

'Outstanding export trade'

Belco Industries, Inc. receives "E" Award

WASHINGTON — Senator Pete Domenici (R-NM) announced Monday that President Reagan has given the "E" Award for Exports to Belco Industries, Inc. of Carrizozo in "recognition of outstanding contributions to the increase of US trade abroad."

Belco Industries is a small manufacturing firm of 42 employees which builds portable engine-driven DC arc welders in the 35 to 350 amperes range. The firm is owned and operated by Jim and Carolyn Cantrell, both of whom were born and raised in Las Cruces.

"This is only the second time in New Mexico's history that a firm has received the "E" award from the President for outstanding export trade,"

Domenici said. "The other New Mexico firm who received this award was Eberline Instruments of Santa Fe in 1979, which manufactures small radiation detectors."

"Representatives from the Commerce, Interior, Agriculture and Labor Departments, and from the Small Business Administration and the Export-Import Bank, who served on the board that reviewed Belco's nomination, all marveled at the dramatic success of this relatively small manufacturing firm's efforts to export their products to foreign countries."

"For example, while export sales for the entire arc welding apparatus industry ranged between 10 and 11 percent of annual sales from 1979 to 1983 Belco's export sales averaged 40 percent of their annual sales for the same period," Domenici explained. "In the first eleven months of 1983, 78 percent of its welder sales were to customers outside the US."

"Much of Belco's success has come from their ability to customize standard engine driven welders to the foreign customer's requirements," Domenici said. "To further assist their customers, Belco prints owner manuals in several languages and advertises now product announcements in domestic and foreign trade magazines."

"In short, Jim and Carolyn Cantrell are an outstanding example of a New Mexico small business success story in foreign trade," Domenici said. "They richly deserve the President's "E" award and all New Mexico businesses ought to take notice of their success and see if they can find the same kind of success with their own firms."

Jim Cantrell is President and General Manager of Belco Industries, Inc. He is a 1957 graduate of Las Cruces High School and graduated from New Mexico State University with a degree in Electrical Engineering. Carolyn is the Corporate Secretary-Treasurer and Marketing Director. She graduated from Las Cruces High School in 1961 and attended NMSU and West Virginia State University.

C'zozo school board 'special meeting'

Salaries largest expense in budget

By RUTH HAMMOND

Carrizozo Board of Education held a study session of the 1984-85 budget Monday. Board members were in closed session until 10 p.m. working on salary schedules for secretaries and library personnel.

The budget is figured on a projected enrollment of 325 students for next year. The state will pay $1,583.50 per program unit. A program unit is considered to be the same as the state paying $1,583.50 per student. If this was the way it works, the school would receive $514,637.50 from the state.

The state adjusts the program units according to the number of students, cost differential, programs, and training and experience index. These adjustments bring the total program units to 745,840. When this number is used instead of 325, it means the school will receive $1,181,938 from the State Equalization Guarantee. This amount is reduced by $3,310 the school receives from the Forest Reserve for timber harvest and motor vehicle license fees.

The proposed amount Carrizozo schools will receive from the State Equalization Guarantee for 325 students is $1,177,728. This will be sent in monthly distributions of $98,144.

Most of the adjustments are because of the low enrollment. More than half a million dollars extra is received from the state because Carrizozo is a small school. The actual figure being $663,091.

Other school revenue includes earnings from investments, sale of bonds, the two-mill tax levy, state equalizing I-A proj. units, Chapter I and Chapter II and Adult Basic Education funds from the Federal Projects Fund, sale of food in the cafeteria, USDA reimbursements, and gate fees at the athletic events.

Salaries are the largest expense in the budget. The 24 certified full-time teachers will receive an estimated 2.8 percent salary increase from an average salary of $22,539 to an average of $23,171 for this coming year. Teacher's salaries range from $16,000 to $28,000. These 24 teachers have an average of 12.75 years experience. They provide an average classroom load of less than 17 students per teacher.

Figured on an average 7 hour day time the 182 days in the school year, Carrizozo teachers earn an estimated average rate of $18.19 an hour.

This hourly rate does not include special activity increments teachers can earn for extra time involved beyond the instructional day. Authorized activities include coaching, sponsor of cheerleaders, sponsor of senior and junior class, student council sponsor, coordinator of STEP, computer instruction or special education, and athletic director. Activity increments have been increased this year and Dr. Miller said if all positions are filled, the total expense will be $16,800.

Teachers aides are the lowest paid with an average salary of $8,539. This will include an increase of 5.9 percent. Principal Sidebottom will receive $32,624 which is 1.86 percent increase. Secretarial/clerical employees get an average of $11,789 and this includes an increase of 12.54 percent, due partly to the change from a 6 hour day to a 7 hour day for one employee. The administrative aide in the superintendent's office earns $16,448, which includes a 2.8 percent increase in salary. Superintendent Dr. Jim Miller received one of the lowest increases, with 1.86 percent, bringing his salary to $37,717.

A public hearing will be held on Tuesday, May 29 at 11 a.m. in the school library to present and publicly review the budget for the 1984-85 fiscal year. The Director of Public School Finance Division will be at the meeting. Everyone is invited to attend.

Other business conducted during the special meeting, Adoption of the school calendar for the 1984-85 school year. School will start August 27, spring break will be April 1-5, graduation May 17, and the last day of school will be May 24, 1985. The calendar contains the state required 180 days, three are student training days and 177 are student contact days.

Board members approved changing the group medical-life insurance from Blue Cross to Traveler's Insurance. School employees had voted 23 to 7 in favor of changing insurance companies.

The Chapter I program is in good shape. A program for Title I students may be available this summer from June 11 to July 31. Funds are on hand to be used for Title I students, and to provide the summer program for four hours a day.

Board members voted to keep per diem rates the same as they had been.

All Capitan High patrons wish the Class of 1984 good luck and much success.

Corona confronts ENMR

By PAMELA OWEN

ENMR Telephone Co. of Clovis bought the Corona Telephone Co. in April of 1982. The phone system was in bad need of updating or replacement. ENMR seemed to ignore the problem until the people on the Corona area began calling for outside help. They called the situation to the attention of the State Corporation Commission, ENMR Board of Directors, and many state representatives.

The Corona Village council and Mayor Ernest Lueras arranged a meeting between the consumers and ENMR. Present were Mayor Ernest Lueras, Councilmen: Minnie Davenport, Earl Roper, and Cheryl Hiltzley Village clerk, Beatrice Chavez and assistant clerk, Janetta Foster.

ENMR was represented by Robert Harris, manager, Frank Dottle, assistant manager, ENMR Board of Directors, Ed Summerall and Shafee Hindi.

The equipment in the Corona Phone Office was placed there in 1960. It was a used system from Tularosa. This same equipment was here until a year ago when ENMR replaced it with a portable system to use temporarily. This was to ease the situation however, there were still many problems and outages. Enough to create many difficult situations.

Mr. Harris explained that the loan applied for the updating of the Corona area will not be available until October 1984. This was the cause of the misunderstanding between the community and the telephone company. The people in Corona felt ignored and wondered why this company bought them and would not supply good service. They were not aware of the fact the loan had not yet been appropriated. This was not explained until now.

Mr. Harris held a question and answer session after explaining to the community about the various endeavors of the phone company to help Corona without the loan and about the target completion date of the new system.

Questions discussed were the isolation of the Corona community and emergency situations. Mr. Harris assured everyone the new system would greatly improve conditions and would include the 911 emergency number.

The Corona directory was another issue. It seems the 1984 directory is almost the same as the 1974 version. There was no updating new services or disconnections. Again everyone was assured the problem would be corrected and in fact new directories should arrive shortly.

Direct dialing into Corona has proved difficult and sometimes impossible. Mr. Harris was not aware of this particular problem but promised to correct it.

At the close of the meeting each visitor spoke to the gathering assuring the community of better service and better communications to the people.

Mr. Harris said if all goes well the new system would possibly be six months ahead of schedule.

AIRPORT manager Mel Carl and his wife Mame get a helping hand from son Chuck who is shown doing landscaping around the facility. The three have been sprucing up the building and surrounding area.

... so is Hondo's

The commencement exercise for Hondo High School Class of 1984 is scheduled for Thursday evening, May 17, 8 p.m. in the new gymnasium.

This year the valedictorian is Laura Gomez. Alice Booky will be the salutatorian. Father Bissonnette will offer the Invocation and Ken Pendergrass will give the Benediction. Board of Education member Pendergrass will also present the diplomas. Retiring School Superintendent Ernest Booky will present a diploma to his daughter Alice.

The Class of 1984 will continue a tradition of over 30 years. Each graduating senior will present a long stem red rose to their mother. These seniors may also present a rose to a grandmother or very special friend.

Best wishes go out to the Class of 1984 Hondo Eagles.

THE QUESTION IS

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee, or a key for the lock in his hair?
Can you call his eyes an academy because there are pupils there?
In the crown of your head what jewels are found? What travels the bridge of your nose?
If you wanted to shingle the roof of your mouth could you use the nails from your toes?
Can you sit in the shade of the palm of your hand? Can you beat the drums in your ears?
Can you shuck the corn that grows on your toes? Well, why not grow corn on your ear?
Can the crook in your elbow be sent to jail? If so, just what did it do?
Where can I sharpen my shoulder blades? I'll be darned if I know, do you?

