SBAC Membership--

Ruidoso Accepts C'zozo

Letters to the mayor at Tuesday's Carrizozo town meeting included the one from the Village of Ruidoso informing the Carrizozo council that they have accepted the town's request for membership on the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC).

Lincoln County, Capitan and Ruidoso Downs had previously approved Carrizozo's membership. Mescalero Apache Tribe, the fifth SBAC member, has not given their go-ahead for Carrizozo SBAC membership. Lincoln County Commissioner, Thomas "Cotton" McKnight has strongly supported Carrizozo's desire to be represented on SBAC.

Carrizozo dentist, Dr. Dale Goad and Carrizozo Town Trustee Ruth Armstrong, both on the local airport committee attended the last Ruidoso Village council meeting and heard first hand that Carrizozo was approved for SBAC membership. A joint powers agreement among present SBAC members states that the proposed regional airport must be located within 15 miles of Ruidoso. The town of Carrizozo is willing to accept this condition.

Mr. Hubert Quintana, CDBG Housing Rehabilitation Project Administrator, told the Carrizozo town council last Tuesday that 36 applications have been received so far.

Family profiles have been filled out and income verification comes next. Following application reviews, Quintana said that some houses would be "started by Thanksgiving and some completed by Christmas."

He received the council's permission to advertise in the local newspaper for a Housing Rehabilitation Project Specialist who will work under him. A local bi-lingual resident is preferred for the position. Skills required for the job include understanding of money lending, knowledge of house construction, able to do some typing and filing.

Superintendent of Carrizozo Schools, Dr. James P. Miller appeared before the council in regard to a proposed out-door basketball court at Fred Chavez Park, located near Santa Rita Catholic Church. Miller brought up the project last June and the town tabled the matter. The council agreed that this would be a worthwhile project. Cigarette tax money available now, plus the balance of the account at the time of construction will be turned over for this proposed facility. Cigarette tax money has always been reserved for recreation purposes.

The council approved a request from Town Clerk, Carol Schlarb that someone be employed to work with her because the work load is too heavy and that Police Clerk, Rosemary Gallegos has her own department to take care of.

Trustee Betty Fields, who serves as commissioner for city streets will meet with State Highway Department officials on October 23. The Department informed Fields and the mayor that the meeting at the court house in The Commissioner's room will be for the purpose of discussing the paving to be conducted on all Carrizozo streets next year.

THIS BIRD'S EYE view photograph of White Oaks is from the Don Ward collection. Ward believes the picture was taken between 1892 and

History Buffs Meet at White Oaks

White Oaks school house at White Oaks, N.M. was the site of an October 10th gathering of history fans. The Lincoln County Historical Society met there for their last meeting of 1981.

White Oaks, known as the liveliest town in New Mexico Territory, was once the mercantile center of all southeastern New Mexico. The town's main street was filled with dwellings and business places. White Oaks history writers disagree on the number of banks, churches, and other establishments that existed in the once busy mining town.

Dr. Howard Tate of Ruidoso, program chairman for the Lincoln County Historical Society meeting made arrangements for a presentation by historian-author, Mr. Herman B. Weisner of Organ, N.M. Weisner, president of Dona Ana Historical Society, is a retired White Sands Missile Range electronics technician.

He began his research of Lincoln County when his study of Organ turned up parallels and common historic figures. He spent many hours researching in Lincoln County for his book, "Indictments of Lincoln County, 1872 - 1882, which mentions Albert Bacon Fall. Weisner gave a talk at the White Oaks meeting about recent views concerning the involvement of A. B. Fall in the Teapot Dome scandal. Fall was a former Otero county ranch owner.

Teapot Dome is the name given to one of the most notorious scandals in the administration of President Warren G. Harding. A Senate investigation in 1923, as well as subsequent testimony in court trials, revealed that Secretary of the Interior Albert Fall had persuaded Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby to transfer government oil reserves at Elk Hills, California and Teapot Dome, Wyoming, to the Department of Interior. Fall then leased the reserves to private oil producers.

