Rodeo starts Friday

A large crowd turned out at the Straley Bros. Ranch north of Carrizozo last Saturday for the New Mexico Simmental Field Day. Above, the judging contest is in progress as a number of this breed are presented for public inspection and judging. The program was sponsored by the Straley Bros., Inc. and the New Mexico Simmental Association. A delicious barbeque lunch was provided by Ranchers Supply, J.G. Moore Agency and Citizens State Bank, all of Carrizozo.

Cowboys from all over the West are pouring into Capitan at this very moment and making preparations for the 18th Annual Smokey Bear Stampede which will be held tomorrow (Friday), Saturday and Sunday.

Many long hours have gone into making ready the fair and rodeo grounds for this gala event and few rodeo fans will be disappointed in the top notch action.

The books are already open for the cowboys and will close this evening (Thursday) at 5 p.m. Walt Jones is the secretary and sign-ups are being taken at the Capitan Rodeo Grounds in the main building.

But the rodeo itself isn't the only thing that makes the Smokey Bear Stampede an event not to be missed. In addition to the action in the rodeo arena, there will also be two nights of dancing to the fine country sounds of The Jones Hatband. The Rodeo Dance will be held both Friday and Saturday nights beginning at 9 p.m. and lasting until 1 a.m. The price of admission for both evenings is $3.00 per person.

The rodeo will have two night shows on Friday and Saturday nights beginning at 8 p.m. and the finals will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. Admission is $3.00 for adults and children (12 and under) will be admitted for $1.00.

Sunday will produce all kinds of fun events in addition to the rodeo finals. Beginning at 11:30 the annual Smokey Bear Stampede Parade will get underway through Capitan, followed by a barbeque at 12 noon.

Then, the crowning of the Lincoln County Fair Queen will take place at 1:30 followed by the final day of rodeo action.

Edger Wilson is the rodeo producer this year and in addition to the prize money, there will also be added money for each event and belt buckles will also be given away in each event.

The events and added money along with the entry fees are as follows: Saddle bronc riding, $40 entry fee and $100 added money; Steer Wrestling, $40 entry fee and $50 added money; Bareback bronc riding, $40 entry fee and $50 added money; Bull riding, $40 entry fee and $50 added money; Ladies barrel racing, $40 entry fee and $25 added money; Ladies pole bending, $40 entry fee and $25 added money; Old man's breakaway roping (60 and over) $40 entry fee and $50 added money.

There will also be a calf scramble for boys and girls 12 years and under. Admission to the rodeo will be adults $3.00 and children 12 years and younger, $1.00.

Fair Queen contest

Two girls will be competing for the title of Miss Lincoln County Fair Queen this year. They are Shawn Bachelor and Leola Montes.

The contest will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the first rodeo of the Smokey Bear Stampede at 7 p.m.

Miss Leola Montes, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montes, is a junior at Hondo High School, a member of the Capitan Junior Riding Club and a member of the High School Rodeo Association. Leola has rodeoed in Lincoln County and the surrounding area for the past eight years. She competes in barrel racing, pole bending and the flag racing events. She was first runner up for the Capitan Junior Riding Club Queen title.

Miss Shawn Bachelor, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bachelor is also a junior at Hondo High School and plans to attend Sul Ross University in Texas. She hopes to study vet technology. Shawn is an active member of FFA, and was chapter sweetheart, chapter reporter, and Explorer vice president. She has competed in such rodeo events as roping, barrel racing and goat tying.

The new queen will be crowned on Sunday at 1:30, before the beginning of the final day of rodeo action at the Smokey Bear Stampede.

Health problem sited

Members of the sub area Health Services Planning Advisory Board met with Mike Brown, planning director for St. Joseph's Hospital in Albuquerque, to discuss the health situation in this area.

Brown reported that the number of out patients at the Carrizozo Health Clinic has increased from 400 patients per month to approximately 650 per month.

He also noted that an X-Ray machine has been installed at the clinic and a new EKG machine has been purchased for the facility.

In Brown's opinion, the clinic is running on fairly sound financial basis doing about $8,000 in business a month. Since both doctors at the clinic are leaving in the near future, and the National Health Corps has not found any replacements, it is possible that Dr. David Rouleau of Capitan may work at the clinic on a part time basis until a new doctor can be found.

One and possibly two nurse practitioners are also on the agenda for the clinic. One of the practitioners would be exclusively for Carrizozo, and the other, although based in Carrizozo, would handle the Corona area.

Les Olsen, county manager, clarified the hospital situation saying, that under the County Commissioners contract with St. Joseph's, the Carrizozo Hospital has never been salted to re-open. In the opinion of all medical persons who have examined the area and the facility, there is just not enough business to justify the hospital's re-opening.

By contrast, the Ruidoso Hospital is considered a marginal facility.

Although they do quite well during the summer months and during skunk season, the rest of the year, the hospital has a rough time making ends meet.