IT'S THE LAW New Mexico State Police compiled by officer randy rhue

Have you ever been cut off at an intersection by someone that turned into your lane at the same time that you were trying to make a turn? That gets very aggravating doesn't it? One of the most common mistakes that people make is cutting the corner at an angle instead of making a 90° turn like is required by law. These types of mistakes cause accidents. This section will cover the required position for turning your vehicle at an intersection.

66-7-322; REQUIRED POSITION AND METHOD OF TURNING AT INTERSECTIONS:

The driver of a vehicle intending to turn at an intersection shall do so as follows:

A. Both the approach for a right turn and a right turn shall be made as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway;

B. At any intersection where traffic is permitted to move in both directions on each roadway entering the intersection, an approach for a left turn, except where left turn provisions are made, shall be made in that portion of the right-half of the roadway nearest the center line thereof and by passing to the right of such center line where it enters the intersection and after entering the intersection the left turn shall be made so as to leave the intersection to the right of the center line of the roadway being entered. Whenever practicable the left turn shall be made in that portion of the intersection to the left of the center of the intersection;

C. Upon a roadway with two or more lanes for through traffic in each direction, where a center lane has been provided by distinctive pavement markings for the use of vehicles turning left from both directions, no vehicle shall turn left from any other lane. A vehicle shall not be driven in this center lane for the purpose of overtaking or passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction. Any maneuver other than a left turn from this center lane will be deemed a violation of this section;

D. At any intersection where traffic is restricted to one direction on one or more of the roadways, the driver of a vehicle intending to turn left at any such intersection shall approach the intersection in the extreme left hand lane lawfully available to traffic moving in the direction of travel of such vehicle and after entering the intersection the left turn shall be made so as to leave the intersection, as nearly as practicable, in the left-hand lane lawfully available to traffic moving in such direction upon the roadway being entered; and

E. Local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may cause markers, buttons, or signs to be placed within or adjacent to intersections and thereby require and direct that a different course from that specified in this section be traveled by vehicle turning at an intersection, and when markers, buttons, or signs are so placed no driver of a vehicle shall turn a vehicle at an intersection other than as directed and required by the markers, buttons or signs.

REMEMBER IT'S THE LAW!

Askew remains on ballot

On Wednesday, May 9, 1984, the Supreme Court of the State of New Mexico allowed JAMES R. (Richie) ASKEW'S name to remain as Republican candidate for District Attorney on the ballots in Otero and Lincoln County.

Askew, a resident of Lincoln County, and current Assistant District Attorney contended from the start of the law suit filed by his opponent's wife, Eileen C. Sanchez, that he had sufficient local area signatures to qualify under State law.

The case was originally heard by Judge George Zimmerman who ruled in Askew's favor. The petitioners had appealed Judge Zimmerman's ruling to the Supreme Court.

Askew, who resides in Carrizozo, NM further stated that he felt vindicated by the ruling of the Supreme Court. He stated that the ruling issued by the Supreme Court upheld his view that elections should be decided at the ballot box.

Carrizozo Town Council

Police force 'zapped'

By RUTH HAMMOND
Carrizozo's police protection is dwindling due to the resignation of Patrolman Stanley F. Benson and a decision made by the Board of Trustees in closed session to not hire Patrolman Richard Lemense permanently.

The closed session was held during Monday night's extended Town Council meeting that lasted until after 11 p.m. City employees are hired for a six month probationary period, at which time their standing is reviewed before being hired permanently or being dismissed.

Lemense completed his six month probation and Chief of Police C. A. Morales recommended that he be hired permanently. In his letter, Morales stated, "Lemense completes his paperwork on time, he does a good job patrolling, and since he started, the town had reduced cases of vandalism and break-ins."

In discussion about Lemense before the closed session, Mayor Harold Garcia said, "We have never had as much public outcry, whether good or bad." It was also stated that "What we do here will affect all people in Carrizozo." Morales was instructed to immediately release Lemense of his duties.

Benson has been with the police department since last July. Trustees accepted his resignation, which will become effective June 29.

In an effort to comply with regulations set down by the state, new hours and policies for the landfill will go in effect right away. An attendant will be on duty at all times when the dump site is open for public use. Hours that the dump is open for public use are 8 to 4:30 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Saturday hours 10 to 4, and Sunday 1 to 7. Informational signs will be adequately marked on road to site and signs for all designated areas will be marked. The animal trench will be taken care of and all dead animals will be properly covered at all times. The landfill will be closed Monday and Tuesday.

City Attorney Don Dutton reviewed the lease agreement with Americal Mineral Recovery, Inc. He recommended that AMR becomes liability insurance from $100,000 to $300,000. He also suggested the water rates be adjusted at such time as AMR becomes operational.

Bill Hasenbuhler was appointed chairman for a committee to conduct a windshield survey concerning land use and structures, and also for street improvements to set up priorities for paving and maintaining of streets. A committee of five is needed and Mayor Garcia said, "We want to get the community involved."

Woody Schlegel reported on the airport and introduced new airport manager Mel Carl to the Mayor and Trustees. Carl invited the Mayor to officially open the airport by taking the first flight at the Fly-In scheduled for June 23.

Improvements at the airport were described and Schlegel urged that everyone go see how nice it looks. He said, "We have professional people there." The airport is open 24 hours a day, services are extended, and proper interest and attitude are helping to let pilots know it is safe.

The cemetery committee will pay $150 to have the cemetery cleaned before Memorial Day. Reflectors are needed on B Avenue by a ditch. Swing seats are needed for the park. Two evaporative water coolers will be purchased for the airport, one for the lobby and one for the manager's house.

Monthly fees at the golf course have been lowered from $60 to $35. A person will be hired to work at the pro shop on weekends. Daily green fees will remain at $6 for 9 holes and $9.50 for 18 holes.

Jack Hobbs made an offer to maintain city vehicles for $50 for an eight hour day once a week or $200 a month. No action was taken.

Tabled was discussion about a City Administrator and a letter from Sheriff Tom Sullivan asking for a joint powers agreement for care of prisoners and his request for the city to provide the salary of one dispatch officer.

The Town of Carrizozo provided garbage bags for clean-up week. A total of 411 bags of trash were picked up Saturday around town. Clean-up week was termed a success by the Mayor.

Budget adjustments were made. $4250 was transferred from permanent monies to the airport improvement project, the budget was increased $225,000 for fiscal year 1983-84 because the Community Development Block Grant was approved, and the emergency session April 12 for Revenue Sharing funds for the emergency purchase of a garbage truck for $2,500 from the city-of-Roswell was accepted.

A budget session open to the public is tonight at 6 at City Hall. A special meeting for Revenue Sharing and the proposed budget will be Monday the 21st at 6 p.m. at City Hall.

OPINION...

● IF YOU must travel this summer, you may avoid torturous nights by taking your own mattress with you. Somehow innkeepers of America nurse the notion that forcing guests to sleep on sacks of wet concrete improve their posture and make them less belligerent about paying $70 for each night's torment. There is no such thing on the hotel circuit as a comfortable mattress. You are offered a nicely decorated slab door upon which to place your frail body. After a few minutes on this medieval rack, paralysis sets in. An immediate transfer to the carpet will ease the pain. Since hotels are high on carpets that give way to your ankles, they are more comfortable than the marble ledge you left. Hard mattresses are good for your posture, the innkeeper advises. Had I wanted my posture corrected I would have consulted a medical specialist, not a hospiceperson with a missionary zeal for things none of his business. No one knows where the notion started that reclining at night upon a "rack and screw" device contributes to a good night's sleep, but we may be grateful that the Indian's capacity to find solace upon a bed of nails has escaped the consciousness of the American hotel owner.

● AS YOU may surmise, I went traveling over the weekend. Aside from almost dying of lack of sleep, I found it was possible to spend $50 a day per person for food and still starve to death. As long as you're taking the mattress, stuff it with your own food. Whatever you like is never available at the commercial feed trough. Take salt. Food handlers won't use it in food any more. Bad for your health, the proprietor says. That remark takes him out of the food business and puts him in the position of practicing medicine without a proper license, for which he should be arrested. His greatest fear is that you the customer may have secreted salt on your person which may be slipped into your food. He may shake you down, so don't take it personal. If you like vegetables cooked, take a hotplate along. In restaurants they serve them warm, raw and hard. Stir-fried, the man says. Raw, I say. I wanted pancakes with two strips of crisp bacon. No way. What I can have is four slices of bacon for $3.95. The options are: (1) buy four slices and throw two strips away or (2) the same as (1). Don't opt for another restaurant; the same policy prevails. Carrying this principle further, one may not be served a pork chop without having to order the whole hog. You don't get to eat what you want. What you get to eat is whatever's on the menu. For example, water isn't on the menu; Perrier is, for $1.50. Yes, traveling is pure hell for a man raised on cornbread, buttermilk, cooked, seasoned vegetables—and on mattresses that fit the body instead of the body flattening itself to fit an indurated surface.

