Crime Stopper originator will speak to local unit

The man who initiated Crime Stoppers, Greg MacAleese of Albuquerque, will be the speaker at the Monday night meeting of Carrizozo Crime Stoppers, 7 p.m. at the REA Building.

Mary Spencer, president of the local unit, has invited local law enforcement officers to attend the meeting to hear the man responsible for creating more than 60 Crime Stopper units in the country, 32 of which are in New Mexico. They have been so successful that a State Crime Stoppers Commission has been formed in New Mexico.

In all, more than 3,000 major felony crimes have been solved and almost $6 million in stolen property and narcotics have been recovered through efforts of Crime Stoppers programs across the country.

The Albuquerque program alone has solved 972 major felony crimes and assisted in the recovery of $966,700 in stolen property since it began operation in September, 1976. Of 215 persons tried in court on Crime Stoppers-related cases in Albuquerque, 214 have been convicted.

Carrizozo Crime Stoppers, formed last year, has offered more than $2,500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons charged with burglary, rape, malicious mischief and cattle rustling.

MacAleese, 33, was born in Canada. The son of a Royal Canadian Air Force Officer, MacAleese traveled extensively in Canada before moving to Albuquerque in 1961. He attended Albuquerque schools, then entered the University of New Mexico in 1965 on an athletic scholarship and majored in journalism.

In the summer of 1968, MacAleese turned down a professional baseball contract with the Los Angeles Dodgers and went to work for the Albuquerque Tribune. In 1969, he was hired by The Associated Press' Albuquerque Bureau and became its state sports editor. In 1971, he was selected the New Mexico Sports Writer of the Year by fellow sports writers throughout the state.

In 1972, MacAleese left The Associated Press and joined the campaign of Pete Domenici, who was seeking the US Senate seat vacated by Clinton P. Anderson. Following Domenici's successful campaign, MacAleese joined the Albuquerque Police Department.

He spent three years as a patrolman, primarily working the downtown and South Broadway areas of Albuquerque. He then became a field investigator for the Downtown Albuquerque sector and directed most of the major crime investigations in the area.

GREG MACALEESE

In 1976, MacAleese transferred to the Community Services Unit, where he created the Crime Stoppers Program. MacAleese determined that one of the major problems in Albuquerque's effort to combat crime was that citizens either were too frightened to cooperate with police in reporting criminal activity or were too apathetic.

Crime Stoppers was designed to combat these two problems by first, guaranteeing callers anonymity and second, by paying cash rewards to callers whose information assisted in the arrest and grand jury indictments of major crime offenders, or in the apprehension of felony fugitives. In January, 1979, Gov. Bruce King hired MacAleese to create a statewide Crime Stoppers Program and also to function as his Law Enforcement Liaison. When the 1979 New Mexico Legislature enacted a law creating the first State Crime Stoppers Commission MacAleese became its executive director. The State Commission has been so successful, four other states now are planning to start similar commissions.

Crime Stoppers and MacAleese have received extensive national recognition

MacAleese was named the 1977 National Police Officer of the Year by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. He also was named 1978 Citizen of the Year by both the New Mexico Realtors Assn. and the Woodman of the World. In 1980, he was named to Who's Who in America. Crime Stoppers has received awards from the FBI, the National Council on Crime and Delinquency and the Fraternal Order of Police. Crime Stoppers has been featured on the "Today Show" on NBC-TV, the CBS "Evening News", in Parade, People and Newsweek Magazines and on CBS Radio.

Local students do well on ACT

Seventeen juniors and seniors of Carrizozo High School took the American College Test (ACT) on Dec. 9 with "excellent" results, according to Dennis Sidebottom, principal.

The state average for the test is 18. Carrizozo had two students who scored 27 and seven who scored 20 or above, with two scoring above 32 on the science portion of the test, according to Sidebottom.

The ACT test is an indication of a student's ability to be successful in college, and provides a helpful tool in assessing a student's academic strength and weakness, he said.

The principal said the Carrizozo scores are extremely high and rank equally high among all students who take the test over the United States.

"We are very proud of our students' performance on the ACT test," Sidebottom said. "We have worked hard to try and eliminate those factors research has shown depress students' achievement. These depressive factors include such things as poor teachers, excessive student absenteeism, students' ditching classes and student misbehavior and vandalism. Eliminating these negative factors is very difficult, but the resulting rewards in the area of student achievement is well worth the effort."

FFA hard at work on the Ag Farm

There was another workday at the Carrizozo Vocational Agriculture Farm on Jan. 15. A number of alumni members of the newly formed Carrizozo Alumni Chapter were present as well as active members and friends of the FFA. The plan of work for the day was to construct all the sow pens, one large feeder pen and to clean and paint existing pens.

The majority of the planned pens were completed, stock panels were welded in place, all pens were cleaned, the south side pens were painted red and gray, and all the pearlings and trusses for the north side pens were set in place for the roof.

On the next workday members plan to finish the roofing, complete with gutters and drains, finish painting the north pens, install automatic watering systems, and build a loading chute.

Lunch for the workday was provided from funds donated to the Meat Processing Lab. Carrizozo students have been actively involved in meat processing and slaughtering on a weekly basis throughout the semester.

The Ag Farm at Carrizozo is becoming the model facility in the state.

Members of the recently chartered Carrizozo FFA Alumni Chapter are: Wes Landsay, Dr. James P. Miller Jr., Joel Pafford, Hal Roueche, Billy Bob Shafer, Alton Wilson, Walt Wilson, Mike Gaines, Allen Langley and Bill Stephenson.

Chapter members who have been instrumental in making workdays successful are Daryl Lindsey, Steve Stearns, Adrian Sanchez, John Roueche, Geneva Maxwell, Robbie Shepperd, Troy Hollis, Gray Gallacher, Joe Candelaria, Curtis Zumwalt, Elmer Hopkins, Max Beltran, John Maxwell, and Gary Means. Special thanks went to Randy and Cindi Rhue, Bob and John Hemphill for their efforts on the day-to-day supervision and maintaining FFA programs.

Lions honor Bob Means

Bob Means, Carrizozo Lions Club first vice-president and charter member, was voted Lion of the Year 1982 by members of the local club recently.

Means, also a member of the board of directors, was also honored as flag chairman. He has been responsible for placing American flags outside businesses and homes throughout the community during special occasions.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church, American Legion and the owner of A & I Auto Supply. A World War I veteran, he has lived in Carrizozo since 1927 and is married to Betty Means, past president of Valley of Fires Lioness Club.

Tax man cometh

A representative of the Bureau of Revenue and Taxation will meet at Carrizozo and Capitan Senior Centers to assist Roy Harmon with tax rebates.

He will be at the Carrizozo center Feb. 9, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and at Capitan center on Feb. 10, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For information call either Carrizozo Center, 648-2288, or Capitan Center, 354-2640.

Budget recommendation

$900,000 capital outlay for county

Gov. Toney Anaya is recommending a $180.5 million capital outlay program for New Mexico which includes for Lincoln County $880,000 to replace water supply lines at the Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School, $18,200 for equipment and purchase of a van for the Carrizozo Womans Club; and $15,000 for purchase of a new van for the Capitan Senior Citizen Center.

