more white gorillas to aid in research into albinism, an inherited condition found among animals from mice to elephants and whales as well as among humans.

Snowflake, who weighs in at about 265 pounds and is still growing, now is more interested in tearing at automobile tires than playing with dolls, but for several years his favorite plaything was a blue-eyed, white-furred reproduction of himself. The first time the young ape saw the doll, he grabbed it, hugged it, and gently carried it about.

Though at that time Snowflake was dominated by his cagemate, a male named Muni, he valued the doll so highly that he vigorously defended it against Muni.

Dr. Arthur J. Riopelle, former director of Tulane University's Delta Regional Primate Research Center, studied Snowflake under a grant from the National Geographic's Committee for Research and Exploration.

Dr. Riopelle and others had to give up their close-quarters investigation when Snowflake's increasing weight and activity outreached the patience and strength of researchers in their sessions with him.

Vision is Impaired

They found that Snowflake apparently is like other gorillas except for his coloration and the slightly impaired daylight vision often found in albinos.

Snowflake's poor vision may have robbed him of youthful confidence; his cagemate dominated most of their activities and sometimes outshone him in Dr. Riopelle's tests.

Given a mirror, Snowflake ran from his first encounter with the glass, then later beat at his own image as if testing its reality. But Muni strode straight to the mirror and was fascinated by his reflection, seeming to realize that the image was not a real gorilla.

Snowflake, lowland gorilla, was found in October 1966 clinging to the body of his mother—a black ape shot by a farmer when she raided a banana patch in Rio Muni, then a province of Spain on the west coast of Africa.

Snowflake weighed 19 pounds when found. At maturity, he may reach 500 pounds and become a father many more times.

Whoopers land in New Mexico

The third and fourth of a new population of the rare whooping crane have been sited in New Mexico and Colorado, according to the N.M. Department of Game and Fish and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The third young bird arrived in New Mexico Tuesday afternoon at the state department's Bernardo Waterfowl Area in the Rio Grande Valley, along with a large flock of his "foster family," the greater sandhill crane. The fourth bird was seen in the Monte Vista, Colorado, area and is expected to move into the Rio Grande Valley soon.

The birds were raised by greater sandhill cranes in Idaho this summer, as part of a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service plan to establish a new flock of the endangered whoopers. The adopted whoopers are expected to migrate with the sandhills, wintering up and down the Rio Grande Valley.

The first whooping crane arrived at the Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge in late October, and the second was seen earlier this week at a Los Lunas dairy farm.

The Bernardo Waterfowl Area will be open to visitors as usual, said Roberto Acosta, manager. Spectators are not allowed to walk around the area, though, he added. "We are requiring visitors to stay in their cars and on the designated road," said Acosta. He explained that from the observation area, birdwatchers with binoculars should have a good view of the young whooper.

Acosta said the whooper is easily distinguished from the sandhills by its size and coloring. Bernardo is located about 30 south of Belen.

BSI reports big quarter jump

T.A. Bonnell, President and Chief Executive Officer of Bank Securities, Inc., New Mexico's statewide bank holding company, reported a record third quarter increase over the like period in 1974 in resources, deposits and loans. Combined resources of the corporation's banks and subsidiary companies, on September 30, 1975 were $286,417,635, an increase of 9.91 percent over the same period a year ago. Deposits of $243,586,145 also were up 12.57 percent. Loans outstanding amounted to $179,969,685, an increase of 6.62 percent.

Bank Securities, Inc. previously reported unaudited consolidated income for stockholders of $96,965 or $.61 per share, compared with $595,310 or $3.77 per share for the corresponding three quarters of 1974.

The Bank Securities, Inc. Directors declared a semi-annual dividend of 15 cents a share, payable January 2, 1976 to stockholders of record of December 15, 1975.

Mr. Bonnell said these figures show a substantial increase in earnings for our multi-bank holding company, and, therefore, we were able to increase the cash dividends paid our stockholders in 1975, on an annual basis, by 20 percent over the cash dividends paid in 1974.

