Smokey Bear has come home

New Mexico's most famous resident died Monday night in the Washington D.C. zoo where he has spent 26 years as the nation's living symbol of fire prevention and conservation.

His body, by an act of Congress, was flown to Albuquerque this week and from there will come by vehicle home to the Lincoln National Forest. He will be buried in the Smokey Bear

State Park at Capitan. The park, dedicated this year, was planned as Smokey's final resting place. Funeral services will be Wednesday, November 17 from 1:00 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. at the park in Capitan. The children who have loved Smokey all these years and have painted posters and slogans in the name of this most famous bear will be well represented by Capitan youngsters.

The school band will play a musical prelude. Jim Abbott, Forest Supervisor, will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. Hugh Stiles of Ruidoso will open the ceremony with a prayer. Mayor Jay Johnson will welcome guests to Capitan. State Forester Ray Gallegos, Director of State Game and Fish Bill Huey, Director of Parks Sam Graft and Congressman Harold Runnels will make observations of the contributions of Smokey to conservation.

The plans for this burial of the bear whose name is synonymous with fire prevention have been in the making for several years. The New Mexico Congressional delegation sponsored legislation that resulted in a congressional resolution decreeing that upon death, Smokey would be returned to Lincoln County and Capitan.

A lot of work went into the initial fund raising to build the park that would be Smokey's final resting place and this spring the park was dedicated.

Since the small bear cub was rescued from a Lincoln National Forest Fire in 1950, his legend has grown into mammoth proportions.

He is a millionaire several times over if judged by the funds the use of his name has raised. The money has gone into conservation work. Smokey's mail became so massive that he was assigned his own zip code and a number of secretaries to do the answering.

His 26 years of life is considered a long one in the bear world and now another bear named Smokey will be in the National Zoo to remind the world that Smokey says, "Only you can prevent forest fires."

County has semi-finals

Three of the four Lincoln County football teams that made it to quarter finals advance this weekend to semifinals. The fourth team, Corona, was downed by an energetic Cloudcroft 40 to 20.

The Carrizozo Grizzlies mowed down Navajo Mission 29 to 0 in a game that featured passing from Samora to Danny Sandoval and running by Ray Beltran.

The Grizzly defense left the Navajo team badly wounded and unable to move.

Capitan trounced Mountainair 19 to 7 (see story). The Ruidoso Warriors claimed the bi-district championship defeating Jal 13 to 6 last Thursday. They will meet McCurdy Mission Friday for the Class AA semi-final playoffs in Ruidoso.

The Carrizozo team will meet Melrose Saturday in Carrizozo at 2 p.m. Carrizozo defeated Melrose early in the season and it was the last defeat for Melrose which went on to down Capitan.

Capitan will be playing the Cloudcroft team at Capitan at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening. The winners of those two games will meet next week in the Class A championship game.

Admission to the games, on the recommendation of the New Mexico Athletic Association will be $2 for adults and $1 for students. Season tickets do not cover this admission and the gate receipts are needed to cover the expenses involved in the games. The host schools, this year, pay the mileage and per diem of the visiting schools plus officiating costs.

Faculty vs- FHA

On November 11, 1976, the Future Homemaker's of America will challenge the Carrizozo Faculty in a game of volleyball at 7:00 p.m. in the old high school gymnasium. There are 15 faculty members who will participate and be coached by Edward Vega and Jimmy Samora. For FHA, there will be 16 FHA'ers who will participate and be coached by Veronica Zamora and Annette Chavez. Referees for both matches will be Dorothy Zamora and Marie Barela. Both teams will be supported by cheerleaders selected from the faculty and FHA. Don't miss out on the fun - make sure you're there. Admission is 50 cents. Concessions will be sold.

Carrizozo adopts new meeting rules

Carrizozo's new mayor opened the first regular meeting of the town board since his appointment and quickly proceeded to demonstrate his intentions of bringing order to the town's operations.

Bobby Dan Crenshaw, the young man who was asked by the trustees this month to try to lead the town to a solution of its financial problems set forth a four point program that should bring order at least to the town's meetings.

With the consent of all trustees, Mayor Crenshaw asked School Superintendent Jim Steinepreis and Vocational Ag teacher Dan Ware to send a member of the schools State Champion FFA Parliamentary team to each board meeting.

The student will serve as parliamentarian and have authority to rule on any point of procedure. Mayor Crenshaw said that not only would the trustees benefit from this assistance but that the experience should be of value to the students.

A complaint procedure was adopted by the trustees at the mayor's request. In the future any complaints about town operations must be made in writing to the town clerk. The complaints will be referred to the department head involved and to a trustee assigned as liaison to that department. After investigation, if no satisfactory solution has been reached, the matter will then be put on the agenda of the next trustee meeting.

All matters to be considered must be on the written agenda of the meeting. Any person desiring to present a matter for consideration must submit such matter to the town clerk by 4:30 p.m. on the day of the meeting.

The mayor appointed each trustee to be responsible for a department of the town. He said that the town departments and the trustees need this direction and study. After a little discussion as to assignments Willie Silva was named to the Water and Sewer Department; Manny Hernandez to the Street and Park department; Robert Luna to the Police Department; Roy Harman to the Solid Waste Department. Mayor Crenshaw had asked that Silva take the police assignment but Silva refused.

Mayor Crenshaw told the council that while citizen input was wanted, the trustees had been elected as spokesmen for the town and should formulate policy and be responsible for the conduct of town business.

He said that "disruptions of the meetings" were not conducive to and orderly handling of matters concerning the town.

Persons wishing to be heard who have not asked for a place on the agenda will be given an opportunity to speak after the meeting is concluded.

A special meeting of the town on Nov. 23 will be conducted by a different set of rules. The meeting is designed to select a community development project for possible selection as a federal grant. All people in the town are asked to come and the meeting will be open for comment from all in attendance.

While last year's program of drainage and paving in the south part of town was not funded, it is still a possibility for a grant this year. Other projects which might be considered are parks, restoration, sidewalks, streets, cultural programs, beautification, lighting, or any part of community life that could be improved.

Every resident is urged to attend and aid in selecting a town improvement project.

The long overdue bill to Gambles for $1500 worth of Fire Department CB radios was finally approved. The radios had been purchased by the fire

Cynthia is new queen

Cynthia Chavez was crowned queen of the St. Jude Fiesta in San Patricio Oct. 31. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Modesto Chavez.

The Fiesta began at 9:30 a.m. with mass and was followed by the crowning of the queen. The flags which had been donated by the Father Eugene Dolan Council of the Knights of Columbus were blessed and a procession in honor of St. Jude followed. Father Flavio Santillanes, pastor of the church, presided.

A barbeque was served to over 600 devotees of St. Jude.

The evening climaxed with a turkey bingo and drawing for raffle tickets.

A letter to Santa

We have received our first communication for the North Pole. Every year the letters that are mailed at the Carrizozo Post Office addressed to that gentleman with the belly that shakes like a bowl full of jelly come to the News for processing. We publish them before sending them northward. Our first letter comes from Lisa and Cheryl Hightower. These two little blond girls gladden the hearts of the Ancho area. They are the only small children left in that area and we are sure that Santa will fill their stockings.

School calls election

The Carrizozo School Board called for the election of two members for regular six-year terms at its meeting Tuesday night.

The position held by Bob Stearns and Richard Vega will be up for election next year and the election calendar was adopted.

Filing deadline is December 28 for the Feb. 1 election.

Stearns had indicated that he will not be a candidate. It is presumed that Vega who was just appointed to the position held by Nat Palomarez will run.

Other names mentioned in connection with the election are Betty Dean, Gary Lovelace and Weldon McKinley. Superintendent Jim Steinepreis noted that the position held by Stearns has traditionally gone to a Nogal resident although there are no statutory boundaries.

