

Swimming pool having its problems

It really wasn't a case of false advertising. Everybody thought the Carrizozo Swimming Pool was going to open last Sunday. Everybody except Brown Edwards, of the Environmental Protection Agency in Ruidoso.

It is necessary for the pool to pass an environmental inspection before opening. The inspection was held last Friday and the pool did not pass.

According to Christine Chavez, Carrizozo town clerk, the pool officials were informed that the pH count registered too high and the opening would have to be postponed.

"Now," she says, "the pool is ready to open except for one thing." A manager-lifeguard and other lifeguards are still needed to man the facility before it can open to the public for the summer.

At this time, no known prospects have availed themselves for the position and town officials as well as the staff at the Lincoln County Extension Service are trying to find people to fill the position for the summer.

Any individual with current life guard credentials, who is looking for summer employment, is asked to report to the Carrizozo town hall immediately and accept the position.

There are plenty of area children, as well as adults, who would like to get swimming as soon as possible, but the pool can not open until a manager and lifeguards can be found.

Three Rivers Fiesta is huge success

An overflowing crowd gathered at Santo Nino de Atocha church in Three Rivers last Saturday for the annual San Isidro Fiesta.

This is the annual celebration of the Battle of Round Mountain and is celebrated with Mass and a processional, followed by the big party. The little church at Three Rivers was filled to capacity, and guests were seated on the lawn in front of the church during Mass.

Fr. Benard of Tularosa and Fr. Joe Sya of Carrizozo served as co-celebrants of the Mass. The Mayor, donors of church committee was made up this year of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sheppard; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dorame, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herrera and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

Following the completion of Mass, the Danzantes, a group of native Indian dancers, took part in the processional to the river for the blessing of the water.

According to legend, this is the fulfilling of La Promesa Solemna (the solemn promise) in which, the descendants of the descendants of those who fought in the battle of Round Mountain would give thanks to Santo Nino (the Christ child) and San Isidro.

A delicious barbecue followed the processional and a country western dance took place on into the night.

All enjoyed the fine food and music and few left very early.

The San Isidro Fiesta took place last Saturday in Three Rivers and was attended by a large crowd. Above, part of the Danzantes and others who took part in the processional can be seen. The Fiesta was held at Santo Nino de Atocha church.

The Danzantes, a group of Indian dancers, always wear interesting costumes at the San Isidro Fiesta in Three Rivers.

Fair Board holds Queen Contest

The Lincoln County Fair Board is sponsoring a horsemanship personality clinic for all Lincoln County girls planning to enter the annual queen contest held during the Smokey the Bear Stampede July 1, 2, and 3. The clinic is open not only to queen contestants but to all girls who might like to run in future years.

The clinic is slated for Monday, June 20, at the Capitan Fair Building, and will begin at 7:00 p.m. It is not mandatory that this year's queen contestants attend, however the clinic should be very helpful to those attending.

All queen contestants for this year are asked to bring their horses and hats to the clinic if possible.

This year's local queen contest is patterned after the State FFA queen

Benefit boxing this Saturday

The Dave Verdugo Benefit Boxing matches will be held this Saturday night, June 11 at the old gym beginning at 7:30 p.m.

All proceeds from this match will go to the Dave Verdugo benefit. Dave was tragically struck down last February while working for a landscaping firm in Albuquerque. He is currently confined to a wheel chair and is paralyzed from the neck down.

One of the highlights slated on the boxing ticket will be a feature bout between Mean Mari of Roswell and Hot Rod of Carrizozo. Both contestants are girls and should make for an interesting match.

It is hoped that individuals in the area who have nothing planned for Saturday night will come to the old gym in Carrizozo for a night of boxing.

The personality portion of the contest will be in the large room of the fair building Friday, July 1, at 2 p.m. Queen contestants will be in nice pantsuits or dresses and will answer several current questions before an audience. The riding section of the contest will immediately follow the personality portion and will be in the arena. Each contestant will ride through a

Lovelace wins FFA Award

Gary Joe Lovelace, a member of the Carrizozo Future Farmers of America chapter, captured the proficiency award in agricultural electrification at the State FFA convention in Las Cruces recently.

