Capitan Tigers take state championship at Socorro

BY TOM GUCK
The Capitan Tigers took their first state football championship in 29 years with a 14-12 upset of Reserve at Socorro Friday night. The victory avenged a 26-6 loss to Reserve in the regular season. To reach the title game the Tigers had upset Texico 7-2 by controlling the line play and it was the same thing that beat Reserve. The defense was outstanding and Capitan generated just enough offense to win and give the crowd a thriller to watch. Both teams were tight in the first quarter and couldn't move the ball well. In the second quarter Reserve got a drive going, aided by two big penalties against Capitan. Gary Zuniga scored on a 2 yard run to give the Mountaineers a 6-0 lead. On the attempted pass for 2 points, defensive back Jerry Lobb deflected the ball. Capitan then marched 87 yards for a touchdown behind the hard running of Danny Cummins and a 24 yard gain by Tim McElhanon on a fake punt. Quarterback Dewey Keller hit McElhanon with an 11 yard pass for the score. Todd Proctor kicked the extra point and the Tigers led 7-6 at halftime. In the third quarter, another pass from Keller to McElhanon set up an 8 yard TD run by Danny Cummins. Proctor's kick again was good and the Tigers led 14-6.

Reserve then drove from their own 25 to the Capitan 12, but were stopped when Duane Larson missed a 29 yard field goal. Late in the game Reserve's Larson scored on a 1 yard run to culminate a 61 yard drive. The Mountaineers went for two points to try and tie the game but Jon Aguilar intercepted the pass. Reserve then tried an on-side kick, but sure-handed Paul Sullivan covered the ball. Reserve got the ball back one more time with 45 seconds left, but on an attempted pass, Ron McDaniel lowered the boom on the quarterback, and Jerry Lobb intercepted to clinch the win. Capitan then ran out the clock and several hundred ecstatic fans mobbed the team on the field. It took more than 15 minutes to restore order to present the trophies. The statistics were even. Capitan rushed for 154 yards. Reserve picked up 148. Reserve had 52 yards passing, compared to 35 for the Tigers. Danny Cummins provided almost all of Capitan's offense with 107 yards rushing on 23 carries. The Tigers' last won the state championship in 1953 and 1952. In 1965 they lost the title game to Roy, and were runnerup to Carrizozo and Reserve in 1976 and 1980. Capitan finishes the season with 7 wins 2 losses and 1 tie. The success story of the 1982

Capitan Tiger football team can be summed up as getting the most out of a fine group of boys that only tried harder after several setbacks. Hard work, determination, and some fine coaching was rewarded with the championship trophy Friday night. Back in August, coach Mel Holland stated "we'll be tough if we can avoid the injuries." The injury jinx was there, however, and by season's end three starters

How times change!

Capitan won state 29 years ago, and nobody cheered

Friday night's state championship game brought back memories of 29 years ago when Capitan last won the big trophy. The game was similar but all other aspects were not. In 1953 the Capitan Tigers had not been beaten in three years and were heavy favorites to win the first class A championship under the then new playoff system. The Tigers had won the state championship in 1952, playing with much larger schools, and were undefeated through 29 games. Lop-sided wins were common in 1953 over Carrizozo, Corona, Estancia, Ruidoso (twice), Tularosa, Melrose, Vaughn, and Tatum. The state championship game was scheduled in Farmington against Navajo Mission, the northern division winner. The 400 mile trip and economical reasons prevented the school from sending anyone other than the team in a bus driven by Coach Bud Darling. A total of six people also made the long trip by car to form the small Capitan cheering section. Navajo Mission was only able to seat around 50 students in the stands, as most parents lived too far out in the reservation to watch their sons play. The game was a financial disaster for the New Mexico high school athletic association. The Tigers rallied in the fourth quarter behind Wally Ferguson's third touchdown of the day to win 19-12. The Tigers drove back as far as Albuquerque and stayed overnight, arriving home Sunday at noon. By this time all the home folks had read about the game in the paper and no one was even around to greet the state champions. The boys unloaded the bus and most walked home. At Friday's Reserve game several hundred people made the trip to Socorro. How times have changed! A few of the boys who played on that 1953 team are still around Lincoln County including Wally Ferguson, rancher west of Carrizozo, Jim Payne, owner of Monte Vista Texaco, Eddy Womack, G Bar F Ranch foreman, Tom Guck of the Forest Service, Jack Payne of Carrizozo, Clifton Keith, insurance salesman in Ruidoso, and Tommy Huey of Corona, who was team manager

SUN DUCHESS Elaine Cantrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cantrell, was chosen at a "Mexican Fiesta" cocktail party Friday at the Stirling Spencer home. Elaine, a sophomore at New Mexico State University Las Cruces studying business administration will represent Carrizozo at the Sun Bowl Festival in El Paso during the Christmas-New Year celebration. About 60 persons representing the Citizens State Bank, Ruidoso State Bank, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce and Women's Club attended the affair. The Sun Duchess is an annual selection by the Carrizozo Woman's Club.

Bonito man shot

Dean Kennedy, 23, Ruidoso, was shot once in the abdomen with a .22 caliber rifle at 6:50 p.m. Sunday at the Bonito Stables at Bonito. The Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept. is investigating the shooting of the Bonito Stables employee allegedly inflicted by Orville Runnels, identified as an owner of the stables. Kennedy was listed in stable condition Monday at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital's intensive care unit. No arrests have been made, according to Sheriff Ernest Sanchez. There is speculation that the shooting may have been in self-defense, following allegations that Kennedy had gone after Runnels with a shotgun that failed to fire, giving Runnels time to get to his .22 rifle. Owners of the stables near Bonito Lake reported the shooting. Kennedy is employed as a farmer at Bonito Stables.

Thanksgiving Festival here Sunday

The Hosannas from Carrizozo, singers from Capitan, a new instrumental ensemble of the

Miller family, and piano duets on two pianos will highlight Carrizozo's Second Annual Thanksgiving Festival on Sunday evening, Nov. 21, 7 o'clock, hosted by the Nov. of God Church.

A trumpet trio of Arnold Boyce, Doug Jarrard, Dwayne Vinson, and pianist Phyllis Schlegel will accompany the Hosannas, Carrizozo's community choir, in several dramatic Thanksgiving numbers. Jeanette de Tevis, a Carrizozo music major at the University of New Mexico, will join Phyllis Schlegel to perform selections especially arranged for two pianos.