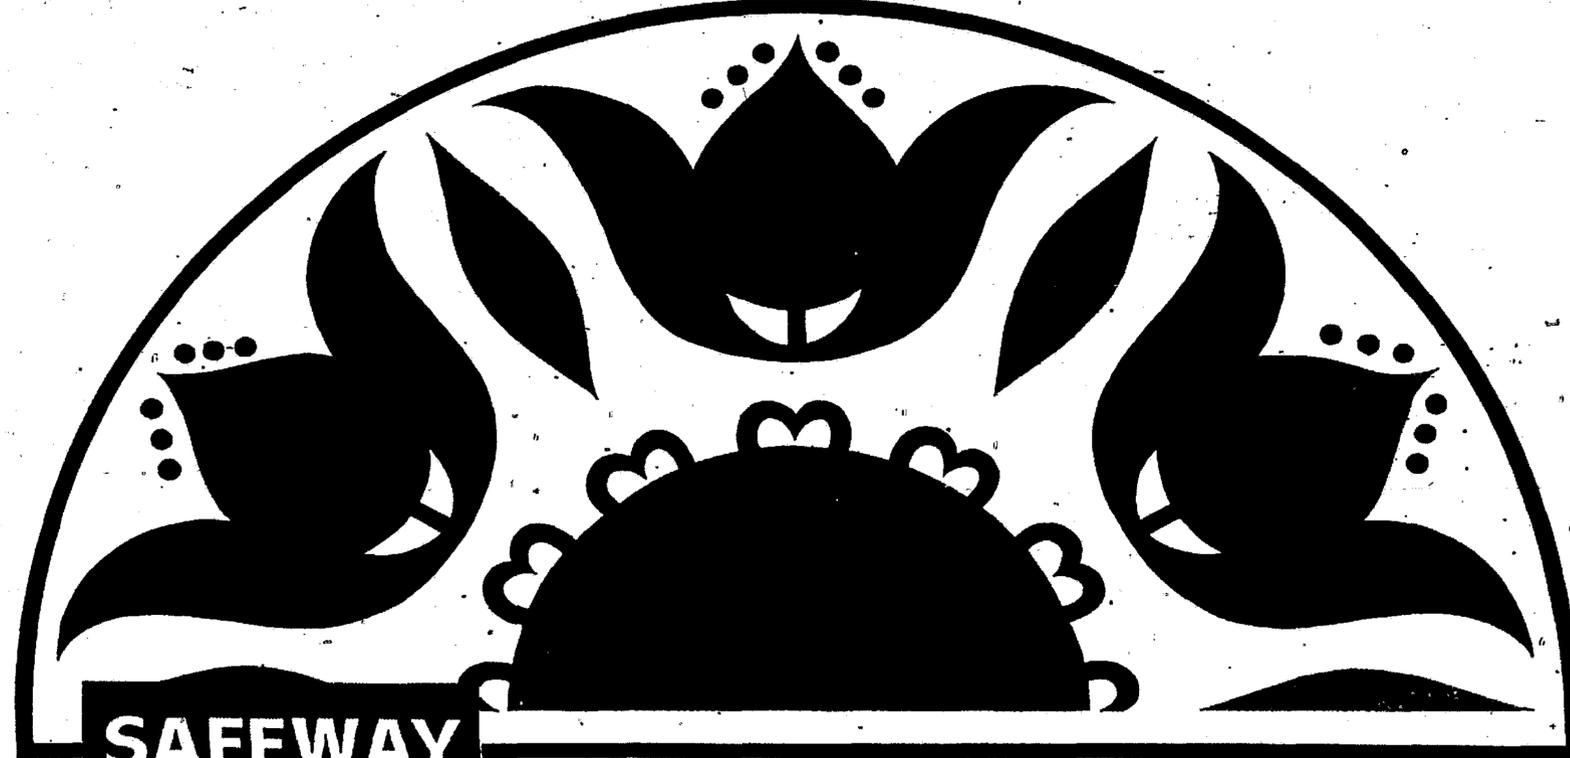

Eastern Star to install new officers

The Order of the Eastern Star will have open installation Saturday, December 6, at 2:30 p.m. at the Masonic Lodge in Carrizozo.

Installing officer Stewart Apgar, Los Alamos; installing marshal Ethel Roberts; Comet No. 29; installing chaplain Vernon Petty; installing secretary Qweneth Petty; installing organist Ruth Sorenson, Alamogordo No. 11; soloist Hilge Craig, Alamogordo; Bible bearer Brenda Lindsay, Assembly No. 7; the escorts Stewart IV and Scott Apgar, Vernice Monroe; presentation of corsages Seam and Sheldon Apgar. Worthy Matron elect, Thelma Apgar.

Snowflake, only albino gorilla known to science, recently became a father for the second time. Color of both offspring was black. The first died, but the second, a male named King, is living in the Barcelona zoo with its parents. The mother is a gift of the National Geographic Society, sponsor of studies of Snowflake, who now is 10 years old and weighs about 265 pounds.

Library has new learning center

A new and interesting area has been added to the Ruidoso Municipal Library. It is a "Self-Learning Center" set up by the Cooperative Extension Service of New Mexico State University. This reading center will give people in the Ruidoso area the opportunity to take advantage of the many publications offered by N.M.S.U. and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The center was set up by Extension Home Economist, Mary Ellen Payne. Ms. Payne is headquartered in the County Extension Office in the County Courthouse in Carrizozo.