These leases were made without competitive bidding. Fall received large sums of money for helping to arrange the transfers. The scandal forced Fall to resign in 1923. He was later convicted of accepting a bribe and sent to prison in 1931.

Calvin Coolidge entered the White House just as the Teapot Dome and other scandals of the Harding administration became public. Coolidge made no effort to shield the guilty. In 1924, he forced the resignation of high officials who had been connected with the scandals.

At the White Oaks meeting, Don Ward of Carrizozo displayed 70 historical photographs collected in his research on family life in White Oaks and the history of the once thriving gold mining town.

Ward, a 1981 Carrizozo graduate, was awarded a grant last May by the National Endowment for the Humanities to conduct an oral history on family life in the southwestern mining town of White Oaks. Ward has traced some families back to 1865.

A big crowd enjoyed the program at the White Oaks school house and the refreshment served by members of the White Oaks Historical Association. Among the audience was Mrs. Tom Jones of Ruidoso, granddaughter of A.B. Fall. Another Ruidoso resident Eve Ball, well-known writer of Indian history also attended the meeting.

Ups and Downs Forecast for Ranching in '80s

The new decade promises to be a challenging period for southwestern ranchers in the estimation of two New Mexico State University researchers. They say ranchers will continue to face the old price-cost battle, but won't have to contend with serious drought.

"Nobody knows exactly what's going to happen in the next 10 years, but if the rancher knows what general conditions to expect, he can outline strategies and seek alternatives to deal with these conditions," said Dr. James R. Gray, an agricultural economist at NMSU's Agricultural Experiment Station.

Gray and fellow agricultural economist Dr. John M. Fowler recently outlined the conditions ranchers can expect to face in the 1980's. The researchers based their forecasts on historical trends and agricultural economics studies.

On the positive side, the researchers do not expect a major drought in the southwest. They said the 1980s fall outside the 22-year drought cycle which peaked in the last decade. According to past trends, the southwest will have minor drought in some areas with a few areas suffering severe drought for short periods.

Gray and Fowler took meteorologists to task for not developing more reliable long-range drought forecasting. "With the data handling capabilities of computers, more progress is needed and should be demanded for long-range forecasting," said Gray.

He said ranchers need a nine-month forecast with a minimum 80 percent accuracy. The ranchers need to be reasonably sure that when they buy calves in November the forage supply will last until summer. If drought is predicted, he said, ranchers can cut back purchases and lower their feed costs during the dry spell.

Cattle numbers also follow a cycle. In the current one, which runs from 1979 to 1989, price appeared to peak early, in 1979. Since then, prices have drifted downward. Some price recovery will come in 1981 through 1984, but will weaken again in 1985 as supplies begin to pile up. The researchers speculated that prices will pull out of the slump by 1988, particularly for feeder animals and cows.

"Lamb prices will have small ups and downs during the 1980s with more ups than downs," Gray said. Wool prices are expected to be very favorable through the next 10 years.

According to Gray and Fowler, ranchers could weather the price decline by accumulating some financial reserves during the 1979 to 1984 boom years to carry them through the bust years of 1985 to 1989.

"One way to increase cash reserves," Gray said, "is to liquidate some of the 'paper profit' tied up in land investment." Liquidation also would ease cash flow problems created by depressed cattle prices and higher production costs. "Ranchers with $2 to $4 million tied up in land are getting less than 1 percent profit return," he said.

The rancher could opt for a partial-sell and lease-back strategy which requires that the rancher sell a minor part of his rangeland and then lease it back from the buyer. This way, the rancher frees some of his landlocked cash and still is able to use the land for livestock.

Ranchers also must adapt to changes in the market of the 1980s. "Experts indicate that ranchers more often 'sell' their livestock rather than 'market' them," Gray said. By planning the sale, getting the highest price and finding the right buyer, ranchers can get a better share of the consumer market.

One way to market livestock is to use electronic exchange communications. According to one study, these systems, which include teletype networks and digital computers, can solve 13 of 16 major problems in marketing livestock. Pooling, or combining herds from several ranches for sale, is another way to achieve market power, he said.

