N.M. Department of Agriculture to Expend $80,077 in Predator Control

Few items were accepted by the Lincoln County Commissioners as they met for the regular October meeting.

The commission voted to accept, the co-operative Field Agreement for fiscal year 1980 for predator control, voting machine technician contracts, a purchase of ten personal-portable 2-way radios for Ft. Stanton Fire Department, a road in Rancho Ruidoso, hiring of an additional clerk and two cash transfers.

Only one bid was received on jail plumbing, too high for the amount budgeted, and low bid for fencing of the Ft. Stanton landfill was received from Carrizozo Hardware.

Larry Kilgro, representative of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Predator program, negotiated the project.

Hiring five trappers for Lincoln County the program is operated through the New Mexico Department of Agriculture, and plans to expend $80,077 in predator control.

"Lincoln County is number one in sheep production," Kilgro reported, "with the largest amount of predator control."

The program is a co-operative project involving 50 percent of funds through the County Farm and Range Fund and Associations. Associations are groups of ranchers who pay set amounts per acre. Lincoln County predator board pays on tax levied per number of sheep or cattle on tax farms.

Expenditures were broken into four categories: Salaries - $53,984, mileage and maintenance - $17,473, house maintenance - $2,000 and ariel hunting - $6,610.

The Predator Program has received about $30,000 from Lincoln County Farm and Ranch. Kilgro reported. He added that $2500 more would be needed for the ariel program.

Kilgro appealed to the Commission stating "the number of predators has increased each year since 1972 when Nixon banned toxants as predator control."

The commission approved a budget increase of $2500 for predator control.

Contract was awarded to Morris J. Redmann and Mrs. J.N. McDaniel for voting machine technical assistance, an additional clerk position was approved. County Clerk Jane McSwane will supervise hiring of the full-time employee. Budget approval was given.

Ft. Stanton landfill fence bids were reported, showing low bidder as Carrizozo Hardware, at $1820. Only one bid for installation was received by Zane Leslie for $1200. The Commission approved the bids and requested work begin as soon as materials are received.

A failure to comply with contract resulted in a one month decrease in charges from Clark Equipment Credit Company. Contract for a portable screening plant was not properly fulfilled and Clark Equipment has agreed to amend the contract to read beginning July 19 from the previous June 19. The Commission accepted the amendment.

Guy Henley, county road engineer reported the present road work. Ft. Stanton landfill road is being repaired, a cattle guard has been installed at Lincoln landfill, and a request to raise Joe Shafer and Everett Greer to supervisors, road crew and school bus crew, was approved.

Other road problems included a complaint by Ron Perry and Art Blazer of a road crossing a 40-acre tract in Ft. Stanton Ranchettes. They inquired if the road was county maintained and if not the permission to fence the tract, closing the road.

The item was tabled until County Attorney Dan Bryant could investigate the situation.

Other items tabled included a New Mexico State Library Agreement; agreement with village of Ruidoso-Ambulance Service and a Programming Service Agreement.

Two cash transfers involved purchase of photographic equipment and handling of Federal Disaster Assistance funds.

The Commission approved both transfers, money for the FDAA being set up in two departments. The additional funds required to reconstruct two bridges over Rio Ruidoso until legislative approval. Kent Nowlin Construction of Albuquerque was awarded the contract which exceeded the amount budgeted.

A report on two employees designated for computer processing courses in Dallas showed a need for different courses. The two were informed that the courses would not be applicable to Lincoln County's computer program. It was suggested an individual teach one day a week and give assistance at the county complex. The computer complex has been plagued with problems since inception. The fault has been pinpointed to the power fluctuations at the county building and are scheduled for improvement.

Housing Possibilities Outlined

Mr. Joseph H. Ortega, Executive Director of Regional VI Housing Authority was present at last Monday's public hearing held at Carrizozo City Hall. The Town of Carrizozo is eligible to apply for a Community Development Fund grant of up to $300,000.00.

Ortega outlined the possibilities for what applications could be made for. He said generally that funding is based of roughly $200.00 per resident with a total maximum $300.00 for a small town such as Carrizozo. Ortega headquartered in Roswell, pointed out that Carrizozo competed with all other municipalities in Southern New Mexico. He advised that the pre-application must be in by November 19, 1979, and that as much as ten percent of the grant could be used for administration expense.

Town Trustee, Joe Orsak chaired the October 22 meeting of citizens who met to determine the priority of community needs that are eligible for funds as authorized by the Community Development Act. Those present in addition to Ortega and Orsak were: Jim Miller, Phillip Ortiz, Mary Ellen Payne, Rene Burton, Bette Dean, Bill Payne, Steve Hightower, Mrs. Steve Hightower and two others.

There was general discussion on housing rehabilitation. It was pointed out that the funds could be used to make homes decent, safe and sanitary. The funds could be used to weatherize houses, re-roof add bathrooms, add bedrooms under certain conditions, structural repairs and other things. Following audience participation there was a consensus at this gathering to ask for funds for housing.

Another public meeting on Monday, October 29 at 7:00 PM will be held at the town hall to discuss whether or not the town of Carrizozo should submit an application for HUD Community Development Funds, and if submitted, for what project or projects the grant applications should be submitted. Citizens are urged to attend, this meeting to voice their opinions.

Rex Wilson Recommended to Receive American Farmers Degree

LAS CRUCES-Six New Mexico members of the Future Farmers of America have been recommended to receive the American Farmer degree in recognition of achievement in agriculture leadership. The award is the highest degree of membership presented by the FFA to students of vocational agriculture.

The recommendation was made by the National FFA Board of Directors, according to Rosco Vaughn, State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture for the New Mexico Department of Education.

Degrees will be presented during the National FFA convention Nov. 7-9 in Kansas City, Mo., Vaughn said. All six candidates must be confirmed by convention delegates.

New Mexico candidates are among 788 members nationwide who were recommended to receive the honor this year.

