Capitan School Having Building Problems

Sandra Collins is 4th grade teacher at Capitan Elementary. She has 26 students now but she began her year with 30.

"The number of kids goes up and down, but even now I'm still crowded." Kindergarten was so crowded the class had to be put in two shifts in order to meet state requirements.

The High School Shop has a ceiling that droops from water leakage and of course the burned gym, 1936 electrical codes failed 1978 demands. Because of the life more of the roof in the High School leaks. The Home Ec. Room has three stoves for classes with as many as 30 students. And English I and III and Spanish classes meet in the intermediate building.

This is Capitan School, a place of controversy these last few weeks. A Bond issue for $860,000 will come to the voters Feb. 6. If it passes, a chance for state money to help finance a new school complex will be considered. If not, who knows.

There are about 370 students divided into a total of 17 rooms, of the three building complex that exists now. The High School is the oldest building, constructed in 1936; the building is basically sound, but it suffered roof damage during the recent fire and still has the 1936 wiring throughout. The shop and music rooms were added sometime after the High School. The elementary was constructed in 1948 and the intermediate in 1958.

These buildings will be the ones considered the most when construction begins if the bond passes. The high school has been the one most considered for replacement, but argument still leads to the overcrowded elementary. If one is present at the end of recess whenever elementary comes in, congestion in the hall punctuates the need.

The cost of a new school will not be low, now or ever, and with inflation, cost of a new school will not be low, now or ever. With inflating prices the present estimate of $55-sp. ft. building costs will soon rise to a much higher figure. So the feeling is "now or never," when it comes to the bond.

If the Bond passes, property owners within the Capitan School District can expect to see an increase of $7.00-$1000 assessed value per year. The 1978 tax rate is $1.87-$1000. If the bond passes, the rate will be $8.87-$1000 per year. Comparatively in New Mexico in systems about the size of Capitan, the amount will be similar. For example, Moriarty is at a maximum 21 percent with their taxes $11.8-$1000 and Ft. Sumner is $11.1. Estancia and Carrizozo are $8.5 and $8.2.

The bond is for full capacity of the school's assessed value. By doing this, the school becomes eligible for Capital Outlay, if the bond passes.

Population in the Capitan area has increased greatly in the last few years and is projected to increase every year. If the bond does not pass there is a great possibility the school will have to borrow portable buildings from the state.

Presently there is much controversy as to what will be constructed first and what will be torn down in order to allow room for something else. The brochures put out concerning the bond have on them a schematic drawing of a school complex. This was done in order to give everyone an idea; idea of what a new school could be like, an idea of what must be done to the present facilities. Nothing is definite, not until there is money to work with.

"I have a strong feeling we will get Capital Outlay if the bond passes," Superintendent Clifton stated.

There has been some controversy concerning the present administration at the school. But the teachers in a letter presented to Richard Clifton, at the recent school board meeting expressed their support and concern. Clifton was given a two-year contract renewal at that time.

So, administration aside, sentimental feelings aside and look at the hard facts. Building costs will never go down, population will continue to rise, and every year there will be more students and the wiring in the high school will only get more obsolete. So the question is all really up to the voters, Feb. 6, Fletcher Hall, Capitan New Mexico.

My Time — by Mike Swickard Letter To The Editor

The following happened last Friday in my presence. The Lady involved, from Ruidoso, wished to remain nameless as do I. But we thought your publication might be amused?

A group of us went up to check the flood damage above and below Bonita Dam.

It's a mess. The river has changed course and many an old timer (as well as newcomer) have been wiped out or sustained terrific damage.

After discussing the possibility of getting a 3 or 4 percent loan through

Federal agencies instead of 7 percent for rebuilding and the time it would take locally to get the Bonita back in it's ancient channel to recover usable property, a very strong minded lady in the area decided to go straight to the top.

She put in a Person-to-Person call to the President of the United States. After being handed from one secretary to another, she finally reached one close to the top, who informed her that as President Carter was at a meeting, perhaps he could be of assistance to pass the word.

So the strong-minded lady went into detail of what was needed.

After a slight pause the secretary suggested she contact her embassy and speak with the Ambassador.

The lady said (somewhat in shock) "But this is New Mexico!"

"Yes," said the secretary, "In the Northern part. Are you a citizen of the United States? Because if you are, you should contact the American Embassy."

The secretary could not be convinced that New Mexico was a state of the Union!

At this point, it became so incredible that the lady hung up.

Discussing it later with slightly hysterical laughter, a sudden serious thought crossed our minds:

President Carter has given away the Panama Canal, suddenly pulled out of Taiwan, let down Iran and South Korea, Ye Gods, has he quietly donated New Mexico to Old Mexico? Name Withheld upon request. Editor's Note:

President Carter is embarrassed over the handling of the Iranian question for sure. Why did he not know what was going on? Do the people who work for him just not know? Does the Government just not know?

Of course the call from New Mexico may have not been handled well from our end. If it had been mentioned, "Lincoln County, Home of Billy the Kid", any idiot who found his way into the Washington complex would have related it to American History.

Further, if it had been mentioned as we all know that the Lincoln County was actually fought over a peanut crop, the President probably wouldn't have been in a meeting. MS

Lion's Club Active For 30 Years

Carrizozo the county seat of Lincoln County, the regional Post Office distribution point, is on the Southern Pacific Railroad line and is the intersection point of two major U.S. highways, which display the Lion's Club emblem signs, common sights wherever Lions are active. The two Lion's profiles at either side facing away from center, symbolically represent the past and future, proud of the past, and confident of the future.

The "Beanery" S.P. Hotel, Railroad Avenue, 1949. The Four Winds Restaurant, North Central, 1979. The places, the streets, the years have a connection to a Carrizozo Lion, a member of the worlds largest service club organization. Carrizozo Lion's Club celebrate their 30th year anniversary this year.