Mary Rich, a member of the advisory board, asked Brown about a dentist for Carrizozo. Brown informed her that all of Lincoln has three dentists and that meets the area's quota for dental care. He is going to look into the possibility of bringing a dentist here since all three of the county dentists are currently located in Ruidoso.

The dental care question will be brought up at the Aug. 5 meeting in Roswell for the entire district.

The board unanimously agreed to recommend to the State Department of Hospital & Institutions that the Town of Carrizozo is in favor of Ft. Stanton utilizing the Carrizozo Hospital facilities as had been previously discussed. A group of local citizens & Mayor Bobby Dan Crenshaw will meet with DHI officials in the near future.

Finally, members of the board met with four nurses from the Southwest Health Care Corporation who will be opening a cancer detection clinic in Carrizozo on July 7.

SWHCC is a subcontractor with the New Mexico Community Based Cancer Control Program, a federally funded project through the University of New Mexico.

The group will provide public education programs, screening detection, diagnosis, treatment, follow-up care, and rehabilitation to a number of selected rural communities.

The corporation will work in Carrizozo at the health clinic beginning July 7.

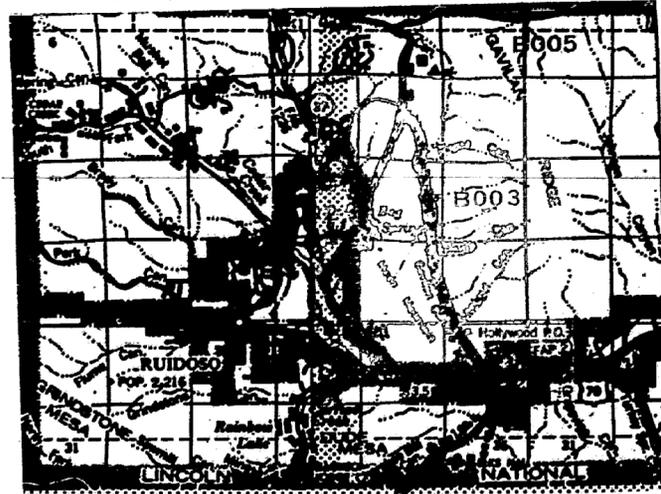

Gavilan Canyon to be paved

The paving of Gavilan Canyon Road by the State Highway Department will be completed by the first of August, according to Les Olsen, Lincoln county manager.

This will provide a much needed bypass for individuals traveling from Capitan to the Hondo Valley, or wish to get around the congestion in Ruidoso.

This project was begun in 1974 as a joint venture between the county and the state. The county has provided their portion of the work, and the state will be paving the road late this month.

The state will probably take the road into their system for maintenance at a later date.

Olson files court case

A civil case has been filed in the 12th Judicial District by Elinor Olson alleging that she was mistreated and that she has suffered immeasurable public scorn as the result of a comment made allegedly by a member of the Carrizozo School Board.

According to the affidavit filed by Olson's attorney, Frank R. Coppler of Santa Fe, Wesley Lindsay, a member of the school board, responded to a question posed by Richard Vega, also a member of the board, as to why Elinor Olson should not be considered for hiring as a teacher saying, "My kids are not going to be taught by a brassy school teacher."

The suit maintains that as a result of the statement, Mrs. Olson has been denied the opportunity for employment by the school district, although she is qualified.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Olson, is seeking $240,000 in actual damages, $150,000 exemplary damages, $150,000 in punitive damages and reasonable attorney's fees as well as the cost of the suit.

In addition, the suit states, "Plaintiff further prays judgement of the court that Defendants failure to offer employment to Plaintiff be found arbitrary, capricious and contrary to the law and that defendant be ordered by this court to hold a public meeting to reconsider the decision and offer a suitable teaching position to the plaintiff."

Marriage speaker here

Roberto Chene, a marriage counselor from Albuquerque, will speak at the Santa Rita School on July 7 at 2 p.m.

He will talk to any adults interested in knowing more about being a successful marriage partner and parent. From a counselor's point of view, he will share what he sees as the key elements that make or break a marriage and a family.

The Lincoln County Commissioners will be meeting in a special session this morning (Thursday) at 8 a.m. to complete the business for the 1976-77 fiscal year. The public is welcome to attend.

News Briefs

The Carrizozo Swimming Pool will be open all day Monday, July 4 for anybody who would like to enjoy the holiday swimming. Hours will be 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Southwest Health Care Corporation will begin operations at the Carrizozo Health Clinic on July 7 from 1 to 4 p.m. Weekly screenings will be conducted especially concentrated on high risk women. For further information and appointments, call the Carrizozo Health Clinic at 648-2317.

A complaint was filed this week in the Twelfth Judicial District naming Paul W. Payton, Eleanor Payton, Lincoln County News, Torrance County, Citizen and the Village Press as defendants. Mary Rich, former manager of the News, is the plaintiff.

