'Friendships' no excuse

School toughens on athletic waivers

By P. E. CHAVEZ

"Friendship" is not a good reason to waive the athletic participation ruling on interscholastic eligibility. This was among reasons given the Carrizozo Board of Education by a Nogal resident who sought permission for her son to play football in Capitan, where her son is enrolled.

The board denied the request of Cis Grant during the board's regular meeting last Tuesday. Michael, a junior, will not be allowed to participate in the Capitan program because the board was not satisfied with the reasons given. In her petition Grant said that factors which influenced her decision to send the youth to Capitan included friendships established by her son, easy access to Ruidoso for her business matters, and long distance telephone charges from Nogal to Carrizozo.

Nogal is part of the Carrizozo district. Nineteen to 20 students who live in the Carrizozo school district are attending school in Capitan. The state allows students to attend a school of their choice as long as transportation is provided by parents and the chosen school has adequate room for additional students. But unless an exception has been granted by the board in Carrizozo, students are not eligible to participate in high school athletics. Parents must establish bona fide residence in the attendance area if their children want to participate in varsity sports.

The decrease in enrollment has put the Carrizozo district in a financial bind to the point that five staff positions have been eliminated or not filled. Grant felt that the board is distorting the intent of the ruling and should base its decision on the interests of the student who will be affected and who has a sincere wish to play ball. The mother and son do not feel hostility towards the Carrizozo schools or its coaches.

Backing Grant in seeking the waiver were Robert Runnels and Isidro Peralta, who although are Capitan school board members were not representing their board. They indicated that the waiver decision should be at state level and not local.

Runnels commented that he hoped the Carrizozo board's decision would not cause hard feelings between the two towns. It is common knowledge that a sports rivalry between the towns dates back many years.

Peralta questioned the waiver in the Aguilar case several years ago and wondered if the Grant student was not being used as an example in further waivers. The Carrizozo board pointed out that each case is approached individually and as each request comes up.

Carrizozo board chairman Wally Ferguson said that if a waiver is given in the Grant situation the board will lose all leverage in controlling the trend of enrolling students in Capitan when they should be enrolled in Carrizozo. "It should have been controlled years ago before it became a problem."

Ferguson charged that persons have been actively engaged in recruiting Carrizozo athletes into the Capitan sports program. He also indicated that the inclination in enrolling students in Capitan is racially-oriented and cited that this is part of the problem in decreased enrollment in Carrizozo which is populated by a large percentage of non-Anglo residents.

He believes that the two schools boards should agree in enrollment practices. He said each district has the obligation to ask themselves, "Why should we accept them (students from other districts)?"

Carrizozo school board member Nat Palomarez as a solution suggested that if Capitan continues to attract Carrizozo enrollment that the monetary credit be given to Carrizozo.

Ferguson, who incidentally is a graduate of Capitan, wondered why anyone would consider choosing Capitan over Carrizozo. "We have a better scholastic program than Capitan." Ferguson also boasted that 13 students per teacher makes for a better situation in comparison to the 25 to 1 at Capitan.

The school board met at the Nogal firehall in an effort to encourage villagers to voice their pro and con opinions about Carrizozo schools in general. The audience that showed up to witness their district board in action included three of four teachers who live in Nogal or area. One teacher who resides in Nogal Canyon and sends his child to Capitan school was not present. And ironically, Carrizozo's school speech therapist is the wife of Capitan school superintendent.

In other business, the traveling board of education heard a report from Mike Gaines, vo-ag teacher and FFA adviser who accompanied John Hemphill to Washington, DC for an FFA conference. Hemphill, 1982-83 chapter president was one of several recipients of the Achievement in Volunteerism Award.

The event, FFA Conference on National Community Development held Sept. 10 through 14 was all-expense paid and honored the outstanding member and adviser for each of the 50 state winning FFA chapters for BOAC activities. Upon returning to their state, members and advisers will participate in in-service programs on community development.

Gaines gave highlights of the five-day conference. He showed a copy of the board of a national newspaper, USA Today, which listed Hemphill as New Mexico's winner.

High school senior John Roueche, co-editor of the school yearbook, gave the board an account of the annual staff's progress and plans for publishing the 1984 Grizzly annual. Roueche told of the three-day workshop he and fellow co-editor Christetta Chavez attended in Albuquerque in July along with two other staff members and their adviser, Tom Funk. The group learned the latest trends in yearbook production.

COACH Dennis Sidebottom confers with Duane Zamora (26) during Friday's game with Estancia. It was Carrizozo's second consecutive win this season.

Mall to honor senior citizens

Otero and Lincoln County senior citizens age 55 and over will be honored during a "Hip Hip for Gray Day" at the White Horse Mall, Alamogordo, on Thursday, Sept. 29, 10-5.

Special events, services and discounts will be featured with a senior square dance performance at 10:30 a.m. in center court, to be followed by the "Swinging '80s Band" from the Alamogordo Senior Center at 2 p.m. A Spunky Senior Citizens exercise demonstration will be held at 3:15.

Registration will commence at 10 a.m. with free flowers and free coffee. Pre-registered groups include the Alamogordo Senior Citizen Center as well as seniors from Tularosa, High Rolls and La Luz.

Local resources who serve the senior citizen population are invited to participate in this day-long community event by Joan Caldron, mall manager. Call 434-3990 for information and application for booth space.

Already committed to participate are Medco, American Cancer Society, the Red Cross, Mary Kay Cosmetics and Security Bank and Trust.

Free blood pressures and cancer tests will be administered by authorized personnel. Seating for the performances and wheel chairs, if needed, will be available.

Man injured by car; former deputy arrested

Michael L. Chavez of Ruidoso, 31, was struck by a car about 1 a.m. Sunday after leaving a dance at Nike Tavern. He was treated at the Carrizozo Health Center and transferred to Ruidoso-Hondo Hospital for further treatments.

Driver of the car was Christopher Rodela, 19, of San Patricio. Mrs. Rodela was a passenger in the car. Rodela had pulled out of the parking lot to enter Highway 380 when the accident occurred. Deputy Sheriff Guy Brown, who was in the vicinity and had his radar on, clocked Rodela's car as traveling 17 miles an hour when Chavez was struck. Rodela told officers he had not seen the victim. He was given a sobriety test which turned out to be negative. No charges have been filed.

Charges were filed against a former Lincoln County deputy sheriff, Gilbert Archuleta, charged with Driving While Intoxicated. The incident occurred Friday night after Archuleta got into an argument with Police Chief C. A. Morales at the Carrizozo-Estancia football game. Morales ordered Archuleta to go home. Instead, he drove around Carrizozo until sheriff's deputies apprehended him and charged him with DWI. He was released on bond.

Dorothy Robertson was arrested for DWI and reckless driving and was freed after posting bond. Jimmy Galvin, charged with DWI 2nd offense, reckless driving and driving with a revoked license was jailed.

Edward KcKely, arrested for aggravated battery, was given a 90-day suspended jail sentence by Judge Bill Payne and fined $140 and $10 court costs.

William Kern, who has been convicted of credit card fraud and auto burglary in Lincoln County, and who fled the county in violation of his probation, was arrested in Dallas, TX. He was returned to Lincoln County by Deputy Chuck Flannagan.