A number of groups have indicated that an effort will be made to have at least one woman on the ballot. The election proclamation will be published early in December and copies are now available at the school administration office.

In other business the board revived the new reading program being used by the school this year. The Houghton Mifflin series allows the student to progress at levels achieved regardless of class. The emphasis is on basic reading skills but the quality of literature is superior and teachers have noted an increase in student interest.

This program was explained by Myrtle Williams, Terri Salgado and Judy Kaufman. Questioned about the effectiveness of modern education, Mrs. Williams said that she believed the school were doing a better job of educating more children now than when she entered the teaching profession. It was noted that youngsters who at one time were not concerned academically educatable were now finishing school and the present emphasis was on helping each child to achieve the highest possible education.

In that connection the board discussed the special education program and the problems involved. While the present program is devoted to children with learning problems, a program for gifted children is to begin this year as soon as the school population testing program is completed.

The board heard a report by Supt. Steinepreis on a review of the system by a State Department of Education Team. He said only minor problems had come to light and they had been solved. He said that the school was commended on a number of improvements this year.

Wesley Lindsay told the board that an Athletic Booster Club had been formed. He will serve as president with Jesse English as vice president and Nat Palomarez as secretary. Dues are $10 a year per family and every one in the area is invited to participate.

Lindsay said that the new organization had fed the team and guests from Navajo Mission following the last week's game. He said that the staff from NM had been appreciative and that he felt such a program would benefit Carrizozo relations with other schools. The Club will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. at the school to make plans for this weekend.

Steinepreis said that the SDE had approved the White Oaks bus route and that the new route was now in operation.

The Spanish plate fleets that carried the treasure of the New World to Spain in the 17th century carried more than gold and silver for Spain's coffers. Scholars estimate that up to 25 percent of the treasure aboard the galleons was contraband, smuggled wealth destined for private hands, National Geographic says.

A part of Lincoln County gathered at the Carrizozo Country Club election night. Pat Dunning, Bud Taylor, Butch

Barker, a happy Sheriff elect Bill Elliott and a tired News gatherer Rich celebrated or commiserated according to political proclivities.

It is deer-hunting season again. There are lots of hunters. Many have their campers and seem to be enjoying themselves.

November wind indeed arrived with strength this Monday morning. It is truly cold as well. The last few mornings have had such a very heavy white frost. The tree leaves were nearly all fallen. When the early wet snow hit them they were green, but now they have left for this season.

Carrizozo got a new mayor at the same time our nation got a new president. After some consideration, we've decided that of the two, the mayor with teaching and professional football background could well be the best qualified for the job he holds. A Kansas newspaper shows a barn burning. The owners called the fire department, then set the barn, once a local landmark, on fire. Must be a different set of pollution laws working in that state.

Except for guys like John Thompson, Shorty Stoneman and Bill Elliott, one could call the recent election a Republican year in Lincoln County. There were a few oddities.

Ford beat Carter by 2320 to 1415 and Schmitt beat Montoya 2450 to 1258; then came the switch and Lincoln County voters picked their favorite Congressman, Harold Runnels a Democrat, 2318 to 1243 over Republican Don Trubey. No way could you say that Lincoln voters were pulling the party lever. They were picking and choosing from start to finish.

Amendment No. 1, letting county officials serve unlimited terms, failed in all Lincoln County precincts. The famous No. 2, to let governor succeed himself, also failed in all precincts.

That tricky tax exempt on parcels owned by tax exempt entity No. 3 amendment carried in Capitan, tied in Nogal, carried both Zozo precincts, San Patricio, Hondo, Angus, AV-52 and tied in AV-51 8 to 8. It failed state-wide.

No. 4 amendment to let governor appoint state board of education carried in all three absent voter elections, failed in all county precincts. No. 5 to allow five commissioners in some counties failed in county.

No. 6 amendment, severance money trust fund, carried 1369 to 987. No. 7 amendment to establish membership of legislature failed in Lincoln County 1154 against to 1113 for, but carried state wide. The educational improvements bonds failed in Lincoln County 1301 to 888 but carried state wide. he county voted for the local hospital levy 1343 to 1047 against.

Lincoln County voted for several Republican state officers such as corporation commissioner, supreme court justice, who did not carry the state.

State Rep. John Bigbee is big in Lincoln County. He won District 50 voting 1851 to 765 and that was a big Republican win. Same for District Judge Tom Sandenaw who won Lincoln 1843 to 1590 over Standley, and also carried in Otero County, Republican Jim Wheeler won over Bill Hart 1910 to 1537 which is rather convincing.

Commissioner race, Stoneman and Pacheco was thought to be close prior to the election. It did not turn out that way. Democrat Stoneman lost San Patricio and Hondo and won the rest 2682 to 1608. A couple of loud hurrahs for Hirschfield and Sunny would have won the clerk race over Republican McSwane, it was that close, 1725 to 1702. The Republican valley vote plus two Zozo precincts put McSwane over the top.

Mike Kimbrell won in the treasurer race, putting this office under democrat operation. Marian Schlarb was top vote getter with 2014 to 1331 win for office of getter with 2014 to 1331 win for office of assessor. San Patricio, Hondo and Carrizozo No. 4 gave Ernest Sanchez for sheriff a majority, Democrat Bill Elliott got the rest winning 1948 to 1727. The probate judge race between John Thompson and Kenneth Nosker sort of split the county. Thompson won at Nogal, Corona, Ruidoso 11-13-14, AV-50, Angus, Zozo 3-4, AV-52 for total of 1831. Nosker won Capitan, Ruidoso Downs, San Patricio, Hondo and AV-51 for total of 1718.

AV means Absent Voter and there were 223 absent voter ballots put out this year.

The same thinking we apply to control in Washington we would apply in the home county. The two-party system is good and much the best when there is some balance of forces. Lincoln County has a fairly good balance, partly due to a well organized party of hard working Democrats. There is no balance in Washington and our good health, welfare, job and income tax are all under the Democratic thumb.

THE WAY OF THE... West

by Mary Rich

I have really been on the receiving end of Carter jokes this week. It was probably peanuts and peanut jokes that put him into the White House.

The first thing Wednesday morning, a Republican friend called out, "Hey Mary, did you hear that Carter is firing Kissinger? He refuses to put peanut butter on both sides of his bread!"

Then later in the day Linda said, "Hey Mary, did you know that Carter is going to the Decembar centerfold of Playgirl?" (I didn't even know there is a Playgirl.) "Yeah, showing all his goobers!"

A few nights later, however, Willie Gallacher was being kind and thoughtful to all of us who won and lost. One of his fellow Republicans asked if he didn't think the outcome of the election was just terrible. Mr. Gallacher said no, and he wasn't concerned about a person voted or who was elected. He, after 90 years of living (a slight exaggeration) had concluded that all of us, Democrats, Republicans, blacks, whites, yellows and browns, even Texans, had better learn to work together and stand up for each other as fellow Americans. He said that after all those years of living he thought how a person lived and got along with his neighbors was a lot more important than how he voted.

Publisher Peyton and I had a wonderful election together. We never had a cross word or argument during the whole election. And after the election, when asked how we felt about the outcome, we could truthfully say that we (well, one of us) supported every winning candidate.

I am pleased that Tony Payton will be Jack Schmidt's chief in Washington. Tony is Paul's oldest son, an experienced newsman and political strategist. He has edited the Lincoln County News, in 1972 I think, while the Paytons were out of state. He understands our problems and will be good-to-have-a-friend-in-high-places.

I was able to see part of "Gone With the Wind" in between bouts of the Carrizozo version which might be called "Trash in the Wind". It sharply brought to mind girlhood days in Stephenville, Texas, when my best friend, Mildred Hensarling, and I read the book, certain that it would be forbidden if our mother's read it first. And then the movie and we were terrified that we would be denied that experience. That scene in which Melanie has her baby was considered too raw for girls.

