

ON RUIDOSO AIRPORT SITUATION—

Scoping sessions set for 29 & 30

By RUTH HAMMOND
US Rep. Joe Skeen, R-NM, had a 'town meeting' in Carrizozo Aug. 15. Skeen said a town meeting is, "A vehicle of communication for this job." He went on to say, "Being a representative is representing the viewpoint of the people in a district on a subject." Skeen said in his opening statements that the economy is coming up strong, unemployment is dropping, interest rates are too high, and we still have problems. Skeen then conducted the meeting in an open format and asked for questions from the audience. When asked about the Ruidoso airport situation, Skeen answered that an Environmental Impact Statement was being prepared. Two scoping sessions will be held, one in Ruidoso on the 29th and another in Carrizozo on the 30th. People need to attend the scoping meetings and indicate support or disagreement. County Commissioner Kenneth Nosker asked who will pay for the airport access road and Skeen said to bring it up at the scoping session. Skeen supports relocating the Ruidoso airport at Site "B" on Fort Stanton mesa. He said the mesa is, "One of the safest areas around." When asked about natural gas de-control, Skeen said he didn't think we would get a de-regulation bill until after the election. He also said that Congress suspects strongly that interest rates are high because banks are afraid foreign loans may default.

Skeen also answered questions about PILT, Revenue Sharing, the federal land bank, and what it will take to lower interest rates. He said he welcomes mail and phone calls. There are district offices in Roswell and Las Cruces.

FAA to be in C'zozo

Residents of Carrizozo and Lincoln County will have the chance to identify issues which may have significant environmental impacts on the location of the proposed new airport to replace the Ruidoso Municipal Airport.

The Federal Aviation Administration will solicit input from local residents at a scoping meeting to be held in the City Hall Conference Room in Carrizozo on August 29. Two sessions will be held, with the first being from 1-3 p.m. and the second from 7 to 9 p.m.

The FAA intends to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement for the proposed construction of a new airport. The airport would be a transport category airport with ultimate development of a 12,900-foot primary runway with precision instrumentation and a crosswind runway.

Possible alternatives include alternative sites as identified in a site selection study and the alternative of taking no action with respect to a new airport, which could involve utilization of outlying existing airports.

The Bureau of Land Management will be a cooperating agency with FAA in preparation of this EIS.

Who will pay for airport access road improvements, who is primarily responsible for the costs of operating the new facility, and will taxes be raised in Lincoln County to help pay for it are questions that need to be asked by residents at the scoping meetings.

The FAA intends to consult and coordinate with Federal, State, and local agencies which have jurisdiction by law or have special expertise with respect to any environmental impacts associated with the proposed project.

The proposed site for the new airport is "Site B" on the Fort Stanton Mesa. The land is federally owned and is currently leased to New Mexico State University for long term agricultural experiments.

Persons should indicate support or disagreement with the proposed location at the scoping meetings. Another meeting in addition to the Carrizozo meeting will be held in Ruidoso on August 29, in the Village Council Chambers of the Municipal Building from 1 to 3 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

C'ZOZO TOWN COUNCIL—

Ordinance on planning and zoning considered

The Town of Carrizozo Board of Trustees met in regular session Aug. 13. Commercial rates for garbage pickup were raised, bid was accepted for garbage trucks, and the need for a town ordinance for subdivisions was discussed.

Commercial rates for garbage pickup have been set at 60 percent of municipal league recommendations. Even though the public hearing had been advertised, not one person was present at the meeting to voice an opinion of the proposed rates.

New rates will take effect Sept. 1 and are lower than neighboring communities. Residential pickup with once a week pickup will remain at $5. Commercial rates are based on the size of the dumpster and times a week pickup. The new rates are: two cubic yard dumpster with once a week pickup, $12.50, twice a week $20, and three times a week $32. A three cubic yard dumpster with once a week pickup, $17.40, twice a week, $27.85, and three times a week $44.55, a four cubic yard dumpster will be $22.50 for once a week pickup, $36 for twice a week, and $57.60 for three times a week. Businesses using the poly kart will pay $8.75 for once a week pickup and $14 for twice a week.

The one bid received for the 1970 GMC garbage truck and the 1970 Ford garbage truck was accepted from Waste Control. Trustees agreed to accept $1,000 a month for five months for the vehicles instead of the $4,500 cash price.

