Payne gets nod for county clerk

Philip Payne was unanimously selected as the Democratic Party nominee for Lincoln County Clerk by the Central Committee of the Democratic Party of Lincoln County at an emergency meeting Monday night.

The action came after Leon Eggleston, city clerk at Capitan and candidate for county clerk on the Democratic ticket, submitted his resignation.

Payne, 19, is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Bill Payne of Carrizozo. He is a 1981 graduate of Carrizozo High School and is now on leave of absence from New Mexico State University after completing one year of study in agribusiness and education. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, Ag and Home Ec. College Council and the sophomore honorary society, SPURS.

The announcement was made by Gary C. Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee.

New, innovative 'banking service' comes to town

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Johnson Stearns was Aug. 27 when a belly dancer, Victoria Wiggins of Alamogordo, did a surprising "thing" to commemorate the bank president's 65 birthday. The surprise birthday package was arranged by Al Hamilton, president of Bank Securities Inc., Albuquerque, of which the local Citizens State Bank is a member. The bank customers enjoyed it too.

2nd primary

Sheffield, McGuire, Collins, Knowles win

Voters named their candidates in still another primary election Tuesday. Democrats chose Leonard Sheffield Jr. for State Representative in Dist. 51 and Marvin B. McGuire for State Representative, Dist. 56.

Republican primaries were held in State Representative Dist. 56 and 57. In Dist. 56, Fred D. Collins won, and in Dist. 57, Richard T. Knowles will carry the Republican banner in the November general election.

The New Mexico Secretary of State's office Wednesday morning reported these election figures to the NEWS:

DEMOCRATS, Dist. 51: Sheffield, 463; Shockey, 196. Kalin, 257. Dist. 56: McGuire, 568.

Sanders, 553.

REPUBLICANS, Dist. 56: Fred D. Collins, 181; Thomas P. McKnight, 170; Ben Hall, 171; Fred Pool Jr., 143; Ernest S. Sanchez, 141. Dist. 57: Richard T. Knowles, 654; Bud Eppers, 437. Unofficial results released by the Lincoln County clerk's office showed that in Lincoln County precincts Sheffield won in Dist. 51, McGuire in Dist. 56, Hall in Dist. 56, and Eppers in Dist. 57.

Democratic voters cast 998 votes in Lincoln County balloting. Republicans turned out 1,009 voters. Unofficial returns indicate that Lincoln County voters in both parties turned out in numbers that exceeded that state average.

Dist. 56, one of only a few districts where both parties held primaries, takes in portions of Chaves, Eddy and Lincoln counties. Dist. 57 is made up of parts of Chaves, Lincoln and De Baca counties. Dist. 51 includes voting precincts in Nogal, Angus, Capitan, Rudoso, San Patricio and Hondo, but not in Carrizozo.

The special law passed for House primary election on Tuesday provided that there would be elections only in those districts and races in which candidates had opposition from within their own party. Consequently, in Tuesday's election voting took place in only 36 of the state's 70 House districts and in only 18 of the state's 33 counties.

In some districts, as in Dist. 51, there were elections for Democrats and not for Republicans, and in Dist. 57, there was voting for Republicans and not for Democrats.

Considering the confusion surrounding this second primary election, only about 10 percent of eligible voters in affected districts were expected to vote. However, statewide results tended more toward 17 percent, and in Lincoln County the average may exceed 23 percent.

Tuesday's special primary election resulted from the legislature's reapportionment plan being delayed for two months by a court challenge. There is widespread opinion that even the second primary election may be appealed to the courts, in which case the results of Tuesday's election could be invalidated.

Up With People

How host families reacted to guests

It has been two weeks since the 120-member cast of Up With People captured Carrizozo, and, if the reaction of residents after two weeks is any indication, the town is still captive to the unusual group of talented youngsters.

Phyllis Schlegel, who worked with the local committee, and with UWP publicists Lisbeth Clausen and Betsy Blackburn for two weeks before the show arrived, has compiled comment from families who played host to cast members during their stay here, and who took them into their homes.

The NEWS thought this roundup of comment and reaction to the events would be of interest to all who missed out on the experience of playing host to the young people.

Dr. James Miller has received a letter from Kenneth G. McGovern, promotion manager for Up With People, which reflects the cast's opinion of the "Carrizozo experience." "I think the results of our visit to Carrizozo far exceeded our original goal, and I can say in all honesty that your fine city will become a regular home for us in our ever-growing itinerary. In other words, Up With People will return.

Here is what some of the host families and host parents had to say about their guests.

Host Family: The Joe DeTevises

Three members of the cast of Up With People stayed in our home. They were from the U.S., Canada and Sweden. We were impressed with the way they conducted themselves, not only in our home but on the stage. Truly they are an enthusiastic and disciplined group. They willingly talked about their families and

A new Lincoln manager

The new county manager Suzanne Cox, was in town over the weekend preparing to take over the duties on Sept. 1. She replaces Truman A. Billingsley, who resigned July 31.

Mrs. Cox was enrolling one of her children in Carrizozo schools and looking for suitable housing, which she is finding difficult. She told the NEWS she may have to divide time between Carrizozo and Truth or Consequences, where husband Charles is serving out his sixth term as sheriff of Sierra County. He expects to join Mrs. Cox in Carrizozo when his term of office expires in January. The couple have six children, and two of them will be living with them in Carrizozo.

Mrs. Cox was elected treasurer of Sierra County at age

21. She subsequently served as chief deputy assessor-appraiser in Sierra County and later in other county administrative offices in Truth or Consequences.

She was appointed administrative assistant for Sierra County when the county manager's position was abolished, which lasted until June 30. She then worked as a legal secretary for an attorney in Truth or Consequences.

She is familiar with Lincoln County. Born in Roswell, she has traveled frequently between there and Truth or Consequences.

She sees no problem in assuming duties of county manager. Her background has been in budgeting, taxation, real estate, appraisal and public accounting.

"Besides," she said, "the previous manager and commissioners have laid a good foundation and have done some good planning. This is an administrative job in which I serve at the pleasure of the commissioners. My job is just to see that everything runs smoothly."

She told the NEWS she would conduct an "open office" and that she would keep the public informed on county business. "It is the people's business, and they deserve to know how their affairs are being conducted," she said.

"I'm happy to be here and I'm looking forward to meeting the people of Lincoln County and working with them."

Mrs. Cox brings more than 15 years of experience in county government to her new job.

SUZANNE COX began her duties as Lincoln County Manager on Sept. 1.

With Mt. McKinley in the background, Abe Trimble, Corona, N.M., resident, cartographic technician (surveyor) with the U.S. Geological Survey, Denver, CO, waits for a signal from his field assistant while mapping an area 80 miles north of Anchorage, Alaska. Trimble and other members of the Denver-based USGS mapping crew will appear on the CBS "Universe" program on Sept. 14, 1982, at 7 p.m., MDT. USGS photo.

'Universe' program features Corona man

Three cartographers with the U.S. Geological Survey's Rocky Mountain Mapping Center in Denver, CO, will be featured on the CBS television program "Universe," scheduled to air at 7 p.m., MDT, Tuesday, Sept. 14, 1982.