The awards were presented to FFA members who demonstrated exceptional proficiency in many different areas of agricultural production and agribusiness. The presentations were made during special ceremonies at the 49th annual FFA convention in Las Cruces.

Lovelace's award was sponsored by the Edison Electrical Institute through the National FFA Foundation.

Students recognized in the Agricultural Proficiency Award Program must show activities and experiences which provide a background for career development in one of the above areas of agricultural production or agribusiness. In addition, students must show jobs held, skills developed, managerial responsibilities and earnings during their years in high school vocational agriculture. The agricultural proficiency awards are provided through the National FFA Foundation, Inc.

predetermined pattern designed to show the girl's horsemanship abilities. In addition each contestant is allowed three minutes of freestyle riding time in which she can further demonstrate her horsemanship abilities. For the riding portion all contestants will be attired in blue denim jeans, white shirt, boots, and hat of choice. Contestants will be judged 60 per cent on horsemanship and 40 per cent on personality.

The Lincoln County Fair Queen contest is open to all single girls age 16 through 21 who attended a Lincoln County high school. There is a $10.00 entry fee for each contestant, with the entry money going to the winning contestant. The fair queen will represent Lincoln County at the State Fair queen contest in Albuquerque during September. The selected queen is expected to be present for the grand entry at each of the three performances of the Smokey the Bear Stampede and the rodeo parade held in the morning of July 3. She is also expected to compete in at least one event of the Lincoln County Fair Rodeo held during the County Fair in August. She is also expected to conduct the 1978 queen clinic for prospective queen candidates in 1978. Deadline for entering the contest is Monday, June 20, so girls get busy and get your entries in.

Cancer Clinic started

A clinic is being set up in Carrizozo by Southwest Health Care Control through a federal grant to offer medical assistance to help diagnose cancer patients in the early stages.

The clinic will be operated at the Carrizozo Health Center on Thursdays between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. and on Fridays between 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

According to Anne Padilla, one of the group's organizers, clinics such as this are also being established in Belen and Estancia. Regarding the treatment she said, "When caught early through screening, cancer is a very curable disease." "Check with your private physician about a pap smear and breast exam if it has been a year or more since your last check-up," she added.

According to Padilla, the group is a consortium put together by St. Josephs Hospital and Presbyterian Hospital of New Mexico. The group is operating on a five year NCI grant from the federal government.

For further information and to make an appointment contact Pat Howell at the Carrizozo Health Center.

United Minerals seeks permit

United Minerals Corp. has asked the state Health and Social Services Dept.'s Environmental Improvement Agency (EIA) for a permit to modify an iron ore processing plant one mile northeast of Carrizozo, NM.

Comments on the permit application should be submitted in writing to the EIA by June 23, 1977, an agency spokesman said.

