Marijuana raid nets 8 suspects

Officers from the Lincoln County Sheriff's office, district attorney and Ruidoso police rounded up eight men Monday in Ruidoso and charged seven with possession of marijuana and another with an added charge of possession of explosives.

Executing a search warrant, officers raided the Lincoln De Lux Apartments in Ruidoso and arrested the following: Timothy Reed, 25; Rickey Johnson, 20; Kevin Puckett, 18, Brian Saldin, 22, Dave Drain, 19, Wayne R. Saldin, 26, and Ellonne Carter, 26. All were charged with possession of marijuana under eight ounces. Billy Manske, 23, was also charged with possessing explosives. All are from Ruidoso.

The raid was a joint effort by sheriff's investigators Ray Carner and John Ashbaugh; John Carver of the district attorney's office; and detectives and uniformed police from the Ruidoso Police Dept.

On Oct. 18, deputies arrested David R. Desrosiers of Carrizozo on charges of aggravated burglary. He is reported to have entered the house where Terry Davis is living about 1 a.m. Davis, a familiar figure on Carrizozo streets with his three-wheeled bicycle, fled from the house and apparently was not injured in the break-in.

Bill Rison of Ruidoso was arrested Oct. 24 on charges of arson by Deputy Ray Carner.

County asks state to take over Gavilan Rd.

Lincoln County Commissioners voted Oct. 19 to request the State Highway Commission to designate Gavilan Canyon Road a state road.

The letter to the highway commissioner stated that the increased use of the road year-round by tourists and heavy trucks has caused the road to crumble and develop potholes. The commissioners pointed out that the Lincoln County Road Dept. spent more than $38,000 last spring repairing this road, and recent inspections indicate that more repairs are needed. The county does "not have the funds to properly maintain this road," the letter stated.

The commissioners' letter proposed that a swap be made for Devil's Canyon Road, which is now State Road 214.

In other action, the commissioners

Approved moving Hondo polling place, Prec. 17, to the Hondo School.

Accepted budget increases of $59,685 for the courthouse heating and cooling system, $3,597 for a new radio repeater for the sheriff's office, and authorized a final payment of $8,000 to Leedshall-Herkenhoff as final payment for the Ruidoso county building.

Accepted bids for three dump trucks from Richardson Ford for a total of $156,930, an articulated three-yard loader from Rust Tractor Co. for $75,884, and an assessor's notice of valuation from Triadic for $3,225.60.

Amended Ordinance 82-2 to impose a $25 fee for building inspections.

Appointed Kenneth Nosker to the board of Certified Development Corp., which deals with Small Business Loan applications in Lincoln and surrounding counties.

County honors EMTs

Oct. 23-29 has been proclaimed Emergency Medical Technicians week by the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners.

Lincoln County is a very large rural mountainous area covering approximately 4,585 square miles. Accidents in rural areas contribute to a higher mortality rate than urban areas.

The number of EMTs in Lincoln County at present total 73 ranking Lincoln County 121st highest of 33 counties in the State of New Mexico. This number of EMTs to the present population of the county is one EMT to every 136 persons. By comparison, Bernalillo County has one EMT to every 454 persons.

All Lincoln County EMTs serve as volunteers and are New Mexico State registered, having completed the required course as set forth by the Health and Environment Dept., State of New Mexico.

Ambulances are located in Alto Capitan, Carrizozo, Corona and Hondo. These locations provide the fastest response times available to all sections of Lincoln County, averaging 14.6 minutes to all emergency and urgent calls.

CLIF FORD (in hat) congratulates Roger Garner, Capitan, for placing first in the school bus driver rodeo held here Saturday. Landa Greer, Nogal, was second, and J. C. Richmond, Carrizozo, placed third. Ford, a school transportation specialist from Santa Fe, was in charge of the event sponsored by the Carrizozo Schools and the New Mexico Dept. of Education.

FRANKIE Silva, Capitan, watches as Nogal bus driver Landa Greer maneuvers her school bus around barrels. The serpentine portion of the competition was made up of competition in a variety of driving skills.

STEP/Teen program to teach parenting in Carrizozo area

Improving relationships between parents and teenagers will be the focus of a series of discussion sessions beginning Tuesday at 7 p.m. The program is being sponsored by Carrizozo Schools, according to high school counselor Hal Roueche. The discussions will be based on "Systematic Training for Effective Parenting of Teens" (STEP/Teen).

STEP/Teen is a sequel to "Systematic Training for Effective Parenting" (STEP), the most widely used parent education program in the country. More than one million people throughout the United States, Canada and other countries have participated in STEP and STEP/Teen discussion groups since American Guidance Service (AGS) of Circle Pines, Minnesota, introduced the original STEP program in 1976.

STEP/Teen encourages mutual respect between parents and teens. It leads to increased cooperation, more effective communication, and a more responsible, self-reliant attitude among teenagers.

The community's interest in parenting education is part of a nationwide trend. A recent nationwide survey conducted by AGS showed that parenting education is a growing phenomenon, sponsored by hundreds of diverse groups and organizations and conducted by thousands of individuals throughout the United States.

The trend in parenting education is a result of many social changes. These include changing roles for mothers, a shift away from the autocratic "father knows best" value system to a more democratic viewpoint, and the increasing mobility of families.

The survey showed that diverse organization sponsor STEP groups: schools, religious groups, community centers,

GOP women head for convention

Jackie Rawlins, Mary Helen Skeen, Pat Hume and Noema Page will serve as delegates and Jean Lee and Lois Aldrich will serve as alternates to the 22nd biennial convention of New Mexico Federation of Republican Women in Las Cruces, Oct. 28-30, announced Dorothy Smith, president. Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County

Smith and Yvonne Lanelli, NMFWR board members, will also attend from Lincoln County.

Garrey Carruthers, assistant secretary of the interior, Betty Rendel, president, National social service agencies, mental health centers, hospitals, individuals and state and local government agencies.

Of the 1,300 STEP leaders who responded to the survey, 88 percent said they received positive feedback from parents about the program; only 2 percent reported any negative feedback. Parents who participated in STEP groups said they found the program beneficial for many reasons. High on the list was the opportunity it provided for them to share experiences and learn from others. Some STEP leaders spoke of networks of parents that had grown up locally around the program. Others said that STEP enabled parents to learn new ways to handle persistent problems, "to get in touch with their feelings and their child's," and to overcome a sense of guilt and develop a sense of confidence and self-esteem.

