Sullivan heads Sunday pot bust

Lincoln County lawmen led by Sheriff Tom Sullivan raided a residence near Capitan Sunday morning and confiscated 14 marijuana plants and arrested John T. Helms on charges of possession of marijuana, over eight ounces, a felony.

According to Chief Deputy Charles Cox, the officers, working with John Carver, investigator for the district attorney's office, acted on a search warrant. Some of the marijuana plants were growing in a small hothouse and others were found growing among trees on the property, located in a subdivision southwest of Capitan.

Helms is free on $2500 bond. Preliminary hearings were held in 12th District Court last week for Michael Joe McGraw and Donald Lynn Miller, both of whom recently escaped from Lincoln County Jail. Both were ordered to stand trial here. Miller for escape from the Camp Sierra Blanca work camp where he was serving a sentence for armed robbery, and McGraw for escape from jail. Both will be tried on charges of assault on a police officer, in connection with the jailbreak. McGraw is also wanted by Texas authorities on charges of failure to return from furlough from the state prison at Huntsville where he was serving time for burglary.

In other police action, Benjamin Herrera, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested Aug. 31 on charges of DWI 2nd offense and possession of marijuana under one ounce. David Desrosiers, Carrizozo, was arrested Friday night on disorderly conduct charges and "minor allowing self to be served alcohol." He is free on bond. Johnnie Goodman was also arrested Friday on a worthless check charge and was immediately released on bond. He is from Lockhart, TX but frequents the racetrack at Ruidoso Downs.

In other action, the sheriff's office announced it had collected worthless checks in August amounting to $1,057.05. Property reported stolen during August amounted to $21,721, and stolen property recovered was valued at $65,600, a recovery rate of 302 percent.

There were 27 arrests for the month, 78 citations, 156 traffic stops, 325 calls handled and 204 civil papers served.

The dispatcher handled 13 wrecks involving no injuries and four with injuries; took five fire calls, handled five juvenile offenders and six alien cases. There were 40 ambulance calls for the month, 3,110 phone calls and 6,921 radio calls.

HOUSE PLANTS—Sheriff Tom Sullivan (right) and Chief Deputy Charles Cox show some marijuana plants, some 10 feet high, harvested in a Sunday morning raid at a Capitan residence.

Commissioners act on everything from liquor license to truck purchases

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners held its regular monthly meeting Sept. 6 and authorized the transfer of a liquor license owned by Great Western Realty, Inc. of Alto Alpis Plaza Alto, to Madeline M. Howard also of Alto.

At the same time, commissioners approved the following road closures: Nopal Townsite, Hockradle Street, starting from the west at Gray Street and ending east of Highway 37, known as Roberts Street, was ordered closed except for a portion of road that intersects Hockradle in Angus, Postoak Lane was ordered closed, as was part of County Road A-011, all of A-016 and A-017. In the opinion of the Road Review Committee, the county does not maintain the above-mentioned roads.

In other business, the commission

Approved the purchase of a used fire truck for the Lincoln Volunteer Fire Dept. from Bernalillo County for the sum of $13,500.

—Accepted bids on two trucks, one from Ziems Ford of Farmington for a half-ton standard Ford at $6757.95 and another from Richard Ford of Albuquerque, a half-ton 4-wheel drive vehicle, at $9198.11. A bid for the purchase of fire equipment was tabled until the October meeting.

—Received approval, without major changes, of the 1983-84 county budget from the Department of Finance and Administration, Santa Fe.

—Gave permission for Ruidoso to construct Bog Springs Road at the new Ruidoso High School. Cost of the project which is 100 percent financed by the State Highway Dept., is $189,320.43. Originally, Lincoln County was to construct the road, but the Village of Ruidoso agreed to take over construction, provided that any over-runs in cost will be borne by Ruidoso and not Lincoln County.

—Authorized final payment on the Lincoln County Administration Bldg. in the amount of $7,000 to Leeds-Hill-Herkenhoff, Inc., builders.

—Approved an agreement between New Horizons Developmental Center and Carrizozo Health Center for the latter to provide physical and dental evaluations, consultations, emergency dispensation of medication and health care plans for clients of the New Horizons Center. Cost of the service is $5,000 for one year ending Sept. 6, 1984. The agreement may be terminated by either of the parties upon 30 days notice.

—Recommended Mack Bell to fill the vacancy on the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Board created by resignation of Howard Shanks, and Bill Seelbach to the Extraterritorial Commission to replace Wes Grisby, who has resigned.

—Accepted with regret the resignation of Mary Rich Adams from the Lincoln County Personnel Board, authorized a letter of appreciation for her services, and appointed Johnson Stearns to that position.

—Approved a resolution to pay bills for the prior year, which includes all bills received after end of the fiscal year.

—Set priorities required for the receipt of community development block grants. Priority No. 1 is to provide an efficient method of solid waste disposal; No. 2, replacement on pavement on Gavilan Canyon Road; No. 3 transportation of juveniles to facilities in Roswell or Alamogordo because the local facility is unable to accommodate juveniles.

