Carrizozo Country Club and New Horizons Developmental Center are co-sponsoring a charity ball on Saturday, Oct. 29. The fundraising event, 'Harvest Moon Ball', will be held at the club building and will feature the Steve Wheeler Band.

A cake auction will be conducted during the ball, which will begin at 9:00 p.m. and end at 1:00 a.m. Popcorn and snack trays will be available.

New Horizons Developmental Center is a private non-profit agency run by a staff and board of directors. The facility serves developmentally disabled adults from Carrizozo and other communities. The work activity center, housed in the former Lincoln County Municipal Hospital, was started in 1978. A group home was added in August 1980.

The center is facing a year of extensive fundraising to repay a loan used to renovate the former nurses quarters as a second group home. Renovation started this past summer. Six adult women clients now reside in the facility. Staff members teach daily living, self-help and community living skills. The group home offers many previously institutionalized women their first taste of community and family life.

The first group home will become an Intermediate Care Facility - for Mentally Retarded (ICFMR) and will house the older clients who will move to Carrizozo from Fort Stanton. Proceeds of the Moon Harvest Ball will be used primarily to repay the loan on the second group home. Those who do not wish to attend the event but would like to donate to a worthy cause may be interested to know that tickets for the dance are tax deductible.

Advance tickets are $7 couple, $4 single. Prices at the door will be $8 couple and $5 single. Tickets are available at J. G. Moore Insurance Agency Monte Vista Service Station, Family Pharmacy and New Horizons. Tickets can also be purchased from Betty Dean, project chairman, or Bill Payne. Additional ball information can be obtained by calling Betty Dean at 648-2411 or New Horizons 648-2379.

New Horizons board of directors are John A. Hightower, chairman; Betty Dean, vice-chairman; Bill Payne, treasurer, and Phyllis Schlegel, secretary. Other board members are Tommy Guevara, Sara Gnatkowski, Jim Miller and Archie Witham.

BARBARA AKERS, seated and Joanna Gutierrez, clients at New Horizons Developmental Center relax in the living room of the former nurses quarters, which was converted to a group home.

Steven Holmquest convicted in "computer type" embezzlement

On Friday, Oct. 14, 1983, after a lengthy trial, Steven Holmquest, 25, of Ruidoso Downs, NM, was convicted by a jury in the district court in Carrizozo, NM.

Holmquest was charged by District Attorney Steve Sanders of embezzling funds belonging to the Ruidoso Downs Race Track Corporation.

It was alleged that on or about July 2, 1982, that Holmquest, while employed as a parimutuel clerk, placed a bet on the favorite in the 10th race in the sum of $14,000; that Holmquest punched in the sum of $14,000.00 on his own parimutuel machine, and when the horse ran fourth, Holmquest was investigated by Vernon Petty, security officer for Ruidoso

Downs. The investigation was broadened when Steve Sanders of the Office of the District Attorney and James Jennings of the New Mexico State Police were called in to further investigate.

Holmquest, who was represented by Gary Mitchell of Ruidoso, NM claimed that while at work that day he became sick and, when he had left his clerk's position, someone else had punched in the bets.

Holmquest also contended that the machine either malfunctioned or that someone had programmed the machine to act in the manner it did.

The jury, after hearing the evidence, deliberated approximately one and one half hours in returning a guilty verdict. The prosecution was presented by James R. Askew Jr., of Carrizozo, NM, Assistant District Attorney.

The office of the District Attorney, through Steve Sanders, is concerned about alleged criminal activity or corruption concerning any race track, and takes the position that any allegation of fraud, corruption, and dishonesty will be thoroughly investigated and prosecuted to the full extent of the law, if merited.

Grizzlies continue win streak

The Carrizozo Grizzlies won their sixth consecutive game this season last Friday night, defeating the Hagerman Bobcats 43-7 at Hagerman.

The Carrizozo offense totally dominated the 1st half, scoring 30 unanswered points without punting.

The Grizzly offensive line, consisting of Lindsay, Beltran, Crenshaw, Osorio, Benny and Charles Zamora, dominated the line of scrimmage. Their strong blocking allowed John Roueche to gain 113 yards in 17 carries and score 2 touchdowns.

