News has new publisher

Ernest V. Joiner of Sebastopol, CA, arrived in Carrizozo Friday to assume ownership of the Lincoln County News, which he has purchased from Paul and Eleanor Payton of Ellsworth, KS.

For the past 20 years Joiner has edited and published the Sebastopol Times, located 60 miles north of San Francisco. Before that he published the Ralls (Texas) Banner, and the Bazette-Times of Heppner, OR.

Joiner is no stranger to New Mexico, and lived briefly in Lovington and Santa Fe before serving in World War II as a criminal investigator. He purchased the Texas weekly, sight unseen, while he was still in the army, and published it for 14 years.

Joiner's brother, Stan, is enroute to Carrizozo from Louisville, KY, to handle advertising for the News. He is also a former resident of Santa Fe and Lovington, as is his wife, the former, Helen McConnell of Clovis, who served as Assistant Secretary of State for New Mexico for several years.

Joiner "the newsmen" has been trying to find a newspaper in New Mexico for many years.

"I fell in love with New Mexico when I was at the university in Albuquerque," he said, "and always wanted a chance to come back."

Joiner is in the process of buying the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Payton on E Avenue. His silver poodle, Louie, has already learned two valuable lessons about New Mexico—don't back into a barbed wire fence and don't sniff the cactus.

He has two daughters. One is completing her PhD at the University of New Mexico. The other is an attorney in Stockton, CA.

He has won state and national honors during his almost 40 years in the newspaper business. In 1980 he was recipient of the George Washington Honor Medal for editorial writing by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, PA.

ERNEST JOINER . . . and his assistant, Louie

Over the next few weeks there will be changes in the News' format. News coverage will be expanded. There will be emphasis on "brighter" and brighter writing. An editorial page will be added which will carry his own personal column, letters to the editor, and a political cartoon. He plans better use of photos.

"If you want to know how good a town is," Joiner said, "all you have to do is find out if it has a strong chamber of commerce and a strong newspaper. Carrizozo already has a strong chamber. We're working on the newspaper right now."

His office is always open to visitors, he said.

Chamber steps up development

The regular noon meeting of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday in the Community Room at Citizens State Bank.

President W.A. "Woody" Schlegel announced that Carlyn Ladd, who now works at the Lincoln County Extension Office, will serve as chairman on the Economic Development Committee (EDC). Schlegel added that Ladd is "interested, capable and willing." Attorney Don Wall resigned as head of EDC because of business pressures.

Members were briefed on some of the EDC's work. EDC committee members Scott Shafer, Jim Miller and W.A. Schlegel gave Mr. G.Y. Fails, Director, State Veterans Commission, a tour of Carrizozo recently, pointing out the many advantages. Schlegel said Fails is a "lobbyist" for Gov. Bruce King.

The EDC group and Fails discussed ideas for attracting industry to Carrizozo. Among suggestions offered by Fails was the updating of the Chamber brochures. The literature should point out that Carrizozo has an industrial park complete with all utilities. Fails was enthusiastic about Carrizozo and its recreational facilities, parks and municipal airport.

Visitors at the Chamber's noon luncheon meeting were Patsy Sanchez, wife of local cattleman and real estate broker, Tony Sanchez; Clive Kirby, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Herman Cramer, evangelist, and Randy Ellis, music ministry. The two are conducting a revival at the Baptist Church. Another person at the Chamber gathering was the new publisher and editor of the Lincoln County News, Ernest Joiner.

A pleased Schlegel informed the Chamber that he had received a letter from the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assoc., (AOPA) informing him that Carrizozo's airport is now listed in its directory, often referred to as the "flyers bible."

The First Annual Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce Bowling Tournament will be held at the Rec Center, March 20 and 21. One hundred-sixty bowlers are expected to participate. Thirteen of 32 teams have already signed up. Bowlers from as far away as El Paso plan to be here for the competition event.

Superintendent of Carrizozo Schools, Dr. Jim P. Miller, was on hand to speak on the annual scholarship program. Miller said that this year the project has been expanded and now involves several civic clubs, churches, organizations and private business places. Scholarships range in amounts of $100 to $500. The school administration assists the scholarship donor in developing selection criteria prior to graduation exercises.

Ten scholarships were established last year on an annual basis and the number has grown this year. The following participated in the scholarship program last year. Some give more than one scholarship. Vocational Advisory Committee (3), Canyon Cowbells, Taeria Foundation, Belco Industries (2), Carrizozo Woman's Club, United Methodist Women, and Citizens State Bank.

Beulah Moore agreed to chair the Aug. 1 annual People's Market Place. The event, as in past years, will be held in conjunction with Santa Rita's Catholic Church Fiesta on July 30, 31 and Aug. 1. People's Market Place, always on Sunday, will be held this year at Spencer Park.

Activities will include performances by the Hondo Fiesta Dancers and a karate exhibition. Individuals as well as clubs, organizations and church groups will sponsor a variety of booths.

Moore said that she would be glad to head the People's Market Place project only if Chamber members helped her with another project which she is involved with as a Lioness member. The Valley of Fires Lioness Club is sponsoring "May Day Spectacular," May 12.

"Whaddya mean, no volunteers!"

The two-day event in White Oaks will include arts, crafts, flea market and antique exhibits and sales. A variety of activities will be open to the public including horseback riding. A street dance is planned for the evening of May 2.

The White Oaks event will provide her with the necessary experience to better plan the People's Market Place. Moore stated Schlegel urged Chamber members to give Moore an assist with her Lioness project.

Study will be made on the Sierra Blanca airport site

US Sen. Harrison "Jack" Schmitt has announced the Department of Interior will sign a $50,000 contract Friday with the National Academy of Sciences to study the Sierra Blanca regional airport proposal.

Ruidoso had asked permission from the US Department of Interior to build an airport on a portion of Fort Stanton Mesa, land controlled by the Bureau of Land Management and used by New Mexico State University for livestock, wildlife and range research.