A wide variety of reading materials are available. There are two types—those to read in the library and those that can be ordered and kept by the interested person. The bulletins can be ordered on a self-addressed, postage-free card that is provided in the reading center. Those publications carry this notice:

This bulletin is available from the Lincoln County Ext. Office. Please order on cards provided.

The publications that are not available carry this notation:

LIBRARY COPY ONLY.

Please leave this bulletin for others to read and enjoy. Individual pages may be copied to suit your needs.

The topics covered include, but are not limited to, the following: "Making Cheese at Home"; "Chill"; "The Underworld Story"; "Making Lingerie"; "Choosing & Using Mobile Homes"; "Repair a Leaking Faucet"; "Sourdough—Yesterday's Mainstay, Today's Treat"; "How to Control Pinon Needle Scale Insects"; and the popular Ruidoso request: "A Cook's Almanac for Altitude Problems."

These booklets are available free in single copies to anyone.

The "Self-Learning Center" is located just inside the front entrance to the Library in the checkout desk area.

Everyone is invited to use this center and visit it often, as the types of publications offered will change some with the seasons.

Officer Dale Housley found casings lying in the snow. The gun used was a .30.06 rifle and the bullets were an armour piercing type.

with favor on an annexation petition from Huey. On hand to vigorously object to the annexation was Bill Joyce a Texas absentee owner who said he plans to build a home on his property and move to the area shortly. Joyce told the meeting that he did not have and did not want town water. He said he had been refused permission to join on the line when he bought the property and was not interested now. He said he wanted what he bought and nothing more.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Romero who live in the area asked about restrictions and town plans for service if the area is annexed. They were told that only existing subdivision restrictions would apply and that since the town has no zoning and no restrictions, there would be nothing new.

Mayor Johnston said that the town would provide water, fire hydrants and garbage pickup. Street work would be done when necessary and feasible but no sewer lines are contemplated.

Trustee Walton Hall said that the increase in taxes would cost less than the increase in water bills.

Lemoyns Carpenter, real estate broker and subdivider of the area, said that he strongly favored the annexation. He said he had been waiting for years to get water and would do anything to get it.

He and Torres had a heated exchange of words over the terms of sale by Carpenter of the Torres property. Carpenter said he owned other land he would like to have annexed and requested an annexation petition.

J.F. Wright appeared and asked how the annexation petition could have been passed without his knowing about it. Witham explained that the only legal requirements was for more than 50 percent of the residents to sign the request.

Mr. Claud Walker, not a resident of the newly annexed area, wanted to know why other outlying property owners were not asked about annexation. He was told that any property owners bordering on the town limits could petition for annexation.

Ernest Trujillo wanted to know why it would not be possible for water user not in the town limits to pay a surcharge for the water improvement rather than be annexed or have rates tripled. Johnston said that the surcharge would not go to the same source and would not equalize the burden for tax-paying residents.

After discussion as to the feasibility of omitting certain blocks of land, the trustees decided to accept the annexation on total and so voted unanimously.

In other business the trustees of the village passed an election proclamation calling for an election of two trustees on March 2, 1976. Filing for the office will be January 27, 1976 and voting registration deadline is Jan. 20, 1976.

The positions to be filled are presently held by Dick Beck and Herman Otero.

pleads, pronounced koo-pon, the "cou" sounding like a dove coo, the "pon" as in a duck pond. Please, says Frank, Not "cue" as in a pool cue. Webster's does say that, in the U.S., it is often pronounced "kupon" (pool "cue" pon) but Frank says it's wrong, wrong, wrong.

His other ardent dislike, and one of mine, is athletes who say they like ATH A LET ICS. There is only one A in athletics and only three syllables. Thus, ladies and gentlemen, you are athletes who engage in athletics and NOT athAletes who like athAletics.

W-W

Now it is my turn. Several times a month this reporter sits in meetings of councils, boards, commissions, clubs and other august bodies of deliberation. Many of these groups, as well as many companies and corporations, conduct their financial business and render their accounts for a year that begins other than on January 1 and ends 365-days later. As we all know, a year that begins on January 1 and ends on December 31 is known as a "calendar" year.

The other kind of year has a different name. It is known as a "fiscal year" and means a year relating to financial matters. For businesses, it often begins on the date the company was established. For governmental groups it often begins on June 1 for reasons that varied and often inexplicable.

My complaint is not the use of a fiscal year for accounting. It is the pronunciation heard week after week. It is a "fiscal" year and not a "physical" year. Fiscal is pronounced "fis" as in fisson and fist(t).

One more and we will return to amusement. There is no such word as "irregardless" in the English language and some of us hope that common usage will not put it there, ever.

Think, dear readers. Regardless means without regard. "Ir" is a negative meaning "without" as in "irrational" meaning not rational or "irreverence" meaning without reverence. So to use the make believe word "irregardless" one would be saying "not without regard" which is the exact opposite of the intended meaning. It is more of the old double negative bit, required in Spanish but a "no, no" in English.

