squeeze $620,314 in requested funds into an income profile which has resources of $482,881 in taxes and reserves; 155,720 in federal revenue sharing.

While those figures look workable, not included is the cash reserve which County Manager Les Olson believes is good management. This means that there would be a $65,063 cash balance in the road fund and a $86,395 in the general fund.

If the commission agrees with Olson on the reserves, then a lot of the hopes of the various departments will not be met.

Sheriff Bill Elliott got an early taste of what may be coming with his request for approval of deputy commissions for James McSwane and Chuck Treadwell.

The commission rapidly approved the hiring of McSwane but at the suggestion of the County Manager Olson hesitated over Treadwell's appointment to replace Ralph Romero.

Olson had earlier suggested to Sheriff Elliott that since next year's budget might be tight, perhaps Romero should not be replaced.

Elliott did not agree and took the matter to the commission where he won his point but was told that the appointment did not necessarily mean he would have the same staff next fiscal year.

The preliminary figures estimated a valuation of $61,667, 219 in the coming period as compared to the 1976-77 $59,667,219.

Last year the revenues were estimated at $453,140 while the actual income for the year appears now to have reached $482,037. Olson said that the delinquent property tax collection had been better than anticipated as had the penalty and interest income.

Revenue sharing funds are expected to be at least $155,720 and perhaps as much as $15,000 more.

Most other sources of income are fairly fixed while most costs are rising. In past years, for instance, the road fund has been built to a sizable reserve. Now that fund has been spent for equipment and the process of building a capital fund must begin again.

While every part of the road operation has been hit by inflationary costs, the income has remained about the same.

Penny pinching will be hard. This year the road department worked with a $326,527 budget. In the coming fiscal year Guy Henley will have only $196,046 to spend unless he gets revenue sharing funds for equipment purchases.

A special meeting at 3 p.m. on April 26 will give the commissioner's an opportunity to start picking at requests of each department in an attempt to cut about $150,000 out of the shopping list.

The mayor promises

Swimming will open

The Carrizozo Swimming Pool will be open this summer.

That is the promise of Mayor Bobby Dan Crenshaw backed by the promise of the state's top local government finance officer, Al Romero, who was at Monday night's town meeting.

The promise was made to an eleven member delegation of the Happy Homemakers 4-H club who were introduced by Lincoln County Extension Agent Mary Ellen Payne.

Speaking for the girls was Bridget Sandoval who explained they had come to volunteer their labor in preparing the pool and bath houses for opening.

Bridget said the offer of work was serious and all the girls asked was an adult to give direction. They would clean, wash, paint or do anything that was needed.

Mayor Crenshaw thanked the girls for their help and said it would be opened some way by the beginning of summer. Finance Officer Romero gave his approval. He was in town for the special hearing on the industrial park and the sewer expansion program.

Although earlier in the meeting he had cautioned against any spending except for necessities, he agreed that the swimming pool was a necessity and would be opened.

Romero said since the pool was used by the other towns in the county; by Ft. Stanton, by the schools and by citizens of the county; he believed that those bodies should be asked for assistance during the town financial recovery period.

Mayor Crenshaw appointed a special action committee to talk to the groups named and to civic groups to assure the pool's opening. Mary Ellen Payne will head the committee of Johnson Stearns, Mike Capps, Ruth Armstrong, Mary Rich and Lisa Crenshaw who were elected by the 4-H members to represent them.

Discussing the town's financial situation Romero earlier said the state local government department was extremely pleased at the progress made in erasing the town's deficit. He said the deficit in the general fund had reduced from $40,000 to $5000 since last summer and it was possible that last red figure would vanish by the end of the fiscal year, June 31.

The coming budget will necessarily be tight, he cautioned, and commended the town on the progress made and the willingness of the citizens to make the sacrifices necessary.

The meeting began early with a special progress hearing on the industrial park and sewer and water system expansions. Nick Pappas, executive director of the South East, New Mexico Economic Development District, reviewed the history of the park from its inception in 1972 to the present. Pappas attributed some of the long delay to the several change overs in the town's administration and said that his organization would have overseen the progress had it anticipated the town's problems.

He strongly recommended that the project be continued saying in the next year or so the park might be a factor to bring a business to Carrizozo and provide additional jobs.

He said a decision to abandon the park would be costly and demoralizing to the town.

His opinion was backed by Bill Matolan, engineer for the park, who said the project should be in the bid stage in the next four weeks.

Al Romero said while he felt the project was probably a mistake in the beginning, it would be impractical to stop it now and recommended it be continued.

He cautioned the town and the engineers that the town's bond money was voted for water and sewer improvements and must be spent on those.

There were no adverse comments from those in attendance and Mayor Crenshaw said the project would go ahead.

Not so easily decided was the continuation of the sewer plant project which calls for a $450,000 improvement in the treatment facility.

The engineers were present with a resolution accepting the Phase I planning and calling for application for Phase II of the project.

This particular project is 75 percent federally funded and 12 1/2 percent funded by the 4 corners area.

While there is no certainty, if the application is approved the project could commence in the next year. The town's share of the second phase costing $31,000 would be about $3800.

Romero said the town did not have the money at the time to order further work. Matolan said if the town would proceed, it would not be obliged to spend the $3800 unless the application was approved and the trustees voted to continue with the project.

He further said if at that time, the Trust will preserve Southwest properties

The Lincoln County Heritage Trust, a privately funded group with headquarters in San Patricio, New Mexico, has been formed to preserve historic properties in the Southwest.

Peter Hurd, well known artist and lifetime resident of New Mexico and Lincoln County has been joined by Paul Horgan, author and double recipient of the Pulitzer Prize for History with his books on the Rio Grande and Archbishop Lamy; Robert O. Anderson, rancher, conservationist and Lincoln County resident; Joe Lackey, Roswell civic leader, and John Meigs, artist, author and conservator, have joined the group concerned about the destruction of our rapidly dwindling early buildings and information sources in the Southwest. Conservation is another primary aim of the founders.

The purpose of the Lincoln County Heritage Trust is to investigate the possibilities of preservation and public admission to these properties on a non-profit basis. Their interests are not confined to Lincoln County but cover the entire Southwest. State and national designation of such places as buildings worthy of recognition is a major aim.

At present, the Lincoln County Heritage Trust owns the Montano Store in Lincoln. Present plans call for its opening in early summer as a restored Spanish-American house of the 1860-1880 period. The Trust hopes to work with the State owned and operated properties in Lincoln so that visitors may enjoy Trust and State buildings as a unit. A suggested "one ticket" family admission all properties has been proposed.

Other interests of the Lincoln County Heritage Trust are the recording and preservation of material of importance from local and regional sources. Working with the Lincoln County Historical Society, they hope to record interviews, collect documents and early correspondence and copy related materials from other collections. Establishment of a Heritage Trust Press for the publishing of this material is envisioned in the future.

