Homecoming heating up

Friday is Homecoming at Carrizozo High School, to be climaxed by the Grizzly encounter with the Mountainair Mustangs at 7:30 p.m.

Homecoming Attendants were also introduced: Ruth Persall (freshman), Kay Zumwalt (sophomore) and Cruzita Aguilar (junior).

Tomorrow's activities also include a pep assembly at the high school at 12:15 p.m., followed by a downtown parade at 1:30. Floats have been worked on for the past week. Following the football game, the homecoming dance begins at 9:30. Disc jockey JoJo Pineau will be a feature of the dance program.

Homecoming activity has been building up during the week. Monday, senior class members set freshmen to work painting the "C" on Godfrey Mountain. The rookies were also painted, dressed and assigned to other chores by upperclassmen. A slave auction was held Tuesday at which 12 students were "sold". Susan Thornton, home economics teacher, brought the highest bid of $50. It was also Cowboy Day and students were dressed appropriately. Today, students appear on the campus wearing weird hairdos and equally distinguished clothing as part of the homecoming hijinks.

Homecoming Friday

Grizzlies trounce Anthony, 43-23

The Carrizozo Grizzlies scored 30 unanswered points in the first half against the Anthony Wildcats Friday night in what turned out to be a rout of the larger Texas team.

The Grizzlies scored on a James Guevara 3 yard run, a 64 yard punt return by Stevie Stearns, a 10 yard pass from Duane Zamora to Guevara, a 20 yard pass from Zamora to Crenshaw and a 49 yard run by Zamora — all in the first half.

The Grizzlies opened the second half of play with a 51 yard run from scrimmage for a touch-down by Stearns and then on their next possession, the Grizzlies drove the ball to the Anthony 23 yard line where again Stearns took it in for the touch-down. Stearns carried the ball 23 times for 216 yards against Anthony.

An outstanding aspect of the game for Carrizozo was the blocking of the offensive line.

"Daryl Lindsay, Kenny Crenshaw, Joe Candelaria, Robin Beltran, Juan Osorio and Charles and Bennie Zamora did excellent jobs blocking. These players have made a lot of progress in this area since the start of the season," commented Head Coach Dennis Sidebottom.

Defensively, the Grizzlies were led by Carlos Sanchez who made 16 tackles and broke up 3 Wildcat pass attempts. Peter Morales and Mike Curtiss also played well for the Grizzly defense.

The Grizzlies, now 3-1 for the season, take on the Mountainair Mustangs at Laabs Field Friday night at 7:30 p.m. This will be the Grizzly homecoming game.

A LITTLE ragged, but wait. Carrizozo's Grizzly Band has been practicing its marching skills in anticipation of tomorrow night's Homecoming football game with Mountainair. Director John Harris is shown going through marching routines on the field—or perhaps he is trying to find the body that goes with the trombone lying on the grass, right lower center.

Three jailed in car thefts; Three Rivers body identified

Ivan Abila and Jerry Carrasco, both of Boulder, CO are in Lincoln County Jail on charges of receiving or tampering with stolen vehicles. A third man involved in a car theft, Israel L. Ortiz, is also in custody by New Mexico State Police in a related incident.

The three men apparently were driving a stolen car which they wrecked about 10 miles west of Carrizozo last Thursday morning. Ortiz made his way back to Carrizozo where he stole a car at Jackie's Cafe belonging to Debbie Zamora. A short time later Ortiz was apprehended in Corona by police Officer Jim Hiltsey and charged with the theft. Deputy Guy Brown arrested Abila and Carrasco.

On Sept. 21 Lawrence Montoya was arrested and charged with DWI, two or more offenses. He was sentenced to a $1,000 fine and 364 days in Lincoln County Jail.

John Y. Waugh of Ruidoso was arrested Sept. 23 by Deputy Chuck Flanagan and charged with DWI, reckless driving and possession of marijuana under one ounce. He was released on his own recognizance.

Daryl Strever of Carrizozo was arrested Sept. 26 by Deputy Guy Brown and charged with larceny over $100 but less than $2500; namely, four tires and wheels belonging to Robert Chadd of Carrizozo. He is in jail.

The unidentified body of a man found three miles south of Three Rivers Aug. 30 by a Southern Pacific train crew has been identified by Otero County Sheriff's Office as that of Tom Bonner of White Oaks. Bonner was employed by Ken Wells Construction on the Four Winds Motel when he suddenly announced he was taking a train to El Paso. His car was found parked at the Southern Pacific depot in Carrizozo.

Bonner is believed to have fallen under the wheels of an SP train while attempting to board, or fell between the boxcars.

Chief Deputy Charles Cox said Tuesday that all deputies will be on duty this weekend to handle the Aspencade crowds in Ruidoso and a motorcycle convention being held there.

Dr. Blodgett certified for family practice

KANSAS CITY, MO - Dr. Daniel D. Blodgett of Carrizozo has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. The physician is now certified in the medical specialty of family practice.

The 2-day written examination is designed to prove the candidate's ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice. There are some 385 such training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the United States. ABFP diplomates also must continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis.

Hondo—Thurs., Oct. 6, Hondo School, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Corona—Wed., Oct. 12, Corona School, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Ruidoso—Mon., Oct. 17, New Health Office located behind new city hall, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Jack Johnson honored; new officers selected

Sgt. Jack Johnson, New Mexico State Police, was honored Monday night at a meeting of Carrizozo Crime Stoppers.

Johnson was presented with an engraved plaque which expressed the organization's appreciation for his role as coordinator since the organization was formed a year ago. A special cake was also given him, which he shared with other members.

Johnson was transferred to Alamogordo several months ago, but has kept his interest in the local Crime Stoppers. He is being succeeded in that position by Charles Cox, chief deputy sheriff, Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept., who was present at the Monday night meeting.

A nominating committee headed by Mary Lu Nickels submitted a slate of candidates for the 1983-84 board of directors. By acclamation the following were elected: Cleve Kerby, chairman; Hal Sims, vice-chairman; Mary Spencer, secretary; Helen Lock, treasurer; Rita Narvaez, Morgan Maxwell, Ernest Joiner, Harold McDonald, Mary Lu Nickels, Gordon Barham, Mela Herrera and Bill Hasenbuhler, directors.

The group paid tribute to Mary Spencer for her outstanding leadership in getting the group organized and functioning. Kerby told members he was amazed at the amount of work she had done, at the meticulous set of records kept, and at her ability to act as liaison between the members, law enforcement officers, and the general public. "Mary has spent a lot of time and a lot of her own money in setting up Crime Stoppers," Kerby said.

Kerby and Sims called attention to a satisfying first year for Crime Stoppers. Both said that while no crime has yet been solved through the efforts of Crime Stoppers, the effect has been dramatic in that the incidence of crime has decreased in the area since the group organized.