Trustees also agreed to lease the town building to Waste

Control for $1 a year. The lease is to coincide with limitations on time that are in the garbage contract. Waste Control plans to put in three offices, a bathroom and a shop and a chain link fence around the area where their equipment will be stored. They also plan to sandblast, paint, put in windows, and landscape. All improvements will remain the property of the town.

The public is invited to a preliminary planning and zoning meeting to be held Aug. 27 at 7 p.m. in the town hall conference room. According to city attorney Don Dutton, "If the city has no city ordinance on subdivisions, the subdivider must comply with state and county rules."

P and Z meetings, with input from the public, will help trustees look at qualifications and regulations that need to be included in a P and Z ordinance.

Project Administrator Albert Baca reported that the Community Development Block Grant has had changes made in the basic program. When the CDBG was granted, plans were to rehabilitate 20 houses at a cost of $10,000 each. Electrical costs are running about $1,000 per house and plumbing cost include complete bathrooms and pipes in most cases. The office in Santa Fe has agreed that $12,500 per house is more realistic. Instead of rehabilitating 20 houses, the CDBG will be for 17 houses. A total of $89,763.88 has been spent on the project.

The paving project on 3rd Street was discussed. While it

CARRIZOZO—

Chamber of Commerce

By RUTH HAMMOND

The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce met Aug. 14. Woody Schlegel reported that People's Market improves each year and was a success. There were 11 contestants in the fiddler's contest this year compared to nine entrants last year. In addition to the fiddler's contest, there was an egg toss, bingo, horseshoe tournament, bubble gum blowing contest, and a pie throw with proceeds from the pie throw going to Multiple Sclerosis. People's Market will be held again next year.

Dale Goad passed out copies of the Zozo Fly-In article that was in the August issue of 'Flying Review'. His report on the airport committee was that a hangar is almost finished, another lease has been signed and the hangar for it is being built in Texas and will be shipped here the second week in September.

School Superintendent Dr. Jim Miller announced that he and school principal Dennis Sidebottom and a school board member will go to Washington DC at the request of Secretary of Education Terrence Bell. The three representatives of Carrizozo School will receive a plaque and United States flag in recognition of Carrizozo High School being named among the 202 best in the nation. The ceremony is to take place Aug. 27.

Miller also said the FFA chapter is selling jackets in school colors for about $38. To place an order, contact Mike Gaines or any FFA member. The jackets can be delivered in three or four days.

New Horizons will have a pre-game barbecue September 7, from 4:30 to 7. Tickets may be purchased from New Horizons at $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12. Everyone is invited to attend to help kick off the football season.

Carrizozo Schools will again be selling season passes to all the home games. The $25 charge includes six football games, seven volleyball games and seven basketball games. The new scoreboard is up and ready.

Scott Shafer told about the County Fair in Capitan. He said about $30,000 is returned to the young people entering animals in the fair. Most of the younger ones use the money for their project for next year.

The C of C received $810.64 from New Mexico Economic Development and Tourism for reimbursement of about 35 percent of what was spent.

The Carrizozo brochures have been distributed to other C of C's. There are 300 left from the 2,600 that were printed. Woody Schlegel said, "We need to have more printed next year and get them out earlier."

The mill levy on the November ballot for tax money to help pay for the Ruidoso Hospital and the Carrizozo Health Center was discussed. The mill levy for gross receipts tax to go for street paving in Carrizozo was part of the discussion.

Donations for the Fly-In were more than expenses and $40 was given to the airport committee. This will go in with money being saved to purchase wind instruments for the airport.

The airport had a 70 year-old visitor the 12th. Jack Halbeisen stopped on his way to San Diego in his Ultralight airplane. Jack's flight is a first according most successful anti-crime programs since it began operation in Albuquerque in 1976.

NEWSWEEK stated the following regarding a Crime Stoppers television re-enactment:

"One Florida criminal became so enraptured by the re-enactment of his robbery that he boasted to a friend: 'It's really neat seeing yourself on TV like that.' His buddy subsequently turned him in. That's showbiz."

BACK FROM GERMANY

Leo and Flora Samora of Carrizozo and grandson, Jason Hein are back in New Mexico after spending over a month in Germany and vicinity. Jason, age 11, is the son of Esther and Frank Hein of Alamogordo. The Samoras and Jason left the states July 16 by way of Dallas, TX. Their flight was met at Frankfurt, Germany by relatives. During their stay they cruised the scenic Rhine River and visited a Frankfurt flea market.