Churchill Cooke, music director of Capitan Schools, will be a featured soloist as well as three high school singers who have recently performed in the state music competition.

Four instrumentalists from the Miller Family Singers of Ancho will perform two unusual new arrangements for drums, string bass, guitar, and piano. The Millers have just completed cutting their first record of their most popular songs.

Another highlight of the festival will be the presentation of food for needy families. Everyone in the community is invited to bring gifts of garden produce, baked goods and other food or household staples to be placed on the altar at the front of the church.

The festival is under the musical direction of Charles Adams.

Area phone service is upgraded

Carrizozo area telephone customers may soon place Calling Card (credit card) calls without aid from an operator by using a new service being introduced by Mountain Bell.

Calling Card Service, a new customer convenience available through Touch-Tone phones, can be utilized by both business and residence customers in the Carrizozo area, according to Bill Bayes, district operations manager for Mountain Bell in Southern New Mexico.

The new Calling Card Service also will be available to users of public phones in the area.

"With Calling Card Service, customers still will dial zero-plus on long distance calls like they have been doing," Bayes said. "They will now hear a tone and the calling card number then can be dialed in. At public telephones, the tone will be followed by a brief recorded announcement noting the dialing instructions. Billing will be handled quickly and automatically without any delay in reciting the number to an operator."

The effective date for the new service in the Carrizozo area is Nov. 9.

Bayes said Calling Card Service can be used with Touch-Tone equipped phones only. Customers without Touch-Tone service can continue to place calling card calls, but they still will require assistance from an operator. In any event, Bayes said, using a calling card is cheaper for the customer than calling collect or having calls billed to a third number.

The Bell System plans to introduce Calling Card Service in several major cities nationwide during 1982. By mid-1983, Calling Card Service is expected to be available nationwide.

IN THE BEGINNING

If it had not been for sports media, El Paso and the Great Southwest might not have one of the nation's biggest winter celebrations today.

On Jan. 1, 1936, Dr. C.M. Hendricks, Dr. Brice Schuller and members of the El Paso Kiwanis Club initiated the all-star game plus a coronation event. The idea behind it all was to play host to El Paso's neighbors and to boast of its Border Sunshine . . . which beamed vividly throughout the winter months.

El Paso's all-stars, composed of the top players from the city's then three high schools, topped powerful Ranger (Texas) High, a team that had finished the 1934 season as a runnerup for the Texas prep championship. The score was 26-21 and a game had been born.

But more important, a mid-winter celebration for the entire Southwest had come along with that kickoff.

And the return would eventually become of national ranking as Southwest residents labored consistently to build the Southwestern Sun Carnival.

A year later, the game was tagged "Sun Bowl" and other El Paso civic clubs joined with the Kiwanis Club in developing and promoting many different events.

Ruth Staten, later Mrs. Richard S. Stewart (deceased), was crowned Queen of the Sun Carnival in that very first El Paso Ranger game. And every year since the Sun Carnival has crowned an El Paso girl as its queen. The field of six in the beginning has now increased to several El Paso Princesses and many area Duchesses and the annual Coronation and Ball, its mixture of excitement, beauty, and national entertainment at El Paso's new Civic Center.

TOWN SPOTLIGHTED

Since 1945, Carrizozo has been represented at the event by 27 young women. Today the Carrizozo Woman's Club heads the project, with local civic clubs assisting.

Elaina Cantrell, this year's Duchessa, was honored last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stirling Spencer. The event brought memories of the time my daughter, Annette, was selected as Carrizozo's Sun Duchessa.

The activities that each girl participates in is like a fairy tale, which includes a beautiful evening gown and a coronation ball. Annette has an album and souvenirs of her reign as duchess from Carrizozo.

Jane Gallacher Shafer heads the list of young ladies who have been chosen to represent Carrizozo. She has nieces who were duchesses in later years. Sisters (King, Ellison, Smoot, and Fenter) have shared the memories of being a Sun Duchessa.

Carrizozo's Sun Duchesses since 1945 are:

MOCK WARMTH

I read in the Los Angeles Herald Examiner that TV serves as a tranquilizer. My sister-in-law in California sends me the newspaper so that I can see what's news in that area.

According to the Examiner, Steve Siporin thinks he has the answer for television viewers who have become burned out by the video explosion of the past few years. Siporin suggests using the screens for an aquarium or a cozy fire.

The 49-year-old Siporin is marketing his Video Fireplace and Video Aquarium on conventional home video cassettes. By this month they should be on sale.

Real exotic fish cruise calmly through the video waters. The fish never die and you don't have to feed them. The gurgling water complements the gliding fish.

When you get tired of the fish scene you can switch to a cozy fire to take the chill off the evening.

Anyone without a fireplace can have a Yule fire anyway—without hauling logs or sweeping ashes.

With firewood costing $75 a cord and the natural gas increase it may be cheaper to get the fire cassette prices at less than $40.

Some people even say a heatlike sensation seems to emanate from the video blaze. The flaming logs come complete with crackling and popping noises.

LAST LAUGH

There was once a widow who sued the editor of her local paper for saying in an obituary that her husband "had gone to a happier home."

Elmore's art on exhibit at school

Twelve large original pencil portraits professionally framed are now hanging on the walls of the conference room of Carrizozo Schools. They are the work of John Elmore of Nashville, Indiana.

This is the first time the school has had an all-portfolio exhibition, according to Joe DeTevis, art instructor at CHS.

"It is a welcomed exhibit and we want all students enrolled in art to really study these portraits. We learn by observation, not just seeing," DeTevis said.

Elmore is in the process of relocating to Lincoln County. He spent 15 years prior to the 1960s railroading in this area, and resolved to come back. He has several businesses: industrial painter, promoter of country and western dances, and recently presented a county and Western festival at White Oaks. His plans are to open a studio and concentrate on his art when he moves to New Mexico.

The drawings on display are of Indians, Mexican peasants and movie stars John Wayne and Steve McQueen.

Thanksgiving services at Angus church

The annual Thanksgiving celebration will be observed by the congregation of the Angus Church of the Nazarene, Sunday, Nov. 21, according to Ken Frey, pastor.