The Trust will actively solicit donations of written material and documents, period and historic furnishings, clothing and artifacts, reflecting the three cultures of the Southwest, Indian, Spanish and Anglo. These are planned for public exhibition.

The Lincoln County Heritage Trust has an extensive library of reference material which will be available to the public on completion of cataloging. This will include periodicals as well as books, 19th century periodicals of all types and 10th century magazines on art and architecture are sought. Several collections of Americana such as 19th century quilts and needlework, glass and china, Mexican and New Mexican religious art, paintings and graphics of prominent artists of all periods, including work of Peter Hurd and Henriette Wyeth will be on view in changing exhibitions when suitable housing is obtained. Parts of collections will be available for traveling to smaller communities in the Southwest as well as regional museums.

Public announcements of additional projects will be made as the Lincoln County Heritage Trust completes organization. An advisory committee will be formed to assist the Trust in carrying out its objectives. Rancher Gaylord Freeman of Capitan, is the first appointee selected by the Trust.

Artist Henriette Wyeth Hurd displays her painting "Pennsylvania Still Life" part of Lincoln County Heritage Trust collection. With her is curator of Lincoln, New Mexico museum, Pat Ward, Lincoln, famous for Billy the Kid drama, is first preservation target of Trust. Other founders include Robert O. Anderson, rancher, conservationist; Peter Hurd, artist; Paul Horgan, author, historian; Joe Lackey, New Mexico civic leader and John Meigs, artist, author, Montano Store in Lincoln will be opened to public this summer as museum.

There is a bright light just beginning to shine on the budget of Lincoln County and other counties that have large amounts of land owned by the federal government and not contributing to the tax base.

This year the county will receive the first federal funds being paid in lieu of taxes. Just how much this "in lieu of" will be no one seems to know but the talk for Lincoln County is $200,000 which would make a big difference in meeting the problems of running a county that is over 6400 square miles big.

The commissioners had a few other problems to handle Monday.

Mitch Servin of Lincoln was given permission to build his four green houses in a slightly different location from the one previously turned down by the commission.

Lee Straley presented his second request which this time would be in Zone B of the historically designated and restricted village. Zone B allows certain semi-commercial buildings and deviations from the primary construction rules.

Seryin's nursery grows evergreens from seeds and he has a contract from the forest service for 80,000 seedlings which require greenhouse nurturing.

The commission said the new location would be satisfactory.

County Manager Les Olson was asked to determine the ownership of a small piece of land on Sudderth Drive in Ruidoso which Plumbing Contractor Louis Palaco wants for a driveway. The ownership of the land is in the road right of way may belong to either the county, state or village.

Other road problems involve a bridge over the Honda. Doug Cox appeared to ask that the crossing be fixed. A loaded dump truck damaged the bridge and it is now unsafe. The road department will make recommendations for either a low water crossing or repair of the bridge.

Wayne Townley asked when the entrance to his road in the Fort Stanton subdivision between Capitan and Ruidoso would be fixed as previously agreed by the commission. He was told that his turn would come after the Transwestern Road repairs were completed.

Transfer of funds was made to bring the current operating budget up to date. Capital Expenditures for landscaping, the new heating system and other unanticipated expenses made the budget adjustments necessary.

The Nogal Fire department got the OK on the planned purchase of a new fire truck and bids will be advertised.

Generally speaking, the next two months will be a pretty poor time to ask the commissioners for any unbudgeted money as they struggle to hold the line of this year's figures and prepare for the coming requests.

Lorin Paulsen provided comedy and song for guests at the Four Winds Saturday. He was accompanied by the Bill Farrell Trio which gave the crowd a danceable evening. Chris Duggar town was still unable to find the money, he would see that the town would have no financial obligations to meet.

Romero said he would make a note of that proposition and hold Matotan to it.

The engineers said if the town did not accept the resolution it could be liable for the $24,000 already spent on the study.

Mary Rich asked if the engineer meant the town was being forced to go into Phase II or if the town was only obliged to formally accept the Phase I study.

The firm agreed that only acceptance of the study was required but said that if the town did not move to get the plant built with federal funds at 87 1/2 percent the town might have to put up all the money in the future.

The engineers said the present plant did not function in a way that was acceptable to the environmental protection agencies.

The high quantity of nitrogen discharged by the plant which eventually seeps into the water table, according to the engineers is a health hazard to the community and in particular mention was made of the nitrogen causing neonatal blue babies.

Romero said that he was certainly opposed to federal and state legislation being passed and enforced which required small New Mexico towns to meet rules for which no money was provided.

He said Carrizozo & other small towns just did not have the money for water plants, sewer plants, sanitary landfills and other facilities now being required.

Bill Matotan said he considered the federal contribution to be sizeable and said not only would the failure to build the new plant jeopardize the health of the community but could result in costly damage suits.

Roy Harman moved to table the resolution but failed to get a second. The motion to adopt the resolution carried.

Romero presented Mayor Crenshaw with a copy of the Crenshaw bill signed by the governor. "It became so important that the town government maintain continuity that we went before legislature and asked for an exception to the personnel law so that Bobby Dan could continue to serve as mayor," he said.

The town trustees voted to continue participation in SENMEDD and thanked Pappas for his assistance in the town's projects.

Romero briefly reviewed the budget and approved the idea that each department head would submit a budget proposal for the coming year.

He said the town would probably get about $4000 in revenue sharing funds and that the fire fund would have a 25 per cent increase from the state. He offered to help in obtaining second-hand tires for the garbage truck and use of a used state police car for the police department.

The trustees approved the hiring of Chuck Rominger as a relief policeman. David Baca had resigned, Chief Choncho Morales reported.

Manny Hernandez read a letter from Mrs. Chevo Baca which reported a littered condition on Aspen Street. She proposed a clean-up drive in the town.

Mayor Crenshaw read a proposal from Yellow Bird, Inc. which combined upkeep of the airport with a charter service.

The company said it would maintain the facility in return for use without charge for two years. At the end of that period the city would receive three percent of the sale of gasoline and tie down rental to plane owner. The proposal included operation of a charter air service.

The trustees will investigate the proposal and ask for the owners to attend the next meeting.

The town approved a request of Chuck Rominger to lease the old city hall for a real estate office. He will paint and carpet the building and pay the city $30 per month plus the utilities.

"Have the apples and peaches been killed by the freeze?" This is the question I get asked most often lately. The answer is not nearly as easy to give as the peaches have already bloomed at Picacho-but are just now starting to bloom in Nogal and Capitan. The peaches in the Tinnie-Picacho area were hurt by the cold weather of two weeks ago but the peaches in the Glencoe-Lincoln areas still have the potential for a full crop. Incidently, if five percent of the blooms make fruit the trees will be fully loaded.