● IN Santa Fe, New Mexico the local daily front-paged a story about a fellow from California who is walking around the world (ending up in Moscow, of course) to make a political statement in behalf of peace at any price. His name is James Outhouse. He was quoted as saying New Mexicans were very friendly toward him and his purpose. Figures, All New Mexicans are friendly toward all Outhouses—which happens to be a place where so many of our political statements are conceived.

● IN Santa Fe, New Mexico the local daily front-paged a story about a fellow from California who is walking around the world (ending up in Moscow, of course) to make a political statement in behalf of peace at any price. His name is James Outhouse. He was quoted as saying New Mexicans were very friendly toward him and his purpose. Figures, All New Mexicans are friendly toward all Outhouses—which happens to be a place where so many of our political statements are conceived.

● AT LAST, people have learned to rid themselves of their problems. Citizens of Colorado, for example, have gone to court to keep MX missiles out of that state. At St. Helena, CA voters recently passed an ordinance declaring the town to be a nuclear-free zone and imposing a fine of $500 and six months in jail on anyone dropping a nuclear bomb within the city limits. Similar legislation has been enacted in 45 other California towns. The unusual action has succeeded beyond the wildest expectations in that not a single one of the 46 towns has been vaporized by a nuclear bomb. Thus encouraged, students at Sonoma State University have voted 4-1 to declare their student union building a nuclear-free zone, permitting their bacchanalian carousal to continue unabated. Elated that the institution still stands, students voted overwhelmingly to hold an election to make the entire campus a nuclear-free zone. If this keeps up, making nuclear bombs will be about as profitable as a laundry in Berkeley.

● WITH this triumph of mind over matter in resolving the nuclear threat, I suggest they use the same technique in ridding their respective villages of all things evil. A simple ordinance ($500 fine, six months in dungeon) prohibiting evil would certainly be as effective a deterrent as ordinances against nuclear extinction. Then, having solved mankind's oldest problem, our churches can be partitioned into apartments for the poor—unless, of course, they abolish poverty by ordinance also. Now, folks, let's all take our clothes off and have some fun!

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON

Big media continues to protect Teddy . . .

By LES KINSOLVING
 WASHINGTON — The Ludicrous Case of the Nicaraguan Harbor Noise-Makers has finally begun to wane — as one of the silliest Senate stampedes of all times.

New York's Great Political Chameleon, Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan, went through a sure-fire headline-grabbing resignation act in threatening to walk out as vice chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee. Finally, CIA Director William Casey, who had been excoriated in a Very Open Letter from Arizona's Barry Goldwater, apologized.

He apologized for what was alleged to have been the CIA failure to notify this Senate committee of CIA involvement in the alleged mining of Nicaragua's harbors.

That this committee had in fact been notified by the CIA was noted by another member of the committee, Wyoming's Malcolm Wallop, who said that any attempt to claim that they had not been notified was "disingenuous." For it seems that these Righteously Indignant Senators had just not been paying attention.

The Moynihan-Goldwater War Dances would have seemed more appropriate had there been a disclosure that the CIA had personally strewn the Nicaraguan harbors with atom bombs. In point of fact, it was the Nicaraguan freedom fighters who placed a number of noise-making pseudo-mines, which sank nothing and killed nobody (unlike the kind of equipment which Cuba and The Soviets are pouring into the hands of their friends in Central America.)

These noise-makers, placed where ships of many nations come into port, were a mistake. For they accomplished, among other negative effects, a setting of the stage for a Teddy Kennedy Political Production, which attracted a number of Republicans to the supporting cast. The senior Senator from Massachusetts introduced the Senate resolution which passed overwhelmingly and which condemned US involvement in the "mining" of Nicaraguan harbors. Nicaragua, which has been pouring weaponry and terrorists into neighboring Central American countries, was overjoyed by Mr. Kennedy's Senate sheep-stampede. They promptly went, gleefully, to the World Court, like Al Capone suing his neighbor for disturbing the peace.

From the Senate, as well as the Big Media, there emanated a virtual silence regarding the mountainous irony of a Kennedy resolution which condemned US military involvement in Latin American harbors. Is it possible that the Senate and the Big Media have forgotten the US involvement in another Latin American harbor, arranged by another Kennedy, who sent soldiers rather than noise-makers?

Nobody in the Senate or the Big Media was willing to attach an amendment, or write an editorial, condemning all US Latin American harbor interventions — especially the one in which the Presidential arranger panicked at the last minute and withdrew air support, so that the Cuban freedom fighters were all either slaughtered or captured.

Possibly the Big Media's massive failure to take editorial note of this gigantic irony was due to the fact that it is presently preoccupied with protecting Teddy on yet another flank.

Jody Powell, Jimmy Carter's press secretary, has written what appears to be a bestselling book entitled "The Other Side of the Story." This enormously entertaining (like Powell himself) and well written, and well deserved, indictment not only takes Teddy apart. It also neatly chronicles the recurrent instances in which so much of the Big Media has cuddled and protected him in one of the great acts of journalistic prostitution of modern times.

As of last week, the publicity department at Powell's publisher, William Morrow of New York, reported that of the 25 reviews of this book that they have received so far, twenty of these reviews do not even mention this historic evisceration of a Democratic Senator, Presidential candidate and member of the political royal family — by the press secretary and close confidant of a former Democratic President.

This is surely news, and it is being blacked out by the Big Media, which is painfully embarrassed. Those five reviewers who even mentioned this initial expose of loathing between two top Democrats, fail to detail any of it.

What Big Media is refusing to report to its readers and listeners includes the following description of Teddy Kennedy by Jody Powell:

"Kennedy's record of nonaccomplishment in the Senate — not to mention the personal baggage that he has acquired... a Massachusetts pol who had inherited everything he had, from his political career to his bank account."

"He (Kennedy) had among the Washington press corps one of the most loyal and effective claquees in existence... nurtured and expanded by careful attention to stroking and flattery... their responsibility was keeping rumors about drugs and women out of the press."

"The Washington Post gave witness to the kid-glove treatment, generally accorded the Senator by agreeing to an interview on Chappaquiddick in which the questions had to be presented in advance, and the senator and his staff retained the right to edit the responses before they were published... It is difficult for almost anyone who has taken the time to review the senator's actions and statements relating to that night to believe that he told the truth, or to doubt that he went to considerable trouble to cover the truth."

"Compared to Carter, he (Kennedy) was always treated like a second coming, particularly by the networks... the drooling adulation... the cuddly relationship between Kennedy and the Washington press corps."

facets of Kennedy's character is an almost childlike self-centeredness... demagoguery of the first order... adolescent peevishness... His economic package was one part dreams and two parts foolishness... Teddy Kennedy is not held to the same standards as other politicians."

Powell's book also notes that last July 3, CIA Director William Casey admitted that while he was leading the Reagan campaign for President, material from the Carter campaign was supplied him by a Paul Corbin.

"Paul Corbin worked in the 1980 campaign against Carter," recalls Powell, "and then he went to work for Reagan." Powell describes Corbin as "a faithful retainer of the Kennedy family."

Was Jimmy Carter's campaign sabotaged by a member of the famed Kennedy Irish Mafia?

In all of the huge storms created by the Big Media over the farcical "Debategate" issue, there was little, if any, media pursuit of this fascinating lead. And Powell notes "the possibility that the warning from the Republican in Congress that a thorough investigation of political espionage in 1980 would embarrass some prominent Democrats, including the Senator from Massachusetts, may not be a red herring."

However much Big Media tries to disparage this book, or ignore its undeniably newsworthy content, the public will probably continue buying it and will find one more piece of evidence of the Big Media corruption that is becoming an epidemic.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

BY Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE— Here's how Alex Mercure of the Department of Economic Development and Tourism puts it: "We've had a tremendous year in tourism, and most of the credit goes to Governor Anaya."

That's not the way some of us see it. Yes, we have had an extremely good year in the number of tourists we put through the state and in the money they left behind. There are signs that the present year will be as successful as the last or maybe a little more so.

But should the credit go where Mercure says it should? Only if Mercure's department is doing a bang-up job, and if the Governor is the one who inspires them to it.

CONFERENCE: One newspaper in which this column appears called the turn-out at the annual Governor's Conference on Tourism in Albuquerque "a large delegation."

It was far from as large as in past, or non-Anaya years. In those days more than 300 people would attend. The reason was clear: They were invited.

This year, the Anaya Economic Development Department did not even mention the affair to many of the state's long-time tourist operatives.

Partly that may have been because the Department itself could not even decide the exact date of the gathering till the week before.

That's no way to coordinate and push things in what is probably the state's most important single industry.

ADVERTISING: In that same speech from which the quote that opens this column comes, Mercure praised to the skies the famous co-op advertising program his department conducts.

That is his constant tune: We have tripled the amount of advertising by this new idea, in which the state and local areas cooperate to attract visitors.