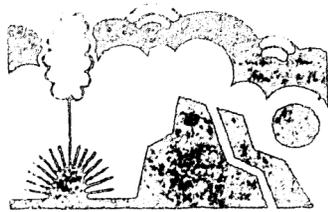

Stevie Stearns also gained over 100 yards and scored 3 touchdowns. Duane Zamora gained 62 yards in 6 carries and scored a TD. Zamora also completed a 4 of 9 passes for 76 yards. The Grizzly offense generated 352 yards against the Bobcats.

Defensively, the Grizzlies were led by defensive tackle Robert Connors who had 14 tackles and spent most of the night in the Hagerman backfield. Defensive end Gray Gallacher also had an outstanding game against the Bobcats.

"Hagerman is a very big team with excellent hitters. They sure left some lumps on us. I think we executed better than they did and had better team speed. We're real proud of our effort and attitude. Very few teams win all their games. Out of all the teams in Class A this year only 1 team has won all their games. I think you measure your team's success not so much by the number of games you win, but by how closely they play up to their physical ability. I don't think I have ever coached a team that has come closer to realizing their physical potential than these kids have. They deserve tremendous credit for the work they put in. Our practices have been grueling hard from the first day right up until now, yet most of our kids get to practice early and many stay late to practice specialties. You can't ask kids to do more than they have done to improve them-

VOLUME 79, NUMBER 43 CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO 88301 THURSDAY, OCT. 20, 1983 ESTABLISHED 1905

Fun Day and new motel opening celebrated Saturday

By P. E. CHAVEZ
"We are witness here today to a special event in Carrizozo's history," mayor Harold Garcia told the crowd gathered last Saturday on the parking lot of the brand new Four Winds Motel (Oct. 15 had been proclaimed by Garcia as 1st Annual Carrizozo Fun Day and held in conjunction with the motel's grand opening. Festivities included music, door prizes, balloons, horseshoe pitching contest and a free barbecue.

Brief speeches were made by several dignitaries, all of whom commended and congratulated the entrepreneurs for their faith in Carrizozo's future. Co-owners of the town's most modern lodging business are Mr. and Mrs. Al Romero and Mr. and Mrs. James "Willie" Silva

Garcia said, "These two families have that certain kind of courage and conviction that is the very basis, and most essential, for not only the economic development, but development in every realm, for any municipality's growth and survival."

"As a business person and chief executive officer of the town of Carrizozo, I am extremely proud of and fortunate to have association with people of this caliber."

Garcia thanked the owners and Citizens State Bank (CSB) for taking a chance on Carrizozo's future.

Afternoon activity began with tours of the different areas of the 22-room motel. Rev. David Bergs, pastor of Santa Rita Catholic Church gave the invocation. Carrizozo High School Band under the direction of John Harris was in charge of the national anthem. Master of ceremony, Pete Campos, administrative assistant to State Auditor Al Romero, extended special thanks to numerous people who "made the dream of the Romeros and Silvas come true." Among those named were CSB president Scott Shafer, CSB chairman of the board Johnson Stearns, superintendent Dr. James P. Miller Jr., general contractor, Ken Wells, electrician Roy Roybal and plumber Ned Pieters.

The welcome address by Garcia was followed by speeches by John A. Hightower, Lincoln County Commission chairman, Shafer and Stearns, CSB financiers, Hubert Quintana, executive director SENMEDD, Al Romero, New Mexico state auditor and Alex Mercure, secretary of Economic Development and Tourism.

Quintana recounted how diligent work by the co-owners finally resulted in a business that boosts the local economical growth. (In 1980 Quintana and other economic development experts met with a group of local leaders representing the business industry, public agencies, the town council, the schools, civic groups and other interested citizens. Identification of local town problems hindering economic development was discussed. Quintana brought to the group's attention a variety of funding sources available to assist in solving the problems.)

At Saturday's motel grand opening, Quintana said that the new motel brings Carrizozo back to the direction of economic growth.

Romero, co-owner of the motel and Lincoln native, said that the motel is a landmark for the town and the county and the beginning of economic growth for the area. On introducing keynote speaker, Alex Mercure, Romero said that Mercure's presence

"expounds" his prediction. Mercure praised lending institutions for strong economic development in small communities and that the health of small towns around the state is important. He encouraged the town to promote the Valley of Fires State Park, White Oaks and added, "You are on the intersection of a major highway. You've got lots going for you. That's what spurs economic growth."

Shafer, pleased to be involved in the motel venture said that, despite some negative remarks, the motel is here to stay and that more economic development will be seen in Carrizozo.