Thirty years ago, on March 19, 1949 the Carrizozo Business Men's Club decided to affiliate with the International Association of Lion's Club. The Tularosa Lion's Club was the sponsor club for Carrizozo. The "Beanery" also known as the S.P. Hotel and the Railroad Eating House was where the Lions met for their fellowship dinner meetings. And as one Lion Club charter member reminisced, "It was quite an event."

The S.P. Hotel, an attractive place with a dining room and a horseshoe shaped lunch counter, was the center of Carrizozo's social activity. Afternoon card parties were scheduled there as were Womens Club luncheons. Railroaders were steady customers of the lunchcounter and rooms. For 50 cents a railroader could rent a set of clean sheets and a bed. The S.P. was located on Railroad Ave., now called 13th street. In earlier years it was also known as Front Street, Main Street for Hiway 54.

There are several Lion Club Charter members in Carrizozo and vicinity today. Mr. L.Z. Manire, who passed away November 7, 1978 was an honorary life member. Mr. Manire, a retired superintendent of schools, retired insurance agent and Lincoln County News weather man, was to receive his 30 year pin this year for his membership to the international

Capitan Plans For Community Ed Center

With an opportunity of getting funds of up to $500 from NMSU, plans for a Community Education Center in Capitan continue.

A meeting will be held at 7:30 P.M. Jan. 31, at the Capitan School Cafeteria to discuss plans for getting the grant.

The function of the center will be to encourage a bleeding of the community talents into a free education center for all ages. Subjects may be timely, such as How to Fill-Out Your IRS Form, or practical skills.

A grant available through the Center for Community Education Development at NMSU will enable the community center to function on a money basis. The Center at NMSU provides information services to community education centers as well as training opportunities.

Lorraine Sanchez, Director of Staff

Development, Ft. Stanton, Elliot Topper, teacher; and Bill Allred were elected to an organizational committee at the last meeting.

"The teachers want to do more than they are doing," Allred said.

"We have a feeling the center will be good for people, good for the community."

Bob Curtiss Candidate For School Board

My name is Robert Lee Curtiss. I am a candidate in the Carrizozo School Board election.

I have been a resident of the Carrizozo School district for 18 years.

I live two miles west of town where I train and breed Quarter horses.

I am a member of the First Baptist Church, Carrizozo.

My wife, Virginia, works at the J.G. Moore Agency. We have three children, Timmy, in 12th grade, Joe in 9th grade, and Mike, in 6th grade.

I have a strong interest in maintaining a quality education for all students.

Gail Stackpole Candidate For School Board

The Lincoln County News asked the candidates for School Board what their stand on North Central Association is. I am strongly in favor of association with North Central because I am strongly in favor of quality in our school system. I do not see North Central as imposing anything on our school. Rather I see it as a valuable tool in achieving what I presume all who are employed by the school and all who support the school with their tax dollars want for the students - an education that will best prepare each student for the life that he or she chooses.

Mothers March Slated For Saturday

This is March of Dimes month. On Saturday morning, January 27, 1979, a marching mother will call at your home seeking your support for the March of Dimes.

Each of us is unique. Yet, despite our differences, we Americans share some basic qualities: Love of freedom, belief in the future, and a sense of caring. As a voluntary health agency made up of concerned Americans, the March of Dimes is imbued with these same qualities.

The March of Dimes seeks freedom for all children from the threat of birth defects. Future generations must not be in danger of birth from lifelong damage, or death. The March of Dimes is dedicated to protecting our future children and our children's future.

Birth defects can strike any family, anywhere in the country. No family is immune by ethnic, or economic, or cultural background. This is why so many different, caring people become involved with the Mothers March on "Birth Defects."

And not only women are involved. Men and young adults are also committed to good health at birth. After all, birth defects affect the entire family, not just the newest, smallest member. That means that aunts, uncles, brothers, sisters and fathers must all take action to see that America's number one child health crisis is finally prevented.

The Lincoln County News will be out with the members of the March of Dimes Saturday morning and hope everyone will support this project.

Men About Town

Students Need Employment; Develop Skills

The main purpose of the Zia School for Developmental Services in Carrizozo is the development of work skills in those persons enrolled in the school. The area of skill in which students are trained depends on a combination of their abilities and their desires. There are four major areas of skill from which a student may choose: food service, motel and janitorial service; industrial related skills, and yard and landscaping. This article will look at the last mentioned of these areas.

The first task of the training aid is to discover the student's "base line", the level of knowledge and skill which he or she already possesses. This means taking nothing for granted. The names of the tools used in yard care, for example, or how to hold the hand clippers for trim work are just two items an aid must investigate in establishing a "base line". Once the student's skill level is determined, the training aid must carefully develop the skill beyond that point.

A great challenge to the training aid is in the area of motivation. If a student has really never had to work or if the student's family has impressed on her/him that they do not need to work, the aid has a big obstacle to overcome before he can begin to concentrate on skills.

One of the training aids who seems to have a gift for this type of work is Orlando Aguilar. Orlando was raised in Carrizozo and graduated from Carrizozo High School. He went to serve with the Fifth Marines in 1968. Since he has been out of the marines he has had quite a variety of experiences. He has traveled as far as Canada and has worked in jobs from construction work to attendant at Fort Stanton. Personal crises have not dimmed his spirit but seem to have made open to people, grateful for the chance to be alive and able to serve others.

Orlando has charge of a team of students who did yard work while the good weather lasted. The training done at the school was a great help in maintaining the grounds around the hospital. With lots of lawn on which to practice, students learned how to overlap rows with the mower to do a neat job. Other students use hand clippers to trim where the mower could not reach. Some were given rakes to gather the cut grass. One student's base line indicated he should begin by learning to hold the garbage bag for the student picking up the cut grass. The "crew" quickly found a market for their labor. Many people had yards overgrown with weeds or littered by the wind. They had neither the strength nor the time to care for their yard. One of the first customers was Bertha LaFave. She had very warm things to say about having the crew at her house. "I really enjoyed having them. They followed directions from Orlando and did a good job on my yard." While the students were at her house, Bertha provided a coffee break for them. She said, "I made them coffee and cake and had them in for their break. They were very polite and well behaved." The crew knew that Bertha was not feeling well and Orlando says that Rudy still asks how Bertha is and is she feeling better.