The complaint states that on or about Oct. 16 or 17, 1975 he entered an agreement with Ms. Rich and that on May 2 she was discharged without proper cause.

The complaint calls for Ms. Rich to receive 15 percent of the entire business, 10 percent of the net income of the business for the year 1976, for an order requiring the sale of the defendant's remaining interest in the business to the Plaintiff for a fair price to be determined at the trial, for $25,000 in punitive damages and reasonable attorney's fees and court costs.

Representing the plaintiff is Sharon Stridley Mitchell of the Payne and Mitchell law firm in Carrizozo.

S.M. (Sally) Ortiz, Chevron Oil distributor for this area presented members of the Happy Homemakers 4-H Club with a check for $200 last week. The money was provided by the oil

Versatile - frozen yogurt can be served in a variety of ways, either as a meal, dessert or snack. Featuring a distinctive, light tangy taste, it contains substantially fewer calories than ice cream - about 90 calories per three ounce serving. Flavors include lemon, strawberry, raspberry, vanilla, passion fruit, peach and plain.

THINKIN' IN LINCOLN
with Mary Ellen Payne Extension Home Economist

Planning to have a bang-up time for the 4th of July? For picnics in the back yard or at the park, sandwiches are a favorite. The easiest way to fix for a picnic is to have a batch of frozen sandwiches on hand.

Frozen sandwiches are helpful for lots of other occasions too. They can be made in large batches and removed from the freezer for use in sack lunches, family meals, or when company drops in unexpectedly.

Be sure to use good bread and fresh, quality ingredients for the filling. Any fat used either in fillings or as a spread should be fresh.

Foods that do not freeze well should not be used in these sandwiches. This includes cooked egg whites; crisp vegetables such as celery, lettuce, carrots, tomatoes, cucumbers, watercress, green peppers and radishes.

Bacteria that cause sickness grow well in moist mixtures used for fillings & especially well in moistened bread so it is very important that both be handled as little possible. Sandwiches containing thin slices of meat should be kept only for a short time in the freezer. Many slices can trap air into the filling which, in time, can dry out the meat and cause flavor loss.

Frozen Yogurt: The newest thing in foods is frozen yogurt. Yogurt has been one of the fastest-growing food categories on the East and West coasts in the last few years, but had basically peaked out - until frozen yogurt came on the scene. Frozen yogurt can be dispensed through conventional soft-serve ice cream machines. It is now available in restaurants, hotels and special frozen yogurt shops throughout the U.S. Frozen yogurt has substantially fewer calories than ice cream - about 90 calories per three ounce serving. Most feel its taste surpasses that of both ice cream and traditional yogurt forms.

Served like frozen custard or soft-serve ice cream, frozen yogurt has a distinctive, light tangy taste of its own that "blossoms" on the plate producing a natural fruit flavor. It can be used to replace a light meal or as a complement to a meal, a dessert or snack.

Some of the ways to enjoy frozen yogurt include: on a waffle; on top of lettuce; in a crepe; or topped with nuts, fruit, granola or honey. Other ideas that sell include frozen yogurt in chocolate cups with cream de menthe - in whole wheat cones, sprinkled with almonds and coconut - in avocado halves - in crepes, topped with fresh fruit - in shakes made with cranberry juice, papaya juice or whatever's in season. Indeed, frozen yogurt is the red hot, ice cold eating craze of 1977!

To type or not to type that is the question. Why, don't I know how to type? That is a good question. I knew since I was in pre-first that I would not academically achieve. I was above average in "coloring" but I flunked nursery rhyme. I even failed in nap.

Fortunately now in my old age I was able to take advantage of our local adult education program where I earned a G.E.D. certificate which is equivalent to a high school diploma. But I still don't know how to type, because typing is not required for a G.E.D. certificate. Our community offers several courses, one of which is typing. I will seriously consider putting that on my long "things-to-do" list.

I scan this newspaper weekly for used typewriter sale ads but so far no luck. I am not really ready for the job market or the business world as I am currently "majoring" in 3-D Domestic Engineering, (dishes, dusting and diapering) The business world will always be out there but for now, I could if necessary, teach myself to type on an old typewriter to suit my own purposes.

Meanwhile I can be, on the side, seamstress, cartoonist, cake decorator, would-be boxing promoter or commercial sign painter. I know how to ride a motorcycle and how not-to-run for town council. I am a Jill of all trades. You name it, I think I can do it; but I can't be a typist. (Seems something about office skills was also heard around Washington, D.C.)

My recipe box, bulging in hand written sheets of paper would be so neat in typed out 3x5 cards.

One of my craft idea notes, taken from a library book in long hand, looks like a "War and Peace" paper back.

At first glance my letters to friends and relatives resemble the manuscript of "Gone with the Wind".

So my search for a used typewriter goes on. Not only will I save on paper but finger cramps can be a pain. Someday some lucky person will purchase a new typewriter and place their used one in classified ads.