University officials had opposed the site selected for the airport, saying it would disrupt the research being conducted by their Fort Stanton Agricultural Experiment Station.

Sen. Schmitt brought together the involved parties last year and was instrumental in convincing them to agree to an impartial third party review of the controversy. He asked Interior Secretary James Watt to appoint a panel to study the matter.

In addition, Schmitt successfully amended the FY 1982 Appropriations Bill to include $50,000 to finance the study.

Watt then selected the National Academy of Science, which will study the value of research being done and determine what effect the airport would have on such research should the airport request be approved.

Appointments announced

New council tackles golf course problem

A mayor and four trustees, two of them incumbents, were seated during Monday's town council meeting. Carrizozo's newly elected mayor, Harold Garcia, appointed the trustees to various departments.

Incumbent Betty Fields was appointed by Garcia to serve as mayor pro-tem. She will continue to oversee work on Streets and Parks. Incumbent Roy Harmon was re-appointed to be in charge of Sanitation works.

New trustee and one-time mayor, Bobby Dan Crenshaw, was appointed Police and Airport Commissioner. Jim Payne, the other new trustee, was assigned to Water and Sewerage. He also was

The new council ironed out plans to keep the Recreation Area open. The outdoor facility, which includes a 9-hole golf course, baseball field, tennis court, playground and a fishing lake, was categorized into three main areas by Mayor Garcia. Maintenance, collection of revenue and Carrizozo Lake NM Department of Game and Fish, were the divisions established by Garcia.

Town employee George Serna began this week his duty of maintaining the grounds at the area. The golf course portion of the park will be closed Mondays as usual. Until further notice green fees will remain the same. Garcia stated that the town will honor Arriba commitments on golfing memberships.

Police clerk Rosemary Gallegos and deputy clerk Albert LaFave will work different days at the pro shop, Tuesday's through Sundays, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The question of volunteer workers was brought up. Trustee Payne told the council that former Arriba treasurer Margaret Stearns donated her time at the pro shop last summer.

Four Winds Restaurant and Lounge owner Willie Silva suggested to the council that a Golf Course Committee be organized. After turning the area back to the town, Arriba focused their efforts on the Rec Center and its programs. Silva, a golf enthusiast, said the committee he proposed would create interest and promote golf tournaments. Silva's business has sponsored tournaments and he said this was good for local economy.

Garcia asked for volunteers to serve on the committee to promote the golf course. In addition to Silva, others who would like to be a part of this group are Ruben Chavez, S.M. Ortiz and Bob Stearns. Other committee members will be recruited.

It was learned that more than $1,000 worth of damage had been discovered recently at the golf course maintenance building. Two subjects have been apprehended in connection with the vandalism. Municipal Judge S.M. Ortiz told the council it should order three estimates on body work needed done on the damaged golf carts. If the damage is under $1,000 the act is a misdemeanor, over that amount it becomes a felony.

Fields suggested that a fine be imposed that would require working at the golf course. When the charge is clarified with body shop estimates, Garcia will contact the proper court and request restitution in this form. Additional agenda items for the town council included approval of the town's housing rehabilitation and street drainage selector committee. Project director Hubert Quintana SENMEDD suggested that the present committee be re-appointed. They are Noyola Ortiz, Fr. Dave Bergs, Scott Shafer, Jim Miller, Mary Chavez and Rene Burton. The duties of this committee includes the selection of contractors and reviewing of applicants.

Quintana gave the new council an update on the CDBG program which allowed for the rehabilitation of 25 homes and street drainage and street improvements on the south side of town. The work should be completed or under contract by June 30, 1982.

Garcia appointed Fields as liaison for the program for the duration of the CDBG project.

Town business tabled until next month's regular meeting included street signs for 17th Street and a $1,300 fuel bill from the airport and airport insurance. Garcia said when he and the new council become acquainted with the town's positions that they will be better equipped to handle matters.

McKnight, a Southeastern New Mexico sheep and cattle rancher, is well versed in agricultural, community and business pursuits. McKnight said, "I will complete my second term as chairman of the Lincoln County Commission in 1982. I believe that I accomplished most of my objectives and would like now to expand my efforts to the state level, in view of the demanding and unprecedented growth in our area."

"I am a lifelong resident of Southeastern New Mexico, as well as a longtime member of the Republican party. If nominated and elected, I will do my very best to work diligently, honestly and fairly for my district and the people of the state of New Mexico. Furthermore, I feel that county and local officials with their knowledge of their constituents and locale, are in the best position to govern; therefore, the state should return more control to local governments."

He must be resourceful in conducting political affairs and adept at communicating with the public. I believe I meet these requirements as a qualified and well-informed resident of our area."

Allison to seek re-election

Lincoln County Treasurer Kay Allison has announced her intention to seek re-election to that post in the June 1 primary, on the Republican ticket.

Mrs. Allison, who has served as treasurer since January 1981, also worked in the treasurer's office in 1976. She is experienced in abstracting work, "attended school for real estate practice in law," and has worked in bookkeeping and accounting for the past 15 years.

"I feel I understand every phase of the office," Mrs. Allison said. "And if re-elected, I will maintain the present efficiency and courtesy of the office. I would sincerely appreciate every vote."

The candidate said she has attended several seminars during her term and instituted the practice of sending out "second half notices," - a second tax notice to those who have chosen to pay their bills in two installments.

The practice has increased the amount of collections from those taxpayers and others who may have overlooked interest and penalty charges or prior year tax bills, Mrs. Allison said.

A resident of Lincoln County since 1942, Mrs. Allison and her husband Earl, who owns Allison Plumbing and Heating, live in the Hondo Valley east of Ruidoso Downs. She attended Ruidoso schools and once served as clerk of the village of Capitan. Working as clerk, she said, helped her "tremendously" in her job as treasurer.

Mrs. Allison is a member of Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County and the Lincoln County Republican Central Committee.

Warmest Thanks to the wonderful people of Carrizozo for your votes in the Municipal Election.