Events include a missionary outreach emphasis under the Thanksgiving theme at the 11 o'clock worship service. Immediately following, members and friends will share a basket fellowship lunch at the Pie Palace on the Nazarene campgrounds.

The evening service that Sunday is canceled in favor of the Union Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Ruidoso Ministerial Alliance.

IS THIS NECESSARY??

Few if any government requirements will ever cause your bank so much trouble as will withholding federal income taxes from interest and dividends. The Internal Revenue Service this week released the rules your bank will have to follow when withholding begins July 1.

The new regulations are long—127 pages in the IRS' final typewritten draft—and horribly complex. Worse yet, time is short. It's hard to overestimate the importance of bankers getting a quick understanding of what the regs require—both so that they can plan for compliance and so that they can tell the government what changes are needed to make the regs more workable. (The IRS will accept written comments and requests to make oral presentations on the regs between now and January 14.)

The new regs generally require that a 10% tax be withheld whenever interest income is "paid or credited" to the payee. For example, if interest on a passbook account is compounded daily but credited quarterly, withholding is to be done at the end of the quarter (whether or not the amount is actually posted in the passbook).

At the taxpayer's election, interest can be withheld from an account other than the one that actually earned the interest.

Interest payments up to $150 will be exempt, provided the bank has filed the required election form. For the time being, banks will not have to aggregate different accounts when computing this exemption—though all interest paid at the same time (as when several savings bonds are cashed in the same transaction) will be aggregated.

Two alternative rules are provided for determining when to withhold from accounts likely to earn varying amounts of interest over a period of time (passbook and NOW accounts, for example). Also, each bank may elect to withhold on such accounts only once a year, so long as it assures that the necessary funds are available in the account when withholding is actually made.

For exemptions based on income or age, banks will be able to rely on IRS-approved exemption certificates to be submitted by the bank customer. Banks will be able to insist that these exemptions be submitted on forms designed and provided by the bank.

For one year, all banks will be allowed to keep the amounts they withhold for approximately 30 days before turning them in to the government. Banks with assets of $100 million to $1 billion will enjoy this privilege for two years; banks under $100 million, for three years.

PROCLAMATION NATIONAL FARM-CITY WEEK

The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the National Farm-City Council proclaims the week of November 19 through November 25 to be FARM-CITY WEEK.

Since the prosperity and well-being of Carrizozo are dependent upon cooperation between the two great elements of farmers and urban people it is imperative we all become Partners in Progress.

Therefore, we call upon all citizens in this area to put into practice the Good Neighbor Policy and to promote an attitude that encourages better understanding and appreciation of both farm and city concerns and viewpoints.

WOODROW A. SCHLEGEL, PRESIDENT
Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce

JANE G. SHAFER, CHAIRMAN
New Mexico Farm-City Council

In observance of the Farm-City Week pamphlets and recipes will be distributed to the children in the elementary grades of the Carrizozo Schools. Also all local churches will be provided inserts containing recipes using Biblical quotes and language to describe these recipes.

Many citizens of Capitan attended the football game at Socorro where Capitan played Reserve. Score was 14 to 12 in favor of Capitan. Which gives Capitan State Championship in Class A football. It was a good game and we are proud of our boys. Good sportsmanship was shown in both teams.

Two-hundred-sixty visitors enjoyed Smokey Bear Museum last week. Which is excellent for this time of year.

James R. Askew Jr. has announced the opening of his law office in Capitan directly east of Smokey Bear Restaurant. Also available for your convenience is tax preparation and consultation.

David N. Rouleau, MD, 5th St. Forest Rd., Capitan, will hold open house Saturday, Nov. 20, 1 to 5 p.m.

The Capitan Fire Dept. was called Sunday night to the Jim Bussey residence in a trailer house fire. They saved the trailer and contents. It was an electrical cause.

There was an attempted break in last Thursday night at the Brown Drug Store in Capitan. Saturday night they made it and took money and merchandise.

The Girl Scouts held their mother-daughter Thanksgiving dinner at the Fair Building Monday night.

Kenny Cummins of Albuquerque attended the football game at Socorro last Friday and his brother Danny went home with him and spent the weekend.

Linda Wright held a Home-Interior party at her home last Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Shelby became parents of a daughter, Shawna Paulette, born Nov. 11, in the Capitan Ambulance at the Bonita Turn-off as they were enroute to the Ruidoso Hospital. Nancy Guck made the delivery, assisted by Linda Wright and Gwen Jones. Steven was with them in the ambulance. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shelby are the grandparents.

Rhonda Montoya, Lincoln Fair Queen recently ran for State Fair Queen. The Canyon Cowbells donated $50 to help defray her expenses. She wants them to know how grateful she is and of her heartfelt appreciation. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claudio Montoya. Though she did not win she enjoyed the experience. She is a junior in Capitan school. We are proud of her.

The Capitan Ambulance took Dale Booher who was hit in the mouth by a dirt clod to the emergency at Ruidoso Hospital Sunday where several stitches were taken in his upper lip. He is improving nicely. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Booher.

Our ambulance was called to Bonita Stables Sunday night and took a man with a gunshot wound to Ruidoso Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Claudio Montoya Sr. will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Nov. 27. There will be family and friends gathering at the Sacred Heart Catholic Hall to honor them.

Happy Birthday to Jimmie Askew who was 18 years old Nov. 14. May you have many more with good health.

Norvell Carpenter is home at this time visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. LaMoyné Carpenter, from his work in Texas.

Leonard Crain made an emergency dental call to Carrizozo to have a tooth extracted Nov. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cooke and three children of Reserve, who attended the football game in Socorro, came home with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruppels, in Capitan and enjoyed a happy weekend with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne visited Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sidwell in Socorro last Sunday.

Julie Graves Avon District No. 276 of Roswell held a sales meeting at K-Bobs in Ruidoso Nov. 9. They were Joan Means, Margaret Rensch, Cora Sweeney, Sherrie Hobbs and two children, JoAnn Holmes, Robbie Beers, Shirley Haroleson, Cathy Ames and Misty Stiles. It was very informative and enjoyable.