For more information on STEP/Teen groups being organized in the Carrizozo area, contact Hal Roueche at 648-2125.

Theme of the convention is "New Images" and will be carried out through a series of talks and seminars.

Clown show Saturday

A free clown show is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 29, at the Carrizozo Recreation Center. A unit of Shriners will put on the show at 1:30 p.m. There will be free balloons. Everyone is welcome.

Capitan wrecks Mountainair

Scoring every quarter, the Capitan Tigers rolled up a 51-13 victory over Mountainair in a conference game Friday night.

For the second week in a row, speedy halfback Tim McElhannon paced the Tigers with scoring runs of 65, 36, 65 and 63 yards. McElhannon also intercepted a pass, caught one for an extra point, and had another 87 yard TD run erased by a penalty.

The four scores gave him 12 for the season as the Tigers picked up their third win against four losses.

Danny Cummins scored two touchdowns on runs of 13 and 58 yards, and gained over 100 yards rushing.

Dewey Keller also scored on a 19 yard run and Todd Proctor added a 27 yard field goal to cap the scoring.

Mountainair tallied all their points in the second quarter on a pass play and fumble run into the end zone.

The win coupled with Carrizozo's loss to Reserve sets up this week's game at Carrizozo as a "must win" game for both squads. The winner will advance to the state playoffs against Tatum.

Friday night's game will be the 69th played in this series, second longest in the state. Only Roswell and Artesia have played each other more times.

Arch rivals

Arch rivals Capitan and Carrizozo collide Friday evening in a 7:30 game on Laabs Field in Carrizozo. Both squads boast 2-1 records in district play. The Tigers are 3-4 on the season and the Grizzlies 6-2 in overall play.

The Grizzly attack will be led by Stearns, Roueche and Zamora while the Tiger offense is led by McElhannon, Cummins, Castillo and Davis.

The winner will cop 2nd place in Dist. 1A and advance to the state semi-finals to play the Tatum Coyotes, 1st place winner in Dist. 2A. The winner of this contest will play the winner of the Texico-Reserve game for the state championship.

Open House for a new Hondo school

The Hondo Valley Public Schools will host an Open House of its new facility on Tuesday, Nov. 1, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The new facility replaces the major portion of the school complex that was totally destroyed by fire on June 27, 1982, one day before the completion of a third of a million dollar renovating project.

The new complex houses 13 classrooms, a huge library school cafeteria, restrooms and central offices. The interior and exterior walls are of concrete construction. The roof is also concrete with additional insulation to give the roof an insulation factor of about an R30 with the walls being R22.

Architect on this complex and also on the gym which is currently under construction is Stanley "Jim" French of Ruidoso. The gym complex is scheduled for completion by the end of March in time for the Hondo School Fiesta which has been scheduled for the last weekend in April.

"The valley is extremely proud of our new school and would like for our school patrons and our graduates, friends and neighbors in the surrounding area to come and join in this Open House," says Supt. Ernest J. Booky.

This modern complex has been constructed and equipped with insurance monies. There has been no property tax increase to provide this facility. The gym is being constructed with School Capital Outlay Funds. The gym will be a $1.25 million complex and again will not create an increase in property tax.

Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

Corona Cardinals make the playoffs

The Corona Cardinals defeated the Hondo Eagles Saturday by a score of 45-0. The Cardinal dominated game ended midway through the third quarter.

The Cardinals offense was led by Steve Mulkey who gained 223 yards on 14 carries for five touchdowns. Tommy Worley returned a punt 60 yards for a touchdown and Joseph Erramuspe scored on a fumble recovery.

Defensively, Corona was led by Shawn Perkins who was following closely by Tommy Worley and George Cordova. Wayne Sanders intercepted a pass and Shawn Perkins recovered a fumble.

Corona finishes the regular season with a 6-2 record. They are 3-0 in district play, thus vancing to the semi-finals. They play the Vaughn Eagles in Corona on Oct. 28, Friday, at 2 p.m. The Roy Longhorns play Magdalena. The two winners will play the championship game the following week.

Watch for wet paint

Motorists traveling Highway 54 between Tularosa and Corona are warned to avoid freshly-painted stripes on the pavement, according to Chuck Harris, supervisor of highway striping of the New Mexico Highway Dept.

A new yellow epoxy paint, said to outlast other paints by three times as long, will be applied to the center and shoulders of Highway 54. The work has already begun in Tularosa. It will continue through Carrizozo to Corona and on to Willard. The work will last about a month, Harris said.

FFA appreciation barbecue played to a full house Monday evening. Parents, patrons and staff that support FFA gathered at the vo-ag shop and classroom as guests of the local FFA chapter. Roy Dow is shown topping his plate of barbecued elk with homemade yeast rolls. Speech-making was kept to a minimum so as not to interfere with the eating.

County residents eligible for Community Concerts

Carrizozo and Lincoln County residents are being offered memberships in the Otero County Community Concerts Assn. for their concert season which is to open in Alamogordo on Tuesday, Nov. 1, with the concert, "Souvenirs of the Opera."

There are four concerts to be presented in the new 1983-84 season with all performances to be held in the chapel of Grace United Methodist Church, 16th Street and Cuba Avenue in Alamogordo. All performances

Volleyball Saturday

Area volleyball is drawing to a close for many area teams. Pairings for the district tournament scheduled this weekend in Cloudcroft were announced following action in the district round robin held last Saturday in Capitan.

Cloudcroft will be the number one seed as a result of winning all four of their matches. The Carrizozo Grizzlies will be the 2nd seed and the Capitan Tigers, 3rd.

The pairings for Saturday's action will match No. 4 Lake Arthur against Hondo at 2 p.m. The winner will meet Cloudcroft in a semi-final playoff scheduled for 4 p.m. The winner of this game will advance to the finals against the winner of a 3 p.m. match up between Capitan and Carrizozo. Both semi-final winners will automatically advance to the regional tournament.

Finals will begin at 6 p.m.