The apples are just starting to bloom in the Picacho area, they are in the green tip stage at Glencoe and Lincoln and are silver tip stage at Nogal. The apples have not been hurt by the cold weather as of today.

I saw Bert Pfingsten today and he predicted that the apples will be in full bloom next week about April 18th. This is a real good estimate but if the warm weather continues it could be sooner or if it gets cool it could be a few days later. Anyway you could take a trip in the area either of the next two weekends and see the apples in full bloom.

Poison plants are causing some livestock losses in the area. The grass getting short along with the poisonous plants being the first to green up are emphasizing the problem.

Some of the plants causing problems are mustard peavine and loco. Each of these have different symptoms and require different treatment. For the particular treatment I have a few references in the County Extension Office in Carrizozo that may help.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Ed (Nina) Nelson who was living in Roswell are terribly shocked by her death, from a brutal beating when she surprised a burglar in her home, the night of April 5th.

She had lived in the area around Tinnie for possibly fifty or sixty years and had many friends around Lincoln County.

Mr. Alfred Locke is back in the hospital in Albuquerque with a broken hip. He fell and broke it last Thursday and they operated on it Sunday morning. He is already able to sit up and expects to be in a wheel chair in a few days.

Lorena Radcliffe, Hazel Arthurs, Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Ethel Harris and Louise Joiner all went together to the 35th Anniversary Tea of Lincoln County Extension Clubs in Carrizozo Sunday afternoon. It was a lovely affair and several of the charter members gave short speeches about the progress of the Clubs in the County. Mrs. Lorena Radcliff, Mrs. Ethel Harris, and Mrs. Nina Nelson were among those entertaining the group with stories and incidents that happened in years past. After the Extension Club party the group attended the Open House at the Sheriff's office which was an interesting and informative experience.

Mrs. Harriet McGinnis and Eltha Merrell also attended the Extension Club last Sunday afternoon.

Friday Watson of Carrizozo is visiting her grandparents the Roy Taylors and other relatives for a few days. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watson of Carrizozo.

Mrs. Lorena Hall, long time resident of the Anecho community passed away in the hospital in Sidney, Montana April 3. She was the wife of former State Senator L.P. Hall who homesteaded and ranched in Lincoln County for many years before moving to North Dakota in 1949. Mrs. Hall suffered a broken leg in February. While in the hospital she had a heart attack then later infection set up in the pancreas which would not respond to medications. Services are scheduled to be held in the Trotters, N. Dak. Community Church on Thursday with burial at Beach, N. Dak. where Mr. Hall is buried. She is survived by three daughters and four sons; Mrs. Louise Joiner, Hondo, NM, Mrs. Edith Imoe, Portales, NM and Martha Lou Hall of Trotters, N. Dak.; Virgil Hall, Capitan, NM, Leonard Hall, Wallace Hall, and Donald Hall of Trotters, N. Dak. fifteen grandchildren and twenty-five great grandchildren. Mrs. Hall's five sisters and six brothers are all deceased but her passing is mourned by many neices and nephews and countless friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Eligo Griego Sr. of Lincoln entered the Ruidoso Hospital last Sunday. They are taking tests to see if an operation is needed. We hope she recovers rapidly.

Joe and Kathy Pfingsten of Albuquerque visited the Clark Pfingsten's last week-end.

Seniors set home clinic

A Weatherization Clinic will be held at the Lincoln County Senior Citizens Center Building, behind the Library, in Schoolhouse Park, Saturday.

Anyone, age 18 and over, is invited to attend the Clinic, which is specifically geared to share helpful hints to assist in the conservation of energy, as well as in saving money, and teaching preventive maintenance.

The Older American, in particular, finds it hard to weatherize properly due to fixed income, as well as physical limitations. It is hoped that the Weatherization Clinic will not only serve as a tool for sharing information with those who attend, but that it will establish friendships, concerns, and sharing talents, time, and money.

The State Legislature has begun to appropriate small amounts of money to programs for the Older Americans, including those in Lincoln County, to assist in winterizing houses. Just winterization of one of the many houses of the Older Americans in Lincoln County would have expended such funds each year.

It was determined that in the Lincoln County area, an educational Clinic would be held first, which would bring the young and old together, thereby giving them the opportunity to share and learn together.

Mr. Charles M. Hohn, Agricultural Engineer for the New Mexico State University Extension Service since 1962, will be present. Before joining NMSU, Hohn was a member of the Texas A & M University faculty. He was, also, employed as a construction engineer for a Texas building contractor.

Hohn holds both a bachelor of science and master's degree in agricultural engineering from Texas A

By Mary Rich

Easter morning 1977 in Lincoln County was glorious and those of us who greeted the sun at the services in the Valley of Fires Park were blessed with a perfect beginning in a multitude of ways.

The Christian Youth Organization gave us a moving program from the first sound of the cornet quartet proclaiming "He arose" to the last cup of coffee at the Methodist Church.

After that, the perfection of day depended on your point of view.

Tom and Betty Hickson and their two children, who are Alamogordo quarterhorse people, were driving up to the Bonito for Pat Dunning's Easter egg hunt picnic.

The sky clouded-up and the lightning was streaking a little. Betty, thinking of her two kiddies and egg gathering, said it looked like a bit of weather was in the making. Tom happily said, "Yeah, it just might rain and is that a wonderful thing on Easter."

Betty said it wouldn't be so good for picnicing.

Tom indignantly said, "Yes it is, it is good for everything!"

At the same time, on a different road, I was explaining to my young guest who has lived in wetter climates, that if it rained, everyone would stand out in the rain and pretend it wasn't falling—one of those feelings that if you ignore it maybe it won't go away. The more optimistic types would say, "Isn't this wonderful?"

I wonder what the odds are against rain on any given April day. They must be heavy.

Of course that is just what happened. The young cowboys pulled their hats down and ignored the rain, hail and sleet. And with one exception, everyone said, "Howe wonderful!"

I told my friend that if it rained in the middle of a golf tournament, at a garden party, while the creek was rising or when you were stuck up to your fenders in a mudhole, in Lincoln County you were obliged to say, "Isn't this just wonderful?"

Some of the comments: Well, this will settle the dust on the road; sure does freshen the air; look at the grass turning green; it will soften up those hard candy eggs; put the fruit salad out and the hail will freeze it; I won't have to wash my car; I really prefer wet potato salad.

This is a true story. One July it had actually rained enough that Bud Payne was worrying about the Bonito Dam holding. I was driving on the Jicarillo road in a Scout four wheel drive when I got all stuck. I was really cemented in a bottomless bog. I got out and sunk up to my knees.

After a while I started walking down the road and along came an unnamed rancher. He was on his horse having decided it was not the place for a pickup (this, you far away city folks, is truly unusual because Lincoln County ranchers think their pickups can climb mountains and cross most oceans).

This old boy said, "Now don't you fret, little lady, we'll get you out."

