At High School Rodeo — Holleyman Top Roper

Lon Holleyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Holleyman, is a senior at Corona High School this year. He is also a championship roper. Lon and his partner, J.W. Spears from Lovington, are a winning team. With Lon heading and J.W. heeling, the pair were the champion team ropers at the State High School Rodeo in June. In August Lon and J.W. represented New Mexico at the National High School Rodeo in Helena, Mont. They didn't win anything in Helena, but it was a great experience for the boys to be able to go to the National High School Rodeo and compete with some 1,130 contestants from 29 states and two Canadian provinces. At that event, Lori Premrose of Tucuman was named Champion

Cowgirl for the year. New Mexico also finished fourth in the team standings. Through the years, several Corona High School Rodeo finals. Among these are: Louie Eramousse, Charlie Strickland, Rand Perkins, Allen Brunson, Karen Holleyman, and Lon Holleyman. Lon and Russ Gray, from Lovington, were the winners for the year in the 16-19 team roping in the New Mexico Junior Rodeo Association finals. These finals were held in South Valley Ealsum on Oct. 1 and 2. Competing in these finals were: Tanya Ward Alford, Jack Allen Davidson, Beckey and Justin Washburn, and Lon Holleyman. Justin Washburn won the Pee Wee barrel race at the finals.

Extraterritorial Commission —

Olson To Draw Up Agreement

Lincoln County manager Les Olson has been instructed by the Lincoln County Extraterritorial Planning and Zoning Commission to draw up a joint powers agreement granting that body jurisdiction over an eight-township area.

The area under discussion extends from north of Capitan to south of Ruidoso. It is bounded on the east by the Fort Stanton Mesa and on the west by the White Mountain Wilderness. About one-half of this area is now controlled by the U.S. Forest Service or by the New Mexico Bureau of Land Management, and would not be included in the Commission's jurisdictional district.

The four members of the commission, who met Friday at the Ruidoso Public Library, pointed out that their group cannot control land but serve in an advisory capacity only. Final decisions in the matter will rest with the County Commission with advice from the Ruidoso Planning and Zoning Commission.

If the current plan is approved, responsibility for the orderly future planning of the area will be in the hands of one commission. "The central question," Les Olson said, "is what is the upper number of people who can live in the area." The commission has apparently not determined this figure, yet, but it is a matter which will require study.

Olson said that before the decision concerning the size of the Commission's jurisdiction becomes final, public hearings will be held and all concerned property owners and residents will have a chance to be heard.

The proposal will be considered by the Lincoln County Commission on November 11.

Thanks For The Melody

Saturday's football game, which was a happy occasion for all Grizzly fans, could have turned out to be a "lost weekend" for Lori Tacker.

It seems that Lori had been given $20 in expense money for the weekend. She decided, quite naturally, to spend the first of it on her ticket to the game. This is where the tragedy started.

As she received her $19 in change, she tried to put the money in the pocket of her jeans, missed the pocket, and dropped the money on the ground. Not noticing this, Lori went on into the stands.

Then along came Melody Hefker, daughter of Jack and Sharon Hefker, who found the $19 by the ticket booth. What delight must have run through her mind at the sight of the unexpected treasure. But with an intuition that many adults might have trouble mustering, she knew that the money wasn't hers.

She figured, since it was so close to the ticket booth, it must belong to the ticket taker. She tried to turn it in, but the ticket taker was keeping careful records and knew that the money did not belong there. The money was refused.

There was no way for Melody to know who the money belonged to. It would be useless to ask anyone because everyone might just in jest, say "Oh, yes, I did just lose $19." Melody had every right at this point to keep the money herself, but she was not to be dissuaded.

She appealed for help with her problem to State Policeman Dale Housley. She assured him that someone had lost that money and hoped that he could find the rightful owner.

Shortly thereafter Lori Tacker realized that her weekend's finances were missing. She must have had a sinking feeling in her stomach as she thought of that $19 lost somewhere in the crowd. But she had to make a try at finding it. What would her parents, Bob and Gloria, say when they came home?

She started backtracking herself and finally arrived before Officer Housley. He had the money and she knew exactly how much there was of it, so she and the money were happily reunited.

We like a happy ending to stories like this, but this one wouldn't have come about if Melody Hefker hadn't been taught honesty and concern for others. It's a happy commentary on the youth of this area in a time when some people are about to give up on the youth of the nation.

You know, Lincoln County is surely a nice place to live and raise a family.

Farewell to Dan Ware — Lujan New Voc Ag Teacher

He left the teaching field to start a distributing business of his own. He is still engaged in this business, but has expressed his willingness to help the local high school out by filling the position vacated by Ware until December.

Lujan attended Des Moines, N.M. grade school and high school and earned a B.S. degree in vocational agriculture at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces. His wife teaches fourth grade at Tularosa.

Some 125 persons attended a farewell dinner Saturday night at the Carrizozo Country Club. The event was in honor of Dan Ware, high school Vocational Agriculture teacher and FFA advisor, and his wife Margaret.

The evening was started with a prayer by Rex Wilson immediately followed by a Mexican pot luck dinner. As the guests had cake and coffee, farewell speeches were made by Lee Straley and Billy Bob Shafer.

Mary Means and Lorena Baroz headed the 21-member organizational committee consisting of FFA mothers, teachers, wives and friends of the Wares. The cake was made by Mary and Linda Greer.

The Wares are moving to Las Cruces where Dan has been engaged as Assistant State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture.

Travel Policy Meeting Held

A Tourism Travel Policy Study Meeting was held on Oct. 21, at the Roswell Inn, Jose Herrera Community Resource Development Specialist from New Mexico State University, was the lead facilitator. Attending the meeting were Community Development personnel, Chamber of Commerce members and persons involved in the tourism industry in Lincoln, Chaves, Otero, Eddy and Lea counties.

Representing Lincoln County were Jerry Hourigan and Colleen Garrett, Lincoln County Community Resource Aide.

Individuals were asked to state the problems they have in developing tourism in their area. One problem dealt with was:

How to get information about points of interest in New Mexico to people traveling non-stop through our state. Dan McNabb, representing the Industrial Development Corporation of Lea County, suggested that tourist information centers be set up at Ports of Entry. These would be staffed full time during the day and offer audio-visual programs describing the attractions throughout New Mexico.

The attendants were also familiarized with the state programs related to the tourism industry. Suggestions were made as to how the Department of Development could aid the individual districts with community promotion of tourism. There is concern over adapting the New Mexico Tourism Policy to the energy crisis problem.

Involvement of Senior Citizens and volunteers, clubs, etc., in development and distribution of tourism material was discussed.

There will be seven district meetings on tourism climaxing in a state-wide seminar in which major proposals for change in the New Mexico Tourism Policy and top priority local and district concerns will be presented. Our office will receive the results of this meeting.

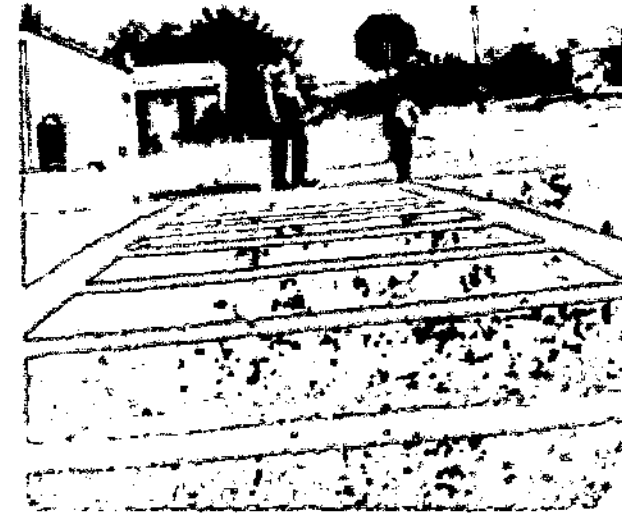

Robert Archuleta Completes Training

Marine Private Robert J. Archuleta, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Florencio Archuleta of Box 462, Carrizozo, N.M., has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Team work and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Archuleta joined the Marine Corps in November 1976.

NEW CROSS-WALKS are designated and will be enforced at Eighth Street and E Avenue, across from the Little Store. Walks are also painted on E Avenue at Tenth Street.

Sanchez Resigns

Undersheriff Ernest Sanchez resigned from the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department as of Nov. 1. Sheriff Bill Elliott will appoint a successor in the near future.

In other Sheriff's Department activities, on Oct. 30 Sheriff Bill Elliott and Deputy Guy Bowers flew on a 2,800 mile round trip to Mobile, Ala., where they picked up a prisoner on extradition papers.

The prisoner, Albert Simpson, was charged with embezzlement for allegedly taking a 1971 Ford van containing building and construction tools worth more than $2,500. The tools belonged to George E. Sunday. Simpson was placed on $5,000 bond.

Girl Is Kidnapped

Christie Goodlow, 16, of Roswell was kidnapped from the Goddard High School parking lot at about 2:00 p.m. yesterday.

Police report that Christie was kidnapped by a black female approximately 25 years old.

The victim was forced at knifepoint to drive to Ruidoso where she escaped. She sustained a knife wound on the shoulder. The kidnapper escaped on foot.