Those chosen are Rex Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Wilson of Ancho, and a member of the Carrizozo chapter, Donald Richins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Richins, and a member of the Animas chapter, Dwight Menefee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Menefee, and a member of the Artesia chapter, Donnie Helmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Helmer and a member of the Clovis chapter, Steven Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bailey of Broadview, and a member of the Grady chapter; and James Perschbacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Perschbacher and a member of the Lovington chapter.

Vaughn said the honor is highly coveted by FFA members throughout the nation.

"The American Farmer Degree is much sought after because it is presented to about one member in 700 of the half-million-member organization," he said. "It is presented only by the National FFA Organization to members who have demonstrated exceptional agricultural and leadership achievements."

Recipients will be presented gold keys and certificates by the national organization. In addition, travel awards will be presented to help offset expenses for travel to the convention. Cash awards are provided by JI Case Company of Racine, Wis., Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. of Des Moines, Iowa; The Federal Land Bank Systems of the United States;

The Federal Land Bank Systems of the United States; Amoco Oil Company of Chicago; and the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp. of Detroit.

FFA members are eligible to apply for the American Farmer degree after having earned their own states' State Farmer Degree. They must have been participating actively in FFA local chapters and state associations for at least three years.

In addition, the applicant must have earned at least $1,000 by his or her own efforts in a supervised farming or other agricultural occupation experience program. The money earned must have been productively invested or deposited in a bank.

M-Y T-I-M-E . . . .

I received several comments about last week's editorial. In the editorial I indicated that I was in favor of capital punishment. The two most prevalent thoughts that people indicated were, what if there was a chance that the person was innocent, and that no one has the right to take another's life.

We are never 100 percent sure of anything, so we must take some actions that are based on less than 100 percent certainty. We might even make a mistake, once in a while. Of course if you go to any jail, you can't find anyone that is guilty. Just ask any convict, he'll tell you that it was a mistake, or a frame up, and of course he'll say it was all a misunderstanding.

But this leads into my second area, that no one has the right to take another's life.

The new state policeman in Carrizozo is Dave West. Dale Housley, right, is welcoming West to Carrizozo. This brings to two the number of state policemen in Carrizozo.

West graduated from the New Mexico State Police Academy this last month. He was born and raised in Las Cruces. His wife is the former Joanne Darmento and is a State Police Officer in Las Cruces.

Around Town & Surrounding Areas

Aileen Lindamood was one of several Lincoln County convention delegates who attended the 20th Biennial Convention of New Mexico Federation of Republican Women (NMFWR) on Oct. 22 and 23 at the Holiday Inn in Ruidoso, Main speakers included U.S. Sen. Harrison Schmitt, Rep. Manuel Lujan, R-N.M. and Betty Heitman of Baton Rouge, La., president of the national federation. The theme of the 2-day convention was "The Winning Difference". Aileen had a great time.

Mrs. Frank Reid of Dallas, Texas and Alto, New Mexico was a recent house guest in the home of Aileen Lindamood.

A public meeting was held last Monday evening at the city Hall to determine the priority of community needs that are eligible for funds as authorized by the Community Development Act. Several Carrizozo citizens participated in determining the town needs. Another public meeting will be held this coming Monday at 7:00 p.m. for the same purpose. Community involvement determines the success of the grant application.

Local aspiring actors and actresses presented a play, "The Bus Stops at Carrizozo" at the school personnel and community pot luck last week. The setting was Jake's Joint whose proprietor was Les Olsen. Both Olsen and Sonny Banning, strolling country singer and guitarist, gave a great performance. When the bus arrived, bus driver Robert Bernard and his passengers treated the audience to rib-tickling comments.

Auditions for the rated "G" production were held two minutes before time. Some cast members were unknowns who were on their way for seconds on enchilada casserole. They were plucked out of the audience by a sneaky director whose identity is still a mystery to performers, who are show biz material, and finally "discovered".

What made this play so unique was the verbal communication between audience and performers as they set up props and put on costumes on a curtainless stage. Donna Nelson, who played "the Girl" refused to accept credit for the dramatic efforts of Jake's Joint jokers.

Although I am no Judith Crist I saw alot of potential theatrical talents displayed on the stage that evening, I recommend that Zozo residents see "The Bus Stops at Carrizozo II". Bus traveling will never be the same.

Congratulations to Gary Means, Frankie Silva, Tony Jackson and Pete Narvaez for the boxing trophies that they won in Alamogordo bouts last Saturday. Watch these champs and their fellow Zozo boxers compete this weekend, Saturday, Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the old gym. (The bouts were postponed from Oct. 13). Boxers are coming from Las Cruces, Magdalena, Alamogordo and Roswell.

Birthday people - Margaret Chavez, Dolores Ortega, John Vega, Pearl Stearns Oct. 25; Bruce English, Buddy Hill Oct. 26; Christi Brown, Sandra Morales Oct. 27; Esther Ortiz, Irene Hayes Oct. 28; Eric Olson Oct. 29. One of the reasons a buck won't do as much for people as it used to is that people won't do as much for a buck as they used to. Happy Birthday!

The New Horizons located at the former hospital building continues to save Campbell Soup labels. When you open those cans of soup on a chilly day remember to save the labels for the New Horizons. The center had a float for the homecoming parade last Friday. Liz Sambrano and Sister Gail were having a good time despite the winds that threaten to blow away parade watchers. One float didn't even make it down the parade route because of wind.

The Carrizozo Woman's Club members met last Thursday for the monthly meeting and a kitchen shower. The club kitchen now has many useful kitchen supplies, including dish towels, bowls and utensils. Members who were unable to attend this event can still bring in their kitchen shower gift. A Tupperware party was also held that evening. Hostess gifts were awarded to the club building by the Roswell Tupperware representatives.

Carol Stuart designed a brilliant telephone tree that will enable the club members to contact each other. Meetings and club projects are some of the events that the telephone tree will come in handy for.

