Smokey Bear State Park Dedicated

Smokey Bear Historical State Park was dedicated last Thursday with Guest Speaker Bill Huey, Secretary of the State Natural Resource Department, giving it the title of being "the state park with the most national significance."

A crowd of over 200 were treated to a Red Carpet treatment by the town of Capitan.

Bill Huey commended the people of the village for their continued pressure to get the park. "Smokey Bear Park will not get a prize for being the largest park," Huey stated. "But it is the state park with the most national significance, the meaning of Smokey Bear is so well known." He added that the symbol of Smokey Bear will become more of conservation and wise land use rather than fire prevention.

Senator John Conway also thanked the people of Capitan for their continued interest in having Smokey Bear Park. Conway sponsored a Bill to get the park.

The problems of the park actually getting here were explained by George Goldsmith, Parks Advisory Committee. He stated Smokey the Bear was a symbol perpetuated by the living image and originally the idea of publicizing Smokey's demise was not accepted. But the citizens of Capitan joined together to raise funds to see that Smokey the Bear, the little cub found in a fire 29 years ago was brought home.

Shirley Simmons FHA Delegate

Shirley Simmons, of the Carrizozo FHA-HERO Chapter, has been selected as the national delegate to represent District J at the National Convention to be held in Washington, D.C. July 8 through 13.

Miss Simmons will join 21 other delegates from New Mexico, the State Advisor, Mrs. Judy Summers and 5 other local advisors in Albuquerque July 8, where they will board a TWA for the trip to the national capitol.

Workshops, visiting with New Mexico congressmen and senators and tours of Kennedy Center, Arlington, the Smithsonian and Williamsburg are scheduled for the FHA-HERO group.

Later, Miss Simmons will attend the annual Leadership Camp held at Glorietta, New Mexico. She will help in planning and conducting workshops held there to help all local chapters in the state become aware of the newer trends in FHA-HERO nation wide.

speakers cited Smokey as "One of the Famous native sons of New Mexico." Jim Abbott, supervisor of Lincoln National Forest, detailed Smokey the Bear's rise as one of the "most recognized symbols in the world."

"The Park is part of the whole picture," he said. He told of the beginning of the modern bear image when in 1948 Rudy Wendelin drew the first "modern" poster of Smokey the Bear.

"I doubt if Capitan will really ever be the same again," Abbott concluded.

Homer Pickens, former Game and Fish Director, praised the Parks Commission for their "tremendous job."

Other thanks were given by the Mayor of Capitan to the legislators who were involved in making the park dream a reality.

Rudy Wendelin was reconized and a miniature of a life-size bronze of Smokey was presented. The bronze will be cast at a later date and placed in the park.

Smokey Bear Historical State Park visitors Center was designed by Architects Krueger, Lake, Hutchinson and Brown Construction was by Gerald Martin, Contracting, both from Albuquerque.

The idea is to provide a chronological sequence of Smokey Bear memorabilia, from early posters and radio spots to the latest TV ads. Also included is an interpretive nature trail outside with specimens of native trees and plants, and an artificial creek. Smokey's log cabin along the trail will become the national headquarters for Smokey's Junior Rangers.

The new interpretive center is a passive solar facility which utilizes the greenhouse technique. The sun will provide about 40 percent of the energy necessary to heat the building, and in the winter a large fireplace will also be used. Deciduous trees allow the sun to enter in the winter, and the leaves provide shade for cooling in the summer.

Inside the center are exhibits which feature Smokey memorabilia in chronological sequence. Using graphics, photography and audio-visual techniques, the history of Smokey the Bear is traced from its beginning in World War II to the present. There is an excellent collection of Smokey "artifacts" and a full size statue of the bear. Also added is a theatre which features a new Smokey the Bear movie specially prepared for the park by the U.S. Forest Service.

The interpretive trail outside passes the grave of the original Smokey Bear and a fire-lookout tower site and illustrates the ecological principles of forest regeneration as well as native plant and animal species.

The grounds will be planted with native plants representing the four plant zones within the state.

Ed Raventon is park superintendent. The park is open daily and there is no admission.