The executive budget reflects projects for fiscal year 1983-1984, or in state financial terms, the 72nd fiscal year. Under Anaya's budget, 99 percent of the capital outlay projects would come from the sale of severance tax bonds rather than from the general fund.

In FY 71's budget, $61 million in capital outlay projects came from the general fund, while $78.5 million came from severance tax bonds.

Anaya said these projects are not only badly needed in their respective areas, such projects will also help stimulate the economy. "Many of these projects will mean the creation of jobs. The projects are by no means only for the purpose of putting people back to work, but it'll certainly help."

Under Anaya's executive budget, $43 million would go for higher education projects, $32 million would go for public schools, and $18.8 million would go for highway projects statewide. The rest would go for state agencies, vocational schools, and for local assistance, such as for communities that qualify for money for water systems, wastewater systems, landfills, and road improvements.

Another $1.5 million would go to the State Agency on Aging for badly needed remodeling and equipment purchases at numerous senior citizen centers statewide. My budget is barebones, but reflects needed projects," Anaya said. "It's up to the legislature now to see to it that it is passed."

LED YATES, Extension family life specialist from New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, spoke to several Lincoln County groups last week on family relations. Yates shown here at the Zia Senior Citizen Center where a large crowd heard his talk on "Intergenerational Relationships."

Dance to benefit ranchers

A dance will be held at the Desperado Club near Alamogordo Saturday night to benefit the embattled ranchers who lost their land to the White Sands Missile Range.

Specifically, funds derived from the event will pay for a "documentary film" which has already been produced and which depicts the history and plight of the affected ranchers in the WSMR area.

The dance runs from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Colt Gipson and his band from Nevada will furnish the music, and Junior Dougherty to put on a fiddling exhibition.

The Desperado Club may be reached from Carrizozo by traveling toward Alamogordo, past Tularosa to the Cloudcroft turnoff, then up the highway toward Cloudcroft a distance of about 1/2 mile.

School board election is Feb. 1

Tuesday, Feb. 1, is the date of the local board of education election.

Carrizozo School Superintendent's office will be the consolidated polling place for all voters in Carrizozo, Nogal, Ancho, Oscuro and outlying areas. Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Election officials will tabulate the results following the close of voting.

The board of education will hold a special meeting beginning at 8 p.m. in the Conference Room to certify election results.

Absentee balloting will continue through Jan. 28, 5 p.m.

INTERNATIONAL EVENT

Carrizozo Rotary Club President Earl Fenter and fellow Rotarians, Fred English and Trankle Silva were in El Paso, TX, and Juarez, Mexico, recently to attend an international meeting and banquet. The event was to honor Rotary International President Hiroji Mukasa. Rotary Clubs of Ciudad Juarez, El Paso and Anthony, NM co-hosted the gathering.

Mukasa is a practicing neuropsychiatrist. A Rotarian since 1957, he is a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Nakatsu, Japan.

RECOVERING

Friends and relatives of Rosa Chavez are glad to know that she is back home in Carrizozo after a week-long stay at the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital. She is recuperating from complications after stepping on an old nail while doing some yard work.

PARISH OFFICERS

St. Matthias Episcopal Church of Carrizozo held its annual parish meeting on Jan. 11 in the home of Rene Burton. A covered dish meal was served and election of officers followed.

Pat Sullivan of Capitan is bishop's warden and Rene Burton is the secretary-treasurer. The bishop's committee consists of Bunty Richardson, one-year term; Stirling Spencer, two-year term; and Stacey Wilson, three-year term. Roberta Burkstaller was elected convention delegate for 1983.

ZOZO VISITORS

Visiting in the home of Sam and Faye Johnson are their daughter Dawn Lane and baby Jeffrey. Dawn is staying at the Johnson's place while her husband awaits word of his next Army assignment.

The Johnson couple, former Roswell residents, moved to Carrizozo in November. They are in the process of stocking a gift shop. (See ad in this issue.) The business is located on D Street at the shop once managed by Beulah Moore, who has moved to Nevada.

PANAMA VISITORS

Jake and Mela Herrera and their daughter Rosanne returned to Carrizozo Jan. 4 after spending two weeks in Panama. There they visited with the Herrera's daughter and family, Army Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas Saiz and sons Tommy and Matthew. The Saiz family reside at Fort Amador, located within walking distance to the ocean.

While in Panama the Carrizozo folks went fishing, to horse races and visited various points of interest. The two families took part in a walking tour of the area with guides providing historical details.

While parts of New Mexico was covered in snow, the Herreras enjoyed the warm climate of Panama. The Saiz family remain there for one and a half years more.

Visitors this past weekend in the Herrera residence were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Valles of Las Cruces. She is their daughter, Monica, who married Nov. 27.

KNIGHTS CONVENE

New Mexico Knights of Columbus held their 1983 mid-year convention this past weekend in Albuquerque. As part of the event, Robert Sanchez, Archbishop of Santa Fe, and Fourth Degree members, in full regalia, celebrated Mass at the immaculate Conception Church on Saturday.

Nat Chavez, Grand Knight of Carrizozo Knights of Columbus, Sabino Vidaurri Council, attended the convention. He was accompanied by financial secretary Tommy Guevara.

Pizza 'to go' is club project

Jan. 29 is Pizza Day for the FHA-HERO chapter of Carrizozo. From noon until 5 p.m. club members will take "take out" orders for pizza—pepperoni, hamburger and cheese with green chile. They will be delivered to customers' homes, $7 each for large ones.

The chapter raffled a Navajo rug in December, with Rosemary Gallegos holding the winning ticket.

Montano wins scholarship

Carrizozo High School senior Robert Montano has been notified of the award of a $500 academic scholarship from the University of New Mexico.

The award letter stated:

"Please accept my personal congratulations for your achievements and my wishes for your future academic success. You and your family should be proud of your academic achievements."

Scholarships increased by K of C

The Santa Rita Parish Knights of Columbus recently voted to expand its school scholarship program, according to Grand Knight Nat Chavez.

First undertaken in 1982, the Knights' program recognized promising students need financial assistance to attend a post-secondary vocational school or college by an award of $100. In taking the leadership among local organizations offering scholarships, the local group has now decided to increase the number of scholarships to two, and to increase the amount to $200 each. Spring fundraising activities by the Knights will now focus on raising money to meet the requirements of each scholarship. Both scholarships will be awarded the evening of graduation, May 24, 1983.

Interested students may contact any member of the Knights or the high school counseling office for information.

By MARGARETRENCH

Last Thursday the day started with fog and mist and by 10 a.m. snow showers arrived and lasted all day. Much in this area melted, but we received five inches. There were many minor wrecks on Haley Hill and Angus as well. A little car went off the mountain on Angus. The traffic was detained until they pulled it back on the highway. When we were stopped it was quiet, but it started snowing hard. By the time we could get by there was three inches and we could hardly get to the top. I turned back from there and was fortunate to arrive home in one piece. It took 1 1/2 hours to get home. There has been several accidents in that spot in this last storm. The courteous state police have been on the job and did great. I thank them kindly. Everyone should appreciate their service.