The club is sponsoring an art auction on Sunday, Oct. 28 at the club building. Marlin Art Inc. of New York is presenting this Art Expo and auction. The preview will begin at 6:00 p.m. with the auction starting at 7:00 p.m. All paintings which will be in all mediums will be framed. Among the artist's works are paintings by Dali, Leberman, Arna and many more. A dollar fee will be charged for admission.

The American Legion, Jr. Extension, Gambles, Women's Club, PTO, Family Pharmacy, Chamber of Commerce and the New Horizons joined forces for the school personnel and town potluck during homecoming week. The school janitors and art instructor, Joe DeVoy helped make this a fine event. The art students had on display some terrific and unusual art work.

Students Lisa Cantrell, Phillip Payne and Vince Vega introduced new teachers. Mr. Stuart recognized the rest of the teachers, which included Mrs. Emma Lawson, Home Ec, who has been with the school 20 years. Dr. Miller, superintendent continued the naming of the entire school personnel including maintenance and cafeteria staff.

The community christian singing group, the Hosannas, under the direction of Rev. David Lynch, with Jane Shafer at the piano treated the crowd with a sample of their singing talents.

Community members put on a play that evening, "The Bus Stops at Carrizozo".

Earl Fenter

Side-line Coach of the Week

by Ernest Qulglab.

For all of you that have waited a week for the punchline in last week's Sideline story, (sigh); it was accidentally left off the end of the story.

You see, Tom Guck had invented the Slurry Drop Play while at Capitan High. When the other team caught on fire and started to go, the forrest service would drop a load of slurry on their huddle. And I went on to add that just this last week Tom Landry of the Cowboys (There is talk at some anonymous Texaco Station that Tom actually does like Dallas in spite of all that he says) and Dallas is modifying the Slurry Drop Play for their own. You know how Landry is about new plays. What didn't get said was that Landry was up in Lincoln County to talk to Guck and that the talks went well; it is just that Guck was confused as to what Landry wanted with that three tons of Cow chips.

Now on to this week's Sideline Coach of the Week, Earl Fenter, Earl got his picture taken the other day at his office next to the salad bar in the Four Winds Restaurant. His assistant coaches were in their places and the strategy session was going full blast.

Earl is one of Carrizozo's leading citizen coaches. He is called a citizen coach because of the courses he took in college.

As a football team member, he was entitled to take some of the courses most football players take, English for the Citizen, Math for the Citizen.

Earl was a good football player too. He combined Karate with Football and ended up breaking his arm. He was told by someone before a game, "Break a leg", and he did, his own.

He broke his fingers, and toes, nose and scapula, well, need I say more, Football made Earl what he is today, an authority on medicine.

Earl has had a diverse career in coaching. He coached while in the Army. He was assigned to the medical field and combined it with the football coaching. He was suspected of designing plays that got him business in his other job. Of course his team was good. He developed flesh colored plaster casts. Talk about a forearm. His players moved slow but were built like a plaster chickhouse.

Bob Stearns of the J.G. Moore Agency, the sponsor of the series of Sideline coaches commented on Earl's Coaching Ability. He said, "Earl is so good as a coach because of his military training. He learned to plan his campaign much like the major battles in history, Gettysburg, Iwo Jima, and Ruidoso." Stearns went on to add, "Earl can't remember ever losing a game while being sideline coach, but you know how good Earl's memory is."

General Fenter and his staff plan the next sideline football game. So far they have beaten Oakland, Denver, Dallas, and Miami this year. All on paper of course. To Earl's Right is J.W. Silva, offensive whatever, G.

"Wheels" Martinez is on Earl's immediate left and is the second in command. That's why he got to face the camera without turning. N. Serna is the Defensive whatever. Why is he so defensive, he wouldn't even turn around.

Corona Wins 1st in Dairy

Steve Copeland from Corona placed 2nd with medium heavy Hereford steer. This steer was bought by Kent Hollin for $1.25 per pound. Steve also placed 1st in the Medium Heavy Hereford class. He won first with his hereford pairs and placed second in the junior showmanship.

Corona won first in the Dairy Judging contest. Team members were: Monty Pounds, Mickey Huey, Scott Mulkey.

Monty was also the high point individual, Carrizozo FFA placed second in the dairy judging contest.

POLICE REPORT

Ricky Vega, 21, of Carrizozo escaped from the custody of Town Patrolman Guy Brown Tuesday night, while officer Brown was detaining him on charges of Absent Without Leave from the Military.

Vega had been declared AWOL from the military October 9, 1979.

Zozo Boxers at Alamo Meet

The Carrizozo Boxing Team brought home another four trophies within 36 days. Gary Means, Frankie Silva, Tony Jackson and Pete Narvaez were the most recent winners in Alamogordo last Saturday. First-time boxer, 40 pound Means won his second trophy at the Alamogordo City Gym bouts.

Rodney Barela, Leroy Silva and Jacob Narvaez saw action in ring for the afternoon tournament. Judges awarded Alamogordo's Pete Lopez the winning score despite the fine work 61 pound Narvaez showed in the three one-minute rounds.

No opponents were weighed in for Gabriel Chavez, Tommy Silva or 5 year old Raphael Chavez at the Alamogordo bouts which were attended by teams from Las Cruces, Magdalena, El Paso and Roswell. The bouts were sponsored by Alamogordo Parks and Recreation Department.

Nat Chavez, Carrizozo Boxing Team coach invited the teams at the Alamogordo event to a tournament this Saturday Oct. 27 in the old gym here in Carrizozo. The bouts will start at 7:30 p.m.

Superintendent Miller expresses thanks to all community members who helped make last week a successful homecoming week. Mrs. Viola Fenter was among the volunteers who accompanied the seniors to paint the "C". The original freshmen to paint the "C" were Viola's 9th grade classmates.