Carrizozo Crime Stoppers has $1,731.01 in its reserve to pay out as rewards to those who provide information leading to the indictment of those accused of crime. The 24-hour hotline for Crime Stoppers is a toll-free number 800-432-6933. Informants must not identify themselves, but the dispatcher taking a call will assign the caller a code number. Later, any reward will be paid in any manner acceptable to the informant. In all cases, the callers' identities remain secret and confidential.

Morgan Maxwell, chairman of the Rancher's Coalition, called attention to the "reward" ads run in the Lincoln County News, and pointed out that cash rewards are not only paid for information on cattle thieves, but for information on all types of crime.

Crime Stoppers voted to continue to meet the last Monday night of each month.

Thunderbirds, Golden Knights at Holloman's 'open house'

The Thunderbirds are coming to Holloman Air Force Base's annual Open House on Saturday, Oct. 29.

Assigned to the Tactical Air Command, the Thunderbirds are the official Air Demonstration Squadron of the US Air Force. In their vividly painted red, white and blue F-16 Fighting Falcon jets, the world famous aerial demonstration team will spin, loop, roll and dive through a spectacular series of precision aerobatic maneuvers with minimum wingtip clearance.

You'll see the solo pilots sweep before you at speeds up to 650 miles per hour and at minimum altitude. As always, the Thunderbirds will perform the breathtaking bomb-thrust, dissecting the sky into four equal portions.

Thunderbirds pilots are quick to tell people that not one portion of the aerial display is created to specifically be a crowd-thriller. When the planes sweep past the spectators in the "diamond" formation, the team is demonstrating maneuvers which have proved successful in actual combat situations. This is also true for each maneuver in the demonstration, and variations of these same aerial combat tactics are taught to every Air Force pilot.

The F-16 is the team's eighth different aircraft. This high performance fighter, built by General Dynamics, takes the team into a new era of modern aircraft technology. The Fighting Falcon is the Air Force's newest fighter aircraft. Since its introduction in 1979, the Falcon has made its mark as a true multirole fighter, proving itself as a highly maneuverable aircraft in air-to-air combat, and earning its place as one of the world's best precision tactical bombers.

As if the Thunderbirds weren't enough excitement, the US Army's parachute demonstration team, the Golden Knights, will also be at the Open House. The Knights will display the expertise that has won the team 41 national and eight world parachuting championships. They perform their aerial maneuvers while freefalling at speeds that reach 180 miles an hour.

Team members use a rectangular-shaped parachute referred to either as a "ram-air" or a "square" canopy. This type of parachute resembles an air mattress and is highly maneuverable with an inherent forward speed of 22 miles an hour.

The Knights' arms and legs act as levers while the on-rushing speed against the air is the force that controls their paths. At such speeds, any slight body movement will bring instant reaction. Using arms and legs to maintain a stable position, a skydiver steadily falls in a face-to-earth position. An arm or a leg pulled in causes an immediate turn in that direction. When a skydiver puts his hands by his sides and his legs straight out and together, a head-down dive is sure to be the result, and one is normally able to reach 180 miles an hour in this position. While falling, but flying in a sense, the skydivers use different movements to speed up, slow down, turn left or right, and cut laterally across the sky. Although the Golden Knights are qualified to jump from a variety of fixed and rotary wing aircraft, they normally use their own distinctive YC-7A Caribou for demonstrations in the United States.

The Open House will also have static aircraft displays, special exhibits and demonstrations, food and entertainment, and a "mini" Open House, from 10 to 11 a.m., for handicapped persons wishing to avoid large crowds.

Holloman's main entrance will be open to the general public from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. Admission is free, and there will be plenty of convenient parking. Security Police will direct motorists to the flightline, where Open House activities will take place, and to the parking areas.

Lt. Col. Edmund L. Figueroa, the 1983 Open House project officer, is being assisted by Lt. Col. John E. May and Maj. William L. Roberts.

AMERICA'S "Ambassadors in blue." The US Air Force Thunderbirds, will streak through the skies over Holloman Air Force Base Oct. 29 during the base's 1983 Open House.

Diamond award for Republican women's group

Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County has won the Diamond Award, it was announced by FRWLC president Dorothy Smith at the club's recent meeting at Cousin's restaurant, Ruidoso.

Smith received notification in a letter from National Federation of Republican Women president Betty Rendel "We are thrilled to have earned this award," said Smith. "It reflects the hard work done by our members and especially the dedication of our awards chairman, Jackie Rawlins."

Clubs throughout the country have been working on awards at one of four levels, bronze, silver, gold and diamond. Awards will be presented at the convention of NFRW in Louisville, KY, in early October. New Mexico clubs will also receive recognition at their state convention in late October in Las Cruces.

Members also heard a report from Pat Hume, newly elected County GOP chairman. Hume returned from a leadership conference in Taos recently.

"I was very impressed," said Hume. "At least half of those attending were women. And they were there in their own right, not as wives of chairmen."

Hume announced plans for strengthening county organization and asked for volunteers at precinct levels. Interested persons may contact Hume at 354-2382.

Following the business meeting, Program chairman Lois Aldrich of Capitan presented a short program on osteoporosis, home eye tests, and Social Security information.

Osteoporosis occurs commonly in women and can be prevented by proper diet, calcium supplements and exercise, she said.

She also announced the National Council on Aging has available the "Home Eye Test for Adults" for $1.

She also announced the Social Security Administration has authorized the use of a "representative payee," a person who is appointed to collect Social Security benefits for another if that person is unable due to illness or institutionalizing to collect them himself. Further information is available from the Social Security representative.

Next meeting of FRWLC will be in Carrizozo. Members will attend the county commissioners' meeting.

Good Service

This lady surely provided good service for many years as Postmistress at Capitan, and as a loyal citizen of the community. There are still quite a few people around who hollered their heads off for the Capitan team when she was playing basketball at Capitan High.

Down through the years our bank has tried to provide our customers with the best service we can muster up, and we think we have been successful. One thing in our favor we have great customers and taking care of their banking needs is our pleasure.

Come by and meet your friends in our lobby, swap a few stories with other Lincoln County Folks, many of whom have called our bank their bank for over 50 years. In today's fast-moving world that is making numberb out of all of us, bank where you are still important because you are our friends.

The Scott Williams were here last weekend long enough to get a load of wood. Gardens in the area show the effect of temperatures reported as low as 26.

Friends have learned of the death of Rex Bell on Aug. 25. Mr. Bell taught at Mountainair and Claunch and retired as superintendent of the Gadsden Schools.

Sherrill Bradford was here from El Paso for the weekend.

Janet and Rusty Franklin and the Bobby Carrolls were here from Roswell Saturday.

Jessica Nicole Bennett came from Roswell to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Owen over the weekend. She was accompanied by Tammy and Fred.

Guests of the Hollomians recently included John D's sister, Clay Gwinn and Dr. Gwinn and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wells Jr. The Gwinn's were enroute to New York City and Washington, DC. The Wells have ranching interests in Nebraska and homes in Chicago and Florida.