Pfingsten rites today in Tucumcari

W. R. (Bob) Pfingsten, 75, died Monday afternoon in an Amarillo, TX hospital. He was a longtime resident of Tucumcari.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. this morning (Thursday) at the Dunn Memorial Chapel in Tucumcari with the Rev. William R. Tucker, minister of the First Christian Church, officiating. Burial will follow in Tucumcari Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Pfingsten was born May 25, 1908 in Lincoln County. He was a retired Southern Pacific Railroad employee, and a World War II veteran who served with the U.S. Air Force, 1943-45. He was married to Mildred Jones on Oct. 1, 1933 in Lincoln County.

Survivors include the widow

Mildred, of Tucumcari, a sister, Pearl Kendrick, Tucumcari, two brothers, Ray A. (Jack) of Newberg, OR and Charles of Lubbock, TX, and numerous other relatives.

The family has requested that in lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the First Christian Church of Tucumcari.

Grizzlies come from behind to upset Estancia 22-20

The Carrizozo Grizzlies scored three touchdowns in the second half Friday night to defeat the Estancia Bears 22-20 at Laabs Field.

The Grizzlies played a lethargic first half, giving up multiple long runs to the Bears and gaining little or no yardage offensively. Estancia scored two unanswered touchdowns in the first half and went to the dressing room with a 12-0 lead at the end of the first half.

The second half of play was an entirely different story. The Grizzlies came out of their halftime locker room finally ready to play football and provided perhaps the most exciting ending to a Grizzly home game in recent memory. Despite tough Grizzly defensive play, the Bears scored midway through the third quarter, giving the visitors what seemed to be an insurmountable 20-0 lead with only four minutes left in the third quarter. On the first Grizzly possession following the kick-off Carrizozo flanker Dominic Vega got loose in the Estancia secondary and caught a 60 yard touchdown pass from Kenny Crenshaw for the Grizzlies' first score of the night. Duane Zamora found Crenshaw in the corner of the end zone on the conversion attempt making the score, Estancia 20, Carrizozo 8 at the end of the third quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Grizzlies ended up with the ball on the Estancia 45 following a good run back by punt returner Stevie Stearns. Four more runs by Stearns put the ball on the Estancia 10 yard line. On the next play, Stearns picked up good blocks from Dominic Vega and Joe Candelaria that got him to the 5 yard line. From there he ran over 3 Estancia Bears to score Carrizozo's second touchdown of the night. Duane Zamora again found Crenshaw open in the corner of the end zone for the two point conversion, cutting Estancia's lead to four points, 20-16.

A tough Carrizozo defense forced two more Estancia punts. With only four and a half minutes left in the game, the Grizzlies took possession of the ball on their own 40 yard line. Good offensive line blocking by Daryl Lindsay, Robin Beltran, Kenny Crenshaw, Daniel, Benny and Charles Zamora, plus tough running by Stearns, drove the ball to the Estancia 10 yard line. The Bears defense stiffened there and the Grizzlies ran two plays for a loss of one yard. On third down and goal to go from the 11, Duane Zamora went back to pass. Under heavy pressure, Zamora hit Dominic Vega on the four yard line. On fourth down and goal from the end, Stearns ran around left end for the winning touchdown. The conversion attempt failed, and with one minute and 50 seconds left on the clock, the Grizzlies led for the first time in the game 22-20.

After the Carrizozo kick-off the Bears gained one first down, then Joe Candelaria intercepted an Estancia pass that allowed Carrizozo to run out the clock.

Stearns was the leading rusher for the Grizzlies, amassing 112 yards on 20 carries and scoring two touchdowns.

Defensively, the Grizzlies were led by Gilbert Zamora with 12 tackles, Duane Zamora with 12 and Juan Osorio 11. David LaMay also played well on defensive making 10 tackles and recovering an Estancia fumble.

"I was particularly proud of Robin Beltran and Duane Zamora, our senior game captains. They provided us with the leadership necessary to recover from a 20-0 deficit and win the game. Stevie Stearns also showed the talent and determination necessary to prove he is an outstanding running back. He has already scored five touchdowns this year and rushed for over 300 yards," said Carrizozo head football coach Dennis Sidebottom.

The Grizzlies' next game will be Friday night when they play the Wildcats of Anthony, Texas at Anthony. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

GILBERT Zamora prepares to make one of 18 tackles he made during Friday's game with Estancia. Duane Zamora (26) readies an assist.

Livestock producers need lots of hay

Although prolonged drought conditions have created hay shortages in some areas, other areas have a surplus of hay or other roughage.

To help livestock producers who need hay to locate sellers, and to help those with excess hay locate buyers, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is making an all-out effort to collect information concerning the hay and other roughage in the area.

"The task has been given top priority," said Allen Trammell, county executive director of the Lincoln County ASCS office. "We are contacting other federal agencies, state departments of agriculture, hay dealer associations and all other available private sources for the names of producers with hay or other roughage for sale. This listing will be maintained in our office for interested persons to review," he said.

More livestock producers in Lincoln County are in need of hay or other roughage, according to Trammell.

The list of available hay and other roughage will include the producer's name, address, and telephone number, the type of roughage, and the amount and approximate price. Allen said hay and roughage availability also will be monitored in surrounding states and counties.

"All livestock producers who are in need of hay, and those who have hay or other roughage for sale, are urged to contact our office as soon as possible," the ASCS official said.

The Lincoln County ASCS office is located at Box 706 Carrizozo, NM 88301 or one may come to the office in the Courthouse Annex in Carrizozo. The phone number is 648-2381. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

ON THE MEND

Dr. J. P. Turner, former resident, was hospitalized in Honolulu, Hawaii after suffering a severe stroke this month. Carrizozo friends learned that he is responding well to treatment following complications due to pneumonia.

Dr. Turner, long-time resident, left Carrizozo many years ago. He serves as director of the LBJ Tropical Medical Center in Samoa. Those who would like to send him cards may do so at the following address: Pogoda Hotel, Room 1145, 1525 Rycroft St., Honolulu, Hawaii 96814.

DOWNTOWN BUSINESS

Several new business places have been added to the community. The town council approved three business registration applications. Robin Brown is busy at Eagle Electronics at 314 11th St. James Cooper is almost ready to open his business, Jim's Donuts, located at the former Republican headquarters next door to Zia Senior Citizens Center.

Tierra Verde Property Specialists, under the management of Anthony and Patsy Sanchez, is located at the former Chamari, Inc. offices. It was announced at this month's chamber of commerce meeting that Golden Rule Trading Co. will also be under new management.

Fenter Variety has opened its doors again. According to last week's NEWS ads the store has added a new service — custom made drapes. And needlecraft enthusiasts will be pleased to know that needlework materials and supplies are once again available in town. No more need to travel 59 miles to buy such items as a spool of thread or a card of buttons.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

Browsing through 1954's NEWS on file I was amazed at the many businesses that existed 29 years ago in Carrizozo. Some of the businesses of the past bring back many fond memories. Other businesses still serving the community today didn't just get older, they got better. Operating under different names and, or locations the business include Lincoln County Agency (now Citizens State Bank); Rolland's Drug Store (today we have Family Pharmacy); Food Mart (Shop Rite); Ruidoso State Bank (now with a Carrizozo branch); J. Moore Agency (same name) and Jonnie's Package Store, which sold homemade, steaming hot tamales every Friday and Saturday.

Businesses of the past include Gladys Morris Beauty Salon (Remember those permanent rods attached to wires?); Lyric Theatre (For 14 cents a child could see William Holden in "Stalg 17" plus a newsreel and a cartoon); Lincoln County Motors, Inc. (Ford's the Leader); City Garage (More people buy Chevrolets.)

