Sierra Regional Airport Commission on 2,000 acres of land near Ft. Stanton. (Lincoln County News photo)

Airport Board Meets

The second meeting of the newly formed Sierra Blanca Regional Airport Commission was held at the Ruidoso Public Library last Thursday. The group, formed as a result of the Joint Powers Agreement between Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitán, Lincoln County, and the Mescalero Apache Tribe, met to agree on several amendments to the JPA prior to forwarding it to the State for final approval.

The SBRA Commission, headed by Richard Hall of Ruidoso, seeks to acquire 2,000 acres of land located on the Fort Stanton Marine Hospital Reservation for a new airport to serve Lincoln County. The area they hope to acquire is presently under title by the Bureau of Land Management.

In addition, the Mescalero Apache Tribe has on file an aboriginal claim to the area. Once the Commission is legally able to receive title to the land from BLM, it will at the same time ask the Apache Tribe for permission to use the land.

Hall noted that the area was presently the site of a range experiment being conducted by New Mexico State University, and that "friendly opposition" may be encountered from NMSU to the proposed jetport.

The Joint Powers Agreement, first signed last November, must be signed again after the Commission adds three new amendments:

Paragraph 5, designating Lincoln County as the fiscal agent for the Commission.

Paragraph 6, agreement that the Commission will uphold the Open Meeting Law.

Paragraph 7, dealing with termination or withdrawal of interested parties from the JPA.

Chairman Hall also noted that the SBRA had yet to receive an Environmental Assessment Report from the State concerning the effect a new airport would have on the surrounding area.

The Carrizozo Hospital Board met at 2 p.m. Tuesday afternoon with John Gabaldon, Jerry Castellano and Mark Delgado to discuss a plan for making use of the Carrizozo hospital.

The plan discussed at the meeting calls for the County to contract with the Zia School and Therapeutic Center of Alamogordo to acquire space for a group home for five students and to establish a sheltered workshop to be used by 25 students from the Ft. Stanton facility.

If sufficient funding can be obtained by the Zia Center during the upcoming legislative session, it would take over a significant portion of the maintenance cost of operating the facility. This would free the County Commission to look at the possibility of supporting a clinic in Carrizozo to help meet the needs of the new doctor who is to arrive in July.

The arrangement that the board spoke of would leave the current hospital emergency room and its attendant equipment available for use by the community. This capability plus an operative clinic and a resident physician would go a long way to solve Carrizozo's medical problems for the near future.

It was brought out at the meeting that the use of the facility by the Zia Center would not necessitate full federal certification and the major remodeling that such certification would have entailed. Only some limited remodeling would be needed for the proposed use.

When asked about a possible starting date, if the proposal goes through, Gabaldon suggested July as a possible time. Prior to legislative action regarding funds, though, he said, "it would be premature to establish any time schedules."

In other actions the Hospital Board was informed by Mary Rich that a possibility exists for additional funding of the County's Emergency Medical program. A deadline is involved for the presentation of a proposal for possible legislative action at the upcoming session.

Since the materials must be prepared and approved by the Hospital Board and the County Commission, time is important for this effort.

It was decided to have a Hospital Board hearing on the matter on Monday, Jan. 15 at 10 a.m. at which time the proposal would be discussed. County Manager Les Olson and Bud Payne said that they could have the proposal prepared by that time.

The proposal would then go before the County Commission on its regular meeting in Jan. 23.

The funding available is for the purpose of enriching the existing Emergency Medical program. The funds would be used for new equipment, perhaps even including another ambulance.

Water Project Is Set

Senator Pete Domenici is scheduled to be in Carrizozo on Jan. 18 to dedicate a water purification trailer which has been set up to show the feasibility of reducing the "hardness" of the community's water supply.

The open house, which will begin at the Four Winds Restaurant at 2:30 p.m., according to Mayor Crenshaw, Senator Domenici has been a leading sponsor of water legislation benefiting the Southwest. A number of other dignitaries will be present to explain what the mobile laboratory does, and discuss the water situation in the local area and the state. After the session at the Four Winds, those present will be invited to go to the laboratory for a tour, and question and answer session. All interested citizens are invited.

The water purification trailer moved to Carrizozo water tower about two weeks ago and began to set up for operation.

Steve Hanson, project engineer, says that the vehicle will remain at its present site for about six weeks.

The project is an outgrowth of the National Drinking Water act of 1972, which provided standards for water quality for municipalities. Carrizozo is among some 800 New Mexico communities, according to Hanson, that do not meet the minimal standards set forth by that Act.

The Chemical Engineering Department of the New Mexico State University at Las Cruces designed the laboratory and is operating it. The project is jointly sponsored by the Water Resources Research Institute in Las Cruces; Ionics, Inc.; Interstate Stream Commission; and the Office of Water Research and Technology (Department of the Interior).

The laboratory uses two processes to remove minerals from water, according to Dr. Bruce Wilson, Professor of Chemical Engineering at NMSU. They are electrodialysis, which surges an electric current through the water to remove minerals; and reverse osmosis, which pushes water through membranes to filter out minerals.

Since the project is designed to make the public aware of ways to solve the water problems, the public is invited to go to the Carrizozo water plant and inspect the trailer in operation and to taste the pure water that it produces.

Cost information will be gathered on both processes, as well as information on the efficiency and effectiveness of each, and the combination of both. "The information generated by this six week experiment will give Carrizozo a base to work from in deciding how to improve the quality of their community water supply."

It is anticipated that, once the community is aware of the possibility for improving the water quality, state and federal grants will be sought and obtained to make a full-time water treatment facility possible for Carrizozo.

Bank Elects English

A longtime member of the Lincoln County and Carrizozo business community, Fred English, proprietor of the Carrizozo Hardware Store, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Citizens State Bank.

Bank President Johnson S. Stearns, who made the announcement this week, said, "We certainly welcome Mr. English to our Board."

English is a graduate of the Carrizozo Schools, New Mexico Military Institute and the University of New Mexico.

A member of a pioneer family, English served with the Marine Corps during World War II as an air navigator in the South Pacific. He has served in many civic offices in Lincoln County and is proud to live in Carrizozo.

Of the new Bank Board Member, Stearns said, "Fred appreciates the good people who we have and we think his business experience, and knowledge of the area and its people, will help our bank to continue to grow and serve the banking area better."

Fred's wife Hazel is Public Health Nurse for Lincoln County. They have two children; Patti of Paraai, Chile, and Toby of Albuquerque.

the judicial record of Judge Zimmerman. In the three-man judicial race in 1964, in the two-man judicial race in 1966 and in the two-man judicial race of 1972, Judge Zimmerman polled more votes in Otero County and Lincoln County combined than any opponent. Judge Zimmerman has been ranked first or second in the State of New Mexico in caseload and cases disposed of per judge each year of his incumbency as the sole judge in the district and led the State of New Mexico in caseload in 1976 with 2108 cases against a statewide average of 1387 cases.

School Board Rejects Property Bids

The Carrizozo School Board met Tuesday night and rejected all bids for surplus equipment. Board members felt that, with a few exceptions, the bids received for the equipment the schools have for sale were unrealistically low.

The Board decided to advertise the equipment sale again and set minimum bids that will be accepted, to avoid confusion in future bidding.

Superintendent James Steinpreis gave the members of the Board a two-question test from the state-wide test that the tenth grade class has recently participated in. While official results of the testing were not announced at the meeting, Steinpreis indicated that the scores were not 100 per cent accurate.

Mrs. Paul of the counseling staff explained the test results of the 22 Carrizozo students who took the test. It was estimated, she said, that about 24 per cent of the students taking the test would fail it. In fact 23 per cent of the Carrizozo students failed. She had analyzed the records of all 22 students and said that there seemed no sure way to predict failure as some of those who passed the test had done no better academically in the past than those who failed.

Superintendent Steinpreis read the two questions the Board had taken and pointed out that they might well have been confusing to students in the

Trustees Open Three Park Bids

The absence of a quorum at the Carrizozo Town Meeting on Monday, Jan. 8, prevented a scheduled agenda from being considered.

At the suggestion of City Attorney Bill Payne, bids for the proposed industrial park were opened and read as a courtesy to the bidders. No official action was taken concerning the bids, but they were turned over to engineers who will make recommendations on them in a few days.

The bids were $382,927.40 from Lane Plumbing Company of Alamogordo, $394,084.50 from McCarty Construction Company of Ruidoso, and $447,108.00 from Wiley Corporation of Albuquerque.

Trustees Roy Harmon and Robert Luna, who were present, agreed to reconvene the meeting at 6:30 this evening to take official action concerning these bids.

It being impossible for further business to take place, the meeting was adjourned.

system must take steps to make sure that students understand the concepts it tests for. "In the future," he said, "diplomats will carry a notation as to whether or not the student passed this test. Failure to pass it could hamper a student's employment or educational opportunities."

Steinpreis read a letter to the Board from the Dallas Regional Office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The letter was a report of an investigation made of the Carrizozo schools by that office in response to a complaint that the Carrizozo schools were discriminating against minority students. The letter said that there is no evidence that the Carrizozo school system is in violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Ken Jones, the new Vo Ag teacher was introduced at the meeting and the Board voted to confirm his appointment.

Certificates for accreditation of all three schools were presented to the Board. It was announced that a second school bus inspection is scheduled for Jan. 16.

Principal Larry Wilkinson presented a program to the Board calling for funds to expand the television equipment holdings. The new equipment, Wilkinson said, could provide a source of classroom enrichment through the playing of tapes that are available to the schools, and could be used to teach one of Paul Salgado's English classes the elements of television production. Wilkinson said that Title IV funding may provide $3,638 of the funds requested and that the Board was being asked for $8,000 more to meet additional equipment purchase costs. The Board voted to support the effort initially, since there is a deadline on applying for the federal funds, and to determine whether the $8,000 could be raised at a future date.

A proposed disciplinary action was postponed when it was learned that the student in question has withdrawn from school and is presently attending school somewhere else.

Kindergarten Registers

The Capitan Kindergarten Program will begin Friday January 27. The school requests all parents to register eligible children. To be eligible, the child must have been 6 years old by September the first of this year. Also needed at registration will be birth and immunization records. The session will last until May 19.

Files For Reelection —

Zimmerman Has Strong Record

George L. Zimmerman, presiding Judge of the Twelfth Judicial District, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of District Judge, Twelfth Judicial District, Division One, subject to the June 6 primary election.

Judge Zimmerman was appointed as District Judge of the former Third Judicial District comprised of Dona Ana, Otero and Lincoln Counties by Governor Jack Campbell and took March 1, 1963.

The Alamogordo jurist was elected to the tri-county judgeship in a three-man race in the primary election of 1964 and served until January 1, 1967.

As the Democrat nominee Judge Zimmerman was elected to a full six year judicial term in the primary and general elections of 1972, and is presently serving in that capacity. He is a graduate of the University of New Mexico Law School and has resided in New Mexico since 1947.