Another customer was Joe Aguilar. He too has a positive experience. He says, "The students knew what they were doing. They were real friendly and I would go out in the yard and talk to them. Later, when they were on another job, I would go by and they would recognize my truck and wave to me."

Once the weather got very cold, the crew had to move indoors. The school was fortunate that the pastor of the Catholic Church was wanting the parish hall painted. He agreed to let the students use the building as a training ground. Father Dave Bergs said, "The building is in bad shape and the guys couldn't hurt it anyway." They have been working there for some time now and Father says, "They are doing a great job. I think this program gives the men a sense of pride. They know that someone has enough confidence in them to trust them to do a good job. Orlando is very understanding and patient with them. He seems to know at what point to give someone more responsibility in order to develop them. He is teaching them a lot and giving them pride in themselves and in their work."

A remarkable advance in one of the students has occurred since they began the painting job. Rudy was a student who lacked any motivation for work. If asked to sweep the hall, he would stand and hold the broom until someone came along and then he would begin to sweep. Now he works with the paint crew. His assignment is to put papers out before they paint and to fill the paint trays for those using rollers. The remarkable thing is that he does it! Orlando explains it, "I treat Rudy like a normal human being. I don't try to 'take care of him.' If he falls in his job and the other guys get on him for not having paint in the pan, he has to take their criticism. I guess this has given him a sense of responsibility; everyone expects him to perform, so he does."

Working with the retarded has its good days and its bad. Orlando tells of a day on the painting job when nothing seemed to go right. The paint had been poured into the pan and one of the students "stumbled" into it. As he walked he left footprints all over the

The Bear Facts

By Jetty Jo Paul, Counselor

FINANCIAL AID: Mr. Eddy Garcia, Talent Search, ENMU-R, was here on Monday, January 22 to conduct a special financial aid workshop. He showed an excellent filmstrip which discussed different types of financial aid and the criteria for each as well as how to apply. James Lueras, Gary Vega, Margot Ward, Deirdre Wheeler, Mary Ann Padilla, Sandra Morales, J.D. Watson, Lisa Ferguson, Liz Baker, Robby Hollis and Gaby Palomarez attended to workshop which was under the direction of the counselor. A final reminder to seniors: financial aid forms should be completed and mailed by February 1.

REPORT CARDS: Report cards were distributed on Tuesday, January 23. They will cover the third six weeks period and the first semester. The second semester began on Monday, January 15 and will conclude May 25 which is the last day of school.

ELEMENTARY PROGRESS REPORTS: Tuesday, January 23 was an important day in the lives of the elementary teachers, parents and students. Parent-teacher progress conferences were held beginning at 11:15 when the students were dismissed so that parents could come to school. Among the topics discussed during the conference will be the student's grades in school and his or her study habits; the students' attitude toward his school work and other students in class and on the play ground; attendance or absence; any health problems the student might have; and, of course, any questions that the parents have in regard to what's happening to the student in school. Of tremendous importance is that the parents understand what's expected of the student at school. This is the second time this year that the elementary parent-teacher conferences have been scheduled.

SKI TRIP: Last Saturday thirty adults and children skied at the new Ruidoso Ski and Recreation Area. The reports were that everybody had a wonderful time. Joe Orsak and Jack Heffer drove the buses and Lucia Vega, Dale and Cherri Goad and Marjorie Wells went as sponsors. The following students went on the trip: Hankie Means; Buddy Hill, John Vega; Andrew Gallegos, Kenneth Crenshaw, James Guevara, Alex Serna, Anthony Serna, Margot Ward, Gaby Samora, Dennis Ortiz, Terri Willis, Melody Heffer, Robert Montano, David Kanoff, Tawnya Caster, Judy Sedillo, Ronnie Bush, David LaMay, Daryl Lindsay, Todd Lindsay, Kenny Baum, Johnny Herrera, and Debbie Wells. Special thanks to Nick Serna for taking an extra vehicle in case problems should arise. The next ski trip will be Friday, January 26. The bus leaves at 5:00 p.m.

and should return around 10:00. Mr. Orsak has stressed that waterproof or insulated clothing is an absolute must in case the snow is very wet. He suggests warm gloves (leather), a cap, heavy warm socks (wool), long johns, ski or waterproof pants, a warm undershirt, heavy outer shirt and sweater and a ski jacket. Ski boots, skis and poles are rented. Skiers should plan to eat at the snack shop or bring a sack lunch.

CTA CLUSTER MEETING: CTA hosted a cluster meeting on Monday, January 22 which was attended by teachers from Alamogordo and Carrizozo. Attending were Don Prince, Southwest Uniserv representative; the President of the Southwest Uniserv District, Betty Weber; the President-elect of the Southwest Uniserv District, Edith Hieber; the president of the Alamogordo Education Association; and the President of the N.M. School for the Visually Handicapped Education Association; and the legislative chairman from Alamogordo Education Association. In attendance from the CTA were Jetty Jo Paul, President; Peggy Orsak, Larue Wetzel, past president; Veda Stephenson, and Henry Paul. The purpose for the workshop was for local teachers to become more knowledgeable and involved in legislation for and against education in 1979. The next regular meeting of CTA will be held on Tuesday, February 6 at 3:00.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL: The junior high basketball teams have had tough luck this year - they haven't played many games. Most of their games have been cancelled or postponed for one reason or another. However, on Tuesday, January 23, they traveled to Capitan to play for the first time this year (1979). They will travel to Hondo on Monday, January 29 to play after school.

Taxpayers Beware Audit Is Possible

Albuquerque, New Mexico - Taxpayers who choose not to do their own Federal income tax returns should be careful when choosing a tax return preparer, the Internal Revenue Service says.