Doris Wright, who has been a patient of Care Center in Ruidoso for some time, spent two days in the hospital there and returned to the Center. The next day she was feeling well and was very happy and suddenly passed away. She was laid to rest in the Capitan Cemetery at 2 p.m. with graveside services conducted by Rev. Carter, Nov. 11. Her husband, Bryan Wright, preceded her in death in 1980. Her survivors are sons and daughters: Wayne Wright of Canadian, TX, Glenda Price of Las Cruces, Derilee Wright and Gary Wright of Ruidoso: Two sisters, one in Alamogordo and one in Albuquerque; and one brother in Albuquerque; and six grandchildren. She was Howard Wright's aunt. We remember her as a very sweet intelligent lady who once was a resident of Capitan.

Seven-week old Amber Marie Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Coleman of Jal, died of crib death early Sunday morning, was laid to rest in the Capitan cemetery Monday afternoon, Nov. 15. Survivors are her parents Andy and Tammie Coleman; a brother, Jonathan; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coleman of Capitan and Marie Powers of Ruidoso; great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Muse of Capitan.

Former Capitan teachers honored

Three money-raising projects by Carrizozo FFA have been successful, according to John Hemphill, chapter president.

The fruit sale resulted in the sale of 11,340 pounds of fruit, above average for this annual event. The pig raffle, won by Ted Zamora, was a 220 pound Duroc which had been slaughtered and wrapped by FFA members. The vest sale was sold out. Seventy vests were sold, and this sale will be repeated in the near future. Those wishing to purchase vests may call 648-2953.

"We would like to thank everyone for their help and support given the Carrizozo FFA chapter," Hemphill said.

News reaches Tulsa

EDITOR—Find enclosed my check for renewal to the Lincoln County News.

I look forward each week to receiving the paper, not only to keep up with all my friends in Lincoln County and Carrizozo, but for your editorials. You are to be commended — you have made a small weekly newspaper more informative than so-called large circulation newspapers. It is not solely my own opinion. It is necessary for me to travel out of town and when I do so, my neighbors take care of my mail for me. On one occasion after a week or so my neighbor said, "Evelyn, do you still have your Lincoln County News?" said yes, believe I do. Then they told me they couldn't wait for the paper to come so they could read it.

So every week it is passed on. As they have never been in New Mexico, much less Carrizozo, have told me they feel as if they have almost lived there themselves. And, the editorials are better than the Tulsa World and Tribune put out, and I agree.

As one of the men said, that man isn't afraid to say what he thinks and how it is!

EVELYN CLAUNCH GREER, Tulsa, OK.

Send extra copies

EDITOR—That was a great OPINION column in the Oct. 28 issue, and I hope you can send me two or three copies (as many as $1 will pay for, allowing for postage).

I wish every paper in the US could copy it. Continued best wishes,

ANNA A. RANDALL, Sebastopol, CA.

New Mexico in Washington

Brown's California: where criminally insane vote legally

BY LESTER KINSOLVING WASHINGTON — The defeat of New Mexico's Sen. Harrison Schmitt hit Republican headquarters here like only one other bombshell: the upset of New Jersey's famed and presumably irresistible Millicent Fenwick.

What does a Washington correspondent do when one of the people he has been covering is, along with his entire staff, thrown out of work in a matter of hours? I phoned early on the morning after to express what was meant as nonpartisan sympathy, even as I look forward to covering New Mexico's former Attorney General along with its brand new member of the House.

In the Senate Press Gallery, San Francisco Chronicle correspondent John Fogarty was expressing his lamentation over the result of that state's Senate race. With a great grin, he told us: "I was expecting to send my daughter all through college on just the overtime in covering Senator Jerry Brown!"

This evoked delighted references to the enormously colorful Governor Moonbeam, who perished mainly because he became so widely known as "Lord of The Medflies."

There was also jocular discussion as to the possibility that the Brown political organization may have failed to come up with a sufficient turnout of his ace in the hole: the mad vote.

For California's Secretary of State, March Fong Eu, has ruled that the state's 1978 election law does in fact allow the voter registration lists to include the criminally insane.

This category is a not insignificant voting bloc in California. For voting registrars dutifully and regularly visit the five huge state mental hospitals: Patton, Metropolitan Los Angeles, Camarillo, Atascadero and Napa. Here they register all manner of California voters, from homicidal maniacs to run-of-the-mill lunatics.

Robert Chambers of the state's mental health department, during a brief telephone interview, declared: "We don't use the term 'criminally insane.' We call them 'penal code patients.'"

Has any enterprising California reporter ever investigated the voter lists in these precincts to determine whether these institutionalized voters are predominantly Democrats or Republicans?

"That would be difficult," replied Mr. Chambers, "because the hospital employees register right along with the patients. So you couldn't tell the difference."

Karen Daniels, a spokesman for Secretary of State Eu, explained that the state legislature's 1978 voter registration law excludes from voting all felons in prison or on parole, as well as those who are so mentally incompetent as to require a conservator.

But 1,100 of the patients at Patton State Hospital near San Bernardino are, according to Robert Chambers, like Hincley NGBRI (not guilty by reason of insanity) or are under observation or treatment. They have neither conservators nor felony convictions. They are therefore eligible voters in California.

By way of a small sunbeam of sanity in this scenario, Secretary of State Eu believes that this voting law is in need of remedy, despite the efforts of such groups as the California Association for the Retarded who, Chambers noted, had taken the issue to court.

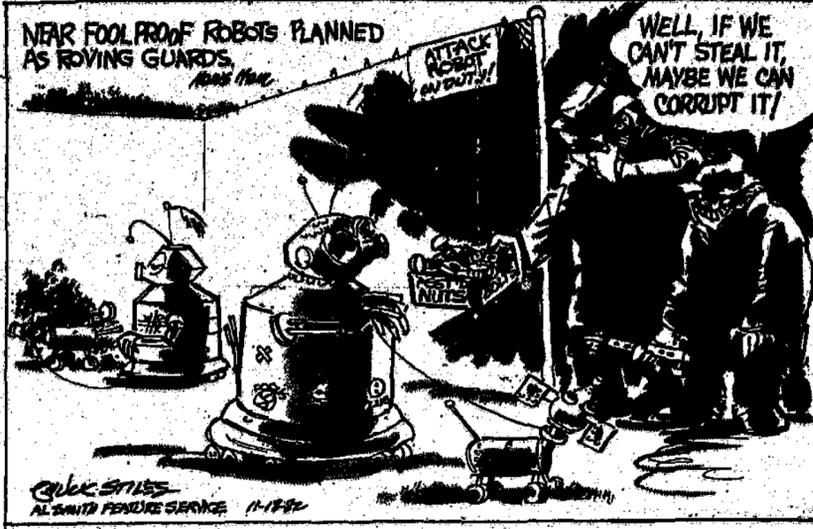

March Fong Eu deserves to be remembered with enduring gratitude for her headship in another crusade for good sense. For she was the leader of that nationally and almost unanimously acclaimed campaign to ban from all of the state's publicly financed buildings that absolutely insidious device called the pay toilet.

