

First Carrizozo Fly-In is this Saturday-----

Carrizozo's first annual Fly-In will be held Saturday, June 23. Weather reports are promising but in case it should rain, June 30 has been the date set to hold the Fly-In. Registration for those associated with airplanes, airports, pilots, photographers, and the news media will begin at 7 a.m. Games and activities start at 9 a.m. Renovation of the airport is complete and the Fly-In is being held to celebrate the re-opening of the airport. Federal Aviation Agency airport certification safety inspector Robert W. Hutchins, from Albuquerque airports district office, was in Carrizozo to inspect the airport on Wednesday. He said the airport looks much better. Between 200 and 300 people are expected to attend the Fly-In. Roswell is moving their monthly Fly-In to Carrizozo for the celebration. A ham radio operator from Alamogordo plans to be here with communications.

Saturday before the activities begin there will be a pilot's meeting for the pilots to decide which games and contests they want to compete in, such as flour bombing and spot landing. Games for the kids will include paper airplanes.

Other possible activities are sky divers and gliders. While the weather may be cooperating in Carrizozo, there is the chance it may not be cooperating in the towns where the planes will be coming from.

A free lunch for registered Fly-Ins and volunteers will start at noon. If you want to help, contact Dale Goad or Woody Schlegel.

$3,000 purse for Pony Express Race Aug. 4

The 16th annual pony express race will be held Aug. 4. This year as last year the race will start at Double Crossing in Lincoln and proceed to White Oaks. In former years, the race has started in White Oaks and gone to Lincoln.

Sponsored by Bonita Stables and White Oaks Museum, plus various other sponsors in Lincoln County, the race this year is advertised as a 'Bigger, better race with a bigger purse'.

An entry fee of $50 per team is charged. A team is one or two riders and four mounts. If there are two riders, the first rider will ride from Double Crossing to Encinoso, the second rider from Encinoso to White Oaks. Entrants must follow marked course and will be checked at various points.

Breakfast will be served at Double Crossing from 6 to 8 a.m. The race begins at 8 a.m. The purse this year is $3,000 with added money and prizes.

A BBQ, rodeo and dance will be held at White Oaks. A raffle will also be held for a gentle saddle horse and beef on the hoof. Raffle tickets are available from various sponsors in Lincoln County.

The Pony express race from Double Crossing to White Oaks takes approximately two hours. Each rider will carry letters given to him at the start of the race and must have them in their possession at all times and will be delivered to the Pony Express Committee.

For more information contact Robert Runnels, 354-2778 nights, and Ginny Martin 336-8132

EMERGENCY SITUATION—Carrizozo and Nogal volunteer firefighters experienced the same noise and heat they would be exposed to in an actual propane gas fire. David Rubio, State Fire Marshall's training officer, supervised the propane gas fire at the Industrial Park last Thursday. The firefighters (which included two women) sprayed their way into the center of the blaze and then one firefighter reached down and turned off the propane gas valve

Renovation slated

The Capitan Board of Education will meet in special session, Monday evening, June 25, at 7:30 p.m. Bids will be opened for the renovation of the old elementary building. Capitan Schools must have more classroom space

The Capitan Schools have received a grant from state and federal sources totaling $4,800. This school district will supply matching funds to make the total $9,600. The money will be spent for playground improvement especially on the elementary level.

C'zozo Town Council-

Final budget hearing July 9

A special meeting of the town of Carrizozo Board of Trustees was held Monday night for public input on a proposed lease of the sanitary landfill. Views and opinions were given during the hour long meeting.

Trustees will accept proposals for contracting of solid waste collection. Bids are to be opened at a special meeting on June 29, at 3:30 in the conference room of city hall. Specifications may be obtained from the town clerk.

Two of the three employees may be affected by the proposed leasing of the town's garbage pick-up and operation of the landfill. All three are full time employees, with one being paid from the water fund and the other two paid from sanitation. One of these positions is temporary full time.

If the garbage pick-up is leased out, the budget will have to be adjusted to eliminate the salaries of the two employees. Interim approval has been given by the state to the budget submitted by the town. The final budget hearing will be July 9, 6 p.m. during the regular meeting. Trustees have said employees will be transferred to the street department. If they are, changes will need to be made in the budget before the final hearing.

The schedule for garbage pick-up in Carrizozo is residences; once a week; businesses, three times a week, and the trash is collected everyday at the school.

C'zozo High School receives high honor

School superintendent Dr. Jim Miller, Jr. received a call last Thursday at 10 a.m. from the Department of Education in Washington. The call coincided with a press conference by Education Secretary T. H. Bell, naming Carrizozo High School as one of the three New Mexico secondary schools as among the 202 best in the nation.

Carrizozo High School received the honor along with Albuquerque West Mesa High School and Jefferson Middle School in Albuquerque. The three New Mexico schools were chosen from 553 schools nominated by school superintendents in every state except Maryland and New Jersey. The 202 winning schools are from 44 states and the District of Columbia, plus three Defense Department schools in West Germany for military families.

Dr. Miller said the award is the highest award the school can receive and went on to say, "We see this as an opportunity also to take advantage of some opportunities." The award will generate a great deal of attention for the school and community.

Three representatives of the school will go to Washington in late September or early October for a ceremony in which Carrizozo High School will be presented a United States flag and a plaque.

The review team of the President's National Commission on Educational Excellence was here in April for an on site visit.

Experts from outside the government rated the winning schools on what the Education Department called 14 "attributes of successful schools." They were: regular and frequent monitoring of student progress, clear academic goals, opportunities for student responsibility and participation, high expectations, order and discipline, teacher "efficacy", rewards and incentives for teachers, concentration on academic learning time, positive school climate, rewards and incentives for students, administrative leadership, well-articulated curriculum, evaluation for instructional improvement and community support.

Other areas looked at by the experts were; how students performed on achievement and minimum competency tests, their success after graduation, student and teacher attendance rates, rates of student suspensions, and awards for students and teachers.

Carrizozo high school had 95 students in the four grades this past year

During a recent meeting of people from all walks of life from around the state that have an interest in education, the Public Service Company of New Mexico, as part of their community related program that tries to attract industry to New Mexico, has found that industry looks at three things when considering an area as a possible location: (1) tax structure in the area and the business climate, (2) the quality of life in the community, and (3) the quality of the public schools in the area.

This award reflects the quality of the public school in Carrizozo. School principal Dennis Sidebottom said, "I think it gives us something to live up to as a school district. It will push us to work as hard as we can to be as good as we can."

BACK FROM ALASKA

Mary Ellen Payne, state coordinator for Kellogg Foundation, is back in Carrizozo. She attended a May 30 to June 2 Kellogg Family Community Leadership Project regional board meeting in Anchorage, AK.

Six states - Alaska, Hawaii, Washington, Oregon, Colorado, and New Mexico - were represented. W. K. Kellogg Foundation announced that the project has been refunded for another three years.

Mary Ellen, home economist for Lincoln County was accompanied by Kathy Treat, who was elected co-chairman of the regional board. She is assistant director of home economics and assistant dean in home economics at New Mexico State University.

SIGHT-SEERS

Following the business part of the trip, Mary Ellen and Kathy toured various parts of the state. The two traveled on the Alaska Marine Highway aboard the M-V Malaspina, one of nine ships on the system.

Alaska has more coastline than the rest of the US combined. More than half of its largest cities are unreachable by conventional roads. In 1980 Alaskans voted the necessary bonding to establish the state's waterborne highway system, starting with one vessel.