While most tax return preparers are honest and ethical, a few misuse the responsibility involved in completing a tax return for someone else.

The IRS cautions taxpayers to be particularly suspicious of preparers who claim that they have a special relationship with the IRS or knowledge of ways to beat the system. Other preparers who should be avoided include ones who guarantee refunds or who claim they know methods of handling the IRS.

The IRS cites certain basic precautions taxpayers should take when dealing with any tax preparer. For example, a blank tax return or one prepared in pencil should not be signed since it can be altered later. Also, preparers should be asked to sign the return in the taxpayer's presence, because the preparer's signature and identification number are required by law.

Because taxpayers—not preparers—are responsible for the accuracy of their tax returns, the IRS urges the taxpayer to exercise good judgement in choosing a tax preparer.

floor. Everyone was getting on him for the mess and he started to cry. In the meantime in another room, two students had dropped a bucket of paint and it was all over the floor in there. One of the two was trying to clean it up, but was walking through it and tracking it all over. Orlando was trying to restore calm to both rooms, but the situation grew worse. He called a coffee break (they all know what that means) and got everyone to relax.

Those times are forgotten or remembered with humor because there are days when everything seems to click. The guys seem to work as a team and the job moves smoothly. Orlando says it is also rewarding to notice what a change of jobs will do for a student. "Sometimes I rotate the job assignments for the paint crew. It is terrific to discover that a student really does better in one place than another.

For example, he might do better painting near the floor instead of higher up; or he might do better with a brush than a roller." The skills in which Orlando trains the students will never lead them to independent careers. But the student can be developed enough to fit into some position on a professional crew or to get odd jobs doing peoples lawns. Orlando says he feels it is a privilege to have a job like this. "That is the real joy of the Zia School - the staff people benefit as much as the students.

Tiger Sports

by Dottie MacVeigh

The Capitan Tigerettes played Mountainair and Hondo last weekend and split the wins by losing in the last minute to Mountainair 39-40 and coming back to trounce the Hondo girls 57-36.

In the Mountainair MacVeigh mentions Lynda Townley as doing a good job both offensively and defensively.

The Tigerettes have moved several young girls up to the Junior Varsity and are playing some 13 games with 8th graders. This aggressive group of junior high girls show confidence and poise as they face teams consisting of 10-11 grade girls.

Eighth graders of the Tigerettes 13 include, Delois Hobbs, Claudia Branum, Patti Huey, Jana Parker, Valerie Luna, and Janice Morerod. This group along with Karin Morerod, Lucy Herrera, Lynda Townley, and Jennifer McCarroll defeated the Hondo J.V. 42-25. McCarroll racked up 10 points in their victory.

The Varsity game was somewhat closer than the final score indicates, the halftime score was 20-18 in favor of Capitan as Regina Lobb put in a last second shot from the free-throw line. The third quarter ended at 36-30 but the cold shooting and foul trouble of the Eagles put the momentum in favor of the Tigerettes.

High scorers for the Tigerettes were Sally Abercrombie, 14, and Becky Osuna 12. Novelda Gutierrez had 18 points to lead all scorers for Hondo.

A Bowl of Activities

From Nogal

A Cupful of Slim Joy!!! January is a wonderful month to go on that diet. Last week I had a super diet for you, but just in case you didn't like it, here is another one for you—a shorter-surer one. It was such a lovely day I asked myself over to Ruth Armstrongs, and it was a most exciting time, she gave me a tour through her house, that will be finished soon she hopes. She has a very gay—red kitchen cabinets—a soft formal living room, den with a gigantic fireplace—and a library on a different level up above the den. The three bed rooms are large and sunny, it was a delightful visit—and over coffee she gave me the following diet.

Don't miss a meal and don't eat between meals. Diet drinks may be taken with meals or in-between meals. After the first 5 days you will lose a lb. a day. Breakfast: 2 eggs and 2 sticks of bacon. Lunch: 1 Cooked and 1 raw vegetable Meat (any kind not breaded or cooked in fat, use veg. oil) Dinner: Same — Drink 4 oz. of grapefruit juice after or before each meal.

This works if you do not cheat!!! A Moment for reverence!

Mrs. Sam Cox sent me the following clipping, so that residents from Nogal would be informed.

Rites in EP Monday For Mrs. Ritchie.

Rumeral services for Mrs. Flora Lee Ritchie, 72 former Tularosa school teacher, Phone 347-2144 were attended at Martin Chapel E. El Paso, with Rev. George C. Park officiating.

Mrs. Ritchie's husband, was Mrs. Alva Sittens' brother. The late Mrs. Sittens was our post Mistress for many years in Nogal.

SHORT STUFF

Jane C. Freeman is the author of "International Year of the Child: Our Challenge," in the Girl Scout Leader publication. Mrs. Freeman is nominee for President of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Recently, she was named U.S. National Commission for International Year of the Child by President Jimmy Carter. Mrs. Freeman is now on the board of the New York Committee for UNICEF.

The Commission's responsibility is to plan for and promote the National observance of 1979 as the International Year of the Child, coordinating its efforts with local, state, national and international organizations.

UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) has been designated as the lead agency in the United Nations system responsible for coordinating the International Year of the Child.

Five baby chicks led the road to the production and agribusiness aspects of FFA. Elvin is the National Vice-President to the Western Region of FFA.

recent subject matter training workshop at NMSU. The Home economists received updating on the latest methods of canning. This was only one of the workshops offered during the five day intensive study conference.

Extension Workers Attend Training Conference

Lincoln County Agent Ralph Dunlap and Home Economist Mary Ellen Payne were among Extension County Agents, Home Economists and 4-H agents, from every New Mexico county, that attended the Subject Matter Training Conference, Jan. 8-12 at New Mexico State University.

The annual training meeting was designed to help county Extension faculty members of NMSU stay abreast with the latest changes in their individual areas of expertise.