Grazing fees lowered on national forest land

For the second year in a row, fees for grazing livestock on national forest land have been reduced, according to Chris Allison, Extension range scientist at New Mexico State University. "New Mexico is one of 16 western states where these lower grazing fees will be in effect for 1982," Allison said. The 1982 rates to lease national forest land for grazing livestock will be $1.86 per animal month, 45 cents less per animal month than in 1981, Allison said. An animal month in the grazing fee calculation is one cow or horse, or five sheep for one month.

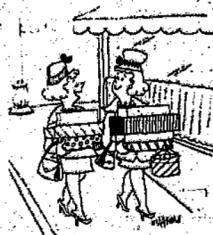

Grazing fees are determined by the Rangelands Improvement Act of 1978. The formula, now being used on a seven-year trial basis, considers rates for leasing private grazing land, the difference between total costs of grazing on public and private land, beef cattle prices, and other costs of producing livestock. "Grazing fees are lower again this year because the prices farmers and ranchers got for their beef cattle dropped while the costs of livestock production went up," Allison said. Although the average cost of leasing private pasture jumped 12 percent last year, from $788 to $8.83 per animal month, this increase was more than offset by the drop in beef prices and a 13 percent increase in production costs, Allison said. The lower fees mean farmers and ranchers in the 16 western states will pay about $12 million to graze their livestock on federal land in 1982. Half of this amount will be used by the U.S. Forest Service to maintain and improve national forest rangelands. Counties where the national forests are located will get one-fourth of the grazing fee income and the remainder goes to the U.S. Treasury. "During 1982, fees for grazing on lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management will also be $1.86 per animal month," Allison said.

Announces

● WHAT HAPPENED 45 years ago won't interest many of the young-to-middleage crowd, except that what happened then relates to how things are today. It was 1936. President Roosevelt was NYAing and WPAing us out of the Great Depression. Clyde Tingley was Governor of New Mexico. I was starving to death in Lovington and desirous of attending the University of New Mexico as a means of lessening hunger pains. New Mexico operated under the "spoils system". That means some local and all state government jobs went to members of whatever political party reigned in Santa Fe. I had a brother who was in the State Corporation Commission. He sent me to see Gov. Tingley, a gruff and gravelly-voiced import from Ohio who came West to die and lived a long and eventful life, much to the embarrassment of his physicians. I told Tingley I needed a job at the university to pay my way through. He called UNM President Zimmerman on the phone and told him I had to have a job at $75 a month. Zimmerman responded that the highest paid job was $30 a month, and none existed for $75. "Then, by God," thundered Tingley as he slammed down the phone, "make one!" That's how I became the first postmaster at the University of New Mexico at a salary of $75 a month. It was also the beginning of my political education.

● IN THOSE days a person yearned for a state job because he was assured of a regular paycheck for at least four years, if he kept his political nose clean. The Democrats were in power. To get a state job one had to receive the endorsement of his county Democratic chairman. If then went to the state chairman who evaluated the application—meaning, was this a good Democrat and how many votes can he control.

● IT WAS a good system. The work got done. Nobody stole any more than they do now. A state worker lived a good life. If his party was turned out after four years, there was a stream of old workers crowding highways out of Santa Fe and a stream of new workers coming in. It looked like a refugee column. The prevailing philosophy at that time was that a person working for the state had four years to establish connections in the private sector and be rewarded with a job in some business or industry. If a person didn't have the guts and gumption to latch onto an honest job in four years, he moved out and made room for somebody who could. Fair enough.

● I THRUST myself into this rarified political climate by becoming president of the Young Democrats on University Hill. In the 1938 elections my job to justify my party membership was to ride "shotgun" on a truck full of men whose job it was to visit seven polling places, bail out of the truck, go in and vote the names of whatever registered voters hadn't had the good sense to show up, after which I would give each a few one-dollar bills from an orange crate full of them. The going price of a vote was two bucks a head. If the election got close the price went up to five dollars. I never learned exactly who furnished the money to buy these votes. The crate of bills came with the truck.

● AFTER AN exhausting day of herding these people to the polls, I had time to drive back to the university polling place and cast my own ballot. I gave the clerk my name. "Sorry," he said, "but you've already voted!" While I was out voting other people's names, some dirty rate gave me the same treatment. My respect for the system was increasing.

● NEW MEXICO must have had the greatest percentage of voter turnout in the nation in those days. The Albuquerque papers duly noted in a small item buried inside that the total number of votes cast in the state election exceeded the number of registered voters by an astounding number! There was a rumor that ranchers on the Democratic east side of the state had registered their cattle to vote. To counter this, Republican sheep ranchers north of Santa Fe retaliated by registering a comparable number of their sheep!

● I WAS in the office of the sheriff of Bernalillo County on election night when the sheriff got a telephone call that a Democratic candidate was behind in votes being counted at an Albuquerque school polling place. The sheriff got into his car. A bunch of us followed in another. We "impounded" the ballot boxes and took them back to the High Sheriff's office. I don't know what happened to the ballots, but I do know the Democratic candidate won. I was majoring in political science at the university, but from what I learned of "practical politics" I could have taught the course myself.

● ALTHOUGH I was enjoying the fruits of political corruption, it finally dawned on me that what I was learning in college about our republican form of government wasn't compatible with the realities of New Mexico politics.

● ALLOF which is why I don't trust career politicians today, and why I think government, a necessary evil at best, is a monster that needs curbing. I am convinced that the prime duty of government is to protect its citizens from foreign and domestic enemies, and to provide a climate which will allow every person to achieve his potential — if he wants to. Government has no obligation to rob its citizens so that it may feed, clothe, house, educate, and amuse other people. It is not the duty of government to pay our doctor bills and subsidize our abortions. It is the duty of government to leave its citizens to hell alone.

● DURING THE administration of President Cleveland there was a severe drought in West Texas. Cleveland was petitioned to provide $10,000 in federal funds to aid stricken farmers. He refused, saying: "It is the duty of the people to support the government, not the duty of the government to support the people." A rational mouthful.