Tour stops included Sitka, where flags were exchanged when Alaska first became a territory. In Ketchikan they visited museums and churches. Mary Ellen attended mass in cathedrals in Anchorage and Juneau. Real live moose were observed on the roadside in Palmer.

VICTORIAN ACCOMMODATIONS

Mary Ellen and Kathy stayed at the historic Alaskan Hotel in Juneau. The hotel features a homey inn atmosphere of a bygone era. The Alaskan Hotel is the oldest operating hotel in Juneau, opening in 1913. The hotel is an excellent architectural example of the transitional change between 19th and early 20th century. The hotel features steam heat and a wireless station of 1 1/2 kilowatts on the roof.

HELPFUL LITERATURE

As usual I left the extension office with my choice of free pamphlets. A new shipment of booklets 'Stir and Bake Bar Cookies' is now available. The booklet shows how to make six different cookies using the same basic method.

The cookies are easy to make because all the mixing is done right in the saucepan. Recipes include those for making peanut butter brownies, granola bars, sour cream banana bars and date nut bars. All recipes instruct 'melt butter (or margerine or chocolate) in saucepan over low heat'.

This and other literature is available to anyone. The extension office is located in the courthouse annex - upstairs.

GOOD COOKING

The noon meal for this year's ranch tour was served and prepared by the Hondo 4-H and FFA clubs. Their project would not have been a success without the support of others. The 4-H's and FFA's plan to use the money raised from the tour meal to send members on special trips.

Financial contributions were given to the clubs by the Evening Lions Club, First Federal Savings Bank of New Mexico, and the Ruidoso State Bank. The lamb meat was donated by the Cooper Brothers Ranch. The apples for the pies were donated by White Mountain Apple Shed. The La Junta Extension Club, Canyon Cowbells, 4-H mothers and community women baked the pies. Hondo school cafeteria staff used their skills in preparing food to help the 4-H and FFA clubs.

COWBELLE HANDCRAFTS

Canyon, Crown and Corriente Cowbells of Lincoln County had their crafts displayed during the ranch tour at morning registration, the noon meal and at the White Mountain Apple Shed, the last stop of the tour. The Canyon Cowbelle denim brand quilt and the Crown Cowbelle quilt featuring cattle breeds on muslin blocks will be raffled in August at the Lincoln County Fair. The drawing for the red and white crochet Corriente Cowbelle afghan will be held July 4.

TOUR GUIDES

Husband and wives teams were among the guides for this year's fifth annual ranch tour. They were "Peg" and Leota Pfingsten, Lincoln; Leo and Louise Joiner, Hondo, and

Johnson and Margaret Stearns, Carrizozo. Other guides were Clem Wiendorf, Bonito Valley; Buster Smoot, Capitan; Walt Wilson, Ancho; James Sanchez, Lincoln; Betty Shrecengost, Lincoln; Eva Latham, Corona; Greg Haussler, Capitan; Scott Shafer, Carrizozo; and Chris Zamora, Lincoln.

Somewhere in San Patricio the bus I was traveling in passed what guide Clem Wiendorf said was a "Texas hot tub, gone broke (financially)."

It was an exercise ring for horses but Clem was just joking.

"Better watch out, you've got some Texans on this bus," said a voice from the rear of the bus.

OUTGOING PRESIDENT-Mary Jane Ferguson received the $4,000 Pioneer Scholarship at the annual FFA banquet. The many presentations given that evening included the Honorary Chapter Membership awards to Joel Pafford, Eugenia Vega and Randall Mansell. Ferguson, a 1984 graduate, was also among four local FFA members who received State Farmer Awards. 1984-85 FFA president Steve Stearns, who blinks quicker than the click of the NEWS camera, is shown congratulating Ferguson, recipient of many FFA awards.

Local girls on winning All-Star volleyball team

The state's top volleyball players competed in the first New Mexico All-Star girls volleyball matches on June 15 in Roswell. The high school volleyball AA-A and AAA-AAA teams were chosen by the state's coaches in March. Only seniors were eligible.

The matches between the North (Yanks) and the South (Rebels) was sponsored by the Roswell Bullets Boosters Club and the New Mexico High School Coaches' Association (NMHSCA).

Two Carrizozo graduating seniors, Mary Jane Ferguson and Christetta Chavez, were among the South's players, winners in the AA-A match that went the five-game limit - 15-9, 10-15, 12-15, 15-8, 15-8 - in the opener. The North AAA-AAA team won 16-14, 17-15, 15-10 in the second match.

The South AA-A came away with some impressive statistics, serving 91 percent to 84 percent for the North and was 92 percent successful in spiking the ball to 84 percent for the North. The South dominated blocking by a margin of 71-47 percent. The blocking aspect finally took its toll on the North AA-A team. South AA-A coach Alan Carter of Estancia stated that he was pleased with the performance of his entire squad.

Ferguson was named to the All-District volleyball team in 1983; received honorable mention on the All-State team and was named MVP in 1983 in high school volleyball.

Chavez made the All-District volleyball teams in 1982 and '83, and the All-State in 1983. She was named MVP in high school volleyball and in District in 1983.

Capitan News

By MARGARET RENCH

Last week we had several gentle light rains which gave us almost 2 inches of good moisture. It has been cool and partly cloudy since. We do have much to be grateful for, and we do count our blessings.

1006 registered visitors enjoyed the Smokey Bear Museum from June 11-17. One group were eight International Ranger students from Las Cruces. They were from Zambia, Madagascar, Morocco and Pakistan. They were very interesting to visit with.

Another group was 16 New Mexico Motor Carriers from Albuquerque. They were pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simmons and two children of Santa Fe. Simmons is Speed Simmons' grandson.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Boling of El Paso visited the museum, Sunday. Their daughter is Ann Boling, the Sun Princess in the Smokey Bear Day Parade.

It is of great interest to see the many tourists that enjoy everything there.

Shelly Eldridge placed second in Goat Tying Competition in the NM High School Rodeo final in Farmington. She will travel to Rapid City, SD in July at the National High School Finals.

Gid and J. B. Allen and Grady Lee and Shelly Eldridge went to Roswell to a NM Junior Rodeo. Grady Lee placed 1st steer wrestling and Gid placed 2nd.

Melinda Strickland won 1st place with her shoulder strap purse that she made and entered in the 4-H Lincoln County contest. She is now eligible to participate in the District Contest in Carlsbad June 28 and 29.

I join Kay Strickland in wishing her father Howard Wright "happy birthday" June 26.

and many, more healthy and happy ones.

There will be a New Mexico Junior Rodeo Association rodeo in Capitan on June 23 and 24 at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds. The first performance will be Saturday night at 7:00 p.m. followed by a dance at 9:00. There will be an afternoon performance on Sunday at 2:00 p.m.

The 16th Annual Pony Express Race committee is busy getting posters out, donations, and all other necessary items to get ready for the race. There will be a rodeo, barbecue, etc. this year, as last, and everyone is welcome. If you need more information about entering, making a donation, or just helping or attending, please call Robert Runnels at 354-2778 or Ginny Martin at 338-3182.

Recently two Capitan bowling teams won honors though I have not been able to learn the results. I will say I am proud of all of their efforts and would like to have the results in our column.

Here is one: Wednesday night mixed doubles, Carrizozo Recreation Center. First Place, Harold and Maxine Shelby, Wayne and Janice Magnone.

Men High Series, Harold Shelby 732.