There's only one trouble with the comparison Mercure uses to demonstrate that increase. He does not include in the figures for what was going on "before" any of the local expenditures. In the "after" figures, however, he includes both state and local money, so the "after" sounds almost miraculous increased. The simple fact is that except for the increase in the amount of money the state gave to advertising, there is no geometric increase in spending. And the co-op program is no unalloyed success. Three of the advertising agencies assigned to the task have already withdrawn from it. Others say the bookkeeping alone is liable to eat up all their profit and then some, and they do not want a state contract next year. In some instances, what the state is doing is reimbursing local areas for advertising they had done already and then counting that as a big increase in the ad budgets of tourist areas. If the whole program eventually collapses of its own weight, largely because of carelessness in the way state bureaucrats designed it, don't be surprised. If that happens, will Mercure be in such a rush to give all the blame to Governor Anaya? You can look for battles to break out among those in charge of and those cooperating in this program before the numbers are over.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

'Within range'

EDITOR—The American people should be aware of the Kremlin's rapidly increasing ability to project military force in this hemisphere through its Communist satellites in Nicaragua, Guyana, Suriname and Cuba. (They just lost one in Grenada).

Soviet airbases in Nicaragua will soon enable the Soviets to dominate the airspace over Central America, the Caribbean, Mexico and the northern regions of Latin America. Instead of devoting themselves to economic reconstruction, the Sandinistas have allowed the Soviet Union, Cuba, and Warsaw Pact to construct 36 military bases in Nicaragua alone. The Sandinistas have hosted teams of Libyan and PLO advisors in Nicaragua who have been sharing their knowledge of terrorism and sabotage with revolutionaries. Cubans, Soviets and East Germans actually run the Nicaraguan secret police.

Soviet nuclear submarines are operating with increasing regularity out of Cuba. Soviet bombers operating out of Cuba are regularly probing US airspace. There are 54 American cities, with 74 million people in them, within range of nuclear capable Soviet aircraft, missiles and submarines based in Cuba.

I would be interested in knowing why the American people are not being told. The President should use his built-in national pulpit to get this information to the people. All of the above information is known by the government of the United States, so why are we not being told.

100th birthday

DEAR EDITOR—I am writing to inform you of the 100th birthday of Mrs. Bess Van Pelt of Capitan on June 10, 1984.

The Capitan Senior Citizens and the Capitan United Methodist Church together are planning an "Open House Birthday Party," Sunday, June 10 at the Senior Citizen Center from 2 to 5 p.m.

Bess lives alone with the help and loving care of friends and neighbors. She attends church regularly, even though she hears very little. She is such an inspiration.

Please extend an invitation to all her friends in the area to come by and help her celebrate the big 100.

Reverse osmosis

A refreshing clean glass of water to quench the summer's big thirst sounds good. But to many residents of the Carrizozo area, it is a novelty.

But, there is a solution to dirty or mineralized water, according to Norm Cecil, owner of South Central Water Systems in Tularosa.

It is a process called reverse osmosis. Osmosis is a diffusion process by which fluids pass through a semi-permeable membrane with the less concentrated fluids tending to pass into more concentrated fluids.

As the name implies, reverse osmosis is the reversal. It requires mechanical pressure to overcome atmospheric pressure and push water molecules from the contaminated side through the membrane into the clear water side.

"Many well owners have believed that their well-water cannot be treated," said Cecil. "Reverse osmosis can treat and produce good water. It removes dirt or rust and most dissolved contaminants."

Cecil continues, "Reverse osmosis got its start in the navy around 1962. They used it to produce drinking water from sea water. The process will remove 80-95 percent of all dissolved contaminants in tap water."

"It takes out sediment, chlorine, rust, chemicals, mercury, sulfur, insecticides, detergents, lead, flurides, asbestos particles, barium, arsenic, cadmium, phosphates, etc.," Cecil listed.

The process offered by South Central Water Systems are small under the sink facilities that provide household drinking water to larger equipment that can provide 800 gallons daily for a family of 5 or more for all uses.

"There are three ways to remove minerals out of the water," said Cecil.

One is distilling the water which uses heavy equipment & costs 20-50 cents per gallon. Cleaning the distiller often, is essential to a working system.

Another process is de-ionization which is a ionic exchange process. It is impractical for the homeowner as the de-ionization tank needs to be sent to the factory to be recharged every so many months to continue use.

Reverse osmosis is the other process and its low cost and non-necessity for cleaning make it feasible for the homeowner. Its cost runs generally around 5-10 cents per gallon if used continually. It is good for those who require sterile water and also for cooking, pets, canning, laundry, and houseplants.

South Central Water Systems provides free water analysis, and estimated costs for the system; a person's household would need. They also have a free thirty day trial period for their reverse osmosis water system.

All-around money saving ideas, hints, advice, solutions, shortcuts for mothers and others.

COLD WEATHER WEAR

Laundry clothes before putting them away for the summer, but don't take time to iron them. Touch-up ironing can be done when the clothes are needed for the fall and winter season.

MASHED POTATO PATTIES

Season leftover mashed potatoes with chopped onion; shape into patties and brown on both sides in bacon drippings.

REFRESHED DRAPES

Curtains or draperies only dusty, not soiled? Place them in the dryer. Leave lots of room for fluffing. Hang back up as soon as 'dusting' time is over.

STALE BREAD IDEAS

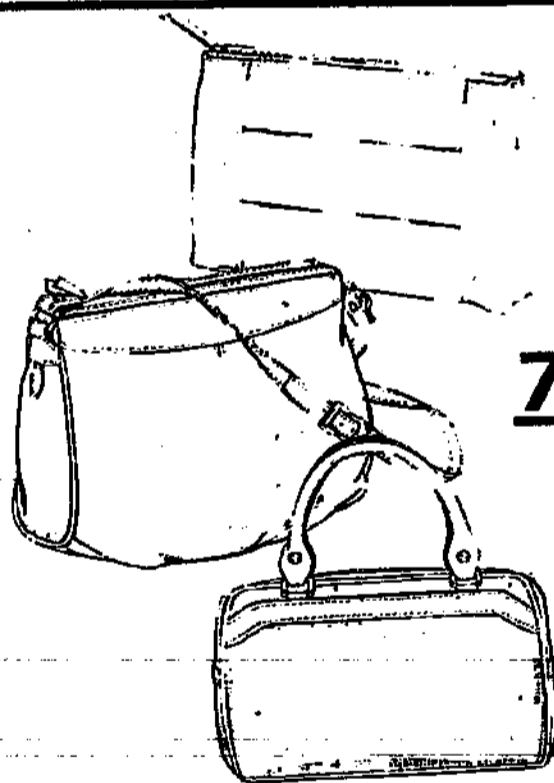

To make croutons cut stale bread (white, whole wheat, rye or French) into 1/2-inch cubes. Toss with melted margarine and bake in a 300 degree oven for 20 minutes or until browned. Stir once or twice during baking.

For bread crumbs, chop stale bread in a blender. Or place dry bread in an empty plastic bag and crush with a rolling pin. One bread slice makes about 1/2 cup bread crumbs.

TO REMOVE PRICES

Use rubbing alcohol, applied with a cotton ball, to effectively remove the price stamped on plastic goods or transferred to the counter.

Against Sunday Baseball
Carrizozo News—Methodist Church—Whereas, we accept the Sabbath as a divine institution, ordained of Almighty God for the benefit of mankind, physically, morally and socially, giving to us the privilege of one day in seven for rest and recuperation of mind and body, and therefore be it Resolved First, That we deplore the fact that our local baseball team has decided to play on Sunday, and that we respectfully and earnestly request them to use their influence to have future games during the week, rather than on the Holy Sabbath.

Adopted by vote of the members present of the Methodist Church and Sunday school on the 6th day of May, 1917.

Ancho Locals—A. C. Christian purchased an Overland car from S. B. Fambrough this last week. S. B. Fambrough and Barney Wilson motored to Carrizozo last Tuesday. Thomas Johnson, foreman of the Hatchet Cattle Company, was here Monday from Three Rivers. A. B. McDonald, vice president and director of the Stockmens State Bank, Corona, has resigned as his business interests in the western part of the state demanded his attention. E. M. Brickley was elected to succeed Mr. McDonald. —Copied from the Carrizozo News, Friday, May 4, 1917

R. A. Duran, postmaster at Encinitas, was here several days this week. The Paden Hospital is almost ready for the interior work. The walls are up, the roof is on and the building will be completed at an early date. Emil Frits was in one day this week from the Fritz-Lutz sheep ranch. He reports fair success with lambing, despite the continued dry weather. Doyle Rentrow has joined the officers training camp at Frisco. We understand that he will be tendered a lieutenancy, owing to the military training he has received the past few years at college. Lincoln County's quota for the army will probably be about 100 men.

Capitan News

By MARGARET RENCH

I pray that everyone had a joyous and happy Mother's Day as I did. My friends remembered me so generously and I thank them all for all of the joy they gave me. May God bless you.

This past week has been very windy and oh, so hot. Dry-Dry. In the 30's at night.

The Village of Capitan would like to remind all citizens that it is very important that everyone make their best effort to conserve water for the next few months. They would sure hate to have anyone run out...or for rationing to be instituted; so please use only what is absolutely necessary so that we may all have water for our yards, etc. Try following tips; 1.) Water only in the evening or early morning. 2.) Soak the ground well (preferably by flooding) and it will not be necessary to water for several days. 3.) Dig basins around trees and shrubs to hold the water and you won't have to use so much.

