Town Signs Agreement--

Arriba, Inc. Takes Over Recreational Facilities

The board of Trustees at a special meeting held last Monday evening, read a letter from the Department of Finance and Administration (DFA) addressed to town attorney Bill Payne. The letter was regarding the proposed agreement between the town and Lincoln County Arriba, Inc., a non-profit corporation.

The DFA letter stated that the attorney general's office had advised them that the proposed agreement is within statutory requirements. The letter added that the Local Government Division of the DFA approves of this arrangement and encourages the town to execute the agreement as soon as possible. The DFA is planning a visit to Carrizozo in the near future to assist in effecting the provision of the Arriba agreement.

With the written approval of the DFA, the town finally signed the agreement, thus officially turning over to Arriba the town's recreation facilities in and near Carrizozo. Arriba with county-wide expertise, donations and memberships plan to carry out the goal for which it was formed. Their primary purpose is to operate, maintain and preserve the town's recreational compound which serves the county of Lincoln.

On the agenda at Monday's special meeting was the discussion of the Jane Memorial Swimming Pool which is now under Arriba. Payne, Arriba president said that the local school is thinking of operating the pool. He said the pool could serve as a "physical educational instrument," on a long term basis not just for the summer. Jerry Koller, Carrizozo coach-teacher who has pool management experience, has agreed to head the pool staff. If an agreement can be reached the school could have the facility ready for public use by the first of June.

But.....Carrizozo Superintendent, Dr. James Miller Jr. who was present told the council that based on a review of the current condition of the facility, the school would not be advised to assume operation of the facility without a substantial improvement in its condition. Miller had a list of improvements on hand which were estimated to cost $6,000.

Miller reviewed expenditures and revenues of past years. The school is willing to invest $3,500 to put together a swimming program for this summer, but the major improvements he outlined are necessary before the district assumes operational responsibility for the pool and before the EID inspector will approve the pool for use.

Arriba feels that the pool's present condition is the responsibility of the town, and Arriba's after the facility is updated. Arriba requests that the cigarette tax revenue which has always been earmarked for the pool, continue to be reserved for the pool, along with the $1,500 which the county provides through a joint powers of agreement between the town and county. The board that evening signed this resolution which Payne will present to the Lincoln County Commission next week.

The town asked that another tour of the pool be conducted by both the school and town personnel. The town will review and consider money figures on repairs. The school district will review the school budget on May 5. The town set a May 4 special meeting at which time a decision on the pool's condition should have been reached.

Arriba's complete recreational compound includes the Rec Center located at Spencer Park, where the pool is situated and the Carrizozo Recreation Area, commonly called the 'golf course'. (Typographical error has on occasion called it the 'gold', course to the amusement of readers.) In addition to the 9-hole golf course the area also contains a playground, baseball diamond, tennis court and two lakes. The $40,000 borrowed from the State by the town is being utilized at this area by Arriba as it was originally borrowed for.

Following the bowling league season, the Rec Center will be closed for the summer. The Snack Bar there is not under lease at this time. It was contemplated that the library would remain in the Rec Center for at least the next two years and probably indefinitely. Opening day was near when the Center's closure was announced. It is not feasible at this time to keep the facility open only for library, pool table and game use.

Arriba's president, Bill Payne said that because the corporation has

Clean Air Week

Governor Bruce King has proclaimed May 3-9, 1981 as "Clean Air Week" in New Mexico.

This annual event is sponsored by the American Lung Association of New Mexico which considers air pollution a major health problem and has committed much of its resources in support of legislation and regulations to improve air quality in the state. Another activity of the Lung Association is to make the public aware of air quality issues through such educational efforts as "Clean Air week".

Project Termed Success--

Good Turn-out for Carrizozo 'Clean-up Day'

A very pleased Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce president expressed appreciation of the support showed by local merchants in Saturday's Clean-Up Day. Chamber president Scott Shafer was very pleased with the work of Clean-Up Chairman, Pat Vigil. The project included "lots of really good volunteer support by all citizens - young and old," said a satisfied Shafer.

The C of C sponsored event coincided with National Keep America Beautiful Clean-Up Day. More than 39 adults and 86 youths participated in Carrizozo's Annual Clean-Up Day. At press time chairman Vigil and his wife Jackie were still adding people's names to the long list of volunteers.