We got back to the Scout and surveyed the situation which seemed pretty hopeless to me.

I said, "Well, one good thing, it has stopped raining." Now I was thinking about comfort and the mud and the water.

He didn't exactly frown at my words but there was certainly no response.

We gathered rocks and branches and cactus, trying to fill the bottomless mud hole.

After an hour or so I was ready to give up and start walking when the sun disappeared behind a cloud and down came the big wet.

I said, "This does it. All we needed was more rain."

I want you to know that man turned on me with utter astonishment and said, "Lady, this is just wonderful. We sure needed rain. It will probably wash out this old mudhole and we can float your car right out."

So Sunday was a perfect Easter day. We had our sunrise and then God blessed us with enough rain to make the roads, the Easter eggs, and the chocolate cake nice and soft. Who could ask for more.

Note to friends of Leg Miller, Captain: Johnson Stearns says he is in Memorial Hospital in Las Cruces. Cards and notes would be a nice thing to send.

Hank Snyder has been driving the bus from Albuquerque through Carrizozo and on to El Paso since 1963. Before that he carried passengers through West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

About everything that can happen on a bus has happened to him in the past 35 years. Babies have been delivered; nights endured in snow storms; the good and the bad.

He says it has been a good life and he enjoyed most of it. Thursday he makes his last trip. After that Hank retires to Bosque Farms where he says he will whip the cat and try to get along with his wife, Mary, for the next thirty-five years.

At the Corona athletic banquet we were told about the Aggie doctor who became famous for his hernia transplant.

NooToloCoE TO BOWLING FANS

Keeping the Carrizozo Recreation Center bowling alleys open this summer will depend on number of people who want to bowl.

We need to know how many youngsters and adults will participate in league play.

Please let Marcos know before Tuesday, May 16.
Persons interested may call 648-2235 or come in and tell us.

If there are sufficient bowlers we plan to start leagues a week or two after the May 16 deadline.

Thanks...

A little bit of hail and rain did not daunt the picnickers on the Bonito. A lot of good food and conversation was shared.

Letter

April 11, 1977

Mary,
Enclosed is a copy of the letter I have written to Domenici, Schmitt, Conway and Hobson.

It's the way I feel even if it isn't very well written. Maybe it will let people know some one does care.

Thanks.

Bettye

April 11, 1977

Dear Senator Domenici,
Enclosed you will find two newspaper clippings from the Lincoln County News dated March 31st of this year.

I find it more than hard to believe that the government can allocate $240,000.00 for a place for Smokey the Bear to be buried in and at the same time not even have a place for the living to be treated for medical and health problems in Carrizozo and surrounding areas. This is a little more than I can sit still for!

I am more than concerned about medical problems in this county and have stood still for this "rape" as long as I can. I cannot in my wildest imagination believe that the government can and will do this, not only to Carrizozo, but to other areas in the United States as well.

We are losing one of the best doctors we have ever had here because there is now way to open the hospital for lack of funds but Smokey will lie in a $240,000.00-grave!—Is there no end?

My sincere thanks for taking time to read this letter and listen to my opinions on this matter but I feel I've been quiet as long as I can.

Sincerely,
Bettye Dean

Dear Editors of Lincoln County News,
The Carrizozo School Library has a large and wonderful selection in books. To me it's always a joy to go there.

Mrs. James (Sally) Florian, librarian, is very knowledgeable and ready to assist anyone in the selection of books.

It occurred to me possibly some of the local citizens do not realize what an asset the library is and this is my opportunity to give them this information.

Thank you,
Aileen Lindamood

Dear Friends:

Just a short note to let all of you know I'm am on the "move" again.

Downtown Inn has been sold and I am returning to Phoenix to work once again at the Ramada Inns Executive offices there. My new address is below.

The last 22 months in the East has been quite an experience and one which I wouldn't exchange, but it will be good to get back to my own home and all that southwest sunshine.

shared by old friends at this annual gathering. Bud Crenshaw, Tom Ward and Pat Dunning admire the trees and the greening-up.

Kim and Greg Bently joined Lincoln County friends for an egg hunt along the Bonito. The annual Pat Dunning Easter picnic is running short of egg hunters as the children of the ranchers have grown up and become the egg hiders.

Kim, Greg, Kenny, Lisa and Cathy gathered rabbit eggs Sunday afternoon at the Dunning ranch. The egg hunters did not object to scattered showers and a little hail having been taught in true Lincoln County style that any moisture is wonderful.

Plans going forward for Lay Witness Mission

Committees working on the Lay Witness Mission to be held in Carrizozo on April 29, 30, and May 1, will have the final planning session on April 18 at Trinity Methodist Church at 7 o'clock. Mr. Bob Sappington the co-ordinator for the Mission will be in Carrizozo for a preliminary session. All committee members are urged to be here for the meeting.

Fort Stanton

By Dollie Lawson

Spring Vacation began at noon on Friday for the staff and residents of the Fort. Several students will be on vacation for a week. The teaching staff will have a week to either travel, fish, or stay and work. All of the teachers are involved in completing the computer checklist for the Fort Stanton curriculum. When completed each of the 100 plus residents will have a complete file of individualized program plans.

The curriculum has been written specifically for Fort Stanton and the unique needs of the residents. The curriculum is developmental and sequential — residents are evaluated and placed at their own developmental level. We have found that the curriculum makes individualized teaching less complex.

Thursday and Friday were party days at the Recreation Department. Bonnie McEuen, Abby Baldwin, Rito Moreno, with help from Jane Erwin, Clare Hutchineson, Barbara Noonan, Ted Hull, Eddy Jones and Bill Morris, sponsored Easter Egg hunts for Eddy Sierra I Cottages. Tommy Aldaz and the Dietary Department provided the eggs and cakes. Our vocational students helped dye the eggs for the younger students. For once the weather was fine and the Easter Egg hunts were conducted as planned.

A dance for the older residents was planned for Thursday night. The band from Camp Sierra Blanca played for the students. The gym was decorated in spring colors and was very pretty. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Campbell, Jim McEuen, and Cruesta Mesa were chaperones from the cottages.

On Friday the Vocational Department sponsored a party for the upper level students. Clare Hutchineson, Jane Erwin, Tony Cherry, Ben Murfin, Rudy Sais, Al Haines, Steve Chapman, Eddie Chavez and Mike Lawson were chaperones. At Luna Cottage Lucy and Gloria Greigo made Easter baskets for the students. Students played games, sang, and enjoyed the fine spring day. Classes were dismissed at noon.

Bill Morris is making mobiles for the cottages. We are trying to make the cottages more home like. New furniture will be ordered for Eddy cottage when the remodeling is completed. In the meantime we're repainting, making wall plaques, mobiles, and putting up hanging plants. Our students enjoy bright cheerful rooms and comfortable surroundings.