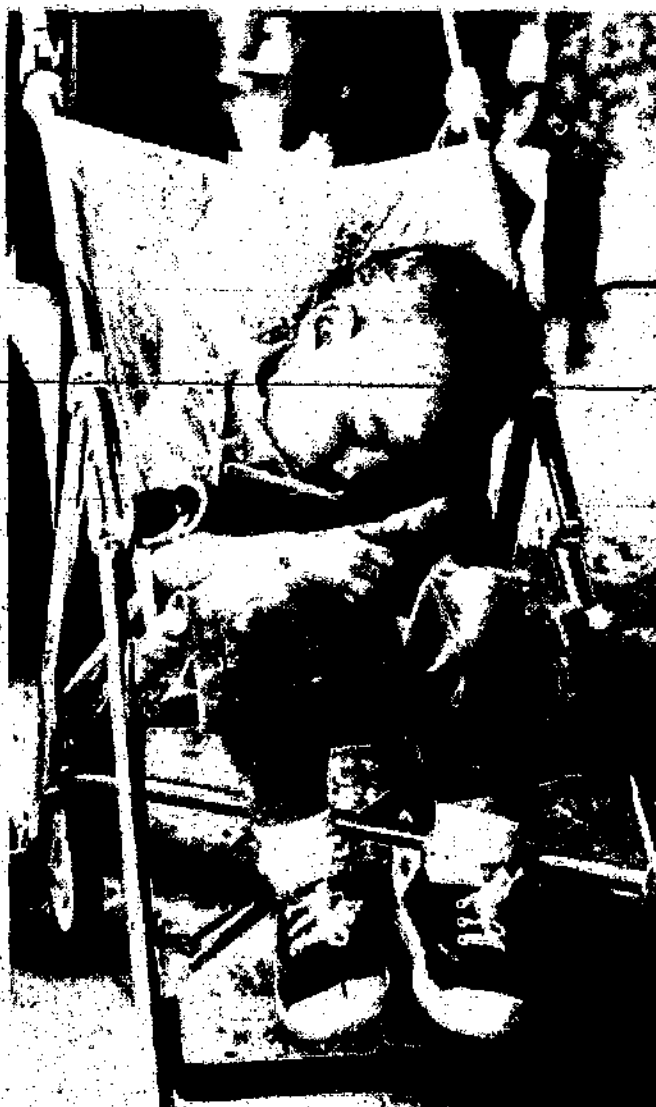

Plant officials expect to increase the plant's capacity to approximately 200 tons of ore per day.

Estimated maximum air pollutant emissions are expected to reach 12 pounds of particulates, fine particles, per hour.

The EIA's preliminary evaluation indicated the proposed facility will meet all applicable air quality regulations and standards, the spokesman said. The EIA will issue the requested permit unless information is received to the contrary, he added.

Copies of the permit application may be viewed at the EIA regional office at 110 E. Fourth St. in Roswell and at the Engineering Division offices in the Crown Bldg., 725 St. Michaels Dr. in Santa Fe.

Comments should be addressed to the Air Pollution Control Engineering Section, EIA Engineering Division, P.O. Box 2348, Santa Fe, N.M. 87503.

Would you believe? 400 persons visited the Smokey Bear Museum last Sunday. They really did. We know that increase during the summer.

We do realize summer is here by the many, many visitors there, last week there were people from Switzerland and France. A very nice man from Brayzenboro, Vermont on a bicycle, Mr. Wood had pedaled 6,900 miles in the last 10 months. He is writing a book about his journey and the people and places he sees. A very interesting person to meet. Also the students from the Marlbridge Foundation at Austin, Texas visited again. 13 students and two attendants. They were here last year and remembered us and wanted to see Smokey's grave.

Ten persons of the Chiron-Tri-4, Odessa, Texas Club were visitors. There is never a dull day there and we are very happy for that. 200 persons of the Antique Car Club are coming thru Capitan June 15 at 10 a.m.

There were nice rains at Ruidoso and several miles from Capitan that way last week but only a very light sprinkle came our way. It is very dry with daily winds. Cannot water during day as it would truly waste the water. Therefore night watering is necessary. The nights have been very cold. Plants try to grow during day but stand still at night. A good rain would be of great benefit.

The annual San Isidro Fiesta held last weekend in Three Rivers was one of the most interesting displays of cross-culture ties I've ever witnessed. A small part of the legend is already explained in another story, but I felt it necessary to add a few words. Finding Three Rivers, or more specifically, Santo Nino de Atocha church was a little more than I had anticipated. I pulled off the highway at the Three Rivers Trading Post and drove behind the building. There, a man and his family were engaged in changing a tire.

"Where is the town of Three Rivers," I asked him?
 "You're looking at it," he answered.
 "No," I said. "Where is the church and fiesta taking place?"
 He set down his lug wrench and looked over my truck. "You got a spare?" he asked.
 "Yes," I answered rather timidly.
 "It's about five miles up that road," he said and returned to his work.
 "Well once the drive up the road was completed, I couldn't have been more impressed. If you've never gone to the fiesta and procession, I recommend it be placed on next year's calendar.

Also last weekend, a good friend of mine from Holbrook, Arizona pulled in returning from his vacation in Texas. Now, I agree that Texas is no place to spend ones vacation, but he is a Texas native and doesn't know any better.

We decided to take in the races at Ruidoso on Sunday afternoon, since the pool didn't get open and I couldn't take any pictures.
 I used to go to the races with my parents as a child in Southern California, but hadn't been in many years. Bill Lee said that he had never actually been to a horse track, but had been raised around horses all his life. So off we went.
 We missed the first couple of races, but watched one, and then he examined the horses very closely as they came out for the following race. He calmly walked, off, I assumed to the beer stand, and returned with a $2.00 win ticket.