White Oaks

By ROSE VINSON Eddie Taylor was in White Oaks Museum last week. He had been sent to the Ghost Town by Jarvis Garrett of Albuquerque. Mr. Garrett claims to be the son of Pat Garrett. Mr. Garrett says his mother told him that Billy the Kid was buried on the road to the Garrett Ranch, not at Fort Sumner as history claims. At any rate, Betty Cammack enjoyed her visit with Mr. Taylor and the story made interesting listening.

Also visitors to White Oaks was Read Mae Hight, from Rough and Ready, CA. She is the daughter of George and Ernie Lee, whose grandparents were William and Armenta Lee. The Lees homesteaded nine sections of land around Coyote 63 years ago. They drilled water wells for Guy Warden and raised cattle and goats.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Williams from Littleton, CO dropped by the museum. Grandfather Gus Mahan was born in White Oaks in 1890 and was the youngest son of William Mahan, who owned land eight miles outside of town. They were not sure of directions, but Mrs. Williams' grandfather owned the water rights to a good spring, so could have been located around Baxter Spring or Wilson Spring. Anyone having any memory of Mr. Mahan, contact me at White Oaks Museum and I will pass along any information I get.

Despite a few mishaps, Judge Martin went to Ruidoso Rec and was 45 minutes late. The groom disappeared for a while but turned up when the judge did. Ruth Hawk was married to Will Tally. The children of both people wanted to ensure the two would stay together, no matter what, and with a bit of a struggle handcuffed the two together. Claims were made that there was no key to the cuffs but one was found eventually. All in all, a very unusual wedding, but carried on the tradition of White Oaks residents' sometimes unorthodox way of getting things done.

Well, it was bound to happen sometimes and we have all managed to live through it. . . Dallas Fans 7 - Anti-Dallas nuts 1.

Stained broiler pan
To clean a badly stained broiler pan, sprinkle heavily with dishwasher detergent or dry laundry detergent. Cover with dampened paper towels and let stand an hour or so.

Sprouting onions
Onions will stay firm longer and keep from sprouting if you wrap them individually in aluminum foil.

Crumble dried herbs
When using dried herbs, make sure to crumble them to release the flavor.

Broiling pan ease
Add a cup of water to the bottom of broiling pan before sliding into oven. The water absorbs smoke and grease.

Overripe bananas
Don't throw out overripe bananas. Mash or sieve them, sprinkle on a little lemon juice and freeze. Use later in cake or bread batter.

Oven spills
Quick follow-up for oven spills: Sprinkle with salt immediately. When oven is cool, brush off burned food and wipe with damp sponge.

Banking and Railroads

The first bank to be chartered in New Mexico came into being almost at the same time the first rail lines were entering this territory. Both contributed to the growth and advancement of our state, and still do. At Carrizozo when this depot was built almost every commodity was delivered on the rail line and passenger trains transported folks where they wanted to go.

Well, we're both still here, healthy and looking forward to serving citizens of our area and beyond with top notch service.

Modern technology has changed the way we do things in our banks and on the railroads, and we suppose it is all for the good. Financial institutions across the country offer a variety of services and we are no different. Of first importance is safety of your funds, and this we provide along with a sincere desire to assist you and your family with the other financial services you need from time to time.

Visit Citizens State Bank in Carrizozo, at Vaughn and Estancia. We know you our customers are very important people and appreciate that fact.

Maxine Wright spent last weekend with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Kidd, in Seminole, TX. She said the country was very pretty and green from all of the rains.

At this moment, Monday, Oct. 24, we are having a heavy electric storm with a very cold rain.

Speaking of rain, last Wednesday-it drizzled all day and night and through Thursday, giving from 1 1/2 inches to 4 inches in various parts of our village. There was 3 inches of snow out a little over six miles toward Ruidoso and lasted through Thursday night. The Sierra Blanca Peak is white and has remained so. It is growing colder each day.

There were 636 visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum, Oct. 17-23. That is good for this time of year.

Bornie and Jim McEuen have added another new business to Capitan. New Super Storage Units on 2nd St., two blocks from the school. They are fireproof and insulated. That is great.

The Village Hardware will open Nov. 1 in the brick building on First & Lincoln. They have been renovating the building for the past two weeks. We do welcome them too.

The new addition at Virgil's Garage is growing fast now. Soon that will be a car parts department.

The new Standard Station building is nearing completion. Today they are preparing to get the pumps installed. They will have that open soon. Another nice addition to Capitan. Mike, we are happy for you.

A large crowd from Capitan attended the football game at Mountainair last Friday night where our team played. Capitan won 51-13. Our last game will be with Carrizozo there Friday, Oct. 28.

Saturday was a busy day here at school as another volleyball tournament was held. There was a good attendance, though I do not know the scores.

There was an accident at double crossing last Saturday night in which the 44-year-old driver was killed. He was from Merkel, TX. The truck was heavily loaded with lumber and with the trailer. He was traveling from the west headed east. Just did not make the curve.

We do wish a speedy recovery for Patsy Peralta. She is missed very much at the museum.

Abel Chavez, 18, son of Dora P. Chavez of Grants and grandson of Frances Peralta, has been chosen to play basketball for Highlands University in Las Vegas, NM. This is Abel's first year at Highlands. It is considered a big honor for a freshman to get chosen as a walk-on for the team. Keep up the good work, Abel, we are rooting for you.

George Titsworth of Missouri visited friends here in Capitan while his daughter and her husband were taking care of business. He and his wife were accompanying their daughter and husband to Las Vegas Nevada to a convention. While enroute near Picacho his wife suffered a severe heart attack and was taken to Roswell Medical Center, where she was in intensive care. They returned there. They may stay there as the children had a scheduled date to leave. I wish her the very best recovery. George Titsworth, had a business here for many years before his death.

Happy birthday to Anthony McEuen whose birthday was Oct. 19; Maxine Wright, Winifred Cozzens and Lisa Reamy, Oct. 29; Kay Strickland and Nanette Boyd, Oct. 31; and many more. Kay Strickland wishes to join me in the wishes for her mother, Maxine Wright.

Patsy Peralta has been hobbling around for the last few days because of an accident during our recent rains. She's getting well and should be as good as new before long.