Stearns in his speech spoke of the motel owners' perseverance and said, "It's nice to be here and watch a couple of Lincoln County boys be successful." Stearns' touch of humor in describing the two men's roots in the county delighted the crowd.

"Willie's great-great-great grandfather packed water from White Mountain on back of a burro and put out the big fire at the Mal Pais. Al's great-great-great-great-grandparents were running a fruit stand on the Ruidoso River when the pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock."

Following the ribbon cutting by Garcia, 600 pounds of barbecued beef, 20 gallons of ranch style beans and 80 pounds of cole slaw was served to Fun Day and Grand Opening goers. The $1,800 meal was compliments of Citizens State Bank, Ken Wells Construction, Ned's Plumbing, R&R Electric, and Lincoln County News, with Romero and Silva picking up the rest of the tab.

Seven and a half hours of action in the horseshoe pitching contest, held near the motel, continued into the night under the outdoor lights at the Carrizozo Country Club. At 10:00 p.m. the following were declared winners: Bob Stearns and Jerry Sidwell, first place; Jim Payne and Gary Lovelace, second; Eileen Serna and Annie Boone, third.

The contest drew 19 teams. Mercure said earlier that day that horseshoe pitching may do for Carrizozo what the duck did for Deming.

Pearl Stearns honored on her 100th birthday

Pearl Stearns, a resident of the Betty Dare Good Samaritan Center in Alamogordo, will celebrate her 100th birthday, Oct. 25. Family and friends are planning a celebration for her on Sunday, Oct. 23, at 2 p.m. at Betty Dare.

Mrs. Stearns was born Pearl Edith Heilman at Rock Crick, a short distance west of Monte Vista, Colo. on Oct. 25, 1883. Her parents, John B. and Fatama Heilman arrived at this location in 1872, coming with a large number of their family and other settlers in a covered wagon train consisting of 16 wagons, all from the Pennsylvania area.

In 1903 she married Ormel Poage in Durango, Colo. He was employed with the train service of the D and RGW on the Cumbres Pass at Chama. Due to the severity of their winters, and the trains being lost in snow storms, they decided to move to Alamogordo where he could work on a new line just constructed to Cloudcroft and Russia. Two children were born of this marriage, both are deceased.

Then in 1904, they moved to Carrizozo where he was employed on the El Paso and Northwestern Railroad, a short time later, their marriage ended in divorce.

Mrs. Poage worked as a clerk in the Carrizozo Trading Company and also as a telephone operator. In 1913 she married Orsa S. Stearns, who was employed as an engine foreman in the Carrizozo Yards by the El Paso and Southwestern Railroads.

To this union, one son, Johnson was born in 1917. He resides in Carrizozo with his wife Margaret. Mrs. Stearns is proud of her family, including five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

In 1919, the Stearns family purchased a place on Bonito Creek just below the Parsons Mine, and the two older children attended school at the Parsons School. They lived between their place and Bonito and at Carrizozo until 1929 when the Southern Pacific purchased the different places up and down Bonito Creek and constructed a dam.

At this time, the family bought a place in Nogal Canyon. Mr. Stearns passed away in 1935 and in 1943, Mrs. Stearns sold that place, and moved to Nogal where she purchased the Nogal Store and became the postmistress there. She served in this capacity for 20 years, and in 1959, she was the oldest postmaster attending the Postmasters Convention in Washington, D. C.

For 36 years Mrs. Stearns ran the store and a service station, and after 25 years of service in the station, she received a plaque from the Phillips 66

Co. for her services.

In 1973, she was nominated for Pioneer Woman of the Year by the Daughters of the American Revolution of Lincoln County.

To this day, she is also the oldest living member of the Comet Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star, which she joined in 1914. She received her 50 year pin from the chapter in 1964. She is also a member of the Nogal Presbyterian Church.

Up until the time she moved to the Betty Dare Center in Alamogordo, Mrs. Stearns lived by herself, and took care of her own home. In 1980, she moved to Alamogordo where she now resides at the Betty Dare Center.

She is proud of her family and is frequently visited by her son and his wife Margaret. Her favorite pastime is talking of her life as a postmaster.

Halfback Tim McElhannon led the scoring parade with touchdown runs of 38, 18, and 59 yards. Quarterback Dewey Keller and fullback Danny Cummins scored the other touchdowns on runs of 29 and 5 yards respectively. Todd Proctor added 2 extra points.

Cloudcroft got on the scoreboard first, after recovering a Tiger fumble to start the game. Tim Brinkley scored on a 4 yard end sweep. This seemed to ignite the Tigers as they totaled 33 unanswered points in the first half.