His horse came in first place. Okay, beginners luck we figured, but scooped out the next batch of horses as they paraded in front of the stands and jogged around to the otherside of the track.

 "Wanna pick a Quinella," I asked sarcastically?
 "What's that," he wanted to know. I explained that a Quinella race is where you pick not the first place horse, but the first two in any order.

"Sure," he said, never taking his eyes off the horses as they walked in front of us and never paying any attention to the tote board.
 "How about six and two," he said.
 "Sure, why not." It was my turn and off I went for two $2.00 Quinella tickets on six and two.
 Guess who won the race - six and two.

Buy this time, a number of local regulars were beginning to take notice. Everybody has heard of beginners luck, but nobody every believes the story. It always is the type of thing that happens to a friend of a friend.
 Anyway, more beer helped the perspective, and Bill Lee studied the next round of fleet footers, by this time I was reading him the odds off the tote board, but I don't think he listened very closely.

 "Let's go with eight this time, nice legs and seems to be out to win today." A short pause and then he added, also take out one on number two, she's a fine looking animal."

"Number two," I explained, "the odds are 40-1."
 "Don't pay any attention to the board, it's all rigged anyway he said.
 Off I went for two more win tickets for each of us and he headed to the beer stand. We settled into a fine race, number two got lost back in the field, and number eight wound up in a photo finish. We lost by a nose.
 Not taken back a single bit, Bill Lee began scanning the next round of horses between sips of beer and talk of Texas.
 "Okay," he said. "Just one horse this time, and it's going to be number four, nope take that back, number five, yeah, she's the one we want."
 He placed the bets and I studied the tote board passively.
 I don't really need to say that he won that one also, and then it was decided to leave winners. This isn't American I thought to myself as we left the track. Nobody leaves a race track ahead - It just isn't done that way.

The News, June 9, 1977 - Page 3
 Two track regulars watched us leave and I heard one comment to the other: "Been comm'n here for five years, and never had a day like that." I still don't believe it either.

Fort Stanton

by Dolly Lawson

Michael Arraneo and Curly Walker have been employed at Fort Stanton as attendants. Student aides in the education program are Lilly Montes, Debbie Dalton, Darlene Herrera. There are 10 summer aides working in various departments. Lisa Lamb was assigned to the Psychology department as a typist. Arron Price has also been assigned to the Psychology department to help work with the counselors. Arron will be entering college in the fall and plans to major in psychology. Adam Aldaz is working with the maintenance men helping keep the lawns in order. The other aides have only been working a short time and I have not met them. Our voc-ed students have a bi-monthly shopping trip to spend the money they have earned working. We have a very simple behavior modification program involving the students in the voc-ed department. The students earn points for attending class, for completing tasks, and working toward completion of their behavioral objectives. The points determine the amount of money earned. This program is separate from the regular salaries earned by students. Two shopping trips have been taken to Ruidoso. The merchants in Ruidoso have been wonderful to our students. Ben Franklin Variety store has taken the time to help the students shop and have worked closely with the teacher. Our staff appreciate merchants who have the time to help our retarded students learn how to shop, count change, find articles within the price range of the pay check. The shopping program is helping curb many of the unwanted behaviors we have had in the past. The children look forward to attending class because they know why they are working. Pay day to them is as important as to anyone else. Eddy Cottage planned an all day picnic for Monday. The students, staff, and client service agents will spend the day playing games, playing in the water and having a good time. Eubaldo Skinner is the counselor who works in Eddy Cottage. He and the cottage staff have planned several other trips for the boys. The students in Eddy cottage are in the educational readiness program. Their behavior modification program is based more upon field trips than shopping trips. The counselors have been building kites for the students. The wind blows alot here and everyone thinks that it is fun to fly kites. We have some very funny looking kites but all manage to fly. Our students are enjoying learning how to play with them. The Tuesday and Thursday ball games are becoming very popular. Teams are being selected. During the week the recreation aides and teaching staff are working to help improve the skills needed for playing the various games. Kick ball is still the favorite. We have had many visitors during the past few weeks. Several parties tour the museum daily. The picnic tables are being used by people who stop for lunch. Our canteen is open daily for snacks. Our students are learning to cook short orders, wait on tables, and do the clean up chores. Greta Lamb is in charge of the canteen. The girl who is cooking now is almost ready to be placed in the community. She is an excellent short order cook. Last week the student refused to attend a picnic because Greta was on vacation and their was no one to do the cooking. When a mentally retarded child develops work attitudes such as this we know that our program is working. Two other students who have been trained in the canteen have been returned to community programs. Not only can these students cook for a living, they can also prepare their own meals. Our present cook will begin to help train a substitute cook in the very near future. For the past several months I have talked about mental retardation and the causes. I believe in prevention as much as possible. Currently there are two programs which I strongly support.