At the State Fair, Linda Sharp had the grand champion and Eric Sharp the reserve champion Angus heifers. Linda had the reserve champion Yorkshire pig. Eric's calf placed 4th and was in the sale. Linda's calf placed 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bryan are the parents of an almost seven pound girl born Sept. 20 in Hobbs. The baby has been named Marilee Louise for her great grandmother, grandmother and mother.

Mrs. Dick Wiegert is expected home Wednesday from an Albuquerque hospital where she underwent gall bladder surgery last week. She is anxious to see her newest grandchild.

Kay Daniel called last week from Des Moines, NM and asked to be remembered to friends here. Dr. Elbert Daniel taught in Corona and at the Universities of Iowa and Illinois and more recently in Nicaragua. He has returned to New Mexico and looks forward to retirement in the Raton area.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kane and Danell left Saturday to spend the night with relatives in Albuquerque and went on to their home in El Monte, CA on Sunday. Mr. Kane operates a truck. Danell is a bookkeeper, and Danell is a high school senior planning a military career.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sickles are spending a few days here before returning to their home in Athens, GA. Bruce is employed in a rubber plant. He had undergone surgery earlier this month to repair a football injury on his knee and is using a cane.

Family members here for the Kuykendall services Saturday include Annie and Ralph Elliott, Clovis; John D. Keelin, Frankie Sickles Balding and Irene Sickles Ferguson, Albuquerque; Everett Vickrey, Alamogordo; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kuykendall, Lois Conn Parsons, Joyce Conn, Pearl Conn and Laura Conn McNeely, all of Roswell.

Preceptor Alpha Nu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held the first meeting of the new year Monday afternoon in the home of Eva Mae Holleyman. President Linda Cancilla presided over the ritual and business sessions. She announced that PAN is again a Three Star Chapter for the 1981-82 year. June Tyree reported a good beginning celebration at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. Mrs. Cancilla and Margaret Teague reported good sales on Corona T-shirts with a few still on hand. Pecans are being ordered. Mrs. Holleyman was elected recording secretary. Patricia Perkins, yearbook chairman, completed the program schedule and her interest rekindled when she visited her sister, Blanche Blankenship this month. The sisters and another relative had been invited by the Oriek Historical Society to speak on Sept. 11. Their grandparents, the is said to be more than 367 feet in height.

Mrs. Smith took a ride up the Klamath River in a jet boat piloted by a relative, Jody Barneburg. They saw river otter, osprey and many salmon fishermen. She remarked about the number of recreation vehicles in the park. She brought pictures to illustrate the beauty of the places like Fern Canyon, remembered from her childhood.

William Moore of Prescott, AZ stopped by last week. He co-authored "Roswell Incident" with Charles Berlitz and is hoping to have a sequel off the press by early spring. He was seeking more information and had several names of people to contact. Co-author for the new book is Stanton Friedman, a nuclear physicist. The "Roswell Incident" has sold 40,000 copies in hardback in the US, 250,000 copies in hard and soft cover in England and has been translated into 19 languages. He had with him a copy of the latest translation, this one in Chinese.

A bridal shower Saturday afternoon honored Shannon Romero of Albuquerque who will marry Walter Garfield on Oct. 3 in Albuquerque. Hostesses were Sandra Alford, Carol Lynn Carroll, Petand Ruby Davidson, Shannon's colors of shades of purple and lavender were used in the silk flowers on the refreshment and gift tables, in the dahlia corsages and in the mints. Refreshments were cake, punch, nuts and mints. Miss Romero presented her hostesses with bouquets of carnations.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Elsie Romero, mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Romero's aunt, Louise Lettice, and two sisters, Lucy Muller and Evelyn Sanchez, all of Albuquerque; the groom-to-be's mother, Sue Garfield, and his aunt, Elizabeth Bratcher, both of Artesia.

Corona News

promised new pages for the book by the next meeting, Oct. 17, at the home of Mrs. Cancilla when Mrs. Cancilla and Mrs. Teague will present the program.

The hostess served chicken salad sandwiches, cherry pie, nachos, nuts, tea and coffee.

Eleanor Smith gave an interesting and to-be-continued program on the Redwoods of Northern California, from the Outline "The World Around Us." She spoke on the redwoods of Mendocino and Humboldt counties, lumbering and associated industries in the area, dairy farms enlarging to include beef cattle. Early unregulated logging practices had devastated hillsides but these have since been reforested. Small redwoods, each with a nurse tree for protective shade, have now grown up to cover the bare hills.

Mrs. Smith grew up in Northern California and found

Griffins and the Swanns, were the first families to settle in Oriek Valley. Mr. Griffin died at age 32, probably of appendicitis, and left his wife with their four daughters, Fay, Ida, Myr and Eunice. A cousin was asked to speak on Myr and Eunice, Mrs. Blankenship on their mother, and Mrs. Smith on her Aunt Fay.

Fay as a very young woman in 1911, accompanied by her guardian, went by ship from Eureka to San Francisco where she bought a Buick car. She remained in the city for several days learning the workings of the car and how to drive it and then drove it home to Oriek, an adventurous trip in those days.

The Griffin family home is now included in the Redwoods National Park. Recently three giant redwoods said to be the world's tallest living things have been discovered in the Valley along Redwood Creek. The tallest

Kuykendall rites held in Corona

Graveside services for Zelpha Kuykendall were held Saturday afternoon in the Corona Cemetery with David Sickles of Albuquerque officiating. Soloist was Gerald Enns. Both are cousins of the Sickles children.

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON

Birthdays have been plentiful in White Oaks these last two weeks beginning with Owen Simpson to whom we extend a special Happy Birthday. Duane Vinson 11 was 17 on the 25th, his dad finally became the same age I am on the 28th.

A. J. Elaine Marks are home after a two-week vacation to Ohio and it is nice to welcome them back.

Soon to be new White Oaks area neighbors are Harlan and Sally Webb. Harlan is a saddlemaker and has made saddles for people such as Dale Robertson, Kim Novak and locally, Curtis Payne. It is rumored that Sally is a fair hand at shoeing horses and bronc riding; but, well, just ask Sally about that.

Weekend visitors to White Oaks were Bob Cranston and his family. Bob is a Border Patrol officer in El Paso and likes White Oaks for the peace and quiet.

It is with regret that we report the accidental death of Tom Bonner. Tom leaves behind a wife and daughter who will be living with her parents in El Paso. We extend our deepest sympathy to Kathy Bonner and her daughter.

To all of you who missed my column last week and commented on the Jack, I can't write a column when all the news I hear I'm asked not to report. So, if there is something you'd like to see in print, help me out and let me know.