Various individuals, whole families combined forces with club and church members in the battle to 'spruce' Carrizozo up. An army of trash fighters reported for duty at 8 a.m. at the school cafeteria which became the base station.

After donuts, juice & coffee the infantry armed with hoes, rakes, and plastic bags headed for assigned battle fields. Marvin Rowan was base commander for the battalions. A signal corps was established between Rowan and Sheriff's Deputy Gilbert Archuleta. Communications through CB's kept those in the fronts supplied with bags, and pickup service.

Carolyn Cantrell made available stick-on Happy Faces for children. Rowan saw to it that the insisted forces were decorated with the insignias for service to their town in the battle against litter and weeds.

Bud Payne and his trustee tractor mowed unsightly vacant lots. The town workers under town foreman Emilio Beltran and the town fireman under fire Chief Albert Najjar worked throughout the day using department equipment.

Many adult supervisions, including wife - husband teams, and their assigned young soldiers combed their assigned areas for trash. Haylene Greer and Sally Baca supervised the New Horizons troop of group home volunteers.

Various individuals to numerous to mention worked behind the battle lines where needed. At the register table and cooking, serving, wiping, etc. Kelli Vigil was the 'teen volunteer' at the base station.

A noon lunch was provided by the Carrizozo Woman's Club, who provided an excellent stick-to-your-ribs meal of burritos, spanish rice, corn and cake.

An estimated 900 carnival tickets were earned by the youth at the clean-up. Clean-up Chairman Vigil, assisted by son Patrick named the all-age winners of the many generous door prizes donated by merchants.

In winning door prizes there is no sex discrimination. Although he isn't a house-husband, Bud Payne won an apron and pot holder. Bryan Wetzel won avon products and they don't cost chicken feed. Avon sells unisex fragrances, Bryan will still be pleased with his winnings. If Emilio Beltran sports a new hairdo this week it means he did not give the lady of his house his door prize - a shampoo and set at Sands Beauty Salon.

A list of all door prizes, donors and winners are as follows. Those who were winners and were not present for drawing may contact Lincoln County Insurance for information on how to obtain their door prize:

Permits at Ruidoso

Paul Gordon, ranger in charge of the Smokey Bear District of the Lincoln National Forest, announced today that all permits for forest products on the district such as fuelwood, christmas trees, wildings, etc., will be sold only at the district office in Ruidoso. Until recently the forest service has attempted to sell permits also at the administrative site in Capitan, however, money handling and personnel limitations no longer will allow this service to be provided.

Mail applications for fuelwood permits will still be provided in Capitan, Ruidoso and other locations for those who want to plan ahead and save a trip into Ruidoso. The Ruidoso office will normally be closed during weekends this fall. Mr Gordon said. "Therefore, we expect an increasing amount of mailed permit applications from those who cannot get a permit in Ruidoso during the normal, Monday through Friday business hours."

One of the Apaches Eve admired most, Asa Daklugie, nephew of Geronimo, is the subject of her own article in the April New Mexico Magazine.

The purpose of the program is to make money available to home owners who by reason of limited income and resources, are unable to secure or qualify for funds from other sources. Monthly low interest payments will be made to the town by home owners. The town will establish a bank account for this purpose. The returning money will be used to rehabilitate other houses. Grants will also be made to home owners, who need not ever repay the loan.

Quintana explained the HUD program in both English and Spanish. Applications will be taken in August.

Senator Pete Domenici Reports

Last week I had the opportunity to visit Utah International's Navajo Mine in Fruitland, N.M., northwest of Farmington on the Navajo Indian Reservation. Operating seven days a week, this mine, which is the fourth largest producer of coal in the country, produces nearly 8 million tons of coal a year, part of which runs the Four Corners Power Plant. Along with its sister mine, the San Juan, the mine employs 888 New Mexicans (75 Percent Navajo Indians) and pumps millions of dollars of revenue annually into the state's coffers through property, severance, and sales taxes, and user fees.

While on the tour I found out just how unfair and counterproductive some of the national strip mining regulations set down by the Office of Surface Mining are. Regulations now order strip-mined areas to be restored to their original condition. This causes many problems, especially when a single set of regulations is applied to variable environmental conditions. What seems perfectly harmonious in restoring the environment in an Eastern strip mined area is perfectly ridiculous in a Western strip mined area.