The '79-80 freshmen float placed first in the homecoming parade last Friday. Ms. Carolyn Ward was the teacher advisor and Attorney Bill Payne sponsored the float which featured a big Grizzly.

Homecoming week included dressing in the 50's styles. Mary Jane Ferguson, Christetta Chavez and Stephanie Saucedo showed up in rolled-up jeans and bobby sox. Monica Ortiz, Elaine Cantrell, Marina Baca and Diana Silva would have passed as the cast of "Happy Days". Dino Baca in a black leather jacket received a big "Ay!" from fellow students.

A person in black pegged pants, greasy hair and with a mysterious box rolled in the sleeve of his black T-shirt was seen coming out of the principal's office several times. He was Stuart, principal of Carrizozo schools!

The most sought after person at the slave auction last week was Language Arts teacher Mr. Jerry Peckinpah. Peckinpah who is also a coach brought in $23.00. Principal Stuart was promptly ordered to sing for the student body when he was sold to the highest bidder. Stuart's singing drew squeals of appreciation as his voice filled the gym.

FHA STATE DELEGATE
Shirley Simmons
Girl of the Week

Off and running is Shirley Simmons for a FHA-HERO State Office this year. Holding the present positions of Chapter Parliamentarian, District Parliamentarian, a National Delegate on the state level, and a present member of the State Vocational Advisory Board, Shirley has many hopes for tomorrow's Future Homemakers of America. Besides all the other members in ZOZO FHA Chapter, Shirley's parents

Mr. and Mrs. Obie Simmons are behind her all the way.

FHA-HERO means alot to Shirley. In the past year it has taught her responsibility, learning to be the leader she is capable of being instead of just a follower. FHA-Hero has also shown her how easy it is to express her opinions to others. This year Shirley is not only running for a State Office, but also has many more ideas which she wants to share with her fellow chapter members. Such things as achieving Honor FHA-Hero Chapter of the year, encouraging more membership from boys and girls, use of Parliamentary Procedure at all business meetings, relating to the Community on how FHA-Hero plays an important role in the future leaders of our country, and developing each member's talents to the best of their abilities.

On the side, Shirley's most favorite activities include Music-rating at the top, FHA-Hero participation, hobbies, sewing, all handicrafts, and traveling. Her future plans hold college with a double major in music and Home-Ec. as a basis for her career.

After attending leadership camp at Glorieta, N.M., last year as a Chapter Officer who went to learn, this year's experience of being a National Delegate who was in charge of a workshop in which she taught others, brought Shirley to a new height in being involved and expressing her feelings.

Shirley's effort to improve her community and Chapter has been a tremendous job which has benefited all. From all of us I would like to say "Keep up the good work!"

by - Debbie Kay Gallacher
Vice President Public Relations

Carrizozo schools recognized three citizens in the community who have made important contributions to the education of young men and women of Carrizozo:

Mrs. Viola Fenter has been of help over the years to many Carrizozo students. In her role in the county employment office, she has placed many students in summer employment. Her work has frequently gone beyond simply job placement. Mrs. Fenter has often given extra time listening to teenagers, providing encouragement and support during times when a concerned adult is truly needed. The schools appreciate what she has done for students. Mrs. Fenter, Class of '52 and her husband have Earl have two daughters, Chris a Zozo graduate and Cyndy still in high school.

Mr. Bill Gallacher has been active in school affairs for a number of years. Earlier, he was a member of the Title I Advisory Committee. He has been generous in his contribution of time, effort, and materials in many agriculture related activities, not the least of which has been the county 4-H program. Gallacher has also been active in the local Methodist Church and in the Soil Conservation District. He and his wife, Joy, both Zozo graduates, have three children enrolled in school.

A new idea originating from the student body this past week has been to honor a student as the third contributing citizen of the community. Students do play an important part in the community, and the night of the homecoming game the schools honored a student, Mr. Ralph Delgado, a junior at Zozo high. Delgado is a recognized leader among high school students. As a teacher's aide, he displays a good deal of natural ability in working with younger children. His recent accomplishments include an 87 yard touchdown pass in last week's game against Capitan. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Delgado.

"Beautiful, warm bearskin to trade!" That was pre-historic advertising. When a caveman had an article he no longer needed he used world-of-mouth advertising.

The advertising section of a newspaper is only one of many areas that 7th and 8th grade Carrizozo mid-high students are reading in their project of learning the art of language through newspapers. Language Arts teacher, Mr. Jerry Peckinpah says that they use newspapers as text books for a portion of their class.

Daily and weekly newspapers have become a part of the homelife of most families. Newspapers have a wide scope of reading matter and exert a great deal of influence. Peckinpah is using newspapers as a teaching tool in his language arts project and his students are enjoying every minute of class.

A newspaper is a publication devoted basically to presenting current news and commenting upon the news and related matters. The Zozo mid-high students read news stories of national, state and local affairs. Articles and columnists report developments in sports, society, finance, science, religion, education and agriculture. Comment on the news is read in editorials. Feature articles bring readers information on local people, celebrities, fashions, health, childcare and housekeeping.

Each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Peckinpah students They go through the classified ads and 'buy' cars and 'rent' houses. Advertising usually fills about 50 to 70 percent of a newspaper's space. Today's newspaper-advertising can reach every possible consumer in a community. Advertising has been called "The voice of business". It tells people what products and services are being sold and where to buy them. The Zozo students are learning not only to improve their reading skills but also finding out that a daily or weekly newspaper, such as the Lincoln County News, is the market place of a community.

Purchase Agreement is Reached

A definitive agreement involving the purchase of $10,125,000 in securities has been reached among Bank Securities, Inc., certain BSI shareholders, and the R.O. Anderson group, which includes his sons, Robert B. and Phelps and Mr. A.G. Hamilton. The agreement has been signed by the R.O. Anderson group and was approved on October 12, 1979 by the BSI Board of Directors, according to T.A. Bonnell, Chairman of the BSI Board. Mr. Bonnell also stated that Malcolm Petree has resigned as President of BSI, effective immediately, and that, as previously announced, Mr. A.G. Hamilton is slated to become President upon consummation of the transaction.