Approves Budget

Capitan Village Council

A $233,637 budget for 1980 including $25,000 Revenue Sharing was approved at the June meeting of the Capitan Village Council. Water was the major topic of other business at the meeting.

An increase of Gross Receipts Tax for the village of Capitan will increase the 1980 income by about $20,000, a breakdown of the budget showed. $4261, from State Planning and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, was budgeted to complete the playground adjacent to the Smokey Bear Park. The State Planning Office informed the village the money must be used to construct the park by December or the funder will be revoked.

$9,800 will be used to keep open the Smokey Bear Museum. The Museum was originally scheduled to be taken over by State Parks and Recreation as part of the State Park. Money was not funded for this and the Museum was left with the village.

Fire Protection will receive $15,938; Recreation, $1200; $3900 was budgeted for Streets and $19,500 will pay policemen Randy Spears and George Sison.

The Council approved the budget and a copy will now be sent to Santa Fe for Official approval.

Water occupied most of the business discussed outside of the budget. Olan Booher was petitioning the village for a larger water line to his shop, home and store. He stated the present system did not deliver enough pressure. After considerable discussion the council approved a motion to furnish labor and cost of 2" pipe and materials with Olan Booher paying the added cost if he wanted a line over 2". Taps onto this line will be reimbursable to Booher.

A petition to get water by Kevin Wolfe created a question regarding payment for pipe to a lot. Wolfe explained he had paid the $175 hook-up fee in Mid-March, receiving no service. After additional inquiry Wolfe was told he would have to pay for the pipe to hook him onto the last village system. He contested this because once the pipe is in the ground, it becomes village property. The problem was created by an ordinance dealing with new annexations obtaining water. The Wolfe lot is located in an area annexed in 1968 and not subject to the ordinance. The Council then voted to carry water to Wolfe's property with a 2" pipe.

Also wanting water was the New Mexico State Highway Department. The Council approved to sell water to the Department in Oct., Nov., and Dec., to construct a bridge west of Capitan.

The council also approved to keep a 100,000 gallon water storage tank instead of giving it to the village of Nogal as earlier approved Valton Hall, councilman stated the tank was needed to increase pressure in the area surrounding it. He also said he would "take the blame," for keeping the tank. Giving the tank to Nogal was approved at a meeting where Valton Hall was not present.

Two requests for money were made. Pat Sullivan, representing the Capitan School Cheerleaders requested $200 to help defray expenses. The board approved the request. A request for $400 from the Sierra Blanca Airport Committee was tabled.

A bid on insurance from J.G. Moore Agency was accepted at $1270.

Bud Payne, representing the Capitan-Carrizozo Gas Association, presented a proposal that the village of Capitan and the Gas Association combine offices and construct a new building. The need for bigger quarters was stressed by both parties. The Council agreed to investigate the proposal further.

The Council approved a time change for meetings to 7 p.m. in the village hall.

A Good Time Had by All at High School Reunion

Good ol' Country Fiddling echoed through Nogal Canyon last Sunday as former Carrizozo school students, teachers, their families and friends enjoyed an old-fashioned picnic for the closing activity of the two-day school reunion.

The taped music and special effect speakers at the picnic belonged to George T. Cooper, Class of 1928 who now resides in Ruidoso.

Cooper born and raised in Carrizozo recalled when as a youth he and other local fellow musicians played at dances held at the 'Community Hall' (now Piggy Wiggly) and at an old dance hall in White Oaks.

Some of the other 1927-29 musicians were Buster Smoot and Don English, drummers; Marshall Beck, sliding trombone; Don Lemon and Dink Kahler, sax players; and Cooper on the violin and sax. J.C. Burkett, Carrizozo school orchestra leaders, as also part of the group.

The 1979 school reunion began June 23 with refreshments and registration at the school cafeteria, a 'get-together' at Paden's Drug, dinner at the Four Winds, and a dance at the Country Club that evening. The June 24 picnic concluded the annual event.

