Jicarilla cabin burns

A 97 year old cabin, located in Ancho Gulch of the Jicarillas, burned sometime between Dec. 11 and Dec. 18.

Owned by C. W. Haley since 1947, the cabin had been known as the old Andrew McBrayer cabin. Mr. McBrayer's father had built the cabin in 1887 when he was 20 years old.

Ray L. Gwaltney, a prospector doing assessment work, had been living in Haley's cabin. Gwaltney was in Carrizozo when it started snowing and was unable to get back to the cabin during the snowstorm.

Lost in the fire were clothes, personal belongings, pictures, two motorcycles, and mining equipment. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Watch-night program

A Watchnight program will be held at the First Baptist Church Carrizozo Fellowship Hall on December 31, 1984 from 9:00 p.m. to just after midnight. There will be two movies shown. "More than a Champion" is a movie about a young boy who follows his uncle Wilbur on a rodeo circuit and finds out that it takes more than athletic ability to be a real champion.

The other movie "Climb A Tall Mountain" is filmed in the Swiss Alps and tells the story of God's love and forgiveness through the lives of Heidi, Peter, Hans, and a very wise grandfather.

These are movies for the whole family. Refreshments will be provided between movies.

CONGRESSMAN—

Joe Skeen named to Appropriations panel

WASHINGTON, DC — Congressman Joe Skeen, R-NM, today was named to the powerful House Committee on Appropriations.

Although the move to the Appropriations panel means that Skeen must relinquish his seat on the Agriculture and Science and Technology Committees, he emphasized that the new assignment will increase rather than diminish his influence in these areas.

"The Appropriations Committee deals with every aspect of government operation," the third-term Republican said. "I will certainly be able to continue to watch over the programs which are important to New Mexico. I would think that having a major role in the appropriations process will mean I will have even greater influence than I have had as a member of the other two committees."

Skeen said the new assignment was made by the House Republican Committee on Committees and will be made officially following the convening of the 99th Congress in January. He will also learn later which subcommittees he will be assigned to.

The Appropriations Committee and the Committee on Ways and Means are considered the two most powerful panels in the House of Representatives. It is unusual for a member of Congress to be named to either at the beginning of his or her third term.

IN RUIDOSO—

Flood waters subsiding as clean-up begins

By RUTH HAMMOND
Flood waters in the Ruidoso area have now subsided and the clean-up begins. The second serious flood in five months was brought on by steady rains that fell on several inches of snow that covered the hillsides.

The continuous rain mixing with the melting snow was aided by warm temperatures and brought about a state of emergency for the Village of Ruidoso. Flooded properties, bank erosion, washed out roads, and a broken sewer main are just some of the problems the Village faces as damage estimates are being made.

The Ruidoso Village Council met twice Thursday before deciding to declare a State of Emergency in order to qualify for flood related funding.

A broken sewer main in the Ruidoso Downs area resulted in raw sewage being dumped into the Rio Ruidoso. The sewage is diluted but officials are advising water users below the break to boil their drinking water. It is possible for toxic water to seep into individual wells.

Paradise Canyon Bridge was one of the casualties. Other flooded areas included Reese Drive behind the old high school, the lower portion of Gavilan Canyon Road, the lower end of Flume Canyon Drive, and the Carrizo Canyon area.

County road crews have been working extra hours repairing county roads.

County Manager Suzanne Cox reported severe wash-outs of roads in the Ruidoso area. She told the News, "Many roads only have one lane traffic."

It appears that road and bridge damage will be less than the area suffered in the flood last August.

Lincoln County Commissioners will meet Wednesday, Jan. 2 at 1 p.m. after the swearing in ceremony at 11 a.m.

Commissioners will elect a chairman, set meeting dates for the year, designate the holiday calendar, and make board appointments.

The swearing in ceremony held at 11 a.m. in District Court is for all elected Lincoln County officials. Judge Robert M. Doughty will preside.

A reception will follow the ceremony.

Christmas parties for the clients at New Horizons last week were held by the La Junta Extension Club and the Valley of Fires Lioness Club of Carrizozo. Members of both clubs made or brought gifts for the clients, provided homemade goodies and entertainment.

The La Junta Extension Club has been giving parties for the clients for the past five years. The Lioness Club has also given parties, provided entertainment and made donations since the club was formed.

Suspect refuses polygraph . . .

The Lincoln County Sheriff's department has a suspect in the McKnight murder cases.

Chief Deputy Charlie Cox told the NEWS on Wednesday, that the department had narrowed it "Down to one suspect." Cox went on to say the suspect had earlier agreed to a polygraph but, "Through his attorney has refused the polygraph."

A full fledged investigation has been conducted by the sheriff's department since the brutal slayings of Thomas P. "Cotton" McKnight and his wife Judy. The bodies had been found in the McKnight home on Nov. 15.

McKnight, 32, had been Lincoln County Commissioner Chairman from 1978 to 1982.

MERRY MAKERS

The many parties held locally this week included the one at the Zia Senior Citizen's Center. Twenty-one hostesses provided and served holiday goodies to an appreciative group at the center. The December 17 gathering included the singing of carols and decorating a tree.

Brownie Troop 12 were the merry makers and the center seniors their guests on Monday afternoon. Troop members arrived at the center with hand-made tree decorations which they prepared during their December meeting. The decorations included ojos de Dios, paper chains, bells and snowflakes.