The area being strip mined was not wilderness, but rather public land, which was to be returned to a state suitable for grazing. Navajo sheep ranchers were grateful when Utah International replaced the edible vegetation and made the reclaimed land even better for potential grazing than ever before. They now had grazing land with more edible species of plants and the poisonous plants that were once a part of the land were never replanted.

But the Office of Surface Mining had other ideas and told Utah International that the land must be returned to its "natural state," that is, everything that was once there on the land had to be returned, including all of the original poisonous plants. Even worse, a New York study group determined that Utah International's reclamation project was the worst in the nation, and that the area should not be reopened until the land had been reclaimed using all of the original vegetation in the area. This report came from a group that had not seen the reclaimed area, but simply based their findings on a sampling of data gathered from the Office of Surface Mining.

Strip mining is essential for energy resource development in many areas of this nation, and the particular problems faced by this form of mining should be addressed on an individual, and not a nationwide, basis. Enforcing the same environmental standards for states as diverse as West Virginia and New Mexico is bound to be unfair to somebody.

We need regulations that are flexible enough to give every strip-mining site the opportunity to work in partnership with the local residents that live in the strip-mined area. If a wilderness area is strip-mined, then the area should be returned to its original state. Doesn't it make sense that local residents would be happier with restored land that was more useful to them than restoring the land to its less useful original state?

While on the tour of Utah International's coal mining operations; one of the guides took us to a site overlooking the entire operation. To one side, I could see the restored land, greener and more lush than any in the area. In front of me was the strip mining operations and to the other side was the natural landscape, a little sparser than the restored land. Off in the distance was a desert-like area known as the "badlands", where little vegetation grew and little grazing could be supported. A Congressman and a staff member from another state a few years ago had a tour with the same view and, looking at the parched "badlands", asked the guide when the mine was going to take care of that "real horrible stuff" over there. The guide apologized and said there was nothing the mine could do. "You see," he said, "God did that."

Musical at Capitan

"How the West Was Really Won" was presented by the combined 4-6 grade classes accompanied by the high school band at Capitan Schools April 13th and 17th. The musical was directed by Mr. Churchill Cooke with special assistance from teachers Mecca Aldridge, Pat Brooks, Barbara Cooper and Ric Higginbotham.

The setting was the United States from east to west during a time period of 1836 to 1900. Over 50 individual parts were performed in song and verse in the telling of Grace Hawthorne's story of the United States and its development.

The program originally was scheduled for April 13 and 14th but had to be postponed to the 17th as a thunderstorm knocked out electricity half-way through the Tuesday night presentation.

At the April 17th program, the Capitan Education Association raffled off a giant Easter Basket with the lucky winner being Mike Shanks-a 5th grade student who performed as a storyteller in the musical.

Capitan Schools will next present a Talent Show set for May 5th in the school gym at 7:00 pm.

Cancer Office to Close

Cancer patients and their families in a four state area will cease to receive free local assistance with their cancer related problems as of April 30. On that date the regional Cancer Information Office will close. All calls for counseling, information and financial needs will be taken in Rockville, Maryland at the National toll-free number 1-800-638-6894.

The office is ineligible for continuing funding because of a lack of affiliation with a comprehensive cancer center. There is no comprehensive cancer center in Colorado or any of its neighboring states.

"This closing most seriously affects people in the rural areas of Colorado, Montana, New Mexico and Wyoming," said Dr. Rose LeRoux, Director of the Cancer Information Service. "For many people in remote rural areas this office served as their primary link to timely cancer information and resources," she said. To date there are no plans to replace the service locally.

LISTEN IN!

It's Roble's Party-Line!!!
Hot off the Wire:

Hello Mabel! Listen to this! It's a good thought for TEACHERS OF ART!

The test of a good teacher is not the quality of her own work, but rather what her students produce. I think all teachers should periodically take stock and decide what kind of teachers we are.

Most students come with no art training, just a love for color and beauty. I believe that it is not enough to direct a student to "add a little pink here or there". We need to tell them why and to expect them to develop their own individuality. Our knowledge needs to be passed on to them in a step-by-step slow and easy way, so that they are painting independently. I believe that one of the goals is to help our students to be independent. Nothing should be withheld in basic principles or techniques. Many teachers keep their students in the dark. This stops progress!