The first program is genetic counseling. It is now possible for prospective parents to attend classes in genetics and have a genetic survey completed. Many of the more severe types of retardation and physical handicaps are caused by recessive genes. When a recessive gene from one parent matches a recessive gene from the other parent the recessive gene then becomes more dominant. This is a very simple explanation of a complex field of science.

Genetic counseling is now being done in Albuquerque and in almost any large city. Any medical doctor can help prospective parents make appointments to have a genetic study done before a child is conceived. One method used for many years to take a tiny sample from inside the mouth. It is not painful and when all tests are completed, parents will know if they have any possible combination of genes which may be defective or which may cause a child to have some type of handicap. Such conditions as Achondroplasia (an autosomal dominant trait), Albright's Hereditary Osteodystrophy, Marfan's Syndrome, Hunter's Syndrome (X-linked recessive), and many others.

In one class required for the masters program in special education a total of 70 different types of sex related, or genetic type problems is taught. After taking this class and using the Atlas of Mental Retardation Syndromes printed by the U.S. Department of HEW prospective parents would be more willing to have a genetic study done. It can prevent or help prevent the sorrow or trauma of having a child which will lifetime hospitalization or institutional care.

The second program I am very interested in and would like to help develop for Lincoln County is an Infant Intervention program. Mike and I have helped develop two such programs in the past. For this program parent, medical staff, and a developmental specialist team need to cooperate. The purpose is to help prevent - provide remedial services as soon as an infant develops a problem. Children have various developmental rates but all children pretty well develop through definite stages. Parents are trained to help their children develop to the fullest of their own potential. Children need stimulation in order to develop and again the trained staff provide the parent with the help needed.

The cost of this program is not great if there is cooperation. Each county has the basic components needed. A volunteer team of trained parents, educators, and nurses can usually be found in communities. Special help can be provided by the state as needed. The primary concern is to help children develop normally and become prepared to enter school without severe learning disabilities. Mental retardation, in some cases, can not be prevented however we can help children overcome many types of problems and not be labeled as a retardate.

UPW meeting at Harkey

The regular meeting of the Ancho UPW was held Tuesday, May 17th at the home of Barbara Harkey.

A short business meeting was held prior to the covered dish luncheon. Susan Hightower, chairperson to the Task Force on Women from Sierra Blanca Presbyterian gave a report on her attendance at the national meeting held in Detroit, Michigan April 29 and 30.

President Beth Hightower called the meeting to order and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Carolyn Landrum of Hobbs, who spoke on Child Abuse. Mrs. Landrum, President of Hobbs UPW became interested in Child Abuse after attending the National UPW meeting held at Purdue U. last July. It was a very interesting and thought provoking discussion; a subject very much in the news now.

Present were: Barbara Harkey, Susan Hightower, Margaret Butler, Beth Hightower, Nancy Knight, Barbie Roper, Vernelle Hightower, Margaret Lightfoot, and guests Carolyn Landrum and Eleanor Vaughn of Hobbs and Susan Wells of Carrizozo.

The pre-schoolers enjoyed their CCD week. Sister Gail Addis and her high school assistants have returned to Oklahoma.

Rose Pádrilla, Orlidia Luna and Sandy Baca with help from parish ladies, organized and prepared a lovely buffet style supper on Saturday for Sister Gail Stackpole, who left the next day for a two week vacation.

The parish had their regular 'Encuentro' session on Monday evening - Santa Rita parishioners are invited to participate at the next meeting. All U.S. Bishops encourage these 'Encuentro' sessions.