"One way or another, the traditionally independent range livestock producers will have to get together with his neighbors in both buying supplies and selling livestock," said Gray.

Merritt-Hindi Exchange Vows

Wedding vows of Jackie Shawn Merritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. Merritt of Yeso, and Jamil Joseph Hindi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Braham Hindi of Duran, were solemnized on September 12, at 7:00 p.m. in the Ruidoso First Christian Church with the bride's grandfather, J.L. Merritt, Church of Christ minister, officiating the double ring ceremony.

A reception was held in the First Christian Church Fellowship room. Mrs. Melvin Key, Mrs. Charles Overton, Mrs. Bud Heitinga, and Mrs. Bobby Watkins assisted with the serving of wedding cake, mints, and punch at the bride's table which was covered with a white lace cloth over a green under cloth. Chocolate cake, nuts, and coffee were served by Mrs. Harold Merritt from the groom's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Hindi will be at home in Duran where Mr. Hindi is employed by the Hindi Sheep and Catt® Company.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta with tiers of tulle ruffles in the back falling into a train. Seed pearls and iridescent sequins adorned the Sabrina neckline. Her veil of illusion was attached to a ruffled lace cap with a white satin bow. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white silk roses, daisies, and baby's breath.

Hope McDaniel of Corona, maid of honor, wore a high waisted, floor length apple green dress with spaghetti straps and gathers in the back. The short, sheer apple green overblouse featured embossed daisies, bound neck and lower edges and long sleeves gathered into cuffs. Bridesmaids, Anna Hindi of Duran, sister of the groom, Sandra Key of Yeso, and Brandi Watkins of LaUnion, cousin of the bride, wore dresses identical to the maid of honor. Each carried a single yellow silk rose with baby's breath and yellow and green streamers.

Crystal Overton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Overton of Yeso, was flower girl. Ednin Hindi Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ednin Hindi of Albuquerque, was ring bearer.

Serving as best man was Ruben Montoya of Las Cruces and groomsmen were Joseph Hindi of Duran, cousin of the groom, Ron Merritt of Yeso, brother of the bride, and Braham Hindi of Corona, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a mauve floor length dress with a pleated skirt, sheer sash and a fitted bodice with a sheer pleated flounce attached to the neckline. The groom's mother wore an orchid floor length dress with a pleated skirt, self belt, lace bodice, long sheer sleeves and a sleeveless jacket of lace. Both wore corsages of white silk roses.

Music was provided by Peggy Miller of Vaughn, who played a medley of songs before the ceremony and sang "Till There Was You", Sunrise, Sunset, and "The Rose".

"Because We Don't See Them" Rotary Helps The Disabled

In 1915 in Elyria, Ohio, a physician asked the treasurer of his hospital if he could do something for crippled children. "Crippled children?" Edgar Allen responded. "Where are they? Jimmy's the only crippled child I have seen around here."

"We don't know how many there are," the doctor responded, "because we don't see them."

At that time many families hid their disabled children, never bringing them for medical attention because "hospitals" were thought of "only as places where people died."

United Nations International Year of Disabled Persons

The conversation between the doctor and Edgar F. Allen prompted a crusade that ultimately resulted in the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The crusade began when Allen, a Rotarian, contacted Rotary clubs in Ohio, enlisting them in a state plan for crippled children. The clubs formed the Ohio Society for Crippled Children in 1920. Their plan called for the identification of all crippled children within the state and the establishment of regional rehabilitation centers to serve them.

The "Ohio plan" worked so well that, in 1921, Allen formed the National Society for Crippled Children. With Rotary founder Paul Harris as chairman of its board of directors, the national society used its Rotary contacts to establish state societies throughout the U.S.

Now, more than 60 years later, Rotary clubs in the U.S. and around the world maintain their tradition of service to the disabled. Contemporary projects are many and varied. An employment program in Chicago, a camp for deaf children in Colorado, a vocational training center in North Carolina, and a mental health clinic in Missouri are just some examples.

The United Nations designated 1981 the International Year of Disabled Persons. Local, national and international organizations will be working to make the public aware of the needs and the abilities of the disabled. Rotary clubs will be among those joining in this effort.