Coach Jenkins substituted freely in the second half to give

Oct. 15 marks the tenth year for Willie Hobbs at the Smokey Bear Museum. Can you imagine the questions she has answered? This year the visitors totaled 43,503 from all 50 states, Washington, DC and 25 foreign countries. This is an increase of some 2,000 with the foreign countries about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Leitman of Oberlin, KS visited the Museum Sunday. Mrs. Leitman is Rudolph Wendolyn's cousin. Rudy was the Smokey Bear artist that drew all of Smokey posters.

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON
Louise Runnels, who now lives in Alamogordo, was in White Oaks visiting Thursday. Mrs. Runnels taught in the Jicarilla school in 1899. To keep the school open there had to be a total of 11 children attending each school day. As there were only 11 children in the school, if one or more were ill, Mrs. Runnels remembers; she had to pad the roll.

last week. The mare's body was found just three days after being last seen and was in good health at that time. I'm sure Mr. Crenshaw would appreciate any information anyone might have about the death of this animal. The mare leaves behind a three month old colt which will have to have special feedings now.

With Mrs. Runnels were her granddaughter Sadie Reed from Nogal. Sadie is 2 1/2 years old. Also Jack Meeks from Sierra Vista. Jack said he had been trying for 30 years to get to White Oaks. He would like to homestead some land in the area but doubts there is any left.

Dave Pattigrew celebrated his birthday Oct. 14 with friends in White Oaks area.

Jennifer Vinson was 11 years old Oct. 15. She got a new coat, a radio to use in her room and was taken out for dinner to Jackie's.

Ruth Hawk will become Mrs. William Tally Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Rec. Center. We wish her the best of everything in her new marriage.

Seventy-nine year old Mable Guidas, on her first trip out of her hometown of Hunker, PA to visit her grandson and his wife, came across the ghost town of White Oaks. She met some real live cowboys with the unlikely names of Wild Bill, Big Pat and Old Timer Lem. These three spent the afternoon posing for pictures and regaling this lady with tales from their ranch hand days. She was told that Big Pat and his cutting horse were so good they could cut a calf out of a stove pipe. Not sure if she believed this or not but addresses were exchanged and we all hope this lady and her family will be able to make further trips to our area.

Opinion

(This bit of whimsy appeared in this column in 1978, the original brainchild of a perceptive certified public accountant, Stewart Barber of Sebastopol, CA. Since then it has been expanded and amended by Ernest Joiner. We thought this a good time to revive it, while Joiner is prowling with critical eye among the cocaine dens, fleshpots and cesspools of San Francisco. He will return next week with his basket of weekly irritants. He has titled this particular fantasy, "The Last Boat.")

● "DADDY," asked the little boy as the citizens boarded the last boat to Europe, "what happened to our country?"

● "WELL, son, it all started back in 1878 when Panama demanded the return of the Panama Canal. The citizens thought it was ours. We built it and paid for it, but the government said we did not get it fairly, so they gave it back. Of course, Panama could not afford it, so we also had to give them millions of dollars to run it.

● "THIS started the whole chain of events. Russia, with whom we were never very friendly, saw the opportunity and demanded the return of Alaska. They said we did not pay them a fair price when we bought it in 1867 for $7.2 million. The citizens again claimed it was ours. But the government said we had a moral responsibility, so they gave Alaska back to the Russians. We also had to pay Russia for all the gold we took out of Alaska, plus all the oil, and at today's prices, of course.

● "SHORTLY after that, France and Mexico filed their claims. France wanted back the Mississippi River watershed area. You should remember, son, in your history class about the Louisiana Purchase. Their claim, same as Russia's, was that the $15 million paid for the land was not a fair price. The citizens complained, but to no avail. The government gave it back, and with additional dollars because France could not afford to maintain the river. Mexico's claim was, of course, that we took Texas and California by force. The government could think of no defense so their claim was immediately granted. As usual, the government also allowed Mexico's claim for indemnity for all their soldiers killed and for all the gold taken from California. By then the citizens had lost all their ability to complain; they just shrugged their shoulders.

● "THEN our last friendly neighbor, Canada, said it was talked out of Oregon and Washington and without much ado, the government gave the two states to them. Like the others, Canada had to be paid for all the lumber cut.