The Extension professionals received updates on the housing situation in New Mexico, legal aspects of 4-H work, plans to expand the sheep industry, changes in beef cattle health programs and the latest consumer laws.

More traditional subjects were also covered in depth, including workshops in soil sampling, food preservation, county government, noxious brush and stress related diseases.

The Home Economics Bowl, a quiz game being introduced into the 4-H program, was a new feature of the training conference. There were also sessions to exchange program ideas and plan for new projects.

BLM Acquires Toll-free Number - 1-800-432-9855

The Santa Fe Office of the Bureau of Land Management and Mountain States Telephone Company have finally solved a mutual communication problem and have an operating toll-free telephone to the BLM to serve New Mexico residents. The new number is 1-800-432-9855.

The BLM thought they had a toll-free number in December and announced the fact throughout the state. After receiving complaints from citizens that the telephone number didn't work, the BLM called in a telephone company expert to diagnose the trouble. The telephone representative solved the problem when he told the BLM that the toll-free numbering system wasn't supposed to work within the state and that the BLM would have to get a separate number for in-state calls.

After the appropriate amount of paper shuffling between the federal agency and the telephone company the BLM now has the new number for in-state calls.

According to BLM Public Affairs Chief John Gumert, "It was just a case of two big organizations failing to communicate. What makes it bad is that my office and the telephone company are supposed to be experts in communication."

So the BLM now has two toll-free telephone numbers 1-800-545-8943 which is good for persons calling from states outside of New Mexico and 1-800-432-9855 for persons calling the BLM from within the state of New Mexico.

The toll-free numbers now give citizens an easier access to the BLM to ask questions about oil and gas leasing, wild horse management, land status or any other questions which pertain to public land management.

Remember if you are calling from within New Mexico the number is 1-800-432-9855. If you are calling the BLM from outside the state use 1-800-545-8943.

Robert Miller Participates

During the maneuver, every weapon assigned to a platoon was fired including the fires of 50 caliber and 7.62mm machine guns; the tank-killing DRAGON missile, and the light anti-tank rockets. The assault course was supported by the high explosive fires of mortars and artillery and pop-up targets of enemy soldiers and vehicles.

January Is March of Dimes

Birth Defects Prevention Month

Fifteen million persons in America today have birth defects. Low birthweight is the most common root of such problems. It is not only the leading cause of infant mortality in this country, but also a major factor in disability during childhood. Thanks to the medical progress we have made, newborns weighing less than two and one-half pounds now have an almost fifty percent chance of survival. Only a few years ago their chances were less than twenty percent. But even with greatly improved newborn intensive care, many survivors are physically and mentally scarred for life. With proper nutrition and adequate care during pregnancy, low birthweight, like so many birth defects, can very often be prevented.

Another 200,000 babies are born each year with structural or metabolic defects. In addition, many disabling and life-shortening disorders have their origin during pregnancy and birth. Many times these are not thought of as birth defects because symptoms may not appear until later in life.

It is my hope that during 1979, the International Year of the Child, we will marshal our best efforts to make reproductive health the focus of our priority national attention. We must assure every child the right to a healthy start in life. We must join with other nations of the world in protecting the well-being of children - the most precious resource of all.

Prevention of birth defects has long been the special mission of the March of Dimes. In every community of this country the March of Dimes has initiated educational and medical service programs to protect the unborn and newborn. It has increased the availability of prenatal care, started and supported programs to improve maternal nutrition, created a nationwide group of genetic centers and established and assisted newborn intensive care units. It has built a productive partnership with the community, the professions and government at all levels - and proved how much can be accomplished by such a cooperative effort.

As we observe January, 1979 as March of Dimes Birth Defects Prevention Month, let us thank the March of Dimes for its critical leadership in this vital task, and let us strengthen our national commitment to our children and to their entry into life with a healthy future.

Weather here has been cold but no moisture this week. Which helps the construction. The Smokey Bear Recreation center is progressing now. There has been grading and leveling going on there. Activity which encourages all of us.

Grading and leveling has gotten the Olin Booher lots ready for heavy gravel. LaMoyné Carpenter is ready for heavy gravel to be added in front of his Real Estate Office.

LaMoyné spent a week in Albuquerque attending a Real Estate School and passed with flying colors last week.

Gene Corley a contractor in LaLuz is building a new home in the subdivision south near Valton Hall for Howard Shanks, our banker. He built the Glen King home. He plans his work gets all of his materials together and then brings his full crew and really gets the building up fast. Does a good job, he has several jobs in view here.

The Dean Oil Company sold to Mr. and Mrs. Claudio Montoya January 4th. Gerald Dean Jr. will be in the hardware with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean Sr. We are glad to have him there. We know he will always succeed as we all love the Deans. They are a wonderful family.

Mr. and Mrs. Champ Ferguson accompanied Louise Ferguson to El Paso Tuesday January 9th for the health checkup. Champ was kept in Hotel until January 17. Billy Ferguson brought him home Lorence and Louise returned Monday 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Johnston went to Oklahoma to bring her mother Mrs. Alexander home with them for a visit for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Arrel Posic of Tularosa visited Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne last Sunday as they returned from a Golden wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Caywood spent last week in Las Cruces where he attended water and Sewer School.

The Art Shop has a new face. Bill Allred is adding natural siding and he will use the building for a truck and car lot.

Jane Allred is a candidate for the school board position. Election is Feb.

Sharon Horton, Lydia Hall and Kay Strickland left Saturday January 13 morning for Mesa, Arizona. Lydia visited her brother over the week-end. Sharon and Kay attended the wedding of Dentse Kunselman, Sharon's son, in Casa Grande. They also visited with other members of Sharon's family over the weekend and returned home Monday. They all had a very nice time.

Paula Schrom and Jane Allred went to Nebraska for the new year. What a joy to see the cornfields again. The weather was beautiful. 3 below zero but they did not need any different clothing than for N.M. They had 10 days delightful vacation with friends. New Mexico looks as good coming in spite of the heavy fog. Its good to be home, was their explanation.

