

Up With People taps Debbie Kay Gallacher for its world tour

Debbie Kay Gallacher, 19, Carrizozo, has been accepted by "Up With People," the internationally acclaimed educational and entertainment organization.

Gallacher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gallacher Jr. of Carrizozo. She is a student at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, where she was involved in the Alpha Gamma Rho Mates, Alpha Zeta Fraternity, NMSU Roadrunner Girls Basketball manager and American Student Dietetics.

Gallacher will report to Up With People headquarters in Tucson, AZ in July, 1983 for a four-week orientation and staging session prior to a 10-month world tour.

Up With People was founded in 1968 on the belief that individuals could play an important role in building bridges of understanding and communication between peoples of different cultures and countries. Up With People also strives to offer its cast members an experiential learning opportunity which not only expands the intellect but matures the person.

The vehicle carrying Up With People towards its goals is a professional quality two-hour show. The performance is a sequence of international folk songs, dancing, a medley of hit tunes and Up With People's original music. Up With People's music is up-beat, celebrates the brotherhood of mankind, and attempts to instill a sense of hope among members of the audience. But there's more to Up With People than just music.

During her year with Up With People, Gallacher will travel over 32,000 miles around the world, living with host families in each of the 90 or more cities her cast will visit. Host families provide lodging and some meals and an important opportunity for the student to learn more about the cultural diversity of the world.

As another part of Up With People's educational dimension, cast members regularly meet with leaders of business, industry, government and the arts to learn about, and discuss, issues of local, national and international significance. These experiences are supplemented by formalized learning opportunities that can earn college credit.

Each cast itself is something of a cultural classroom. Students come from more than 24 countries, and represent all religions, races and economic backgrounds. All have graduated from high school and most have attended college prior to joining the program. In its 14-year history, Up With People has served over 6,500 students from 45 countries.

Annually, Up With People receives more than 10,000 applications for only 550 new positions. Following each show in a community, local applicants are interviewed by Admissions Representatives from the cast. Although musical talent is an asset, it is not required for acceptance into the program. Up With People believes positive attitude, motivation, goals, ability to communicate and a desire to make a positive contribution to society are important traits.

As with other post-secondary educational programs, each Up With People student pays a tuition to help defray expenses of his or her participation in the program. Student tuition covers approximately one-third of Up With People's annual revenue. Remaining funds are generated through performance revenue, the sale of show-related products, and tax-deductible contributions.

Up with People brought its show to Carrizozo on Aug. 19, 1982 and attracted one of the biggest audiences ever assembled here. Debbie Kay Gallacher was in the audience, and immediately began interviews to become a cast member.

Management of Up With People was so taken with the support of Lincoln County residents, and their hospitality, that it promised to include Carrizozo on future Up With People tours.

Palomarez named to school board

By P. E. CHAVEZ
Tuesday's regular board of education meeting included the nomination and election of a new board member to replace the vacancy created by Don Wall's resignation. Wall was the board's secretary who resigned this month from his position as attorney for the town of Carrizozo to accept a position with a Baton Rouge, LA, law firm.

Nat Palomarez was sworn in by Wall. Palomarez, employed by the State Highway Department, is no stranger to school board work. He has served three separate terms. On the present board, he is the only member who is a former Carrizozo High School graduate. Board member Tommy Guevarra is the board's new secretary.

Agenda business included personnel employment recommendations. The board approved the swimming pool staff. Tye Sullivan of Capitan is the facility's manager. Lisa Crenshaw and Christetta Chavez are the certified lifeguards. Pat Ventura is in charge of the summer recreation program conducted on school grounds.

In the teaching area, Mary Ann Patterson was recommended and approved for teaching high school science. Ron Becker will teach physical education. He will also coach girls volleyball and girls and boys varsity basketball.

The swimming pool opened for the summer Tuesday. The pool is open daily at 1 p.m. Night swimming begins at 7 p.m. The pool will be offering swim lessons for children and aquatic jazzercise for women. Contact the pool for fees and schedules.

The summer recreation program is available Monday through Friday for students in grades 5 through 12 and families. A one-time registration fee of $2 per person is charged. Activities which begin at 6:30 p.m. and continue until 9:30 p.m. include basketball, soccer, volleyball and weights.

Under auspices of the CETA program, Ventura also heads a morning program for children in grades 1 through 4. Participants pay a one-time registration fee of $1.

Board member Richard Hollis gave a report on President Reagan's speech at the National PTA Convention held June 15 in Albuquerque. Hollis was accompanied by his wife Julia, a teacher's aide with Carrizozo Schools.

Hollis said Reagan emphasized the need for schools to return to the basics in education and teaching "from the heart." Reagan commended doing away with tenure and urged that there should be more cooperation among schools, teachers, board and parents.

Reagan began the text of his speech by quoting Solomon: "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." The president recounted his wife's involvement with programs to fight drug and alcohol abuse that "poisons the minds and bodies of

Countywide lodgers' tax under study

Lincoln County commissioners are considering a request by the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce to impose a lodger's tax to finance advertising campaigns for countywide events.

Kenneth Nosker was appointed to head a committee to study the proposal. Ed Jungbluth, executive director, and Jim Paxton, president, Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, told commissioners that such advertising activities are now funded by Ruidoso lodgers. Steve Sanders, district attorney, advised commissioners that the county could only impose the tax on lodging establishments located outside the limits of incorporated municipalities.

Chairman John A. Hightower said he wanted to know how much revenue the tax would generate and how much trouble it would be to collect it. Nosker indicated his interest in obtaining views of lodgers in the county before proceeding with a countywide tax. Carrizozo recently imposed a similar tax on local establishments. Hightower suggested Ruidoso extend its city limits to take in several lodging establishments as a solution to their problem.