The youth of Capitan enjoyed the movie, "The Cross and the Switchblade," which was shown at the fairgrounds Saturday evening. Several young people commented about the lesson to be learned from the motion picture. Thanks so much to Dan Carter and the others who helped bring this movie to our town to possibly help guide a child toward a productive life.

And now, a kind word about illegal immigrants

The US Census Bureau estimates that at least 50 percent of the 3.5 to 6 million illegal immigrants in the United States are from Mexico.

In New Mexico, these immigrants blend easily into the local population and generally benefit agriculture, according to Dr. Clyde Eastman, a sociologist with the New Mexico State University Agricultural Experiment Station.

Undocumented workers are willing to do much of the farm and ranch work which Americans find undesirable, and they will work for lower wages. These two factors are significant to New Mexico agriculture, the sociologist says.

"Production of many agricultural commodities is not very profitable and any savings goes directly into the producers' bank accounts. In this situation, even small amounts become a relatively large portion of the profit," Eastman says.

"But the availability of willing labor is more important than cost savings," he adds.

Eastman interviewed some 50 producers and others involved in agriculture about production practices and employment of undocumented workers.

He maintains that the immigration situation in New Mexico is different than that of the nation.

For instance, Mexican workers can cross the border fairly easily on their own or with friends and relatives. If they intend to work near the border, the cost of coming over is low and they often come and go several times a year.

Once in New Mexico, they can dress inconspicuously and, with experience, easily blend into society. The native Spanish population is large enough in New Mexico that language is a minor barrier.

In addition, those who stay near the border are less likely to be exploited or mistreated than those who travel far from their homes.

The most frequent use of undocumented labor is in cattle, sheep, dairy, swine, poultry and other livestock operations where workers clean and repair facilities, feed animals.

Producers of alfalfa, cotton, chile, lettuce, onions and apples also use undocumented labor for tasks such as weeding, harvesting and irrigating.

Usually, undocumented workers are hired on small farms and ranches. These operations would be hardest hit by more stringent immigration laws.

He foresees major disruptions in New Mexico agriculture if the undocumented labor force is taken away from producers, who would have difficulty finding American labor willing to do some of the tedious and boring work necessary.

Opinion

● THIS is being written Sunday morning while US Marines are still conducting a body count following a terrorist attack on their sector in Lebanon. At this hour it appears that more than 100 US Marines were killed and others injured when a truck loaded with explosives crashed into the Marine compound in a suicide mission staged by terrorists; persuasion unknown, perhaps Druze, or Sunni, or Shiite, or Syrian, or PLO or Manonite. President Reagan advises that the Marines will stay as a "peace keeping" force. The fact that it is not a "force" and that it is not keeping the peace seems incidental. While Marines are giving their lives while being prevented from attacking, it might be well to restate reasons why they are there in the first place. I agree with the president that we cannot pull out now and show the world we will not fight or fulfill a commitment, because the world scorns such weakness. But what were we doing there in the first place? If the reason was to "protect American interests," it is now time to define what those interests are. If we are there to protect the interests of Chase Manhattan's financial empire or Exxon's oil supply, we need to know that. It is asking too much for a Marine to die without his knowing why. Our interference in Central America is laudable and understood, for our immediate security is involved. But if US security extends to the crossroads of the world, including Lebanon, what we are attempting to do is impose our will upon the world. I have suggested here before that the world and the US in particular would be better served if we encouraged fanatics in the Middle East to kill each other off, to the last man if possible. Unless we are prepared to meet these animals face-to-face and match them gun-to-gun, bomb-to-bomb and life-for-life, perhaps we should join the Soviet-backed peace movements and stay at home, join hands and sing "We Shall Overcome," and prate loudly about human rights, civil rights, children's rights, queers' rights, women's rights and other poppycock the world neither understands nor respects. Perhaps some reader will tell me why we sent Marines to Lebanon when the Israeli were properly trashing the land—and don't give me that claptrap about "our responsibility" to keep the peace among a polyglot of cutthroats. Leave that to the Soviets.

● I HAD no sooner left Carrizozo to assess the incidence of freedom in California when the US Senate honored its first Communist with a national holiday. If Martin Luther King Jr. had been white he would have been in prison for activities that make him now a national hero. A prudent US Congress, ever in pursuit of votes, yielded to racial blackmail. One told me that not to do so might touch off a black revolution in this country. I intend to make full use of the annual holiday by urging readers to take a Communist to dinner on each third Monday of each January, and to spend the day observing the basis of King's philosophy—Don't obey any laws you don't agree with.

● SPEAKING of the new Black Pacification Day, an Albuquerque barber was discussing the candidacy of the Rt. Rev. Jesse Jackson for President of the United States while he rearranged my thinning locks. He told of an imaginary conversation Rev. Jackson had with God about his political ambitions. "God," Jackson said, "will the Democrats win in 1984?" And God said, "I don't think so." "Well," Jackson continued, "will I be the Democrat nominee for the presidency in 1984?" And God said, "I don't think so." And Jackson persisted: "God," he asked, "will I ever be President of the United States?" And God replied, "Let's put it this way—not in my lifetime you won't."

● WHILE the barber and the US senators were thus engaged, Gov. Toney Anaya was in Las Cruces boasting to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that he had appointed more blacks to state office than any US governor, and that he was trying to find a few more to put in charge of the store. It was a strange concession to a racial minority, considering that the black population of New Mexico is probably the smallest among the states. He was trying to forge a voting alliance of blacks and Hispanics, probably unaware that blacks outnumber Hispanics, and that in a showdown situation the first choice for president by this alliance would be black rather than Hispanic. That would leave Toney out in left field, nursing his death wish.

● MY compliments to President Reagan for observing United Nations Day so appropriately by landing US Marines on the island of Grenada, much to the surprise of Comrade Fidel Castro's 600 "construction workers" stationed there. The fact that these workers turned into instant soldiers, armed with Soviet weapons, when the Americans surprised them seems to attract no comment. The Communist world is aghast at this brazen display of guts by the US. Characteristically, the Soviets screamed bloody whatever about what it terms US terrorism but doesn't mention Afghanistan, of course. The Soviet-dominated United Nations is meeting to denounce this US aggression, and our native radicals have been directed to take to the streets, outraged at this blatant disregard for international law, human decency and moral purpose. At any minute now, Fidel Castro will launch another of his 14-hour harangues about US "imperialism and aggression," but with no mention of his 600 "construction workers" manning Soviet guns against US Marines. I am overjoyed at the president's action. It will slow down the Soviet take-over in Central America. I hope you will join me in a joyous jig in the middle of Central Avenue. The Monroe Doctrine lives!

