CARRIZOZO--CAPITAN-- Home Openers This Friday

After nine long months of waiting, for all the avid Class A football fans, the 1981 football season is finally here.

All of the Class 'A' teams with the exception of Tatum will open their season Friday, September 4. Tatum will open its season on the following Friday the 11th. Defending champion Reserve Mountaineers (10-0 last year) is again being picked to take all the marbles this year Reserve with a new coach this year. Billy Richards, will open their season against 'AA' Zuni on Friday and will return 9 starters both on offense and defense from last year's undefeated club.

Mel Holland's bunch at Capitan and Jerry Koller's group from Carrizozo, will both be trying to slow down the Reserve single-wing in District 1A--Mountainair, the other team in this district and coached by Tom Summerlin, will have a hard time improving on last year's 1-7 season mark. Capitan, the runnerup to Reserve last year, will be trying to keep the momentum it pickup towards the latter part of last season. Although they will have to do it with fewer people because of a small squad (23 at last count).

Carrizozo, will be fielding a senior oriented club on the field this year, with a few juniors and sophomores filling in the gaps. As with Capitan the Grizzlies whole season is bunched up in its last three games of the year when they meet district foes Mountainair, Reserve and Capitan on the 16th, 23rd and 30th of October.

Capitan meanwhile meets Reserve, Mountainair and Carrizozo on those same three dates. The Tigers open their season at home against District 2A foe Cloudcroft, who is coming of a 1-9 season and is rated at the bottom of its' district, although they gave everybody a tough game last year. First year coach Rick Arias is nevertheless shooting for a .500 season or better.

Carrizozo, also will open at home, against the pick of Dist. 2A, the Texico Wolverines --who are reportedly still smarting from the 8-0 defeat which the Grizzlies handed them on their home field in last year's season opener.

The Grizzlies with plenty of size in the line should muster plenty of defense to stay with anybody on their schedule if their starters stay healthy. The local team's biggest problem will probably be finding a quarterback who can put some points on the scoreboard. How the Grizzlies do in their first game will go a long way in determining what kind of season they will have. After taking a breather the week of Sept. 11 Koller's squad will take on the likes of 'AA' Estancia and Hatch, followed by always tough Tatum, Reserve and Capitan.

Capitan's schedule doesn't look any easier, as the Tigers have to hit the road for games against the Alamogordo Sophomores, followed by a game at Hagerman where the Bobcats always play their best football, after their opener against Cloudcroft. Tatum, 'AA' Fort Sumner and Reserve will follow at home, before finishing off the season with the Grizzlies at Carrizozo. A big problem for Coach Holland will be to make sure he has enough healthy bodies every Friday and especially for the last three games of the season, before he even thinks about anything else. Injury list will probably determine what kind of success the Tigers have.

Picking a winner at the beginning of the season usually doesn't mean a thing, so we'll wait until second-half of the season starts on Oct. 9th, before we make our picks. Our hopes are that both Capitan and Carrizozo make it through the whole season without any injuries and that both teams play up to the best of their capabilities every game; that the refs have a good angle on every play; and that coaches don't get the words psych and motivation mixed up! GOOD LUCK!

"Retire in Carrizozo" - the caption stated on the ad that the Economic Development Committee placed in Retirement Life, a publication for federal employees. The committee gave their report at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last Tuesday at the Four Winds Committee secretary, David Lynch and member Sheila (Betty) Fields demonstrated to the Chamber that the committee's response to the ad was over a foot high!

'Over A Foot High'--

116 Respond

The Economic Development Committee of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce replied to each of the one hundred sixteen families who have written thus far requesting information about Carrizozo, making a stack of letters over a foot high!

The content of each envelope, held by Committee member Dr. Sheila Fields, consists of a letter composed by Committee members Dr. Fields, Rene Burton and secretary David J. Lynch, along with 4 separate brochures reciting information about Carrizozo and Lincoln County. In many instances personal notes were added for inquirers who asked for information not contained in the brochures.