Our maintenance men have been repainting all of the cottages. The girls really enjoy their cottage and have accepted the responsibility of their areas. As part of their training program they are learning to care for their personal articles and the area surrounding their bedrooms.

During the month of March and into April we have been having many visitors to the museum. Tours are conducted by the office staff, Carmen Luna, Sara Jobe, and Lorraine Sanchez. Last week tours were also conducted by Sharon Bandy, Patsy Baca and Becky Sparks. The museum is not open on the week end and many visitors have been disappointed. Arrangements can be made to visit on the week end by calling the Administration Building 354-2211.

Many people ask about the services offered at the Fort. We provide training programs for moderate, severely and profoundly retarded people ranging in age from 12 to 60 plus. We have a vocational department for higher functioning students preparing to go back to community programs. We also provide services for senior retardates — ages 40 and up.

Our senior program is primarily for older residents who cannot function in the vocational program due to age or degree of disability. This is the program we hope to transfer to Carrizozo. Our Senior citizens are very pleasant and a joy to work with. Many would not be in an institution if their had been special education programs when they were young.

Fort Stanton also provides respite care for short periods. Arrangements must be made in advance for respite care. All admissions must be approved by the Administrator after the local clinic committee meets and discusses the case. Only students who can function in a current program are accepted. Respite care students do not have to stay in the infirmary. We try to put them in programs so that their stay will be pleasant and productive.

Several parents of staff members visited the Fort during the week. Barbara Noonana's parents from New Jersey were out on Thursday. Clare Hutchineson's mother and father-in-law were visiting on Wednesday. Visitors are always welcome on the Fort. We ask only that visitors check in at the Administration building. Tours can be arranged to visit all parts of the facility.

Fort Stanton employees live in surrounding communities as well as at the Fort. Two employees commute from Roswell daily for the early morning shift. Rudy Garcia and Steve Moreno have been commuting for two months. They have tried to find housing locally but so far have been unsuccessful. Another car pool area is Ruidoso. Barbara Noonan and Clare Hutchineson drive in by way of Hondo. Becky Sparks and Lorraine Sanchez also commute by way of Angus Hill. Ted Hull is now commuting from Ruidoso.

Nogal has two employees Laura Hopkins and Agnes Crouse. Carrizozo has several car pools and has around twenty-five people working here. Capitan has the largest number of employees with Lincoln having only a few. There are probably thirty families living here at the Fort. Many are from the local area and others are from Carrizozo.

Living at the Fort are the following families: Mark Delgado, Joan Byrum, Leo Montoya, Horace Cordova, Mike Lawson, John Genta, Rudy Sais, Tommy Aldaz, Connie Hines, Albert Luna, Sammy Lopez, Wilda Ernest, Tommie Aragon, Bertha Greigo, Lena Jobe, Sam Cordova, Abbey Baldwin, Emma Romero, Larry Griego, Tommy Navezrez, Vic Rameriz, Jake Chavez, Al Haines, the Greigos, Jessie Fay and several others in the bachelor quarters.

There are several of the Fort Stanton staff members children attending school in Capitan. Last week Timmy Cordova and Mike Lawson attended the Track Meet in Roswell. The team won several ribbons. Tim won a fifth place ribbon for the 440 relay. Mike throws the shot and the discus. The next track meet will be later in April.

The Fort Stanton Chili Cook-Off will be conducted the last week in April. Prizes will be given for the Best, Worst, Hottest, Best Effort in various categories. The only rule being that the dish be made with chili as an ingredient. On the last cook-off many people said that they were entering and did not. This time instead of gag entries those people will be the judges — especially for some special dishes being planned.

Last week I began discussing sensory problems in children. For many years educators have known that some children have special problems which make learning difficult but the cause of the problems was unknown. For the past few years educators have begun to recognize that few children have definite problems related to the five senses — smell, taste, touch (tactile), auditory, and visual. Children may have overly developed senses or under developed senses. For the first time we use the word hyper to describe the condition — hyper auditory, hyper visual, hyper tactile, hyper taste and hyper smell. The word hypo is used to describe the under developed senses. Everyone knows someone who is extremely sensitive to pain, or a housewife who cannot stand dirt or a messy room, or someone who cannot stand smells.

Each of us may be sensitive to bright lights, loud noises, hot food, pain, weather conditions. All of us know someone who drinks hot coffee or eats food covered with hot sauce without noticing how hot it really is. There is always someone who can be hurt but the pain, which would commonly put us in bed, does not bother. Cold bothers some people more than others. A few people are picky eaters because of the heat of the cooked food. All of these are simply sensory characteristics. They are not problems and are usually unnoticed except by mothers, wives or husbands.

The true sensory problems can not go unrecognized. Each type of problem has definite characteristics which in the past were called bizarre behaviors. Hyper auditory children, the term is often misunderstood, are children who hear too much sound. As children they are terrified of machinery, thunder, wind, any loud noises. They often are loners who run away or who appear deaf. Some enjoy staying awake at night when there are not so many sounds. Others are terrified of the bathroom because of the sounds.

Hypo auditory children usually make noises constantly banging objects, slamming doors, tearing articles. These children do not hear enough stimuli and are constantly trying to produce sound. These children should not be confused with the true deaf child. The problems are not related. Many of the so called autistic children have sensory problems. Head bangers are common in institutions. Usually they have to wear protective head gear. Some of the more advanced educational techniques use sound to help control the head banging. In the past the head banging was not understood. It was felt that it was a learned bizarre behavior which could not be corrected. Today a few of the children, if treated early in life, can be helped.

Children with smell problems are very difficult to work with. Hyper smell problems are often loners, picky eaters, run aways, spitters and stuffers. They often don't like to be touched. Children with underdeveloped smell usually smell everything and like very strong odors.

Hyper tactile children feel pain very easily. Often cutting finger nails or brushing hair will cause pain. They usually have difficulty eating warm food. Hypo tactile children can eat or drink anything, they can stay outside without jackets and not feel the cold, they often do not feel the pain of cuts or burns. These children must be protected at all times because they can drink or eat items without knowing it is dangerous. They usually feel all objects.

Hyper visual children are often ones who pickup small objects — specks of lint, paper, ravels-stare at objects, stay away from the bright sun. Hypo children often rock, spin or spin objects.

Children with taste problems are easily identified. Hyper children are usually frail, ill, pall, eat only certain foods, and are very difficult. Hypo children eat anything, drink anything, keep objects in their mouth, suck on their tongue. All of these problems may range from very slight to extreme. The mild problems can be corrected at home or they need not be corrected as long as parents understand that the problem is only a sensorism.

The extreme problems are usually found in institutions. The behaviors can be corrected in some cases but often the problem is not identified until the child is older and then it takes a very long time to make progress. Now that more educators are accepting sensory problems perhaps more children will be identified early in life when the problem can be corrected. It is much easier to explain a child's behavior in terms which parents can understand and accept. Many of the children with sensory problems (extreme cases) are not actually retarded but the problem is so extreme that it causes the child to function as a retardate.