Sid and Shirley Goodloe have moved back to their ranch north of Capitan. They have their home in Roswell up for sale. It is good to see them back again.

Marguerito Trujillo returned home from the Veterans Hospital in Albuquerque Thursday January 11. He is in a cast and on crutches. Must be for six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Carpenter became the proud prents of a son born Monday January 15 at 9:28 p.m. at the Ruidoso Hospital. He weighed 7 Lbs. 6 oz. Name is pending.

Cuca Sedillo underwent a heart attack New Years and is in a hospital in Albuquerque. I do wish her a good recovery. We do miss her here in Capitan.

Praise - lots of it - develops a sense of pride in Jackie & Joe.

Shelter Bed Program Works

The Volunteer Shelter Bed Program has been in operation in Carrizozo since August 1977. During this time families from Lincoln County have been opening their homes to children needing a place for a short period of time, usually 1 to 10 days. These children are status offenders which means that they have committed an offense that is criminal only to a child such as: curfew violations, running away, habitual truancy from school, not getting along with their parents, or are determined by the courts to be in need of supervision. These children who are 17 years of age or younger are referred to the program by the Juneville Probation Office or the Social Service Agency.

Before July of this year these children who had committed a status offense were legally held in juvenile detention centers if available or in jail. Often these children who had not committed a criminal offense were locked behind bars an average of 4 to 5 months longer than children committing criminal offenses. This average works out to approximately 14 to 15 months of incarceration. During their time in jail these children received no formal education, recreation, or rehabilitation. The education available to these children was by the criminals they were forced to live with. Several studies estimate that at least 1/2 of the juveniles who went through the juvenile justice system as a status offender subsequently returned to court for delinquent acts. Furthermore, 75 percent of all adult offenders have spent time in juvenile correctional centers, usually for very minor offenses.

The Volunteer Shelter Bed Program was designed to meet the needs of these children who have not committed criminal offenses. The plan is to divert these children from this cycle of crime through temporary placement in Volunteer-Foster Homes where they are taught that people care about them and that they are worth something rather than how to commit a crime, how worthless they are and worst of all that no one cares what happens to them.

As of July of this year children who have not committed a criminal offense can no longer be held in secured detention facilities, such as: juvenile detention centers or jails. This change in the law did not eliminate the needs of status offenders. These children still exist and their needs still must be met.

In addition to providing temporary homes for these children the VSB program also provides short-term family counseling for the child and his family. Through short-term family counseling the VSB program attempts to:

1) deal with the problems as they occur; and 2) deal with the problem in the context of the family rather than in the context of the individual person whose conduct is the immediate cause of the problem. A major premise of family therapy is that whenever one person in a family is having a difficult time, everyone in the family is affected by it. Family counseling attempts to help the family find an effective way to deal with its pain. An attempt is made to open family communication and to assist them in the desire and ability to deal with the problem.

The Coordinator for the Volunteer Shelter Bed Program in Lincoln County is Marcia Miller. Her office is located at the Courthouse in Alamogordo. This was arranged so she may also provide services to the more populated Otero County while the Otero County Coordinator, Grace Smith, is on the road fulfilling her additional duties as Southern Supervisor.

Should you have any questions about the program please call Marcia Miller at 434-2020. She'll be happy to meet and talk with you about the program.

Lincoln Logs

by Ralph Dunlap

The rains on December 19, 1978 caused considerable streambank damage to the Bonito and Ruidoso valleys. The river ran big for several days and caused considerable loss of land in these areas. Many of the irrigation systems were damaged by the flood waters. The Soil Conservation Service and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service are making surveys of the damage. Preliminary estimates of the damage exceed $800,000.00.

Application is being made for funds to help with restoring the irrigation system, streambank protection to prevent further stream pollution and other emergency conservation measures.

The Farmers Home Administration is considering declaring it a disaster area. This would make available low interest loans for the amount of the flood damage. Loans for other conservation practices would be a regular interest rates.

Many of these funds require federal action declaring it a disaster area. Plans are to have a meeting when the emergency programs have been finalized.

Now is the time to prune your pear trees for fire blight. If the leaves of the pear tree turned black and the twig or branch died last summer, you may have fire blight. Prune all the dead wood out. Be sure to sterilize pruning tools between cuts. Use a 10 percent household bleach solution to dip your pruning tools into or rub them with a swab made by wrapping a cotton cloth around the end of a stick.

If you're fed up with deer nibbling on your apple trees, now you can fight back without hurting the wildlife. Many growers have not been fully satisfied with old methods, like trapping, wrapping and fencing.

Repellents are being used by many fruit growers. One repellent, called Arasan 42-S, has been used extensively in previous years. Arasan 42-S is the trade name of a chemical called thiram and has been used to protect vegetable and crop seed from fungi that cause seed rot. Arasan 52-S has a very pungent odor and probably tastes disagreeable. It has done a satisfactory job when used according to label directions.

Arasan 42-S can be brushed or sprayed on the tree. One application will protect the treated area from one to three months. A latex type sticker added to the repellent will help the chemical stay on the tree longer. Trees should be treated with the repellent at the first sign of injury and applied early, before injury occurs. The repellent can also be used after fruit begins to form on fruit trees. Be sure to check the chemical label for other information and limitations.

Home gardeners can avoid many tree and shrub problems later on by carefully inspecting bare root plants for disease before purchasing.

One such disease is crown gall. It is recognized by rough-surfaced tumor-like galls on or near the roots. Occasionally crown gall can be seen on above-ground parts of plants.

More information on buying and caring for plants is available from the Lincoln County Extension Office in Carrizozo and the telephone number is 648-2471.

Are you paying too much for your long distance calls?