● IN SUCCEEDING issues of the Lincoln County News you will detect the influence of my early days in New Mexico, and how I came to suspect politics and politicians. And when I am called to refer to one of them as a "lowdown, thieving, bloodsucking leech on the body politic," or some other term of endearment, you will know I arrived at the correct appellation from 45 years of watching them closely.

Farmers, ranchers facing tough decisions in 1982

"Although 1981 was a disaster for many farmers and ranchers, and nearly a disaster for the whole of agriculture, the most pressing problem right now is how to make the best of the situation in 1982," said James Libbin, Extension agricultural economist at New Mexico State University.

"The factors that hurt both crop and livestock sectors of agriculture in 1981 is still with us in 1982," Libbin said. "And the outlook for 1982 indicates another year of very low commodity prices and farm and ranch income."

Interest rates have dropped slightly from 1981 highs, but they are still high enough to cause problems. Fuel prices are not increasing as fast as in the past, and fertilizer prices haven't gone up as sharply in the past two years.

"Even with these moderating cost increases, the low crop and livestock prices are squeezing all the profit out of a farm or ranch," Libbin said. "The overriding theme for agriculture in 1982 will be — find a way to get by."

With income low and costs still high, Libbin recommends that farmers and ranchers think long and hard about major purchases in 1982.

"If a farmer or rancher can postpone a major land, equipment or building purchase for another year, it's going to improve his cash flow situation in 1982," Libbin said. "And if major credit purchases can be avoided, the high interest costs can be avoided until farm and ranch income has a chance to rebound."

"The best returns a farmer or rancher can get this year will be from pencil pushing," he said.

"Before making planting or stocking decisions, it's going to be worth the time to work through a series of crop or livestock budgets to find the profit potential of every possible choice," he said.

"But be careful," Libbin said. "Budgeting is just forecasting an uncertain future — yields and prices never turn out exactly the way they were budgeted — so consider a range of possible price and yield combinations."

To get the best prices for crops and livestock in 1982, farmers and ranchers will have to consider every marketing alternative they can find. Forward contracting and hedging are only two possibilities of many that might be considered.

"Farmers and ranchers can't afford to just sell, rather than market, their commodities this year," Libbin said.

The most important thing farmers and ranchers can do in the coming year is avoid waste in all its forms.

"If a dollar is spent on anything, make sure that dollar is well spent and will return as much as is absolutely possible," Libbin said. "But in the effort to economize, don't get too conservative."

"Don't seal off the chance for profit by cutting back too much. For example, if extra fertilizer will pay for itself under normal projected yield increases, buy it," he said. The important thing is to maximize profits, Libbin said. "Minimizing costs or maximizing revenues don't mean the same thing as maximizing profits," he said.

"This year, the name of the game is going to be superior management. Pencil work and planning will definitely make a difference in 1982," he said.

How about $15,200 for college?

With skyrocketing tuition costs and tightening restrictions on loan eligibility, many seniors may find that they are about to fight a losing battle at the college finance office. The Army College Fund may be the solution.

According to Lt. Col Robert C. Karlseng, commander of Army recruiting activities in New Mexico and West Texas, high school graduates can accumulate a fund of up to $15,200 for serving only two years in the Army.

Qualified soldiers save from $25 to $100 of their pay each month up to a maximum of $2,400 in two years. The government will match the soldier's savings two-for-one, and the Army makes an additional grant of $8,000 to soldiers who serve for two years in selected skills.

Soldiers who serve for three or more years can save up to $3,700. The government matches that two-for-one, then the Army adds $12,000 for a total of $20,100.

To qualify for the program, one must be a high school graduate, score in the upper categories on Army qualification tests, and agree to train for the skill for which he is needed most.

According to Col Karlseng, there are more than 50 selected skills, in fields as diversified as military police, armor, law, data communications and broadcasting, which will qualify soldiers for the Army College Fund Program.

The local Army recruiting station has free copies of the Army College Fund booklet which explains the program in detail.

John returned with a black powder pistol. He became the owner of the gun when his raffle ticket was drawn.

The Rec Center was a lively, action-packed place last Sunday. The Men's City Tournaments were underway all day. Bowling fans are in for more bowling competitions in the near future, including one sponsored by the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce.

Lincoln County Arriba, Inc., a non-profit organization, recently elected new officers and directors. It is they that promote the programs at this facility for public enjoyment. If you would like to be a part of this effort see Fred Vega at the Rec Center. There is more than bowling at the Rec. Check it out.

Quilters' Projects

The enchilada dinner advertised in the NEWS last week was a big success. The event was sponsored by the Santa Rita Quilting Group. Margie Baca, who works at Citizens State Bank, won the door-prize. She was the first ticket holder or buyer to enter the door and be served. The door prize, a quilted pot holder, was made by quilter Arsenia Narvaez. She fashioned it using the "radiant star" design.

The Santa Rita Quilting Group is making plans to sponsor a first for Carrizozo and surrounding area - a quilt show. Quilts from all over the county may be displayed in the old gym at Carrizozo Municipal Schools on April 24. You need not be a quilter to exhibit quilts you have been given. The quilt show will be a good opportunity for all to enjoy that quilt you were given, made yourself, inherited or won at a raffle.

I am helping the quilting group organize the quilt show. Call me if you have any questions regarding the vent. My address is listed on the Post Script heading. Lincoln County Home Economist Mary Ellen Payne is also participating in the organizational plans of the quilt show. Her office number is 648-2311. Door prizes, demonstrations and quilting ideas will be featured at the April 24 event.

Reagan Visits NM

An estimated 2,200 people crowded Kiva Auditorium at Albuquerque's Convention Center on March 2. President Ronald Reagan was there to endorse the re-election candidacy of Sen. Harrison Schmitt, R-NM.

Only $25 and $15 ticket holders, new media, and the president's and senator's staff were permitted in the Center. Outside about 600 persons protested the Reagan administration. Inside and outside the Center security was heavy.