Commissioners at their June meeting also approved a joint powers agreement allowing the county to use the Ft. Stanton landfill for Lincoln residents. Nosker said he had received complaints of unsightly trash blown or dumped on the road leading to the landfill in Hondo.

Among solutions to the landfill problem were: charging residents for dumping and hiring someone to see that trash is dumped into the fill; relocating the Hondo fill; and closing it temporarily, which would force all county residents to use the Ft. Stanton fill.

Nosker and road superintendent Guy Henley will try to work out some kind of arrangement to solve the present problem.

In other action the commission: Heard Richard Macrorie on an energy audit of county buildings conducted under the federal National Energy Conservation being administered by the state.

Discussed requests for specialized lists from the county's new computer of names and addresses on county tax rolls and voter registration. According to law, this information must be made available to the public. The question was, in what form it would be made available, by diskette or computer print-out. Opposition was voiced by county officials that such information on diskettes could be more easily resold to third parties than the print-out form. Ken Cohen has been asking for both information on a diskette, and commissioners approved his request but decided to give more study to similar requests in the future.

Approved a request to close a road through Glen Draper's property and Road A012 near Diamond A Cattle Co., as recommended by the Road Review Committee.

Approved a Forest Agreement which will give the sheriff's office an additional $6,000 to investigate and eradicate marijuana growing on Lincoln Forest lands.

Approved a budget increase caused by higher bills for maintenance, fuel, lights, equipment repair for ambulance operation and EMT professional services.

Reviewed the five-year plan for work on county bridges.

Increased the budget by $458,600 from ERDA funds, which can only be used for road maintenance.

Withheld final payment on Carrizozo administration building until contractor replaces ceiling panels. Approved $26,986.50 for pay estimate No. 6 on Ruidoso suboffice construction.

Declined to impose a gross receipts tax on businesses outside incorporated municipal limits.

Funded $150 to be used for lobbying in Washington for federal payments in lieu of taxes.

Walt Wilson commended

Walt Wilson was commended by the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Board at its recent meeting in Carrizozo.

Bill Seelbach, chairman, said Wilson has served on various advisory boards in Lincoln County and was instrumental in the formation of the Extraterritorial Zoning Commission that started five years ago. Recently, the Extraterritorial Ordinance was adopted.

Seelbach said that the people of Lincoln County "has gained much because Mr. Wilson has served on these boards providing information which has made Lincoln County a more progressive and better place."

Zozo Visitors.

Mrs. Sophie Schuler of Audubon, NJ, is a visitor in the home of son Bill MacVeigh and his wife Liz. Bill is recuperating after a stay in the hospital. During her visit in Carrizozo, Mrs. Schuler is being entertained by her great-grandson, Matt, from Captain.

Jocelyn Emerson ("Jocie") of Morgantown, WV, is visiting in Carrizozo with her grandparents, Woody and Phyllis Schlegel. Jocie, 13, has visited some points of interest in this area. She and her grandparents toured the Space Hall of Fame and the Omni Theatre in Alamogordo. She has been to Ruidoso with friends. Jocie will help with bible school at the Methodist Church. Like all teenagers, she waits for the swimming pool to open.

Heat Wave

Last Monday Zachary and I sat under a tree at Spencer Park. As I read old newspapers, Zac played with youngsters who waited for the pool to open for the first day. The children, towels in hand, waited almost two hours before learning that the pool would not open for business on Monday. The kids wonder why the season isn't called "summer" instead of summer.

Things To Do

O.K. Now some tips on keeping children occupied during the summer:

- (1) Supply them with flower or vegetable seeds to plant in the yard, not under the sofa cushions;
- (2) Encourage kids to seek paying yard jobs, babysitting or pet sitting work around the community;
- (3) Take children to the bookmobile. It will be in Carrizozo Tuesday, 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., and Wednesday, 8 to 10 a.m.; (4) Enroll the kids in the summer recreation program at school (see school board news); (5) Help the kiddos paint protest signs that they may parade in front of the town hall in case the pool doesn't open soon; and last if all fails (6) Send the bundles of joy to grandma and grandpa, preferably in another state.

Next week: Scissor Tricks, or how to cut boys hair with the aid of five rubber bands and a pair of scissors. No joking. With the money saved, the kids will be in swimming pool money for days. I can't afford to patronize the clip joints. I have four sons.

Not To Worry

Zac is delighted that summer is here and his brothers are home. I don't believe in paying my kids for making good grades or chopping weeds. I'd rather make a deal with them — if they had homework I'd do the dishes; or if they clear an area of weeds they can have supper.

When school ended for the summer, Zac and I were waiting for them with three hoes. Zac loves to work outdoors with them.

"Can I have a can or something? I found a black widow," Zac says one day. Another time he is nibbling on a tiny green apple. "I found it under the tree." On occasion he runs inside the house yelling, "They left the yard!"

One day last week I went to town for half an hour, leaving the boys in charge of the eldest son. I gave them strict instructions not to watch "Love Boat" and gave them a box full of magazines. When I called home to see how they were, I was warned: "Come home soon or I'll kill someone." The happiest families are those in which the children are properly spaced..... about 10 feet apart.

Sew Smart

The Santa Rita Quilters have been working on their fiesta quilt to be given away during the People's Market Place, Sunday, July 31. This year's creation is the inspiration of Eppie Benson, who sewed the quilt top using the color rose weed and off white muslin. When finished the queen size quilt will include two matching pillow shams.

The quilt pattern is known by several names, Crown of Thorns, Rolling Stones, or Single Wedding Ring. Quilt pattern names may vary from place to place. Many patterns have more than one title. Some designs look like what their names imply and other leave a great deal to the imagination.