During his twenty-seven years as attorney and judge the present office holder has lived and practiced law in both Lincoln and Otero Counties, having lived in Carrizozo and Ruidoso before coming to Alamogordo in September, 1956. He served in World War II as a First Cavalry Division Officer.

Judge Zimmerman is a graduate of the National College of State Trial Judges and is admitted to practice in the United States Supreme Court, the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals, the United States District Court and all of the Courts of New Mexico.

In his formal announcement, Judge Zimmerman said, "The eligible voters of Otero and Lincoln Counties in the upcoming primary election will vote on

Officers In Course

Lincoln County Sheriff Bill Elliott, Undersheriff Dwayne Meador, Carrizozo Police Chief C. Morales, and Police Officer Chuck Rominger attended a two-day intensive training course at Holloman Air Force Base near Alamogordo this week.

The course, which gave two hours college credit, was taught by two professors from Western New Mexico University in Silver City.

The first day's session covered drugs and undercover operations while the second day was devoted to officer violation contacts.

The instruction was given at the NCO Club on the Air Base.

Senator John Conway and Representative Maurice Hobson will be in Carrizozo on Thursday, January 12, at 7 p.m. in City Hall to meet with constituents about upcoming legislation.

Race Schedule Set Weather Went Haywire

The 1978 season at Ruidoso Downs will cover 71 race days, according to dates okayed by the New Mexico State Racing Commission.

General Manager Al Rosa reports the season will kick off on Saturday, May 13, and wrap up, as usual, on Labor Day (Sept. 4).

"The schedule is just about a duplicate of that used so successfully in recent years," Rosa said.

Last year, he pointed out, Ruidoso scheduled three Wednesday programs in August, and the response was solid enough to warrant a continuation of the idea. In 1978, the four Wednesdays in August will be racing dates.

But the basic pattern, as usual, is Thursday-through-Sunday racing. There'll be racing on three Mondays: May 29 (Memorial Day), July 3 (as part of the extended Fourth of July weekend), and Sept. 4 (Labor Day).

The track will be dark the last Thursday in June in deference to the July 4th weekend. The holiday racing dates that week will stretch from Friday, June 30, through Tuesday, July 4.

The first Thursday race date is booked for May 18 to accommodate the opening trial of the Kansas Futurity. The next two Thursdays will be dark, then Thursday racing resumes on a regular basis on June 8.

Ruidoso's theme this year will be set by the fact the All-American Futurity, the world's richest race, will be getting even richer. Starting in '78, the gross pot for the All-American will be swollen from $1,030,000 to $1,280,000. Of this amount, $1 million (plus $30,000 in breeding and nominating awards) will be doled out to the 10 qualifiers in the nationally televised grand finale on Labor Day. The winner will take home a tremendous $437,500.

The stunning Ruidoso stakes schedule will also include such classics as the $750,000 (est.) All-American Derby, the $525,000 (est.) Kansas Futurity and the $450,000 (est.) Rainbow Futurity and the $450,000 (est.) Rainbow Derby.

First post Wednesday through Saturday will be 1:30 p.m., while Sunday's starting time will be 1 p.m.

The '78 campaign will be Ruidoso Downs' 31st straight season of thoroughbred and quarter horse racing. The maiden season was staged in 1947 when a 10-day meet recorded a daily wagering average of only $33,261. Last year, Ruidoso offered 69 race days, and the daily average was $417,198 — a Ruidoso record. That was the sixth straight year in which the mountain track set a new daily mutual average.

A record number of nominations flowed in for the 1978 Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

According to Nominations Secretary Dorothy Dillard, the final count for original nominations stands at 666 head. The projected purse for the '78 edition of the first leg of quarter horse racing's Triple Crown is $525,000.

Last year at this time, the '77 Kansas Futurity had lured 639 head — a record at that point. Gross purse for the 1977 Kansas Futurity finally topped out at $512,080, benefiting from a bumper crop of supplemental nominations.

Dorothy notes the '77 Kansas attracted 31 supplementals on Feb. 1 at $750 each, 18 at two grand apiece on April 1, and two at $7,500 each at the time of entry.

Included among the nominees to the '78 Kansas is Hey Chagette, the sale-topping filly from last year's All-American Sale at Ruidoso. The filly was acquired by Eddie Beasley of Fairacres, N.M., for a cool $78,000.

Ted Bruce and Floyd Jackson — the partnership which won the '77 All-American with the bargain-basement filly, Hot Idea — are represented in the Kansas roster with five head. Bruce and Jackson are from Estelline, Texas.

The "biggest" nominator, in terms of number of head, is Gordon Howell of Sunland Park, N.M. Howell checked in with 12 head. Walter Merrick, the near-legendary horseman from Sayre, Okla., nominated seven hopefuls.

Richard Thompson, director of racing at Ruidoso, notes a new format for the Kansas trials goes into effect, starting with the '78 meeting. The double-round elimination system will now give away to a single stanza in order to reduce the number of times a two-year-old will have to run during the meeting.

The trial field will be split in two, with half running on May 18 and the other half going on May 19. Those recording the top five fastest times on the first day will join the top five from the second day in the televised grand finale on June 4.

The same technique will be used to piece together the fields for the consolation. Here's how it'll work: the second fastest five qualifiers from each of the two days will go in the first consolation, while the third five from each of the two trial days will earn a berth in the second consolation.

The new format is the brainchild of the Kansas Quarter Horse Racing Assn. and Ruidoso officials.

The '78 meeting will cover 71 race days, beginning on Saturday, May 13, and concluding on Labor Day, Sept. 4.

Tax Aid For Aged

Lincoln County residents may benefit from a Senate Committee on Aging updating of its checklist of itemized deductions to help protect older and younger Americans from overpaying their Federal income tax.

Senators Pete Domenici and Frank Church say that the "Major revisions" of the Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977. Several provisions in the new law will ease the tax burden for many older Americans and other taxpayers. But these measures will be of little value unless taxpayers are aware of their existence.

The summary includes a checklist of allowable tax deductions for taxpayers who itemize their expenses, such as medical, taxes, contributions, interest, casualty or theft losses, and other qualifying miscellaneous items.

In addition, the publication describes other tax relief measures, including the additional $750 personal exemption for aged taxpayers, the tax credit for the elderly, the exclusion on the gain from the sale of a personal residence by aged taxpayers, and the credit for child and dependent care expenses.

Domenici and Church emphasized that the summary is not intended to be an all-inclusive checklist for every conceivable circumstance.

"However, it can," they added, "be useful for the vast majority of taxpayers to assure that they claim deductions, credits, and exemptions to which they are legitimately entitled. The checklist can also provide guidance in determining whether it would be more advantageous to itemize deductible expenses or claim the standard deduction."

Hearings conducted by the Committee on Aging reveal that many Americans pay more income tax than legally due.

Domenici and Church pointed out, "Some are overwhelmed by the complexities in the tax law. Others are totally unaware of helpful deductions which can save them precious dollars."

A limited supply of the checklist of itemized deductions is available for individual requests from the Committee on Aging, Room G-233, Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

From the parched croplands of California to the snow-choked streets of Buffalo, N.Y., 1977 will be remembered as the year the weather went haywire.

The winter alone cost the nation $3 billion in economic growth and $5 billion in increased fuel use, Commerce Department analysts estimate.

From Philadelphia to Peoria,

January was the coldest month ever. Temperatures in the Ohio River Basin set a string of records: minus 25 in Cincinnati, minus 21 in Evansville, Ind., and minus 17 in Pittsburgh. The cold froze 200,000 workers out of jobs when natural gas shortages closed down businesses.

The cold gripped much of the South; the mercury dipped to 1 below in Huntsville, Ala.; 6 above in Jackson, Miss.; and a ridiculous 10 in Pensacola, Fla. The frosty weather meant millions of dollars in losses for Florida citrus, vegetable, and tourism industries.

Along with record-setting cold came firsts in snowfall. On Jan. 31 snow rested on part of every state of the contiguous 48 for the first time on record. Never had snow fallen as far south as Miami, and never in 10 years of satellite observation had it covered so much of the Northern Hemisphere.

In Miami and Palm Beach, January sunseekers stared in disbelief at the flakes floating down. In Buffalo it snowed for five straight days. By season's end, 200 inches had fallen there. While the East shoveled, the West cried out for more snow. Lack of snowfall in the Rockies closed ski resort after resort in Colorado, adding up to a $78 million loss for the ski industry. Bears in Alaska came out of hibernation in the balmy winter, and Anchorage schools canceled hockey games because of slush.

For California, still suffering the effects of two years of drought, 1977 was a record-shatterer. Snowpack in the Sierra Nevada, which provides much of the water for the state's $9 billion agricultural industry, was only a quarter of normal. The snow shortage spelled a billion-dollar loss for farmers, set the stage for a summer of forest fires, and brought water rationing as a way of life.

As a dry spring turned to an abnormally hot and dry summer, much of the nation was drought-stricken. By mid-July parts of 35 states had been placed on the federal emergency drought list.

Eastern South Dakota was drier than in the dust bowl days, and howling winds scoured clouds of dust from winter wheat fields in Texas, Oklahoma, and eastern Colorado, killing livestock.

But when it did rain in 1977, it poured. A 24-hour deluge in Kansas City took the lives of 25 persons in a freak occurrence described by the National Weather Service as probable once every 1,000 years. And the third major flood in 100 years in Johnston, Pa., killed 75.

Only tornadoes and hurricanes, the traditional headline-grabbers, kept a low profile. It was an off year for tornadoes, and there were only five hurricanes, compared with an average of seven.

Domenici Outlines Agenda

Sen. Pete Domenici Tuesday outlined a 12-point legislative agenda for 1978, including a 33 per cent tax cut for middle-income workers and small business during the next three years. Domenici said that the agenda forms the primary legislative action he will pursue during the final session of the 95th Congress which reconvenes January 19th.

In addition to the three-year phased-in tax cut, Domenici said that he will concentrate his Senatorial activities on completing a comprehensive energy package for the nation, moving the country's budget toward a balance, revising present laws to give small business a greater chance of survival, and passing legislation to aid education, agriculture, and the elderly.

"The past year was one of the worst in history for America's working taxpayers," Domenici told a news conference here. "A typical New Mexico family brought home less money last year, despite the fact that the family earned 50 per cent more money than that same family brought in 1970."

"Taxes on New Mexicans will increase, dramatically in the next three years as the full impact of the Social Security tax and energy taxes are felt. Best estimates are that just two programs — energy taxes and Social Security tax increases — will add $37.5 billion in taxes annually by 1980," Domenici explained.

Domenici, a member of the Senate Budget Committee, said that the nation's citizens already lose one-third of their income to taxes and that further increases "truly could lead to a taxpayers revolt."

Domenici and several other Senators and Congressmen have sponsored legislation that would reduce individual and small business taxes by about 11 per cent a year for the next three years. He said that immediate passage of that measure is his highest legislative priority.