Courtney H. (Corky) Swanson, Lakewood, CO; Abe Trimble, Corona, N.M.; and Jeff Roche, Wilmington, DL, were filmed on the job in late May near Talkeetna, Alaska, where they were surveying and field-checking a 537-square-mile area of the Talkeetna River valley, about 80 miles north of Anchorage.

The "Universe" program is hosted and narrated by veteran newscaster Walter Cronkite, who spent a day on location with the USGS crew at Talkeetna. Other segments of the program were filmed at the USGS Eastern Mapping Center's cartographic laboratories and map printing shop in Reston, VA.

The Talkeetna segment of the program depicts and explains the methods employed by USGS field surveyors who use sophisticated, electronic surveying equipment to pick up microwaves from other instruments and signals from orbiting satellites to measure distances and determine accurate longitudinal and latitudinal positions.

These electronic instruments, Cronkite explains, enable surveyors to obtain fast, accurate measurements in areas where it would take days or weeks to obtain such measurements on foot with the traditional transit, rod and chain.

As part of the field surveys,

USGS crews also travel over all the roads and trails in the area they are mapping, to determine which should be classified as suitable for motorized vehicles and which should be designated as passable only by hikers and pack animals. The location of every structure in the mapped area also is verified and noted.

In the cartographic laboratory, Cronkite explains, a photogrammetrist will use the surveyors' field notes to plot the information onto map-printing plates.

Michelle Cope spent a week in Farmington as the guest of Michelle Owen. At the same time Larie Lee and Melissa Owen were visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Owen here.

Xi Beta Epsilon of Beta Sigma Phi observed Beginning Day with dinner at the Marriott Hotel in Albuquerque. The meal ended with a special Little Devil birthday cake (one candle) for Eleanor Smith. President Patricia Perkins announced the first regular meeting for Sept. 2 at the home of Landa Cancilla, with Mrs. Cancilla and June Tyree to present the program. The dinner meeting adjourned for some shopping before the trip home.

Mrs. Minnie Davenport was in El Paso last week for additional laser eye surgery.

Mountainair friends seen at the Robinson reception were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Akin. The little Owen girls, Larie Lee and Missy, were there from Farmington.

Elvin and Edna Robinson celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house Aug 15th at the Corona School auditorium. The event was hosted by the couple's children and their families:

Lyndon and Phyllis Robinson of Greeley, CO, Darrell "Butch" and Jackie Robinson of Edmond, OK, Lee and Jo Barley of Fort Collins, CO and Rex and Sheila Robinson of Grants. The couple has 12 grandchildren. The youngest of the grandchildren, 28-day-old Jennifer Jo Barley, the "Golden Baby," was a star attraction at the party. The oldest grandchild, Jim Barley, is a student at Arizona State and was unable to be here because of exams and a job.

A three-tier cake and two matching sheet cakes centered the refreshment table. These were made and decorated by Betty Ann Bell. Refreshments were served with the help of Cedar Temple, Pythian Sisters, of which Mrs. Robinson is Most Excellent Chief.

Finger foods and mints were prepared and served by the Cedarvale Senior Citizen and Quilting Clubs. Edna's corsage and Elvin's boutonniere were of silk flowers which matched the arrangement of silk flowers in shades of gold placed on the table with the guest book and "Then and Now" photographs of the couple. Friends kept the guest book and presided at the coffee urns and punch bowl and served the cake.

Mrs. Barley brought a set of four books which she had marked in needlepoint—ANNIVERSARY, GUEST, ALBUM, and Gifts.

A program was presented with Lyndon Robinson as master of ceremonies. Lyndon gave historical accounts of his parents' courtship and early days together on the homestead which has been expanded into the present home ranch. "Always" was sung by granddaughter Robin Barley Cunningham, and Milla Pounds sang "Together". They were accompanied by Susan Huey who played background music during the reception. Charlene and Susie Griffin sang "My Best Friend" and "God Be With You". Grandson Kip Robinson played "Londonderry Aire" on his violin. Annie Pearl Sumner read a message from an old high school friend of Edna, Roger Stone, of Hunt, TX. Bill O'Kelley and Eileen Griffin shared anecdotes of years past.

Others relatives present were: Elvin's brothers and sisters-in-law, Earl and Cleo Robinson of Tyrone, OK, and Melvin R. and Jo Robinson of Odessa, TX, Jo's sister, Ruth Burch accompanied them. Elvin's nephews and their wives who came for the occasion

Arrive early is advice to Labor Day campers

Forest Service personnel anticipate heavy use of all camp and picnic grounds over the Labor Day weekend.

Campers should plan to arrive as early as possible if they wish to find an empty space in the developed campgrounds. Visitors to undeveloped and dispersed sites are requested to pack out everything they bring in. All users are reminded to keep the forest clean and beautiful.

Fuelwood areas are reopening as they dry out, but fuelwood cutters are reminded to always check with the district they plan to visit for current conditions. Numbers to call are: Smokey Bear at Ruidoso, 287-4085; Cloudcroft, 462-2551; Guadalupe at Carlsbad, 885-4181; and Mayhill, 687-9411. All fuelwood areas on Lincoln National Forest require fuelwood permits.

Bonito Lake is full on the Smokey Bear District, but fishing is poor. Rains have left some roads and trails muddy. Hikers in the high country should be watchful for thunderstorms and be prepared for cool nighttime temperatures.

Campgrounds on the Cloudcroft District continue to be heavily used on weekends. Trails are in good condition. Roads may have some muddy spots. Bears, skunks, and raccoons are frequent visitors to the campgrounds, so all food should be locked in cars at night.

Sitting Bull Falls Picnic Area is open with heavy weekend use on the Guadalupe District. Caving activity is low. Trails are open. Hikers are reminded to be prepared for sudden afternoon thunderstorms.

Motorists should be alert for deer crossing highways on the Mayhill District. Fishing is poor on the Penasco River; and there is no fishing at Bear Canyon Lake. Road work continues on NM 521 between Weed and Sacramento.

Lincoln County, New Mexico, has always been an exciting place to live. This year's Pony Express race with all of the activities before-hand at White Oaks and end of the race and Pageant at Lincoln all made for a memorable weekend.

Robbie Runnels and Chris Peralta won this one. Arvel Runnels, who operates Bonito Stables, was the Grandad who threw in the experience and help to enable the boys to be No. 1.

their appreciation for letting us have them in our home. We thoroughly enjoyed the presentation. It was fast-paced and we especially enjoyed the songs and dances from other countries. Thank you Carrizozo Schools for bringing this fantastic group to our community. —Ruth and Joe DeVivis

Host Family: The Alton Wilsons.
The girls Alton and I took care of were Marnie Brownell from New York and Ann K. from Denmark. We really enjoyed it even though it meant that we had to get up extra early to get the girls to town and get home a little later than everybody else. It did give us time though, to visit with them.

Marnie was a more outgoing person so we found out a little more about her the first day than we did Ann. She was familiar with a few of the aspects of country life so our way of life wasn't such a shock. Ann was so cute though when she asked me the first morning what the bird singing outside was. In English. I had to think a minute then answered, a rooster. Both girls were impressed with the quietness we sometimes take for granted.

As far as the UWP show was, it was fantastic! The whole thing is a super idea in which enough people care to make work. I also believe as Marnie said, that the show must be able to go on for so long without anything happening and always expanding and growing throughout the world. —Stacy Wilson.