Then there was the Girard Hotel, Mal Pais Court Apartments, Carrizozo Hardware Co., Huffman Welding and Machine Shop, Nu-Way Cleaners, Jack's Trading Post, and last but not least, Shaw Mortuary. According to the NEWS in 1945 Carrizozo had a lot to offer, including train service to Los Angeles and Washington, DC and a hospital. Thanks to Dr. J. P. Turner, many birth certificates list Carrizozo as the birthplace instead of Alamogordo or Ruidoso.

Capitan News

By MARGARET BENCH

Smokey Bear Museum had 720 visitors, Sept. 11-18. Among them was a busload of 44 from Albuquerque which were from New York, California, New Jersey and Maryland. Another busload of 24 from various places and nine senior citizens from Tularosa.

The Capitan football team won its game here with Hagerman Friday night. The new bleachers were completed for the game that night.

The Capitan junior varsity and varsity girls played Magdalena here last Saturday night and won both games.

Mike Risks at the Standard Station is building a new building and the roof is now being finished. There are going to be many changes there. Another new building is in progress at the corner of Nogal and First Street which will be the new drug store in the future.

Sharon's Gift Shop will hold its grand opening Oct. 1.

Gini Spall, Capitan village clerk, and her husband Jack traveled to Albuquerque over the weekend to attend the New Mexico State Fair. Gini was back in the office on Tuesday and said that the fair was better than ever.

Benny and Debbie Runnels of Bonita and daughters Kerri and Mariah traveled to Pagosa Springs, CO for a few days of rest and relaxation, much needed after the busy season at Bonito Lou's. They stayed at the Spa Motel which is operated by Bunk and Marsha Pruitt. Some of you may remember that Bunk's dad was the basketball coach at Capitan High School in the late 1950s and that Bunk was quite an athlete, competing in all sports while living here. I'm sure that Benny and Bunk had a good time remembering all the old times.

Hattie Phillips' historic old adobe home was the setting for the September meeting of the Roundtable Club.

Frankie Tonn was absent due to illness. All other members were present. Hattie served barbecue with the members bringing the trimmings. Birthdays celebrated were Frances Shaw, Frankie Tonn, and Bessie Jones. President Shaw conducted the business meeting. Winifred Cozzens won the raffle. Louise Joiner and Danielle Riska were guests. Their next meeting will be Oct. 20 at the home of Marie Edgar. Alice Traylor and husband Herbert Lee gave all of the members a signed copy of Tales of The Sierra Blanca.

Senior Citizens will sell doughnuts holes every Friday. They are delicious. Remember to help them.

Howard and Maxine Wright left Friday to enjoy a fishing trip at Alpine, AZ, and returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Rogers of Roswell became parents of a daughter, Desiree Rebecca, born Sept. 16 at the Eastern Medical Center weighing 7 lbs. 11 ozs. The happy mother is the former Patricia Dobbins, daughter of Doris Pounds.

Linda Booher admitted their son Oscar in a Roswell Hospital Monday where he will undergo tonsillectomy Tuesday morning. I wish him a good recovery.

Many friends, relatives and neighbors are mourning the death of another oldtimer, Ben Sanchez from the Hondo Valley. He was loved by all who knew him.

Julie Graves, district manager of Avon of Roswell, held an Avon sales meeting at the Ruidoso Inn at Ruidoso Tuesday, Sept. 13, with 14 representatives present: Joan Means, Margaret Bench, Patti Malone, Sherri Hobbs, Lethy Davis, Joan Bell, Ofelia Jimenez, Susie Sanchez, Mary Dominguez, Jo Ann Holmes, Allison Barrett, Cathy Almes, Susie Castillo, and Alice Castillo. It was a good meeting showing all of the gifts that will be this season. Good news as well.

Bonnie Jones of Tinnie won a car and her representative Sherri Hobbs also won one. Remember the Car Sweepstakes in June. This is the results. And it is close to home. Congratulations to both of these lucky ladies. I know they are both in shock but soon they will realize it to be true. I am so very happy for them.

Yes, and in Carrizozo a customer won a TV and her representative Joan Means, who is our group leader, won the same. Two more very happy ladies and I certainly do join them in their joy. God bless them all.

Troy Herd, 1983 graduate of Capitan High School, went to work as a fulltime employee of the Village of Capitan on Sept. 16. Troy will be operating the heavy equipment and working with the water department. Glad to have you, Troy.

ARTIST Bonnie Fortenberry, above, has her work on display during September at the Conference Room, Carrizozo Schools. Many of the self-taught artist's works are for sale and may be viewed Monday through Friday during school hours.

FFA has a busy season

The Capitan chapter of the Future Farmers of America has a new adviser and agriculture teacher, Mark Daugherty from Elida, NM.

Daugherty recently graduated from New Mexico State University with a bachelor degree in agricultural education and a bachelor degree in animal science. He is married to the former Sandy Rogers of Elida. During the last few weeks of school, as well as the summer months, the Capitan chapter has participated in several activities. The FFA banquet, held last May, attracted a large crowd.

The State FFA Convention held in June at Las Cruces was attended by several members. Chapter president Charlie Marrs ran for the office of District 5 president, and chapter reporter Sid Goodloe succeeded in being elected as District 5 Sentinel.

The Lincoln County Ranch Tour, sponsored by the Lincoln County CowBellevizations, was attended by about 300 people from various cities across the state. The FFA was represented by the Capitan and Carrizozo chapters. Capitan FFA members sold coffee and doughnuts before the tour began and the Carrizozo FFA sold soft drinks during the tour. Eddie Davis and Sid Goodloe of the Capitan chapter participated in the branding demonstration given by Preston and Willa Stone of Edgar Ranches, Ltd., which was the last stop on the tour.

The FFA chapters members, along with other school sponsored groups, were responsible for the food and soft drink concession stand during the Fourth of July Rodeo in Capitan. This was Mr. Daugherty's first duty and he was well initiated.

There were several FFA members showing livestock and other projects, and participating in the NMJRA-sanctioned rodeo during the Lincoln County Fair at the Fairgrounds, Aug. 18-20. Todd Proctor had the Grand Champion Market Lamb and also three class Reserve Champions. Eddie Davis had a third place lamb. Charlie and Robert Marrs won three firsts and a third in the swine show. They sold three of the pigs that placed in the show in the Junior Livestock Sale. Chris Peralta placed fourth and fifth with his pigs. Robbie Runnels also exhibited a pig.

During the fair, Capitan FFA members raffied off a cord of split firewood which was donated by Preston and Willa Stone. The winner was Vicki Hall of Capitan.

1983-84 chapter officers are: Charlie Marrs, president; Becky Babers, vice-president; Jamie Bussey, secretary; Glenn Story, treasurer; Sid Goodloe, reporter; Robert Marrs, public relations coordinator.

The chapter extended special thanks to Randall Robbins, past ag teacher and FFA adviser,

Tigers outscore Hagerman

The Capitan Tigers picked up their first win of the season by running over Hagerman 19-6 Friday night.

The Tigers took the opening kickoff and drove 60 yards behind the hard running of Danny Cummins and Tim McElhannon to score. Cummins got the touchdown on a 15 yard run. Moments later the Tigers recovered a Hagerman fumble and Quarterback Eric Hamm passed 11 yards to McElhannon for the second score and a 12-0 lead.