Sensory problems and how to work with specific types will be covered later.

League opens season

The Carrizozo Summer Little League season got underway Monday evening at the Zozo Rec. Area ballpark, with a tight game being played between the Ruidoso State Bank team and The team from J.G. Moore, Ins. J. G. Moore, behind the pitching of Leroy Silva and the batting of Jon Aguilar, squeaked out a 5-4 victory.

Silva pitched four innings, giving up but 2-hits and striking-out eleven batters, giving up only a first inning run: Jon Aguilar 2nd base, in three at bats, banged out a homer and two triples, with three RBI's. Joey Paul (cf), singled in what turned out to be the winning run in the fifth inning for the winners. Silva had the other RBI for J.G. Moore.

Ruidoso Bank rallied for three runs in the last inning, scoring on 3 bases — loaded walks, and had the bases loaded again before the last out was recorded. Alex Serpa went the distance for the losing team. John Vega getting the only two hits for his team, singled and tripled plus one walk, in three times at bat.

School has more money along with high bills

Carrizozo school children's share of the extra money voted by this past legislature is $89,595 but almost half of that is being eaten up by rising costs of supplies and utilities.

The Board of Trustees began preparation of the new budget at the Tuesday night meeting and got a look at educational proposals to improve basic skills.

Superintendent Jim Steinepreis told the board his staff anticipates 380 students next year (actually 393 since kindergarten students are counted as half-time). This is down four from last year.

For those students he expects to have $891,858 to spend. This compares with last year's $602,263. Increased funds are from two primary sources. The legislature increased the unit funding from $808 to $905 and the Carrizozo teacher's index which is based on education and experience was up.

Schools are partially funded on a teaching quality basis. The Carrizozo teaching staff remains the same but has gained in education and experience in the past year.

The administration was given the go-ahead on special education programs but this year's special programs will be provided for gifted children as well as those with learning problems.

Steinepreis said that the special education diagnostician had not had time to test the gifted children last year and was now doing that preliminary work.

The state provides extra money for special education programs. Carrizozo and other small schools get extra financial assistance because of their size. It is recognized that the per student is larger in small schools than in the big city institutions.

Steinepreis said that he expected to pay an overall 20 percent more for supplies in the coming year. The bill for heating has already become a problem. This past month's bill was $1200. He expects a 22 percent increase next year. The electric bill is scheduled for a 24 percent hike and 18 percent increase are budgeted for water, sewer and all the insurance and social security payments.

On the plus side is a plan for an additional first grade teacher. That $12,000 will come out of the new funds.

On April 26 at 7 p.m. the Board will have a special meeting to go further into budget proposals. The meeting is open to the public.

The final budget hearing which is held by the state authorities is June 2 at 10:30 a.m.

Transportation for the coming year was also under scrutiny. A rearrangement of the West Route driven by Sharon Hefker which has only 8 students and the South Route driven by Patsy Dobbs which has 15 students was discussed. The administrator said that the routes might be changed providing more equal distribution of students and distances. To make the change will require some road work and construction of three cattle guards.

The feeder routes (driven by parents) will remain the same but Trustee Stirling Spencer asked for a review to determine if the bus routes were adequate and fair to the ranch families. "I think we should bend over backwards for these people who are making sizable contributions (taxes) to the schools," he said.

Wally Ferguson whose children ride a bus said that he would rather drive a feeder route connecting to the bus route than have the bus come to his door. Door-to-door service would mean in his case an extra thirty minutes on the bus both morning and afternoon for the children.

There was discussion of the letter received last month from Mrs. Petra Sandoval concerning her son Danny and methods of selecting all-tournament players. Richard Vega said he did not consider the reply to the letter which was prepared by the administration to be responsive. "She was given the run/around," he said.

Principal Larry Wilkerson said he could not be more explicit in the letter because to answer all her questions would divulge the names of other students. He said this violated the confidential relationship of the school and students.

Vega suggested that the principal, superintendent and Mrs. Sandoval get together and try to resolve their differences.

A proposal to upgrade basic skills was reviewed by Superintendent Steinepreis. The New Mexico Basic Skills Plan will be considered by the State School Board in April. If adopted it will provide for tenth grade testing in basic skills. Diplomas will be paneled with a statement showing what level the student obtained in basic skills.

There was discussion about the feasibility and desirability of requesting accreditation from the North Central Accrediting Association.

Ferguson said he would like to see the school given that approval if it would not be disruptive for the teaching staff. He cited the prestige that comes from such recognition.

School Board head Ray Wells said that in the past the investigations of the association had been disruptive and taken more time than he felt was beneficial. He said New Mexico state standards were higher than those of the association and that he saw no benefit from the NCAA tag.

Elinor Olson reviewed the adult education program for the information of the board. She said that she had taught 75 adults since the program was started and that 28 had completed their GED (High school diploma equivalent).

The Carrizozo program is supervised by the Roswell Adult Education Center. There is no cost to the student, Mrs. Olson said, and in addition to providing adults with a high school program classes, the only cost to the school here is for utilities two nights a week. She said that the over 70 percent passing rate in Carrizozo for GED tests was about the highest in the state which averages something like 23 percent.

Steinepreis said that Mrs. Olson was responsible for that high average. He commended her work and her effort in providing the program to Carrizozo residents.

Abercrombie loses bid

The state board of Finance turned down Howard Abercrombie's high bid of $45,600 for the Old Lincoln School house Tuesday. It rejected the recommendation of the Capitan Schools Board in favor of a request from State Finance Director Vincent Montoya that the Old Lincoln Memorial Commission be allowed 30 days to come up with matching funds.

Lloyd Davis, a Ruidoso member of the commission said a grant of $45,000 from the newly organized Lincoln County Heritage Trust was expected. The commission plans to lease the building to the Trust for use as a museum.

The Trust had been low bidder in the school sale and Abercrombie says it is not fair to allow the low bidder to come back and match his high bid. He says he may sue both the state and the Capitan School board.

The Capitan School Board represented by Superintendent Richard Clifton, said the building had been a financial liability since 1958 when it was closed. He said the building was not historic, having only been built in 1937.

Abercrombie said he planned to make homes out of the schoolhouse; one for himself and one to sell. He said the town of Lincoln is divided between two factions, one composed of residents who live there and the other composed of people who are interested in commercialization.

Members of the Trust are Artist John Meigs and Peter Hurd; Robert O. Anderson, author Paul Horgan and Joe Lackey, a Roswell businessman.

The Trust was formed to preserve historic properties in the Southwest.

Judicial council seeks public input

The New Mexico Judicial Council will hold a public meeting in Ruidoso on April 29, to receive comments, suggestions and criticisms of the State's judicial system. The meeting will be held at the public library and begin at 10:00 a.m.