I think we were presumed to still believe in the stork. In our circles the word "pregnant" was whispered as was the word "sex" unless it was used in connection with determining the future of baby chicks.

Ah, it was that final, delectable, heart breaking scene when Rhett Butler says, "Frankly, my dear, I don't give a damn." To those of you under a-half-century-in years, this may not seem so risqué but when those two teenagers, giggling in a bedroom over the naughtiness of Scarlett O'Hara certainly never used the word "damn", "Hell" was a place for the "damned", and neither word was used lightly. "Darn" was not socially acceptable and it took little dimpled Shirley Temple to do for "golly" and "gee whizz" what Jimmy Carter has done for "lust".

That was a long time ago, I suppose. It was certainly a different world as far as social behavior goes. Those same two little girls dreamed over ranch house plans in "Country Gentleman" each month and about marrying a cowboy who looked like Tom Mix. She married an accountant and lives in Austin. I married a lawyer and lived in the city.

Finally, I did get a horse and boots but the nearest I've gotten to that ranch was 28 acres above White Oaks. It was a big 28 acres though.

I hope it did not cost too much in heart ache to learn what is shared in the following poem. My youngest wrote this recently on or about his 19th birthday. I hope this, his first publication, will be followed by more.

Utopia
by Mark Wilson
When love exists with separation
There comes a painful time
But in the joy of all creation
The heart finds peace of mind.

The love will spread to other fields
And soon encompass all:
The kingdom of love that always yields
And yet, will never fall.

Man looks at man with kinder eyes,
Reaches out, and finds his brother.
And all of life can now arise
To breathe and not to smother.

And then love knows no separation.
And sorrow you cannot find,
And in the joy of all creation
The heart finds peace of mind.

Bookmobile free service

Southeastern Regional Library (Bookmobile) is a free service library serving the rural residents of five counties in Southeastern New Mexico. A staff of three people, Librarian Katy Rotan and Clerk-Drivers, Elfrieda Martin and Keith Mortrud, travel approximately 2,000 miles each month to bring this service to Chaves, Eddy, Lea, Lincoln and Otero Counties.

The bookmobile stops in thirteen areas of Lincoln County. Five areas in the county, Hondo, Fort Stanton, Camp Sierra Blanca, Capitan and Carrizozo, receive library service on a two-week schedule. Other areas are served on a once-a-month schedule. Watch your local newspaper for date and time the bookmobile will be in your area.

In an effort to reach as many people as possible, station collections have been instituted at San Patricia Post Office and Picacho Post Office giving the people of these communities, who cannot meet the bookmobile, access to a library service. The bookmobile is stocked with a blend of fiction and non-fiction designed to assist borrowers with self-study and recreation.

In addition to books the library has for circulation; local history and music on cassette tapes; phonograph records and magazines. Service for the blind and physically handicapped can be obtained through this library. Films and slide programs will be shown for any organization by request. Programs are already in effect for one senior citizen's group, a story hour group, a day care center, and two headstart groups. If you would like to take advantage of this free film service, write Southeastern Regional Library, P.O. Box 517, Lovington, NM 88260, or call (505) 396-4313.

Librarian Katy Rotan urges every rural citizen of Lincoln County to take advantage of this free library service.

The Quilting Bit

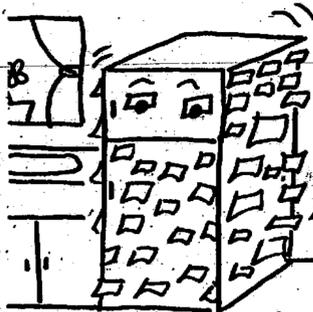

By Polly Chavez

Many books are available to you on the market and through the bookmobile, Southeastern Regional Library, for extensive information on quilting.

This column is called 'The Quilting Bit' because I do not go into detail in the various areas of quilting. My tips, ideas and personal experience are in your quilting efforts. I look forward to seeing your creations displayed in the Lincoln County Fair next year in Capitan.

This column is for the reader, male or female, who admire the art of quilting. If you enjoy quilting, I would like to hear from you.

I would be almost like having a real old-fashioned quilting bee if you send me your quilting comments, ideas and tips. This would add to the column. Address correspondence to The Quilting Bit Box 374, Carrizozo, NM 88301.

Now take a break from the housework or typewriter or whatever you need a coffee break from and read how I plan to make a modern-day quilt, although it is really not quilted but tacked.

Tacking comforts may be a forgotten art; but, it comes in handy in this day when a person is on the go and pressed for time.

I bought a denim patch pattern in the faded-look print for the comfort top. The lining will be a twin size solid color sheet, blue to match denim pattern; I suggest a perma-match fashion muslin sheet. The filling will be a worn blanket of wool or a sheet blanket, although dacron batting for the filling would be fine. I will tack together top, filling and lining at random with crochet thread and slipstitch all around edges. No borders. (Double knot on tacks; clip even)

Curtains, throw pillows, pillow cases and dust ruffles may be stitched to match your comfort by ordering extra sheets of the denim pattern. There are many beautiful printed decorator sheets available on the market. Flowers, stripes, and abstract designs are only some of the choices to go with your favorite color schemes.

Decorator sheets and tacking is an uncomplicated way for a beginner, male or female, to try their hand at creating something to be proud of.

BLISSFUL IGNORANCE

Recipes for winter meals and holidays

MELISSA LORENZEN'S
MOCHA CHIFFON CAKE

¾ cup hot coffee
1-3 cup unsweetened cocoa
1, 2-3 cups sugar
1½ teaspoons baking soda
1¾ cups all-purpose flour
½ cup pure vegetable oil
7 egg yolks
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
7 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Blend hot coffee and cocoa and set aside to cool. Sift flour, sugar and baking soda in a large bowl. Make a well in the center and add (in this order) oil, egg yolks, vanilla, and cool coffee mixture.

Beat until smooth. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until very stiff. Pour chocolate mixture gradually over beaten egg whites, gently folding just until blended. Pour into an ungreased 10-inch tube pan and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Increase oven heat to 375 degrees and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer or until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Invert pan and cool cake completely.

COCONUT CAKE

¾ cup shortening
1½ cup sugar
1½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
¾ cup coconut
2½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
5 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Cream shortening and sugar until light. Add vanilla and mix. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating very well after each addition. Mix in coconut and gently fold in egg whites. Bake in two nine-inch greased and floured pans at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

VERY CREAMY
FROSTING

½ cup margarine
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 cup milk, scalded

Cream margarine, shortening and sugar very, very well. Allow milk to cool, then add 1 tablespoon at a time, beating well with mixer after each addition. This last step is very important. Icing is soft and creamy and does not harden or change texture at room temperature even if cake sets out several days. Frosts one cake top and sides, with plenty for filling.

Pound Cake

2 cups soft butter
2 cups sugar
10 eggs
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
4 cups cake flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mace

Bake at 300 to 325 degrees 1¼ to 1½ hours.

Cream soft butter with sugar until fluffy or until all sugar granules are dissolved. Add the unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating after each addition. When the last egg has been added, beat one minute.

Sift flour with salt and mace. Add flour and mix mace in carefully. Add lemon juice and mix well. Turn into a buttered tube pan and bake. Let cool in pan and invert on rack.

SPICE CHIFFON CAKE

2 cups sifted flour
1½ cups sugar
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup oil
7 eggs, separated
¾ cup cold water
½ teaspoon cream of tartar

Sift first eight ingredients together. Make a well and add oil, egg yolks and water. Beat on low speed one minute. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar to soft peak stage. Slowly fold four mixture over whites until just blended. Pour into a 10" tube pan and cut through with spatula. Bake at 350 degrees for 55 minutes; then increase temperature to 375 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes or until done. Invert and cool. Remove from pan.

