Controversial liquor license transferred

Lincoln County Commissioners granted a transfer of a liquor license to Mack Rice at their May 3 meeting, over protests by Ruidoso Downs liquor dealers and the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ruidoso Downs, the Rev. Dale McCleskey.

The controversial license belonged to an old Hondo bar. After consideration, commissioners authorized its transfer to Rice, from Hondo to a location just outside the city limits of Ruidoso Downs.

Attorney Dan Bryant, representing owners of existing liquor licenses, in Ruidoso Downs, told commissioners New Mexico law provides that the transfer of a liquor license could be blocked if it is proven that the transfer would be detrimental to the morals, public health or safety of area residents. He suggested that the new license is so near Ruidoso Downs as to put extra burden on a police department already burdened with the influx of patrons for the racing season. He stated that state law limits the number of liquor licenses to one for each population, and that Ruidoso Downs already has five liquor licenses for its population of only 900. Bryant charged that Rice actually intends to move the license to a restaurant under construction within the city limits.

McCleskey complained that very few people knew of the proposed transfer, and that he gathered 65 signatures in one day against any more liquor licenses in the area. He was also concerned because alcohol-related incidents would interfere with funerals conducted from his church.

Skeet McCulloch, speaking for Rice, said opinions of the Baptists are not representative of the general population, and that any plan to eventually move the license inside city limits is legal.

Commissioners said the proposed transfer follows the law in that their approval would simply move a license from one location to another inside Lincoln County, and that it had not been proven that removal of the license from Hondo Downs constitutes any detriment to the morals, public health or safety of area residents.

Commissioner John Hightower said he failed "to see how six bars could serve more liquor than five bars," the latter being the number already in the area. Bill Elliott, himself a Baptist, said he was not concerned about future plans for the license, and that its approval would be a

For Capitan, it's a habit

Tigers win state track meet

By TOM GUCK

Capitan Tigers took a thrilling victory in the 1600 meter relay to boost the team to the State Class A track championship in Albuquerque Saturday night.

The boys won the school's first track title ever, behind an iron man performance by four boys who scored the bulk of the points. The meet's outcome was not decided until the final relay race. As many as six schools were in the running for the title in the two-day event. The Tigers finished with 40 points to edge runnerup Texico with 38.

Robert Parker, Danny Cummins, Paul Sullivan, and Tim McElhannon ran the relay in perfect fashion to beat Texico by a step in the time of 3:33.4. The time broke a school record set in 1981.

Earlier in the evening, Robert Parker set a new state record in the high hurdles with a time of 15:08. Parker also placed 2nd in the low hurdles and 4th in the 800 meter run. Paul Sullivan took the other 1st place for the Tigers by winning the 200 meter dash in 23:23. He also placed 3rd in the 100 Tim McElhannon grabbed a 2nd in the 400 meter and 4th in the javelin throw, to add to the Tigers total. The 400 meter relay team of Sullivan, Cummins, McElhannon and Ron McDaniel placed 5th.

After Friday's preliminaries, things did not go so well for Capitan. Top sprinter David Beavers had to withdraw because of a pulled muscle and the medley relay team was disqualified for a lane violation. Defending state champion Robert Parker failed to place in the high jump, but the boys picked up the slack in the other events.

An elated coach Mel Holland said the 1600 relay was the key to the win, but was quick to recognize the great individual performances.

The state title climaxes a great year for the Tigers, who also won the football championship and made the state tournament in basketball.

The Capitan girls also did well, placing 5th with 20 points. Becky Phillips, won 2nd in both hurdle events, and Patti Huey placed 2nd in the 800 meter run. The 1600 relay placed 3rd and the 800 relay 4th for other points. Girls making up these teams were Tiffany Huey, Patti Huey, Becky Huey, Tracey Herd and Becky Phillips.

Former Capitan student Tomi Brooks was high individual of the girls meet to lead Tatum to the title.

Capitan's achievements are even more remarkable due to the fact that the school does not have a track.

Market Place taking shape

By P. E. CHAVEZ

This year's People's Market Place, sponsored by Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, will feature a fiddler's contest which should draw a large number of people according to W. A. "Woody" Schlegel, chamber president.

Schlegel said at Tuesday's non luncheon meeting that he will accept the chairmanship of the annual event to be held Sunday, July 31, at Spencer Park. As in the past, People's Market Place will be held in conjunction with Santa Rita Catholic Church Fiesta Days on July 29, 30 and 31.

Letters have been sent to 80 arts and crafts exhibitors. Spaces will be limited to 32 and rental fee is $10 per space on a "first come, first served" basis. Food vendors will need to obtain an itinerant food handlers permit from Ruidoso.

A committee consisting of Schlegel, Patsy Sanchez, Fr. Dave Bergs and Phyllis Schlegel has been formed to plan this year's event, Carrizozo's eighth.

The chamber is seeking citizen input on the possibility of obtaining a summer chautauqua for Carrizozo. The New Mexico Humanities Council (NMHC) of Albuquerque is sponsoring the event throughout the state in the months of June, July, August and early September.

The term "chautauqua" refers to traveling groups that operated in the United States from 1903 to 1930. They moved from town to town giving programs of lectures, concerts, and recitals in a tent. These traveling groups brought shows of mixed quality to people of rural areas. Their popularity decreased with the invention of radio and the development of other forms of entertainment.