Women High Series, Paulette Shelby.

High Avg., Steve Shelby 196. High game scratch, Steve Shelby 287.

High game, Mary Allen 278. Achievement Award most improved Wayne Magnone and Paulette Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Magnone of Merced, CA are visiting their son, Wayne Magnone and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill of Orlando, FL are visiting the Salazars near Lincoln. She is the former Flora Salazar.

The Republicans held a fund raising dinner at the fair building last Friday night and there was a large attendance.

Jessie Parks and Ann Jones of Moncor at Ruidoso visited me last Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Paul of Las Cruces became Capitan residents two weeks ago when they moved their new trailer home into the Mt. View Subdivision. There has been several there sold of late. One resident of which is moving in now. The information will be available next week. We do welcome everyone and wish them happiness here with us.

Mrs. Len Jobe and daughter Sharon Jobe of Albuquerque are visiting in the home of the Arnold Normans of Miles, Montana. Another daughter Sandy Wilson of Campbell, CA is also visiting in the Norman home at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Shilo Smith became grandparents for the first time when Mr. and Mrs. Todd Smith of Phoenix became the proud, happy parents of a son, on June 12, weighing 8 lbs. 4 ozs. Name is pending. Todd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shilo Smith.

Monday the newly built housing units on West First St. started getting their stucco. The first one is a buff. Looks nice.

Dean Schear and Rickey Lutrick both of whom were Capitan high school graduates in May joined the Army and left Wednesday June 13 for basic training in El Paso. They are fine young men and I wish them success and good luck.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

BY Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Governor Anaya says he's carefully trying to avoid any impression that politics is involved in any search for any university president.

He admits it's a very touchy matter.

"If you so much as ask about progress in the search," he says, "you get criticized for interfering. But if you don't ask, how are you expected to know what's going on?"

Anaya is such a consummate and total politician that many who know him well have trouble believing he can entirely separate himself from the matter.

FORMAL POSITION: It should be noted right off the bat that the Governor is an ex officio member of the board of regents of every state-supported university. That fact, however, does not give him the right to vote.

It should be further noted that members of such boards are a highly special group. They are named for a specified term in office, and they cannot be removed by the Governor without the trouble of a hearing before the Supreme Court, in which it is necessary to demonstrate that there is good cause for their removal.

That latter fact would seem to indicate that the people who drafted our state constitution didn't want people who have to get themselves elected fooling around with the way institutions of higher education are run.

RUMORS: Would Anaya try to get his hand into such matters anyway?

It's hard to say for sure, but some things are verifiable:

—At the very least, somebody close to the Governor appears to be opposed to John Aragon, the president of Highlands—so much so that one regent, after recently voting to extend Aragon's contract for another year, immediately resigned to save having to take flack from the capitol.

—Conversations with regents from New Mexico State indicated the Governor wanted Gerald Thomas' successor there to be a Hispanic female. The regents made their own choice, and at least one of them offered to resign as a result.

—Something very close to a threat about the shortness of his tenure was made to Bob Methaney, president of Eastern, who was in disfavor with the fourth floor because of votes cast by a Senator from his territory.

All of those sound a little more ominous than just "asking about progress in the search," as the Governor puts it.

POWER: It's not hard to understand that any governor would probably prefer to have as top person at any of our universities somebody conscious of a debt of gratitude to the man in Santa Fe.

It is widely speculated that if Alex Mercere, for instance, or Fred Harris were to be named president at UNM, that would be the case. Both are close to Anaya, which might or might not be helpful if either is seeking the job.

Are governors all that interested in higher education? Not necessarily. They are interested in power, however, and running what is usually the biggest employer and spender in the local area, even by indirection, is a hook to those who are turned on by power.

Since Governor Anaya is clearly in that latter category, it's not unfair to suggest he might sometimes be tempted to do more than make inquiries about progress in such matters.

IT'S WORKED BEFORE... GET THE VOTERS NOT SO MUCH TO VOTE FOR OUR GUY, BUT AGAINST THEIR GUY!

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON

The feminist castrationists strike again

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — Orange County (Orlando), Florida, has been notified by the Office of Revenue Sharing of the Treasury Department in Washington:

"It is alleged that Orange County, Florida, uses sex-designated road signs, to wit: 'FLAGMAN AHEAD' and 'MEN WORKING.'"

This letter from Washington is signed by Johnnie M. Franklin, who, we learned by telephoning, is a female. Ms. Franklin explained:

"I'm not allowed to comment to the press, or to disclose who it was that made this allegation."

The next voice I heard was that of a man, Bob Childers, who explained that he is the spokesman for this Office (who sends notices of sex discrimination to Florida). He also explained:

"Our regulations require that we notify any organization against whom there has been a complaint on sexual discrimination, and the regulations also require that we protect the anonymity of the complainant, in case there is any retaliation."

Retaliation? For objecting to two road signs?

"Well, in this case, we doubt that there will be any retaliation, but in other cases we handle there might be. The person who filed this complaint is well known to us, as this person has filed similar complaints before. Our notification of Orange County was not a notice of their being found non-compliant. No action was taken and, at this time, none is contemplated."

What has been the reaction to this complaint?

"From all over the country."

What kind of reaction?
"We have received a copy of one newspaper editorial suggesting that Orlando might consider substituting 'FOLKS WORKING.' Another newspaper in Tennessee suggested: 'SOMEBODY'S WORKING.'"

Had the complainant in Florida objected to the use of the term "manholes" or the use of the sign "MEN" that designates a gent's room?

"No. I believe that was up north. Rhode Island, I believe."

At the city hall of Woonsocket, Rhode Island, a spokesman laughed heartily and replied:

"We've been trying to live that down for four years!"
Who was it that complained about the term "manhole?"

"Nobody," he explained.
"We had a new Director of Public Works, from Egypt. Markram Megalli had been with us only a year, and he is terribly conscientious. So he read all those federal regulations faithfully. And therefore, he presented the City Council a new regulation changing all of the manholes to 'personholes.'"

The city council all laughed and struck it out of the regulation. But the news of Woonsocket personholes went all over the world."

In New York City there was another feminist castration plug, which for eleven days hung in Manhattan's Episcopal Cathedral of Saint John The Divine. This huge edifice erected primarily through the largesse of the later J. P. Morgan, is now under control (if that's the word for it) of America's kookiest prelate, the Rt. Rev. Paul Moore, who sanctioned the display of a new and strikingly different crucifix. Entitled "Christa," is "unmistakably female," according to Bishop Moore's press aide, John Lassoe.

Moore, who is out of the country on sabbatical leave until September, issued a two-page press release defending the decision of his dean, the Very Reverend James ("The Dizzy Dean") Morton, to exhibit this female Christ-in-the-Nude in the Cathedral.

"Lady Julia of Norwich," declared Moore in a reference to a medieval mystic, "used to pray to 'Mother Jesus.'" (And St. Francis of Assisi referred to the moon as "Sister Moon" — but nobody has thus far portrayed the moon with breasts — or exhibited any such grotesquerie in a church.)

Bishop Moore's assistant, Suffragan Bishop Walter Dennis, took a distinctly different position with regard to this Ms. Jesus sensation. He described Dean Morton's display as outrage." And he urged the public who agree with him to write to Bishop Moore.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

INSIST ON REJECTION

EDITOR—Our government continues to kowtow to the Red Chinese butchers, while giving no hope of freedom to the people of mainland China and increasing the threat of Communism for the people of the Republic of China on Taiwan. President Reagan's trip proved to be very profitable for the Red Chinese leaders.