McElhannon, who had an outstanding night, broke loose for a 76 yard touchdown run in the third quarter to put Capitan up 19-0. He also had an 80 yard scoring run called back because of a penalty.

Todd Proctor kicked the only extra point.

Hagerman scored in the fourth quarter when defensive back Tom Barela intercepted a pass and ran 74 yards to paydirt.

The Tigers are idle this week and then face class AA power Dexter Sept. 30 at home. Dexter has won three straight, including an impressive 30-6 win over NMMI last week.

● GEORGE McGovern was on television live (the television, not George) last week to assure cheering multitudes that he is indeed a serious candidate for a third try at the American presidency, and in doing so joined such political immortals as Harold Stassen, "Kissin' Jims" Folsom and Dudley LeBlanc of Hadacol fame. McGovern, you may not wish to recall, was the Democratic candidate for president in 1972 and distinguished himself by garnering 17 electoral votes to Nixon's 520. He was billing himself as a moderate then. Now he's gone honest, running as an unabashed radical leftwing kook who urges peaceful co-existence with the Soviet Union on its own terms, rapport with the PLO, adulterous relations with Cuba's Fidel Castro, and withdrawal from Central America and any other place where the Soviets are trying to establish "peace." The 61-year-old former US Senator from South Dakota, having nursed long at the public breast, admits he can no longer abide the obscurity of the private sector and is compelled by humanitarian considerations to re-attach himself to the public teat. That brings to six the number of Saviors who have been cut down from the Cross to save mankind in the 1984 political putz. If we can only egg the Rev. Jesse Jackson into the Democrat stable of presidential hopefuls, every form of idiocy known to man will be at the option of voters—which is what that particular party is all about.

● MY POOR president. He has been blamed for not putting everybody to work; for hating women, hating men, hating children, hating the poor, hating the rich, hating labor, hating business, hating minorities; and for causing the Galveston flood and other acts of God. Now comes Sen. John C. Danforth, R-MO, to blame Reagan for traffic deaths on US highways. Sen John is distressed because the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration hasn't ordered all new cars to be equipped with air bags, automatic seat belts, flares, rockets, lifeboats, sirens, medical safety kits and standby EMT teams for each new vehicle.

● LEGEND in his own time is how to describe the nude motorcyclist who has been seen roaring around Santa Fe for the past two years, displaying his credentials to one and all. He was last seen clad only in a black helmet and riding a red motorcycle on Interstate 25 in the Royal City of the Holy Faith. Surely, God will get him. The US Army now allows women GIs to wear stud earrings, which caused this Fort Sam Houston soldier to exultate. "It makes me feel a little more like I'm not just a she-soldier, like I'm still a person." Will someone inform that bubble-headed broad that it is possible to be a soldier and a person at the same time? Thank you. In Mayflower, Arkansas, a bum riding a freight train set the train's brakes so it couldn't move while he hot-footed it across the right-of-way to refresh himself with root beer and cookies. That adds some class to a profession that has too long been ignored and downgraded in the public view. A more dignified profession is (was) that of Arlie Waldron of Lake City, FL. He was showing his son how to dispose of a troublesome rattlesnake by biting off the reptile's head. But the snake, having been schooled in somebody's military tactics school, bit first. Waldron was bitten seven times, once on the tongue. Hospitalized for four days, during which time his head and neck assumed the proportion of an Albuquerque balloon entry, Waldron announced he was retiring.

● CRIME is the best entertainment in America. In Cleveland police are still looking for six teenagers who tried to rob a pay phone coin box. Last seen, they were fleeing and dragging a 20-foot telephone pole with the phone still attached, down an alley. In Eureka, CA, John Costa was being pursued by customers of a convenience store after damaging a parked car. He was pursued into a restaurant where four Highway Patrol officers were observing their coffee break ritual. They joined the pursuit. Costa ran up some stairs to the second floor of a motel, burst into an unlocked room to find two sheriff's deputies who were among 25 other officers in town for a police seminar. In Benson, Minnesota, a burglar who was shot in the foot after he stole $150 of goods from a car must be paid $75,000 by the man he burglarized, a jury ruled. Francis Rakowski, the burglar, blubbered to the jury: "I don't think it was too unjust for what they done to me. They ruined the rest of my life, because I'm a crippled person now. For the $150 or so worth of merchandise, it wasn't worth ruining a guy's foot for life." Two years after the shot in the foot, Rakowski was able to walk more than a mile to steal a car, for which he was convicted.

● SEPT. 17-24 has been proclaimed "Sexual Assault Awareness Week" in New Mexico. During this period, if you are sexually assaulted you should be aware of it. In Albuquerque, Sept. 20-21, you had a chance to attend the "Managing the Difficult and Unsatisfactory Employee" workshop designed for employers and supervisors who had $270 for the tuition. Or, for absolutely nothing, and without traveling anywhere, you can get Joiner's time-tested method of disposing of difficult and unsatisfactory employees. You fire their asses.

● A NURSING home in Warren, Ohio, is suing a labor union because it failed to strike that facility. Health Enterprises of America Inc. said it spent $15,000 training replacement workers because the union promised it was going to strike the place, and didn't. Health Enterprises seeks $3 million in punitive damages and expenses preparing for the strike that didn't take place. Dakin Williams, lawyer, Collinsville, Illinois, a brother of the late playwright Tennessee Williams, says he will run for president on a "love everybody, nuclear disarmament" ticket. He must be a lousy lawyer if he can't find anybody to hate.

● FELLOW citizens, the republic endures! A speech delivered in the United Nations Monday by US Ambassador Charles Lichtenstein may go down in history along with the Sermon on the Mount, Magna Carta and the Gettysburg Address. This speech was addressed to a Soviet delegate who protested that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was being denied permission to land at the airport of his choice in order to attend a UN General Assembly. To which Lichtenstein replied:

● "IF IN the judicious determination of the members of the United Nations they feel they are not welcome and they are not being treated with the hostile consideration that is their due, then the United States strongly encourages such member states seriously to consider removing themselves and this organization from the soil of the United States. We will put no impediment in

Watch over Washington

What ever happened to Tokyo Rose? (part 2)

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — When US Navy ships loaded with Marines lay off Iwo Jima the day before assaulting the beaches, they heard Tokyo Rose identify by name every one of their ships.

The Japanese American Citizens League (JACL), however, claims that Iva Aquino was really a "trustworthy companion" to three prisoners of war, who were "covertly burlesquing the Japanese program's intent," for "She read the scripts exactly as written by her POW compatriots."

The JACL identified these prisoners as Maj. Charles Couzens, Australian; Capt. Wallace Ince, US; Lt. Norman Reyes "a Filipino — spelling preferred by Filipino-Americans."

Capt. Ince told the court in which she was tried for treason that he did not want Iva in the program; that he did not trust her; and that he never told her of any agreement among himself and the two others to frustrate the Japanese propaganda effort.

"The Zero Hour" was live and broadcast six days a week from 6 to 7 p.m. It included light classical and popular American songs of a sentimental nature, interspersed with brief commentary, news items and remarks directed to American troops.

Recordings of a number of these broadcasts were recovered and played to the jury. Gilbert Vasquez was among the witnesses. He had been a near neighbor of the Toguro, Iva's family name before her marriage, and used to buy candy from the father's store. After being stationed in the South Pacific, he recognized Iva's voice.

