Country Western Music Festival at White Oaks

The White Oaks community is gearing up for its Country Western Music Festival, Oct. 9-10, which is being planned as an annual event. Headlining the two-day event will be Rex Allen Jr., singing star under contract to Warner Brothers and winner of the 1978-79 Silver Bullet Award for "Entertainer of the Year." Jim Furth, disc jockey of Radio KRRR, will be the master of ceremonies. Included in the activities are several bands, among which are the "Flying J Wranglers," "Timberline," and a Blue Grass Band. There will be a fiddle and banjo contest with cash prizes awarded. Bob Dickenson of Holloman Air Force Base will give his impersonations. A talent contest is scheduled as well as street dances and a cow pattie throwing contest.

There will be food available and arts and crafts concessions. Camping and parking are free.

The outdoor stage for the event has been completed. Visitors are advised to bring lawn chairs or blankets for comfortable seating.

Rich and Diana Haverkate and Travis and Francis Brimes of Alamogordo bought the first tickets.

Allen began his professional career at age 6, traveling with his famous father, playing rhythm guitar, wrangling his dad's horse Koko, and filling in as a rodeo clown. Folk music was "big" in the '60s and Allen patterned himself after his favorite singer, Hoyt Axton, and formed a trio. With the coming of the Beatles folk music was "put on hold," and Allen started a rock group called "Saturday's Children."

After a stint in the US Army in 1969 he returned to Los Angeles and began in earnest his singing career. He signed with Plantation Records and in 1971 moved to Nashville and went with JMI records, after which he was signed to Warner Bros.

Then he began a string of hits: "The Great Mail Robbery,"

"Goodbye," "Teardrops in my Heart," "Two Less Lonely People," "Solitaire" and many others.

His major television appearances include the Merv Griffin Show, Hee-Haw, Music Hall America, Nashville On The Road and Pop Goes the Country.

Credit for this country music festival goes to Bud Crenshaw, who donated the land for the event; John and Jane Elmore, A. J. and Elaine Marks, Duane and Rose Vinson and Bobby Dan Crenshaw.

REX ALLEN JR.

JIM PAYNE at Monte Vista Service Station takes his football seriously. This sign in his station window "subtly" sums up his opinion of the football strike.

The South Central Mountain RC&D group will meet in Carrizozo Tuesday, Oct. 5, at the Carrizozo Recreation Center.

Wally Ferguson is the new chairman of the Resource Conservation and Development project. Howard Shanks of Captain Stearns as secretary and Johnson Stearns is treasurer. They solicit public input into these meetings.

The afternoon session will include a slide talk entitled "Agriculture in Norway" and will be presented by Joe Chambers of High Rolls, who serves on the Otero Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

Rehearsals for the new season begin Sunday, Oct. 3, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., in the Band Room at Carrizozo Public Schools (by the cafeteria).

New singers should call 648-2326 for information or show up 15 minutes early on Sunday. All previous singers are invited back for "on-time" rehearsals. This year, the Hosannas will be working with arrangements for choir and two pianos with occasional instruments. Some of the music will be especially arranged and edited for the choir, soloists and instrumentalists, and will be under the direction of Charles Adams.

The fall concert is scheduled for Nov. 21, the Sunday evening before Thanksgiving.

HAROLD SIMS — pharmacist, photographer, artist

'Grandpa Sims?'

A surprise art exhibit

You're kidding!

That's a normal reaction to news that Hal Sims, genial pharmacist and owner of the Family Pharmacy, is having a one-man art display at the Carrizozo School Conference Room. It can be viewed Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The display includes sketches in ink, charcoal, pastels and oil. Nature and wildlife is a special interest, which is one reason he came back to New Mexico. He's in love with sunsets, mountains, back packing, skiing, wildlife and landscapes that make this area unique.

"You won't see me painting flowers and vases on a table, or what they call still life," he said. He calls it "table art." "It bores me to tears. I enjoy the so-called western art. To me western art is nature's art. You can't separate God, nature and art. They are synonymous."

Hal Sims never took an art lesson in his life. Never had the time, he said.

He began working with a No. 2 lead pencil, then went to regular drawing pencils, charcoal, arryrics, ink and pastels. Even ballpoint pens.

"Art is great," he said. "There are no rules. Anything goes. It is my way of relaxing, relating, enjoying nature which is my special interest."

Sims is also an accomplished photographer, and uses the camera to further his sketches and paintings. He recommends anyone interested in art to get and use a camera.

"My photos may seem like wasted film to many, but photography is an art form. Some particular tree, bush, cloud, post or lighting effect can be captured for use later as reference. It helps fine-tune the artist's eye."

To Sims, art is a hobby and an obsession—something to be enjoyed and shared. "Every time I give away a painting a part of me goes with it," he explained. He calls art "nature's valium."

New Mexico has a lot of people, he pointed out, who are special people who appreciate art and the land around them. "This holds me and my family's love and interest here in Carrizozo."

This accomplished artist who never had an art lesson, who also handles a camera professionally, is an incurable romantic in love with nature, is also the town's pharmacist.