Eppie was bitten by the quilting bug about 12 years ago. Her grandmother, the late Mrs. Dan McKinley of Carrizozo, was an avid quilter. Eppie is the daughter of Trine Loughhead of Norwalk, CA. Eppie and her husband Stanley, a retired Army man, moved to Carrizozo earlier this year with their sons Carlos, 10, and Jimmy 21. Another son, Robert, 20, is a student in California where the Benson family last resided.

Books By Mail

Are you all booked up for the summer? If you want to check out books without leaving your home you should have a Books by Mail catalog. When your books are mailed to you, stamps are provided for their return. This service is free from the New Mexico State Library, part of your tax-supported library system.

There is a wide selection of books to choose from the catalog: fiction, mysteries, science, westerns, creative living, humor. There are books especially for teenagers. Books by Mail (Libros por correo) also has books in Spanish (libros en Espanol). Send for your free catalog to order free books: New Mexico State Library, Rural Library Service- Books by Mail, 325 Don Gaspar, Santa Fe, NM 87503.

I tried to read "The Last Laugh" by S.T. Perelman but I spent so much time referring to the dictionary that I decided to put the book aside. Humorist Perelman uses words like firkin, quahogs, shagreen, nainsook and chopfallen. Forget it. I can't even pronounce these words.

Other books on my Books by Mail list were Freehand Drawing Self-Taught, The Practical Guide to Calligraphy, Doll Making, Quilts Among the Plain People, and Moments - The Pulitzer Prize Photographs.

How Come

"How come you walk when you have two cars?" This is a question I hear almost daily. I have various answers to the question. The main one is that I enjoy walking. The next time I will answer the question with a question: "How come you drive when you have two feet?"

Symphony concert with a big bang

Complete with harp, howitzer and fireworks, the Roswell Symphony Orchestra will join the holiday celebration with a Pops Concert on July 3 at 7 p.m. in the Chaves County Amphitheater.

Admission is free, with plenty of parking in the Wool Bowl area.

The program will include such favorites as the "Roman Carnival Overture," Bizet's "Carmen Suite," John Lennon's "Yesterday," Star Wars selections and a symphonic picture from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess." The program will conclude with a performance of Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture" complete with cannon and fireworks.

The orchestra will perform under the baton of Music Director John Farrer. Further information about the concert is available from the Roswell Symphony office, 107 West 11th St., or by calling 623-5882.

Carlsbad rites for Lola Marie Heard, 32

Graveside services were held Sunday, June 12, at the Carlsbad Cemetery for Lola Marie Heard, 32.

Mrs. Heard is survived by three daughters, Lisa and Stephanie of Carlsbad and Lynn of California; her stepson, Bobby Steven Heard of Roswell; mother and stepfather, Mary and Hank Means of Nogal; father and stepmother, Charles and Clara Porter of Corona; five sisters, Brenda Mansfield and Lorrie Pritt of England, Linda Greer and Amy Means of Nogal, and Cynthia Castillo; three brothers, Ronald and Dennis Porter of Crane, TX, and Henry Means of Nogal; grandmother, Lucille Porter of Artesia; 12 uncles and 17 aunts; and many cousins, nieces and nephews.

Gaines wins an award

Michael Gaines, vocational agriculture teacher in the Carrizozo Schools, has been informed by the National Vocational Agricultural Teachers' Association (NVATA) that he has been named state winner of the NVATA Outstanding Young Member Award for 1983.

Gaines will receive a certificate of recognition. His state winner application will automatically be considered for the regional award. The regional winner and spouse will receive an expense paid trip to the NVATA National Convention in Anaheim, CA, Dec. 2-6, 1983.

The NVATA is a national professional organization serving more than 9,000 vocational educators in agriculture throughout the United States. Members include elementary, secondary, postsecondary and adult teachers, state supervisors of agriculture education, teacher educators at colleges, universities, and college students majoring in agricultural education.

The "Outstanding Young Member" award applications of state winners will be evaluated by a special NVATA selection committee. The six regional winners will be announced July 1.

The award program is sponsored by John Deere, Moline, IL, a farm equipment manufacturer.

Complaints on subdivisions heard by planning board

The Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Board met recently and heard complaints concerning division of land and mobile home parks which possible may be in violation of subdivision regulations.

According to the New Mexico and Lincoln County Subdivision Regulations, a subdivision is the dividing of the surface of an area of land within New Mexico into five or more parcels for the purpose of sale or lease within a three-year period of time. Property that falls within this description has to be approved by the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Board so that consumer protection for purchases will be assured. Mobile home parks also fall in the subdivision category as lots in the park are leased.

A proposed subdivision or mobile home park must provide information which is in turn checked by the State Engineer's Office, Environmental Improvement Agency, State Highway Department, and the Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

The next meeting of the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning will be held on Wednesday, July 20, Lincoln County Courthouse, Carrizozo, at 7 p.m. This is a public meeting and anyone with questions regarding subdivisions is invited to attend.

Letters to the Editor

A pox on Joiner

EDITOR—I look forward to reading your column in the Lincoln County News, and usually agree with most of your comments. The paragraph in the June 16 issue praising Blake Giddens was interesting until I read the sentence running down Elvis, Marilyn and Billy the Kid. They're all saints compared to you. Part of the sentence read, "If journalists and scriptwriters can turn low-downed, ignorant, worthless moral lepers into saints."
Mr. Joiner, you are all of the above for printing the word leper, demoralizing all the innocent victims of Hanson's Disease. The stigma associated with the word "leper" and "leprosy" will always be alive as long as cruel people like yourself print ugly meanings about the disease.
A pox on you and others of your ilk for printing such cold, terrible words and making Hanson's Disease victims feel even more hopeless.
I suggest you read "No One Must Ever Know" by Betty Martin, and subscribe to The Star.