● I WAS on Grenada about three years ago when Maurice Bishop and his Cuban-backed revolutionaries took over the island government without firing a shot. Bishop didn't proceed swiftly enough in communizing the island, so more patriotic communists bumped him off, along with three of his officials. This coup was undoubtedly aimed at furthering Soviet plans for Central American take-overs and extension of Soviet influence in the Caribbean. At last, we have taken a stand against the Russians in the Caribbean and in Central America. I may yet have to apologize for calling Congress a bunch of gutless baboons—but not yet.

Watch over Washington

Bush: A brutally bad blunder in Budapest

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — When Time magazine selected them as Men of the Year 27 years ago, the Hungarian Freedom Fighters were described as follows:

"The magic chemistry of courage, anger and desperation that makes men wager their lives for an ideal fired Hungary into revolution: Unarmed, unorganized, unaided from the outside, the Hungarian people rolled back the tide of Communism. They overthrew a government. They took on the Soviet Army. In six days, the Hungarian people made history; six days that shook the world. . . The rest of the world could only look on with a catch in its heart while thousands who must have known they could expect no outside aid chose, in Jefferson's phrase, to refresh the tree of liberty with blood."

Time's tribute to its Men of the Year also predicted:

"After the week's events, the Communist empire could never be the same" — a tragic underestimation of the Evil Empire. For as the 1983 issue of Commentary magazine recalled: Those who participated in, or lived through, the Hungarian Revolution recall the years immediately following 1956 as the time of "Kadar's Terror." The man (Janos Kadar, First Secretary — dictator — of the Hungarian Socialist Party) who is hailed today as the paragon of enlightened Communism was reviled as a quiling and a butcher. Kadar executed more than 2,000 Freedom Fighters; imprisoned, exiled or turned into non-persons scores of thousands of Hungarians; transported at least 50,000 of them to the Soviet Union, never to return to their native land. . . Kadar, acting no doubt on the advice of Yuri Andropov, Soviet Ambassador to Hungary and later chief of all satellite relations during the period of the purge, proceeded to break the remaining vestiges of resistance to total Sovietization."

On Sept. 19, 1983, in Budapest at a state banquet, Vice-President George Bush ad libbed in departing from the prepared text of his toast. For Mr. Bush, a former Director of the CIA, declared that this same Janos Kadar is:

"A man with enormous capacity and leadership capability."

Not content with this effusive salute to a mass murderer, Mr. Bush also told this audience of no doubt appreciative Communists:

"In the relations between our two nations, human rights and fundamental freedoms have not represented a point of discord but instead brought us closer together. May this aspect of our relations serve as an example to the rest of the world!"

Back in Washington on the following day, a stunned and outraged Coordinating Committee on Hungarian Organizations in North America sent a telegram to President Reagan asking for a clarification of Bush's appalling tribute to Kadar and Bush's equating human rights in the US with human rights in Hungary.

Their urgent telegram went unanswered or even acknowledged by the White House.

Mr. Bush was unavailable for comment, but his adviser, Don Gregg, defended the toast.

The Coordinating Committee, which includes the Hungarian Freedom Fighters Association, mailed the President a three-page statement which among other things noted the following:

What the Vice-President said in comparing human rights in the US to those in Hungary is completely contradictory to the State Department's Country Report on Human Rights Practices For 1982, which mentions the following:

"Free speech and free press are subject to limitations... Religious beliefs can limit the citizens' advancement in government and society in general... The Hungarian Constitution does not allow for the right to strike... Political participation is not possible outside of the party or the party-sanctioned organizations."

"The Vice-President's words lead us to the conclusion that this Administration does not consider freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of assembly and the right to strike as part of fundamental freedoms — at least not to which Hungarians are entitled.

The Vice-President's remarks are underlined by the brutal beating of the prominent dissident, Gabor Demszky, by the Hungarian Police on Sept. 25, less than a week after he held Hungary's human rights record before the world as an example to follow.

It is hard to understand a policy which views the Communist system as oppressive and dangerous in Nicaragua, Cuba and in the Soviet Union; and at the same time embraces it in Hungary — as the champion of human rights and protector of fundamental freedoms, as an example for the world to follow.

"The enormous capacity" of Kadar to kill, to eliminate, to purge, to obey orders of the Kremlin, was praised as "enormous leadership quality" by the Vice-President of the United States, in Budapest. It is inconceivable to us that perseverance and durability of a leader are valued as higher by this Administration than the human lives and suffering through which they were received. This cynical attitude is foreign to most Americans and is contrary to the principles of our President. We appeal to President Reagan to clarify the statements made on his behalf by the Vice-President."

On Capitol Hill, Sen. Charles Percy (R., IL) issued a statement contending that both Bush and the State Department are right.

But his rival in the upcoming Illinois GOP primary, Rep. Tom Corcoran, said:

"I think that the Vice-President's comments the other evening were most unfortunate and I believe they ought to be reconsidered. I would say that the Vice-President unfortunately chose to overlook the past history of Mr. Kadar — which is hardly one that needs to be toasted. You cannot overlook history. And you cannot overlook reality. And it seems to me that there are people in Hungary who are living in oppression."

Soviet night at the Washington Cathedral

By REV. LES KINSOLVING
"UNDERSTANDING THE SOVIET UNION" headlined posters inviting the public to the Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral on Oct. 5 to hear Second Secretary Vitaly Churkin of the Soviet Embassy (only 28 days after the Cathedral hosted President Reagan at a memorial service for 269 victims of Mr. Churkin's government.)