They stayed in Gelnhausen, Germany with Milton and Beatrice May and family. Beatrice is the Samora's daughter. Her husband is an Army sergeant first class. Their children are Dana, age 9, and Nicholas, almost three years old. (Jason, grandson also of Agnes Hein of Carrizozo, was born in Germany. This was the Samora's second trip there.)

TOUR ITALY

The Samoras', Jason and the May family toured Italy together. They traveled with a tour group of 75, who left from Rome to picturesque Naples, a typical south Italian town founded 500 B.C. and situated on the Mediterranean. They shopped at a cameo factory. They saw Pompeii, the city of ruins and most impressive example of excavations from former centuries. From the explosion of the volcano Vesuv in 79 A.D. the city was completely covered by stones and ashes.

Among the tour stops was Sorrento, a famous seaside resort well-known for inlaid woodcraft, where the tourists went by bus to the harbor where they boarded a boat that took them to the island of Capri. There they shopped and explored the city.

CAMERAS READY
The Samoras' and the Mays took pictures of their travels which included stops at Venice, the Leaning Tower of Pisa and Vatican City where they saw the pope give the people the weekly Wednesday morning blessing and viewed the art of Michelangelo.

Vatican City, the administrative and spiritual center of the Roman Catholic Church, lies in northwestern Rome, capital of Italy and one of the world's great historic cities.

Saint Peter's Church in Vatican City is the world's largest Christian church. It is an outstanding example of Renaissance architecture. Michelangelo helped design the church during the 1500s.

After sampling their full of Italian foods, the Samoras' and the Mays' were eager to head back to the Mays' place in Gelnhausen where they spent lots of time preparing good ol' home cooking - tamales, chile rellenos, etc...

VISITS PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Whitlock of Hatch spent several days visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Obie Simmons of Carrizozo. Mrs. Whitlock, former Shirley Simmons, celebrated her 21st birthday in Carrizozo with her parents before returning home on Tuesday afternoon.

While in this area the Whitlocks stopped at Bonito Lake where they visited with camping relatives from Artesia. They were also in Corona Saturday, the day of the festival. In Corona they visited with relatives who were there for the weekend, among them Shirley's grandmother, Lucille Porter, former Corona resident now living in Artesia.

Grizzlies prepare for upcoming season

This year's Grizzly squad will be composed of 35 high school boys, including 9 freshman, (there are only 46 boys in the entire high school).

Head coach Dennis Sidebottom, in his second year at the helm, will be assisted by Willie Gallegos - who will be in charge of the offensive tackles and the defensive down-linemen; Billy Bob Shafer will handle the line-backers on defense and the centers and guards on offense. Robbie Hollis has the tight-ends and wide-receivers on offense and the deep-backs on defense. Pat Ventura will coach the junior high team and assist with the varsity. Sidebottom will work with the running-backs and the defensive ends.

Cloudcroft, Mountainair, Reserve, Capitan and Carrizozo will make up one district and Sidebottom feels that, "Reserve will probably be the team to beat."

In the other district Ft. Sumner, Melrose and Hagerman will try to keep up with Tatum and Texico, the favorites.

Carrizozo's first action will be at Melrose for a "scrimmage" on Sat., Sept. 1, starting time has been changed to 7:00 p.m. instead School officials to D.C.

Board President Wally Ferguson, Superintendent Dr. Jim Miller, and High School Principal Dennis Sidebottom will be attending a presentation ceremony in Washington, DC on August 27 to receive an award on behalf of Carrizozo High School, designated recently as one of the outstanding secondary schools in the United States.

Carrizozo High School was listed as being one of the best 202 schools in the nation. A plaque and a United States Flag will be presented to the representatives from Carrizozo High School.

THE 1984 EDITION of the Carrizozo Grizzly football team goes through the rigors of the last of the two-a-day practice sessions under the watchful eye of the coaching staff.

Trustees Hemphill and O'Brien and Mayor Harold Garcia plan to meet with town employees to discuss job descriptions and personnel policy.

City policeman Bill Hasenbuhler asked for a waiver to rebuild the two police cars and update the equipment instead of buying one new police car. The budget needs to be adjusted to include the purchase of light bars and radios instead of buying a patrol car. When Hasenbuhler explained that the radios were not in two-way communications with the sheriff's department, trustees agreed that adequate equipment was a priority.