Other legislation that Domenici listed as top personal priorities for his Senate activity this year include:

- Changes in the Older Americans Act to improve programs for Senior Citizens, implement a federal Home Health Care System, and put in place a program to help the elderly with rising energy and fuel costs;

- Full review and analysis of the proposed SALT II treaties, using a task force of experts in the field;

- Passage of the Domenici-Bellmon education reform act to streamline and improve federal aid to public education;

- Changes in the nation's laws to improve the climate for small business ventures, including passage of the Domenici-Equal Access to the Courts bill that would aid private individuals and small business in fighting arbitrary government regulations;

- Agriculture-related legislation to reform the nation's grazing formula, to change the 1902 Reclamation Act to allow small farmers to exceed the 160-acre per person limitation, and to reform legislation that now imposes unnecessary restrictions on land use;

- Implementation of the Domenici bill, now law, that creates inland brackish water desalination projects to turn salty water into potable water for agriculture and cities;

- Implementation of the Ogallala Water Basin study for Eastern New Mexico, Texas, Kansas, and Oklahoma. An interim report on that study, authorized by Domenici legislation two years ago, is expected soon;

- Passage of an education tax credit for middle-income families who have children in college;

- Changes in the nation's federal lobbying code to prohibit certain kinds of financial arrangements between lobbyists and clients and to tighten up the lobbying laws;

- Reorganization of the nation's drug laws to improve border operations and give states more federal aid in the fight against drugs;

- and, legislation and oversight hearings on the nation's energy program, including nuclear policy, solar and geo-thermal energy progress, and innovative technology to move the nation away from excessive reliance on fossil fuels.

Domenici is a member of the Budget Committee, Energy and Natural Resources Committee, and Environment and Public Works Committee, and is Ranking Minority Member of the Special Committee on Aging in the Senate.

Free Seminar

"Domestic Relations" will be the topic of a third free seminar offered by Eastern New Mexico University in conjunction with the Curry-Roosevelt County Bar Association on Jan. 28.

Designed for persons interested in paralegal work, the seminar will include information on antenuptial agreements, problems before dissolution of marriage and separation, post decree remedies modification of decree, community property, and adoption and termination of parental rights.

Lecturing attorneys include Esther Smith Van Soelen and Hal Greig of Clovis and Dr. Ross Sanchez of Eastern's College of Business faculty.

The cookbooks and the advertising will be the main topic of discussion. Also, bring along your ideas for programs for your club to share with other clubs.

Corona Extension Club: will meet on January 26th at 10:00 a.m. in the Recreation Room. The hostesses are Betty Russell and Margaret Lightfoot. New officers will be taking over and members will draw for secret sisters. It's going to be a busy day. The program will be given by Hazel English, County Health Nurse, on "Child and Wife Abuse." She has some fascinating information in the way of films, etc. Her program will start promptly at 10:30 a.m.

Capitan Extension Club: is slated for a good program on the 19th of January at 10:30 a.m. in the Fair Building. Della Schöles and Anna Padilla of the New Mexico Cancer Detection Program will be the speakers. Every woman needs to get this information! Invite your friends, neighbors and relatives to your meeting. The hostess for the covered dish luncheon is Linda Wright.

La Junta Club: will meet January 18th at 10:45 a.m. in Hazel Arthurs home. Hazel English will be giving the same program as Corona is receiving. I think this topic has been buried for too long and the facts need to be gotten out in the open. There will be a Pot Luck luncheon.

Carrizozo Senior Extension Club: will meet on January 9th at 11:30 a.m. Please note the time change for a Pot Luck luncheon. Mrs. Jack Payne and Mrs. Jack Hecker are hostesses.

Ruidoso-Hondo Valley: is meeting at Rosalie Dunlap's home at 12:00 noon for a covered dish luncheon on January 25th. The program is "The Beautiful Hondo Valley: Its History and Heritage." Phyllis Zumwalt is co-hostess.

Cowbelle's Treat

Super Bowl Sunday wouldn't be complete without some CowBelle inspired beef goodies. We recommend Beef and Pearls or Miniature Meat Balls and our Zippy sauce for your favorite fans.

BEEF AND PEARLS: 1 pound ground beef, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 32 small, pickled onions.

Combine the beef, salt and pepper and shape into balls containing 2 teaspoons each of meat. On 16 wooden skewers, alternate 2 beef balls and 2 onions. Place in shallow baking dish and bake at 325 fahrenheit for 20 minutes. Serve with Zippy sauce.

MINIATURE MEAT BALLS: Make meat balls as above and layer them in a shallow baking dish. Bake as above. Insert a pretzel stick in each ball and serve with Zippy sauce. Yield: 24 balls.

ZIPPY SAUCE: 1 cup catsup and 2 tablespoons horseradish. Combine ingredients blending well and serve hot or cold. Yield: 1 cup.

Forest Jobs Ready

January 15 is the last day the Forest Service will be accepting applications for this year's seasonal employment. About 150 jobs, on the Lincoln National Forest, will be available in various fields such as firefighting, timber marking, campground maintenance, surveying, and other related forestry work. Wages will range from $3.81 to $6.22 per hour. Jobs will begin in February and, so far, only 84 people have applied.

For application forms and further information, please contact the Forest Service in the Alamogordo Federal Building, 11th and New York, or call 437-6030. Applications must be mailed to the Forest Service regional office in Albuquerque not later than January 15, so time is limited. All applicants must be 18 years of age or older.

January Sales: I'm sure you've all noticed the clearance sales that are going on this time of year. There are some really good bargains in clothing. But, there are some things to keep in mind about shopping the sales.

1. Determine needs by studying present wardrobe carefully.
2. Determine how much money you can afford to "save" and set a limit for "sale" spending.
3. Check the condition of sale items carefully for repairs needed, shop soil, etc.
4. Avoid novelty fashions that will become dated before next season.
5. Avoid purchases that require other items to be complete - especially if they aren't on sale too!
6. Check the care required - how much will it add to the cost of the item in the long run?
7. Shop around. Don't buy the first item you see-someone else may have it marked down even more.

Spend little and save Watts: Pardon the pun, but it is so simple to keep yourself a little warmer by proper dressing.

If you put on a lightweight, long-sleeve sweater, you get two degrees added warmth; a heavy sweater, three and a half degrees; and if you wear two sweaters - because of the layers of insulating air you get as much as five to six degrees of additional warmth. What does this mean in terms of energy saving? It could mean 570,000 barrels of oil a day according to energy experts of New York's Commission on Consumer Affairs.

Sweaters are energy savers, and they are also important fashion this year. Layering and multiple combinations of fashions are a major fashion trend and they make the conservation story even stronger, allowing for indoor-outdoor adjustments to temperature changes. For indoors, layers can be peeled off as needed for comfort. Then, re-layered for outdoor activities. The more layers, the greater the insulating power - a sure method of saving energy!

How much do you know about your heart? Since January is the month for New Year's Resolutions why not find out.

The American Heart Association has a pamphlet available free which can give you information such as how the body feeds itself, how the blood flows and the role of the heart in this process.

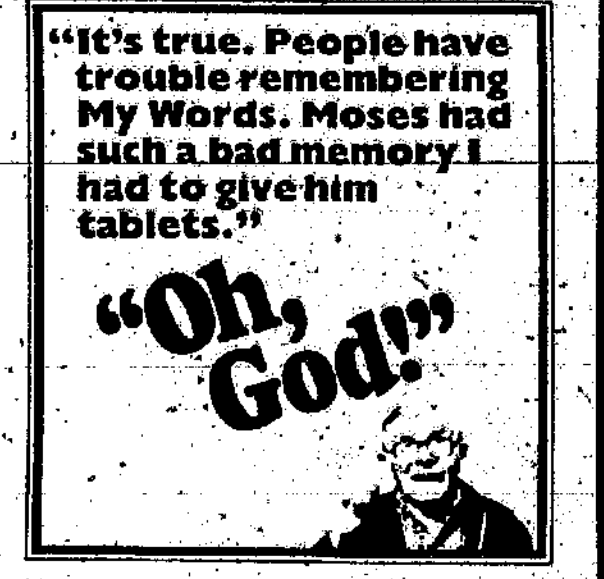

For a copy of this free booklet entitled "About Your Heart and Bloodstream", contact The American Heart Association in your area or write: Pamphlet-of-the-Month, American Heart Association, 142 Truman NE, Albuquerque, NM 87108.

Comet Chapter No. 29 -

Worthy Grand Matron Visits

Mrs. Pat Bradshaw

Mr. Roy Hanson

Comet Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star, will host the Official Visit of the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Pat Bradshaw of Los Alamos and the Worthy Grand Patron, Mr. Roy Hanson of Carlsbad on January 19.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Carrizozo Masonic Temple. Preceding the meeting a dinner will be held at 6:00 p.m. at the Four Winds. Dinner is by reservation only and can be made by contacting Thelma Appar. Reservations should be made early. All members are cordially invited to attend.

Presiding over the meeting will be Mrs. Myrtle Pope, Worthy Matron, and Don Monroe, Worthy Patron.

Therapy Workshop Held

Registration is now being accepted for a recreational therapy workshop Jan. 26 and 27, sponsored by the Bernalillo County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center (BCMHC-MRC) in Albuquerque.

Serving as the keynote speaker and resource leader will be Sharon Klausmeyer, recreational therapist-career mobility specialist for the Southwest Regional Support Center, Kansas City, Mo. The Center provides training and technical assistance throughout the southwest region under a National Institute on Drug Abuse contract.

Klausmeyer has served for five years as coordinator and developer of recreational therapy programs in the areas of mental health, drug and alcohol treatment, physical handicaps and geriatric-longterm care. She is vice president of the Missouri Therapeutic Recreation Society.

Workshop sessions will cover such areas as art and music therapy, creative movement, recreational programs, "new games" and program evaluation.

To be held at BCMHC-MRC, 2600 Marble N.E., the workshop is open to all interested individuals. Registration fee is $12 for all two-day sessions.

4-H to Legislature

Lincoln County 4-H'ers have an opportunity to see how the legislature works during the upcoming session. Those 11, 12, 13 or 14 years old, who are interested in attending, may fill out application forms and submit them to the County Extension office.

The deadline for applying is Jan. 25. Selected 4-H'ers from Lincoln County will attend the session with Mrs. Payne and Mr. Dunlap. The group will leave on Feb. 15 and serve as Honorary Pages at the Legislature on Feb. 16. Send applications to Box 217, Carrizozo.

News From County Agent

Keep Nursery Trees Moist Until Planting: It's a little early to plant fruit trees and shade trees but you should be prepared for them when you get them. Be sure to keep them moist from the time you get them until they are planted.

A healthy root system is essential to successful planting. Unless care is taken, roots dry out very readily and are injured. Trees should be watered immediately when they arrive from the nursery and planted as soon as possible. Stored in a cool place and kept moist, they will remain in good condition for a few days.

Plants that must be kept for more than three or four days should be "heeled in" in moist soil. To do this, dig an open V-shaped trench. Then open the bundle of trees and spread the roots out along one side of the trench. Fill in with soil so all roots are covered and drench with water. Stamp down the soil for a firm covering and keep moist until planting.

On planting day, you should either keep the roots covered with a damp material, like wet moss, or keep them submerged in a barrel of water. Never allow the roots to be exposed to sun or wind, even for a few minutes.

