Commission OKs new fire district, reject roads in Wolf Springs and Wolf Creek

By RUTH HAMMOND

A new fire district, sponsorship of Zia Senior Citizens Center, rejecting roads in Wolf Springs and Wolf Creek Subdivision were just part of the work Lincoln County Commissioners tackled Tuesday at their regular meeting.

The Glencoe-Palo Verde Fire District is now an official county fire district. It had to operate a year, pass all requirements, and inspection by the state fire marshal before being eligible to receive fire funds. It is the 6th volunteer fire department in the county. $8,137 from state fire funds will be spent on equipment and repair, building maintenance, insurance, conventions and schools and capital outlay.

Commissioners signed a lease agreement with Zia Senior Citizens Center for two vans. The state Agency on Aging will give the two vans to Lincoln County for use by Zia to provide transportation to the elderly residents of the county without cost to the person being transported.

Paper work is being started for the county to sponsor Zia Senior Citizens Center for the next fiscal year. Project director Barbara Ward said the Center is supported with revenue sharing funding. Assuming sponsorship will mean the county is assuming legal responsibility for spending the funds.

Wolf Springs and Wolf Creek Subdivision preliminary roads inspection was conducted by engineer Joe Shain, PAJO Technical Services, Inc. Additional compaction, cleaning of culverts, and construction of cattleguards in accordance with state highway department standards are needed. Commissioners agreed to not accept the roads until additional work is completed, and they will not release the irrevocable letter of credit posted by Dulin Properties & Investments and the irrevocable letter of credit posted by Mohaco, Inc. & Greater Southwestern Development Co to insure the completion of the work before the road is accepted.

Willie A. Stone, Capitan, and Dr. John Clem, Corona, were appointed to the Carrizozo Health Center Advisory Board.

Action was tabled on variance requests from Pines of Gavilan subdivision, High Mesa subdivision, and Raven Ridge subdivision. The Planning and Zoning Commission will inspect the roads and give their recommendation as to whether gravel surfaced roads should be allowed instead of double penetration pavement.

Agreement was signed with Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District for them to provide services which include applying for state and federal grants.

A road review committee was appointed to see if the road from Fort Stanton to Lincoln Hills should become part of the county system. Those appointed are Walt Wilson, Bob Palke and Bob Scribner. Larry Tillman was selected as alternate.

Contract was signed for Ernst & Whinney, CPAs, to do the audit for the year ending June 30, 1984 at a cost of $10,000.

The state highway department will train county employees due to the Technology Transfer Agreement. County road superintendent Guy Henley said four men are now attending the truck driving school to be ready for the new dump trucks that are due in this week.

In his progress report on the road department, Henley said 30,000 yards of gravel have been hauled since November with four trucks.

Federal matching funds for improvement of eroding rural roads may become available in 1985. Action was tabled as to whether the county should become a Designated Management Agency in order to qualify to apply for these funds.

Before going into executive session, commissioners agreed the county is not interested in participating in a privately operated jail pilot project.

HELPING OTHERS — Carrizozo Real Estate bossman Johnson Stearns, center, gives the Knights of Columbus a headstart on the group's Tootsie Roll Drive which gets under way this Saturday. Proceeds of the door-to-door event will be turned over to assist the mentally handicapped in their programs. Pictured with Stearns are Nat Chavez, K of C president and Bucky Baer, member.

Rotary Club celebrates twenty-fifth anniversary

Last Thursday evening, Carrizozo Rotary Club celebrated its 25th anniversary. Willie Silva, at the Four Winds new dining room, did a super job with the food and everyone left feeling like they had sure enough been "out to eat." President Hal Sims of the Family Pharmacy was the Emcee and introduced out of town guests.

In 1959, during the year when Andy Hendrix of Alamogordo was District Governor of Rotary 552 he came to Carrizozo and contacted prospective members for a new Rotary Club in Carrizozo to be sponsored by his home Rotary Club in Alamogordo.

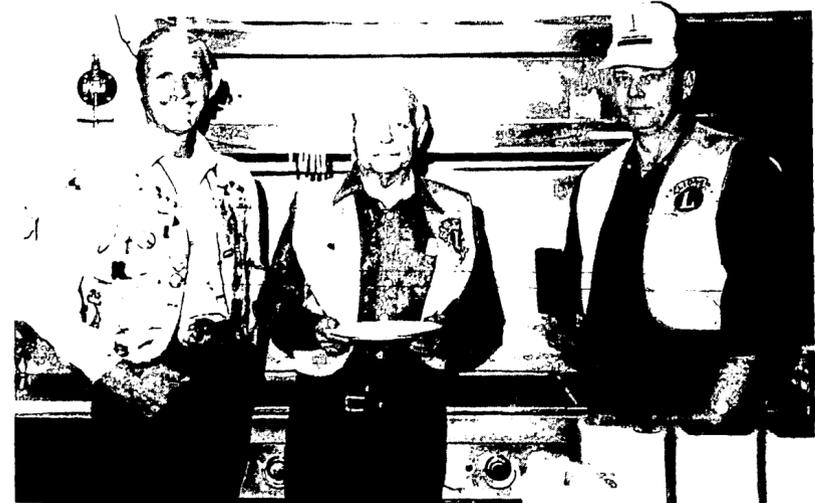

Governor Hendrix received applications from twenty-one of the local businessmen and April 11, 1959 the charter night was held at Carrizozo Country Club. Ralph Petty was the first president, Joe Sargent, vice president, Johnson Stearns, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors was composed of Fred English, Mervin Smoot, Clifton Zumwalt.

Of the original 21 charter members, three still are in the Club and active - Fred H. English, Albert T. Roberts and Johnson Stearns. Four of the charter members have passed away - Will Ed Harris, Joe Sargent, J. G. Moore and L. M. Huffman.

Speaker for the evening was Billy Holder, Alamogordo, formerly publisher of the Alamogordo News. He spoke of the many changes that have taken place in the past quarter century since Carrizozo Rotary Club was formed and read some of the retail goods prices from a 1959 paper.

Carrizozo Rotary Club presently has 21 members who meet each Thursday noon at the Four Winds. Hal Sims is the president, Dennis Sidebottom, vice president, Bob Bohks, secretary-treasurer.

In addition to Billy Holder from Alamogordo being present, other Alamogordo Rotary Club members here for the evening were Marion Bell, Marvin Rohovec and Jerry Yates.

Five county sheriffs approve Sullivan's multi-county anti-crime task force

By P. E. CHAVEZ

Sheriffs of five New Mexico counties have agreed to join Lincoln County's sheriff in a consolidated effort to trace and arrest criminals in southeastern New Mexico who are dealing in stolen property, narcotics and other criminal activities.

In favor of the proposal by Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan were sheriffs of Chaves, Curry, Eddy, Lea and Otero. The group met at the Chaves County Sheriff's office on March 29, when Sullivan conducted an organizational meeting.

A directors meeting will be held April 12 at 10:00 a.m. at the Chaves County Sheriff's Department in Roswell. The agenda includes election of officers, discussion and adoption of proposed by-laws and operations procedures. The organization will be known as Southeastern New Mexico Sheriff's Multi-County Investigative Task Force.

Each sheriff will be a director for the Task Force unit. The sheriffs will elect a chairman to conduct the meetings and a secretary to take the minutes. The term of office will be for one year. Directors will write the policy for personnel of the unit and will meet at least once a month, rotating the place of the meeting to one of the counties of the participating sheriffs. They will determine priority and targets to be investigated by the unit.