Since the escape the suspect has been reported in Carrizozo. She was reportedly riding in a Ford van.

At press time the suspect was still at large.

UNM Is Test Center

The University of New Mexico has been selected as an area test center for the ACT Proficiency Examination Program (ACT-PEP), an examination-for-credit service provided nationwide by the American College Testing Program (ACT).

Offered on four national weekday test dates each year at area test centers, the exams are designed for use by individuals interested in obtaining course credit at a college or university on the basis of test scores.

Wilderness Bill Aids State

The U.S. Senate has approved a major wilderness bill that contains three New Mexico sites totaling 128,200 acres.

The bill, the Endangered American Wilderness Bill, contains the Manzano, Sandia, and Chama River Canyon Wilderness Areas.

"This is great news for everyone who wishes to protect our great wilderness areas for those to come," Sen. Domenici said of Senate passage.

"We have carefully drawn boundaries of the New Mexico sites so that the public is accommodated, and private interests not unduly harmed, either. We have also guaranteed that these great attractions, which draw so many to our state, will still be beautiful 20 years from now, despite increased population pressure," he added.

The bill has passed the House, but minor changes between the House and Senate version will force a conference. Domenici said he believes that no substantial changes will occur in the New Mexico areas during conference.

The Manzano Mountain Wilderness area encompasses 37,000 acres 27 miles from Albuquerque. Changes in the wilderness boundaries were made to accommodate objections raised by ranchers in the area.

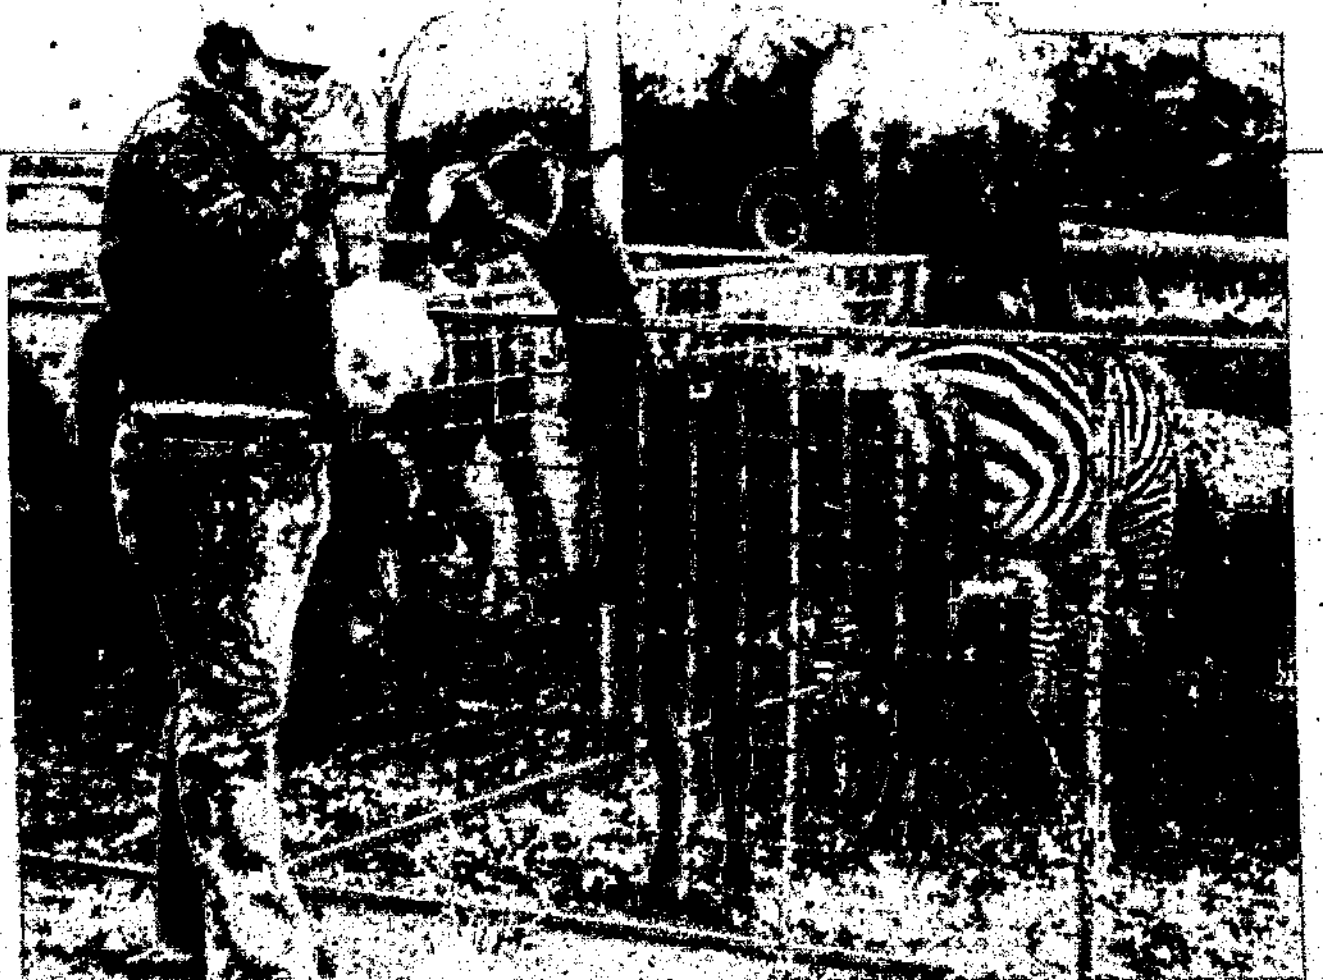

The Sandia Mountain Wilderness Area holds 30,930 acres and contains land very close to the Albuquerque city limits. Domenici said that the wilderness area has been drawn in such a way to allow full use of present public areas, like picnic sites, but still protect the most rugged part of the north, west, and southern sections of the mountain for posterity.

Most people at a circus notice the clowns, the animals, and the acts. Some even notice the cotton candy. The Lincoln County News' roving photographer notices things you might miss. Here we see a circus employee approach a llama with some cotton candy. He looks at the llama. Then he feeds some of the candy to the llama. After a short wait, presumably to make sure that the llama didn't die, he tried some of the candy himself.

 Editorial **

ALBUQUERQUE -- "A recent proposal by the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture is unfair and unrealistic ... and appears to be another move to force cattle and sheep off the public lands", according to Albert J. Mitchell, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' Association.

"Livestock producers are not opposed to paying a fair price for grazing on public lands; however, the proposed formula is unrealistic and will double the grazing fees in the next four years. This sharp increase is not only unfair but highly inflationary and will threaten the existence of many family livestock operations" continued Mitchell.

Bob Jones, president of the New Mexico Public Lands Council said "There are several formulas proposed by the livestock groups as well as one by a government technical committee, however, this impat was evidently ignored, and the government task force went back to a formula which had been discredited. This arbitrary and inflationary increase appears to be another move by the administration to force livestock grazing off the public lands even though it has been shown that well-managed grazing improves the range and is compatible to the multiple use concept".

The proposal was announced following a grazing fee study which was mandated by the 1976 Organic Act.

Mitchell commented that this doubling of fees the next four years would be unfair to an industry already weakened by a severe drought and four years of the worst economic depression in the history of the industry. "These factors, added to continuing attempts to reduce the numbers of cattle grazing on public lands, will severely dislocate the country's production of red meat and result in substantially increased food costs to the consumer".

More negative news from the "meddle in the other guy's business" department. It seems that the Federal Agency boys in Washington, D.C. have another lulu in the hopper.

At least according to James "Mike" McKeivitt, Washington counsel for the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), Federal Trade Commission (FTC) legislation now being considered by Congress is "an absurd grab for power" by the regulatory agency. He says that the proposed 1977 FTC amendments "amount to another subsidy for lawyers at the expense of small businessmen."

McKeivitt noted that the legislation would, for the first time, permit private attorneys to file law suits in any court against businesses which were allegedly violating FTC regulations. Until now, these suits have been filed only by FTC lawyers in federal courts. The legislation would also allow private attorneys to file "class action" suits, which are undertaken not only in the name of a plaintiff, but also of the whole body of people who may have been similarly harmed.

"You will have lawyers just looking for businessmen to sue," McKeivitt said. "They'll make money, the consumer will get nothing out of it, and a good many small businessmen will close up shop."

McKeivitt, a former Denver Congressman and Assistant Attorney General of the United States, also criticized the amendments for permitting what is called "fluid recovery." The term means that instead of requiring each injured party to produce evidence detailing the extent of his injury or specific damages, the court could simply take an estimate of the number of offending articles sold, multiply that figure by the estimated loss sustained by each purchaser, and come up with the total amount of damages a business would be obliged to pay--along with the court costs and the fees of lawyers who filed the suit.

"We gave lawyers subsidies through auto insurance, malpractice and product liability cases, and now we're doing it again through 'fluid recovery,'" McKeivitt said.

Another provision of the FTC legislation which McKeivitt opposes would permit the FTC to petition a federal court to place a trustee in charge of a business based "only upon its suspicion" that the firm is violating an FTC regulation.

