Crime Stoppers

A new concept in fighting crime

By P. E. CHAVEZ
Crime Stoppers of Carrizozo at their January meeting last Monday evening learned how their program, area law enforcement agencies, and the media can work together to combat crime.

And who could better inform the group than Greg MacAleese, who created the first Crime Stoppers program in 1976 in Albuquerque.

On loan from the Albuquerque Police Department, MacAleese, director of the State Crime Stoppers Commission, told his audience, "In those communities where you have total cooperation the program has been tremendously successful."

Members of the Carrizozo Crime Stoppers board, town, county and state law enforcement heads, NEWS representative, and other interested people heard what MacAleese had to say about the nationwide program.

Crime Stoppers has been instrumental for court action being taken against 2,800 individuals, resulting in a 98 percent conviction rate. Over 350 Crime Stoppers programs have been established in 4 states. Felony cases solved total 24,700 and $100 million worth of stolen property and narcotics have been recovered.

Every Crime Stoppers

program sets its own pace. Programs are designed to combat crime problems of specific areas. "For instance in Albuquerque, we really just focus on violent, felony crime. We are able to take an unsolved case every week, re-enact it on television, publicize it on radio and in newspapers," MacAleese, a former newspaperman, told local Crime Stoppers.

"This is not practical in an area where there isn't a lot of felony crime. You folks are really blessed by the fact that you don't have much crime like many areas around New Mexico. That doesn't necessarily mean you don't have problems."

MacAleese told the group that by reading the local newspaper and talking to State Police Sgt. Jack Johnson that area residents are concerned about local criminal activity and its impact on the community. Johnson is the local Crime Stoppers police coordinator.

"It can and will be effective," MacAleese assured the local group about their program, which was formed last year. "It will take continued hard work on your part, the media and law enforcement agencies," adding that size of town, population and crime problems are aspects to take into consideration when a program is formed.

A breakthrough in solving a case reflects the cooperation of police and community in their effort to fight crime. He cited a New Mexico town which finally solved a crime 1 1/2 years after joining Crime Stoppers. The solving of the burglary, which resulted in the recovery of $2,800 in stolen property, gave residents confidence in the ability of their local Crime Stoppers program.

A lot of people are going to sit back and they're going to wait for your program to be successful. They're going to wait until you pay out a little money, until it's proven to them that the first guy who calls Crime Stoppers in Carrizozo doesn't get blown away or found in the lava pits beaten up. As soon as he (the potential caller) feels confident, the program is going to work and then he is going to call you."

Crime Stoppers is really designed as a cooperative effort between the police and community. "To take care of some of the bad guys, so that they are no longer around or give them a message that this isn't an easy place to be around," MacAleese said.

"In no way does setting up a program imply that local law enforcement is inefficient. Crime Stoppers is not an attempt to take the place of existing procedures. Crime Stoppers are not vigilante groups. It is mainly an additional form of communication.

"All Crime Stoppers does is generate information. It is up to the law officials to verify what our callers tell us. When law officials have an investigative direction they can be much, much more effective," MacAleese said.

A side benefit of Crime Stoppers is the intelligence network that exists among law enforcement agencies throughout the nation. MacAleese cited incidents of transient crime. In addition, the State Crime Stoppers Commission keeps in touch with law officials in other countries.

MacAleese explained how Crime Stoppers programs work and how rewards are handled. Some of the programs are set up as individual entities with city limits, such as in Albuquerque. Some programs are formed countywide, such as in San Juan, Otero and Dona Ana counties.

A toll-free number in Albuquerque is currently in use for Carrizozo Crime Stoppers. MacAleese gave an account of a typical call received at Albuquerque which concerns criminal activity in Carrizozo and surrounding area.

Suspect and vehicle description, prior arrests, associates, hangouts and facts of crime is information recorded in a questionnaire. The caller is given a code number, unless he or she waives anonymity and give his name and telephone number. The caller is asked to call the Albuquerque number on a weekly basis so that they can be given a status report on the investigation.

Albuquerque then relays the crime information to Johnson who in turn routes the details to the county or town officials.

The reward money is paid in cash. If a caller is reluctant to receive a reward from a local crime board, MacAleese said that Albuquerque Crime Stoppers will handle the payoff. Reward policy varies. Reward is given after an arrest and property is recovered or upon an indictment in case of a felony. Crime Stoppers also pays on some misdemeanors upon conviction. Local boards determine amount of rewards, based on MacAleese's recommendation.

"If the information is generated under the state commission we are obligated to pay the full amount unless the local board wants to help out," MacAleese added.

"As you get a little further down the road, in addition to using our toll-free number in Albuquerque, you may want to establish a local number," he told Carrizozo Crime Stoppers.

Lions seek 'aptitud' for revue

The Carrizozo Lions Club is in need of more acts to represent the culture of the area for inclusion in its Talent Revue of 1983, set for Friday, Feb. 18.

Those who can sing or dance to Mexican music are especially invited to contact any club member and explain their talent.

The show will be staged in the old gym at Carrizozo School, beginning at 7 p.m.

School election

Gibson, Hollis, Guevara winners

Tommy Guevara, Richard Loyde Hollis and Omer L. Hoot Gibson were elected to the Board of Education of Carrizozo Municipal School District Tuesday's election.