Rotarians feel now, as they have for so many years, that disabled persons should never be denied a full, constructive life, "because we don't see them."

Cut Household Costs
With prices increasing faster than after-tax income, everyone needs to cut costs. Here are some tips that can save household money:

• Turn a recipe box into a cents-off coupon file-by category, not brand. Then when you need coffee, detergent, etc., it's easy to check what coupons you have.

• Try a profit-sharing plan to cut down on electricity and dry cleaning bills. As an incentive to the children to turn off lights and keep clothes clean, offer to split the savings against last month's bills.

• Put left-over soap sivers into a jar with warm water. Once you've accumulated a few sivers, stir well and you'll have a gentle liquid to use for hand washables.

• Look for household cleaning items that do the most or last the longest and are economical. For example, an automatic in-tank toilet bowl cleaner like Bowl Power™, from the makers of Lysol® products, deodorizes and helps keep the bowl clean, with clear water, for up to four months with little or no scrubbing.

• Distant dial phone calls; operator assistance costs an average of $1 more. To control costs, place an inexpensive timer near the phone. Long-distance calls start with a one- or two-minute minimum; decide how long you want to talk, set the timer, when the bell rings it's time to hang up.

YOUR GARDEN

To get your garden in shape after winter, a good idea is to use a heavyweight trash bag such as "Glad" to collect rocks, debris, weeds and other materials. They're also good for keeping and storing tools.

THEN: Holly Hobbie was a gifted young artist, married and with one child (now there are three) whose friends and family were blessed on birthdays and holidays by receiving greetings from her in the form of watercolors and drawings of delightful charm. One friend suggested she pack off a portfolio to a greeting card company just for fun. American Greetings Corp., which rarely accepts unsolicited artwork, decided to buy her designs and see what would happen. The first Holly Hobbie cards were marketed on a limited experimental basis. They caught on.

NOW: Holly Hobbie still favors friends and family with her drawings, and yet her art has made her name a household word around the world. One of Holly's most familiar designs, the one that has become virtually an emblem of her work, is the Blue Girl, the standing figure of a serene young girl in profile whose face is concealed by a fancifully large calico bonnet. Her blue bonnet and highlaced shoes, her patchwork apron and the bouquet of wild flowers in her hands, are evocative of a time whose simplicity and repose seem rare today. Holly's designs, a mainstay of American Greetings' card business, has been adapted to numerous products ranging from dolls and toys and season when people seem inclined to recall something sheets and wallpaper and of the spirit of an appealing items for collectors, of past.

This is Holly Hobbie, the character who has captured the hearts of the young and old all over the world.

This is Holly Hobbie, the artist who designed her, for greeting cards and a host of other similarly nostalgic items.

Weight Control News YOU CAN DINE OUT AND STILL STAY SLIM

A lot of people on diets just give up the whole enjoyable aspect of dining out, and that's a shame because a little common sense can keep you on the straight and slim.

All you have to do is alter a little of your thinking and a lot of your intake. It isn't that hard. Take a good hard look at how you feel, what you order, and be honest about your bad eating habits when dining. Then you can find ways of replacing them with good habits.

If a restaurant is known for its "magnificent, splendiferous desserts" and they are a pitfall for you, then don't go. Particularly if that's about all the place is famous for. Choose a restaurant with a variety of cooking where you can be sure of a choice of at least one or two broiled entrees. Stay away from the fried foods.

Don't rush into the meal. Relax. Have a vegetable or fruit juice cocktail or a non-calorie drink. If you want something alcoholic, try a wine and club soda, or fool yourself and have a club soda with a dash of biters and a twist of lemon.

Tell the waiter to skip the bread and butter because you know it won't skip you if it's on the table. When you're ready to order try not opening the menu: Ask the waiter to suggest a good

Homecoming Pep Rally

The Carrizozo Varsity Cheerleaders held a pep assembly Monday, October 12 at the Spencer Park. During the pep rally the queen candidates and the attendants were recognized. This year's homecoming candidates are Lisa Crenshaw, Monica Ortiz, Denise Vega and Leslie Whittaker. One of these four seniors will be crowned Homecoming queen Friday during the halftime of the Carrizozo-Mountainair game which will start at 2:30. The three attendants are Debbie Najer (fresh), Christetta Chavez (soph) and Dianna Silva (junior).