The reunion activities were enjoyed by area residents as well as by former Zozo students from near and far. The week end was spend handshaking, showing off pictures of grandchildren, browsing over old annuals and reminiscing of earlier day hang-outs—Paden Drug (now Gift Gallery), Rolland Drug (now Family Pharmacy), Miller's Hall (now Nike), Community Hall (now Piggy Wiggly), and the Tastee Freeze (location of the Carrizozo Branch of Ruidoso State Bank).

About 50 former Zozo students joined Dow and four of his Class of '50

New Physician's Assistant in Carrizozo

Sitting in a combination office-exam room at the Carrizozo Health Center, Robert L. Bernard, Physicians Assistant, reflects on how he happened to be in medicine, a field he obviously receives a tremendous amount of satisfaction from.

Bernard, age 41, whose education includes the U.S. Army Physician's Assistant School, U.S. Army Special Forces Laboratory Technicians course, U.S. Army Medical Specialist School and National Commission on Certification of Physicians Assistants, has a degree in medical science from Baylor University in Texas.

By chance, not choice Bernard was in heavy equipment (corps of engineering) for 10 years. This is what the army offered at the time of his enlistment in 1955 when he was 17 years old.

"The Special Forces opened the door for me to the doctor's assistant program," Bernard said.

The Vietnam veteran expressed pride at the mention of the Special Forces, troops trained as guerrilla fighters and resistance organizers behind enemy lines. Special Forces personnel are trained in survival techniques, languages, communications, weapons, first aid and explosives. They are also trained parachutists. Special Forces personnel are often called "Green Beret" because of their distinctive caps.

Bernard says they are "Rugged group of people". He was among the 12 that graduated out of a class of 54 at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, training center for Special Forces. He met the late John Wayne at Fort Bragg, where the actor was doing research for the movie, "Green Beret".

Among the many fine people Bernard served with were team captain Robert Brown of Panther Publications and Fortune Magazine (guerrilla warfare) and a grandson of 'Black Jack' Pershing. (Pershing received the highest rank that has ever been given an American army officer: General of the Armies of the United States. His memoirs, 'My Experiences in World War' won the 1932 Pulitzer prize for history.)

Bernard who joined the Carrizozo Health Center staff less than a month ago, retired from the U.S. Army on January 31, 1979 after 23 1/2 years of service. William Beaumont Army Medical Center at El Paso, Texas awarded Bernard the Army Commendation Medal for exceptionally meritorious service. Bernard was commended for his contribution to the Consolidated Troop Clinic, for superior work in all phases of treatment, his strive to improve his treatment through outside education and the classes he taught to his peers and subordinates.

Originally of Oklahoma City, Bernard, was a migrant farm worker in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona along with his parents and family prior to entering the army at age 17. When he was 20 years old he took a 2 year break from the army. "I wanted to see what civilian life was about". During this time he was a roofer, welder and auto-mechanic.

In 1961 Bernard re-enlisted. His military experience included Vietnam duty where he served as medic in charge of camp dispensary, responsible for health maintenance of 1,100 personnel including three ethnic groups: Montagnards, Vietnamese and Cambodians. He performed emergency first aid, prepared combat casualties for evacuation to appropriate medical facilities treated childhood diseases and endemic diseases.

The Silver Star was awarded to Bernard for gallantry in action while engaged in military operations involving conflict with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam. Sergeant First Class, in 1968, Bernard distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous actions as patrol leader of a company of Vietnamese troops east of An Loc.

OVER THE SECOND CUP

Former Carrizozo resident, George T. Cooper of Ruidoso, Class of '28, said with pride at the school reunion picnic at Nogal Canyon, "I worked 41 years and eight months for civil service and never got out of New Mexico."

He started working for the government in 1931 in Carrizozo. Government work included Lincoln National Forest Service in 1940, Bureau of Reclamation in 1949 in Tucumcari and Corps of Engineering in 1968 in the Roswell-Clovis where he was employed in civilian work.

A fiddling enthusiast, George and his present wife, Ruth, sponsor the annual "August Weekend Square Dance" in Ruidoso, always the 2nd weekend of August. The Chapparel Convention Center will again be the August 10-11-12 location of the Coopers' 21st annual square dance. Participants come from all across the mid-west.

The taped music enjoyed at the reunion picnic last Sunday were through specially made speakers that George produces in his 'spare time' and which are sold as fast as he makes them. The former sax player recalled earlier times in Carrizozo.