Last week we had sunshine for a few days and Sunday afternoon a rain storm sent us two tenths of an inch of rain. Nights are cool. Days humid. Moisture great. Grasshoppers by the millions.

The Smokey Bear Commemorative Stamp day was a huge success and it is still buzzing. Thanks to the fireman (Michael Marchese of Williamsport, PA) for his 14 years of work on that. We did appreciate his visit and all of the data he gave us. The people of Capitan really do appreciate the efforts of everyone and with thanks that will remain for years to come.

August 13 the Smokey Bear Museum did have 604 registered visitors. August 14-19 there were 1,844 for a total of 2,548 registered visitors from Aug. 13-19. There was one Bus tour from Albuquerque with a tour of 36.

School days for this year in Capitan started Monday, Aug. 20. It is good to see the children and the buses and the activity.

Ron Smith Real Estate on East First Street has provided the Capitan Chamber of Commerce with an office of their own in his building. That is great. Every one must remember that Chamber of Commerce is very important to a community. If you go forward there are many questions from everywhere that need answering. The Chamber does that with many other important duties.

The Capitan Fireman's annual picnic was held in the Baca Campground last Sunday with a good attendance, a day of sunshine and a good time for all. It was over just as the evening rain arrived.

The Lincoln County Fair was excellent and enjoyed by a good attendance. All of the exhibits were great. All of the livestock beautiful and clean. Thanks to all.

A Dally Team Roping was held at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds on Sunday afternoon. Approximately 25 people showed up and there was a lot of roping going on after it finally quit raining. Local ropers came out as top money winners, competing against cowboys from Claunch, Carrizozo, etc.

The quality of livestock at the Lincoln County Fair was great this year. There was a bigger turnout of entries than ever before, with youngsters competing from all over Lincoln County. A lot of spectators were milling around, with several commenting about not having a rodeo this year. Maybe next. Congratulations to all who worked hard to raise an animal, or animals, to show. Even those who did not win deserve a pat on the back for working so hard.

I join Beverly Payne in wishing her sister Sherry LaMay a very happy birthday August 22 and many more.

Mrs. Jake McCarty of

Animas while enroute from Tucumcari stopped and visited her daughter Mrs. Jimmy Wright and family last weekend.

Louise Baggett of Houston, TX spent one week with her brother Mr. Leonard Crain and family.

Tommie, Butch and Jim Bob Allen attended the rodeo in Reserve, Saturday, August 18.

Bessie Jones enjoyed a visit from her daughter Christine Honeycutt and three sons and her granddaughter Shirley Walker and baby Christi from Wichita Falls, TX. Betty Joiner enjoyed her sister too and they visited with the Joiners and other friends.

Jerry Story accompanied by his son Glynn have visited relatives in Arkansas for two weeks returned home today Monday the 20th.

Barbara Sanchez has enjoyed two weeks vacation from her beauty shop with her family, preparing for school and taking care of other duties as well as some travel, returned to her duties Wednesday.

The rains have made our area so green and beautiful. So refreshing. We do have much to be grateful for and always remember that. Ruidoso has received so much damage from the floods. It is hard to realize unless you see it. Alto Lake is full and the duck pond too. It is great to see the duck and geese enjoying those waters as we travel by.

There was a minor car accident at the intersection last Saturday but no one was hurt. Just fender bending a little.

Intra-squad scrimmage Saturday

Scheduled for the Capitan Schools, Saturday, Aug. 25, is a football intra-squad scrimmage at 9 a.m. on Tiger Field. Also scheduled for Saturday morning is a volleyball jamboree.

There will be a get together—get acquainted type potluck supper Saturday evening at 6 p.m. on Tiger Field. Capitan School patrons come out and bring your own covered dish. Eating utensils will be provided.

The exact enrollment had not been determined as of Tuesday morning, but it will be close to the projected figure of 577.

"The further an individual is from the poorhouse, the more expert one becomes on the ghetto."

IF WE had a proper law holding politicians responsible for their lying demagoguery, New York Gov. Mario Cuomo would be horsewhipped in the public square for his "widely acclaimed" speech to the Democratic National Convention. In his speech Cuomo alluded to America as being divided into two separate nations, "into the lucky and the left out; into the royalty and the rabble." He depicted this country as a nation with the lucky and the rich at the top of society and a vast mass of hungry, despairing, dispossessed people at the base. He wrung tears and cheers from delegates with graphic descriptions of a nation of homeless people sleeping on iron grates in city streets.