Since this welcome reform now appears to have swept across most of the rest of the United States as well, there may be some hope that the California legislature, with the departure of Governor Flake, will favor the restoration of sanity to voting in Lotusland.

One obstacle to this noble endeavor has been elected to the California legislature. He was supported by a majority of the voters of a Santa Monica district where it is reputed that a Mr. Lenin was once a comparatively successful write-in candidate. For Tom Hayden, better known as "Mr. Jane Fonda," has been elected.

While Californians enjoy entertainment, they have provided something of a safety net for Wild Tom. For they elected as governor the Attorney General, George Deukmajian, a hard-driving conservative who believes in capital punishment for night time burglary — although not, as rumored, for overtime parking.

The George-Tom Show should keep Sacramento fairly entertaining, even after Moonset.

Editorial Comment

The nation's handwringers and chronic bleeders for anyone adjudged to be criminally insane are viewing with horror and disbelief the action of a Montgomery, AL, circuit court jury.

That jury last week returned a $25 million judgment against doctors and administrators of Bryce State Mental Hospital for negligence in releasing David Candidate in 1981 after being acquitted for murder by reason of insanity.

Two months after his release, Candidate stabbed a man to death. "The voice of this jury will be heard not only across the state, but from coast to coast," said the attorney for the family of the stabbing victim.

The $25 million award is thought to be the largest civil-injury judgment in Alabama history. A fitting one, too, we believe — one long overdue as a message from people to softheaded judges, doctors and administrators who can't wait to declare insane murderers "sane" after a few weeks or months in a mental institution, and after the public has forgotten the circumstances.

Robert E. Pates was recently released from a Mobile, AL, psychiatric hospital after "compassionate" doctors determined he wasn't a danger to himself or others. Last week, three days after his release, he set fire to a Biloxi, Mississippi, jail that killed 27 people. So much for psychiatry.

The messages from these two tragedies alone are hitting home. The Alabama Legislature abolished its insanity plea for murder after the John Hinckley assassination attempt on President Reagan, but it was declared unconstitutional by a "compassionate" state supreme court. Eight other states have enacted laws to keep criminals from being found not guilty of murder because of insanity. Similar laws are pending in 20 other states.

True to form, attorneys for mental health officials who are appealing that $25 million judgment, claim evidence in the Candidate case "did not prove that Candidate killed as a result of mental illness" even though the same officials defended Candidate in his first murder trial on grounds that he "did kill because of mental illness!"

Elyce Zenoff, professor at George Washington Law School, called the judgment "absolutely staggering."

Perhaps some "staggering" is in order to wake up our tear-stained compassionates to the fact that mental illness may be reason to acquit a murderer, but that there is absolutely no excuse to unleash him on society so he can kill again.

Inside Religion

Pentagon concerned about anti-nuke Catholic Bishops

BY REV. LESTER KINSOLVING

When the Houston Ministerial Association invited Presidential Candidate John F. Kennedy to address it on Sept. 12, 1960, he gave what veteran journalist and author Theodore White has described as "one of the great speeches of American political campaigns" which "ranks with Lincoln's 'House Divided' speech and Bryan's 'Cross of Gold.'"

For Kennedy, as only the second Roman Catholic in all American history to be nominated for the Presidency of the United States, was faced with the possibility that, as he put it: "Forty million Americans lost their chance of being President on the day they were baptized."

JFK went on to tell these Protestant clergy: "I believe in an America where separation of church and state is absolute — where no Catholic prelate would tell the President (should he be a Catholic) how to act and no Protestant minister would tell his parishioners for whom to vote. . . I do not speak for my church on public matters, and the church does not speak for me."

Sen. Kennedy went on to say that he would resign if ever the Presidency would "require me to either violate my conscience or violate the national interest."

By striking contrast, the US Conference of Catholic Bishops has prepared a "Pastoral Letter on Peace and War," which the Catholic-edited National Review magazine reports is "the first time in US history that a major church told its members in the military service to refuse to obey orders related to essential national defense."

This proposed bishops' letter (as revised) opposes use of a first strike with nuclear weapons — even if the Soviets invade Western Europe. It condemns the use of atomic weapons anywhere in the vicinity of populated areas or even on Russian cities if the US cities are bombed first.

Both the White House (National Security Council William Clark) and Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger wrote lengthy letters to these bishops, when the first draft of their proposed statement appeared. And Weinberger described as "dangerous" the idea of "suggesting that aggression would not be countered by an appropriate and effective response."

Weinberger might just as well have sent his letter to Lapland for all the effect it had on the bishops' headquarters machinery (most notably the Rev. Bryan Hehir) which is orchestrating this anti-nuke push. For the bishops' organization (in a second great burst of national publicity) almost totally disregarded the reasoning of these two leaders of our national defense.

At a Pentagon news conference on Oct. 28, this column asked Secretary Weinberger:

"Do you have any reason to believe that there are any Catholic, Lutheran or Episcopal service men who would have less dedication to their civic duty in the armed services than the formula enunciated on Sept. 12, 1960, by John F. Kennedy?"

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE: No. I have no reason to believe that.

QUESTION: Is there any indication that you know of that the Catholic service men will be more obedient to the bishops on nuclear bombs than on contraceptives?