● ONE would think, wouldn't one, that there are so many vital issues facing the American people today that a loose-lipped remark from the Secretary of the Interior wouldn't qualify him for the Attila the Hun Memorial Medal. But nay. All problems of human survival must be interrupted for two weeks to permit the populace to vent its outrage by castigating Secretary James Watt for having quipped that the minority-packed commission advising him on coal leasing includes "a black, a woman, two Jews and a cripple. And we have talent." Somehow the "we have talent" got lost in the hysterical shouting of the mob for the secretary's dismissal from office. His observation was truthful. The commission is indeed made up of a black, a woman, two Jews and a cripple. But Watt-rousters are inconsolable. Their bruised psyches and frayed emotions allegedly resulted from grossly insensitive remarks by a high-ranking public official. Somehow, they reason, civilization has been placed in jeopardy, the republic endangered and human rights castrated. Actually, it would make little difference what Watt had said because anything he says is taken as a direct insult to all living beings. Dead ones, too. Had Watt only sung the Star-Spangled Banner the clamor for his political carcass would be just as shrill. People place more importance on what others say, and their far-out interpretation of what they say, than they do upon the deeds they perform. No one, it appears, must utter any statement which might offend the tender sensibilities of liberal elite crybabies. Watt was appointed to administer the nation's public lands, not to play Dr. Spock to the emotionally handicapped.

● NOT long ago I mentioned in this column that somebody was a "moral leper." I was under fire immediately for casting aspersions upon innocent victims of leprosy. I suppose that if I should write that old so-and-so acted as "nutty as a peach orchard boar" I would be branded a racist, an insensitive bigot for having impugned the characters of those engaged in pecan farming, flayed by the Peach Growers Assn., and hanged in effigy by the Hog Breeders of America.

● TIM Palmer, editor of the Ruidoso News, recently devouted an entire column to defending himself from a battery of numbskulls who managed to see something derogatory in his editorial about country music. Never mind that Palmer loves country music, and never mind that some of it is pornographic trash. Some people are compelled to take offense at any spoken or written word, all of which can be twisted into meaning something never intended in the first place.

● A FEW weeks ago President Reagan told a group of women that they have been a civilizing influence on men, and suggested that without their sterling qualities men would still be wearing animal skins and bounding about in caves. It was a compliment. Yet organized bra-burners exemplified by the National Organization for Women, immediately went into stentorian shock over this insult to women and vowed to remove Reagan from public life. Thus was born the Gender Gap, played beautifully by the media. Never mind that there is always a gender gap, for which we can be thankful.

● HALLMARK Cards last week retreated before the organized wrath of the nation's educators for having created a comic poster depicting Snuppy partying on a pizza and root beer and remarking that he wouldn't want to study at (insert name of school or college). Hallmark yielded to this nonsense by withdrawing the offensive posters and issuing the appropriate apology.

● LAST week our reporter Polly Chavez incurred the wrath of a local school board member for reporting in her coverage of the board meeting that "persons have been actively engaged in recruiting Carrizozo athletes into the Capitan sports program." He complained that the passage should have read, "recruiting Carrizozo students into the Capitan program." Never mind that some of the board's time had been spent discussing the recruitment of Carrizozo athletes into the Capitan sports program. A minor, inconsequential error, perhaps, but not one calculated to initiate borborygm of the public bowels.

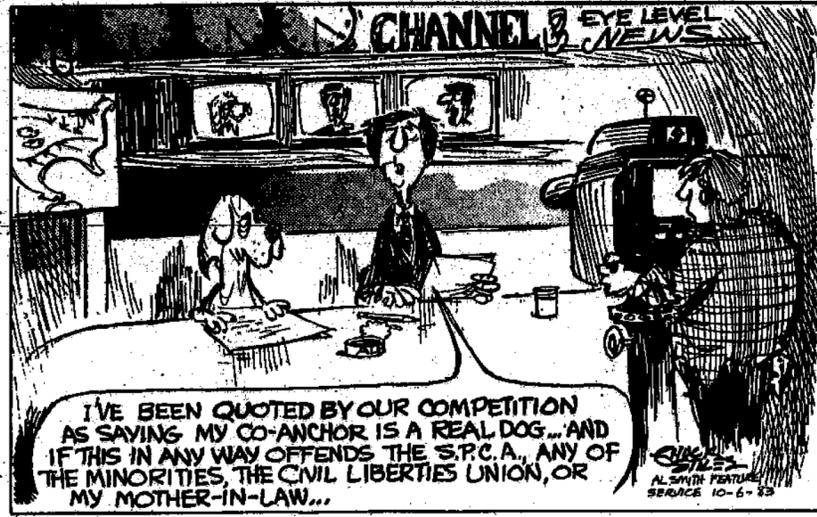

● THE federal government, recognizing that all Americans have the right to make fools of themselves, is spending as much time deleting sexist wording from federal laws as it is strengthening the national defense. At issue are statutes using such words as "widow" and "mother" which organized femaledom wants changed to "spouse" and "parent." No female, it would appear, is going to be put down, insulted and emotionally raped by being classified as a "mother." Too, all mention of "able-bodied men" are coming out of federal statutes. Women are even screeching that the Mann Act should be reworded. This law prohibits transportation across state lines "of any woman or girl for the purpose of prostitution, debauchery, or other immoral purpose." God only knows how they want this law worded, but they do.

● BACK in 1978 the Woonsocket, Rhode Island, city council was pressured into eliminating sexist language in its ordinances and language. It decreed that henceforth "manhole" would become "personhole." As might be expected, the new designation created some blushing but hilarious connotation unforeseen by councilmen.

● THE US Census Bureau spends much of its energy and much of our tax money by discovering nice new words to cover gross activity. Among these bastardizations of the language is "possiq," meaning "persons of opposite sex sharing living quarters." "Shacked up" was deemed lacking in dignity. It prompted CBS' Charles Osgood to versify: "There's nothing that I wouldn't do, if you would be my possiq."

● WHILE all this nonsense is claiming the attention of Americans, has it crossed your mind that these are the same people charged with keeping alive the world's oldest and best-working democracy, and defending it against its lengthening roster of enemies? If the Russians had any sense they would attack now while the national energy is being expended upon ridding the world of such people as James Watt, Ronald Reagan and other enemies of mankind.

● LAST week Johnson Stearns came into my office and said "Good morning, Ernie!" Now what the hell did he mean by THAT!

Watch over Washington
US compares Washington's army to Africa terrorists

BY LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — In a speech written for him by the Department of State, President Reagan welcomed Zimbabwe's Prime Minister Robert Mugabe to the White House Sept. 13 by noting:

"The United States and Zimbabwe have much in common: We both came to independence through a revolutionary process."

Mugabe was identified by the State Department as "Co-leader of the Patriotic Front" — whose forces in 1978 shot a ground-to-air missile into an unarmed passenger plane of Air Rhodesia. Twenty-eight civilians aboard this Viscount plane died in the crash landing. Eighteen more managed to crawl out of the wreckage. But Patriotic Front riflemen hunted ten of them down and shot them.