—Adopted a budget increase resolution to allow expenditure of $401 as clothing allowance for Lincoln County Road Dept. employees.

—Adopted a resolution setting the county tax rate, which is expected to be lower this year, and which will be made public soon.

—Approved the purchase of a lot next to the Nopal Fire Station for $1,000.

—Decided that if a person's county tax for the fiscal year is less than $10 the taxpayer must pay the entire amount rather than divide it into two equal payments. The procedure is designed to save money on notices, postage and handling of small tax assessments.

—Decided to go to bid for land in the Hondo area for solid waste landfill space, and for maintenance of the landfill.

—Took no action on a request by Sheriff Tom Sullivan for an investigator, $19,679, until input is received from the district attorney's office.

—Accepted a bid by Trane Air Conditioning for $640 per month to service air conditioning equipment in the county courthouse. The company recommended that all 23 units in the courthouse be replaced at a cost of about $30,000. Meanwhile the existing conditioner that serves several offices can be repaired at a cost of $5170.

Grizzlies lose to Texico

A powerful and No. 1 ranked Texico football squad defeated Carrizozo 41 Laabs Field Friday night, 28-8.

The visitors were led by their quarterback, Brad Stewart, a 6'2" 185 pound speedster. Last year Stewart was a three sport All-Stater, winning honors in football, basketball and track. Containing Stewart's running and passing was a full time job for the Zozo defense, allowing Texico half-back Billy Bibbs all the room he needed to roll up big yardage against the Grizzlies. Texico's big offensive line made good use of their weight advantage against the smaller Zozo squad as the Wolverines dominated the line of scrimmage.

The Grizzly attack was led by fullback Stevie Stearns, who gained 110 yards on 22 carries and scored the lone Zozo touchdown. The Zozo defense was paced by linebackers Juan Osorio, who had 12 tackles and Gilbert Zamora, who made nine stops for the Grizzlies.

This Friday Carrizozo travels to Ft. Sumner, game time is 7:30 p.m.

Handicapped children's clinic set

Staff from Carrie Tingley Hospital (CTH), the state's handicapped children's hospital which is now located in Albuquerque, will be in Alamogordo on Oct. 7 to conduct a screening, diagnostic and follow-up clinic for children and youth up to age 21. This service is being provided in cooperation with the Children's Medical Services (CMS) of the Health and Environment.

A comprehensive team including orthopaedists, physical and occupational therapist, bracer maker and social worker will join together to evaluate those who have concerns about problems with bones, joints and muscles. They will be joined by Barbara Belles, CMS, social worker and other health department staff from Otero, Lincoln and Dona Ana counties.

The Grace Methodist Church, 1206 Greenwood Lane, will be the site of the clinic. Anyone wanting to make an appointment for this special resource should contact CMS or CTH. The CMS social worker will be at the Otero County Field Health Office, 903 Cuba Avenue, on Sept. 13 to accept any referrals. Referrals may be made at any time, during regular working hours, by calling or contacting one of the following: Otero County Field Health Office, 437-9340; Lincoln County Field Health Office, 648-2412; Carrie Tingley Hospital, 1-800-472-3235.

Referrals will be accepted until Sept. 23.

John Hemphill wins award

WINSTON-SALEM, NC—John Edward Hemphill of Carrizozo has been named the New Mexico winner of the Future Farmers of America Achievement in Volunteerism Award.

He will represent the Carrizozo FFA chapter Sept. 10-14 in Washington, DC to compete for one of the 10 national awards.

Hemphill earned a certificate and $200 for his chapter from the FFA's Building Our American Communities (BOAC) program sponsor, R. J. Reynolds Industries, Inc. BOAC is a community development program that teaches leadership skills through volunteerism. The Achievement in Volunteerism Award recognizes the individual in each state's winning BOAC chapter for outstanding contributions made to the project's success.

Hemphill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hemphill.

A college freshman, Hemphill attended Carrizozo High School. He has also participated in judging contests, state convention, safety program, varsity basketball, "C" Club and Ski Club.

The Carrizozo FFA chapter 1982 projects included construction of community softball park.

Since 1971, FFA chapters across the country have completed more than 12,000 BOAC projects. FFA chapters undertaking BOAC projects meet with local leaders to identify the social and economic needs of their communities. The chapters then develop a project to meet one or more of those needs.

BOAC is supported by a cooperative agreement between the US Departments of Education and Agriculture. It is sponsored by a grant from R. J. Reynolds Industries, Inc., a major manufacturer of agriculturally based products. "We are proud to sponsor a program so vital to developing leadership in our young Americans in small communities throughout the nation," said J. Paul Sticht, the company's chairman and chief executive officer. "The benefit to both the communities and participating young people make this one of the most important projects in which we participate."