Several Carrizozo residents were on hand to witness the president's visit to the Duke City. Among them was Aileen Lindamood, who accompanied Maude Rathgeber and Marge Bodwell of Alamogordo. Others who were in Albuquerque were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ward, Bertha Lopez, Dorothy Queen, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fortemerry and John Jiron.

After the speaking engagement, Reagan and Schmitt attended a $500-a-person reception at the Convention Center for Schmitt contributors. At this writing I had not spoken to anyone from around this area who was present at this last event on the president's agenda.

Home Repair Classes

Lincoln County Home Ec-

nomist Mary Ellen Payne will be conducting home maintenance workshops on March 22, April 5, April 19 and May 3. The 2-hour sessions will be held at the REA. The sessions will include electrical and plumbing repairs. There will be hints on patching and painting. The proper way to hammer and nail will be demonstrated, as well as the use of simple power tools. The classes will be free. To sign up or for more information call the Extension Office, 648-2311.

Tried and True

With five youngsters in this household I try to discover ways to get more done in less time, with less effort and with less money. I enjoy sharing my housekeeping tips, food cooking shortcuts and child raising ideas in Post Script:

- To insure crispness, add nuts to salads just before serving.
- An apple cut in half and placed in the cake box will keep the cake fresher, longer.
- Protect curtains in the washing machine by first placing them in a pillow slip.
- Store appliance and extension-cords in paper towel tubes.
- A pre-school child loves to make letter cookies, string and yarn letters and clay letters. Counting can be fun.
- To save on the heating bill turn thermostat down to 55 degrees; close off unused rooms and wear sweater or robe around the house.

Zozo Visitors

Former residents and Zozo graduates, all sisters, were here this past weekend with their families to visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Narvaez. Jay and Geneva Barnes daughter, Noel, were here from El Paso; Julie Nunez and daughters, Loretta and Bianca came from Clovis; and Tom and Linda Ortiz and daughter, Melanie traveled from Albuquerque. While here, they visited with other family members who live in the community.

What's Baking

Dorothy Simmons Sugar Cookies is what's baking this week. A bit of investigative inquiries revealed that Dorothy had baked and distributed some delicious cookies to some of the staff at school. Dorothy said she obtained the recipe many years ago from a friend, Pallie Dishman of Corona. Pallie was featured in the NEWS last week.

Here is Dorothy's (and Pallie's) sugar cookie recipe; a favorite in this household:

1 cup sugar, 3 beaten eggs, 1 cup margarine, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Use about 3 cups flour to make a stiff dough. Roll out thin, cut and bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes. Frost.

Quilting Bits

A week does not go by that I do not see a quilt or quilt top. This past Saturday I "happened to be in the neighborhood" and dropped in on Edna Littleton. She showed me an attractive quilt she is piecing for the benefit of the Zia Senior Citizen Center. She is using the diamond shape used in the "tumbling blocks" pattern. She also showed me a pretty bedspread which she pieced for herself. On this the clamshell pattern and silky material was used.

Edna began using the needle and thread at the age of 8 years. She often says she is going to quit piecing and patching, then she "sees another pretty one" and out comes the cloth scrapes.

Have you heard about the Lincoln County's first annual quilt exhibition? Read elsewhere in Post Script about the day-long event to be held on Saturday, April 24.

LINCOLN National Forest

NEWS

The NEWS
— March 11, 1982 —

Spring-like weather, with a preview of spring winds, throughout Lincoln National Forest is a signal to forest visitors to check up on their fire prevention precautions. Forest visitors and residents are requested to be extra careful when using fire in any way, especially when the wind is blowing.

Frequent and sudden weather changes are probable this time of year, so please check with the appropriate district office for most current conditions and information. Numbers to call are: Smokey Bear at Ruidoso, 257-4095; Clouderoft, 682-2651; Guadalupe at Carlsbad, 885-4181; and Mayhill, 687-3411. For skiing conditions, call 257-9001 at Sierra Blanca Ski Area, or 682-2587 at Ski Clouderoft.

Twenty-four inches of new snow fell on Sierra Blanca Ski Area in Smokey Bear District last week. Snow remains in the high country of White Mountain and Capitan Mountain Wilderness Areas, and in shaded areas at lower elevations. Roads are clear, but muddy in spots. Three Rivers Campground is open. Fuelwood areas are open with some muddy spots. There are no snowmobiling or cross-country skiing areas on this district.

Clouderoft Ranger District reports that Apache Loop Cross-country Ski Trail is receiving heavy use on weekends; little use on weekdays. The Upper Karr Canyon parking lot has been plowed and now makes a good starting point for cross-country skiing and snowmobiling. Silver Snowplay area closes at 4:00 p.m. on weekends now, and is not open at night. If warm weather continues, it will probably close this weekend due to lack of snow. Dog Canyon Trail is open for winter hikers. Most other trails are snowpacked. Primary roads are dry; secondary roads are snowpacked and icy or muddy on south-facing slopes. Fuelwood areas are closed.

Arbor day in New Mexico is observed on the second Friday in March. The value of trees is often highlighted on this day by tree planting ceremonies.

The true message of Arbor Day is to cherish the gifts of nature and to appreciate the beauty and usefulness of trees. Trees of Lincoln National Forest provide beauty, recreational opportunity habitat for wildlife, and wood products. Forest fires can destroy in a few hours trees that will take years to replace.

Winter activities are winding down. Snow remains at higher elevations on north-facing slopes. Most back-country roads in low elevations are extremely muddy. High winds and sudden weather changes are probable this time of year, so check with the appropriate district office for most current conditions and information. Numbers to call are: Smokey Bear at Ruidoso, 257-4095; Clouderoft 682-2651; Guadalupe at Carlsbad 885-4181; and Mayhill, 687-3411.