For all of the kids interested in the Capitan Junior Rodeo Club. Remember that the first play day is Sunday, May 20 and that you must pay your MEMBERSHIP FEES and compete in the very first play day to be eligible for the high point awards at the end of the year. Your parents should be sure to attend the very first play day, as a responsibility. Release must be signed for each participant before they will be allowed to compete. If you have any other questions, please contact Buddy Payton or call Jerrie Wilson at 354-2792. The play day on the 20th will begin promptly at 1 p.m.

Lorene Caywood, owner and art teacher of Lorene's Hilltop Gallery in Capitan wishes not to be mistaken for Lorene Caywood (Mrs. V. E. Caywood) formerly of Capitan, now in California, who was in town for a visit with her nephew Larry Caywood.

The junior and senior class had their prom at The Prime Time in Ruidoso last Saturday night with breakfast afterward at Rebecca Barber's home.

The FFA banquet was held at the fair building Monday, May 14. The senior graduation was held Thursday night May 17.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 596 registered visitors from May 7-13.

At this time it has been requested of me to inquire if there is anyone in Capitan who will have a bedroom available for VIP's on Stamp Day. Frances Shaw has one for Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Wendolin. They would like to make a list and have it available at the museum with Willie Hobbs. Contact her if you can help in anyway. A lot of people are confused thinking Smokey Bear Day, May 26, is also Smokey Bear Commemorative Stamp Day. The Stamp will be issued August 13. That too will be a big day and many VIP's will be here. So be certain to come forward if you possibly have a room. Do let Willie know, then you will be on the list.

Willie and everyone wishes to thank Kevin Wolfe for giving the little "Smokey" a new coat of paint. Now, you can easily see him. It is a good job and most certainly appreciated. Thank you. He stands out in the tree. I also want to express my thanks to persons who responded to other things at the museum, paint, etc. Willie gave that log building two coats of stain, which certainly preserves that building. She has completely renovated and cleaned the inside. Something all of us can be proud of. She has done a great job. Thank you Willie. We do appreciate you and all of your efforts. Thanks to everyone who has responded.

Jewel Vada Yates-Hardin of Levelland, TX and her daughter Sallie Ophelia Hughes of Lake Worth, TX visited the Smokey Bear Museum Monday, May 14. Luckily, I was there at the time, as she was a little girl here in Capitan over 60 years ago. Here is her story: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Jim) Yates homesteaded east of Lincoln, which was then the county seat of Lincoln County and the courthouse was there as is now. Mrs. Yates name was Sallie Ophelia. They had six girls and one boy. They moved into Capitan into a big square two story house located on the spot the Methodist Church now stands. The children and all of the family attended the church across west from them every Sunday. It now is a residence. They were members in that church, memories still linger with them each one. How beautiful. For their mother and her new born baby died in their home after she had the measles. They buried her in the Capitan cemetery.

Mr. Yates took his eight children and moved to Roby, TX where he kept them all together. Twenty years later after all were grown, he married and lived only two years. The oldest of the children is 82 years and lives in Prescott, AZ and the youngest is the son who is 63 years of age. Each year they hold a family reunion in Roby, TX. They rent the Agriculture Building at the school. All eight children and their families attend. How beautiful that they are alive and appreciate each other. They left Capitan in 1923 and Jewel was two years old at the time. The above reunion mentioned is always held weekend of Thanksgiving. After they moved, Benton Yates, a relative, moved into that house. Benton married Gladys Merchant.

I remember the Yates last mentioned as they lived there when I arrive in April 1930. My memory helped with the location of the house, etc. Many years as each has or anyone of them ever came through they visit their mother's grave and leave a jar with a note in it and now they have a marker there. They also visit the church building each time as they loved that church and were taught by their mother to always attend and they did as long as it was a church. This time they talked to the owner and had pictures of it. Memory, how beautiful. I enjoyed my visit with them. Remember Myrtle Pope? She is an aunt-by-marriage to Sallie Hughes.

I know the Yates story will interest many old timers. Jewels sister Gladys-Yates was a close friend of Belle Dow Wilson, who lives near Lincoln. Some of them every year or so travel through and check the grave and leave a note in the fruit jar. With date, etc. To me this is a beautiful story, a true one of love and memory.

The senior class held a car wash at the bank last Saturday and it was a huge success.

A large crowd attended the Capitan Junior Rodeo Clinic held at the fair grounds last Saturday at 2 p.m.

Ronnie Sanchez, John Parker, Mike Lunn and Ronald Joiner attended the State Wool Judging in Roswell last Saturday with Rich Richardson. They won nine 2nd place.

Mrs. Louise Joiner celebrated her 75th birthday and Mother's Day May 13. Her husband Leo, son, Pat and family, Bessie Jones, Patsy Racher, Della and David Bonnell, Ruthie and Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Racher attended church services with Louise and enjoyed dinner at K-Bob's. I wish you many more such happy occasions, Louise.

The football cheerleaders for 1984-85 are Tammy Dean, Charis Lane, Robyn Peralta, Kateri Sanchez, Trina Martin, and Jana Johnson. The basketball cheerleaders are Michelle Otero, Trina Martin, Robyn Peralta and Charis Lane.

The teachers at school gave a baby shower honoring Jana Buff May 3, 1984. Her mother

Capitan FFA banquet

A nice crowd enjoyed the Capitan FFA Banquet, Monday evening, May 14, in the Lincoln County Fair Building.

Vocational agriculture and FFA comprise an educational program in over 8,300 high schools with nearly a half million members. FFA prepares students for careers in farming, agricultural processing, sales and service, forestry, horticulture, natural resources, and agricultural mechanics.

Capitan chapter advisor Mark Daugherty presented the following awards: Star Chapter Farmer - Charle Marrs; Star

LaRue Parker gave her one on May 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne and three children of Capitan, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Payne of Carrizozo, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dick Gilliland and family of Tularosa went to Roswell and celebrated Mother's Day with Sandy Lightfoot, Monica and Michelle.

Ann Goodwin, Rtd Ruidoso Lioness president, extends her thanks and deep gratitude to all who responded to her call for old glasses to be left in the box at the Smokey Bear Restaurant.

Serapio Montes, Delores McInnes, Van Norman and Roy LaMay spent several days in the Ruidoso hospital recently. I do wish all of you the very best and complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shrum of Midland, TX were guests of the Terry Stricklands last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright accompanied by his two sisters, Mrs. Jake Burkett of Portales and husband; Mrs. Dub Napper and husband of Brownwood, TX all traveled in their motor home to Squaw Valley, CA and spent one week with their brother John Wright and family and a sister Joan DeBusk of LaPuenta, Ca.

Greenhand - John Parker; Honorary Chapter Farmer - Ken Schear; Hustler Award - Ronald Joiner; Outstanding Senior Judge - Glynn Story; Decalb Award - Glynn Story; Fish and Wildlife Management - Sid Goodloe; Swine Proficiency - Robert Marrs; Special appreciation award from students - Mr. Daugherty.

Certificates of Appreciation: Shirley Goodloe, Bob and Inez Marrs, Pat and Betty Lou Joiner, Preston and Willa Stone.

All six retiring officers received plaques.

They enjoyed fishing, going to Yostite Park, etc. and returned home last Sunday.

Mrs. V. E. (Lorene) Caywood returned from her trip to Duncan, OK last Friday and visited friends in Capitan until Monday when she returned to her home in El Cajon, CA. We did enjoy her visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn King returned from the Veteran's Hospital in Albuquerque last Thursday. I wish you a good recovery, Glen.

We were all saddened to hear of the death of Fermin Montes of Roswell last Friday. He left us with good and lasting memories of his years at Hondo, to know him was to love him. I do extend my sympathy to his lovely widow.

Emelia McKnight passed away at her home Tuesday, May 8, 1984 and was laid to rest at Hondo. She too was a lovely lady to remember.

Mrs. Hap (Melba) Allen passed away in the Ruidoso hospital last Friday morning. Memorial services were held in Capitan last Saturday. She was cremated. She too left us beautiful memories of a lovely lady.

Corona News

Robert Williams is on vacation and there is no weather report.

Crown Cowbells met

Thursday, May 3, in the school recreation room with president Eve Latham in charge. Ag Day chairman, Lee Sultemeier, reported that cookies and beef jerky had been distributed at school in the elementary grades.

Scholarship committee co-chairman, Pat Perkins and Kay Sultemeier, sent application letters to be read at the meeting. The first secret ballot resulted in a tie, necessitating a second secret ballot. The winner will be announced at the school awards assembly May 24.

Suzie Maness, Anne Larremore, Linda Dobbs, and Carol Wells volunteered to go to Hondo to stuff ditty bags for the June 9 ranch tour.

The two quilts will be quilted at the home of Jaunita Sultemeier at a date yet to be set. A new radio station, KCRX in Roswell will advertise events along with farm and ranch news and western music.

4-H members are selling tickets on the ceramic bull and a wool pelt to help finance a trip for seniors to Washington, DC in July. Their 4-H dance will be May 9 following the athletic banquet.

July 14 was set as the date for the Fathers Day picnic at a site to be decided. A $25 beef certificate will be given a lucky winner at Corona Trading Company. Tentative plans call for one chance to be given for each beef purchase at the store, two tickets if the amount is over $5. Inquire at the store for more information on this Beef for Fathers Day promotion.