President Reagan formalized these agreements with Peking, two of which require US Senate approval. The worst of these is a treaty that would permit US firms to sell nuclear reactors, components, fuel and engineering services to Communist China. Naturally, before agreeing to the accord, which would mean $20 billion in sales to the US nuclear industry—President Reagan received assurances from Peking that none of the fuel from the American built reactors would be enriched, reprocessed, stored or in any way be used for nuclear weapons without permission from Washington. Which, if the Communists keep their promise as faithfully as they have all their others, means that President Reagan might go down in history as the most imperceptive negotiator since General Custer.

We have built up one enemy, the USSR and now we continue to build up another, the People's Republic of China, under the pretext that we need it to help defend us from the USSR.

This treaty must be stopped. Already a significant number of US Senators don't share President Reagan's trust of the Red Chinese. Let's start writing letters to our Senators insisting on rejection of this outrageous treaty.

FOOLISH PROGRAMS

EDITOR—Of all the foolish programs approved by Congress, perhaps the most foolish are those which extend financial aid to Communist governments. For instance, on the same day that US Marines were rescuing American citizens trapped by the Communist regime in Granada, Congress was being asked to vote for a bill giving more than $8 billion to the International Monetary Fund without restricting the use of that money to non-Communist governments. This policy of financing regimes that have killed and are killing American soldiers and citizens is a policy of national suicide.

While at Stanford University's Hoover Institution, Professor Antony Sutton "documented in great detail the fact that 95 percent of the technology used by the Soviet military-industrial complex is of Western origin, much of it from the United States, and most financed by Western governments. The West has virtually built the Soviet bloc.

In the case of our own country, for instance, the Export-Import Bank authorized over $620 million in new credits for the Soviet bloc in the past 2 1/2 years. Communist China is just getting in on this welfare program for Communists. In 1981 and '82, the Export-Import Bank authorized $100 million in new credits for Red China. And more has been promised.

To counter this reprehensible policy of financing the Red gravediggers, Rep. Ron Paul has introduced two vitally important bills designed both to catalogue the extent, and to cut off the flow, of aid to the Communists. H.R. 4549 would require quarterly reports to Congress on all loans, loan guarantees, credits and grants to Communist governments made by the US government. H.R. 4039 would cut off all loans, loan guarantees, credits and grants by any agency of the US Government to any Communist government. Unless we shall succeed in ending this foolishness we shall succeed in financing our own destruction. Write your own Congressman asking his support for these two bills.

COLIN McMILLAN

Commentary

George Orwell's novel 1984 seems most prophetic as we look at the recent power grab by the administration of Gov. Toney Anaya.

Anaya, a self-described confidant of Democratic presidential hopeful Walter Mondale, has just ordered 69 employees of the Human Services Department to register voters on taxpayers' time in state owned or rented offices, to begin registering food, stamp and welfare recipients as they come to offices where they receive their checks and stamps.

Anaya spokesman, Marc Sani, says, "People (state employees) aren't handing them (HSD clients) their food stamps and registration forms at the same time."

HSD Secretary Juan R. Vigil says in a memo to all HSD employees, "Signs announcing the availability of this service (voter registration) will be placed in the reception area of all offices."

Official memos indicate that a day-long meeting was held last Friday in Albuquerque where state employees designated as voter registrars were briefed on "the Department's (HSD) expectations."

Who is being served by the voter registration drive? Is it the welfare recipients?

HSD cried long and hard during the last session of the legislature that their staffs were inadequate to serve the needs of the poor. Yet now they claim to have plenty of time to register the poor.

Is it democracy that is being served?

If this is so, then the Taxation and Revenue Department should be dispatched immediately to register every potential voter who is on the tax rolls. They have the names of thousands of New Mexicans who file income tax returns.

With their elaborate computer system they could be much more effective than HSD in registering voters. (Can you imagine the outcry from the Anaya wing of the Democrat Party if such a move were seriously suggested?)

If the Anaya administration wanted to encourage people to register and to vote, they could work with county clerks, the secretary of state, the League of Women Voters, as well as both political parties and, yes, even the Reagan-Bush Committee, all of whom are actively registering new voters.

The truth is that there is no idealistic quest for voter participation.

The goal is power. Power that comes with the election of Anaya's friend Mondale as President. Power that comes with a benign legislature. These are the goals of the Anaya administration.

They have carefully chosen only supervisors as registrars so a person of power and authority will confront each HSD client who is not registered.

This threat from Big Brother will be difficult for welfare recipients to resist.

Steps are being taken to stop this gross misuse of both power and taxpayers' money.

Steps are being taken to stop this gross misuse of both power and taxpayers' money.

The US attorney's office in Albuquerque has been notified by Republican party officials of a potential violation of the Hatch Act which is designed to prevent the use of US Government monies for political programs.

Let us hope that this effort to prevent an abusive program is successful.

If not, some and maybe all, of our citizens will come under the thumb of the Big Brothers so well described by George Orwell.

returned from Honolulu and Maui, Hawaii recently. They went by way of LaCanada, California Christian School. Brian McGarry, a grandson, invited them for "Grandparents Day." Alton and Pauline received gifts for having the most grandchildren, 28 of them, and for traveling the farthest for this special day.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cox of Carlsbad, parents of Kenny Cox of Capitan were honored with a Father's Day dinner by Joyce and Kenny Cox. Other guests were Alton and Pauline Whitaker, Terry and Linda Cox and families.

Joyce and Kenny Cox and children vacationed at Six Flags and Oklahoma. Kenny visited his grandmother. Their little son went home to Carlsbad with his grandparents after Father's Day to spend some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne and three children spent Father's Day with his parents Bud and Dorothy Payne in Carrizozo. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gilliland of Tularosa and family and Sandy Lightfoot and Flora Freeland of Roswell joined them there.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright's guests for Father's Day were their children, Jim and Linda Wright and two children and Kay and Terry Strickland and two daughters Melinda and Rhonda Kay.

CDBG update

Three officials from Santa Fe made a spot check of the Community Development Block Grant in Carrizozo on Tuesday. They wanted to see if project director Albert Baca had any major problems.

"Everything is fine," was the comment as Baca escorted them on the inspection tour. Irene Sikelianos, Orlando Romero, CDBG coordinator, and Al Kempenich, financial auditor, were from the local government division, department of finance and administration in Santa Fe. Baca showed the officials 18 houses from the outside. Four of these are now being rehabilitated. Two of these are near completion. Five contracts have been awarded for the work.

Baca said more invitations to bid will be in this week's paper. A total of 20 houses are to be rehabilitated and all work should be completed by Dec. 31.

Some of the houses are receiving major rehabilitation, with work to include plumbing, windows, insulation, doors, painting inside and out, new electrical wiring, and new bathroom fixtures. Some will even get new roofs.

Contractors have 60 days in which to finish the work. When it takes the full 60 days, it is a major rehabilitation. Two more contractors have shown an interest in bidding. Baca said with five contractors there should be no problem in finishing the project on schedule.

Applications for 27 houses have been received with tentative approval being given to 14 of these. Income guidelines will have to be raised to be able to approve the next six. Baca has asked that anyone with questions call him at 648-3351.

Baca will attend a CDBG implementation workshop in Santa Fe on June 25 and 26.

The CDBG officials were going to make spot checks of the CDBG projects in Tularosa and Alamogordo on their way to Las Cruces.

