Board of education

School personnel offered contracts

During part of their regular meeting last Tuesday, the Carrizozo Board of Education met in closed session to review employment recommendations for the 1982-83 school year.

Observations, conferences and written evaluations were completed on all school employees prior to the employment review by board members Wally Ferguson Sr., Gail Stackpole and Chairman Sterling Spencer. Members Richard Vega and Don Wall were absent.

On returning from the closed session, Spencer announced the board's decision on the superintendent's recommendations as follows:

Administrative and supervisory staff - Charlotte Archuleta (cafeteria manager) and Nat Chavez (maintenance supervisor) were re-hired. Administrative aide Helen Lock will retire.

Non-certified staff - Aides Candia Aguilar, Lorene Baroz, Mela Herrera and Julia Hollis and custodian Freddie Nava were re-hired. Custodian Mario Ortiz has resigned. Maids Josephita Lopez and Dorothy Simmons and secretaries Eugenia Vega and Maria Vega have been re-employed. Title I aides Delfinia and Josie Vega and clerical aide Margie Serna have been re-hired, as are cooks Flora Samora and Audra Wilson and bus driver Lois Roper.

Tenured certified employees - The following teachers were re-hired: Myrtle Williams, Winnie Wilmore, Sharon Baker, June Caster, Joe DeTevis, Jane Erwin, Jim Florian, Sally Florian, Doug Jarrard, Joe Orsak, Peggy Orsak, J.C. Richmond, Veda Stephenson, Lucia Vega and Larue Wetzel. Joelyn Pafford was granted a leave of absence.

Certified employees in tenure year - Jerry Peckinpugh and Tom Tracy were offered tenure contracts. The board did not accept the superintendent's recommendation of offering tenure contract to Alfred Madrid. Robert Hemphill will be offered tenure contract upon receipt of certification this summer.

Non-tenured certified employees - re-employment was offered to teachers Michael Gaines, Jerry Koller, Laura Jones, Hal Roueche, Pagan Roueche, Tom Funk, and Jud Sidebottom. The position of Lawrence Cramer will be eliminated. Darlene Scott will resign.

At Tuesday's board meeting, Miller introduced 6th grader John Saucedo and sophomore Stephanie Saucedo. The two were recognized for their recent achievements. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Max Saucedo.

John Saucedo was recognized for his impressive showing in the Junior Division, Physics Section, at the Regional Science Fair held in Roswell. Miller told the board he could not recall a Carrizozo student of any age having attended the regional fair, shown an exhibit, and placing among the winners.

He qualified to participate in the 30th annual New Mexico Science and Engineering Fair at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology held last weekend in Socorro. Saucedo received honorable mention in this event with his project, "The Results of Burning Different Types of Wood as a Fuel Source."

The 6th grader told the board about his project involving different types of wood for fireplace heating. After testing pinon, cedar and cottonwood logs the student determined that pinon is the most economical wood for heating a home.

Stephanie Saucedo was recognized for being selected to attend the 1982 New Mexico Youth Leadership Seminar, June 11-13, at UNM. The Carrizozo Woman's Club is sponsoring Carrizozo's nominee, Miss Saucedo told the board how she applied for the honor, and gave highlights on the campus program.

In other business the board adopted a bond sale resolution which authorized Quinn and Co. Inc. of Albuquerque to put out for bid $45,000 in general obligation bonds. Doug Hensly of Albuquerque, a Quinn representative, conducted this portion of Tuesday's meeting.

Bids will be accepted through May 18. A prospectus (official statement and notice of meeting and sale) will be available at the Carrizozo School administration office and in Albuquerque at

This money is to be used in the second phase of the high school remodeling started last year. At a special meeting last week, Eugene Hunt, Albuquerque architect, showed the board charted remodeling plans and reviewed priorities by lots. Remodeling includes work on roof, girls and boys shower and dressing area, hallway floor and installation of lockers.

May 13 is the date set for the opening of bids for phase II of the high school remodeling.

The special meeting on April 15 lasted past midnight. The board reviewed the preliminary figures for the proposed 1982-83 district budget. At Tuesday's meeting the board agreed to meet May 3 for another special session to approve the final budget.

A move to get rid of Daylight Saving Time

While Benjamin Franklin was US Ambassador to France he decided the French people were just staying up too late at night thus wasting the early morning hours by rising late in the day, so he persuaded the French government to begin the day an hour earlier. - Thus began daylight saving time.

Later, in 1916, Great Britain adopted it for the war years, with the United States soon following the example.

At the end of that war it was dropped, only to be picked up again during World War II, but it was never ended after that. In fact, it was tried out once on a 12 month program, but that was quickly dropped. Arizona, Hawaii and 12 counties of Indiana did not let it be imposed on them the second time. Any state can get rid of it by legislative action on the state level.

Daylight Saving Time has been a headache for lots of people - farmers, school children, the elderly, teachers, etc. And to make matters worse there is a move under way in Washington, D.C. to have DST extended both in the spring and in the fall. This bill passed the House but got tabled in the Senate for the time being. They evidently haven't heard that cutting off one end of the blanket and sewing it onto the other doesn't do any good.

There is a move under way here in New Mexico to return to Mountain Standard Time. Anyone interested in joining forces can contact the committee at P.O. Box 12273, Albuquerque 87195. The committee reports support on this issue from areas around the state, but still needs to hear from those who feel this bill enacted to save energy, does not do that, especially here in New Mexico, and that we're smart enough to regulate our own days.

MEANWHILE

the country returns to Daylight Saving Time. Advance the clock one hour, effective at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 25.

'Wilderness status' study

BLM to hold public hearing

The Bureau of Land Management will hold open house meetings in Roswell, Carlsbad and Carrizozo on April 26, 28 and 29 to explain the BLM's wilderness review process and gather resource information from the public.

The Roswell open house will be held at the BLM's Roswell office (1717 W. Second St.) on April 26, 3-8 p.m. The open house in Carlsbad will occur from 3-8 p.m. in the annex room at the public library (101 S. Halagueno) on April 28, and the Carrizozo open house will be held at the Rural Electric building on April 29, 3-8 p.m.

During the spring of 1980, the BLM asked the public to comment on its proposed wilderness study area decision. In its proposal, the BLM recommended almost a million acres of public lands with wilderness characteristics on about 2.2 million acres of public lands in the state.

The BLM is finishing a congressionally mandated wilderness review on 44 study areas in New Mexico, totalling almost a million acres.