Yellow Sponge Cake

6 egg yolks
½ cup ice water
1½ cups sugar
½ teasp. lemon extract
1½ cups cake flour
1 teasp. vanilla
¼ teasp. salt
6 egg whites
¾ teasp. cream of tartar

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add water and continue beating until thick. Gradually add sugar and vanilla and lemon extracts. Fold in flour sifted with salt, a little at a time. Beat egg whites until foamy, add cream of tartar; then beat whites until they form moist and glossy peaks. Fold egg whites into egg yolk mixture. Bake in 10-inch ungreased angel cake pan in a slow oven for one hour. Invert pan to cool cake.

"It is important not to overbeat, as well as not to underbeat the eggs in making the sponge cake. Overbeaten eggs account for the humps or cracks sometimes seen in the sponge cake."

Swiss Ham and Noodle Casserole

Here's a delicious way to use your noodles: In a quandry over who to serve when your cupboard's almost bare? A package of noodles or macaroni, cheese and seasoning, a dab of ham and a can of mushroom soup can be turned into a satisfying casserole that's nutritious as well as delicious. It's just the kind of pre- or post-holiday dish that will please the family.

The nutlike flavor of Swiss cheese is a perfect complement to the tender pink, slightly salty ham nuggets. Butter, simmered onion and green pepper make a lively sauce with mushroom soup and milk. It's almost a meal-in-a-dish when you layer noodles, ham, cheese and sauce in a casserole.

If you wish, put together the casserole in the morning and refrigerate it if you're going to be out during the day. Increase the heating time by five or 10 minutes if you place a cold casserole in the oven. At any rate, heat until bubbly.

1 package (8 oz.) egg noodles
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 can (10 ¾ oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup milk
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese

2 cups cubed ham (about ¾ lb.)
Cook noodles according to package directions; drain. Melt butter; add onion and green pepper and saute. Remove from heat. Combine soup and milk; add sauteed onion and green pepper. Layer 1-3 of the noodles, 1-3 of the Swiss cheese, 1-3 of the ham and ½ of the mushroom sauce in a buttered 2-quart casserole dish. Repeat layers, ending with final 1-3 layer noodles, cheese and ham.

Bake in preheated 350 degrees F. oven 35 to 45 minutes or until heated through. 6 to 8 servings.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

¾ cup raisins
4 cup boiling water
1½ cup shortening
1 to 1½ cups packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 to 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons soda
½ teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves and all spice
2 unbeaten eggs
1 to 1½ cups thick applesauce
¾ cup chopped walnuts

Combine raisins and boiling water; set aside. In a mixing bowl, beat shortening, sugar, salt, spices and eggs until creamy, smooth and fluffy. Scrape bowl often. Blend in applesauce, then flour and walnuts. Stir soda into undrained raisins; add to batter and mix well. Pour into greased and floured 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tests done.

Carrot Cake

Sift together into a large mixing bowl: 2¼ c. sifted all-purpose flour, 1½ c. sugar, 1½ teasp. baking powder, 1½ teasp. soda, 1½ teasp. cinnamon and ¾ teasp. salt.
Add one cup salad oil, three eggs, 1½ c. finely shredded carrot, ¾ c. crushed pineapple (with syrup), and 1½ teasp. vanilla.
Mix until moistened; beat two minutes at medium speed on an electric mixer. Bake in two greased and lightly floured nine-inch round pans at 350 degrees for approximately 35 minutes or until done. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool and frost.
Buttercream Frosting
¾ pound butter
4 c. sifted powdered sugar
1 egg
½ teasp salt
1 teasp. vanilla extract
2 T. light cream

Cream butter until fluffy; add half the sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Blend in egg, salt and vanilla. Add remaining sugar alternately with the cream, beating until smooth after each addition until desired consistency is obtained.

Colonial Fruitcake

Fruit mixture:
1 c. light raisins
1 c. candied red cherries, halved
1 c. diced citron
1 c. slivered almonds

Cake Batter:
3 c. sifted all-purpose flour
1 teasp. baking powder
½ teasp. ground allspice
½ teasp. salt
1 c. butter
1½ c. packed brown sugar
6 eggs
1 teasp. almond extract

Grease well an eight-cup fancy mold and dust it with flour. Combine light raisins, cherries, citron and almonds in a medium sized bowl. Sift flour, baking powder, allspice and salt onto wax paper.

Beat butter, sugar, eggs and almond extract in a large bowl at high speed for five minutes. Stir in flour mixture, half at a time. Add batter to fruit mixture, fold in until well mixed. Spoon into mold.

Bake at 300 degrees 1½ hours or until center springs back when lightly pressed with fingertip. Cool in the pan on a wire rack 10 minutes; loosen around edges with a small knife. Allow to cool completely on the rack.

Tammie Hillmeyer's Cake

Bake at 375 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes
2 c. sifted cake flour
1½ tsp. salt
½ c. shortening
1 c. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs
¾ c. plus 1 T. milk

Mix flour, baking powder and salt and sift three times. Soften shortening on medium speed of mixer for one minute, or hand beat until soft. Gradually add sugar and vanilla to shortening, use mixer to cream for five minutes. Scrape bowl often. Add eggs and beat one minute. At low speed, mix egg mixture, dry ingredients and milk by thirds. Mix a total of four minutes.

Fluffy Chocolate Icing
Cream: 4 c. butter or margarine
½ c. shortening and 1 teasp. vanilla.
Sift together and add: 1 pound powdered sugar and ½ c. cocoa.
Mix well; with ¼ c. or more warm milk. Spread on cooled spice cake.

Zozo downs Eagles 29-0

Ray Hernandez was a happy grizzly after his first major quarterbacking Friday night.

Jimmy Samora moves out for a big gain with the ball fingertipped.

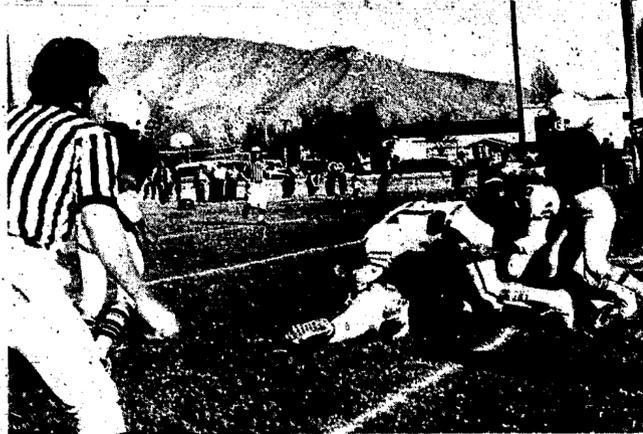

Mountainair finally made a mark on the score card in the fourth quarter but their effort was too little and too late.

Down the field went the Tiger and it was another bit of winning forward progress for the No. 1 Captain team.

Ricky Vega hugs the ball after a leaping catch.

They looked like dominoes but it is the Big Red in action Saturday against Navajo Mission.

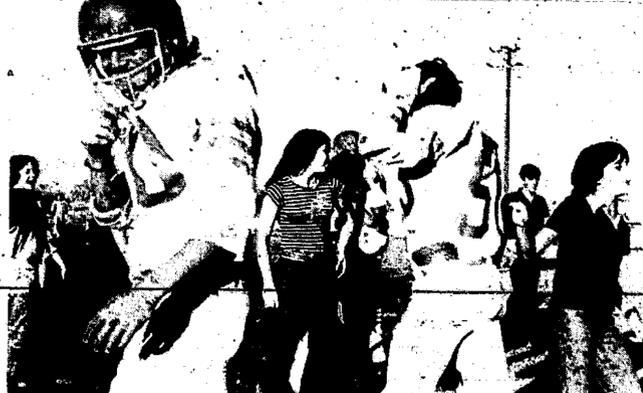

Captain's excellent defense made a big difference Friday night. This tackle lost the ball for Mountainair.