The definitive agreement provides for the purchase by the Anderson group of an aggregate of $7,425,000 in debentures of subsidiary banks with warrants for the purchase of 550,000 BSI shares, instead of debentures totalling $8,750,000 with warrants for 600,000 shares originally contemplated. With the exception of those changes, Mr. Bonnell stated that the definitive agreement is on substantially the same basis as the agreement previously announced, which included the purchase by the Anderson group of 200,000 shares of new BSI stock. The debentures will have a maturity of seven years and interest rate of 9 percent per annum. The warrants will be exercisable for a period of approximately seven years at an exercise price of $13.50 per share of common stock, and may be exercised by the payment of cash or the tender of the debentures. The total investment of the Anderson group would be $10,125,000. Under the agreement, R.O. Anderson is to be Chairman of the Board of BSI, and up to six additional directors are to be Mr. Anderson's nominees. Closing of the transaction is scheduled for October 31, 1979, although it may be extended to a later date under certain circumstances, and is subject to customary closing conditions, including receipt of required regulatory approvals.

Mr. Bonnell stated that based on the year's earnings to date and projected earnings for 1979, adequate funds should be available for the payment of dividends in January 1980. In accord with an agreement with the Federal Reserve previously announced, BSI must obtain permission from the Federal Reserve before paying its semi-annual dividends.

Mr. Bonnell has been advised by the Anderson Group that based upon its understanding of the Federal Reserve agreement and facts known to that group, the agreement should not impair its ability to operate BSI in accord with its announced intentions.

Trick or Treat for UNICEF

Mon., October 29

By DOTTIE MACVEIGH

In Capitan, the annual Trick or Treat for UNICEF will be held on Monday, October 29. Members of the girls-volleyball team from Capitan High School will be canvassing the town for your donation. This annual event is sponsored by Capitan Woman's Club.

This is the year, 1979, for each of us to show our concern and caring for children everywhere. And there's no better way for us to act on our concern for children than by supporting UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund.

Halloween is National UNICEF Day. Our day to help UNICEF help millions of sick and hungry children in more than 100 countries of Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

The theme of this year's national campaign is "Celebrate the Children of the World," and the national effort is chaired this year by television actor Edward Asner.

Whatever your talents, time, interests and abilities, there's a way you can help UNICEF this Halloween. Involve your school, club, or congregation in an activity to raise funds for UNICEF—trick or treating, a benefit dance or musical event, a sports event or mini-olympics, dinner, festival or party. And don't forget about the easiest way to do your part, by dropping coins and folding money into the orange and black UNICEF cartons carried by UNICEF volunteers this Halloween.

The funds raised this Halloween in our area will be used by UNICEF to supply food, medicines and equipment to improve the health, education and living conditions of the world's most deprived children. For more information on UNICEF Day plans in Capitan or to make a donation, call Mrs. Bill MacVeigh at 354-2377, or Mrs. Leon Eggleston at 354-2237.

Tawnya & David

Alford - Craig Vows Read

Tawnya Alford and David Craig were united in marriage Sunday afternoon in a double ring ceremony in the Corona United Presbyterian Church. The Reverend William Scholes officiated before an altar decorated with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies, green carnations and baby's breath and a background of candelabra-holding yellow candles and a lighted cross.

Preceding the ceremony Sherrill Bradford of El Paso and Patsy Mulkey of Corona played appropriate selections on the piano and organ. Roe Anne Alford, sister of the bride, lighted the candles during the playing of "You Light up my Life". Betty Donahue read selections of poetry: "To Althea" by Herrick and "If".

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, she wore a carpetlength white lace gown and a matching picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath with white satin streamers. For something old she wore an Indianhead penny belonging to the groom. Her gown was something new. Something borrowed was the picture hat belonging to Carol Lynn Carroll and her mother's blue garter.

Shirley Kent of Portales was maid of honor. Her gown was of green dotted swiss floorlength and she carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies. Ward Alford, brother of the bride served as bestman.

Reception followed at the Corona recreation room. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over green and was centered with a green, yellow and white floral arrangement, flanked by yellow candles in silver holders. Mrs. Mack Bell made the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom with descending doves.

Joan Tracey, sister of the bride, served the cake, and Shirley Kent presided at the punch bowl. The groom's table was covered with an offwhite cloth and held a silver bowl of daisies. The groom's aunt Sarah served the chocolate cake, and his sister Katy Craig served punch from a pottery bowl. The bride and groom toasted each other from a pottery wedding chalice gift of Ken Payton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rogene Alford of Corona. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig of Elida. After a wedding to trip to Mexico the couple is at home in Portales where the groom is a student at Eastern New Mexico University.

Tigers Travel to Mt Air Friday Night

After suffering losses to the Reserve Mountaineers and the Tularosa wildcats, the football and volleyball teams from Capitan are going after wins this weekend.

The Tigers took on district opponent Reserve last Friday at Capitan but could not get going as the Mountaineers scored 3 times and added 2 extra points to run up 20 unanswered points. The final score at the gun was 20-0 for Reserve.

Friday night, the Tigers go to Mountainair. The Mustangs are ranked just behind Hagerman and Texico, so the Tigers will have to play a tough contest before meeting Carrizozo on November 2 in their final district game. This Friday's game starts at 7:30 pm in Mountainair.

The Tigerettes' volleyball team slacked off last Saturday in Tularosa and accepted a trouncing from the Wildcats. Tuesday the Tigerettes had previously beaten Capitan so the Tigerettes were trying for a revenge victory. The Tigerettes scored an impressive win 15-14 and 15-10.