Next week: Small town would-be humor journalists, funny newspaper typographical errors and plagiarism.

No fireworks in forest

Forest Supervisor Jim Abbott, Lincoln National Forest, advises that there is a permanent order on all National Forest lands in Arizona and New Mexico prohibiting the use of fireworks. Fireworks are defined as any type or form of explosives or burning devices such as fire crackers, sparklers, roman candles, rockets, torpedos, fountains or other ignitable substances commonly known as fireworks.

Fire danger high

Firemen of both federal and state forest land protection agencies expressed concern that carelessly used fireworks during the Fourth of July holidays could set fire to seriously-dry forests and range lands in Arizona and New Mexico.

More than 300 man-caused fires have already scorched a thousand acres of National Forest lands in the two states. Thousands more acres have been lost on lands under the administration of the other cooperating fire agencies, the State Foresters, the Bureau of Land Management, National Park Service and the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Tribal foresters on several large Indian reservations in the two states are also cooperating in the fire prevention effort.

A Forest Service spokesman said that fireworks of all kinds are banned from all federal and state lands at all times. Fireworks that are deemed "safe and sane" by State Fire Marshals because of their non-explosive nature are nevertheless hazardous as fire starters in the extremely dry forest and grass fields.

Using fireworks on federal lands can result in fines up to $500 and possible imprisonment to 6 months, or both, the spokesman said.

The fathers of our father's fathers captured, spread, traveled and settled this land in much the same way as many of us now are recapturing the land. Oh, I guess there is some difference.

In the 1800's settlers poured into the west, either on foot, horseback, or with all their belongings housed in a covered wagon.

The difference is that the hardy pioneers who jounced, bounced and careened their way west would be amazed by the comforts available in modern covered wagons: Recreational vehicles offer an array of luxuries ranging from air conditioning and wall-to-wall carpeting to freezers and open fireplaces.

"I guess it's just part of the American way," Jean Shepard, the famous contemporary humorist observed one evening during his short lived TV program, Jean Shepard's America.

It is Shepard's belief that there are really only two types of people living in America today, Nesters and Movers. Unfortunately, he feels, America is becoming more and more a nation of Nesters.

In the early days, everybody was a Mover, going from place to place before settling and beginning to live the life of a Nester. Now, generations later, few people really move as a true Mover, they merely transfer their Nest.

The modern recreational vehicle is the classic example of a Nester, taking all his important belongings with him, loading the family into what is nothing more than a self contained apartment unit with wheels and feeling like a Mover.

Be all that as it may, no amount of discourse regarding an America we may have lost, is going to deter a new mode of travel, or a new America possibly found. Not even cost is a deterrent.

Prices range from about $800 for a small canvas-sided trailer to upwards of $40,000 for a large deluxe motor home. At last count, the Recreational Vehicle Industry Association estimated that 8,000,000 units regularly hit the road in the United States, and another 1,000,000 in Canada.

Yet, the camping motorist, much like the wandering cowboy, has been a fixture on America's byways and highways since before the current camping and traveling craze began after World War II. Jack Karouac was very popular in the early 50's with such tales of wandering as on the vast number of nature writers in the past couple of decades has helped spawn the current trend.

It is interesting to note that as early as 1905, cars were equipped with ovens. This optional extra consisted of an asbestos-lined metal box with the exhaust manifold passing through it. Potatoes packed in the box while the driver chugged along enjoying the scenery.

By 1920 more than a million motorists were going camping, and 300 cities welcomed them with municipal campsites. Unwelcome were "Tin Can Tourists," an association of free spirits who attempted to travel without money. Their symbol was a tin can tied to the radiator cap.

Mass production of the Model T in the 1920's spawned a new breed of contraptions called "homes on wheels." The only limitation to these zany do-it-yourself projects was the owner's imagination.

Some models boasted chrome fittings, stained glass windows, and tasseled curtains. Others had hunks, slinks, screen doors, and a swivel seat for the driver.

A Model T truck converted by two Michigan boys featured running water, a sink, a built-in bookcase complete with Atwater-Kent radio and spring-powered phonograph.

One veteran motor camping enthusiast recalls, "We had electric lights, too, which we plugged into city current when we could find a hookup. There just weren't too many places like that though, and we had to run off the battery most of the time. In camp, we used a Cadillac generator hooked to a gas motor from a washing machine for charging the extra battery."

Completing the cycle, many young people today are creating their own recreational vehicles from delivery trucks, vans and old school buses.

One young owner of a customized truck even warms it with a heating system from the good old days - a pot bellied stove.

Where I attended college in California, there was a stout band who were going to beat the system all together. About ten individuals had purchased year round parking passes to the college parking lot, and moved in their mobile home and actually lived on campus. In the evenings, they would form a sort of association by circling their vehicles like an old wagon train and settling in for a nights worth of hitting the books or, more often, partying.