The whole community is urged to go to the game to support the football team and to watch the halftime activity of the crowning of the queen.

Zozo vs Tatum

The Carrizozo Grizzlies traveled to Tatum this past Friday to find Tatum was a tough team. Tatum was ready; and wanted to win this big game.

First quarter: the Grizzlies scored 6 points in a hurry with a big gain to the one yd. line, and Q.B. John Rousseau going over for the T.D. The extra point failed.

The Tatum team came back in a hurry to score 5 points and also failed on the extra point. The second quarter got harder for the Grizzlies by getting near the goal, and still not being able to score. But a field goal attempt by Joe Curtiss was made, and the Grizzlies made the score 9-6.

Then the Tatum team came back and right before the half to score a T.D. and extra point to gain a 14-9 lead at halftime.

The third quarter was a running battle for both teams and injuries on both sides occurred. No score was made by either team. The fourth quarter was another running battle between both teams, but Tatum got the break and they were looking for and scored a T.D. and extra point to win the game 21-9.

Outstanding players of the game were Matt Ferguson, Brian Vigil, Robin Beltran, John Vega, and Tim Vega.

FHA-HERO Leadership Camp

The Carrizozo FHA-HERO Chapter officers attended the Glorieta leadership camp October 2-4. Attending from Carrizozo were Lisa Cantrell, president; Robert Montano, vice president; and Carol Baum, Treasurer.

The conference started on Friday evening. Bill Caraway the 411 State executive council president highlighted the first general session, speaking on giving 100 percent of yourself, all the time.

During the second general session the state executive council presented a film on the national building project. The FHA-HERO chapters across the nation are trying to raise two million dollars to build a national building headquarters outside of Washington D.C. The major part of Saturday was spent going to various workshops. On Saturday evening the members were entertained at a talent show. The evenings fun was rounded off with a carnival. (Each district had a booth).

Sunday morning started off with an inspirational service followed by another workshop and the third and final general session which included a kangaroo court as the highlight. During the court the state executive council members were prosecuted for not doing their duties. The jury found them not guilty.

The highlight of the weekend was when Robert Montano won a pop-corn popper and the Carrizozo FHA-HERO Chapter received a case of popcorn. When District president Robert Montano was asked what he thought of the conference camp Robert said, "At first I was skeptical about going to Glorieta. I was also afraid of staying with people I didn't know, but I stayed with Bill Caraway, state 4-11 president and the director of the restaurant association and they were really nice people. The rest of the people just seemed to fall in place. I enjoyed it alot."

J.V. vs Estancia

Carrizozo's J.V. played Estancia's J.V. in football at Estancia Oct. 8. The Grizzlies traveled there with 14 players due to advancing 5 J.V. players to the Varsity squad for Tatum's game this last week. The Estancia team dressed 32 players for this game. It did not take long for the Estancia team to score against the JV team. The line could not hold, but did their best.

The all freshmen team of Carrizozo did well against the 2A school. The experience they got will help them next year. It is the name of the game to get as much experience as possible for the on-coming Grizzlies. Coach Peckinpugh does try to do this in all of his scheduled games.

The first half of the game was all in favor of Estancia 36-0. The second half the Grizzlies got near the goal, but penalties kept them from scoring.

Estancia scored only once in the whole second half because the Grizzlies were once again a team and stood solid - no matter what the odds would be.

Coach Peckinpugh stated that a lot has to be said about the Jr. Varsity team of Carrizozo - they are hard working, they give it all they got in practice, and even more in a game. They look for the time they will be varsity players. It is the experience now that makes them - winning is only a part of it. It is the desire to play, and learn from their mistakes, that will make them a good varsity player in the years to come.

