Town troubles two years in making

by Paul Payton

There was a near full house at Carrizozo town hall last Thursday night to hear Mayor Bud Payne and Al Romero, chief of the State Department of Finance, go over financial condition of the Town of Carrizozo. That condition is not good, in fact it is illegal for a municipality to spend money not on hand and in various ways over the past two years money has been spent until now a deficit of $16,139.21 exists with no money on hand for payoff.

Romero stated that he was not here to criticize, he had been born and raised in Lincoln and went to school in Capitan. Both the town and county were places that brought back memories.

Romero continued. The only reason the town had funds for anything was that bills were not being paid. The last two years the legislature has approved and the town has received at least $10,000, and Romero was not sure that revenue sharing would continue which has been the only outside source of revenue.

The charges for water, garbage service, occupation and liquor licenses generated local income but were not keeping up with expenses for the same services.

The new garbage system cost in excess of $60,000, monthly payments are $1,100 and revenues will not take care of those costs. Romero said that in all towns he knew about the people had paid for the containers - not so in Carrizozo.

Carrizozo's town budget for 1976-77 has not been approved and will not be approved by the state until the local financial condition is improved. Romero said he would want reports each month, would be here as often as necessary to see that the town was operating properly within the law. Salaries will be paid and other matters on an emergency basis only.

The Town has total salary obligation of $67,348.56 which leaves only $9,000 on which to operate the town which is not near enough.

Back to the garbage truck. Romero said there were law violations here. The Council and public had been informed that there was enough money - there was not. The lowest bid was not accepted, the assignment of financing paper is questionable. The purchase agreement should have gone to the Department of Finance for approval - it didn't. At the time of purchase there was no money available to pay for the garbage truck. Other purchases are in violation of the law. Romero stated, $18,000.00 was spent for fire truck without benefit of bidding process. The invoice was dated five days before the town council acted on fire truck purchase. Contract also faulty. The minutes on purchase of police vehicle show amount as less than invoice.

The obligations of the town will haunt you until they are paid. You don't have the money, said Romero.

The motor vehicle department operates here for service. It costs the Town $7,000, revenues back from state are $900. Will discuss possible reimbursement for the motor vehicle department. The Town can't be taking a loss like that.

Mayor Payne commented that people should be able to buy their license plates at county seat.

Romero again. There is no way to come out as the Town is being operated. The only relief is curtailment of service, and raise more revenue. The quarter-cent tax on gross receipts is one way. The town can do this by ordinance, resolution or vote of the people. The town will have to raise rates for water, garbage and possible tax on private utilities such as pole tax.

Town purchase procedures have been very lax by department heads. Some departments were over spent by December of 1975. Stricter controls are needed. Romero's department will help set up accounting controls. Will probably take six months to come out of the deficit.

The Town was advised to use one general fund account by auditor years ago which has allowed various departments to overspend simply by the money coming from another department.

Romero said that one Carrizozo person has been very generous. (Dr. and Mrs. A.N. Spencer). While the Town is broke, the Recreation Fund has $32,000.00 on hand and can pay their vouchers. He advised against switching funds.

Bill Payne said the Town gets some free telephones and street lights in lieu of pay for poles planted around the Town.

Mayor Payne estimated that at least 50 water meters were broken. He commented that it's been five to eight years since water rates have gone up. Airport lights have been a courtesy with no income - they have been turned off. The new garbage truck has broken down so that the old one had to be used, which put three men on that pickup job.

Jesse English, asked, how do you classify workers. Mayor, I don't know.

Romero said the garbage department should at least break even. Willie Silva said that at the time the Council approved purchase of the garbage system, they were told it would break even.

Mayor Payne asked if there was any possibility of recovery of money on previous mayor's bond. Romero said such decision would be made in Santa Fe.

Jim Freeman asked if the deficit is cleared, would Town have to increase revenues. Romero answered, yes, there is $15,896.57 deficit now, the Town can't borrow. Freeman asked if town people can be assessed. Romero said that would be up to the Town Board, have to adopt an ordinance, would take three months at the minimum, maybe six months to produce any money from assessment.

Mayor Payne said the quarter-cent tax looks best. Also double water rates, no pay for firemen, swimming pool is closed, no street repair and no work on improving water line pressure. The Town is about ready to take bids on the industrial park, we can handle that, which will improve water pressure on the south side of town.

Romero said the Town really needs about $50,000 to get going. He then suggested that there have been places where the Mayor appointed an advisory committee. Mayor Payne asked, how does the Board feel.

Gladney Stubbs asked, how long can the town operate without drastic action. Romero answered, got to give the Town Board time to act.

Mayor Payne suggested a six-person advisory board which was quickly upped to ten and volunteers started coming from the audience, with few recommendations about this and that person.

The ten advisory board members are: Eddie O'Brien, Frank Montoya, Ray Roper, Marvin Rowan, Liz MacVeigh, Gladney Stubbs, Ariene Najjar, Jack Turner, Jesse English and James Freeman.

Mayor Payne said that he might appoint a new Recreation Committee in the next few days. The Town has a rough set of ordinances being looking into.

There was one discussion about why the Town Board accepted high bid on the garbage truck - mainly because of shorter delivery time. Containers cost the Town close to $40,000.

Romero said that auditors would come in at the end of August, then the Town will be on monthly report. We will make projection when we get back next time, about what the town needs from each department & other sources to operate in the black. Meter deposit money can not be spent, if people move out of town the money reverts to the state.

Marvin Rowan asked if indebtedness included bonds voted. Answer was no. There is some $82,865.64 in bond account. $38,000 came in, the engineers have been paid the difference, thus some legal fees.

Romero suggested that the mayor and department heads get together and set out money requirements to operate their departments.

All in all the people at the meeting were most cooperative with the Town Council in trying to work out the problem. No criticism was offered, just words of help.

Meeting adjourned. Mayor Payne will schedule meeting with the Advisory Committee in the near future.

Romero tells a full house that the whole Carrizozo financial story will take some time to

Elva Wilson and Emily Barton look over a ceramics display that has a little of everything.

Burritos, ice cream, pop, sandwiches ruined diets but it was a once in two hundred years event for Carrizozo and the nation. From the left are Hannah Barker, Dolly Ward, Carolyn Cantrell, Barbara Ward and Jim Cantrell leading the cheering.

Mollie Bosh birthday party

by Sue Stearns

This month Mollie Bosh of Nogal will be 100 years old and her birthday party has become a part of Lincoln County's Bicentennial celebrations.