● "BY this time the United States was in pretty bad shape. It was broke and landlocked on the Pacific side and split in the middle. There were other claims filed for Hawaii and Florida. Ponce de Leon was the first European to see Florida and his claim, plus the claims of his country, are obscure at best. On the other hand, France established a colony on the St. Johns River in 1664, which provided France's claim. Except that Great Britain held Florida briefly, thanks to Sir Francis Drake. The British gave it back to Spain. Andrew Jackson invaded it in 1818 and Spain ceded it to us in 1819. You see how complicated the problem is as to whom we should give Florida to. All we know is that while France, Great Britain and Spain fight it out, it just doesn't belong to us.

● "AS FOR Hawaii, the British probably have the best claim because Captain James Cook was the first European visitor to the Hawaiian Islands in 1778. However, the Polynesians first settled the islands about 700 A.D., but our government can't find any Polynesians to give Hawaii back to. It was annexed to the United States in 1898. We anguished over which country to give Hawaii and Florida to and thus uphold the national character of being fair and just to everybody except our own.

● "THE question became moot when the final blow was delivered. The federal government allowed the claim of the last surviving American Indian for all the land remaining, which was Florida. Hawaii was thrown in to compensate the Indian for the government having previously given away other lands to which he laid claim.

● "WITH all the land and homes gone, our citizens were still trying to make a living, and with their old-fashioned ingenuity were making enough to survive. It was about 1980 that Japanese-Americans who had not shared in the return of US land to its rightful owners, devised a plan to take away the dollars our citizens were earning. They filed suit for $8 million as compensation for having been inconvenienced in World War II, and then US Sen. Alan Cranston pushed it through Congress. It took the most of the citizens' money to pay for injustices done to Japanese-Americans. It wasn't long before the blacks also sued for compensation for injustices done them beginning in 1776 when the country was founded. This depleted the resources of the citizens, who had to default on legitimate claims advanced by Filipinos, Cubans, Mexicans, Poles, Armenians, Hungarians, Italians, Swedes, Chinese and others who had sustained injustices that had gone unsolved.

● "THAT'S what happened to our country, son. But we can carry our heads high because we are a fair, just and compassionate people. And that is why all the citizens are having to return to the old country and start all over again in their new land. Let us give thanks to Gen. Yassir Arafat and Moammar Khadafy for having provided our passage on this ship, and for a second chance at achieving the American Dream through our work in the Siberian mines."

Watch over Washington

Did the Japanese really bomb Pearl Harbor?

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — If you, too, are unable to imagine (or remember) any such headline in December of 1941, then you can consider the current Big Media coverage of the Soviet Union's Korean Airlines Massacre — and realize how far (down) the US Big Media has gone in 42 years.

What media critic Reed Irvine documents in detail as the Your-Can't-Trust-The-United-States Syndrome is illustrated as follows — by simply substituting the Tojo Japanese for the Andropov Russians in a number of actual headlines and columns published in September of 1983:

"US SAYS JAPANESE BOMBED PEARL HARBOR" — New York Times, Sept. 2, 1983

"US SAYS JAPANESE ATTACKED HONOLULU" — Washington Post, Sept. 2, 1983

"ANALYSTS SUSPECT MISIDENTIFICATION LED TO THE ATTACK" — Actual Washington Post headline to story written by Mike Getler, Sept. 1983

"US FLEET WAS SPYING, TOKYO SAYS" — Philadelphia Inquirer, Sept. 1983

"JAPANESE CLAIM WARNING SHOTS FIRED BEFORE ATTACK" — New York Times, Sept. 1983

"TOKYO REPORTS JAPANESE BOMBERS CONFUSED USS ARIZONA WITH CHINESE MINESWEEPER" — Mike Getler in the Washington Post Sept. 1983

"JAPANESE MAY HAVE MISTAKEN PEARL HARBOR FOR SAIPAN BOMBING RANGE" — Philadelphia Inquirer, Sept. 1984

CBS NEWS: "They keep insisting that there is no other conclusion that can be drawn but that the Japanese deliberately bombed the US Fleet in Pearl Harbor. But a number of us keep asking if that is necessarily the case. We think it still may be possible that a mistake was made. And that is a question that the Roosevelt Administration simply hasn't answered." — Bill Plante, CBS News, The White House

MURRAY MARDER, columnist, the Washington Post: "Now those hardliners who embrace the devil image of Emperor Hirohito's extraordinarily polite and hard-working government have a chance to preserve the American outrage long enough to convert it into political currency. If they succeed, it will become immeasurably harder to sustain the political support required to bring any negotiation with the Greater East Asia Co-Prosperty Sphere to a successful conclusion."