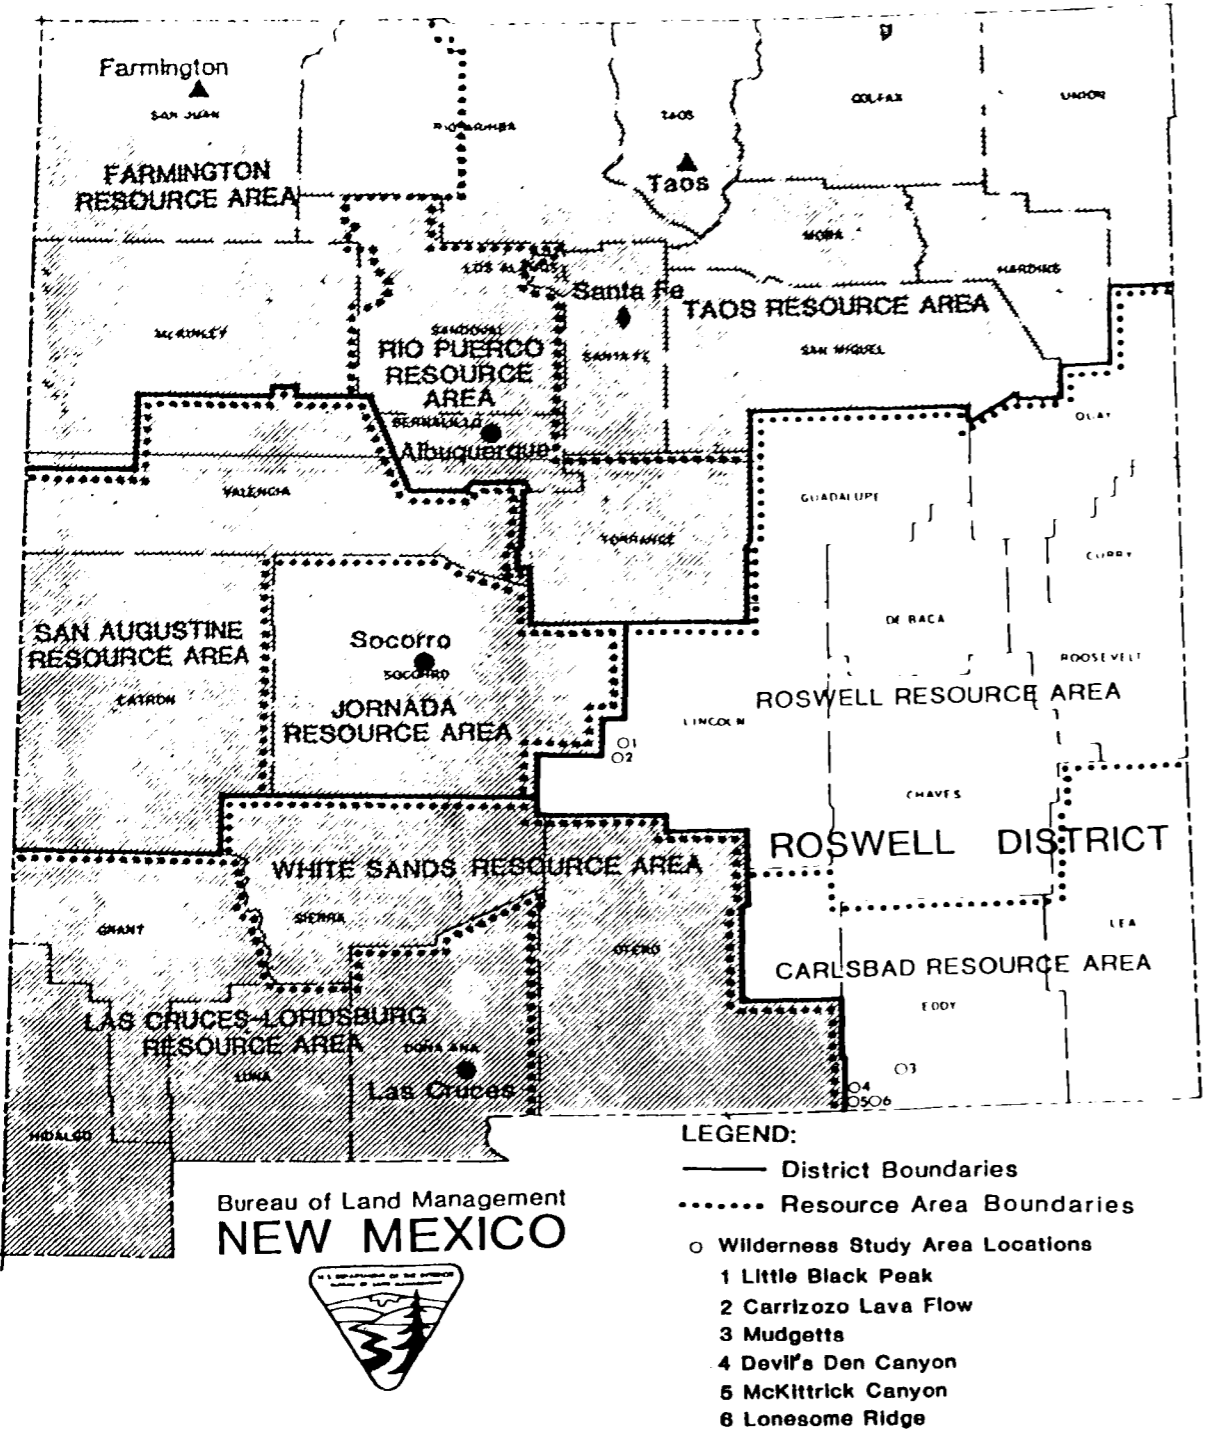

Six of the 44 wilderness study areas, comprising 31,789 acres, are in the BLM's Roswell District in southeastern New Mexico. Three areas, Lonesome Ridge (2,443 acres), Devil's Den Canyon (320 acres) and McKittrick Canyon (200 acres) adjoin the Forest Service's proposed Guadalupe Escarpment wilderness. A fourth area, Mudgetts (2,941 acres) is adjacent to a wilderness area in Carlsbad Caverns National Park. West of Carrizozo, north and south of Highway 380, are two additional study areas, Little Black Peak (15,298 acres) and Carrizozo Lava Flow (10,587).

The BLM is seeking in formation about natural resource and land uses in each area, and will identify issues from the public to incorporate into wilderness analysis reports. The wilderness analysis reports will make initial recommendations about the suitability or nonsuitability of each area for wilderness designation.

By December of this year, the BLM will release draft Environmental Assessments and ask for public comments before writing a draft, statewide Environmental Statement.

'Fightin' Mike' of Williamsport

Man in 5-year battle for a Smokey Bear stamp

For more than five years now, Michael Marchese, a Williamsport, PA. city fireman, has been waging a crusade with the US Postal Service to have a postage stamp to commemorate Smokey Bear as a symbol of fire prevention and wildlife conservation.

And 12 times postal officials have turned down the idea, but without saying they like the idea. At a meeting in Washington in January, postal officials said the Smokey stamp idea had been placed on the "very good chance" list.

It is difficult to say when the Smokey stamp will be issued, even if the idea is formally approved when the Postal Services Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee meets May 7. But it would be at least 1984, they said.

The governors of both New Mexico (Bruce King) and Pennsylvania (Dick Thornburgh) have joined in the effort to immortalize Smokey on a US postage stamp. They have been joined by high-ranking political figures, agricultural and industrial organizations - even the Boy Scouts. The Teamsters Union is being asked to have its truckers display brown ribbons on their rigs as they criss-cross the United States as a means of focusing public attention on the idea.

Marchese is a hard man to discourage. Following postal officials' 12th turndown of Smokey, he wrapped 12 brown ribbons around a bannister at his home at 712 Tucker St., Williamsport, PA. The ribbons, each with a red cross, symbolize "the color of burned forests," and the number of ribbons signifies the number of times the stamp advisory committee has considered the Smokey stamp.

If and when the idea is finally approved, Marchese plans to wrap a large green ribbon around the bannister.

Marchese told the Lincoln County News that he had written several newspapers in New Mexico for support in his campaign, but only the El Paso Times responded. Some of his supporters include Gov. Bruce King, Dr. Elliott S. Barker and Ray Bell, the game warden in 1950 (now a State Forester) who rescued Smokey from the disastrous fire.

Marchese heard about the Lincoln County News from a subscriber friend in Harrisburg, PA, who clipped the photo of Smokey Bear's grave, showing flowers placed on it by some children, which ran in a recent issue.

JOHN SAUCEDO, talented 6th grader.

'Fightin' Mike' of Williamsport

Man in 5-year battle for a Smokey Bear stamp

"Please send me the name and address of the principal of the Captain School, as I would like to letter of thanks," Marchese wrote.

That would be Principal Glenn Crane, who had sent Marchese letters written by his students, all of which were forwarded to the Postmaster General.

The proposed Smokey stamp was designed by Rudolph Wenden, a former US Forest Service employee who has done most of the other Smokey Bear artwork.

"I'm not licked yet," Marchese said after the last turndown of his stamp. "I haven't even begun to fight - if that's what they (the US Postal Service) want to get this stamp approved."

If "Fightin' Mike" wins this battle it will focus national attention on Smokey Bear Historical State Park at Capitan - and perhaps the citizens of Capitan would want to make Michael Marchese of Williamsport, PA. an honorary citizen of their town.

May Day at White Oaks shaping up

Exhibitors and concessionaires from El Paso, Cloudcroft, Oscura, Las Cruces, Nashville, Indiana, Alamogordo, Glenco, Ruidoso, Edgewood and Carrizozo have signed up for the May Day Spectacular at White Oaks, May 1-2.

They will be offering paintings, handmade knives, plants, flea market items, antiques, jewelry, western art, fine arts, accent pillows, children's rockers, costumed pictures and all sorts of art and craft items.

The Carrizozo Lions Club will have a lemonade and popcorn concession. New Horizons will have a booth featuring arts, crafts, plants and flea market, and Ula Cutler will be in charge of the Sunday morning breakfast and White Oaks home tour.