"I am truly amazed at the responses to our display ad in National Retirement Life Magazine," said attorney Donald J. Wall, chairman of the Committee, who is confident that the Chamber's efforts through the Committee will bring some of those interested families to live here.

The State recently awarded the Chamber $7,000.00 in matching funds to assist in the promotion of its economic development. "We hope the chamber will be able to enlarge membership contributions so that we can use all that is made available to us," said Mr. Wall.

Kid Tested

These no-bake nutritious candy-cookies require only 4 ingredients; 1/2 cup packed brown sugar, 1/2 cup chunky peanut butter, 1/4 cup plus 3 tablespoon evaporated milk, and 2 1/4 cups crisp rice cereal.

In medium saucepan combine sugar, peanut butter and milk. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly till sugar is dissolved and peanut butter is melted. Remove from heat; stir in cereal. Rub margarine on hands, when mixture is no longer hot, roll into 'jack ball' size pieces.

Place on wax paper covered cookie sheets. Let cool in refrigerator. Caution--kids will swipe the candy-cookies when they get their 'dwind' of water.

Dream is Over

This past Monday you could have heard the shudder click as observers stood quietly in anticipation of the announcement of the winning ticket of the playhouse at New Horizon Developmental Center. A NEWS picture was taken as Mary Rich Adams, board president held the raffle tickets in a box for legislator, Maurice Hobson, of Alamogordo.

Dolly Luera was the winner of the completely furnished playhouse. Dolly, who was informed by phone that she had won said, "I've never won anything". She bought one ticket from Bill Portillo. Dolly is a secretary in the appraisal department at the courthouse. She and her husband, Mike, who is employed in Ruidoso have a son, Michael Paul age 8 and a daughter, Rose Ann age 17.

By the Way

It was Charlotte Richards of Fort Stanton that was the winner of 'Miss Veronica' a cloth doll made and donated by Ann Rhodes on behalf of Capitan senior citizens. The life-size doll was raffled off Aug. 22 during the Lincoln County Fair. Miss Veronica traveled all over the country, including the pot luck in Carrizozo in honor of Zia Senior citizen staff. She was a part of Old Lincoln Days as Bessie Jones spinned wool near by. Gertrude Huey and Bessie of Capitan were seen with Miss Veronica at the fair building on August 21 at the County fair.

The $90.00 or so proceeds of the doll raffle will be used for part of the expenses in moving the future home of Capitan seniors to a permanent location, donated by the Village of Capitan. The building was donated by Capitan schools.

Johnson's birthday was the following day and the supper served also to celebrate that event. On hand were the Gibson's daughters, Joana and Lori; Mae Snafer and Bob and Sue Stearns, and their sons Steven and Johnny Bob.

Purely Personal

I was amused this week when I received through the postoffice an envelope addressed to "Newspaper Polly". The sender wanted to be sure that the 'right' Polly Chavez received the statement. Although I am not related to the other Polly, we share the same maiden name-Sanchez and we are both married to a 'Nat'. "Newspaper Polly" (that's me) has been associated with the NEWS since 1973, when I began writing a weekly column, 'Polly's Bulletin Board' which consisted of household humor, sibling rivalry and kid antics. My very first column eight years ago began: "Welcome to my bulletin board, where weekly I will be bringing you a little of this, that and the other. I've decided to name this column 'Polly's Bulletin Board' because I have three bulletin boards in my kitchen. They are overflowing with clippings on households hints, quickie food recipes, crafts from trash, unusual news events, cartoons and jokes. I am clip crazy! I live in fear of the baby finding a stray thumb tack."

Through my columns, I passed on to readers the information obtained from my bulletin board. With the addition of local personal news, birthdays and other announcements, the column became known as 'Polly's Potpourri', which was hard for readers to pronounce.