He snagged the ball although it looks like a miss for the Tigers Friday night playing against Mountainair.

The ref unscrambles the guys to find out who has the ball.

Ray Beltran, the big point gatherer for Carrizozo this season had another good game Saturday against the Eagles.

Tommy Bragg moves with the ball for the Grizzlies.

On to the field come the Grizzlies led by the cheering squad. An even happier group took them back to the lockers.

Cards lose to Cloudcroft

The Corona Cardinals played Cloudcroft last Friday night and went down in defeat by losing to the Bears by a score of 40-20. It was a quarter final game and the last game of the season for the Cardinals.

The Corona defense never got things together and got behind 20-0 in the first quarter. The Cardinals continued to make mistakes all night.

Scott Nalda had a very good night scoring 3 touchdowns and a 2 point conversion.

The season ended with 7 wins and 3 losses.

The Cardinals only lose two seniors and hope to improve and create some new records next year.

Coach Warfield said I would like to thank everyone who helped and played a role in attaining what goals we have accomplished. We are certainly looking forward to the 1977 season.

Tigers take Mustangs 19-6

The Capitan Tigers defeated the Mountainair Mustangs for the second time this season to advance to semi-finals in state championship play-offs.

The Tigers and Mustangs both came out ready to play Friday as the first quarter saw both teams exchanging a number of punts. Then in the opening seconds of the second quarter Robbie Richardson scored on a 10 yd. sprint that put Capitan in front 6-0.

The score stayed that way until the opening of the second half when Ronnie Works returned the opening kick-off 70 yards for a touchdown and also ran the 2pt. conversion to make it 14-0 Capitan,

The Capitan defense went to work then and late in the third quarter David Hightower blocked a Mustang punt that rolled out of the end zone for a safety.

The fourth quarter saw both offense score once as Ronnie Works kicked a school record breaking field goal of 35 yards to end Capitan scoring and make it 19-0.

The Mustangs struck back as Larry Autrey scored with 43 seconds left. The kick was good and the final score was 19-7 Capitan.

The Tigers meet Cloudcroft Friday on Tigers field to see who goes to the state championship at 7:30.

The News, November 11, 1976, back on a winning streak and they're out to take State and you can bet your bottom dollar that we're gonna do it!

An elk was killed and the meat sold, and a hunter lost about 10 a.m. in the forest was found late Saturday night. A man said to be Eloy Gurule of Los Lunas was brought into the Texaco station Sunday evening. He had suffered a gunshot wound and died before our ambulance reached Carrizozo.

The News, November 11, 1976, Page 6

Guest of honor was Mrs. Pallie Dishman who was named Corona's Woman of the Year for her humanitarian endeavors over the past forty years. Mrs. Dishman will be honored at a reception to be held in the Corona school library on November 14, from 2:00 to 4:00 and the community is cordially invited to attend.

A program on how language affects life style was given by Mrs. Bond. She pointed out that word definitions are constantly changing and that common usage determines definition. Slang is a method used to keep outsiders out and hackneyed phrases are best avoided in favor of clear, concise words. Members were asked to mention words new to the language during the last twenty years and among those mentioned were laser, radar, astronaut, and dork.

Following the closing ritual, refreshments of petite fours and coffee were served. Table decorations carried out the theme of the year, "Follow the Rainbow Road."

Sorority has fair

Xi Beta Epsilon held an Arts & Crafts Fair November 2, in the Bowling Alley. There were exhibits of all kinds including pictures by local artists, knitting, quilts, string art, and other interesting displays contributed by local talent.

There were 34 participants who each shared several of their projects. There were over 115 patrons who viewed this display of local artists. Corona and the surrounding area has several talented people and it was great to have them share their talent.

In the pre-packaged world of sophisticated toys and games the need for a child to think for himself is apt to be denied.

He may be deprived of the opportunity to develop ability which defines creativity, the ability to be originitive.

Dolls must do something-walk, talk, crawl, sleep, eat, grow hair.

Start to help your children have creative experiences by providing basic materials with which they can create.

The materials on which children's imaginations grow are: cloth, nails, tools, wood, yarn, paper, dough, rolling pins and boxes.

Set a time aside to show children the best way to use paste, tape, and scissors. Let them express their own ideas. If you are employed outside the home, reserve a half hour or so evenings for this pastime.

On week-ends, Dad can guide the artistic genius while Mom catches up on the housework, or vice versa.

For the junior carpenters (girls or boys) around the house, buy them scrap pine and assorted nails for boats, doll tables, and boxes. Supply a sm² jar of poster paint and one-inch brush so that they can get a genuine feeling of satisfaction by giving their creations a real finished touch. Have plenty of newspapers handy for drips.

For the small bakers (girls or boys) when you're baking biscuits, give them a small quantity of dough that they may poke, roll and pat. Let them use miniature pans (jar lids). Bake along with your batch so that culinary efforts may be shared at the dinner table. This also keeps you from having to tell them to keep their hands out of your mixing bowl.

SHAPE OF THINGS
Our educational system is really in bad shape. It's bad enough when Johnny can't read but now Elizabeth can't type.

Tiger Talk

by Becky Renfro

On November 5 the Capitan Tigers played hard to beat the Mountainair Mustangs in the quarter-finals football game. The Tigers were leading the Mustangs at half-time with the score of 6-0 with a touchdown by Robbie Richardson. In the second half, the Tigers poured on the power and scored one touchdown with Ronnie Works returning a kick off and David Hightower blocked a punt and scored a safety and Ronnie Works kicked a 35 yard field goal.

The game was real exciting with the final score being 19-6. The Capitan Tigers will play the Cloudercroft Bears in the semi-finals on Friday, November 12, in Capitan. Game time will be at 7:30 p.m. There will be a pep rally on Friday, at 3:00 in the afternoon. Everyone be sure and be there with lots of spirit because the Tigers are going to crush the Bears. A Sock-Hop will follow this game. Admission will be 25 cents.

The Capitan Tigrettes traveled to Portales on Nov. 4, to play in the New Mexico State Volleyball Tournament. The Tigrettes played the Animas Panthers. The Panthers won the match and went on to win second in the State Tournament in the Class A Division. The Seniors will take their ACT tests on November 20, 1976 at 8:30 a.m. in Ruidoso.

From the Cheerleaders:
We would like to thank all the people who came out to the games and helped support our team. We hope to see you Friday night when Capitan meets Cloudercroft on the Tiger field. We've really got a lot of Spirit this year, and we especially think alot of our team.

Keep up the Tiger spirit, and come on out and watch us stuff the Bears.

See ya at State!

ROUND THE CAPITOL

Voters raised the curtain on a new era in New Mexico politics by retiring Democratic U.S. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya by a landslide.

Voters said they wanted a change by electing moderate-conservative Silver City Republican Harrison Schmitt, 41, an ex-astronaut, over Sen. Montoya in Schmitt's first try for public office. Santa Fean Montoya, 41, a 40-year veteran public official, won only nine of 32 counties—Guadalupe, McKinley, Mora, Rio Arriba, San Miguel, Sandoval, Santa Fe, Socorro and Taos.

It was only the second defeat of Montoya's long career. He lost a 1950 U.S. House primary run.

Schmitt said he will seek assignment to the Senate Interior or Foreign Relations Committees. The Interior Committee is crucial to New Mexico interests. Sen. Pete Domenici, R-Albuquerque, will move to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. Montoya was on the atomic panel. U.S. Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., R-Albuquerque, is also on the joint committee.