Voter turnout was above normal. 339 ballots were cast compared to 316 in the previous school board election.

The only contested position on the board was for Position 5, which pitted Gibson against William L. Cramer. Cramer is a former teacher in the Carrizozo system and generated controversy because of a complaint filed against the board over its failure to renew his teaching contract. An out-of-court settlement of Cramer's complaint was reached in a secret agreement between attorneys for the board and for Cramer, terms of which have not been made public.

He was also accused during the campaign of being an organizer for the American Federation of Teachers and for claiming to be employed when he was only doing substitute teaching assignments at Captain High School.

Cramer waged an aggressive campaign for the board but was swamped by Gibson, 282 to 54.

Gibson and his wife Linda are operators of Western Auto Store in Carrizozo.

Guevara, operator of a local barber shop, and Richard Hollis, a lineman for the Otero County Electric Cooperative, were unopposed to Positions 2 and 4.

The new board of education members will be sworn in at the regular meeting of the board on Feb. 15 but will not take office until March 1, according to Supt. James Miller.

Former resident held for murder

A former Carrizozo resident, Donald C. Rickerson, 36, is being held without bond in Otero County jail on a charge of murder.

Rickerson, now of Silver City, and a companion, Thomas Hurrelbrink, 29, of La Luz, are charged with the shooting death of Nick Dorame in Tularosa Friday night. Dorame was shot in front of his Texaco Service Station after he had given them all the money on hand. According to witnesses, the two believed he was "holding out" and demanded more money, and that Dorame was shot in the chest by Rickerson, who then ordered witnesses at gun point to take Dorame's body into a storeroom at the station. They were ordered not to call anyone for 15 minutes. One called Tularosa Police Department, and the two were arrested an hour later a few miles south of Tularosa.

A .45 Colt pistol, believed to be the murder weapon, was recovered at a house where the two had been living in Tularosa. A 30-30 rifle was also found in the house.

Rickerson told authorities he was born and raised in Carrizozo where his parents operated a Texaco Service Station.

Dist. Atty. Steven K. Sanders said he would ask for the death penalty for the man who pulled the trigger, Rickerson. He said there would be no plea bargaining in the case. Hurrelbrink and Rickerson will also be charged with armed robbery, with multiple counts because the suspects also robbed one of the witnesses.

Both men appeared in Magistrate Judge Robert Bradley's court in Alamogordo Monday morning to plead not guilty to the charges. They asked to be represented by a public defender.

VISITS OL' HOMETOWN

Former Carrizozo resident Lt. Col. Gilbert Ortiz was here from Abilene, TX, last weekend visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ortiz. Col. Ortiz is stationed at Dyess Air Force Base.

BACK HOME

Leon and Helen Lock are back home after a four-and-a-half month trip touring the countryside in their travel trailer. Their first stop was Kirtland, NM, home of their son and daughter-in-law, David and Nancy Lock. They are teachers with the Kirtland Central school system.

After the brief stop in Kirtland the Locks headed for Greeley, CO, for an overnight visit with Darlene Scott, former music teacher in Carrizozo schools. Darlene is working on her master's degree at Colorado State.

Traveling on to Omaha, NE, the Locks visited with their son Jim, an airman, his wife Janice and children Vance and Lynn. During this time, Vance and Lynn experienced trailer traveling with their grandparents.

The next phase of the Locks' trip found them in Vevay and Bennington, hometowns of Helen and Leon. In their month-long stay in Indiana they enjoyed beautiful fall weather and traveling throughout the state visiting with their many friends and relatives.

From Indiana they proceeded to Knoxville, TN, and the World's Fair. Helen's brother and sister-in-law Harold and Darlene Rook from Scottsburg, IN, joined them on a three-day tour of the fair.

SMALL WORLD

Next on the Lock travel agenda was Shreveport, LA, where son Jim was attending a six-week seminar for non-commissioned officers at Barksdale AFB. After a long weekend visit with their son, the Locks headed for Texas.

They spent six weeks surf fishing at Port Aransas, North Padre Island and Port Manfield. There they visited with Ben and Janet Bradley of Corpus Christi and Rene Burton of Carrizozo. Rene, the Locks' neighbor, is Janet's mother.

The Locks spent six weeks at Lakeview Park, Weslaco, TX, in the fruit belt. They toured the valley from Harlingen to McAllen where the bulk of Texas citrus fruit is grown.

While in McAllen they visited with Bill and Martha Halloran, who maintain a residence there and spend their summers in Nogal, NM. Before heading back to New Mexico the Locks toured Brownsville, South Padre Island, and Boca Chica, TX, and into Reynosa and Progreso, Mexico.

On the way back to Carrizozo they spent two days in Roswell, NM, with their son and daughter-in-law, Shawn and Rebecca. The Locks arrived in Carrizozo on Jan. 22.

BIBLE BOWL PARTICIPANTS

Several local boys and girls participated in last Saturday's Mountain States Bible Bowl held in Albuquerque. The event was held at Montgomery Church of Christ. Youth from New Mexico, Arizona and Texas competed in the contest.