Glenn Ellison will head up a musical Hootenanny that will include the Saturday night street dance. Musicians who would like to be a part of the musical portion of the entertainment are asked to contact Ellison.

The affair is sponsored by the Valley of the Fires Lioness Club of Carrizozo. Information from Beulah Moore, Box 465, Carrizozo.

Corona News

Temperatures registered last week at Lincoln Station show a high of 77 degrees on the 12th and a low of 30 on the 14th.

Cedar Temple Pythian Sisters met Monday afternoon in the Pythian Hall with MEC Edna Robinson in charge of the business session. Plans were made to attend a no-host luncheon honoring Grand Chief Margie Parker. Cedar Temple will join Primrose Temple when Mrs. Parker makes her official visit in Estancia on Monday, April 26. A gift check was sent to Girls Ranch in memory of Ethan Allman, grand chancellor, who passed away last month from a heart attack. The Grand Chief's project this year is Boys-Girls Ranch.

Mrs. Robinson and Leta Sharp served chocolate cake, tea and coffee.

Fred and Paul Porter, Houston, TX, spent the weekend with the Proctors and Tyrees before going on to Albuquerque for appointments with their ophthalmologist.

Beatrice Chavez — co-chairman with Sherrill Hiltzley for the cystic fibrosis walkathon, reports that the project netted about $300. Congratulations to all who participated.

The Lee Mulkeys went to Las Cruces Saturday to visit Glenda Sue Shelton who gave a birthday party for her mother, Mrs. Dean Bradley. Others present were Mr. Bradley, Jonathan Shelton and Olan James.

John D. Holleyman attended the Marfa, Texas, Old Timers Team Roping last weekend. There were 215 teams in the competition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Colum, San Diego, CA, spent last week at the Keelin Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McCord were here from Tucumcari for a few days.

Mrs. Edna Tracey and David Tracey are recovering from a severe attack of influenza.

Mrs. Archie Perkins and Mrs. Tommy Tyree attended the 6th annual meeting of the New Mexico Health Systems Agency at the Hilton Inn in Albuquerque Saturday. Mrs. Perkins is a member of the governing body which met in the morning. They heard most of the candidates for governor on a panel express concerns and solutions for improving the health of New Mexico citizens.

Hostesses Betty Russell and Johnnie Bond furnished Easter decorations and refreshments for the April meeting of Crown Cowbelles held in the school auditorium. President Linda Ponder called the meeting to order. She received favorable comments on her newsletter, which is a big help to the scattered membership. Mrs. Jack Davidson reported that Roy Allen is giving a used duplicator for the use of the Cowbelles and Extension Club. Thank you, Roy. "Thank you's" from Boys and Girls Ranch were read. Reports were received on Ag Day, the Poster Contest, District One meeting and the Food Power Tower. Nutritional booklets are to be ordered.

A vote was taken for Cowbelle Father of the Year. The results will be announced publicly in June and the name is to be sent to the state chairman.

Mrs. Ponder reported on the Lincoln County Ranch Tour to start at the Corona School Auditorium at 8:30 a.m. June 12. Cutoff date for registration is May 29.

Crown Cowbelles will donate the trophy for champion female beef at the Lincoln County Fair. Betty Russell volunteered to bring the door prize for the May meeting at the home of Eleanor Smith.

where Peggy Manzingo and Gary Creighton will be the guest speakers. Katie Sultemeier presents a pewter dish to Betty Ann Bell in recognition of her status as New Mexico Cowbelle of the Year.

Cowbelles and guests enjoyed beef enchiladas at the school cafeteria. Ernest Joiner, editor of the Lincoln County News, told some highlights of his newspaper career and his philosophy of the newspaper business. Mrs. Ponder welcomed Mr. Joiner to Lincoln County and gave him a package of brand napkins. She also gave each person present on Easter token of assorted jelly beans.

Two dates were suggested for a Meet-the-Candidates meeting and Roe Lovelace was to be asked to chair the event. Members were invited to be guests of Canyon Cowbelles at the REA building on April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Livingston have returned from a three-week trip that took them to visit relatives in four states, the Stubbiefields and Livingstons in Durant, OK, the Guy Richardsons in Booneville, AK; the Jack Livingstons in Baton Rouge, LA; the Elliotts in Stevensville, TX; and Lewis-Toland in Houston.

Visiting with Mrs. Katie R. Merritt during Easter were her granddaughter, Pam Vickrey of Farmington; grandson Bobby Minton of Dutil; Kathy and Buddy Dennison, grandson; David Kenyon of Fort Sumner, a good friend; Mota Vick, Peggy and Nolan Vickrey of Corona.

Katie Merritt, Peggy and Nolan Vickrey visited with the Neuman Merritt family, David Kenyon, Betty and Jane Minton, Kathy and Buddy Denison, over the weekend in Fort Sumner.

Xi Beta Epsilon of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the home of Kathi Williams with President Eva Mae Holleyman in charge of the business and ritual sessions. Kathleen Baca and Joyce Blake were guests from the Mountainair chapter. Plans were discussed for a makeup meeting to be held in Mountainair and Corona each year. Also discussed were plans for Founders Day, the Junior-Senior Tea, installation of officers, a Ritual of Jewels, and the scholarship.

The centerpiece on the refreshment table was a cake decorated with yellow roses to mark the chapter anniversary. With this the hostess served sandwiches, nuts, tea and coffee.

Geraldine Perkins presented two programs from the "Outline Heritage and the Woman." The first was, "What Needs to be Done?" This question was used for roll call. The second was, "What Is In It For Me?"

Subjects brought up concerned the needs of our children, troubles in the Sinai, the Falkland Islands crisis, volunteer work in libraries, church, health systems, and the ERA. In the matter of ERA, a copy of the Constitution of the United States was found when the statement that men and women are not referred to as such, was challenged. Some were surprised to learn the truth of this. Our founders were smart. It was stated that women have not always received the recognition and pay for equal work that they should. Catherine Littlefield Green invented the cotton gin. But since it was unthinkable that a woman should receive a patent in the 18th century, she showed her invention to a friend, Eli Whitney, who did receive the patent and also the honor and the money.

Mrs. Perkins said there are still some doors closed to women and that one should focus on the open ones and that "What is in it for me?" is in direct proportion to what one gives.

The May meeting will be in the home of Eleanor Smith.

MEGAN MARIE La MAY ... JOHN BENSLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. La May of Capitan are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Megan Marie, to John Bensley, son of Mrs. Sylvia Bensley of Las Lunas, NM. The couple plan a May 15 wedding ceremony at Baca Canyon campsite near Lincoln, NM, at 5 p.m. A reception will follow the ceremony to which friends and relatives are invited. Miss LaMay is a graduate of Capitan High School and a student at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces.

Mrs. Alton Wilson honored

A baby shower honoring Mrs. Alton Wilson was held Saturday, April 17, at the conference room of Citizens State Bank.

Centerpiece for the refreshment table was an heirloom silver pitcher filled with white lilies flanked by ornate silver candlesticks holding hand decorated candles which carried out the theme of spring colors.

At each end of the table, featuring an array of finger foods and fruit cups, was a punch bowl and silver tea set.

Hostesses were Jane and Rosemary Shafer, Sarah Gnatkowski, Fran Gabel, Barbie Roper and Betty Ann Bell. The cake, appropriately decorated with white booties on a yellow and green background, was made by Betty Ann Bell.

Those attending were Johnnie and Martha Bond, Knollene McDaniel, Janice and Cheryl Gnatkowski, Susan Hightower, Nancy Knight, Barbara Harkey, Susan Wells, Joan Means, Ruth Wilson, Barbara Langley, and Rene Burton.

Special out of town guests included Evelyn Leonard of Mayhill, mother, Mrs. Lillian Leonard of Silver City, grandmother, and Mrs. Bertie Guin of Magdalena, aunt of the honoree. Also attending from Mayhill were Lora Ritchie and Bobby Horton. Cheri Goad, Betty Dean, Beth and Vernelle Hightower, Linda Gibson, and Mary Spencer sent gifts.