Grandma Moses became a famous American artist in much the same way Sims is developing. Is there a "Grandpa Sims" in the making here?

FEE CHARGED BY FFA FOR MEAT PROCESSING

Beginning next month the Carrizozo FFA chapter will charge a small fee for processing beef, lamb and swine. The fee will help pay the cost of wrapping, tape, and electricity for coolers and meat saws.

Those wishing to arrange for this meat processing service should call Mike Gaines, 648-2955, or come by the Vo. Ag. shop.

DEPUTY Sheriff Gilbert Archuleta cited both drivers of two vehicles involved in a Tuesday accident at the intersection of Highways 380 and 54. The '73 Porsche driven by James Ellwood of Ruidoso and the '81 Chevy pickup driven by Harvey Carter of Midland, TX, were substantially damaged. A similar accident occurred at the same intersection Sunday, where heavy traffic is regulated only by a flashing signal.

MR. AND MRS. PETER JOHN FREDERICKS

Jaylen Gay Vega becomes bride of Peter Fredericks

Baskets of lavender and white gladiolas, carnations and baby's breath decorated the altar of Santa Rita Catholic Church as Jaylen Gay Vega became the bride of Peter John Fredericks. The wedding was held on Aug. 14 with Father Joe Sokolewicz officiating the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vega of Carrizozo. The groom is the son of Bernice Fredericks of Bismark, ND, and Peter E. Fredericks of Halliday, ND.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a traditional white gown of sheerganza with a Queen Anne neckline and full chantilly lace sleeves. The bodice and skirt were trimmed in beruffled chantilly and sheerganza. The skirt swept into a multi-ruffled chapel train.

She wore a fingertip veil trimmed in matching chantilly lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations interspersed with baby's breath and accented by white, lavender and grape satin streamers.

In keeping with bridal tradition, she chose as something old and something borrowed, a pearl necklace from the bride's mother, as something, new her wedding dress; and as something blue, the traditional garter.

Music for the occasion was provided by Ann Ferguson.

Debra Lynn Vega, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a full flounced hoop skirted dress of grape sheerganza with a ruffled drop shoulder bodice. Bridesmaids were Sarah Fredericks, sister of the groom from Bismark, Nancy Lewis and Cynthia Morales of Carrizozo, and Sofia Dalton of Las Cruces. The bridesmaids wore the same styled gowns as the maid of honor but in a lavender-grape print. All attendants wore swiss straw picture hats trimmed with ribbons and flowers to match.

They all carried a long stem rose in the same color scheme to complete the effect.

Bill Fredericks, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jack Payne;

Dick Vega, brother of the bride; Gary Vega and Lee Vega, cousins of the bride.

Ushers were Kenneth Vega, brother of the bride, and Bobby Montes of Gariand, TX, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Carrizozo Recreation Center. The three tiered wedding cake was trimmed in lavender and topped with two doves. The guest book was attended by Elizabeth Sanchez, cousin of the bride.

Following a honeymoon to Acapulco and Mexico City the newlyweds are making their home in Miles City, Montana, where they will continue their education this fall and will return to New Mexico State for the spring semester.

Kimberly Woods to be married

Chuck and Norma Woods of Ruidoso are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kimberly, to Phil Covington of Ruidoso.

Mr. Covington is the son of Woody and Shirley Covington of Lamesa, TX. He graduated from Lamesa High School in 1979 and is presently employed by an electrical firm in Ruidoso.

Miss Woods is a 1981 graduate of Sierra Blanca High School, Sierra Blanca, TX, and is employed at the Lincoln County Abstract Co. in Carrizozo.

The wedding will take place at Ruidoso Baptist Church on Jan. 22, 1983, with the Rev. Wayne Joyce reading the ceremony.

Going Once

A fun-filled meeting was enjoyed by club members and guests at the Woman's Club first meeting of the fall. Mary Ellen Payne presided over the meeting which included door prizes, an auction, a mini crafts fair and lots to eat and drink.

A basket of vegetables and a bottle of wine were among the most sought after auction bargains. Mary Rich Adams served as auctioneer. Mary delighted the crowd with her descriptions of the articles, many one of a kind, and sure to bring luck, love, or fortune to the highest bidder.

A weight reducing contraption that attaches to a vacuum cleaner was brought by a club member who said, "I'll bid on it just to see what my husband will say when he comes home and sees me hooked up to this thing."

Mini Workshops

Ramona Ortiz conducted a cake decorating demonstration at last week's Woman's Club meeting. The rose petals and leaves appeared to flow so easily from the frosting bag that Barbara Ward decided to try her hand at making a rose.

An observer commented that Barbara's creation looked like a cabbage. Dr. Amy Barton remarked, "I won't say what I think it looks like."

Other artists and crafts people who displayed their work included Mary Ellen Payne, cloth flowers, yo-yo circles, candy jars;

Susan Wells and Linda Brown, Christmas tree decorations, quilted items; Polly Chavez (me), cloth dolls, doll clothes, doll quilts; Mable Vigil, quilt blocks, quilt; Annette Chavez and her mother, Polly (me), calligraphy; Helen Wrye, oil painting.