At the Cathedral's front door stood a tall, uniformed Cathedral policeman. He was carrying a three-foot nightstick, the type used in riot control. He looked down at a picket line of clergy and laity who were carrying such signs as:

—"THE KOREANS UNDERSTAND THE SOVIET UNION"
—"NO, SAMANTHA,

WE'RE NOT JUST LIKE THEM"
—"NEXT WEEK: THE WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL WILL EXPLAIN CHARLES MANSON"

Inside, before an audience that filled half the Cathedral's pews, the Rev. Canon Michael Hamilton, who produced this event, introduced moderator Heywood Isham, the State Department's Senior Specialist on Sino-Soviet Relations. Isham introduced Second Secretary Churkin, a trim, handsome, eloquent-in-perfect-English Ph. D. from the Moscow State Institute of Foreign Affairs and a veteran of arms control talks.

Second Secretary Churkin electrified the audience by revealing the following:
—"When Nazi Germany was defeated, we fulfilled our promise to join you in the war against Japan to help you defeat the Japanese." (Indeed yes — for five days, Nazi Germany surrendered on May 7, 1945. Japan agreed to surrender on Aug. 14 — with actual ceremonies on Sept. 2. The Soviets declared war on Japan on Aug. 9, the same day the US dropped an atom bomb on Nagasaki, three days after the Hiroshima bombing.)

"The American atom bombing was not so much aimed at Japan as to the intimidating of the Soviet Union."

"We believe our ideology will triumph eventually, so there is no need to impose our ideology on others."

"We are proud to stand by this government in Afghanistan, where the people are 95 percent illiterate. We are proud to protect the teachers from people who chop off the ears of teachers and children."

"We hear people in the United States speaking of the need to deliver the countries of Eastern Europe — and even some of the republics of the Soviet Union — from what they call 'the yoke of Communism.' What would you think of us, ladies and gentlemen, if, for example, our Supreme Soviet were to adopt a resolution on the need to deliver the countries of Western Europe and, say, the State of Texas, from the yoke of capitalism?"

At the White House the following day, Presidential spokesman Larry Speakes was asked if the Reagan Administration had detected in Texas any of the same yearning for deliverance from the capitalist yoke as is apparent in the Polish yearning to be delivered from the yoke of Communism.

THE WHITE HOUSE: If Texas was delivered from the yoke of capitalism, it would fall flat on its face!

The other speaker in this Cathedral forum on "Understanding The Soviet Union" was Mark Garrison, a veteran US Foreign Service officer, now at Brown University. His previous posts included chief of the political section, and later deputy chief of mission, at the US Embassy in Moscow.

Mr. Garrison's

Letters to the Editor

Domenici: No to IMF

EDITOR—Thank you for taking the time to express your concern about the involvement of major US banks in international lending. There certainly are two sides in this complex issue.

As you may know, the International Monetary Fund was set up in 1944 to assist developing countries with their potential balance of payment problems. A country that was importing more goods than it was exporting could prevent its currency from being devalued by borrowing from the International Monetary Fund. In this way, a country's economic development would not be compromised by its need for industrial and material resources.

The world-wide recession has caused the International Monetary Fund's role to expand. Developing nations have had trouble making interest payments on the loans which international banks have given them, and the International Monetary Fund has stepped in to help. If the Fund had not done this, the very banks on which we and other industrialized nations rely for recovery would face dramatic losses.

Recently the Senate approved S.695, which obligates the United States to contribute $8.4 billion more in funding for the IMF. Although I support the IMF's efforts in addressing the short-term monetary problems of developing nations, I voted against S.695 for two reasons.

The first of these reasons is that I do not think that such an increase in funding will resolve the long-term international monetary crisis. It is my understanding that the lending practices of the major Eastern banks have encouraged economic mismanagement on the part of developing nations, and I believe that there should be reforms in the lending policies of our banks. The IMF should be a last resort for sound economic development, not a lifeline for the foundering financial policies of our developing neighbors.

The second reason for my "nay" vote stems from my abiding commitment to reducing the federal deficit. An increase in our IMF contribution might adversely affect our own economic recovery by increasing the federal deficit more than has been projected. I believe that fiscal prudence will do more for our own economy and the financial health of our world neighbors than simply encouraging the mistakes of the past.

I hope that I have adequately answered your questions and that you will not hesitate to write me on matters that concern you.

PETE V. DOMENICI,
United States Senator.

John Wayne, American hero

EDITOR—I would like to get the opinion of your readers about a matter close to my heart.

How many of you would vote for a special day each year — NOT A NATIONAL HOLIDAY — that would honor one of our true American heroes — John Wayne?

The reasons that I believe John Wayne deserves this honor are:

1. He was a Goodwill ambassador to the world.
2. He stood up for what he believed in.
3. He made us all proud to be Americans.

Yes, he was honored by the American government with a special medal, but that was just a one-time thing. Our children need a true hero that they can look up to and try to copy.

His special day would be held on the weekend closest to his birthday, May 26.

There would be all kinds of activities to honor him — film festival, rodeo parade, look-alike contest, and many other things that each community could think of, all with a John Wayne theme.

This special day would not be on Friday or Monday, only Saturday and Sunday. This would be for the people who would oppose it — they wouldn't miss any work.

I would like the opinion of all the citizens in the surrounding communities—whether yes or no. You may send your opinion to: Mrs. B. A. Tyrrel, P.O. Box 1855, Ruidoso, NM 88345.

Thank you for your time and may God bless you all.

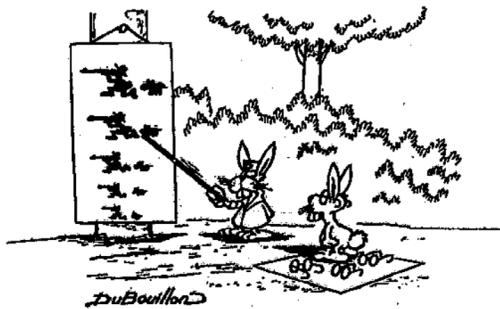

MRS. BEVERLY A. TYRREL,
Ruidoso.

Corona News

Fall temperatures registered last week at Lincoln Station show a high of 67 degrees on the 18th and a low of 32 on the 20th with rainfall 1.54". Rain in the village measured 2.4".