The whole village of Nogal will honor Mollie with a celebration Sunday, August 29, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and everyone is invited.

Mollie was born in 1876 on a farm twelve miles south of Bonan, Texas. Her parents were cotton farmers. When Mollie was four years old the family moved to west Texas. There she married James Lee.

They had two children: Marcus Lee, who is living in Alamogordo, and Clara Lee, living in Calif. James was a peace officer and was killed in 1914. Mollie's brother, Frank Lollar, wrote asking that she move to New Mexico after her husband's death.

Mollie and children sold their home and furnishings and moved to Clauch in 1921. Five years later she met and married Henry Bosh. They homesteaded a farm near Clauch and eventually had 1275 acres which they used to raise cattle and beans. Mollie says some years they made lots of beans and had lots of money, and other years things weren't so profitable. But they were happy.

Sundays were spent going to Sunday school and church and then visiting friends. Those were good times. They would hitch up the team to the wagon and off they'd go. Mollie still spends her Sundays at church and visiting friends.

She recalls that they finally got a second hand pickup around 1950 and she is still partial to a pickup. They didn't have electricity or gas until around 1950 either. She remembers that they paid $30 to have the house wired for electricity.

She and Henry moved to Nogal in 1950. Henry passed away in 1964.

Mollie maintains her home. She raises a garden and flowers and feeds approximately six cats who have adopted her.

When asked what she thinks the best invention in her lifetime has been she replied "the telephone"; but it's hard to decide which is woman's best convenience - the refrigerator or washing machine.

Just before being asked what she attributes her longevity to, she said, "The next person who asks why I've lived so long - I'm going to say 'because I'm from Texas!' She drinks lots of milk, buttermilk and coffee and she thinks good coffee keeps her healthy.

Her attitude towards life is to try to be kind to everyone, to love everyone, and to have faith. She lives by these rules and in return she has been richly rewarded. Her home is full of tokens of love from friends and neighbors - and this week she has a table top full of birthday cards, all saying "love to you, Mollie".

John Ferguson of Roswell will provide music for her party Sunday. Melody Porter of Nogal will sing. Refreshments will be served.

Peoples Market Place

Elva Wilson and Emily Barton look over a ceramics display that has a little of everything.

Burritos, ice cream, pop, sandwiches ruined diets but it was a once in two hundred years event for Carrizozo and the nation. From the left are Hannah Barker, Dolly Ward, Carolyn Cantrell, Barbara Ward and Jim Cantrell leading the cheering.

The band stand was Lincoln County's Bicentennial float converted for the day. The music comes from a group of Arnold Boyce's former students who returned for the weekend show.

Thank you, everyone

Debbie Bhasker, Chair-person of the People's Market Place, Elinor Olson, her assistant and I want to say thank you to a lot of people for a happy Sunday afternoon. But first, since I do the writing, I get to tell everyone that these two women worked miracles in organization, keeping their families happy while they did it. They turned an idea into a reality and they have my gratitude.

Mary Rich

The "Peoples Market Place" was Carrizozo's Bicentennial party. It was started by the Carrizozo Woman's Club with the help of the Lincoln County Bicentennial Commission.

It grew to include all the organizations in Carrizozo and the surrounding area. Artists, craftsmen, and musicians from as far as El Paso and Albuquerque came to make it a success.

It is quite a story and we have tried to tell it with words and pictures on the inside of the News. Here is a special 'thank you' to the people who came early Sunday morning to the park and set up tents, booths and equipment; to the clubs who brought displays, sold food, had games, to the musicians who made music; to the people who cleaned up and, to all the people who came and had fun and made it a 'people's market' place.

Thank you from Debbie, Elinor and Mary to: Johnson Stearns and the Citizens State Bank, Mayor Bud Payne, Ralph Dunlap, Danny Knight, Danny Ware, Frank Hoff, Les Olson, Jim Steinepreis, Dr. Ravi Bhasker, Paul Salgado, Nick Serna, Jack Magee, George Martinez, Nat Chavez, Nat Palomarez, Jr., Reuben Chavez, Bob Means, Ken Means, Jim Naurer, Marvin Rowin, Sonny Banning, Larry Wilkinson, Polly Chavez, Aileen Lindamood, Thelma Apgar, Dorothy Simmons, Margaret Lane, Alma Sherrill, Arnold Boyce, (and his alumni band), Doug Jarrard, Paul Gutierrez, Karen DeBerge, Mrs. Lawson and the FHA, the Jr. High Cheerleaders, Tammy Hourigan, Cyn of Capitan, Linda Henning, the Church of Christ, FFA, People of St. Rita's, the 4-H clubs, the James family, Tom Blake, the Lions Club, The American Legion and Auxiliary, Snooks McDaniel, Emaline Beck of Capitan the Senior Extension Club, Harriet Reymore of Albuquerque, the Baptist Church Pottery by Rousseau, The fiddlers Sherril Lindley, Marilyn Lindley, Ken Clark, John Ferguson, Joe Graham, V. T. Burnes, Bee Don Bates, Charlene Upton, Kim Brimberry, Randy Chapman, Olin James, Fred Wood, Jimmy Tusing, and their guitar players.

And all the other 700 people whose names have been left out by mistake.

La Luz sets all

Indian craft show

Plans for the third annual ALL INDIAN ARTS AND CRAFTS show held at the Gallery LaLuz over the Labor Day weekend have been completed and several new things have been added for this year's show.

One of the new features of this year's show will be a lecture, "The Changes in Southwest Indian Arts" on the five major crafts. Clara Lee Tanner will be the speaker. The program will be held at the School for the Visually Handicapped at 7:00 p.m., Thursday, September 2. Mrs. Tanner is professor of Anthropology, University of Arizona, Emeritus 1975-76.

She is the author of more than eighty articles in Scientific Journals, Magazines, books, and Newspapers, largely on Southwestern Indian Arts and Crafts. She has four books published on Southwest Indian paintings, & Southwest Indian Crafts. A recent publication is Ray Manley's, "Portraits and Turquoise of Southwest Indians." She has a long list of honors to her credit including, "Who's who in American Women," and "Who's who in America, 1976."

Another new feature for this year's show will be "Silversmiths at Work" at the Gallery LaLuz on Saturday and Sunday, Sept 4 and 5 making various items while the visitors watch and perhaps have special items made if time permits.

This year for the first time, special cash grand awards and plaques will be given in paintings, pottery, baskets, beadwork, jewelry, sand painting, and weaving.