The Judicial Council was created by the legislature in 1969 to study the functioning of the judicial system and make recommendations for improvements. Each year the Council holds one or more public meetings in a different part of the state to give the public an opportunity to make known its criticisms and ideas for improving the judicial system. This will be the first time the Council has met in Ruidoso.

BY ROBBIE BURKE

A BIT OF REMINISCENCE!

As Easter turns the corner leaving me behind—and before I start a new time value—I stop to think of the things I miss, and perhaps you miss some of these things too—if you are middle aged—in this changing world. The taste of a real tomato, (if you don't have a garden), the cool, smooth luxury of an ironed percale sheet against the skin, and the fragrance of cloth that has been dried in the sun and whipped by the wind, when I put a limp, grayish polyester sheet smelling of detergent on my bed. Well made clothing with stitching that doesn't ravel; buttons that don't fall off; and seams that have a decent allowance. Metal tubes and glass bottles. A handsome, clean-cut young face that is not hidden by a waterfall of long straight untidy hair.

The smell of burning leaves—and the drugstore soda fountain where nothing was sold but delicious ice-cream concoctions, its brass, fixtures glistened, you sat on a stool and propped your elbows on a marble counter, and anything you ordered could be topped with real whipped cream—nothing was plastic.

I miss being able to walk down the street at night—enjoying the stars without being afraid. When taking a trip—I loved the original Pullman sleeping car—and the lovely could eat in if you had the money—but most of the time the homemade crispy fried chicken and bread and butter sandwiches my mother made was just as good—all packed in a little box.

I miss the automobiles that you can get into without dislocating your sacroiliac. Some car makers recognize what they've done—so they installed a hand grip above the door to help you heave yourself in and out. Cars use to be high enough so that you could step up from the curb to get in, instead of falling into the gutter in the attempt. The running board—was a great invention.

A wonderful neighborhood that you could walk to school with whom ever you wanted to—and walk home for lunch if you desired. I miss looking out the window to watch the children riding their bikes home to eat—and having little secret club houses to play in. I miss a good strong teacher who has good morals that my grandchildren can look up to and love—teachers that think of something besides their paycheck—teachers use to give their children a reason and a desire to learn—I know some of them do—but there aren't as many as there use to be. Well, I could go on and on in this changing world—and some things may be for the better—but they have dropped a lot of good things by the way side. Perhaps the future holds some abandoned pleasures—yes—I understand New York City has put the double decker buses back in action—

Hurrah! I also miss movies in which the good guy wins!

Robbie's BOX!

Dear Robbie
Parents never fully appreciate teachers unless it rains all weekend.
S.I.

Dear Robbie,

"Kissing is a means of getting two people so close together that they can't see anything with each other."

Say! If we stopped trying to be happy we might have a pretty good time.

Robbie,

A secret is what you tell someone else not to tell because you can't keep it to yourself.

How about this! The real miracle of spring is that you finally got your income tax figured out.

A HANDFUL OF HINTS!

Vitamin E oil for baby—For diaper rash try Vitamin E.
If your child has had chronic ear infections and you have tried everything—try instant protein powder three times a day and 4 to 6 vitamin C tablets a day (100 mg) and all natural vitamin-mineral supplement for babies—all stirred up in his applesauce. I did this for my grandchild and he has never had any more ear infections. (Of course check with your doctor.) Candy S.

2. The man in Nogal who is an excellent cook?
 3. The young woman in Nogal who has time for everybody?
 4. The visitor who spent the night and went mountain climbing on Easter to be nearer God?
 Our recipe this week is for the soul! Is anybody happier because you passed his way?
 Does anyone remember that you spoke to him today?
 The day is almost over, and its toiling time is through:
 Is there anyone to utter now a kindly word of you?
 Can you say tonight, with the day that's slipping fast,
 That you helped a single brother of the many that you passed?
 Is a single heart rejoicing over what you did or said?

Does the man whose hopes were fading, now with courage look ahead?
 Did you waste the day, or lose? Was it well or sorely spent?
 Did you leave a trail of kindness, or a scar of discontent?
 As you close your eyes in slumber, do you think that God will say,
 You have earned, one more tomorrow by the work you did today.

Nogal is very sorry to hear of Ernest Wright's brothers' death and wish him peace with these few words.
 If you would indeed behold the spirit of death, open your heart wide into the body of life. For life and death are one, even as the river and the sea are one. In the depth of your hopes and desires lies your silent knowledge of the beyond.
 Until next week, Robbie

AROUND THE BOWL

The little church in Nogal presented a beautiful service on Good Friday and carried through Easter with flying colors. Too bad you missed the programs! Sue Stearns and other on the board were busy preparing for the services. It rained here in Nogal on Easter day and the peach trees popped out into bloom. The tulips are coming out.

An Economics Primer
 Even though this nation has been separated from England for some 200 years, we can still learn from them, as witness the following definitions from their Financial Times:
 Socialism: You have two cows and give one to your neighbor.
 Communism: You have two cows - the government takes both of them and gives you milk.

 Fascism: You have two cows - the government takes them both and sells you milk.
 Nazism: You have two cows - the government takes them both and shoots you.
 Bureaucracy: You have two cows - the government takes both of them, shoots one, milks the other and pours the milk down the drain.
 Capitalism: You have two cows - you sell one of them and you buy a bull.

Church of Christ New study is Psalms

The church of Christ in Capitan is beginning a new study and we'd like to take this opportunity to invite our friends to join us. The study deals with the book of Psalms, perhaps the most read book of the Bible. It is scheduled for 7:15 pm each Tuesday evening and dismisses at 8:00; come as you are and bring your Bible. We will be learning some interesting facts along with seeking the meaning and message from each of the psalms. The method utilized to bring the student to a greater level of Bible knowledge will be aimed at real learning/retention. We hope you will make your plans now to join us for this exciting study of a fascinating book.

The children who rode the bus last week were treated to cup cakes prepared by Becky and Arlene Jones and Marcia Allen. We appreciate the effort of these women for the benefit of the bus kids. Our puppet show had a new look last week, as Elaine Howland painted our puppet theater in an extremely attractive fashion.

Plans are being made for an extended gospel meeting for the latter part of June or the first part of July.

Capitan

By Margaret Rench

Easter Sunday was so good to our country. Capitan received near 1/2 inch of good rain. There was lots of lightning and thunder. Water still stands. That is a great blessing, oh, but it was appreciated. The earth seems to have responded well. It just seems that every desire to start growing. So fresh and alive.

The TV Cable is moving its tower to a better location where it hopes to get 50 percent better reception.

Chuck Treadwell, our City Police chief, resigned April 4 to work for the Sheriff's Dept. He has done a good job here and we will miss him.