On Smokey Bear District at Ruidoso, fire danger is listed as moderate to high. Three Rivers Campground is open. Fuelwood areas are open, but roads are muddy in some areas. Trails in White Mountain and Capitan Wildernesses are snowpacked at higher elevations and in shaded areas. Sierra Blanca Ski Area is open with good conditions.

Fuelwood areas are still closed on the Clouderoft District, and back roads are muddy. Silver Snowplay Area is closed; and there is no snow on Apache Loop Trail. Snowplay conditions at Upper Karr, Alamo Peak, and Sac Peak areas are poor to fair. Ski Clouderoft is closed. All developed campgrounds are still closed.

Hot off the Wire:

Sullivan announces for sheriff

Hi Mabel! March is blowing in as usual, also, the World Day of Prayer was March 5th, Johnny Appleseed day is March 1. St. Pat's Day is coming the 17th and Spring begins March 20th - It is a nice month to start an African violet. They are charming little plants. Violets thrive in bathroom or kitchens. You water from a saucer underneath. They like steamy air. (Lovely flowers are the smiles of God's goodness.

I have always wanted to know a little bit more about Seeing Eye Dogs, and the other day while talking to a friend I found out that one time the 4-H members played a big part in this area.

After World War II began, and Seeing Eye Staff members entered the Armed Forces, it became harder for the puppies to get the attention they needed, and the organization began a bold new plan. This school was in Morristown, N.J. The Seeing eye officials discovered that living in homes of young people was a valuable experience for the German Shepherd.

A dog fresh out of a kennel is not used to normal household conversation and the sound of radio, TV, and record players. Dogs have to learn how to walk across slippery linoleum floors and down stairs. A healthy dog who had good experiences in a foster home can learn his guide work easier.

Over 500 young people have helped the seeing eye program by raising puppies and all were members of 4-H clubs. They took their pledge seriously: "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to loyalty, my hands to service and my health to better living for my club by community and country." 4-H clubbers in New Jersey volunteered.

This is the way it works. The 4-H member receives his puppy at ten weeks. The Seeing eye organization foots all the veterinary bills and pays the boy or girl ten dollars a month toward the puppy's keep. The 4-H'er is asked to train the puppy to walk on leash and learn normal behavior. Then when the dog is 14 months old he is reclaimed by Seeing Eye to begin his guide training. If the 4-H'er has done a good job he gets another dog very soon.

This is a worthwhile project for 4-H'ers and teaches both dog and child a lot.

Yes Mabel! It's time for fashion-facts-and feats!

I told you about the cropped pants last week. Now try making you a jacket and line it with a reversible cloth, you can use fur for warmth or plaid for spring - just turn it over and wear it with everything - it can be made out of a soft material with a belt or without.

Here is a good game to make-if you need something to do.

You need an 18-inch square of wood or cardboard and 5 empty spools - then attach them to the board - one in the middle and one on each corner. Then paint numbers under each one. Use rings to throw over the spool - keep score.

DID YOU KNOW?

1. That there is a new hypoallergenic first aid bandage that sticks to itself, not your skin - try it?
 2. There is a new fire resistant leather glove that you may wear to adjust your fire?
 3. That Opal Greer was the star at a party given Sunday afternoon?
 4. You Nogai girls - missed a lot of fun and goodies, at 2 P.M. Sunday?
 5. The lady who went to see the President. What a thrill?
 6. The Sharpes have been busy lately?
 7. It's nice to have the Cospers home even though they have been back a while now - and I don't get it in the paper.
- I saw Mr. Johnson at the P.O. and he and Mrs. Johnson had just returned from Valentin, Nebraska. They had attended their son's wedding. Also their daughter was here visiting from Alaska.

Janis Regretto, of Tucson and Kathy Debusk of Silver City were visiting their mother and father. Hettie and Jerry Graves, this last week. Nice to have them.

OK Mabel! you can tell this: "Everyone says I got my good looks from my father." "Oh? Is he a plastic surgeon?"

"I don't think success has gone to her head." "No, just to her mouth."

"Oh I can't catch my breath." "With your breath you should be thankful!"

Some people are like blisters. They don't show up until the work is finished.

LET'S EAT NOW!

- A Cheesecake Pie
- 1 can sweetened condensed milk
 - 1/2 pt. sour cream
 - 1/2 c lemon juice
 - 1 large package cream cheese
 - 1/2 t vanilla

Combine ingredients in a mixer and blend until thick; pour into a spring form pan lined with graham cracker crumbs. Sprinkle a few bits of crumbs on top and refrigerate for several hours before serving.

This is very good - bye now Mabel! See you next week Robie.

Mexico. He met his wife Pat, (married 21 years) in the 8th grade at Court Junior High in Las Cruces. Pat teaches 1st grade at Capitan Elementary School. Open letter to the people of Lincoln County:

This letter is to the people of Lincoln County. It is about the five miles of road which goes from U.S. Highway 380 to the O Bar O Ranch headquarters. The road is entirely on O Bar O property. This road also provides one of the access routes to the Carrizo Mountain area of the Lincoln National Forest.

Many people are under the belief that I want to close this road to deny them access to National Forest Land. This is not true, and in the following paragraphs I will attempt to explain my actions and views.

I purchased the O Bar O Ranch in May of 1981. As a property owner I feel that I should have control over the use of my land. The O Bar O Headquarters is nationally known because of its unique beauty and history which attracts many tourists. As a result, several items have been stolen or damaged by people indiscriminately driving around the ranch. Cars driving off the road have also caused erosion to the pasture lands.

There is no mention of a road right-of-way through the O Bar O in my title deed or in the county records. Therefore I instructed my manager to chain the entrance to the O Bar O to restrict access and to prevent further vandalism to the land and houses. The chain was promptly cut by the Sheriff's Department under instructions from the county manager, who claimed it was a county road. Of course, I feel the road is O Bar O property since I paid for it. This issue is still to be decided, and I am hoping the people of Lincoln County will support me.