An award of Excellence will also be given by the Gallery LaLuz members. Receipt of this award is chosen by artists of the gallery.

The show will be judged by Allan Houser, noted Indian sculptor of Santa Fe, and Lawrence Golsh, noted Indian painter and jeweler of Phoenix. Both artists have been invited to show some of their work at the Gallery.

The patrons and gallery members will have a luncheon at the Bob Godby home for the exhibitors at noon on September 2. This function is given for those who are working on the program and the exhibitors so that they may get acquainted and exhibitors may offer suggestions on how to better the show and offer added features of interest to the exhibits.

Items already pledged for the show include: Jewelry, rugs, sand paintings, pottery, silk screen prints, paintings, and beadwork.

The Gallery will be closed Thursday afternoon for the judging, and Friday for hanging and displaying. (Sept. 2 and 3)

Mr. Houser will give a lecture to the exhibitors only. The time will be set at the exhibitors' luncheon.

The Gallery LaLuz is a non-profit organization. The program is funded by the New Mexico Art Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Dates for the show are: Sept 4, 5 and 6 from 10:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. The Gallery is located on Florida Ave. in La Luz, N.M.

Cowbelle beef cook-off tops

"Unique and Useable" might have been the theme for the second Annual Beef Cook-off sponsored by the New Mexico Cowbells. First place went to Mrs. Kenneth Barbe of Roswell who prepared Mescalero Meat Loaf surprise. The meatloaf, itself, baked in a ring mold, included canned ranch style beans, which made for unusual texture; but the light vegetable filling was truly unique, containing egg plant, okra, peppers and corn meal. Mr. and Mrs. Barbe and their 4 children have been New Mexico farmers since 1948. She is a member of Eastern Star, Daughters of the American Revolution, Genealogical Society of Roswell, DeMolay Boys Mother's Club and Berrendo Cowbells. Mrs. Barbe won $100 plus prizes and a trip to Salt Lake City in September to represent New Mexico in the National Beef Cook-Off.

Excellent facilities at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces made it comfortable for the ten contestants to present their finished dishes to judges Mrs. Charles Thorpe of Las Cruces, Boe Cox of Organ & Sato Leg of Horse Springs, a vice president of New Mexico Cattle Growers. The judges awarded second prize to Mrs. Nicki Meyer of Santa Fe who leads a very active life yet likes to cook for her four children "who like to eat". Her Spanish Steak reflects those facts. It is basically a "swiss steak" technique but includes pinto beans and unique flavor tricks.

Antoinette Borde, a Senior at NMSU from Columbus, took third with her Columbus Stuffed Steak. Again, care in flavoring for the stuffing sets this attractive dish apart. Miss Borde is an active member of Borderbelle Cowbells, Farm Bureau, Delta Zeta Sorority, Phi Kappa Phi and is life guard in the summer at the Columbus pool.

It is interesting to note recipes this year reflected the needs of modern active women whose families like to eat well. They include convenience foods in spite of their higher cost. Even so, because of the satisfying qualities of beef, the winning recipe, for example, figured at only about 50 cents per serving. Most recipes, too, are versatile enough that homemakers can, when time permits, do some "from scratch", such as the bread stuffing crumbs in the stuffed steaks, leftover home cooked beans in others and so forth.

Contestants this year ranged from college age to grandparents, men and women, native New Mexicans born on homesteads to recent transplants from New Hampshire and Kansas. All had two common denominators: a love of cooking and a love of life! While not guaranteed to transmit these qualities, their recipes are delicious and economical sources of the best nutrition available. Recipes can be obtained from Mrs. Joe Hill Nunn, Rt. 2 Box 26, Deming, NM 88030, for $1.00 to cover handling costs. Other competitors and their entries were:

Mrs. Patrick F. Caulfield, Albuquerque - Beef Supreme Casserole using noodles in lasagne-like layering, suitable for freezing.

Mrs. Ace Christmas, Raton - Mexicali Carne Con Queso which features her own cheese sauce, one of the rare ones truly compatible with beef dishes.

Extra SS pay is available

The Lincoln County, 259 receive supplemental security payments because they are 65 or over, or blind, or disabled," Gordon G. Lunsford, social security field representative, stated today. "These payments are based on financial need.

"Because almost any change in a person's living conditions may effect the amount of financial help he or she needs, changes in a person's living arrangements, income, or resources should be reported to the nearest social security office promptly.

"Benefits received under other law suits may change eligibility for or the amount of an individual's SSI benefit. For example, under certain conditions the Department of Housing and Urban Development pays rent subsidies for persons living in private housing. These payments are made under Section 8 of Public Law 92-213, and until October 1 will cause the monthly benefits of a SSI recipient to be reduced. Anyone who receives SSI benefits should report promptly any such rent subsidy received during August and September. The law has been changed so that after October 1 the receipt of rent subsidy will not change the SSI benefit," Lunsford explained.

"When several months are involved, the amount of an over payment due to not reporting additional income may be sizable. Withholding such overpayments from future checks results in a tremendous hardship for most people. This hardship can be avoided by reporting changes promptly," Lunsford emphasized.

THE WAY OF THE WEST

by Mary Rich

This is August's last Way of the West so hang in there, neighbor, the end is in sight. The end in mind is the Bicentennial summer of fetes, feasts, fiestas, festivals, fairs and what was a lot of frantic fun in Lincoln County.

There are still events in October and September but most of those are in the hands of the professionals like the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce. We country folks can sit back and enjoy it all.

This preamble is another weak excuse for things I missed, misreported, for pictures not taken or not run and for the misspelled names. Pate and I never retract but we are both known to explain.

Last week when the publisher was off fishing the News staff had a lot of flu, accompanied by the usual fevers, aches and an unusual number of Paynes.

I managed to miss the flu and fever but man alive I used a lot of Paynes in this hallowed publication.

My trouble was reporting the city story. I had two B. Paynes and sometimes had Bill Payne presiding and Bud Payne ruling. (As time goes by, the editor, proof reader, typesetter and pasteup person (sometimes all the same person) will learn the care and concern necessary to keep the mayor and the attorney in their proper places.

W—W

At the Old Lincoln day festivities I met an L.M. Porter from California who was with a descendent of the Baca who helped found Lincoln County. He returned to Northridge and sent me a copy of "Westways" a westcoast mag that carried the Billy the Kid story and described our pageant and pony express race. It was that story that brought the two gentlemen in our direction.

The magazine came in an envelope addressed to Mary No. 1 Reporter. Thanks Nick and Bob for remembering how I make my living.