Saturday, the District 5A volleyball teams meet in Carrizozo for a round robin tournament. The results for the ten matches will determine seeding for the District Tournament on November 5 in Hondo.

Teams attending along with Capitan are Carrizozo, Cloudcroft, Hondo, and Lake Arthur. The matches start at 11:00 am with Carrizozo vs Hondo. Come out and support your local team as they approach the final important games of the season.

Grizzlies Open District Play

Friday, Travel to Reserve

"It's the best showing offensively we've had all year," summed-head coach Don Eskins of the week's Carrizozo Grizzly grid battle with Dell City, Texas.

"We had more things work for us than ever before. Our problem was the number of penalties we kept picking up. It seemed as though we were always looking at long yardage," Eskins said.

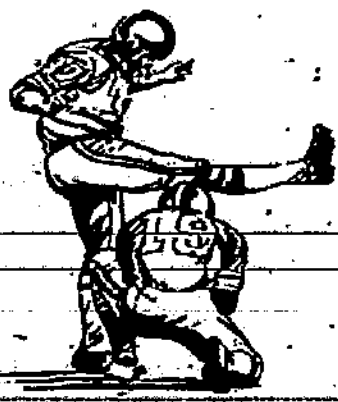

Steve Payne along with juniors Ralph Delgado, John Herrera, David Zamora, and Todd Lindsay there and they all did good jobs."

haven't quit. They always seem to keep coming back. A good example is with our secondary who improved greatly this week with CB Vince Vega picked off a big interception."

"It's a new season," said Eskins. "And all the goals of winning a conference championship and moving on into the playoffs are still very much attainable."

"We have a lot of confidence in Carrizozo's kids. They've been so close before but have had to settle for less than a win. But pre-conference play won't get you into the playoffs and our new lease on the new conference season has got to help us. We've sent a lot of time putting all the pieces together. Now we have to put the pieces together in a complete game. I think we're ready."

Carrizozo opens conference play this Friday at 3:00 in Reserve.

Senior Pat Ventura ran the ball consistently at his tackle spot to compliment fullback Arthur Vega. The offense was run by junior Chris Ventura who played his best game since becoming a Grizzly play caller.

Defensively the Bear's cooled in both the second and fourth quarters. The four touchdowns were all Dell City need to turn back the Grizzly bid for a Homecoming win 24-14.

The Grizzly's did have their moments defensively though. Linebackers Larry Beltran and Art Vega, along with Linemen Robert Hemphill, David Zamora, Pat Ventura, J.P. Ventura, Marc McKinley and Ralph Delgado all showed signs of promise.

"We've had our problems this year," said Eskins, "But the kids

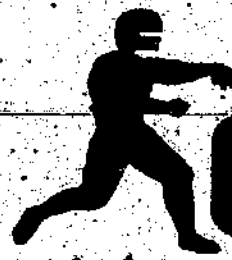

The Grizzlies jumped on Texas power Dell City for 14 first quarter points. Fullback Arthur Vega did the honors both times with Rudy Samora hitting Larry Beltran in the end zone for an early two point conversion.

"Our line really did a fine job," remarked Jerry Peckinpaugh, Grizzly line coach. "We had sophomore's John Bob Stearns and

Capitan Village News

by Margaret Rench

Sunday morning vengeance from Heaven arrived in very high and violent winds broke big trees, other big ones were split in two. Big limbs were taken off and of course many little ones. Was followed by four tenths of an inch of rain. Last night was 14 degrees. At least we are all here and alive and have much to be thankful for. We do have our homes etc. Ruidoso received a good rain. Was near snow though when it hit the pavement it was just water. 56 degrees. It is just as cool today.

The Smokey Bear State Park Recreation Building has a class of 30 who started Monday at 3:30 p.m. with the Safety Hunters Course. That is all they can handle. It is great to see people take interest and learn.

There is not going to be a Halloween Carnival at the Capitan school this year due to the old gym being closed since the fire nearly one year ago. Everyone better be prepared for those goblins will appear for their treats.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jenkins who are new residents of Capitan. Jim is manager at the Conoco Station. We know he will make a success for he is such a fine young man.

At this time an addition is being added to the station to be a garage so they can offer full service to their customers. They have future plans for a car wash. They do have some of the equipment. We are glad to learn this as that will be good for Capitan. I wish them success and happiness therein.

She was nominated last August and was chosen October 12 as the outstanding young woman of America 1979. She is a Landscape Architect with the firm of Masters and Henry.

She is a very worthy young lady and has always been. She was outstanding in school and everything she undertook. We are proud of her and her progress. Wish her years of happiness and success and I know she will have that as she works hard and sincerely.

Mrs. Edythe (Bernice) Dean of Yuma, Arizona went to visit her friend of 46 years, Mattie Thorpe in Mentone, Texas. After a nice visit there Mattie brought her to Capitan and spent two days and one night visiting old friends. Both met and lived here for many years. They had a delightful time and did meet many old friends here and enjoyed them. I did appreciate them visiting me much more than I can ever express. Thank you. Thank you, Edythe for your subscription to the Lincoln County News. I pray you do enjoy all of the news from here. I will continue to make it as interesting as is possible.

VA Celebrates

50th - Nov. 11

DENVER -- As part of the Veterans Administration's 50th Anniversary celebration, thousands of flags will be flown at VA medical centers and cemeteries on Veterans Day Nov. 11 and subsequent national holidays.

Among those with a growing Avenue of Flags are the VA medical centers in Denver, Fort Lyon and Grand Junction, Colo., Sheridan, Wyo., Albuquerque, N.M., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Avenue of Flags program is supported by veterans organizations nationwide. Memorial flags provided for deceased veterans are contributed by the next of kin. They are flown on flag staffs that line prominent thoroughfares at the VA installations.

VA officials say an Avenue of Flags has been developed at about 18 VA national cemeteries and 30 medical centers. Additional displays are to be developed from Veterans Day to next July 21, the golden anniversary of the founding of the VA. Thousands of flags already have been contributed by next of kin flag owners. They are flown at the VA installation requested by the contributor.