Debbie Bond, Amber and Dewayne Langley, Callie Gnatkowski, Kim Gabel, Renee and Ryan Roper also attended and assisted Stacy in opening gifts from a table centered with spring motifs and an arrangement of iris and tulips.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hightower of Ancho became the parents of a fourth daughter on April 5. Mollie Frances arrived at Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital. Her sisters are Lisa, 10, Cheryl, 8, and Katie 2½. Their grandparents in Ancho are Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Hightower.

New In Town

New folks in our community are sign painter Rick Sharp, his wife Beth and Rick's helper, James Weatherford. Rick plans to establish a sign painting service at the Art Gallery building near Paul's Place. Rick last worked in sign painting in Roswell. A Deming native, he learned the trade from uncles who were in the business.

When Rick organizes his business in Zozo, he and James also plan to paint houses and take in some yard work. Welcome to Carrizozo.

Home Town Boy

Kirtland Central High School has hired a new head football coach, David Lock, former Carrizozo resident and Zozo graduate. David is a 1974 graduate of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lock of Carrizozo.

David is currently assistant football coach at Las Cruces High School. He also heads the track team there. He has been at Las Cruces since 1979. Before that he was an assistant football coach at Tularosa High School.

His wife, Nancy, also a former Zozo resident, will have a teaching position at Kirtland's elementary school and on the school's swimming team. She graduated from Carrizozo High and was a life guard at the local swimming pool.

Got It Down

My calendar for the rest of April and into the first part of May is filling up fast.

The Knights of Columbus will have a dish toss booth at the carnival here April 22 - 25. The event is sponsored by Santa Rita Church. It is rumored that a celebrity is scheduled to make an appearance at the carnival. Cookie Monster of Sesame Street fame will be on hand to chat with fans.

This Saturday, April 24, quilt fanatics will have an opportunity to view quilts old and new. This show at the old gym will be held from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Bring along that quilt your grandma or aunt made for you. It was not meant to hide away in a closet or a trunk. Call the Extension Office to inquire about displaying the quilt you made or were given. Art lovers, male and female, will enjoy seeing this form of art.

The Lincoln County Historical Society meets in Lincoln at the historic "Old Leannett House" for their kick-off covered dish dinner this Saturday, April 24 at 8:30 p.m. Members will bring along a dish made from an old recipe that might have been handed down from great-grandma.

May 1 and 2 the Valley of Fires Lions Club sponsors their May Day Spectacular. The 2-day event will feature things to do for young and old alike. The weekend will be reminiscent of days gone by. The little town's main street will be bustling with activity.

The Lincoln County Extension Homemakers Council will meet at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 3, at the multi-purpose room of the Ruidoso Library. Charter members will be honored at a potluck luncheon. Ralph and Rosalie Dunlap of Lincoln will be guest speakers. They will share their Tunisian adventures.

Homemaker Clubs

Extension clubs are non-profit groups whose members wish to make their homes and communities better places in which to live and work. If you would like to join a county club, call the Extension Office 648-2311.

Members of the six Extension Clubs in Lincoln County have put together another cookbook. Contact the Extension Office or any club member to purchase the cookbook, filled with recipes contributed by people you know. Some of the recipes are very old and have been handed down through several generations.

Some of the recipe contributors have passed away, but as their recipes are used, they are remembered with affection. Last Sunday I made Banana Cake; with the recipe used by the late Clara Snow of Carrizozo.

The ingredients for Clara's Banana Cake are: 1 cup sugar, ½ cup shortening, 2 eggs, 3 large bananas, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda (soda should be sifted in the flour) 1 cup raisins, ½ cup nuts.

Mix all ingredients well. Bake in a loaf pan at 350 degree oven for approximately 45 minutes.

Pollys Hints

— Shine washed windows with newspapers, but be sure you've read the papers or the project could take all day.

— For a sweeter smelling closet, hang an old nylon stocking filled with cedar chips. This also serves as a moth repellent.

— Painting the house? Coat hinges, knobs, lock latches and other hardware with a coating of petroleum jelly to reduce scraping afterward.

Quilting Bits

Quilting has been practiced for thousands of years. Soldiers of the Middle Ages wore padded and quilted coats and hoods under their armor. The Dutch and English colonists brought quilts to America to protect themselves from the severe cold of the winters.

Quilting was a favorite art in American colonial and frontier homes. At quilting bees (parties) in rural areas, women and girls quilted in the afternoon. Their families joined them in the evening for supper and dancing. Interesting and beautiful quilt designs were developed and passed on from generation to generation.

Making quilts is still a popular and inexpensive hobby for both women and men. Today quilts not only serve as bed covers, but as works of art and are displayed as wall hangings for all to admire.

Weekend Visitors

This past weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lock were their son Shawn and his wife Becky, who live in Roswell. Shawn met his brother David in Weed for a turkey hunt. Randy Dross of Hagerman, former Zozo resident, and others were part of the hunting party. Shawn is a hairstylist in Roswell.

Tests are administered in Lincoln County through the New Horizons Developmental Center.

Alamogordoan runs for seat in state house

An Otero county rancher and businessman has announced his candidacy for the office of state representative from district 51.

Leonard Sheffield, a 51-year-old Democrat and resident of New Mexico since 1943, will seek to be elected to the seat being left vacant by outgoing State Rep. John Mershon.

A 1966 graduate with a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of New Mexico, Sheffield was in the furniture and carpet businesses in Alamogordo for 25 years, and said that now that he is semi-retired he had the time to devote to serving in the state house.

Sheffield said his understanding of rural needs and interests is his most important asset in seeking the state representative post. "I grew up in the country, on the farm and ranch," he said. "I've lived all but 16 years of my life in the country. I know rural issues and rural needs. Rural people are the backbone of our nation."

He noted that district 51, the district in which he is running, is about 10,000 square miles in size and encompasses a large swath of rural territory extending from the Texas state line to Carrizozo and from the Dona Ana county line "halfway to Artesia."

Sheffield also stressed his experience with financial and managerial matters, gained via his years as a businessman, and spoke of his dealings with people as well.

"It all hinges on dealing with people," he said. "I've always been a people-oriented person, and in 25 years I've gotten to know a lot of people in this area."

"I am a person who is interested in people, and I've always made myself available to people in considering their needs," Sheffield continued. "If elected, I will be a person everyone will be able to talk to on a one-to-one basis. I will listen and evaluate the needs of the total constituency."

Other issues Sheffield addressed in announcing his candidacy included:

—crime — "We all know there's a problem, but we need answers, and I feel I could be an important part in finding them"; —development of tourism and industry in New Mexico — "I worked with the Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce toward that end for many years, and I have always been a strong supporter of White Sands Missile Range and Holloman Air Force Base";

The El Paso water suit — "Our water is very limited, and I am for keeping it for our own use and development"; and —schools — "I'm very interested in schools; I was chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee on our last bond issue, and was responsible for determining the needs of each school in the system and applying the necessary funds toward fulfilling those needs."

Sheffield resides in the community of Mountain Park between Alamogordo and Cloudcroft. He and his wife Jane have three children: John, a graduate of Oral Roberts University in Oklahoma; Larry, a 1981 graduate of New Mexico State University and a past president of Associate Students of New Mexico State University (ASNMSU); and Janet, who is now attending Oral Roberts as a freshman.

County Republican Women hear Irick

Outlining his positions on industry, crime, redistricting and other issues, GOP gubernatorial candidate John Irick addressed a large gathering at the April 13 meeting of Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County held in Ruidoso.

He began his address by complimenting efforts of New Mexico Republican women, whom he described as playing "an extremely valuable part in New Mexico's political fortunes," saying the women held together all facets of the GOP in the state.

"Candidates may be known locally but not statewide," he said, "and NMPRW provides them a forum to be better known." Purpose of his address, he said, was to present his outlook for the state, which he visualizes as a "giant enterprise" made up of partners.

"Partners would include industry, education, and legislature and others," he said. The governor, he believes, would be a "general partner."

To provide a stable, safe environment for citizens, he feels crime is an important consideration. He proposes a law enforcement staff member who would be "feared by the criminal element and answerable only to the governor." He also proposes a New Mexico Bureau of Investigation, similar to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which would coordinate general criminal investigative efforts under one head. Finally, in this area, he said, "I would appoint tough judges."

Touching on issues dealing with smaller municipalities, he promised to work with those communities to figure out problems with water and airports.