IMF pleading poverty

EDITOR—Foreign Aid is perhaps the most unpopular and expensive program ever foisted on American taxpayers by Congress. According to the Library of Congress, a study released in May last year shows the actual cost exceeds a mind-boggling $2.1 trillion dollars when interest on the money borrowed for the giveaways is considered.
Billions of dollars have been distributed to an increasing degree through sundry international financial agencies such as The World Bank and the International Monetary Fund (IMF). For instance, the current drive by the Reagan Administration to feather the IMF's nest with another $8.4 billion dollars. This multinational control over US taxpayer's money precludes US control over who gets the money. It also assures that we get little or no credit for the handout.
Today the US remains the largest single holder of gold among IMF members, but guess who resides in second place? It is the IMF itself with 100 million ounces as of November 1982. At March 1983 prices, the IMF's gold is worth between $40 and $50 billion.
As Congressman Ron Paul recently said "giving more money to the IMF is like giving alms to a billionaire. The IMF is not broke, it is merely pleading poverty. If the crisis is as serious as the IMF says it is, let them use some of the gold."
The Reagan Administration's IMF funding request should be soundly rejected after which Congress should get at the crucial job of severing all ties with the IMF and all other multinational foreign-aid conduits. Let your Congressman and Senators know how you feel on this issue. Please do it now.

On educational excellence

EDITOR—The education of our young has been improved in the past five years. For example, there has been improvement in test scores such as the CTBS (Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills) and APL (Adult Proficiency Level). Further improvement depends not only on educators but also on the community at large.
The community (local, state and national) needs to place more value on hard work, knowledge, education and training. It is not uncommon for a job which requires little education, training, knowledge or hard work to pay much more per hour worked than a job which requires a good amount of training, knowledge and hard work. The end result is that many students have lost motivation and direction.
An important difference between education in the US and that in most other countries is that here everyone is required to be educated through secondary school or until age 16, whether or not they desire it. It is more expensive and time-consuming to educate those who don't wish to be educated.
In small schools many good students spend so much time in class activities, student council, annual staff, sports, cheerleading, traveling and working at home that academic achievement is greatly lowered for the whole student body. Unless school board members, parents and educators limit participation in extracurricular activities and make academic excellence top priority, then academic excellence won't occur.
In most small schools little is required or expected of seniors. Is it surprising that many seniors are unmotivated low achievers?

No excuse for aiding Soviets

EDITOR—Obviously, one vitally important move we could make to reduce the threat of nuclear war is to stop supplying the equipment, technology, and credit that have significantly contributed to the Soviet military arsenal. These Communist tyrants, as their infamous records clearly show, have never been reluctant to use what we have supplied them to annihilate their captive peoples when such bloody exercises seemed necessary to consolidate their power.
Yet we continue to this day to provide them with much of the muscle to control their slaves and to intimidate the free world.
The words anime and ludicrous do not serve well to describe these many years of traitorous behavior on the part of many of our leaders and those who are willing to do their bidding. These terms infer stupidity, and the record we are talking about is so long and continuous and damaging to the safety of our republic and her citizens as to totally defy empty headedness as a plausible excuse for these transgressions.

One for the birds

EDITOR—Enclosed is a newspaper article which appeared yesterday, just so you'll know things haven't changed much since you went to New Mexico. (The article reports the City of Petaluma, CA, received $30,000 from the state to turn a marsh into an area "more attractive to birds.")
I wonder where the birds went before the State of California built a $30,000 swimming pool for them?
With my utility bill of the same date, PG&E is asking for charitable donations of from $1 to $5, or more, so that the real "needy-needy people" can have heat and electricity. The state isn't concerned about these needy; no, but the birds must have their swimming pool, right?

Inside Religion

Alexander Solzhenitsyn: a Christian prophet

By Rev. LESTER KINSOLVING

For anyone to identify Nobel Prize winning novelist Alexander Solzhenitsyn as a prophet entails something of a risk, given the widespread popular misconception of the word "prophet."
Most people regard a prophet as a clergyman who lived a long time ago and was miraculously endowed with divine infallibility in being able to predict the future. (That all the prophets are long dead appears to many to be implied in the phrase from the Nicene Creed which affirms that God "spake" — past tense — "epake by the prophets.")

Like Solzhenitsyn, most of the Hebrew prophets were not priests, nor were they given to infallibility in predicting the future. The best known of the Hebrew prophets was Jesus of Nazareth, who identified himself as among their number and who never identified himself as a priest. Jesus declined to provide any specifics when asked by his Apostles (A) who would be occupying the top places of honor in his Kingdom (Matthew 20:21) and (B) when the kingdom would be restored (Acts 1:6).

Jesus and his cousin, John the Baptist, just as the earlier Hebrew prophets, were far more renowned for the fearlessness with which they proclaimed the truth and bore witness against evil. For these prophets were single-mindedly dedicated to "bearing witness unto the truth," as Jesus explained the purpose of his coming into the world. They told the truth, without euphemisms, without pun-pulling or rationalizing or short cuts or dissimulation or any of the other kinds of mental encumbrances that can cause moral trachoma. As such, often they had to stand alone.

Because they were so dedicated to truth-telling at any cost, they were blessed with an amazing perception about the present, which so often has a telling effect on the future. And along with the blessings of this extraordinary perception, they had an extra-ordinary casualty rate. (John was beheaded. Amos was banished. Jeremiah was sent to a dungeon. Elijah was driven underground by royal threat of execution. Jesus was condemned and crucified.) Jerusalem had such a reputation of stoning the prophets to death that Jesus mentioned this when he wept over that holy city.