City Parts

The Santa Rita Quilting Group of Carrizozo will be participating in a city-wide birthday celebration this weekend in Roswell. The event called St. Francis Festival is sponsored by the Catholic parishes of Roswell (St. John's, Assumption, and St. Peter's). All area churches and civic clubs will be part of the festivities, which include prayer services, food, a parade, arts and crafts. Carrizozo's quilting group has made patchwork items for its booth. The club will raffie a queen size quilt.

Crafts and games on Oct. 2 and 3 will be held at St. Peter's hall, known as Casa de Paz, 111 East Deming. Sunday's 12:30 p.m. parade will originate at Henricks and South Main. Ricardo Ramirez, bishop-elect of the new diocese of Las Cruces will be present at a 2:30 p.m. Mass to be celebrated in the wool bowl on Sunday, Oct. 3.

The event will mark the 800th year since the birth of St. Francis of Assisi. St. Francis was born in

They were joined at the field by the Johnny Erramouapes of El Paso, and by Jeanne Erramouape, Karen Gensler, Glenda Shelton and Larry Sullivan of Las Cruces. After the game all were invited to the home of Sherrill and Bob Bradford for hamburgers and hot dogs. More than 50 attended the party.

Mrs. R. L. Sharp and Mrs. John D. Holleyman attended a bridal shower for Lisa Riley in Estancia Sunday afternoon. Miss Riley and Mike Hughes will marry Friday evening at the Estancia Methodist Church.

Linda Sharp had the Grand Champion Black Angus heifer at the State Fair. She received a one thousand dollar check from the Angus Association. David Sharp won Reserve Champion honors in the same class.

Tiffany Owen entered the State Fair Flower Show in arrangements. She won three first places, one second place, the junior achievement award and the Junior sweepstakes award. Rusty Owen entered a vegetable figure and won first place.

Sunday, Oct. 3, the churches will observe Worldwide Communion. Picture, if you can, a 23,000 mile communion table.

Beverly Bell won second place in the poetry division of the 4-H public speaking contest at the New Mexico State Fair Saturday. She received a red ribbon and $20 cash award. Her poem was entitled "Smart" by Shel Silverstein.

Bud James was here from Albuquerque last week to get some wood. He furnished us with items of interest concerning Claunch in the '30s and '40s.

Xi Beta Epsilon of Beta Sigma Phi held the first meeting of the new year at the home of Linda Cancilla with president Patricia Perkins in charge of the ritual and business sessions. She distributed yearbooks and reported that Beginning Day with dinner at the Marriott Hotel on Aug. 27 had been a fun evening. Finance chairman Linda reported that two doughnut sales in conjunction with the cheerleaders had netted each group $245.05.

The Valentine sweetheart pin has been redesigned and Eva Mae Holleyman received a new one only a few months late.

Mrs. Cancilla reported that pecans have been ordered and are expected to sell at the same price as last year. They will be available at Corona Trading Co. The chapter voted to progress from Exemplar to Preceptor. Elinor Smith presented three words with their meanings: explatory, clandestine and invidious. Xi Beta Epsilon was one of the chapters chosen at random for an experimental new outline for selected cultural program sessions. Mrs. Cancilla and June Tyree presented programs from this outline. Mrs. Cancilla chose Kitchens as her subject. She stated that there are four standard types of kitchen arrangements: L-shape, strip, corridor and U-shape. She discussed various positions for the work centers and showed pictures illustrating many beautiful kitchens with the use of pots, pans and plants and art in the decorations.

June Tyree chose as her topic "Early American Furniture." She traced the development of the craft from the first benches, tables, and cupboards to gateleg and gate latch tables to Duncan Phyfe and window chairs from crude beginnings through fine craftsmanship. Woods used were native maple, pine, oak, hickory, and fruitwoods, Duncan Phyfe, 1768-1854, was a Scot who emigrated to America. He was the first to develop a style distinctive enough to be named for its maker. Mrs. Tyree had a new Ethan Allen catalogue showing fine furniture.

The hostess served finger foods from a table centered with the traditional yellow rose. Members enjoyed an assortment of raw vegetables, dips, sliced cold meats and cheeses, shrimp with cocktail sauce, hot french bread, watermelon and pineapple slices, nuts, tea and coffee.

The October meeting is at the home of Mrs. Smith. The theme for the year is "The Golden Key to Friendship."

Raging Ragers

EDITOR — In answer to Pat Ragers of Ruidoso, I would like to say he is getting the best bargain in the world by giving you a quarter for your wonderful newspaper.

You are not prejudiced or a bigot just because you put the facts as they are. I feel lucky to be able to get your paper from New Mexico, as I used to enjoy reading the Sebastopol Times when you were in our country.

Your editorials on world problems are not published in very many of the major newspapers, or at least they don't explain in plain language like you do. For example, your OPINION column of Sept. 2 about the US sending our Marines into Beirut to rescue a deadly enemy, the P. L. O. It was US tax dollars that built the Soviet war machine. We gave them our grain and all the technology they wanted. Is it any wonder we are having wars constantly all over the globe?