Lee Sultemeier reported on the wool growers meeting at Carlsbad. If you call, she will give more information on mountain lions.

Mrs. Bennie Crist, president of Powderhorn Cowbells, has invited Crown to a meeting at the Overton Ranch.

Dates for the Lincoln County Fair are August 17-19. Coffee hostesses for this meeting were Ruby and Myrtle Davidson and Carol McConnell, but several others including Carol Wells brought goodies of cookies, chips and dips. The next meeting will be June 7 at the home of Linda Dobbs. Carol McConnell will be co-hostess for the salad luncheon.

Rev. and Mrs. I. V. Jackson were over from Mountainair to hear Willard Moody at the baccalaureate services Sunday morning.

Donna James will be an exchange student at a western New York University for the fall semester.

Grady Pate was taken to an Albuquerque hospital where he was to undergo surgery for a broken hip suffered in a fall.

Mrs. Tim Cancilla and Tracey left Sunday for Phoenix and a few days with her husband and son there.

Eleven senior citizens enjoyed a trip to Santa Fe May 10. A trip to Roswell is planned for the 25th. Fathers Day and graduation cards are for sale at the senior citizen center.

Royce Washburn was reported in serious but stable condition Monday evening in a Clovis hospital. He underwent emergency surgery early Sunday for internal injuries received when trampled by a bull Saturday night at Plainview, TX.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pfeiffer, Tucson, AZ, spent last week with Robin Pfeiffer and Dell Roberts. Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kimball and Scott were here from Albuquerque for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Pat Ingram and Mrs. Henry Kilpatrick were here from Socorro on business Saturday. Mrs. Ingram told of the January death of her sister, Dora Elsie Harding. Mrs. Kilpatrick said that her younger daughter, Jackie, is a writer and recently has had three books accepted, two for adaptation to the movie screen and one for a TV series. Jackie is married and has a daughter aged fifteen. They reside in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brazil spent last week with the Tommy Tyrees. They plan to visit in Capitan with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brazil and in Los Alamos with the George Meltons before returning to their home in Bandon, Oregon.

Lee Shumate and Sue Duffy, Roswell, stayed overnight with Mrs. R. L. Sharp Monday. Mrs. Shumate was here for a practice and clean-up session at the Pythian Sister Temple in preparation for the official visit by Grand Chief Oma Dorsett of Lordsburg. A salad luncheon is planned for May 21. Kelly and Steve Brewer are vacationing this week in Cancun, Mexico.

The Emery Owens' were in T or C for the Festival. They stayed at the home of Jerry Gustin. Candice Byrd went with them. They were entered in the parade with their Dune Buggy.

Nolan Vickrey, Commander of Beaver-Bond American Legion

Post, urges all to help with the cemetery clean-up May 26. This is also the day for the sale of poppies, Poppy Day.

Mrs. Grady Pate suffered a broken arm in a traffic accident in Belen the first of last week. Mrs. Curtis Duke has been here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tyree were called to Las Cruces last week by the hospitalization of Mr. and Mrs. John Mogford of Hunt, TX. They had been injured when their pickup was struck in a traffic accident between Anthony and Las Cruces. The Mogfords have returned home without finishing their trip to visit a sister at Caballo.

The athletic banquet is set for Saturday evening, May 19. The theme this year is "Cardinals You Are Fantastic." The 4-H dance will follow the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Owen and Mrs. June Straley were in Roswell Friday evening for the wedding of their grandson, Joe Straley and Tamara Laws. Vows were exchanged at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Marlow. Mrs. Straley is a native of Estancia. The couple met while attending ENMU-R.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mulkey and Steve Mulkey were to leave Wednesday for Robert Lee, TX to attend high school graduation exercises for Daryl Mulkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mulkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Anderson left Tuesday for a new home in McAllister, OK. They are reported to have sold their home here to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McCord.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mulkey sponsored the seniors on their six day trip to Colorado Springs. High points of the trip included a noon visit to the Air Force Academy, a ten mile raft trip down the Arkansas River (Jesse and Richard fell into the river and the Royal Gorge.

Dinner guests at the Lee Mulkey home Sunday included

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bradley, James and three children, Los Alamos, the Jerry Colliers, and John James, Alamogordo, Albuquerque, Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Clelan Donoho, Larry Sullivan, Las Cruces, and Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Anderson.

Corona Summer Festival will be August 11th

The Corona Summer Festival will be Aug. 11, 1984. We hope to have the biggest festival yet.

Beginning at 6:00 that morning the First National Bank of Belen will have free Balloon rides in their 7 story high Hot Air Balloon. This will be across the street from the school auditorium.

At 9:00 the Horse Show will start. It will be at the arena and with only Lincoln County participants. Also at 9:00 the Arts & Crafts Fair will begin. It will be in the auditorium this year. Booth space is still available at this time.

The "Space Walk" carnival ride will be set up during the day for all to ride.

The parade will begin at 11:00 downtown. There will be a float contest this year.

The Senior Citizens will serve lunch at the school cafeteria.

At 1:00 the 4-H Play Day will start. Contact Denise Byrd at 849-8487 for more information on this.

The festival will end with a western dance at 9:00 featuring Bobby Buttram and the Trainmen.

In O-Bar-O road controversy

Judge rules for county

By RUTH HAMMOND
The 'Landmark Case' has been decided. The ultimate conclusion of the Court is that the road commonly known as the O-Bar-O Ranch road intersecting US Highway 380 is a public road to the US Forest Service boundary lines.

road listed on their inventory since 1955, and has maintained the road since then. It is the only access road from this side. Lincoln National Forest maps printed in 1973 list the road as forest road 441.

missioner Ken Nosker testified that he had been on the road as a child and it had been considered a public road at that time.

judgment and submit it to the court. After that, the Lietzmans have the right to appeal within 30 days.

According to the decision handed down by Judge Doughty the road over Benado Gap is a public road. The issue has been settled, at least for now.

District Attorney Steve Sanders will prepare the final

Sullivan elected

Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan was elected President of the New Mexico Sheriffs Association at their spring conference in Las Cruces on May 11.

Sullivan was unanimously elected by acclamation with no opposition. Sheriff Sullivan will represent New Mexico at the National Sheriffs Association annual convention in Hartford, Connecticut June 17-20.

"It's a good feeling to be elected by members of your profession to a responsible position of leadership. I am proud to be able to represent New Mexico at the National Sheriffs Association annual conference," Sullivan said.

Otero County Sheriff Rick Virdon was elected vice-president.

Sheriff Sullivan's term will be for a period of one year, during which time the association hopes to become more active in the legislative process; favoring legislation that will benefit law enforcement and opposing that which would be detrimental.

State Police Report

Three cited for DWI

By P. E. CHAVEZ

Three people, ages 62, 27 and 18 were cited by State Police in separate alcohol related traffic accidents recently. Local State Police reported that Sarah Broyles, 27, Houston, TX westbound on US 380, 36 miles west of Carrizozo, lost control of a 1981 Toyota and rolled the vehicle over. Broyles was treated and released May 9 at Carrizozo Health Center. She was cited for careless driving and DWI.

May 10, Bruce Hays, 18, Captain was cited for careless driving, DWI and minor in possession of liquor while operating a motor vehicle. Hays, traveling on the wrong side of a county dirt road west of Capitan met another vehicle, swerved and lost control of a 1984 Toyota pickup, which rolled onto its top. He was treated and released for head lacerations.

Clifford Jester, 62, Santa Rosa, northbound on US 54 approximately 15 miles north of Carrizozo lost control of a 1978 Honda Civic. Jester left the roadway on the left side, overturning 1 1/2 times. He was treated and released May 13 at Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Hospital. A careless driving and DWI citation was issued.

District Court Judge Robert M. Doughty ruled in the case of whether the road was a public road or a private road. His decision settled the dispute that has been in court for months between Paul and Robert Lietzman, owners of the O-Bar-O Ranch, and Lincoln County.

The Lietzman brothers say the road belongs to them. They insist that it is deeded land and all roads and trails belong to the O-Bar-O. They tried to stop people from using the road by putting a chain across it.

Lincoln County has had the recess the last day of the case, May 1, and flew by helicopter over the road. This way he could see the area. In his decision, he stated, "Most of the road was formally dedicated by the Board of County Commissioners as a public road in 1917." He also states, "The same appears on a US Department of Interior map of 1934."

Lincoln County Commissioner John Allen Hightower had testified on May 1 that he was born in Lincoln County and the road had been a public road as long as he could remember.

Corona Clinic summer hours

The Corona Clinic will be open only on Tuesday morning from 9 to 12 a.m. during the summer. Dr. Blodgett will be at the clinic. Appointments may be made by calling the Carrizozo Health Center before Tuesday at 648-2317.

Zozo school awarded Carnegie Grant

Washington — Two hundred high schools across the nation, including Carrizozo High School, will receive awards to improve their academic quality under the Carnegie Grants Program for High School Improvement, Ernest L. Boyer, President of The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, announced today.

The grants, most of which are for $3,000 and total $575,414, are funded by Atlantic Richfield Foundation and are designed to enable principals, joined by their administrators and teachers, to take essential steps to further excellence in their schools.