This kind of moisture is the finest and greatest we could receive. Nature is being kind to us for this is real moisture which is badly needed.

The visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum totaled 172 from Jan. 13-23. Since October 15, 1982 when they started another year, they have had visitors from 42 states and five foreign countries.

Smokey Bear Museum has tickets for the Senior Citizens quilt. The drawing for it will be April 13.

Capitan basketball boys team attended the tournament in Dexter Thursday through Saturday. Capitan won third place in the tournament Saturday.

Late last Wednesday night the fire alarm sounded. The fire department went to the Jack Eldridge home north of Capitan. Neighbors went to their aid and had it nearly controlled by the time firemen arrived. Cause: probably the fireplace.

The Capitan Extension Club will now be offering a $100 scholarship to a 1983 graduating senior.

Applicants must attend a New Mexico College and be interested in home economics or agriculture or something related.

Applications will be taken until April 15. The recipient will be chosen by the club on the basis of need.

Send applications to Marian Wohlegemuth, P. O. Box 521, Capitan, NM 88316.

No specific application form is required. A letter from the student in regard to this application will be sufficient as an entry form.

The Capitan Extension Club held its monthly meeting on Jan. 20 at the Fair Building. It was reported that the next county council meeting will be held Jan. 31 at the Corona School. The meeting will begin 10 a.m.

The subject of the program will be parliamentary procedures. All members are urged to attend. The day's program had to be cancelled due to bad road conditions. Therefore the business meeting was held, and everyone enjoyed a leisurely lunch.

Next month's meeting will be held Feb. 17 at 10 a.m. The program will be on lap quilting, with Bert Beavers and Pat Hume as hostesses.

There was no school last Friday due to the snowstorm.

Happy birthday to Sue Huet on Jan. 28, and many more.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Proctor became parents of a daughter born at the Ruidoso Hospital Jan. 17, Melissa Dee. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dee Proctor of Hondo.

Roy Horton's sister from Phoenix, AZ, came by and picked up Roy's mother and they went to Houston, TX, for a week's visit with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leslie and four children moved from Roy, NM to Hondo, at the Whitaker Ranch, two weeks ago. Sunday they visited Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne and family in Capitan.

Herbert Traylor spent one week in the Ruidoso Hospital and came home then contracted pneumonia. He has been very ill for three weeks, though at this time he is doing nicely. I wish you a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Askew and family are preparing to move from mid-Capitan to the subdivision west. They are painting and getting everything in order to their liking.

Blame it on snow and ice—

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON

Everybody knows who did the "strip" act in the White Oaks Casino on Jan. 20, but Bud Crenshaw doesn't seem to mind.

The snow and ice claimed two victims recently. Bob Green fell and broke two ribs while trying to break ice on a water tank. Then Bud Crenshaw fell off his roof trying to fix a leak during a snowstorm. Bud Squires was inconvenienced when he wound up in the ditch after hitting a rock in muddy ruts.

White Oaks Road is muddy and impassable except for 4-wheel drive vehicles. This makes it difficult for the mail carrier to deliver the mail and for children to get to the school bus stop and back home again.

Local bow hunters killed three deer, four goats and one bull. One calf is still carrying an arrow in

GRIZZLY ANNUALS NOW ON SALE

The 1982-83 Grizzly Annuals are on sale through Jan. 28 and may be purchased from Scott Shepperd, Alex Serna, Tim Vega or Tom Fink, phone 648-2401 or -2901.

The annuals will be delivered in August and cost from $11.50 to $14.50.

'Beastly weather' upsetting

Old man winter continued to play havoc with New Mexico high school basketball schedules last week.

The mountain schools of Capitan, Ruidoso and Weed were all affected by the latest storm during the Dexter tournament.

The Tigers played Jal and lost 75-53 in the first round, and were unable to get back to Dexter the next day.

On Saturday the roads cleared and the Tigers returned to play Hagerman for fifth place. After trailing most of the game, Capitan outscored the Bobcats 22-7 in the fourth quarter to win 69-52.

Todd Proctor and Grady Eldridge each scored a total of 28 points in the two games to lead the Tigers. NMMI won the tournament with a decisive win over Hatch. Jal defeated Dexter for third.

Capitan teams now start playing the all-important district games, meeting Cloudcroft there Friday, and facing the Hagerman Bobcats at home Saturday.

2.3 persons per square mile in New Mexico

Leo Yates, Extension family life specialist from NMSU, spoke on "Intergenerational Relationships" Jan. 19 at the La Junta Extension Club, Hondo.

Yates stated the density of population per square mile in Lincoln County is 2.3 persons; in the state, 10.7; and in the United States, 65.2. These figures were contrasted with 250 per square mile in France; 592, Great Britain; and 1535, India. This density of population partially explained the increase of 56 1/2 percent in New Mexico's population the last 10 years.

Grizzlies swamp Magdalena

Carrizozo's A and B boys teams and the varsity girls team all defeated the Magdalena teams last Saturday, Jan. 22.

The varsity boys were led by John Roueche with 20 points and 15 rebounds which contributed to the Grizzlies 84-41 win over Magdalena.

Also scoring for the Grizzlies: Tim Vega 14 points, Alex Serna 8 points, Kevin Wilmore 8, John Hemphill 6, Buddy Hill 4, and Dominic Vega 4.

"One of the stronger points of the game was our free throw shooting," said Head Coach Hal Roueche, "which is the result of the 100 free throws a day the boys shoot at practice." The team got into some foul trouble as two boys fouled out near the end of the game.

The Grizzly boys JV team defeated Magdalena JV team, 60-40. Kenneth Crenshaw was high scorer with 16 points and James Gueyara followed with 11. Roueche was also impressed with the JV freethrow percentage stating it as good or better than the varsity's.

The varsity girls rolled over Magdalena, 53-22. Coach Jerry Koller describes the game as "complete team effort." Team stats were impressive with 65 total rebounds, 20 steals and 15 assists. Christetta Chavez scored 18 points followed by Mary Jane Ferguson with 10. Koller is still concerned with the free throws and the turnovers, two areas in which the girls showed little or no improvement.

People are seeking a more rural and less crowded way of life, he said.

Life in nursing homes was discussed, and various situations were presented and solutions offered in caring for older people.

The club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Cecilia Booky, who is the 4-H Club leader from the Hondo area. She gave a report on the 4-H club work. Her daughter, Alice, was one of four delegates from New Mexico to the National 4-H Round-Up at Denver recently.

Doretta Burchett, a 4-H Club recipient award winner to the Citizenship Convention, showed slides and gave an informative talk on her trip to Washington, DC.

The next meeting of the La Junta Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Hazel Arthurs, Hondo, who will present the program on diet and exercise, Feb. 16, at 10:45 a.m.

School to host educators from South America

Carrizozo Schools has announced that a group of Central and South American educators will be visiting Carrizozo on Wednesday, April 13.