One last word about the queers. I don't say "gay" because if you look in the dictionary, the word "gay" doesn't fit these people. We can only offer sympathy for this disease and we shouldn't have to tolerate their actions any more than a person with heart trouble, cancer, hypertension, or any other sickness.

Keep up the good reporting. There are more people listening to you than you think.

Loves these real estate prices

EDITOR — Just a quick note to let you know that I enjoy your paper. Read it from cover to cover. Sure wish we had real estate prices out here like I see in your paper.

By the way, enclosed is an article I ran across in the San Francisco Chronicle. Sure wish our representatives would take a page out of his book and get rid of some of the bureaucrats. . .

Inside Religion

Civil war among the Adventists

BY REV. LESTER KINSOLVING

Despite a somewhat dubious beginning in 1844, the world's nearly four million Seventh-day Adventists have built up a good public reputation.

Their widespread medical missionary hospitals and famine relief are outstanding. So is their training program for medics and stretcher bearers for young people who are conscientious objectors who still wish to serve their country.

They do not engage in the type of pest-proselytizing as do some of the other denominations who believe the end of the world is imminent. They even share their church buildings with other denominations who do not share their observance of the Sabbath instead of the Lord's Day (Sunday, the day on which Jesus rose from the dead.)

Their denomination's origin can be traced to upstate New York in 1831, when an unusually eloquent and devout farmer named William Miller reached a stunning conclusion from his careful study of the Old Testament Book of Daniel. For Miller began preaching, apparently very persuasively, that the Second Coming of Christ would take place between March 21, 1843 and March 21, 1844.

Thousands of his listeners were so convinced that they sold their property and even, in some cases, dressed themselves in special robes to await the Second Coming. Others in this movement, such as a 17-year-old prophetess named Ellen G. White, pinned down this Parousia to Oct. 12, 1844.

Miller died only four years after what is now known as "The Great Disappointment." But Prophetess White lived on for another 71 years, during which she proved to be an almost inexhaustible source of visions and literature.

One of her first visions was of Jesus having decided against returning because, she revealed, he had decided to enter a new sanctuary in Heaven, in order to begin a careful investigation of the lives of the believers on earth.

The disappointed Adventists not only came to believe this but other White revelation as well — including one in which she declared that the Lord wanted them to switch from Sunday to Saturday as the main day of worship.

Today, Prophetess White's stature is being seriously challenged by scholarly accusations that she was guilty of widespread plagiarism. In Par-terson, California, pastor-scholar Walter Rea recently unearthed a number of books and other documents which he notes as containing material which was lifted word for word by the Prophetess.

Rea has documented all this in a book entitled "The White Lie."

At first, denominational headquarters tried to suppress dissent by a reported ousting of more than 100 pastors and teachers. But this led to the most effective and irrefragable weapon of any denomination whose rank and file are plagued by hierarchical tyranny: independent newspapers. Already there are two newspapers, "Evangelica" and "Spectrum," which are getting the scandal out in the open.

The editors of these two periodicals do not seem at all impressed by the national leadership's rather desperate claims that after all the evangelists who wrote the Four Gospels borrowed material from each other.

Apparently it was a mistake for the denomination to believe that the studious research required by the ministry of medicine would somehow be curtailed with regard to research on biblical theology and church history.

Another blow came from the University of Connecticut, where Adventist pediatrician Delbert Hodder offered the intriguing (but hardly helpful) theory that Prophetess White's visions may have been due to her experience at age 9 — when she was hit in the head by a rock.

New Mexico in Washington

Jack Schmitt: Courage just before an election

BY LESTER KINSOLVING

WASHINGTON — Only 48 days before facing the moment of truth in his bid for reelection, New Mexico's Sen. Harrison Schmitt broke with both of his fellow Republicans — Ronald Reagan and Pete Domenici — on the extremely controversial issue of abortion.

Despite ardent lobbying by Reagan for an anti-abortion bill by Sen. Jesse Helms (R., NC), Schmitt voted to table the Helms bill, which had been filibustered through three different efforts by Helms to evoke cloture (cutting off debate, which requires 60 votes.)

Following the failure of Helms' final attempt to evoke cloture and to shut off the filibuster by two liberal Republicans, Lowell Welker of Connecticut and Robert Packwood of Oregon, the motion to table was introduced by yet another Republican, S. I. Hayakawa of California.

Hayakawa's motion won by only one vote, 47-46. Schmitt voted to table; Domenici voted against it. Following this vote, Sen. Helms told reporters that those senators who voted to table his anti-abortion bill will face retribution at the polls.

But Sen. Schmitt told The Lincoln County News:

"Although I am personally opposed to abortion, except when the mother's life or health is at stake, I agree with the Supreme Court decision that the federal government has no right to make this private and personal choice for an individual or family. The decision for or against an abortion is one which each person must make with regard to his or her own moral convictions and religious beliefs."

Schmitt has already been targeted for political annihilation by the recently organized liberal equivalent of "Nickpack" (National Conservation Political Action Committee) whose rather witless newspaper ads have tried to portray him as something of a New Mexico edition of either Jesse James or Attila The Hun.

His break with both the president and Sen. Domenici on this issue came one day after a Reagan anti-abortion play backfired disastrously.