Lincoln County's 5th Annual

By F. E. CHAVEZ

The 1984 Ranch Tour was held in the picturesque Ruidoso-Hondo and Bonito Valleys. Part I of the tour story last week's NEWS ended with the stop at the McDaniel Farm. Following the visit there with brothers Ernest and Robert, the tour buses headed for Hondo's school headquarters for this year's Lincoln County tour.

An excellent meal of beef and lamb barbecue, potato salad, coleslaw, pinto beans, salsa, homemade rolls and apple pie was served in Hondo's school cafeteria. An estimate 250 persons enjoyed the noon meal sponsored by the Hondo 4-H and FFA clubs.

Soon a familiar sound was heard - a whistle indicating that it was time to board the buses and continue the valley touring. Guide Leota Pflingsten was in charge of the whistle throughout the day's activities.

As we headed towards the Bonito Valley, guide Clem Weindorf boasted that we would now view the "most beautiful of the valleys." Weindorf's ranch home is located in the Bonito Valley.

Las Placitas Del Rio Bonito (the little plazas by the pretty river) were settled in the 1850s. Largest among them was Bonito Plaza, now known as Lincoln. In 1878 it was the scene of the historic five day battle of the Lincoln County War.

Numerous sites throughout the little town were pointed out as the buses drove through. Tourists were encouraged to visit the "sleepy ol' town." Weindorf said that Lincoln was the "shoot'em up place of the west." The "greasy spot" where Billy the Kid shot a lawman may still be there, he jokingly added.

Soon we arrived at our destination - The Hainer grape vineyards. The basic theory behind this valley's land for growing grapes is that elevation, type of soil and general climate is very similar to the best production area of France. The enterprise in the Bonito Valley is operated by Mike Hainer and his wife Sally Canning.

The vineyards were established several years ago in a steeply graded farm containing adequate water rights. The land, purchased from Betty Shrecengost, was originally the Copio Pacheco farm, later owned by the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Hainer talked about the expenses involved in his operation and explained the use of equipment, some of which he had to invent. He explained all phases of the business including the difficulties involved in growing his plants, now in the "third leaf." A question regarding hail protection was answered: "You wear out your knees (praying)."

After the vineyard tour, the bus riders viewed the Pflingsten and Grigsby acreage, which represents a diverse family operation lying along the Bonito River. Best known for its apple packing and cider operation, the business also includes cattle grazing land, forage crops, commercial vegetable gardens and the Spring Ranch Trout Farm.

Mrs. A. T. (Bert) Pflingsten and her daughter and son-in-law, Myrna and Wes Grigsby believe that in a modern agricultural business, a diversification and long term planning are necessary elements for success. This gives the producers some "insurance" against the whims of nature and some discretion to choose the most appropriate use of the different types of land available.

The establishment of Fort Stanton in the early 1850s created a need for agricultural produce to feed both soldiers and horses. The earliest priority dates for water in the area run from 1853 to 1867, which means that land which is now irrigated has been irrigated since that time.

Initial Pflingsten grazing and farming operations began when A. T. and Fred ("Peg") Pflingsten's father came to the Lincoln-Fort Stanton area in 1882. Beginning in 1905 he served as an agent for the railroads during acquisition of water rights, and ultimately, between he and his sons A. T. and Fred, a large portion of the Rio Bonito became developed as farming and grazing lands.

The tour of the Pflingsten property began in a grazing area. Some older orchards in this area, planted in the 1920s, are being removed. Apple trees that are pampered may have a produc-live lifetime of 75 years, but under normal conditions, 90 years is a more accurate figure. Where trees are removed, the land will be converted to some type of farm land or irrigated permanent pasture. Alfalfa, a soil-building legume crop, is being planted in some of these areas. Orchards planted back after the alfalfa will benefit and reward the grower by producing sooner.

Field crops include fescue grass in permanent pasture. Alfalfa and barley are also grown to ensure adequate feed for the cattle, making them less dependent on rainfall and natural vegetation of rangelands. The fields are irrigated by open ditch or by underground pipeline.

A three-wire electrical deer fence surrounds alfalfa fields in the Grigsby's Los Chozas area. The high tensile fence is powered by a solar generating unit. The Grigsby cattle are primarily crossbreeds, because they feel crosses are thrifter and tend to wean heavier calves in the fall. Longhorn bulls are a recent addition to the herd of Brangus, Hereford and Charolais crosses. The Longhorns make for easier calving, because calves are smaller at birth. Additionally, they tend to "hustle" more for their food, taking greater advantage of vegetation, live longer, meaning fewer replacement costs, and the meat they produce is leaner, as preferred by today's beef customers.

Towering over the producing orchards are other modern devices designed to protect the fruit from freezing during the bloom stage. Propellers atop the towers bring a warmer air layer down around the blossom or bud and except under the most extreme conditions provide the margin of safety necessary to set a fruit crop.

These standard trees were planted between 1931 and 1935 and have received intensive care, which is why they are still producing heavily. The ground cover is a perennial rye grass, which tends to eliminate other vegetation, such as weeds. The grass makes it easier to spray the trees during wet ground conditions and easier for pickers to pick the apples in the fall. The varieties in this orchard include Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Rome Beauty and Winesap.

New orchard land near the Grigsby home is planted with semi-dwarf trees rather than the standard size because the semi-dwarf orchards produce more apples per acre, are more labor efficient and come into production faster.

At Spring Trout Farm where the buses stopped, the riders quenched their thirst with fresh spring water. Thirsty tourists also swarmed Captain 4-H club members who were conducting a brisk lemonade and tea stand.

Spring River Trout Farm has been in business since 1960. Originally there were seven such ponds in the area, established in the 1940s. Myrtle gave a talk about the trout farm, where she hopes to continue the work of her late husband A. T. (Bert) Pflingsten, who enjoyed watching fathers teach their youngsters the art of fishing.

The trout farm is fed with spring water maintained by nature at a constant 58 degrees. The pond is stocked with rainbow trout from a Colorado hatchery and they thrive on a diet of Purina Trout Chow. Rainbows require especially well aerated water, which is the reason for the spray jets around the pond's edge.

Anglers do not need to bring any equipment for fishing at Spring Ranch. Included in the price of the fishing are poles and bait. No fishing license is required, since this is classified as a private lake. The trout are also cleaned and iced for customers. Picnic areas are provided and a nature trail and RV park are being developed.

The tour ended at the White Mountain Apple Shed near Hondo, where Wes and Myrna Grigsby on hand to give a talk on the commercial cider and apple packing operation. Free apple cider was sampled.

The fruit is washed and polished by machine equipped with soft rollers, never waxed. The machinery also sizes the fruit. A crew grades and hand packs the apples. There is a cold storage unit to keep the fruit and cider at their freshest. Fruit and vegetables are sold both retail and wholesale. Vegetables are sold from the shed in late summer until frost, while apple sales start in September and continue through November. (The apples for the pies were donated by White Mountain Apple Shed.)

In the shade outside the apple shed Pete Gnatkowski of Ancho sheared sheep, furnished by Ralph Dunlap. (The Coopers Brothers donated the lamb for the noon meal.)

Inside the shed there were spinning and weaving demonstrations. Finished products were displayed. Participants in this part of the tour were Linda Ponder, Sara Gnatkowski, Yvonne Jones, Juanita Sultemeir, Rosalie and Ralph Dunlap.