I was later contacted by Paul Gordon, District Ranger for Lincoln National Forest. He expressed his concern about limiting public access to National Forest Land and asked me to join him in finding a solution. In a subsequent meeting between us we sought an alternate easily accessible route to the forest land. One of the routes we came up with was a road from Indian Divide, because it would primarily be through National Forest Land and not on private land.

There is presently a road from U.S. Highway 380 at Indian Divide to National Forest land around Tuscon Mountain. Another one and a half miles of road would have to be constructed to connect it to the Benado Gap road and the Carrizo Mountains. This would also open considerably more National Forest land to the public.

Paul Gordon pointed out that the Forest Service did not have existing funds available to improve the existing road and to construct new roads. I then offered the free use of my road equipment and operators to construct the road for them under the supervision of their engineers. We agreed that this would give good access to the public and at the same time give me the privacy I desired on the O Bar O Ranch.

Mr. Gordon then presented this plan to the County Commissioners and they said no. I was quite surprised by this action since it would not cost Lincoln County anything, and would best serve the needs of all Lincoln County residents.

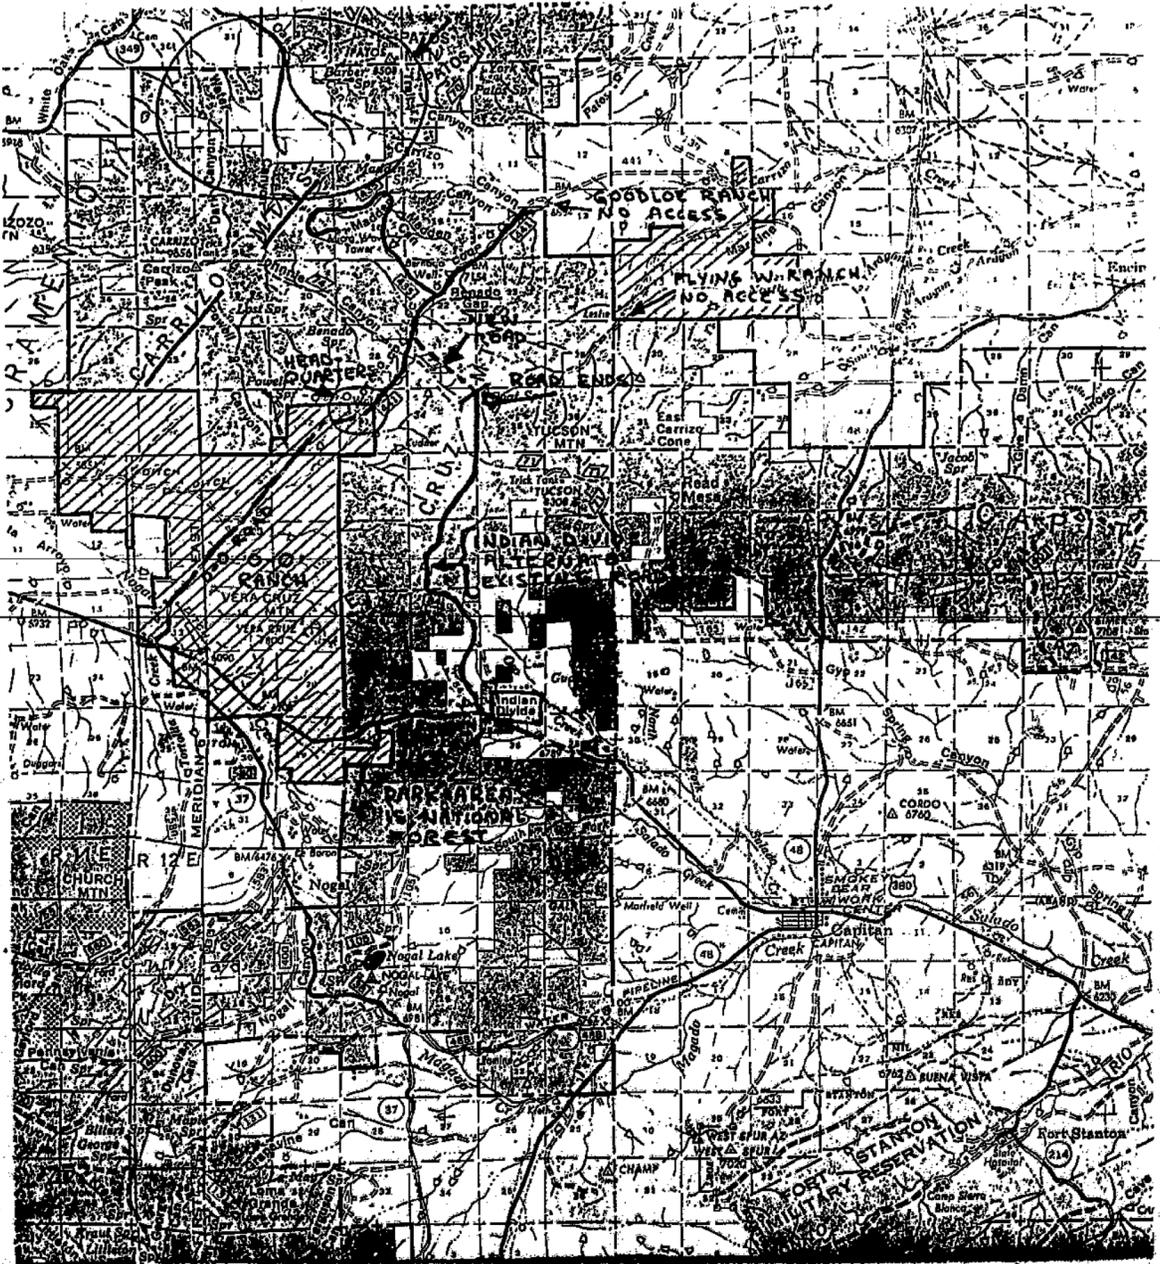

Some time later my attorney again presented this plan to the County Commissioners and again we were turned down.