The group, presently studying education at the University of New Mexico's Latin American Educational Program, will be visiting Carrizozo in order to get a first-hand look at rural, small schools, and to view the local agricultural education program.

Selected from from among a number of New Mexico districts, the Carrizozo Schools will be providing interpreters from current faculty and staff for the visiting group. The April 13 agenda includes school tours, a luncheon, and discussions with school faculty throughout the day. The visiting educators will be representing Guatemala, El Salvador, Panama, Peru, Columbia, Ecuador and Mexico.

JV teams outshoot Capitan

The Junior High boy and girl teams of Carrizozo defeated the Capitan Tigers, Jan. 17. The boys won 38-33.

Eight grader Tommy Escamilla scored 16 points and Bryan Cantrell was close behind with 14 points. "Our defense needs some working on," said Coach Bill Vitany, "but our playing has improved since the first game of the season."

The girls defeated Capitan 22-11 with Karen Baroz of Carrizozo high scorer with 8 points. Coach Veda Stephenson was pleased with the ball handling of the young girls team.

You Can Have A New House That YOU Can Afford!

At last, you can buy the house you've always wanted for a price you never thought possible — right here in Lincoln and Otero Counties.

You can have a 2, 3, or 4-bedroom home on your lot for prices ranging from $24,000 to $28,900*, depending on how fancy you get. And we'll even help you get it financed — whether you are low-income or have a budget!

(You may be surprised at how low your payments can be.) You simply cannot beat our prices, anywhere. But, even more important, we absolutely guarantee you the best anywhere in the State.

Maybe best of all, our houses are extremely energy efficient so that those gas and electric bills don't kill you every month. (In fact, you can probably cut your utility bills in half; and that can go a long way toward making your monthly payments.)

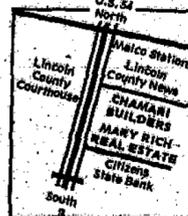

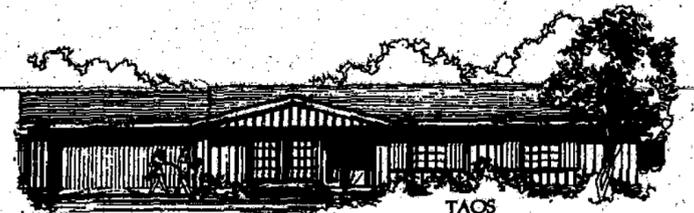

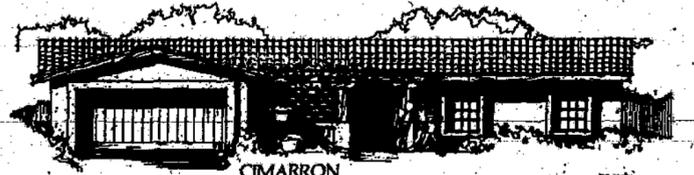

Every house has a modern built-in kitchen equipped with the finest appliances; and it is completely decorated, inside and out. But you get to make all the choices — right down to carpet styles, vinyl patterns, fixtures, and colors.

Another nice thing is that you won't have to wait six months or a year. After you've made your selections and your financing is approved, you can be living in your brand new home in 90 days.

Know anybody else that can heat that deal? Come talk to us. We can help you say goodbye to your landlord and put your money where it counts — in your own home.

FOR THE umpteenth time the US Supreme Court has ruled against prayer in public schools. This time the Lubbock, TX, Independent School Dist. triggered the decision by allowing students to voluntarily gather for prayer either before or after regular classes. The court ruled again that the policy violates the principle of separation of church and state. Presumably the matter will not end there. Schools, cities, counties and states will continue to try to make school prayer possible and the court will continue to thwart them. New Mexico has just had a filing at legalizing school prayer, which the court batted down. Why do people persist in trying to get around the court's public prayer rulings? Are some people so devoted to the act of praying that they will continue to impale themselves on the cutting edge of the US Constitution? If people have concern for prayers by their children, why not send them to their respective churches and order them to pray or get their butts spanked. This plan worked well in Old New England and produced some pretty pious people.

IF PARENTS feel that churches are inadequate as places of prayer by children, they might consider requiring their offspring to pray at home. This would mean that parents must exercise discipline over their children, something not in vogue at this time. It would be much easier on parents to place this responsibility on the schools, just as they have enjoined public schools to teach their children manners, provide their meals, tend to their sniffles, give them sex education, teach them to brush properly and how to become addicted to government handouts. Schools are so occupied in the capacity of substitute parents that they have little time to teach English, math and science courses. For the results, consult the SAT scores.

TO PRAY, in the words of Ambrose Bierce, is "to ask that the laws of the universe be annulled in behalf of a single petitioner confessedly unworthy." That sounds unduly cynical, for many people regard prayer as a personal communication between themselves and their God, which brings them peace and comfort. Prayer gets out of hand when it turns into requests for material things rather than as expressions of gratitude for what they enjoy. Prayer thus can become a form of twisting the Lord's arm in an attempt to persuade the Almighty to do something which, if it needed doing in the first place, He would do on His own without suggestions from below. I have never understood why so many people admit to the goodness, wisdom, justness, omnipotence and omniscience of God, but still can't trust Him to do the right thing.

IF PRAYING at home and at church still isn't sufficient for some people's spiritual needs, or if praying en masse is preferable to praying in private, why don't proponents of public school prayer rent halls in their respective communities, provide delicious refreshments, after which all present will be commanded to voluntarily pray? Why are they so obsessed with praying only in public schools?

INTERIOR SECRETARY James Watt might have done well to pray for guidance last week when he said in a television interview: "If you want an example of the failure of socialism, don't go to Russia. Come to America and see the Indian reservations." That put Indians on the warpath, Gov. Toney Anaya into his political pulpit, and Watts' environmentalist enemies in high gear. Few people bothered to read or listen to the rest of what Watt had to say, which they should have done out of fairness. What Watt was doing was asking help for the Indian population, not abusing it. He said: "The tribal governments are good; the Washington government is oppressive. Let's help those people help themselves rather than abuse them like government's done in the past 100 years. It's a shameful thing we've done." If there ever was a true, compassionate plea for better treatment for Indians, it is contained in this speech by James Watt. What does he get from those he seeks to help? Read on.

WHAT WATT said is precisely what Indian leaders themselves have been saying for more than 100 years—that the federal government's reservation system is oppressive and that Indians should have more control over their lives. He was correct when he said Indian reservations are socialist, but I suspect Indians already know this. Whatever their reasons for this unholy hue and cry, it isn't because Watt said the federal government oppresses them. Indians, I suspect, have learned that it pays to raise hell (especially when the element of "racism" can be injected into the process) because it gets attention and results. For his forthright and compassionate observation the tribes have called Watt a racist—just for saying Indian reservations represent failed socialism!