Lujan swamped his general election opponent 3-1 and carried 13 of 14 U.S. House District 1 counties. Lujan defeated Albuquerque Democrat Raymond Garcia, formerly of Penasco.

Voters adopted a constitutional amendment sponsored by State Rep. John Bigbee, R-Torrance-Guadalupe-De-Baca-Lincoln. Amendment 6 freezes into the constitution the present severance tax permanent fund. Under terms of Bigbee's amendment the legislature can spend the growing principal of the fund only by a three-fourths vote of each House. Income only from the fund's investments can be appropriated by lawmakers as other general operating revenue is appropriated. The fund is composed of tax receipts on New Mexico natural resources.

Voters killed five of seven proposed constitutional amendments. Among them they rejected Constitutional Amendment 2 and made Gov. Jerry Apodaca a lame duck. CA 2 would have allowed Apodaca and six other Democratic elected state officials to seek second four-year terms in 1978.

Lt. Gov. Bob Ferguson, 50, Artesia, said he will probably seek the Democratic nomination for governor in 1978. Under the state constitution Ferguson, an insurance and real estate business owner, is the only state official who can run for state office in 1978 and he can run only for governor. Other early 1978 Democratic governor prospects are ex-Gov. Bruce King, 52, Stanley; State Sen. Aubrey Dunn, Alamogordo; Ben Alexander, Hobbs, and State Rep. Raymond Sanchez, Albuquerque. Alexander was New Mexico Jimmy Carter campaign chairman. He is a former state Democratic Party chairman.

Lincoln County rancher Joe Skeen said he is weighing another try for governor in 1978. Skeen, the 1974 Republican governor candidate, lost narrowly to Apodaca by 3,742 votes. Congressman Lujan is also regarded as a 1978 GOP governor prospect. U.S. Rep. Harold Runnels, D-Lovington, may try in 1978 for the Democratic governor or U.S. Senate nomination. Gov. Apodaca, Las Cruces Democrat, is viewed as a prime prospect to run for the Senate in 1978 to try to oust Domenici. Assessing general election results, Gov. Apodaca said: "Elections are won by ticky splitters." Republican Gerald Ford won New Mexico over Democrat Jimmy Carter by about 8,500 votes and Schmitt won by some 57,000.

But Democrats retained firm control of the legislature. Democrats gained three Senate seats and lost three House members over-all. The GOP won some local races in Lea, Otero and Dona Ana Counties. Republicans won Valencia County courthouse control for the first time in 24 years. But, generally, Democrats kept a firm grip on most New Mexico courthouses, including Bernalillo.

State Sen. Kenneth Schlienz, R-Curry-Quay, suffered facial injuries when he was attacked in a Santa Fe parking lot. Schlienz said he was struck on his head and face four times while he was removing clothes from his truck at a Santa Fe motel. He suffered a cracked bone beneath an eye and facial cuts. His assailant fled when a car was driven into the motel parking lot with its lights operating. Schlienz was in Santa Fe for an interim lawmaker committee meeting.

A scrap between Old Lincoln County Memorial Commission and Captain School District over an abandoned school at Lincoln was set to be aired before the Legislative Finance Committee at a commission budget hearing in Santa Fe. The state commission wants the former school to expand its operations. Ownership of the school property is in question. Lincoln County Commission deeded the property to Captain Schools in 1974. Captain Schools ordered the commission to vacate the school and claimed part of land that is on the site of Old Lincoln County Courthouse. The Commission disputes the school district's claim and asked Atty. Gen. Tony Anaya to look into the problem. Asst. Atty. Gen. Jill Cooper was assigned to the controversy.

LINCOLN

by Hattie Phillips

Mary Ward visited her daughter and grand-daughter in El Paso last week. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pfingsten came to Lincoln last weekend to visit his parents and Pete went hunting. They had two of their boys with them, but Joe and Kathy Pfingsten wanted to keep the younger boy, Jeff and the little girl while Pete and Jan were away.

LeRoy and Amelia McKnight were happy to have Mrs. Don (Mary Ann) Harris and daughters Jana and Shannon for a weekend visit. They live in Gallup, where Mary Ann's husband is credit manager for Gurley Motors. They enjoy the ranch so much when they are here as all of the family does.

LeRoy and Amelia have been having a great time going to the grade school ball games. Their grandson Ronnie Eldridge is on the Captain team. They were on their way to a game at Ruidoso Saturday afternoon. Ronnie had been injured the week before and couldn't play but they wanted to see the team play and cheer for them.

The Mountain Valley Nursery crew are working long hours getting cones, seeds, etc., processed to fill orders. It is a very interesting operation and Lincoln is fortunate to have them here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee West who lived in the foot-hills of the Capitan mountains, at the Padilla place in the 1930's came by for a visit, and were going to Capitan and around the mountain back to their home in Roswell. They still enjoy this part of the country and we truly enjoy their visits.

The Tinnie Baptist Church is having revival services this week. Good sermons and good music.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimmitt Bond of Corona visited her mother Mrs. Maggie Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Joiner last Sunday.

Visitors at the McGinnis home last weekend were daughter Nancy Vassar, her two daughters and their two girl friends of Big Springs, Texas and Jean and Albert Hill of Roswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pfingsten and Lynn enjoyed having their daughter Myrna and her husband Wes for the weekend.

Albert and Kathy Boakey were home last weekend from NMSU.

COUNTY NEWS

News from the County Agent With New Mexico State Univ. —

Calf sales have been slow to develop this year. Generally any sales were for immediate delivery. The moisture clout two weeks ago triggered a short spell of buying of cattle to go on wheat pasture. Hereford, angus and black baldy steer calves were bringing from 39 to 43 cents per pound, while their heifer mates were bringing from 34 to 35 cents per pound. These calves weighed from 350 to 450 pounds.

Feeder lambs have been selling from 46 to 53 cents per pound depending on the weight. The lighter lambs were bringing the higher prices.

Check Beef Cows at Weaning for Pregnancy

If you are running short of grass, you might sell any cows that are not pregnant at weaning time. Pregnancy examination can be done by a veterinarian or a qualified technician. All that is needed is restraining equipment. Open cows could be marketed, and reduce the cow herd without reducing next year's calf crop. It will be 2 years before the open cow can wean another calf and very few calves are worth this much investment in cow feed.

The only function of a beef cow is to produce a calf with enough weight and value to offset her annual cost. Most of the cow's annual cost consists of her wintering bill. Carrying open cows for a full year without any returns is one of the largest drains on a cattleman's profits. Therefore, pregnancy checking could be one way to decide which cows to sell.

Once you've killed a deer, treat it like you would a fresh beef. Gut it immediately, clean the cavity, and spread the carcass open so it can cool out from the inside. Some people like to bleed it, but this isn't necessary. Remove the skin as soon as you get home so that the carcass can cool more rapidly. It's also not necessary to hang the carcass in 38 degrees temperature for three days; but, the meat is easier to cut if this is done. You may wish to have your deer skinned and butchered by a professional. If you want to do this job yourself, you'll need a knife for skinning and a large hunting knife and meat saw for butchering.

After skinning the deer, saw the neck off at the shoulders. Separate the carcass in halves by sawing down the backbone from the tail to the base of the neck and proceed to butcher each half. I like to completely bone my venison, as it can be done more readily at home and it takes up less freezer space.

A recent change in policy of the Veterans Administration is that pay for travel to hospital will be based on cost of the most economical common carrier, plus costs of authorized meals and lodging incurred while en route.

In many instances veterans traveling from the Lincoln County area to the veterans hospital in Albuquerque will arrive at point of destination too late to get hospital service that day and need to stay over night.