"This proposal is not only vague but ridiculous," McKeivitt said. "Anybody knows that this nation's legal system is built upon the principle that a person is innocent until proven guilty. To permit a bureaucrat in a federal regulatory agency to prematurely convict a businessman without a trial is completely unconscionable."

McKeivitt said that the FTC legislation is being "hurried through Congress with little thought." (It is due to be considered in both the House and Senate this month.) He noted that the American Bar Association had testified during recent Congressional hearings that it had not had time to review the complex issues involved.

"If this legislation gets through Congress," McKeivitt said, "the result will be major legal and bureaucratic harassment of the nation's small businesses."

NFIB is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization with more than 520,000 nationwide small business members.

You can surely bet that, while it's just the small businessmen who are concerned about this legislation at present, it will affect all of us in the pocket book if the business community is exposed to the kind of "malpractice" harassment that the medical doctors have been of late.

Your congressmen should be let to know that the time to stop this kind of thing is right now, before it gets out of hand.

Woolly bears and other prognosticators are again forecasting a long, hard winter. As folks in northern climes break out their long handles and downy vests, many may well wonder if there is going to be enough heating oil to last until spring.

That certainly is a good question. Last winter the New England area was short on fuel while tankers loaded with oil were breaking up off shore with almost predictable regularity.

The nation's truckers had a National Fuel Economy Test in St. Louis a couple of weeks ago. They're worried about this problem too. They experimented with various ways to save some gas or diesel fuel. A little saving by them would mean a lot, since they consume so much fuel in their business.

They experimented with temperature-controlled fans, low exhaust system back pressure, and those top-of-the-cab wind-screen devices among other things. Many of the experiments indicated possible savings from 2 to 4 per cent gas savings possible. It may not be much yet but it is a step in the right direction.

They've been talking about insulating homes for better use of heating fuel. So far it's mostly talk as contractors are still putting in the minimum in most new homes. When asked why, in light of the energy crisis, they say, "The appraisers don't give us any credit for extra insulation."

The Carter administration, which set out to solve both our energy problems and the unemployment situation, now seems to be floundering somewhat in both efforts and is beset with sinking public confidence.

With winter almost upon us, it's time we each thought of what it may take to conserve fuel and be sure we all have enough. Everyone seems to be "thinking" about the problem, but nobody seems to be doing anything. If you've got a good idea, let's hear it.

Corona Events

Cedar Temple No. 26 Pythian Sisters met Monday afternoon in the lodge hall with Mrs. L.L. Vick, Excellent Senior, in charge of the business session. An offer to buy the piano was refused, & it was decided to raise money to have it repaired. Mrs. W.T. Keelin, newly elected grand guard, reported on the Grand Temple session held at Lordsburg earlier this month. Hostesses for the fellowship hour were Mrs. E.H. McCloud and Gayle McCloud who served chips and dips, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, nuts & coffee. We congratulate Mrs. Keelin as she begins her work through the chairs of Grand Temple. Cora Belle Bartlett of Roswell's Lady Damon Temple was installed as Grand Chief. Mrs. Tom C. Livingston arrived Tuesday to visit for a few days with friends before returning home to Durant, Oklahoma.

The PTO met last week with Mrs. Emery Owen presiding. Plans were finalized for the school carnival to be held last this month. As usual the firemen will sponsor the bingo for the athletic department and the PTO will have a food booth for their school projects. Classes, cheerleaders, etc., are working on ideas. The date had to be changed to Saturday night because of the EMT courses being given on Monday and Wednesday nights.

A group of women will meet at 1:30 on Wednesday for Bible Study. All are welcome. Mr. Bill Scholes is leading the discussion on Poise from the book How to Win over Worry.

Bill Scholes went on to Albuquerque to pick up son, Ed, who flew in from Golden, Colorado to join his wife and two children who had been spending last week with the senior Scholes.

Mr. and Mrs. Vidal Cordova of Lamy spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Fischer, Follette, Texas were weekend guests of the Tyrees.

Mrs. R.L. Sharp and Mrs. Wayne Tubbs were in Las Vegas Monday to attend funeral services for Mrs. Yonnie Wester, who died following a long illness. Mrs. Wester, a former high school teacher here, is survived by her husband, John, one son, Mike, of Las Vegas, two daughters, Mrs. Ann Dillon, Roswell and Mrs. Ronne June, of Lacey, Washington, and seven grandchildren to whom we extend sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Byrd are the parents of six pound seven ounce Michael Robert born October 24th in Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Goodrich were visiting last week from Albuquerque. Mrs. Goodrich is the sister of W.M. Pfeiffer.

The Bible study group will meet on Wednesdays during the month of October in the study of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Bond entertained their grandchildren, Dan and Beverly Bell, of Tucumcari while Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bell were in Albuquerque for the teacher convention.

Kay McKibben was here Sunday to pick up son, Russ, who had been visiting grandparents during his school holiday.

Mrs. Kennan Fuller returned Friday evening from Albuquerque where she had been hospitalized with a blood clot in the knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scholes left Monday on a ten day R and R. Dr. Sheldon Price will take his place here Sunday morning. There will be a fellowship salad and dessert luncheon at the church following the service and all are cordially invited to attend. Mr. Scholes was hospitalized last week with the flu and certainly deserves complete rest from his church duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale and Brown children were here from Artesia. They brought with them Mrs. Elbert Owen for the weekend. Mrs. Owen is undergoing therapy in Roswell at the Rehabilitation Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Worrell and two children stopped by the Bonds enroute from Las Cruces to Tucumcari where they attended the 4-H sale with the Bells.

Let's Give Thanksgiving Back To The Indians

You may have noticed of late that the pumpkins are being harvested and offered for sale at numerous roadside stands. This greatly facilitates the possibility of convincing the cook of the house that this is about the right time of year for some of her outstanding pumpkin pies.

There's nothing like a steaming pumpkin pie to remind one that the Thanksgiving season is virtually upon us. The Thanksgiving season casts upon our minds the vision of that historic handful of hardy pilgrims who, with their civilized Indian friends, celebrated the first Thanksgiving only a few short months after they launched their new colony on the American frontier. As this holiday approaches each year, we are given vivid accounts of that first Thanksgiving. The exact number of pilgrims and Indians who took part in the famous feast are often reported.

All this is such a traditional part of American history that it would seem almost improper to stop and take a long, hard look at the old story. It would be almost indecent to remind ourselves that a period of Thanksgiving to celebrate a bountiful harvest was not a Christian tradition but was a common practice in many primitive tribal religions (such as the American Indian) around the world. It would seem virtual sacrilege to wonder whether or not the devout founders of this early colony had in effect adopted a religious observance of their aboriginal hosts.

Such impropriety, however, will not be necessary because of on-the-spot reporting facilities of early American newspapers. It is true that there were no printed papers circulated in the colonies in 1621, but there was a reporter on hand to record the advent of the first American Thanksgiving observance.

My reason for arriving at this, admittedly somewhat surprising, conclusion is based upon a news story which appeared in the first American newspaper, Public Occurrences both Foreign and Domestic. The paper was published in Boston on Thursday, Sept. 15, 1690. The story was reported, hand-set in type, and printed by editor Benjamin Harris. The account reads as follows:

"The Christian Indians in some parts of Plymouth, have newly appointed a day of Thanksgiving to God for His Mercy in supplying their extreme and pinching Necessities under their late want of Corn, and for His giving them now a prospect of a very Comfortable Harvest. Their Example may be worth mentioning."

It goes without saying that their "Example" was "worth mentioning" but it seems something less than charitable that these original celebrants are not credited with authoring the observance. Yet, there is little likelihood, if the observance of Thanksgiving had been a tradition of some 70 years standing, that editor Harris would have overlooked the fact. Benjamin Harris was an alert reporter. He operated a book store which in those early days, when entertainment was scarce, was a general meeting place for the community. Harris was a resident of the area and knew what was going on. He had lived in Boston for several years before he undertook to publish a newspaper. It is not likely that he would have overlooked so obvious a matter as an annual Thanksgiving observance. Yet, on Sept. 15, 1690, Benjamin Harris had never heard of such a thing except the isolated event he reported in his newspaper of an Indian feast of thanksgiving at which there were no colonists present.

It is difficult to imagine just how the Thanksgiving story that we were all taught in school came into popular acceptance. It probably started as an imaginary yarn and was added to, here and there through the years and eventually told by some sincere person, who may have heard it from a member of his family, as a factual account of a real event. The version of the story which we know, & which we faithfully tell our children, is an idealized account of the triumph of faith and hard work over adversity and physical privation. It is a success story of our ancestry and it tends, in many ways, to inspire confidence in the past and faith in the future of this great nation. It is impossible at this date, in view of the fact that history took the particular twist that it did with regard to this issue, to imagine just what effect an accurate account of the Thanksgiving celebration held by the "Christian Indians of Plymouth" would have affected American youth. It is possible that it might have given them more regard for the intelligence of other races if they had been made to realize that his was great Indian celebration that we were perpetuating out of respect for the friendly Indians who helped the early settlers. But this can only be speculation at this point because the pattern is set. Little could be done at this point to alter the view of that apocryphal banquet table laden with turkey about which the pilgrims and their Indian neighbors gathered in reverence to celebrate the passing of the first year in their newland. And perhaps we wouldn't want to change it if we could. It is a heroic story -- it's a shame it isn't true.