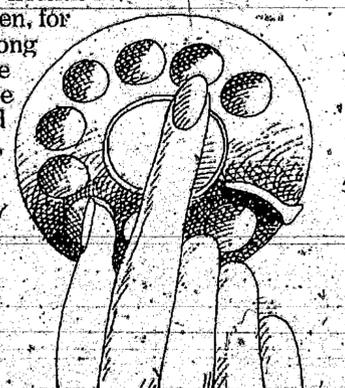

You may be if you haven't been paying much attention to when and how you place your calls. But here are three ways you can keep in touch with old friends and still keep your long distance charges to a minimum. Dial direct. Whenever an operator places your call, it costs more than if you dialed it yourself. So check the directory for the area code you need, dial the number yourself, and watch your long distance costs go down.

Call during off-peak hours. Perhaps you already know that long distance rates go down on weekdays after 5 p.m. But did you know that after that time you can dial direct to anywhere within the continental U.S. for 35% less than the normal day rate? You save even more, a full 60%, if you call during the week between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m., or on weekends until 5 p.m. on Sunday. Check your telephone directory for information about similar discounts for holiday calls that you make without the operator's assistance. Take advantage of the 60-second bargain call. Perhaps you haven't heard that you no longer pay a three-minute minimum rate on your long distance calls. So now it will cost you even less for those brief calls you make to confirm reservations or travel plans—or just to give short messages to friends and relatives.

Remember then, for the best value in long distance calls, take advantage of these special rates. And always dial direct.

organization consisting of more than one million men from approximately 150 nations and geographical areas bound together by friendship, cooperation and understanding.

Mr. Manire was a Lion, he cared about his community, its health standards and in its progress. He was one of several members that first met over fellowship meals of the "Beanery" on the Railroad Avenue to carry out programs which would make Carrizozo a better place in which to live.

Today, Lion Club president is Charlie Pfingston, who resides on Nogal Mesa. Recent club presidents have been Leon "Hoot" Gibson, Bob Means, Marvin Rowan, Sr., Marvin Rowan Jr., Frank McBride, and many more. Other civic minded past presidents on a long list included Bill Payne, Jete Voss, S.A. Ortiz, Fred English, Arril Posey, F.O. Brown, L.Z. Manire, Vernon Petty and Roy Shafer, who was the Lion's Club President when it first formed.

On January 16, 1979, the most recent Carrizozo resident to join this nationwide organization was Lloyd Hobbs. The Carrizozo Lions Club met that evening at the Four Winds Restaurant conference room for their regular indoctrination of Lloyd Hobbs. Present for the event were a fellow Lions from the Alamogordo Evening Lions Club; one of the three Lions Clubs in Alamogordo. During the indoctrination of Lion Lloyd, the 100th anniversary birthdate (January 13, 1979) of the Lions Club founder, Mel Jones, was remembered as a time for a re-dedication of all Lions.

Mel Jones was a young Chicago insurance man in 1917 and was serving as secretary of the Business Circle, a men's luncheon group, devoted to promoting the business interests of its members. Noting the growing apathy of his club, Jones asked: "What if these men who are successful because of their drive, intelligence and ambition were to be put to work helping improve their communities?"

This idea became a reality when at his request, representatives of men's groups met in Chicago and on June 7, 1917 Lions International was officially launched. Mel Jones' idea has developed into a world-wide expression of what individuals, properly motivated, can do in providing unselfish service to their communities, their nations and fellow-man.

The ten major activities of Lionism are: Sight and Hearing Conservation, International services. Lions club plan and conduct a variety of community and humanitarian projects. These services are part of Lionism. Clubs can choose anyone or more specific projects from among these comprehensive categories.

Carrizozo Lions club projects have included street signs, football field lights, Boys and Girls State, Halloween parties, uniforms for Little League, contributions to world disaster areas, Senior Citizen Christmas dinners and currently the Lions are helping with the Ancho cemetery. The Lions obtain eye glasses for needy children referred by the Health office and the Welfare Department in Lincoln County.

The patriotic side of Lionism has been the placing of American Flags on holidays at business places and residential homes, as well. Presently 62 flags are issued.

Money-raising activities have been candy sales and the famous Lions

Pancake Suppers. In recent years the Lions have sold watermelon at the Peoples Market Place, an annual event sponsored by the Carrizozo Women's Club. One year at this event the Lions sold old-fashioned homemade ice cream at the Peoples Market place for a nickel a cone. Although no profit was made the Lions enjoyed creating an old-timey atmosphere, as nothing is as old-timey as a nickel treat these days. With the Lions Club 5 cent ice cream cone came nostalgic memories of the good old days.

The Lions greatest boosters are their wives. Whenever there is a project of fund raising activity, there the wives are in the background, helping where they may be needed, including wiping pancake syrup spills or mending battered torn flags. To show their appreciation to the Little Ladies, the Lions have a Ladies night every 4th meeting.

The Carrizozo Lions Club meets twice a month for their fellowship dinner meetings, the first and third Tuesday at the Four Winds Restaurant Conference room. Any past member of Lions is encouraged to be re-instated into this global organization.

During fund-raising activities, Lions proudly sport their emblem on their purple and gold vests; to let people know that their contributions are going to a worthy cause. The Lions serve their community without personal financial reward, and encourage efficiency and promote high ethical standards in commerce, industry, professions, public works and private endeavors.

When we see the Carrizozo Lions Club emblem sign near our highways, they remind us of their presence in our community and of the Presidential theme of Joseph M. McLaughlin, President of the International Association of Lions Club... "Lionism—People caring for People."

AROUND CORONA

Temperatures reached a high of 42 on the 15th through the 18th and again on the 21st with a low of 10 on the 19th. There was no moisture. Most of the roads are badly rutted, frozen in the morning and muddy in the afternoon.