If the fathers of our father's fathers are in a position to watch all the goings on in the latter 1970's they would probably agree that it's just another facet of the contemporary way of life.

This week has been less hectic than usual. The rain and cool weather has helped everyone's mood. Last week was so terribly hot that everyone was tired and just wanted to find a cool shady spot. Cool weather this week has made the students more energetic and we have had a lot of fun. Sierra girls went to Alamogordo to the zoo on Wednesday. Eddy cottage had an all day picnic at Bacon Campground on Friday. The train is running again and all students had train rides to the farm. The Voc Ed classes had a going away party for Clare Hutchinson at the farm. It rained several times during the day and the party had to be postponed but finally everyone managed to get to the farm. Our compost had to be stopped until the fire restrictions are removed from our area.

Wayne Holbrook has been employed as a Client Service agent. He will work in the education program. Anna LeMay has transferred to the Luna Education program. She has been the lead worker in Socorro for the morning shift for several years. Leslie Chavez has also been employed as an attendant in Sierra cottage. Rudy Garcia was promoted to an Attendant II. He will be assigned to Eddy Cottage.

We still have several employees out on extended sick leave. Mrs. Birch and Charlene Whitned are recovering from surgery. Robert Trujillo will be on sick leave for an additional six weeks. Barbara Noonan has returned to work and will not have surgery as was expected. Agnes Crouse has returned to work after her injury and death in her family. She has asked to thank all of those who helped her family during their bereavement. Many people did not include their names and she cannot write notes to them but the family truly appreciates all help extended to them.

Our students are helping decorate another float for the Fourth of July parade in Capitan. Last year the train was decorated and driven to town. Unfortunately it stopped on Haley Hill and was unable to enter the parade. This year we will use a truck and a flat bed trailer. The students have a week to complete the decorations. Sponsors of the float are Bonnie McEuen, Abbey Baldwin, Bill Morris, Barbara Noonan and several of our student aides. Many of the staff members have volunteered to help. Our float won first place at the Tularosa parade. The trophy is on display in our Administration office.

June has almost ended and it doesn't seem possible. All of our summer programs are working and improving. Almost everyone has had a vacation. Our students return from Camp Shafter on Saturday. On July 3 the majority of our students will return from home leave. We are planning many new programs for July and August. Summer will be over before we realize it. Our regular term program will be different this year. We will have 9 classrooms for the non vocational students. The students will be in programs from 8:30 am until 4:00 pm daily. This seems like a long day but actually the students will be in a variety of different activities which are structured to their needs. Language development will be stressed as well as physical motor programs. The students will learn basic self care, grooming, social skills, table manners, recreational activities, and basic readiness work. The more advanced students will be in more low key academic classes. We are planning bilingual class for students who need to continue speaking their native language. We want our students to be able to communicate when they are on home leave.

The new classroom will be moved in the very near future. The latest word from Mark Deigado is that the concrete foundations will be poured next week. Horace Cordova is planning to use part of the building as a resource center. We need additional classroom space. At this time we do not want to put classes in the cottages. The cottages should be made into "homes" where the student can have as near normal life as possible. We want classrooms away from the living area so that the student will learn that the cottage is home and the classroom is a work area. All materials have been ordered on the Library grant. We hope to have a Library center next year. Our students need to learn to look at books properly and to use AV equipment more frequently. We have talking story books, picture books, and filmstrips for the students to enjoy. Fortunately we have been able to purchase all the materials needed for academic programs.

Many institutions are unable to provide full academic services to students or provide individualized programs for all students. Here at Fort Stanton we provide service all for students. We have developed individualized programs for all students. We have quarterly evaluations by the IDT team to check student progress. Teachers and aides make weekly lesson plans based upon the IDT program plan. We have 15 students who are ready to enter public school. These students are not discipline problems and are able to function out of the institutional setting. Unfortunately many have no families to return to. We will continue to provide programs for them until they enter vocational training. It would be better for the child to attend classes with public school children because these children need advanced class work. Down's children usually attend public school in the majority of school systems. Only the more retarded are placed in institutions. Several of our Down's children have all the social skills needed for placement out of the institution. The recent court case with the Los Lunas School system has been very interesting. The school system was requested to provide services to several of the children from the Los Lunas Training school. Services were not available due to many factors. The parents brought a lawsuit against the DHI facility and the school system. The court ruled that the school system should provide services. Due to lack of space the children will be bused to another school. The state of New Mexico must provide educational services to all students regardless of the handicap. For the children's benefit we all hope that such problems can be worked out in the future so that children will receive the education which is their right. No child anywhere should ever be denied the right to an education. Our mentally retarded students can learn many skills which will help off-set the cost of institutionalization if we continue to provide the needed services.

Delegates meet

A total of 10 delegates from the Capitan congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses participated in a recent convention conducted in Tucson, Arizona.