Friends enjoyed the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore honoring her artist sister, Ora Lea Miller. Several paintings ranging in size from two-inch circles to two-foot canvasses, about 40 in all, were on exhibit. Among those present were Sam and Florence Akin, Alamogordo, Rosalee and Ken Peters, Macel, and Agatha Garrison, Faith and Kayle Dial all of Estancia. Responding to requests, Mrs. Miller agreed to teach a lesson in quickie art Thursday morning. Items on exhibit that seemed to draw the most interest were paintings on saw blades and on doeskin. The door prize was a small easel holding a ceramic tile with trees in autumn colors. The lucky number? 13, of course. Archie Perkins was the lucky winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore took their house guest, Mrs. Miller, to Madrid and Golden Monday. They were looking for old windmills to sketch.

The Lee Mulkeys were in Alamogordo the first of the week helping Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bradley move into their new home on Walker Road.

Members of St. Theresa Catholic Church hosted a covered dish dinner Sunday as a farewell to Father Steve Rosary who is transferring to Ranchos de Taos. Father Sotero Sena, a native of Fort Sumner, is expected this week from Socorro to assume his duties in this parish.

Preceptor Alpha Nu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday afternoon in the home of Linda Cancilla. Helen Livingston was a guest. President Cancilla read the Ritual of Jewels for Margaret Teague.

The treasurer reported the sale of T-shirts and pecans going well. Patricia Perkins, yearbook chairman, distributed pages for the new year. She received a thank you for the extra curricular work of her office practice girls. Mrs. Teague was appointed chairman of the sorority's new community project, to clean and improve Simpson-Sloan Park. She will ask other organizations to join in a special one-day village cleanup in the spring. Yellow roses were given to Helen Kilgore and Mary Heronemus.

Eleanor Smith and Mrs. Teague presented two excellent programs. Roll Call—Do men or women develop friendships more easily?

Mrs. Smith spoke on Friendship - finding, developing and maintaining. She gave tact, consideration and space as important factors. The relationship is worthwhile at any level of development and should not be undervalued. Her conclusion: in diversity of kinds and depths of friendship there is great strength and great rewards.

Mrs. Teague's topic was Your Personal Score: Relationship of what you are and what you expect of yourself. The purpose of keeping score is to provide a personal assessment of how you are fulfilling the values you expect of yourself. First one takes what she is born with, physically, mentally and spiritually. Add to that contributions from family and the world at large. An assessment of self should be ongoing. Expectations should be realistic. Factors are love, kinship, friendship and dislikes.

The hostess served cold cuts, chili con queso, chips, apple turnovers and coffee from a table decorated in a Halloween motif and centered with a real pumpkin to be carved later into a jack-o-lantern. Dr. Hohm Clem will be the speaker for the next meeting, Nov. 7, in the school library with Patricia Perkins hostess.

Mrs. R. J. Bagley and Mrs. Ernest Sultemeier are in Dimmitt, TX with the George Bagleys this week. Mr. Sultemeier stayed at the ranch.

Mrs. Elvira Flores is here this week and hopes to return soon to stay. She is recovering from a leg broken in a fall at her home several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sanchez Sr. had their children home last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Don Packingham, Mr. and Mrs. Acacio Trujillo and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sanchez Jr., all of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Stanley Brown and Mrs. Tom Pounds were in Albuquerque Monday to visit Mr. Pounds. Mrs. Pounds is improving rapidly from bypass surgery.

Kelly Gibbs and Steve Brewer, Albuquerque, and Ken Gibbs, Portales, were here for the Homecoming game.

Cheri Carnell, NMSU, accompanied her grandfather A. C. Thomson, to the game Saturday.

Crown CowBelles will meet Thursday, Nov. 3, at the home of Mrs. Frank Sultemeier.

Two students pass GED test

Two students have recently completed their GED requirements and passed the test which was given at NMSU in Alamogordo — Sandy Vermillion and Daryl Strever, both of Carrizozo.

Students who successfully complete their GED will be offered, free of charge, a basic course in computer language to be given next spring at the school.

Eight other students are scheduled to take their tests before the end of the year.

defense of the Soviet Union was so much more eloquent than Second Secretary Churkin that when I asked why the question period was being rigged (no questions except in writing — and of those carefully selected, not one about the Soviet shooting down of KAL 007) I noted: "You've had two very eloquent defenses of the Soviet Union. Couldn't you allow the people at this public forum to ask questions?"

They could have, but they did not. And when Afghans, Poles, Hungarians and Russian Orthodox in the audience tried to ask questions, Moderator Isham, and Canon Hamilton threatened to call out the uniformed Cathedral police. When one obviously distressed Afghan cried out that four of his children had been murdered by the Soviet troops in their chemical warfare attacks, he was grabbed by these police.

When a Polish protester asked Churkin: "Will you allow Walesa to receive his Nobel Prize?" Churkin replied: "That's up to his government." And another demonstrator cried out, "Liar!" (Canon Hamilton: "One more of those and out you go!")

At that point when it appeared that a riot might break out, Moderator Isham of the Department of State apparently was moved to exercise some unprecedented connection of State with Church. For he declared, loudly and with visible anger: "We will not have a hubbub in this place!"

He then called the cops to have them drag the outraged

Afghans from the church. (The cops were more diplomatic. They restrained the Afghans, for a while.)

After the conclusion of this event, I asked Moderator Isham if, in his long experience with things diplomatic, he had ever heard of any churches in the US which, after "Crystal Night" in Germany, had scheduled an evening devoted to "UNDERSTANDING NATIONAL SOCIALISM IN THE NEW GERMANY" — with Der Fuhrer's ambassador as one of the speakers.

Ambassador Isham replied: "I don't understand your analogy. What's the analogy between Crystal Night and today?"

I replied that Hitler's Germany was an ally of the Soviet Union (which alliance was formalized nine months later.)

AMBASSADOR ISHAM: Not at that time. Not in 1933.

We explained to Ambassador Isham that Crystal Night, when Nazi stormtroopers beat up and murdered Jews all over Germany, and smashed their stores and synagogues, took place in 1938 — not 1933.

When we tried to talk to Canon Hamilton, he angrily refused to speak. So we offered him a small black ribbon, which was produced by the Airline Pilots Association. On it was imprinted: "IN MEMORIAM: KAL 007."

Canon Hamilton scowled, took this ribbon and stuffed it into his pocket.

NEW RESIDENTS

John and Nadine Burt and daughter Florence, who moved here from Alaska, now make their home in Carrizozo. John retired from the Army in June 1982 with the rank of Sgt. 1st Class. He is a diesel auto mechanic and heavy equipment operator. Since his retirement he has completed Chevron dealers school and will be working out of the Chevron Station here.