Brownies who participated in the Christmas troop event were: Lori Gibson, Michelle Hausenbuhler, Heather Miller, Karen Wells, Florence Burt, Sarah Sidebottom, Natalie Chavez, Brea Pafford, Danielle DeBerge, Sarah Funk, Jamie Torrison, Jasmine Chavez, Lisa Aragon, Christi Brown, Debbie Bond, Jenny Northrup, Lynette Hernandez, Becky Means, Kimberly Holmgren, Danielle Giordano, and Amy Zamora. Miss anyone? CLUB PARTY

Kelly Vigil, 1984 Sun Duchess was presented to members, guests and supporters at an afternoon Christmas Party last Sunday. Kelly, a NMSU student, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Vigil. Kelly gave a preview of her upcoming Sun Carnival activities beginning December 27 which include luncheons at the El Paso Country Club and the Marriott Hotel.

Kelly will attend the Classic Basketball Game and a full-military ball at Fort Bliss Officers Club. A 'chile party' is also on the agenda. The final event is the December 30 coronation and ball at El Paso Civic Center.

On hand at the Woman's Club party were representatives of clubs and businesses who awarded her checks to help her represent the community in her travels. Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, United New Mexico Bank and the Knights of Columbus were among the groups who made contributions to Kelly and wish her good luck.

Out-of-town guests at the club party included her uncle, aunt and cousins from El Paso, John and Irene, daughter Yvonne and sons, John and Lloyd.

Also there from out-of-town were Stacy Stephenson, a student at NMSU; Christetta Chavez, a student at ENMU and Annette Chavez, a former Sun Duchess. CYC CAROLING

Sunday evening members of the Catholic Youth Council (CYC) were accompanied on a round of caroling by Fr. Sam Garcia of Picacho, NM (not in the Hondo Valley). Fr. Garcia, who works with San Jose parish in Picacho, located near Las Cruces, had been helping in Ruidoso this week.

Fr. Garcia added a special touch to the caroling with his music machine - a portable organ. The CYC carolers made stops at Casa Manana and New Horizons.

Following the caroling the CYC members gathered at Fr. Dave's house for hot chocolate. Council officers are Gabriel Chavez, president; Frankie Gallegos, vice-president and Liz Beltran, secretary-treasurer. TOUR BREAK

1984 Carrizozo High School graduate, John Roueche, was joined by friends and relatives at a holiday party in his honor. The gathering at the home of his parents, Hal and Pagan Roueche, was held Saturday.

John is a cast member of 'Up With People' and is on a two week vacation. He departs for Minneapolis January 3 and will be traveling and performing in the eastern part of the US. The eastern tour includes a stop in Washington, DC, where Cast "A" (John's group) performs in Constitution Hall with the National Symphony Orchestra.

After March 15, John and fellow cast members are scheduled to perform in six countries - Switzerland, Belgium; Holland, Germany, France, and Italy, where they will meet the Pope.

CHRISTMAS GIVING

A holiday project of CCD leaders Teresita Chavez, Sandra Morales, Elizabeth Padilla and Anne Collins was helping CCD students learn the true meaning of Christmas: giving, rather than receiving.

The four women assisted the group in decorating coffee cans and filling them with homemade cookies and store bought candies. They were presented to senior citizens at Zia Center last Thursday. The seniors enjoyed the holiday treat and appreciated the efforts of the CCD students.

Catholic Christian Doctrine youth members who participated were Suzanne Saucedo, Rachel Montreal, John Ortiz, Michael Chavez, Rodney Serna, Ron G. Serna, Fred Vega Jr., Jessie Gallegos, Ruben Gallegos, Abe, Sabrina and Valerie Padilla, Mark Guevara, Dennis Vega, Sharon Portio, Sheena Zamora, Tracey Ortiz, and Danny Morales. Miss anyone?

LOCK-IN

Friday, December 21, the Methodist Youth participated in a 'lock-in'. What is a lock-in? Next week I will talk to a participant to ask about the event and see if anyone sneaked 40 winks.

TEEN-AGERS PRAYER

God in heaven, I am young and don't understand what it is like to be a parent, but it must be very hard because so many people are failing at it these days.

I pray for Mom and Dad, God, that you will help them to be good parents - strong in the ways you want them to be, so I can look up to them with admiration and feel confident that their instruction is right.

Help me, dear Lord, to understand my parents. Remind me that when I don't get my way it is because they love me and not because they want to be mean or deprive me of a good time.

Help me, God, when I become stubborn and refuse to listen, to accept the fact that they have wisdom and experience because they were once teenagers, but I have never been a parent.

Put in my heart the respect and consideration they deserve for their years of hard work and sacrifice. They raised me as best they could. Let me not repay them with grief or shame. Rather help me to give them obedience, respect, forgiveness and love. Most of all, God, while I still have my parents here on earth, help me to appreciate them and let them know that I do.

STUDENT INDUCTED

Margie Pino Martinez, along with eight other students, was inducted into the Phi Eta Sigma National Honor Society at New Mexico Highlands University in Las Vegas, New Mexico on December 2, 1984. A student must maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average to achieve this honor. Margie, daughter of Pres and Esther Pino, is majoring in Psychology and is currently a sophomore.