The inspiration for the 3-day NMHC series is Hal Halbrook's imitation of Mark Twain. Three different performers will imitate three different characters for 1 to 2 hours each night. They will have a long list of characters to choose from which will probably include such people as Harry Truman, George Bernard Shaw, Mark Twain, Clarence Darrow, Henry David Thoreau and Martin Luther. Each character is a significant person from the past, and the program combines entertainment with education.

NMHC provides the tent, the tent, the sound, and lights as well as the publicity. The chautauqua will be offered free of charge to communities that can provide some basic services: (1) A site to erect the tent for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening performances, (2) Two people to help set up and take down the small tent, which is big enough for one performer. The audience is seated outside the tent looking in.

(3) About 150 chairs and two or three people to set them up each evening. (4) Someone to put the posters up and take public service announcements to the news media.

Dale Goad said at Tuesday's chamber meeting that he had approached the town council at the regular town meeting the previous evening on behalf of the Carrizozo Airport Committee. Goad requested and received approval from the council for an amount of $10 above operating expenses for improvements at the airport.

One-half ($5) would be the town's participation with the Federal Aviation Administration for an overlay of paved surfaces. The other $5 would be the town's participation with the State Aviation administration for extension of the tie-down area and possibly a hangar.

"It is a positive position the town council took on the airport" said Goad. Schlegel added that the facility is the "greatest asset the city has."

An engineer, who will make a presentation to the council in regard to overall needs and plans, stated that the FFA and the state offices are looking favorably at the local airport and are anxious to commit money for improvements. The mayor will need to formally request the FFA to have the municipal airport placed on their 1984 budget.

After completing college and serving in various capacities in the Jaycees, he began to fulfil a long-time dream — to build a retreat where handicapped young people could try things they had never been encouraged to try before.

This retreat, set to be built in the scenic mountains of south central New Mexico, will house orchards, gardens and a greenhouse, along with an area for tending small livestock.

Lyle, who walks across the country to raise funds for his cause, resides in Portales where he does his own housekeeping, cooking, yardwork and tends a large garden. He lives his motto:

"A walk in darkness for others' bright hopes."

OLD LINCOLN TOWN

By JERRY LOCKE

Lincoln is proud of Nathan Stone, a State Monuments Ranger here for the past 3 1/2 years. Nathan has received a well deserved promotion. He will be in charge of the Coronado State Monument at Bernalillo. A Capitan graduate; Nathan will be missed by locals and tourists alike. His replacement has not yet been selected.

Gary and Dee Miller just returned from a three-week trip to London, England. Gary spent a part of his youth in this area when his father, an Air Force officer, was stationed there. The Millers visited with Frederick Nolan, author of "John Henry Tunstall," and again talked with some of Tunstall's descendants. Tunstall was a leading figure in the Lincoln County War.

One of the things a visitor to Lincoln will notice is the extensive use of "adobe." The term adobe may refer to both the material and to the sunbaked mud bricks. Shaping of mud into brick is a technique introduced by the Spaniards. However, adobe as a material was used here long before the Spaniards arrived. The Indians formed the mud into long, low bands and using a method resembling present day rammed-earth construction, built structures without the aid of wooden forms. The extensive use of adobe is one reason not many structures built in early New Mexico times remain in their original form. Adobe not only weathers quickly but is modified, added to, rearranged and, in general, changed very easily. Thus, most of the structures listed as "original" have in fact been altered some way.

There is a heated debate going on in Lincoln concerning just what is or is not territorial style and architecture. I am not going to inject such a debate into this column. Lincoln has enough other wonderful things to write about. However, I will report on the outcome of the discussions and research taking place as a result of the recent Historical Review Board meetings. They have been informative. Attend them and learn as well as voice your own opinion.

Food for thought — "Every calculation based on experience elsewhere fails in New Mexico." (Governor Lew Wallace)

The Lodger's Tax committee has approved $148 for an airport ad in the Flying Revue, a publication for pilots circulated over southwestern New Mexico and Mexico.

Special guests at the chamber meeting were incoming Sun Duchess Lisa Cantrell and last year's Duchess, Elaine Cantrell, who modeled her coronation gown. Elaine thanked the chamber for its support when she served as duchess.

Duchesses participate in Sun Bowl activities in and around El Paso and promote the towns and cities in which they reside.

Barbara Langley, chairman of the project sponsored annually by the Carrizozo Woman's Club, introduced the Cantrell sisters at the chamber meeting. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cantrell.

Local merchants, clubs and banks assist the Woman's Club in sending a girl each year to participate in Sun Bowl festivities.

Lisa will attend a western party in Fabens, TX. The event is in honor of duchesses, princesses, family and sponsors. Duchesses are part of the queen's court. A queen is selected from among the princesses representing El Paso.

In other chamber business, Schlegel said that although the fiberglass industry the group sought was not realized, the fiberglass merchandise for ranch work use will be available locally.

Chamber members were informed that the town council will meet Monday, May 23, in the Lincoln County Commission room, located at the courthouse. The purpose of the 7 p.m. meeting is to discuss Zia Steel and a mini-steel mill.

Chamber members were told that the town approved a zone change request from attorney Bill Payne on behalf of a client who plans to invest $30,000 to renovate the old Girard Hotel. Monday's regular town meeting included an advertised public hearing on the matter. Only one resident living in the area voiced his opinion in the resident-to-commercial zone change. The man's concern was that the property owners would seek an alcohol license.

The town has received many inquiries about zone changes. The council based decisions on the response by citizens at public hearings.