The tour concluded at Hondo School where tourists, drivers, guides, and others enjoyed ice cream cups, compliments of

(Con't. on P. 7)

A LITTLE OFF THE TOP—Pete Gnatkowski is shown giving Pete Gnatkowski a helping hand during the sheep shearing demonstration. Gnatkowski of Ancho was in charge of this portion of the ranch tour.

ORGANIC CHEMIST—Mike Hainer who "wanted to live in this valley and do what I was trained to do," told the crowd that one day he hopes to own a winery to process his crop now in the "third leaf." Hainer explained what prime land and hardwork can accomplish.

APPLE SHED—Wes and Myrna Grigsby, owners of the White Mountain Apple Shed near Hondo, told visitors the care their apples receive at their plant. The fruit is never waxed. Trained crews grade, wash, polish and hand pack the apples. A commercial cider operation is also housed here.

Canyon Cowbelles, who also baked some of the apples for the noon meal. Door prizes given away at the Apple Shed were furnished by Corriente Cowbelles. The Crown Cowbelles were in charge of the ditty bags at registration that morning.

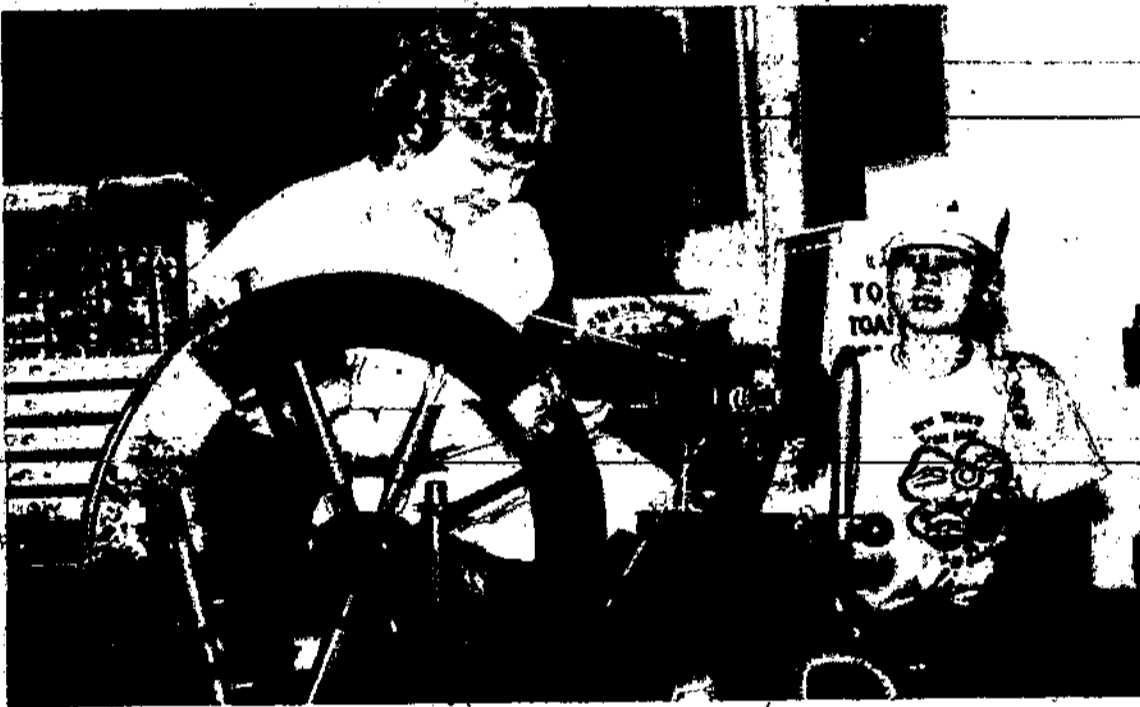

There was never a dull moment during the day's well planned activities. Following the 4-H and FFA sponsored noon meal there were animals to pet and feed at Hondo's vo-ag building. FFA and 4-H members were on hand to explain how they get livestock ready for the fairs this coming fall.

The 4-H'ers and FFA'ers were appreciative that the county cowbelles (number 1 promoters of beef) gave them an opportunity to participate in the ranch tour.

Among the exhausted but well-fed and pleased tourists was Evelyn Yates of Silver City, New Mexico Cowbelle state president.

SINCE 1960—Myrtis (Mrs. A. T.) Pfingsten stands by the pond stocked with rainbow trout which thrive on a diet of Purina Trout Chow. Myrtis, like her late husband, enjoys watching little children learn to fish at Spring Ranch Trout Farm.

SPINNING DEMO—Barbara Maness, Dexter observes as Crown Cowbelle Yvonne Jones of Capitan, seated in front of the spinning wheel, prepares to make wool into yarn. The Apple Shed was also the place where several door prizes, donated by the Corriente Cowbelles, were given away.

WEAVING DEMO—Andrea Haussler, Capitan looks on as Rosalie Dunlap weaves. This was one of several demonstrations held inside the apple shed, last operation on the agenda for this year's Ranch Tour. Just before departing for home, tourists were treated at the Hondo school to ice cream cups, compliments of Canyon Cowbelles.

C'zozo graduation

Amid the well-wishes, cheers and tears of a standing room only crowd of 600 people, the 1984 CHS Senior Class completed its four years of high school. Highlighting the May 18 ceremonies were commencement addresses delivered by Mary Jane Ferguson and John Roueche (co-valedictorians) and Christetta Chavez (Salutatorian). All three speakers dwelled for several moments on the theme of the high quality of life available to young people in a rural community, and of their rich and rewarding experiences in a small rural high school. Occupying the majority of time during the ceremonies was the award of some 39 local scholarships totaling over $8,000 in financial aid to students who plan to attend vocational-technical schools, or colleges and universities. Another 6 scholarships were not awarded this year, but remain available for future graduates. Over $13,000 in university financial aid was also contributed by NMSU, ENMU and UNM to six Carrizozo students. Fourteen different graduating seniors received at least one scholarship. Individual recipients included:

Emma Catherine Lawson, Stacey Stephenson; Four Winds, Robin Beltran, Christetta Chavez; Family Pharmacy, John Roueche, Geneva Maxwell; Vocational Advisory Cgm., Stacey Stephenson, Christetta Chavez, Mary Jane Ferguson; Computer World, Judi Ortiz; Lincoln County Abstract, Robin Beltran; Soil Conservation Service, Geneva Maxwell; Ink Well, Stephanie Saucedo; Sun Valley Service, Leroy Silva; R & R Electric Leroy Silva; Continuing Vocational Grant, Gene Luna, Debbie Kohrs.

Belco Industries, John Roueche; Daryl Lindsay, Judi Ortiz; Chamber of Commerce, Judi Ortiz; Canyon Cowbelles, Daryl Lindsay; CAPA Fine Arts, Jeannette DeTevis, CHS Alumni, Stephanie Saucedo; New Horizons, Dorothy Hein; Marjorie Whittaker Memorial, John Roueche; Pioneer Seed Company, Mary Jane Ferguson; Office Education Association, Judi Ortiz.

In introducing the class, Principal Dennis Sidebottom noted that it was this group of seniors which had really brought distinction to the high school in many positive ways. Diplomas and a congratulatory handshake were given out by Board President Wally Ferguson and Board member Nat Palomarez. The commencement ceremonies were followed by a post-graduation party and dance presented by the senior's mothers, to ring down the curtain on Commencement '84!

All-around money saving ideas, hints, advice, solutions, shortcuts for mothers and others.