JULIA HOLLIS, school librarian, shows the award the school library received for 'Rural School Community Library Service'. The first place award, a Frey Science Encyclopedia, and $250 cash were presented in Albuquerque on Dec. 7. Rob Hollis, Dennis Sidebottom, and Lynn Miller attended the ceremony with Mrs. Hollis.

Canyon Cowbelles fete husbands

The members of Canyon Cowbelles, their husbands and guests enjoyed a Progressive dinner party on the night of Dec. 12. The party started at the home of Mary Osmer, where dips, trays of assorted hor d'oeuvres, apple cider and punch were served. Co-hostesses were Phyllis Schlegel, Patsy Sanchez and Debbie King.

The main course was served in the home of Lori Slocum, with Pat Hume and Mattie Brieger co-hosting. The menu was tomato aspic salad, roast beef, potatoes au gratin, French beans with almonds, hot rolls and tea.

The dessert and coffee was served in the home of Bunty Richardson, with Veda Lou Stephenson, Irene Barham and Betty Howell co-hostesses. The long table with laden with an assortment of cakes, cup cakes and candies. The eye catcher was a divinity candy tree decorated with cherries.

Jane Shafer initiated the 1985 Canyon Cowbelle officers with a clever theme—the Canyon Cattle Company, near Carrizozo, in the county of Lincoln, hired a new "Foreman" (President) Annie Withers, "Top Wranglers" (Vice president) Mary Osmer, "Trail Boss" (Second vice president) Ruth Wilson, "Tally Bookkeeper" (secretary) Anne Ferguson, and "Chuck Wagon Cook" (treasurer) Margaret Stearns, and with these new hands to run the ranch, it should prosper and run smoothly throughout the year 1985.

The Canyon Cowbelles, for the second Christmas, sent sweaters to each girl at Girl's Ranch. The sweaters were purchased with the size and color preference for each individual girl, wrapped, and were taken to the ranch, so the girls would have a nice Christmas. The Girls Ranch is one of the projects supported by Canyon Cowbelles.

The Canyon Cowbelles have had a rich and productive year, and are looking forward to 1985 and hope that each of you are too.

By MARGARET RENCH

My prayers and wishes are that everyone will have good health, prosperity and happiness in the New Year. May God bless everyone.

Since the snow disappeared and we had light rain showers, the sun gave its warmth and cheer with some high clouds and ice at night. Some days gave us terrific winds which makes us appreciate the better days.

I have appreciated the groups of Christmas Carolers that came by. Their songs and laughter linger with me. May God bless them for their good cheer.

I will thank the Roundtable Club for their nice Christmas box of goodies they distributed to me and many other seniors. Everyone does appreciate that.

This December 24 all business except the Cummins store, Booher and the gas station are closed for these two days. Smokey Bear Restaurant and El Paisano are very busy.

The Capitan Roundtable Club was entertained at the home of Bill and Amolene McIntosh in Roswell, Thursday, Dec. 13.

Bessie Jones, Mary Dean and Winifred Cozens were absent.

Shirley McIntosh, Mary Jones and Emma Gene Hall were guests.

The McIntosh home was beautifully decorated for Christmas. The table linen was elaborately hand embroidered in Brazil. Amolene served delicious ham and the drinks, rolls and several other dishes. Members supplied rest of the luncheon.

Happy birthday was sung to Maureen Sullivan and happy anniversary was sung to Bill and Marie Edgar.

Christmas gifts were exchanged followed by a delightful program of Christmas songs played by Lynn Werner on the piano. Lynn is the daughter of Hattie Phillips. The selections were immensely enjoyed by all.

Private Rebecca Barber of the Army in San Antonio, TX is spending her Christmas furlough from December 19-January 2 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barber and grandmother Cora Dutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Shaw of Las Cruces arrived this last weekend to visit his mother Frances Shaw and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Riska and family. Christmas all of them will spend the day in Roswell with relatives.

Glenda Booher of Western University in Silver City is spending all of the holidays with her parents and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Booher.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMoyné Carpenter are spending Christmas in Clovis with his mother and other relatives.

The Pat Joiners and the Lawrence's spent Saturday in Hondo with his parents Mr. Leo Joiner.

Jimmy and Linda Wright and their two children are spending Christmas with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Herndon and family in Canutillo, TX.

All of Frankie Silva's family have gathered at his home for a wonderful Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller's son and family from Ohio are spending Christmas with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Beavers son who is attending college was met at the airport in Albuquerque by his parents Christmas Eve to enjoy these holidays with them.