A Task Force unit commander will be appointed by the directors. The commander (which will be one of the six directors) will serve for a period of one year. The commander will compile all the intelligence reports and send copies to each participating sheriff. This will enable each county to maintain an intelligence file of criminal activities in the multi-county area. The commander, based on the information received, will recommend to the directors priorities for the Task Force. The directors will have final approval of such priorities.

A unit of agents is to be made up of personnel from sheriffs' offices from the six counties and be under the supervision of the directors. Each sheriff's office will furnish one full-time deputy with experience as an investigator. Personnel of the unit of agents will be cross-commissioned by each sheriff in the counties. Each sheriff will furnish his agent with salary, per diem, vehicle and vehicle maintenance.

The agent will fill out an intelligence report on all information he obtains on criminal activities. This information will be sent to the Task Force commander. Each agent will act under the authority of his respective sheriff except when the agents is operating in a county other than the county he is employed with. When the agent is in another county, he will act under the authority of the sheriff of that county.

The Task Force commander will coordinate all investigative efforts and raids with the sheriff of the county in which he is operating. Each sheriff will furnish "buy money" for "buys" within his county unless otherwise provided by the directors. The commander will direct agents when making buys and coordinate surveillance and back-up for the agents.

The sheriff will direct a raid that is to be conducted in his county. The ultimate responsibility and liability in each county will rest with the sheriff of the county in which the operation is centered.

Seizure of property (vehicles, airplanes, etc.) will be the property of the county in which seizure occurs. All evidence will be stored in the county in which the seizure was made, and news release of arrests or seizures will be made by the sheriff of the county in which the cases were made.

Four NMSP officers in County to take promotional exam

By P. E. CHAVEZ

Four senior officers of the New Mexico State Police assigned to Lincoln County will be among officers participating in the 1984 promotional examination for the rank of sergeant.

Officers Jim Hiltzley, Clayton Floyd, P. J. Darden and Randy Rhue will take the April 25 examination at New Mexico State Police headquarters at Alamogordo. Sites for the examination have been divided into two districts. Officers in the north zone will take the examination in Santa Fe.

All officers with at least five continuous satisfactory years of active service as of April 1 are eligible to take the examination.

This week's "beat" at the local State Police office revealed that no new highway accidents have occurred in this area of the county.

As a public service the NEWS will run a weekly feature entitled, "It's the Law." The column, compiled by Officer Rhue, is an attempt to inform the local readers of laws that New Mexico State Police enforce. In the weeks to come the column will familiarize the public with specific laws. The column kicks off this week with the law on DWI (driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor).

Frances Ortiz starts fund for local injured girls

Aggie Bucsek and Jan Decker, both of Carrizozo, were seriously injured in a motorcycle accident in Arizona.

Those who know these single, God-fearing and hard working girls love them, and their friends are asked to contribute what they can to help defray their large hospital bills.

They have insurance, but they will both be in traction in the hospital for at least six weeks. As a result their recovery period will be long and the expenses very large.

Please make your checks payable to TWO GIRLS FUND and send them to Frances Ortiz, P. O. Box 659, Carrizozo, NM 88301, or stop by Paul's Place in Carrizozo and see Frances.

DOING GREAT

Shorty Carl is back on his feet and doing great after undergoing treatment at a hospital and rehabilitation at a center. The last week in February Shorty suffered a slight stroke and was hospitalized at Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo. He was later transferred to the Roswell Rehabilitation Center. Recuperating time passed swiftly with the kindness extended by local acquaintances to Shorty and his wife, Elsie during Shorty's four week stay in Roswell.

SOMETHING NEW

Beginning this Friday seniors and others at Zia Senior Citizens Center will meet each Friday at 8:00 p.m. for a potluck meal. Games and visiting will follow.

The fellowship gathering is open to everyone regardless of age. Community members are invited to bring a friend or two to join the bunch at the center for a potpourri of food, a game of pool, cards, dominos or just to chat. Those participating are asked to bring a dish of food to share.

The Center is sponsoring a continuous rummage sale. It began sometime this week and no telling when it will end. Donations of items are accepted. Sale proceeds are used to fund programs for the center's senior citizens.

TRAVELS TO ZOZO

Danny Chavez travels each Monday from Corona to do reception work at Rita's Creative Hairstyles. He plans to become a full time barber-hairstylist in January at this local shop. He is currently employed at Corona under the auspices of Nevarez Hair Design of Albuquerque.

Danny, a lifelong resident of Corona, is the son of Romanita Chavez. He has two sisters in Carrizozo. They are Rose Luera, who works at the Zia Senior Citizen Center and Della Chavez who is employed at the Health Office. Danny, Rose and Della are three of eleven brothers and sisters.

COOKING FOR TWO

Planning and preparing meals for one or two can sometimes be harder than planning and preparing meals for five or like in my household where seven to eight servings per meal have to be prepared.

Mary Ellen Payne, Lincoln County Home Economist said when she handed me a booklet on cooking for 1 or 2, "You probably don't need this, but maybe some of your column readers will."

I told her that each school day when the kids eat at the school cafeteria, I cook only for my husband and myself. The booklet will come in handy when I prepare meals for two. Zachary goes to school until 11:15 a.m. when his kindergarten session is over. He joins us for lunch at noon but he eats like a bird.

The cooperative extension service booklet is available-free at the extension office located upstairs at the annex of the Lincoln County Courthouse. The booklet includes menu ideas and tips that can save you time and money. There are recipes for making cornbread, mini meat loaves, baked chicken, pork-egg fried rice, potato salad, quick cinnamon raisin bread and much more.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

Margaret West of Ft. Sumner was a guest at the Cattle Growers Association and Cowbelle Convention held in Albuquerque. She attended the breakfast hosted by the Chamiza Cowbelles. Margaret was a guest of her Cowbelle chapter friend and won an oil painting, 'The Little White Church', by artist Pat Richardson, who is 1st vice president of the Chamiza Cowbelles.

When you plan to retire, you'll need more than a retirement plan.

If you're like everyone else, you're looking forward to the day you can retire. What fun! Years to relax, travel, and do things you want to do. Or so you think. If all you have waiting for you at retirement is Social Security, a pension plan and a gold watch, things will be different. You'll be able to travel all right. To the grocery store. And you'll still be able to do the things you want to do. Like eat. What fun! Fortunately, there are two ways to make more money for your retirement. You can hock the gold watch. Or you can open an Individual Retirement Account at United New Mexico Bank. Starting an IRA can help you if you're 60 or under. Obviously, the younger you are now, the richer you'll be later. For instance, if you're 30 today, you'll have hundreds of thousands of dollars waiting for you when you retire. All it takes to start is a minimum deposit of $100. And by saving for tomorrow, you'll benefit today. Everything you deposit in your IRA is tax-deferred until you spend it. So before you get any older, ask a United New Mexico Bank specialist about the IRA that's right for you. Because your plans for retirement shouldn't be anything less than you wait them to be.

OPINION...