The 200 meeting of Xi Beta Epsilon Beta Sigma Phi was held at the home of Mrs. John D. Holleyman with Mrs. W. T. Tyree Jr. in charge. Plans for future meetings were discussed. Charlyne Tyree presented the program on Modern Choices from the outline Reaching Out. She stated that the modern world seems to have more than a small share of decisions, and she discussed the process of decision making: establishing the goal, identifying alternatives, and then eliminating choices one by one. As an exercise in decision making each member was asked to state a preference for a name change. Mrs. Archie Perkins was presented a yellow rose and a card marking her birthday. The refreshment table was centered with a candle and an arrangement of fruit. The hostess served a rum birthday cake homemade candies, sandwiches, tea and coffee.

Cedar Temple No. 26 Pythian Sisters met Monday with Mrs. J. E. Robinson, MEC in charge of the business session. Plans for altruistic work were presented. Mrs. E. H. McCloud installed the new officers and annual reports were mailed after the auditing committee met. Mrs. W. S. Dishman was hostess and served popcorn, homemade candies, tea and coffee. Mrs. W. T. Keelin, Past Chief, was reported to be ill and unable to attend.

The Lincoln County Sub-Area Health Council will hold a health needs and services hearing at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital Conference Room Jan. 31st at 7:30 PM. It is urged that anyone having ideas on health services needed or presently provided should attend this meeting.

The Corona Health Clinic is nearing reality. Tentative plans call for Ursula Hansteen, Nurse Practitioner, to be here each Tuesday from 10 am to 4 pm in the apartment at the Cardinal County Cafe. For the Present the Wetzel's are offering this space without charge for rent, and Mrs. Robert Williams will be the volunteer receptionist. Some details (cleaning and a little painting) are yet to be worked out and progress will be announced. For information call 846-8191 or -1633.

Capitan Tigers Have Active Weekend

The Capitan boys and girls basketball teams were on the road last weekend with games at Encino and Estancia.

Friday, the two teams met at Encino and the Tigers varsity boys won by a 69-41 score. Leading the Tigers in their offensive attack were Tim Proctor with 14 and Harvey Martin with 13 points while Alex Trujillo contributed 9.

The Tigers also played January 9 against Ruidoso's J.V.'s finishing with a 20-point 60-40 spread in favor of Capitan. Harvey Martin stood out with 20 big points to lead all scorers.

The Tigers were idle Saturday, but will play this weekend in the Reserve Invitational.

The Tigerettes have re-grouped their talents after the loss of Lisa Lamb with an injury to the knee cap sustained during the Smokey Bear Tournament and whipped the girls from Encino 52-31. In the winning effort, Sally Abercrombie had 13 points followed by Beth Long, Debbie Womack, and Donna Cooper each with 6.

The tables turned on the Tigerettes Saturday night in Estancia, however. Suffering the loss of Sally Abercrombie and Donna Cooper to 5 fouls, the Bears poured on their full court press and ran the score to 80 points while the Tigerettes could manage only 44. Junior Beth Long led with 11 points for the Tigerettes and Cooper had 10 before fouling out, while Sophomore Debbie Womack threw in 9.

Coach MacVeigh cited Lynda Townley for her hustle on defense and 7 point offensive contribution.

The tigerettes next game will be at home Friday against Mountainair and then the girls travel to Hondo Saturday.

Santa Fe - Tell-tale Time: This week should determine just how successful the 1979 60-day session of the New Mexico Legislature will be - and we are referring, of course, to what unity strides are made in the House of Representatives.

Consistently, this reporter refrained from making any predictions on the outcome of the race for Speaker between Rep. Walter Martinez of Grants or Rep. Gene Samberson of Lea County.

In twenty years of covering State Government and the Legislature in Santa Fe, we had never seen the tradition broken that the Republican Party in either House would align itself with a faction of the opposition party to upset the majority sentiment of the majority party.

Of course, in the Senate, the Lt. Gov. presides over the upper house and committee assignments are determined by a committee-on-committees that has representation of both political parties.

In the Lower House, however, the man who holds the Speaker's Chair is much more powerful. He determines not only the chairmen and vice-chairmen of all committees, but determines who serves on each committee as well.

Thus, when Samberson overturned Martinez by a vote of thirty-seven to thirty-three, it meant a whole new ball game.

Martinez, who had been chosen for the Speaker's Chair in a Democratic caucus held earlier, already had assigned a list of his committee assignments and that included the names of those designated to serve as chairman and vice-chairmen.

Utilizing eleven Democratic, conservative votes and a big bulk of the Republican House members, Samberson was able to put together a coalition that squeaked out a four vote victory.

But, all you need to win is one! It is only natural that emotions would run high at the outset and before the end of the week, the thirty members of the Democratic moderate-liberal majority who had supported Martinez held a caucus and voted to exclude the eleven members who had supported Samberson - not because of their support of Samberson, but because of their alignment with the House Republicans.

Nobody, but nobody, is going to deny that tempers were running hot by the end of last week. In fact, when the Demos were trying to set a time and place for their caucus, it took on the appearance of Government by multiple choice.

But, outside of the hot heads, there are plenty of guys in the Lower House who have a reputation for maintaining their cool. Walter Martinez, the man ousted as Speaker, is just that sort of guy.

He declined to make any immediate statements on his defeat or the subsequent expulsion of the eleven Demo conservatives from the caucus, rather than spill oil on already troubled waters. In effect, Walter took a rain-check.

The name of the game this week then is to determine just how successful the peace-making efforts have been, whether they are successful enough for the House to get along with some Legislation of tremendous magnitude.

And...whether the protestations of peace are sincere or lip-service.

Legislative sideights: A couple of items to look for once the furor dies down - over the House Speaker's race.

Look for the House to propose rules changes that will provide for committee assignments in much the same form as that utilized in the Senate.

That will necessitate major rules changes and undoubtedly make some big headlines. Don't Say We Didn't Tell You.

If successful, the rules changes will mean that Republicans will get a say-so in just what major slots will be assigned on committees to members of their party. And...that should make Republican minority leader Hoyt Pattison happy to no end.

Final Note: For some reason, we never can get too un-glued over headlines at the outset of a Legislative Session - cause like the man said: "It's only the beginning!"