For this area, order fruit trees to arrive in mid-March and they can be planted at that time.

Livestock Work is Easier With A Good Corral: A good corral is one of the most important facilities for handling livestock. Well planned facilities make the task of handling livestock a lot safer for you and the animals. The working chute should be from 24 to 27 inches wide and it can run from 18 to 30 feet long. The chute should hold 3 to 4 animals at one time, so they will not scare as easily and become over-stressed.

Plan to include a crowding pen, a swinging gate and a headgate. Many ranchers add a squeeze chute and a good light system. Good lighting allows you to load and work cattle at night when temperatures are cooler. An electrical outlet at the chute is convenient when using clippers and hoof trimmers. Location of facilities is very important. Plan the corral to allow for future expansion and possible changes.

Thanks for the flowers Bat's Breath. The Flatlander gave me your 10-5 and enjoyed modulating with you. We will be glad to have you move from that bustling city of Albuquerque to Lincoln. Flatlander informed me that you are a blacksmith. The Spinner, our Lincoln County Agent and his wife, who has the Las Placitas spinning, weaving shop in Old Lincoln, are proud to show off the ornamental iron work created by you. Flatlander added, you are a spelunker. How you find time to search for caves, besides working at your craft, is admirable. But being an old mountain climber, I can understand the drive for it.

Got re-acquainted with an El Paso Natural Gas Co. employee in the Family Pharmacy in Carrizozo. Wolf Lip, who lives near Corona, and I met in Las Cruces years ago. It was good to exchange notes of the past. Later, at the Four Winds for lunch, Wolf Lip introduced his friend Big Foot, who also works at the pumping station for El Paso Natural Gas.

Sneezer, president of the Search and Rescue, told me of some funny searches recently. Seems, there were some worried wives looking for their fishermen husbands, who were long overdue. So the Bonita, Upper Ruidoso and the Cedar Creek area were thoroughly searched. But alas, the rascals were not to be found. They finally turned up in Cd. Juarez, Mexico, where they were probably fishing Boquilla Bass at Martino's.

With the help of the Horseshoe, the Night Rider, formerly the Apache Kid, moved back to Capitan. He will set up a base there. It probably for too lonesome on the edge of Mesclero.

The Elkhunter, who has Rupe's Packing and Guide Service among other things to do, ran into us at Madame Queen's OFFICE. He, as many of us here in the area, was praying for snow. The Elkhunter monitors Ch. 11 in his mobile and on his base.

We understand that Grandpa Grump has decided to retire as a Ruidoso CB's Club official and just be one of the members. Guess, the CB club has come of age, when it can have retired members and still survive as an organization.

But then, good people, who enjoy each others company, always have a healthy association, regardless of the pressures they're under.

The Ruidoso CB's Club will celebrate their first anniversary with an eating meeting at Tony's Pizza House in the Gateway Shopping Center, next Monday, Jan. 16 at 8:00 p.m. As is usual according to the club custom members are asked to bring desserts or salads.

C7 and the Bumble Bee have picked up their marriage license in Carrizozo and are getting ready to get hitched Jan. 14. The Bumble Bee's father has a dirt moving-business and his family are long time residents of Ruidoso.

The Mesclero Goldsmith, being in Mesclero, talked to us in Carrizozo the other day. That's what I call skip! His brother, the Sweet Potato, talks to us quite often, coming through Mesclero.

The Ruidoso CB's Club received a request of holding a CB break for the Lubbock CB Club. They like the cool pines. We are working on this idea.

The Snow Ranger, stationed in Ruidoso, is still directing control burnings in the forest.

Mother Nature wants to know, why we are on the Sports page with this column? Is it, because we're such good sports?

Mt. Everest, wishing you all a good one, a better one tomorrow. We'll be 10-10 on the side!

Good Water For You

IONICS' Electrodialysis (ED) Systems are used around the world to produce good-tasting, soft, fresh water from "highly mineralized", "salty", "hard", "gyp", or "alkali" well or surface water supplies. Ask your neighbors in Dell City, Texas; Butler, Oklahoma; and Buckeye, Arizona; about Ionics.

An IONICS AQUAMITE^(R) V Packaged Electrodialysis Plant for water demineralization has been installed in the NMSU mobile water treatment unit touring New Mexico areas that have highly mineralized water supplies. Come to the Dedication January 18, 1978 at the Four Winds Motel in Carrizozo. The program begins at 2:30 PM.

AROUND TOWN & SURROUNDING AREAS

Special News

Zachary was born January 7 at Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo. He is the son of Nat and Polly Chavez. He weighed 8 pounds 1 ounce.

'Porch Sale' - Pool table, camera, clothes, washer, T.V., all in good condition. Thursday.

'Yard Sale' - Good used baby clothes, dishes, odds and ends. Friday and Saturday.

'Garage Sale' - Saturday only. Lawn mower, rug, men's work clothes!

The weather has been what I call 'garage sale' type. Why wait until spring to clean out your closets and garages? Now is the time to give your good, used articles to charity or have a garage, yard or patio sale. The proceeds are always handy for back pocket money, especially with Christmas giving and buying behind us. A fun way to hold a used article sale is combining with friends, or neighbors.

A hall or building could be rented. When it comes to advertising, nothing beats the Classified Ads in your local newspaper. Ads are read. Some people start reading their newspaper from the classified ads and work themselves to the front page. The ads are advertising they want in their homes. It wasn't pushed on them like junk mail. So place your 'garage sale' ad in the classified ads section soon. I love garage sales and so do many readers of weekly newspapers.

Because of the instability of this around town column from week to week due to the upcoming events in this household, namely the pending arrival of the stork, I will resort to a 'Polly's Bulletin Board' type of column along with any local news readers send in or I can gather.

For those readers that are not familiar with 'Polly's Bulletin Board', I will add that this was my weekly column that ran in this newspaper for 5 years, (since 1973) prior to 'Polly's Potpourri'.

'Polly's Bulletin Board' consisted of the humorous side of mothering and housewifery, plus actual kid tested household hints and recipes.

There usually were jokes and amusing anecdotes to bring a chuckle, that sometimes only a parent or grandparent would understand. Happy Birthday to following who celebrate birthdays in next seven days: Donald Young Jan. 11; Albert Hernandez, Jr., Annette Chavez Jan. 13 (Annette is the eldest of our five children); Sandra Ware (Las Cruces), Opal Greer Jan. 14; Beverly Bragg Jan. 15; Manuel Jones, Willie Silva Jan. 16; Earl Bragg, Buckley Zumwalt Jan. 17.

And here is a nursery prayer for all babies born in January 1978:

Dear Lord, I am so newly come, I do not know my name. I do not even know yet, Lord if I am glad I came. Grant me the time to grow in love, Rejoice that I am here. Bless those who make me warm and dry. Lord, keep my Mother near. By Dorothea W. Fox

Just a reminder that the Bookmobile is scheduled to be at the electric office on Tuesday, Jan. 10 from 2:45 to 4:15. Start the New Year with some good reading. The people that serve you at the Bookmobile are very helpful.

The Senior Extension Club was to meet this past Monday at 11:30 a.m. for a covered dish meeting at the Medallion Room.

I finally traced the bakers of the delicious apple dessert that the Senior Extension served at the Christmas junior Extension members. Ethel Roberts and Liz McVeigh were the ladies that prepared the scrumptious whipped topped dessert.

Two cans of prepared apples were placed in a greased 13-inch long oblong pan. A yellow cake mix was sprinkled over that, then it was dotted with lots of butter, baked at 350 for 45 minutes or browned. Served with whipped topping. I am often asked where will our baby be born, as we do not have a maternity facility in this town. I reply, "In Alamogordo, or maybe Three Rivers or Oscura, but hopefully in Alamogordo." When the due date came, December 22, I stayed two days in Alamogordo with relatives as the obstetrician cautioned. It seemed I would not be able to spend Christmas at home with the rest of the family. Just before Christmas the obstetrician told me I could come home as the 'new one' may not come for a few days, but that I should be prepared for an emergency on the road.

So there I was in line at the checkout stand in the store with holiday shoppers. They are purchasing last minute gifts, or Christmas decorations. I am purchasing a pair of white shoe laces to tie the umbilical cord in case of an emergency between Oscura and Three Rivers.

Here it is into 1978 and I am greeted in town with, "No baby yet?" My suitcase has been packed for three weeks now, ready for the trip to Alamogordo. My purse is nearby, it contains a paper back "Six Practical Lessons for an Easier Childbirth," (The Lamaze Method), the La Leche League manual, "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding," scissors and a pair of white shoe laces. And the saying goes, "A watched pot never boils." So I will proceed to make my 1978 resolutions. God willing, and the arroyo don't rise.

I resolve to practice my calligraphy lessons faithfully (calligraphy is the art of handwriting); I resolve to make an effort to teach myself to read and write fluently in Spanish so I may be able to communicate with my fellow Mexican-Americans correctly (especially the senior citizen); I resolve to attempt to make a quilt like the one Susan Wells made for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harkey of Ancho, as their Christmas present. (This quilt is a work of art. Each block represents an applied fabric all aspects of ranch life. You don't have to be in the ranching business to appreciate this remarkable quilt).