A "Senior American Spokesman" at the State Department told reporters that Mugabe was not responsible for this, because it was done by those Patriotic Fronters who were under Joshua N'komo, now a Zimbabwe assemblyman who recently returned to that country after having fled for his life as Mugabe's North Korean-trained Fifth Brigade went about massacring people all over N'komo's Matabeleland stronghold. This spokesman declined to comment when asked if he believes that Yuri Andropov is culpable with regard to the Soviet shooting down of Korean Airlines Flight 007 — because that atrocity took place a much longer way away from Moscow than Zambia is from Mozambique.

After the close of a background briefing at the White House after Reagan's welcoming of Mugabe, the US Ambassador to Zimbabwe, Robert Keeley, told reporters that there is a legitimate comparison between the Marxist-oriented forces of Mugabe and the Continental Army of Gen. George Washington, because:

"The Tories went through such a great deal of suffering, raping and burning — but we don't emphasize that in our textbooks, except the new textbooks." Earlier, a Reagan Administration official (whom the State Department ordered reporters to identify only as a "Senior American Spokesman"), during a briefing with reporters, spoke of "atrocities committed in the American Revolution" and referred to "biased and prejudiced history texts."

Ambassador Keeley is a 1951 graduate of Princeton, where history professor Richard Challener said he was unable to understand how any such comparison could be made on the basis of actual history. Another Princeton professor, who is the university's specialist in the American Revolution, is Dr. John Murrin, who noted:

"Washington specifically rejected the program of terrorism proposed to him by Gen. Charles Lee. Washington never tolerated his troops engaging in mass raping — even though there was some raping done by stragglers from both armies, in the no-man's lands of New Jersey and Westchester County — but most of this took place after the Hessians had raped their way across New Jersey."

"There was some killing of prisoners, but almost entirely adult men under arms, and this after Col. Tarleton began his practice of 'no quarter' — no talking of prisoners — for which he became known as 'Bloody Tarleton.' There was certainly no such mass killing of civilians as in Rhodesia. There was tar-and-feathering and some arson. But there was no tendency to kill unarmed civilians, except on the frontier, where this was done in retaliation for the Indian massacre of white civilians."

On Aug. 6, 1977, Mugabe took "credit" for his forces having blown up a Woolworth's store in downtown Salisbury with 70 pounds of TNT, which killed 11 — two of them black expectant mothers — and wounded 76.

Mugabe's Patriotic Front also massacred entire mission stations of both Protestants and Catholics, including the Roman Catholic Bishop of Bulawayo, and even officers of the Salvation Army. The mass raping, bayonetting of children and even enforced cannibalism and other tortures of the victims shocked the world — for a while.

In welcoming Mugabe, President Reagan spoke of his "multiracial leadership" of a "multiracial population." But the State Department announced the previous day that the white population of Zimbabwe has now declined to less than 2 percent.

Mr. Reagan also spoke (from his State Department-prepared script) of the Zimbabwe constitution which, he said, "offers protection to all citizens, black and white, ensuring their political freedoms as well as their individual rights."

The witnessing press corps almost doubled up at this whopper. For one-party advocate Mugabe had only two weeks previously revealed the extent of Zimbabwean freedom by having his troops seize six white Zimbabwean Air Force officers. Having been tortured to obtain confessions as to alleged sabotage of half his Air Force's planes, these officers were acquitted by order of a black judge. Within minutes they were rearrested and jailed.

After this welcoming ceremony, the "Senior American Spokesman" was asked by reporters whether president Reagan had asked his dictator guest about this scandal — and whether it would affect the $75 million sent each year to the Mugabe Government by the Reagan Administration.

"The President didn't say either of these things," replied Spokesman. "The President warned him about watching TV" (Continued on P. 10)

Inside Religion

The clergyman's wife

By REV. LES KINSOLVING
Few areas of womanhood have been more in need of liberation than what some congregations expect in their clergyman's wife: a mousy, servile, unpaid assistant minister for every church activity from rummage to mimeograph.

One clergyman's wife who helped pioneer a breakdown of this dreadful ecclesiastical chattel system began her marriage as the wife of an Army chaplain.

Her husband's commanding officer, a major general, was a pompous martinet who derived a particular pleasure from his sadistic needling of the wives of his junior officers.

One summer Sunday morning after an outdoor worship service, the general, accompanied by his clique of staff officers (who could be depended on to laugh at all his attempts at such humor), approached the young chaplain's wife, snickered, and asked:

"Madam, since when is it appropriate for the Chaplain's wife to attend Divine Services without stockings?"

The staff officers chortled loudly, as if on cue.

The chaplain's wife, a native of Washington, DC, where generals come by the dozen, smiled sweetly and replied:

"General, since when is it appropriate for the commanding officer to spend his time during Divine Services inspecting his chaplain's wife's legs?"

She was the daughter of an attorney whose steel-trap logic had permeated the DC courts for 50 years with dignified terror. And having inherited a full measure of her father's devastating dialectic, she combined it with a

Letters to the Editor

Hang in there, Watts!

EDITOR—Hurrah for James Watts! He is the only person in this administration who continues to do his job well and has not sold out to the liberals, Trilateralists, Council of Foreign Relations, ecology and conservation extremists. Why are the liberals so upset with his latest remark regarding the composition of the Advisory Commission? Nothing was said that could be construed as libelous, invective, slanderous or derogatory.

So he called a spade a spade. ERA should be pleased to know a woman was aboard. Are some minorities so thin-skinned that they break out into a rash if they are not reverently referred to as God's Chosen Elite? Of course, in the liberal lexicon, the word is handicapped, not "cripple." Does the preferred word provide balm to their unfortunate condition?

Keep up the good work, Secretary Watts. You impress me as honest, forthright, and determined. Hang in there. People who would criticize are at loss to find any substance or example of improper management or actions. Hence, they will resort to malevolent nitpicking, harassment, and making malicious and devious attempts, to incite racial prejudice.

FRED R. CHICK, Carrizozo.

One person can count

EDITOR—Do the American people need any more proof that aid and trade with the Communist government of the Soviet Union is detrimental to the peace and security of our land and the very lives of her citizens? The barbarous crime involving the cold-blooded murder (and make no mistake, that is what it was) of 269 defenseless human beings is but one more vivid example of the true nature of the beasts to whom we have been losing.

We have been losing because the American people through their ignorance, complacency, and lack of responsibility have allowed their own leaders to dignify, finance, and keep alive a system which is on record as having sworn to annihilate all civilization as we know it.

So many of you will say, "but what can one person do?" Now just think, if hundreds of thousands of you wrote to your Representatives in Washington and to the President demanding that the US government recognize the Soviet leadership as gangsters, cut off diplomatic recognition and send Soviet spies home and cut all aid and trade with Communists.

We must not let Congressman McDonald and the other 288 people die for nothing.

I am just one, but I can do something and I will not fail to do the something that I can do.

ELLEN EDWARDS, Lodi, CA.