Authorized a night jailer at the request of Sheriff Tom Sullivan, which requires no more money since funds are already available for the purpose in the sheriff's budget.

Agreed to a request by Ken Cohen to secure names and addresses of non-resident owners of improved property in Lincoln County from the new computer system by paying for programming, supplies, and furnishing a copy of the list to commissioners. Cohen plans to make the list available to area merchants. Commissioners approved, pointing out that the information is a public record and open to inspection anyway.

Media ignored this disaster

EDITOR—Imagine what a field day — no field decade — the boys from Censorship, Brainwash & Slant (CBS) would have if a real nuclear disaster occurred with 129 dead counted immediately, but the death toll gradually rising toward 200, with approximately 500 injured, at least 1,000 made homeless and, some 40,000 evacuated from the neighborhood at the power plant!

With what relief the American Brainwashing Company (ABC) would quote the president of the utility: "It was as if a gigantic flamethrower was being operated. About 80 people were engulfed by the flames. A fire truck was reduced to ashes in seconds."

And how the National Baloney Corporation (NBC) would wallow in the gory details—the 100 charred bodies recovered the first night after the disaster, the 110 power plant employees and 87 firefighters trapped by the flames. . . And imagine how the tax-subsidized network of Public B. S. (PBS) would dwell on the four journalists missing since the disaster, and on the horror of the journalist's body that could be identified only by the camera that lay nearby.

Well it happened. It happened on Dec. 20, 1982, at the Tocoa plant near Caracas, Venezuela, just as described above, except for one little detail—the plant was not nuclear, but oil fired.

That little detail presumably was the reason why none of the radio stations considered the item worthy of mention in their radio bulletins.

What happened in Venezuela could happen in the U.S. Especially in the predominately oil-fired power plants in the Northeast. The danger of disastrous fires keeps threatening for it is enhanced by the failure to replace oil-fired plants with the much safer nuclear ones. Anyone who doubts this should contact Dr. Peter Beckmann. He writes a newsletter, Access to Energy. His address is Box 2288, Boulder, Colorado.

Buck Rogers already here

EDITOR—Last March 22 President Reagan told the American people that he would support the "High Frontier" strategy for protecting the US from a Communist attack. Immediately the national news media poured cold water on the plan by telling us that Reagan was talking about "Buck Rogers" technology that wouldn't be ready for "twenty years or more" and might not work anyway.

What they did not tell you is that everything needed to put an effective orbital system in place to defend this country against Soviet weapons has already been designated and that most of it is sitting in warehouses.

The High Frontier concept, for those who haven't heard, proposes putting non-nuclear small rockets in orbiting satellites. The rockets themselves, the sensors to detect Soviet ICBMs, the computers to control them, the missiles to launch them, all exist at this time. High Frontier can be in orbit within two years, but the television networks don't want you to know.

Carrizozo has a heart

EDITOR—The St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-a-thon is over for this year and, looking back, I want to sincerely thank the citizens of Carrizozo for their generous support.

I am extremely proud of the 49 riders, the hard working volunteers whose efforts made this a success, and the citizens of Carrizozo. Thanks to them, we raised a grand total of $1862.23.

Your help was an important part of this event, and you performed a very worthwhile service acquainting the citizens of Carrizozo with the life-giving work being done by St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. For that, I thank you.

It is a wonderful feeling to know that the people of our community are concerned and caring individuals and, on behalf of the children of St. Jude's, I want to thank each and every one who helped.

CHARLENE BROWN, Campaign chairman.

Devil Bill Adams honored by EMS

At the annual recognition dinner of the Eastern New Mexico Emergency Medical Services Corporation Region III, Carrizozo resident Devil Bill Adams was recognized for his special contribution to the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) system in eastern New Mexico.

In presenting the award, master of ceremonies Brian Hecht of the Roswell Fire Department, noted that Adams became a New Mexico EMT in the early 1970s and an EMT instructor in 1975.

Upon moving to Carrizozo, he began working with the Lincoln County Ambulance Service and Sierra Blanca Ski Patrol. For several years he has taught EMTs in the area and currently represents Region III on the EMS Academy Instructor's Council, where he serves as president.

The award was presented at a recent dinner at the Portales Inn in Portales, NM. Approximately 100 people attended from throughout the 12 counties of Region III—Chaves, Curry, DeBaca, Eddy, Guadalupe, Harding, Lea, Lincoln, Otero, Quay, Roosevelt and Union.

Dinner speaker Robert McNeill, Secretary of Health and Environment, congratulated all of the award recipients and spoke on the role of the emergency medical technician (EMT) in the local community and the role of the EMS Bureau at the state level. He also commented on the enactment of new state legislation affecting emergency medical services.

NM Congressmen duck a scandal in the House

By LESTER KINSOLVING WASHINGTON — Allegations that Rep. Ron Dellums (D., CA) was supplied with cocaine on the floor of the House of Representatives are currently under investigation by the House Committee on Standards of Government.

A staffer of the House Doorkeeper has been found guilty of conspiring with Dellums to obtain cocaine and sent to prison. Chairman of the Committee is Rep. Louis Stokes (D., Ohio) who, on March 25, was stopped by two Montgomery County (Maryland) police officers, while motoring on the wrong side of a one-way street.