Two more babies and eight years later, I continue to use the same format for my columns, only now it goes by the heading, Post Script. (For those who have lost count, I have a total of six children, one who is now an adult). I continue to encourage readers to share their own bulletin board clippings through Post Script.

Somewhere along the line I also started to take pictures and write news and feature stories. I've attended countless potluck dinners, meetings, church events, installations, fairs, open-houses, ribbon-cuttings and other events since I first began taking pictures and writing 'other' news way back then. My most memorable experience was last year's Billy the Kid pageant. Following the Sunday performance, the audience was invited to visit the cast on stage. I went forward with the crowd to take additional pictures and get NEWS information. It was there, wearing one of my favorite long dresses and holding my faithful umbrella that a tourist and his young son asked me for my autograph. They thought that I had a part in the play.

With a puzzled Sheriff Brady (Forest Gaston of Capitan) standing nearby, I signed the program handed to me. I couldn't bring myself to explain that I wasn't who they thought I was. Somewhere in Texas there is a dad and his son with a souvenir pageant program listing the cast and wondering: "Who is Polly E. Chavez?"

Georgia Hutchinson of Capitan placed first at the county fair with her indian maiden work of art. The ceramic (glaze over glaze) is a circulating water fountain. Georgia was owner of 'Georgina's' in Capitan.

Art Exhibit at La Luz

Anne and Gene Norris will display their individual and collaborative art work in an exclusive Gallery La Luz showing on Sept. 13, 1981.

New paintings and drawings depicting Southwestern culture be the principle theme and a variety of subjects done in several media will be on display. Indians, landscapes, adobes and other familiar New Mexico sights will be in abundance.

Mr. Norris is a professional illustrator of note and now resides in La Luz, New Mexico with his wife Anne. His work history is extensive and complete in the Graphic arts and his dedication to the arts has been uninterrupted for over forty years.

In the studio one may see much evidence of a singular fixation with creative art production and at this showing at the Gallery La Luz, the fruits of their labors may be seen.

Anne and Gene share their enthusiasm for the cultural phenomena which is so obviously a part of New Mexico living. They spend long hours in their La Luz studio bringing their ideas to life on canvas.

The public is cordially invited to attend this reception Sept. 13

At Fort Stanton--

86 Bird Species Listed

Fort Stanton, the frontier military outpost that once protected settlers from Indians - and sometimes even from each other - now has another mission. It is a sanctuary for vagrant shrews, big-eared bats and 86, count 'em, 86 kinds of birds.

The fort, nestled on 27,000 acres of rolling foothills between the Sierra Blanca and Capitan mountains, was abandoned by the Army in 1896. Later, part of it was used as a tuberculosis sanitarium and part was turned over to the Bureau of Land Management (BLM).

In 1963, New Mexico State University's Agricultural Experiment Station signed an agreement with the BLM to use the area as a ranch for livestock, wildlife and range research.

The Fort Stanton Experimental Ranch is one of the nation's rangeland areas set aside for ecological research by the U.S. Experimental Ecological Reserve System.

Because the ranch's terrain varies from narrow, rocky canyons and rolling hills to wide mesas, it attracts a wide range of birds and animals, making it something of a western ecological paradise.

However, just how many feathered and furred species live on the ranch has never been documented. Recently, NMSU graduate students Ross Hier, fishery and wildlife sciences, and Thomas Thompson, biology, tackled the job.

"We were surprised at the diversity of the birds, and mammals we found," said Hier. "We expected to see about 70 bird species but instead we recorded 86. I'm sure we missed some smaller species such as some hummingbirds," he said.

Hier attributes the high number to the wide range of habitat found on the range. The grasslands attracted 12 species including Montezuma quail, western meadowlark, and rufous-crowned sparrow.

The riverbank of the Rio Bonito provided water and cover for killdeer, yellow-rumped warbler and six other species. Other birds found juniper important for feeding, courtship, nesting and winter cover. Pinon-pine also provided important nesting cover.