RUSSELL Handrup writes to chide Democrats in Congress for making such a big deal out of a $15,000 interest-free loan made to the wife of Edward Meese, the latter being President Reagan's nomination for the office of US Attorney General. Democrats plan to see that Mr. Meese does not get confirmed in that office because the person who made the loan to Mrs. Meese later landed a minor government job. Wallowing in a sea of piosity as they are, one would almost believe Democrats never take interest-free loans from their friends or have never been known to repay such kindnesses with government jobs. All who work for a living are in fact "minor government employees" because they work the first three or four months of each year for the federal government, presided over by such scandal-free, pious frauds as Tip O'Neill and Sen. Ted Kennedy. Consider: Last year, 70 million taxpayers received federal income tax refunds averaging $700 each, which figures out to be $49,000,000. This money was extracted from you (and you) by force or the threat thereof, and it was an interest-free loan from you to the federal government. Now, when the time came to return the "interest-free loan" to its rightful owners, the money had been spent by Messrs. O'Neill, Kennedy, Mark Hatfield, Bob Packwood and other revered profligates in Congress. So they borrowed the money at approximately 11 percent to pay the lenders principal only. That 11 percent interest rate will be added to taxpayers' bill this year. Too, borrowing the $49,000,000 boosted the federal deficit by that amount, making it necessary to increase all our taxes. The average taxpayer wound up loaning $700 interest-free to the government, paying 11 percent interest for the privilege, and assumed his proportionate share of an additional $49,000,000 deficit. By all means, let's see that that "crook" Ed Meese never gets confirmed as attorney general.

MEESE is relatively poor and has a big house mortgage (which qualifies him to be Reagan's best and closest friend because Reagan only likes rich folks). Walter Mondale, on the other hand, was paid $134,000 in 1981 and 1982 and was still getting $2,000 a month until last November from Control Data Corp., which sells sophisticated computers to the Soviet Union. Mondale earned more than a million dollars in 1981 and 1982 from other corporations. Shall we dismiss the prospect that a Mondale Administration would be staffed with some of the people who paid him such big money? When Nelson Rockefeller was being confirmed as vice-president, did anybody ever question his gift of $50,000 to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger—or his admitted loans and gifts of $2 million to other associates in government? Meese's crime was (1) in not being rich and (2) needing help to move to Washington and to pay for the burial of a son killed in a car wreck.

THE cadaverous Alan Cranston has removed himself as a presidential candidate and finds himself a million dollars in debt, his peace-at-any-price policies rejected, and facing a 1988 senatorial campaign when he will be well into his 70s. The radical left is not to worry. One of the old socialist ideological blood brothers, Assemblyman Tom Hayden, is standing in the wings. Hayden, before he was canonized and politically purified through marriage to Jane Fonda, was one of the Chicago 7, forerunners of the Weathermen, the first American terrorist organization. Fonda is more fondly remembered for giving aid and comfort to our enemies during the Vietnam War and for deriding Americans for not embracing communism. Both come with outstanding credentials—her money. Both have impressive backgrounds—Hayden, who should be in prison for terrorism; Fonda, who should have already been shot for treason. California voters seldom suffer such sterling figures to remain off the public payroll. If Hayden goes for Cranston's Senate seat in 1986 he'll get it, so if you haven't yet kissed his Radical Ring and taken out membership in his Marxist-oriented political club, Committee for Economic Democracy, you still have time to do so and go with the winner.

MR. Rustebakke of Gualala, CA brings up an interesting comment on the March 22 OPINION column. I stand corrected in only one regard. I should have written "50 years of reckless spending" instead of 40 years of same as being responsible for current federal budget deficits. For the benefit of readers, if not Mr. Rustebakke, added comment on the federal budget and who owns and controls it, and who is responsible for it, is in order.

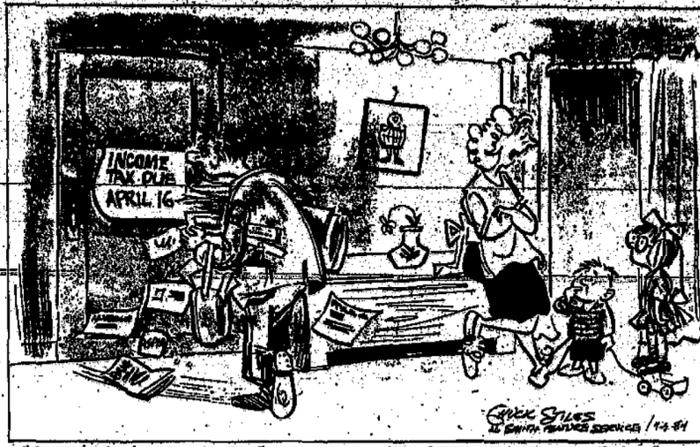

BIG deficit spending began with President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his Democrat Congress in 1932. Since then we have had five Democrat presidents for a total of 33 years; four Republican presidents for the other 20 years. Since 1932 the House of Representatives has been controlled by Democrats for all but the first four-year term of President Eisenhower—a total of 49 years of total domination of the House by Democrats, the body which controls all federal expenditures.

THERE is no such thing as a "president's" budget. By law, all appropriations must originate in the House, and this includes budgets. All federal budgets must be first approved by the House and Senate, after which the president may veto said budget. If so, Congress can pass it over his veto. If the US Constitution demands that the House originate all appropriations, and if the House can pass its budget over the veto of the president, why do we call it "President Reagan's budget"? Why is he responsible for a budget which only Congress can adopt? Still, our Gualala critic says "Mr. Reagan bears full responsibility for the budgets he has proposed." Reagan can propose his head off; only Congress disposes. Democrats love to refer to "Reagan's budget." It gets them off the hook for its size and takes a swipe at their political enemy. Beautiful.

NOW to the deficits. The biggest and totally unmanageable items of federal spending are the "entitlement programs" so beloved by Democrats, in which millions of people get billions of dollars as a matter of "right." The most expensive is Social Security. Entitlement programs almost always result in deficits; which, over the 49 years of Democrat control have been compounded annually until the total cost of entitlement programs runs into the trillions of dollars. One administration's deficits are added onto the next administration, and so the debt grows even should budgets be balanced.

WHAT can any president do about deficits? Absolutely nothing. Congress is the only real source of power, and it is solely empowered to provide money and spend it. Constitutionally, the president is a ceremonial head of state. Without the expressed approval of Congress this, or any other president, may not do anything except the following (including trips to the bathroom):

THE president is commander-in-chief of the armed forces, except he can't use them without consent of Congress. He can grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, except in cases of impeachment. He can make treaties, but only with consent of Congress. He can appoint ambassadors,

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON

Lasky and Irvine: Media-Eaters

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — Author Victor Lasky ("The Man and The Myth" series, on JFK and Jimmy Carter) and media critic Reed Irvine of Accuracy in Media are both veteran syndicated columnists, and as such members of the Washington press corps.

But unlike a great majority of this group (whom Nobel Laureate Alexander Solzhenitzyn has described as "a herd") Lasky and Irvine as strong conservatives, head not even slightly to even the most powerful peer pressure from the largely liberal-Washington press pack.

The evening of March 1 was a prime example. The American Enterprise Institute, a moderately conservative think tank, gathered a number of heavy hitters to participate in a panel on the subject: "The Reagan Administration and the Press: What's The Problem?" The audience also included dozens of Big Media bigwigs. Panelists included longtime Reagan advisers Lynn Nofziger and David Gergen along with Lasky on what appears to be one side. On the other: White House correspondent Lou Cannon of The Washington Post, Sam Donaldson of ABC News and Jack Landau of the Reporters Committee For Freedom Of The Press.