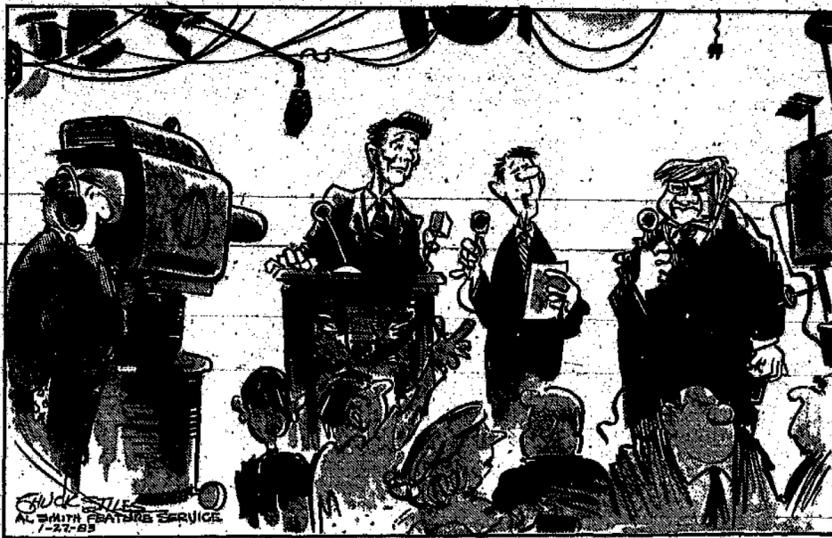

WATT WAS perfectly correct in citing failure of the reservation concept, and right in saying that Indians have suffered because of it. There are 261 Indian reservations in the US on which reside 735,000 of our 1.4 million Indians. These reservations cover more than 52 million acres. Unemployment on reservations runs from a low of 31 percent to a high of 90 percent; 43 percent of Indian families live in bad housing; Indian infant mortality is 15.5 percent per 1,000 live births compared to 13.8 percent for the rest of the US population. Alcohol-related deaths among Indians increased 56 percent between 1966 and 1975; and there are 900 cases of gonorrhea per 100,000 Indian population compared to 500 cases nationwide in 1979. Government cannot be held accountable for some of these ills, like begetting drunks or contracting venereal disease. These are individual choices. But in the reservation system the government is accountable for such things as infant mortality, unemployment, education and housing. Which is socialism at work.

ELMER SAVILLA, executive director of the National Tribal Chairmen's Assn., agrees that Indians are plagued by social and economic problems induced by government control. That is what Watt said, so why is Savilla after his scalp?

REX EVANS, executive director of the United South and Eastern Tribes, waxed emotional with this comment on the Watt statement: "It's the most genocidal, racial slur we've ever heard from a government official."

HANK ADAMS, a Sioux leader in Olympia, WA, said Watt's comments are as offensive as those "Custer's Revenge" games being sold around the country. A New Mexico Indian leader is credited by the Associated Press in saying that what Watt said is the greatest threat to the Indians' "God-given culture since smallpox." Such hair-trigger sensitivity to a true and well-meaning statement by a responsible government official reflects no credit upon his critics.

A GREAT man, Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce tribe, was defeated in battle by Gen. Nelson A. Miles in 1877, after which Joseph admonished the general: "Treat all men alike. Give them all the same laws. Give them all an even chance to live and grow." This is what Watt said he wants and, I hope, what the Indian people want.

"THANK YOU, MR. PRESIDENT... AND HERE NOW, FOR THE OPPOSITION, TO DEPROGRAM THE AUDIENCE..."

Church sells art treasures over donor family's protest

By REV. LESTER KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — Almost everything lately has been coming up roses for Washington's Episcopal Bishop John T. Walker.

On Christmas Day, his sermon was nationally televised by the NBC network from the pulpit of the impressive Washington Cathedral of which, as bishop, he has also made himself dean.

Last September, he became an even greater favorite to become the ranking prelate (Presiding Bishop) of the nation's nearly three million Episcopalians. For The Washington Post afforded him extensive coverage when Bishop Walker announced that he had gotten the Cathedral out of one of the most extensive debts incurred by any church in the 20th century.

"In May 1979, we set out to raise $15.5 million, plus the campaign expenses of half a million, by the Cathedral's 75th anniversary," he declared in press release. "We have attained our goal."

This press release, issued by Cathedral communications director Nancy Montgomery, went on to report:

"A total of over $18 million in gifts and pledges has been raised."

This is not the whole truth. For a copyright story in Washington Guide magazine (Cir. 120,000) has disclosed what has never been mentioned in any of the Cathedral's news releases, which average two a week.

The magazine learned that Bishop Walker, together with his trustees (members of the Chapter) — who include Sen. John Danforth (R, Mo.) who is an Episcopal priest, banker-newspaper magnate Joe L. Albritton and former Secretary of Defense and World Bank President Robert McNamara — sold a number of the Cathedral's art treasures — over the strong protests of the family of the donor.

Mrs. Emilen Davies Evers of Cleveland is the daughter of the late Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, President Franklin Roosevelt's Ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Ambassador Davies, after extensive discussions with former Cathedral Dean Francis Sayre, gave one of the world's most valuable collections of Russian icons, jeweled mitres, painted Russian Easter eggs and chalices. — including one which belonged to the first Romanov czar — to the Cathedral, with the understanding that it would be used for purposes that were "educational as well as providing a link with the whole ecumenical movement," recalled Mrs. Evers. With her sisters, she provided a special $10,000 iron grate to protect her father's collection on exhibition in the Cathedral crypt.

Mrs. Evers said that she did not hear of the Cathedral's intent to auction her father's gift collection until "the collection was all boxed and barreled and on its way to auction in New York... a fait accompli... I was just horrified because during the last two years of his life, he talked to me at length about giving his collection to Dean Sayre (President Woodrow Wilson's grandson) and the Cathedral."

She went on to describe the Cathedral's auctioning of this treasure (from which) along with a master painting, the Cathedral received $250,000 as "an outrage. The Cathedral wasn't even polite. They used my father's name, against our wishes, for advertising purposes."

Ambassador Davies also contributed some $250,000 in cash to the Cathedral as well as providing a number of stained glass windows, in addition to leaving the Cathedral his famed home "Tregaron," where he lived with his wife, heiress Marjorie Merriweather Post.

The Cathedral decided not use Tregaron — and sold it to Davies' three daughters (one of whom is deceased) for $400,000. One of Davies' granddaughters, Mrs. Burdette Wright of Washington, told Washington Guide that under the present management of the Washington Cathedral, "We could expect to find our stained glass windows replaced."

Mrs. Evers has resigned from the Cleveland chapter of the National Cathedral Associates, a national organization that raises money to help meet the Cathedral's annual operating budget of $2,500,000.

Mrs. Evers' sister, Mrs. Lowell Ditzzen and her son, former Sen. Joseph Tydings (D, Md.), say that they approve of the auction. But Mrs. Ditzzen added, "Besides, he didn't stipulate that the Cathedral was never to be allowed to sell his gift."

But Mrs. Evers along with several Davies grandchildren boycotted a Nov. 28 ceremony in which the Cathedral dedicated a memorial arch to Davies next to the tomb of Woodrow Wilson.