FFA is the national organization of high school students preparing for careers in agricultural production, processing, supply and service, mechanics, horticulture, forestry, natural resources and other professions.

Jamie Patterson, a 9th grade student at Carrizozo and a 4-H Club member, has agreed to share the recipe used in making the cake judged to be the top cake at this year's Lincoln County Fair at Capitan. SCHOOL DAYS 1915

The following commandments are from a 1915 school department manual written by George Finnegan, a retired teacher from Webster, MA. In parenthesis is how it would affect some of the school staff in Carrizozo: 1. Do not get married. (Mike Gaines would agree.) 2. Do not keep company with men. (Susan Thornton would object.) 3. Be home between the hours of 8 p.m. and 6 a.m. unless attending a school function. (A sports calendar is handy for tracing the whereabouts of coaches Dennis Sidebottom, Hal Roueche, Billy Bob Shafer, Roby Hollis, Ron Becker, Rhonda Varley and Bill Vitany.)

4. Do not loiter downtown in ice cream stores. (Doug Jarrard and wife Barbara would voice their opinion on this, as well as taxpayer and Gift Gallery owner, Roy Dow.)

5. Do not leave town at any time without permission of the school board. (This would cause a hardship for Myrtle Williams, Jane Erwin, Phillip Beckett, Ron Becker, Larue Wetzel, Tom Tracey, Barbara Hays and Mariann Patterson unless overnight accommodations could be arranged)

6. Do not smoke. (Joe Orsak would huff and puff regarding this order.)

7. Do not get into a carriage with any man except your father or brother. (Another exception would be J. C. Richmond, who drives the activity bus.)

8. Do not dress in bright colors. (Lucia Vega and John Harris would have to shop for dark and gloomy clothing.)

9. Do not dye your hair. (Numerous female teachers and a couple of male teachers would blow their stack at this order and so would Patty's Beauty Salon.) 10. Do not wear any dress more than 2 inches above the ankle. (Wini Willmore would voice her opinion about dresses in general.)

11. Always wear at least two petticoats. (Lunchroom staffers Charlotte Archuleta, Audrey Wilson and Flora Samora would let off some steam concerning this order.)

12. Keep the school room neat and clean. Sweep the floor at least once daily. Scrub the floor once weekly. Clean the blackboards once a day and start a good fire at 7 a.m. daily. (Maintenance supervisor Nat Chavez, and custodial staffers Freddy and Pat would certainly agree to this.)

Tatum topples Capitan

The Tatum Coyotes handed Capitan its first opening game loss in 10 years at Capitan Friday night, 21-7.

The Coyotes took a 21-7 win behind the hard running of Larry Hilliard and the leadership of quarterback Lloyd Gerber.

The Tigers had won each first game of the season since 1973, until this year.

Capitan got on the scoreboard in the first quarter on a 3 yard run by quarterback Dewey Keller. A 32 yard punt return by Tim McElhannon set up the score. Todd Proctor added the extra point.

Tatum struck back on the first play after the kickoff with an 80 yard touchdown pass. Hilliard scored on a 3 yard run in the second quarter to give the Coyotes a 13-7 lead at halftime. Gerber ran in for the final score in the fourth quarter and passed for the two-point conversion.

Capitan never seriously threatened again as Tatum dominated the game offensively. The Tigers had to use many inexperienced players in this opening loss.

Capitan travels to Texico to face the Wolverines this week.

Lietzman lawsuit delayed

The case of Robert W. Lietzman, O-Bar-O Ranch owner, vs Lincoln County Commissioners has been continued until September in 12th District Court.

The trial got under way last Wednesday.

The suit resulted from Lietzman's wish to close an access road that crosses his property to US Forestry land. He claims the hunters are interfering with his private business, that the road is a private road, and that it should be closed to traffic. The county commissioners believe the road to be county-owned.

The lawsuit brought by Lietzman will have a bearing on the question of "hunter's rights" versus the rights of private land owners.

Ferguson re-elected

Wally Ferguson of Carrizozo was re-elected chairman of the South Central Mountain Resource Conservation & Development Council at the annual meeting of the organization in Ruidoso last week.

Jim Hiles of Bent was named vice-chairman; Tony Genta, Alamogordo, secretary; and Johnson Stearns, Carrizozo, treasurer.

SCMRC&DC voted to complete work at the Bonito Lake Campground. Because of the difficulty in controlling overnight camping at Bonito Lake, it plans to assist the City of Alamogordo to construct roads and camp spaces so that camping can be organized and controlled. The group also plans to pursue funding for the multi-purpose lake and support it, provided funding sources can be found.

Remodeling of bank under way

Roy Seay, vice-president, Carrizozo branch of Ruidoso State Bank, told the NEWS yesterday that the remodeling of the local bank building is to accommodate the expanding need for space for the Lincoln County Abstract Co., one of its tenants.

Remodeling is getting under way to convert the present bank lobby to office space for the abstract company. The present bank office will be turned into the bank lobby and the bank office will be moved to the back of the building. A new doorway leading to the new lobby will also be provided.