The White House assembled nearly two dozen religion writers — almost all of them Roman Catholic — purportedly to meet for luncheon with White House Counselor Ed Meese. Just by chance (according to Media Liaison person Karina Small) in came the Great Communicator, who proceeded to lay one of the most enormous eggs since he co-starred with Bozco.

For President Reagan informed the Catholic religion writers that "Children have been born even down to the three-month stage and have lived to, the record shows, to grow up and be normal human beings."

Within hours, the White House press corps had heard about this miraculous three-month pregnancy and live birth. So, as they have before, they began inquiring for verification.

By that time, the White House Reagan Rewrite Squad was ready with another What-He-Meant-To-Say clarification. What he meant to say was four-and-a-half months, not three. Dr. Jack Wilkie of the National Right To Life Committee cited a Cincinnati boy born in 1972 who weighed one pound 10 ounces. He was born 19 weeks and six days after his mother's last menstrual period. But the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists notes that measuring from the last menstrual period is not always accurate. And in a lawsuit filed in Ohio, they noted no unambiguous documentation that any baby born at a gestational age of less than 24 weeks has ever survived.

The defeat of the Helms anti-abortion bill, through filibustering and a motion to table by fellow Republicans, was apparently enough of a disaster for Utah Republican Orrin Hatch to withdraw his local option abortion amendment, which would leave the issue in the hands of the various states.

In Washington there is a widespread sense of relief. For abortion is one of American political history's most pronounced no-win issues — because no matter how one votes on this controversy, he or she will make enemies.

Opponents of abortion may console themselves with the fact that there has been no legislation ever proposed or introduced to force any women to have an abortion against her will.

In like manner, a bulk of the American people do not believe that abortion is infanticide and do not believe that victims of rape and incest and grave threat to health should be forced into full term pregnancy.

Sen. Schmitt has some constituents in New Mexico who believe it is very evil and dangerous to allow blood transfusions; and others who do not approve of being treated by physicians. Their sincerity is no less pronounced than the abortion prohibitionists'.

Perhaps a good solution for our pluralistic society was the statement of the late Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston, Richard Cardinal Cushing:

"Catholics do not need the force of civil law to remain faithful to their own convictions. Nor do they seek by law to impose these convictions on others."

County and area winners at the New Mexico State Fair which ended Sept. 26 include the following:

Future Farmers of America, Hondo, won 1st with its booth display; Elida FFA was 2nd, Tatum 3rd; Logan 4th.

In agricultural mechanics, Mary Jane Ferguson, Carrizozo FFA, placed 3rd in equipment built, $50 to $199. For equipment built for under $50 Brian Vigil of Carrizozo won 2nd.

In livestock equipment built for $200 or more, Reil Mitchell of Clouderoft won 1st.

In the get of sire, three animals, both sexes entered by exhibitor, Canning Ranches of Captain placed 1st; and for two females, bred and owned by exhibitor, Canning Ranches placed 8th. Canning was 3rd in late junior yearling heifer calves.

Famous last words

"Some people remember George Washington as the father of our country, but I remember him as a slave holder. I remember him as a whoremonger. And if he was father of our country, then this country is a prostitute." — The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"I HAVE $5 for this lovely potted plant, do I hear . . ." Auctioneer Mary Rich Adams quickly disposed of items for auction at Women's Club fall meeting.

LET'S FIND out who's the racist and bigot among Americans of whatever color and national background. There is a Black Caucus made up solely of black members of Congress; you need not ask whether there is a White Caucus made up of white members of Congress. There is a Black Radio Network, but nowhere have I found a White Radio Network. Nobody questions the ethnic composition of a fine all-black basketball team, the Harlem Globetrotters, but would an all-white basketball team be permitted to take the court? There are dozens of big publications for black people (Afro-Business, Baltimore; Amsterdam News, New York, Chicago Defender, Chicago; World, Atlanta; Sepia, Fort Worth, etc.) but can you imagine the commotion that would result if just one newspaper advertised itself as a publication for white people? There are many banks in this country run by blacks for blacks—but you will find no banks run by white for whites. There is a United Negro College Fund that solicits money for the exclusive use of black students. Care to endow a United White College Fund for helping only white students? There are all-black businessmen's associations—God help the racist dog who organizes all-white businessmen's association! There is a religion called Black Muslims but no White Muslims. We hear plenty about "Black Power" organizations, but I would not recommend anyone dreaming of a "White Power" society. In 1972, 8,000 blacks met in Gary, Indiana, for the first National Black Political Organization. Wouldn't it be exciting to see what happens should 8,000 white delegates hold a convention to form a National White Political Organization! There is a National Council of Negro Women, but no National Council of White Women. There's an NAACP but no NAAWP. There is a National Association of Colored Women's Clubs and a National Association of Negro Business & Professional Women. Neither has its counterpart for white women. Blacks may organize and discriminate to their hearts' content, but it is improper and even illegal for white people to do so. The only organization I know that exists for promoting the interests of white people is the Ku Klux Klan, and you know how the law and society in general regards it!