Good teachers constantly expand their own horizons; develop new methods and techniques, experimenting with new materials, new facets of our art. There is always something to be learned by studying other teachers during demonstrations and seminars.

An effective teacher offers her students the five E's: 1) Experience, 2) Example, 3) Excitement, 4) Enthusiasm, and 5) Encouragement.

We must realize that we do not compete with each other - but only with ourselves. We should constantly strive to perfect our art and our own techniques. These qualities will improve all art.

FASHION - FUN WISDOM FOR THE FAMILY!
Try a May basket - Make it out of an old basket any shape any color, decorate with buttons and bows and fill it with goodies. Take it to a neighbor or a sick friend. A new plant for May is a begonia, it blooms most all the time and makes rosetta-like clusters of flowers. They can be put outside after all danger of frost is past.

Last week we suggested shorts and now the popular thing is large blouses - floppy sleeves, loose and colorful with your peasant skirt. MABEL THINK ABOUT THIS!

As a general rule, the most successful man in life is the man who has the best information.

ON A COLLEGE CAMPUS: "To heck with marrying a girl who makes biscuits like her mother. I want to marry one who makes dough like her father."

Maybe you young adults would like some country music - Glen Campbell's "Southern Nights", or Crystal Gayle's "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue" - you can get some good tapes from the Reader's Digest, Pleasantville, NY 10670.

If you gardeners would like something easy to clean your weeds with, ask for the garden weasel. It does everything - they are new - you can get them at Scaggs and other stores.

LET'S GO VEGETABLE!
I have heard many reasons for adding and eating more vegetables to the diet. Some want a change, some want low cholesterol, some want to lose weight. Here is a special one.

Make a pastry boat first, then you can fill with salad.

In a two-quart pan, bring water, butter, and salt to boil. When butter melts, remove pan from heat and add flour all at once. Beat until well blended. Return pan to medium heat and stir rapidly for one minute or until a ball forms in middle of pan and remove pan from heat. Beat in eggs, one at a time, until mixture is smooth and glossy. Add cheese and beat until well mixed. Spoon into a greased 9 inch round pan with removable bottom. Spread evenly over bottom and sides. Bake in a 400 oven for 40 minutes or until puffed and brown; leave in oven to dry. These are nice to use for fresh salads of all kinds. Next week we will have some good salad recipes.

DID YOU KNOW?
That one half of your face tells one story and the other half another? Just look in the mirror.

That there is a Home wracking service - a team of men who tear down homes with Karate?

That a certain Lady in Nogal is looking very trim and thin? (She teaches.)

That a Bill Payton was here for a visit?

That Urban Crouse is a new man with his "Pace-maker"?

Mabel if you want to write down the following, you might

LIKE TO GO TO...

Tularosa May 1-3 to the Rose festival.

Carlsbad - Music Festival May 9-10, and 22.

Las Cruces May 15-17, Square Dance Festival. Everyone is welcome.

Cloudcroft May 23-24 is the 5th annual May Fair Arts & Crafts festival. Art, entertainment, food, dances.

You missed an excellent humorous talk, that Eve Ball gave in Fort Stanton Saturday night. Several guests were presented, one of which was Dr. Humes and his wife from Nogal.

A SPECIAL HAPPENING IN NOGAL

Opel Greer and many other residents are adding some crafts and goodies to the store for the summer; take a look - you might want something.

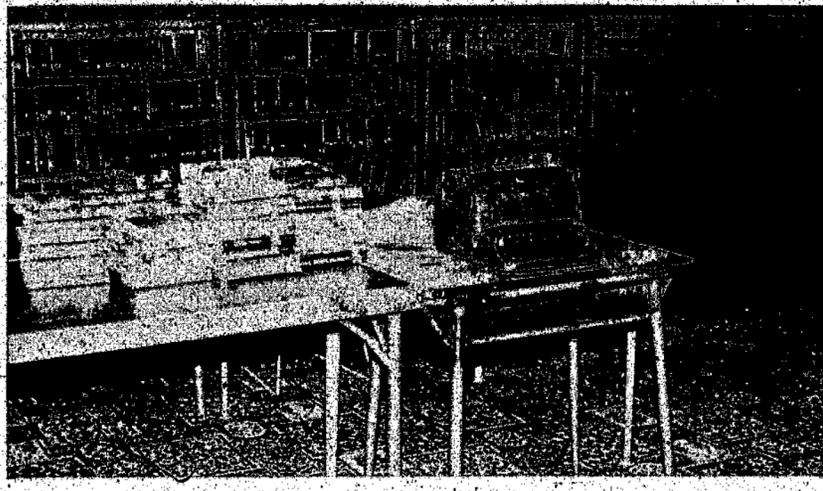

Noticed a new shop on the way to the Post Office, full of motor-cycles. Looks like a busy place.