Ben Hall, Ruidoso contractor, expects to have the remodeling completed by Nov. 1. Meantime, Seay, said, there will be no interruption of bank services to customers.

The Coyotes took a 21-7 win behind the hard running of Larry Hilliard and the leadership of quarterback Lloyd Gerber.

The Tigers had won each first game of the season since 1973, until this year.

Capitan got on the scoreboard in the first quarter on a 3 yard run by quarterback Dewey Keller. A 32 yard punt return by Tim McElhannon set up the score. Todd Proctor added the extra point.

Tatum struck back on the first play after the kickoff with an 80 yard touchdown pass. Hilliard scored on a 3 yard run in the second quarter to give the Coyotes a 13-7 lead at halftime. Gerber ran in for the final score in the fourth quarter and passed for the two-point conversion.

Capitan never seriously threatened again as Tatum dominated the game offensively. The Tigers had to use many inexperienced players in this opening loss.

Capitan travels to Texico to face the Wolverines this week.

Lietzman lawsuit delayed

The case of Robert W. Lietzman, O-Bar-O Ranch owner, vs. Lincoln County Commissioners has been continued until September in 12th District Court.

The trial got under way last Wednesday.

The suit resulted from Lietzman's wish to close an access road that crosses his property to US Forestry land. He claims the hunters are interfering with his private business, that the road is a private road, and that it should be closed to traffic. The county commissioners believe the road to be county-owned.

The lawsuit brought by Lietzman will have a bearing on the question of "hunter's rights" versus the rights of private land owners.

The annual picnic at the Peralta Ranch was a big success again this year. Jerry Lobb and sisters, Joanne, Martha, and Judy, and nephew Bob Williams kept everyone entertained for hours with their guitar playing and singing. All in the family have great voices and harmonize beautifully together. When they would take a break, Joe Salazar and daughter Lacine would take over the center stage for more singing. Things really livened up when Curtis Payne and his famous fiddle arrived. Good country music echoed off the hillsides and was greatly enjoyed by all present. All of those attending would like to thank the Peraltas for their great hospitality.

Labor Day was quiet and enjoyed by everyone here in Capitan. There was plenty travel. Traffic was constant.

Last Tuesday we awakened to a serious water leak in our water lines near Nogal. We had to conserve for certain and the tank was drained by night. They worked hard, and certainly everyone did cooperate and all worked until 3 a.m. Thursday to get the repair finished and water entering the line again. By Thursday night all was OK. Two trucks did bring in good fresh water, therefore we had much to be grateful for. These things can happen anywhere, but there is one thing about it all. It makes one realize just how important the water really is.

SCMRC&DC voted to complete work at the Bonito Lake Campground. Because of the difficulty in controlling overnight camping at Bonito Lake, it plans to assist the City of Alamogordo to construct roads and camp spaces so that camping can be organized and controlled. Remodeling is getting under way to convert the present bank lobby to office space for the abstract company. The present bank office will be turned into the bank lobby and the bank office will be moved to the back of the building. A new doorway leading to the new lobby will also be provided.

Ben Hall, Ruidoso contractor, expects to have the remodeling completed by Nov. 1. Meantime, Seay, said, there will be no interruption of bank services to customers.

● IT WAS an eventful week for the Soviet Union and its compliant friends in the United States who believe the Soviets are nice folk with high humanitarian instincts; who love little children; and who bleed profusely in the cause of peace, albeit on their own terms. Our current crop of Marxist-prone radicals have been strangely silent since their Communist comrades shot down a Korean Air Lines commercial plane without warning, without provocation, without compassion. They are awaiting official word from the Kremlin as to how best to proceed in order to shift blame for the deaths of 269 innocent civilian passengers on that ill-fated flight from Anchorage, Alaska, to Seoul, Korea.

● NOBODY is more upset than the Soviets themselves. How were they to know that US and Japanese intelligence forces had the capability to monitor every word that passed between the Soviet fighter pilot and his ground commander, and heard (and recorded) orders given that pilot to shoot down the defenseless commercial 747?

● PROOF that the Soviets were caught with their trousers down is that at first they denied any knowledge of the plane's fate. Then they said the plane was escorted out of Soviet restricted airspace by fighter planes, and of knowledge of same. Then they showed up with a third lie: the KAL plane was carrying sophisticated spy equipment, its pilot ignored warning shots from the pursuing fighter, and refused to land the plane on Soviet territory. Faced with proof that the shooting was deliberate, that their aircraft tracked the liner for two and a half-hours, that said aircraft could not have fired a warning shot because it was armed only with missiles, the chronic Soviet liars came up with still another excuse for murder. They simply said that the murder of 269 civilians was "justified" and refused to apologize to the Republic of Korea for the atrocity. They also refused to apologize for murdering the nationals of other nations traveling aboard the KAL 007 flight, including US Congressman Larry McDonald of Georgia. They dismissed callously the entire incident as a provocation by American imperialists.