VA Administrator Max Cleland recognizes each flag contributor with a certificate of appreciation which reads:

"Your generous contribution to the Avenue of Flags Program symbolizes the spirit of patriotism and love of country that will preserve America as a great nation and perpetuate our cherished heritage."

La Llorona--

"The Woman Who Weeps"

La Llorona Legend is Widespread

PORTALES--In some versions, she appears as a white ghostly spirit, in others a witch or a bogey woman. And it is said she murdered her children and then killed herself or perhaps betrayed her whole Indian nation.

Several factors differ in the stories of La Llorona, but the telling still creates fear and unease for many.

An Eastern New Mexico University anthropology professor, Dr. George Agogino, and Lynda Sanchez, an anthropology graduate student from Lincoln, have collected variations of the legend of La Llorona, "the woman who weeps." The collection of "The Many Faces of La Llorona" was published in a recent issue of the "High Plains Historical Magazine."

This legend is widespread over Latin America, extends into southwestern United States, and in New Mexico.

The basic variation of the legend is of a peasant Indian girl who is dissatisfied with her status. She dances gaily at a party and is criticized for leaving her children unattended. Resentful of this, she murders her children and later the

PORTALES--The Woman Who Weeps--Enticing men to avenge the death of her children is one of the tales of La Llorona. Her legend is widespread over Latin America, extends into the southwestern United States, and in New Mexico is among the strongest beliefs of the Chicano population. The illustration is by Vernon Acker, professor of commercial art at Eastern New Mexico University.

"white lady" kills herself in remorse or dies a natural death.

Unable to rest in her grave, she roams and mourns her children. Her apparition is only seen near the water and she may appear as a siren enticing men to avenge the death of her children or appear as a sorrowful ghost. As she searches, her rustling long white gown may be heard near a body of water.

Dr. Agogino and Ms. Sanchez have categorized these variations according to locale. Near Anton Chico and other New Mexico communities the mournful howling of the coyote is attributed to La Llorona and "Parents warn their children that if they misbehave, La Llorona will steal them away from their homes."

In the Hondo Valley, which was once settled by Mexican shepherders, "even today, some residents believe La Llorona has the power to influence events in their lives. Many say they have seen her and children are definitely afraid of her."

Other variations say La Llorona's actions are of negligence and old tales of a black robed bogey woman may be based upon ancient tales of European witchcraft. This woman only exists to frighten people and steals their goods.

In Tepecañ and Tepehuan Indian villages north of the valley of Mexico, La Llorona is pictured as a deceiver of her own Indian people. She cries in bitter remorse for having instructed the Spanish miners on how to acquire Mexican Indians as slaves to work their mines so she could buy "white finery" for herself.

Banished by her Indian peer group, she commits suicide in a swamp. She returns as an apparition, but is a danger only to the outsider who seeks to exploit the Indian. According to Dr. Agogino and Ms. Sanchez, La Llorona may possibly be identified with Dona Marina, the Indian linguist mistress of Hernando Cortes.

Dona Marina played an indispensable role in Cortes' conquest of the high civilizations of Indian Mexico when countless millions fell under rule of the Spanish.

TAX NOTICE

The Lincoln County Treasurer's office is in the process of preparing the 1979 tax billings for mailing. All tax billings will be mailed prior to November 5, 1979. Property taxes are payable in two equal installments. First half payments are due November 5, 1979, and become delinquent December 5, 1979. Second half payments are due April 5, 1980, and become delinquent on May 5, 1980. If a person wishes to pay their taxes in full, payment must be received before December 5, 1979 to avoid late charges.

Failure to receive a tax billing does not relieve a property owner of their personal obligation to pay those taxes on a timely basis. If any property owner does not receive a billing before the second week in November, 1979 he/she should contact the Lincoln County Treasurer's office at 648-2823.

Alton and Margorie Whittaker have returned after a two week visit in Pennsylvania. The trip was made by air. They attended functions marking the 50th anniversary reunion of the Altoona High School Class of 1929. Alton was a member of that class.

Pennsylvania trees were in their full fall colors. Alton and Margorie visited friends, homes, and places not seen for many years.

Marlowe Sharpe is down from Haxton, Colorado visiting friends. Dorothy Guck painted two very pretty pictures one of Nogal Peak, the other one is a fall scene. She donated them to the Carrizozo EMT's and they are selling tickets on them. Please support this worthy cause.

There will be a Bowling Workshop on November 3, 1979 at 7:30 p.m., to be held at the Carrizozo Recreation Center. All interested bowlers are urged to attend. The workshop will be conducted under the supervision of Judy Caython, and Billy Wallace, of Alamogordo.

How Parents Ignore Childrens Spines

by M. A. Moreland

Parents, as a matter of course, take their children to medical physicians and to the dentist, but they don't seem to realize that it is just as important to take them to a doctor of chiropractic for neuro-spinal checkups.

In view of the fact that millions of children suffer physical and neurological ills, and handicaps resulting from malfunction within the neuro-spinal system, this seems a rather shocking situation. Yet it is not surprising when we consider that parents have been indoctrinated into thinking only in terms of germs, drugs, and vaccines.

Although more parents are consulting doctors of chiropractic, many parents still cling to the illusion it is not necessary to examine a child's spine unless he develops a headache, and perhaps most dangerous of all - vertebrae in a child's spine do not 'get out of place' or cause illness. This type of reasoning is based on misconception.

As a result, a very large percentage of parents don't have their children's spine examined at all by an expert in this field... the doctor of chiropractic. Surveys reveal up to seventy-six percent of all school children have some spinal and/or neurological related problem. Authorities point out that up to forty percent of all children are afflicted with some form of chronic physical disease or emotional illness!