W—W

The same weekend and race is responsible for the following absolutely true, true story:

I made the early morning gathering at White Oaks and at the sound of the starting gun turned west and raced down the high way on my metal steed to beat the riders going east to Lincoln.

Actually I was hurrying to get to the Whortley Hotel to get a table for Eleanor and Debbie before the crowd arrived.

At Carrizozo I stopped at Monte Vista Texaco to feed my Opal some gas and stopped for the same purpose as officer Dale Housley of the State Mounted Police.

Knowing every other law enforcement person was already in Lincoln or was leading the way for the real riders on those mountain roads, I slyly asked Dale if he was going to Lincoln.

Oh yes, he said, in about five minutes after he ran an errand.

Ho, ho, I thought. "Well, officer, I'll just creep along the road and latch onto your tail when you come by."

I really thought Dale looked at me as if... well police are used to inane remarks.

So I crept along at just under 55 watching the rear view.

Now to those of you unfamiliar with the road involved, the pony-express-riders-make-the-back-country trip in about two hours and a few more minutes. The trip from White Oaks is about 13 miles on paved roads to Carrizozo. There are another 35 or so miles on to Lincoln.

Imagine my surprise then when Dale passed me red light on tearing up that highway at something over 70 (remember 70 MPH?)

Boy, I thought, Dale, must have taken me seriously. Whee and wow, hold your hats, we are going to make tracks.

Alas, alas. Back in the initial gasoline price raising days when 50 cents a gallon looked like a bundle and there was talk of rationing, I traded for a 4 cylinder Opal that sniffs gas instead of eating it.

Now that little bitty car just won't go over 40 MPH over Indian Pass and I have forgotten how to take curves at high speeds. But I was striving to take advantage of a once in a decade chance to put the old wagon to the limit.

I lost Dale somewhere short of Capitan but kept wheeling until I chickened out at the Capitan town limits.

And there in the parking lot of the shopping center, in that pretty tree covered village was Dale still blinking his lights. He had been hurrying to the scene of a wreck.

Don't give up yet, friends; the tale gets better.

The wreck involved two mother cycles and one black cadillac. Businessman-looking-type and his fully grown son were the bike riders. A young woman appeared to be the driver of the car.

I got out my trusty pad and started asking questions. Standing by Dale were the two gents answering questions. I observed with my reporting eye that the older man had a badly cut arm.

Are you alright, I asked him.

"No, I am not alright," he said. "I have a broken arm."

My motherly instinct overcame the old news nose and I asked Dale if the man shouldn't go to the hospital (pardon, Health Center).

Dale allowed as how an ambulance had been called.

It seemed to me that the man was weaving a little and I volunteered to take him to the hospital. Dale looked a bit put out and I sort of thought he wanted me to return to news gathering, preferably in Lincoln. I persisted, telling the man to get in my car.

He declined. I insisted. Dale finally said, Mary, he says he is not going to the hospital and I can't make him go.

Well, thought I, a woman's touch is needed. Come on, I said to the man, you must be in a little bit of shock, I'll take you.

Lady, he said rather loudly, I am not going to the hospital anyway and certainly not with a female driver. My son is going to tie my arm to a broom stick and we are going to get on our bikes and get out of this state as quick as possible. We have traveled 800 miles in New Mexico and three women drivers have turned in front of me so far. I just hope we can stay alive to the state line.

I left Dale to handle the Texans and hurried on (55 MPH) to Lincoln where I met a lot of nice people from other states who like New Mexico, women and horses.

There was plenty of room at the Whortley but Eleanor and Debbie didn't arrive until late. Instead Orene, Mary and Bud Crenshaw had lemonade with me. The people at the next table, probably Texans, heard me telling this tale and almost fell on the floor laughing. Or it might be they were laughing at that story Bud told about (censored).

Letters to the editor

Dear Mary,

Just a quick note of thanks to all of the people who were kind enough to help with the Billy the Kid rodeo.

It's a lot of hard work to produce a little show and everyone involved worked as a team to make the show a success.

My sincere personal thanks to everyone who helped with the rodeo.

-s- Larry Dean

Dear Paul,

I would like to thank everyone for all the nice help given to my committee and myself on the reception for the Voz Vaqueros Saturday night - we certainly appreciate all of you.

We thought the crowd was great and hope everyone enjoyed it as much as we enjoyed the opportunity of being a part of it.

Several of the men told us that of all the places they had performed, Carrizozo had the friendliest and most hospitable people of all. A great tribute and I think a most fitting one for Carrizozo.

Thanks to all, -s- Veta Allen

Dear Editor,

I am writing to you regarding the financial situation of our town. I to believe that the towns people should all face this situation together. We are a growing community, and can pull this and hopefully learn from our mistakes.

I do not agree with many of the proposals for spending cutback. Is laying off people here in our community the real answer. How many families would have to leave Carrizozo to seek employment elsewhere? Is a dying community what we want?

I would like to make a suggestion for the town council. Our town has a beautiful recreation center which is not in use during the working hours. So lets make use of it. And in turn, make money for the town. As most working mothers know child care is not something easily come by in the Carrizozo area. Why not have the city set up a nursery in the recreation center. The area and facilities are more than adequate. This facility would require personnel which in turn town people could be hired.

I believe as I am sure many others in our town do, that lay off of personnel is not the answer.

Why not hear from the towns people themselves for suggestions. How about some ideas Carrizozo?

I'm sure that our city council would be more than willing to consider any and all ideas for helping us get back on our feet.

Thank you,

When Ken and Vickie moved to town

things started happening

It was a happy day for Carrizozo when Ken and Vickie Means decided to make it their home. The young couple bought the Gambles store and moved their family to Lincoln County. Ken, an exceptionally fine golfer, soon had tournaments-organized-and-men, women-and-kids-out taking swings at little white balls.

Vickie became a participating member in the community organizations and added her touch of beauty to the town.

A complete modernization of Gamble's is just being completed. The new interior is well lighted with convenient displays of merchandise. The stock includes everything from clothes to tires and appliances - a real small town merchandising company.

When people like Ken and Vickie choose your town for their home you know it has something special.

W.R. Lovelace, 83, rancher at Corona for 63 years, died at El Paso August 18. He came to Corona in 1893 and rode horseback, bringing his sheep and cattle to water at the lake on the southeast side of Corona. At that time it was the only watering place for stock in the area. The town of Corona did not exist at that time.