● NEVER fear. No matter how big the Soviet lie, our radicals will buy it. They always have. Jane Fonda & Co. is waiting in impatient silence for the "official lie" to be approved in Moscow before they come out of the woodwork, take to the streets with their clenched fists, waving banners and warhoops, trailed by joyful media-men with cameras rolling. At this writing, all are silent and will remain so until the Kremlin decides which of its many lies to go with.

● FROM this tragedy comes a comforting thought. The US intelligence community has the equipment, apparently unknown to the Soviets, to monitor every word spoken on Soviet radio frequencies—and can track movements of planes, tanks and ships. It must have come as a shock to the Soviet bureaucracy that we have been peeking into armored bedrooms without their knowledge or approval. Americans, too, are disquieted. Many of them would have fought unto death with picket and placard to prevent the funding of such sophisticated surveillance when it would be so much better spent on grits and pork chops for the poor.

● I FIND comfort in knowing that this equipment was devised, built and put into operation without the knowledge of the American public. Had the apparatus been made a public issue it would, no doubt, have been shot down by Moscow oriented peace movements in the US. I just hope the neutron bomb, the B-1 and MX are being as covertly built and positioned in similar secrecy. It has been proved again and again that American citizens generally oppose any weapons for defense until it is too late. Consequently, they cannot continue to be trusted with details of weapons upon which their lives and freedom certainly depend.

● THIS is no quick conclusion inspired by the latest Soviet treachery. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was covertly, without the knowledge of the American people, supplying military aid to England in the early days of World War II. He had good reason to arm Britain in secret, for he knew that Americans, then as now, want no involvement in any war, no matter that not to do so may eventually enslave them. He knew that if his aid to Britain became public knowledge he would be driven from office by an angry, enraged constituency. At that precise time, about half the US population openly or tacitly approved of Adolph Hitler and all he stood for. Today, about half the population openly or tacitly supports the "peace objectives" of the Soviet Union. Would you, with the benefit of hindsight, trust defense measures to a nation, half of which thought Hitler was a great guy? So much for the ability of American rank and file to perceive their own danger and to defend against it.

● EVEN the American Revolution wasn't popular in this country. About the same percentage of people who favored Hitler in 1936 also favored George III of England in 1773. Then, as now, we must depend upon unselfish, self-sacrificing statesmen who put the national welfare above all else to preserve this country.

● IF FDR left a timely legacy it was his decision to risk his own political destruction, and possibly his life, to defend his country. This act of statesmanship is all but forgotten in the maze of social programs he fathered, the rousing public acceptance of which may yet destroy the country he heroically rescued from an ignorant constituency. Consider this: What if Roosevelt hadn't gotten away with his secret and very illegal aid program to Britain; what if he had been impeached and removed from office (as he knew he would); what if the US had sat on its hands while Hitler ravaged the world, and what if the Japanese had not done us the favor of attacking Pearl Harbor—the concussion of which reordered the brains of the American people toward the advisability of an all-out war?

● THE melancholy conclusion is that if this nation is to survive in a world of hungry, untamed tigers its people must not be privy to the means of saving their hides. The fate of the nation must no longer depend upon the public's long, useless, uninformed and endless debate on whether to defend or surrender, fight or run, or destroy the enemy with platitudes and semantics tossed across a conference table. Thomas Jefferson, bless his heart, once proposed that if the American people were told the

Watch over Washington

Weinberger's long, hot summer

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — The Summer of '83 may well be remembered by our Secretary of Defense as an absolute Sea of Troubles.

Among the waves, Mr. Weinberger was unaware of a live microphone when he remarked to President Reagan: "All the criticism was that we were closing off too many jobs that were associated with combat. And so what we have done is say that until there is an actual imminence of war, there will be women grease monkeys, if they want to, and things like that."

"LET 'EM BE GREASE MONKEYS" headlined an editorial in The New York Times. Then, there was the matter of a $70,000 rifle range constructed by the Department of Defense in order that armed forces physicians could study wounds—wounds of dogs, that is, who were to be shot to death on this rifle range.

Apparently poor Cap was unaware of this explosively controversial plan, which he ordered abandoned within minutes after he read about it on page one — but not before thousands of enraged dog owners flooded his phone line, the number of which was broadcast by one DC radio station.

Rep. Pat Schroeder (D., CO) asked why the armed forces physicians couldn't study the abundant number of gunshot cases in the local hospitals — although that was clever and irrelevant, since most of these people do not have M-16, Kalashnikov or machine gun wounds.

Not even the planned procurement of otherwise condemned canines was without embarrassment. For the procurers of such dogs — who had been designated by dog pounds to be put to sleep — were charging inflated prices. The Department of Defense could have obtained the condemned dogs directly from the pounds at a fraction of the cost. (Fortunately for Cap, no one at the Pentagon has — as yet — made the suggestion that the more than 1,000 men and women on the nation's condemned rows be made available to replace the dogs as objects of wound study.)