Gergen, who recently retired from the post of White House Communications director for President Reagan, quietly began electrifying the occasion. For he actually deplored what he reported as 19,000 lie detector tests to government employees; restrictions laid upon government employees with regard to press interviews; actual government orders that facts should be distorted in the interest of government security — and even the official endorsement, by a leader of the CIA, of an official secrets act.

The mouths of several of the media who enjoy Roast Reagan had just begun watering — when Gergen observed, quite archly, that none of this had taken place in the Reagan Administration. It had been done, instead, during the Administration of John F. Kennedy, who was so widely worshipped by the Washington press corps.

This abrupt quenching of righteous indignation led Lasky to recall that his telephone line had been tapped by the Kennedy Administration "because Bobby didn't like a book I wrote." And Lasky went on to recall:

"All of the freedom of the press groups, and the Civil Liberties Union, and the Jack Landau organizations, if they were in existence at the time, had nothing whatever to say about what the Kennedys tried to do to me."

Having thus incited Landau to smoldering rage, the implisi Lasky stoked the flames by further accusing Landau of "a lot of whining." He went on to inquire: "If it's a case of national security, why should you know everything that's in the US Government?"

LANDAU: Years ago, Senator Dirksen asked me: "Mr. Landau do you want to make the Government into a sieve?" And I said: "Exactly! Senator Dirksen, that's just what we want to do."

LASKY: Some government! Having thus publicly spilled the beans (as to what "Freedom of the Press" actually means to his Reporters organization), Landau proceeded to erupt in response to another Lasky inquiry: "You people who keep whining about your rights and the right to know are destroying the image of the media among the American people — and don't kid yourself."

LANDAU: I'm not attacking President Reagan personally. I am attacking — AND WE WILL TEACH HIM A LESSON; GOD DAMN IT! — I am attacking the philosophy of information-suppression! And I'm sick of you whining about the fairness of the press, Mr. Lasky! (Applause)

LASKY: Did you ever suppress any information while you were a government press officer for the Nixon Justice Department?

LANDAU: Uh — yes — uh —

LASKY: Case closed. Sam Donaldson of ABC News was considerably less skewered than Landau, The-Leader-of-The-Press-Freedom-Committee-Who-Once-Suppressed-Information.

For Donaldson appeared to be much more forthright about his post, when questioned at length by Reed Irvine.

Irvine, an economist with a memory like a sponge, has the relentlessness of a hungry barracuda when it comes to questioning the Big Media "Professional-Questioners."

Irvine recalled that ABC colleague Geraldo Rivera should be fired, if he had, indeed, (as Rivera told Playboy magazine) suppressed news from Panama at the time of the Senate vote on the Panama Canal treaties.

Irvine also recalled asking, at the annual shareholders meeting of ABC, why the management had not followed Donaldson's excellent suggestion (1) — only to be told by ABC's Leonard Goldenson that Rivera (he had been told) had been misquoted. Since Rivera was not at all misquoted, noted Irvine, why hadn't Donaldson and the rest of the Big Media asked (on the air and in print), "Why isn't this man fired?" (Earlier in the panel, Lynn Nofziger had observed: "A corrupt press is going to be just as dangerous to the country as a corrupt government.")

Donaldson, with refreshing candor (and absence of the familiar Big Media evasion when they themselves are questioned) admitted that he had made the original statement but had not asked the question of ABC. When Irvine asked why not, Donaldson replied that he had not been assigned to do a story on this and that he did not cover either Rivera or Goldenson. But he added that if he were assigned, he would have reported it.

Irvine noted the silence about the Rivera scandal, as well as the CBS Benjamin Report issue (where CBS sought to conceal from the public its own investigation of the program now being sued for $120 million by Gen. Westmoreland). Irvine also noted that ABC, NBC and Dow Jones had all gone into court to support this CBS secrecy. Donaldson referred both matters to the ABC and CBS lawyers — which type of buckpassing he has been known to protest quite vehemently when it is done in the White House press room by Larry Speakes.

IRVINE: Sam, isn't that a story? At this point, emcee Nick Themmisch, a fellow columnist, said: "Let's go to another question"

Themmisch was, most probably, not trying to curtail this dialogue, rather than to be fair to other questioners who had been waiting during an extended exchange. Yet nobody at all seemed to rega this exchange as in the least bit dull. For it illustrated that conscientious Sam Donaldson might indeed (if assigned) do a penetrating expose of Geraldo Rivera.

But this seems to be a very remote possibility. For the Powers That Be in Big Media, who absolutely relish the exposing of US Government scandals, and even US Government classified documents, express horror and outrage at the very thought of anybody who so exposes them.

And this is why they so abhor Messrs Lasky and Irvine, the Media-Eaters.

Honor thy oath

DEAR SENATOR DOMENICI—Even though your letter in this paper was addressed to "Fellow New Mexicans"; and I am from the once sovereign State of California, I feel compelled to respond to it because you are talking about picking my pockets (some more) as well as those of New Mexicans. It seems that every time you "tax suckers" in Washington want to do something you must also include increasing what you call revenue. Why don't you call them taxes? We are not stupid!

It hasn't been too many months ago that you passed the largest tax increase in the history of our Republic (250+ billion). Oh, excuse me. In your political "double-speak", you call it tax reform, not tax increase. Then you passed the infamous 5 cent per gallon gas tax to fix the roads. The money must be used to repair the highway we built in Afghanistan, for the use of the Soviet trucks that were built at the Kama River Factory, which we also built. I haven't seen any roads being repaired around here.

Spending and taxes must be brought in line, not more in line as you stated. We must stop spending more than we take in, and we must stop taking any more in. Simple isn't it? Of course, if done, it means that you wouldn't be able to buy your votes, you would have to earn them. One way to do that, would be for you to honor your Oath of Office regarding "upholding the Constitution of the United States of America." You could simply abolish any program not authorized by the Constitution. All forms of "transfer payments" should be stopped. I want to keep what I earn. I don't want you to steal it from me to give to somebody else.

We should stop all aid and trade with totalitarians!!!! We give our food and our money to our enemies so they can build up their military might, and then we spend our money to defend ourselves from these same enemies. Does that make sense to you Senator? I could go on with this ad nauseum, but you get the point. Why don't you stand up like a man and honor your Oath of Office?

Proud native

EDITOR—How proud it makes a native New Mexican, born in Lincoln County, to read that the Carrizozo High School was listed among the southwest finalists in the search for the top Public High Schools of America. An A. P. release, through Education Secretary T. H. Bell is the source of this information. The schools were chosen from among 655 recommended by state school superintendents, selection teams composed of non-government officials who visited the schools and then chose the winners. My personal and sincere congratulations to Dr. Jim Miller, superintendent, Dennis Sidebottom, principal and the proud parents and friends of our schools!!

Insane asylum

EDITOR—It has been said that the United States is rapidly becoming one big insane asylum, and there is convincing evidence that the charge may be true.

Consider, for example, this recent news report: "Socialist Prime Minister Olof Palme's Government has announced that Sweden will seek to defeat any Western nuclear counterattack against Soviet targets...by shooting down US cruise missiles as they pass over Swedish territory from northern Europe." (see REVIEW OF THE NEWS, Feb. 29, 1984).

How are the Swedes going to shoot down those US missiles? The articles go on to explain that they have ordered at least 24 Falcon radar systems, systems that, incidentally, are manufactured by US based I.T.T. (International Telephone and Telegraph).