Medicare Information Is Free

A handy 3-pocket folder for Medicare information is now available from any social security office, according to Dan Mathis, social security field representative.

Called YOUR MEDICARE RECORDKEEPER, the folder provides Medicare beneficiaries with a single, convenient place to keep their Medicare records.

The 8" x 10 1/2" folder is designed to hold medicare publications and notices.

medical bills, and copies of medical insurance claims. Enclosed with each folder are copies of the MEDICARE MEDICAL INSURANCE CLAIM RECORD which beneficiaries can use to keep a list of the claims they have submitted; the REQUEST FOR MEDICARE PAYMENT (SSA-1490) form; and the leaflet HOW TO COMPLETE THE REQUEST FOR MEDICARE PAYMENT.

Recent reports from Medicare carriers, such as Equitable Life Assurance Society in New Mexico, or Group Medical and Surgical Service in Texas, have shown a growing number of claims submitted are either incomplete or lack sufficient documentation. The information in this folder should help beneficiaries in filling out their claims forms.

Single copies of YOUR MEDICARE RECORDKEEPER are free on request at any social security office.

Mathis may be contacted at the County Commissioner's Room in the Courthouse in Carrizozo on Tuesday, November 15, between the hours of 10-12.

New Scout Troup

A Boy Scout troop has just been organized at Fort Stanton, according to Rio Hondo District chairman Dick Davidson.

The troop for mentally handicapped boys is a part of the Boy Scouts of America program which makes provision for handicapped scouts to earn badges and advancement recognition. Materials and literature for leaders working with the handicapped scouts have been field tested and approved by national mental health organizations.

Capitan

By Margaret Rench

Highway 380 between Capitan and Lincoln is getting a new heavy thick coat of asphalt. The crews have been working hard and fast and as thorough as they can for a couple of weeks. It really is going to be good. We do appreciate that. Since the shoulders have been widened and done properly it makes a good highway.

The McCarty Construction Company started the construction of the City Tennis Court at The Smokey Bear Park last Monday.

There was a Halloween Carnival at the school for the children last Monday with a good attendance. Everyone was very busy for some time getting ready for this.

UNICEF did really well last Sunday night. Several of the ladies worked Capitan and gave a pleasing report.

A bus load of 42 "Hi Neighbors" of Roswell visited the Smokey Bear Museum last Friday. They were very nice people. There were a lot of foreign visitors last week. Hawaii, Switzerland, Greece, Israel and Sweden. There has been over 4000 visitors in October.

Doris Engelking was in Roswell last Saturday and took Emelita Jenkins to lunch. She sends hello and best wishes to her friends in Capitan. She is working as secretary in the Fire Department and likes her work and is doing okay.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hines and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Mack and Mr. George Mullins were guests of their old school chum Johnnie Nielsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cheney arrived home last Wednesday after one month's vacation in Farnsville Virginia with their son Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bert Cheney & family. They fished in Chesapeake Bay. Fishing was not as good this time as times before, as it was too rainy & the weather was bad. But they did catch good fish.

Lynda Reese and two daughters Katrina and Robin who formerly operated the Malco Station left Thursday for Yerington, Nevada to make their home permanently. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Reese have been visiting her for the last two weeks and will take her home with them to Yerington where they have lived for years. Lynda has lots of relatives and friends there and we do wish her good luck and happiness. We will miss them.

Maxine Wright, Bessie Cummins, Winifred Cozens and Lisa Reamy had lots in common last Saturday, Oct. 29 as it was their birthday. I wish them many more happy, healthy ones in the long future.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith LaRue were business visitors in Albuquerque Tuesday, Oct. 25 and were parked in front of Courtsey Dodge. Keith and a salesman were discussing about a new pickup and as they came out of the door Keith said, I have one to trade in & there it goes now. As it was being driven away from the business. They took after it but the traffic got them separated so they returned to business and notified the sheriff's department. In one hour and 45 minutes the pickup minus some of its contents were back with the LaRues. They found that a 15 year old boy had taken it and it was found at the school where he was trying to sell the hand gun. I am glad that there was a happy ending for I do know there was so much anxiety until it ended. There was so much to be thankful for and the LaRues were indeed grateful and are still counting their blessings.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of the 21 year old Dale Bundick of Crane, Texas, the nephew of Wayne Hobbs. Dale's mother was Aida Hobbs formerly of Lincoln County.

Jack Machen underwent surgery at the Ruidoso Hospital last Friday. I do wish him a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Grantham, Jr. returned October 16 from two weeks vacation in Lubbock and Ft. Worth, where they visited their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Mike Westbrook and Jason. Jason was two years old while they were there. Happy birthday Jason and many more. They visited their son Mr. and Mrs. Grantham and his parents Mr. and Mrs. N.C. Grantham, Sr. in their new home.

Otho Lowe returned from one week in the hospital in Roswell last Sunday October 23 after many tests. He must have more. Otho, I do wish a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Otero and their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodell recently opened El Paisano Restaurant after two weeks vacation. They attended a reunion of the Woodell family in Colorado, the first time they had all been together in four years, this time with the new addition of the Otero family.

They visited Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Baca in Colorado Springs. They had a wonderful time and the autumn colors were their richest in Colorado.

Alfred Trujillo of Las Cruces was in Capitan on business and visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Candelario Trujillo and family and friends last week.

The First Baptist Church of Capitan will hold their Annual Senior Citizen Thanksgiving dinner at their church November 6 at 12:30 p.m.

After a short trip to Nevada, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Morgan were joined by their grandson Bill Warwick of Belen and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Parham of Roswell, on a fishing trip to Quamado Lake. Plenty of small fish were taken, large ones not biting, but that did not stop the fun.

Pronghorn Not Increasing

The invasion of mesquite, creosotebush and juniper bushes across New Mexico rangelands can prevent pronghorn herds from increasing. This is just one of the findings from a study conducted by New Mexico State University's Agricultural Experiment Station.

The study was done to determine what factors prevent pronghorn herds, located on the Jornada Experimental Range, from increasing. With the information gained from the study, researchers hope they can improve management of pronghorns in similar areas throughout the Southwest.

Dr. V.W. Howard of NMSU's Fishery and Wildlife Department explained, "The invasion of rangelands by these shrubs cuts down on the amount of grass available for pronghorns. Also, a lack of grass may mean the soil will erode." Eroded soil or "badlands" can apparently act as a barrier keeping pronghorns from moving into other grassy areas.

"On the Jornada Plain, there are expanses of mesquite-sanddunes which could serve as effective barriers to pronghorn movements into better feeding areas," Howard said.

Howard also thinks that pronghorns need large, open areas for use as kidding and resting grounds. "The data show that pronghorns seem to prefer and use ground having a vegetative stand of 9-10 inches in height and located on ground that is in a basin and surrounded by low ridges of hills," Howard said.

Newest Handicap Aid — Hearing Dogs For Deaf

Dogs are lending their acute sense of hearing to the deaf.

In the tradition of seeing-eye dogs, "Hearing-ear" dogs are alerting their masters to a variety of sounds: doorbells, baby cries, alarm clocks, smoke detectors, and burglar alarms. More than 25 dogs have been sent to homes of deaf people around the country by the American Humane Association in Denver; 20 more are in training there.

Because the dogs don't guide their masters, just about any size will do. Intelligence and a pleasant personality are important.

"We've trained everything from a mixed dachshund to a full-blooded golden retriever," said Robert White, program director. The canine recruits usually come from animal shelters, so there is an almost endless supply.

Dogs are provided to the deaf free, but training can cost $1,800 per dog. Turning a dog into a sentry of sound can take as long as five months. First the dog learns to obey simple commands. Then it is taught to be sensitive to certain sounds.

The dogs alert their masters by running to the source of the sound, then to their masters, and back to the source. For wake-up duty, smaller ones are taught to jump on the bed and lick the deaf person's face, while larger dogs are restricted to a firm nudge with their noses.

The dogs are "custom-trained." A deaf mother in Dallas requested that her dog be able to recognize the cry of her baby. The dog, an Australian shepherd, was trained with a tape recording of a baby played next to a doll in a crib.

Unfortunately, when the dog reached his new home, the real baby just didn't sound the same. The dog was quickly retrained at home, and soon was dutifully informing the mother when her baby began to whimper.

"The dogs become very aware," White said. "They seem to develop a sixth sense, the way they pick up small things like a teakettle whistle."

One dog learned so well that it began notifying its owners when the television was too loud and when the furnace and air conditioner came on. They decided to put up with the annoyance.

Hearing-ear dogs offer new independence for the country's 1.8 million deaf people and could ease the minds of parents of deaf children. A canine companion, for instance, is taught to warn a youngster if something threatening is behind him and to lie down in front of a child until a speeding car passes.

The American Humane Association program is a three-year pilot project financed with private contributions. If successful—and if money is available—the program will branch out into 10 centers around the nation. The goal is to provide a dog to every deaf person in the country who wants one.