"The inscription is not only incorrect, but it is corny," comments Mrs. Evers. "It says he was a civil servant, when he was never a civil servant. It calls him 'Son of Wisconsin.' What does that mean? It sounds like 'Son of Lassie!'"

Benedict Arnold denied reburial at Arlington

By LESTER KINSOLVING
ARLINGTON, VA. — For the millions of Americans who have been disgusted and outraged by the burial in Arlington Cemetery of an anti-nuclear terrorist, only 14 years after the burial there of a Communist Party leader, there is one bit of good news: the nation's most prominent shrine to our honored dead will not be open to reburial of the disabled US Army veteran, Maj. Gen. Benedict Arnold.

A spokesman for the Department of the Army, which has authority for Arlington Cemetery, explained that Gen. Arnold is ineligible for burial there "because his last tour of duty did not end honorably."

But Robert Thompson, who after his honorable discharge became New York State Chairman of the Communist Party, was buried in Arlington, after the US Court of Appeals ended a three-year legal battle by ruling he was so entitled.

Thompson had won the Distinguished Service Cross during World War II. But Arnold, as the Continental Army's hero of Danbury, Quebec and, particularly, the key victory of Saratoga, where he lost a leg, surely deserved two or three DSCs before he became the most odious traitor in American history.

Arnold failed to obtain an honorable discharge before his attempt to betray West Point to the British. Or else, like Thompson, he would have been eligible — at least for his ashes to be placed in a niche of the columbarium. Thompson, by contrast to Arnold, allied himself with an organization far more oppressive than the Great Britain of George III.

So did another honorably discharged veteran of World War II named George Lincoln Rockwell, funder of the American Nazis. Rockwell was allowed to be buried in Virginia's Culpeper National Cemetery. But when his Nazi pallbearers showed up with the casket draped with a swastika instead of the Stars and Stripes, the authorities very commendably refused to tolerate this outrage. So, Rockwell, who had been assassinated, was buried elsewhere.

In Arlington's mausoleum, a new row of niches has, at the very time of this writing, only one new name: Norman Mayer, along with his Navy rank and dates of birth and death.

Mayer is the honorably discharged veteran and, later, dope-pushing, anti-nuclear fanatic, who backed up a truck to the base of the Washington Monument and threatened to blow it up.

Mayer's ashes are now interred at Arlington because his family so requested and the present regulations allow it. None of the Mayer family was in the top of the Monument for hours while this maniac threatened to explode it with what could have been a truck full of explosives.

Even the left-wing Wahington Post, which originally called Mayer a crusader, changed its front page headline to identify him as a terrorist, while publishing an editorial justifying the police gunfire which put an end to Mayer's 10 hours of terror.

For such a person's ashes to be interred in a shrine along with those of so many of the nation's heroes is a national outrage. How, for example, will the survivors of the next veteran interred in the mausoleum feel when their loved one's niche is next to that of this terrorist?

Secretary of the Army John Marsh has written a protest of the Mayer interment, in which he notes that burial in Arlington is "not only a privilege but an honor... Those who participate in acts inconsistent with such honor should not be accorded the privilege."

But Marsh added: "Under existing regulations, the Army has no choice but to accede to the (Continued on page 5)

Board needs better representation

EDITOR—I would like to send a special message to parents of school-age children. The ones who have complained to me and the ones who have complained to others about the school system.

Now is the time to take stock of the people who are running for school board and try for a change. At present we have three elected members and two appointees. Two of these have children not yet of school age, four are graduates of another school, one is a graduate of this school and has had children graduate from our school. The question then is, what kind of school board do we want and what kind of representation do we expect to get?

We have two beautiful cultures in Carrizozo. One is not represented as much as it could be. The needs of our school are many. A few include a counselor who is hired to work with the needs of all children, not just the college-bound. Most of us wouldn't want a man of the cloth in our church catering only to the heaven-bound. We need one who understands the rest of us, too.

The aides who help with the education of our children could probably use help to go to seminars and take college courses in the summer so they could be more effective in the education of our children. The needs are many, especially board members willing to make decisions to provide the best for all the children of the community.

The best education the rest of us can get out of the classroom is to make use of the happenings of others; it saves on wear and tear on our own skin. Take a good look around you, your friends, their children, the teachers, the administration, what you hear, what you see and what you know for sure. Average this out and you know what kind of representation we need and haven't been getting. I cannot emphasize strongly enough on weighing the possibilities very carefully.

CONNIE MORALES,
Carrizozo.

Cramer refutes story

EDITOR—In the lower right corner of your front page for Jan. 20, 1983, under the headline "Four seek places..." you published a news release which stated: "William Cramer (unemployed and parttime AFL-CIO organizer for American Federation of Teachers)..."

For a time this school year, I was an employee of the local school. Since then, I have drawn unemployment compensation but often draw a reduced payment (or none), because of parttime employment. I was employed as a substitute teacher at the time of your Jan. 20 publication, had been so employed from time to time prior to that date, and anticipate further similar employment.

I have been a member of the National Education Association for many years. I am an at-large member of AFT which I deem to be the better organization in New Mexico in terms of member service and professional publications. I have never been an organizer, parttime or otherwise, for either group and have never been employed by either.

With the advent of my 62nd birthday in March, I plan semi-retirement under Social Security. I shall supplement SS income by substitute teaching and through a business venture with a silent partner in Carrizozo.

WM. L. CRAMER,
Carrizozo.

(ED. NOTE—The news story to which Mr. Cramer refers was prepared and submitted to this newspaper for publication by the Carrizozo Municipal School administration. We published it in good faith. If it contains the errors of which Mr. Cramer complains, the NEWS apologizes to him and believes the school administration should also do so.)

'Paranoid objections' to ERA

EDITOR—If your editorial regarding the ERA is correct and women are really equal in all areas, why is it that:

1. Older women are the majority of the poor?
2. Women face poverty in old age because of a lifetime of pay inequity and dependency?
3. The average length of time that a divorced woman with children receives child support is approximately two years?
4. That, following a divorce, women's income decline by 73 percent, while men's increases by 42 percent.

You state that you have never heard of an employer who paid women less simply because they are women. Open your ears—I was once paid $10 per week less than an admittedly less capable man. I was told, "He's a man and they have to support a family." In actual fact, I had a family while he was single.

Your rejection of the amendment because it contains the word "sex" is ridiculous. My Random House Unabridged Dictionary contains ten definitions, beginning with "the fact or character of being either male or female." No place can I find any reference to perversion of any form. You must have a very dirty mind, or perhaps you are using a pornographic dictionary.

I do agree with your statement that "nobody but an ass would deny women equality with men in all things." (When I looked up the word "ass" in my dictionary I found some very interesting definitions—shame, shame!) The real problem is that there are many "fools, or blockheads" (one of the nicer definitions) who are still able to find many paranoid objections to the ERA.

I was born before women were even equal enough to vote, and I intend to support equality for women with my dying breath.

HAZEL BICKFORD
Cedarvale, NM.