Attending from Carrizozo were Julie Harris, Jeanna Sims, Clarice Carpenter, Timmy Baum, Pete and Jacob Narvaez. Tracey Kelly, who lives near Corona, joined the Carrizozo youngsters. Adults accompanying the team from Carrizozo were Mary Hausenbuhler, Charlene Brown, Everett and Sue Kelly, Rita Narvaez and Bryan Wetzel.

CLUB NOTE

The calendar that can be read like a local weekly newspaper is the one the Carrizozo Woman's Club sponsors. The main feature is people's wedding anniversary and birth dates. Local club meeting dates are also listed.

The following celebrate birthdays in the next five days: Mary Hernandez, Gilbert Ortiz (Feb. 4); Phillip Ortiz, Heather Miller, Sandy Vermillion (Feb. 5); Monica Ortiz, Mark Holguin (Feb. 6); Earl Fenter, Betty Fields (Feb. 7); Matt Sandoval (Feb. 8). If your calendar has not been delivered or you would like extras see Sue Stearns.

The Woman's Club will hold a bake sale Feb. 11, Friday, at the conference room of Citizens State Bank. See classified ad for more details.

ATTENDS HAIRSHOW

NHCA member Rita Narvaez of Erma's Beauty Salon was in Roswell, Monday, Jan. 17, to attend a showing of spring and summer hairstyles. The event was held at the convention room of the Sally Port Inn. Rita joined Otero County NHCA members and other area members at the Roswell trend release event, entitled "American Reflectons."

YOUTH SUNDAY

Members of Santa Rita's Catholic Youth Council (CYC) traveled to Capitan Sunday to participate in the parish monthly Youth Sunday. The Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) of Capitan joined the Carrizozo youth for the event, which included hamburgers and the trimmings.

The day began with Mass at Sacred Heart Church at 9:30 a.m. This was followed by a program presented at the parish hall by men from Camp Sierra Blanca Adult Rehabilitation Center located at Fort Stanton. The men talked about prison life; what it is like to "do time" in New Mexico; and how the prison system in Santa Fe is different from the camp and from the county jails. The men shared their experiences with the youth and told them that prison life is not like that portrayed in the movies.

CYC members of Carrizozo who attended Youth Sunday in Capitan included Juan Osorio, David and Peter Morales, Daniel and Ruben Zamora, Gabriel and Christetta Chavez.

SEW SMART

Do your clothing facings play peek-a-boo and have lumps at the tops of zippers? Solve these and many other problems by attending a 4-hour seminar in Roswell on Tuesday, Feb. 22. The seminar will be presented at the Roswell Inn by Clotilde Yurick, well-known author and lecturer. The event is sponsored by Chaves County Cooperative Extension Service.

If you register by Feb. 10 the tuition is $12. The cost is $15 at the door. Lincoln County seamstresses may want to car pool to Roswell to participate in the workshop packed with designer techniques, tips and shortcuts. Call the extension office in Carrizozo for

CENTER ACTIVITY

Carrizozo Zia Senior Citizen Center made $191 in January by sponsoring fundraising events.

The proceeds help to meet matching government funds to keep the facility open. The satellite centers in Corona and Capitan are just as involved in money making projects. The seniors encourage the public to attend their events: A spaghetti dinner and a bake sale are only two of many projects planned for Carrizozo for this month.

Driver license renewal notices won't be mailed

SANTA FE — The Motor Vehicle Division of the Transportation Department informs all state residents who possess a New Mexico driver's license and whose license expires in March and thereafter, to present their current driver's license to their local field office for renewal prior to expiration of license.

As of March, due to budget constraints presently faced by the division, the division will no longer be mailing out the "renewal notice," which previously had been sent out as a courtesy to all drivers.

The department urges all drivers to physically inspect their driver's license for the expiration date which is one month after an individual's birthday. Application for driver's license renewal may be made 90 days prior to expiration of the license.

The division also reminds drivers that if they renew their license within 30 days after the expiration date, a written test will be administered. If a person renews after the 30 days of expiration date, both written and road tests will be given. An eye examination is mandatory in all driver's license renewal situations.

Capitan wins over Bears in thriller

Jon Aguilar hit a 15-foot jump shot with one second left on the clock to give Capitan a thrilling 61-49 win over the Bears at Cloudcroft Friday night.

The game matched two of the top 10 class A teams in the state.

Cloudcroft took an early lead and tried to stall the ball against the bigger Capitan five. After taking advantage of several turnovers, the Tigers were able to catch up in the third quarter, and the game was nip and tuck until Aguilar's shot made the difference. Robert Parker with 17 and Todd Proctor with 11 points paced the Tigers.

Saturday night, Capitan downed Hagerman 59-48 for the third time this year. The Tigers got balanced scoring, led by Danny Cummins with 18, Robert Parker 12, Todd Proctor 11, and Eddie Davis 10 and Aguilar 8.

The Tigerettes also won two of three games last week, upsetting Hatch 38-37, winning over Hagerman 49-41, and dropping a 47-40 game at Cloudcroft. Freshman Tracy Herd led the way against Hatch with 14 points and Tiffany Huey was high point at Cloudcroft with 17. Against Hagerman, Becky Phillips and Patti Huey each scored 15 points.

The Hondo Eagles will be in town Friday night, and Capitan travels to Lake Arthur Saturday.