WITH ALL the all-black this and all-black that, I have never heard of anyone organizing an All-Black US Army.

THESE ARE only a few black organizations founded to promote the exclusive interests of black people. The Japanese, Italian, Indian, Hispanic, Chinese, Polish, Jewish and other ethnic groups are similarly organized to prosecute their self-interests. High on the list of self-interests is access to the public treasury, special privileges for themselves at the expense of the majority, and such goodies as their varied cultural backgrounds demand.

WOULD YOU say that people who organize all-black organizations to benefit only blacks are racist or bigots? Of course not. Would you say people who organize all-white organizations to benefit only whites are racist or bigots? Of course you would!

IN 1968 the government-sponsored Kerner Commission reported that "our nation is moving toward two societies, one black, one white—separate and unequal." If true, it means civil war.

GIVE me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free—The wretched refuse of your teeming shore, Send the homeless, tempest-tost to me." This inscription appears at the base of the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor. Today I am taking up collection to dismantle and ship the Statue of Liberty back to France. For 98 years this "gift" has caused the world to dump its "tired, poor . . . huddled masses" on our shores; and, it turned out, on our backs. More than 15 million of the "wretched refuse" have passed through nearby Ellis Island. How much is enough? I say send the statue back from whence it came. Now that France is socialist the statue can be cut into doorstops and distributed equally among equal Frenchmen. Then we can turn Ellis Island into a bombing range instead of it serving as a half-way house for foreign indigents, malcontents and fugitives from their native firing squads.

I HAVE been reading with interest and amusement the promises being made to New Mexico voters by gubernatorial candidates John Irick and Toney Anaya. Both promise new jobs for New Mexicans, something the governor can't deliver regardless of which one is elected. Anaya, however, does have the distinction of promising new jobs while at the same time opposing Right-to-Work Laws which business and industry list as a factor in establishing plants in any state. Irick is more credible in this department, for he favors legislation that permits a person to work without having to join a union or starve. As for their other promises, forget 'em. None can be accomplished without the consent of the legislature. The legislature runs the state, not the governor. The governor couldn't go to the bathroom if the legislature told him no. If voters want jobs, lower taxes and a better economic climate they should be talking to state senators and representatives, not to the governor. The governor is a ceremonial head who signs bills passed by the legislature (or vetoes them), opens supermarkets, entertains political royalty, pardons crooks, commutes sentences, makes meaningless speeches, points with pride and cultivates the press. He also proclaims a lot of things—Tie-Up-Your-Dog Week, Eat More Beef Day, New Mexico Balloon Month—stuff like that. You got something serious on your mind? See your legislator.

SOMETIME today (Thursday) you may hear a loud bang out on the White Sands Missile Range. At a spot 30 miles northwest of Three Rivers and 40 west of Carrizozo, the Defense Nuclear Agency will detonate a 24-ton mass of ammonium nitrate soaked with fuel oil to simulate a nuclear explosion. No roads will be closed and few people will hear or see anything unusual. A spokesman for WSMR says there will be no environmental effects because ammonium nitrate is only an all-purpose fertilizer like the stuff we put on gardens. Nobody seems to know what good will come from exploding a $2 million chunk of fertilizer. I hope it doesn't scare all those cows grazing out there.

FIVE YEARS ago Juan Corona confessed to chopping up 25 migrant workers in Northern California and burying the pieces in peach orchards around the neighborhood. Admitting guilt seemed like a violation of his civil rights, so he went on trial and was convicted. That, too, seemed a violation of his civil rights, so four years later he was tried again and convicted. This also being a violation of his civil rights, the verdict is being appealed. Cost to taxpayers so far: $5,000,000.

I TOLD you so. A state health official says an outbreak of illness among Silver City High School band students was caused by taking too much exercise. . . Inmates of Virginia State Penitentiary have been counterfeiting $100 bills—not to be confused with those $100 bills counterfeited in Washington . . . Cheer up. The odds against your being murdered are 11,111 to 1 against it. . .

Peggy Traver, Gayle Irick speak to GOP women

Peggy Traver, president of New Mexico Federated Republican Women, and Gayle Irick, wife of GOP gubernatorial candidate John Irick, visited Lincoln County and addressed the regular monthly meeting of Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County in Ruidoso Tuesday.

Introduced by state vice-chairman Penta Pool of Hondo, Traver spoke on "Networking and the role of the woman in the '80s." Traver has presented this program to other clubs in the state and has been invited to address the Colorado State Federation at the upcoming state convention.

"Networking is an active verb used by the media to describe women in positions of power and responsibility," Traver explained. "The 70's were an era of women moving forward, and the '80s will be an era of women working together with men."

"Men have had the 'Old Boys Network' for years," she continued. "Now women must learn to trust and support each other. There is strength in numbers."

To accomplish this, she suggested developing contacts in the neighborhood through community projects and "being honest—help others to be helped yourself."

Gayle Irick sees the role of the First Lady as "hostess to the governor and to New Mexico" and "representing the women of New Mexico."

First Ladies seem to have their own programs of interest, she noted, and hers would be in the area of home health care. Herself a registered nurse, Irick explained home health care as intermittent care of a sick person in his or her own home by a visiting nurse or aide. This keeps the patient out of a hospital or nursing home and cuts costs to the patient or supportive agency.