We assume that the deal will be financed through the US financed World Monetary Fund or the Export-Import Bank. But, let's go on. See the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE of Mar. 12 for this next bit of news:

"King Carl Gustav XVI of Sweden and a delegation of scientists and business executive visited two Silicon Valley companies and a San Francisco investment banker yesterday on the first day of their week-long tour of West Coast high-technology and engineering companies."

The purpose of this tour, the article explains, is to "establish contacts between scientists and to arrange for exchange of technological research between the two countries."

That's right! After the Swedes threaten that they will shoot down our missiles, we wine and dine their king, and then we proceed to provide them with the technological know-how to do it with.

Maybe the US truly is becoming one big insane asylum; it's for sure that the most dangerous inmates are the ones who are running it.

Share the blame

EDITOR—Congress has good reason to want to distance itself from deficit spending. This is an election year and the Big Spenders fear for their political lives. But these Big Spenders, both Democrats and Republicans, must share the blame for the rocketing budget deficits that are bankrupting the nation. While it is true that the President proposes a budget, the Constitution gives Congress alone the authority to set spending levels. Indeed, Presidential budgeting is a relatively new formality, and legally irrelevant.

The budget process provides an opportunity for Congress, and Congress alone, to end deficit spending. The Congress has, instead, done exactly the opposite, giving us federal deficits 45 times in the last 53 years. President Reagan's budget proposal for Fiscal Year 1983, for instance, called for outlays of $895.3 billion; Congress raised that to $728.4 billion. For fiscal year 1983, Mr. Reagan proposed outlays of $787.6 billion, but presently available figures peg the amount authorized by Congress at $815 billion. Indeed in the 10 years from 1972 to 1982, spending by our government has tripled, and there seems to be no end in sight as Congress contemplates a tax hike to permit the spending spree to continue.

The Grace Commission has now officially provided the Congress with 2,478 recommendations on trimming government that over a three-year period could save $424 billion. Implementation of the Grace task-force recommendations should be a top priority for a Congress serious about ending deficit spending. The urgency was pointed out by Peter Grace in a letter to President Reagan. Mr. Grace wrote: "If fundamental changes are not made in Federal spending, as compared with the fiscal 1983 deficit of $195 billion, a deficit of over 10 times that amount, $2 trillion, is projected for the year 2000. So let's look at all of our public officials that spend our money and let them know we have had enough."

public ministers, judges and consuls, but only with consent of Congress. He may report to Congress from time to time on the state of the Union, but he doesn't have to. He must commission all officers of the United States and "take care that the laws (passed only by Congress) be faithfully executed." Nowhere in the Constitution is he empowered to compile a budget and nowhere is a Congress required to approve any official move the president makes—including a budget. The president is more of a figurehead, a ceremonial head of government. About the only thing he can do without Congressional approval is to open a supermarket or make a speech supporting Easter seals. If he has any other power it's because a weak-kneed, yellow-bellied Congress gave it to him, and it can be withdrawn by Congress in 30 minutes.

for 12th District Judge, Division I

Sandra A. Grisham announces

Sandra A. Grisham today announced her candidacy for Twelfth Judicial District Judge, Division I, Otero and Lincoln Counties.

Asked why she wants to be District Judge, Grisham replied, "Because I care. I care about our legal system, and I care even more about the people whose lives it affects. As District Judge I will have a rewarding opportunity to serve those people and to serve our community."

Ms. Grisham, who was a Williston Research Fellow and Indian Law tutor, graduated from the University

Ms. Grisham, who was a Williston Research Fellow and Indian Law tutor, graduated from the University of New Mexico School of Law in 1973. She was admitted to practice before all New Mexico State Courts, the United States Bankruptcy Court, the United States District Court for New Mexico, the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

She was in private practice in Albuquerque from 1973 until 1978, serving as a Special Assistant District Attorney for Bernalillo County for much of that time. In 1978, Ms. Grisham moved to Alamogordo and has been with the law firm of Durrett, Jordan & Grisham, P.C. since April, 1979. Ms. Grisham is married to Wayne A. Jordan, a fellow attorney and lifetime resident of Otero County.

Ms. Grisham, who describes herself as a "people-oriented" lawyer, was on the Steering Committee for the Regional Resource Center on Child Abuse and Neglect in Austin, TX, and is a member of the Family Law Section of the American Bar Association. Her clients have run the gamut from banks to bankrupts, moms and dads to kids, taxpayers to tax assessors. She's represented colonels and airmen, landlords and tenants, lawmakers and law breakers.

She feels her broad experiences will enable her to come to the bench with an open mind and an ability to weigh and consider all sides of a conflict. Her ability to fashion workable solutions to difficult human problems makes her uniquely qualified for the position of District Judge.

"I believe that a District Judge must be a person of integrity, a person with compassion, and a person knowledgeable in the law," Grisham stated.

Active in civic affairs, Ms. Grisham has been a director of the Arabian Horse Association of New Mexico and chaired the Charter Commission for the City of Alamogordo. She presently chairs the Mayor's Committee on D.W.I. and Alcoholism.

"As District Judge, I will see my role as a dispute resolver and a decision maker. I will make decision for the highest good of all concerned, including the victims in criminal cases."

Born in Washington, DC, while her father was in the Air Force, Grisham then lived on her mother's family ranch in southern Colorado. Her family moved to Albuquerque when she was a child, where her father was an engineer and her mother a teacher. Growing up in a close family with three brothers and a sister, Ms. Grisham believes in preserving families if at all possible and, if not, in dissolving them with the least possible bitterness and the least possible damage to children.

There has been violent cold winds most of last week. Sometimes the clouds look promising but travel on. No moisture.

Opening day of fishing season at Bonito Lake was windy and chilly, but lots of Capitans ventured over there to try their luck at trout fishing. Most everyone had pretty good luck, and several had fresh rainbow trout for supper. Sure tasted good after a winter of frozen fish or none at all.

Sixteen young people from the Sacred Heart Catholic Church CYO groups traveled to Carrizozo on Sunday to attend the Youth Conference sponsored by the Santa Rita Parish. There were approximately 150 youth there from all over the Diocese. Everyone seemed to enjoy the workshops and "Ask the Priest" portion of the conference. It was a relaxed, comfortable atmosphere which made everyone feel very welcome. Good job Father Dave and all others who assisted!

The new houses on West First Street in Capitan are progressing nicely at this time. Each day shows improvement. Those on East Fourth Street, too, are growing. They have had hard times with the weather as it has been cold but they are going forward.

At this time tree trimming is going on. Yards are being cleaned. The feel of spring is in the air. But is a driving cold. Though we do have much to be thankful for.

JANELLE STEWART Alamogordo, NM 88310

AMONG the state judging contest winners were Geneva Maxwell, Kenneth Crenshaw, Joseph Candelaria, James Guevara and Steve Stearns.

State FFA judging contest successful for local chapter

The state judging contest for the FFA was held March 28-31. The Carrizozo chapter was more successful than ever before this year, as they managed to bring home the third place sweepstakes plaque, out of 64 participating schools.

Sweepstakes amounts to the number of percentage points accumulated in each contest area. First place counts for 100 percent and the percentage points are calculated starting at the number of points the first place team earns.

The Carrizozo Agriculture Mechanics team, consisting of Kenneth Crenshaw, Steve Stearns, James Guevara, and Joe Candelaria won first place for the second year in a row and pulled in 100 percentage points. We had three teams in fourth place and they consist of: meats with 93.69 percent, consisted of Mary Jane Ferguson, Geneva Maxwell, Mike Curtis, and Lynn Gallacher; Wildlife with 97.69 percent was Adrien Sanchez, John Roueche, Gray Gallacher, and Zada Maxwell; Farm Management, with only 62.65 percent, consisted of Gray Gallacher, John Roueche, Geneva Maxwell, and Michael Cooper.