Rev. H. T. Ray has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Carrizozo Baptist Church.

Doll Ray, a member of the Lions Club, bladed and leveled the Lions Park opposite the hospital. Ofelia Salas, treasurer of the Lincoln County Historical Society, submitted a financial report, balance forwarded $893.78.

Forty Years Ago

From Lincoln County News Aug. 28, 1936.

Letter from John E. Hall (in part), Outside of Lincoln County, possibly not one person in ten thousand in this state knows where Bernado Gap is. Perhaps a larger portion know the location of Carrizozo and if the Albuquerque editor had desired to identify the locale of the Kudner barbeque it would have been easy to note that Bernado Gap is just twelve miles east of Carrizozo in Lincoln County. But that would not do as it would place it about 170 miles southeast of Albuquerque and thus destroy the romance of the impression that anything of importance is within walking distance of the metropolis. News editor replies to this letter saying, Venado is the Spanish word for deer, and the correct name for the famous Gap.

The Titworth Company held their annual picnic last Sunday up on the Bonito by Mon Jeau school. A sumptuous dinner was spread and there were ice cream and watermelons galore.

In the contest for Princess which was sponsored by the Business Men's Club, Miss Leslye Cooper, employee of the local telephone office, received the largest number of votes and got a trip to El Paso with all expenses paid.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rentfrow entertained Thursday night of last week honoring Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scharf, who were married in Carlsbad three weeks ago.

Since January 1, 1936 the Lincoln National Forest has had a total of 35 fires, with a total of 51 acres burned. The fires have all been small only two being over ten acres. Ten of the fires have been man caused.

A bowl of activities

From Nogal

by Roby Burke

Cups of joy were spilling over at Spider Park this last Sunday. Another Bicentennial vision came true, that Mary Rich had!

Many, many Carrizozo people worked very hard putting together an afternoon of surprises, works of art and music. There was something for everybody. A very successful and exciting afternoon.

I noticed Lee Straley, and Kelly Stevenson in deep conversation while standing by the food booth. Paul and Eleanor Payton were looking fresh and rested with their summer tans. Eleanor Olson was talking with her sister near the pottery booth. The fiddle contest was very good, until the rain came and scared everyone away.

Next week on the 29th Nogal will have a birthday party for Molly Bosh, her 100th birthday. It will be held at the Mercantile Nogal store with Ma Stearns. It is going to be a fun party with some arts and crafts, music and cake. For any details call Sue Stearns.

A BOWL OF TIPS ON MARRIAGE:
Marriage isn't all hugs and kisses, but perhaps yours is dull, or each of you take things to much for granted, or you both give to little and ask to much!

- Well here are a few suggestions.
1. When your mate is upset don't walk out on her, comfort her. It is much easier and soothes your nerves and hers.
 2. Don't take your spouse's complaints and criticisms personally.
 3. Try to show understanding for each other.
 4. Support your spouse, in company or among friends.
 5. Look at each other when you talk.

6. A pat on the back or wink helps many times.
7. Often a person feels alone in problems. Look at each other for reassurance and the main thing is to never make your spouse feel immature.

A BIT OF WISDOM

Habit is a cable we weave a thread of it every day, and at last we can not break it.

After several thousand years, civilization has advanced to the point where we bolt our doors and windows at night, while the jungle natives sleep in an open hut.

You have two ears and one mouth. Listen twice, speak once.

DO YOU KNOW?

Who won the fiddlers contest?

The person who bought Sue Stearns cake?

The three gals from Carrizozo who were having a ball.

That you better watch out for those family trees? You never know who is hiding behind what tree.

Our recipe this week is APRICOT PIE

This apricot pie is a little different than some recipes, and I'm an apricot lover. Make 1 cup of apricot puree, I make puree by putting the apricots in a blender, for a very short time, to the puree add: 1 short tablespoon of lemon rind grated, and 1 teaspoon of lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon of almond flavoring, in a separate bowl, beat 4 egg whites until stiff, adding ½ teaspoon of salt, and 2-3 cup of granulated sugar, gradually. Fold these together and fill a baked pie shell. Then put it in a 325 oven for 20 minutes. Serve with lots of whipped cream.

AROUND THE BOWL

U.F.W. was held at Ma Stearns house this last week. The tape was played on revelations and the study took in the Anti-Christ. Agnes Crouse presided in the absence of Roberta B. It was an excellent meeting and enjoyed by all.

Damon Burkstaller was asked to attend school a week early in order to act as a temporary counselor for the new boys coming into school. This is a honor and we congratulate him!

Ace and Lisa Porter were home for a short holiday, and David Breiger is away for a while, Nogal misses David.

Opal Greer had a visit from her daughter and while visiting with her on the porch of the post office, I could see the new house going up near Mr. and Mrs. Peacock place. We are also happy to welcome new people who bought the Wooten home.

Bye now till next week.

Extensioners plan birthday

Mrs. Paul Pacheco, Lincoln County Extension Council president reports that at their recent annual meeting plans are being made to celebrate their 35th anniversary at which time special members will be honored.

Activities held this year were reviewed and discussed. A memorable one is the beautiful needlepoint square designed by Nancy Knight and made by Bunte Richardson which by now is hanging at the Governors Mansion along with the other counties in New Mexico.

Jeff Logue, field representative for N. M. March of Dimes presented an informational program on the foundation to the council.

Mrs. Pacheco also reported plans are being made to mobilize a preventive public health program to immunize nearly all New Mexicans against influenza. Dr. Eugene Ross associate director of the Extension Service, NMSU is asking the assistance of all Extension Club members with this program. Leo Yates, family life specialist will be contacting all extension club presidents soon. Mrs. Pacheco explained - this program is part of a nation-wide effort to protect the population against swine-flu.

Council representatives present at this meeting were Lorena Radcliff, Amelia McKnight and Earlene Tubbs representing Ruidoso-Hondo Valley, La Junta and Carrizozo Extension clubs respectively.

What is a "Peoples Market Place?"

The Carrizozo idea for celebrating the Bicentennial was a get-together that would be fun and productive, and most of all, include who wanted to come.

Before the automobile made life so easy and expensive, country people would come to town to do their shopping and spend at least a day and night and maybe several days and nights.

The settlers around Lincoln County remember loading the wagon with the family, anything they had raised extra to sell, food for the weekend and maybe an extra party dress and bonnet.

In town you bought your supplies, swapped your produce for what you needed, picnicked, talked or danced (according to your religion) heard the news. The whole town was the market place and everything in it was to be enjoyed and experienced. Boys and girls met and courted there was a feeling of belonging.