Host Family: The Joel Pafford's.
Our family feels very privileged to have been part of the host families for Up With People. Two very special young ladies stayed in our home, opened our hearts, taught us about UWP and their homes and cultures. Jan was from Maine and Marie was from Columbia, SA. We feel that we have made two new friends.

Friday morning after the buses left we went home to remove the physical evidence of the last three days and the two very vivacious young ladies. As we went about our day, Brea would say "Remember when Jan did this...or Maria told me about...". In the background we could hear the strains of Up With People as Brea played the sound track tape over and over. We would look at the poster of the cast that Maria and Jan autographed, autographed.

We won't soon forget our experiences. We hope that someday our paths will cross again.

Host Parent: June Straley.
Tuesday, Aug. 17, 120 young people came to our town. They were so friendly. They must be the cream of young people. They made you see, and know that there are many young boys and girls that we never hear about!
I kept two of the girls. One from Norway. The other from Houston, TX. They were so friendly and full of life. I am so happy that I had the opportunity to know and talk with them. —June Straley

Host Family: The Ray Wells.
We has as guest two boys: one from Nova Scotia and the other Barcelona, Spain. Their stay was enjoyable and uplifting. Both made themselves at home and fit into our family life.
One bit of humor was on Tuesday night when the group met at our motel to lead the buses into town. Lisbeth Clausen (Denmark) was directing all the activities and after talking for a few minutes she said to me: "I'll see you, Mr. Wells. I have to try on my horse!"
It was a pleasure to have a young talented group such as those that were here. Very uplifting!—

Host Family: The James P. Millers.

Our whole family enjoyed our two Up With People girls. Secia (from Colorado) and Catherine (from Belgium) were hits from the start with our daughters. They talked and played with them and took them to a rehearsal; and in return they were almost worshipped. Both girls were fun for my husband and me, too: we had long talks the night they were here, about UWP, their homes and families, what they'll do after their year on the road, what we are and do here.

What impressed one most about Secia and Catherine—and the rest of the cast that I met—was their enthusiasm and openness; they had so much of those qualities that they spilled over on those who they met or performed for. My daughters now know the words to most of the songs (we bought a tape) and ask when we'll see "our" girls again. My friends' children are the same. And we hope "our" girls and other casts from UWP will come back—many times!

Host Family: The Stirling Spencers.

We truly think Up With People has been the nicest occasion we have been involved with since moving back to Carrizozo. The concert was only half of our pleasure. The six young men we kept in our home were truly exceptional. We thoroughly enjoyed them as house guests and only wish that we could have had more time with them.

Stirling and I would like to thank those who made it possible to have UWP in our home and community. Carrizozo seems like even a nicer place for it. What a positive influence!—Stirling, Mary, Spence and Chris Spencer.

Host Parent: Mary Chavez.
The dates 17th through the 20th of August, 1982, will be days I will never forget. On those dates I was honored to have in my home two beautiful girls from Up With People. I had a marvelous time talking and spending time with them and the rest of the group. They are so interesting and have so much love for their families and for people in general. My girls were Jennifer Bagin from Colorado and Louise Orr from Indiana. Their love and friendship was so great that in four days I became very attached to them. I am thankful that I was selected to be a host.

Host Family: The Morgan Maxwells.

I was standing there in the gym waiting for my guests to find me. The young men and women kept going by me, hardly looking at me. I began to wonder if there were going to be any left for me. Then I noticed two beaming smiles coming toward me. They both had big blue eyes and short blonde hair. I was delighted because I could already feel their friendly warmth. We introduced ourselves. Then I took them home with me.

Sally Hawks and Conny Cappen came to our house with quite a lot of luggage, bright friendly smiles and an easy informal friendliness which made all of us love them from the start. Sally was a veteran who had made the tour last year. From Toronto, Ontario, she seemed American and could just as well have been the "girl from next door." Conny, from the Netherlands, was a little more unfamiliar with our ways. She didn't hesitate about anything that interested her. She spoke English well, but sometimes a word she couldn't find would cause her to gasp and grope a little, little.

The first evening we spent talking until bedtime. We learned more about them I'm sure than they did about us.

The girls had to get to their job early and Doris tried to feed them a good breakfast. But Sally doesn't eat breakfast; only drinks coffee. Conny seemed a little dismayed with sausage, eggs and hot biscuits. We asked her what she usually had at home. "Brown bread, cheese and sometimes tomatoes," was her answer.

We waited impatiently for the potluck so we could meet some more of the cast. After the picnic, Geneva's guitar brought out the music in everyone. Sally and Conny played too, so we had a songfest. Conny sang a couple of Dutch songs, in a strong, clear voice. Sally like to "ham it up" a little and when we got through with "When the Saints Go Marching In" the song had a brand new treatment!

The show on Thursday night was something else again. The warmth and love that shown from those young people was like a blessing from God. The people who were unfortunate enough not to be there to see and feel the love that flowed from all of them missed one of the greatest rewards on earth today. For me it was like new faith in people of the world. I really feel how all people are alike in God's sight.

Host Family: The Jack Helfers.

Dr. James Miller has once again opened a new and exciting door for the youth of Carrizozo. I know many of them are now anxiously planning and dreaming of the day they will ride away on an Up With People bus.

The UWP cast sailed in and out of our lives and it was truly a delightful experience. They brought a message with their shining faces, exuberant spirits and a song in their hearts. . . AND Didn't It Bring Us UP!

Thank you, UWP, for sharing a few days of your wonderful year with us—you are fantastic! Alegre de haber conocido a'uda. Karen and Kelly. . . Hasta la vista! —Sharon Hecker.

Host Family: The Clovis Perrys.

Up With People was great! Those well-mannered, talented young people put on a great show. We enjoyed having two lovely girls in our home whose vitality rubbed off on all those around them. We hosted Marcy Feagons from Oregon and Ingrid Maguire from Pennsylvania. They were so friendly and easy to talk to. We learned a lot about their states as well as their families. Marcy is a school teacher who hopes to live and teach in a small town after her year's tour is over. (Maybe even Carrizozo?) Ingrid had just graduated from high school and wanted to be an airline stewardess in the future. We learned to love them in the short time they were with us and really hated to see them leave. Participating as a host family was our pleasure. —Clovis and Catherine Perry.

Host Family: The Bill Paynes.

I don't know when I have enjoyed anything as much as hosting three of the cast members from Up With People. They were absolutely delightful. I am sure their parents must be extremely proud of them. It was marvelous the way they fit right into our home. They were asking about what Future Farmers of America was since it had been mentioned at the opening session. It was much more difficult than I would have imagined to explain to them what FFA is.

They were intrigued by the fact that Mona was the one who had actually started the boys out raising hogs. One of the boys slept in Mona's room which meant that he was plagued by the dog. He was so sweet about it he even wrote Mona a note and told her he had taken care of her dog, even though he never met Mona.

I would be more than happy to host members of UWP if they are ever in this area again. —from the desk of Mary Ellen Payne.

Host Family: The Jerry Kollers.