SHORTLY after this unsupported slander, the US Census Bureau published a report showing that only 15 percent of Americans are below the poverty line. ($10,178 annual income for a family of four) This means that 85 percent of all Americans are employed, self-reliant and have hope for the future.

THIS reminds me of the story about a frontier editor who published a story declaring that "half the members of the city council are crooks." Forced to retract the statement, he wrote that "half the members of the city council are not crooks."

OF COURSE there are homeless people in the cities, and this nation has a vast and expensive array of assistance programs for them. Their plight, however, has nothing to do with government economic policies since many of them are alcoholics or have been prematurely released from mental institutions—mainly in New York where Gov. Cuomo could have done something about it.

OUR SYSTEM isn't perfect, but is the envy of the world because in this country 85 percent of the population is employed, doing well, and enjoying a decent standard of living. Were it not so, why would three-fourths of the world's population be breaking their backs to get into this country? If they believed Cuomo's outrageous comments they would avoid this like the plague.

CUOMO is looking at America in 1984 but sees nothing but America as it was in 1932, and longs for a return of the New Deal and its giveaway programs that have plunged this nation into debt while increasing the number of poor who have become accustomed to handouts instead of self-reliance.

LAST WEEK Cong. Robert Matsui (D-CA) kicked off the seasonal humbuggery about the poor after the Census Bureau announced that the poor paid $3 billion in federal and state income, payroll and property taxes in 1982. Matsui cried that this is 8 percent of all taxes collected for that year. "I think there's an insensitivity to the needs of the poor. The president is just not telling the truth when he says his policies haven't hurt the poor," he wailed.

LET US see how the poor have been hurt, and what they have received for their piddling investment of $3 billion. According to the US Department of Health & Human Services (1979) the social programs of the federal government consumed 55 percent of the federal budget and 60.4 percent of the combined budgets of all the 50 states—for a grand total of $428.3 billion. For that year it cost $1911.92 for every man, woman and child in the nation to care for the poor, said to number about 35 million.

IF GOVERNMENT figures are correct, the 15 percent of Americans who are classified as poor are the principal recipients of 57.7 percent of the federal and states budgets, and it cost them only 8 percent in 1982. In dollars, they paid in $3 billion and took out $428.3 billion. A very neat profit.

THAT isn't all. I have not included in this bonanza for the poor the $60.3 billions donated to more than 300,000 charitable organizations by generous Americans in 1982, an increase of 11.7 percent over 1981 figures. Much of this money was used for social services—food, day care, and assorted types of aid for the less fortunate.

IT IS axiomatic that during a political campaign candidates tug at the udders of human compassion. The highest priority is given to trotting out the poor and wretched. From now until November Walter and Geraldine will be seen on television exploring slums, commiserating with the unfortunate, sympathizing with the unemployed (if they can find any), consoling a pregnant teenager without funds for an abortion, and listening attentively to why some bum needs (but can't afford) a second car to search for work. The act the poor put on every four years rivals the Olympics. But they've had 50 years to rehearse!

GENERALLY, poverty is linked to unemployment. If so, Mondale may be in trouble. When Jimmy Carter was president unemployment averaged 7.4 percent. In the Reagan Administration, the rate went to 9.5 percent in mid-1982 and reached a peak of 10.8 in December 1982. Then something happened, as Reagan said it would. By June 1984 the rate stood at 7.1 percent. In recent years economists have generally agreed that 6 percent of the work force is between jobs at any given time, and cannot be considered as being unemployed. If that 6 percent is deducted from the 7.1 percent, it shows the true unemployment rate at just over 1 percent.

IF MR. Mondale can find enough poor-unemployed to make a case on television, it would be instructive to ask each of them: (1) How long have you been unemployed? (2) Why are you unemployed? and (3) What are you doing about it?

UNTIL you get the right answers to those three questions, don't give up that $1911.92 without a fight!

Letters TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR: Gov. Anaya is very quiet about his grandiose plans for a statewide high-speed rail line. Could it be the recent frequent accidents of Amtrak have derailed the Governor's plans?

If the Governor is looking for an alternate he can go to Safford, AZ, or call the Safford airport of the Huachuca Airlines office in Safford 458-5923.

Huachuca airlines is flying passengers from Safford to Phoenix or Tucson. Possibly the Governor could interest them or some other line in providing service out of Las Cruces, NM to Albuquerque, Santa Fe, El Paso, etc.