The Capitan delegation was headed by B.L. Ford who noted that over 2,000 individuals from all over the country participated in the event.

Ford noted that the convention, with Spanish and English language sessions in adjoining auditoriums was very successful.

A Cupful of Danger!!!

The cause of the fire, no one knows, but it started across the street from the James' home, on the east side of Burkhalter's orchard fence, it crept down to the back of the fire station, and burned the back of the building; fortunately Dennis Porter, Mr. Dillard, Linda and Everett Greer, Randall Greer, Hank Means and Louis Caraveo put the fire out. Thanks follows!!! Here's a handful of thought for the Parents!!!

Around The Bowl

We had some very important news last month that wasn't reported. I had to drag it out of Opal, Opal Greer who use to be Nogal's Officer in charge of the Post Office was installed June 15, as Nogal's Postmaster. She attended a workshop in Roswell, with six instructors. She passed this instruction with ease and we would like to congratulate Opal Greer.

It is finally summer-time in the bowl the first session of Sunda has come to an end, Julie Hollis kept everyone happy with her delicious homemade doughnuts, and other goodies.

Ma Stearns saved two familiar ladies' lives by giving them some gas on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Dillard was kind enough to put it in the car for them. Julie was kind enough to give us her doughnut recipe. She created this recipe herself, and they are out of this world, just ask everyone at Sunda Tennis Camp. Here it is!

Put 1 qt. milk, 1 cup sugar, and 1/2 lb. butter, in a pan, heat until hot, but do not boil, then set aside to cool.

Take one half cup of the above liquid and dissolve 2 pkgs. of dry yeast, add 1 egg, pour this into the rest of the above mixture and add 6 cups of flour. The dough will be rather sticky and like batter after you blend all the flour in it. This should be put in a medium warm place to rise for about an hour.

Then mix 4 cups flour, 1 tablespoon salt, two teaspoons soda, and one heaping teaspoon baking powder. Add this to the batter after it has risen, blend then roll out and cut doughnuts. This rises until double in size, then bake.

Do You Know?

That Debonair Nogal resident who just had open heart surgery, but that didn't stop him, he tripped the light fantastic at the Country Club last week?

The couple who painted their kitchen this week?

The old lady with buttermilk legs who tried to play tennis?

That Crosby Smith will be visiting his grandmother and grandfather this week?

That the Tully wedding was delightful indeed, and the youngest guest there was the Gerald Tully's new grandbaby?

A Dash of Humor

We have checked around, near as we can tell, the only collector's item in the house is a trash can.

Ever notice how plans to lose weight always run into a snafu?

Shelly Eldridge, queen of Jr. Riding Club

Miss Shelly Eldridge was crowned Queen of the Capitan Jr. Riding Club on Sunday June 19, at the Capitan Rodeo Arena. Miss Jo Cox, 1976 Queen crowned her.

This year, six young ladies participated in the event. They were judged by the parents of members who had no children competing. In the contest, the judging was on a point system of 50 percent of horsemanship, 20 percent personality and 30 percent dress.

The six young ladies competing in the contest were Melody Hefker, Rebecca Barber, Jo Cox, Shannon Byrd, Sandra Lacy and Shelly Eldridge. Runner-ups were Melody Hefker, first runner-up and Sandra Lacy second runner-up.

The Queen was presented with a crown, a belt buckle and a banner. All three girls were presented a beautiful hand tool and wood burned plaque. These plaques were made and presented by Ken Cranford, Andy Needham and Leland Lee of Camp Sierra Blanca.

Each year the CJRC Queen is presented at all three performances of the Smokey Bear Stampede and she also participates in the Smokey Bear Parade.

Play-offs this week-end

In the final games of the 1977 Little League season, J.G. Moore barely got passed Citizen State Bank 11-10 and the Carrizozo Fire Department outlasted Ruidoso Bank 9-6 in a rain shortened contest lasting five innings.

In the first game, Gilbert Zamora scored from third base with two outs in the last half of the last inning on a passed ball to give the J.G.M. team the victory. J.G.M.'s offensive attack was led by Jon Aguilar with a double, triple and a two-run home run, his seventh of the season. Aguilar drove in six runs in the contest. Billy Lucero added three singles to the attack.

Aguilar pitched five innings, getting last inning relief from help Leroy Silva and H.R. Miller. Aguilar picked up the win and ended the season with a 5-0 record.

J.G.M. ended the season with a 16-1 record and goes into the play-offs with a 12 game winning streak.

The Bankers utilized 10 free passes and kept the pressure on J.G.M. all night. Brian Vigil had a triple and Mike Lucero added a double to lead the Bankers attack. The Bankers finished the season with a 7-12 record.

J.G.M. appeared to walk away with the contest in the early going as they led 7-3 going into the fourth inning. Then the Bankers added two in the third, two more in the fourth and three big ones in their half of the fifth to lead the contest 10-7. J.G.M. came up with two in the fifth and two more in the sixth to pull away with the victory.