Enduring Truth
If or "For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures..." the death of Christ is a foundation fact of Christianity. It is directly related to the love of God, the atonement, the old covenant, the new covenant, the church and heaven. Without it our faith, hope, work and preaching would be in vain. Jesus, the Son of God, died. But why? What are the reasons behind the death of Christ? Perhaps every child of God could give a partial answer, but learning a more complete answer will produce a greater faith and conviction. The task at hand is to set forth Bible answers to this vital question. The subject embraces the entire Word of God; it deals with the most important subject - the death of the Son of God. We shall deal with this subject in a series of articles appearing in this space for the next few weeks. We encourage you to seek the answer with us. Please read ROMANS 3:24 before the series begins next week.

Teacher pay upped

A ten percent across the board increase for Corona teachers will bring that school district's base salary to $10,842 in the new budget now being prepared by the Superintendent Mel Root and the Board of Trustees.

The salary increase was made possible by the increases to school voted by the legislature as in all New Mexico schools much of the increase is being taken by inflated utility bills, supplies and a reduction in average daily membership of the classes.

Corona anticipates and will budget for 131.5 students in the 1977-78 year. This is down 8.5 students from last year and will cost the school in state funds.

The school has offered contracts which have been accepted by all the teaching staff except for Marina Bond who has resigned. She will not be replaced with another teacher.

In this, Corona is moving forward on the State Department of Education's recommendation that schools refrain from increasing teaching staffs in face of declining school populations.

The Corona board will vote on its acceptance of a budget at the May 10 meeting. The public hearing will be in June when the state will take its look at the proposed figures.

Fem cause head here

Tasia Young, the executive director of the New Mexico Commission on the Status of Women, will speak before three groups in Carrizozo Thursday.

She will address the Carrizozo Rotary at their noon luncheon. At 3 p.m. she will speak on "Education and Women" at the Carrizozo Woman's Club. Ms. Young will also speak to the sociology class at the high school in the afternoon.

Ms. Young has been the Executive Director for the New Mexico Commission on the Status of Women since July 1, 1975. Prior to taking this position, she was a Human Relations Specialist and worked for the Human Rights Office of the city of Albuquerque.

County moves early on energy problems

Lincoln County stepped out ahead of President Jimmy Carter's call for war against the nation's energy crisis. The first in a series of weatherization clinics was held last week at the Senior Citizens Center in Ruidoso under the auspices of the Lincoln County Senior Citizens Forum and the Lincoln County Extension office.

The clinic was financed out of a $2200 grant made under Senate bill 18 for the aid in weatherizing the homes of senior citizens.

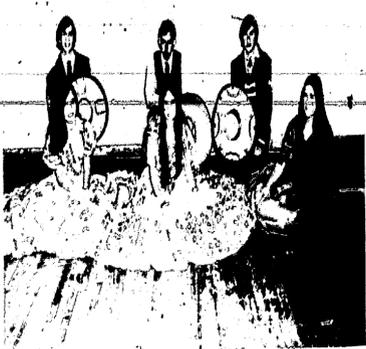

Local men plan dinner

Fred English, Johnson Stearns and Leon Farrar have been named Lincoln County coordinators for a bi-partisan statewide appreciation dinner for Senator Pete V. Domenici scheduled for April 29 at 7:30 p.m., at the Albuquerque Convention Center.

Their goal is to make the event as bi-partisan and as statewide as possible. "Of the sixty-nine people on our statewide committee, forty-two are Democrats," Mr. Schreiber said, "which says something about the bi-partisan support Sen. Domenici has earned, and we thought a non-election year would be the appropriate time to do this."

Fiesta dancers perform

The nationally known Hondo Fiesta Dancers will present the 28th Annual Hondo Fiesta May 6 and 7 at 8 p.m. in the Hondo School Gym. The theme for this year's Fiesta is La Fiesta Hermosa Del Valle, the beautiful fiesta of the valley.

State park trails to be dedicated

The new Malpais Nature Trail at the Valley of Fires State Park will be dedicated Saturday at 10 a.m.

A.W. Gnatkowski, Chairman of the Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District, has invited representatives of all organizations to participate.

He and Greg Haussler, District Conservationist, will present a program based on the trail and will discuss the natural features of this area.

The public is invited to the dedication.

The Fiesta is the annual presentation of the extremely colorful performance of Spanish, Mexican and New Mexican folk dances. Seventy junior and senior high school students in beautiful costumes perform the many graceful and difficult dances.

Many of the old favorite dances will be performed by popular request. They include among others La Varsoviana, El Jarabe Paleno, El Norvillero, Frijolitos Pintos, Jarabe Del Valle, Jesuita En Chihuahua, El Siotos Norteno, El Bolonchon and the always popular El Jarabe Tapatio, the Mexican hat dance.

These nationally famous dancers have traveled and danced at the Festival of Arts in Tucson in 1951, the National Folk Festival in Nashville, Tennessee in 1959, Mexico City and Acapulco in 1965, Disneyland and San Juan, Capistrano in 1966, The HemisFair at San Antonio in 1968, Chihuahua City and Los Mochis in 1970, Mexico City in 1973 and Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Marine Land, Universal Studios and the San Diego Zoo in 1976 in addition to their extensive travels throughout New Mexico. The dancers reluctantly turned down an invitation to the National Folk Festival in Washington, D.C. in 1960 due to the students' school commitment and finances.

The fine Mexican Dinner will again be served by the mothers of the valley.

Henson out as coach

Billy Henson, Capitan's Head Coach and High School Principal, has resigned his coaching position.

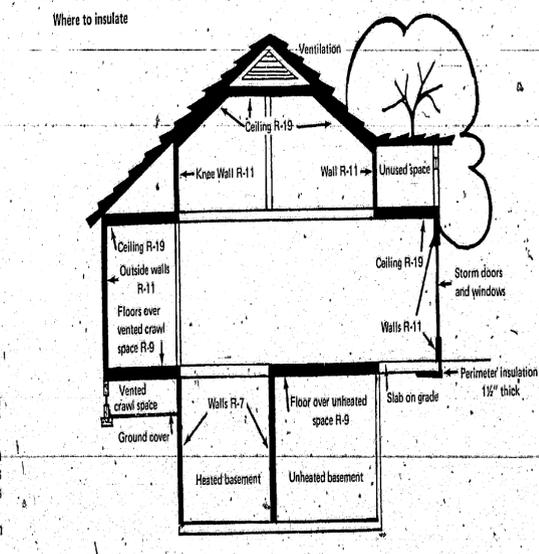

Announcing his resignation to the News, Henson said, "I'm giving up the coaching job so I can devote all of my time to the office of the principal."

In his two years as head football coach, Henson's team won 15 games and sustained 6 losses. The team won district championship and was runner up for state.

Before coming to Capitan, Henson coached at Clayton where his team was state summerup. He coached two years at ENMU.

The coaching position at Capitan has not been filled.