The JACL contended that there were 13 other English-speaking announcers on Radio Tokyo, anyone of whom could have been Tokyo Rose, and that Iva began her broadcasts by identifying herself as "Orphan Ann" (short for "Announcer").

The JACL did not mention that part of the evidence against her was 25 scripts which she autographed "Tokyo Rose," in its self-serving effort to vindicate her.

The JACL also emphasized that Tokyo Rose broadcasts were cited as "morale building" (attributed to the US Alaskan Defense Command) and meritorious service contributing greatly to the morale of US forces in the Pacific by persistently entertaining them... (attributed to Capt. T.J. O'Brien.)

But these satirical jests did not impress the US Supreme Court. For in writing the majority opinion upholding Iva's conviction for treason, Justice William O. Douglas cited the case of Haupt v. the US.

"His acts aided an enemy of the United States toward accomplishing his mission of sabotage. The mission was frustrated, but defendant did his best to make it succeed."

Iva accepted an offer of $2,000 to give an exclusive interview to Harry Brundidge of Cosmopolitan magazine and Clark Lee of Hearst's International News Service. She told these two newsmen that she was the only Tokyo Rose.

Court records include the notation that Iva's defense resorted to the familiar technique of "Try the Prosecution." For there are claims of perjured testimony, lying FBI agents and unfair, unjust and downright wicked tactics on the part of the prosecution (headed by the late Frank Hennessy.)

Almost an identical catalogue of claims are made by the JACL against newsmen Brundidge and Lee and against the US Army, the US Department of State, the FBI, Walter Winchell, the Los Angeles City Council, the American Legion and the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West (which the JACL described as having "a long history of anti-Asianism.")

The JACL also notes Iva's testimony that she "had no intent to betray the United States" because she believed she was "only entertaining American troops."

In addition to this suggestion of Tokyo Rose as a secret USO performer, the JACL charges that she was convicted by "an all-white jury" from whom six blacks and two Asian-Americans were excluded by preemptory challenges of the prosecution.

The JACL also notes that Special Prosecutor Thomas DeWolfe "was an observer at an earlier treason trial for Tomoya Kawakita in Los Angeles."

Aside from this rather cryptic reference, the JACL booklet makes no further reference to Kawakita, a Japanese-American who was born in Calexico, California in 1921. For Kawakita is another treasonous Japanese-American, whose case is far more difficult to "interpret" than Iva Toguri.

Kawakita went to Japan in 1939, where he attended Meiji (Continued on P. 8)

Inside Religion

Strange mixture: a rabbi, the PLO and a lesbian

By REV. LES KINSOLVING
On Saturday, Aug. 27, The Washington Post published an incisive column by Nick Thlmesch about the lethal stupidity of playing football in the sweltering heat of August.

In this very same issue of Aug. 27, the Post devoted eight pages to the promotion of what might be called The National Hot Air Festival.

As if August in our nation's capital is not torrid enough already, the organizers of the 20th Anniversary Second March on Washington made it hotter still. For they scheduled a mind-boggling Eleven Hours In The Sun; a $500,000 production featuring more than seventy (70) speakers (count 'em — with three of them speaking twice in the same day), interspersed by 10 soloists, five duos, trios or other combos; four invocators; two roll calls (international and Congressional); The Black Anthem; and 600 cases of heat prostration.

Also played was the national anthem of the United States, although the government of the same was belittled all day. One of the speakers, Clyde Bellacourt of the American Indian Movement, looked toward the Washington Monument and denounced the father of this country as "a slave-owning Indian-killer."

Rabbi Alexander Schindler of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations was one of the invocators. He was scheduled to pray for "Jobs, peace and freedom" — and to be joined in prayer by the last-minute injection of one Audre Lorde, a lesbian "Representative of the Lesbian and Gay Community."

Originally the Rev. and Hon. Walter Fauntroy, Congressional delegate from the District of Columbia and host of this Second March, had announced that the lineup of speakers would NOT include any representatives of either organized homosexuality or pro-abortion. But the infuriated gays raised a storm of protest and engaged in a sit-in in Fauntroy's office. So this one-time aide of the Rev. Martin Luther King was overcome.

As if organized sodomists were insufficiently stimulating company for the rabbi, there was an added attraction. For another speaker, who closely preceded Rabbi Schindler, was ex-Senator James Abourezk, formerly the PLO's loudest voice on Capitol Hill. Mr. Abourezk subsequently accepted the very lucrative employment of flaunting for that world-renowned champion of peace and freedom, the Ayatollah Khomeini.

The lineup of speakers, running from ex-Congressperson

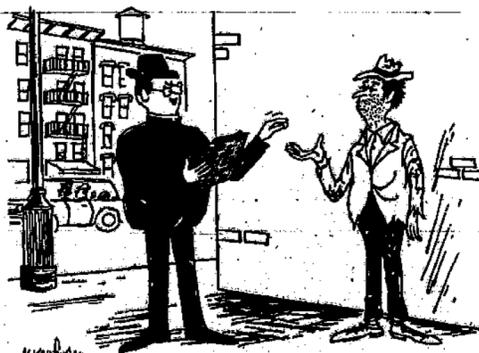

Bella Abzug to the Machinists Union's similarly far-left leader William Wimpfinger, revealed quite clearly just how extensively the civil rights movement of Dr. King has been traduced.

If next year, or in five years, there is any repetition of this transcontinental Turkish bath, will the roster of speakers include not only militant sodomists but other forms of sexual orientation, such as NAM-BLA and the Eulenspiegel Society? (Organized child molesters and organized sadomasochists.)

And will they be forthright enough to replace that outdated anthem "We Shall Overcome" ("Black and white together" is anathema to the racially segregated Congressional Black Caucus) with the Red-rousing strains of "The Internationale"?

The contrast between the 1963 March on Washington and the 1983 anniversary was as devastating as the vast difference between Dr. King's classic "I Have A Dream" speech and the many speakers in 1983 who tried to imitate him. (Only one came close: A Black Muslim named Louis Farrakhan.)

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, once a King aide and now a possible presidential candidate, shouted himself frequently into falsetto. But neither he nor any of the other 70 speakers succeeded

Letters to the Editor

Rhetoric is not enough

EDITOR—A slap on the wrist is an entirely inadequate response to the foul murders perpetrated by the Russians. The Soviet ambassador should be sent home and all Soviet consulates closed. Also we should get out of the United Nations and kick them out of the United States. All of the above are nests of spies and KGB agents bent on destroying our country.

All aid and trade with Communist countries should be stopped. Were it not for our giving them our technology they would not have been capable of murdering 288 innocent people in order to eliminate the most effective anti-communist in Congress, Congressman Larry McDonald.

This foul deed must not go unpunished. Rhetoric is not enough.

MRS. MINNIE MEHERTEN,
Clements, CA.

How we help the Soviets

EDITOR—In the last 10 years alone the United States and other Western nations have sold to the Soviet Union and its satellites more than $50 billion worth of sophisticated technical equipment the Communists could not produce themselves. This equipment has been used to produce missiles, tanks and armored cars, military command and control systems, spy satellites, and air defense radars.

In addition, the Soviets have been able to purchase entire factories, designed and built by Western engineers and financed in large part by American and Western European banks. Much of the production of these factories is devoted to the manufacture of military transport, ammunition and other logistical items for the Soviet war machine.

EDITOR—In 1981 political scientists S. Robert Lichter and Stanley Rothman conducted a study under the auspices of a Columbia University research group of the Media Elite. This study showed that most of them had very "liberal" attitudes and most were politically biased to the left.