JAMES RESTON, New York Times columnist: "The first reaction in Washington after the ship disaster in Oahu was 'What's the point of trying to reach an agreement with Tokyo through Ambassadors Nomura' and Kurusu, when such a government could order or approve such a human atrocity as has just happened?' It would be a tragic conclusion, but that's the way it's going for the moment. Later on, the sense of outrage about the US Navy ship disaster may settle down; but it will take some time."

ANTHONY LEWIS, New York Times columnist: "Conceivably, Japanese navigators

(with their traditionally poor eyesight) could have mistaken Pearl Harbor for that Saipan bombing range."

By striking contrast to all this, there was the observation of one of the few conservatives in Big Media, George Will, who wrote as follows:

"The shocking thing is how shocked people are. The day the Soviet regime murdered another 269 people was the 24,941st day since the regime was founded. Since 1917 the regime has killed at least 20 million of its own citizens. Why are people so startled when the Soviet regime acts in character? Nothing in nature — not even granite, which water wears away after a time — is as durable as illusions grounded in a desire to avoid facing nasty facts... Americans are a manufacturing people, so they manufacture new fusions about Soviet willingness to move up from barbarism. In 1979, after 62 years of domestic carnage and international gangsterism, the Soviet regime invaded Afghanistan, and the President of the United States said: 'Gosh; that sure opens my eyes!'"

"Why did the Soviet regime, after 2½ hours of thinking about it, murder another 269 persons? Well, why not? The benefits are clear enough (the benefits of intimidation, especially of Japan), and the costs are almost certainly going to be negligible. The Soviet deed has been the subject of a UN debate. For the Kremlin, that was an ordeal akin to being bombarded with marshmallows. Thank God it is not December, or some dunce would suggest dimming the national Christmas Tree... The World Council of Churches has not yet had time to condemn the Korean Air Lines for aggressively bumping into Soviet air-to-air missiles, but various other 'peace' parties, with the impartiality for which they are famous, have announced the Soviet deed proves the irrationality of 'the superpowers' and demonstrates the paranoia to which US policy has driven the Soviet Union. So everybody must disarm, starting now, starting here.

The cotton-candy language of journalism spreads a sticky goo of imprecision over events like the attack on the plane. It has been repeatedly referred to as a tragedy. No, when children die of leukemia, that is a tragedy. When they are blown to bits by an act of state, that is an atrocity and one worthy of Hitler's former allies."

George Will's superb analysis here has only one slight stick of goo from what he terms the "cotton-candy language of journalism."

This column of his didn't name a single one of those Cotton Candy appeasers who write for The Washington Post, The New York Times and The Philadelphia Inquirer.

Inside Religion

Radical churches demand firing of Lichenstein

By REV. LES KINSOLVING
Anyone who ever underestimates the gall of organized religion's radical left wing should contemplate their reaction to the Soviet Union's Korean Air Lines Massacre.

The ultraliberal Christian Century, a Protestant weekly published in Chicago, tried to compare this atrocity to the Israeli shooting down of a Libyan passenger plane in 1973. But this took place only seven months before the invasion of Israel in the Yom Kippur War. Moreover, the Libyan plane — which was flying 100 miles inside Israeli lines — repeatedly ignored Israeli signals to land, since it had gotten within 10 minutes flying time from downtown Tel Aviv.

The dubious effort was made by Century editor James Wall, a Methodist minister who served twice as Jimmy Carter's Illinois campaign manager — and yet succeeded in retaining his magazine's tax-exemption.

From a number of Wall's fellow radicals there has come a demand that Charles Lichenstein, our Deputy Chief of Mission to the United Nations, be fired. Lichenstein is the man who President Reagan said had "the hearty approval of most people in America in his suggestion that we aren't asking anyone to leave, but if they choose to leave, goodbye."

Mr. Lichenstein told the United Nations: "If, in the judicious determination of the members of the United Nations, they feel that they are not welcome and they are not being treated with the hostility consideration that is their due, then the United States strongly encourages such member states to consider removing themselves from the soil of the United States. We will put no impediment in your way. The members of the US Mission at the United Nations will be down at dockside waving you a fond farewell as you sail away into the sunset."