Questions from the audience dealt with more specific issues. When asked his position on Right-to-Work, he reminded his audience he had twice sponsored Right-to-Work bills, one of which was defeated in the legislature; the other passed the legislature but vetoed by the governor.

When asked what he would do for NM's senior citizens, he revealed a plan to issue NM ID cards to those over 60 which would entitle them to discounts at participating merchants.

Following his address, he introduced members of his staff: Georgia Otero, campaign manager; Griff Pickard, fund-raising chairman; and Marge Beatty, publicity chairman.

Next FRWLC meeting will be Tuesday, May 18. Guest speaker will be Newton Page, who will speak on the water problems and solutions for Lincoln County. Page, who recently did a water study for the Village of Ruidoso, will present a lecture and slide presentation.

Bonito proud of new fire truck

Bonito Volunteer Fire Dept. took delivery of its new four-wheel drive pumper-tanker this Saturday in ceremonies at Alto Lake.

Chief Howard Puckett then presented the keys to County Commissioners John Allen Hightower and Thomas P. "Cotton" McKnight, saying, "Thanks to the generosity of the residents and property owners of this area, I am pleased to present the county with this truck."

Accepting on behalf of the county, McKnight expressed his thanks and gratitude for the donation of fire-fighting apparatus. Purchase of the truck was due entirely to donations and did not cost any expenditure of public funds.

Following the dedication, members of BVFD received their training from officials of B & S Firefighting Equipment of Albuquerque, manufacturers of the vehicle. Every fireman practiced drafting and pumping water.

The pumper-tanker is an International with a five-speed, fifth-direct transmission with a dual range transfer case with capabilities of either two-wheel or four-wheel drive. It also has power steering, mud and snow tires and is equipped with ladders, suction hose, nozzles, two one-inch booster reels, axes, a crowbar, plus other equipment and details.

"Four-wheel drive will enable us to get to many areas of our district which were previously inaccessible due to weather or terrain," stated Puckett.

Mrs. Charles Baker of Lubbock, who owns a home in Sun Valley, attended the ceremonies with several other neighbors from Sun Valley and Alto Village. She expressed her gratitude that her property was being well taken care of. Others echoed her sentiments.

Debra Womack to attend conference

Debra Womack, a Capitan freshman at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, will travel to Nashville, TN, Friday to attend the National Office Education Association Conference on April 24-27.

Miss Womack is a secretarial major at Eastern and a 1981 graduate of Capitan High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Womack of Lincoln and a member of Alpha Phi Omega.

Citizens State Bank

□ Carrizozo □ Vaughn □ Estancia

When you visit a big city bank there will be note tellers, receiving tellers, paying tellers, etc., and that is the way it has to be. But out in the country banks tellers are trained to help you with deposits, note payments, escrows, collections, savings bonds, time and savings deposits—they do it all. Their duties are many, and we are proud of Sharon Luera and Margaret Barala, both of whom have been with Citizens State Bank for many years. They appreciate their customers and, since both Sharon and Margaret are natives, they enjoy the bank customers from Corona, Capitan, Carrizozo and points in-between because they are longtime friends and neighbors, and old schoolmates.

YOU HEAR a lot about the trillion dollar debt owed by the US government, and maybe it frightens you. It should. But how scared would you be to learn that that trillion dollars is only a fraction of the financial commitments of the federal government?

THIS TOTAL of eleven trillion dollars is equivalent to $138,223 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Imagine, the minute a baby is born it owes $138,223! A family of four US citizens owe, as its share of the debt, $552,892. This is an impossible debt.

HISTORY IS replete with the names of countries that had to repudiate their debts. Like an individual that constantly spends more than he earns and winds up in bankruptcy, so do nations become bankrupt when they spend more than they collect.

EXPLAIN THIS to any concerned citizen and he will agree. But he is reluctant to demand of his government that the spending stop. He will go right on crying when his welfare check is cut by 4 percent.

THESE ELEVEN trillion financial burden of the federal government is the handiwork of Democratic Administrations which have, for almost 50 years, pursued a course of fiscal profligacy unparalleled in the history of the world.

THERE ARE, of course Democrats who do not approve of the insane spending that has brought us to the brink. There are many conservative Democrats, especially in the South and Southwest, who vote against costly social programs.

IF I were a Democrat and understood its 50-year record of unbridled spending, I would be embarrassed. I would look at what has been bought with these trillions of dollars. It hasn't cured unemployment. It hasn't cured poverty, because there are more Americans living below the poverty line today than at any time in its history.

DEMOCRATS have for years called the party the "party of the people." Would a "party of the people saddle every man, woman and child with a debt of $138,223? No "party of the people" would invite repudiation of the national debt, and resultant poverty for everyone.

SEN. TED Kennedy said at the last Democratic National Convention in New York that his party is the "party of compassion." Sure. How easy it is to be compassionate with the money of others! Ted's father, Joe Kennedy, once observed that Ted "wasn't the brightest" of his sons. That, methinks, was a "compassionate" estimate of his youngest son.

BOTH POLITICAL parties love to quote Thomas Jefferson, who being dead, poses no threat to either. But he did write something in his autobiography that is wasted on both parties: "Were not this great country divided into states, that division must be made, that each might do for itself what concerns itself directly, and what it can do so much better than a distant authority."

IF YOU "want for bread" you know the reason why, and you have the Great Man's word for it.

REMEMBER the good old days when the only thing we had to scare the daylight out of us was Strontium 90? ... California has earthquakes. It also has produced the world's laziest bartender. He puts all the mixings for a whiskey sour into a cocktail shaker, then goes to Los Angeles and waits. ... I'll show you how wrong I can be. Back on Dec. 30, 1970 I wrote in this column: Own some land? Hang onto it. By 1980 its value will increase by at least 50 percent. ... It increased by 150 percent! ... Editorial Comment A Lincoln County Airport?

The fatal crash of a light plane taking off from Fuldoso Airport last week again focuses attention on the need for a new airport to serve Fuldoso.

We know from experience the danger and difficulty involved in landing a light plane at the existing airport, and it is impossible for commercial airlines.

We would like to suggest that Carrizozo Airport be transferred to Lincoln County Commissioners and be operated by the county on behalf of Fuldoso, Carrizozo, and all county residents.

There are advantages: (1) The cost of turning Carrizozo Airport into a first-class county facility would be relatively small compared to the cost of a new airport near Fuldoso; (2) It can be done quickly; (3) A county airport might eliminate a mutually destructive inter-city rivalry that now exists over the airport question; (4) The safety factor is far greater at the Carrizozo site in that it has not obstructing mountains, it is level, and there is year-around accessibility.

A disadvantage is that ground transportation from Carrizozo to Fuldoso would have to be initiated. There is a possibility that Fuldoso Downs would provide commute service from here to Fuldoso, at least during the racing season, or it may help subsidize a private commercial service. A car rental agency here would be a air passenger convenience.

Another disadvantage is the 40-mile commute from Carrizozo to Fuldoso. However, air travelers might consider an hour's ride through scenic country preferable to the hazards of a mountain-located airport. This distance is no barrier. From airports at such places as San Francisco, New York, Los Angeles and Dallas it is an hour's ride, or more, to downtown destinations.

There will be objection to a Lincoln County Airport by civic-minded citizens of Fuldoso who prefer their own airport.

Civic pride aside, consider safety and cost. If a new Fuldoso Airport can be built for $25 million and the Carrizozo Airport can be converted at a fraction of that cost, the idea deserved to be explored.

A joint discussion with Fuldoso and Carrizozo trustees, county commissioners and state and federal aviation authorities could be arranged to discuss a Lincoln County Airport. We hope it will happen.

New Mexicans I have known

Tony, the Tamale Chef

By STANJAY Saludos, Tony Rael of Santa Fe!

If you never knew Tony Rael you have been deprived of the pleasure of knowing one of God's noblemen.

He ministered to the sick, the hungry and the hungover. I sneer at Escoffier and all the highly-touted French chefs because not one of them could match the culinary artistry of this great man.

Back in the middle 30s and early 40s the Capitol Building in Santa Fe was a teeming mass of people who had migrated, through the blessings of their Democratic County Chairman, to a state job in the Capitol. Santa Fe, because of the influx of employees enjoying the luxury of their (mostly) first well-paying jobs, teemed with these hard-drinking, hard-living, hard-loving people from every county in the state.