Question and Answer Service...

HOW ABOUT SCORPIONS: HOW DANGEROUS ARE THEY?

They are dangerous. Sometimes they are called "stinging lizards". This causes some people to think they are lizards, which is not true. Not all scorpions are deadly. Children under 4, unless prompt action is taken could die from a single sting of one particular species. Older children could die from several stings, and adults, especially those in poor health, may suffer serious injuries. The deadly forms have been found only across the southern portion of the State and in the Grand Canyon. The deadly species is about 2 inches long, is straw colored, and is very streamlined in appearance to the chunky stubby ones that are non-deadly.

The Corona Extension Club met at 10:00 a.m. Thursday, April 22nd in the recreation room. President Denise Byrd introduced four 4-H'ers who attended the Teen-Age Get-away or the legislative session. Roe Ann Alford and Shannon Byrd gave interesting reports on their experiences at the Teenage Getaway camp at Goriotta. They toured Santa Fe one day, saw the legislature in action, visited the Old Church and Loreita Chapel and were impressed as always by the spiral staircase. Clay Lightfoot and Tom Perkins gave interesting reports also. They served for a week as pages to Senator Charlie Lee of Otero and Lincoln Counties. After that they conducted a question and answer session. Following this the four students enjoyed refreshments and returned to classes.

After a hamburger luncheon at the school cafeteria the meeting was called to order and the creed was read by Betty Russell. It was decided to take part in the Summer Festival the second Saturday in August and to give a scholarship again this year. The club will raffie a quilt and a vegetable basket at the Summer Festival. Tickets on the quilt will be one dollar and on the basket fifty cents. Proceeds will help with the scholarship to be given to a graduating senior.

Mrs. Harold Shumate and J. L. Rogers came from Roswell to spend three days last week at the Sharp ranch. Tuesday Lets, Lee and Jim went to Belen to visit with Mrs. W. S. Dishman. Mrs. Dishman is gaining strength and wants all her friends to know how much she appreciates hearing from them on her birthday. Guests in the Mack Bell home for the Easter weekend who helped Dan celebrate his birthday included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heckandorn, Jodie, Julie and John of Tucuman and Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips of Las Cruces.

Friends have learned of the recent death of Burette Small, a former resident of the Corona area. Mr. Small is survived by his wife, Viola, of the family home in Farmington, three sons and one daughter among others.

Cedar Temple No 28 met Monday afternoon with MEC Leta Sharp in charge of the ritual. Reports were received and plans were made for a May luncheon meeting. Lee Shumate was high bidder for the mystery package which was opened to disclose a pretty hot casserole carrier. Only coffee and tea were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Donohue returned Saturday night from Phoenix where they had been to see Jack's mother.

Mrs. Cecilia Sena attended a postmasters convention in Albuquerque last week.

home part will be Sasebo, Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nunn and Mickey left Monday for their new home at the Transwestern station at Laguna.

The Chaparral 4-H'ers are appreciative of all those who supported their dance and cake and pie auction Saturday night.

When Applying for Social Security Benefits Use the Phone

"Social security is as close as your telephone," according to Val Hudson Assistant District Manager in Roswell.

"Although everyone uses the telephone to make appointments and reservations, not enough people realize what a fast, economical way it is to apply for social security benefits, too," Hudson said.

"Our office has a special unit set up to take all types of applications," he noted.

"By using the telephone, you will not only save time and energy, you'll save the frayed nerves caused by a wait in the office," he explained.

"Besides that, you'll be where the documents and information are and not have to run home to get them," he added.

"The procedure is simple," Mr. Hudson explained. "You call 822-7780 to apply for benefits and a special teleclaims expert asks you the necessary questions, records your answers on the forms, and mails it to you for your signature and return with any necessary documents in the self-addressed envelope provided. Your documents are returned after being photocopied."