This was the last game as J.V. for this year. The outstanding players are the Jr. Varsity team of Carrizozo for 1981:

Free-Style Poetry

This week I will continue with the fourth grade poetry:

"Painting" by Rachel Monreal
Painting is Creating
Creating is Painting
And I always thought
Painting was easy.

"When I am Mad" by Suzanne Saucedo
Where ever I go I go to get away.

From the world and crowd.
It happens whenever I get mad.
I get mad whenever something is sad.
When something is sad I'm never glad.
When something is sad.

"My Dog" by Stacy Ortega
I had a dog.
He was a color of a frog.
He ran and tripped over a log.
His mom died and he cried.
Then he prayed to God.

"Friends" by Cindy Silva
Friends are nice
Friends are kind
Friends are thoughtful
That is why I like my friends.

"Going on a Trip" by Ruben Gallegos
I went to Alamogordo yesterday
And I fell asleep while we were going.

On the way to Alamogordo
I woke up, and I saw,
A red barn with chickens,
cows, horses and pigs.

"My Dog" by Bo Tyres
My dog is like a log.
She sits in the fog.
But she is as big as a hog.
She doesn't like to jog.
She looks like a frog.

"Feelings" by Connie Najer
Feelings are good-feelings are bad.
There everywhere they were in your body
They're in your head

"Autumn" by Sabrina Padilla

Autumn is coming and you can tell - the leaves are falling on the ground.
Where there is a tree you can see
Some leaves falling softly to the ground.

"There was once a Cat" by Lisa Hightower
There once was a cat,
A fat cat,
And one day he saw a fat rat.
The cat sprang on the rat,
And then became a very fat cat.

"Winter is Coming" by Valerie Padilla
Pretty colored tree leaves
Falling all around.
Bringing us a message.
That winter is coming around.

Hello Mabel!
I was having my hair done last week and Liz MacVeigh was sitting under the dryer next to me, and next to her sat her grandson, Mathew Jordan MacVeigh - he was reading a book very quietly. I had had an argument just recently with a young mother about children's behavior. Then I did a little research.

It seems that the tide is turning. Many Psychologists are recommending standards for the child to live by and a pattern. Some Drs. are advocating back to basics approach to child rearing. Love can be directed in many ways, and love is established better if parents establish limits, understanding, care, and guidelines to be followed. Here are a few thoughts I have listed:

1. Consistency is very important.
2. Responsibility according to age. Chores that they must do every day, regardless of other activities.
3. They should have a time to come home. A curfew so to speak!
4. Reward and praise them for the things they do well.
5. Spank on very dangerous acts, only - like running in the street.
6. When a child is old enough to reason, Guide and help him to understand certain standards.

7. Do not make rules when mad. Evaluate what the child has done and why?

8. Life is made up of ups and downs, let your child take his own failures, not yours, but help him up to start again.

Well! It's worth thinking about Mabel!!!

FOR THE FAMILY!

The plant of the Month is Coleus (Easy to grow).

The coleus, a colorful window plant, is a member of the mint family and native to the East Indies. Many lovely shades are represented: green, yellow, red, brown, gold. Some are heart shaped, some oval. They are fun to have and need full sunlight and lots of water.

Some things to collect. Lots of people collect pitchers, thimbles, and other things. Here are some ideas: Baseball cards are very valuable now, Barbie and other old dolls are increasing in value - be sure and save them!

Also save old medicine bottle, ink, milk and soda bottles, they will be worth a lot too. Campaign collectables, buttons, posters, bumper stickers, Old advertising signs, match books, and Christmas and Valentine cards. Watch out for these things - they are an investment.

Now remember this Mabel!

Any time you can get solid wood furniture - buy it or keep it - Wood is very scarce!!!

DID YOU KNOW?

1. That the Jazzercise class is bigger - that's great!
2. About secret meeting in Estancia - ? (Two couples from Nogal)
3. That Hazel English is looking great and is back at work again.
4. Albuquerque is full of balloons again. A very outstanding event.
5. The mule races were also very exciting.
6. The Hurds (Peter and family) are having a showing at the Museum in Roswell - Try to go see it - if you can.