Two seventh place teams were wool with 93.25 percent (Mary Jane Ferguson, Geneva Maxwell Lynn Gallacher, and Melody Hefker), and Crops with 93.07 percent (Gray Gallacher, John Roueche, Steve Stearns, and Michael Cooper). The Horse Team (96.86 percent) which consisted of Mike Curtis, Daryl Lindsay, Troy Daniel, and Troy Hollis, won eighth along with the Poultry team of Kenneth Crenshaw, James Guevara, Hal Roueche, and Brian Sanchez.

Our two eleventh place teams were the Land team, with 86.29 percent (Zada Maxwell, Julie Vega, Raymond Williams, and Michael Grant), and the Livestock team, with 86.64 percent, (Mary Jane Ferguson, Geneva Maxwell, Lynn Gallacher, and Jamie Patterson).

The Dairy team of Mechel Kohrs, Tommy Escamilla, Raymond Williams and Duane Vinson placed thirteenth with 90.11 percent. Entomology pulled in a strong fifteenth with 92.15 percent points, and consisted of John Roueche, Gray Gallacher, Zada Maxwell, and Melody Hefker.

As a whole the chapter moved up from thirteenth in sweepstakes, twelfth in crops, seventeenth in Dairy, twenty-first in Entomology, fifteenth in land, twenty-fourth in Livestock, ninth in Meats, ninth in Poultry, nineteenth in wool, and lost on placing in the Farm Management contest. In the Horse contest the team remained the same rank as it was last year.

In addition, there were three High individuals in the contest. Geneva Maxwell was second high in the Meats contest, Kenneth Crenshaw was third high in Ag. Mechanics, and James Guevara was fourth high in the Ag. Mechanics contest.

Carrizozo to host senior track meet for boys and girls

Carrizozo will host a track meet for senior girls and boys Saturday. Each of the five schools will bring 15 to 25 students. Tularosa, Lake Arthur, Magdalena, Quemado and Hondo will be here in addition to Zozo's 20 or more entrants.

The standard track meet will start with field events at 9 a.m. The starter's gun will signal beginning of running events at 10 a.m.

Other Zozo students will be helping with hurdles and the hurdle crew. The school tries to get as many younger students involved as possible.

The senior class is preparing a barbecue dinner to be served after the meet. Cost will be $3.50 for all you can eat. Visiting teams are invited to stay and eat. Parents and local people are also welcome.

At Ruidoso meet

GOP women stress voter registration

Voter registration before the June 5 primary is the focus of Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County. It was decided at their March 28 meeting at Gregson's, Ruidoso.

Members voted to bring to the attention of all Lincoln County residents the need for registering to vote before April 24, the deadline for the June primary.

"Fourteen of our members are deputy registrars," said president Dorothy Smith, "and they are located throughout Lincoln County. They have been certified by the County Clerk's office to do voter registration as well as absentee ballot applications."

Lists of those registrars and their phone numbers will be published in newspapers and radio.

"Anyone who needs to register but cannot get to the Clerk's office can call someone from that list in their neighborhood," said Smith.

In other business, Martha Thiedt was named chairman of the "Working Partners" program. This effort is designed to show how the GOP helps in the community with such activities as blood drives, food for the needy, etc. Smith received this information at the NM State GOP convention in Albuquerque March 17.

Smith and two other delegates presented part of the program following the business meeting. "We heard Joe Skeen, Pete Domenici and Manuel Lujan," she said. Skeen and Lujan are US Representatives and Domenici is a US Senator. "But the person you'll remember is Lou Gallegos, who is running against Bill Richardson for US Rep. District III. He is an excellent speaker who commanded the attention of the hall."

June Tyree noted the convention was "a great place for enthusiasm," and was "well-managed."

For associate member Bill Rawlins, this was his first time at a convention, which he called the "fun part of the political process." Of particular interest to him was a candidate who "didn't know where Lincoln County was—not even Ruidoso. I talked to him and he sure does now!"

The second half of the program was an introduction to cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) given by member Yvonne Lanelli, and American Red Cross volunteer instructor. "This is not to teach you CPR today," she said, "but to encourage you to take the course." She and member Maggie Bohls, who is CPR certified, demonstrated one- and two-rescuer CPR on a manikin and a blocked airway sequence on each other. "I hope all of you will take this course," she urged. "The life you save could be someone you love."

Next meeting will be Tuesday, April 24 in Carrizozo. It will be held in conjunction with the County Commissioner's meeting.

Pennybacker to host Health Fair TV special

Ed Pennybacker, of On Your Behalf, will be the host of a live, hour-long special, Friday, April 6 at 8 p.m. "On Your Behalf Goes Live: Health Fair New Mexico" will provide viewers with the opportunity to call in their questions concerning Health Fair New Mexico.

The Health Fair, sponsored by KOAT-TV, the Albuquerque Tribune, and Bernalillo County

Human Services Coalition, will provide free to low cost health screenings at over 20 locations throughout the state, during the week of April 7-14.

Guests for the live show will include Patsy Nelsons, Project Director of Health Fair New Mexico, and Dr. Ben Daitz, involved with family, community and emergency medicine in Albuquerque.

All-around money saving ideas, hints, advice, solutions, shortcuts for mothers and others.

By POLLY CHAVEZ

ARTIST'S SMOCK

Make a smock to protect your clothing from paint spots by removing the collar from a man's shirt. Turn the shirt front to back. Cut off the shirttails and sew them as large pockets. Stitch in sections for brushes and rags.

KNIC-KNAC SUPPORT

Using household glue attach a tiny ceramic knic-knac to a pocket mirror. The mirror will protect it from falls and also reflect the beauty of the knic-knac. Glue a piece of felt to the bottom of the mirror in order not to scratch furniture or shelf.

TRIANGLE WASTEBASKET

Cut out one side of a cardboard box. Tape together the remaining sides to form a triangle. Wrap the outside of the box with colorful gift wrapping paper. Makes a good desk side wastebasket where floor space is limited.

DRINK CADDY

After filling glasses with beverage, insert one into each space of a muffin tin. Drinks won't spill because glasses can't move around.

PHOTO BRACELET

Make an unusual bracelet by using the case of a broken watch. Remove the clock works, cut a snapshot to size, insert it in the case and replace glass.

SICKBED DESK

Cut a semicircle out of two opposite sides of a large cardboard box to form a tunnel for legs. Cover the box with self-stick shelf paper. The desk will come in handy for doing homework or writing letters.

ASK DR. DAN

Q: What is sports medicine?

A: This is the branch of medicine which includes all medical aspects of care for athletes. Proper nutrition is especially important in order for athletes to perform their best. Many food fads and fables are followed by athletes, often to their detriment. Musculoskeletal problems are especially common in athletes and proper management of these includes diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation of the injured part. A qualified athletic trainer or physical therapist can be of immense help in devising and supervising a rehabilitation program. Because of the intense desire to train and compete of many athletes, the physician needs to be aware of the tendency towards failure to follow treatment plans if they will prevent the athlete from competing. The American College of Sports Medicine has grown rapidly in recent years and many types of medical doctors are members. Most sports physicians have backgrounds in family practice or orthopedic surgery. No formal training programs have been established yet for this new specialized area of medicine. Most physicians learn by working with athletes and their teams and by taking short educational courses.