Supports school administration

EDITOR—I am writing this letter in support of the present school administration. Had we had the quality of education and an accredited school in 1974, this community would not have suffered the problems of medical care that it has been undergoing.

At that time when I was grievously overworked, a middle-age medical doctor came here very interested in settling here and setting up a practice in association with me. When I asked if he had any school-age children, he stated he had a 15-year-old son. I then could not with clear conscience advise him to settle here because our school system was not accredited, unless he sent his son to NMMI. Due to this lack of accreditation, we lost the services of this doctor.

Since the present administration has been here I have noticed among my school-age patients an enthusiasm and school spirit which had been entirely missing during the previous ad-

Temperatures registered last week at Lincoln Station show a high of 45 degrees on the 19th and a low on 10 on the 21st and 22nd with a 3-inch snow on the 20th and 2 inches on the 21st. Total moisture for the week was 0.65".

cleaning and painting in the American Legion Building Sunday afternoon. The outside work will wait for the mud to dry.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Molder, Deming, were visiting friends here Monday.

Lee Shumate called from Roswell Sunday to say that her father, Jim Rogers, 93, had entered the hospital with heart problems.

Preceptor Alpha Nu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday afternoon in the home of Geraldine Perkins with Patricia Perkins in charge of business and ritual.

The treasurer reported that pecan sales are going well and there are still some on hand. The holiday party at the Barn Dinner Theater was a success in spite of wrong turns in the road and snow drifts. Members plan to attend more often.

Kathleen Williams reported on the clinic move and was given a check to help with the cost of repairs and alterations at the American Legion Building. Eleanor Smith, Founders Day Chairman, announced tentative plans and will alert Preceptor Alpha Nu at Mountainair. Members there will be invited.

Mrs. Smith, word chairman, gave four words she found in recent reading: rapacious-grasping, predilection-to prefer, prehensile-tail developed for seizing, and dipterocarps-family of trees found in the rain forest and used for panels.

Patricia Perkins presented programs from the Selected Cultural Outline on social behavior: how manners and courtesy affect human relations; and living gracefully, meeting life's situations with grace. She stated that courtesy and good manners obviously are a part of what we are talking about but the subject is much larger than etiquette. Most important it includes how one thinks of himself and how one treats himself. There was roundtable discussion and it was agreed that manners are "in" again after two decades of abandonment. Etiquette is defined as an accepted code of usage or conventional requirements—as to social behavior: proprieties of conduct as established in any class or community or for any occasion.

The hostess served an assortment of cheeses and crackers, nuts, trifle, tea and coffee. The next meeting will be Feb. 21 at the home of Eva Mae Holleyman.

Mrs. R. L. Sharp returned Monday afternoon 10 days in Bloomfield with the Paul Cartwrights, Alan Tubbs and David Sharp are here helping get the sheep and calves in shape for the El Paso Show next week.

Crown CowBelles met Jan. 13 in the school recreation room with out-going president Linda Ponder presiding. Eve Latham served brownies, tea and coffee. Members enjoyed a hamburger, french fries, and peaches at the school cafeteria. Since the December meeting had to be cancelled because of weather and road conditions, there was much business to close the old year and begin the new. Reports were given and plans discussed.

Dorothy Vaughan, NMCB president, Fort Sumner, was present as were Myra Richards, Roswell, and Suzie Manness, Dexter, mother and daughter of the president-elect.

The scholarship dance netted $211 which was very good in the snowstorm. Members who could not attend will add their admission fee to bring up the total. The cake auction brought $150 for Boys-Girls Ranches. Mrs. Proctor's bikini cake brought $30 top price. Betty Russell has the box and is collecting items for Girls Ranch.

Lee Sultemeier reported that the Farm-City week observation had gone well. She had taken jerky in red napkins and cook-off recipes to the school and talked about the relation between city people and farmers and ranchers. The students were interested and asked questions, especially "When is the poster contest?"

Mrs. Ponder made up 36 bags of jerky, napkins and recipes and took them to the Capitan School as a Happy Thanksgiving greeting to the staff from Crown CowBelle. Joanne Washburn is chairman for the local poster contest. The theme this year is "Why Beef?" Entries are due the last of February.

Date of the annual NMCB meeting is March 27-29 at the Albuquerque Convention Center. The district meeting March 3 is in Carrizozo with Canyon CowBelles. Crown will be helping.

The National Beef Cook-off is May 21 at the University of New Mexico Home Economics Center.

Lee Sultemeier received her scrapbook for 1981 and Mrs. Ponder hers for last year. Both recommend a committee rather than one person for this chore.

I feel we need to support in the the coming election the candidate who has children attending our school and therefore has great interest in its continuing excellence. We need positive, not negative thinking members on our board.

REDACTOR—Escribo esta carta en apoyo de la presente administracion de escuela. Si tuvieramos buena educacion y una escuela acreditada en 1974, este pueblo no hubiera sufrido las problemas con respecto a cuidado medico que ha experimentado.

En aquel ano, yo tenia demasiado que hacer; un medico mostro mucho interes en colocarse aqui para establecer una clientela. Le dije que yo no podia recomendar nuestra escuela para su hijo, porque dicha escuela no era acreditada. Por esta razon, el medico no se quedo aqui.

Desde que la presente administracion esta aqui, he notado que mis pacientes de edad escolar exhiben un entusiasmo y espiritu con respecto a la escuela que no existia bajo la otra administracion. Varios de los estudiantes me han dicho que les gusta la escuela, y que estan aprendiendo.

Es mi punto de vista que, en la eleccion que nos acerca, debemos apoyar al candidato que tiene hijos en la escuela y que tiene mucho interes en continuar la excelencia que existe aqui. Necesitamos miembros en nuestro conjunto de educacion que piensan positivamente y no negativamente.

Nothing's too good for our 'friends'

EDITOR—At the heart of any sound military or space program are its missile systems. American contributions to the development and deployment of the Soviet missile system are immense.

Our most profound contributions began in the late 1960s when Soviet military research scientists were allowed to study at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. These scientists were not only brought up to date on the most recent American technological advances but were permitted to tour our plants where this technology was being utilized in sensitive national defense projects.

Our assistance to the Reds did not end with educating their top military scientists. For in 1972 President Nixon authorized for sale to the Soviets 164 precision ball bearing grinders. The Soviets had a critical need for machines of this type as their own technology was so backward it had not progressed by the 1970s to the stage of being able to produce the equipment needed for the manufacture of ball bearings. The grinders that our government licensed for sale in 1972 to the Reds, however, were not at all ordinary.

These grinders were capable in fact, of manufacturing tiny ball bearings to extremely close specifications—a 25-millionth of an inch—the precision needed to build the inertial warheads on intercontinental ballistic missiles.

'Parents not told'

EDITOR—The quotes in your story printed on the front page for Thursday, Jan. 20, may have been correct about graduation reviews made in September-October.

However, parents were never told until about the middle of January that our seniors were behind in meeting graduation requirements, and that they would have to change classes.

It is with sorrow that I must ask you to withhold names because we do not want retaliation against our student-children.

family's request."