"I would like to see the program expanded in the rural and smaller communities," she said. She emphasized this would not be a new program but an expansion of an already existing one. She was also highly complimentary of the present home health care program in Lincoln County.

Following the two women's addresses, a question and answer period followed. Topics included tourism and the importance of voting in November.

In the business meeting preceding the program, members discussed an entry in the Aspencade parade, Oct. 9. Cathy Annala, Barbara Paxon and Ann Denton are on the parade committee. They are planning an entry with FRWLC members and GOP candidates.

Fred Collins, successful GOP primary candidate for State Legislative Dist. 56, also addressed the group. "I plan to work with your Chamber of Commerce, county manager and all village managers and run a clean, professional campaign," he said. Volunteers are needed to staff the Ruidoso GOP headquarters located in the Devon Development Building. Anyone interested can go by the headquarters and sign up.

A nominating committee was named to select a slate of officers for the group's November meeting and election.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 18. Guest speaker will be Aola Vandergriff, noted author and world traveler at a place to be announced later.

Grizzlies nip Cloudfcroft Bears here Friday, 25-12

The Carrizozo Grizzlies topped the Cloudfcroft Bears here Friday 25-12, which raised their season record to two wins and one loss. "The Grizzlies played exceptionally well," said head coach Koller. "There was only a short time in the first quarter when we had a few defensive gaps."

In the first quarter Cloudfcroft fumbled the ball on the 50 yard line, from there the Grizzlies took it to the 1 yard line. John Roueche then ran the ball in for a touchdown. Following the TD Clarence Beltran kicked the extra point to end the first quarter, 7-0.

In the second quarter, Burt Ramsey of Cloudfcroft scored the Bears' first points when he ran into the end zone from the 1 yard line. Roueche of Carrizozo again scored, running 58 yards for a touchdown. Beltran booted the extra point. Late in the quarter, Beltran placed the ball between the uprights for three points, which left the score at 17-6 for the second quarter.

Neither team scored until the fourth quarter. The Grizzlies scored first when Brian Vigil ran in from the 4 yard line. Buddy Hill received a pass from Duane Zamora for the two-point conversion. Johnny Stanbrough of Cloudfcroft later made a touchdown from the 3 yard line, ending the game 25-12.

"Overall we played pretty well," said Koller. "We had a few rough edges, that will be ironed out."

Statistically, Carrizozo had 370 yards in rushing to Cloudfcroft's 172.

Carrizozo managed to get 14 first downs throughout the game, Cloudfcroft 11.

In turnovers, the Bears lost the ball four times, the Grizzlies two. In the penalty box, the Grizzlies lost 135 yards on 13 penalties. Cloudfcroft lost 40 yards on four penalties.

Leading rusher for the Grizzlies was Brian Vigil, who rushed for 142 yards on 18 carries. Leading rusher for Cloudfcroft was Burt Ramsey, 88 yards on 22 carries. Juan Osorio led the Grizzlies in tackles, 26.

The Grizzlies will be traveling to Hatch Friday. The game will start at 7:30 p.m. Koller stated that Hatch has a big ball club, weight-wise. He noted also that the Grizzlies are quicker than Hatch. "Our defense has been working hard all week," said Koller. "I'm looking for a shutout."

BRIAN VIGIL executes an end run for a first down for the Grizzlies.

ZAMORA eats some turf in breaking up a Cloudfcroft pass.

Capitan upsets Tatum

The Capitan Tigers ground out a 24-14 win at Tatum Friday night in a game that was closer than the score indicated.

Coch Holland's crew, playing each week without several key players with injuries, got two short touchdowns and a two-point conversion from hard running Jon Aguilar to take the lead in the third quarter. Tatum stayed close and the Tigers only held a 21-14 edge in the late going. A 10 yard pass from Dewey Keller to Tim McElhanon accounted for the third touchdown.

With eight minutes left, Todd Proctor kicked a 37 yard field goal to put the game out of reach.

This week Capitan travels to Dexter to play the Demons for the first time since 1971. This series is tied at five wins each with one tie.

Junior High VB overrun Capitan

The Junior High volleyball team raised its season record to 2-0 by defeating Chaparral Junior High of Alamogordo Thursday, Sept. 16. The Tuesday before (Sept. 14) they also were the victors over Capitan.

"The girls have the beginnings of a very good team," Coach Brad Oliver stated.

The Grizzlies outplayed Capitan in two games, 15-13 and 15-8. Judy Vallescas of Carrizozo was top scorer in the first game, making seven consecutive points. In the second game, Sylvia Archuleta had eight of the Grizzlies 15 points. "I was pleased with the first game" said Oliver. He pointed out that the girls do very well despite the fact that there are only six players on the team. The six-girl team surprised the larger Chaparral Junior High in Alamogordo when the Grizzlies defeated them in two games, 15-9 and 15-7.