Fort Stanton is widely recognized for its mule deer population, but the range is also home to some tiny critters as well, according to Hier and Thompson. Nine species of mice, as well as gophers, bats and the vagrant shrew share the pinon-pine habitat with bobcats, pronghorns, elk and bears. In all, the researchers identified 35 species of mammals.

Hier said the checklist is the first systematic identification ever made at the ranch and can be used as a scientific foundation for other research.

He said the checklist is especially valuable now because the area around Fort Stanton is being developed at such a rate that population pressures are bound to affect bird and animal habitats. "Now," he said, "at least we have some measure of the bird-mammal diversity of the range."

Persons interested in the list may obtain a copy of "A Preliminary Checklist of Birds and Mammals, Fort Stanton Experimental Ranch," Research Report 445, from the county Extension office or by writing the Bulletin Office, Box 3A1, Las Cruces, New Mexico 88003.

Zozo vs Texico

Saturday September 23 the Carrizozo Grizzlies scrimmaged the Alamogordo Sophomore team. Head coach Jerry Koller said that the scrimmage went well. The Grizzlies had some bright spots and some spots that could have been better, but over all Mr. Koller was pleased with the boys performance.

This scrimmage was like a run-up for the upcoming game with Texico. The game will be held here in Carrizozo Friday September 4 and our boys will be ready to win.

Mr. Koller gave me his viewpoints on the game saying, "the team with the fewest mistakes will win. The game will be tough all the way to the end as last years match against Texico and it won't be a high scoring game, either." Mr. Koller said the basic thing for the Grizzlies to do is stop their option and passing game. "If we play like we know how, we'll come out on top."

Volleyball Season

The Carrizozo Volleyball team looks strong this season, after having a good season last year by taking first at district and placing third at regionals. The team has several returning players who will continue to contribute tremendously to the Carrizozo offense and defense. The returning players are Lisa Cremshaw (Sr.), Denise Vega (Sr.), Rosie Lueras (Sr.), Christeta Chavez (Soph.), Brenda Baroz (Soph.), Stacy Stephenson (Soph.), Bonnie Jo Sheppard (Soph.), Geneva Maxwell (Soph.), and Roxanne Gabel (Soph.).

Players who are new this year are Michelle Vermillion (Sr.), Brenda Koller (Soph.), Stephanie Saucedo (Soph.), Lynn Gallacher (Frosh.), Anna Lueras (Frosh.), Nancy Salazar (Frosh.), Kim Payne (Jr.).

The Carrizozo volleyball team started practice about two weeks ago and has shown a great deal of improvement in skills and attitude.

The Carrizozo volleyball season opens September 8 with a game at Vaughn against their varsity and J.V.

We urge all parents and the community to come and give our volleyball team the support they need to have a successful season.

It's time now that we recognize the Carrizozo Jr. High volleyball team. The team has eight players and a manager. The players this year are Linda Ortiz (8), Liz Beltran (9), Karen Baroz (7), Theresa Guevara (7) and their manager Tammi Barnes. The Jr. Grizzlies are coached by Veda Lou Stephenson. They have been scrimmaging the J.V. and they look good, it should be a good year.

All their games will be held in October. They play Tularosa October 2, Capitan October 15; Capitan October 20, and Tularosa October 30. That will conclude their season.

The FHA here had their new members party Monday August 31, 1981 at the Home-Ec Room at 7:00. It was a great success twenty members showed up. Lisa, the President this year started the meeting off by selecting officers. We chose 4 new officers plus our vice Pres., Robert Montano Secretary Stephanie Saucedo and Treasurer Carol Baum our other officers are Liz Beltran, Marina Baca, Rosie Lueras, and Geneva Maxwell. We had a film of what FHA is about; then we closed our meeting with the FHA Creed. Later we had refreshments that the members from last year had brought. Fee Increases on Livestock Inspections Go Up September 1

Inspection fees on horses, cattle, sheep, goats, pelts and hides will go up September 1, Dogie Jones, executive director of the New Mexico Livestock Board reminded livestock producers today. Jones says the 5 cent increase on cattle and horses is from 25c to 30c a head. Increase on sheep and goats is from 8c to 10 a head. Pelt inspection will also go up 2c a pelt. Charge for hide inspection goes from 20c to 25c a hide.