With Solzhenitsyn, who may well be this generation's most significant Christian prophet, his treatment in the United States is more genteel than his eight years in a Soviet concentration camp. What most of the Big Media in the United States seem to be trying to do is to transform him into a has-been, a Nobel Prizewinner who became an extremist — dating from that historic hour when he told a Harvard graduating class that the US media is in large measure "a herd." That this is true is beside the point. For one of the Washington media herd is Curtis Willkie of the Boston Globe, who, during a White House news briefing, compared Solzhenitsyn to a stock car driver. The experience of being designated as an extremist by the Scribes is also known to that other prophet, from Galilee, who linked the Scribes with the Pharisees, in some of his sharpest denunciations.

Solzhenitsyn, like that Galilean, has not hesitated to denounce some of the most respectable religious leaders of the day. It is doubtful, for example, if this Christian prophet will ever be invited to share the platform of a Billy Graham Crusade, like presidents and other high ranking officials do. For Solzhenitsyn has roared this star evangelist for "his

our children."
"Our country was founded on Christian ethics and beliefs" and "God should never have been expelled from our classrooms" were among the presidential quotes the Hollis couple recounted following their visit to Albuquerque to hear Reagan speak.

Supt. James Miller gave the board an update on the damage to a school yard fence. The individual responsible for the damage has not cooperated with the school according to the court order. The situation has been referred to the judge, who will take action on the case on June 30.

Miller told the board about an idea for their consideration that would generate revenue for the district. He suggested the sale of school-owned lots in White Oaks. The proceeds would be established in a trust fund and the interest earned could be earmarked for a specific activity. Lots to be sold would only include those that are scattered throughout the White Oaks community and not those that are grouped together. The district owns a "fairly substantial" amount of property in White Oaks. The board will schedule a study session to consider Miller's idea.

School patrons recognized at Tuesday's meeting were Albert Najjar, Stanley Benson, Faustino Gallegos and Woody Schlegel. Fire Chief Najjar spearheaded the enchilada supper that raised money needed for a thermal pool cover. Benson, a new member of the community, headed a car wash with the assistance of local youth. Proceeds of $56 were turned over to the Save the Pool Fund. Gallegos is a town employee who has volunteered some assistance at the pool. Schlegel, Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce president, in a door-to-door drive raised $900 to $1000 in donations for the pool fund.

The board approved the Adult Basic Education (ABE) proposal for '84-'85 to be submitted by July 1 of this year. The '83-'84 program is already scheduled to begin fall classes the first week of September. The '84-'85 program is basically the same. Miller told the board that last year's program was successful, and gave credit to ABE instructor Patsy Sanchez.

No tuition or fees are charged for ABE services which assists adults in their effort to complete requirements for a high school diploma and to reach a level of competence which will enable them to succeed in vocational training or other avenues of post-secondary education. The program also assists non-English speaking adults to acquire basic communication skills in the English language.

DAVID Keller, a 1963 graduate of Capitan High School, recently attended an orientation for graduating high school students at the University of New Mexico. Keller will enroll in a pre-medical course of studies at UNM. At Capitan High he was a member of National Honor Society and the track team. He also won scholastic awards in American history, science and literature.

● WAR: "An evil and it is often the lesser evil. Those who take the sword perish by the sword, and those who don't take the sword perish by timely diseases." —George Orwell

● A FEW of you treated me badly because of my suggestion last week that despots of the Mid-East countries be encouraged to kill each other down to the last man, if necessary, as a means of achieving temporary peace in that area. I suggested as a humane and profitable measure, we supply all three sides with whatever arms they need to do the job neatly, quickly and without disturbing the pall of peace that hangs over the rest of the world.

● WAR is an inevitability in the human world. That can be proven simply by pointing out that mankind has always been at war; q.e.d., man will always be at war. There is a corollary in the story of old Mike Monroney of Oklahoma who once told an audience: "If you want to know what a cowboy does when he comes to town and gets drunk on Saturday night, just remember what that cowboy did the last time he came to town and got drunk on Saturday night."

● PEACE, unfortunately, is not man's natural state. Indeed, he is at his magnificent best while beating the brains out of a neighbor, a best friend, or an elderly couple. He cannot tolerate long periods of peace, as witness what has happened in the nearly 40 years since the United States was involved in a general war. Half our population is holding swords of various lengths and sharpness at the throats of the other half. This is a nation torn asunder with such irrelevancies as civil rights, equal rights, abortion, educational disputes, rights of children and fetuses, preservation of snail darters and Houston toads, and who gets to park on Main Street and for how long. If peace were to be achieved for the asking and praying, the world would have had it long ago. Since it is not for the asking, best we should dispense with arms limitation talks, treaties and agreements and get on with the practical business of being militarily strong enough to make the outcome of any war doubtful. Australian historian Geoffrey Blainey has an interesting theory. He believes that war "is a dispute about the measurement of power." A nation that believes it can win a war easily is more likely to start one than one that knows it cannot. If neither nation is confident of victory, or if one expects victory only after long and hard fighting, then war is unlikely. Our chances of being involved in a war at this time are great because we have disarmed since World War II while Russia and other nations have escalated their arms. He says that with the Soviets gaining military superiority while the US defenses decline heightens the possibility of war. Advocates of nuclear freeze programs and disarmament (who are also innocent of history) are sure to achieve the very thing they are seeking to prevent—war. "Peace will never be achieved by following the advice of those who do not understand the causes of war," he is convinced.

● ALLAN C. Brownfeld notes in the Washington Inquirer that many of the proposals being advocated today to maintain peace are the same ones that have failed in the past. The Washington Naval Treaty of 1922 led straight to Pearl Harbor. There were arms limitation agreements following World War I, among them the demilitarization of the Rhineland and other naval agreements. They failed to prevent World War II. All treaties and agreements have failed. Our abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine is directly responsible for Cuba, El Salvador and associated violence in Latin America. We are hell-bent on achieving peace through endless talk, agreements, treaties, prayer, wishful thinking and appeals to man's goodness.