Q: What is a good blood pressure? W. W.

A: For adults, the upper limits of normal are 140 over 90. This measurement is made in millimeters of mercury. The top figure is the diastolic pressure. In children, different standards are used but they are all lower values. The adult values were chosen because studies have shown that the risks to your health increase rapidly as the values rise above normal. Possible complications of untreated high blood pressure include heart attacks, strokes, kidney and heart failure. Most people have no symptoms of too high blood pressure so periodic checks are important to detect this disease. The death rate from heart disease has been dropping in recent years and authorities believe this is due to more aggressive treatment of high blood pressure (also known as hypertension). Most causes of hypertension are unknown but 5-10 percent of cases have treatable causes. Nondrug therapies which will often lower blood pressure include weight loss, exercise, stopping smoking, eating less salt, and managing stress better through exercises.

Livestock theft is up

Crime Stoppers announces reward for a "most vicious" crime

Carrizozo, N.M. — This crime comes under the heading, "The Most Vicious Crime of All..."

On February 11, 1984, someone caught a little steed and pony belonging to a grandchild of Richard (Pappy) Coon west of Clayton. The offenders tied the pony to a vehicle and ran it a great distance, then dragged the pony on the ground until it was dead.

The extreme act of cruelty has been the subject of a $500 reward offered by Carrizozo Crime Stoppers and the Rancher's Coalition. This week the State Crime Stoppers Commission is adding a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person who was responsible for the crime. Anyone with information about the case is asked to call State Crime Stoppers or Carrizozo Crime Stoppers at 1-800-432-6933. Unfortunately, there has been a rash of thefts and cruelty to animals in other parts of New Mexico as well.

On Friday night or Saturday morning, February 24-25, someone thoughtlessly turned loose 10 horses from their stalls at Union County Fairgrounds in Clayton. As a result, five horses sustained serious injuries when they ran into a barbed wire fence. Union County Crime Stoppers is offering a $500 reward in connection with the case.

Horse thievery also seems to be making a comeback in New Mexico. On March 20, someone cut a lock and chain at the LaBadie Ranchette at San Juan Pueblo and lured a pair of quarter horses out of the corral. One of the horses was a three-year-old sorrel with a white blaze from the forehead to the left nostril and white socks on the back legs. It had a Bar-7-m brand on the right front shoulder.

The second horse was a registered quarter horse but the description is unknown at this time.

Horses haven't been the only targets. Last August a show lamb was stolen from a private corral south of Hurley near Silver City. Evidence indicated the animal had been dragged alive for about 100 feet, then loaded into a vehicle. In a separate incident last year, two sheep were slaughtered and removed from the Coble High School agricultural class barns south of Hurley.

And a Quay County rancher had a hard time getting his pigs to market last year because someone kept stealing his hogs. A total of nine hogs, each weighing approximately 150 pounds, were stolen from Tony Macias in August.

The State of New Mexico takes the theft of livestock very seriously. It is a third-degree felony in the state.

Anyone with information about any livestock thefts is urged to call the State Crime Stoppers Commission toll-free at 1-800-432-6933. Rewards of up to $1,000 are offered for tips that lead to the arrests and indictments of offenders in these types of cases.

Of course, State Crime Stoppers and the 34 local Crime Stoppers programs throughout New Mexico pay cash rewards for information leading to the solution of any major crimes and the capture of wanted persons.

All Callers may remain anonymous.

Summer orientation dates announced at UNM

Dates for this year's student summer orientation program for freshman and transfer students have been set by the Dean of Students Office at the University of New Mexico.

There will be nine one and one-half day sessions this year. All academic advisement, class registration and the Mathematics Placement Examination will be scheduled for the second day of all orientation sessions.

Session dates are: May 29-30; June 6-7; June 14-15; June 25-26; July 10-11; July 18-19; July 26-27; August 8-9; and August 16-17.

For additional information contact Paul K. Woods, assistant dean of students, at 277-3361.

Maurice Hobson

Maurice Hobson announces for re-election for State Representative, District 52

Maurice Hobson has announced his candidacy for reelection to the position of State Representative, District 52. Hobson has served in this position for the past 14 years and is well acquainted with New Mexico's governmental processes. He is presently serving as a member of the Appropriations and Finance Committee, Labor Committee, Printing & Supplies Committee and has served as Minority Whip of the House of Representatives. Hobson is now serving as Chairman of the Sub-Committee of Appropriations and Finance which deals with the State Police, Highway Department, Commerce and Industry and Licensing and Regulations.

Hobson is well-known in the State of New Mexico. He comes from an Otero County pioneer background and is a graduate of Tularosa High School and New Mexico State University. He is associated with Western Insurance, Inc., in Alamogordo and serves as Chairman of the Board. He is a member of Grace United Methodist Church and is active in Alamogordo Rotary Club, Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce Committee of Fifty, the United Way and the Otero County Fair activities.

Hobson has been very dedicated to Otero and Lincoln County constituents. His investigation of the North Scenic extension project resulted in a public response favoring North Florida Improvement Project creating a four lane road from the Alamogordo city limits to Highway 82. The further improvement of Florida from Highway 82 into La Luz will hopefully save lives when this project is completed. Hobson along with the other House members of the Otero County delegation "accomplished a real feat" when they had the Florida Improvement Project amended into Senate Bill Substitute for Senate Bills 10 and 4 during the last days of the special session. Last year, Hobson sponsored a bill that created a Veterans Home in Sierra County at the site of the Old Carrie Tingley Crippled Children's Hospital. The $4.5 million renovation will provide approximately 125 dormitory beds for the New Mexico veterans. He also sponsored a bill for $1.5 million worth of improvements for Elephant Butte and Caballo Lake State Parks. These improvements along with another $580,000 appropriated this year will be a start towards the renovation of our most popular state parks.

Many residents of Otero and Lincoln Counties that visit these parks every summer will be pleased to see the improvements in the bath houses, road, water systems and general operations. "I feel that I am becoming more effective each year as a State Representative and I would like to continue to serve the people of District 52."

Temperatures dropped to 19 degrees Sunday after reaching a high of 60 degrees on the 20th. Moisture on the 27th and 28th was 0.38".

Preceptor Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the home of June Tyree with Linda Cancilla presiding. Topics were: what contributed most in making your life a success — what you were born with, what you developed or what was handed to you?

Members were asked to consider being a part of the Beta Sigma Phi Bed and Breakfast program for traveling members. The listing fee is $2.

The chapter will have an entry in the parade and will have a booth to sell T-shirts during the Summer Festival Aug. 11. Part of this money will go toward the park project. Margaret Teague reported that 50 Russian Olive and 50 green ash trees are on order, and will be delivered late this month to be planted in the park area. After her conference with John Cochran she has decided to apply for federal funds, 25 percent of which will have to be matched locally. Labor will count for part of this. A full plan in three phases will go in with the application. Phase one is the children's park. Approval or disapproval will be made in February of next year. Six members will attend the state convention in Alamogordo in May.

Patricia Perkins presented the program Perspective on Self by Looking at Women. She chose four women to illustrate leadership and concern: Jane Adams and her famous Hull House where social work continues toward fairness for children and the downtrodden; Eleanor Roosevelt, humanitarian, who overcame difficulties to become a social and political influence worldwide; and Elizabeth Blackwell, MD, who overcame prejudice to open the way for women in the field of medicine.