Preparations have been under way for the Dave Verdugo Benefit Boxing for sometime now. The men of Sierra Blanca Camp have been assisting coordinators of the event, Nat and Polly Chavez. This week the ring was in the process of being installed.

Carrizozo boxers with the assistance of Nat and Charlie, (Sierra Blanca) have been attending their daily practice sessions, hoping for a try at a trophy on the big day, June 11 at 7:30 in the old high school gym. The boxers have been punching the bag, sparring, rope jumping and shadow boxing.

A high light on June 11 will be a bout between 'Mean Marie' of Roswell and 'Hot Rod' of Zozo. 'Hot Rod' is a girl that has been undergoing training with as much intensity as the boy boxers.

For our Ladies planning to attend this worthy event but are in the dark about the sport, here are a few details that might interest them:

Boxing is the sport of fighting skillfully with the fists. A good boxer has courage, strength and quickness of eye, brain and foot.

The object of boxing is to deliver blows and at the same time, keep from being hit. Boxers fight as either amateurs or professionals. Amateur fighters compete in tournaments sponsored by schools and other organizations. Professional boxers earn their living by boxing.

Boxers usually fight only in their class (weight division). This gives each fighter a fair chance to win.

Boxing is one of the oldest known sports. Records have been found that indicate the ancient Sumerians practiced the sport at least 5,000 years ago in what is now Iraq.

Boxing almost disappeared until the 1700's when it was revived in England. Boxing in the U.S. met wide spread opposition during its early days. It was illegal in most areas. Bouts drew crowds that watched boxers battle with bare knuckles.

The Golden Age of boxing came in the 1920's. The growth of the sport was led by George L. "Tex" Pickard (1871-1929) the most famous promoter of his time.

A Teaspoon of self analysis

If you're tired of the image of yourself - maybe you ought to do something about it.

A winning image is simply a good image, it makes other people think of you in good terms. Robert Shook, board chairman of Shook Associates Corp and author of the book Winning Images has this to say:

1. Condition your brain to think more positively. Read books that are positive.
2. Be prepared for meeting others, if you aren't prepared, just talk about the other person, he is always ready to talk about himself.
3. Be reliable. If you make commitments, be sure you keep them, no matter how little they are.
4. Try to have a sense of humor -- people need to laugh.
5. Be yourself - don't act fake.
6. Use your smile more often.
7. If someone tries to put you down -- try to laugh.
8. Think of others more often.

A Bit of Humor

In a large department store I noticed beside me a lone youngster then I heard over the loud speaker "A small boy named Donald has been lost. Will Donald please come to the information desk?" The little boy looked up at me with wide eyes and said, "Dammit, I'm lost again."

Criticism won't hurt you unless it should.

Our Recipe this week

- Cream Chicken Tacos
- I have made this for company many, many times - very good.
- 2 large hens (4 to 5 lbs)
 - 4 cans tomatoes (No. 303)
 - 2 cans peeled green chili (chopped)
 - 4 buttons garlic (chopped)
 - 1 1/2 quarts milk
 - 4 medium onions
 - 4 bell peppers
 - 6 pkgs. tortillas
 - 1/2 lbs. cheese (sharp)

Cook hens until tender and let cool in broth, remove from bones. Cut tortillas in half, fry lightly in deep fat and drain on brown paper.

Skim off one cup chicken fat and fry onions, peel peppers until tender. Add tomatoes and tomato sauce, green chili and garlic. Cook 20 minutes. Salt to taste. Make thin white sauce w-milk & chicken stock. Let cool. Add tomato mixture. Put alternate layers of chicken, tortillas, grated cheese and sauce in casserole until almost full. Put grated cheese on top and bake 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven. Save extra sauce and serve with tacos.

Around the Bowl

Nogal's own Alva Cospser is home at last. He had a stay in the hospital and he needs to take very good care of himself. Now you must be a man of leisure and let people take care of you, Alva!

There is another man who does a lot for everyone in Nogal who didn't take good enough care of himself, Ralph Forsthe. It is very hard to keep him still. I do hope when he reads these lines he will be more careful. Ralph is one of the most interesting men we have living in Nogal. His is an expert at many occupations, besides having worked in carnivals years ago, he is involved in geology and other things. It is very hard to get him to talk about himself, but perhaps when you visit him, he will tell you more. He has many interesting stories to tell.