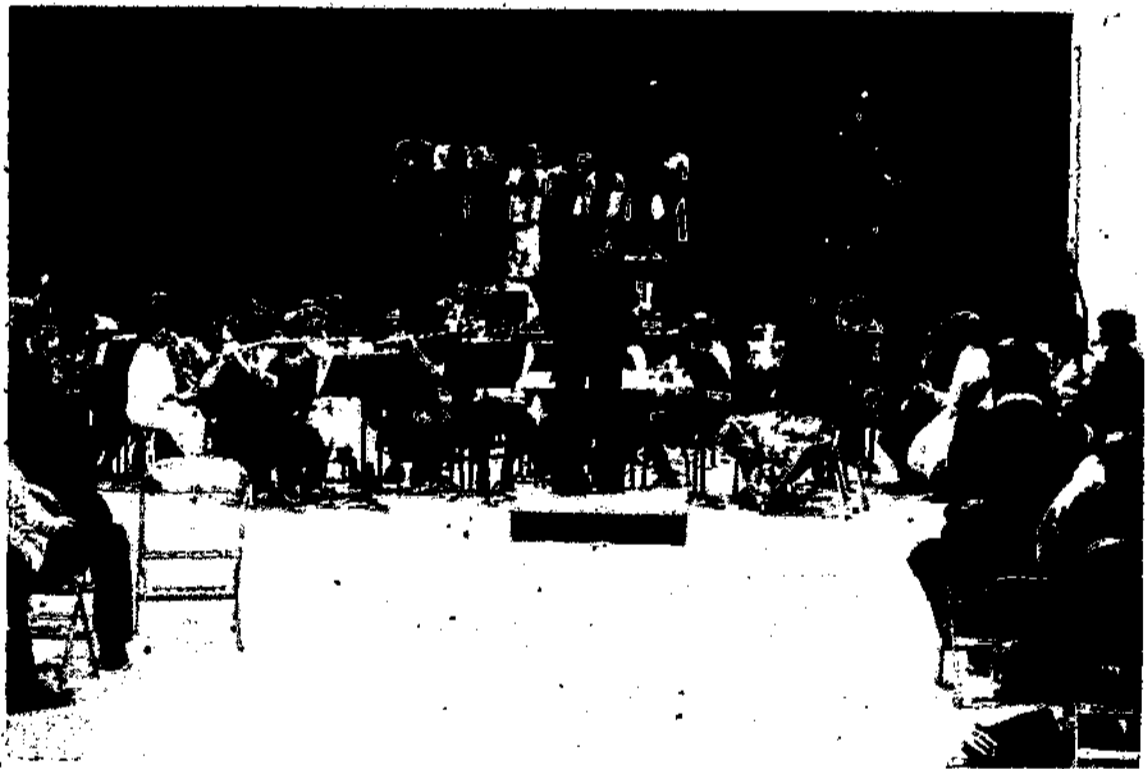

Keep smiling on into the New Year. Our blessings are the greatest.

Area teachers attend extension courses

Mrs. Idy Eldridge, 5th grade teacher in the Capitan Schools, recently completed an extension course from New Mexico Eastern University entitled Mastery Learning. This is a teaching philosophy which asserts that under appropriate instructional conditions virtually all students can and will learn.

This is the procedure - 1.) Why, what, and how applying to a given skill. 2.) Teacher introduces skill. 3.) Guided practice monitored closely by the teacher. 4.) Independent practice-students work on their own. 5.) Test-Have the students mastered the skill? 6.) Students who have not mastered the skill will be re-taught through games and other related activities.

Students who have mastered the skill will be involved in more creative activities involving the same skill.

Enrolled in the class from the Capitan Schools were Linda Smith, Pat Sullivan, Ann Dark, Mary Shanks, Dottie MacVeigh, Amy Riddle, Lou Roberts, DeAnn Outhouse, Mark Daugherty, John Blea and Kendall Lawlis. This class also included teachers from Hondo, Carrizozo, and Ft. Stanton.

Mastery Learning was taught by Joann Ericson, a classroom teacher in Roswell. Mrs. Ericson taught this class using the very same method. She is from Baltimore, Maryland which also uses this method of teaching.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the communications operations field.

She is a 1984 graduate of Clovis High School.

BY FRED McCAFFREY

SANTA FE—The "tone" for any administration is clearly set at the top.

Whatever it is, many state employees may seem untouched by it, because most of them are professional civil servants, who serve no matter what man is calling the signals from the top.

Those who respond most to that "tone," that set of signals, overt and covert, which the governor gives off, are, simply put, the people he can hire or fire. They are jobholders who are exempt from the state's personnel system, and they happen to occupy all the best, most lucrative and most powerful posts in state government.

Besides the Governor's own personal staff, which is a not-insignificant group, they include Cabinet members and those who head divisions of state agencies.

The wants and wishes of the Governor affect them more or less directly, and they in turn are in positions to make those wants and wishes affect those who work for them.

So the messages they get from the top about what is or is not desirable, what is or is not acceptable, are very compelling. With a perception abroad that some of these people may be engaging in some hanky-panky, it might be right to ask what kinds of signals have been sent out to them.

THE DIRECTIONS: We know what some of those are.

Governor Anaya's actions "say" at least these things to those who work for him:

—He strongly supports such favorite liberal causes as expanding social services, pushing organized labor, feminism and being extra-cautious with the environment.

—But he also wants government to be almost totally responsive to his wishes, so he can leave his work on New Mexico history if not indeed the history of the nation.

—And he further wants around him only those who are totally dedicated to his career and its advancement.

Those are not ideas which have to be initiated. Every one of them has been expressed both forcefully and repeatedly by the Governor himself.

But is he further sending out other signals, which could give rise to problems? For instance, say he did not in fact order some of his people to threaten loss of state contracts if certain firms did not contribute to the Democratic party. But did he give a general impression through his conduct in other matters that this is just what he wanted done?

If that happened, and he gets off while some get punished for following his unspoken "orders," an injustice will have been done.

THE HISTORY: Those of us who have followed state government closely for some time know that Toney Anaya is something of an over-achiever. To become that, you must first be an over-reacher; if you don't reach, you don't achieve.