While most states require medical physical examinations throughout a child's school years, not a single state makes provision for chiropractic postural-spinal testing programs. It's little wonder then that today's children are not so healthy as we would like to believe, or that children are growing up into rather unhealthy adults.

Inasmuch as your child's body is incapable of restoring the subluxated vertebra to its normal position, varying degrees of impairment in nerve function and expression of vital nerve energy exists within his body at all times. This in turn inhibits normal body function, lowers resistance, and makes your child more susceptible to illness. The detection and correction of subluxations of spinal vertebrae requires the knowledge and skill of a doctor of chiropractic. With gentle hands he will safely restore the displaced vertebrae to normal position.

Periodic chiropractic exams, of your child's spine and nerve system, should be a major part of regular health routine. It could be a real tragedy to your child's present and future health to ignore chiropractic neuro-spinal examinations and indicated correction of abnormal findings. Make an appointment with your doctor of chiropractic today to have your children examined.

If you have any questions you feel I can answer, please send them to Dr. M.A. Moreland, P.O. Box 661, Capitán, New Mexico 88316.

MY TIME . . .

First you have murder, then you have punishment.

There are ways of looking at punishment. First to insure that it doesn't happen again. A law-enforcement officer of 40 years stated recently that Capital Punishment may not act as a deterrent on a large scale, but he "hadn't hung someone twice".

You only have to deal with the criminal once, no repeaters.

And the question may come, "would I pull the switch". Yes I would. I would not enjoy doing it, but I would. You see, it is like the situation in my garden. I have a fence around the garden, much like the laws of our land. And I like rabbits, they are all right, furry little creatures that don't seem to harm anyone. That is except for the garden. I am not a cruel person, yet every time one of those rabbits makes it into the garden, I do my best to shoot him. I have to harden my heart to shoot such a defenseless creature, but if I am to have a garden, much like if we are to have law and order, I have to do the difficult task.

I could choose not to shoot the rabbit, but then those rabbits would multiply and soon I would have no garden.

If I am to have a garden, much like if we are to have laws governing us, then we must enforce the laws, as painful as it may seem. And if it means capital punishment, to preserve our garden, we must do just that. MS

I noticed an editorial in another newspaper this last week. The writer recounted the incident in the parking lot where a murder suspect, Robert Cox, was accidentally shot.

The editor stated: "It seems inexcusable that a firearm taken from Cox would have fallen out on the ground and discharged, striking the deputy in the leg. It further seems inexcusable if Cox had been properly, and to the satisfaction of the arresting officers, searched that the deputy fired three shots through the door of the auto used to bring Cox to jail."

The editor went on to say, "Based on the assumption the investigation into the parking lot incident will be thorough and decisive, it is to be hoped that the outcome will insure that such an incident—which may have resulted from carelessness—will never again be repeated by another officer."

There is some merit to this line of thinking, but not much!

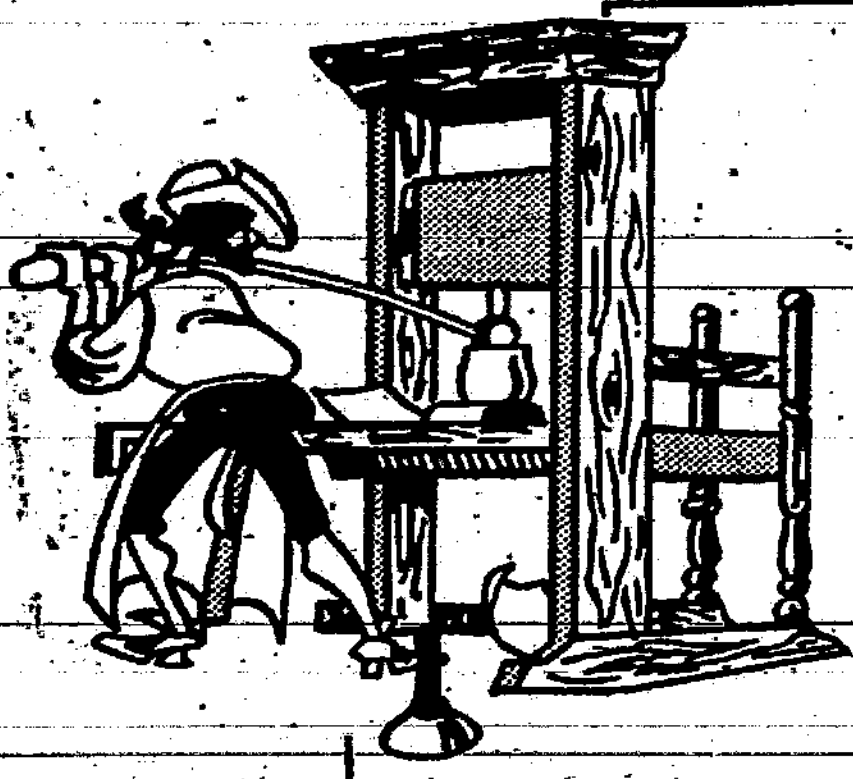

I saw with my own eyes the entire incident. What was not mentioned was, (1) The officer waited between 5 to 7 seconds after the first shot. From his angle he could not see the fallen gun. He looked around and could not see anyone with a drawn weapon, yet he had been shot in the leg. (2) All of the officers involved had worked between 16 and 20 hours a day in very tense surroundings for four days. As I was watching the incident, I was amazed that the deputy waited as long as he did, and (3) It would appear that the officer of the law did exactly what most others would have done. In talking to the other officers after the incident, most said that they at that time thought that Cox had somehow gotten a weapon, and that they would have done the same thing.

The incident was a one in a million accident, and it is regrettable that it happened for sure.

It is a habit of news media to have excellent hind sight and to take the law enforcement officers to task, but when we as a county were all afraid, where was the editor? Safe and warm at his home. But now that law and order has been restored, my how it is a different tune. I don't always know the words, but the tune sure is familiar. MS