That was what the Carrizozo Bicentennial celebration was to recreate and it did.

There was no charge for bringing your booth, your crafts or your chicken to the park Sunday. Everyone was invited and almost everyone came.

There was a lot of good food prepared by the organizations in town. St. Rita's made a nice profit from the sale of Mexican food. The Carrizozo Lions took some nickels and dimes, home and a lot of children had a nickel ice cream cone.

There were sales of paintings, pottery, dolls, and doodads. There were cakes for sale and games of chances. Arnold Boyce our band director, gathered up a group of his former students and they presented a concert that had a professional sound.

The Church of Christ gave a puppet show that captured the attention of the young set (and most of the not so young set). The Fiddlers contest put together by Doug Jarrard was as good as any the county has ever seen. It drew quite a few young contestants including several pretty girls. Johnson Stearns of the Citizens State Bank donated the $100 prize money.

Fred Wood took the top place. Bee Don Bates was second and Kim Brimberry was third.

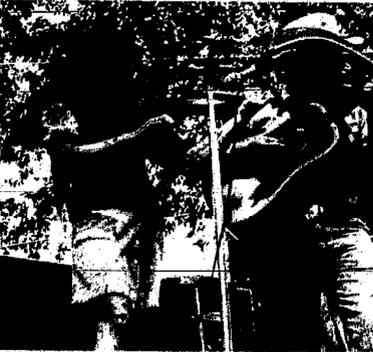

There have been a lot of requests to the Carrizozo Woman's Club which originated the idea, that it become an annual event. The club will welcome comments and ideas for continuing the program next year.

Lincoln

by Hattie Phillips

Mrs. Rafaelita Pryor and her nephew recently went to Silver City to see her sister Mrs. Dorsey and her family - they had a wonderful visit.

They drove back through the Gila National Forest and to T or C, Caballo Lake and Elephant Butte Dam and had a very pleasant trip back to Lincoln.

Looks like old times having Betty Shrecengost back selling fruit in her stand at Bonito Farm headquarters across the street from the Post Office. There have been several years there weren't enough apples to make it practical to open. Apple trees, pears, plums and in some areas, peaches, have produced very well this year.

Sawyer Ward is with her grandmother in Lovington and will be until she has to go back to college. Schar is already back in Albuquerque and will graduate from the University there at mid-term. His leg is in good shape now and he doesn't even have a limp. This is so wonderful, after so many months of pain and being unable to get around much. He is hoping to be able to ski again this year.

Louise Rannels had to quit her summer job at the Wortley to go back to La Luz and her position at the blind school in Alamogordo. We will miss her very much. We also miss the college and high school young people who have been around this summer.

The M.Y.F. group from the First Methodist Church of Roswell has a great time at a picnic down at our place, they were sponsored by my granddaughter, Claudia and her husband James Walde who are the leaders. Joe and Margaret Phillips were also helping out and everybody had a good time.

Mrs. Helen Bennett and I also got in on some of the fun.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sanchez are having a new addition built on to their home in Lincoln. Which will make their charming house even more so.

We were sorry to lose Mrs. Fronie Ramey as a neighbor when she sold her home in Lincoln but are very happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Tony Martin and family as our new neighbors.

The Mountain Valley Nursery personnel have been very busy. On Monday they had a conference here with a fellow nursery man from Pennsylvania which was of great interest to both parties. We predict a thriving business as the ones involved are very knowledgeable and well informed on all aspects of the business.

School bus radios recommended by county

School buses traveling the long routes in Lincoln County should be equipped with radio communications, according to the Lincoln County Commissioners.

In a regular meeting this week that was occupied mostly by county road studies, the commissioners just before closing decided to poll the Lincoln County school superintendents on the radio proposition.

Commissioner Roman Nunez said he was concerned about the possibility of accidents or snow trapped children on some of the more remote routes. For instance, Mrs. Ken LaMay drives a 70 mile school bus route, the longest in the state.

Other routes go through high country and bad icy roads, extreme weather are a winter hazard, Commissioner Bud Payne said.

"Thirty minutes could mean life or death in our cold months," Payne said.

The commissioners said that if the schools would equip the buses with the radios, the county would provide the crystals to hook into the county radio network.

The 1000 miles of county roads took most of the meeting as the commissioners discussed ways to get the roads in maximum condition for the buses and the usual winter travel.

County manager Les Olson said that the county is divided into five main districts for the purpose of blade work maintenance. A road department employee living in the vicinity is assigned to each district.

Earl Rober and his blade are responsible for District 4 and 5. Len LaMay has district 6; Melvin Chavez maintains district 1; Earl Allison works districts 2 and 3. Billy LaMay and Everett Greer work together to take up the slack in the balance of the county and to do emergency work where needed.

In the past the major road work, other than blade, has been rotated every four months between the three commissioners districts. Each year the county reviews the road problems and the goals that are desirable are set.

Each month the road program progress is reviewed and changes in the overall scheduling are made by the commissioners, the county manager and the road foreman.

In addition to maintenance and major road repair the county road department is also responsible for three sanitary land fills, aid to fire departments and parks, and now under a new law, safety signs on county roads.

The road program study will be continued at a special session next month.

After a brief discussion the commissioners decided to let the subdivision road tax stand as it is. Increased cost had caused some discussion of increasing the one cent per front foot levy on county subdivision roads. The commissioners voted to let it stand since the county was unable to provide really adequate conditions in the subdivisions.

The parts of the Sweetwater subdivision east of Carrizozo that have been abandoned and returned to grazing land were relieved from the road tax.

A letter from the district attorney concerning road easements in an area south of Capitan was read. Mr. DiPaolo had asked for the county to accept an easement through the property and had asked for some changes in the existing road. Other property owners had objected to some of the changes. The district attorney said that the county had no easement and no responsibility in the matter.

The commissioner continued the CETA funded employment of 7 county employees through the middle of September. Olson said that at that time more should be known as to the future of the federal employment program.

The commission postponed consideration of a pay increase from the county appraisers.

Payne asked for the raise, saying that the commission had budgeted for an additional appraiser but had agreed to increase the pay of the three now working if they could do the additional work needed.

He said that he felt the men, Ralph Garcia, Chuck Rominger and Paul Baca had done an excellent job, raising the tax roll fifteen million this year from $60,000,000 to $75,000,000.

It was pointed out that while the increase was excellent, the county still is under valued by state standards. Ruidoso is considered the fastest growing town in New Mexico and much property still remains not on the tax rolls.