OK MABEL

HERE ARE YOUR JOKES

Our forefathers did without sugar until the 13th century, without coal fires until the 14th, without buttered bread until the 16th, tea or soap gas, matches or electricity until the 19th without cars, canned or frozen foods until the 19th. Now, what was it you were complaining about?

Attendant: Do you wish to consult with Wing Tong, Cong the great Chinese mystic? Lafa: yes; tell him his mother is here from the Bronx.

Red: I'd give a thousand dollars to anyone who would do my worrying for me.

Ted: You're on. Where's the thousand? Red: That's your first worry.

This week I have a Honey Pumpkin Pie for you:
1-9 inch unbaked Soya Carob of whole wheat flour pie crust

- 1 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin puree
- 1/4 cup frozen unsweetened orange juice
- 1 teas. cinnamon
- 1/4 teas. cloves
- 1/4 cup evaporated milk
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1/4 teas. ginger
- 1/4 teas. nutmet

1 tablespoon boiling water
Line pie pan with prepared pastry, but do not prick.

Beat eggs well in 3 quart bowl; blend in next Pumpkin, milk, honey orange juice, then place spices in a cup; measure in water stir to a smooth paste; then mix thoroughly into pumpkin. Put into pie shell, bake at 350 for 15 min. then at 300 until custard is done.

YES!! My question this week was - How do you trim grape vines. Answer: My Mother-in-law now deceased (Mrs. Burkstaller) told me to cut top off the main trunk then cut all the arms of leaves off that produced grapes - leaving about two spurs - then tie the arms up to the vine that didn't produce grapes this year - this is all you have to do.

THE LOVE BIRD SAYS!!

Dear Love Bird - I have a mother that is 84 and I am 65 - she is driving me crazy - bosses me all the time - like I'm 10 years old. What shall I do??

Dear L.T. When people get to be past 80 they become little girls again - and naturally you become younger too; just grin and bear it and try to avoid long visits!!

Thanks for the question; Send your notes to Robie Box 67, Nogal N.M. 88341.

NOGAL

Vera and Forest Streutz visited the Cospers this week. They came in their motor home and their grandson rode in the Mule races. Nogal was glad to have Alva Cospers Nephew and Niece.

Henrietta Cospers has been on two outings - one to the ranch and one to Ruidoso - we are glad she is feeling better.

To protest the amount of litter on our highways, Mr. Collins' Civics class at Capitan High School went out and picked up all the trash for about two-miles up the highway, out of Capitan.

As can be seen by the load on the pickup, the truck was pretty full for such a short distance of road - much worse than the class had figured. The class' message to the public is PLEASE DON'T LITTER! DO YOUR PART TO KEEP OUR COUNTRY BEAUTIFUL.

APPLE-TIZING CLEANERS: Dentists recommend apples as snacks because the fruit has value in preventive dentistry. Apples require thorough chewing. When eaten, the pulp literally sweeps over the teeth, between the teeth and over soft mouth and gum tissues. Dentists call apples detergent food. The apple even contains retain, a natural breath freshener.

The 1981 fall apple harvest in New Mexico will be one of the best in recent years, and near record yields are expected in some parts of the state. A good selection of apple varieties should be available through the fall and well into the winter.

Apples are also a versatile food. They blend flavorfully with nuts, vegetables, meats and other fruits. Dipped in lemon juice, they keep their fresh-cut look for eye-appealing fresh fruit dishes.

Congratulations

Congratulations are in order for Mozam and Audrey Calentine who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on October 3.

The Cardinal

The first quarter of the homecoming game was slow for both teams. The first score of the game was made early in the second quarter by Tom Perkins with a hand-off from Scott Mulkey. The extra point was made by Scott Mulkey. The score at the end of the first half was 7 to 0, Corona leading.