The two officers report that they smelled liquor on Rep. Stokes's breath, so they put him through three sobriety tests. And this chairman of ethics for the House of Representatives was unable to recite the alphabet or to walk a straight line — or even to find his nose with his finger. ("Just the man to put in charge of ethics in the House!" commented Washington's new all-comedy radio station, WJOK.) The attitude of all three of New Mexico's congressmen is not very much less ludicrous. For Stokes and Dellums are both committee, or subcommittee chairmen — which means power. And both are black militants — with Stokes angrily declaring to a press conference that this would have been handled differently if he were white. Such reverse racist rubbish was also declared to a press conference by District of Columbia Congressional Delegate Walter Fauntroy, one of Dellums's and Stokes's fellow members of the racially segregated Congressional Black Caucus.

"I have no other comment than that people are presumed innocent until proven guilty," said Rep. Bill Richardson.

Jerry McKinney, the usually congenial press aide to Rep. Joe Skeen, said the same thing — in refusing even to ask Skeen about this.

"I don't know that he was drunk," said Rep. Manuel Lujan.

"He says he wasn't. Others say he was: I'm not the judge."

Under this criterion, nobody has any right to presume that the late Al Capone was guilty of anything other than income tax evasion.

Under this criterion, nobody should ever be jailed prior to trial and conviction, for either drunk driving, or murder in the first degree.

Those citizens of New Mexico who have lost members of their families to either drunk drivers or cocaine, would be interested in this hands-off attitude of New Mexico's Congressmen.

At least Stokes should be asked to become inactive as ethics chairman until the conclusion of his trial. And Dellums, as chairman of a subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee, ought also to be relieved until he is either found guilty or exonerated.

But New Mexico's three men in the House would prefer to avoid the embarrassment or retaliation of asking for any such alleviation of an ethical disgrace.

Inside Religion

Problem: Who's Catholic and who's anti-Catholic?

By REV. LESTER KINSOLVING WASHINGTON — Is it possible that Vice-President George Bush and Secretary of State George Shultz are both closet anti-Catholics?

Mr. Bush told a Washington meeting that "I have difficulty in understanding how a Catholic can be a Marxist." Shultz, in testimony on Capitol Hill, spoke of "churchmen who want to see Soviet influence in El Salvador."

For saying this, Shultz was accused by Sen. Patrick Leahy (D., VT.) of making "a gratuitous slam at the Catholic Church in dealing with El Salvador."

Minnesota's Archbishop Joan Roach, president of the US Conference of Catholic Bishops, wrote a letter to President Reagan in which he protested "recent statements of two of the highest officials of your administration about the role of the Catholic Church in Central America. . . Any hint that the fundamental pastoral vision and ministry of the Catholic Church are based on an alien ideology, or seek to serve its purposes, must be rejected. I must insist on this point. . ."

Archbishop Roach, a close friend of presidential candidate Walter Mondale, has, along with Sen. Leahy, put together one of the clumsiest smear efforts of the past decade. That there are Catholic priests in Central America who want to see Soviet influence in El Salvador is quite evident in the Rev. Ernesto Cardenal, among others. Father Cardenal is one of two Catholic priests who hold cabinet posts in the Marxist-oriented Sandinista government of Nicaragua.

There is no doubt of this government's desire and efforts to see an end to Soviet influence in El Salvador. And if it is anti-Catholic for Secretary Shultz to say so, Father Cardenal was photographed in a widely circulated picture which shows him kneeling before another clergyman. This photograph shows this white-garbed clergyman pointing his finger down at Father Cardenal, who is obviously being rebuked for his having ignored orders to get out of politics.

Is Pope John Paul II to be regarded as anti-Catholic?

Is Vice-President Bush anti-Catholic because he deplored "the forcing of Marxist teachings into the parochial schools of Nicaragua," as well as the Sandinista government's "parading of the Archbishop's spokesman, Father Bismark Carballo, naked through a village. A Catholic priest! The humiliation of a man of Christ!?"

The vice-president, in an interview with the conservative Catholic weekly The Wanderer noted that The Washington Post had printed a story that "the Vice-President had a tirade against Father Hesburgh and the Catholic Church. To his everlasting credit, my friend Father Ted said that that simply wasn't true at all. He said, "The Vice-President asked a very significant question and I attempted to answer it."

Along with The Washington Post's distorted reporting, Tass News Agency's Washington Bureau filed the following, which was published in Izvestia:

"Acting upon orders from the White House, the US forces of reaction are waging an unbridled campaign of persecution against religious organizations in that country. . . with malicious attacks against the National Conference of Catholic Bishops in the USA, which had decisively protested the suicidal militaristic course of the White House."

"I say, isn't that Owens v. Jones?"

PHOCION was a Greek statesman-general who has remained hidden in the obscurity of time. He lived about 300 B.C. Once, when he returned from defeating Philip of Macedonia at Byzantium, mobs swarmed the streets of Athens to cheer the conquering hero. An aide chided him for his failure to appreciate and acknowledge the adulation of the masses. Phocion said: "They will cheer just as loudly when I am hanged." No matter how many honors were heaped upon him, he never lost his disdain for the mob. When he carried an argument to the people in an address to citizens of Athens his speech was interrupted by thunderous cheers. The accolade continued unabated for several minutes, much in the same manner as President Reagan was to encounter nearly 2,300 years later in a speech to a joint session of the US Congress. Finally, Phocion turned to his aides to inquire: "Did I say something THAT stupid?" His remark following his return from Byzantium was prophetic. The same Athenians who cheered him once forced him to drink hemlock. Later, to prove Phocion was right, the mob repented and raised a statue in his honor. Phocion, nevertheless, was an advocate of democracy. He was compassionate, intelligent and he refused to speak condescendingly. He was ahead of his time. Had he lived in the television age he would not have died by the mob — because he would never have been elected in the first place.