There are exceptions: where a physician has determined that veteran can not make it by common (bus) carrier, then the vet could travel by car and be paid for same. Round trip mileage is figured at eight cents per mile.

Gorilla speaks with signs

Like any normal five-year-old, Koko talks a lot, is full of mischief, tells fibs when she has been naughty, and hates to take naps.

This five-year-old is not a child but a gorilla—the first to learn and use a human language. Koko knows about 250 words in the American Sign Language of the deaf.

She can string together as many as a dozen signs, but—like many humans—tends to get repetitious in long sentences.

The 95-pound gorilla also is adept at inventing names for objects she sees for the first time. She called a ring a "finger bracelet," a mask an "eye hat," and a stale sweetroll a "cookie rock."

Born on Fourth of July
Koko is a real Yankee Doodle gorilla, born on the Fourth of July, 1971, in the San Francisco zoo. She has been learning sign language since she was a year old.

Her teacher, constant companion, and great friend is Francine Patterson, a 29-year-old graduate student at Stanford University. The National Geographic Society recently started supporting Miss Patterson's project, continuing a tradition of sponsoring research into great apes.

"Koko is far from intellectual maturity," Miss Patterson explained. "No one has ever studied a gorilla this closely through its years of development, breeding, and family life. Given the things she is telling us now, it would be fascinating to know what's in the mind of an adult gorilla."

Right now, Koko can express through sign language such ideas as "happy," "smart," "patient," and "mad." And she is mastering time concepts such as "later," "now," "tomorrow," and "yesterday."

"But we'll have to wait until her vocabulary expands or her sophistication about things grows before she can tell us what she thinks, for example, about her social relationships with others," Miss Patterson explained. The researcher is in no hurry.

Plans Lifetime Study
"I hope to be spending my life studying Koko and her family—if we can gather a family for her," Miss Patterson said. "We're interested in getting a companion for her in the immediate future—it need not be a male—and in the more long-term future want to get her a mate."

And we would hope she would eventually produce an infant or two and we could establish a social group. I don't know if it would be possible to have a colony of gorillas who pass on language. That's a dream. But this kind of a social group may be the only answer to keeping gorillas alive since they're so threatened in the wild."

Teaching a gorilla sign language gives researchers a key to learning the level of their intelligence, which Miss Patterson thinks has been underrated. She has given Koko a variety of intelligence tests, including the classic Stanford-Binet, and the gorilla's score ranges around 80 to 85, in the low normal range for humans.

"This puts her about a year behind a child of the same age mentally, which is not bad," said Miss Patterson. "A child with that IQ can get along all right. The belief that chimpanzees are mentally superior to other apes is a myth, in my opinion."

Koko is intelligent, or deceptive, enough to blame someone else when she has broken a toy. When confronted with the toy and asked, "What happened here, Koko?" she often will sign that Kate did it. Kate is one of Miss Patterson's assistants and a favorite scapegoat.

Koko also is quick to think up an alibi. For instance, she plays her own brand of keep-away in which the opponent is never allowed to have the ball. Once when a player pursued the ball under Koko's house trailer, where she lives on the Stanford campus, she gave him a play bite on the posterior. Asked to explain this no-no, Koko signed: "Him ball bad."

Enjoys "Gray Ghost"

Like most five-year-olds Koko loves to play games. One of her favorites is "Gray Ghost," in which she puts a gray cloth bag over her head and bumps around the interior of the trailer, pretending she is blind. If the bag isn't handy, Koko will just close her eyes and do the same thing.

Unlike many five-year-olds, Koko doesn't watch much television. There is none in the trailer, but Miss Patterson once took Koko to her home to watch herself on a TV news program. When Koko saw herself eating a sandwich, she became very excited and signed, "Koko eat."

Koko craves companionship and can't stand being left alone. Miss Patterson often spends at least 12 hours a day with her and always leaves a baby-sitter when she's not around.

The gorilla also enjoys showing off for an audience, and put on a choice performance at the Stanford press conference announcing National Geographic support for the project.

She climaxed the show by opening the door of a TV crew's car, sitting behind the wheel, and picking up the portable telephone. Then she grabbed a pair of sunglasses from the dashboard, put them on, and pounded her chest with delight.

Town meeting

said that the company would be given one year to provide service to all residents within the town limits.

Cope asked that the installation hookup for underground cable be raised from $15 to $25 unless the resident dug the required ditch. His request was approved.

Payne read a letter from the State Highway department requesting the town's share of the $24,099.19 bill for the electrically operated railroad crossing. The town's bill is 10 percent or $2,409. Payne suggested and it was agreed that state financial officer Al Romero be sent the bill and asked for a way to pay it.

Mayor Richard Guiles of Tularosa who is the new president of the New Mexico Municipal League told the trustees about that organization's plans for legislative lobbying in the coming year. He said that other towns shared Carrizozo's financial problems and reviewed financial programs to remedy that condition.

Of particular interest is compensating use fund that would give small communities a bigger share of gross receipts taxes collected by the state. Application of that to Carrizozo would bring over $30,000 a year to the town.

In other business the town opened bids for a truck for the golf course and gave the bid to Gallas Chevrolet whose low bid of $4358 met the specifications submitted by Henry Vega.

The trustees also heard Mary Rich and Larry Wilkinson ask that the retention of the new garbage system be reconsidered. They cited damage to the town credit and a return to trashy alleys as reasons for reviewing the decision last week to let the new truck and containers be repossessed.

Mayor Crenshaw introduced a report from the New Mexico State University Extension Service showing that the annual cost, including payments of the new system would be $23,080 and that of the old system would be $22,051. The principle cost of the new system is capital purchase and would be paid off in five years. The old systems major cost is labor which will continue.

The report also showed that the estimated revenue including the recently voted increase will not pay for either system. Revenue is estimated to be only $17,466 while costs for that period, regardless of which system is used, will be over $23,000.

No trustee made a motion to reconsider and Hernandez moved that the meeting be adjourned.

The system is in the process of being returned and residents will need conventional garbage cans by the end of the week.

department upon the okay of former Mayor Floyd Siegrist and Town manager Johnny Johnson but without the consent of the trustees. While the fire department had funds to make the purchases, the purchase was not submitted for bids as required by statute.

Town Attorney Bill Payne said that the state fire marshal had been advised of the problem and he had said that payment would be approved.

The new Carrizozo Fire Chief Albert Najar asked for permission to make future emergency purchases. He was told that he could purchase equipment under $500 in cost if there was an emergency and if the council was later advised of the situation in writing.

Najar asked and was told the fire department had $12,750 in certificates of deposit earning interest and an operating balance of $6,479.

The motor vehicle department of the town which has been operating at a loss will go on half time basis. Clerk Jane Ortiz has agreed to work half days at half salary. She will receive $3000-a year for her 1 to 5 hours. Other city employees will be available to do everything except vehicle transfers during the morning hours. Recent financial investigations show that the town only receives $2300 a year in revenue from the department. The $700 deficit will come from the general fund.

Arl Cope of the Tularosa Cable TV Company which was recently granted a franchise in Carrizozo was present to ask for changes in the franchise. The FCC had notified the town that in order to license the company three changes must be made. A complaints procedure was required and the trustees said that the regular city complaint procedure adopted at this meeting would be used. The town was told that there must be a time limit on hookups and the town

A Bit of Thought!

Say, do you believe in Astrology? Well you may not—or you may; but, it is fun. Millions of Americans are turning to Astrology to find answers to questions about life and problems.

Here are some reasons that Astrology is so popular. Some people want to satisfy a desire to put their lives into perspective; some have a longing for love and affection; there are those who have a need for guidance in decision making or a need to find out what the future will bring. Some have a need to know why the establishment has been attacked; people are confused and are looking for signposts; some are separating from their mates and they feel lost. With some persons it's the fun thing to do. A changing life style has created more problems and there are those who are looking for solutions to those problems. Even the stress of the times has increased an interest in Astrology. Unless taken too seriously, Astrology presents a crutch or something to rely on until a person finds the security he needs. It's not necessarily a spiritual outlet; but, it seems to represent a type of spiritual outlet.