Temperatures registered last week at Lincoln Station ranged from a low of 40 degrees on the 19th to highs of 86 on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd. Rainfall was 0.62" in two showers.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cushman are again at Lincoln Station, coming from Window Rock to replace Irl Welch.

Mrs. Jack Donahue's mother, Mrs. Velma Booth spent a few days with the Donahues last week and left Sunday for her home. Mrs. Booth and Mrs. Donahue were in Albuquerque to attend sessions of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to which Mrs. Booth was a delegate from Tulsa.

Dr. William P. Lytle bestowed the moderatorial cross and stole upon Howard L. Rice after his election to the post of moderator of the United Presbyterian Church USA. Dr. and Mrs. Lytle are now at home in San Antonio and say that it will take some time to organize their thoughts and experiences in order to share them with their fellow Christians. They report that Bill will be busy as usual; Birdie will rest for a short time and then resume her work in a housing project, continue to write the church news letter and serve on the education committee, spend two days each week at the food pantry. David and Diep have moved to Beeville, TX where he was transferred by the Dept. of Human Resources. Diep has completed her cosmetology course and is working. Paul and Jane remain in Conn. The very first solar house Paul and two others designed and built was chosen as one of the twenty outstanding houses of the year by Architectural Digest. Ruth will get her degree in December from Trinity U and then plans to work until fall when she will enter McCromick Seminary in Chicago. Amy is home and working after two years in college. Lock In a Come-together

On Friday July 6th, the "Jesus Christ Superstars" of Santa Rita Catholic Community will conduct a "Lock IN" for Junior High School Students of the Parish. "The Lock IN" will begin in the parish hall at 8:30 PM Friday night July 6th and conclude at 8:30 AM with a breakfast.

What is a "Lock IN"? A Lock In provides the opportunity for young people to come together in a spirit of Christian Fellowship, where they can come to know Christ and each other on a deeper level. At the "Lock IN" the young people are given the time to reflect on the meaning of the Gospel Message and to enjoy each other's company by participating in various activities. These activities include a dance, games and movies, as well as Mass and talks and discussion.

The "Lock IN" is open to all young people of Santa Rita Parish who are in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades. This includes those who are 11 years old and going into the 7th grade this fall. A registration form is required and can be obtained at the Parish Office. All registration forms must be in by Sunday July first to the Parish Office.

So, if you are in the 7th, 8th or 9th grade and would like to register for the "Lock IN" be sure to do so by July First.

Sermon Topic 'Christianity'

The pastor of the United Methodist Church in Capitan and in Carrizozo will preach a series entitled "Christianity" and the United Methodist Church beginning next Sunday morning.

Quoting deonominalist bishop Mack B. Stokes, professor at Candler School of Theology in Atlanta, Georgia, the pastor states that "though we have distinctive emphases, we have no affirmations that are not also believed by other Christian groups: what United Methodism brings to the community of believers is vitality and balance. United Methodism is Christianity with a vital balance."

Pastor Lynch will begin the series with a sermon on the subject "We Believe in the Bible." In his sermon will declare that while Christianity is more than saying one believes in the Bible, the Book is nevertheless the primary source and norm for Christian belief and conduct because of the vents it portrays its revelation of God's purpose, its mighty affirmations and its ministry to human needs.

Thirteen major beliefs of Christians in the United Methodist Church will be covered in the series. In addition the pastor will reveal the attitude of the Church toward such controversial subjects as the second in John 14:15-17, we find the Master saying to his followers; "And

"Christian Science"

The lesson-sermon at the Christian Science service, Sunday, July 1, is entitled simply, "Christian Science". The Christian Science church was founded in 1879 by the Discoverer of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy. Her purpose was, "To organize a church designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing."

coming of Christ, the Unpardonable Sin, the Sacraments, the Problem of Suffering (or, Why Me, Lord?) and others.

I will pray the Father and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever; even the spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not neither it knoweth him not." From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, we read, "Our Master healed the sick, practiced Christian healing, and taught the generalities of the divine Principle to his students, but he left no definite rule for demonstrating this Principle of healing and preventing disease. This rule remained to be discovered in Christian Science."