MOBOCRACY (or democracy) hasn't changed much since the days of Phocion. I have in mind how the mob is going after Three Mile Island nuclear power plant. Recently, on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of whatever happened at Three Mile Island (TMI), the media updated and expanded upon this piece of science fiction by pointing out to a happily horrified public that "it" was the greatest nuclear disaster ever to hit the nation. It must have been terrible. No one was killed. Not a single person was injured. Nobody got contaminated. There was no fallout. Nobody got sick as a result of radiation because too little of it was released. Not a knuckle was skinned. The only people who suffered were stockholders in the utility company that owned TMI. But the incident goes down in the history of Kookdom as a tragic holocaust. The truth is, there was never any danger at TMI. If there had been a complete meltdown, the massive structure would have contained it. Because the press didn't tell the truth, 144,000 people living within 15 miles of the plant fled their homes in terror. Two weeks ago the US Supreme Court ruled that TMI can be restarted without assessing possible psychological damage to people living nearby. You see, when these people couldn't sue for physical ailments, they began to sue for alleged psychological damages. In short, they talked themselves into being psychologically sick. The media had done its job well. Pass the hemlock. Because of the "non-incident" at TMI, 18 badly needed nuclear power plants have been scrapped in the last year and 59 more are stalled in redtape. Not a single new plant has been put into operation in four years, a tribute to the power of the press and gullibility of the mob.

FORTUNATELY, the federal government is as aware of the faults of democracy as the media. After a media-lashed public demanded that the neutron bomb not be built, the Pentagon is quietly producing them; and, according to Jack Anderson, has been since August 1981, at the request of President Reagan. The administration is going to protect the nation in spite of its people, just as Roosevelt did by aiding England at the outbreak of World War II against the wishes of most Americans.

LITTLE League season is opening in Carrizozo, and children are reminded the game is not without hazard. In Miami, a man beat his 8-year-old son with a baseball bat because he didn't "get out there and hustle" during a game. The National Association of Working Women (thank goodness, somebody's working) surveyed its membership and found that 67 percent say their wages average less than those of men doing the same job. So why don't they quit and find jobs that pay more? Ruidoso attorney Bruce G. Stafford has been ordered censured by the state Supreme Court for smiting Asst. Atty. Gen. John Silko with a 5-pound marble ashtray in the Bernalillo County Courthouse back in 1978. Reminds me of the trial in a New Mexico mining town wherein Joe was on trial for assault. The DA presented the weapons he used — a huge telephone pole, a dagger, a pair of shears, a saw, a gun and a Civil War saber. The defense counsel then produced the weapons used by the alleged victim to defend himself — a scythe, a hoe, an axe, a shovel, a 16-pound sledgehammer. After deliberating, the 12 jurors filed slowly in and the foreman read the verdict: "We the jury would give five dollars to have seen that fight!"

FLOYD Yother of Chattanooga is in court, all because of the Avon Lady. His lawsuit says Mrs. Yother bought a defective Avon lipstick which caused her lips to swell to huge proportions, and demands $10,000 because he was deprived of his wife's kisses during the time said lips were swollen. On the other hand, Avon is declining to sell defective lipsticks to dozens of husbands with different problems.

SURE signs that times are tough. College alumni gave their alma maters a record $1.2 billion in contributions in 1982, an 18 percent increase over their gifts in 1981. Those nasty, hard-hearted, moneygrubbing corporations gave $976 million, up 25 percent from the previous year. Total gifts to the nation's colleges from all sources rose 15 percent, to $4.8 billion in 1982. This year an uncompassionate pair of capitalist swine with no feeling for the poor gave $125 million to Louisiana State University, the largest known donation ever to a university in the US. The gift from Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pennington will go to build a nutrition research facility to find ways to keep the poor healthy. The mob will probably erect a statue to them, which will be dynamited when it is discovered that the money was made in the oil business.

IN SILVER City, police officers demand to be compensated because they are required to keep physically fit. Sgt. Richard Gilmore, president of the Fraternal Order of Police, Silver City Police Officers Assn., complains, "We don't always have time to keep fit, yet it's required that we stay fit. This is part of our jobs." Our hearts go out to these victims of oppression.

IN Bucharest, Romania, the government requires all citizens to register with police any typewriters they own or wish to buy in order to cut down on the nasty words being written about the government. As yet, people who speak out against communist rule

Corona News

Corona graduation set for weekend

Friday winds gusted to 47 miles per hour. High temperature for the week was 73 on the 6th and the low was 29 on the 2nd and 5th.

Everyone in Corona is busy at this season. Plans are going forward for the meal to be served at 12:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall Saturday, May 14. The clinic is one of this year's projects of the Corona Chaparral 4-Hers. The community appreciates the cooperation of the Legion and Auxiliary in keeping the clinic open when it became necessary to move it. Watch for Madame Horn Fly. She will be the exciting auctioneer for the Chinese Auction immediately following the meal.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Teague visited with his mother and sister in Howe, TX, last week.

Preceptor Alpha Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sent pots of yellow spider mums to Corona's three churches in observance of Mother's Day.