We hosted two girls of the Up With People group, Maura Ryan from Ireland and Melanie Long from Colorado. They were courteous, well-mannered and seemed to feel right at home. They were both delightful and a joy to have in our home. Their enthusiasm rubbed off on all of us and we were as excited watching them perform as we would have been if one of our own children were on the stage performing. They seemed to enjoy the smiles and knowing that we were in the audience as much as we enjoyed watching. They were so enjoyable that we would love to have them here again. We got to know a little about each of their homes and their respective lives, which in turn enriched our lives. —Billie and Jerry Koller.

Host Family: The Rob Curtisses.

We kept two young men from Up With People. We really enjoyed having them in our home. They were very polite, yet friendly, and really seemed to appreciate everything you did for them. They tried to help out in the household and make their stay easier on everyone.

It would have been nice if they could have stayed the day after the show to relax a little and have a chance to see more of the area. It was really great that Carrizozo had the chance to host such a great group of kids. —Virginia Curtiss.

Host Family: The Walt Wilsons.

Suggestions and comments we heard are as follows: When they represented USA in second half of the show, would suggest a more patriotic number. More time with host families would be appreciated so they could learn more about our area. A man in his eighties said "best show ever in Carrizozo!" A lady wished (as did many of us!) she were young enough to join them. "The show made me feel ten years younger!" The co-operative effort of the community is to be commended. Most outstanding group EVER encountered. Cast members remarked about the quietness and darkness of our nights. A bus driver, middle-aged and from Idaho, said this was his very FIRST potluck!

Our guest from Belgium asked Walt if he ever washed his muddy pick-up truck. This response was "sometimes, or—when it rains." She said that in Belgium, they wash vehicles AFTER the rain because of pollution! And gasoline is $2 a gallon.

Host Parent: Beulah Moore.

The four perfect gentlemen I hosted were a real joy—they truly brightened my day. They made themselves at home and felt free to invite others of their cast in to visit and enjoy cupcakes and milk. (continued on page 5)

● FOR A man yearning for a quiet life in retirement, Johnson Stearns can usually be found at the core of any excitement. Take last week, for example, when the affable banker was looking forward to a quiet observance of his birthday. While he was wooing a customer in his glassed-encased office and customers were dutifully surrendering their money at teller windows, an erotic imitation of hell broke loose. An accomplished belly dancer invaded the bank lobby, shed all but a yard and a half of gauze and some tassels, and went into her act as customers, wide-eyed with astonishment (if not appreciation) forgot what they had come for. Her gyrations suggest more than that interest rates were falling. Stearns, red of face and strangely at loss for words, rode out the performance with grace. The affair had been arranged by a banker friend in Albuquerque as a birthday surprise. It was. Stearns was overheard to mutter something about "I don't like belly dancing. Why don't they use the floor like anybody else."

● ON A LESS glamorous front, the Israeli Army found out how to turn a military victory into defeat. It had the PLO and its leaders whipped, battered, beaten and cornered in West Beirut. Before the Israelis could dispatch their enemies as custom and justice demand, the so-called civilized world, with the US far out front, brought enough pressure to persuade Israel to pull back her army and allow the PLO to leave. They did, cheering, firing their guns and killing people indiscriminately, and giving their victory signs. They were transported to a half-dozen countries where they were given hero welcomes, and from where they will reorganize and continue their terrorist attacks upon anybody they don't like. Instead of crushing the PLO movement, the world can now look forward to even stronger terrorist attacks. Israel will rue the day she capitulated to US demands, and the US will rue the day even more. Terrorism will intensify in the US in retaliation for having supported Israel in the first place. Israel will now be attacked from six countries instead of one. Terrorism will be stepped up against every country that has not supported Arafat and the PLO in the past. Write that on the wall while the Russians snicker.

● ON THE busy litigious front, a woman whose husband drank a bottle of cheap wine and then raped a neighbor is suing the wine company for more than $10 million. Mrs. Donald F. Bryant of Alton, IL, not only filed suit against the winery, but included the store that sold it, the wholesaler, and most everybody in sight except the Girl Scouts, the US 5th Marines and National Association of Manufacturers. While justice awaited Mrs. Bryant, David Glenn Britt of San Antonio, TX, pleaded innocent of murder by claiming the music of a rock group, namely one Pink Floyd, drove him bananas and thus to irresponsibility for his act. The jury was not impressed, but it might have been had it been subjected to the organized pandemonium of Pink Floyd and his associates.

● ON A happier note, 250 citizens of the village of Kirtipur, India, fell upon nine bandits with bamboo sticks and clubs and rendered them dead, thereby lacerating their civil rights and depriving the judicial system of its chance to free the robbers. Since it may be assumed that the nine deceased were impoverished, which prompted the attempted robbery of a fishmonger's house, the US Department of State may call for US Marines to be sent to West Kirtipur as a peace-keeping force to prevent further slaughter of innocent bandits and robbers.

● IN HOUSTON, an 82-year-old great-grandmother thought she was growing herbs to ease her arthritis. It was five or six marijuana plants. A jury took 20 minutes to find her guilty of felony possession, but stopped short of ordering her publicly flogged, drawn and quartered. Compassion lives.

● IN CHICAGO, members of the Sabaens, a pagan group whose members get their jollies from sacrificing live animals, are whetting their knives for the city council. That body passed an ordinance last month outlawing the ritual slaughtering of animals. Pagans say same violates their First Amendment rights. This is a biggie, and off it goes to the US Soo-oo-preme Court. It was off the mortuary for the remains of the Rev. John Lee Holbrook of Oceana, WV. He had this compelling urge to demonstrate the power of faith in God by handling live rattlesnakes with his bare hands. The funeral was held last Monday. On another and equally kooky front, a lot of people are boycotting Proctor & Gamble soap products because the loonies claim the "moon and stars" trademark used by the firm for almost 150 years is a symbol of satanism and devil worship. The trademark shows a man in the moon and 13 stars that represent the 13 original colonies. P&G has responded to public hysteria by filing a truckload of lawsuits seeking to stop the rumors before an inflamed public binds up P&G company directors and burns them at the stake — one of the milder 15th Century forms of punishment meted out to people suspected of providing a human form for machinations of the devil. In the wilds of California, a revived Society of Kordax is causing some concern among more settled residents. They see nothing socially redeeming about this ancient Dionysian phallic dance which, to please the gods, is performed in the buff.

● THE SUMMER provided entrenched educationists in the world of academe opportunity for engaging in hysterics over President Reagan's budget cuts which promised that tuition loans would not be made to students whose families could afford to pay their children's college costs. Campuses, they wailed, would be deserted this fall. Ignorance would flourish in the land because students couldn't afford higher education. Colleges and universities would become wastelands. The republic would totter, perhaps even teeter. The president's callous lack of compassion would turn potential saviors of the human race into millhands and garbage collectors. Last week the Albuquerque Journal reported to New Mexico doomsayers in this headline: "Enrollment at UNM Runs 3.5 percent Above Last Fall." Oh.

● BUD PAYNE, our prestigious precocious weather prognosticator, has furnished us with atomic glass that resulted from the first atomic explosion at Trinity Site in 1945. He suggests we give a slug of this curious formation to new subscribers to the Lincoln County News and to those hardy souls who renew their subscriptions. He claims these bits are collector items, and will not make you glow in the dark or screw up your genes. They will be of special interest to anti-nuclear fanatics in that it will give them an idea of how their own miserable bodies will look when they get whammed with The Bomb they have so fervently prayed for. We don't have containers to mail them, but you can pick them up at the News office.