It was a romantic time and, as is the way with smalltown people suddenly cast into the shadows of the snowcapped mountains of Santa Fe, they wanted to have fun. This often created spectacular hangovers and headaches, and no amount of aspirin could quell their morning-after aches. But Tony Rael could.

Promptly at 9:30 each work-day morning Tony would push his hot-cart up Don Gaspar Avenue to the Capitol, filled to the brim with the greatest, fattest, most luscious tamales ever a man tasted.

Tony's tamales were so fat that a largemouth bass couldn't swallow one. Mixed in the masa were large chunks of soft, cooked corn that I have wanted for years to duplicate, but never could. Inside was a mixture of chili and chunks of meat almost bite-size, all wrapped in corn shucks and drowned in a sea of chile sauce of heavenly flavor.

In 1935 the idea of charging 35 cents for just one tamale was ridiculous, considering that some restaurants were glad to get that for a full meal. But Tony charged 35 cents because he knew their worth and so did the hungry public, for people lined up at his hot-cart, praying the supply of tasty, therapeutic tamales would last.

I don't know what happened to Tony after I left Santa Fe in 1951. I do know that Tony was the world's greatest Chef-de-Tamale. Tony, if you're still around please write to me in care of the Lincoln County News so I may properly thank you for all those gastronomic delights. If you have been gathered to your forefathers, I beseech your heirs to accept this testimonial that Tony Rael was indeed the greatest tamale chef the world has ever known.

And he might have had the courtesy to have left his recipe to those who worshipped at his hot-cart!

Letters to the Editor

Ask the British

EDITOR: Around 1978 the Russians got two new tanks and Uncle Sugar's elite super-secret National Security Agency decided to learn the caliber of the tanks' guns. They spent many weeks intercepting and decoding Russian military radio signals but the Russkies were too smart. Our highly paid protectors were unable to get the information.

Never let it be said that the NSA is easily discouraged, they got counter-intelligence into the act and everybody knows how smart the CIA is!

They used one of those expensive new gimmicks, a satellite. From somewhere close to Heaven they tracked the Soviet tanks across Eastern Europe using super-zoom cameras to zero in on their targets.

You would think that with the best of US technology and employing the sharpest operatives in the United States Counter-intelligence, the results should have been a foregone conclusion - but the Russian guns were hidden in metal sleeves.

After a couple of years of expensive electronic snooping, guess what our Braintrust Bully Boys decided to do? Why - appeal to the British for help, of course.

The British told the Yanks to go to the library. To be specific, they told the CIA that the information that they were seeking was to be found in "Jane's Weapon Systems," a common reference book found in public libraries in the United States! Isn't it comforting to know how well we are protected by our men in Washington?

DON HUTCHINSON, Capiton.

How to kill a town?

EDITOR - I was caught in a radar trap by Carrizozo Police. I was not warned, I was fined.

Since I travel this route frequently, each year I have spent several hundred dollars at the restaurants, the grocery store and hardware store in Carrizozo. This has been by choice.

Henceforth, I shall creep through your town and be careful that I do not leave even the price of a cup of coffee or a Coke.

I shall take my business to the next town.

NAME WITHHELD, Albuquerque.

ED. NOTE - Understand your anger. On the other hand, if you travel this route frequently, you should know the speed limits and observe them. Come on back. The next town isn't going to be any easier on you.

Johnny-come-lately

I have read several articles about White Oaks written by Johnny-come-lately people who didn't know there was a White Oaks until it became a ghost town.

Anyone who believes what those people write would have the impression that White Oaks was a hangout for outlaws, desperados and all kinds of vice. All that is false and is slander of the citizens that lived in White Oaks in the early days. Their stories are opposite to the way White Oaks really was in those days.

The people were honest, hardworking people, good neighbors who hated crime. I know because I grew up in White Oaks from 1896 until World War I, Oct. 3, 1917.

I think if a person writes about something he doesn't know about, if they can't say something good then don't say anything.

HARRY S. DYER, Portales, NM.

EDITOR - Thanks for sending me a copy of your paper. Enjoyed it immensely, and was amazed at the grocery prices, certainly a big difference between what we have to pay and the prices there.

Enjoy "Opinion" and thank you for printing the Horace the Mule Saga. I love the recipes, now how about a good chili recipe. Am enclosing my check for a year's subscription. Hope you continue to write you "Opinion" and keep telling it like it is, there's so little of that these days.

FRANCES THOMPSON, Cazadero, CA.

(ED. NOTE: Watch for the amazing, soul-searing recipe for chili as constructed by Joiner himself. It is not for the faint-hearted.)

Is she close?

EDITOR - That poem (letters, April 15) surely must have been written by my husband whom I dragged, screaming, to McDonald's burger joints in the LA area, beginning when the second chain's sign showed only a few hundred burgers sold.

(2) and (3). He was extremely happy to finally escape to the Lincoln County, NM mountains. Here McDonald's was a great nothingness, nonexistent; hence he could eat homemade burgers while basking in Universe's raw nature.

But as luck would have it, the great chain is again in labor! Right here on his mountaintop, at the Y in Ruidoso, a new McDonald's is being born. (Gory be! Says me.)

(4) He can already hear the canyon walls echoing, "200 Million Sold." And he weeps because he knows he will have eaten half the number and his wife the other half.

Back to (1). (Gosh, I need that 100 for McDonald's hamburgers.) Got it! You'll find the poetry in "200 million-fold." That's so much more poetic than saying, "200 Million Sold."

LAVINA KENNON REHA, Ruidoso Downs, NM.

All of a sudden the trees have leaves and blossoms together. The wind has quieted some. Therefore, we can see and have realization. Everyone is starting the yard cleaning, badly needed as there are papers and loads of limbs and trash the wind gave us that needs to be taken away. We have had a few warm hours in the last few days. It was appreciated. But the weather is not settled. It's rather cold to date.

Smokey Bear Museum and the State Park had 1,654 visitors. Mr. and Mrs. T.G. Shorshire brought seven VA patients by last Sunday from Mart, Texas. This was the first time they had been here and they enjoyed it very much.

There will be a 13-week course for EMTs May 26 through August. Tuesdays and Thursdays in Capitan. Devil Bill Adams will be the instructor. Applications are necessary. Inquire of Nancy Guck, Velma Adams, Mary Lou Brown and Rose Mary Zink.

The Capitan EMTs are holding a raffle on a Dorothy Guck painting at the Fireman's Ball May 22 at the Fair Building. The proceeds will buy jackets for the EMTs. Do support them and the fire department. It will be greatly appreciated.

The Capitan Clinic received some very nice plants for its opening last week. They were busy. Nancy Guck is going to Ruidoso Wednesday to work with Dr. Kirkegaard. She will be available for emergency calls there.

Judy Brown started work on her pharmacy this week at the old Chuck Inn building and it will open in June. We are looking forward to that.

The Capitan Weight Watchers have 19 members and meet every Monday night. Weigh in at 6:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. Meeting starts at 7 p.m. They welcome everyone from all over Lincoln County.

The regular meeting of the 4-H was held on April 13 at the Fair Building. A new parliamentarian was elected since Wendy Tate resigned. Joy McClain is the new parliamentarian.

More discussion was heard on the upcoming concession stand at the rodeo in June. Those giving demonstrations were Tammy Dean, Tracy Herd on how to make pistachio salad.

Wendy Tate, avacado facial; Andy Trujillo, first aid. A weiner roast will be held at the next 4-H meeting.

Ronald Joiner spent two days in the Ruidoso Hospital last week from a fall on cement. He suffered a slight concussion but is doing nicely now. I do wish the very best and quick recovery.

Claudia Jones and classmates gave Lisa Shear a personal wedding shower Saturday night. Many friends attended and she received many beautiful gifts.

Leonard Crain, 4-H leader of horse judging project, took a group of children to a horse judging clinic in Las Cruces at the New Mexico State University, April 16-17. Accompanying him were Glenda Booher, Poco Phillips, Michelle Clark, Tony and Sonya Crain; Lee and Guy Payne.