Principals receiving the initial grants will participate in one of four separate Principal Academies conducted by NASSP and also funded by Atlantic Richfield Foundation. They will be held in Los Angeles, October 22; in Chicago, October 29; in Dallas, November 12; and in Philadelphia, November 15. The Academy sessions will take place over a two-and-a-half day period. They are organized to enable principals to exchange ideas on their specific areas of interest and to encourage new approaches to school improvement.

Mr. Dennis G. Sidebottom of the faculty will represent the high school.

Subdivision rules discussed

Capitan Village Council

Notes from unapproved minutes.

Blaine Miller was awarded a bid for landscaping. This will include removal of grass and trees, replacing with crushed lava stone, plastic and railroad ties. This work is to be completed before Smokey Bear Day, May 26.

Trustee Sharon Horton resigned and will be replaced by Mayor Cummins at a later date. A maintenance worker for the village will receive a beginning salary of 750 dollars per month to be increased $25 per month after a 6 month probationary period. Part time personnel in the Motor Vehicle Department will receive $8 per hour.

Purchasing procedures were discussed and a definite policy set.

The Lincoln County Insurance Co. of Carrizozo was awarded the bid for the village's multi-purpose policy.

Hubert Quintana, Director of the Southeastern NM Economic Development District, will conduct a two day workshop soon at the convenience of Capitan Trustees and Citizens. This is for the purpose of issuing a community profile pamphlet reflecting needs for the next 5 years.

The special gross receipts tax of 1/4 percent along with the gross receipts tax of up to 1/2 percent for infrastructure was discussed. By the June meeting the proposed ordinances should be available and public hearings will begin to comply with referendum schedule outlines.

Vernon Goodwin reported on the progress of the exploratory well drilling now baling and pumping at 750 feet.

A letter will be sent shortly to the Forestry Service requesting purchase of forest land.

A call for bids will be made in the near future concerning a booster pump.

Fenments will be installed May 26 for Smokey Bear Day.

The Joint Powers Agreement with Lincoln County concerning housing and feeding of prisoners in the county jail was approved.

Lincoln County subdivision rules were discussed - need for fire hydrants - culverts - compliance with street construction. Minimum standards were set for all future subdividers.

The Memorial Day holiday for village employees will be May 30.

CAPITAN Senior Citizens - Standing - l. to r. -Maureen Sullivan, George Beaudry, president, Iris Crane, council member, Jack Forrester, Bessie Jones, Council member, and Lois Aldrich, secretary. Seated is Frank Miller, treasurer. This organization will sell donut holes and coffee on Smokey Bear Day across from the Capitan Chevron Station.

ASK DR. DAN

I have a 5 year old nephew who is being beaten by his stepdad. Where can I get help for this child? C.A.

Child abuse and neglect is a serious and common problem in the United States and Lincoln County is no exception. Abuse of a physical nature includes beatings, burns, and sexual assault. Neglect may include failure to provide adequate food, clothing, shelter and emotional support to a child. Most parents who abuse their children do not do so with deliberate intent. However, many of these adults have inadequate parenting skills and simply do not know how to manage common behavioral problems in children. Many parents who abuse children were abused themselves as children.

Suspected case of abuse or neglect may be reported to the state social services office, the county health nurse or your family physician. Health care workers are required by law to report all suspected cases of abuse to Social Services. Failure to do so can result in legal action against the doctor or nurse. After a case is reported, evidence is collected and a hearing is held before a local judge to determine if action is needed to protect the child. Actions may include placing the child (or children) in a foster home requiring that the parents undergo counseling and bringing criminal charges against the parent(s). Most parents will be able to be helped by counseling and allowed to keep their children.

A major problem concerning child abuse is a conspiracy of silence within the community. Many people including health care workers, law enforcement officers and members of the legal profession refuse to acknowledge that child abuse can exist. Many people think that parents have the right to treat their children as they please, without any outside interference. This attitude causes much suffering in abused children and will often result in permanent physical and emotional disabilities, as well as death in severe cases. Concerned citizens have a duty to report child abuse and to demand that appropriate action be taken by Social Services and the law.

METHODIST REVOLUTION?

Grizzly concert band performs

By REV. LES KINSOLVING
America's nine million rank and file Methodists, have for generations, been contributing millions and millions of dollars to their national denominational headquarters — with almost no questions asked.

Among the few exceptions were the questions asked by the Methodist Bishop who was once the first Prime Minister of Rhodesia-Zimbabwe, Abel Muzorewa. He is now a prisoner of his successor in that office, Comrade Robert Mugabe. Muzorewa noted that the Methodist headquarters staff includes Marxists — one of whom he named. The bureaucracy exploded at this and took immediate steps to reduce Muzorewa from a hero (in his opposition to Rhodesia's Ian Smith) to a heel.

Than Methodist layman David Jessup, a staffer and computer expert at the national headquarters of the AFL-CIO, compiled a detailed expose of the vast number of terrorist and Marxist organizations being funded by Methodist headquarters. The bureaucracy has tried, with little success, to smear Jessup.

Apparently they were as oblivious of these small signs on the horizon as was George III with regard to the annoying colonials in Boston and Virginia. For the national Methodist power structure proceeded to elevate Miss Peggy Billings to one of its most powerful mission posts.

Miss Billings is an imposing person with something of the same sturdy appearance and outlook as former Congressman Bela Abzug. She has been put in charge of the strategic and heavily-budgeted Board of Global Ministries' overseas missions division.

That did it. The pastors of leading Methodist churches in Dallas, Orlando, Tulsa and Peoria, among others, met in November and organized the Mission Society for United Methodists — which is outside the control of Miss Billings and the Methodist high command.

In charge of this rival missions agency will be a clergyman, the Rev. H. T. MacIn of Atlanta. For thirty years, he has been watching Miss Billings in action, as a fellow member of the United Methodist missions agency staff.

In the first month of this new organization's existence, MacIn was literally deluged with letters from among the denomination's 38,000 local churches. The correspondents are eager to continue their support of missions — and yet to avoid seeing any of their church offerings put into the hands of Bella Billings.

This message has had such an effect on national HQ that they have decided not to play the familiar game of "Stray Dog" with this dissident movement. (Stray Dog: "Ignore him; he'll go away.")

In late February, Billings met MacIn head on, in front of some 40 Methodist editors.

General Secretary Billings was, in her way, suave rather than savage. She explained patiently: "Our denomination has chosen a certain administrative order that was established collectively, not independently by a small group of pastors — as if the local congregation is the source of all wisdom."

Not many editors would make any such claim, that the local church is the source of all wisdom. It's just that the 38,000 local Methodist churches happen to be the source of almost all of the cash. And a random comparison of the actions of Methodist national bureaucrats as compared to the action of local churches over the past decade would surely indicate that while the congregations are not the sole source of wisdom, they have been far wiser than the national headquarters.

This particularly applies in the expenditure of church money. For Billings and her fellow bureaucrats — who are almost beyond the reach of the rank and file — have funneled enormous amounts of church money to such dubious destinations as the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches (of which the Methodists have been, by far, the biggest bankrollers.)

The Rev. Mr. MacIn responded to Miss Billings's call to attention and respect for national headquarters by citing comparatively recent history. For he reminded everybody that, during the last century, when Methodist women were denied representation on the official Methodist missions boards, they rebelled and set up their own — with this process of revolutionary excess eventually producing Miss Billings. MacIn also noted that there has been a growing number of Methodists who feel "shut out" by headquarter's social engineers. He noted also that they have tried for ten years to be in dialogue with this power structure — to no avail.

Now Methodist churches will have an experienced official and well organized agency to whom they can send their missionary offerings, in confidence that this money will not be sent to Marxist terrorists. If this new organization continues to attract enthusiasm and support, it could eventually lead to the bankruptcy of the already tottering National Council of Churches.

On Thursday, May 10 the community of Carrizozo was treated to an evening of musical entertainment. The program was presented by the 4th grade Tonettes, 5th grade Beginning Band, and the Carrizozo Grizzly Band.

The evening performance began with the 4th Grade Tonettes who presented four selections ending with 'Twinkle Twinkle Little Star. After the Tonettes portion of the program was the newly organized G Band who played three well done selections.

The Grizzly Concert Band was next on the program and performed three selections with students from the band performing individual solos.

Those performing solos were: Leah Patterson, flute; Bryan Cantrell, trombone; Dawna Ward, marimba; Darcie Cooper, bells; clarinet quartet and the clarinet trio.

After the evening's performance Mr. Harris, the band director and teacher, presented awards, trophies, and certificates to the students.

The outstanding 6th Grade trophy went to Lisa Hightower and Julie Harris, 7th grade trophy went to Marcia Hecker, 8th grade trophy went to Marcella Sandoval, 9th grade trophy went to Bryan Cantrell, and 10th grade trophy to Dawna Ward. The director's trophy went to Amy Means and the outstanding student award, The John Phillip Sousa Award went to Jamie Patterson. For the first time there were 3 outstanding marching trophies given to Judy Vega, Melissa Greer, and Jamie Patterson.

The music department would like to express thanks for the community's support given to the band and music department this past year.