New Mexico in Washington

Lujan, Skeen on conflict of interest in NP Radio

BY LESTER KINSOLVING

WASHINGTON — National Public Radio's news program "All Things Considered" is broadcast to every state in the union, to 250 stations including four in New Mexico, for an hour and a half each afternoon.

The cost of NPR to the nation's taxpayers is $14,000,000 every year, whether they listen or not.

In charge of news for NPR (under NPR President and former George McGovern campaign manager Frank Mankiewicz) is Vice-President Barbara Cohen.

During an interview, Mrs. Cohen told this newspaper: "The Washington Post is a conservative newspaper."

(Later, when asked about this statement, New Mexico's Rep Manuel Lujan said: "My reaction to that is to laugh about it.")

Mrs. Cohen's husband Richard is a columnist for the Washington Post. But this is not mentioned anywhere in her biographical news release which is part of the NPR press kit.

"To suggest that my views or my approach to my job are at all influenced by what my husband writes is quite wrong," emphasized Mrs. Cohen. "I pursue my professional career and my husband pursues his professional career."

And you never discuss anything to do with the news with your husband?

"Of course we do," she conceded.

The husbands of three of NPR's star reporters are similarly hidden from the listening public, as well as from those reporters who depend on NPR press kits for candor regarding all that is newsworthy:

Reporter Linda Wertheimer is the wife of Fred Wertheimer, a lobbyist who heads Common Cause. This lobby deals with dozens of the most controversial issues on Capitol Hill — from where his wife broadcasts reports to the nation (at taxpayers' expense.)

Reporter Cokey Roberts is the daughter of two Democratic members of Congress, the late Hale Boggs and his wife and successor Lindy Boggs of Louisiana. Neither this nor Cokey's husband, a reporter for the New York Times, is mentioned in her biography issued by NPR.

Reporter Tine Tottenberg is the wife of Sen. Floyd Haskell, Colorado's liberal Democrat who lost his bid for reelection. The senator told this correspondent that he is presently involved with "some non-profit organizations" — which he repeatedly refused to identify.

NPR Vice-President Cohen not only believes the Washington Post is a conservative newspaper, she also characterizes former Vice-President Walter Mondale as a "middle-of-the-roader."

One of NPR's commentators is a former Mondale speechwriter named Martin Kaplan. Other liberals include Daniel Schorr, Bob Kuttner, Tom Noyes, Edwin Yoder and Adam Hochschild — of the ultra-liberal magazine Mother Jones.

There is one (1) NPR conservative commentator, John McLaughlin, a Jesuit priest who married an attractive young woman who is presently press secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Donald Regan.

During interviews, we asked New Mexico's House members about NPR, Rep. Lujan said:

"I think it's important to say who your relatives are, just as important as saying who you work for; what forces drive you to lobby for a certain cause. If you're lobbying for a tax break of some kind, then I ought to be able to determine how your company's going to benefit by that."

Q: Do you believe that it's appropriate for a tax-supported organization to have reports from Capitol Hill broadcast to 250 stations around the country by the wife of a lobbyist?

LUJAN: No.

Q: You believe that it is inappropriate for the wife of a lobbyist to be reporting from Capitol Hill for a network that is taxpayer-supported?

LUJAN: No, I really don't think that is appropriate.

Archbishop Bernardin's ticking nuclear bomb

By REV. LESTER KINSOLVING

Even as he was in the process of receiving the Pope's appointment to become Archbishop of Chicago, the Most Rev. Joseph Bernardin of Cincinnati was having troubles.

For Bernardin is chairman of the Catholic bishop's committee to draw up a statement on nuclear weapons. And from the initial reaction to the first draft of this statement, it may well become known as "Joe Bernardin's Nuclear Bomb."

Bernardin is considered to be one of the canniest political strategists in the US Catholic Church. Yet this first draft is 66 pages long. Even a first-year seminarian, or an experienced and observant altar boy, can realize that such length means most laity will never read it; and such length, on a subject of furious controversy, is an absolute aphrodisiac to any bishop who is willing to engage in hierarchical disputation. (Since the bishops' meetings never schedule such energy-releasing activities as tennis or golf, it has, on occasion, required all of the denomination's administrative genius to keep the proceedings of bishops' debates from resembling the nickname of the Notre Dame football team.)

Russell Shaw, the amiable layman who is spokesman for the bishops, claims that a decision to delay voting on this is not any kind of "backing away from the question," but rather "to achieve moral unanimity among the bishops, so there can be a forceful teaching on the subject."

That ought to come about around 1998.

This first draft calls for a ban on the use of nuclear weapons against any civilian population — even in retaliation.

This initial draft also contends that there are no circumstances where nuclear war is morally permissible. The statement also

Letters to the Editor

He's 'appalled'

EDITOR — Occasionally I pick up a copy of your paper. I am always appalled at the prejudice and bigotry that fill your editorials. All your noise about "queers" is very strange to me, one wonders about your need to constantly expound upon the subject. Who in Lincoln County possibly cares about your silly name for San Francisco? Who cares about homosexual diseases, especially since there are some pretty nasty heterosexual diseases that you manage never to mention.

So far you have slammed nearly every minority group in existence. Why? What is the point in this day and age of keeping alive some rotten and unfair myths? Why, when there are so many newsworthy things to cover, do you fill your editorials with such small minded crap?

I do not like your editorials. I will never part with another quarter to buy something that only makes me angry. Is it too late for you to grow up?

PATRAGERS, Ruidoso.

(ED. NOTE — One reason why I mention homosexuals now and then is because they will do almost anything for publicity. Homosexuals are constantly calling public attention to themselves, such as their staging their "Gay Olympics" this week, their continual "marches" down the streets of major cities, and summoning TV crews to denounce anyone who opposes them. They lust for publicity, but howl when their outrageous lifestyle provokes unfavorable comment. Shucks, look at it this way: I've saved you a quarter a week for the rest of your life!)

Name that town!

EDITOR — Glad to see you are beginning to build a newspaper. I particularly like the editorial page.

But please, my pet gripe. In your ads please show what part of the county the ad pertains to. Most of them show only a street address or phone number, so who knows what town? Not many of us know where all the phone prefixes are. I have lived in the county over 10 years and I don't. Naturally, people placing ads know the home phone numbers, but should be reminded that other people don't. Please help them to indicate the town.

JACK POGUE, Capitan.

Wants TV schedule

EDITOR—Enclosed is check for $11 to renew my subscription. Would be willing to pay a little more for your paper if you would include a TV schedule. We could then drop our subscription to the Ruidoso paper, which has very little news of any interest to us.

I know there are others in this locality who feel the same way. Your paper otherwise is very good.

STANLEY PEW, Capitan.

(ED. NOTE—So far we have been unable to find a reliable TV schedule because some cable companies don't know far enough in advance what programs are to be run, and some change programs after listing them. We will keep trying.)

'Class of '32'

EDITOR — I especially enjoy your editorials, letters and the local news.