Postmark collecting

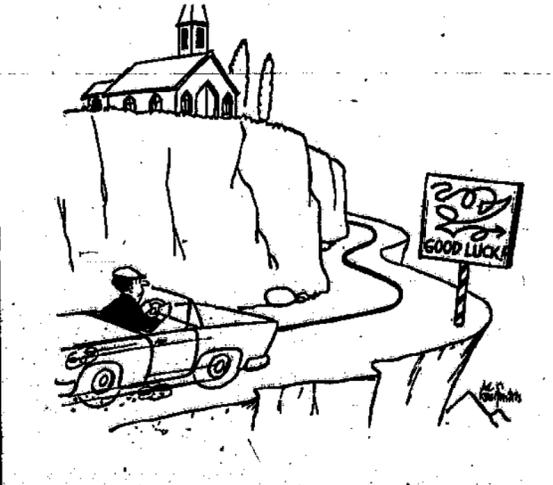

EDITOR—I am a native of New Mexico and am seeking those of your readers who are interested in postal history and the collecting of postmarks.

The National Postmark Collectors Club has over 1,000 members from throughout the United States and Canada. We are a non-profit group of collectors interested in preserving this area of American history through town names, postal cancels, and postal history in general.

Our club is also the sole support of the Pfund Memorial Post Mark Museum in Bellevue, Ohio, which houses the world's largest known postmark collection.

This area of my home state does not have any members in our club and I am hoping a few collectors that do not know about our organization will see this letter and write to me for further information.

RANCH VISITORS

Visiting Mrs. Truman Spencer Jr. and Steven at the Bar W Ranch over the Sept. 17-18 weekend were Steven's godparents, the Frank Wynns from Maitland, FL. Accompanying them were the Jim Stanbaughs, relatives, of Pennsylvania and Albuquerque.

BEST VACATION EVER

Mrs. Dan Ortiz Sr. (Sophia) and Mrs. Dan Ortiz Jr. (Maria) are back home after traveling to parts of Texas, Missouri and Oklahoma. They left Albuquerque Sept. 10 via American Airlines, stopping in Springfield, MO, where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Herrera, nephew of Mrs. Dan Ortiz Sr. Bobby, former Carrizozo resident, now resides in Marshfield, MO. Fairplay, MO resident Ralph Murray, uncle of Mrs. Dan Ortiz Jr., also met them at the airport. The women returned to Carrizozo by way of Tulsa and Oklahoma City. They both agree that it was the best vacation ever.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Carrizozo kindergarten teacher Larue Wetzel was among approximately 120 people who participated in the Sept. 24 conference sponsored by Las Cruces Association for the Education of Young Children (LCAEYC) and Las Cruces Teachers' Center.

The daylong presentation entitled, "What is Quality Education for Young Children?" was held at the Las Cruces Teachers' Center, and included a variety of training sessions. Mrs. Wetzel's selections included a session on helping preschool children develop gross motor skills. Balance activities and games, eye-hand and eye-foot coordination were among the techniques demonstrated in this area. These skills will be incorporated into Carrizozo's PE classes for kindergarten and first grade students.

The conference included lunch in the park with entertainment by the Las Cruces High School Band.

IT'S A BOY

Tony Ray and Deanna Lowell of Riverside, CA are parents of Tony Ray Lowell Jr. born Sept. 26 at Corona Community Hospital, Corona, CA. Maternal grandparents are Alton "Al" and Carol Whittaker of White Oaks. Paternal grandparents are Julia Horne, Vancouver, WA and Lloyd Lowell, Long Beach, CA.

The child is the first great-grandchild of Durante, CA residents, Mr. and Mrs. August Sankey, Carol's parents. The baby made his arrival on the birthdate of his uncle, Doug Whittaker, stepbrother of Deanna. Deanna is a former Carrizozo High School student.

STOPPED IN TOWN

Former Carrizozo residents Dale and Linda Housley visited in the Joel Palford home Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The couple was enroute to the Aspenade Motorcycle Convention in Ruidoso. Dale is a state police sergeant stationed in Albuquerque. Linda is employed at Sunwest Bank, formerly the Albuquerque National Bank.

MISSED THE BOAT

I spent Sunday afternoon in the company of two ladies, residents of Casa Manana, Carrizozo's senior citizens housing complex. The purpose of my visit was to ask Gertrude "Trudy" Allen and Johnny Melton for some tips on growing flowers. (I once had a cactus which died on me. Even plastic flowers wilt on me.) The two women live in adjoining apartments and this summer they joined forces and garden spades to produce the beautiful flowers around their place, adding a touch of color to the complex.

Armed with half a dozen packets of petunia seeds which I purchased two years ago, I asked Trudy, the flower expert of the two, for advice. I missed the boat again. I was told to wait until winter passes before I attempt to plant petunias.

I got some tips on growing tulips. The idea of a big seed (bulb) appeals to me. The leaves of the bulb work to build the following year's bud. Thanks to Trudy I have added some new words to my vocabulary: bone meal, perennial, supplement, planting, mulching, etc.

In case I miss the boat again by leaving tulips bulbs sitting on the kitchen counter all fall, I learned how to keep a Christmas poinsettia plant alive the year round. The secret is pruning in the spring of '84 and providing total darkness for the plant every night from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. beginning Oct. of next year. Come early December in 1984 I should have a plant in full bloom again. (I wonder if a canary would be easier to handle? It is colorful like a flowering plant, and it can sing besides.)

SAVING SUMMER

Following our planting chat I learned that Trudy and Johnny are multi-talented in many areas. Trudy designs unique stationery. She presses pansy, poppy, snapdragon and larkspur blossoms and leaves between pages of Sears and Wards catalogs. After the flowers dry she uses glue, water and tissue to preserve the beauty of the flowers, on sheets of writing paper with matching envelopes.

When she tires of this project, she has others in the works. She is an accomplished oil and pastel painter. A gas station she once operated in Corona served as an art gallery to house the many paintings she sold to customers and other Corona passersby. A traveling oil salesman gave her painting lessons. Trudy is an avid arrowhead hunter and has a collection from seven states.

FAITHFUL BURRO

Trudy's parents, originally from Texas, settled east of Corona in 1901. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Willingham retired and moved to Corona in 1945. Trudy, born in Corona, was raised on the ranch before it was sold. She recalls meeting the school bus after traveling to the bus stop on a burro. Trudy had a perfect attendance record, was never tardy and played girls basketball for four years. After retiring from the service station job, she served as Corona's village clerk for nearly 10 years. She retired and moved to Carrizozo for health reasons.

NEEDLEWORK ARTIST

Johnny (That's her birth given name and not a nickname) occupies her time creating afghans and other crochet projects, many of which are inspired by Indian designs. Before retiring and returning to her hometown, Johnny worked in a gift shop in Las Cruces. Johnny, like Trudy, has roots in Lincoln County. Her father was a railroad conductor and raised his family in Carrizozo. The former Johnny Green was educated in Carrizozo schools.