So some who seriously consider the position into which the state may have been gotten ask this question: Did our Governor, whether he wished to or not, communicate to those who serve with him some of his own habitual over-reaching? Did they, as a result of the message that such extra effort is not only acceptable but laudable, reach so far that some of them violated the law?

If they did, perhaps the "tone" of the administration, set at the top was a contributing factor to their serious error.

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON—

By LES KINSOLVING

Are feminists in ad agencies controlling Washington's radio and TV?

WASHINGTON—According to Gall Trousoff, president of the 200-member organization, Women In Advertising and Marketing: "Women are in management positions at a lot of (advertising) agencies, which has a lot to do with what goes on the air in this market."

Ms. Trousoff has referred to the ads for Calvin Klein jeans as "blatant innuendo." She has also criticized WAVA radio, a local rock station, for producing a TV commercial in which a shapely model in a red T-shirt (emblazoned with the word HITS) smiles and asks: "Who's got the biggest hits in town?"

(This is followed by a disc jockey saying, "All-hit WAVA — the biggest hits in town!")

Ms. Trousoff told reporters that many advertising agencies would have advised against this format, even though: "Unfortunately that kind of format works to a certain extent, which is frustrating."

Trousoff was elected president of Women in Advertising and Marketing by a membership which includes Judy Green, president of Rosenthal, Green and Campbell; Carol Marchesano of Goldberg, Marchesano; Joan Yonker of Goldner and Yonker; Nita Scheaffer of Martin and Scheaffer; Ann Gilbert of Ann Gilbert Associates; and Hilary Levine of Levine Media.

Trousoff was asked about the possibility of a telephone survey of all the clients of these agencies. Does she believe that all these business firms would be unwilling to have any customers who enjoy either the Calvin Klein jeans ad or WAVA's "Biggest Hits" commercial?

Trousoff replied by saying: "I find that..." Then she paused, at length, and added: "I don't think you have any right to do that."

She went on to say: "I think I see where you're coming from! I think you want me to tell you that our members are not going to do what is in their clients' best interests because it offends them. That is not what I said at all in my article, and I don't think you can construe it that way."

But, earlier in the day, Trousoff had said: "A lot of our members are in very responsible positions with ad agencies. A lot of them wouldn't have put out an ad like that (WAVA's "Biggest Hits"). It would not have come through these people (members of Women in Advertising and Marketing.) Now I find out that it ("Biggest Hits") was produced in-house."

Q: Even though in your professional judgement it ("Biggest Hits") works, these ladies in management, in responsible positions, would not do it?" (for their clients.)

PRESIDENT TROUSOFF: That's correct.

At WAVA, General Manager Allen Goodman said that the "Biggest Hits" ad was produced by a woman in an ad agency, whom he declined to identify. But Goodman emphasized:

"We made sure that the model we used was not overly well endowed."

When asked if this meant that he had selected a model who was flat-chested, Goodman replied: "No. We wanted her to look All-American."

Did his phrase "overly well endowed" mean that he regarded such a person as exceptionally over-endowed? Or, on the negative side, did this phrase mean excessively (and therefore regrettably) over-endowed? And could he delineate "well endowed" in terms of precise measurements?

General Manager Goodman put this question to his secretary, in the distance. Finally, he replied: "She was estimated to have been 34B."

When asked if any of the "12 to 15 listeners" who complained about the "Biggest Hits" ad had suggested that Dolly Parton is either in need of corrective surgery — or that she should be photographed only from the neck up — Goodman replied:

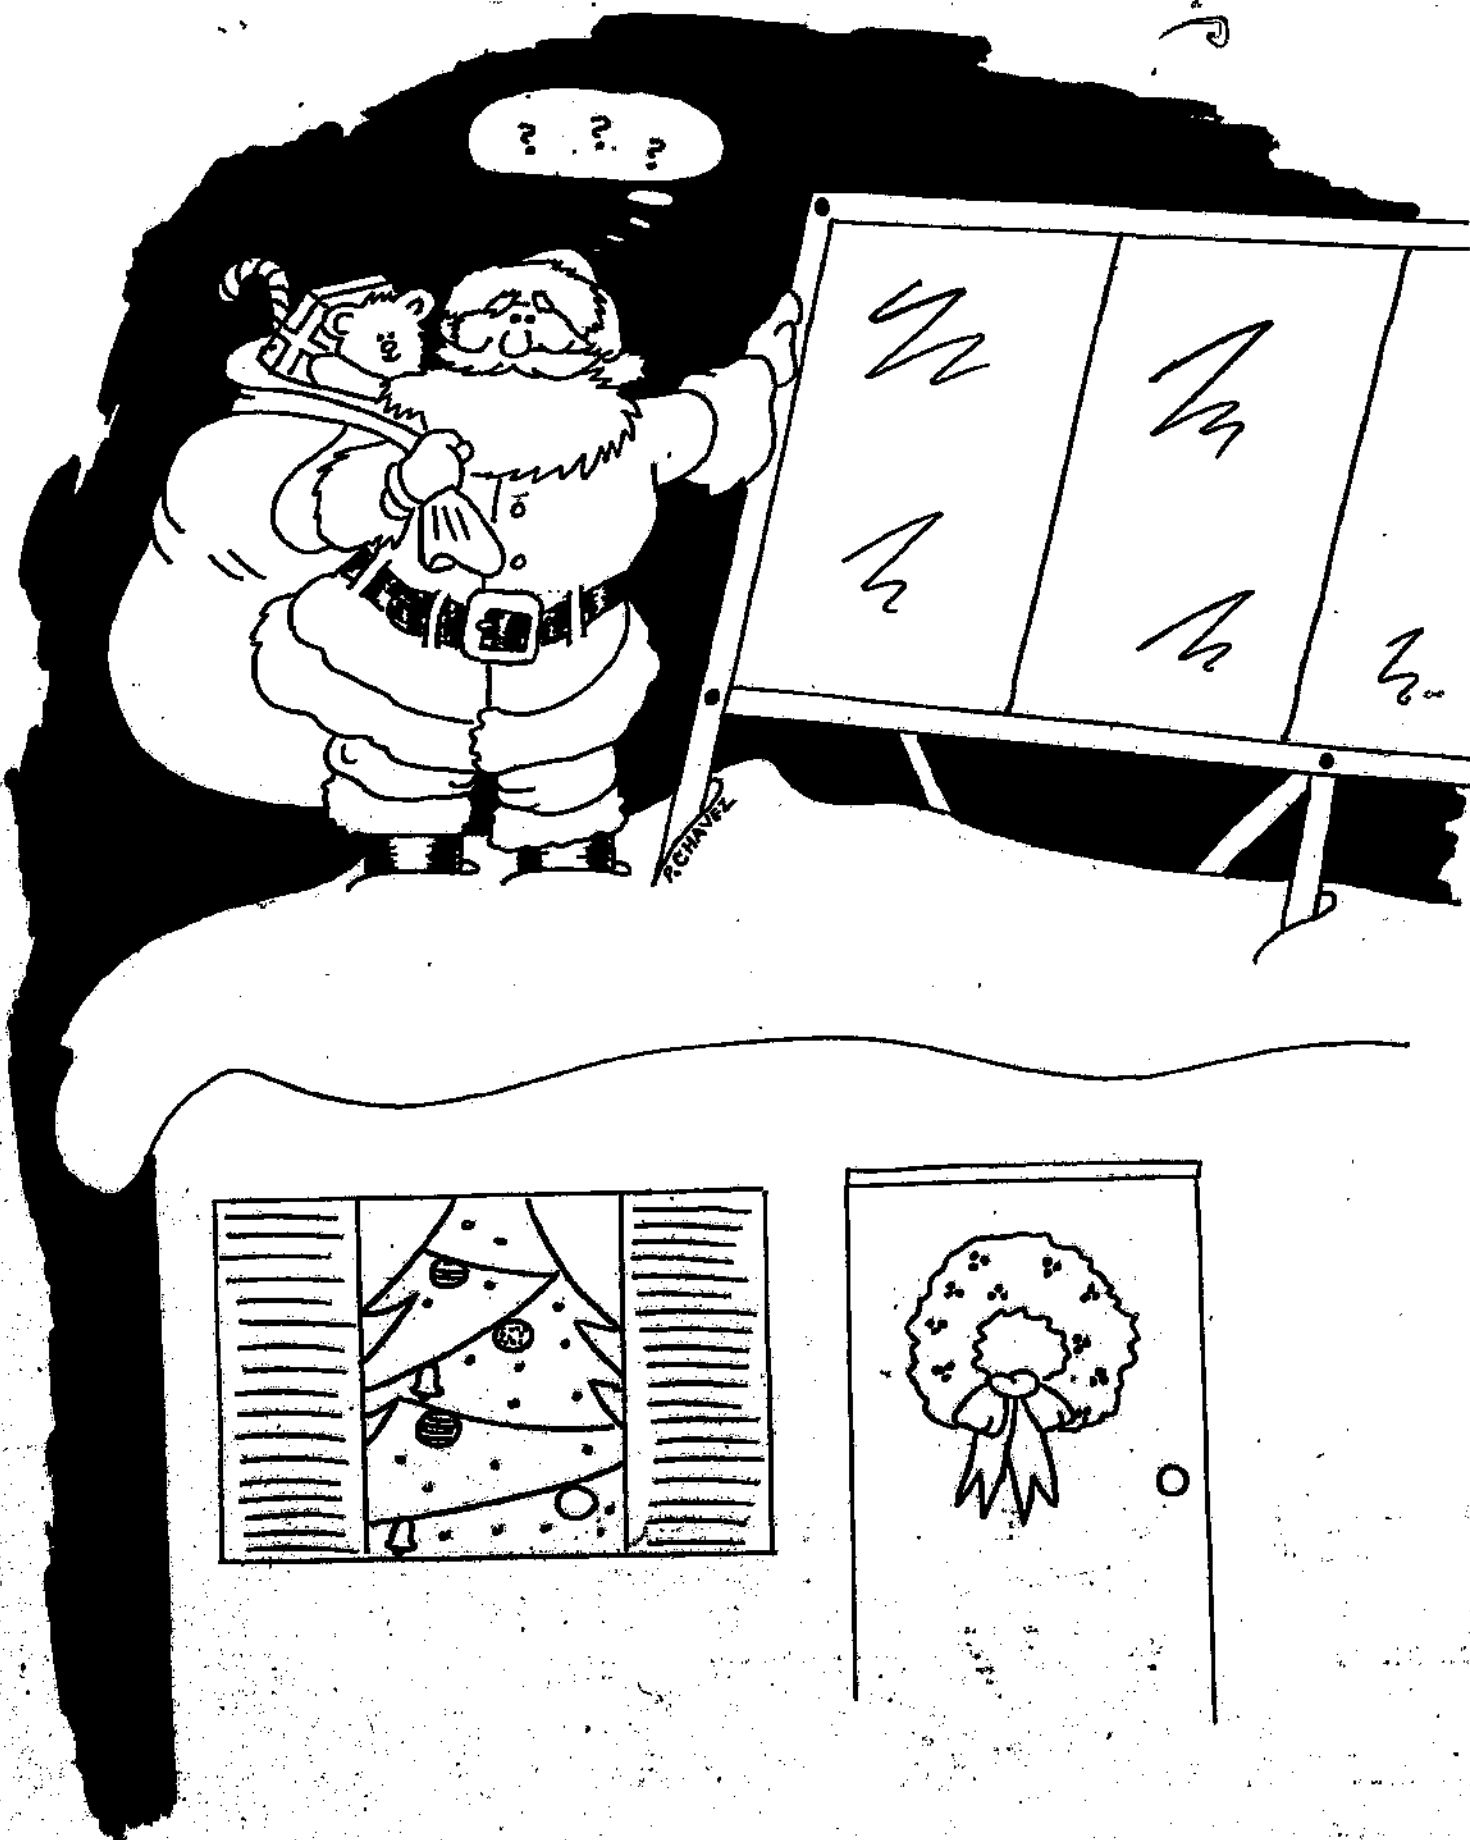

"I thought of that very thing. But we're not in the business of offending our listeners."

Were there any WAVA listeners who enjoyed the "Biggest Hits"?

"There were some of those, I'll admit. But we made a decision."

That decision — to cancel a $20,000 promotion campaign — was covered extensively in The Washington Times and reported in The Washington Post as well.

There may be some who believe that General Manager Goodman was unaware of this publicity potential during a ratings period. Some may believe that he simply capitulated to fifteen feminists (like Ms. Trousoff and her fellow ad agency executives.) If so, I hope they will contact me. I am offering special rates on title deeds to the Brooklyn Bridge.

GIVING IT AWAY...

EDITOR—The Reagan State Department is about to give away strategic and oil-rich US territory in the Arctic! Billions of barrels of oil contained in the Navarin Basin will go to the Soviets along with Wrangel Island, as large as Delaware and Rhode Island combined.

Half of America's entire oil-rich outer continental shelf and five strategic islands will be surrendered by the US State Department to the Soviet Union if the current secret negotiations are allowed to continue.

Americans need to know the critical importance of the billions of barrels of oil in Alaska's outer continental shelf for America's energy independence.

Four energy companies which have tens of millions of dollars of their stockholder funds to lose in this giveaway of Alaskan territory have paid for oil and gas leases in the oil-rich Navarin Basin which the State Department is negotiating to surrender to the Soviets.

Why is the State Department not coming clean with the American people over the surrender of public lands the size of four Californias to the Soviet Union? What kind of sellout is imminent? Why must America always get the short end of any dealing with the Soviet Union? And why don't executives of America's petroleum industry stand up for the vital interests of their stockholders?

Homer Boyce
Lodi, CA

OUTLAW NATIONS...