FFA safety program

Carrizozo's Future Farmers have initiated a safety program and are assessing safety needs for the community.

The chapter safety committee includes Geneva Maxwell, Mary Jane Ferguson, Melody Hecker, John Rouche, Steve Stearns, Daryl Lindsay, Lynn Gallacher, Janet Willis, John Hemphill and Gray Gallacher.

The committee has contacted businesses and offices to inquire about safety hazards and to receive suggestions for accident prevention programs. These firms include Belco Industries, New Mexico Highway Dept., Otero Electric Cooperative and Southern Pacific Railroad.

As part of the program, State Police Officer Randal Rhue has shown a film on safe driving to FFA members and alumni, Rotary Club and high school students. The Vo Ag II class has spent a week on shop safety. Elementary students had a poster contest last week, the winner to be announced next week.

A Safety Day will be held at the high school, and all chapter members will be put through a shop safety check. Members will meet with the town council to discuss safety concerns in the community, and to ask permission to paint crosswalks.

A few days will be set aside for demonstrations on first aid training, led by emergency medical technicians. Game Warden Joel Pafford will conduct a firearms safety program, and Tom Guck on chainsaw safety. Tuffy James and other markings will be painted in the Vo Ag Shop.

OPINION

AH, WELCOME February, the month of purification amongst the ancient Romans, and the month of Candlemas Day (Groundhog Day to the misinformed).
"If Candlemas Day be dry and fair,
The half o' winter's come and fair;
If Candlemas Day be wet and foul,
The half o' winter was gane at You!"—Scotch proverb.

EMERGING FROM the icy arms of January we are warmed by an incident sure to arouse concern among women of the fevered brow who long ago discarded their bras and embraced "in puris naturalibus" the Equal Rights Amendment. In Albuquerque last week one William Garcia (male) filed a $240,000 lawsuit in federal court against his former employer, Digital Equipment Corp., and his immediate supervisor, Jackie Sanchez (female), claiming he was discharged for racial and sexual reasons. He said he and Sanchez had been exchanging sexual favors, but he became disenchanted and broke off the relationship; that Sanchez tried to rekindle the flame and failed, so she got him "terminated." The Equal Rights Amendment isn't even in place yet and already men are having to call on the federal government to protect them from the sexual demands of women, the lucky dogs.

BENJAMIN HOOKS, honcho of the NAACP, recently took 2 1/2 days to lecture President Reagan for not being able to understand the plight of the poor. His pitch to the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, which supports ERA, didn't enlighten the presidency on how to understand the plight of the poor, probably because there's nothing to understand. It's all very simple: The poor have no money. Once that's understood, what's to understand?

SHOULD SOMEONE become unhappy with poverty, as Mr. Hooks apparently is, he should remember that poverty has created a vast financial empire made up of social hemophiliacs, pundits, journalists, college professors and politicians all of whom derive their living (and zest for living) by citing the horrors of poverty to a public obsessed with the topic. Mathematically, poverty cannot exist in this country because it is impossible for the poor to be poor when 78 cents of every tax dollar and $50 billions in private charity are spent each year to eliminate their poverty. One year's "poverty take" would send every certified poor person to Harvard for four years, something the non-poor are not financially able to do.

UH, I HAVE a question for Mr. Hooks. Do you or any of your impoverished constituency understand (or give a damn) about the plight of the rich? Or of the middle-class? Or of the almost-but-not-quite poor?

THE CHILL winds of political disfavor slammed into Nogal recently, fueled by fulminations of Innocuous Anaya, and swept Fern Sawyer from the New Mexico State Racing Commission. Fern is the first and only woman to be appointed to this commission and had been recommended by outgoing Gov. Bruce King to continue in her term. But Fern, according to breathless messengers arriving from Santa Fe, was reluctant to kiss the ring (lousy synonym) of the newly anointed governor, so he had her political head. It must be disappointing to Fern, who is a rugged individual, an achiever and hard-working rancher; who pays her bills, keeps her hands out of the public till, and who has won just about every award for riding, roping and cowmanship at New York's Madison Square Garden, only to be thrown by a Mechanical Bull. Democrats, like children, can be cruel to each other—as former Democratic Cong. Phil Gramm of Texas might put it. Could ERA have saved Fern? Stay tuned.

ONE OF the joys I expect to savor in February is the prospect of OPEC sheikhs and near-sheikhs having to go back to riding camels and herding goats for a living. This coterie of certified brigands met in Geneva, Switzerland, last week and failed to agree on how many dollars per barrel of oil they would extort from energy-starved nations. The cartel is falling apart. Its members may no longer hold the world for ransom as they have done since 1972, during which time billions of dollars a day were being dumped into their coffers. Thinking the bonanza would last forever, they borrowed even more billions from western banks to finance their herds of Mercedes and piles of palaces. Their rags to riches story has now turned into a riches to rags one, which proves that justice sometimes exists. May the peace of Allah abide with them and their goats.