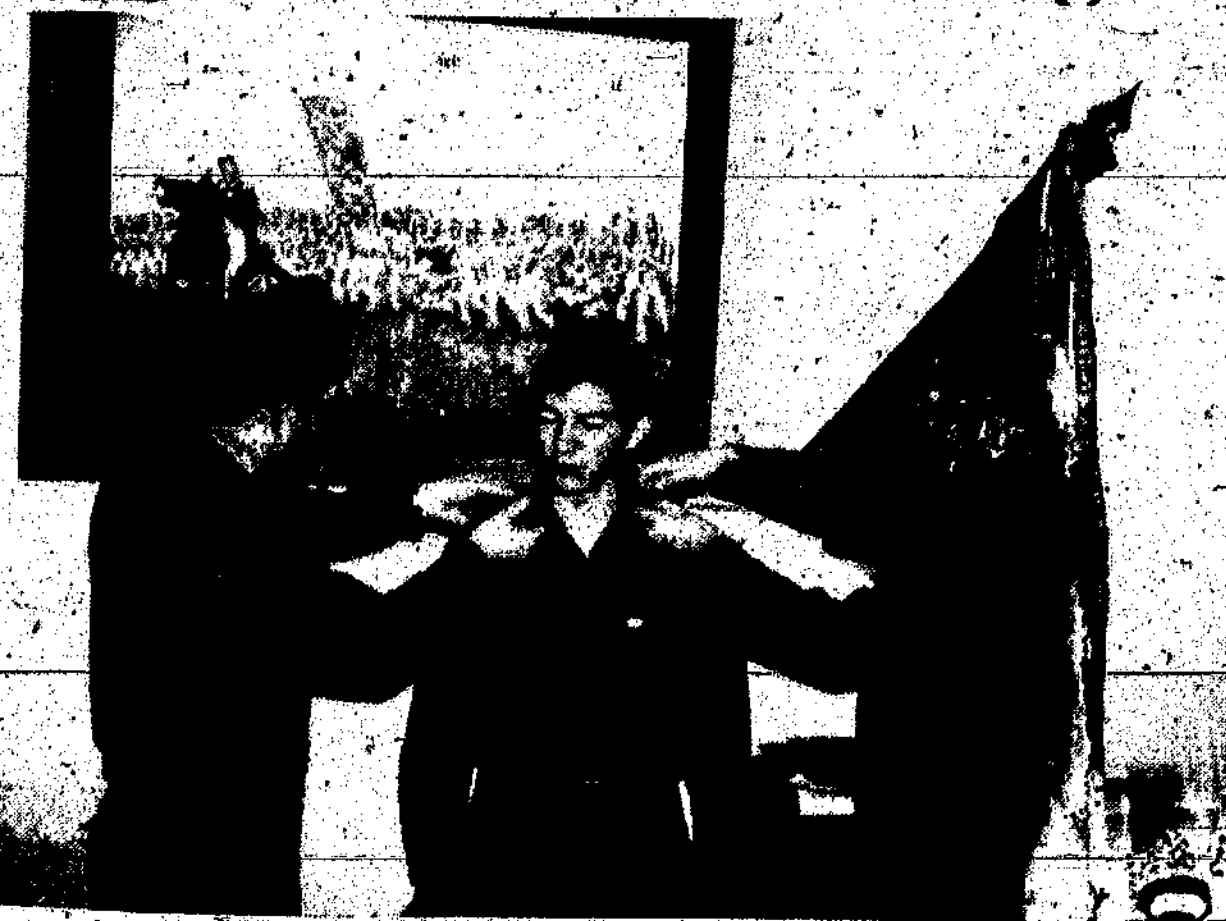

Annette, our daughter, traveled by bus to El Paso for the final event of the Sun Carnival activities, the Sun Parade on Monday, Jan. 2. As a Sun Duchess she rode on a float with other Duchesses. The evening before she attended a party sponsored by Fort Bliss Officer's Wives Club, of which Mrs. Mendheim was a hostess. Mrs. Mendheim of El Paso is the former Nancy Jo King, Carrizozo High School graduate and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. King of the O Bar O Ranch. Nancy was also 1958 Carrizozo Sun Duchess.

The Sun Parade was televised but for the first part of the parade the El Paso station had difficulties so Annette and some of the other Duchesses were not seen by Carrizozo residents on their T.V. sets. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zamora and son Chris were in El Paso for the parade and Annette returned to Carrizozo with them.

Mike Hemphill of Fresno, California returned home Thursday after spending the holidays visiting his grandmother Mrs. Catherine Cornell.

A Handful of New Years!!!!
Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells, Jingle all the way, Oh what fun it is to ride in a bus on New Years Day!!!

As the elderly lady and the eight-year-old girl stepped on the bus-out of the slowly falling snow flakes, they heard a voice singing this little jingle. Finding the first seat empty they immediately filled the seat - the little girl adjusting her Barbie Dolls looked up into the face of the bus driver and watched his eyes while he sang the little song. When he had finished with a big smile he introduced himself and asked if the temperature was alright. Just as he turned around a little boy came bounding up the stairs crying and holding his hands out to Stanley (the driver). Begging him to tell his Aunt that he didn't want to leave her. Stanley soothed him down, found a seat for him and put his bags away. He took up the tickets, looked at his clock and started the bus.

The lady with her grandchild noticed how clean the bus was then settled down to a book she was reading. The book just happened to be Eva Zumbal's new Gothic Novel.

It is rare today to find such a cheerful and thoughtful bus driver who plays - baby sitters, counselor, hired man and companion. The elderly lady wanted to congratulate this man, Stanley Self. She asked me to tell you a little about him. He lives in Shallwater, Texas and drives for the T.N.M.O. Coaches, Inc. He has a charming wife, Anita Self and two children, Scott and their daughter Shana Self. Bob Greenhill is an excellent boss-says Stanley and Nogal wishes them a Happy New Year. (A true story).

This is your Horoscope continued... Taurus? (April 20 to May 20)

If a woman has her eye on a Taurus male, "She must recognize that he's business and career oriented. She should always be available for important social functions that can advance his career, company parties and dances. The Taurus male also wants his woman to show him a lot of affection. A spur of the moment kiss or hug will win a lot of points."

A man who likes a Taurus woman should write her love letters and send her flowers, she is very romantic. A Cupful of Humor and Wisdom.

One auto mechanic: "So far this week I've worked on a Colt, a Bobcat, a Mustang and a Pinto. I feel like a veterinarian."

Career woman to friend: "Woman's liberation is working for me-I have an ulcer."

The elderly matron was mailing her family Bible to a brother in a distant city, the postal clerk examined the package and inquired if it contained anything breakable. "Nothing," the lady replied, "except the Ten Commandments."

Two Cups of Household Hints!
Go to a garage sale and find a terry bathrobe. Cut into squares, hem and you can make a lot of face cloths for about 50 cents.

You can remove sweater "pills" by shaving them off with a straight edge razor or an electric shaver. This will make old sweaters like new.

A Dash of Medical Hints!
If you get stung by a bee, all you have to do is put a butter knife on the sting and hold it there about five minutes. When you take it off, the pain will be gone.

An idea for Athlete's Foot-testing various preparations to combat both wetness and bacteria, the Pennsylvania Investigators have found that a 30 percent solution of aluminum chloride is most effective, applied twice a day with a cotton tipped stick, for about a week.

Around the Bowl:

It looks a little dry around the bowl, lets see if we can get set for a little moisture. The New Years Dance at the Country Club was a gala affair, ending with hats and a delightful breakfast in the New Year-While passing thru the rooms, Jack & Carrie Magee, their sister and brother-in-law from Plainview, Texas and Carrie's mother waved hello-Jack and Susan Frost, Stirling & Mary Spencer were dancing deep into the music, and speaking of music it was excellent-a great evening was had by all.

Ma Stearns is in the hospital with pneumonia-and we miss her. Get well Ma!!
Until Next Week-Robie

10 YEARS AGO - Jan. 11, 1968

Six inches of snow falls on Carrizozo starting Sunday Noon, Paul Utley and Buddy Hill were busy, scooping snow off the top of Carrizozo City Hall.

On Tuesday, January 16 voters will vote on bond issue for six needed rooms for the school-Carrizozo has an outstanding bond indebtedness of $126,000.

Hattie Shelton from Corona left the local hospital after spending several days there. She left on her birthday, the 6th of January when she was 93 years old.

Miss Linda Cameron and Mr. Jerry Thornton of Dallas, Texas were married in the Lane Sisters' home Friday night, the ceremony was performed by Judge Sherrill. Mrs. Sherrill and Margaret Lane served refreshments of coffee and cake to the wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harkey and sons, Donny and Kenny, from Duluth, Minn. spent the holidays with Richard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Harkey at the Harkey ranch near Ancho.

Albert Hernandez Sr. visited with his mother Mrs. Miquela Hernandez at Hondo, Saturday.

20 YEARS AGO, Jan. 10, 1958

The citizens of Lincoln, N.M. present a colorful "Billy the Kid" pageant every year. The exciting pageant, full of Old West gunplay and color, re-enacts the life of the young desperado who terrorized southern New Mexico for years in the 1870's and 80's.

A. Lloyd Hulbert continues his story. "White Oaks was a town of around 1500 in 1900, with twenty or more businesses. As I remember along the west side of the street there was the blacksmith shop of Charley Mayer, the Taliaferro Trading Company, Paul Mayer's livery stable, Shinsing Saloon and Poolhall, the Exchange bank, Ziegler Bros., E.T. Collier's grocery, Silas May's Saloon and Poolhall, Sol Wiener's clothing store, Brown's second hand store, candy store and post office. Mrs. Gallacher had her boarding house in a one-story brick building. The Old Abe eagle newspaper was printed in a building owned by a Frenchman named Pauvals. Above that the Gums had a planing mill. On the East side was Bonnell's opera house, and Dr. Paden's drugstore. A photographer by the name of Kock was also the undertaker. Ah Nu, a Chinaman had a good laundry business. There was Taylor's hardware in a building still standing. Mrs. Lesnett had a boarding house. The bakery had its own building. Treats ran a butcher shop. His son is now a wealthy sheepman of Roswell. ... more next week"

30 YEARS AGO, Jan. 9, 1948

Mrs. Mary Glenda Shook is Ruidoso's Sun Princess at the annual Sun Carnival held in El Paso. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Shook.

A building permit was issued this week to Mr. John W. Harkey for a building to be constructed of 8-inch tile blocks with steel storage bins for lumber. Estimated cost of the building is $10,000.

A new 12-cabin Auto Court looms large in the main part of town east of the city park and opposite El Cibola hotel. It is not only conveniently located but is a lovely place to stop. It is furnished Spanish style with leather upholstery in the Franciscan style of furniture. Each apartment is equipped with plenty of hot water, and gas-stem radiators; each bed has a box spring and innerspring mattress insuring restful comfort. The windows are as dustproof as can be made in this country. Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Petty are in charge and are prepared to accept the patronage which is increasing daily.

The County Commissioners are very glad to have the streets around the courthouse oiled. They appreciate being sponsors for the street oiling throughout the city and hope that the people of Carrizozo soon will see more streets oiled in this city. It makes such a grand appearance and is much nicer.

40 YEARS AGO, Jan. 14, 1938

Carrizozo's Leading Woman Citizen Succumbs. Frances McDonald Spencer, the only daughter of Governor and Mrs. W.C. McDonald, was married to Mr. T.A. Spencer in April 1912. Her entire life had been spent here, with the exception of a few years in Santa Fe while her father was governor of the state. Besides her husband T.A. Spencer, she is survived by a daughter, Miss Jane Spencer, two sons, Lt. T.A. Spencer Jr. and A.N. Spencer. She was laid to rest in the family plot in the White Oaks cemetery, where her father and mother, and son, William McDonald Spencer, were already sleeping.

50 YEARS AGO, Jan. 13, 1928

George L. Ulrick, a member of the State Tax Commission, and one of the oldest citizens of Lincoln County came in Tuesday from Santa Fe on tax matters and incidentally met many old friends who were not only glad to see him but also much pleased that he was enjoying good health.

The boys' and girls' basketball teams played at Vaughn Friday night. Some made the trip on the train, the others went with Mrs. Spencer in her car. The Carrizozo boys won their 30-10 by fast passing and accurate shooting. The court was small and the ceiling low which made it difficult for our players who were used to a larger court. We lost the ball repeatedly out of bounds on account of this fact.

Aged Lady Dies - Mrs. T.J. Haynie died at the home of her daughter Mrs. A.A. Highfill at Hot Springs, Tuesday, January 10. Mrs. Haynie was conscious up to within a few minutes of the final dissolution. Mrs. Haynie was nearing her 75th year and had made Lincoln County her home many years before going to Hot Springs. She is survived by a son Robert and a daughter Mrs. A.A. Highfill also a brother Frank B. Alexander, once a well-known resident of this county.