Recently Lichter and Rothman released the results of another enlightening study this time involving the leaders and key staff members of 74 private organizations including Common Cause, Ralph Nader's Congress Watch, the American Civil Liberties Union, Consumer's Union, the Women's Legal Defense Fund, etc. By an incredible 16-1 margin the leaders of these groups think the federal government should redistribute income. And 96 percent voted for George McGovern for president. By a 8-1 margin, they supported active homosexuality. Only one out of 20 were concerned about the morality of abortion. Fifty percent admired the Communist Sandinista regime in Nicaragua.

Far down the list of "admired" individuals selected by those surveyed was President Reagan, at a mere 5 percent, while 34 percent of the leaders of these compassionate organizations admire Cuba's Communist dictator Fidel Castro. Fifty-one percent said they are inclined toward socialism while most say they are atheistic or agnostic.

The Lichter-Rothman survey simply confirms the already apparent reality that the leaders of such groups, constantly glorified by their ideological bedfellows in the national media, comprise "an affluent elite, well-educated, and hostile to the beliefs of most Americans, which is using these to mold our nation in their image, many with the tax money of patriotic, religious, hard-working people who would be horrified at how their substance is being wasted to promote views they would find abhorrent."

Stockton, CA.

'Not completely brainwashed'

EDITOR—Please extend my subscription for another year. I find both your OPINION and the Rev. Kinsolving's column both informative and to the point. It's very refreshing to find that at least two people connected with the media are not completely brainwashed (or possibly the media knows better but don't feel the public is right bright.)

As for the "red faces" connected with Martin Luther King Jr., you know that it will not be mentioned (in the media).

SWCD issues its annual report

The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District has submitted its annual report for the period July 1, 1982 to June 30, 1983, listing activities and accomplishments.

The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District was organized on Oct. 11, 1946 as a legal subdivision of the State of New Mexico. It was formed to further resource conservation and development and give local people the opportunity to plan, direct, and carry out programs that will lead to conservation and development of natural resources. There are approximately 1,100,000 acres of land in the district.

Present supervisors of the District are Gary Hightower, chairman; Rick Surratt, vice-chairman; Pete Gnatkowski, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Hemphill and Wally Ferguson, members. These supervisors are elected by landowners for three-year terms to administer the Soil and Water Conservation District and its affairs. This year Gary Hightower was re-elected, Bob Hemphill was elected, and Rick Surratt was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Toni Gabel.

The board meets the first Wednesday of each month to conduct District business. The meetings are held in the Soil Conservation Service Office, Carrizozo, Lincoln County Courthouse Annex, at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend and participate. There were 11 regular meetings held this past year. The average attendance included four supervisors and three guests per meeting.

Highlights of the board's activities for the fiscal year include: —Continued support of South Central Mountain Resource and Conservation Development project (RC&D) by sponsoring project measures. Wally Ferguson, board member, serves as chairman of this RC&D.

—Held a public meeting for all interested people concerned with the declaration of the Tularosa Basin, New Mexico State Engineer representatives talked to the group and answered questions of concern.

—Sponsored two youths to Ghost Ranch range camp in the summer.

—Gave two $100 scholarships, one to a Corona youth and one to a Carrizozo youth majoring in the field of agriculture.

—Donated to the Lincoln County Ranch Tour and members participated in the field day.

—Completed and distributed the district's Long Range Plan to more than 200 people.

—Participated in Soil Stewardship Week by distributing materials to all churches within the district.

Representatives attended both the Region VI and State conventions of the New Mexico Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

—Continued a quarterly newsletter as an information tool for cooperators and other interested individuals.

—Initiated action to enter into a low-interest loan program for farmers and ranchers within the district.

—Entered the Goodyear Contest.

Continued to contact state and national legislators on matters regarding conservation.

The Carrizozo District paid national, state, and Farm Bureau dues in the amount of $550. This year's report of progress includes: cooperators assisted, 26; services to cooperators, 114; cooperators applying practices, 13; conservation plans developed or revised, 3; services to units of government, 58; storages, 9; pipelines for livestock water, 59,449 feet; fences, 33,120 feet; rangeland benefitted by conservation practices, 35,593 acres.

The board cooperates with land administering agencies and encourages conservation of public land. They have entered into Memorandums of Understanding with the Department of Interior, Army Corps of Engineers, US Forest Service, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Bureau of Land Management, Environmental Improvement Division, and New Mexico Department of Forestry.

The Board continues to place special emphasis on promoting new technology to improve range management and erosion control; promoting conservation through information and education; and encouraging resource conservation and development.

Financial status of the district as of June 30, 1983 is: current assets, $25,989.24; current liabilities, none.

Enchilada supper by vo-ag

The Carrizozo Vocational Advisory Committee will sponsor a meat or cheese enchilada supper to benefit the vocational scholarship program, Sept. 30. The supper will be from 4 until 6:30 the evening of Homecoming.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for children, and may be bought from all vocational students or at the door.

All proceeds will go to the vocational scholarship endowment fund.

Masons honor past masters

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 14, the Carrizozo Masonic Lodge held its annual Past Master's night and banquet, which included wives and guests. Present were past masters who could be present. W. W. Gallacher Sr., is the oldest past master still living, having served in 1934.

The Carrizozo Masonic Lodge received a dispensation on Jan. 16, 1909 issued by Chester D. Stevens, Grand Master of Masons in New Mexico, authorizing it to meet and work, and on Oct. 20, 1909 a charter was issued. White Oaks Masonic Lodge No. 21 had been chartered in 1892 but by 1909 it was necessary for them to surrender their charter due to lack of membership and at that time the Carrizozo Lodge was formed with a number of White Oaks Masons becoming charter members at Carrizozo.

Charter members of Carrizozo Lodge were: Harry Chant, William Frederick Anton Gierke, George Roslington, Thomas Bingerman Meek, Jones Taljaferro, George W. Spence, Isaac J. Cavender, Wayne Van Schoyck, Elbert Theodore Collier, Edwin Taylor Comrey, Mart Loyd Goodin, Frank Houston Calfee, William David Martin, Walter Charles Miller, David W. Glenn, Green Berry Greer, Joseph B. Collier, A. G. Emerson, K. C. Guido Ranniger.

Some of the lodge furniture now being used by the Carrizozo Masonic Lodge formerly belonged to the lodge at White

At the time of chartering a lodge in Carrizozo, the Exchange Bank, which had been recently moved from White Oaks to Carrizozo, had just completed its new building and the Carrizozo Masonic Lodge rented quarters upstairs over the bank, which it still occupies. The Exchange Bank closed its doors in the panic of 1923, and in November of 1926 the Carrizozo Masonic Lodge bought the building through the co-receiver A. D. Brownfield from Mrs. Jennie Mae Finley.

Also in 1909 the Masons sub-rented the hall to the Odd Fellows, Daughters of the Rebekahs, Knights of Pythia and Woodmen of the World so those organizations might have a meeting place.

Comet Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star was chartered Oct. 29, 1910 and has shared the lodge hall since that time. Until disbanded, the Order of Rainbow for Girls also met in the hall.

were Rand Perkins, John D. Holleyman, Bob Byrd, Lee Roy Owen, Byron Yancey, Cotton Yancey and Mack Bell. Interment was in the Corona Cemetery under the direction of Harris-Hanlon Mortuary.