Postmasters Honored

The Postmasters who have retired from the Postal Service during the past year and first part of 1979 were entertained with a dinner by the SCF Manager-Postmaster, Mr. H. W. Baird and Staff, and Postmasters in the Sectional Center Associate Offices, at the Roswell Inn last Saturday evening. Postmasters from Lincoln County who were honored at this delightful dinner were: Frances Fuller, Corona; Mary L. Joiner, Hondo. Mrs. Fuller retired last year on disability and Mrs. Joiner retired after serving in the Post Office forty-three years. Each retiree was presented with certificates of commendation for time working in the Postal Service and gold pen and pencil set with the Postal emblem and names and dated of retirement. Mr. Norman Booker, Hobbs, was Master of Ceremonies and his remarks were enjoyed by all. Awards and gifts were presented by Mr. Baird. Five Postmasters have retired and were to be honored at this occasion but Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Joiner, and Mr. Shiplet, from Jal were the only ones able to be present. One of the missing retirees had moved to South Texas and the other was unable to attend because of poor health. A large group of Postmasters attended the dinner and several retirees from years gone by were present. Mrs. Joiner was delightfully surprised when eleven members of her family joined the group for dinner and at the close of festivities presented her with a beautiful diamond necklace.

To the Citizens of Lincoln County - - -

Dear Friends,

We are happy to announce the purchase of Alpha Minerals Processing, Inc. from Mr. James A. Jones. Through the Federal bankruptcy courts, we have also purchased Capitol One, a Nevada corporation which had some operations in Lincoln County, and leased the mill from another company named LM&M.

For several weeks we have been in the process of reorganizing the companies, installing new management, acquiring new equipment, and replacing and hiring personnel.

We are now in production and have shipping deadlines to meet. Our business is primarily diversified mining and milling of those products we take from the earth.

Initially we will be mining magnetic iron ore in the Jicarillas and processing it at our mill, east of Carrizozo. We have plans to develop other properties and we hope to experience a careful and steady expansion over the next 12 months.

We are pleased to be a part of the economic growth of Carrizozo and Lincoln County, and we look forward to a creative participation with the people and the community around Carrizozo.

It is our sincere desire to avoid the undesirable social and economic influences that are often attributed to small mining enterprises, such as ours. With your help, we shall be able to do so. We hope to attract and employ strong, stable men and women who possess high ethical standards and personal ideals that will be a tribute to our company, and a positive contribution to our community. We are actively recruiting such employees who have the skills we can use. We have attempted to provide benefits - such as paid health insurance, vacations, merit raises, and profit sharing - that will appeal to sincere employees who we feel can share our hope to build a permanent, stable enterprise.

We now consider ourselves a part of the Carrizozo community, and we want to do our part in facilitating Carrizozo's plans for improvement and growth.

Sincerely,

Bill Thomas

President

While still serving in the army and living in El Paso, Bernard and his wife, Doris, were house-parents up until his employment by the National Health Service Corps for the Carrizozo Health Center.

Parachutist Badge were among the many awards and decorations Bernard received while in the army. Bernard has an extensive background in the medical field. His positions have included physician's assistant in charge of a satellite U.S. Army dispensary, physician's assistant in charge of the Venerology Clinic and responsible for care and treatment of male and female patients from pediatrics through geriatrics at General Medical Walk-In Clinic.

The Bernards taught end-pendent living skills to mentally retarded young adults at the Mental Health Mental Retardation Center in El Paso. Later they were also house-parents at the Residential Intervention Center (Lee and Beulah Moore Children's Home) one of eight homes in El Paso for youth who come from unfavorable living conditions.

Bernard, who is under the supervision of the Carrizozo Health Center physician, Dr. Craig Nelson, his preceptor, is actively seeing patients in Carrizozo, is on call evenings and weekend and will be going to Corona every Tuesday. (The Center which is operated by St. Joseph Hospital of Albuquerque is located in the former Dr. A.N. Spencer office building.)

The Bernards will live at the Perley Thorn residence, former Ray Wells Home.