Dogs that fail to qualify as hearing-ear dogs might become companions to other people in need.

"These dogs hold a great deal of promise for disabled and older people," White said.

Capitan Alumni Form Association

On October 15, Capitan High School alumni met to form an association to be known as The Capitan High School Alumni Association. Their first project was to set a date for an annual reunion.

Mrs. Billy Jo Albro of Alamogordo and Mrs. Ellen Fay Womack of Lincoln were elected Co-Chairman, Mrs. Frances Shaw, Treasurer, and Louise Ferguson, Secretary.

The Association will be open to all who graduated or attended four years of high school, spouses and former teachers who are interested. Membership fee will be $2.00 per year, registration fee $10.00 for each member and $5.00 for their spouse or guests.

The Alumni Association was assisted in the festivities for the first annual reunion by the Capitan Athletic Club, Student Council, Administration, Faculty and student body. All who attended have a very enjoyable time.

We were especially proud of Mr. C.V. Koogler the school's first football coach and the members of the 1927-28 football team. Also present were Mrs. Rosella Carleton Phillips and Mrs. Dora Clements Kersey, class of 1927 and Mrs. Frances Fritz Hale, class of 1921.

The Governing Board of the Department of Hospitals and Institutions will hold its monthly meeting on Friday, November 18, 1977, at 10:00 a.m., at the New Mexico State Hospital, Superintendent's House, Hot Springs Boulevard, Las Vegas, New Mexico.

Carrizozo will host the Tatum Coyotes in a quarter-final "IA" football playoff on Laabs Field at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, November 5. Admission prices will be $2.00 per adult, $1.00 per student.

A brief slide show entitled "New Mexico - An Enchanted Land" maybe borrowed for a period of two weeks from the Tourist Division, New Mexico Department of Development.

The show contains 80 slides, is accompanied by a written script, and links New Mexico's tourist attractions to the state's history and landscape. It requires from 15 to 20 minutes to show.

Persons who wish to borrow it for club or school programs should specify whether they want it in a slide carousel or in a box. Borrowers may pay return postage. Write to New Mexico Tourist Division, Bataan Memorial Building, Santa Fe, NM 87501.

Claim holders have two more years to record old unpatented mining claims with the Santa Fe Office of the Bureau of Land Management. This applies to claims located before October 21, 1976, the date the Federal Land Policy and Management Act became law.

Claims located after October 21, 1976, however, have to be recorded within 90 days or be automatically voided. This procedure will save the government millions of dollars in land inventories and will simplify land use planning.

According to Sol Katz, BLM geologist in Socorro, there are up to one million unrecorded claims in New Mexico. Since passage of the "Organic Act," as it is known, about 9,000 of these have been recorded. Officials expect between 50,000 and 100,000 claims to be recorded by the 1979 deadline. The rest will be declared null and void.

Carrizozo Health Center is pleased to announce the arrival of Ursula Henstee, Family Nurse Practitioner. General Medical Services will be provided and appointments can be made by phoning 648-2317. In addition to general medical services, x-ray procedures and limited laboratory testing are available through the Health Center.

Office Hours:
Mon. thru Fri.
9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A donation in the amount of one hundred dollars has been received by the Corona School Library in memory of the late Mrs. Frank Sultemeier. The librarian mentioned that most gifts of this kind are used for Western Americans acquisitions, and that anyone in the community is free to use the school library and check out books during regular school hours.

Some 25 students in eight trade-technical programs will be granted Certificates of Completion in graduation ceremonies tomorrow at the Roswell Campus of Eastern New Mexico University.

Graduation ceremonies will be in the Student Union Building Music Room at 9:30 a.m. Parents, other relatives and friends are invited to the event.

Eligible for graduation in the meat cutting program is Henry Griego of Ft. Stanton.

THANKS TO CAPITAN
The Capitan Woman's Club wishes to thank the people of Capitan for the generous support of the UNICEF drive held Sunday evening. Also to be thanked are the members of the Second-place District Volleyball team from Capitan for the help in the Trick-or-Treating. A total of $150.00 was raised for this most worthwhile project. Capitan townsmen gave both time and money to make the drive a success.

The Lincoln County Democratic Women's Club will meet Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 11:30 a.m. The meeting will be held at the Wortley Hotel. A guest speaker will discuss the subject of Lincoln History.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank all our wonderful relatives and friends for your kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement over the loss of our most beloved husband and father. We are most grateful to Fr. Sys for the beautiful rosary and funeral mass; for your kind words of condolences and to those who helped with cards, food money and flowers; to Neva for the beautiful music played in church.

Old Lincoln Town

Mr. Dan Gomez, a native of Lincoln, who has lived in Albuquerque for a few years, but was now living at his home in Lincoln, has been in the Intensive Care Unit at the Ruidoso Hospital very ill. He is now doing a little better. We all wish him a quick recovery and hope to see him home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Felt who live in Nebraska, visited in the McGinnis home for a week. Mr. Felt is Mrs. McGinnis' brother. Mrs. Felt attended "Round Table" at Bessie Cummins' home last Saturday. Mrs. McGinnis hosted a coffee at the Wortley Hotel and those attending were Liz Felt, Bessie Cummins, Mrs. Gladys Pew, Eltha Merrell, Harriet McGinnis and myself. Mr. and Mrs. Felt also took Harriet and I to the Snokey Bear Cafe for dinner last Wednesday evening. We all enjoyed having Mr. and Mrs. Felt here.

Rafaelita Pryor has returned from a most enjoyable tour of Mexico City, Texco, and Acapulco, Mexico. On her first day there, she had a fascinating 1/2 day city sight-seeing trip. The first stop was at the National Palace of Diego Rivera, noted for its colorful murals, next was the Metropolitan Cathedral, the largest and one of the oldest on the American Continent. It is a beautiful architectural structure, with towers 207ft high. The building was started in 1573 and finished in 1667. From there her next stop was a flower market with beautiful flowers of everykind and color. The one she went to the Chapultapic Castle, a historic palace where Emperor Maximilian and Carlotta lived during their reign in the 19th century. On her next stop, she visited the archeological zone of Teotihuacan, built long before the days of the Aztecs and saw the pyramids of the Sun and Moon, and many other temples and palaces. I will finish the account of this wonderful trip next week.

Mr. Cowson, Mrs. Arnold Dockery's father is enjoying living in Lincoln and his wife plans to move up when she retires from her job at Wilmot's in Roswell. We are very happy to have them moving to Lincoln.

The Booky's are very happy in their new location and their new home is lovely. They are still working on it putting on the finishing touches.

Dan Gomez is still hospitalized but is some better. We hope he makes a good recovery soon.

Leo and Louise Joiner had dinner at Chief Bernardos Sunday evening and enjoyed it very much. They also went to Capitan to visit son Pat and his family. Last Friday at noon Mora Titsworth hosted a luncheon for Mrs. Cobler and daughter-in-law, Stephanie Cobler.

The honorees have lived at the Rosa Ranch for several years and have many friends in the valley, all of whom will be sorry to have them move away to Texas. The luncheon was a farewell party for them.

Leo and Louise Joiner and Jewel Bonnell attended services for Helen Rose Servis who died last Monday after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Servis (then Helen Rose, attended school at Hondo and after graduating there taught in the Hondo Elementary school. She was the daughter of the late Walter and Minnie Rose who lived in the valley for many years.

Survivors include sisters Eva Nichel of Honduras, CA, Gladys Prince and Doll McBride of California and brothers, Barnes and Ewing Rose of California and two sons Don of Santa Fe, Mark in the U.S. Air Force and three grandchildren.

In a lovely wedding service at last noon in St. Jude's Church, last Saturday, Beatrice Sanchez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Estalano Sanchez and William Francis Gomez son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gomez were married with a large crowd attending.

The groom is in the service so they had to return to his base this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sisneros of Tinnie, moved to Alamogordo last week where Ray will be working as a trainee with the Soil Conservation Service under supervision of Preston C. Radcliff, District Conservationist.

Ray is a graduate of Hondo High School received his BS Degree from ENMU in Portales. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sisneros of Tinnie.

Mrs. Lorena Radcliff entertained Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dairs of Milnesand in Roswell at her son's home. Mrs. Davis is her sister-in-law.

Lorena had prepared a lovely turkey dinner with the trimmings for the occasion.

Other enjoying the dinner the day of visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Preston Radcliff and daughter Laura Ann, Mr. and Mrs. George Creel of Mountainair and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sisneros.

A bowl of activities

Robie Burke

Flash! Lets add an Editorial comment this morning for the folks in the bowl.

Will the federal government ever bring its spending into line with its income? They talk about the taxpayer tightening their belt but they never talk about the government tightening its belt.

The Budget Control Act of 1974 has at least given us room for optimism, but not much room. The act requires congress to set a ceiling on spending and stick to it. Congress did set a ceiling in the current fiscal year, but the nation still wound up with a deficit of $74,100,000,000. That's $1,036 for every household in the country.