The commission postponed further consideration of the matter until the next meeting.

ANYWAY YOU LOOK AT IT... by Paul

Lots of nice things happening around Carrizozo over the weekend. One you may not know about was when member of the Voz Vaqueros chorus came out to the snack bar at Recreation Center and said to Buddy and Veta Allen, "No one has been singing to you, I'll sing you a song", and he did, some time after 1:00 a.m. Vaqueros Williams was the happy singer. They were all happy singers, but not at that time of the morning.

The News photographer took two rolls of pictures at the Saturday night sing, on request of their director, Dr. George Jordan. Probably will be in the News next week.

Big crowd out to hear the Singing Men of Las Cruces, looked like every seat filled at the school auditorium. Everything about this group of men doing their thing was good. They do it for love of music, no pay involved and coming to Carrizozo for over-night stay was really something, just to put on a program for us home folks. No better singing or playing is done in this town from one Singing Men performance to the next. Might as well say that no better piano playing or banjo and guitar picking is done here any time. Carrizozo folks were listening to and enjoying music made by police chief, college prof, attorney, three doctors, or more carrying several degrees, rancher, and guys doing all sorts of things during their work week. Love to be singing with those Vaqueros.

Would you believe a pistacio swirl cake - tastes real good and is full of all sorts of fattening foods? The Alma Aggar had just took it in at the Woman's Club booth Sunday at "the fair" when Payton came along. She like's those quick sales.

Marvin Rowan gets lots of credit for hot cakes mixed up to feed the Singing Men, with some help from Johnson, Margaret Stearns.

Hard for Payton to believe the wonderful attitude of full house of people at town meeting. Not a crying word, just people wanting to help out a bad situation - We've seen it before here, a town can't lose with that kind of spirit. The mayor did not have to prod any to get an advisory committee the names all came to him. We've had our own bookkeeping problems at the News and town business is a lot more complicated - solving that one will not be easy.

Us Payton's argue a bit about Emmaline Beck's wig. Eleanor likes it. Paul thinks maybe she ought to be a blond for a change.

What does one do with six metal police pins - after they've resigned. We'd eat that ten bucks except the pins are too tough. We'd bill the town except no emergency exists. Will sell them at a bargain to any takers.

Swiped from Duffy - Worst Joak Dept.: A woman complained to the psychiatrist that her husband thought he was a space satellite. "There's not much I can do unless I see him personally the doctor said. "Oh, you can," the wife replied. "He'll be passing overhead in about five hours."

Overheard: "I didn't say my wife is a bad cook - I merely said our garbage disposal developed an ulcer."

News Note: "The whole family got together on Grandmaw's birthday and gave her their best wishes between halves of the televised football game."

Have you heard about the doctor who climbs all over his patients? He's a tree surgeon.

Those Lions Club guys work about as hard as the Woman's Club people and that means a lot of good things for Carrizozo. Their ice cream was good to go with all the other good things at the afternoon fair in Spider Park.

All the happenings of the past few weeks mean one thing to this writer - we could and should be doing it more often. Just getting with your friends makes all the celebrations worth while.

"My little pig" still remembered

Mrs. Paul Pacheco brought us this clipping from the Lincoln County News, December 28, 1962. With so many little pigs going to market or to the fair, it seems appropriate to re-reading the story.

Mrs. Pacheco sent us the following information about Sarah Gonzales:
Sarah Gonzales, daughter of Jim Gonzales of Hondo, is now Mrs. Coasme Sales and resides in Huntington Beach, California.

Their only son Gilbert received his doctorate from the University of California, college of Medicine. In 1967, he was selected by NASA to serve as an aerospace flight surgeon for Apollo Mission Operations and Space Craft testing. As a physician to the astronauts, he was also an Aeronautical flight controller in mission control (Houston) for Apollo 7, 8, 9, & 11 as recovery surgeon for Apollo 10, 12, & 13.

By Sara Gonzales, Hondo

My little pigs were born on January 8, 1918. They were very fat when they were born. The mother pig made a deep, warm nest under the snow and they were very cozy and warm.

I did not know about the little pigs until they grew strong and their mother brought them out to walk around. There were three brothers and three sisters, two looking alike.

The next day I found their nest and took the mother some corn to eat, but she was not there. So I looked for her and found her in the alfalfa field, but one little pig was gone. I had noticed two spotted ones, and now I could see just one spotted one and four others. I wondered where he could be and started to look for him. I looked in all of our alfalfa fields and orchards and down to the river, but I could not find him. I looked in all of the irrigating ditches, and while coming up the road. When I asked the driver about my little lost pig he said, "I saw a little pig running up and down the hill back there; Is it yours?" When I asked him if it was spotted, he said "Yes, black and white spotted." So I went to the hill and there he was running up and down the hill. I took him in my arms and carried him to the house.

Mama said, "Where have you been so long, and what are you doing with that little pig?" When I told her all about it she said, "May be he is blind," but I said, "No, he's not. His eyes are wide open. But how did he get lost from his mother if he can see?" she said, "Perhaps his mother crossed the river and he was left on this side and got lost." I took him outside and turned his head to one side so the light would shine in his eyes and they were white. Mama said, "Sure enough, he is blind in both eyes." I thought to cure him and put salty water in his eyes, and took him to the mother in the nest.

In the morning I went again to the nest, but he was gone. I looked and looked for him until I found him away over at Luis Sanchez, the poor little fellow was badly hurt and bleeding, for the Sanchez children thought he could see to get out & had set the dogs on him. Then I told my mother I did not have time to hunt the little pig every day. She said, "Put him in a little pen and take good care of him." So for a month I cared for him, giving him boiled corn, and milk, every time his mother came up.

Then he grew so heavy I could not carry him about so much and I wondered what I could do. For a week I left him in the nest every night and in the morning brought him to his pen. I once thought to tie him with a rope near the nest, but by that time four more hogs had brought more pigs to the nest and I was afraid they would all bunch together and smother him, especially if they would lie on the rope. So I let him loose in the nest for he was too heavy for me to carry.

One morning when I went for him he was gone. I looked nearly all over Hondo, but could not find him. The next morning I looked and looked again for I did not want to lose him. Then I said to my brother, "Won't you please look for my little blind pig?" But he could not find the lost one. The evening of the third day I found him in the orchard. He was so hungry and thirsty that father said I must not let him nurse his mother, but give him a little feed at a time. He would eat nothing until I took him to his mother. In the morning he was gone again. I was tired and when I told my father he said "You should not have turned him loose. I knew he would get lost again."