The Junior High's next game will be today (Sept. 30) on an away game to Tularosa at 8 p.m. Team members are Karen Baroz, Judy Vallescas, Theresa Guevara, Tom Gabel, Sylvia Archuleta and Marcella Sandoval. Karen Baroz is the team captain.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND ELECTS OFFICERS
The Junior High Band recently elected officers for the school year.

Bryan Cantrell, president; Marcia Hefker, vice-president; Jamie Patterson, treasurer; Toni Gabel, secretary; Ruth Persall, reporter; and Leah Patterson and Jonna Gibson, librarians.

Mountainair captures invitational

After 18 hours of volleyball, the Mountainair girls won the championship trophy over Dexter. The host Tigerettes won the sportsmanship award in the marathon event.

'Sideline Coach of The Week'

We are pleased to announce the ZoZo-Clouderoff Sideline Coach honors go to Jimmy Payne Esq. of Monte Vista Texaco fame. Jimmy's specialty is defense, as attested by his ever-present defensive call, "Where are the linebackers?" Jimmy's defensive prowess comes from his uncanny ability to count lines. He knows that across from every offensive line should be a defensive line and vice versa; thus two lines, one for each team, and if this doesn't happen... oops!

Jimmy spends his entire off-season brushing up on line counting. In his tenure as Sideline Coach he has only missed the count one time. During the 1981 Capitan Carrizozo game he inadvertently counted four (4) lines, but to his dismay this turned out to be the Capitan Band performing during the half-time show.

We sincerely hope this mistake does not follow and plague Jimmy during the 1982 campaign.

Cracker Barrel Philosophers
 The country store served not only as a merchantile establishment but also as a meeting house, newspaper, public forum and private club. There was a big pot-bellied stove and a barrel of crackers. It was around surroundings like these that men, pipes lit, sat and rocked, exchanged ideas, jokes, and home remedies.

Around the pot-bellied stove sat the farmer, the blacksmith, the carpenter, the barber, the storekeeper himself and all interested townsmen, soaking up heat as they exchanged opinions and told tall tales.

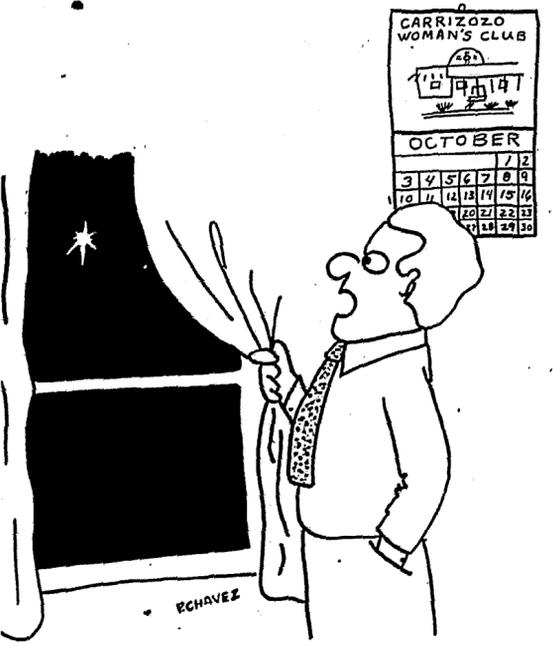

This country style living is the format of the two books which I checked out from the bookmobile last month. "The Cracker Barrel" and "The Second Barrel" by Eric Sloane were written from his recollection of rare memorabilia about our country's past. Sloane, artist-columnist, illustrated the anecdotes, bits of Americana and personal opinion with delightful sketches.

Sloane writes that when you take up art, you'll find a lot of people who are willing to help you along. They want to give you practice in making posters for the local rally or the garden club show. Sloane said that if he was an instructor of art classes he would tell his students, "When the garden club calls upon you to make posters, tell them this is your afternoon to do some gardening, maybe like mowing the lawn. So if one of the ladies will do your gardening, you'll do the posters."

Sloane's advice is something I have often employed when I am asked to make posters or signs. I call it bartering, or the art of haggling.

change to brilliant crimson, russet, and gold. The month inspires poets and painters to make statements. George Cooper wrote, "October gave a party; the leaves by hundreds came; the ashes, oaks, and maples and those of every name."

The excitement of the football season dominates the sports scene. The NFL put a damper on the sport and left Bob Stearns twiddling his thumbs in Nogal. In Carrizozo, a creative Jim Payne of the Monte Vista Service Station has stated his opinion on the strike with a few choice words.

There is lots to do in October. For starters, October is a great month to:

— Make jelly. I recently made crab apple jelly. The success of my first jelly making attempt was due to the hot-line I had to Arsenia Narvaez and Emma Catherine Lawson.

— Go on a picnic. Pack goodies like peanut butter, cheese, crackers, fruit. Take along a camera and colored pencils to capture the colorful scenes.

— Attend a rummage sale. Good food and good buys will be found this Saturday, Oct. 2 at the Woman's Club Building. Check out the NEWS ads for other sales.

— Attend a ribbon cutting. The grand opening of the school library is set for Oct. 1 at 3:30 p.m. See the spacious library that will be used by your children and grandchildren.

— Catch a local high school football game. You will be surprised at how much action really goes on, even on the football field.