● SOCIOLOGIST Pitirim Sorokin found that Russia, land of his birth, has had only a quarter of a century of peace in 1,000 years. In every period of 25 years, she engaged in at least one foreign war. He found that England, since the time of William the Conqueror, has been at war somewhere in Europe or the tropics for 56 of each 100 years. Spain's record is even worse. War seems to run in cycles of 25 years, which allows a new crop of cannon-fodder to be produced. Historian Arthur Toynbee noted the cycle of war and peace, with a complete rotation each 100 years. In each rotation period, a general war was followed by a breathing space of peace. Then comes a cluster of brush wars, argument and disagreement. Then there's a pause for peace after which there is another general war.

● THAT lovable old Cyrus Vance, who achieved nonentity as Secretary of State for Jimmy "I'll Never Lie to You" Carter, has prepared a study called the Global 2000 Report. It would eliminate the necessity of war simply by killing off 400,000 million people before year 2000, 100,000 million from the United States. He proposes mass genocide on a basis not dreamed of by Hitler, who had a similar plan. Vance is supported by such humanitarians as Henry Kissinger, Alexander Haig and William Paddock. Paddock says "there will be a rollback of population in El Salvador, everywhere in Latin America, and also in the USA." One means of achieving the population rollback is by murder of unborn children, a policy to effect in China now. Depopulation, he says, will happen "either by the four horsemen or by the fifth, the bomb." Vance, Kissinger and Haig have all had a lot to contribute to the cause of peace in the past. They failed to reveal how that peace is to come about. Now we know.

● PERSONALLY, I side with Prof. Garrett Hardin, University of California at Santa Barbara. He points out what every New Mexico rancher knows, that a range has a cow-carrying capacity of a specific number per acre — and no more. To exceed the allowable number of cows per acre means loss of the herd, bankruptcy for the rancher and devastation of the land. He applies the same principle to people. Every nation, to prevent starvation and war, must be allowed to produce only x number of people per acre. Any nation that exceeds its "people-carrying" quota would be denied food from an international "commons" (a pooling of the world supply of food) until such time as its population came into line.

● HARDIN says the worst thing that can be done for a starving people who have exhausted their own food supply is to give them more food. We are now witnessing what happens to the hungry who are given somebody else's food here in the US. Each year there are more and more mouths seeking food handouts. "Food encourages reproduction until all the food is gone." He is against handouts of food to starving people anywhere. "If your people are starving, we'll do nothing to save them. We should give information, of course, as much as is desired, as in the case of contraception methods. But to feed starving countries will ultimately harm them, and harm the world. "For posterity's sake," he says, "we should never send food to any population that is beyond the realistic carrying capacity of its land." He has what he calls the "lifeboat ethic." It goes like this. You are in a lifeboat at sea and it is loaded to the safety level. You have a moral responsibility to keep that boat afloat and insure the safety of your fellow passengers. The waters are full of swimming people, all trying to get into the lifeboat.

Capitan News

By MARGARET RENCH

There were 1,352 visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum and the Park, June 13-19. Some of the groups were Boyce Evans Assn. of Lubbock, TX, in which there were 13. A Roswell Boys Club of 14, and 14 from the Marlbridge Farm in Houston, TX. All seemed to thoroughly enjoy this.

The charge for dumping in the Capitan Landfill will increase from $2 a yard (pickup load) to $4 a yard on July 1, 1983. Due to rising cost in fuel, etc., this increase is necessary. Also, city Ordinance No. 8-2-1 states that only regulation garbage cans with lids will be picked up. The heavy ones must have trash in bag containers. Solid waste only.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met June 16 at the lovely home of Bill and Amelene McIntosh in Roswell. Two members were absent, Hattie Phillips and Winifred Cozzens. The luncheon table was beautiful with a gold-colored cloth and arrangement of cut flowers. The hostess served a delicious beef roast; members supplied the vegetables, salads and dessert. There were no birthdays this month but Stanley and Gladys Pew had their 54th wedding anniversary. A gift from her secret pal and they received cards and she also won the raffle. The next meeting is to be at the home of Harriet McGinnis.

Capitan's own Jerrie McClain is a student at Roswell College of Cosmetology and she won an award for outstanding student for May 1983. That's great and we are proud of her.

June 1 was the 17th anniversary of Olin's Quick-Stop. We do wish them many more here.

The Capitan Jr. Rodeo Club held its 12th annual Queen Contest June 18. Seven girls competed for the 1983 Queen Title. Tanya Payton, Joan Leslie, Rachel Lacy, Jacque Leslie, Wendy Tate, Toni Crain and Robla Peralta.

Joan Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leslie was crowned 1983 Queen by Missy Jones, the outgoing 1982 Queen. Robin Peralta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ialro Peralta of Capitan was the first runnerup. Tanya Payton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Payton of Capitan was second runnerup. Toni Crain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crain, was third runnerup.

After all of that business, the club held a regular playday with 61 kids participating in barrel racing, flag racing, pole bending and goat tying.

That night the club sponsored a Western Dance at the Fair Building. The Rebels Dance Band furnished the music. There was a very large crowd, all of which had a good time.

There will be a clean-up June 25 and 27 by the Fairgrounds by the Fair Board and they are calling for help in preparing for July 2, 3 and 4 Smokey Bear Stampede.

J. B. and John Lester, Gonzales, TX, were added to the list of satisfied customers of the Rummels Outfitter Guide Service this last week. J. B. killed a nice black bear on Saturday and his son John bagged one on Sunday. Hunting with the Rummels bunch were the Lemaster brothers, Ted and Gary, from Amarillo, and Bruce and his son Todd, from Inola, OK. Also tagging along was Robert's brother-in-law, Paul Martin, from Claremore, OK. While dad was out hunting, Corky Martin, age 5, went with Aunt Dona and competed in the Capitan Junior Rodeo Club Playday on Saturday. This was Corky's first rodeo competition, and he, cousin Robbie, and ole Brammy were lucky enough to win the 5 and under lead class as the high point boy. He was sure tickled with his ribbons and little trophy.