LIBERAL handwringers are blubbering that if OPEC countries can't sell their oil at prices nobody can afford, they can't repay the billions loaned them by big US and western banks. I fervently hope that it is true. The sheikhs had no business even borrowing such vast sums of money when they were rolling in the billions that flowed in each day as American blood money. If big banks go kaput it will be because they deserve to do so. A banker who loans billions to some Third World buffoon for less interest and less collateral than he charges on a $1,000 loan to a US citizen so he can pay his last month's heating bill, deserves to lose his shirt, shorts and all appurtenances thereto. Giant US banks made loans to indigent Third World countries knowing in advance those loans could not and would not be repaid. They did so because they felt sure US taxpayers would pay off the loans rather than risk collapse of the US financial structure. The system deserves to fail, and I shall personally do whatever possible to see that these huge US banks get no taxpayer help. Americans should be pleased at the prospect of witnessing inept bankers enduring the consequences of their fiscal folly.

AT THE same time, these "big-time gambler banks" have greatly increased the interest rate which small and medium size banks must pay the Fed to get money they can loan to me and you. I have never known a small town banker who would even consider making loans of the sort which the "biggies" so stupidly OK'd.

THERE'S NOTHING wrong with the economy when Super Bowl tickets sold for up to $600 each... When in an alleged building and construction "recession" the 84 Lumber Co. expanded sales to more than $550 million, a 17.5 percent increase over last year...

A HEADLINE in the Jan. 13 issue of the Hobbs Flare is prophetic. It reads: "Democratic Party looking for new blood." Let's see, yours, mine, etc.

'If bishops can deal with weaponry, why can't admirals publish sermons?'

By REV. LESTER KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — When the US Navy and the US Air Force recently drew up an extended agreement to increase cooperation in such areas as joint maneuvers, a news conference was called at The Pentagon.

Both the Secretary of the Air Force, Verne Orr, and the Secretary of the Navy, John Lehman, were present. After their introductory remarks, they called for questions. This column asked:

"While we're on the subject of this welcome new cooperation between the Navy and the Air Force, there is, in its final stage of preparation, a widely publicized and very extensive letter full of guidelines on the use of nuclear weaponry, which letter is being produced by the Catholic bishops. Since the bishops have spoken to the armed forces on nuclear weaponry, would either of you secretaries have any objection to the bishops' protocol equivalent — the admirals and generals — reciprocating the bishops' gesture by issuing sermons on such ecclesiastical policies as (the anti-contraceptive-easychild) Humanas Vitae?" (Laughter)

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY: Well, first of all, the bishops haven't spoken.

QUESTION: But they've prepared it.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY: The drafting committee has circulated two drafts. There was nothing approaching a consensus at the bishops' meeting.

QUESTION: There was, sir. (The bishops conducted a straw poll at their meeting, which was overwhelmingly supportive of nuclear freezing.)

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY: Well, my agents among the bishops tell me differently! (Laughter)

QUESTION: They announced it.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY: They announced that they'd put off until May a recirculation of yet another draft, because the current draft could not get a consensus. So when the bishops formally speak as bishops, as opposed to a drafting committee's circulating drafts, then it's more appropriate. I think more is being read into this than is justified. I, and I'm sure Secretary Orr, do not expect to take to the pulpits to reciprocate. We think basically that the bishops have every right to address the moral issues. What I have objected to publicly is carrying that further and actually getting into weaponizing and the technical aspects of MX vs. the existing force, and how much accuracy should be in the system. It seems to me that the draft goes far beyond...

QUESTION: You said they (the bishops) are "all wet." Will Air Force and Navy officers — including chaplains — be able to speak to ecclesiastical matters in the way that the bishops have spoken to military matters? Or is it just a one-way street? How about you, Secretary Orr?

SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE: As far as I am concerned, it continues to be a one-way street. We are not unleashing our chaplains or our general officers to make comments about Catholic bishops.

QUESTIONS: Will they be rebuked if they do? Will they be ordered not to?

SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE: That depends on whether they are doing that in uniform, under the guise of something official, or whether they are doing it as a members of a church. I'm not going to interfere with their religious life.

A naval officer, like Secretary

Lehman, who is a Naval Reserve pilot, can, in civilian clothes, publicly declare that their bishops are "all wet" (a good nautical term) regarding nuclear weapons.

Therefore, admirals and generals and all other ranks should have the right to write and distribute sermons, if they do so in civilian clothes and as identified members of a church or synagogue.

New Mexico in Washington

Hope for embattled white minority group

By LESTER KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — No racial and sexual minority group in the United States has been more unwilling to organize — and therefore more targeted for discrimination in recent years — than white males.

But with the famed Bakke medical school admissions case the judicial pendulum began a slow swing toward what the Constitution seems to imply as equal (i.e. color blind) justice under the law. Bakke, the white male Marine Corps veteran who was denied entrance into the University of California at Davis Medical School despite his having scored higher on entrance examinations than a number of blacks and Hispanics who were admitted, is now an M.D. — having done well enough to have been taken on by the prestigious Mayo Clinic.

In the case of US Steelworkers v. Weber, the process of return to equal treatment regardless of race suffered something of a setback. But in its ruling the US Supreme Court supported a "temporary voluntary affirmative action program, designed to eliminate conspicuous racial imbalance in a traditionally segregated job category."

Moreover, this plan did "not require discharge of whites and replacement with blacks, nor does it pose an absolute bar to the advance of white employees."