I would like to point out that there are several existing horse trails into the forest area. There are also several other places where a road could be made into the National Forest by extending roads with existing rights-of-way. Although I did make the offer to build a new road, it is the responsibility of the Forest Service and County to supply access roads to National Forest Land, not mine. I made the offer in cooperation with the Forest Service because I understand the public's need for forest access. All I want is my rightful ownership and control of my lands.

As many of you already know, I am also the owner of the Flying W Ranch (Leslie Ranch) north of Capitan. I am presently making improvements to both ranches and employ several county residents, contract much work locally, and purchase most of my supplies locally. It seems to me that I am doing my part in helping Lincoln County and feel that I should be treated fairly by county officials.

Thank you for letting me express my views and I sincerely hope you will support me.

New hat in the political ring

H.W. "Bud" Eppers is a candidate for the New Mexico House of Representatives seat in Dist. 57.

Eppers, a Republican, is seeking the seat now held by Colin McMillan of Roswell. McMillan is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Eppers said he is running because of his concerns and interest in the direction state government takes over the next few years. "The transition from federal to state management of numerous programs will require considerable attention to assure they are cost-effective and beneficial," he said.

Eppers said his involvement with the oil and gas industry in recent years has brought to his attention many of their problems including complexity of exploration and development in virgin areas. He emphatically stated, as he has numerous times in the past, "that he is fed up with paying foreign nations' exorbitant prices to meet our nations energy requirements."

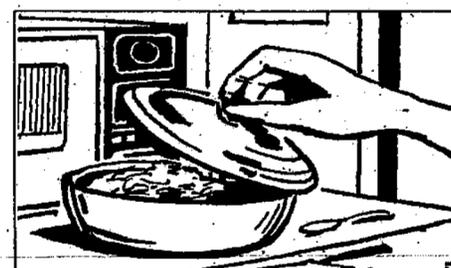

Dist., 57 includes primarily the north and east portion of Roswell, north Chaves County, all of DeBaca County and precinct 8 in Lincoln County, which is the Corona area in the extreme northern part of Lincoln County.

THE MICROWAVE COOK

Beef Fiesta is an easy to make casserole for first time microwave cooks.

So you're a new microwave oven owner. Here's a tip to get you off on the right foot. Cover a dish when microwaving to hold in heat and shorten cooking time. Covers also hold in moisture and prevent spattering. Beef Fiesta and Creamy Zucchini Soup are easy to make ideas that use Campbell's Condensed Soups for moisture and rich flavor.

BEEF FIESTA

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 c. chopped onion
- 3/4 c. chopped green pepper
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1 1/2 tsp. chili powder
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) Campbell's Cream of Celery Soup
- 1 can (about 16 oz.) tomatoes
- 1 c. quick-cooking rice, uncooked

In 3-qt. round glass casserole, combine beef, onion, green pepper, garlic, chili powder and pepper. Cover with glass lid. Microwave on HIGH 6-8 min., stirring once to separate meat. Stir in remaining ingredients. Re-cover. Microwave on HIGH 12-14 min. or until hot, stirring once. Let stand, covered, 5 min. Makes about 5 cups, 4 servings.

CREAMY ZUCCHINI SOUP

- 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) Campbell's Chicken Broth
- 4 c. thinly sliced zucchini squash (about 1 lb.)
- 1/2 c. chopped onion
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 tsp. basil leaves, crushed
- 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) Campbell's Cream of Onion Soup

In 2-qt. round glass casserole, combine broth, zucchini, onion, garlic and basil. Cover with glass lid. Microwave on HIGH 9-11 min., or until zucchini is just tender, stirring occasionally. Stir in soup. Re-cover. Microwave on HIGH 3-4 min. or until hot, stirring once. Let stand, covered, 2 min. Makes about 4 cups, 3-4 servings.

Twenty-four members attend Extension meeting

The Corona Extension Club met Thursday, February 25th, in the school auditorium, with 24 members and two visitors present. New members are Joyce Pope and Maxine Brown. The visitors were Suzie Hindi of Duran and Angela Molyneaux. Denise Byrd, 4-H leader, introduced the seven members who served as pages during one day of the last legislative session in Santa Fe. They were Roe Anne Alford, Denise Lightfoot, Shawn Perkins, Steve and Sandra Copeland, Sabra Sultemeier and Sharon Byrd. Each gave an interesting report of the trip and told of their duties. The club extended a vote of thanks to the students and to their leader. The hostesses, Robin Pfeiffer, Juanita Owen and Ruby Davidson served cookies, pecan muffins, punch and coffee which the young people enjoyed since they were out of classes. The hostesses also gave the young people and the others present a small American flag in commemoration of Washington's birthday.

President Denise Byrd called the meeting to order. Brenda Marshall read the creed, Kay Sultemeier the minutes and called the roll. Mrs. Byrd reported on the council meeting which was held here and also the district meeting to be held in Clovis March 22. Beverly Merrit made a motion that the club join the Blood Bank Service. The Extension Club will furnish cookies and juice for the project.

The Lincoln County Extension Clubs' new cookbook will be off the press soon and will see for seven dollars. Jaunita Sultemeier told of a tea being planned to mark the fourtieth birthday of the Lincoln County Clubs, of which Corona's was the first to be formed.

The club voted to give fifty dollars each to the three boys, Clay Lightfoot, Mozan McKibben and Tom Perkins who are working to make expenses for the trip to the Citizenship Short Course Washington Focus.

After a delicious taco lunch at the school cafeteria, Allene Sultemeier gave an interesting program on Painting on Glass. Each member had an oval piece of glass on which she painted. The next meeting will be March 25th in the school auditorium. Allene Sultemeier will teach the making of love knots. Everyone present enjoyed seeing the sixty Beef Poster contest entries which were displayed in the auditorium.

HOT W-MOST . . . bowlers, that is. Fred Vega, left, was Carrizozo's tournament host at Sunday's Men's City Tournament. It tied the record for a city tournament with 64 teams participating. Pictured at right is the tournament director, Billy Wallace of Alamogordo.