The Spring Fling Concert in which elementary grades participated, Tuesday night at the school was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met at the home of Harriet McGinnis, April 15. Ten members were present with Eltha Merrell and Lorene Ferguson absent. Guests were Charlotte Lee and Arneline McIntosh. The table was decorated with a bouquet of apple blossoms. Barbecued chicken was the main dish. After a short business meeting the history of Capitan was read, written by Herbert Lee Traylor. Frankie Tonn won the raffle, a jar of Kavia coffee.

The next meeting will be held May 20 at the home of Frances Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marrs of Lubbock Texas, became grandparents and great-grandparents as well these last few months. Tom is here at their home at this time telling of their joy and happiness. Mrs. Marrs did not come. She is enjoying those babies.

He reports that Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Loomis are in much better health. The climate in Kosse, Texas, has helped them. Both are doing OK, we are happy to learn.

Linda Ponder of the Cowbelles took three girls to the horse judging in Las Cruces April 16-17. Those 4-H ladies enjoyed that.

Thirty people joined the walkathon last Saturday from Capitan to Salazar Canyon. Donations were for cystic fibrosis.

Recent guests for one week of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allred were Mr. and Mrs. Peppie Alligular, one son, two daughters and a friend from Mexico City. Peppie is a civil engineer.

Dolly Knight of Caldwell, Texas, is employed at Olin's Quick Stop.

Vernon and Ann Goodwin attended a manufactured home show in Ft. Worth, Texas, last week. "It's amazing the quality and style these homes now show, surely not a trailer anymore." Most every manufacturer in the Southwest were represented. They returned to Lubbock Thursday to attend the Texas Cotton Ginners Convention. Mr. Goodwin was a director of this organization for many years. So they just conventioned all week, enjoying many old friends.

Diane Odom and son of Lovington, NM, are now residents of Capitan.

Maxine and Howard Wright spent last Monday in Roswell for their physical checkups.

Orville Trammell of Hobbs, NM, is spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland.

Linda Wright went to Tucumcari to meet her mother, Mrs. Jake McCarty, and brought her to Capitan last Friday. Her father joined them here and took his wife with him to their home in Animas.

Bud and Dorothy Payne of Carrizozo visited Curtis and Beverly Payne in Capitan Monday.

Mrs. Christine Pokorny, Tyler and Clark of Omaha, NB, became new residents of Capitan. She is employed at the Smokey Bear Motel.

Recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cox were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K.A. Cox of Carlsbad, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Cox of Salt Lake City, Utah. Terry purchased land in the subdivision and they will return this summer.

The Butch Allens and their two sons; The Ronnie Eldridges and two children; The Fifers and daughter; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barber and Rebecca attended the high school rodeo at Bosque Farms near Albuquerque last week.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Lincoln County Sheriff's deputies apprehended a customer who left the Malco Gas station owing over $14. Charges were not filed and money was paid to the Malco owners.

Thelma Appar of Carrizozo reported to the Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept. that a skunk had bitten her dog. Skunk was destroyed and beheaded and turned over to the Lincoln County health nurse for analysis for rabies.

A 16-year-old male was apprehended after being reported by a runaway out of El Paso, Texas. Boy was reunited with his father.

Arron Portio of Carrizozo reported his windshield broken while parked at the Nike Dance Hall, west of Carrizozo. Incident is under investigation.

Anthony A. Gonzales, 21, of Ruidoso was arrested on charges of DWI. Gonzales posted a $200 bond and was released.

Tommy Currel, Tucumcari, NM, was bitten by a dog in the Bonito area. Currel was treated at the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital and was released. The dog is under observation for rabies.

Fr. James Shea, 35, of Dallas, Texas, was bitten by three dogs while visiting in the Alto area. Fr. Shea was treated and released at the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital. The dogs are under observation.

308th Fighter Squadron at Holloman Air Force Base. I understand the size of the hospital is being doubled, the officers are in Alamogordo nailing down all the best housing before the enlisted personnel get a chance at it, and that the expanded facility may double the population of Alamogordo. Another rumor is that something big is in the offing for Carrizozo. Here at the News we keep getting phone calls from businesses planning to move here. They want information on housing, advertising rates, and other data... Anybody know something I don't?

I AM considering putting out a contract on pharmacy supply companies who put out prescription bottles that are "child-proof." True, these playthings of the devil can't be opened by children. Neither can they be opened by me. And unless you have an advanced degree in engineering and another in logic, you can't either. Dr. William Troutman, director of the New Mexico Poison, Drug Information and Medical Crisis Center (whew!), says he received 140 calls from Lincoln County last year, most of them dealing with actual human poisoning. Most concern children from one to two years old. Tell me, how did parents keep their children from eating and drinking household poisons before this Rubic Cube bottle cap monstrosity came on the market? Are parents deliberately putting poison within easy reach of children? Are they educating them to stay away from dangerous substances, or is that too much trouble, or have they determined that the responsibility lies with government? How did children survive before this child-proof, man-proof, beast-proof prescription bottle cap came on the market three years ago?

IF YOU'VE bought a prescription lately you know about that foolproof cap. Recently, I wrestled with one of these allegedly safe caps for 30 minutes without success. But I did cut my hands, knocked over a toxic compound that (according to some consumer advocates) could have killed me and every neighbor within two city blocks, fell in the bathtub, lost my religion, upset myself emotionally, and said things about my government for which I was later ashamed. Throwing caution to the wind, I seized a hammer and smashed that plastic container to bits. It is far more practical to pick up my pills off the bathroom floor than to release a safety bottle cap that must have been invented by that idiot Ralph Nader.

BRITISH and European nationals are rioting and demonstrating against the United States plan to station nuclear arms in their countries as a protection against Soviet missiles aimed at their capital cities. I don't know why we bother to try and defend these people. L. C. Williams of Kilmarnock, VA, recently wrote a letter to the "Economist" which reflects my views on the subject of defending Western Europe, and possibly yours. He wrote: "There must be millions of Americans who think as I do. The Europeans and the British have the right to decide about missiles on their soil. Let us follow their wishes, pull out all our troops, bases, supplies, the lot, pull out. You have our best wishes. Defend yourselves as you think best. Or, if you think life is not bad in Poland or Mongolia, don't." I am trying to think of an instance where the US tried to defend these same countries without tragic consequences to ourselves.

GRAND OPENING!

At New Horizons

Appreciation dinner honors local pastor

The Rev. David Lynch was cited for outstanding service to Carrizozo and particularly to the clients and students at New Horizons Developmental Center

Monday night at New Horizons Center.

The dinner honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Lynch was given by the board of directors and staff of the center which Lynch has served as board secretary since the organization was founded and who has been its secretary for two terms.

Bill Payne, board chairman, thanked the Rev. and Mrs. Lynch for the hours of devoted work that has contributed substantially to the success of New Horizons.

The Lynches were presented with a desk lamp by past Board Chairman Mary Rich Adams. She said Lynch had been responsible for developing a complete set of principles and operating procedures for the non-profit corporation. She credited him with much of the detail work in formulating by-laws, job descriptions, policies, board manuals; for heading several major committees and for being responsible for a high degree of detail and accuracy in the minutes of the corporation.

Jenny Kelly, director of New Horizons, gave Lynch a plaque inscribed: "Matt 25:40 - And the King will answer them truly 'As ye did it to one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it to Me.'"

Kelly thanked Lynch for his loving concern for the staff and its problems and for his devotion to the students of New Horizons, a non-profit community corporation dedicated to the teaching of developmentally disadvantaged adults.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lynch moved to Carrizozo in 1977. He has served as minister to Trinity United Methodist Church since then and has participated in many community projects in addition to New Horizons. He served on the board and as an officer of the Carrizozo Health Center and committee member of the Chamber of Commerce. He is board member of the Wesley Foundation, located at NMSU. Lynch served eight years in the US Navy and in 1952 was ordained as a minister.

SPRINGTIME on Nogal Canyon Creek

LISTEN IN! It's Robie's Party-Line! Hot off the Wire:

dressing table. In the 17th century a dressing table was covered with a rug or velvet skirt fringed in gold. On top of the rug was a white cloth with lace and gold ribbons, and a glass on top of that.

In the past the dressing room was a special place for intrigue, and conversation of importance. They need lots of pretty bottles, combs, brushes and mirrors. If you can't afford antique ones, start collecting pretty bottles at junk sales and at the stores.