Have you been around the bowl lately? I noticed Phil Richardson directing his sons to pour a little cement, haven't decided what they are building yet. Bunty is busy at the drug store some days and with summer coming on she probably has other plans. Sarah Maxwell is getting out a little now, and Gayle and Oliver just got back from a super vacation in Oklahoma. Marge Whittaker has a new project going. Fern Sawyer is going as strong as ever, judging rodeos and etc. It was nice having a visit with our new resident Gloria Witham. Sunda's getting a new face on the tennis courts & the children will be in next Sunday.

4-H kids and sheep just seem to go together. Sheep, and particularly market lamb projects, have become the 2nd most numerous livestock project in New Mexico - 2nd only to the horse project. Feeding and showing lambs is particularly well suited to the younger 4-H'ers who are just starting with a livestock project. Lambs are easy to handle and care for, and there is less expense involved with feeding and buying them. Overall, feeding a market lamb is a summertime project. The lamb is purchased in May or June, and sold at the fair in August or September.

Lamb projects are particularly well adapted to urban areas. Many lambs are raised in a back yard pen. Raising a lamb is an excellent way to provide young people with the responsibility associated with livestock production. In most situations there is complete family involvement with the project. Many parents feel this is as important as the actual learning experiences gained from the project.

for the summer, nice to have her back. We had a meeting of the Lincoln County Historical Society at my home on Saturday evening with a lovely crowd of members and guests. We missed the members who were unable to attend.

Ralph Dunlap was called to California due to a death in his family. Mrs. McGinnis had week end guests, her daughter Jean and a friend came from Roswell.

Mrs. McGinnis visited the James McDaniels last week. Beattie Cummins and Winifred Cozzens visited Mrs. McGinnis Sunday afternoon.

It's nice having the Bernard Rooneys for neighbors. They purchased the lovely Wallizer's home.

I just checked to see how Mrs. Maggie Bell is getting along and they tell me she is doing as well as could be expected after breaking her other hip, the first was broken nine months ago.

Hunting-fishing fees go up

Hunting and fishing license fees will be increasing by approximately 40 percent for residents and about 70 percent for non-residents.

This increase will go into effect June 17, 1977 rather than the planned date of April 1, 1978. The rescheduling is due to a legislative error in dating the increase bill when it went before Gov. Apodaca for signature.

The Department of Game and Fish would like to encourage all interested hunters and fishermen to purchase their fall hunting license before June 17th and before the increase goes into effect.

Bank appoints Zamora

Citizens Bank of Carrizozo, Vaughn and Estancia confirmed today the appointment of Margie Zamora to a special employee's advisory committee of Bank Securities, Inc., the parent holding company of Citizens Bank. Creation of the employee's advisory committee was announced by T.A. Bonnell, president of Bank Securities, at the annual stockholder's meeting held recently in Alamogordo. "The people most responsible for our spectacular growth are those who are in day to day contact with our customers", said Bonnell. "The committee will be dominant in both input and output and advise us as to the direction and policy of our member banks. We are pleased with the appointment of Margie Zamora. We know she will contribute greatly to the direction our company takes toward future growth."

Ms. Zamora, 23, was born in Carrizozo and graduated from Carrizozo High School in 1972. She joined Citizens in February of 1973 and has worked in bookkeeping, loan and escrow department and is now serving as a teller. She is a member of St. Rita Catholic Church and enjoys horse racing, tennis and basketball.

The committee will meet at least twice a year internally and twice a year with the board of directors of Bank Securities, Inc.

"All members of the board are looking forward to getting the type of information this committee will develop", observed Bonnell. "Banks that are sensitive to the pulse of the people and flexible to the changes that are indicated cannot help but serve the customers and community better."

Sanchez appointed to board

Canuto Sanchez, Jr. has been elected to the board of directors of Citizens State Bank of Carrizozo, Vaughn and Estancia, it was announced today by Johnson S. Stearns, president. "New", as he's better known in the Santa Rosa business and ranching area, brings an added depth to the board", Stearns observed, "because of his extensive international experience in both cattle and finance".