Jones says the service charge for all livestock inspection has been raised to $2. This is a dollar increase, he said.

All fee increases were authorized at the last legislative session and are to be used to offset costs of inflation experienced by the board over the past few seasons.

The last fee increase on horses and cattle inspections was made in 1975 by the board. This is the first fee increase on horses and cattle authorized by the legislature since 1972. Fee inspections on sheep and goats have not been increased since 1967 when the livestock board inherited this inspection from the Sheep Sanitary Board, Jones said.

The livestock board is charged by law to protect the livestock industry in New Mexico and particularly, to inspect livestock before movement to prevent the spread of disease and to detect theft. The board is aware that the livestock industry is in a depressed state but that health and theft inspection are an industry service and it is a matter of raising inspection fees or cutting services.

Last year the livestock board inspected 3.4 million head of livestock, he said. Given the large territory of this state, Jones said, the cost of travel, equipment and administration is accelerating in line with the inflationary aspects of other work and services.

Fees are collected at the time for inspection. The certificate issued after inspection authorizes movement and is a receipt to the livestock producer.

1981 Cardinal Football Team

An interview with the football coach from Corona High Schools led to the description of the 1981 Cardinal Football Team. The football team was described as being "very hardworking" and also as "a team that really wants to win." Scott Mulkey is the quarterback for the Cardinal team. Scott's being the only senior doesn't mean the team is lacking in group leadership. This year's Cardinal team consists of Scott Mulkey-Senior, Tom Perkins-Junior, Allen Kelley-Junior, Monty Pounds-Junior, Clay Lightfoot-Junior, Michael Romero-Junior, Patrick Bliznak-Junior, Steve Mulkey-Sophomore, Joe Miller-Sophomore, George Cordova-Sophomore, Jesse Romero-Sophomore, Cary Crist-Freshman, Joseph Erramouspe-Freshman, Shawn Perkins-Freshman, Cody Lightfoot-Freshman, Tommy Worley-Freshman, Darrell James-Freshman, and Mike Lindsay, Manager-Freshman. The Coach also described the team as having a tough defense and the offense is "shaping up." Corona's first game is with Lake Arthur, a very "tough" opponent. As Coach Sheehan says, "this game will set the precedent for the rest of the year." Coach Sheehan also said that he was pleased with the team "thus far."

New Teachers

Mr. William Bramlett is originally from Santa Fe, New Mexico where he spent several years "before moving" to Albuquerque.

Mr. Bramlett attended the University of New Mexico where he obtained a Bachelors degree with a major in Anthropology and Mathematics. He also received a Masters degree in Education Administration.

Mr. Bramlett said that he was attracted to Corona because of his growing interest in small towns and because of the Corona Public School systems' need for an administrative leader.

We wish Mr. Bramlett the best of luck in his job of Superintendent of Corona Public Schools.

Mr. Charlie Sheehan is originally from Morgan Town, West Virginia where he spent his childhood on a farm. Mr. Sheehan has resided in Albuquerque for the past twelve years. A graduate from Manzano High School in 1973, Sheehan went on to play four years of college football at the University of New Mexico on an athletic scholarship.

Mr. Sheehan is very enthusiastic and is looking forward with enthusiasm to the Cardinals football and basketball seasons. He is an avid believer that with the power of positive thinking, many great obstacles can be overcome.

The Football schedule for 1981 is as follows:

-Sept. 5 - Lake Arthur - There - 2:00 P.M.
-Sept. 11 - Magdalena - Here - 7:00 P.M.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Hondo Valley School Board today announced its policy for free and reduced-price meals for children eligible for such meals served under the National School Lunch Programs.