"To My Customers: I am now prepared to offer the "War Workers" Spirella corset of the same materials as the regular styles but at a much lower price. Mrs. G.T. McQuillen, Corsetiere."

U.S. Marshal Hudspeth was here yesterday and went to his old home at White Oaks in the afternoon. Peter R. Phillips is over today from the Alto County. He reports an 18-inch snowfall. Charley Claunch is laid up with La grippe in a local hotel. Albert Zeigler is in receipt of the information that a girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coplin, Seattle, Washington Wednesday, January 16. Albert is therefore a grandfather and bears the responsibility with dignity.

Obituaries

STEVE SANCHEZ

Steve Sanchez, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sanchez of San Patricio, was killed in a one-car accident Saturday morning between 1:30 and 2:00 o'clock. The accident occurred about 100 yards from the Sanchez home and investigating officers speculate that young Sanchez must have fallen asleep at the wheel.

Sanchez was a student at New Mexico State University at Las Cruces.

The accident was discovered by Ernest Sanchez, until recently Undersheriff of Lincoln County, as he was out looking for his son.

The funeral mass was held at 10:00 Tuesday, Jan. 10, at St. Jude's Catholic Church in San Patricio, with Fr. Santillanes officiating. Burial will be in Hondo after the mass.

Ernest Sanchez has served as Sheriff and Undersheriff for several terms and is well known throughout the County.

W. C. HARRISON

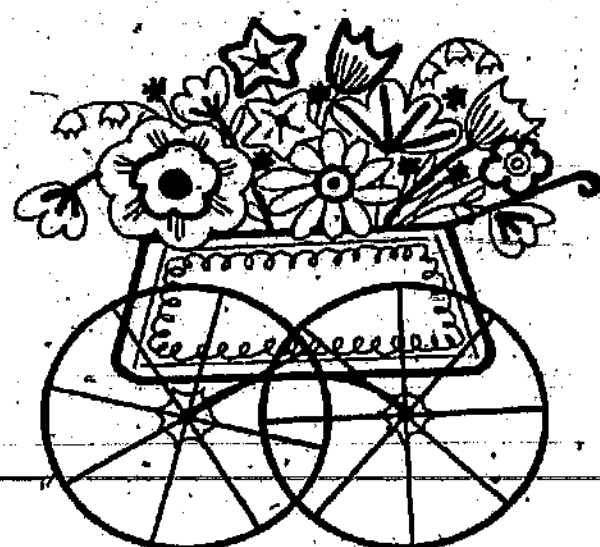

William "Bill" C. Harrison, 93, a resident of Capitan for one year and a longtime resident of the Gran Quivira area passed away on Friday, December 30 in a Ruidoso hospital. He is survived by three daughters, Gertrude A Huey of Capitan; Juanita Underwood of Anderson, California; Mona Woods of Redding, California; three sons, Carroll W. Harrison and Earl S. Harrison of Roswell and Ronnie Harrison of Shasta, California; fourteen grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and one great-grandson.

He homesteaded in the Gran Quivira area in 1909 and lived there until 1968. Funeral services were held yesterday at the Hanlon Mortuary Chapel with the Reverends James Wells and Ray Wells officiating. Interment was made in the Roundtop Cemetery near Mountainair. Pallbearers were grandsons Tommy Huey, Pat Huey, Stubby Huey, Larry Gene Harrison, Richard Underwood and Jack Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Aragon taken their daughter Carmella to the Carrie Tingley Hospital in Truth or Consequences Monday morning to prepare her for surgery Tuesday morning. They hope to be there three

Conway, Bigbee Visit

State Senator John Conway and Representative John Bigbee were featured participants in a Town Hall meeting sponsored Monday night by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce.

At the meeting Conway and Bigbee both agreed that the new reorganization effort by Governor Apodaca would more than likely just add another layer of bureaucracy to the system.

Asked what the upcoming legislative session would deal with, Conway said that this short 30-day session would deal mostly with finances and constitutional amendments. He said there would be an "Indian" bill coming out. This would have to do with Indian voting rights and citizenship. He speculated that there "wouldn't" be much coming out of the Governor's office.

In answer to Jack Johnson's question about the fate of the New Mexico State Police management, Conway said that under the new reorganized plan, "It looks like the State Police are back in the business of politics."

Both Conway and Bigbee were bombarded by objections to the tax assessing practices in Lincoln County. Several indicated they thought the assessors were doing their jobs poorly, and many contended that the existing laws are unevenly applied. John Sudderth said that he had threatened the County Tax Assessor-Collector with a civil suit for uneven application of the law just that very day.

Conway said that there is a bill in process that would have the effect of rolling back property taxes for the 1974 level. This bill, he said, would also provide that the first $10,000 of improvements on your home would not be assessed as an improvement until five years after construction.

There were questions about the feasibility of village enforcement or restrictive covenants. In response to this issue, Conway said that he doubted if the population wished the government to get into the business of local municipalities enforcing restrictive covenants set up by private contractors and developers.

Asked why Ruidoso couldn't have its own representative, Conway stated that, due to constitutional limit on the size of the legislature, districts had to be lumped under available representatives.

Davidson-Carroll Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davidson, Jr. of Corona announces the engagement and upcoming wedding of their daughter, Carol Lynn, to Bobby Carroll, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll of Roswell.

days. I do wish her a good recovery. There is lots of flu and sinus in our area at this time.

Bessie Cummins entered the St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell Tuesday January 3. I do wish her a good recovery. Her son Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cummins visited her Sunday. Lorene Ferguson also did that.

Champ Ferguson underwent surgery at St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell last Thursday morning. He is doing okay. His wife Lorene visited him Monday. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sanchez to Roswell.

Bernice Pittham and her daughter Elizabeth and Judy McKay went to El Paso last Saturday morning and returned Sunday evening. They reported the weather to be very comfortable and pretty.

The basketball tournament was held at Capitan starting last Thursday thru Saturday night. Good crowds attended.

Hollis Cummins made a business trip to El Paso last Monday.

Bronson Cummins will start his student teaching in Carlsbad this semester.

Claudio Montoya started on a construction job in Gallup this week. The Johnson Garage is near its completion. Just a few more little items inside to complete.

The Nielsen home too is progressing nicely. The wiring is being done this Monday. The plumbers still have some work to do. Then the work inside will continue.

Kenny Cummins returned to Albuquerque Sunday for his University studies. He enjoyed the holiday vacation with his parents and brothers and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Yates accompanied by her aunt Dorothy Johnston to El Paso where she will keep her Dr. appointment. Jay left to join them Monday.

Happy birthday to Johnny Wolfe whose day was January 3 and celebrated his 75th. He is in good health and working daily.

Mrs. Ben England of Oklahoma City is visiting her sister Reba Barber and family. Monday afternoon she and her niece Rhonda Barber visited her aunt, Maude Kingston.

Drug Bust Made

The Lincoln County Sheriff's Department arrested Charlie Johnson, Jr. and Ester Christner of Grants on Monday for possession of amphetamines and marijuana over one ounce and less than eight ounces.

The pair was arrested in Capitan and taken to the Lincoln County jail. They are presently being held under $5,000 bond each without 10 per cent.

In other Sheriff's Department activity, Joyce Simpson of White Oaks reported a wallet and a bronze doorstop stolen. The items were valued in excess of $100.

Warrants in this case have been issued for Frances Starkey and Frances Colburn for larceny over $100. Charges for fraudulent use of a credit card are expected to be brought against the pair in Clovis.

In another case, John Bushnell and Charles Fox, of Terre Haute, Ind., reported some survey equipment stolen from their work site some three to five miles north of Carrizozo. The value of this equipment was placed in excess of $1,500.

Runnels To Stay In House

U.S. Rep. Harold Runnels announced to Lincoln County today that he will seek re-election to a 5th term next year to the U.S. House of Representatives and will not be a candidate in the June primary for the Democratic Party's nomination for United States Senate.

Runnels, who has served in the Congress since January of 1971, said: "My decision to remain in the House is based on what I feel is in the best interest of the 2nd Congressional District and the people of New Mexico. I made this determination after a most thorough and thoughtful review of many factors, which included my own personal desires, the impact upon my family, as well as taking into serious consideration the advice and counsel of many friends and supporters throughout the state."

"During this current term in Congress," said Runnels, "I was able to get passed with the support of other western state Congressmen a bill which had long been a legislative goal of mine. The payment in lieu of taxes legislation for federal lands in New Mexico, which Lincoln County has benefitted from, is an example of the importance of one's remaining in Congress long enough to gain the experience necessary to deal with the complicated legislative procedures of the House."

"I feel," said the Congressman, "I have an obligation to the people of New Mexico to protect the benefits which my seniority in the House will provide the state in the future. Whether one likes the seniority system or not, and I myself have had some reservations about the seniority system, it is seniority which is the controlling power of the Congress. One doesn't simply get elected and automatically assume a leadership role in the Congress, but rather must remain in office long enough to assume the very important role of subcommittee chairman. At the present time, I am the only member of the New Mexico Congressional delegation who holds a subcommittee chairmanship."

"It is in subcommittee where the majority of the major decisions are made by the Congress and I feel that it is important to our state that it's representatives achieve such positions of authority and thus be able to play a dominant role in the day to day operations of the Congress. In the next session of Congress it is expected that I will be assuming the chairmanship of either the Subcommittee on Public Lands and Indian Affairs, the Subcommittee on Mines and Mining or the Subcommittee on Water and Power. All three of these subcommittees are of significant importance to the people of Lincoln County."

"New Mexico's Congressional delegation in comparison to most other states is small in number," said Runnels, "therefore, it is even more important to our state that our congressmen achieve the seniority, the experience and the political clout to provide our residents the type of representation they need and deserve in the Congress. In my view, New Mexico's position of strength can only be improved by my increasing seniority and my subsequent committee assignments."

Farm Bureau Week Set

The week of January 15-21 has been named Farm Bureau Week in New Mexico for 1978. A.W. "Bill" Langenegger, president of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau, announced today.

Many county Farm and Livestock Bureau organizations throughout New Mexico will conduct annual membership campaigns during the designated week. The state membership goal in 1978 is over 11,000 member families.

Langenegger explained that the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau is a private organization of farmers and ranchers dedicated to protecting the interests of agriculture and consumers. "We," said Langenegger, "are particularly committed to informing the consumer about agricultural economics and practices. We believe that a well-informed consumer will not knowingly contribute to legislation, controls, or boycotts that could have an adverse effect upon the production of food and fiber."

The farm and ranch leader added that the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau is the largest general organization of farm and ranch people in the state and nation.

He urged all agricultural families in New Mexico to unite in one great effort to promote the welfare of agriculture, the consumer and the general welfare of the state through this family-oriented organization which, he said, develops its policies at the grassroots level.

Runnels currently serves on the House Armed Services Committee and on the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs. He is chairman of the Interior Special Investigations subcommittee, which has jurisdiction over the Alaska pipeline.