Bernard enjoys skiing, mountain climbing, hunting, fishing. He said, "Carrizozo has everything for me." Other hobbies include antique cars and scuba diving.

Annals Available

The first annual available to the 'Grizzlie' in 1932-33 included a picture of the 'old school house with bell' and words: "There are places in life that we never forget, which grow dearer and dearer as time steals away."

Hobbs Man Jailed

Magistrate Judge S.M. Ortiz sentenced Leonard E. Pierce 46, of 2918 N. El Paso St. Hobbs Monday to 30 days in jail for reckless driving and 5 months in the Lincoln County Jail for DWI.

Pierce failed to make a curve in the road while traveling south through Carrizozo on US-54, and hit a parked vehicle belonging to Roy Dow of the Gift Gallery.

A hearing will be held at a later date said Ortiz to determine whether Pierce is guilty of driving while his license was revoked.

To the Citizens of Lincoln County - - -

Dear Friends,

We are happy to announce the purchase of Alpha Minerals Processing, Inc. from Mr. James A. Jones. Through the Federal bankruptcy courts, we have also purchased Capitol One, a Nevada corporation which had some operations in Lincoln County, and leased the mill from another company named LM&M.

For several weeks we have been in the process of reorganizing the companies, installing new management, acquiring new equipment, and replacing and hiring personnel.

We are now in production and have shipping deadlines to meet. Our business is primarily diversified mining and milling of those products we take from the earth.

Initially we will be mining magnetic iron ore in the Jicarillas and processing it at our mill, east of Carrizozo. We have plans to develop other properties and we hope to experience a careful and steady expansion over the next 12 months.

We are pleased to be a part of the economic growth of Carrizozo and Lincoln County, and we look forward to a creative participation with the people and the community around Carrizozo.

It is our sincere desire to avoid the undesirable social and economic influences that are often attributed to small mining enterprises, such as ours. With your help, we shall be able to do so. We hope to attract and employ strong, stable men and women who possess high ethical standards and personal ideals that will be a tribute to our company and a positive contribution to our community. We are actively recruiting such employees who have the skills we can use. We have attempted to provide benefits - such as paid health insurance, vacations, merit raises, and profit sharing - that will appeal to sincere employees who we feel can share our hope to build a permanent, stable enterprise.

We now consider ourselves a part of the Carrizozo community, and we want to do our part in facilitating Carrizozo's plans for improvement and growth.

Sincerely,
Bill Thomas
President

M-Y T-I-M-E . . . Fort Stanton Site B "National Interest" Cancels Airport

by Michael Swickard

Talked to a friend that drove to Texas the other day. Asked him how his trip was. He replied, "Two flats, ran out of gas once, and tipped the spillover." Must have been a long trip. MS

I grew up with the "Domino Theory" at the tip of my tongue. The Indo-China conflicts, Korea, Laos, Viet-Nam and the Cambodia incursion were all said to be part of the Domino Theory.

The theory stated that if one country fell to the Communists, then in turn, one by one, all of the rest of the countries in the world will fall, like dominoes in a row.

So now I'll introduce, "The Domino Theory, USA".

The theory states that there is a logical Domino falling like move to the complete government control of our lives. And every step of the way, each action, by the government will result in more problems for the public than were solved by the original action.

In the USA, the first Domino was Personal Income tax. For 130 years, the government got by on Tariffs and commerce taxes. Then we started taxing our personal income. But we had to set up an agency to collect-IRS, Internal Revenue Service. And the IRS then must get to know all of the names. Our names, our number.

Next came the New Deal. Pay social Security Tax and be taken care of in your old age. We now know how well that worked. And we all get a Social Security number.

Then comes the war on Poverty. It was said that money can't buy poverty, but when you consider that after spending billions of dollars with the war on Poverty, we have more "poor" people now than when we started.

What is the shame is that we didn't have the billions that we spent. The politicians as they have grabbed more of our lives have taken from Peter to pay Paul. Now while you usually don't get much protest out of Paul, the rest of us don't really like what is happening to our money.

The next step is National Health Care. It is a something for nothing scheme.

As pioneers in this land, we learned that to get something, you must give something. As I have said before Value for Value.