I am a graduate of Carrizozo High School, Class of 1932. On Jan. 31, 1964 I wrote to my former basketball coach, Haldane Stover-Cracy, 324 N. 3rd, Belen, NM 87002. On Aug. 23, 1982 I received an answer to that letter. Her former students might like to know she is still living and well.

Capitan News

By MARGARETRENCH

It took all night and one day to receive one & one half inches of rain one day last week. This area cooled off some, though days still rather warm. It's green and fresh, but was dried before this arrived. Ruidoso had some great showers.

Everything has been rather quiet, just routine daily. Travel has slowed some. There has been some seniors interested in Smokey Bear, wondering if he really was a true character and was he from here. When told the answer, they were very excited and enjoyed the park and museum. Next week we will have a report for August.

Gini Spall, city clerk, left Tuesday as a delegate for Capitan of the New Mexico Municipal League Annual Conference, Sept. 1-3.

Dona Runnels is the new utility billing clerk at city hall. We are glad to have you Dona and wish you success and happiness with us.

We would like to apologize to a couple of ladies who drove from El Paso to see our Lincoln County Fair on Aug. 27. They noted advertisements for 27th and 28th. They were very disappointed after the gas they burned and no fair. We understand, but there will be another time.

Early Wednesday morning, Aug. 25th, lightning struck Gerald Dean Jr.'s barn. Luckily, it did not burn. But it did a lot of damage. Capitan's first volleyball game will be here next Thursday with Cloudford. Our first football game will be at Cloudford Friday. Mike Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker, will have his 21 birthday, Sept. 3.

Paul and Jerrie McClain announce the birth of their 11th grandchild. A boy Charlie John, was born to Johnny and Diana McClain in Pasadena, TX, on Aug. 15. Score to date: 6 girls and 5 boys, of which they are truly proud.

Rolland Gardenhire of Georgia who had been visiting his sister, Frances Shaw, for the past six weeks left last Friday for Santa Fe and then will return to his home. It was great to see him. He is one of our hometown boys.

Jessie Herd enjoyed water skiing at Elephant Butte last weekend.

Marcia and Carl Richard Elkins of Grants, spent Sunday with her aunt, Bessie Jones, and cousin, Betty Joiner.

Panama Carvajal is home from the Ruidoso Hospital and is convalescing nicely. Lorene Ferguson is much improved at home. I wish you both the very best recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller went to Albuquerque and met their two granddaughters at the airport last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland enjoyed relaxing last weekend at Elephant Butte.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Poeling and five children of Gillette, WY, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Poeling.

Q: You think you might possibly bring this up?

LUIJAN: I will.

Q: When President Reagan proposed the Caribbean Basin Initiative, NPR gave him about 30 seconds— while giving nearly five minutes to Robert White, who was fired as U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador and who criticized Mr. Reagan. Do you think that's right?

LUIJAN: Absolutely not.

Rep. Joe Skeen said that if he had heard this Reagan-White broadcast, "I would have complained. I would have objected."

As for the wife of lobbyist Fred Wertheimer reporting from Capitol Hill, Skeen said: "I think they should declare that they are married... They require people in public life like myself to declare... When there are conflicts like this, whoever is hiring should be aware of this conflict... They should know that there is a conflict there."

As for Sen. Haskell, the husband of reporter Nina Totenberg refusing to disclose his present occupation, Skeen retorted:

"Once in a while, the proper thing to say is that it's none of your damn business."

Q: Why is it not my business — as a taxpayer? Why is it not your business as not only a taxpayer but having voted for this NPR money?

SKEEN: I'm sure it is. But he had a right to tell you it's none of your business; and you haven't been able to do anything about it.

Q: Quite the contrary, we're preparing an article headlined "The Hidden Husbands of National Public Radio."

SKEEN: Why haven't you told me about these conflicts before?

Q: I just learned about them. SKEEN: I thought you were supposed to keep us informed! responsibility. You're a minister and a reporter.

Q: I am trying.

SKEEN: Well, get on the ball! I don't want anybody around here not discharging personal responsibility. You're a minister and a reporter.

Q: And trying to do my best.

SKEEN: Well, I feel very much better now. I can sleep better at night knowing that you are on the ball!

Rep. Skeen explained that he himself supports Public Broadcasting, which he says provides variety to rural areas, such as his ranch, which is 17 miles from the nearest paved road. He also saluted Public Broadcasting for training New Mexico youth in the field of communication.

Host families react

Host Family: The Johnson Stearns.

When we first heard that Carrizozo was to have Up With People and that families were to host the young people, I knew we were in for a treat, little did I realize what a treat!

We hosted Daniel Mollerup from Canada and Paul Cases from Denver. The boys called Johnson and I Host Mom and Dad. They immediately made themselves at home and we felt as comfortable with them as if we had known them always.

The biggest thrill was watching the concert Thursday night. Paul was the soloist for several songs and we had a twinge of pride as if he were our own boy. Wanted to nudge folks sitting around us and say "that's one of our boys." (Paul could be Eric Estrada's double—you know, Ponch on Chips?) Daniel was a fine handsome young man also—he made such an impression on Johnny Bob, our grandson, that he interviewed for a place with UWP immediately following the concert.

Our little town was very fortunate to have had this experience and the host families were the luckiest of all!

Host Family: The Arthur Zamoras.

We enjoyed our two guests from Up With People very much. We had two girls: one from Sweden and one from Maine. Not only were they nice and polite but they were also very interesting. They seemed to enjoy their visit here in Carrizozo as much as we enjoyed them. The girls along with the entire cast gave us a good feeling about ourselves and people around us.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zamora.

Host Family: The Marvin Rowins.

We were hosts to Archard Mason from Detroit, Michigan, studying to be a preacher; David Cooper, born and reared in N.Y. City was so delighted to see and handle sheep and goats for the first time and learn that milk really comes from cows; Roman Rajtar from Fridley, Minnesota, our Polish dancer and singer... we exchanged ideas on Polish and Mexican customs; Jim Cole, Ft. Collins, Colorado, a truck driver and spending his second year with the group. He was a typical all-American.

The show was one of the best we have seen. It brought us a little of the Big City Night to a small town. The comment we heard so often was that it is nice to see people work TOGETHER. None of our group knew what a potluck supper meant but soon found out! Let's have a group again.

We received a nice letter from Archard Mason from Clint Missouri, and he wanted everyone to know how much he enjoyed Carrizozo. We enjoyed them so very much and when they left it was as part of the family was gone.—Marvin and Charlotte Rowin.

Host Family: The Phil Richardsons.

Up With People and The Cotton-Pickin'-Turkey-Eatin' Dogs... Since I had to be in Ft. Sumner the day they arrived, Monday I cooked and cleaned and cooked. However, as is likely to happen in our part of the world, things went wrong. The water line broke and somehow the dogs managed to find and devour the turkey. Brian, Gary and Jim just laughed and ate everything else in sight!

They were fun—gracious to the dogs in spite of the turkey; considerate—didn't expect anything of me in the morning, or any special treatment; appreciative—Gary gave his parents a tour of the house which included setting a price on each room; and interesting—answered all our dumb questions about UWP and their own lives even when they were dead on their feet.

One of the nicest comments I heard was made by one of the bus drivers who said he was 44 when he started driving for them last year, this year he's 34 and he expects to be 24 next year! They keep you young.