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE: I have no way of knowing anything about either of these aspects! (Laughter)

Secretary Weinberger understandably avoided any and all comment on the apparently widespread use of contraceptives by Catholics, in either private or public defiance of the Catholic bishops. But he did tell the assembled reporters:

"You have to read some of those freeze resolutions to realize that they're all extremely ambiguous. They nearly all call for an immediate cessation of production, testing, deployment and development of any nuclear weapons. Then they call for an immediate entry into negotiations to bring about substantially lower levels that will be fully and completely verifiable."

"If you go immediately with this kind of problem of modernization and loss of effectiveness and deterrence, then you have no inducement whatever for the Soviets to go to the negotiating table and to stay there. You would have no inducement for them to reduce their weapons. They would have much more modern systems up against our older systems."

AN OUTRAGED Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Oregon, has challenged President Reagan to prove a statement he made at his televised news conference Thursday that foreign agents "were sent to help instigate and create" the US nuclear freeze movement. I hope Mr. Reagan accepts the challenge. It would take only a few minutes with his own intelligence reports to prove that the nuclear freeze movement now sweeping the nation is not only supported by Moscow, but originated there. Mr. Hatfield is a prime mover in the nuclear freeze movement, and is no doubt worried that Reagan's statement might begin an in-depth investigation of the nuclear freeze movement, the results of which would certainly leave him with a red face. It is entirely possible that Mr. Hatfield is so far in orbit that he actually is ignorant of who is behind the movement. After all, he is a former college professor, a profession not known for pragmatic analysis of things as they are.

● LISTEN TO Hatfield's reply to President Reagan: "I fought the communists in China when I was in the Navy. I fought them on the platforms, in a debate on an ideological basis. I just haven't found one in the nuclear freeze movement."

● ASSUMING THAT Mr. Hatfield is that naive, let me direct his attention to Michael Klare, long-time Fellow of the pro-Marxist Institute for Policy Studies, an outfit directed and partly financed by the Soviet Union. Both Klare and the "Institute" are active in the nuclear freeze movement. This outfit was born in Moscow, and at the center of this campaign to weaken the US is the World Peace Council, a Soviet front which was created, financed and directed by Moscow. One month after the late and loudly lamented Leonid Brezhnev called for a "freeze" in 1981, an American Nuclear Freeze Campaign was launched at Georgetown University, an affair presided over by agents of the KGB, Russian Secret Police. It's all in the intelligence files, Mr. Hatfield.

● I WON'T name just one agent of a foreign government involved in the nuclear freeze movement, Mr. Hatfield, but several. Shake hands with the following "good Americans" who work with you in the booming nuclear freeze business:

● THERE'S Michael Myerson over there. He's a documented Communist flunky who heads the US Peace Council, which plumps for nuclear freeze, and another outfit called Mobilization for Survival, a spin-off from the USPC. You know the Women Strike for Peace? It's an anti-nuclear outfit founded by Dagmar Wilson in 1961 shortly after the Soviets violated the nuclear test ban—and which was cited by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1962, a hearing at which 12 of its members took the Fifth Amendment regarding their membership in the Communist Party. Surely, Mr. Hatfield, you are aware that the Communist Party USA is vigorously supporting the nuclear freeze, and would you care to speculate as to whose money is being used to promote it?

MEET JOELLE Fishman, a freeze advocate, who also happens to be the organizer for the Communist Party USA in Connecticut; and Lee Dlugin, Jersey City, NJ, a honcho in the Communist Party. Over there is James Steele, Communist and national chairman of the Young Workers Liberation League, who supports the freeze; Sandra Jones, Communist, party organizer in Wisconsin, freeze advocate; and don't overlook Prof. Angela Davis, Communist, who favors the freeze. Shake hands with Alva Buxenbaum, Communist and chairman of Women's Rights Committee, a fervent freezer; and James E. Jackson, Communist, and secretary of the party's Central Committee. Meet the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, a top leader in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, with a long history of affiliation with leftists groups—including the Communist party USA. I could go on for pages, but you get the idea. After all, you only needed one!

● I AM personally acquainted with Mark Hatfield. I was a constituent of his when I published a newspaper in Oregon. If this starry-eyed dreamer is a Republican, I'm a Chinese stunt-flyer. His toes haven't touched ground since high school days. He is more liberal than a liberal Democrat, and it should embarrass him to be found in the Republican camp. Worse, it should embarrass the Republicans, who don't do a very good job of policing party membership. He perceives the world as he wishes it to be, not as it is. As a college professor he knows how to research information before making stupid statements. He could even have lowered himself to read the newspapers to discover with whom he is associating in the nuclear freeze movement, as demeaning as that may be to an intellectual. The biggest embassy staff the Russians have in Washington, and most of its staff are KGB officers. Mr. Hatfield should visit the embassy some day, where he will be welcomed, and poll the guys on how they feel about the US nuclear freeze movement—and if they support it—and to what extent!

● THE CONTINUING Saga of There-is-Nothing-Wrong-With-the-Economy-When: A $3 gold piece is auctioned off to the highest bidder for $680,000; when voluntary donations to the University of New Mexico climbed to nearly $5 million this year, up 16 percent from last year; when union members will ante up $17.1 million and business-oriented political action committees will add another $45 million just to influence the Nov. 2 elections; when Americans can contribute $100 billion to charitable organizations as they did last year; when fun-loving folks will pony up to $20 a ticket to see a vulgar, tasteless, sophomoric musical like "Chorus Line" to make it the longest running play on Broadway (3,000 performances to date); when 27,000 California butchers are yearning to leave their jobs because their pay of $500 to $800 a week isn't "enough to get by on" any more; when kids like Tasha and Heather Dressler of Millintown, PA, 13 and 15 respectively, can afford to go to court claiming they were "disadvantaged" because they didn't have a middle name and couldn't wear those preppy three-initial monogrammed sweaters—and won; and when a Texaco service station in Santa Fe can charge $2.30 a gallon for gasoline and do a thriving business because people don't know they're being over-charged.