Hudson also explained that since applications by telephone are accomplished so quickly, many employers are allowing their retiring workers to call from work to apply.

He suggested the best time to call the office is in the afternoon during the latter half of the week and month.

Lincoln National Forest News

Lincoln National Forest fire prevention personnel will be out in force this weekend, reminding Spring turkey hunters and campers to be especially careful with their cooking campfires, because the danger of forest fire is listed as high in both the Smokey Bear and Mayhill Ranger Districts.

In the Smokey Bear District, at Ruidoso, fire danger is listed as high, but there are no restrictions. Water level in the streams is up slightly; but the level in Bonito Lake is a little low. Fishing pressure is heavy in Bonito Lake. Cedar Creek Picnic area is open, as is Three Rivers Campground. The remaining campgrounds will open May 15. All trails in the White Mountain Wilderness are open, but there may be some snow in shaded areas. Temperatures are ranging from the high 30's to the 60's. Roads in the District are in good condition. All fuelwood areas except 2 are open.

At Cloudercroft, fire danger is moderate. The Joplin Ridge Fuelwood Area is open. It is a charge area. Silver Campground, and the Silver Over-flow Area are both open, but there is no water and no fees being charged. Bailey Canyon Road is open. Other roads are in good condition, but there may be some isolated muddy spots. The part of the Rim Trail, from a mile south of Alamo Peak Road to Atkinson Field, is closed. Maintenance work on the upper portion of Dog Canyon Trail is in progress. Temperatures range from the 20's to the mid 60's.

On the Guadalupe District, at Carlsbad, fire danger is moderate. Temperatures are ranging from the 60's to the mid 80's. Sitting Bull Falls Picnic Area is receiving heavy use all week. Trail and road conditions are good. Road work is continuing on Forest Road 540, and intermittent road construction is continuing on Forest Road 57, the Rim Road. Motorists should use caution in these areas. The public should also remain alert to changing weather conditions, possible high winds, and rattlesnakes.

At Mayhill, fire danger is listed as high. Fuelwood areas are open. Turkey season ended April 26. James Canyon Campground is receiving moderate use. Fishing is fair in Penasco River and Bear Canyon Dam. Roads are dry.

News Briefs...

Art Friend

Representative John Bigbee was the recipient of the New Mexico Art Education Association's "Friend of Art Education" award for 1981. The award was presented at the Spring Conference of the NMAEA in Alamogordo March 27th.

Representative Bigbee sponsored arts education legislation which provided for training in the arts for elementary school teachers. Since New Mexico lacks professional arts teachers at that level, elementary teachers must teach their own arts curriculum. Representative Bigbee's vigorous support of this bill, while failing to secure its passage, is deeply appreciated by arts educators, who plan to resubmit the legislation next year.

King in Santa Rosa

Governor Bruce King will participate in ceremonies to dedicate Santa Rosa Lake State Park and Santa Rosa Dam on Thursday, May 23, beginning at 10:30 a.m. New Mexico's congressional delegation has been invited to take part in the ceremonies also, to be held near the recently-completed Santa Rosa Dam some seven miles north of Santa Rosa. Natural Resources Department secretary Bill Huey will represent the State's Park and Recreation Division at the event.

Santa Rosa Lake State Park is the first State Park in Guadalupe County and the 38th in the New Mexico State Park system. The new 12,425 acre park is located at the southern end of the Santa Rosa Reservoir, which, when filled, will provide 15,618 surface acres of water for recreational use.

The park's two recreational sites - The Rocky Point Recreation Area on the west side of Santa Rosa Dam, and the Juniper Park Recreation Area east of the dam - offer a total of 67 campsites, 16 of them equipped with electrical hookups. The Rocky Point site also features a modern comfort station with showers.