Governor you won't have to worry about Amtrak type of derailments with an airline. Of course, a short trip to Safford might be quite a come-down for someone used to overseas trips.

GOV. Cuomo and landlords Ferraro-Zaccaro

A shining city is perhaps all the President sees from the portico of the White House and the veranda of his ranch, where everyone seems to be doing pretty well... There is despair, Mr. President, in faces you never see, in the places you never visit in your shining city. In fact, Mr. President, this nation is more a "Tale of Two Cities" than "a shining city on a hill." Maybe if you visited more places, Mr. President, you'd understand."

—Governor Mario Cuomo
Keynote Speech,
Democratic National Convention

For his fellow Democrats in San Francisco assembled, this stemwinding, spellbinding speech or Marjo Cuomo's drove them wild in anticipation of nominating him for President in 1988.

This melodramatic masterpiece also suggested that Cuomo's long distance perception of alleged Presidential moral myopia in Washington and Santa Barbara means that there is in Albany a new Savonarola. Unfortunately for this vision of Terribly Righteous Indignation, Crusader Cuomo comes from Queens, New York, where there is a democratic Party queen in very big trouble.

One of her most serious problems, as secretary-treasurer of the P. Zaccaro real estate firm of her husband John, is the more than fifty violations of the building code. For Geraldine Ferraro-Zaccaro is the nominee for Vice President of the United States. She was nominated by a political party that advertises itself as the "Party of Compassion" — while its leaders malign its Republican rivals as uncaring about the poor.

How is it that the Governor of New York, who has such a long distance perception of the President in Washington and Santa Barbara, has overlooked the problem of such prominent Democratic slumlords in his very own hometown of Queens, in his State of New York?

Since violations of building codes are much more the concern of New York's municipal and state governments (both Democratic), how is it that Savonarola Cuomo — has overlooked the 51 violations of the Ferraro-Zaccaro landlords?

These violations, as discovered by the local newspapers (rather than any of the leaders of the Party of Compassion), include Ferraro-Zaccaro tenants who have had their heat turned off from 10:30 PM to 6:00 AM in the middle of New York's bitter winter — in violation of the law requiring a minimum of 58 degrees overnight.

The violations include crumbling ceilings and walls, caused by leaks and plumbing which remained unrepaired despite repeated calls to landlord Ferraro-Zaccaro.

This explosive contrast to all that San Francisco rhetoric about true concern for the poor had hardly been exposed before yet another Ferraro-Zaccaro scandal emerged concerning the Queens queen whose property management was overlooked by her neighbor, the Governor.

For the New York Tribune, in a copyright story, exposed the fact that two of Ferraro-Zaccaro's tenants at 200 LaFayette Square are Bo-Na-Te and its affiliate, Star Distributors.

A New York State investigating commission has described, Bo-Na-Te as "a local distributor of sex-oriented books and magazines" which is affiliated with Star Distributors. Star's vice president, Roberto DiBernardo, was identified in 1983 as a "Caporegime," or lieutenant, in the Simon DeCavalcante Mafia family. What has landlord Ferraro-

Zaccaro to say about this renting of its property to Cosa Nostra porn merchants? (Especially in the light of all that San Francisco rhetoric about "family values" Ferraro press aide Scott Widmeyer says that Ferraro "had no idea who rented the space.")

A 1981 New York City Police Department report on organized crime called Star "the main distributor of pornography... on the national level."

"Mr. Zaccaro has no knowledge of the exact use of the two floors rented in the building," according to the statement of the Ferraro-Zaccaro firm which "manages" rental properties. Some management! Secretary-treasurer of this firm of allegedly ignorant Mafiapornography hosts — who have so repeatedly violated the building code, is the same Democratic nominee for Vice President who contends that Ronald Reagan is not a good Christian.

Maybe if you visited more place — in Queens and Manhattan — Governor Cuomo, you'd understand.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL BY Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—It seems like a lot of trouble just to take care of Denise Fort.

She's the lady Toney Anaya named to head the Department of Finance and Administration, the sort of superagency which rides herd on all the others in state government.

She turned out to be extremely intelligent very willing—and almost certainly in over her head.

After going through three legislative sessions with her in that job, Toney evidently decided that she lacked something. It would appear that the advice he got from her about legislative matters turned out to be far from helpful; she and Harvey Fruman are credited by those in the Governor's inner circle with much of the disaster visited on Anaya by lawmakers during the last two years.