Linda Cancilla, Jan Carty and Margaret Teague are playing fast pitch ball with the Di Orio Development team of Roswell. They won Tuesday evening from Arby's and were to play Friday against Nash Pharmacy.

In the 15 to 41 group Olan was 1st and Darrell 4th. Olan won 2nd in the fancy fiddling and 3rd in the open contest. This was their first competition without their favorite guitarist.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Houston and Mrs. John Houston, Hobbs, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hiner and returned home by way of Ruidoso.

Robin Pfeiffer and Dell Roberts were in Ruidoso one day last week to visit relatives and their dentist.

The American Legion and Auxiliary of Post No. 35, Chaparral 4-H Club and the Corona Community are sponsoring a spaghetti, barbecue and fish dinner at noon, Saturday, May 14, at the Legion Hall. The proceeds will be divided between the Hot Lunch program and the Legion. The Legion will continue with their remodeling project for the clinic. The occasion will serve also as open house for the clinic. Rosemary Zink, Kathleen Williams, and Dr. and Mrs. Dale Goad are expected to be present. The clinic was opened in the new location in February. It was moved from its former site after three years at the Village Cafe in the apartment contributed free of charge by Mr. and Mrs. Abe Trimble. The community owes the Trimbles a sincere thank you for their generosity. The Trimbles needed the apartment space after their son, Joe Salinas, was married. Mrs. Salinas is a hair stylist and has opened a successful shop there. We appreciate having the new business in the village.

cover for the town-owned facility. Instead, the council indicated that the county commission will be approached to help with the purchase. However, County Manager Suzanne Cox informed the school Tuesday that county assistance was unlikely due to the preliminary authorization already given to the county's 1983-84 budget at hearings this week, and to the uncertainty of revenue sharing and payments-in-lieu from the federal government this year.

The pool cover was to have helped control soaring heating costs, this year expected to increase over 40 percent to over $2,000 per month. Discussion about the need for a pool cover began 18 months ago with the town council.

However, without council assistance in controlling rapidly increasing operating costs, it is unlikely that the pool will open this summer.

Mini-fiesta to honor farmers, ranchers

SOCORRO—US Rep. Bill Richardson, D-N.M., will be the speaker Friday (May 14) when the Socorro County Chamber of Commerce sponsors a day-long "agriculture appreciation day."

Centered on Socorro's historic old plaza, the mini-fiesta was planned to honor the contributions of farmers and ranchers in Socorro and Catron counties to the city's economy. Socorro is the trading center for an area stretching from White Sands Missile Range to the Arizona border.

Events will begin with a Lions Club-sponsored pancake breakfast, and area musical groups will provide entertainment at a plaza gazebo throughout the day.

A "western styles" fashion show is one of the scheduled events.

Cong. Richardson's address is scheduled for 2 p.m. An evening barbecue will precede a free street dance slated to begin at 8 p.m.

Lee Guthrie Jr., president of the Socorro chamber, said the event was set up because "we've overlooked the contributions of the agriculture community for too long." He said the chamber hopes it will become an annual event.

Halloran's paintings on exhibit

The works of Martha Halloran are featured in a showing of oil paintings at the Carrizozo School's conference room, beginning May 1 and continuing through the month.

Mrs. Halloran is a retired registered school nurse who took her first art instruction in oils from an artist from Haiti in 1972 when she was living in Brownsville, TX. In 1979 she joined the Upper Valley Art League at McAllen, TX, and studied under Gretta Moffit for three years.

She enjoys painting landscapes and rural scenes. Last year she took a short art course at Creede, CO.

She and her husband Bill come from McAllen to Nogal each summer to help out at Ealand Orchards. They are active members of the First Baptist Church of Carrizozo and she has participated in Carrizozo School's "An Evening of Fine Arts" for the past two years.

Awards program honors outstanding athletes

The coveted Greatest Grizzly awards, a highlight at Monday's athletic awards program, was presented to Tim Vega, a senior, and Christetta Chavez, a junior.

The award, established in 1974, recognizes a boy and a girl athletic for outstanding performance in three sports and who are "pretty good students and citizens," said Principal Dennis Sidebottom on presenting the awards to this year's recipients, both members of the National Honor Society.

The awards program, coordinated by athletic director Wini Wilmore, followed a potluck dinner attended by coaches, parents, students and administration.

Coaches presented individual athletes and managers with certificates, pins or sweater C's for performance during the sports season, which ended with track competition at state.

Coaches in each sport awarded "Most Valuable Player" plaques to top athletes. In girls varsity basketball, Christetta Chavez was named by coach Jerry Koller as the team MVP.

Breaking from tradition, Hal Roueche, boys varsity basketball coach, gave the MVP award to two seniors, Alex Serna and Tim Vega.

In girls' track, coach Veda Stephenson gave the MVP award to freshman Liz Beltran for field efforts and to Christetta Chavez for running events. Track coach Roueche gave Kevin Wilmore the MVP in field events and to John Roueche in running events.

Monday's awards program included the presentation of the golden helmet football awards to Clarence Beltran and Brian Vigil. Statistics, leadership, attitude and pride were taken into consideration by Koller in naming the recipients of the helmet award.

Volleyball awards were given at a December awards program when MVPs were Annette Hill for defensive playing and Christetta Chavez for offensive playing.

Coach Bill Vitany recognized Junior High boys basketball team members. Stephenson introduced the Junior High girls basketball team.

Ron Becker, who was absent from the awards program, was acknowledged for coaching boys Junior Varsity basketball.