For saying this, as well as noting to the Soviet delegate that Foreign Minister Gromyko was given permission to land an Aeroflot plane at Maguire Air Force Base — with the promise that his plane will not be shot down — the following church bureaucrats want Lichenstein fired:

—Homer Jack, World Conference on Religion and Peace.

—Edna McCallion, Church Women United (of the National Council of Churches).

—Sister Mary Beth Reissen, Pax Christi International.

—Rev. Robert McLean, United Methodist Peace and World Order.

—Mia Adjali, United Methodist Board of Global Ministries.

—James Olson, Unitarian Universalist Association.

These people were seconded in their demand for Lichenstein's ouster by two dozen of the most regularly radical members of the House of Representatives. Since President Reagan has

Letters to the Editor

C'mon — waste a quarter

EDITOR—Every three or four months I buy a copy of your newspaper because I'm a natural optimist. Then I read your editorial column and I just can't believe it!

Do you really subscribe to those Neanderthal views? Next I discover that your Letters to the Editor column has become a forum for those California members of the John Birch Society. Don't you remember that it was the Birchers who labeled President Eisenhower a communist?

You even let them push the letter from the Lincoln Co. 4-H Council to a back page. I can believe that with your attitudes you probably have more customers in Lodi, Herald, and Stockton than you have in Lincoln County — but it's still poor business. I may weaken and waste a quarter on your paper once again — but don't count on it.

Save the pets, livestock and water tanks

EDITOR—Have you ever tried to cash a check with only one ID card? Have you ever walked up to a land owner's house with a rifle and asked for permission to cross or hunt on his land? Have you ever been turned down and wondered why?

Well, let me tell you a story. A gentle over-grown puppy was shot Sunday. He's a big white dog seven months old but is friendly looking and he was standing on his owner's property. Did you shoot him or were you with the person who did?

Hunting season opened Saturday, Sunday a dog was shot. The vet said that was the second dog brought in in one day. Possibly black powder or a .22 cal.

Gates are left open, fences are cut and people get angry. Cows and horses are wounded, dogs destroyed. You, the hunter, are bored, or the person hunting in your area wants to take a short cut, a rancher is left angry.

Next hunting season you find there's no place left to hunt. You, the hunter, are not welcome anywhere. Maybe you are a law abiding hunter who never cut a fence or shot up a water tank but no one will ask. You, the hunter are out, along with the person who shot this dog and others like him. If you don't want to lose this privilege, you can turn this person in. This person who shot a defenseless white overgrown puppy, this person who is making people so angry they group all hunters together and no longer want anyone in their area or on their land.

Maybe it's time we the hunter, police our own, so next year we will have a place to hunt.

WHAT'S FOR DINNER?

At our place, dinner usually includes green chile in some form. Our sack of green chile was roasted by the enterprising Sanchez brothers, who set up a chile roasting service this year. So far we have enjoyed green chile and corn casserole; green chile corn bread, and green chile enchiladas. Still to come: grits and green chile and chile relleno casserole.

I need help from column readers. I am looking for a recipe for green chile relleno casserole. I've tried preparing the traditional chiles rellenos, but that can get complicated. The stems fall off as I carefully place the cheese and meat filled chile in the egg and flour batter. When I slide the chile into the hot oil the whole thing falls apart. Does anyone have a chile relleno casserole recipe that has actually been tested? My taste buds will appreciate it.

Operation Game Thief is getting good results

Calls to Operation Game Thief are picking up in number, and Game and Fish Department officers are picking up increasing numbers of violators as autumn calls both the legal and illegal hunter to the field.

Conservation officer Paul Pirtle, acting on a tip from a Game Thief caller, intercepted two Sapello men at Walker Flats, on the western edge of the Pecos Wilderness, and seized the cut-up carcasses of what are believed to be two mule deer, OGT coordinator Dan Pursley said this week.

Pirtle charged Wilfred Lucero, 32, with two counts each of illegal possession and illegal killing of big game and charged 29-year-old Alex Trujillo with two counts each of illegal possession of big game. Bond for Lucero was set at $300, for Trujillo, $200. Trial date is not set. They will appear in Mora County magistrate county court.

Socorro district officer Glenn Case cited a 17-year-old juvenile with illegal possession of big game after following up on an OGT call late this week. The game department assessed $200 civil damages for the state's loss of the deer, and the juvenile will face criminal charges in juvenile court.

If convicted, the defendants face criminal penalties of $400 on each count. They could also lose the firearms used in committing the crimes and lose their hunting and fishing license privileges for up to three years.