Mama told me to get some water. As I walked down the road to the river I was looking everywhere for my little pig for I could see his black and white far off. Then all at once I saw him by the fence working with all his might to make a nest for the nights were cold. I threw down my bucket, ran to him, got him and put him in his good little pen.

When I left him for a long time he forgot his mother. I gave him corn, alfalfa, slop and plenty of water to drink. I kept him nice and clean and kept all of the lice off of him. He grew fat and pretty and I was proud of him. Everyone in Hondo knew my little pig for I asked for him so much.

He knew by the way I talked to him when I went to feed him. I had him eight months, giving him corn, sometimes weeds, and sometimes apples. No one ever fed my pig but myself and I bathed him often, too to keep him healthy. I would clean away the rocks he dug up and I played many games with him. Sometimes I would take morning-glories when he would be so anxious to get greens he would chase me for them.

But the little pig was not satisfied with his pen. He would run from side to side and cry and try to get out, so could not get fat. I tried my best to get him fat, but he began to get poorer, and for two months he would not get fat. Then papa said "We are going to kill your little pig one of these days." I did not think the time was to come so soon. I wanted his picture, but it was too late.

One Sunday papa said, "Your pig is eating too much corn and not getting fat." At first he weighed 25 lbs, then in another month 35 lbs; and in two months 85 lbs. One Saturday in July papa said, "Sara, do not feed any more corn nor weeds, nor apples to your pig. Just water, for we are going to kill him tomorrow." In the evening I went to take some apples to some pigs by my little pig's pen and he was crying, he was so hungry. I ran to get him some corn without remembering. Then, all at once I remembered and went back to my room and cried for my little hungry pig. The next day I could not keep from crying and I went to give him an apple for the last time. I hugged and kissed him and cried by his side. Then father said, "Make a fire and have some water hot." I did. They brought him near and I cried as though for people and they thought it best to take him down by the stream. So he died. When I heard him cry I put my hands over my ears. My sister said, "Come out now, Sara, your little pig is different and all clean."

I now have some of his hair tied with a little ribbon and I shall remember him all of my life. The Sundays are no longer pleasant for I feel sad when I see his pen so empty & the last water I took there is still in the trough. When I see so many weeds I think of him.

The cost was seven dollars of corn and he was worth $21.25 in meat.

I just wish that the results of all research was as easily seen as the range catapillar research plots. Three chemicals; Sevin, Dyllox and Dimilin were put on at varying rates to show the results of the different chemicals at different rates. The results both good and bad could readily be seen. Dimilin was put on at rates of 1/2 ounce, 1 ounce, 1 ounce and 2 ounces. The one ounce per acre killed 99 percent of the range catapillars. Dimilin is an entirely new type of insecticide as it stops the chitin production of the insect. The insect is unable to molt its skin and grow so therefore it dies. This is an experimental insecticide which will require many more tests before it will be released.

Dyllox killed 99 percent of the range catapillars when applied at the 4 ounce per acre rate. Lesser amounts did not obtain adequate controls. Sevin applied at 8 ounces killed 95 percent of range catapillars. All these insecticides were applied when the range catapillars were about three quarters of an inch long or in the second instar.

Pears are in good supply in the Hondo Valley area now. Bartlett pears are the major variety available. They are good for eating out of hand or canning. Pears have a very short harvest season. If you want some pears, plan to get them in the next few days.

The Ft. Stanton Experimental Ranch, located east of Capitan, will hold its first field day on September 3. The 28,000 acre ranch-operated since 1962 by the NMSU animal and range science Dept. is the site for range, beef cattle and wildlife research. The tour will begin at the Bonita Corral at 9 a.m. and last until about 12:30 p.m. The entrance to the ranch is 4 and one-half miles east of Capitan on hwy. 390. Turn south of hwy. 214 and travel one mile to the ranch turnoff. Dr. L. S. "Bill" Pope, the newly appointed dean and director of the NMSU College of Agriculture and Home Economics, will speak during the tour. This will be one of the first chances for New Mexico ranchers to get acquainted with Dr. Pope.

Dr. Gerald Thomas, president of NMSU, and Dr. Arnold B. Nelson, head of the Animal and Range Sciences Dept. will also give opening remarks.

During the tour, participants can see the results of various research projects, such as the supplemental feeding studies and calving dates of beef cows. Range research including rotational grazing, effects of drought on vegetation and deer habitat, will be inspected. A nutritive evaluation of fertilized ranges, vegetational responses to nitrogen and herbicidal treatment of golden eye and snakeweed are other research reviews planned for the tour. When the tour ends at about 12:30 p.m. lunch will be provided by an agri-business firm connected with the ranching industry of New Mexico.

The Fort Stanton Experimental Ranch is part of the NMSU Agricultural Experiment Station network which also has six branch stations and two research centers located throughout New Mexico in addition to the main campus research facility. The land is leased from the Bureau of Land Management. Fort Stanton is an excellent research ranch because the climate and topography is similar to much of New Mexico's range lands.

The topography consists of fairly level mesas dissected by rather steep canyons. The land is covered with herbaceous species on the mesas and canyon bottoms with pinon-juniper and oak on the slopes. Average annual precipitation is just over 15 inches.

newspaper should bring faster results.

The following excerpts have been plucked from a book by Mildred Grenier:

1. Arrange in advance for the children's parents to see you home or for your parents to pick you up.
2. Know that your primary responsibility is to look after your charge or charges.
3. Be sure the parents write down the address and telephone number where they can be reached.
4. Ask about privileges permitted to the children and the sitter.
5. Keep the children out of the kitchen. There are too many things that can cause accidental injury (cleaning agents and household chemicals stored in low cupboards, knives, mixing tools, electrical appliances, cords and control on the stove.)
6. Matches and lighters should be removed from surfaces within reach of children.
7. Any medicine that has been left within reach of the children should be removed to a high shelf.
8. Front and back doors of the house should be kept locked.
9. Do not open the door to anyone except the parents. This is as much for your safety as for the children's.
10. Try not to use the telephone. If you must call, make it brief.
11. Be worthy of the trust placed on you. Tell the parents of anything wrong that may have happened. A baby that has had a fall may need medical attention.

A book in baby sitting may be found in your school library or at the book mobile (Southeastern Regional Library out of Lovington). A health or life-saving class offered by the Red Cross, city or public school helps to prepare a young person to be a responsible baby sitter.