Consider, though, that circumstances were not ideal for the first year's experience with the budget-control law. So-called uncontrollable expenditures such as social security benefits hampered cost cutting efforts. So did anti-recession measures, such as the 1975 tax cuts and rebates. The deficit could have been much higher had the new budget control process not been in effect. Some legislators said it might have gone as high as $90,000,000,000 or more.

But it is obvious that more must be done if this nation is ever to have a balanced budget. Uncontrollable spending, for example, must be brought under control. Frills and fanfare must be trimmed from every page of the federal budget. Duplication of services must be eliminated. Money from giant social programs must be cut drastically. America is not a socialistic state, so it should stop acting like one. True, some social programs are necessary on a limited scale, but that is not to say that the nation should pay for them by creating even bigger ones. The government is top heavy - with (Chiefs - there are very few braves left). The American tax payer is feeding 12 families now they won't be able to produce and tighten their belts much more. The working man who pays taxes is the back bone of the nation - Congress better get smart and find out who's paying their salaries.

A Pinch of Humor:
A woman shopping for her husband, asked the clerk, "I'm looking for something wild and youthful in a pair of men's slacks." The sales woman sighed and replied, "Aren't we all, dearie, aren't we all?"

2. That our house held heat so well this summer, we may not have to insulate after all?
3. A certain couple who are together again in Nogal?

AROUND THE BOWL
Fall has really set in and the colors are beautiful. The tiny frost that came did not kill all the flowers and I have noted some beds of delightful chrysanthemums; deep red yellow white and pink. Roses are still blooming; and some marigolds are left. November is coming in calm and soft and quiet. Hunters are creeping around a few trees; getting ready for the deer next weekend.

Ma Stearns was delighted to welcome a traveling birthday party from her family on the 25th. They brought it to her house and had a happy time on her 94th birthday. Nogal Congratulates You Ma!

Grazing Fees Not To Be Increased

Several Western Senators, have introduced a Senate resolution blocking any grazing fee increases until the formula can be reviewed by the appropriate Congressional committees.

The increases proposed by the Department of Interior do not reflect the 1976 findings and recommendations of an interagency committee, the technical Committee Organized to Review Public Lands Grazing Fees, created to study the fee structures for grazing on public lands.

The grazing fee increases proposed by the Department of Interior would add a cost of about $8 million to grazing lease holders nationally and would affect about 3,670 ranchers in New Mexico.

Cattle and sheep ranchers in the state, mostly with small holdings, graze about 350,000 cattle on 21 million acres of public lands in the state. This accounts for more than 20 per cent of all cattle in the state.

Sheep Conference Planned in Roswell

If you are planning on raising sheep next year, you should attend the Sheep Conference in Roswell at the Roswell Inn on the afternoon of Nov. 10 and all day November 11th. This meeting will give new growers an idea of the needs in producing sheep as well as introduce some new innovation to the other sheep raisers.

Nationally known production and marketing specialist, will discuss the opportunities and problem areas to be considered by the sheep raiser. If you are interested I will be glad to give more particulars on the Sheep Conference, just call 648-2471 or come by the Lincoln County Extension Office.

The last of the 1977 crop of Lincoln County apples are on the market now. They are at their flavorful best. Try the Rome Beauty if you want a good eating apple as well as an apple preferred for cooking. The Staymen Winsap is a good keeping tart apple. The Red Delicious, Jonathan and Golden Delicious are still available at the roadside stands in the area. For the best keeping apples get a smaller size.

Some apples are now getting water core. These apples have fully matured on the tree and cannot be beat for eating now. These apples will not keep well in storage; so plan to use them within a few weeks.

Hunters Should Honor Landowner Rights: Hunters should show landowners the same kind of courtesy they themselves expect. If hunters expect to continue using private property, they must show courtesy and consideration to the landowner. This is true not only of the hunter, but also of fisherman, back-packers, hikers, campers and picnickers.

Ask permission before you enter private property. Find out where you may and may not go on the property. Respect the condition of gates. If they are open, leave them open; if they're shut, close them behind you. Be careful of livestock and don't litter the property. And always thank the landowner for the use of his land.

Out of Work Roll Dropped Sharply

The number of New Mexicans looking for jobs but unable to find them dropped sharply in September. Statewide employment declined slightly over the same period to give the state a September unemployment rate of 7.2 percent, down from 7.8 percent in August and 8.5 percent of the state's civilian labor force in September 1976.

The comparable national unemployment rate for September was 6.8 percent, which was also down from 6.8 percent a month ago and 7.4 percent in the same period last year.

Research statisticians of the Commission estimated statewide employment at 35,400 persons, a substantial decline of 3,200 from August. The number of people working in civilian jobs totaled 458,800, a drop of only 400 during the month. Labor force changes were affected by several factors normally occurring at the end of the summer.

The peak summer tourist season ended, with employment loss at race tracks, lodging places, summer camps and other seasonal businesses. The beginning of the school year boosted employment in state and local government, transportation and education sectors. Return of unemployed youth to school led to a reduction in the available labor force.

Industries in the major nonagricultural job sectors which showed the greatest amounts of change during the month were Services, down 3,800 jobs, and Government, which added 3,600 jobs. The construction sector lost 400 jobs during the month, but this is only about half the drop normally experienced in September. Construction now stands at 4,800 jobs, a very substantial 19 percent increase above September 1976.

Visiting the Truman Spencers, on the Bar W Ranch were Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Richardson from Roswell. Mrs. Richardson was a schoolmate of Marion's.

Also Esequiel Chavez (formerly of Carrizozo) presently of Alamogordo, and family, and Dr. Sadowske and family also of Alamogordo. Mary and Stirling Spencer, and two sons, visited with Mary's parents, the Dave Colliers, (and grandparents), in Artesia over the weekend.

Weekend guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel W. Pafford was Jane Horton of Albuquerque. Mrs. Pafford and Jane were close friends throughout their high school and college years. Jane is a teacher at West Mesa.

Mrs. E. C. Dow was hospitalized last Monday in Alamogordo. She may have been released by now, hopefully.

Sue Stearns, 1st vice president of the Carrizozo Woman's Club attended the District 4 convention in Alamogordo on October 24 and 25. Mary Ellen Payne, Woman's Club member and past president accompanied Sue.

They returned with several ribbons. Some club members contributed arts they created that won many 1st, 2nd and 3rd place awards in the arts fair. Ribbons were also awarded in the 'penny arts' entered by Carrizozo 8th grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Knotts. On the second day of the convention a Memorial Breakfast was served. Among those recalled were Cleo Dugger and Nettie Lemon. The new 1977-78 Carrizozo Woman's Club year book was dedicated to Cleo and Nettie. Mrs. Bryce Dugger was president in 1962-64 and Mrs. R.E. Lemon in 1929-30. Their contributions to our community will live on in the hearts of the women of Carrizozo.

Have you noticed the school crossing lines between the Mal Pais Grocery and the vacant doctor office? There are also new school crossing signs and speed limit markers. The safety of school children is everyone's business and thanks to the joint efforts of Mr. Jim Steinpreis, school superintendent, the school board members and Mr. Bobby Dan Crenshaw, mayor and town trustees for their interest in making it their business.

Attention parents: If you want your child to become a 4-H member, there will be two meetings today for reorganization at R.E.A. building. The Mal Pais Colts will meet at 3:30 p.m. and the Happy Homemakers at 6:30 p.m. the 4-H program offers many kinds of real life learning experiences to boys and girls between ages 9 to 19. They represent all races, creeds, and cultures, and they come from varied economic backgrounds.

Cynthia (Annette's) Chavez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nat J. Chavez (that's us) attended the 43rd Annual Southwestern Sun Carnival Coronation and Ball this past weekend in El Paso. Annette represented Carrizozo as a duchess. The Carrizozo Woman's Club sponsored her.

Christetta, (Annette's 11 year old sister) and I attended the 7:30 p.m.

Coronation held at the Civic Center theater and the 10:00 p.m. ball held at the civic center assembly on Oct. 29.

Formal presentations at the coronation included the visiting Sun Duchesses who represented communities in the El Paso Southwest trade area and their escorts, students of New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell.

Coronation master of ceremonies Neal Spelce introduced Cynthia Annette Chavez "from Carrizozo, a town that manages to keep the rustic charm of yesteryear." All duchesses were introduced, then escorted before audience and out going 1976-77 Sun Queen Kay Sanderson who regally oversaw the coronation from the throne at center stage. The duchesses dresses were made of raspberry chiffon with coordinating deeper raspberry sequins. The princesses wore identical dresses in white.

Princess Susan Millard, a Texas Tech junior was announced new Sun Carnival Queen following an hour long show by singer Trini Lopez. Miss Millard will be the star attraction in the Sun Parade scheduled January 2.

Trini Lopez added sparkle of his own to the coronation. He joins the growing list of coronation stars that include Vicki Carr, Lynn Anderson, John Davison, Johnny Mathis, Phyllis Diller, Ray Stevens and Patti Page.

Trini sang his widely known hits, some Spanish ballads and current pop tunes and oldies. He appeared in a black sequined outfit he described as "Liberace's gym suit."

He took the audience "down memory lane with such oldies as "Heart of My Heart and Goody Goody". A rousing finale was his hit, "La Bamba".