USDA has adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

FAMILY SIZE	FREE MEALS	REDUCED PRICE MEALS
1	$5,600	7,970
2	7,400	10,530
3	9,190	13,080
4	10,990	15,630
5	12,780	18,190
6	14,570	20,740
7	16,370	23,290
8	18,160	25,840

NOTE: For each additional family member, ADD

1,790

2,550

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced-price meals.

If there is a change in family income due to reasons such as unemployment, or there is a change in family size, parents and guardians are urged to contact school officials. Such changes may qualify students for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available in the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. Applications will require the Social Security number of all adult members of the household. To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and federal criminal statutes.

Foster children, placed by a state agency, may be eligible for free meals. Meal applications should show the foster child as a family of one. Income should be shown as that amount received from the state for the support of the child.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to Ernest J. Booky, Superintendent, Box 55, Hondo, New Mexico 88336, phone 653-4411 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Parental conferences may be called to verify information on applications prior to formal hearings.

Each school and the office of the Superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

extracurricular services and activities, including meals, recess periods, and the services and activities set forth in 84.37 (a) (2), a recipient shall ensure that handicapped persons participate with nonhandicapped persons in such activities and services to the maximum extent appropriate to the needs of the handicapped person in question.

(c) Comparable facilities. If a recipient, in compliance with paragraph (a) of this section, operates a facility that is identifiable as being for handicapped persons, the recipient shall ensure that the facility and the services and activities provided therein are comparable to the other facilities, services, and activities of the recipient.

84.35 Evaluation and placement.

(a) Preplacement evaluation. A recipient that operates a public elementary or secondary education program shall conduct an evaluation in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section of any person who, because of handicap, needs or is believed to need special education or related services before taking any action with respect to the initial placement of the person in a regular or special education program and any subsequent significant change in placement.

(b) Evaluation procedures. A recipient to which this subpart applies shall establish standards and procedures for the evaluation and placement of persons who, because of handicap, need or are believed to need special education or related services which ensure that:

(1) Tests and other evaluation materials have been validated for the specific purpose for which they are used and are administered by trained personnel in conformance with the instructions provided by their producer;

(2) Tests and other evaluation materials include those tailored to assess specific areas of educational need and not merely those which are designed to provide a single general intelligence quotient; and

(3) Tests are selected and administered so as best to ensure that, when a test is administered to a student with impaired sensory, manual, or speaking skills, the test results accurately reflect the student's aptitude or achievement level or whatever other factor the test purports to measure, rather than reflecting the student's impaired sensory, manual, or speaking skills (except where those skills are the factors that the test purports to measure).

(c) Placement procedures. In interpreting evaluation data and in making placement decisions, a recipient shall (1) draw upon information from a variety of sources, including aptitude and achievement tests, teacher recommendations, physical condition, social or cultural background, and adaptive behavior,

(2) establish procedures to ensure that information obtained from all such sources is documented and carefully considered, (3) ensure that the placement decision is made by a group of persons, including persons knowledgeable about the child, the meaning of the evaluation data, and the placement options, and (4) ensure that the placement decision is made in conformity with 84.34.

(d) Reevaluation. A recipient to which this section applies shall establish procedures, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, for periodic reevaluation of students who have been provided special education and related services. A reevaluation procedure consistent with the Education for the Handicapped Act is one means of meeting this requirement.

84.36 Procedural safeguards.

A recipient that operates a public elementary or secondary education program shall establish and implement, with respect to actions regarding the identification, evaluation, or educational placement of persons who, because of handicap, need or are believed to need special instruction or related services, a system of procedural safeguards that includes notice, an opportunity for the parents or guardian of the person to examine relevant records, an impartial hearing with opportunity for participation by the person's parents or guardian and representation by counsel, and a review procedure. Compliance with the procedural safeguards of section 615 of the Education of the Handicapped Act is one means of meeting this requirement.