● THANKSGIVING is widely regarded as an original American holiday, and one with strong religious significance. It is neither an American creation nor did it begin with any pious sobriety and heaven-directed expression of gratitude. According to an article which appeared in the Saturday Review of Science, Nov. 25, 1972, the only eyewitness account of that first Thanksgiving (Feb. 22, 1630, a strange time to celebrate a harvest) was Edward Winslow. Nowhere in his account is there any reference to the occasion being one of thanks to God for a good harvest. According to the writers, "What took place on that fall day some three-and-a-half centuries ago is best understood as the first 'harvest festival' held on American soil, the acting out of an institution of great antiquity in the England the Pilgrims had left behind. It was a time for joy, celebration, and carousing far removed from any suggestion of solemn religious concern." Americans are taught that the Pilgrims chose "a solemn day of thanksgiving" to give thanks to God. Instead, they opted for a day of "revelry, sports and feasts—a custom long known to them, back in England, as Harvest Home." Thanksgiving must have been a lot of fun before the old killjoys got hold of it and turned it into a religious observance. So, if you are disposed to watch a football game on Thanksgiving, box off a few horns of Old Squaresace, do some feasting, and you will be following the tradition of the day as it was in England a thousand years ago. Of course, a few expressions of Thanksgiving wouldn't be out of order. But have fun.

Corona News

Temperatures registered last week at Lincoln Station show a low of 11 degrees on the 14th and a high of 56 on the 8th with 0.45" rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Artis Philyaw, Mrs. Grace Berry and Mrs. Luanna Mathis left early Monday for their homes in Shreveport, LA, and Jefferson, TX. They had spent the weekend here to attend the 50th anniversary reception for the C. B. Hiners. Mrs. Hiner is the great aunt of Mrs. Mathis and Mrs. Philyaw.

Bob Burton has been hospitalized with pneumonia. He is expected to be released from a Clovis hospital this week.

Mrs. R. L. Sharp was in Prewitt for the weekend and attended the Thoreau-Santa Rosa football game. Grandson Lance Sharp is a member of the Thoreau team.

Mrs. Lee Shumate and J. L. Rogers came up from Roswell Monday and returned Tuesday after helping with the cleanup chores at the Pythian Sisters Temple.

Maureen Dayton, Santa Fe, and Michael Dayton, Albuquerque, drove to El Paso Thursday and were house guests of the Bob Bradfords. They came to Corona late Saturday, stopping over in Alamogordo to see Mr. and Mrs. Rob Risinger. They were guests here of Mrs. V. C. Waldon and returned to their homes Monday.

Mrs. W. T. Tyree was in Alamogordo for two days this week.

Martha Lewis, Cuervo, and her mother, Cecilia Sena, visited relatives in El Paso and did some shopping there and in Juarez.

MR. and Mrs. Richard S. Chavez of Chula Vista, CA, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy Eneidine, to Larry Alams, son of Mrs. Mary Alams of Chula Vista. A Dec. 4 wedding is planned at the Church of the Most Precious Blood in Chula Vista. The bride-to-be is a restaurant hostess; her fiance is an employee of General Dynamics. Miss Eneidine is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. Bello and Mrs. Juanita Chavez.

Now they're rustling firewood

ALAMOGORDO, NM—A Lincoln National Forest spokesman advised that several citations for violation of fuelwood regulations were issued last weekend and six loads of illegally-cut wood were seized near the Long Ridge Fuelwood Area.

It seems that there are some fuelwood cutters who are not complying with permit rules—some are cutting outside of boundaries, and some are cutting trees marked to leave.

The trees marked with paint are not to be cut. Each violation is $50, and the wood is confiscated. Patrols have been stepped up in that area and it will be closely watched.

The majority of the fuelwood cutters willingly cooperate with permit rules. It is the ones who continue to ignore regulations that may make it necessary to limit personal-use fuelwood areas. If such abuses of permits continue, it could result in the Forest Service having to shift to commercial sales, and that will reduce the amount of wood available to the general public.

The Forest Service has asked all fuelwood cutters to help keep personal-use fuelwood areas available to the general public by complying with permit regulations.

Anyone observing apparent illegal or suspicious activity can help by calling (505) 437-2286. Callers may remain anonymous.

Helen Gallegos, Raymond Turcotte to wed Nov. 25

Helen Gallegos, daughter of Angelita Delgado, will be married to Raymond Turcotte, son of Ruth Hawk, at a private ceremony on Nov. 25 with Judge Bill Payne officiating.

The bride, a life-long resident of Carrizozo, will wear an old fashioned style gown of cream and brown print muslin and carry a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies.

The groom is formerly of Missoula, MT, where he was a student at the University of Montana. He is now employed in Ruidoso.

Friends of the couple are invited to a reception at the Four Winds Lounge, Nov. 25, 7 p.m.

Musical night sponsored by youth group

Approximately 75 youth from Methodist churches throughout Southern New Mexico will be presenting a musical Saturday night, Nov. 20, in Carrizozo.

The musical, "The Runaway—the story of Jonah," will be presented at 6:30 p.m. in the Old Gym. Admission is free, and the public is invited, along with parents and other visitors from Southern New Mexico communities.

Jim Brown scored an unmatched 126 touchdowns in his football career.

Outstanding players picked for All-District teams

District 1-A's All-District football teams have been selected, composed of outstanding athletes from Reserve, Mountainair, Carrizozo, Cloudercroft and Capitan.

The complete All-District line-up:

FIRST TEAM (OFFENSE)
 Quarterback—John Roueche, Carrizozo; running back—Brian Vigil, Carrizozo; Jon Todd Aguilar, Capitan; Swayne Larsen, Reserve. Ends—James Christensen, Reserve; Troy Thacker, Reserve. Center—Robin Beltran, Carrizozo; Happy Simpson, Reserve. Kicker—Clarence Beltran, Carrizozo. Punter—Troy Thacker, Reserve. Offensive linemen—Nelson Goodin, Reserve; Clarence Beltran, Carrizozo; Dennis Ortiz, Carrizozo; Paul Sullivan, Capitan.

FIRST TEAM (DEFENSE)

SECOND TEAM (OFFENSE)
 Quarterback—Dewey Keller, Capitan. Running backs—Gary Zuniga, Reserve; Lee Pearce, Reserve; Tom BarBridge, Reserve. Ends—Buddy Hill, Carrizozo; David Beavers, Capitan. Center—Rudy Salz, Capitan. Kicker—Dwayne Larsen, Reserve. Punter—Todd Proctor, Capitan. Offensive linemen—Maggarito Lopez, Mountainair; Todd Proctor, Capitan; Gilbert Zamora, Carrizozo; Mark Craig, Reserve.