All in all, it was one of the most exciting, interesting and uplifting experiences we could ever hope to have, even if the dog ate the bird AND it did rain on our parade.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL found 26 youngsters enrolled in Carrizozo's kindergarten class. The teacher is Mrs. Larue Wetzel, shown here with Jennifer Mansell. Mrs. Wetzel has been with Carrizozo Schools since 1968.

FREE OF CHARGE

Adult basic education classes for persons interested in obtaining their high school diploma will be offered in Carrizozo for anyone in Lincoln County. A limited number of applications on a first-come, first-served basis are available. Call Carrizozo's school administration office 648-2451 to find out if the deadline application date can be extended, or when the second session begins.

The program includes refresher courses in math and science. English as a second language is also offered. Persons who reside outside of Carrizozo who are interested in completing their high school education or merely want to brush up on math or science skills could form car pools to get to the twice weekly classes.

GAINING GROUND AGAIN

Revelation over the 1978 cult tragedy in Guyana in which hundreds of the followers of Jim Jones died, has dealt a blow to other nontraditional sects. According to US News and World Report, many sects have now recovered lost ground.

Young and old adults are the targets of these groups. Potential converts are idealistic, indecisive and seek an identity. And it helps if they are currently upset with their local minister or priest.

Smart cult members do not bad-mouth established religious groups, but zealous converts, in order to be saved, often try to drum up group membership by raking over the coals Christians of all faiths. Innocent people have no reason to believe that these "Jesus freaks are lying"—after all, they appear to be in love with God every moment. They will surely rid the world of violence, alcohol and sex.

Heads of these churches claim they hold the key to salvation. Through an organized program of recruitment and indoctrination, members develop deep emotional dependence on their new-found faith. Members are required to push totally for the group. Those in charge employ strategies for maintaining mind control over individuals beliefs and activities through the use of brainwashing techniques.

Devotees are trained on ways to approach potential followers: how to initiate conversation; how to recognize vulnerability; how to invite people for an evening of fellowship and Bible study. Some naive, smalltown folks find it hard to resist these expressions of love and concern.

Skeen names Lincoln Co. coordinator

Catherine (Cathy) Annala of Ruidoso has been named Lincoln County Coordinator of the Joe Skeen for Congress Committee.

Skeen is seeking his second term as U.S. Representative from New Mexico's 2nd Congressional District. In 1980 he became only the third person in United States history to win election to Congress through the write-in process. He serves on the House Agriculture Committee and the House Science and Technology Committee.

Mrs. Annala is a native New Mexican and has lived in Ruidoso the past 20 years. She is past president of the Federated Republican Women's Club and a member of the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital Auxiliary. She is also active in the Episcopal Church.

She and her husband, Dr. Ronald Annala, have three children in college.

"I am well pleased to have Cathy working for me in Lincoln County," Skeen said. "She is well liked and respected throughout the county and known as a hard worker. I'm proud to have her on my team."

Ruben Pankey of Truth or Consequences is chairman of the Skeen campaign. Nolan Brunson of Hobbs is finance chairman.

supporters were in the process of conducting a meeting. On hand were local, county and state law enforcement representatives, who reported on local criminal activity.

The Crime Stoppers program is eager to help different law enforcement agencies in any way, especially by circulating the toll-free Albuquerque telephone number that can keep Carrizozo a safer place in which to reside.

You probably have a special place on your telephone directory where you keep important phone numbers. The same goes for the address book you carry in your purse or billfold. Another number to add to your list: 1-800-432-6933. If you ever witness a crime or have information which could help solve a crime, do not hesitate to dial the number. The callers identity is not questioned.

An estimated 90 per cent of all crime in this country is solved through the efforts of the Crime Stoppers program. To overcome apathy, cash rewards are offered. To overcome people's fear of criminal retaliation, or just fear of involvement, it is necessary to offer anonymity.

Many people know how Crime Stoppers gives victims a fighting chance. What is less known is how Crime Stoppers originated in Albuquerque on September of 1976. Crime Stoppers was the idea of Greg MacAleese, then a police officer in Albuquerque. After helplessly watching Albuquerque's rising crime rate and seeing the public's fear of the criminal, he felt something had to be done to change people's attitudes.

MacAleese knew that for just about every crime, someone other than the offender knew about it and could help police solve the case. The challenge was to get from the right person, the right information, at the right time. MacAleese used his own money and allowed people to call him at home. He had a lot of help along the way from the media and other people with expertise in different fields.

BIG CROWD

Catherine Cornett and son Eddie Bob Hemphill and his wife, Judi, enjoyed the company of several recent visitors to their homes. Judi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Reed (Cathy) and baby Michelle arrived from Fort Lewis, WA. Others visitors were Charlene and daughter, Christine Taylor, Stockton, CA; Ed Sprouse and Donnie McKay, Bloomfield, NM; and Robert Hemphill, Hereford, TX. Sunday of that week also saw the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Don Huffer of Deming. The Huffners are friends of Catherine.

EASY COME, EASY GO

August was a terrible month. The bad news was that the car needed major repairs, a kid needs braces, and $499 is due for car insurance on two vehicles and one teenager. In addition, the bills for the watermelon seed incident have arrived: ambulance, $115; doctor's hospital care, $148.03; hospital charges, $403.85.

And to make matters worse, I did not record a check in my checkbook (again). Who did I make that check to and for how much? And then I lost my trusty umbrella. The black parasol, never failed me, rain or shine. It also came in handy for a stray dog or two.

The good news is that I received, not one but two chain letters, each containing a nickel.

According to my unsigned letters, Edequiel Arellano (?) made 24 copies before 9 days and received a million. With my two letters I stand to make an easy 2 million, which will solve my financial woes.

The only catch is I have to keep the chain going by reproducing the letters 48 times and I will have to attach five cents in each copy ($2.40). I will be out postage ($9.60), plus copy machine costs, envelopes, writing paper and a lot of wear and tear on my knee caps from all that praying I am instructed to do.

After I pay all the unexpected August bills I plan to go to Zozo's Western Auto and have me a shopping spree. I may even buy another umbrella. And what the heck, I'll even get a case for it.

On second thought recording all those checks I will be making and balancing the figures at the end of the month will create mental pressures that I do not care to deal with. With this thought in mind I will take the advice of Fr. Dave on chain letters:

"Tear or throw it away, keep the nickel and try not to spend it all in one place."

Plants offer beauty, burglar protection

One of man's major concerns throughout history has been protection of his own life, his family and his possessions.

People have always congregated for protection. In medieval times they built castles. In the Southwest, the Indians lived in the protection of pueblos. During frontier times the early settlers built forts for security and protection.

"People continue to be concerned about protection and security today," said James Sais, Extension horticulturist for New Mexico State University, Las Cruces. "Although we live in cities in proximity with other people we still seek extra security at home. We can't build a moat around our house and our neighbors would frown if we built high walls around our yards," Sais said.

Burglaries and breakins are serious problems throughout the country. There were 6,000 burglaries in Albuquerque last year with a loss of almost $6 million, despite double locked doors, alarms and guard dogs.

Burglars depend on two things for success — a house with nobody at home and quick and easy access through a window or door. A window left open for ventilation and sliding glass patio doors are the criminal's favorite entry.