A Pinch of Plants

Azaleas are so beautiful and with the proper planting and care they can be a joy to behold. They require an average to cool climate of 50 to 60 degrees, bright indirect light—avoid full sun—never let the soil dry out, but do not allow it to become too wet either, do not fertilize while they are blooming. Water regularly during the growth stage and fertilize every 3 weeks. Plant in a shaded position outdoors when spring frost danger is past. Trim in July. Buds form in summer and fall. When nights become cooler, reduce watering and, remember, to bring azaleas indoors before frost and store in a room 45 to 50 degrees.

A Handful of Health

Here is a new idea—house calls for cars. Sears, Roebuck and Company now offers a Mobile Car Tuneup.

It seems that malnutrition early in life can be corrected later and doesn't leave permanent damage.

Dashes of laughter: A girl needs to kiss a lot of frogs to find her prince charming.

"Do you believe in life after death?" the boss asked one of his younger employees. "Yes, Sir." "Well then, about an hour after you left yesterday to go to your grandfather's funeral, he stopped in to see you."

Do You Know

The Taurus, in Nogal who has had her share of little sick spells—hope you're feeling better.

The two Nogal gals who attended the needlepoint national meeting in Lincoln—where they saw a large and beautiful picture of George Washington done in needlepoint—very, very old, excellent work of long ago.

That Nancy Lou Canning also visited the meeting and announced that she was putting in a new needlecraft shop in Albuquerque.

That Nogal is still full of lovely juicy apples. The recipe this week is Green Chile Pinwheels. Here are the ingredients:

2 c. grated cheddar cheese

1 c. flour

approx 1/2 teasp. salt

1/2 lb. melted butter

18 oz. can chopped green chile

Mix first three ingredients together, then add the butter and knead until thoroughly blended. Roll out in a rectangular shape. Spread with chopped green chiles and a little barbecue sauce and roll like a jelly roll. You may bake them or slice them smaller and bake at 350 degrees for about 10 minutes.

Around the Bowl

You see little red hats sneaking everywhere. I am sure that many hunters got a deer or a turkey or a tree or something.

It's a big flash for everyone that Sue and Bob are getting the crossing fixed which goes through the river to their house. In a way, it is kinda sad, however, because so many have had to spend the night when it rained, and that was fun too. It was rather hard at certain times when Sue and Bob couldn't get home over the river; still, all those wonderful experiences will be in the past. And now, they will have no excuse to stay at the neighbors when it rains, too bad. No kidding, Nogal is pleased to have the road fixed.

The Whittakers visited The Villa this week and told me their good news. Their son and his family are moving to Carrizozo and among other things he does, will raise worms. We are glad to have them. Naturally, they will be visiting Marge and Alton quite often.

MILK GROUP

Many of today's diets are low in calcium because we don't use enough calcium-rich foods, such as milk and cheese, in our diets. Growing children need calcium to build bones and teeth, especially during teen years, when children are growing fast. Adults, too, need calcium even though they're not building bones and teeth. Each day, adults lose some calcium and must replace it. Calcium helps clot blood when you cut or injure yourself; it helps keep all your muscles in good shape so they can work for you... especially the heart muscles. Milk is our leading source of calcium. It also provides high-quality protein, riboflavin, vitamin A (if milk is whole or fortified), and other nutrients. Protein in milk builds and repairs body tissues, helps the body fight infection, and supplies energy. Eight ounces of fresh whole milk has about 160 calories; the same amount of skim milk has only 90 calories.

Food Included in the Milk Group: Milk: fluid whole, evaporated, skim, dry, buttermilk. Cheese: cottage, cream, cheddar type, natural or processed, ice cream. Yogurt.

Recommended Amounts: Some milk daily is urged for almost everyone. Recommended amounts in terms of 8-ounce cups (or glasses) of whole fluid milk are: children under 9, 2-3 cups; children 9-12, 3 or more cups; teenagers, 4 or more cups; adults; 2 or more cups; pregnant women, 3 or more; nursing mothers, 4 or more. Part of all the milk may be fluid skim milk, buttermilk, evaporated milk or dry milk.

Cheese, ice cream and yogurt can be used in place of part of the milk. The amount of any of these it will take to replace a given amount of milk is figured on the basis of calcium content. On this basis, examples are: 1-inch cube cheddar-type cheese equals 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup cottage cheese equals 1/2 cup milk; 2 tablespoons cream cheese equals 1 tablespoon milk; 1/2 cup ice cream equals 1/2 cup milk; 1 cup plain yogurt equals 1 cup milk; 1 cup fruit-flavored yogurt equals 3/4 cup milk.

In other years

by Paul Payton

Twenty Years Ago

From Lincoln County News Friday, Nov. 9, 1956.

New Mexico voters broke a tradition in Tuesday's election by returning to office Ed Mechem as governor for an unprecedented third term.

Lincoln County also established a precedent by returning to office a sheriff who had previously served two terms. S.M. Ortiz defeated Severo Gallegos by 161 votes. The percentage turnout in Lincoln County was in excess of 72 percent.

Charles A. Jones of Capitan was re-elected president of the Lincoln County Farm & Livestock Bureau at its annual meeting in Carrizozo. Joe Skeen of Picacho was elected vice president and George Limacher of Hondo sec-treas.

Ramblin' Around editor reports on interview with Aunt Sally Slaughter—We came to Lincoln County in 1876 from San Antonio. Twice a year we had to go from Seven Rivers to Las Vegas to sell our wool. When we got to Ft. Sumner on one of our trips we stopped to buy corn. We had about 18 head of mules to feed and when we went to buy corn for them like we always did, Billy the Kid said: "I'm sorry but there's just enough corn here for my eight men." He had on cowboy clothes and he had a green silk sash around his Stetson hat. He didn't look like a murderer. He smiled and said: "I hope to see you again."

D. L. Jackson of White Oaks had dinner Monday with Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Snow in Carrizozo. Mr. Jackson served on the election board again this year. He has not missed this service to the public since his appointment as an election official in 1897.

Army Pvt. Ralph Barros returned to Fort Belvoir, Va. after three months at Camp Prince, West Virginia.

Ancho—Walt and Ruth Wilson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fihis Dishroon of Roswell.

Hondo Valley Teachers' Association met Oct. 18 with Ernest Bodoky, president, in charge.

Hostesses for the Nov. 13 meeting of Hondo Valley PTA will be Mmes Sam Montoya, Roman Nunez and Andrew Fresquez.

Dismissals from Carrizozo Hospital: Mrs. Cecelia Mares, Ollie Wade, Nina Ortiz, Conrad Ortiz, Emily Ann King, Carlotta Archuleta, Ernest Apodaca, Daniel Carbajal, Stephen Chavez, Lennie White, Patsy Ruth James, Glenda Sue James, Charles Marson, Alton Talley.

Also on the front page—Last Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at Santa Rita Catholic Church Rev. Father Salvatore read the solemn nuptial mass which united in marriage two of Carrizozo's most prominent young people, Miss Cecilia Vidaurri and Mr. Salvador Ortiz.

Jicarilla News—One of the largest and most enthusiastic audiences assembled at the Jicarilla school house to participate in the Armistice Day program and dance. Mrs. McDonald, our popular teacher, has been cooperating with the Veterans and the PTA to provide noon lunches for the school children.

Waffle House Cafe (advertisement)—Well, folks, we have been in Carrizozo only one month, but we immensely appreciate the hand of friendliness and patronage you have shown us. Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Payne.