Two days after, the Army announced that it will conduct a review of these regulations, which a spokesman adds may "take several months, by the Army's general counsel and a working group."

During a brief interview, Secretary Marsh explained that any such change in regulation had to be published for 30 days to allow comments, and "We want to discuss this with the Veterans Affairs Committee in Congress. But we fully recognize a need for some change. We have heard expressions of concern about this from all over the country."

Marsh's commendable concern suggests that this will be done as expeditiously as possible. He also notes that ever since 1960, Arlington Cemetery has had a space problem. Ground burial is now limited to career military people or those killed in combat, or to veterans who have served in high government posts, such as Presidents, Supreme Court justices, cabinet officers and the like. "There have been only 38 exceptions to this regulation since 1967, and 34 of them were ordered by the President," recalled Marsh.

Army commander-in-chief Reagan should order immediately another exception, so that if any veteran who became a communist, Nazi or terrorist dies and his family requests burial in this national shrine, a restraining order can halt any such desecration of this national field of honor.

Electronic banking comes to Carrizozo and Ruidoso

Two local banks have joined with 14 other banks and savings and loans throughout New Mexico to begin offering their customers the convenience of electronic banking.

Security Bank in Ruidoso and Citizen's State Bank in Carrizozo, two Bank Securities banks, have united with Albuquerque Federal Savings & Loan, First National Bank in Albuquerque and all other Bank Securities banks to offer their customers statewide banking through automated teller machines (ATMs). The ATM systems of the three financial organizations—MINI-MINT from Bank Securities, Incorporated, PASSBOOK TELLER from Albuquerque Federal and MONEY from First National—will be known as THE EXCHANGE.

Customers of the two banks will have the option of obtaining an EXCHANGE card for use at 46 associated tellers in 13 cities in New Mexico.

GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BONDS
CAPITAN MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 28
LINCOLN COUNTY, NEW MEXICO
SERIES MARCH 15, 1983
$100,000

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of the Capitan Municipal School District No. 28, Lincoln County, New Mexico, constituting the governing body of Capitan Municipal School District No. 28, Lincoln County, New Mexico, will, on the 10th day of February, 1983, at the hour of 7:00 o'clock, P.M., prevailing Mountain Time, at the Conference Room, Capitan High School, Capitan, New Mexico, receive sealed bids and publicly open the same for the purchase of its:

General Obligation School Bonds, Series March 15, 1983, in the principal amount of $100,000; Dated March 15, 1983;

Consisting of 20 bonds numbered 1 to 20, inclusive, being in the denomination of $5,000 each, marked on the outside "PROPOSALS FOR PURCHASE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BONDS, CAPITAN MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 28," and addressed to James K. McDaniel, Secretary of the Board of Education, Capitan Municipal School District No. 28, P.O. Box 278, Capitan, New Mexico 88316.

Bond Nos. (all inclusive)	1-20
Years Maturing	1992
Amount Maturing	$100,000

Bonds of this series are subject to prior redemption, in inverse numerical order, at the option of the issuer on July 15, 1989, or on any interest payment date thereafter upon payment of the principal amount thereof, and interest to the redemption date.

Principal and interest being payable at the Office of the Lincoln County Treasurer, Carrizozo, New Mexico.

The Bonds are authorized at a regular election held within the District on the 23rd day of February, 1982, for the purpose of erecting, furnishing, remodeling and making additions to school buildings and purchasing and improving school grounds.

Said bonds will constitute the general obligation bonds of the District, payable from general ad valorem taxes which shall be levied without limitation as to the rate or amount.

It is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest; provided, however, that (1) No bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity; (2) Said interest shall be evidenced by only one set of coupons; (3) Said coupon rates shall be only in multiples of one-eighth of one percent (1/8 percent) or one-twentieth of one percent (1/20 percent). The maximum net effective interest rate permitted for such issue is ten percent (10 percent) per annum. In accordance with law, "net effective interest rate" means the interest rate based on the actual price paid to the District for such bonds calculated to maturity according to standard tables of bond values.

Bidders are requested to submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest rate of interest and premium, if any, above par at which such bidder will purchase said bonds; or (b) the lowest rate at which the bidder will purchase said bonds at par or a discount not to exceed 1 percent of the total amount. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked on the outside "PROPOSALS FOR PURCHASE OF GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BONDS, CAPITAN MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 28," and addressed to James K. McDaniel, Secretary of the Board of Education, Capitan Municipal School District No. 28, P.O. Box 278, Capitan, New Mexico 88316.

Said bonds will be awarded to the highest and best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, or discount taken, if any, and subject to the right of the Board of Education to reject any and all bids and readvertise. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, or adding the amount of discount, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the coupon rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bond to the date of the delivery. The bonds will not be sold for less than 99 percent of par and accrued interest, nor shall any commission be allowed or paid on the sale of such bonds. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

All bids shall be sealed and made on the official bid form, and except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a deposit of two percent (2 percent) of the principal amount of the bonds, i.e., $2,000, either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check or, by certified check drawn on a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States, which deposit shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within sixty (60) days following the acceptance of the bid, or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District, and in that event the Board of Education may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid, or if all bids are rejected, the Board of Education shall readvertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best received (and for not less than 99 percent of par and accrued interest), the Board of Education shall determine which bid shall be accepted; provided, that said Bonds or any part thereof may be sold to the State of New Mexico at private sale and without advertisement.

The Board of Education will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-four (24) hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at a bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or elsewhere at the purchaser's request and expenses, within sixty (60) days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within sixty (60) days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding thirty days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder during the said succeeding thirty days, the good faith deposit will be returned and both the District and said successful bidder will be relieved of any further obligation.

Bids must be made upon the Official Bid Form. Copies of said Official Bid Form and other additional information may be obtained from the District's Financial Advisor, Quinn & Co., Inc., P.O. Box 528, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Phone: (505) 842-1000 or from Ira D. Lee, Superintendent of Schools, Capitan Municipal District No. 28, Box 278, Capitan, New Mexico 88316, Phone: 354-2238.

A certified copy of "Transcript of Proceedings Relating to the Issuance of General Obligation Bonds of Capitan Municipal School District No. 28, Lincoln County, New Mexico" and attached approval of same by the Office of the Attorney General of New Mexico will be supplied.

CUSIP numbers will be printed on the filing panel on the back of the bonds, at the District's expense; provided however, that any incorrect CUSIP number printed on any bond or the absence of any CUSIP number on any bond, shall not constitute cause to refuse delivery of any bond. The successful bidder must pay the CUSIP Service Bureau fee.

The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the issuer for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the issuer.

The legality of the bonds will be additionally approved by Messrs. Kegel and Montez, a Professional Corporation, Attorney at Law, Santa Fe, New Mexico, whose unqualified approving opinion, together with the printed bonds and a complete transcript of the legal proceedings including a certificate stating that no litigation affecting the validity of the bonds is pending, will be furnished the purchaser without charge. The legal opinion will be printed on the bonds, at the expense of the purchaser, if requested in his bid.