The inflated cost of supplying Man's-Best-Friend-Targets added a new dimension to an area of acute embarrassment about the massively inflated costs of some items to the Pentagon: The Spare Parts Scandal. This included the expose that the Navy had been paying $109 for a diode for the FA-18 fighter plane — which diode cost four cents. (Also: $437 for a measuring tape that can be obtained in hardware stores for $10 — while the Air Force has been paying $683 for a washer in the landing gear of a B-52 bomber and $1,118 for a plastic cap that covers the leg of a navigator's stool. Both these items can be obtained for $1.00.)

It's not that Weinberger has failed to react to these scandals. "OFFICER DISCIPLINED FOR WASTE, WEINBERGER REPORTS" headlined The New York Times. "NAVY PUNISHES THREE IN SPARE PARTS BUYING SCANDAL," reported The Philadelphia Inquirer on the same day that Congress was debating Mr. Weinberger's military budget.

Secretary Weinberger even called a news conference to report that his Pentagon investigators had uncovered a "horror story," in that the Naval Training Equipment Center in Orlando had paid the Sperry Company $80,204 for parts that should have cost only $3,685.

"If you pay a great deal more than it costs, that's not good judgement," noted the Secretary of Defense. But only one day later, it became known that Mr. Weinberger was planning to spend $23,000 in order to fly himself and other Defense Department officials to California in order to attend an all-male summer outing of the Bohemian Club. (Parade magazine felt it necessary to explain to its readers that there are no reliable reports that at this annual gathering there is nude frolicking in the woods.)

By way of an attempt to justify this $23,000 joy ride, Mr. Weinberger's aides came up with a wondrous explanation. The Secretary, it was announced, would be on official business because he would (that very same weekend) be conducting a "morale-boosting inspection" of Oakland Naval Supply Center.

Why does the Secretary of Defense have to boost morale at a Naval Supply Center in Oakland — on the very same weekend as the all-male Bohemian woods frolic?

Department of Defense spokesmen strained desperately to come up with some camouflage for this boondoggle. "It's actually a MODEL supply center that is new and should be inspected. It's called NISTARS (Naval Integrated Storage, Tracking and Receiving System) and they're building similar systems in other places such as Norfolk."

Q: Why couldn't Weinberger wait and inspect it in Norfolk?

US NAVY: Well, the Oakland NISTAR has just become operational.

Q: On what date?

US NAVY: March 31, 1983. Somehow that MODEL supply center existed for three months before the Secretary of Defense felt it necessary to spend $23,000 to inspect it — on the same weekend as the Bohemian Club romp.

Reporters at the Pentagon, including this one, bombarded Weinberger's affable spokesman, Henry Catto, with questions, such as why Cap The Knife couldn't economize and help boost the recovery by traveling commercial airline instead of using his Air Force C-9.

Catto tried valiantly to persuade the press that it is essential to the Nation's Defense that the Secretary of Same have A) All necessary communications equipment at his hand at all times and B) at all times be under security, which is allegedly impossible on commercial airlines.

After we asked how the Bohemians would react to having all this equipment and all those security men helicoptered into their midst, there was no comprehensible explanation from Catto. But within hours, Weinberger announced that his Bohemian flight had been scratched.

There was no indication that any Weinberger Waste-Watching Awards would be made to his friends in the Fourth Estate.

Parishoners sue their high-living bishop

By REV. LES KINSOLVING
Only three months after he was elected bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Easton (in Maryland, not Pennsylvania), the Rt. Rev. Elliott Lorenz Sorge has been taken to court by outraged clergy and laity.

Bishop Sorge, a handsome and affable man of 54 with a beneficent smile, was for several years a missionary in Brazil, where he became Bishop of the Diocese of South Central Brazil. For the past six years, however, he has been serving in a far more resplendent milieu than the mission field. For Sorge left Brazil in order to become a staff officer of the national headquarters of the Episcopal Church in New York City — where they Think Big.

This New York power structure has for years been engaging in expensive and controversial projects, while treating with lofty disdain any protest from the grassroots. Bishop Sorge apparently forgot that acceptance of this new cure put him directly in the middle of such grassroots, as prelate of a diocese consisting entirely of small towns, farms and summer resorts. And Eastern Shore grassroots can strangle a man.

The 118th Annual Convention of the Diocese of Easton voted the bishop a $34,000 salary, plus $8,000 for travel and a car. The Bishop waited until the Diocesan Council (a minuscule body which he heads) held its next meeting, since this council is supposed to conduct diocesan business between annual conventions.

On May 31, this Council managed an impressive sweetening of Bishop Sorge's remuneration. They doubled his travel allowance to $12,000 and arranged to lease an automobile for him. They also voted a $5,000 education allowance.

Not content with this bonanza, Sorge's next move was to arrange for the Diocese to purchase a $295,000 Bishop's Residence, complete with 800 feet of waterfront, a boat and a wet bar.