Trini began his musical training in a Dallas ghetto. Frank Sinatra, his idol, caught Lopez's act at the popular P.J.'s and contracted for an album with his recording firm. Trini's first big hit, "If I Had a Hammer", rated a gold album. Trini spiced the coronation entertainment by throwing in jokes such as, "I never had any troubles as a Mexican-American growing up in Dallas... kids of all nationalities would beat up on me."

Levi Rize, a young El Paso based group provided the music for dancing and entertainment at the coronation ball.

ANNETTE CHAVEZ, 1977 Sun Duchesses sponsored by Carrizozo Women's Club.

Annette traveled from Albuquerque, where she is a UNM student, to El Paso for the Sun Carnival activities with Miss Michele Swink, Albuquerque's Sun Duchess. They checked into the downtown Holiday Inn, where princesses and duchesses had reservations.

Later that day Annette wore an Indian outfit for activities planned that afternoon. Her accessories included a beautiful turquoise necklace loaned with compliments of Carrizozo's Gift Gallery, owner Roy Dow.

The two-day Fall celebration included an evening reception Oct. 28 hosted by the El Paso Chamber of Commerce and a festive Ranchero Breakfast on Oct. 29 complete with square dancing sponsored by the Northeast El Paso Kiwanis Club. The busy schedule also included rehearsals and make-up sessions.

They plan to move the coronation festivities to the October date is one of the first major steps toward making the Sun Carnival into a year-round celebration. Sun Duchesses will be invited back to El Paso to ride in the colorful Sun Parade on Jan. 2.

Today (Nov. 3) the Southeastern Regional Library out of Lovington is scheduled to stop in front of the R.E.A. building at 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. One of the books I checked out two weeks ago was "Rugs from Rags", by Lona B. Silver. Colonial housewives began making rugs from rags very soon after they came to America. They treasured every scrap of clothing, when it was no longer of any use, it went to the floor as a rug.

If I had 3 wishes, they would be to make my 1st braided rag rug soon, my 1st quilted (not tacked) quilt and to try the Mexican food and Marie's famous squaw bread at Chief Bernardo's 1.5 miles west of Lincoln.

A large crowd attended the 'going-away' party for Danny and Margaret Ware on October 29th at the County Club. A large spread of Mexican style covered dishes were enjoyed by friends of the Ware's. Among well wishers were many FFA members and their parents. Lee Straley gave a talk and spiced it with humor.

Mr. Dan Ware will be assistant state supervisor for vocational agriculture in charge of the FFA program throughout the state. His office will be located on the NMSU campus. The Wares and their four children will reside at 2030 Hixon Dr. in Las Cruces. They invite their friends to drop in to see them.

Ricky Vega, who is with the U.S. Army, son of Mrs. Willie Vega (Della) returned to Fort Riley, Kansas recently. He had been here since early October when he received word that his father was very ill. The community was saddened at the passing away of Willie Vega and another resident, Tony Lueras.

While in El Paso I talked to Mrs. Bill Medheim of El Paso. She is the former Nancy Jo King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.M. King who live at the O-Bar-O Ranch. Mrs. W.D. LaMay is Nancy's sister, as is Linda who resides with her parents at the O-Bar-O. Nancy remembers Willie & Della Vega as they were classmates and former Carrizozo graduates.

Nancy attended the coronation and Ball on Oct. 29. Nancy was a former 1958 Carrizozo Sun Carnival Duchess. Her husband is Colonel Medheim of Fort Bliss. Nancy is very active as a member of the Officer's Wives Club, which sponsored a princess for the Sun Carnival this year.

My daughter, Annette was surprised that Jennifer, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Bill Medheim was at the Downtown Holiday Inn assisting in the make-up session of duchesses and princesses prior to the coronation. Jennifer was also behind stage attending to singer Trini Lopez's stage make-up.

Jennifer, former Carrizozo high student, now is attending her senior year of high school at Loretto Academy for girls in El Paso. She also attends Mannequin Manor school of modeling of El Paso and her modeling assignments keep her on the go. Jennifer is scheduled to appear in 2 weeks on channel 13 (El Paso) for an Odyssey Beauty Shop commercial of which she is the model.

Christetta and I traveled to the Sun Carnival & Ball by bus. We were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Kline of El Paso. The Alligator Pool in San Jacinto Plaza no longer exists. The Alligator Pool dated back to the 1950's, a decade later the Plaza suffered a session of vandalism that resulted in the death of two alligators & removal of the other reptiles to the City Zoo.

Sports

-we all thank you Terri-

From the Sports Mike

The cricket predicts the first snow for this year to fall next Monday starting about mid-morning and continuing through the day.

As you might have guessed, the cricket decided to get into a different business, namely weather prediction. Seems the cricket had a bad streak of luck and missed a few. The cricket left town as was first reported, after the prediction of a Capitan win, and had a wonderful vacation in Arizona while the game was going on. So the cricket didn't see the game. The cricket did bring back a picture of this last year's head lifeguard at the Carrizozo pool Terri Warnock, taken at the Grand Canyon, (the cricket took a little time off to sight see and generally forget some incorrect predictions). We understand that Terri (the snow freak) was helpful in teaching the cricket his new job of predicting snow. We all thank you Terri.

Enough of the snow job and on to the football. Three people correctly guessed the final score of the Carrizozo Capitan game and will split the $100. The winners were Cotton Baker, Joseph Salazar, and Fay King. There were just under a thousand entries (983) and these people had one score correct: Ann Lucero, Lou Ann Lucero, Josie Vega, Lena Chavez, Bobby Beltran, Liz Baker, Weldon Spencer, Philip Payne, Bill Payne, Mary Lou Herrera, Micheal Herrera, Mrs. Arthur Zamora, Dorothy Zamora, Geneva Romo, Veronica Zamora, Helen Gallegos, Raquel Baca, Fred Romo, W.R. Holmgren, Ricky Luna, Darlene Salazar, Henry Ray Luna, Mary Maurel, Marcos Villaseas Sr., Ann Beltran, Debbie Wells, George Kimbrell, Vernelle Hightower, Kathy Pacheco, Veronica Pacheco, Mr. Juan Pacheco, David Pacheco Jr., Pete Swan, Barney Zamora, Gordon King, Helen King, Noyola Ortiz, Gaby Zamora, Joan Miller, Vince Vega, Timmy Vega, Alma Sherrill, Joyce May, Pat Jiron, Juan Jiron, Joe Lueras, Danny Delgado, Gaby Palomarez, Mike Lueras, Freddy Padilla, Tony Chavez, Sylvester Perea, Ralph Baroz Jr., Lorena Baroz, Pat Baroz, Emino Sena, Mrs. Vigil Serna, Lee Vega, Virginia Cruiss, Juanita C. Lucero, Neo Vallejos, Mela Herrera, Herb Totten, Phillip Ortiz, Petra Sandoval, J.P. Aguilar Sr., B. Osorio, Dale G. Sprankle, Zillah Watson, Jack Ward, Lucilla Osorio, J.D. Watson, Steve Baker, Marie Barela, Bella Killinghead, Steve Ortiz, Daniel E. Ortiz, Mary Ann Sedillo, John E. LaMay, Margo Lindsay, Jeannine L. Johnson, Bobby Baroz, Rito Zamora Jr., R.L. Sherill, Gilbert E. Archuleta, Betty Eibe, Frances Zamora, Dale LaMay, Larry Marlin, Virginia Otero, Albert Baca, Jerry Beltran Jr., Jerone Beltran, Juanita Lujan, Charley Gallegos, Elizabeth Sambrano, Tony Zamora Jr., Juan J. Chavez, Joseph G. Chavez, Patricia Serna, Bobbie K. Freeman, Saudia Palomarez, Mrs. Juan Jiron, Nacha Verdugo, Ruben Zamora Sr., Dollie Ward, Carol P. Zamora, Jullia Aragon, James Lucero Jr., Ralph Delgado, Rafael N. Delgado, Nick Vega, Mrs. Ramon Luna, Ida Beltran, Moises Sambrano, and a special award to Joe Herrera.

Now a treat for all that have endured the previous names, the cricket will predict football one more time this year. Corona will surprise Mountainair, Carrizozo will clobber Tatum, and the cricket still believes in Capitan, go get 'em Tigers. And one last football madness prediction, the cricket predicts that in the next year all of New Mexico's football teams will win at least one game and lose at least one game and the cricket will sharpen up his predicting skills on the weather so that next year the cricket will be 99 and 44 hundredths correct.

Corona goes to District

The Corona Cardinals hosted the Melrose Buffaloes last Friday night for their last regular season game and came out on top by a score of 25-22.

The Cardinals, who ended the game with 415 total yards, got on the scoreboard early in the first quarter on a touchdown run by Scott Nalda. Nalda also scored a touchdown in the 2nd quarter and kicked an extra point. Halfback Ken Gibbs scored a touchdown in the third and fourth quarters to help lead Corona to their victory over Melrose.

Myron Yancey was picked as defensive player of the week and Scott

Nalda was picked offensive player of the week.

The Cardinal's victory put their district into a three way tie. Monday the three teams voted and Corona was voted in as District Champs. The Cardinals will play the Mountainair Mustangs in Corona on Saturday at 1:30.