SECOND TEAM (DEFENSE)

HONORABLE MENTION (OFFENSE)

Capitan Tigers

were not playing. Several other boys played hurt during the year. Each time someone limped to the sidelines, one of the younger players stepped in and seemed to play twice as hard to take up the slack.

The Tigers came back in the playoffs to avenge the two losses during the season to Texico and Reserve. Each time Reserve ran one of the plays that had beaten the Tigers earlier, they were thrown for a big loss.

At Texico, end Ron McDaniel spent so much time in their backfields it totally disrupted their offensive attack. Correcting these earlier mistakes can be credited to the coaching job of Mel Holland and assistants Bill Stowe and Kendall Lawlis. Holland now has a 20-2-1 record in three years at Capitan, but more impressive is the wins in the playoff games.

The Tiger team had no real super stars this year, just a group of equally fine team players. This shows up offensively in the scoring totals for the season as follows:

Player	Points scored
Tim McElhannon	38
David Beavers	36
Danny Cummins	33
Jon Aguilar	26
Todd Proctor	18
Jerry Lobb	12
Ron McDaniel	6
Grady Eldridge	6
Gid Allen	6
Rodney Montoya	1

An individual rundown of the team:

Grady Eldridge, senior, quarterback—Played two good games before an injury ended his season.

Dewey Keller, sophomore, quarterback—Stepped in and threw 11 touchdown passes in eight games. Very few sophomores could accomplish this feat.

David Beavers, senior, running back—Scored several long touchdowns with his breakaway speed, including the only ones against Dexter and Texico.

Danny Cummins, junior, running back—Played with injured foot most of the year but was offensive leader against Reserve with more than 100 yards rushing. Dragging tacklers with him, it was a great individual effort.

Jon Aguilar, senior, running back—Scored the two big touchdowns that beat Tatum and foiled Reserve's extra point try that would have tied the game. Jon was the most valuable Tiger as a blocking back and linebacker.

Jerry Lobb, senior, defensive back—Knocked down several passes in the playoffs to take away sure touchdowns. Jerry started the season with some mistakes, but learned from them and by season's end was the most improved player.

Gid Allen, senior, lineman—"Mister Steady" in the line, always in on, or near the tackle. Paul Sullivan, senior, lineman—Great blocker and a key factor on defense. Paul caused a lot of fumbles and recovered several.

HONORABLE MENTION (DEFENSE)
 Line backers—Anthony Helasco, Mountainair; James Guevara, Carrizozo. Secondary—Toby Richards, Reserve; Leland Riley, Mountainair; Daron Armstrong, Capitan; Tim Vega, Carrizozo; Dwayne Samora, Carrizozo; Eddie Davis, Capitan; Gid Allen, Capitan; Kevin Shaw, Mountainair; J.J. Romero, Reserve; Eric Vega, Carrizozo; Andy Willingham, Capitan; Stan Trujillo, Reserve. Defensive

Rudy Salz, senior, lineman—Recovered fumble to set up touchdown against Carrizozo. Steady player.

Andy Willingham, senior, lineman—Had a lot of tackles against Reserve.

Todd Proctor, junior, lineman—Defensive captain, anchored the line and his hard tackling and kicking won several games.

Eddie Davis, junior, Good defensive end. Covered two fumbles at Cloudercroft.

Tim McElhannon, junior, end—The Tigers' leading receiver. Tim and James Christianson of Reserve would make the coaches "dream team" at ends.

Ron McDaniel, senior, end—Led the team in quarterback sacks and was always in the other teams' way.

Arty Luna, Rodney Dean, Casey Simmerman, Daron Armstrong, Sammy Castillo, Rodney Montoya, Leroy Pate, Jacob Wilson, and Chris Peralta all played a lot and deserve a lot of credit or helping the Tigers conclude a winning season.

The Tigers also made the record book against Texico as the first team in New Mexico high school football known to have won a game without making a first down. Todd Proctor's 37 yard field goal against Tatum was a school record.

Last but not least, the support of the Tigers by local fans was overwhelming. The cheerleaders and the marching band all helped make 1982 a very successful football season at Capitan High School.

Is it worth $500 and 6 months in jail to leave a camp fire?

The US Forest Service, Lincoln National Forest, is requesting hunter to be extremely careful with all fires this hunting season. Although some snow covers the high country, lower areas are quite dry.

Heavy summer rains have resulted in abundant dry grass and weeds, especially in the lower mountain areas of the Lincoln.

All hunters are urged to clear an area down to mineral soil at least 10 feet around their campfire, using rocks to make a safe fire ring. Never leave a campfire unattended. Use water to drown fire, stirring the ashes and coals with a shovel before going afire. If you must smoke while hunting or hiking, clear an area of all burnlike material down to mineral soil and use this cleared area as an ashtray.

Basketball under way

The Carrizozo basketball season has started for both Junior High and High School teams.

The varsity boys, varsity girls and JV girls will open their season against Mountainair Saturday, Nov. 20. The games will be held in Mountainair beginning at 8 p.m.

Three days later on Nov. 23 the varsity and JV girls and the JV boys will travel to Tularosa for a game that begins at 6 p.m.

The Junior High boys and girls teams' first game is Monday, Nov. 22. Both teams will play Tularosa here in Carrizozo at 3 p.m., Bill Vitany is this year's Junior High boys coach and Veda Lou Stephenson will coach the girls' Junior High team.

Volleyball, football banquet Nov. 18

A volleyball-football banquet will be held in the Carrizozo High School cafeteria, Nov. 18, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Varsity letters or bars will be given to players depending on how many years each player has been in that sport. JV players will be presented with certificates.

Two Golden Helmet 'plaques will be presented to two players on the football team, a lineman and a back. Also a MVP (Most Valuable Player) will be announced. Varsity football coach Jerry Koller will be presenting football awards.

Volleyball coach Bill Vitany will award two MVP's—one for an outstanding defensive player and the other for an outstanding offensive player. A captain will also be named.

The volleyball-football banquet is being held separate from the usual sports banquet held in the spring to shorten the amount of time spent at either of the banquets.

DEWEY KELLER delivers the pass, with Cummins (24) blocking; Todd Proctor (79) blocking; and Jon Aguilar (33) and McElhannon (88) receivers...