- WEDDING GIFT WRAP
Wrap a wedding shower gift in a tea towel. Add a dish scrubber for a bow.
- RESERVE ICECUBES
When defrosting the refrigerator remove the trays of ice cubes and wrap in newspapers, then place on a shelf in the refrigerator. They will stay frozen hard and you are not without ice cubes.
- PROTECT LITTLE HANDS
If baby's plastic juice glass is too slippery to hold or too cold, slip a child's sock over it. This is a good way to make use of socks without pairs.
- ICE CAP SUBSTITUTE
When an ice cap is needed and you have none, wring a small towel in cool water, fold to desired size, place in plastic wrap and put in freezing compartment of refrigerator. Towels treated in this way will keep cold a long time.
- NO MORE TEARS
Try an underwater face mask if your toddler is afraid to have his or her hair shampooed.
- SQUEEZE THE JUICE
If you see a good buy in lemons or limes, buy several. Since they do not keep for long, squeeze the juice and freeze in ice cube trays.

Corona News

The high temperature for last week was 84 degrees on the 12th with a low of 48. Lincoln Station measured 0.72" moisture for three days. Other areas received more than an inch with others getting little more than a sprinkle.

Kathleen Williams was honored with a special ritual and dinner Wednesday evening at the home of June Tyree. Linda Cancilla, president of New Mexico Preceptor Alpha Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, conferred the Order of the Rose on Mrs. Williams, a degree earned after 15 years of membership. Each member read a part of the ritual while carrying a lighted candle and a yellow rose making it a beautiful and memorable ceremony. Mrs. Williams has the added distinction of 15 years perfect attendance.

Mrs. Cancilla then installed officers for the year beginning in September. Outgoing officers presented the incoming officers with their tools of office. Installed were president Eleanor Smith, vice president Eva Mae Holleyman, recording secretary Margaret Teague, corresponding secretary Angela Molyneux, treasurer Jo Ann Joy and extension officer Michele Rose.

Mrs. Smith then presided over a short business meeting.

Mrs. Holleyman reported filling the Yardsick and stated that PAN had again qualified for a three star chapter. Twenty dollars was sent to Chaparral 4-H toward the Washington trip for the son and daughter of a member and former member.

Mrs. Teague and Mrs. Cancilla reported on the park project. So far one tree has succumbed. Help for the bucket brigade would be welcome two days a week. Bill Smith was given a love gift for his efforts in painting and watering. A pottery raffie and T-shirts will be sold during the Summer Festival August 11. Jesse's Place proprietors have offered a keg of beer for the park. The park committee will serve the beer during the Festival under a picnic license from a spot on private property yet to be designated. A special effort is being made to raise money for the park in order to have on hand matching funds needed for any government help.

Program books will be selected at an executive board meeting this week in the home of Mrs. Smith. August 19 is the date set for beginning day activities with a brunch at the Inn of the Mountain Gods.

Dinner consisted of cold cuts, a variety of salads and trifle dessert. A birthday cake surprised Mrs. Joy. Mrs. Rose received congratulations for a June wedding anniversary. The first regular meeting of the new year will be September 4 at the home of Mrs. Teague, the program to be announced later.

Scott Williams and family came from Roswell last weekend to help with construction at the Nogal home site. Grandmother and mother did the babysitting and running of errands for the project.

J. L. Rogers was accompanying his daughter, Mrs. Harold Shumate, on a trip from Roswell to Arkansas to visit relatives when he became ill. He entered a Lubbock hospital Monday and was scheduled for surgery Tuesday morning.

The Kibbes, Dwayne, Karen Kasi and J. D. were here last week from Portales to help with the branding at the Holleyman Ranch.

Shawn Perkins spent a few days last week with the Figgs in Hope. Ryan Figgs came home with him Sunday to spend the week and attend the Capitan 4-H rodeo.

Mrs. W. T. Keelin entered an Albuquerque hospital Tuesday and was to undergo thorax surgery Wednesday.

Marietta and Rosa Powell, Ignacio, CO and Justen Turner, Blanco, spent two weeks with the Sultermeyers and helped with the lamb marking.

Sue Garfield and Mrs. Wade Jackson were here from Artesia Saturday. Sara Foster went home with them to stay while her mother and aunt, Janetta Foster and Faith Dial serve as counselors at Inlow Youth Camp.

Mrs. John Tracey met her sister, Mrs. Laurence Hefner in Willard Tuesday morning and brought her to Corona for a visit while she recuperates from the injuries received in a plane crash a few weeks ago near Reserve.

The Corona football field was the setting Saturday afternoon, June 16, for the wedding of Terri Brooke and Wayne Shaffer. Bettye Dean, Carrizozo magistrate, officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Steve Brooke. Mr. and Mrs. Brooke had come from their home in Topeka, Kansas to take part in the festivities. Terri's attendant was Becky Cannap. Stan Bell was best man.

After the ceremony the group adjourned to Jesse's Place for the reception. Mr. Shaffer and Mr. Bell are partners in the operation of Jesse's Place. The newlyweds cut and served the beautiful wedding cake. Charlie Iman and his construction crew from the railroad prepared the barbecued chicken and pork. Dorothy Nell Lightfoot, Esther Haire, Ruth and Jimmy Sheffield and many others contributed delicious foods to go with the meats. El Nesio Band from Clovis played for the reception attended by guests from Albuquerque, El Paso, Dallas, and Beaumont, TX, Las Vegas, Carrizozo, and Durango, Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer left for a trip to update New York to visit relatives. Christine Shaffer accompanied her parents for part of the trip.

Golden Anniversary Celebrated The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lackey honored them with a lovely reception at the Cedarvale Senior Citizen Center, Saturday, June 9, 1984.

A lace tablecloth covered the table which held the beautiful cake and other traditional items. Cards and then-and-now pictures were displayed on a second table. On the wall surrounded by gold ribbons and bows hung laminated frontpage news items with their special dates for birthdays, meetings, anniversaries, etc. Grace and her girls wore beautiful handmade corsages of a pink silk rose with six small white roses representing the husband and six sons.

The Unglaubs were in charge of pictures. One special picture was of Grace, her bridesmaid, Cecil Byburn DeVaney and her flower girl, Lucille Pyburn Steiner. How often can you match that?

There were lovely gifts and a

Historical Society hosts 70 people

The Lincoln County Historical Society held their quarterly meeting in Carrizozo at the Masonic Temple on Saturday night, June 16, 1984. There were 70 people in attendance, potluck was enjoyed, and business meeting was conducted by president Lynda Sanchez. Bill Gallacher was chosen as Guest of Honor and those present enjoyed hearing from him about some of the early days in White Oaks. He was a student in the White Oaks school when the railroad built into Carrizozo and on up to Capitan in 1899. He said he could remember very well all of the adults discussing the coming of the railroad and its possibilities.

The Masonic Temple building is an historic building in Carrizozo, having been built in 1907 by Governor McDonald to house the Exchange Bank being moved down from White Oaks. The masonic lodge rented space upstairs in 1909 and has been there from that date to the present. The Exchange Bank in Carrizozo was closed in 1923 and in 1926 the Masons purchased the building from bank receivers.

Some of the furniture in Carrizozo Masonic Lodge is from the White Oaks Masonic Lodge that surrendered their charter in 1902. Many of the members became members of Carrizozo Lodge, some of them from White Oaks being the charter members in Carrizozo in 1909.

Johnson Stearns had the program on developments in this part of the county, associated with becoming the county seat in 1909 and the railroad choosing this as their terminal point.