In 1976, the high court had ruled, in an opinion written by Justice Thurgood Marshall, that in the case of Griggs v. Duke Power Company, discriminatory preference for any racial group, whether majority or minority, is prohibited.

In another case, McDonald et al v. Santa Fe Trail Transportation Company, three of this firm's employees were caught in the same misbehavior: selling of 60 one-gallon cans of the company's anti-freeze. But only two of these three men were fired. Both of them are white, and the third offender, who was not fired, is black.

The two whites were unable to obtain any assistance in this case of discrimination from either the so-called Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) or from a local district judge. For their case was dismissed on the grounds that 42 USC 1981, a law against discrimination, is "inapplicable to racial discrimination against whites." Not only did the US Supreme Court reverse this outrageous racist absurdity, but currently, the US Department of Justice has moved to end another case of reverse racism in Boston, a system as invidious as the old "grandfather-clauses" being rewritten to "sock-it-to-embecause-of-their-great-grandfather" clauses.

As US Solicitor General Rex Lee has stated: "White firefighters and police officers — some with more than 10 years of service — were furloughed, while black and Hispanic employees with as little as two years of service were retained."

Lee noted that Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 specifically exempts bona fide seniority systems from federal judges.

In this obvious racist endeavor, the NAACP has been joined by the so-called US Civil Rights Commission, whose dreadful record is studded with instances of its contention that "Jim Crow" should be replaced with "Crow Jim."

The NAACP also has the backing of the EEOC, an agency which is supposed to contend for equal employment but which has been found by Federal Judge Patrick E. Higginbotham to have been practicing such flagrant discrimination in its own employment practices as to be a "Case of the cow stepping into the bucket."

For Dale H. Jurgens, a white male attorney, was employed by the EEOC at the time when President Carter appointed as its new head the notorious Eleanor Holmes Norton.

Under Horton's "reorganizing" of EEOC, eight of the 10 district directors who are white were screened and reviewed out of their jobs. The new lineup had only two white males, four white females, four Hispanic males, four black females and five black males.

Jurgens has filed a class action suit on behalf of all white males employed by the EEOC at any time since 1974. He cites Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964: "It shall be an unlawful practice for any employer to fail, or refuse to hire, or to discharge any individual with respect to his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment, because of such individual's race, religion, sex, or national origin."

EDITOR—I generally do not respond to editorials; however, the editorial by Mr. Ernest Joiner was so vitriolic that I can not help but rebut.

Mr. Joiner in his editorial was obviously responding to the dearth of publicity that the southeastern NM ranchers have called to themselves—to make more legitimate their unsubstantiated claims of sheep kills.

It is my opinion that if these sheepherders couldn't take predator kills off their income tax the amount of predation would immediately wane. Anybody who loses one-fourth of their flock to any predator is obviously a poor manager. It is these same poor ranchers who are being subsidized by the taxpayer on their leases of public lands.

I personally believe the native wild animals have as much right to roam the land as do the woolly invaders. Don't get me wrong, I'm not against sheep, per se. I think wool clothes are better for the environment than polyester clothes. "Kill a sheep save an oil well." Maybe we should have a season on polyesters?

If indeed lions are killing sheep, why don't the ranchers kill them on sight? It's perfectly legal. Chances are they never see them. Kinda makes me wonder—in northern New Mexico the sheep ranchers don't seem to have a problem with lions, maybe because the Sierra Club that Mr. Joiner bad-mouthed has helped ranchers obtain Great Pyrenees dogs to guard the little fluffy critters.

If Mr. Joiner would only realize that the whole universe is tied together and what affects one species ultimately affects all of us, he wouldn't have to offer the public any more of his journalistic tirades.

Let me assure him that the wild-eyed environmentalists are protecting his interests as well as anyone elses. If somebody didn't protect wild things all animal life would go the way of the passenger pigeon.

In reply to his assertion that the Mt. Lion found in Carlsbad was hunting; it is a lot more probable that the poor cat was driven down by the snow and cold. The lion could not be induced to eat anything except deer and rabbit meat. Evidently it had no appetite for lamb chops or leg of lamb. As for sheep ranching it is and has been for years one of the greatest causes of soil erosion in the west.

Maybe if Mr. Joiner studied the facts before venting his rage against environmentalists he would be a more believable journalist.

School prayer defended

EDITOR—In response to your article about "prayer in school," you say, "children should be sent to church to pray or pray at home."

At a time when television is flaunting violence, immorality, fornication and filth before our children's eyes, ears and minds, it seems strange that this issue would be a thorn.

I'm only grateful that as a child, especially in the lower grades, (and not taboo in high school) that each day was started with a psalm and prayer. If only my grandchildren had the same privilege!

We each have a spirit, soul (mind) and a body. We are squelching the children's spirits while endeavoring to "feed" their mind and body. One could say, "why eat at school, let them eat at home or go to the restaurants?" Is the body more important than the spirit?

As President Reagan stated in his address to the nation last week, "God should never have been expelled from the classroom in the first place."

MARJORIE WELLS,
Carrizozo.

Get at the real issues

EDITOR—It would seem that our liberal legislators are spending too much holiday time in the sun. Now whenever they return to Washington, all they can think about is freezing everything from land to nukés. As the 98th Congress convenes, however, you may be sure that there will be more serious business to chill us to the bone than any hint of undue pressure from the Frigidaire lobby.