High school cheerleader sponsor Judi Sidebottom had bars or pins to present to Lisa Cantrell, Mary Jane Ferguson, Lynn Gallacher, Stephanie Saucedo and Julie Vega. Charlotte Archuleta, Junior High cheerleader sponsor, had certificates for Ruth Persall, Marcela Sandoval, Judy Villescass and Sylvia Archuleta. In addition to cheering, most of the girls also participated in sports.

Grizzly tracksters place at Albuquerque meet

Three of the Grizzly state qualifiers placed in various events at the state track meet held in Albuquerque, May 6-7. The meet was held at Wilson Stadium of the Albuquerque Public Schools (APS).

John Roueche showed an outstanding performance by placing in three of four events. Roueche took 1st place in the 400 meter dash, crossing the line with a time of 52.54. In the 100 meter high hurdles he placed 3rd with a time of 15.4. A time of 23.83 placed Roueche 5th in the 200 meter dash. Roueche didn't place but made it to the finals in the 100 meter dash.

Steve Stearns crossed the finish line 4th in the 100 meter dash with the time of 11.45. Stearns also competed in the 200 meter dash.

Christetta Chavez came in 5th in the 100 meter hurdles with 16.5 seconds. Chavez qualified for the finals of the 75 meter hurdles, but did not place.

Four other track members participated in the state track meet, all were field events: Kevin Wilmore, high jump; Robin Beltran, discus; Duane Zamora, javelin; and Liz Beltran, discus.

Boys' head coach Hal Roueche commented on the field events performances, "The weather was perfect, up there. No wind and plenty of sunshine. But what we needed was terrible weather because that's what they were used to!"

Corona . . .

Crown CowBelles will have a float in the Smokey Bear Parade. The theme has been chosen, and all are urged to help with stuffing in the napkins. Crown won with its float last year due the Davis-Ponder efforts. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Ponder brought pots of beautiful yellow mums to this meeting. One for the oldest went to Ruby Davidson, the youngest to Sarah Gnatkowski, and there were three members with three children each who had to draw straws for the third pot.

Martin Gentile, son of Pete and Linda Ponder, will be married in Virginia Beach, VA, on June 25. The bride-elect is Sandy Harner of Norfolk, VA. The Ponder family will journey to Washington, DC and spend four days touring that city and then will journey to Virginia Beach for the wedding. And now for Pam Owen's contribution to the column.

The State track Meet was held at Wilson Stadium in Albuquerque, May 6-7.

The Corona Cardinals had a fine day: Steve Mulkey, 3rd in 165 low hurdles, 5th in 110 high hurdles; Joe Miller, 4th in 400 meter run; Donna James, 4th in shot put; Steve Mulkey, Tommy Worley, Joe Miller, Monty Gounds, 3rd in 1600 medley relay.

The Corona Cardinals elected the 1983-84 varsity cheerleading squad. They will be Sabra Sultemeier, Roe Anne Alford, Tracy Hillsley, Waynette Lindsey, and Beverly Bell.

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON
Lilac bushes are in bloom in White Oaks, a sure sign of summer despite the winds. An especially beautiful one is in the Cedarvale Cemetery.

Another sure sign is the return of the circle fly. If anyone isn't too sure what that is, ask Ruth Hawk at the 4 Winds, Rancher Bud Crenshaw or new cowboy at the Slash 3, James Reed.

James Reed, his wife Marie, and 12-year-old son JC are new area neighbors. We welcome them and John and Sue Bradley. Also John and Betty Cammack. John's 86-year-old mother is currently in the hospital in Alamogordo, having undergone surgery Monday. We here all wish her a speedy recovery.

Earl Wayne made his first visit to White Oaks at age six days, and was a big hit. Grandma Ruth made sure his only drink of the day was milk. I figured maybe he ought to have at least one beer but was overruled.

Sgt. Duane will officially start his terminal leave Friday, the 18th and we can all start calling him Retired Duane, July 3. Of course now he'll really have to start to work, but am positive he won't miss the 140-mile roundtrip drive every day.

Work was begun on the room behind the Casino and Museum with the footing being poured Tuesday. Also, a patio slab off to the side.

There will be a party and dance Saturday the 14th. Don Schneider will cook up a big pot of Cajun chile, and music for the dance will be supplied by whomever wants to bring an instrument and play and sing. Start serving chile at 6 o'clock; dance to start around 8 o'clock. Also will have a record player set up. There will be an admission charge of $2 per person or $3 a couple, but the money will be divided among the musical talent. There will be a nominal charge for the chile. Hope everyone will come out and help us celebrate Duane's retirement and the building of the room. Also be a good chance to hear the circle fly story in full.

We're hoping Glen Ellison will be able to come later in the evening. He's playing for Dawn and Cat's reception Saturday so we can't promise. Would like to add our best wishes to Dawn (who sings with Glen's band) and to Cat. May they be happy and their marriage a special one.

CowBelles make summer plans

Canyon CowBelles served beef treats during Bank Week, May 9-13, at tables set up in local bank lobbies. They also placed stickers on the banks' outgoing letters promoting beef for Father's Day.

At a May 4 meeting, recipient for the CowBelles scholarship was selected, and the "Father of the Year" chosen, the identity of whom will be disclosed on Father's Day, June 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Paterson near Bingham when CowBelles meet for the afternoon and the evening meal.