Rewards to Operation Game Thief callers are $350 for violations involving deer; bighorn sheep, $750; elk and oryx, $500; ibex, Barbary sheep, turkey, bear, lion, javelina and endangered species, $250; small game, fish, raptors and furbearers, $150. Higher rewards have been authorized.

Callers can use a toll-free number, 1-800-432-4263. They are not asked their names and are not asked to testify in court.

Her work has been shown in a number of galleries throughout the United States, more recently in Silverton and Durango, CO, and the Aztec and Salmon Ruins Museums. She has won first and second places in Arkansas and Montana as well as local shows.

Ora Lea is mostly a self-taught artist but lately has studied with Nikki Smith, a Washington artist and teacher, and with Gwen Rankin of Farmington. She will have a few of her paintings on display here before taking them to the Farmington Art Show Nov. 19th and 20th. There will be a lucky winner at the Moore-Miller reception.

So what's new?

Game license mixup causes problems

A bill passed by the 1983 State Legislature increased the fees for hunting and fishing licenses in New Mexico, but has caused some problems for the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish. The bill set April 1, 1983, as the date for the increased fees to go into effect, which coincided with the starting date for the 1983-84 license year. The bill also changed the structure of the licenses. In past years, Big Game Licenses included a deer, bear, and turkey tag, but the new bill created separate licenses for each of these species.

The new licenses went on sale April 1, 1983, as set forth in the bill. But in early June, it was discovered that an emergency clause that is required by the State Constitution had been left out of the bill. The Attorney General confirmed the omission and advised the Department that the effective date of the license fee increase should have been on June 17, 1983.

Meanwhile, the Department had been selling licenses under the new structure and fees since April 1. Now, what to do to rectify the mistake!

First, since last year's license had the three tags for deer, bear, and turkey, the Department decided that people who had purchased a Big Game License prior to June 17, will not need to buy the additional tags to hunt bear and turkey this fall. Specifically, persons who purchased a General Hunting, General Hunting and Fishing, General Hunting and Fishing with a Trout Validation, Senior General Hunting, or Big Game Licenses on or before June 16, may use it to hunt deer, bear, and fall turkey.

No additional tag will be necessary and hunters bagging a bear or fall turkey need not tag the animal if the Big Game License they possess was purchased on or before June 16, 1983.

Anyone who bought a Big Game License after June 16, must also purchase a bear or turkey tag if they wish to hunt these species during the fall seasons and must properly tag the animal.

The Department has also started an escrow account to make refunds for the increased license fees. At this time, there is no law or regulation that allows the Department to return these monies, but legislation is being drafted to overcome this obstacle. As drafted, the bill would authorize refunds for overcharges on 1983-84 hunting and fishing licenses of all types sold prior to June 17. Refunds would be made March 1 to April 15, 1984, to those bringing or mailing their licenses to the Department.

These special rules only apply on big game licenses bought before July 17, 1983, and keep track of your license if you wish to obtain the refund for overcharges - if the refund bill is passed by the 1984 State Legislature.

Corona homecoming set for Friday-Saturday

The 1983-84 Homecoming festivities will begin Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the new auditorium. The pep rally will be first and then all will adjourn to the bonfire.

On Saturday, Oct. 22, the Homecoming game, the Corona Cardinals vs the Hondo Eagles, will be played with kickoff time at 2:00 p.m. Halftime will be for honoring the royalty of the day.

Student council vice-president Shawn Perkins will

Following the game, the Junior Class will be serving an enchilada dinner for $3.50 and

The Student Council will hold a Homecoming Dance from 8:00 to 12:00 with a live band from Belen, NM. They welcome everyone to attend any or all of these activities and especially invite the Corona School Alumni.

Burns art exhibit at school during October

Paintings, drawings and sketches by Don Burns, Carrizozo artist, are on exhibit in the conference room of the Carrizozo Schools during the month of October. The show is open to the public Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monthly exhibits are sponsored by the Carrizozo Schools and anyone who wishes display their work should contact the school during school hours.

Among Burn's works are portraits of Indians, foxes, steer skulls, local businesses and cowboys. He attended the University of Texas where he took courses in art and after went into medical illustration. His art show has one illustration of the heart which was painstakingly done. A native of El Paso, Burns is currently working in the silk screening department of BELCO Industries in Carrizozo. His mother, Irlene Phillips, made the frames for his art work and both he and Mrs. Phillips own the Plaza Park Apartments in Carrizozo.