Nadine, daughter of Chuck and Flo Clark of Carrizozo, retired in Sept. 1983 with the rank of S.Sgt. During her army career she held positions in recruiting and food services. She received several commendations in food services while acting as dining facility manager. Increasing the nutritional value of meals while cutting overall costs were among her accomplishments.

DAR LUNCHEON MEETING
The Sierra Blanca chapter of the DAR met this month at the home of Marti Yoder, Ruidoso. Members present at the Sept. 13 meeting were Juanita Bush, Cleo Dodds, Eva Ball, Leota Pfingsten, June Rawley, Marion Spencer, Aileen Lindamood, Florence Clark, Mary Dean, and Jeanie Jordan. The program on the constitution was given by Jeanie Jordan. Members and guests enjoyed a noon luncheon.

SISTERS VISIT
Chuck and Flo Clark were pleasantly surprised the weekend of Sept. 15-16. Flo's sister Eunice and husband Stanley Ferguson spent the two days visiting with the Clarks. The Fergusons are from Syracuse, NY.

DROPPED IN
Brad Baker stopped in Carrizozo last Saturday to visit briefly with his mother, Nellie Baker. Brad, who stopped to fuel his aircraft at Carrizozo Municipal Airport, was met there by his mother. Brad is an instructor at a Los Angeles flying school and was headed there from Fort Worth, TX.

OOPS!
My attention was called to a news item which appeared in this column last week. I was informed that Punkin Schlarb and Carol Schlarb, who were listed by Carmen Rael as her sisters, are her nieces. The column item mentioned that Carmen and Dolores Samora are employed at PATTY'S Beauty Salon.

ATTEND ROAST
Alice Castillo, Alamogordo; Susie Castillo, Peter and Candie Aguilar, Carrizozo; and Tamli Ortiz Vega, Santa Fe, attended this month's G. I. Forum sponsored event held at the Santa Fe Hilton Inn. Bob Barth, newsmen on KBSF Radio, was roasted during the fundraising banquet which included music by the Mariachos of Santa Fe.

In charge of the roasting was Gov. Toney Anaya; former governors Bruce King and Jerry Apodaca; Congressman Bill Richardson; First Judicial District Judge of Santa Fe, Lorenzo Garcia, and Secretary of State Clara Jones. The American G. I. Forum is a veteran family organization interested in providing scholarship grants to qualified Hispanic high school graduates or in-college students.

JOT IT DOWN
Zia Senior Citizens Center will hold a pancake breakfast Saturday, Oct. 29, beginning at 8 a.m. and ending at 11 o'clock. The community is invited to the event. Breakfast tickets are available at the Center. Volunteers to cook, serve, clean up are needed for this fundraising project.

The center's regular week-day lunches for seniors continue; Friday, Oct. 28, red enchiladas with cheese, Spanish rice, refried beans, lettuce and tomato salad, tostadas with green chile sauce, tapoca pudding. Monday, Oct. 31, beef stroganoff with rice, green peas, tossed salad, fresh fruit cup, milk, bread. Tuesday, Nov. 1, meat loaf with creole sauce, whole kernel corn, carrot and cabbage slaw, dinner roll, ice cream, juice. Wednesday, Nov. 2, pork chop suey with noodles, tossed salad, mixed vegetables, apple crisp, milk. Thursday, Nov. 3, chicken a la king, buttered green peas, dinner roll, cake, milk.

WORKSHOP PARTICIPANTS
Myrtle Williams, president of the Carrizozo Teachers Assn., attended the Oct. 13-14 Education United meeting in Albuquerque at the Convention Center. Several workshops were offered. Lee Hays, National Teacher of the Year, was present. The Carlsbad High School Swing Choir entertained.

A workshop on Friday was attended by teachers June Caster, Larue Wetzel and aides Delfina Vega and Lorene Baroz. The workshop, Project WILD (Wildlife In Learning Design) is an interdisciplinary approach to wildlife education from reading to art and back to science.

BACK HOME
Phyllis Schlegel is back home after visiting in West Virginia where she saw her mother, Blanche Wade, and other relatives. Phyllis met her newest grandchild, Heather Dawn. Phyllis departed from Carrizozo on Sept. 15 with Mary Rich Adams and Mary's mother, Erma Rich.

Before heading for Waterford, MA (where Mary and Charles Adams now reside) a side trip to Hot Springs, AR was taken by Phyllis, Mary and Erma. There the three women brunched at the Arlington Hotel, historic bath house of Hot Springs. The hotel features a 1920 era decor. Phyllis remained in West Virginia for an extended visit and returned to Carrizozo last Saturday.

HONDO-CAPITAN

School Notes

The Hondo Eagles were defeated Oct. 22 by a strong Corona team, 45-0.

Coach Montes is losing three seniors from this year's squad. Coach Montes stated: "Overall we had a successful season. Our attitude and desire was good."

Juniors and seniors from area schools spent Oct. 25 in Ruidoso attending a college day orientation.

Elementary teachers in Capitan are selling bleacher cushions to benefit their elementary playground project.

Capitan Schools now have 488 full time students. This figure is up 50 from last year and 40 over the projected figure.

This is school yearbook promotion week in Capitan. The present price is $14. Later on this price will rise to $17. A fee of $3 is charged to have one's name printed on the cover of the annual.

New test is mandatory

Couples who purchase marriage licenses in New Mexico on or after Nov. 1 will find an additional blood test required for the woman only. The Rubella or German measles blood test will be necessary for women under age 48.

"A blood test for syphilis has been required for both men and women applying for marriage licenses in New Mexico since 1957," said Leo Yates, Extension family life specialist at New Mexico State University. "The new test requires women of childbearing age to be tested to determine their immunity to rubella before marriage. This is part of a program designed to protect unborn children against birth defects caused by the Congenital Rubella Syndrome."

If a woman is immune to rubella (German measles), she cannot catch the disease during her pregnancy. She can become immune after catching the disease and recovering from it or by getting the rubella vaccination. Yates explained.

Although New Mexico law does not require women without immunity to get the rubella vaccine, it does require the physician to discuss the im-