Tickets for the Canyon CowBelles quilt may be obtained at local banks and from CowBelles members. Proceeds are to be used for scholarships, donations to Boys Ranch, Girls Ranch, and for beef promotion. The quilt is on display at Citizens State Bank.

Plans have been completed for the annual Ranch Tour, June 11, beginning at 8:30 a.m. at the Fair Building in Capitan. The event is sponsored by Crown CowBelles of Corona and Canyon CowBelles. Linda Ponder, Capitan, is coordinating the tour.

Present at the May 4 meeting were Jane and Rosemary Shafer, Aileen Lindampod, Mattie Brieger, Pat Hume and guest Ann Bailey of Indianapolis, Genevieve Duncan, Sarah Gnatkowski, Doris Maxwell, Joan Means, Joyce May, Ruth Wilson, Jeannette Smoot, Ella Sidwell, Mary Ann Patterson, Bunt Richardson and the hostess, Annie Withers.

CORONA NEWS

Linda Ponder spoke also on plans for the Lincoln County Ranch Tour. Corona Chaparrals will serve refreshments at the Stone Ranch. Sue Maness will be in charge of the petting animals.

Crown is in charge of the door prizes which may be left at the home of Geraldine Perkins. A planning meeting was held at the Citizens State Bank on April 27. Canyon CowBelles are responsible for the dirty bags and donations. The Carrizozo FFA Chapter will have refreshments at the Slocum Ranch. Canyon will help with registration and with serving the noon lunch.

With the weather more or less back to normal Crown CowBelles were able to have their regular meeting May 5 in the recreation room under the direction of President Eve Latham.

Ruth Davis and Linda Ponder served coffee, fresh blueberry bread and brownies. Members enjoyed fried chicken in the school cafeteria.

Myra Richards and Sue Maness came from Roswell and Dexter for the meeting.

Carol McConnell announced the fundraising project for the hot lunch and health clinic. Sarah Gnatkowski, a visitor, offered a goat from the ranch for the barbecue. Gnat and Pete were expected to agree to this. Items are needed for the Chinese auction. CowBelles are lending their Madame Horn Fly. Mrs. Gnatkowski spoke of plans being studied to aid the school lunch program. One suggestion is a list of possible volunteers to help in

MR. AND MRS. ARRELL POSEY

Arrell and Katherine Posey to observe 50th anniversary

Arrell and Katherine Posey will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on May 24. They were married on May 24, 1933 in Carrizozo.

Both are members of Otero County pioneer families. Arrell is the son of the late Jack and Ella Posey and was raised on James Canyon in the Sacramento Mountains. As the children grew older and needed higher education, the family moved to Tularosa, where he graduated from high school.

Katherine is the daughter of the late Newton Pendergrass and Mrs. Amanda Pendergrass of Carlsbad. She was born on the Felix in Chavez County but the family soon moved to Mayhill where she spent her girlhood years. In order to attend high school, she moved to Tularosa where she graduated.

Arrell and Katherine have spent their married life in Otero and Lincoln County, except for a short time they lived in Roswell. They owned and operated the Posey Lumber Co. in Carrizozo from 1957 to 1971 when they moved to Tularosa where they now reside.

Having worked as a bookkeeper most of her married life, Katherine now enjoys being a fulltime housewife. Arrell spends his spare time farming.

Their children include a daughter Jeanette Phillips, her husband Joe of Tularosa; and a son, Gerald Posey and his wife Dee Ann of Farmington who are hosting a 50th wedding anniversary celebration at the Tularosa Community Center on Saturday, May 21. At noon a barbecue will be served and at 2 p.m. a reception will be held.

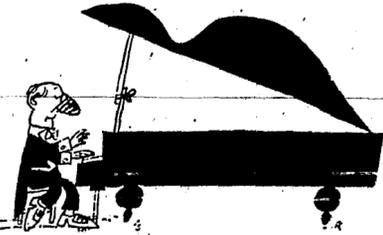

An open invitation is extended to all neighbors and friends of the couple. The couple believe that friendships are a treasured gift and they respectfully request no other gift.

Expected for the celebration are their grandchildren and great-grandchildren, G. W. and Terrell Posey of Farmington; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Danley, daughter Lynette and Tammi of Kirtland, NM; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Trammell, together with Jody, Chanda and Emmilyn of Tularosa; Dr. Dwain Phillips of Alamogordo and Janice Phillips of Tularosa.

The judge did not consider that the marriage itself was punishment enough for McPeak... If you plan to have sexual relations with your 11-year-old stepdaughter, make sure you do so in the jurisdiction of Circuit Judge Clarence Parrish in Milwaukee. John Koger, who admitted to the judge that he had performed such an act, was given a Bible quiz by the judge. After answering correctly that John wrote the Book of Revelations, Judge Parrish placed Koger on probation and pronounced him "born again." Koger was previously convicted for manslaughter, grand larceny and for fathering two children by another stepdaughter, now 21.

• THINGS get unearthly around here at times. For example, in this issue of the NEWS is a story about how "Devil" Bill Adams of Carrizozo was honored at a very high-class, respectable dinner. But in Margaret Rensch's column on Capitan doings, it was reported that "God" Allen has won 4th place in bulldogging at an Alamogordo rodeo. Having both God and Devil at work in the same issue set off an investigation which revealed that Allen's name is really "Gid"—a correction we were glad to make because we couldn't imagine "God" coming in 4th instead of 1st. But there was nothing we could do about Devil Bill Adams, which happens to be his real name.