Highway 48 is being resurfaced. At this date they are in Capitan. It is completed from the bottom of three-mile hill this way to Angus. It is good traveling. That truly is appreciated. I do feel for all of that crew in that hot sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne spent Father's Day in Carrizozo with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Payne, and his sister, Darlene Billiard, and kids Tonya and Kevin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dare Chamberlin and two sons, Wyoming, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hap Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Dreg Haussler became proud and happy parents of a daughter born Friday, June 18, at 7 p.m. Her name is Annalisa.

Happy birthdays to David Cummins June 18 and Tim Proctor June 20 with more to come with good health and always happiness.

The Hobbs family reunion was held at Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hobbs' home at Los Lunas, NM, Saturday and Sunday. There were 64 in attendance and there was lots of good food. All of the family attended except one.

The New Mexico Smokey Bear employee Patsy Peralta is in six weeks training in Santa Fe. She has two weeks left to go.

The Four Square Church is holding its Bible School Monday June 20 through Friday June 25.

Capitan School plans reunion

Capitan High School alumni will hold a reunion of former students, teachers, school employees, and interested residents (former or present), July 29-30.

Registration will begin Friday night, July 29, in the multi-purpose foyer at the high school, and will continue there Saturday morning.

Those attending are asked to bring any memorabilia of old times in Capitan to share with others. Contents of the cornerstone of the old high school building, from 1936, will be on display. The first elementary school was erected in 1901.

That red brick building used to be the outstanding landmark at the site of the present Lincoln County Fair structures. The ground floor rooms served elementary grades, and the upper floor, high school students, until a high school was built the other side of town in 1936. The old gym, adjacent to the first school, was built in the 1920s.

The parking lot at the County Fair served as the football field for early games.

In 1950, a new elementary school was built next to the high school. The now-empty old brick school was destroyed by fire that same year. The old gym was used for the fair and other community activities until it burned in 1969.

Ruidoso high school students were bused to Capitan until their own high school was built in 1947.

At present, all former school structures at Capitan have recently been replaced by a modern educational complex.

The Lincoln County Fair Building occupying the site of the first Capitan school, leaves only the memories or memorabilia to recall the pride of Capitan when the railroad brought trains from Carrizozo; Tinsworth General Merchandise served most of the county; and mining, ranching, and Fort Stanton provided the business nucleus. These memories will be discussed and relived at the reunion.

This year, Capitan won two athletic state championships, in track and football. Thirty years ago, in 1953, Capitan won the football state championship. Saturday afternoon, July 30, there will be a program, organized by Tom Guck, to honor those 1953 champions along with coach and former superintendent, Bud Darling. Ted Cummins will be master of ceremonies. All former valedictorians, salutatorians, class officers, cheerleaders, etc., will be recognized.

A dinner and dance is to be held Saturday night. Early reservations will help the planning committees to determine the needed accommodations for the meeting and the number of dinner guests.

Reservations can be made with Hollis Cummins, Box 338, Capitan, NM, 88316, phone 354-2429; or with Reba Barber, Box 27, Alto, NM, 88312, phone 354-2589.

72 east of White Oaks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Squires are parents of a son delivered by his father at 9:30 p.m., June 15. The new-arrival's name is Buddy Jr. He joins five sisters, two of whom Bud also delivered.

Wes Mills and his wife, the former Opal Crenshaw, are busy developing their home where the old Crenshaw homestead was. Their doublewide was delivered last week and created quite a stir.

Duane, 11, and Jason have been busy taking apart parts of the old Crenshaw house to be used to start the roof on the new room of the White Oaks Casino.

Lonnie Sudillo spent two days cleaning out cattle guards that had filled with mud and debris, allowing the cattle to walk across. It was the consensus around White Oaks area that this was a job the Forest Service and the county were suppose to be responsible for. All Lonnie had to work with was a pick ax. The cattle guards are located on Road

A stub-tail Australian cow dog was also stolen from these same cattle guards, placed there to keep cattle from crossing. A $100 reward will be paid by the owner for the arrest and conviction of whoever took the dog. Any information should be conveyed to Bud Crenshaw at the Crenshaw Ranch. The dog is red, with pointed ears.

A dance is being planned for June 24 to start at 9 p.m. in the new room at the White Oaks Casino. Glen Ellison and his Carrizo Outlaws will supply the music. Watch for the posters.

deplorable statement that he had not noticed the persecution of religion in the Soviet Union."

In like manner, Solzhenitsyn is hardly likely to be invited, ever, to any meetings of the National Council of Churches, where they so frequently entertain other Russians: clergy who are as accommodating to the Soviet Government as the Sadducees were to the Romans.

Solzhenitsyn has not been invited to Geneva as the guest of the World Council of Churches, since he has dared to observe that this ecclesiastical United Nations is more interested in "the success" of revolutionary movements of the Third World than the religious persecution in the Soviet Union. He has similarly been "intolerant" in asking why that Big Media favorite, Amnesty International, has had so little to say about the torture in such places as mainland China and North Korea - and so much to report about Chile, where it is so much easier to obtain information.

Solzhenitsyn has also excoriated the nuclear freezers, who with their ideological cousins, the unilateral disarmers, are "being used, by Soviet means and money." As for Bertrand Russell's "Better Red Than Dead":

"To be red means to become dead gradually; just as lobsters thrown into boiling water become red, so, under communism, some die immediately, and some take a little longer."