"There are several plants with thorns or prickly foliage that can deny the burglar easy access to your home," Sais said. "Shrubs that can be used this way should be foundation plantings and directly under windows."

"Roses are known for their thorns and a step into a barberry bush would make a burglar think twice before trying to get into a house, once he has been tangled in these barbed structures," he said. Pampas grass grows well in most areas of New Mexico and can be a silent alarm.

"The plant has attractive, soft plumes and a graceful form, but the leaves are endowed with razor sharp barbs along the margin of each leaf," Sais said.

"There's a story about a California stockade that planted a double row of pampas grass and a row of cactus to thwart any desire of prisoners from escaping. Although there were no other fences to keep prisoners from escaping, there were no escapes," Sais said.

"The fact that prisoners were forced to give up their clothes at night, and thoughts of painful cuts from the barbed and prickly plant border, were apparently enough to discourage escape into the night," he said.

Barbed wire or contina wire on top of fence will usually stop most prowlers, but this transforms a home into a cold, prison-like structure.

"Climbing roses on the same fence are almost as nasty as the wire, but they certainly look and smell better," Sais said. "Espaliering Pyracantha against a fence or the house can also give you that barbed wire protection."

Apartments and condominiums can also increase security for residents by use of plants. Landscaping at the end of parking aisles and around parking areas with prostrate Pyracantha and low growing barberry will often deter muggers and thieves.

"Shopping centers once believed in landscaping for beautification, but they found these landscaped areas made good hiding places for rapists, purse snatchers and muggers," Sais said. "By using security plants, the shopping malls can once again offer aesthetic beauty and environmental improvement."

There are several security plants that grow well in New Mexico. They include several varieties of barberry, gooseberry, pampas grass, juniper, Oregon holly grape, blackberry and firethorn.

All varieties of bush, climbing and rambling roses make good security plants. Native plants that can provide protection around the home include yucca, Spanish bayonet, cholla cactus and ocotillo.

Garden centers can offer good suggestions about plants that grow best in a particular area of the state and the planting conditions that will make them stay healthy and on guard around the home.

Bonds of this series maturing on and before July 15, 1983, are without option of prior redemption. Bonds of this series maturing on and after July 15, 1990, are subject to prior redemption, in inverse numerical order, at the option of the issuer on July 15, 1989, or on any interest payment date thereafter upon payment of the principal amount thereof, and interest to the redemption date.

Principal and interest being payable at the Office of the Lincoln County Treasurer, Carrizozo, New Mexico.

The bonds were authorized at a regular election held within the District on the 23rd day of February, 1982, for the purpose of erecting, furnishing, remodeling and making additions to school buildings and purchasing and improving school grounds.

Said bonds will constitute the general obligation bonds of the District, payable from general ad valorem taxes which shall be levied without limitation as to the rate or amount.

It is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest; provided, however, that (1) No bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity; (2) Said interest shall be evidenced by only one set of coupons; (3) Said coupon rates shall be only in multiples of one-eighth of one percent (1/8 percent) or one-twentieth of one percent; (4) The difference between the maximum and minimum coupon rate shall be three percent (3 percent). The maximum net effective interest rate permitted for such issue is twelve percent (12 percent) per annum; provided, that prior to the delivery of the bonds, the written approval of the New Mexico State Board of Finance must be obtained by the District if the bonds have a maximum net effective interest rate of greater than ten percent (10 percent) per annum but equal to or less than 12 percent per annum. In the event such written approval is necessary and is not obtained from said Board of Finance within 60 days following acceptance of the bid, delivery of such bonds cannot occur and the bidder will be returned its good faith deposit. In accordance with law, "net effective interest rate" means the interest rate based on the actual price paid to the District for such bonds calculated to maturity according to standard tables of bond values.

Bidders are requested to

submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest rate of interest and premium, if any, above par at which such bidder will purchase said bonds; or (b) the lowest rate at which the bidder will purchase said bonds at par. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked on the outside "PROPOSALS FOR PURCHASE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BONDS, CAPITAN MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 28," and addressed to James K. McDaniel, Secretary of the Board of Education, Capitan Municipal School District No. 28, P.O. Box 278, Capitan, New Mexico 88316.

Said bonds will be awarded to the highest and best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Board of Education to reject any and all bids and readvertise. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the coupon rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the delivery. The bonds will not be sold for less than par and accrued interest, nor shall any commission be allowed or paid on the sale of such bonds. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

All bids shall be sealed and made on the official bid form, and except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a deposit of two percent of the principal amount of the bonds, i.e. $4,000, either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on, a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States, which deposit shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within sixty (60) days following the acceptance of the bid, or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District, and in that event the Board of Education may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid, or if all bids are rejected, the Board of Education shall readvertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received (and for not less than par and accrued interest), the Board of Education shall determine which bid shall be accepted; provided, that said bonds or any part thereof may be sold to the State of New Mexico at private sale and without advertisement.

The Board of Education will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-four (24) hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at a bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or elsewhere at the purchaser's request and expense, within sixty (60) days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within sixty (60) days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding thirty days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder during the said succeeding thirty days, the good faith deposit will be returned and both the District and said successful bidder will be relieved of any further obligation.

Bids must be made upon the Official Bid Form. Copies of said Official Bid Form and other additional information may be obtained from the District's Financial Advisor, Quinn & Co., Inc., P.O. Box 528, Albuquerque, New Mexico, 87103, Phone: (505) 842-1000 or from Ira D. Lee, Superintendent of Schools, Capitan Municipal School District

Fall-winter park hours are listed

A seasonal adjustment in visitor hours will take place at Carlsbad Caverns and Guadalupe Mountains National Parks starting Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Both parks will continue to be open seven days a week, but the visitor centers and other facilities will open a little later and close a little earlier each day than during the busy summer travel period.

At Carlsbad Caverns, the visitor center will open at 7:30 a.m. and will remain open until after the evening bat flight programs are concluded. Complete trips through the Cavern will be available from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Big Room trips from 8 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. daily. Guided lantern trips at primitive New Cave will be offered on weekends only by reservations which may be made by calling 505-785-2232. Concession food service facilities at the Caverns will open at 8 a.m. and close at 4 p.m., with other concession facilities closing at 4:30 p.m.

At Guadalupe Mountains National Park, the information station at Frijoles will open at 8 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m. Evening programs will continue to be offered in the Pine Springs campground every night through Sept. 5, and after that will be offered on Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights only.

Also at Guadalupe, the McKittrick Canyon entrance road gate will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. after Labor Day, except for the fall-color weekends in late October and early November when hours will again be extended to 6 p.m.

Park Supt. Bill Dunmire stressed that the fall season is one of the best times of the year to visit the two parks since facilities are not crowded and weather is generally good.

It is expected that some of the best bat flights of the year will occur at Carlsbad Caverns between now and the fall migration in late October or early November. Young bats born at the Caverns during the summer are now flying with the colony, and bats from the caves usually stop off at the Caverns at his time of year before migrating on to Mexico for the winter with the resident colony.

Bat flights normally continue until the first major frost in the area. Presently, the evening bat flight programs are scheduled at 7 p.m., but will be moved up about one-half hour in mid-September as sunsets and bat flights occur earlier.