EDITOR—The Soviet Union, Red China and all other Communist regimes are outlaw nations. They must be treated as such. But our government continues to trade with Communist dictatorships, send them high technology, grain, defense-related equipment and treat them as legitimate governments. The shooting down of KAL 007 has made no difference in that official US government policy. This, despite the fact that the technology that allowed the Soviets to locate and then shoot down 299 innocent people on a civilian airliner came from the US and the West. For example, experts tell us that the air defense radar the Soviets used to find KAL 007 is derived from a system a US company sold the Communists — supposedly to be used for civilian "air traffic control."

Those same experts tell us that the Soviet SU-15 fighter plane that shot down KAL 007 has an outboard radar system whose capability is greatly enhanced by US technology. The air-to-air missiles used by the SU-15 pilot are duplicates of the highly successful US Sidewinder missile. The computer system the Far East Command of the Soviets used to communicate with Moscow and analyze the KAL flight was — you guessed it — stamped made in USA. The fact is that the Soviets would not have been able to locate and then shoot down the Korean plane if it had not been for US technology.

It is imperative to realize that in the Soviet Union, there is no such thing as "Non military" trade. Every item we send them has military potential. Every US dollar they receive through exports allows them to buy more equipment, food and technology for their military machine. We must stop financing Communism. This means no grain, no technology, no parts and no credits.

FORTY YEARS AGO...

EDITOR—It doesn't seem like forty years since that distressful Christmas of 1944. Those who remember it will assure you that Christmas, 1944 was not a "merry" one.

The Germans had launched their dreaded counter-attack. Centered about Luxemburg and in southern Belgium, the press named it "The Battle of the Bulge."

Continuous rains since September had provided a strong advantage for the Germans; America's air force was grounded. Frantic for a smashing victory, Hitler hurried two panzer armies and one field army into a desperate counter-attack that he hoped would reverse the outcome of the war.

The counter-attack started in mid December and it ended Jan. 25. In those few days, the Germans suffered 100,000 casualties; the Americans suffered 81,000 including 19,000 killed and 15,000 captured.

From the 22nd to the 28th of December, the American 101st Airborne Division and parts of the 10th Armored Division were completely cutoff and surrounded. An anguished nation prayed that they would not be annihilated.