This is the Christian prophet whom Secretary of State Henry Kissinger advised a gullible President Gerald Ford not to invite to the White House, for fear of offending our detente partners in Moscow. So Solzhenitsyn addressed a banquet of the AFL-CIO, who gave him a standing ovation. And Kissinger strongly resembled the high priest, Amaziah, who told the prophet Amos that he ought to do his prophesying elsewhere other than the King's Court in Bethel. "The entire 20th century is being sucked into the vortex of atheism," he said last month in London. "We can only reach with determination for the warm hand of God, which we have rashly and self-confidently pushed away. There is nothing else to cling to in the landslide" of what he described as "self-destruction." Solzhenitsyn went on to tell a two-hour press conference that there is in the West "a gradual sapping of strength from within," which is a more dangerous threat to faith even than Marxist imperialism. Alexander Solzhenitsyn was in London to receive the $170,000

Tampleton Foundation Prize for Progress in Religion as a "pioneer in the Renaissance of religion in atheist nations." This prize was awarded to him by Prince Phillip in Buckingham Palace. But in the United States, this news was, for the most part, either spiked or buried in most of the Big Media.

Those inside have a moral responsibility to beat these people away from the boat. The alternative is to pull them in, sink the boat, and permit all to perish. If Christian morals surface here, an occupant has but to give up his place in the lifeboat and drown himself.

• "IS God giving prizes for the maximum number of people?" Most people, unfortunately, act as if He is—as if it were our purpose on earth to produce the maximum number of people. For what end? Nobody explains why it's better to have 10 billion people than 2 billion."

• TRY this one on: "If the people of a nation produce too many of themselves for the carrying capacity of their own land (living the kind of life they want to live), and then appeal to us, say, to bail them out, to send them food, send them energy, we should simply ignore them. Sovereignty means responsibility."

• ANIMALS adjust to their environment. People do not, except through genocide or war. Animals have no power to control their numbers, therefore they fall victim to predators (lions or tigers), starvation or disease. "We've created our problem because we've gotten rid of almost all of our predators." Those predators include a near-wipeout of disease, abundant food production, and killing off wild beasts. That leaves two areas of adjustment to the environment—population control and war.

• FOR a hair-raising, fascinating, prophetic novel read Jean Raspail's book, "Camp of the Saints." It deals with the starving millions in India who put to sea on anything that floats, hoping the tides will carry them to a fruitful land. They finally land on the coast of France. Then . . . but why spoil the story.

• THESE grim alternatives to war, one by Cyrus Vance and the other by Garret Hardin, aren't likely to work. I can see your hands thrown up in horror at the very idea. We are so nourished on the Christian ethic of feeding the poor, taking over as our brother's keeper, sharing, turning the other cheek and seeing no evil that any merit in them is clouded. Even should one of the depopulation plans come to pass, it would fail eventually. To me, the problem lies in the nature of people. As long as two persons live, and disagree, they will argue and reason with each other. But in the end, one of them will be clobbered. Once upon a time there were two brothers, Cain and Abel . . . Abel didn't make it.

• IN the end, all population theories aside, there is an inexorable law of nature: the strong survive.

OLD LINCOLN TOWN

By JERRY LOCKE
OOPS, I goofed. I wrote Betty Benton instead of Betty Bennett. Forgive me, Betty.

The Lincoln County Historical Society met Saturday under the cool shade trees in Hattie Phillip's yard. A covered dish dinner was served. Cleis and Jerry Jordan gave an excellent presentation on the history and manufacture of soap. Soap is a much more complex subject than many of us thought.

Rosalie and Ralph Dunlap held open house Sunday. Starting with only the basement of their previous house, the Dunlaps have done a beautiful job improvising and building this new place. Viewed from the road it appears to be rather small but once inside it is airy, roomy and comfortable.

Speaking of new houses, Lincoln is experiencing a real construction boom. Seven major projects are under way, including four new houses. Probably have not had this much activity in many years.

The Lincoln County War (LCW) continued: Tunstall's death split the region into two camps, Murphy-Dolan and McSween. Matters which had long been smoldering now burst into flame. The Regulators, a McSween posse led by Dick Brewer, caught up with Billy Morton and Frank Baker. The two had ridden with the posse that killed Tunstall and, March 9, paid the price for their unfortunate choice of sides.

Billy the Kid (BK) was at the site of their demise. On April Fool's Day, BK along with five or six cohorts threw a going away party for Sheriff William Brady and Deputy George Hindman. BK was to be later convicted and sentenced to be hanged for this ambush. Three days later at Blazer's Mill, the Brewer-led Regulators met up with "Buckshot" Roberts. Charlie Browder put a fatal hole in Buckshot's midsection. Roberts, in turn, took cover and managed with a well aimed rifle shot to remove the top of Brewers head. You are right, things got worse!

Highway, bridge work in progress

Construction work is beginning on replacement of three old bridges on US 80 in Lincoln County, according to Clifford V. Bryan, project manager for the State Highway Department.

The work is being done by J. H. Ryan & Sons and involve the bridge—seven—miles—west—of Carrizozo and the bridges a quarter-mile and six miles east of Capitan. There will be detours around the old bridges in operation within a short time. Bryan said, and the public should be alerted to warning signs in those areas.

There is also a resurfacing project underway on State Road 48 from the Bonita turn-off at Angus through to Capitan. This work is contracted to K. Barnett & Sons, and involves overlaying the existing road with new asphalt concrete, placement of guardrails, and other items. The public is advised to obey all warning signs, flag people, and speed limits while traveling in these areas.

Pfc. Barbara M. Beltran, daughter of Barbara E. and A. R. Logwood of Organ, NM, has arrived for duty in Ziegenberg, West Germany. Her husband Raymond, is the son of Juan and Delia S. Beltran of Carrizozo, NM. The private is a 1980 graduate of Carrizozo High School.