But she couldn't simply be fired.

DEBTS OWED: Anaya strongly believes he owes much of the good showing he made at the polls in November of 1982 (almost the last good showing he has had) to support from labor unions and environmentalists.

Ms. Fort is a recognized leader in the latter category. Much of her legal career has been spent as a consumer advocate and environmentalist attorney.

So when it came time to contemplate a change, she had a lot going for her when she asked to return to that kind of work in some capacity.

In fact, she made a wild and sweeping suggestion.

What Fort really wants to see is a consolidation of every regulatory body which in any way has charge of the natural environment into a single location. That would include the State Engineer's office, for instance, which concerns itself with water; the Energy and Minerals Department, for obvious reasons; the Game and Fish Department, which cares about life on the land, and many more.

It would also generate a department with unimaginable power—far more than most of us think is good for any one Cabinet post to wield.

In fact, in strict logic, if the Fort plan were to be adopted, we could also combine all other Cabinet positions into a single one having to do with human resources.

Natural resources and human resources—that's about all we've got.

dubious legality) all the environmental aspects covered by the Department of Health and Environment and put her in charge of them.

She's what may be call an almost Cabinet secretary.

Naturally enough, her salary will remain at that more-than-$1000-a-week level which all Secretaries attain.

Her naming to that post will give the employees in the environmental field in state government the fourth boss they have had in the 20 months the Anaya people have been running things.

And as if that lack of continuity were not enough, to achieve this aim Anaya moved Dan Lopez to Fort's old job at DFA. That means the people at Employment Security, where Dan ran things, also now get another new boss. She's Imogene Lindsey, a professional in the field who could easily hold the job on a permanent basis. Anaya won't let that happen. He wants another change in that agency, this time to a Secretary who, according to his prescription, should be black.

No wonder state employees tend to grow punch-drunk.

ASK DR. DAN

I am 68 years old and have had high blood pressure for many years. I did not ever feel bad from this so I often did not take the medication my doctor prescribed. Recently I have developed swelling of both legs and I seem to be tired all the time. I also wake up at night-time with a smothering sensation and must sleep on 3 pillows. What could be the problem? - N.C.

You are describing the symptoms of heart failure. The heart is simply a muscular pump designed to supply blood to the body according to the demand. When the heart fails, it can no longer pump enough blood. The pressure of the blood in the veins as it returns towards the heart will increase until it causes fluids to leak out of the small capillaries. This fluid will collect in the tissues of the leg (and cause swelling) and in the lung tissue (and cause shortness of breath and "smothering" at night).

Exercise causes an increase demand for blood flow to the muscles. If the heart cannot respond to this demand, fatigue and weakness will result. There are several causes of heart failure. Hardening of the arteries that supply the heart muscle and a reduction of blood supply to the heart muscle itself is a leading cause. Heart attacks, which result in death of the affected heart muscle, also cause heart failure.

If the heart muscle is overloaded and has to pump too hard, this will cause failure.

Rheumatic fever will damage the heart valves and cause narrowing of the valve opening. This narrowing leads to heart failure. Uncontrolled high blood pressure makes the heart work too hard and leads to failure. Alcohol and other toxins can damage the heart muscle and cause failure also.

Treatment of heart failure is difficult and often requires several medications. Digitalis preparations help the heart muscle pump harder. Water pills (diuretics) help the kidneys get rid of the excess fluid. Medication to control blood pressure is very important. All contributing factors should be considered and changed, if possible. These would include stopping smoking, losing excess weight, decreasing salt intake, and eating less fat and cholesterol.

Although symptoms can be controlled, the underlying problem remains. Heart failure tends to progress with time so regular medical check-ups are needed to monitor the disease. You need to see your doctor right away for treatment.

Send questions to Dr. Dan, Box 8, Carrizozo, NM 88301.

TORTS
by Sandra A. Grisham

A baseball comes flying through your window. Your sixteen-year-old borrows the car to pick up the replacement pane and, not seeing a stop sign, runs into your neighbor. Your neighbor, infuriated, threatens to beat your son. Upon hearing how frightened your son was, you go over to confront your neighbor. A few words are exchanged, and your neighbor ends up punching you in the face, giving you a black eye. Adding insult to injury, your neighbor then tells the couple across the street that it was your spouse that gave you the black eye.