If every warhead in the US nuclear arsenal were detonated simultaneously, the hot air produced by the blast would be insufficient to equal the amount that has already been released by the news media to fuel the phony peace campaign. Considering the anti-nuclear hysteria being generated throughout Capitol Hill, there is little doubt that the new Congress will be anxious to give high priority to legislation that would undermine our national defense.

Congress should be investigating the real issues and perpetrators behind the nuclear freeze movement. Attorney General William French Smith should be investigating the World Peace Council and other Soviet fronts spearheading the nuclear freeze bombardment to determine if they should be subject to registration under the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

HOMER BOYCE,
Lodi, CA.

Unusual sayings:

"I used to think I was poor, but I was told I wasn't poor, only needy. Then they told me it was self-defeating to think of myself as needy, that I was culturally-deprived. Then they told me deprived was a bad image, that I was underprivileged. Then they told me underprivileged was demeaning and over-used, and that I was disadvantaged. I still don't have a dime, but I have a great vocabulary."—Dottie Snyder, Adairville, KY.

Grizzly player Tim Vega jumps while teammates Dominic Vega [30] and Buddy Hill [24] get in position for an offensive rebound at the game with Lake Arthur Saturday.

Grizzlies win a few, lose a few

The Carrizozo Grizzlies lost their first district games last Friday to Hagerman, but the following day both boys and girls teams defeated Lake Arthur for their second district game.

The Hagerman boys topped Carrizozo boys team, 45-58. John Roueche scored 10 points and pulled down seven rebounds. Timmy Vega made nine points and 10 rebounds and Buddy Hill scored nine points.

The Hagerman girls defeated the Carrizozo girls 55-39. Two of Carrizozo's girls were forced out of the action due to a knee injury and a wrist injury. The Grizzlies had the first quarter lead of 16-14 but Hagerman gradually out-scored them. High scorer was Christetta Chavez with 17 points. Koller describes the game as "physical."

The Carrizozo A boys team defeated Lake Arthur 49-41. Top scorers were John Roueche and Buddy Hill with 12 points. Roueche was top rebounder pulling down 17. The JV boys also played and defeated Lake Arthur 70-21. James Guevara was top scorer with 16 points.

The Grizzly girls barely pulled by Lake Arthur, 43-39, as the starting five fouled out leaving the game to their three subs, Anna Luera (soph), Lynn Gallacher (soph), and Julie Vega (fresh). The three girls finished the last minute and a half of the ball game and managed to keep the lead over Lake Arthur with their five players. Coach Koller was pleased with the "cool heads" the three young players kept. The injuries from the Hagerman game had left Carrizozo two girls short.

Mary Jane Ferguson was high scorer with 12 points. "Free throws were the difference for the game," said Koller, stating that the Grizzlies made 17 of 33 freethrows to Lake Arthur's 7 of 28.

Tuesday, Jan. 25, Carrizozo's A and B girls team traveled to Ruidoso. The boys came back with a 50-24 win. High scorers were Joseph Candelaria and Carlos Sanchez, nine points each.

The Ruidoso girls squads defeated the Carrizozo teams. The JV lost 38-30. Julie Vega was top scorer with 12 points.

The varsity girls were defeated 50-36. "It was a cold shooting day," said Coach Jerry Koller, "the shots were there, they just wouldn't fall in." High scorer was Christetta Chavez with 14 points. Pam Beltran was next with 10 points.

The Carrizozo B teams played Goddard on Jan. 27, coming out with a win and a loss. Carrizozo's B girls defeated the AAAA Goddard school 39-32. Bonnie J. Shepperd led the team with 16 points.

Carrizozo's B boys lost 44-59, to the towering boys team of Goddard. Kenneth Crenshaw scored 14 points for high scorer of the game. James Guevara followed with eight points.

Mary Jane Ferguson puts up a two-pointer for Grizzly girls during Saturday's game with Lake Arthur. Bonnie Shepperd [20] trails the play.

● FEBRUARY is full of earth-shaking events. Feb. 1-8 is National New Idea Week. Its aim is to encourage Americans to spend an hour developing a new idea for personal or professional improvement. My new idea for this week is to be positive about the country's fear of a war that ends up a global nuclear holocaust. Just think of it as the ultimate cure for herpes. National Freedom Day was Feb. 1, proclaimed by the president in 1949 to commemorate the signing of the 13th Amendment which abolished slavery. With US taxpayers paying out 50 percent of their income in taxes, we should be grateful that we are only half-slaves. Today is Four Chaplains Memorial Day which honors the heroism of four US Army chaplains who gave their lifejackets to soldiers who had none when the USS Dorchester was torpedoed off Greenland during World War II. Last seen praying together, the four first lieutenants went down with the ship. They were the Rev. George L. Fox (Episcopal), Rabbi Alexander D. Goode (Jewish), the Rev. Clark V. Poling (Baptist) and the Rev. John P. Washington (Roman Catholic). Feb. 23 is Bachelor's Day—an excuse to ply your favorite bachelor with gifts, take him to dinner, and get him smashed enough to reveal the secret joys of single life.