In the second contest, the Fire Department jumped out to an early lead scoring four runs in the first frame and adding two more in the second and third. The Bankers came back with three in the first, two in the second and one in the third, but could not score in their final time at bat.

The winning pitcher was Dwayne Zamora (2-5) for the season and David Deroshier suffered the loss in his first start of the season.

Comments wanted

Lincoln National Forest Supervisor James Abbott announced today that the date for receiving comments on the draft environmental statement for a proposed dam and reservoir on Eagle Creek near Ruidoso, has been extended until July 8. The extension has become necessary in order to obtain comments from agencies and groups that have requested additional time to study the proposal.

Abbott stated that this additional two weeks should not delay the preparation of the final environmental statement which is scheduled for completion in October, 1977.

Wet Fourth

The best bet for the long Fourth of July weekend is the state's large warm-water reservoir -- for fishing, boating, camping and picnicking -- according to the N.M. Department of Game and Fish.

In spite of fire closures on Forest Service land, all state parks and areas controlled by the Game and Fish Department are open to public use, though extreme caution is urged.

For crappie and white bass, Elephant Butte is an excellent place to go, says Warren McNall, assistant chief of the department's Fisheries Division. Use minnows and shyster lures for crappie, he says, and water dogs for bass.

Walleye fishing at Conchas is the best of the year, and McNall suggests using spinners and night crawlers to land these tasty fish, running about one to one and one-half pounds, and occasionally tipping the scales at three to five pounds. Catfishing is also profitable at Conchas, using trotlines.

Another good spot for walleye is Navajo Lake, which has the added advantage of also being a trout and kokanee salmon water. Crappie and bluegill are hitting on worms and minnows, especially in La Jara Canyon and the Pine River arm, says McNall, and catfishing is good on trotlines baited with night-crawlers and cut bait. Bass are hitting crank baits at Navajo. Jigs and minnows, and spinners baited with worms will probably land you some walleye and crappie at Ute Lake, says McNall. Catfishing is also good, both trotlineing and using rod and reel, at the head of Ute Creek. A few white bass are being landed at Lake Sumner, and trotlineing for catfish is good there also.

$1,000 Reward offered

Operation Game Thief's task force is offering a $1,000 reward, and an Albuquerque man is adding $100, for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) who killed six elk in York Canyon near Raton, according to the Department of Game and Fish.

In its organizational meeting Saturday, the 16-member group also authorized payment of the first rewards to be handed out under Operation Game Thief and elected officers.

Dan Pursley, department coordinator of the program, reported to the task force that investigations into two cases involving illegal possession of nongame wildlife resulted in arrests, and $50 rewards were approved for the persons who called Operation Game Thief (1-800-432-4283) with information on the offenses.

Tony Pearson of Santa Fe was elected as the task force's chairman, with Tom Reinhardt of Albuquerque being named vice-chairman. A four-person executive committee, to be contacted in cases of emergency, was also selected.

Mason R. Hise of Albuquerque has offered to add his personal contribution of $100 to the $1,000 reward offered in the elk case, according to Pursley.

Pursley also outlined a number of other wildlife law violations being investigated as a result of information received through Operation Game Thief, but said no information has been received on the York Canyon elk case.

Game Department officers discovered the carcasses of four elk in the canyon two weeks ago, and two more last week. According to Pursley, only one of the animals had been butchered -- the rest were shot and left whole.

Operation Game Thief offers rewards of at least $250 for information leading to arrest on big game law violations, and $50 for information on non-game wildlife law violations. The task force can authorize larger rewards in cases of particularly severe violations, such as the York Canyon elk case. Information call 1-800-432-4283 toll-free and can remain anonymous.

Capitan

By Margaret Rench

I do wish everyone the most delightful and pleasant Fourth of July holiday. It is a great day to reminisce and realize the great country we live in. We do have so much to be grateful for.

It is hot and dry. There has been a few light showers of rain here and better ones near us. Ruidoso underwent a terrific hail storm Thursday evening beginning at 6:30. It stripped the trees of fruit. Friday morning at 10:15 a.m. there was a foot of hail on the ground. It is hard to believe but it is very true. It came without the slightest warning.

There were three lovely groups of people who visited the Smokey Bear Museum last week. One was 16, YCC students from Muleshoe, Texas, another was 15 students of Chi Rho Guys from the First Christian Church from Brownfield, Texas and another group of 18 students from the Training School in Austin, Texas. 25 different states were represented along with Saudi Arabia and Switzerland. They are looking forward to a big Fourth of July weekend.

The second annual Arts and Crafts Fair will be held in Capitan at "The Store" across from the Post Office, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. July 22-24.

Happy Birthday to Jessica Livingston who was four years old Monday June 27. She enjoyed a birthday party when her little friends joined her at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Tim Livingston that morning. I do wish her many more such happy birthdays.