The annual budget for the entire diocese is only $232,000, and this real estate deal would require $3,215 in interest payments every month. So the Diocesan grassroots — led by Rev. Thomas Stuhr, Rector of Shrewsbury Parish near Kennedyville, MD — obtained a court order blocking the sale of the mansion to the Diocese.

A procedural delay resulted in this order being too late to stop completion of the sale. But Second Circuit Judge George Rasin has ordered Bishop Sorge, to appear in court on Sept. 20 to show cause why this sale should not be set aside.

Sorge has made matters even worse by commenting to the local press that a person does not have to live in poverty "to deal with the problems of poverty." And he added that other bishops before him have lived in waterfront homes.

This brings to mind a character in James Mitchell's best-seller "Chesapeake" — the truth they would react in the correct manner. Even after Lyndon Johnson and Jimmy Carter, I have forgiven him for that bit of idealistic nonsense.

● BY Monday, the Soviet had come up with the fifth lie, apparently the one they have voted to go with. This one involves belief that the KAL 747 was a spy plane, and noted that a real US spy plane was in the area and the 747 might have been mistaken. For the spy plane. They have not explained how their fighter planes were unable to distinguish between a commercial liner and a CR-135 outfitted for surveillance, something any 3rd grader could determine. They do not respond as to why they didn't identify the plane before shooting it down. They do not even consider that the US spy plane they "confused" with the 747 happened to be 1500 miles away from the 747 at the time! Soviet logic?

● ACHTUNG! The following Soviet-aligned organizations must be on the streets within 24 hours, with full propaganda gear, to convince gullible America that we, not the Soviets, did it in the KAL plane: National Organization of Women, US Peace Council, National Lawyers Guild, National Alliance Against Racist & Political Repression, Women for Racial & Economic Equality, Women's Strike for Peace, Women's International League for Peace & Freedom, International Association of Democratic Lawyers, SANE, Mobilization for Survival, Nuclear Weapons Freeze Campaign, Council of Catholic Bishops, Coalition for a New Foreign & Military Policy, American Friends Service Committee, Clergy & Laity Concerned, Democratic Socialists of America, Federation for Progress, National Black United Front, All Peoples Congress, Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador, Transafrica, American Indian Movement and International Indian Treaty Council, Communist Party USA, Bikers For Peace, Gays For Peace, etc., etc.; as well as dedicated Democrats such as US Sen. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas who was the first distinguished member of an undistinguished political party to defend the Soviet's downing of the plane. He explained that another Korean passenger plane was attacked by Soviet fighters several years ago, and two people were killed and 100 injured—so naturally they were trigger-happy at the prospect of killing 269 more. He is recommended for the Order of Lenin medal.

Rev. Jonathan Wilcock, Rector of Wrentham — whose rectory, on one of this novel's maps, is only six miles from Sorge's mansion. Wilcock felt obliged to flee from his colonial cure, in which he lived sumptuously, at the time of the American Revolution. And his questionable accumulation of land almost cost him his life. Bishop Sorge might also have profited by the example of Archbishop (now Cardinal, in Rome) William Baum. When Baum first arrived to take over the comparatively huge Archdiocese of Washington, he too arranged the purchase of a great house, for residence and offices. But he promptly backed out of this after a widespread outcry throughout the Archdiocese from pastors and parishoners who had never been inside such resplendent housing. Bishop Sorge says he plans to sell his home in New York for $125,000 as well as the old bishop's house for another $125,000. But both of these amounts are hypothetical — while the interest payments begin immediately. "We don't care where he wants to live as long as he pays for it with his own money," says Rector Stuhr. "My parish is made up of farmers. With the drought they're suffering — and these are the people who are going to have to come up with this money."

"THEN, IT'S AGREED, GENTLEMEN... WE'LL SECURE FROM THE UNION, THEN APPLY FOR FOREIGN AID."

Corona News

The rain Sunday afternoon ranged from a full inch in the north end of the village to 0.7" in the south part. Moisture for the week at Lincoln Station measured 0.52". The high temperature recorded there was 82 degrees on the 22nd and 26th and the low 50 on the 26th and 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Conway, Mrs. A. W. Varney and a friend stopped by one day last week to visit with Ernest Dishman. They were on their way home to Las Cruces after a trip east. Mrs. Varney is looking forward to her next birthday when she will be 100.

Friends were shocked Saturday to learn of the death of Leslie Lee Bagley after an illness of only a few hours. The cause was reported to be a cerebral aneurysm.

Several Corona people are hospitalized. Mike Lindsey had knee surgery after a football injury and is out of athletics for several months. Mrs. Tom Pounds was taken by ambulance to an Albuquerque Hospital Thursday, and Bill Kilgore entered an Albuquerque hospital Friday and is undergoing tests. Ruth Sheffield was taken by ambulance to Roswell Sunday night and underwent an appendectomy Monday.