"With four large military installations and the federal government owning over one-third of the land within the boundaries of our state, these two committees are involved almost daily in legislation which directly affects the lives of our people," said the Congressman.

The New Mexico Democrat in announcing his decision said, "During the past few months, I have discussed my political future with hundreds of people throughout the state and received several hundred letters from people expressing their desires. I am grateful for the many expressions of support, many of whom said they would support me no matter what decision I made. However, after taking all things into consideration, I have reached the decision that I will ask the people of the 2nd Congressional District to return me to the House of Representatives."

Sculptor Expresses Life

Nearly ready to be cast in wax, a clay figure of El Abogado (The Lawyer) hangs from a wire holder. Actual chain at waistcoat provides a touch of realism.

An authentic Southwestern sculptor, Albert Richardson, father-in-law of John Vigil, formerly of Carrizozo and now of El Paso, has harbored the urge to express himself in this medium for most of his life.

After nearly giving up on the idea for himself, he tried to interest his son in sculpturing. In helping his son, he got reinvolved himself and his first work, a small musician, came to life.

Club Meets

The regular meeting of the Carrizozo Woman's Club, Thursday, January 19, will be an evening meeting, starting at 6:00 p.m., with a supper at a nominal fee of $1.50 per person. Hosted by Sandy Whittaker, Chairman and a committee composed of Jackie Vigil, Sue Stearns, Mabel Vigil, Hazel Hayes, Barbara Ward and Ramona Ortiz.

The program "Estate Planning" by Sharon Mitchell, Attorney-At-Law, following the supper should be very informative and of interest to everyone present. Please plan to attend and notify the chairman how many will attend.

Honor Society Presents Goals

The Corona Chapter of the Honor Society has presented the students of Corona High School with goals to be reached to achieve excellence in their academic achievements. The people who possess the four main qualities of Leadership, Good Character, Service, and High Academics are the ones who are chosen as members of the Corona Chapter. These people are the outstanding students that lead the other students in showing them how subject of school matters should be run correctly. These students have worked hard to achieve new goals for themselves and their fellow students. To be invited into this chapter of the National Honor Society the student must be a sophomore and have a 3.5 grade average in their basic academic subjects. When the student is eligible to be invited into the chapter, a Faculty Committee votes on the qualities of Leadership, Character, Service, and Academic Achievement which the student must possess to qualify for entrance. After being inducted into the National Honor Society the student must maintain a 3.0 grade average and the four qualities to remain a member. There are currently nineteen members, seven of whom were inducted into the National Honor Society during the 1977-1978 school year. New Inductees are Jeanne Erramouspe, Jackie Merritt, Mary Root, Teresita Stewart, Nicky Huey, Troy Yancey and Ricky Huey, enlarging the current membership of 12 who are as follows: Bessie Lueras, Laura Stewart, Aurora Chavez, Janetta Foster, Kathi Garfield, Annette Root, Scott Nalda, Lon Holleyman, Cully Nalda, Dale McConnell, Robert Stewart, and Dickie Winchester. The current officers are Scott Nalda, president; Kathi Garfield, vice-president; Aurora Chavez, secretary; and Ken Gibbs, treasurer. The Corona Chapter is in its fourth year and it continuing to improve each year under the superb direction of Mrs. Neva Brown.

Bilingual Aides Sought

The University of New Mexico is seeking candidates for graduate fellowships in bilingual education in four departments, said Dr. Ignacio Cordova, director of NMU's Multicultural Education Center.

The Title VII fellowships will provide a cost-of-living stipend and tuition and fees for the recipients.

Interested persons should contact the UNM Office of Graduate Studies. The deadline for fellowship applications in Jan. 31.

LEAVES by jim cooper

"Kate McCrae hated Jason for taking her by force — she despised him — she never wanted to see him again. But in her heart she knew the truth — She was desperately in love with him — and Kate knew that someday, somehow, they would come together — it was their destiny."

If you'd like to know all the juicy details in the "tumultuous saga of wild lust, all consuming and the tender yet violent love that binds Kate to the one man she wants," 500 pulsating pages of them are waiting for you at the nearest paperback bookstand.

Just pick up a copy of Paula Fairman's "Forbidden Destiny". You needn't feel sheepish about it, either. You have plenty of company. More than half a million readers succumbed to those smouldering lead-lines during the book's first two months of sale, and it's still going like hot cakes. In short, "Forbidden Destiny" is one of the biggest best sellers in the burgeoning field of historical romance.

"This genre is very much in demand," says Evelyn Grippio, editor of Pinnacle Books, the paperback house that publishes Fairman's torrid tales of glamorous, strong-willed heroines seeking romantic fulfillment against some splendid backdrop of recorded history.

"Today's historical romance," she says, "differs from older historical novels in that the main character is a woman — as are most of the readers — and that the focus is on the heroine rather than the history."

Historical detail, however, is vivid, accurate and carefully researched. Kate and Jason, for example, meet, part, suffer, misunderstand and then reconcile in the course of a transcontinental trek that takes them from Stonington, Connecticut, to New York City, and then San Francisco — and from 1903 to 1906 in America.

Fantasy interweaves with fact as they witness the life and then the death of the New England whaling industry, New York's golden Music Hall era and San Francisco's great fire and earthquake.

"A woman can lose herself in these books, fantasize to her heart's content, without having to compare the events with the facts of her everyday life," editor Grippio explains.

"Unlike the contemporary romances of Harold Robbins or Jacqueline Susann, these stories offer no competition with the reader's own lifestyle. Science fiction, set in the future, does the same thing for men." Men, says Grippio, have also begun to savor the new historicals, and the continued demand for such stories is one of the hottest things to happen to the publishing industry in a long, long time. They've all but replaced the Gothic as preferred relaxation reading, and new ones are hitting the stands every day.

So if "Forbidden Destiny" grabs you, keep an eye out for "In Savage Splendor", author Fairman's latest endeavor, due to appear in March. It's set in the ante-bellum South with several side trips to England.

What's it about? What do you think?

"Torn between her fierce loyalty to Christopher and her searing desire for Sean, Charity knows she would sacrifice a lifetime of security for one night of savage splendor."

Here we go again....

THE CRASH OF '79

Paul Erdman

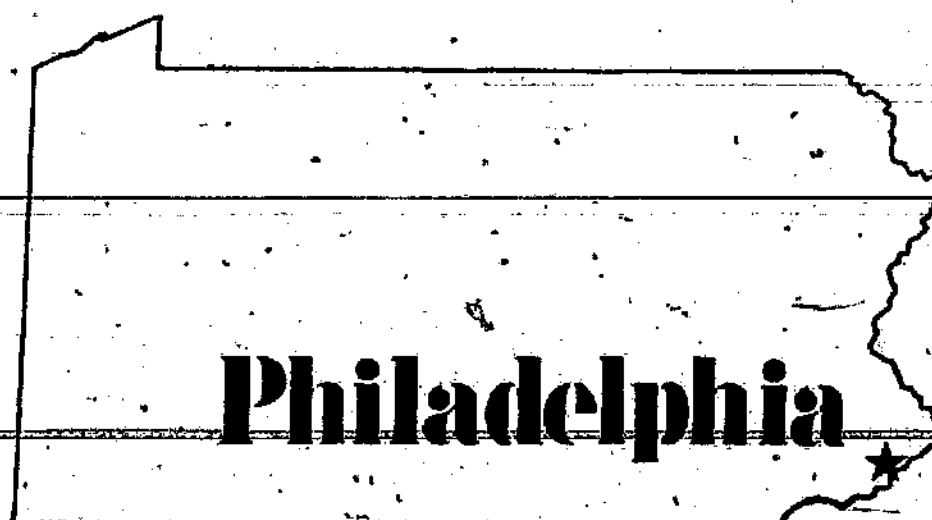

If you need a dash of cold realism to bring you back to earth after all the frothy saga, this book will do it.

Before getting into this fast-paced financial thriller, though, be sure you have a thorough working knowledge of international finance and macroeconomics. The writing is superb, but the flow of money from oil-rich Middle East to the United States, and hence around the world, will sweep you off your feet. Descriptions of how it's done at the top of the money heap, and who it's done with, and how many tiems, is first-rate contemporary adventure. Just enough sex to satisfy the publisher, just enough "ribald humor" for the ad editor to use the phrase as many times as he wants to, but maintains its balance all the way through. Paul Erdman has obviously been there. Read it.

Lastly, I would like to recommend a publication to those of you who are serious about your reading. I would suggest that you investigate a little-known periodical called "Bookviews". It's sold at the Aspen Tree Book Store. In it you will find a wealth of leading directions and suggestions. Upcoming works, ones already on the market, reviews of everything happening in the book market, related media happenings, an endless parade of literary information. Jane Deyo keeps several copies on the counter for sale. If you care what's happening or about to happen, try one out.

Old Lincoln Town

By Hattie Phillips

I had hoped to have a write-up on the Browning-Bachelor wedding but won't be able to this week.
 The groom's family (parents, aunts, uncles and cousins) stayed at the Wortley for that weekend. The wedding was on December 31 at the Tinnie Baptist Church.
 They visited me on Friday evening along with my daughter, Lynn Werner, and we had a delightful evening. They are all very talented in music and everyone sang and most played the piano in turn.
 I was pleased to hear that the Captain High School Girls came out first in the basketball tournament. Ann Womack of Lincoln is on the 1st team and her sister is on the 2nd team.
 Mr. Bauer has been visiting his wife and daughter in Lincoln but had to return to his job, leaving Jan. 9. He works for a large IBM Co., and hopes to retire and come to live here in two years. He likes it here very much.
 Mrs. Harriet McGinnis had a wonderful time with her children and grandchildren in Big Spring, Texas and Jean and Albert Hill were able to join them for a couple of days so they had that much time all together during the holidays.
 Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and daughters visited the Phillips on Sunday. Their daughter Toni had spent Saturday night with Rebecca and Glenda.
 We are happy to have Mrs. Courson in Lincoln. She is Mrs. Arrol Dockray's mother.
 She has been with Wilmot's in Roswell for a long time and I know they are sorry to lose her, but she retired from there Dec. 31 and will make her home in Lincoln. Her husband has been here for several months.
 We also have new neighbors in the Walizer (lately Bernard Rooneys) house but I have not met them yet, but we are also pleased to have them.
 I was glad to hear that Dan Gomez is now able to get up and around. He comes to the Post Office sometimes.

Ben and Anita Gonzales, who bought the Aldaz place in Lincoln about a year ago, recently bought a new Oldsmobile and went on a trip to Newport Beach, Calif.

While in California, the Gonzales visited their three sons, Jerry, Ben and John and their wives. The boys, all graduates of Roswell High School, are studying for careers ranging from forest ranger to veterinary medicine to underwater construction.

Chimney Sweep
 NO MESS
 (505) 257-2618
 • Serving the Southwest Since 1977 •
 When was the last time you had your chimney cleaned? While most chimney fires go unreported, there were over 41,000 chimney fires reported in the U.S. in 1976, responsible for the loss of many lives and over $19 million dollars in damages. The National Fire Protection Association recommends that you have a professional clean your chimney at least once a year. Even when the fire is contained in the chimney, the extreme heat of a chimney fire can destroy even the best chimney. If not for safety's sake, have your chimney cleaned for Santa's Sake. I use traditional steel brushes and wear the traditional uniform of the sweep.