Mr. Kilgore was born Nov. 29, 1915 in Coeburn, VA and moved with his family to New Mexico in 1926. He served in the US Infantry in the Pacific during World War II, was injured in the Philippines and received his discharge on VJ Day. In January 1956, he married Helen Runyon in Lordsburg. They moved to Corona in May 1969 to Lincoln Station where he retired in May 1981 after 36 years with El Paso Natural Gas Company. He was an elder in the Corona Presbyterian Church and was a member of the American Legion and DAV.

Survivors include his wife, Helen of the family home in Corona; one daughter, Mary Helen, and her husband, Clifford Heronemus, Gallup; and two sisters, Mrs. Edward Salzberg, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. John W. Speer, Houston, TX.

Family members here for the Kilgore services were Mrs. Salzberg and Mrs. Speer who stayed until Wednesday. Mrs.

Kilgore's sisters, Carolyn Wilson, Thoreau; and Mrs. Floyd Bean, Mr. Bean, Patty Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nighbars, and Mr. and Mrs. Denny Ashley, all of Amity, Arkansas.

'Singing Weekend' at Assembly of God Church

There will be group Stamps-Baxter singing and special singing this weekend at the Assembly of God Church in Carrizozo.

Singing begins Saturday evening at 6 o'clock and resumes Sunday at 10 a.m. Those attending are asked to bring their own basket lunch to be spread at noon.

GREENHANDS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Carrizozo FFA Greenhands met Sept. 9 to elect the following officers:

President, Zada Maxwell; vice-president, Jamie Patterson; secretary, Julie Vega; treasurer, Duane Vinson; reporter, Tommy Escamilla; and sentinel, Brian Sanchez.

Rites held for Benino Sanchez

Bernino C. (Ben) Sanchez of San Patricio died Thursday, Sept. 15, in Roswell, NM. Mr. Sanchez was born Jan. 25, 1914 in Arabela, NM, and was a member of St. Jude Thaddeus Catholic Church of San Patricio; was on the board of directors of Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital of Ruidoso; and was a civic leader in the San Patricio community. Survivors include his wife,

Treni Sanchez of the family home; son, Gabriel Sanchez of San Patricio; daughters, Cyrla DeBlasie of Las Cruces, Berlene Armijo of Santa Fe, Linda Salcido of San Patricio, and Nellie Sanchez of Ruidoso; Downs; sisters, Pearl Dutchover of California, Flora Dominguez and Mable Lopez, both of Roswell, Eva Montoya and Mary Lundford, both of Albuquerque; brothers, Max Sanchez of San Patricio, Ermilio Sanchez of Roswell, Adan Sanchez of Arizona, and E. C. Sanchez of Arabela; and 10 grandchildren. Rosary was recited at 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 16, and Mass was said 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 17, in St. Jude Thaddeus Catholic Church of San Patricio with Father Bernard Bissonnette officiating, assisted by Richard DeBlasie. Pallbearers were Richard Sanchez, Roland DeBlasie, Rudy Garcia, Henry Sanchez, Orlando Lucero and Juan Montoya. Honorary-bearers were Ernest McDaniel, Robert McDaniel, Clem Weindorf and Howard Tate. Arrangements were by Clarke's Chapel of Roses, Ruidoso.

Doctoral degrees for Angus pastor and his wife

Kenneth and Verna Frey, who serve as pastor and wife of the Angus Church of the Nazarene, recently completed requirements for doctoral degrees at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Degrees and areas of concentration for the couple are: Verna, doctor of education in business; and Kenneth, doctor of philosophy in the sociology and anthropology of education. The Freys participated in commencement exercises together, in June, at UCLA.

Junior Grizzlies short on points, long on guts

The Junior High football team played at Ruidoso last week and suffered a 28-0 loss at the hands of the Braves.

After playing a nip-and-tuck first half and giving up only 2 points to a safety things went downhill for the young Grizzlies. Ruidoso netted 8 points on a 25 yard end run to lead 8-0 with 8 minutes to play in the third quarter. The Braves scored again on a 2 yard plunge following a Grizzly fumble to lead 14-0. The fumble occurred after Grizzly fullback Richard Guevara had scampered 55 yards for an apparent TD, but the official ruled that he had dropped the ball short of the end zone.

Ruidoso tacked on two more TDs in the fourth quarter against a deflated Grizzly defense to round out the scoring.

At Tularosa, the Grizzlies fell 30-14 after a well-fought battle. The young Wildcats scored early on a 40 yard run by Chavez and a two point pass conversion to lead 8-0. In the second quarter, Tularosa scored on a 5 yard screen pass play to lead 14-0 at the half.

The Grizzlies were prepared to play the second as Richard Guevara took the opening kick-off 65 yards and quarterback

Gilbert Silva sneaked in the point after to close the gap to 14-8.

The Wildcats were not to be outdone. They returned the Grizzly kick to the 15 yard line and scored three plays later, converting the extra point also to lead 22-8 at the end of the third quarter.

Carrizozo came back strong in the fourth quarter, scoring early on a 40 yard slot pass to halfback Johnny Gallegos and an extra point end run by Silva, closing the gap to 22-14. As the clock wound down, Tularosa drove into Grizzly territory and finally scored again on a 20 yard run by Chavez. The point after pass was completed to give the Junior Wildcats a 30-14 advantage.

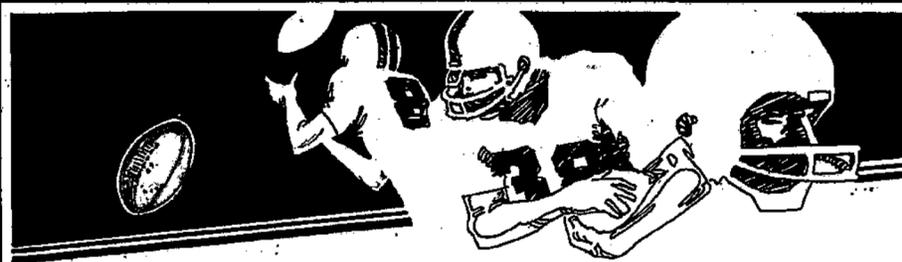

Some excitement was added to the contest when on the final play of the game, Guevara took a pitch from Silva with lead blocking by tailback John Saucedo and went 35 yards being forced out of bounds on the Wildcat 8 yard line with no time remaining.

Morales, Gary Means, Jesse Gallegos, Jacob Narvaez, Michael Hicks, Fred Vega Jr., Paul Clifford, Wayne Nickerson, Paul Herrera is manager and Bill

Vitany, coach.

The team will host Tularosa today (Thursday) at 4 p.m., then meet host Capitán at 11 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 8.

Late summer picnics

For camping or picnics, freeze water, lemonade, tea, etc., in gallon plastic jugs in which milk comes. Store in portable ice chests. The frozen liquids will keep other items cold and will melt slowly to provide icy drinks.

Recycle the news

Shine washed windows with newspapers, but be sure you've read the papers or the project could take all day.

Kitchen drawer shortage

Is your kitchen short on drawer space? Make a bouquet of frequently used utensils like serving spoons and spatulas in jars or jugs on the counter top. Cans may be painted to match kitchen colors.

Long stemmed flowers anytime

Flowers stems too short for a vase? Slip stems into plastic straws and cut straws to desired length.

For pets that hate baths

Does your dog hate baths? Rub baking soda into his or her coat thoroughly, then brush off. It deodorizes as well as cleans.