The Americans desperately needed a change in the weather. For weeks foggy, leaden skies had kept the American air force on the ground.

To expedite a change in the weather, General Patton went directly to God. The General ordered a Catholic Monsignor, Brig. Gen James H. O'Neill to assist.

The Monsignor composed a 71 word prayer. It was printed on 2 1/2 by 3 inch cards...250,000 of them! Some 486 chaplains representing 32 denominations circulated them to the men.

The prayer pleaded with God "To restrain these immoderate rains...Grant us fair weather for Battle."

General Patton all but ordered every man to join in prayer. His instructions according to Msgr. O'Neill were, "We've got to get not only the chaplains but, every man in the 3rd Army to pray...We must ask God to stop these rains. These rains are the margin that spells defeat or victory."

Who would deny that God answered those prayers? The weather changed. The Americans air force destroyed over 1000 German planes as final victory was ours.

Truly, it was a sad Christmas in 1944. Let us all pray that we never experience another like it.

A FESTIVE FINALE FOR THE NEW YEAR CELEBRATION

NEW FOR THE NEW YEAR: Delicious Bavarian Cream is so easy to prepare that you can make it in minutes for an everyday meal or as the grand finale of a special occasion menu.

Watching the Tournament of Roses Parade and championship football on television has become a New Year's tradition in many homes. Along with this entertainment comes festive food, often the grand finale of the holiday season.

Whatever mealtime events you choose—brunch, casual buffets, a light supper or snacks—your family or guests will welcome Bavarian Cream as the grand finale. The secret of its rich, creamy taste is yogurt in any flavor, any color you like.

Combine the yogurt with just two other ingredients, garnish and serve. So easy to make, Bavarian Cream will add a light, elegant touch to any party from New Year's Day until next New Year's Eve.

Strawberry Bavarian Cream
3 cartons (6 ounces each) Yoplait Original strawberry yogurt or Custard Style strawberry yogurt from Yoplait (about 2 cups)

1 package (3 3/4 ounces) vanilla instant pudding and pie filling
1 cup chilled whipping cream*
Strawberry slices

Beat yogurt and pudding and pie filling (dry) in large bowl on low speed, scraping bowl constantly, 30 seconds. Beat in whipping cream on medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally, until soft peaks form, 3 to 5 minutes. Spoon into dessert dishes; top each with strawberry slice. Garnish with sprigs of fresh mint if desired. 7 servings.

*If using Custard Style yogurt, increase whipping cream to 1 1/2 cups. High Altitude Directions (8500 to 8500 feet): No adjustments are necessary.

Corn Starch Thickeners Turkey Gravy Without Lumps

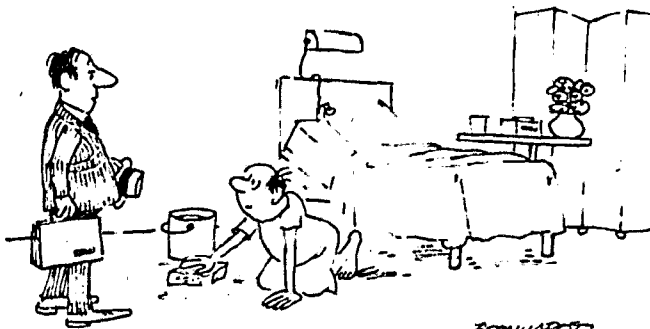

An easy lump-free way to make gravy is with corn starch. As in making flour gravy, the corn starch can be added to the drippings in the pan. But there's also another method. That is to thicken the gravy just before serving. Regardless of the method, corn starch thickened gravies have a clear, translucent appearance and a light, non-pasty taste. It's the new American Way to give a light touch to gravy. In following your own recipe, and converting flour to corn starch, use half as much corn starch as flour. For two folders on gravy making, write to Kingsford's Gravy, Dept. G2-C, P.O. Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.

TURKEY GRAVY
 Turkey giblets and neck 1 teaspoon salt
 8 cups water 3 chicken-flavored bouillon cubes
 3 onions, peeled, quartered 2 bay leaves
 3 ribs celery, cut into sticks 1/2 cup turkey pan drippings
 2 carrots, peeled, cut into sticks 1/4 cup Kingsford's corn starch

In large saucepot place turkey giblets and neck, water, onion, celery, carrots, salt, bouillon cubes and bay leaves. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer 1 hour or until liquid is reduced by half. Drain broth; reserve. Pour pan drippings into large measuring cup, leaving brown bits in roasting pan. Allow to stand several minutes until fat drippings separate from turkey juices. Return 1/4 cup fat drippings to pan; discard remaining fat drippings. Add reserved broth to turkey juices to equal 4 cups. Sprinkle corn starch into drippings. Stir and cook over medium heat until well-blended; remove from heat. Gradually stir in broth. Return to heat. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat, stirring up brown bits from bottom of pan, and boil 1 minute. If desired, chop giblets and neck and add to gravy. Makes 4 to 5 cups.

Alternate Method: Follow recipe for Turkey Gravy. Return 1/4 cup fat drippings and 4 cups turkey juices and broth to roasting pan. Stir together corn starch and 1/2 cup cold water until smooth; add to roasting pan. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat, stirring up brown bits from bottom of pan and boil 1 minute. If desired, chop giblets and add to gravy. Makes 4 to 5 cups.