With each new government grant we lose part of our country, because we don't have the money. Oh, I guess Carter can call up the money printer and say, "print up about a million more Twentys'".

And then my twenty in my pocket goes down in value. We call that inflation, but the cause and cure are known.

We move toward total government control of our lives because we believe and keep electing politicians that offer something for nothing.

Actually, it is more like nothing for something. MS

It is strange to hear Americans talk about traveling these days. A hundred years ago, it sometimes took five months of steady walking through all sorts of danger to travel across the country. Now it takes very little time.

I heard someone say, "By God, I'm not going 55, it takes too long to get there".

They ought to try walking. During WWII, the speed limit was 35 mph.

After walking for five months, these same people would undoubtedly be glad to drive at 35. And would be thrilled at traveling at 55.

We as a nation must remember that if it got tough, we could drive 35. That's if we had the discipline to do what was needed. We can make do with a whole lot less, and will, when the time comes.

And that will be what we do, that is, to make do with a whole lot less.

Of late we have thumbed our noses at the "Junk" dealers. But soon, and in fact very soon, second hand will be a lot better than not having at all. I don't mind second hand. I had an older brother. He got the jeans broke in for me.

The world will not get much tougher, it will get different. Different rules to go by. If we are to survive, we must learn the new rules, such as slow is better than walking.

And ultimately, just making it, without a lot of extras, is far better not making it. MS

The hopes for a regional airport at site "B" of the Fort Stanton federal reservation were concluded Monday with a ruling by the United States Department of the Interior that the national interest would best be served by allowing the present use, that of range research to continue.

Secretary of the Interior, Cecil Andrus wrote his objections, that of national priority, to Governor Bruce King. In part he stated:

"While I recognized the need for a new airport facility to serve the immediate Ruidoso area, I also had to consider the value of the present use of the proposed site to the general public.

After careful deliberation, I concluded that the national interest would best be served by allowing the present use, that of range research to continue."

Andrus noted in his remarks that his decision confirming the BLM recommendation to reject Site B was based on the merits of the site, and was not an indication that the Department of the Interior or the BLM is against airport development.

"You may be assured that the BLM will expeditiously review any other airport application to serve the Ruidoso region that the FAA may propose that would affect public lands," Andrus wrote.

Governor King's office released the Andrus letter Monday afternoon with the Governor commenting that in view of the fact that there is a large amount of other public land near Ruidoso, "it seems that a viable site can certainly be found."

The Governor had tried in the last few weeks to strike a compromise on the use of the Site B. The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission had recently agreed to ask for as little as 300 acres for a new airport.

King's efforts at mediation apparently failed because the 300 acre proposal was not raised at hearings that the BLM held on the airport location.

The 5,100 foot Carrizozo Airport and buildings are contained on 280 acres of land.

The Site B for the Regional Airport on the Fort Stanton Reservation was the one recommended several years ago by the Herkenhoff engineering firm of Albuquerque, the consulting engineer for the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission.

Full Moon Programs Start at White Sands

An unusual range of subjects will be covered by top notch speakers at special full moon programs at White Sands National Monument on July 9, 10 and 11.

"If you've wondered how satellites from space can locate fresh water, minerals or make accurate crop assessments on our tiny planet, come on out and find out!" invited Superintendent Donald Harper. This is only one of the special subjects to be covered in this summer series of programs in the dunes picnic area at 8:45 p.m. Following these programs, the dunes area will be open until midnight.

On Monday, July 9, a prominent geologist from El Paso, Dr. William Cornell, will present a slide talk on "Continental Drift, or How America Really Got Where It is Today." Cornell is on the University of Texas-El Paso Geology staff and covers an engrossing subject little understood by the lay person. Also, a well-known area paleontologist, Cornell has B.S. and M.A. Degrees from the University of Rhode Island and a PhD in Geology from U.C.L.A. "Most of the continents fit together like a giant jig-saw puzzle if you really analyze the globe," Cornell will point out.