Chewing gum in hair

You may be able to remove chewing gum from a child's hair by rubbing the gum with a little peanut butter.

Pancakes on hold

Breakfast pancakes can be kept warm for sleepyheads. Place pancakes on or between cloth towels in a 200 degree oven.

Use on nail polish caps

Petroleum jelly spread on the inside cover and grooves of nail polish bottles will stop sticking problems.

Garlic, food and medicine

By JAMES R. SAIS
Gilroy, CA claims to be the Garlic Capital of the World. Here in New Mexico, the garlic capital distinction must belong to the small village of Placitas, northeast of Albuquerque.

Residents of Placitas and nearby areas have formed an organization, the Garlic Consortium, to tell others about the use of garlic and to share garlic lore with each other.

Their garlic lore includes some historic facts about this member of the onion family which has been used the world over as a food flavoring agent.

Garlic, whose scientific name is Allium sativum, was used by the Babylonians to treat disease as early as 3000 BC. In ancient Egypt it was given to slaves and soldiers in the belief it gave them endurance and strength.

In early New Mexico, garlic cloves were worn as necklaces because people believed it would ward off diphtheria. New Mexicans also used garlic to counteract stomach trouble and flatulency. The garlic was baked, chewed and swallowed with cold water.

It has only been in recent years serious research is indicating that those remedies of bygone years may have some validity.

Two members of the Placitas Garlic Consortium, Mary Ann Threadgill, owner of La Casa Garlic (The House of Garlic) in Placitas, and P. A. Blalock, praise the benefits of garlic. They believe it is beneficial in treating heart problems, arthritis and the common cold.

Threadgill recently offered members of the press a tour of her farm and garlic braiding industry. She and Blalock prepared a full-course dinner utilizing some 28 garlic cloves.

La Casa Garlic farm manager John Pieroni had planted 30,000 garlic cloves. Pieroni explained that garlic bulbs are carefully selected for planting.

"We have experimented with various garlic from other producing areas and areas in New Mexico," Pieroni said. "The best garlic in terms of size, symmetry, uniformity and color were found to be our own New Mexico sources. Surprisingly, our two best selections come from Taos and right here in Placitas. We found these bulbs have been grown by families for years."

Pieroni carefully plants his garlic in October, the traditional planting time in New Mexico. The crop is ready for harvest in early July. "We experimented with spring plantings," said Pieroni, "but they usually are not mature before July rains and often develop a black mold on the outer skin making them unacceptable for our braiding industry."

your way. The members of the US mission to the United Nations will be down at dockside waving you fond farewell as you sail into the sunset."

● AMBASSADOR Lichenstein is representative of a growing number of Americans who deplore the presence in the US of this "halfway house" for the beggars, brigands and belligerents of the world. It strains credulity that while the US will not tolerate the presence of an honest whorehouse anywhere within its jurisdiction, it will extend charity, sanctuary and hospitality to a motley crew of international thugs whose sole purpose here is to denigrate, embarrass and plunder their host nation. Under the cloak of diplomatic immunity these creature-delegates, along with their families and retinue of underlings, are provided immunity from the crimes they have committed on US soil—including murder, rape and espionage. We look forward to their departure, preferable on the first outbound cattle boat.

BILL PAYNE administers oath of office to his wife Mary Ellen Payne, following her appointment to the New Mexico Commission on the Status of Women. Gov. Toney Anaya in appointing her stated that there were many qualified candidates and Payne's selection speaks well for her qualifications. The commission acts as an informational clearing house seeking to improve the status of women in New Mexico.

University. In April 1941, he renewed his oath of allegiance as a United States citizen along with his dual citizenship as a Japanese. In 1943, however, he claims to have elected to suspend this US citizenship until 1946, when he obtained a passport to return to the US.

In those intervening years, Kawakita never joined the Japanese Army, but he worked with the army in its supervision of the Oeyama Nickel Industry Co., a munitions plant and mine. He acted as interpreter to 200 US prisoners of war who had been captured at Bataan and Corregidor. Among other actions for which Kawakita — known to his victims as "Meatball" — was found guilty and sentenced to death was his recurrent beating, kicking and verbally abusing prisoners who were ill and emaciated; his forcing of prisoners to kneel on pieces of bamboo while holding water above their heads; and his treatment of a prisoner named J. C. Grant. For Grant had been spotted by a sentry in the act of taking a pack of cigarettes from the Red Cross stores. As punishment, Grant was thrown into the cesspool. When he tried to get out, he was beaten over the head with a pole — by Kawakita.

"Meatball" was spotted in a Los Angeles shopping center by one of his former prisoners. His death sentence was commuted by President Eisenhower to life imprisonment. After 16 years, however, Kawakita was allowed to be deported to Japan by President Kennedy, with the understanding that any return to the United States would mean a return to prison. Despite this, Kawakita in 1978 once more applied to return to the United States and was refused entry.

The cases of Kawakita, Iva Toguri and Yoshio Harada demonstrate the falsity of the claim by the Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians that "Not a single documented act of espionage, sabotage or Fifth Column activity was committed by an American of Japanese ancestry or by a resident Japanese alien on the West Coast."

Harada was a resident of the island of Niihau, a privately owned island near the Hawaiian island of Kauai. On December 7, 1941, Japanese pilot Shigenori Nishikaichi crashlanded on Niihau. Harada, who held dual Japanese and US citizenship, not only sheltered this enemy but assisted him in recovering the plane's machine gun. The two men proceeded to terrorize the island's residents until a ranch named Ben Kanahale attempted to disarm this pilot — who shot him in the chest, groin and hip. But Kanahale was sufficiently rugged and aroused that he picked up this pilot, slammed him into a stone fence and slit his throat. Japanese-American Harada then shot himself.

The JACL booklet makes no mention of Harada. Nor is there any comparison of the conditions of the women's prison in West Virginia with the Japanese prison where Iva Toguri's fellow Americans were held in the Philippines.

Toguri was pardoned — without any explanation — by President Ford on his last day in office. Iva told reporters: "This pardon is a measure of vindication" since "I have always maintained my innocence."

None of the press reportedly asked her if President Ford's pardon of President Nixon established Nixon's innocence.

And reportedly none of the reporters asked her if she was at all grateful to have been treated so much more mercifully than William Joyce, another native-born American, who was her counterpart in Berlin.

Joyce was born in New York City in 1905 but spent most of his life in Ireland and England. In 1938 he applied for and obtained a British passport by claiming British citizenship. The following year he offered his services to Nazi Minister of Propaganda Josef Goebbels. He began broadcasting to Britain, where his style and content was generally regarded as more a source of amusement than of fear. He was known as "Lord Haw Haw."

When he was captured by British soldiers in 1945, he was put on trial for treason. Neither his being born in the US nor the amusement factor in his broadcasts was considered mitigating. For he was found guilty. In 1946, in London, Lord Haw Haw was hanged.

By striking contrast, there is in Japan as well as in the United States this effort to make Tokyo Rose a martyr instead of a traitor. For much of the same material as published by the JACL appears in Kondansha International's book: "Tokyo Rose; Orphan of The Pacific," by Masayo Duus.

Also in Japan, a widespread alteration of school textbooks to soften references to the atrocities committed by the Japanese Army has created an international uproar, as has a new movie in which wartime Prime Minister Hedeki Tojo, who was hanged as a war criminal, is portrayed as a national hero.