● EACH FEBRUARY I set myself two problems to solve. This year I shall attempt to discover how it is that I can go into a supermarket and for 25 cents worth of coupons can buy a dollar's worth of groceries—but a dollar can't buy 25 cents worth of groceries. The other project is to figure out why it costs me $15 to have my entire house cleaned—but $35 to have my teeth cleaned.

Compliance with draft registration is high

Registration of 18 year old men with Selective Service continues to increase. As of Dec. 19, approximately 9.2 million men have registered for an overall compliance rate of 94 percent.

Since registration began in July of 1980, men born in 1960 and later years have been required to register. Compliance by year of birth is:

- 1960 — 96 percent
- 1961 — 99 percent
- 1962 — 95 percent
- 1963 — 95 percent

To date men born in 1964 have an "on-time" registration rate of 85 percent—a high rate when you consider that, historically, men tend to procrastinate in registering. For example: in 1973 and 1974, the last years when men were registering without a draft, "on-time" registrations ranged from 70 to 80 percent; within a year, that rate climbed to 90 to 93 percent. The same pattern seems to be holding in the present registration program.

More men are registering as the result of recent initiatives. Selective Service has sent out over 600,000 letters to men who have not registered—the agency is now able to identify these men as a result of cross-referencing their computer files with those of Social Security and state drivers' license lists.

Styles of women's attire have undergone many changes between Pioneer days and the Flapper Era of the late 1920s, as depicted here by Carrizozo ladies at a local talent show.

Styles and method of doing a lot of things have changed, but our style of offering the best financial service and accommodation to our customers is still the same. We believe in offering our experience and help to you whether it be to bring you up to the highest interest bearing accounts for your savings or talking about that loan you may be considering to remodel the house this spring.

Please pay us a visit, we enjoy the time we can have with you talk about our communities and families.

Said bonds will be awarded to the highest and best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, or discount taken, if any, and subject to the right of the Board of Education to reject any and all bids and readvertise. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, or adding the amount of discount, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the coupon rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bond to the date of the delivery. The bonds will not be sold for less than 99 percent of par and accrued interest, nor shall any commission be allowed or paid on the sale of such bonds. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

All bids shall be sealed and made on the official bid form, and except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a deposit of two percent (2 percent) of the principal amount of the bonds, i. e., $2,000, either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on, a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States, which deposit shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within sixty (60) days following the acceptance of the bid, or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District, and in that event the Board of Education may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid; or if all bids are rejected, the Board of Education shall readvertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best received (and for not less than 99 percent of par and accrued interest), the Board of Education shall determine which bid shall be accepted; provided, that said Bonds or any part thereof may be sold to the State of New Mexico at private sale and without advertisement.

The Board of Education will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-four (24) hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at a bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or elsewhere at the purchaser's request and expenses, within sixty (60) days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made with sixty (60) days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding thirty days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder during the said succeeding thirty days, the good faith deposit will be returned and both the District and said successful bidder will be relieved of any further obligation.

Bids must be made upon the Official Bid Form. Copies of said Official Bid Form and other additional information may be obtained from the District's Financial Advisor, Quinn & Co., Inc., P.O. The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the issuer for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the issuer.

The legality of the bonds will be additionally approved by Messrs. Two black eyes

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON

This column contains news, some serious, some gossip. We hope can give you a laugh. If anyone is offended by any of this, please accept my apology in advance.

Rancher Bud Crenshaw had a minor skirmish with a bedpost, which explains the bruise over his eye.

We had another two inches of snow here in White Oaks to add to our supply of mud. The road was graded Monday but is still bad in places, and two-wheel drive is not recommended off the paved road.

Also, motorists are reminded that there are children living in White Oaks and surrounding area. The speed limit is 25 mph. Please drive with care. Life is precious, especially when it is a child's life.

Increased insurance for PIK farmers at no extra cost

Farmers who participate in the Payment-in-Kind (PIK) program are eligible for increased insurance guarantees on insured wheat, corn, grain sorghum, rice, and upland cotton at no extra cost. To encourage the widest participation possible in the PIK program, the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. will accept downward revisions of previously reported acres and increase the per acre guarantee on the remaining acreage. Downward revisions of acreage reports may be made until March 11, 1983.

For the 1983 crop year only, insurance guarantees on the eligible crops will be increased by the following proportions: a 6 percent increase for acreage reductions of 10 to 19 percent; an 8 percent increase for reductions of 20-29 percent; and a 10 percent increase in acreage reduced by 30 percent. Percentage reductions are calculated for acreage reductions above the regular farm program set aside.

Farmers may participate in the PIK acreage reduction on one farm and not another. "Any increase in coverage will be in effect for the farm selected for PIK participation, without affecting the guarantee or premium on the other insured farm(s)," a spokesman said. "Upon acceptance of the revised acreage report, the premium will be recomputed on the reduced acreage and the per acre guarantee will be increased for the remaining acreage." Under a bid arrangement, farmers may reduce the entire acreage to zero. In that case, a zero acreage report may be made to the agent by March 11. Farmers should verify acceptance of the bid with their agent by March 18. If the bid is not accepted, the farmer remains insured for the acreage intended for harvest. Insured farmers should contact the local agent authorized to service their FCIC policy before March 11 to report any downward revisions on insured acreage and to gain the advantage of the increased protection.