HALF-TIME the queen was crowned. The candidates were Yvonne Alirez escorted by Patrick Bliznak, Patricia Stewart escorted by Tom Perkins and Cammie McConnell escorted by Monty Pounds. The attendants were: Junior Becky Alirez escorted by Allen Kelley, Sophomore Deanne Cope escorted by Joe Miller, and Freshman Sabra Sultemeier escorted by Shawn Perkins. The flower girl was third grader Nancy Riley and the Crown Bearer was Jason Ramsey. The 1981 Homecoming Queen was announced by Brahim Hindi, Jr the Corona Head Teacher and Athletic Director. The Queen was Yvonne Alirez and was crowned by Student Council President, Scott Mulkey. She was presented with a dozen carnations - red and white.

The second half was started by the kick-off from the Hondo Eagles. The Hondo Eagles scored on their first possession of the football in the second half.

The Corona defense then forced a safety. On the ensuing kickoff Corona scored but it was called back with a clipping penalty. On a second play from the scrimmage, Tom Perkins ran 30 yards for the Cardinals second touchdown of the night. The extra point was made by Monty Pounds. This made the score 16-7. Hondo was forced to punt on their next possession of the ball. Scott Mulkey received the punt and ran a 45 yard return for a touchdown. The extra point failed. This left the score 23-7.

The next play by Hondo, Scott Mulkey intercepted the football. On Corona's next possession Tom Perkins ran for a 30-yard touchdown, the extra point was made by Tommy Worley leaving the score 30-7.

In the fourth quarter, on Corona's third possession of the ball, Tom Perkins threw a pass to Clay Lightfoot who ran it in for a 60 yard touchdown pass. The extra point failed. The score 36-7. On the last score of the game, Scott Mulkey ran in a 55 yard punt return leaving the score with the Cardinals winning the Homecoming game 42-7.

The Cardinals played some good ball in the second half. Allen Kelley sacked the quarterback and did some outstanding defensive playing. Monty Pounds also did some outstanding defensive playing with some exceptional hitting. The Cardinal team realizes that it takes the blocking and tackling of the entire team to be successful and they are all playing together this year which accounts for the outstanding team effort they have portrayed so far. WE ARE PROUD OF YOU CARDS!!

having several outstanding plays with all the defensive players playing very well all day, holding the School for the Deaf to a minimum of yards and rendering them scoreless.

The final score made the score 42 to 0 Cardinals. This next weekend the Cardinals have a very tough game as they travel to Roy to face the undefeated Longhorns. This is bound to be an explosive game with both teams going into it undefeated. Good luck Cardinals...

The Corona Cardinals also played the Hondo Eagles. The Eagles traveled to Corona for a game against the Cardinals, only to return home with a loss. The first game was a good one for the Cardinals. The girls showed a great amount of pep and enthusiasm which stayed with them all through the game giving them a score of 15-3, a Cardinal win. The Cardinals pulled through with another victory, with a score of 15-12. At present the Cardinals seasonal record is 5-1.

CARDINALS DEFEAT GRIZZLIES

AND EAGLES HOMECOMING
The Corona Cardinals traveled to Carrizozo for a volleyball game against the Grizzlies. The game began very slowly with the Grizzly team staying even with the Cardinals. The first game went to the Cardinals with a score of 16-14. The second game was a bad one for the Cardinals. Even though the Cardinals tried they couldn't seem to get their head in the game. The final score for the second game was 15-3, a Grizzly victory. The second game seemed to help the Cardinals finally work out the snags. With a lot of rawdy spikes and vicious serves by Margaret Bliznak, the Cardinals went on for a victory over the Grizzlies making their season record 4-1. This victory was the first of two for Corona Homecoming Week.

CARDINALS TAKE FIRST IN MAGDALENA TOURNAMENT

The first match for the Cardinals was against the Magdalena Steers. The first game went to the Steers with a score of 15-13. The Cardinals took an easy win in the second game with a score of 15-3. The third game the Cardinals came out on top with a score of 15-11.

The second match was with the Lake Arthur Panthers. The Cardinals won both games. The first game was 15-12, and the second game with an easy win of 15-3.

The third and final match the Corona Cardinals played the Quemado Eagles. The first game, the Quemado Eagles came out on top with a score of 15-13.

The second game the Cardinals went back on the court defeating the Eagles 15-11. The final game went to the Cardinals with a score of 15-4.