New Mexico Heritage

By DAVID STUART (c) 1984

"Doing Archeology"

Time and geographic space are the archeologist's basic tools. From these the broad events of prehistory are recreated. Each artifact, site, style of architecture, and so on, gains its basic meaning from a place, or niche, in time and space. This is why archeologists are so preoccupied with dating and naming things.

It is as if every niche were a piece in a jigsaw puzzle. But each is given a name, and that name tells not only where it belongs, but also in what order to lay it down. Obviously, the first archeologists to piece together the jigsaw of New Mexico's past had a much more formidable task than contemporary archeologists. As they recreated an outline of events from like artifacts and architectural styles they had no fool-proof way to evaluate whether the picture they had created was upside-down or right-side up, time wise.

For decades archeologists relied on the idea of "progress" to arrange their finds in rough chronological order. Over time, human inventions, ideas, and society were argued to be gradually and systematically transformed, step by orderly step, from the simple to the complex. However, this scheme didn't always work. From time-to-time societies actually regress, or simplify, after suffering catastrophe. It happened here in New Mexico after the decline of Chaco Canyon.

Gradually these difficulties diminished. First, archeologists excavated sites to determine the relative sequence of ceramic styles in layers of room and kitchen midden deposits. This is the technique of "stratigraphy", made famous by A. V. Kidder at Pecos Pueblo just after World War I. Later, in the 1920s, an astronomer from Arizona developed the technique of accurately dating wooden building beams through tree-ring analysis.

Then, about 1950, following developmental work on the atomic bomb, the Carbon-14 dating technique came into use. It has continually been refined. More recently, archeologists have learned how to date the clay linings of ancient cooking hearths. Clays contain minute magnetized particles which "line up" with the earth's magnetic field. The direction, or polarity, of these magnetic fields changes from time to time. When the clay is fired, the earth's magnetic condition at that moment is "frozen" in the clay for all time.

These techniques are used primarily in excavation where a site is "peeled" layer by layer. So southwestern archeologists came to know, for instance, a great deal about the sequence of architectural and ceramic styles at the towns in Chaco Canyon or in the Mimbres River country of southern New Mexico. They also eventually knew the sequence of broad stages of culture history which had preceeded those towns, as far back as 9500 B.C. Now that is a lot to know, but there is also much that they did not know.

You see, in the early days most archeological information was obtained from a few large, well-excavated sites. For all the detail about these few big Chaco or Mimbres sites, no one could tell you how many "Chacoan" sites there were altogether, or where they were located. Without that information it was impossible to say just what Chaco Canyon represented: a religious center?, the capital of a political state; or perhaps, it was just two dozen grand village sites, a few centuries of ambitious oddity built in the middle of nowhere. How is one to discover the answer?

PUBLIC NOTICE

NEW MEXICO SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION DIVISION NATURAL RESOURCES DEPARTMENT

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION The public hearing on Section 4.2 of the Water Quality Management Plan scheduled for June 7, 1984, at 9 a.m. in the Natural Resources Conference Room is cancelled.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held by the New Mexico Water Quality Control Commission beginning at 9 a.m. on Monday, July 9, 1984, in the Natural Resources Conference Room on the first floor of the Villagra Building in Santa Fe. The hearing is being conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Clean Water Act (P. L. 95217) and the New Mexico Water Quality Act.

The purpose of the hearing is to obtain public input on proposed updates to the State of New Mexico Water Quality Management Plan, which was developed pursuant to Section 208 of the Federal Clean Water Act.

The update of Work Element 4.1, Irrigated Agriculture, adds the responsibilities of the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) to the Water Quality Management Plan (WQMP). The update of Work Element 4.2, Silviculture, replaces the present language and adds the responsibilities of the New Mexico Department of Natural Resources Forestry Division, the US Department of Agriculture (USDA) Forest Service and the Bureau of Indian Affairs to the Water Quality Management Plan.

The update of Work Element 4.3, Sediment, involves three changes. (I) The section on Implementation of Best Management Practices adds the responsibilities of the Bureau of Land Management (BLM); BIA, USDA Forest Service, and the

LEGALS

New Mexico State Land Office; (II) The section on Reduction of Sediment from Rural Roads will be replaced and adds the responsibilities of the BIA, BLM, USDA Forest Service, some counties, some pueblos and tribes; the NM State Land Office; the NM Park and Recreation Division; and the NM State Highway Department; (III) The section on Cost Effectiveness Studies for Best Management Practices has been fulfilled and should be dropped. The results will be included in the Appendix.

The proposed update to Work Element 13, Designation of Management Agencies, designates the USDA Forest Service (4.2, 4.3) the BLM (4.3) the NM Forestry Division (4.2) the NM State Land Office (4.3) the NM State Highway Department (4.3, rural roads only) some NM counties (4.3, rural roads only) the NM Park and Recreation Division (4.3, rural roads only) some NM pueblos and tribes (4.3).

as the management agencies for implementing of the strategies of work elements listed in the parenthesis after their names.

The update to Work Element 14, Implementation Schedules, proposes the date of program implementation or acceptance of designation, and the date of review of program effectiveness and re-evaluation of the need for additional regulations for each designation. In some cases the review proposed is an ongoing process of planning and review. Implementation schedules become part of the Plan Appendix.

Copies of the proposed Plan updates, supporting Plan Appendix materials, and a responsiveness summary on public meetings-workshops held on proposed Work Elements will be available on Wednesday, June 8, 1984. Persons wishing to obtain copies should contact Jose Lucero, Director, Soil and Water Conservation Division, Villagra Building, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87503.

The public is invited to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing, and to examine witnesses. Interested persons wishing to submit written testimony prior to the hearing should mail or deliver their testimony to Mr. Lucero, at the above address. Persons submitting oral or written testimony may be examined at the hearing.

Any person wishing an interpreter for the deaf at the hearing or a taped transcript for listening by the blind should submit a written request to Mr. Lucero at the above address by June 19, 1984. After it has been prepared, a written transcript of the hearing will be available for public review at the above address.

Carrizozo makes top five in wildlife contest

LAS CRUCES — More than 100 high school students participated in a contest recently to demonstrate their knowledge of wildlife management and wildlife identification.

Sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service at New Mexico State University the contest was the final hurdle in the Future Farmers of America (FFA) competition which began with local and district competition in February, said James E. Knight, Extension wildlife specialist at NMSU.

The team from Hatch took top honors with Goddard, Albuquerque Cibola, Carrizozo and Floyd making the top five team scores.

Robert Kaszowski of Goddard was the high point individual, followed by George Benvie, Hatch; John Ortweil and Jim Summers, Albuquerque Cibola; and Chris Clements, Hondo.

"In early January more than 1,200 youngsters vied for positions on teams that would represent their high schools in the wildlife contests," Knight said. "The young men and women studied specimen slides and literature that would increase their knowledge of the needs of wildlife and the proper ways to manage them. Questions at the contest revolved around the ability of the youngsters to recognize environmental and social impacts of wildlife management in New Mexico."

Knight said the youngsters were required to understand and use wildlife management terms as well as to identify the wildlife species of New Mexico. Questions tested the ability of the contestants to understand and use practices and techniques of wildlife management. Also tested was the ability to recognize and understand special management considerations for certain wildlife species such as endangered or migratory animals.

Inside the Outdoors

Recent investigations into two separate cases involving the illegal killing and possession of antelope have resulted in stiff fines.

In the first incident, a traffic stop by State Police Officer Jim Hiltzley led to the arrest of two Oklahoma residents for illegal possession of antelope. Conservation Officer Joel Pafford arrived at the scene shortly after the stop and noticed blood and hair on the trunk of the vehicle. Questioning by Hiltzley and Pafford led them to two trailer houses near Ancho. Parts of antelope were found in both trailer houses. The occupants of the trailers were on contract to remove old ties from the railroad.

Thirty-four year old, Duseen Hatfill and her co-worker John E. Tannich, 32, were arrested and taken to the Lincoln County Jail in Carrizozo. Charges were also filed on Armendariz R. Martinez, 32, Ruben Pineda, 22, and two juveniles, all Mexican Nationals, but were later dismissed and the four were returned to Mexico by the US Border Patrol.

Hatfill and Tannich were arraigned before Lincoln County Magistrate Betty Dean and both pleaded guilty to the charge of illegal possession of antelope. Each was fined $400 and assessed $10 court cost for the violation and spent three days in the Lincoln County Jail.

Heritage . . .

(Con't from P. 18)

slice of it that lies on the surface. That slice is like the rich frosting on a cake—the major portion of the site lies buried and unseen. Thus, one often describes the icing while not knowing the kind of cake it covers. Frequently, recent artifact assemblages overlay much older ones. For example, it is quite common for masonry houseblocks of the A. D. 1000 to 1500 period to lie above pithouses of the A. D. 500 to 800 period.

At other places, a site has been scoured away to leave visible only a jumbled layer of artifacts. Even when different pottery styles are present, it would be impossible to place most in the correct chronological order, unless they had been dated elsewhere from intact stratigraphic deposits.

It is for these reasons that archeological knowledge advances most rapidly when the techniques of tedious survey on foot are combined with the meticulous methods of excavation.