Mrs. Thomas Haggerton and four lovely daughters of Hobbs is visiting her sister Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Hardy and family.

Their guests last week Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fulbright and family who spent one day and a night with them. He is Mrs. Johnston's nephew. They are expecting Jay's nephew for the holidays Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Johnston of Upland, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCuen of Brook, Indiana are spending a few days with her sister Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spohn and family.

Mrs. Kingston and Mrs. Rench made a business trip to Carrizozo last Tuesday. We did appreciate meeting several very dear friends. It was so good to talk to them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Norton also were business visitors in Carrizozo last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson enjoyed as guests Mr. and Mrs. John D. West and three children of Memphis, Tennessee for several days. They had not seen them in seven years.

Mr. Joseph Patrick Donahoe of Las Angeles, California moved here three weeks ago into a property on which there was a nice trailer home in Mesa Verde to make his home permanently. Welcome to Capitan and we wish you joy and happiness here.

Guests of Zenobia Danahoe last week were Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Hazee & family and his wife's mother Mrs. Forbes of Anderson, Missouri. They had a great time as R.L. grew up here and knew many people. They enjoyed a picnic in the hills near Gilbert Peters and visited many friends.

Nephew of Zenobia, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Smith and two children of Visalia, California enjoyed last Tuesday here.

Mrs. Maggie Bell of Hondo who was 90 years old passed away at a hospital in Roswell last week. She was there after breaking one of her hips. She had a break earlier in the year in one hip and this time the other hip was broken in a fall. She was a delightful lady and loved by everyone. Gayle Wilkinson of Carrizozo was the speaker at the Capitan Methodist Church last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Anderson are vacationing in New Jersey with their son and family.

To Amarillo to spend five days with her youngest sister Babe Beck to Gladstone to help her brother and wife while they took a vacation. She spent two nights with her third grade teacher in Alva, Oklahoma. Home again after the most pleasant time.

Shannon and J.C. Walker of Roswell spent several days here with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Loomis.

Remember to meet your friends at the Rodeo in Capitan during the holidays. There will be a dance Friday and Saturday nights. Have a good time.

Last Friday a man was killed near the Lucier Ranch when his truck turned over several times. There was a fleet of trucks hauling gravel for the highway and this was one of the trucks.

Pat Flatley and Lorene Ferguson made a business trip to Ruidoso Monday.

Last Wednesday Lorene Ferguson visited her sister Clara Snow in Carrizozo for the day.

Lincoln County is one of the most desirable, yet undiscovered, locations left in the Southwest. Look around you, the beautiful mountains to the east, provide camping, hiking and fishing in the summer, and wonderful skiing in the winter. To the west is the Valley of Fire State Park where thousands of years ago molten lava gushed through the valley before coming to a permanent rest. To the east is Captain, home of Smokey the Bear Museum and State Park. Beyond is Old Lincoln Town, made famous by Billy the Kid and the Lincoln County War. The buildings have been kept intact and a well-staffed museum will let you taste the past. Set in the beautiful mountains is Rudessa, and Rudessa Downs Race Track, home of the world's richest horse race. Activity there is buzzing with excitement almost daily through the summer. For just the vacation you've been looking for, take some time to explore Lincoln County, the historic and recreational facilities are numerous, the climate is perfect and the people are always willing to help.

Turn left off U.S. 54 at courthouse, then half block right. This is an "old fashioned" full line drug store. We can fill your prescription needs. Besides this valuable service Carrie Lou and Jack Stager will serve you a cup of coffee or show you where many drug sundries and gifts are located. You get more than 50¢ off at Family Pharmacy, most important is accurate prescription service and then a lot of attention to your needs.

13 Central Package Liquor Store

On north side of U.S. 54 downtown - Phone 648-2359. There are lots of good things at Central Package for refreshments at the end of your trip. We have a complete stock of wines and liquors, plus beer that is cold enough to keep a long time. Snack foods are a specialty here, so stop in and shop. Venabel Hernandez will help you in a most friendly manner, and can tell you a lot about Lincoln County.

14 Lindsay Western Wear

On the right, around the bend on U.S. 54 downtown, 648-2366. Looking for a big western straw hat, a western shirt with some flare, jeans or boots, you'll be at the right place in Lindsay Western Wear. Our stock is fresh, with new items all the time. We'll fit you out for any rodeo that goes on and there are plenty of them these summer in Lincoln County. See a gal that knows the west, Bobby LaMay at Lindsay Western Wear.

15 Gift Gallery & Self Service Gas

Two locations, gas pump on U.S. 54 at Intersection, gift store there and also on down U.S. 54 to bend, on the right. Of course our "self-service" gasoline price is good, we planned it that way as a help to our customers. We plan to have many gift items representing the southwest on display at all times in both stores. They don't wait on you and be glad to help you select items you want for yourself, or friends anywhere.