An old timers' reunion, complete with fiddling, harmony, square dancing, blue grass, Championship Indian dances, quilting, and weaving demonstrations, bar-b-que luncheon and an evening public dance will be held in the mountain community of Cloudcroft, New Mexico on Saturday, May 9. Co-chairmen of the event are Mary Mitchell and Ruthann Carner.
 The day long activities will begin in the open area west of the Cloudcroft Schools with Championship Indian dances being performed by the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America, Yucca Council. The Scouts have won national recognition for their skill when performing. Later in the day, the Scouts will do a special dance for the "honored old timers". An explanation of the dance will be given by Mike Ramirez, El Paso.
 Area musicians will entertain those present with lively country music. Among the fiddlers will be A.J. Fisher. The Rocket City String Band will play blue grass. Raymond Samford will play guitar. Other musicians are encouraged to join in.
 A bar-b-que luncheon will be served between noon and 1:30 pm at the Cloudcroft School gymnasium. The cost will be $4 per person. One lucky lunch ticket holder will receive a Puma Indian piece of pottery donated by M.A. Ramirez. Carbon analysis has revealed the pottery to be between 300 and 1100 years old.
 Immediately following the luncheon, eleven old timers will be honored. Each will be presented by a relative who will read a brief history of the old timer. Those to be honored are as follows: Nora Carner, presented by Ruthann Carner; Lulu Bonnell, presented by Lois Fuller and Bryan Fuller; Walter Harris, presented by Walter Harris, Jr.; Edna Stephens, presented by Beth Runyan; Edith Atkins, presented by Oza Holcomb; Katharin Brownfield, presented by Larry Jernigan; Brooke Jones Bennett, presented by Mrs. Buddy Bennett; Winnie E. Pittman, presented by Josephine Frilick

Harrison; Nellie Jones Chalk Danley presented by Thelma Akers; Etta Griffin, presented by James (Mack) Griffin; Emma Lewis, presented by Flo Bell Diristo. Each honoree will be presented with a plaque inscribed with the motto of the Society, "To the early settlers, whose perseverance in the presence of adverse circumstances enabled them to survive and leave this heritage, we dedicate this historical museum".
 Each of those to be honored this year is over ninety years of age. The two previously honored old timers are W.A. "Mr. Billy" Gage and Cressie Dockray.
 Following the recognition ceremonies, Mary Mitchell will pay tribute to the eleven honorees with a solo variation on "What a Difference You've Made In Our Lives". The Indian dancers will then perform a special dance in recognition of the old timers.
 The afternoon activities will offer harmony by the Sweet Adelines and square dancing by the Cloudcroft Dancin' Bears. A number of authentic "old time" fashions will be worn and displayed for public view.
 Throughout the day, there will be sales of potted plants by the Cloudcroft Garden Club and baked goods, canned goods, handmade items, as well as white elephant sales to benefit the pioneer village building program.
 At 3pm there will be a raffle of an Afghan made and donated to the Society by Irene Pittman.
 The Cowbells will demonstrate various old time arts and Isabelle Davis and Tempie Cox as well as the Mayhill Extension Club will demonstrate quilting. LaLuz weaver, Frieda Hererra will demonstrate Navajo rug weaving and Nell Morris will demonstrate the art of crocheting.
 A western dance will be held from 9 pm-1 am at the Cloudcroft Firehall. Music will be provided by the "Country Kings", a local group. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $3.00.

The Reunion, sponsored by the Sacramento Mountains Historical Society is an annual event held on the Mother's Day weekend in May. The Society, whose purpose it is to help preserve the history and tradition of the Sacramento Mountains, recently received statewide recognition from Governor and Mrs. Bruce King and the New Mexico Office of Voluntary Citizen Participation for "outstanding services it has rendered to the citizens of New Mexico in 1980."
 Aubry Danni will be Master of Ceremonies.
 The public is invited to attend the day long activities and encouraged to wear old time attire.

Fishing Excellent
 "There are some fishing hotspots this week in New Mexico," says Jim Knight, Extension wildlife specialist for New Mexico State University. Knight's predictions are based on information gathered by the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish.
 In the northeast part of the state, Conchas Lake should produce some good walleye and crappie fishing, Knight says. For walleye, fish the 5-10 foot depths using dool flies or shad-like lures. Try jigs, minnows and doll files for the crappies.
 The best trout producer in the northeast part of New Mexico is Eagle Nest Lake. Use corn and salmon eggs from shore or Panther Martin lures when boat fishing.
 In the northwest part of the state, Bluewater Lake should produce some nice catches of large trout. Use spinners, corn or salmon eggs, Knight says.
 In the southeast, Bonito Lake is a good bet. You can expect nice catches of rainbows using salmon eggs or worms, the NMSU specialist says.
 Lake Roberts and Wall Lake look good in the southwest part of the state. Fireballs can catch some nice trout in both lakes. Worms also attract large trout at Wall Lake.