Carrizozo Wins

The Carrizozo Grizzlies moved into the Quarter Final Play-offs of Class A football, by defeating the Capitan Tigers last Friday night by the score of 16-6.

By defeating the Tigers, Carrizozo earned the right to play District 4A runner-up Tatum this Saturday at Laabs Field. Game-time will be 1:30 p.m.

Carrizozo outscored Capitan 10-0 in the first-half and then played Capitan to a stand-off in the second half to post their fifth victory of the season and raising their district record to 2-0. Overall the Grizzlies ended their regular season at 5-1-2.

The Grizzly defense broke a scoreless dead-lock early in the first quarter when defensive-back Ray Hernandez intercepted an errant Tiger pass at the visitors 35-yard line and streaked down the side-line for a touchdown with 5:15 left in the first stanza. This was Hernandez's second interception which he returned for a score, the first one being in the Cloudercroft game.

In the second quarter after forcing Capitan to punt, the Grizzly offense started rolling. Edward 'Bugsy' Vega broke loose for a 51-yard jaunt to the Tiger 20-yard line. Hernandez tacked on 12 more yards on a quarterback roll-out, to the Tiger 8 yard line.

After losing 1 yard on the next three plays place-kicker Tommy Vega, came in and booted a 27 yard field goal, with 3:39 left before half-time.

The Tigers gained a lot of yardage, but hurt their own cause, by being penalized time after time. The Grizzly defense didn't help matters any by intercepting two passes and recovering one Tiger fumble in the first-half. Middle linebacker Billy Bob Shafer being credited with one interception and a fumble recovery for the Grizzlies.

The second-half was a stand-off, with Capitan finally managing a score with 8:10 to go in the fourth quarter. Robbie Richardson going the final eight yards by outracing the Grizzly defense into the endzone on a sweep around left end. PAT failed, making score 10-6 at that point. The score culminated a 17 play scoring drive by the Tigers, with (82) Carpenter and (42) Richardson gaining huge chunks of yardage on wide pitch-outs around either end.

Richardson ended the game with over 90 yards to his credit, and Carpenter was right behind with over 80 yards.

After a Shafer punt to the Capitan 15 yard line, the Grizzly defense again forced the Tigers into a costly mistake at the 4:05 mark in the fourth quarter. After holding the Tigers for three downs, the Grizzlies forced the Tigers to try a desperate fourth-down pass; Edward Vega broke through the Tiger defense and dropped Richardson for a loss, back to the Tiger 12 yard line, with the Grizzlies taking over on downs.

Vega going over the fourth play from scrimmage from one yard out, with only a few seconds left on the clock. Final 16-6.

Vega ended the game with 102 yards gained for the night, and had an outstanding game defensively.

Class 'A' quarter final games this weekend are as follows:

Corona (3-5) District 2A winner -vs- Mountainair (7-1) District 1A runner-up, at Corona.

Navajo Mission (3-4) District 1A winner -vs- Vaughn (2-6) District 2A runner-up, at Navajo Mission.

Hagerman (8-1) District 4A winner -vs- Capitan (4-4) District 3A runner-up, at Hagerman.

Carrizozo (5-1-2) District 3A winner -vs- Tatum (5-3) District 4A runner-up, at Carrizozo.

Final Class A ratings showed Hagerman No. 1, Carrizozo No. 2, Tatum No. 3, Mountainair No. 4 and Capitan No. 5.

Carrizozo hosts District

The Girl's District 5A Volleyball Tournament concluded Saturday night with Cloudercroft winning Championship honors, Capitan second, and Carrizozo third.

The playoff match for 4th place between Hondo and Carrizozo was played Thursday. Carrizozo eliminated the Eagles and moved into the tournament. By scores of 16-14 and 15-5.

First round action featured Carrizozo against Cloudercroft. Cloudercroft won the match and advanced to the Championship finals, 15-4 and 15-3.

Lake Arthur and Capitan met in the first round also with Capitan winning and advancing to the finals scores 15-11 and 15-13. This put Lake Arthur matched against Carrizozo for 3rd place.

The final round saw a "bumping" game by both Zozo and Lake Arthur with Zozo out-lasting the Panthers to take the 3rd place trophy with a score of 16-14 and 15-12. Excellent play for Carrizozo was shown by Yvonne Pacheco who was also named to the All-District Team.

The Championship match between Capitan and Cloudercroft started out with a first game win for Capitan 15-4. But the Bears from Cloudercroft took over the next two games led by Laura Nestle with 13 straight hard-driven serves, to score 15-0 and 15-2. Capitan and Cloudercroft both advance to the Regional Playoffs in Mountainair Thursday.

Cloudercroft will play Encino at 1:00 followed by Capitan vs. Mountainair at 2:30. The first and second place finishers from Regionals then travel to the State Tournament to be held in Portales on November 11 and 12.

The All-District Team members from Lincoln County included Yvonne Pacheco, Carrizozo; Lisa Lamb, Cindy Cline, and Donna Cooper all of Capitan.

Bill MacVeigh of Capitan was also named Coach of the Year in Girls Volleyball by the District Coaches.

The Channel Swimmer

by Mt. Everest

Monday night's CB's Club meeting had a little less attendance than usual, due to it being Halloween. The Flatlander and the Jabber Jaws went to the Halloween carnival at the Capitan School and enjoyed the spooking and games.

On my way to Ruidoso to the meeting at Nob Hill restaurant the Horseshoer broke for me. He was leaving Nogal, where he lives. That's a pretty good shot across a few mountains and a couple of creeks. The Horseshoer and Oklahoma Leo took turns in pouring the coffee at the meeting at Nob Hill.

Our very nice and quick witted Red Cross instructors, Quick Chuck and Wilted Feathers, are now teaching the CPR course in the Ruidoso Library. Wed, thru Sat, from 7:30p.m.-10:00p.m. The course will take 8-10 hours and it meets with national standards. I really do not see where these two men get all that stamina to teach these long hours, days and evenings and gathering their materials and films all over the state. One thing is sure, the CB's Club appreciates and thanks the Quick Chuck and the Wilted Feather!

After the meeting Lucky Lady, Lady Grump, Tinman and Grampa Grump sat together making plans on what ideas the club could come up with for Christmas decorations in Midtown Ruidoso as a club project. The Lucky Lady and the Tinman are the owners and builders of the Four Seasons Mall in Ruidoso, which caters to local and area residents with a large variety of different goods available. So they have a special interest to beautify Midtown to get people to shop within the county instead of going to Roswell, or El Paso, etc. You'll save a lot on gas that way. Should anyone come up with an idea for decorations, please let them or Grampa Grump know.

Special Thanks to the Whirlwind, who owns Sierra Video in the Four Seasons Mall, for fixing my television set. The Jabber Jaws is very happy to have it back home.

Got some 10-5's for the Westwind base, which Grampa Grump operates and Lady Grump manages. All parties which stayed with you for the wedding of Squatty Body and Thin Line (local owners of Photo-systems) were very happy about the friendliness shown them and want to send greetings. Starting back to Lincoln, after the CB's meeting, when Grampa Grump broke for Mother Nature about a man's car having broken down on Sudderth Drive. So the CB's Club went into action on the air. Colt 45, a Ruidoso Smokey, stood by to help and the Dead End Kid, a mechanic, checked the car to see if he could fix it right then. While all this was going on I found out that Big John, the owner of the car, had to be in Ft. Stanton by 10:00p.m. to start his new job as correction officer at Camp Sierra Blanca. We had 35min. to get him there and made it on the nose, since I was headed that way anyway. On our drive across the mountains, Big John told me about his leaving Alamogordo PD to be trained in Santa Fe and then being transferred to Ft. Stanton. Mother Nature, Big John used to work with you and remembers quite a few stories about Alamogordo PD. He sends his greetings to you and promised to have a CB installed into his new car. He offered his help to the Club anytime.

Here is a request to the people on Sierra Blanca Ski Mountain. Attention: Roy Parker! Several of our Ruidoso CB's Club members have been asked for accurate snow conditions reports. The Club is not the Chamber of Commerce, but we are talking to a lot broader section of people who didn't have the time to check every ski or weather report. So we ask you to please let us know about the real skiing and snow conditions this winter. This will keep people who have only a few weekends to come here, happy and returning to our beautiful area. Ski Hell you!!!

Thanks to the Big Bear in Carrizozo who put up new cross-walks and signs for the school children and their safety.

The Rotten Bear (alias Max Bear) was in Carrizozo visiting the Outhouse Mouse and Deputy Dan. He is now retired and much missed by a lot of people. Hope he can enjoy his retirement.

The Lady Bug must be glad to have Papa Bear back home from his and Straight Shooter's trip to Mobile, Ala. on business. We are too, Skinny!

Deputy Dan, Skirt Chaser, 007 and the Golden Eagle would like to know, Who is the mysterious Capt. Coyote?

If you are into the Lincoln County Women's Club actions, there is a notice: they will meet at the Wortley Hotel in Lincoln on Tues. Nov. 8th, 11:30a.m.

The Mt. Everest saying: So long, Baby Rattler! We'll be 10-10 on the side.