Trudy and Johnny are friends from way back. Johnny dated and married a Corona man. In the past the women have been on arrowhead hunting picnics.

Trudy and Johnny have lived at Casa Manana for the three years and were among the original residents.

Amber
Gem of the Ages

Millions of years ago, stately conifers, giant trees larger than our Redwoods, grew in luxuriant splendor on the stormy Baltic seacoast, which were warm as the Southern Mediterranean of today. Come the glacial age which swept this floral splendor into oblivion. Though this was long before the age of man, an eyewitness captured evidence of life in that era - and that magnificent evidence was AMBER, the golden sap of those prehistoric trees.

AMBER is truly a window into the past. Fascination and excitement will be yours as you view the botanical debris of the great forests: the seeds and insects such as flies that bit dinosaurs, bees that pollinated prehistoric flowers, and tiny drops of water which were trapped forever like bits of golden sunshine.

AMBER jewelry is an investment - like gold, silver, antiques and furs. We invite you to see the largest selection in the Southwest.

Capitan News

By MARGARET RENCH

This area had three-tenths of an inch of rain in three showers, otherwise it was only a trace with lots of clouds and threats. We did have a light frost that killed some of the vines such as pumpkins, squash and cucumber. Near Ruidoso it killed everything in the gardens. It has been colder since. It is a relief after the intense heat.

Visitors still arrive at Smokey Bear Museum. Sept. 19-24 there were 780. Last Tuesday there was a bus of 44. All of this is great for this time of year. We do appreciate them.

The Smokey Bear Volleyball Tournament was held in Capitan Saturday. The Capitan varsity girls won all three games. Socorro, Quemado, Magdalena, Elida, Capitan, Carrizozo and Ft. Sumner were all participating. Tigerettes played Quemado first, Magdalena second and Socorro for the third games. This is the first time in five years Capitan has won the tournament. Capitan also won the sportsmanship trophy.

Mrs. Ewol Fuchs of Ruidoso Downs is moving to Capitan to her home on east Fourth Street. She is the mother of Hollis Fuchs and Laura Morris. Mrs. Fuchs is a longtime resident of our mountain area. Welcome dear lady, we do want you to have many years of happiness with us.

Little Joe Smith who has lived with the Leonard Crain family for 10 1/2 months left Sept. 18 for Houston, TX where he will make his home permanently. We will miss him but do wish him happiness all of his life.

Pat Joiner spent last week in the Ruidoso Hospital for the removal of a pin in his ankle. I do wish the very best and complete recovery, Pat.

Gerald Dean Jr. was taken via Capitan Ambulance to Eastern Medical Center in Roswell Sunday night. He and his wife Kathy spent last week in Roswell for out-patient treatment and came home just two days when this happened. Stay therein and get well, Jr. I wish you the very best and complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne motored to Oklahoma to purchase a horse last weekend. Beverly returned home ill and was unable to work Monday. I wish you a good recovery. They did bring the horse home.

Louise Baggett and Louise Roberts and Linda of Huntington, TX spent three days with her brother, Leonard Crain, and family. They attended the mule races and enjoyed touring our area.

We received the sad news of the death of Laura Scott's husband Monday morning in Seminole, TX. He was returning on his motorcycle from work when the accident occurred. Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hardy of Capitan. I extend sincere sympathy with complete understanding.

Gini Spall, our village clerk, killed an antelope Sunday while hunting. We are proud of you, dear lady. Happy for you as well.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMoyné Carpenter spent two weeks at the State Fair in Albuquerque. Though they did enjoy it all they were happy to get home...

Mr. Mayfield's dahlias are beautiful. Just gorgeous. More beautiful than ever since it is cooler. The heat for a while would scorch them. Now they are out of this world. Most all businesses including the post office and Smokey Bear Museum have beautiful bouquets. Everyone does enjoy them.

JON AGUILAR

Aguilar samples college life

A graduate of Capitan High School has completed a one-week session on college life sponsored each summer by the University of New Mexico.

Jon Todd Aguilar of Carrizozo recently attended an orientation for graduating New Mexico high school students coordinated by the UNM College Enrichment Program.

Dr. Dan Chavez, director, said, "This special program helps students get information on college financial aid and orients them to the demands of college life. What's special about the program is that it really helps students prepare for college. Some of the most outstanding students in the state are participants."

Aguilar is a recipient of an academic award scholarship. He was in the student council and the National Honor Society in high school. Aguilar is undecided about what career field he will pursue in college.

Angelina Provine to be honored

Angelina Provine is being honored with a retirement tea Sunday, Oct. 2, 1983, 2-5 p.m., in the foyer of the multipurpose building at Capitan Municipal Schools, Capitan, NM.

No formal invitations are being sent, all former students, parents, friends and acquaintances are invited.

Angelina Provine received her BS degree in home economics education from Texas Technological University in Lubbock, TX and did graduate work at New Mexico State University, New Mexico Western and College of Artesia.

She came to teach at Capitan in the fall of 1946 when schools were affected by decreased funding and the war. Changes were being made in the home economics programs, and she took every opportunity to further the learning and growth of boys and girls under her leadership.

Marriage to James Ray Provine, homemaking, and rearing two children, Fred Provine of Los Alamos; and Judy Odinek of Rio Rancho curtailed her regular teaching for a while. However, she set up a home economics department under the State H. E. Department at Fort Stanton Tuberculosis Hospital for adults and youth, and worked there for nine years. During that time she was 4-H and Cub Scout leader, Make-it-With-Wool coordinator, county fair supervisor, and taught many adult classes in Capitan and Fort Stanton.

She returned to teaching at Corona for one year and then back to Capitan.

In Capitan's small community involvement in learning and money-making projects such as talent shows, breakfasts, teas, banquets, programs including the vocational advisory board, and active observation of Future Homemakers of America Weeks, resulted in continual development in social and homemaking skills.

Eleven students attended the National Leadership training of the Future Homemakers of America and Related Occupations, and Mrs. Provine attended as a New Mexico adviser on two occasions. She also had a $1500 state scholarship and a trip to Washington for two for a week by a student. She attended two American Home Economics Association meetings at the national level.

The rewards of teaching have come, as she sees it, in watching students establish themselves in the world of work, family life, and community leadership. Much love has come to her from former students and parents. She says, "Thank you for believing in me." Now as she retires, she wants to keep in touch with her students and their parents.

Her plans now include doing all the homemaking skills in a more leisurely atmosphere going fishing, enjoying her family, especially her two grandsons and friends. She hopes to travel and see more of the world.

Services for Margaret Holguin

Funeral services will be held Thursday and Friday for Margaret Holguin of Carrizozo who died Monday in Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. Thursday in Santa Rita

Catholic Church and mass will be said at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 30 at the church with Fr. David Bergs officiating. Interment will follow at Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Holguin, a member of the Santa Rita Church, was born March 14, 1894 in La Luz, NM.