Joyce and Delbert Nelson, Sacramento, CA visited with friends here Sunday afternoon. They accompanied their cousins, Frank, Marjorie and Colleen Hine, of Las Vegas who had been attending a reunion of Marjorie's family at Bonito Lake.

Mrs. R. L. Sharp and Jerry Sharp spent last week in Bloomfield where Brad Cartwright was showing his lambs and winning 3rd, 5th and 6th places. # Old Lincoln Town

By ROSALIE DUNLAP
The past week has been one of anniversaries and birthdays. Mr. and Mrs. Crisobal Zamora (Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln) celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dennis were pleasantly surprised at a party at the Tinnie gazebo given by their friends and family on their 25th wedding anniversary. The party, hosted by their daughter Seri and husband Roger, saw friends from Lincoln County, Roswell and Albuquerque. A surprise guest was daughter Nancy of California.

And last but not least, Hattie Phillips celebrated her 81st birthday last week. On Thursday her daughter Lynn Werner of Roswell and Martha Proctor, Hondo, took her to the Wortley for lunch. On Friday several friends took her to Fernando's Cafe at Hondo for an enchilada dinner. Congratulations to all of you and may you all have many more celebrations to come.

Everyone seems to be trying to get new buildings ready for the upcoming winter. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Leyba are getting the roof

Owen who went down Friday to greet their newest granddaughter. Mrs. Owen will return Monday to Roswell to spend a few days with the family. Tammy will be on leave for six weeks and then will assume new duties as an instructor in nursing.

on their addition, same for the Ralph Dunlaps, and the French-Black home is coming along. Mrs. Sue Graham's addition is looking nice and she has had her adobe yard wall stuccoed.

There was some excitement in Old Lincoln town Sunday. In the late afternoon Mrs. Rafilita Fryor, who was working at the Tunstall store, was robbed. She had gotten suspicious and had put up her purse and the collection money. Although there were around 14-15 visitors in the store at the time, the young man grabbed the collection jar, containing a small amount of money, and took off with his two friends in a white Cadillac. Their ill-gotten gains didn't last long as they were caught before they got to Hondo by the quick work of our State Police.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Grigsby vegetables sales at the old White Mountain Apple shed has gotten off to a good start. This couple is very enterprising and we wish them well in this new endeavor, just one of several in progress.

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON

John and Jane Ellimore report the birth of their granddaughter, Lacey Nicole Veland, Aug. 27 at 3:46 p.m. Despite having to be born via C-section, both mother and baby are doing well. John and Jane Ellimore were the promoters of the White Oaks Music festival and own some land in the White Oaks subdivision.

There was a wedding in the White Oaks Casino Saturday at 12 o'clock. Judge Bill Payne married Doris Dripps to Bob Carrol, with Bruiser the dog keeping a close watch on the proceedings. Among guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vigil and their daughter. Ruth Hawk and Beulah Moore decorated the Casino with yellow and pink streamers and with mountain daisies. A sandwich cake and Cold Duck wine was served after the ceremony.

Bud Crenshaw's birthday dance was a huge success with guests from all parts of New Mexico and Texas, including Butch and Hanna Barker, Dr. Amy Barton and others, too numerous to mention.

Glen Ellison and his Carrizo Outlaws performed without a hitch and was made even better by the help of Marc Daniels, Louie Padilla, Richie and Mrs. Askew, Paul Perea, and Marie Reed. Mr. Crenshaw received some gag gifts, along with some very practical ones.

Sept. 3 was also Richard Daniels' birthday and, after 12 midnight his son's, Troy Daniels.

There is a feud brewing in White Oaks that has the potential of getting out of hand. The head of one side is Jason Vinson who is a dyed in the wool Dallas Cowboy fan. The head of the other side is Betty Cammack who is a dyed in the wool anti-Dallas nut. The feud will get off to a rousing start with the first game played Monday.

As I'm prejudiced, I chose Dallas. I was right, 31-30.

LINCOLN County Commissioners are inviting the public to attend the Friday, Sept. 9, dedication services for the new Lincoln County Sub-Office in Ruidoso. Cong. Joe Skeen will be among national, state and local dignitaries at the ceremony. Activities begin at 10 a.m.

$200,000 lawsuit filed

Dale Stocks has filed a $200,000 lawsuit in 12th District Court against John Carver, assistant district attorney, and Steve Sanders, district attorney, as a result of an Aug. 29, 1982 arrest.

Stocks' complaint alleges that on that date he was arrested for violation of probation and spent 33 days in Lincoln County Jail. He claims he was not on probation, and that he was illegally arrested, falsely imprisoned and denied his civil and constitutional rights; that he was denied legal assistance and only gained his freedom after writing a letter to the district attorney explaining his situation.

Stocks claims that as a result of his imprisonment he lost his job with Continental Telephone Co. He seeks $100,000 in actual damages and $100,000 in punitive damages.