W-W

After growing up hearing my father talk about two bits, four bits, six bits; singing a'a shave an a hair cut, four bits"; shouting "two bits, four bits, six bits a dollar. All for Zozo stand up and hollar"; today, I know what it means.

For those of you who share my past ignorance, a bit is one eighth of a Spanish silver dollar. Yes, dear hearts, in the days of yore when a dollar was such a tremendous sum of wealth that it changed hands only in trade for land, a horse or perhaps fine sword, the silver dollar was cut into eight pieces and two bits, or pieces, was a quarter of a dollar.

W-W

Finally, as we neared the New Mexico line, the dust was coming from the West so fast and thick that we couldn't see more than a few feet ahead. We smiled and spit out the dirt and said, knowing it was good old New Mexico dirt, that it tasted fine and next stop, Tammy could finally have a drink of water to wash it down. How's that for three naturalized New Mexicans?

A quartette of horse buyers have spent the past week here, looking over a bunch collected by the Finleys, Trude and Rely. The purchases are for the French army.

The output of Tungsten by the White Oaks mines is now being hauled to this point instead of to the Rohnart siding, six miles above town. William Barnett has been awarded the contract for hauling ore, timber for the White Oaks Mines Consolidated. A shipment of seven tons of tungsten was made from here yesterday.

Stanton - Our commanding officer has approved some 25 of the leading magazines, which have been subscribed for.

San Patricio - Buster Wootson is hauling Mr. Kirkland's apples to Roswell. C. D. Morrison started with a load of them today, as did J. J. Reeves. We believe if the people up and down the river and the Bonito would get together and lay the matter properly before the railroad officials, that the E. P. & S. W. could be persuaded to extend its Capitan branch on down to Hondo.

Carrizozo was represented by its entire teaching force and the superintendent at the NMEA convention in Albuquerque.

Col. L. B. Parsons, of Birmingham, Alabama, an old friend of Harry Dixon, is visiting the Dixons at their ranch near the malpais.

R. L. Hust, Roy Skinner and James Gatewood left yesterday for Elephant Butte in one of Hank Ford's machines, and if it holds together they intend to return via El Paso.

Work in overhauling the milling plant at Parsons and the installation of new machinery is in progress. The power line lacks only a little of completion.

WANTED - A few Boarders in private family; good board, warm rooms; rates $6.50 to $7 per week. Mrs. Edith Booth, first north of Outlook building.

Mr. Payton:

Many thanks for sending me your paper here in Spain. I am looking forward to reading every copy that comes here to me and so are my friends, that also enjoy reading about our home town.

Your very informative paper keeps me up to date on what is happening back home and that is very important to all of us who are away from home. I'm sure.

Please keep up the excellent work on your paper, and I wish you, and all the people a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

I hope to return again in March of 1976 to visit. And I know it will be an enjoyable one.

Take care and God Bless everyone.
As Always,
Edward Lee O'Brien

Dear Editor,

Just read with interest your news about Smokey The Bear - I'm glad he is going to rest in Capitan, his birth place being in the nearby Capitan Mts. I'd like folks to know (those who don't already) that Pat and Ross Flatley, Capitan, N.M. probably did more than most folks know to keep Smokey alive when he was badly burned from the fire at his very young age. They could tell you or who-ever will be getting ready for his ceremony. Another person who has been a fan of Smokey's and led many young children in school to respect the symbol is Leota Pfingsten. She sang "Smokey The Bear" first time I ever heard it and taught it to many children.

From the Nov. 27, 1975 edition of the Ruidoso News, Mr. Editor:
This is in reference to you local Chamber of Commerce sale of Smokey Bear Commemorative Coins.
We the people of Capitan, and especially myself, are unhappy at this turn of events.
Mr. Leo Comallie of Southwest Medallion met with me after talking to Mr. Cothrun and promised me a day to secure financing for this project if we were interested. The next day I contacted Mr. Comallie (by phone) while he was in the company of Mr. Cothrun in the Security Bank. I assured him that I had all the financing necessary for purchase of the Smokey Bear Coins. At that time his sole interest was how many I could buy and I assured him that I could match any offer he had. I never heard from Mr. Comallie again.
According to the Ruidoso News and Richard Cothrun's news release a deal was made.
The people of Capitan and myself are nearing two years of hard, tedious, and costly work at getting Smokey Bear back to his birthplace. So, therefore, we question highly the end purpose of Richard Cothrun's project. I feel that any monies derived from the Worldwide Image of Smokey Bear (especially in the immediate area) should go undivided to the Park facility in Capitan.
With local feeling so high I hope Mr. Cothrun doesn't come to Capitan. Basically, we are a peaceful Village.
Thanks for listening Mr. Editor.