Survivors include a son, Edward Holguin of Tempe, AZ; daughters, Adellina Kimbrell of Picacho, Margaret Reed of Austin, TX, Ramona Dunmore of Albuquerque, Mabel Vigil of Carrizozo; 34 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Gene Nalda, George Horne, Edward Reed, Bruce Dunmore, Albert Kimbrell, and Frankie Silva.

Arrangements were by the Chapel of Roses, Ruidoso.

Hearings on older women problems set

SANTA FE — Governor Toney Anaya has announced that a series of public hearings will be held statewide on issues concerning middle-aged and elderly women.

Anaya said the hearings, set for November, will be conducted by the New Mexico Commission on the Status of Women and the State Agency on Aging.

"This will be the first phase of a long-range project aimed at identifying the problems and developing solutions to improve the status of middle-aged and elderly women," Anaya said.

Witnesses will be asked to testify on issues such as employment, health care, retirement income and caring for older relatives, according to the governor. Hearing officers will be members of the state Commission on the Status of Women.

The hearings will take place in Espanola on Nov. 2; Santa Fe; Nov. 4; Farmington, Nov. 8; Albuquerque, Nov. 9; Las Vegas, Nov. 10; Truth or Consequences, Nov. 16; Deming, Nov. 17; Roswell, Nov. 29, and Tucuman, Dec. 1.

Anyone interested in testifying at the hearings should contact the New Mexico Commission on the Status of Women at 1-800-432-9168 or the New Mexico State Agency on Aging at 1-800-432-2080.

Christopher K. Wynn, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dale H. Wynn of Ruidoso, has completed training in fundamental military skills at the Army ROTC basic camp at Fort Knox, KY. Wynn plans to enter the ROTC program at New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT LEE TRAYLOR SR. Children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Traylor Sr. of Capitan are having a reception to honor the couple on their 50th wedding anniversary. The affair, to which friends are invited, will be held at the Capitan Fairgrounds, Saturday, Oct. 8, 2 to 5 p.m. Hosting the "no-gift" reception are the couple's children, Hub and Frances Traylor, Jack and Idy Eldridge and Rick and Kathy Vinyard.

State Fair ribbons for art students

A certificate of award presented by New Mexico State Department of Education for participation in the New Mexico State Fair art exhibit was presented to the Carrizozo Schools at the end of the fair Sunday.

Students represented, and who received ribbons in the show, were Brenda Baroz, Gabriel Chavez, Robert Connors, Robert Guevara, David Morales, Debbie Najer, Jacob Narvaez, Linda Ortiz, Carl Otero, Hal Rouseche Jr., Jeanette Silva, Sandra Silva, Dianne Vega, Julie Vega, Marian Wilkerson, Benny Zamora, Donald Zamora and Keith Greer.

Former students who also received ribbons are Arturo Cortes, David Desrosiers and Curtis Zumwalt. This has been the first time that Carrizozo Schools have been represented.

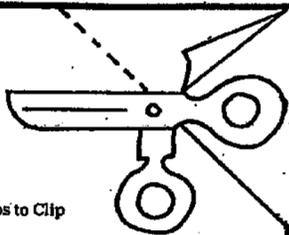

JOHN Edward Hemphill of Carrizozo is a winner of the first Future Farmers of America Achievement in Volunteerism Award. He met with (from left to right) Rep. Joe Skeen, Hemphill; and Mike Galnes, FFA Adviser, in Washington to receive his award during a five-day community development conference, Sept. 10-14. The Capitol Hill Internship program was a highlight of the conference. It is part of the FFA's Building Our American Communities (BOAC) program, sponsored by R. J. Reynolds Industries Inc., a major manufacturer of agriculturally based products. As a state Achievement in Volunteerism winner, Hemphill received a plaque and $200 check for the chapter from Reynolds Industries to be applied toward the Chapter's 1983-84 BOAC project. Hemphill is the son of Robert Edward and Judith Ann Hemphill. A graduate of Carrizozo High School, he represented the Carrizozo FFA Chapter.

TALENTED FRIENDS—Johnny, left, and Trudy with some of their creative works—afghan, oja, quilt and pastel painting. The two women neighbors have a lot in common, including a flower garden know-how and a friendship that dates back to high school years.

Tips to Clip

All-around money saving ideas, hints, advice, solutions, shortcuts for mothers and others.

Polly E. Chavez

Ironing board repairs

When holes appear in an ironing board cover, mend with iron-on patches.

Curling rugs

If your rugs curl, stick a triangle of linoleum under each corner with fabric adhesive.

Heat sets stains

Never iron a stained garment. Heat from the iron will set the stain.

For house plants

Don't throw away club soda because it has lost its fizz. Its chemicals can add vigor and color to house plants.

Tarnished copper

Tarnished copper can be cleaned with half a lemon dipped into a tablespoon of salt and vinegar.

Absorbs odors

A cup of vinegar can absorb cigar, cigarette and pipe odors.

Pleasant dosage

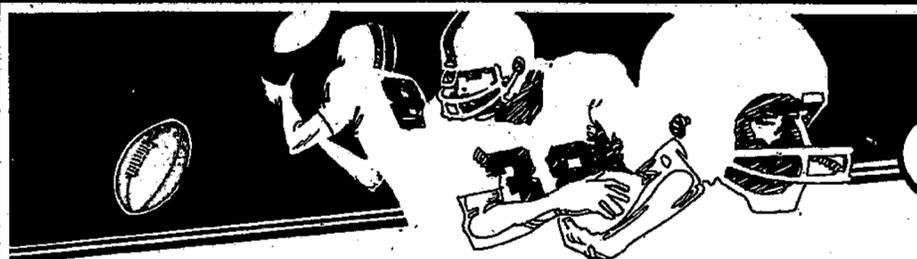

Chilling medicine before giving it to a child is likely to make it less unpleasant. The cold helps take away the taste.

Apples keep longer

Apples keep longer if they don't touch one another. Wrap each apple with a piece of butcher paper.

Thread spool storage

Sewing box a tangled mess? Use discarded egg carton as handy compartment for spools and sewing machine bobbins.

On the same day that Mr. Reagan welcomed this Marxist to the White House, the Zimbabwean delegate at the United Nations Security Council joined China, Nicaragua and Guyana in abstaining from a resolution deploring the Soviet Government's shooting down of the Korean airliner. (So, unbelievably, did two members of the US House of Representatives, Crockett and Conyers of Michigan, both members of the racially segregated Congressional Black Caucus, which Mugabe visited — at the same time the State Department was telling reporters how much Mugabe hates racial segregation.)

The "Senior American Spokesman" told reporters that "We were very disappointed" about the Zimbabwean abstention in the UN — which Mugabe explained in terms of his having consulted other southern African nations, which were unidentified.

When asked if this United States "disappointment" would