Lincoln County Historical Society encourages you to become a member.

"ASI HIJO" Gilbert Barela adjusts the suspenders of fellow fireman Eddie Jiron. Fireman Fred Padilla looks on. The trio were among several Carrizozo and Nogal volunteer firefighters who participated in an exercise that trained them to deal with an actual propane gas fire. In the background is the multi-pronged 'Christmas tree' which was ignited for the demonstration, one of a series of firefighting exercises this month.

SOLAR SENSE

The rest of the story Solar Hot Water Heaters

One of the hardest working devices in any home is the hot water heater. We take for granted the hot water heater that appears at the tap whenever we call for it, day or night, 24 hours a day, 12 months a year. Occasionally they will break down, but it's rare. Generally the reliability is very high. Unfortunately the efficiency is not. The cost for heating that hot water is going to skyrocket very soon! A solar hot water system should be every bit as reliable. Some of the systems we offer today are probably even more reliable than the conventional heater. Draindown and drainback types of systems have poor reliability at best. We quote from Handbook for Energy Efficient Residential Design and Construction for New Mexico, published by New Mexico Energy Research and Development Institute, page 63:

"Air systems for heating water are not very efficient, and draindown types are prone to disaster, so if you're just heating water, a liquid system with a nonfreezing heat transfer fluid is much preferred"

We at Alamo Solar absolutely refuse to offer drainback or draindown any longer. The industry nationwide is reacting the same way. Photovoltaic driven closed loop systems have effectively made them obsolete. Unfortunately some dealers have warehouses full of them and they must sell them or go broke! If you can't get an unlimited 10 year guarantee on the whole system, don't buy it! Home heat and hot water combination systems should rarely cost more than $4995 installed, with a 10 year guarantee. The Federal and State monies should be yours to keep when they are received. Not promised as part payment. Use sense in shopping, don't buy a problem. But don't wait to install your system either, because the credits are ending. There will NEVER be a better time to go SOLAR!

INVITATION FOR BID
FIRE & EXTENDED
COVERAGE COMPREHENSIVE
COMBINED PACKAGE

The Regional Housing Authority of Region VI, New Mexico, Inc., is requesting bids for Fire and Extended Coverage and for Comprehensive General Liability insurance in connection with its public housing operations. Bids for Fire and Extended Coverage shall be based on an evaluation of $2,284,794. This new housing project is located in Roswell (52 units), Capitan (14 units) and Carrizozo (18 units), New Mexico. Plans and specifications are available for inspection at the Authority offices.

Bids for Comprehensive General Liability shall provide coverage with a limit of $1,000,000 for bodily injury each occurrence, $250,000 for property damage each occurrence. The term of each coverage shall be three years. Proposals shall be submitted on forms provided. Bids may be submitted on any one or both items or in a combined policy, such as a multi-peril policy, so long as coverage at least equivalent to that specified is provided. The form of the proposal may be modified to reflect such a combined bid, but must contain all provisions required in the notice in respect to both Fire and Extended Coverage and Public Liability. Award will be based on the lowest net cost for the total coverage required including consideration of dividend, if any.

Bids shall be opened July 17, 1984, at 2:00 p.m. IN THE OFFICE OF THE REGIONAL HOUSING AUTHORITY OF REGION VI, NEW MEXICO, INC. P. O. Box 5699, Building 610 RIAC Roswell, NM 88201. Bids packets are available at the Authority offices or by calling (505) 347-2041.

money tree. Perhaps the most outstanding gift was a friendship-family tree quilt made by the Cedarvale Quilting Club. This club has been in existence almost 70 years. The blocks came from friends in Iowa to California, from Washington to south Texas, new club members, the church ladies and many others. The age span of the quilters ranged from 20 to 90 years. This is a gift that can never be replaced and will always be cherished. Thank you all so much.

Roland Lackey gave a slide presentation prepared with special music, "Dad and Mother - This Is Your Life." The slides were made from old photographs taken from 1911 up to the present time. Then the family sang Mom and Dad's special song "When your Hair Has Turned to Silver."

All their six sons and families were there except for two grandsons in Austin, TX, including the very youngest great granddaughter, one month old Krestin Leigh Alexander, who flew in with her mother to surprise the grandparents.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Garner Sorge, Tucumcari (Mrs. Sorge is Paul's Aunt Faye), Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lackey and sons, Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Lackey, Plainview, TX, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Campbell, Alamogordo, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Vickrey, Taos, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shaw, Mrs. Jo Hanlon, Mrs. Annie Mell Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Meadows and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smiley, all of Mountainair, Dorothy Kerr, Bloomfield, Mrs. Joe Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wright, Mrs. Wanda Mae Wood, Belen, Jack and Lola Dial, Estancia, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter, Mrs. Mary Humphries and family, Mrs. Myrtle DeVaney and her sister, Rev. and Mrs. Claude Stovall, all of Albuquerque, Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Gustin, Bosque, and Nora Smith, Weed, and many more friends from Cedarvale, Corona and Progresso communities.

OBITUARY

PIOQUINTO MARQUEZ

Pioquinto "Pete" Marquez, 62, of Alamogordo, died June 5 in Gerald Champlon Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Marquez was born on Aug. 2, 1921 in Carrizozo.

He was a veteran of World War II where he served in the US Army. He also was retired from civil service.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth Marquez of Alamogordo; sons, Ralph Marquez and Pioquinto Marquez Jr., both of Alamogordo; daughters, Hope Marquez of Alamogordo, Rosemary Gallegos and Debra Ortiz, both of Carrizozo; his parents, Cosme and Eufracia Gallegos of Carrizozo; a sister, Christine Zamora of Carrizozo and five grandchildren.

Rosary was recited at 5:45 p.m., Thursday from the Hamilton Chapel. Services were scheduled at 8:30 a.m. Friday from the Immaculate Conception Church with Father Tom Beggane officiating. Burial followed in the Catholic Cemetery.

Pallbearers included Lorenzo Mirabal Jr., Bobby Farmer, Ted Zamora, Joe Ortiz, George Corbett, Gilbert Zamora. Honorary pallbearers: Luciano Gallegos, C. A. Morales, Chevo Baca, Dan Ortiz, Y. H. McKinley, and Lorenzo Mirabal Sr.

ASK DR. DAN

I have bunions and was referred to a podiatrist by my doctor. What is a podiatrist? G. P.

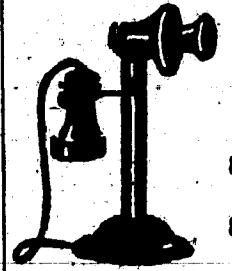

A podiatrist is a person trained in medical and surgical care of foot problems. They obtain Doctor of Podiatry degrees from accredited podiatry colleges. They can provide surgical correction of many common foot problems, such as bunions. They are licensed to prescribe all types of drugs. They also are able to provide foot wear inserts for correction of mechanical problems, such as fallen arches. Diabetics with corns, calluses and poor circulation and/or sensation in their feet should get routine care to prevent foot ulcers. I have athlete's foot. Is there a good non prescription treatment for this? A. F.

Athlete's foot is caused by infection in the skin from a fungus. Conditions which promote these infections include heat and moisture. Dry the feet completely and apply foot powder after bathing and in the morning. Change socks if they become damp. Use Desenex or Tinactin powders daily to prevent infections. Most infections respond well to these measures but reinfections are very common. Consult your doctor for resistant infections. Send questions to Dr. Dan Blodgett, Box 8, Carrizozo, NM 88301.