Other touches of romance can be added, such as flowers and baskets. The "in" thing is baskets. In the 1800s the crews of lightships anchored near Nantucket would spend their lonely hours weaving baskets from a mold. The basket molds are safely guarded, and used by the best craftsmen. Baskets warm the home, filled with flowers, greenery and bows.

If you have some very old special Easter or summer hats, try hanging them on the wall. They're charming.

You may add atmosphere with all types of silk and paper flowers, which are easily made. Now find some romance in your life!

Romantic fashion, Mabel! You need a salor shirt or blouse for summer, and a pair of fresh and breezy culottes. Salor clothes are easy to make and they are going everywhere. Don't forget a couple of sweat shirts, any style. The roomy zip-front hooded jacket is nice for chilly evenings in Nogal.

Did you know? The new Mail in Alamogordo is just like being in the city; enjoy it.

All Mr. Kallintines' friends wish him a quick recovery.

That the young "beauty stylist" keeps up on all new styles and attends school often to improve her skills.

The rumor about an exercise class in Capitan is true.

That voting is coming up in a few weeks, and gubernatorial candidate John Irick visited Capitan and Carrizozo last week.

Mabel, try to laugh!

"Dear Grandma. Thanks for sending the matching set you made for me. The sweater was too small. I gave it to Robert. The scarf was too long. I gave it to dad. The mittens were too big. I gave them to mom. I'm sorry but the hat didn't fit anyone. It was a swell present. Love, Paul."

On our son's 14th birthday he received some money from his aunt and uncle. "Thanks for the $20," he wrote them. "I put some in the bank and spent the other $19.50."

Discovered a terrific four-letter word for psychotherapy: talk.

There's nothing more boring than a collision between two one-way conversations.

Mabel, here is a favorite chocolate cake. Mix together 2 cups sugar and 2 cups flour. Bring to a boil 1 stick oleo (1/4-lb.), 3 1/2 lbs. cocoa, 1 cup water, 1/2-cup Crisco. Mix. Combine 2 eggs (beat with fork), 1/2-cup buttermilk, 1 tsp. soda, 1 tsp. vanilla. Mix all three mixtures together. Pour into greased, floured 11x16" pan. Bake 20 minutes at 400 degrees. This batter will be thin. Icing: 1 stick oleo, 3 1/2 lbs. cocoa, 6 lbs. milk. Bring to boil and add 1 box powdered sugar, 1 tbs. vanilla, 1/2-cup chopped pecans. Spread icing on cake while cake is hot. Let cool, then cut.

The amount of chemical work done on the hair has a great bearing on how often it should be conditioned. The following is a suggested timetable for minimum usage of high quality protein conditioner.

- 1.) Hair that has a perm only - once each week.
- 2.) Perm and color - each washing, preferably twice each week.
- 3.) If hair that has a perm is washed daily it should be conditioned every other washing.

Mary Ellen Payne heads Woman's Club

Mary Ellen Payne was elected president of the Carrizozo Woman's Club last Thursday at the organization's regular meeting.

Other officers elected were: Lynn Miller, 1st vice-president; Charlotte Wall, 2nd vice-president; Pagan Rouseche, secretary; Jackie Vigil, treasurer; and Lucia Vega, parliamentarian.

New officers will be officially installed at the club's May meeting.

Viola Fenter was the one new member added to the board of directors. Other directors are Hazel English, Ramona Ortiz, Sue Stearns and Mary Spencer.

The Sun Duchess was also elected, and her selection will be formally announced May 15. The scholarship recipient was also named and will be named at graduation.

Members discussed a new roof for the club building and set May 18 as the date for the family portrait picture-taking.

For the jobless, this is no Land of Enchantment

Neatly typed on heavy bond or scribbled on sheets torn from school tablets, day after day they come. Full of hopes and dreams, they accumulate in stacks on state employees' desks, waiting to be answered. In all the states of the union and in foreign countries, their writers wait for the answers that may mean a new job and a new home in New Mexico.

A recent article in "Changing Times" encouraged job seekers from other parts of the country to check opportunities in the Rocky Mountain states. Employment Security Department Secretary Louis R. Bachicha said dozens of responses to the articles are coming in to this agency every week. "Many of these letters are coming from workers in states where unemployment is high, but we are also getting letters from states with rates much lower than New Mexico, and from England and Canada."

Automobile industry assembly line workers, jazzercise teachers, condominium managers and grocery store clerks all hope to find the fabled Seven Cities of Cibola with streets paved with gold in modern New Mexico. In addition to their questions about jobs, they ask about quality of life. "One letter asked for an assessment of the state's ski trails," Bachicha noted. "Another writer wanted my guarantee that any area he selected to settle in would have a good water supply."

Several asked about the quality of schools and public transportation, and many asked about housing costs.

While manufacturing employees, teachers and construction workers write most often, almost all fields of work are represented in the stacks of letters. In the first three months of 1982, the agency heard from two newspapermen, five wildlife management specialists, one lawyer, several college students looking for summer guest ranch jobs, dozens of manufacturers' representatives and one man who wants to start a medical contracting service in New Mexico.

Most of the hundreds of letter writers were told job applicants are in good supply in New Mexico. Nurses, petroleum workers, special education teachers and surveyors were given some en-

EMT gets aid device

County Emergency Medical Technicians took delivery of an extrication device at their regular quarterly meeting April 12 in Carrizozo.

Called a Kendrick's Extrication Device (KED) for the equipment consists of a plastic wrapped longitudinal molded backboard with color coded straps for fastening to the trapped victim of an auto accident or other mishap where the patient cannot be easily moved. Attached handles facilitate removing the victim.

Instruction on the proper use of the device was given by Ron Beich, RN of Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital. Following the demonstration, the EMTs practiced on each other.

"This device is superior to a short backboard and cravats, which has been the traditional method used," said Jimmy Wright of Capitán, Lincoln County EMT Association president. "It can be used on persons of all sizes, even pregnant women. It comes with its own head restraint as well as permitting the use of a cervical collar if needed."

"I like the Velcro closures and the handles," said Yvonne Lanelli, Alto EMT and association secretary. "The Velcro insures a snug, even fit and the handles enable even a small person like me to move the patient."

A KED has been assigned to each ambulance in Alto, Capitán, Carrizozo, Corona and Hondo, said Wright.

In addition, First Responder Kits are assigned to those EMTs living in outlying areas. This kit is designed for an EMT who would be first on the scene of an emergency and who would give first aid prior to arrival of the ambulance.

It is stocked with emergency medical supplies required to treat most common-life-threatening situations such as lack of breathing or serious bleeding.

In other business, members voted Tom Funk of Carrizozo to fill a vacancy on the board. Other board members are Beich, vice-president; Mel Gnatkowski of Corona, treasurer; Kathy Williams of Corona, Frank Sinerros of Hondo and Nancy Guck of Nogal.

Next meeting will be Monday, July 12, at a place to be announced later.

Persons needing an ambulance may call the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office at 649-2342 or 257-7555.

WHY ARE YOU CRYING, SON?
I'M CRYING 'CAUSE I WANNA PLAY WITH THE BIG GIRLS LIKE THE BIG BOYS DO!

The BUMBLES By Al Smith

Know Thyself
and believe in yourself!

Today's fast-moving world demands our best; that we meet life without fear and worry; that we go first-class.

Look at yourself through your teacher's eyes, your bosses' eyes, your friends' and neighbors' eyes. Are you, without knowing it, giving them the wrong impression?

Are you making sure you receive the kind of treatment you know you deserve?

A study of your handwriting by a professional handwriting expert (Certified Graphoanalyst) will tell you where your fears are, how you cope with them, what you can work on to rid yourself of them.

Handwriting is actually "brainwriting." Handwriting shows how you think, how you act.

Take action now. Let us prepare for you a chart of your personality traits indicating your strengths and weaknesses.

Do it NOW.

In just your natural and ordinary hand and using your favorite pen (no pencils or felt-tip pens) write on unlined paper something off the cuff, 100 words or so. Spontaneous writing (no printing) that flows as freely as possible gives the truest self-portrait. Attach your signature in closing and send to: Bell Handwriting Consultants, 27 Woodgreen Ct., Santa Rosa, CA 95405.

FEE: Enclose $25 for your own Personality Profile. Please allow a two-week waiting period.