Sports Carrizozo Holds Tournament

by Peter Aguilar

From the Sports Mike

by Mike Swickard

This last week, I have seen several groups of young kids playing Dallas vs. Denver out on the various lawns. I stopped and watched the activities for a while and discovered a different game than I played as a kid. When we of the old gang played, the long bomb and the pick off at the second tree on the right were the two most popular plays. Now the kids play with no defense, and on every play there is a score. The game now is the Jo Jo White dance, followed by everyone spiking the ball in the end zone and a round of congratulations for all concerned. Television has changed the game more than most people realize.

Both Carrizozo and Capitan held tournaments this last week. One question is invariably asked when the name of one of Carrizozo's participants comes up, namely, who is Hope High School. I had the pleasure of talking to the Hope High School Athletic Director and Boys Basketball Coach, Paul Dalton this weekend, and he explained some of the questions about Hope High School in Albuquerque.

Hope High is a private, nondenominational, Christian academic high school started in September of 1976. It is the only Class A school in Albuquerque (ratings are based on total school enrollment) and hence has to travel out of town for competition. The Huskies have 6 sports that they participate in and Dalton was optimistic about the programs. "We have kids out who have never played organized sports before, but they are coming around."

Capitan's tournament was a complete standing room only crowd that saw several oddities. One was in the "one on one free throw contest". Jackie Merritt of Corona met cousin Tammy Merritt from Lake Arthur for the Championship with the Corona sophomore Jackie coming away with the title.

Capitan's Rich Sanchez, also a sophomore, beat Lake Arthur's Lupe Salmon for the Boys title, but in the semi-finals in free throw, Rich was pitted against a Hagerman boy who shot equal to him for the first ten throws, so they went into "sudden death" one shot each. Rich shot six full rounds till, on the sixth shot, the Hagerman boy missed. You could have heard a pin drop before the shot and a canon couldn't have been heard after.

The famous Lincoln County News Cricket came out of hibernation this week and made his last, repeat last, prediction of the football season. I hesitate to repeat this prediction for fear that loyal Denver fans will storm the office armed with bottles of Black Flag insect spray and generally become a nuisance. I went to school for two years in Denver, (Aurora Hinkley) to be precise, and watched many Bronco games. In the middle 60's Denver lost in every conceivable way, and we kids went to the stadium to get a try at one of the football's the opposing team kicked through the goal posts with regularity. Well, anyway this is a new Bronco team that we see, but since the Cricket made the prediction, I must repeat the score of 28 to 17, Dallas to win.

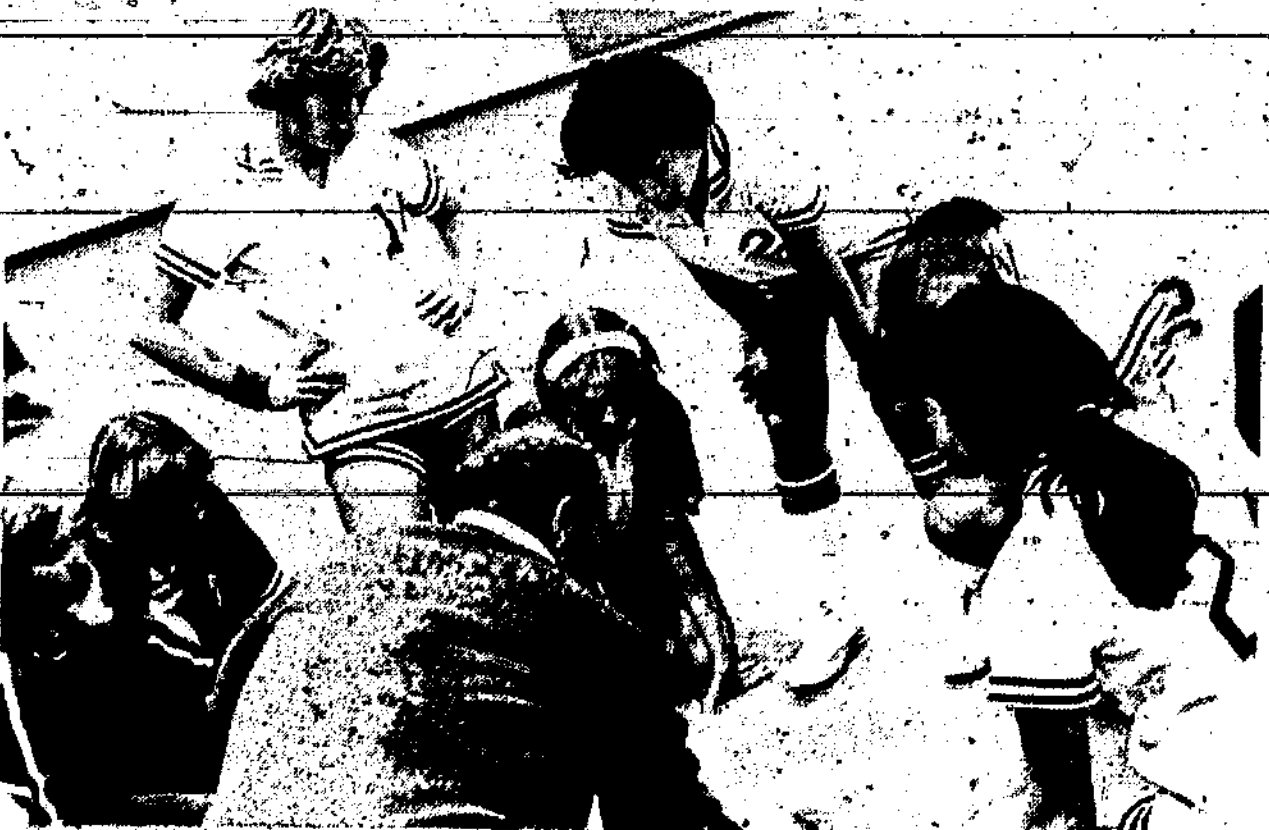

One last sports note is that Capitan has a new teacher by the name of Doris Hunter from Las Cruces, teaching Special Education, and she is active in Table Tennis. This additional Table Tennis player makes the number of good Table Tennis Players increase dramatically. In fact we at the News feel that the Mixed Doubles team of Hunter and Swickard could take any other mixed doubles in Lincoln County and would be willing to prove it if provoked. Table Tennis is not played very often around these parts which is too bad since it is a sport that doesn't cost very much, and takes a lot of skill to master. We definitely welcome Doris to our sports world and look forward to finding more people in the area interested in Table Tennis.

The first Carrizozo Invitational Tournament came to an end Saturday night with the Vaughn Eagles capturing the 1st place trophy by defeating the host Carrizozo Grizzlies 58-44 in the boys' division.

Earlier in the evening the girls from Santa Fe Prep took the championship in the girls' division by out-scoring the Carrizozo girls by the count of 43-33.

sending several of Coach Henry Paul's girls to the bench early in the second quarter the S.F. girls started to pull away and led 18-14 at half-time. With three Zozo starters fouling out in 3rd quarter S.F. stretched its lead to 34-22 and putting the game out-of-reach.

Final S.F. 43, Zozo 33.

The tournament, being held for the first time, began Friday afternoon with the Santa Fe Prep girls running by the Vaughn girls 51-28. The boys then took the court and the Vaughn Eagles blistered the nets for 76 points with Hope H.S. managing but 23. Thus putting the S.F. girls and the Vaughn boys in Saturday's finals.

Friday night saw the Carrizozo girls also gaining the finals by defeating the girls from Hope 40-18. The Grizzly boys then followed suit by defeating Santa Fe Prep 59-49 in a very tight game. After trailing 13-15 after 1st quarter the Grizzlies took the lead 31-30 at half-time. But S.F. fought back for a 44-44 tie at the end of three quarters. Coach Charles Knott's Grizzlies then outscored S.F. 15-5 in last stanza to pull off the win, and also make it to the finals against Vaughn.

Championship action started Saturday evening with Carrizozo girls meeting S.F. Prep with Zozo girls holding 7.5 advantage at end of 1st quarter. But with personal fouls

In Saturday action the Vaughn girls grabbed 3rd place by squeaking by Hope 34-33 after trailing 15-24 after three quarters.

Santa Fe Prep took 3rd place in the boys' division by defeating Hope 58-33, putting the game out of reach by out scoring Hope 22-9 in the first quarter and stretching the margin to 36-14 at half-time.

The Carrizozo and Vaughn boys then took the court in the boys' finals. Vaughn came out blistering hot and raced to a quick 16-4 lead at the end of one quarter. Carrizozo finally started putting it together in the second quarter and scored 14 points, but Vaughn kept up its hot pace and added 17 and led at half-time 33-18.

Carrizozo had trouble penetrating the Vaughn zone defense in the third quarter and fell further behind as Vaughn managed to outscore the Grizzlies 12-6 to stretch their lead to 21 points after three quarters. The last stanza saw the Zozo boys outscoring Vaughn 20-13 making final score 58-44 with Vaughn taking the 1st place trophy and Carrizozo taking 2nd.

Corona Beats Hagerman for Championship

Capitan was host this week for the Smokey Bear Classic. Capitan also beat a fired up Corona team for the Girls title, while the Corona boys took the boys title by beating Hagerman for a bit of sweet revenge.

First with the boys, Corona beat Lake Arthur and Ruidoso to advance into the finals, while Hagerman beat the winner of the Capitan-Hondo game, the Hondo Eagles, to advance into the finals.

In the Saturday night finals, Corona jumped out to a quick lead only to be caught by Hagerman, and the battle went back and forth until Corona finally put the game away. The final score was Corona 68, Hagerman 59. Corona's Stewart had 27 points, and Scott Williams had 22 to make up the bulk of the Corona scoring.

In the girl's final, Capitan survived a furious onslaught by the Corona girls. Corona got to the finals by beating Hondo 39 to 32, while Capitan beat Lake Arthur 54 to 21 to set up the meeting.

Capitan's Coach Bill MacVeigh commented after the game, "Corona came out fired up and we didn't, and they almost beat us."

Lisa Lamb scored 15 points in the winning effort in spite of fouling out early in the fourth quarter. Junior Donna Cooper came on strong throughout the game and scored 16. Also scoring well were Mary Ann Gutierrez with 9 points and Shawn Bachelor with 6. These four along with Cheryl Gensler and Laura Stewart for Corona and Ellis Herrera and Helen Cox from Hondo were named to the Girl's all tournament team. For Corona, Gensler scored 10, Stewart 10, Bessie Lueras 9 points, and Merritt 8.

In the runner-up brackets, Lake Arthur took third in both Boys and Girls with an Overtime win over Hondo for the Boys 64 to 61, and the Girls won 27 to 22 for the Girls third place.

Sportsmanship awards were given out to the Hondo Girls and the Lake Arthur Boys.