Dr. Ernest A. Steinhoff, eminent space scientist and aeronautical engineer from Alamogordo, will give slide program on Tuesday, July 10. Steinhoff, a native of Germany, has an M.A. and PhD. Degree in aeronautical engineering and engineering physics from the Darmstadt Institute of Technology Darmstadt, West Germany. One of Germany's pioneer space scientists, Steinhoff worked with Von Braun on the German V-2 project at Peenemuende, Germany from 1939 until 1944.

Coming to the United States, in 1945, Steinhoff has worked on many of this country's top space projects since that time. Now Steinhoff has turned his many talents to remote sensing projects. His program is called "Remote Sensing and How It Serves Man's Needs." Use of satellites to locate, manage and assess for more effective use, crops, oil, mineral and water resources will be explained in this intriguing talk.

Rounding out the series of programs on Wednesday, July 11, will be Vernon Brook, well-known area archeologist from El Paso. This special slide program is entitled, "Pre-Historic Tularosa People - 10,000 Years of Survival." Brook has a B.A. in education from T.C.U. and an M.A. from Texas Western (UTEP).

Without such aids as the well metal, burden animals or written records, prehistoric man adapted and survived in the Tularosa Basin for at least 10,000 years. There, by 1400 A.D. he had disappeared. By analyzing the artifacts and ruins these people left behind, archeologist have been able to reconstruct a fairly accurate picture of their subsistence activities.

Brook will show slides of excavated houses and artifacts used for hunting, food gathering and preparation, pottery waxing and ceremonies, while suggesting what might have happened to these people long ago.

The beautiful white sands by full moon and an expert group of guest speakers will certainly keep you on the edge of your dune. "Come on out for this special treat and remember to keep your radio tuned to 1610 AM for latest information when in the area." Superintendent Harper concluded.

Lincoln County Gets Weather Data System

A continuous weather information system to provide 24-hour up-to-date, general weather information has been installed in New Mexico, says Charles Glover, Extension agronomist at New Mexico State University.

Currently there are seven transmitters in the state. They are located near Farmington, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Mesquite, Jallamar, Ruidoso and Las-Cruces. Reception range is 100 miles around Santa Fe and Ruidoso, and 40 miles elsewhere in the state.

This National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Weather Station is available on 162.400 MHz in Las-Cruces, Albuquerque and Jallamar; 162.475 MHz in Mesquite and Farmington; and 162.550 MHz in Santa Fe and Ruidoso. Most multi-band radios offer a weather band.

All transmitters are operated from the Weather Service Forecast Office in Albuquerque. Individual programs are tailored to the area of signal reception.

Routine programming will always include the latest current forecasts (updated at least every six hours) and a narrative summary of regional weather conditions. Some current climatology is also broadcast.

When severe weather conditions exist or are forecast for a reception area, routine programming is suspended to permit frequent repetition of the latest warnings and advisories. Most special warnings will be preceded by a 105 Hz "warning alarm" signal which activates some receivers and is audible from others even when turned to minimum volume. This alerting is routinely tested each Wednesday near noon when weather permits, Glover says.

Gross Receipts 4 1/2%

The gross receipts tax in Lincoln County was increased as of July first to 4 1/2 percent. The move from 4 percent to 4 1/2 percent was made possible by the legislature dropping 1/2 percent from the state tax, and allowing the individual towns to raise to 4 1/2 percent if the towns needed the extra tax money.

Most of the towns went to the 4 1/2 percent because of state and federal regulations stated that the communities would not get grants unless they were "taxed to capacity". This means that the government was not going to help communities that didn't first help themselves.

The 1/2 percent increase will mean about $3,000 a year increase for the town of Carrizozo.

The tax increase was approved by the individual town councils with the provision that the voters had the right to bring the issue to a vote. None of the communities were forced into a referendum on the tax increase after October to explain the reasons for the increase.

The gross receipts tax is a percentage of money that is collected by all businesses in Lincoln County with the exception of Liquor Establishments. The money is sent from each business to Santa Fe and then distributed to the Communities.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

The Town of Carrizozo will hold its Final Budget Hearing on July 16, 1979 at 7:00 P.M. at City Hall, Carrizozo.

The Public is invited to attend.

Published in the Lincoln County News one time only July 5, 1979.