All of these different occurrences have one thing in common: they are all "torts". Most civil cases involve one of two categories: contracts or torts. A contract is easy to define; it is simply a promise that the law will enforce. A tort is not so simple. Basically, a tort is a civil wrong which does not involve a contract, and for which the wronged party may recover damages in court. There are personal torts and torts to property, and torts can be intentional or negligent.

The ball that came flying through your window was a "negligent" tort, meaning that no matter how rotten your neighbor might be, his daughter accidentally hit the ball through the window. But since the accident was caused by your neighbor's daughter, she is responsible for paying to have it fixed.

Your son also committed a negligent tort, for which he is responsible. Because your son was on a family errand, the doctrine known as "family purpose" applies, and you are also responsible for the damages done to the neighbor's car. Since only the car was damaged, it was a tort against property.

Your neighbor, however, committed a personal tort called "assault" when he threatened your son with severe bodily harm, assuming your son was in actual fear. He then committed the tort of "battery" by hitting you. Both of these torts are personal torts, and are also intentional torts.

Because the torts are intentional, you could sue your neighbor for not only the actual damages such as the cost of your visit to the doctor and the trip to the psychiatrist your frightened son had to make, but also for "punitive damages". The purpose of the punitive damages would be not to compensate you but to punish your neighbor for his intentional misdeeds.

Finally, your spouse has a cause of action against your neighbor for the tort of "slander"—by not only spreading false information about, but also accusing your spouse of a crime (battery being a crime as well as a tort); your neighbor committed slander "per se", and is liable for actual and punitive damages. If he had written a letter instead of just telling the neighbors a lie, he could have been sued for "libel".

Of course, if there were a lawsuit filed for every tort committed, three out of four people would have to be attorneys (what a thought!). So by all means consult your lawyer if you feel you have been seriously wronged, but remember that it is rarely worth spending five dollars to recover four... and that the emotional cost of a lawsuit can be even higher than the economic cost.

Solo flight at age 70

by Ruth Hammond

Jack Halbelsen made an appearance in Carrizozo on July 12 in his Kawasaki powered Ultralight airplane. Jack is on his way to San Diego.

Calling his flight "A Septuagenarian Odyssey" from coast to coast, Jack is in an Ultralight Pioneer Flightstar. He was 70 the 16th and is making the flight to prove that you don't have to sit when you are 70.

The National Aeronautic Association in Washington has said that this is the first time the flight has been made with no ground support.

The two cycle 40 horsepower converted snowmobile engine uses regular gas and will fly safely for one hour and 40 minutes before running out of gas. New Mexico State Policeman H. Flores took a five gallon can of gas and met Halbelsen in Bingham so the trip could be made on into Socorro.

The Ultralight Pioneer Flightstar is nylon over an aluminum frame, has a wing span of 30 feet, and will take off and land in wind gusts up to 35 miles per hour. It has full three axis control, which means it has an elevator, aileron, and rudder just like conventional aircraft.

The Ultralight weighs 254 pounds. Gross weight when flying is 500 pounds. Spare parts and a survival kit are carried in the wings. The fuel tank will hold only five gallons which is why gas needs to be added every 50 miles or so.

Halbelsen said, "Without the cooperation and support of the State Police, I would not make it to Socorro."

Flying the Ultralight does not require a pilot's license, though the manufacturer, Pioneer International Aircraft Inc., does recommend at least five hours flight time to familiarize with principles of flight. Jack is a licensed pilot and made a flight to Alaska 50 years ago. He also ferried a C2 Aronca from Detroit to Los Angeles years ago.

Jack has been planning this trip for two and a half years. He started surveying the entire strip in November 1983. His 'wonderful wife Mary' is waiting patiently at home. They have been married 48 years in January. None of their three children are pilots but Jack is certain one of his three grandchildren will be a pilot.

Jack left Ellington, Conn. on July 25. He will visit 189 airports in addition to stops in between for fuel. He had planned to be in San Diego the 10th but had to stay five days in Roswell because of the rain. He plans to stop in Carrizozo on his way back to Kittyhawk, NC and from there on to Dayton, OH.

Jack flew 45 different makes before choosing the Flightstar. He has communications through headphones and microphone in his helmet. A ballistic parachute system is part of the aircraft, permanently attached so in case the engine fails, the plane and pilot can land safely.

Jack believes in living. He owns two airplanes, a Citabria and a Bonanza. He took his first parachute jump at age 60 and began hang gliding at age 63. His ultimate goal is to go out in space.