Sanchez, 46, is a native of Santa Rosa, where he graduated with the All-Around Student Award in 1949. He is a graduate of New Mexico State College with a degree in Agriculture in 1953 and received his degree of bachelor of foreign trade from the Thunderbird School of International Management in May, 1958.

He spent five years in South America from 1959 to 1964 with Pfizer International and International Packers before returning to his home in Santa Rosa. His responsibilities in both Chile and Brazil were financial and range operations.

"We're fortunate to have a man with such intimate knowledge of both business and agriculture", observed Stearns. "New's knowledge of both will be of tremendous help to our customers."

Mobile Theatre performing

Community and neighborhood groups in Northern and Southeastern New Mexico that desire the free appearance of the College of Santa Fe's Mobile Theatre Company this summer should submit their request by June 15, according to Jon Moxley (Salum), general manager of the Company.

Performances will be given July 5 to August 14. Afternoon performances begin at 1 p.m. and evening performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

The bilingual company, recruited nationally from colleges, universities and professional schools, consists of 12 actor-technicians and a director. The repertoire will include one Spanish language play, "En La Diestra de Dios Padre" (In The Right Hand of God the Father) and an inventive musical, "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown".

"There is no charge for booking the Company and all productions are open to the public free of charge," says Moxley.

The Company performs on a flat bed truck with a foldable 12 by 16 foot stage, complete with built-in lighting facilities, costume storage and carries two set designs. The flexibility of the Company allow performances to be held in parks, parking lots, school grounds and recreation sites.

Those groups interested in booking the fifth annual CSF Mobile Theatre Company this summer should contact Moxley at 982-6439 or write Jon Moxley (Salum), general manager, CSF Mobile Theatre Company, College of Santa Fe, NM 87501.

Check your Pressure . . .

How is your pressure canner gauge holding up? Does it still register "0" when not in use? If it is more than one year old, it needs a check-up. Bring the lid to the Extension Office any Monday from 1:00 to 4:00. The Extension Home Economist, Jean Howell, will check it for you. It only takes a few minutes, but you can leave it to pick it up later.

The check-up will tell you if the gauge is still accurate. The check-up is free.

Tomatoes in Better Supply-

Good news from the U.S. Department of Agriculture; Tomatoes that were in short supply because of the hard winter, are returning to normal supply levels.

The increase in supply should result in lower prices during June. Florida is shipping at normal, abundant levels. June marks the beginning of local tomato harvests in Texas, Louisiana and other southern states. Local produce appears on Arkansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, and other markets where the harvest begins later as the summer progresses. The tomato is a standard item for many sandwiches, salads, soups and sauces. It can be stuffed with anything from asparagus to hamburger or enjoyed by itself. Tomatoes can be fresh, canned, preserved or pickled, or made into Jelly. The list of uses seems unending. Not only are the uses many and varied, the tomato delivers vitamin C, A, B, and riboflavin. This makes the tomato a nutritious addition to any meal. Watch for the good tomato buys!

Nearby Vacations

Lincoln County has some marvelous places to visit. So, don't work so hard at your vacation - getting up early, driving late and playing hard - that you have to go back to work to rest. Vacations should allow you to relax and refresh your mind and body from the routine of everyday living. Vacations need not be long, far-away, expensive trips. Taking "mini" vacations all summer and still staying close to home helps keep costs low.

In one day you can easily drive to Old Lincoln to walk the ground where the Lincoln County War was fought. You can see the museum of things from that era of history. Lincoln is marked with plaques so you can read the history as you walk. You can also see a variety of craft shops and artists at work.

Picnics, for example, are one of the oldest forms of short vacations. Pack a simple lunch, go to a nearby park or forest preserve and be prepared for a fun-filled relaxing day. Why not take your picnic to the Valley of Fires State Park and follow the well marked nature trail? You could also take your picnic to White Oaks, the famous gold mining town. These two places are just a short drive from Carrizozo.

Even a slight change of scene offers not only enjoyment but also education

The News, June 9, 1977 - Page 3 for the entire family. If you live in the city, you might enjoy visiting a farm or taking a drive in the country. Farm families usually find a weekend trip to a large city exciting and stimulating.

There's lot to see in our own state, so consider touring New Mexico this summer. Consider visiting national forests, state parks, historical sights or museums. Families with other children might enjoy visiting the state Capitol or various college campuses.