The fourth women chosen was Julian Morgan, architect, who overcame prejudice and was finally accepted by construction workers for her hard work and know how. She designed the Hearst Mansion and felt at the time that it would become much more than a home. It was agreed that "Woman is the cohesive force that holds the country together."

The refreshment table held an Easter bunny with a basket of eggs, a rainbow, and leprechaun and an assortment of goodies including cucumber sandwiches, tuna puffs, sausage balls, vegetables, dip, mandarin orange cake, nuts, mints, tea and coffee. The next meeting will be at the home of Geraldine Perkins on May 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kent and son, Tracey, brought the newest member of the family over from Corrales to introduce her to relatives and friends here. Tammy Lynn Kent was born March 8. John Tracey was happy to welcome a granddaughter to join his three grandsons.

Mrs. Donnie McDaniel and Rusty, Dimmitt, TX were her for four days last week. Rusty stayed on the ranch while Jack Allen and Janet went to Alamogordo Saturday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Mays.

Jamie Carroll is wearing a cast on her arm after a fall off the chute while watching the shearing at the Davidson Ranch last week.

Frank DuBois, Albuquerque, and his brother-in-law, Lacey "Curly" McCarey, Orange, TX, were here Wednesday checking the ranch and getting some fireplace wood for Frank. Lacey was visiting his mother in Albuquerque and went on to California to spend a few days with a son in San Diego. Pat promised his father a glider ride

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Kuykendall and daughter, Tasha, have moved to Gulf Breeze, FL. Ronnie is working on a family history for our library project.

John D. Holleyman and Ned Tiedjin went 28 seconds on three steers to win the Century Team Roping at the New Mexico Cattleman's Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith had as guests for one week Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schmit, Hinkley, MN. Staying overnight Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Garner of Silver City. J. H. "Skeet" Williams and son Jay of Salt Flats, TX stayed Monday night.

Mrs. Jim Hiltzley has spent much of her time the last two weeks in Albuquerque following the death of her mother, Mrs. Bessie Condrey. Mrs. Condrey, 69, had undergone successful back surgery in late January, but later suffered a slight heart attack and strokes. Services were held March 24. She is survived by Mrs. Hiltzley; two sons, Fred of Albuquerque and Gary of San Marcos, CA and five grandchildren. Mrs. Condrey was a frequent visitor here, and the family is deeply appreciative of the many expressions of sympathy from their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Condrey came for an overnight stay with the Hiltzleys before returning home.

Ethel and Mac McGuire spent two days with her brother, Dick Wiegert, and Mrs. Wiegert. They had been called to Louisiana by a death in the McGuire family and were enroute home to 29 Palms, CA

Mrs. John D. Holleyman accompanied Mrs. Elsie McFarland of Lamy to El Paso last week. Mrs. Holleyman visited an aunt and cousin and attended a retirement party for a friend. Mrs. McFarland had a craft show in the Cielo Vista Mall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gibbs were called to Clovis by the death Sunday of Mr. Gibb's mother. Services for Mrs. Ora Mobley were scheduled for Tuesday morning. Survivors include four sons, a daughter and several grandchildren.

Veda Cordova has promised that the Easter bunny will appear at the egg hunt to be sponsored by the Senior Citizens for the one-to-six year olds. She urges everyone to drop in at the Center and see the Easter baskets and sugar eggs the women are making for sale. Youngsters will meet at the Center at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, April 19 and will go from there to the fun.

IT'S THE LAW

New Mexico State Police

compiled by officer randy rhue

Starting this week the New Mexico State Police from Carrizozo (sub-district of Alamogordo district 8) will run an article on the various traffic laws, that will be taken from the New Mexico Motor Vehicle Law Book. This will be run in the Lincoln County News only.

For example, Laws on Speeding, Defective Equipment, Child Restraint, Required Insurance, Litterbugging, etc. We are in hopes that this information will educate and be of some benefit to the public.

We will start off with a very serious law! D. W. I. This law comes under section 66-8-102, PERSONS UNDER THE IN-

FLUENCE OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR OR DRUGS:

It is unlawful for any person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor to drive any vehicle within this state, or of any drug to a degree which renders such person incapable of safely driving a vehicle to drive any vehicle within this state.

Any person who has one-tenth of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in that persons blood is deemed unsafe to drive any vehicle within this state.

The penalty for a violation of this law is: On the first conviction; Imprisonment for not less than 30 days nor more than 90 days or by a fine of not less that $300.00 nor more than $500.00 or both. Instead of a jail term or fine the Court could put such person on probation, where such person would have to attend a school for drunk drivers.

Second or subsequent convictions shall be punishable by imprisonment for not less than 90 days nor more than one year, or by a fine of not more than $1,000.00 or both. There will be (upon conviction) a mandatory jail sentence of not more than 48 hours in the County Jail to be served consecutively.

REMEMBER IT'S THE LAW!

Next Week: Laws on Speeding.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF MEETING AND SALE
CARRIZOZO MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 7
COUNTIES OF LINCOLN AND SOCORRO, NEW MEXICO
GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS
SERIES June 1, 1984
$90,000

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Counties of Lincoln and Socorro, New Mexico will on Tuesday, the 17th day of April, 1984, at the hour of 7:30 p.m., at the School Administration Building, 800 D Avenue, Carrizozo, New Mexico, receive sealed bids and publicly open the same for the purchase of the District's General Obligation School Building Bonds, in the aggregate principal amount of $90,000. Such Board will hold an open regular meeting in the Conference Room of such School Administration Building, in Carrizozo, New Mexico at 7:30 p.m. Mountain Standard Time, on April 17, 1984 to consider such bids, will also award such bonds, adopt a bond resolution and consider such other matters as may properly come before such Board.

DESCRIPTION OF BONDS
 Said bonds will be dated June 1, 1984, will be in the denomination of $5,000 each, and will mature serially in regular numerical order, on the first day of July in each of the years as follows:

Years	Amount
Maturing 1989	$30,000
1990	30,000

both principal and interest being payable in lawful money of the United States of America, at United New Mexico Trust Company, Albuquerque, New Mexico. The bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the District on July 1, 1989 or any interest payment date thereafter at a price of par plus a premium of one percent of the principal amount of each bond so redeemed, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption. Said issue constitutes a portion of the bonds which were authorized at an election held on February 7, 1984, are for the purpose of erecting, remodeling, making additions to and furnishing school buildings and purchasing and improving school grounds and will constitute the general obligation bonds of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, payable from general taxes which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

INTEREST RATE
 The maximum net effective interest rate permitted on said bonds is twelve percent; provided, however, that if the net effective interest rate on such bonds is greater than ten percent per annum (based on the actual price to be paid to the District for said bonds, calculated to maturity according to the standard tables of bond values), such rate must be approved in writing by the New Mexico State Board of Finance, and the District may not issue the bonds before such approval is given. Interest on said bonds will be payable on January 1, 1985, and semiannually thereafter on the first day of July and January in each year until maturity or earlier redemption. It is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest, provided, however, that

(1) no bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity;

(2) the maximum coupon interest rate permitted is twelve percent per annum; and

(3) each interest rate specified must be stated in a multiple of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth of one percent per annum.

BIDS
 Bidders are required to submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest rate of interest and premium, if any, at which such bidder will purchase such bonds.

For informational purposes only, each bidder is requested to specify (b) the total net interest cost to the District in dollars and cents and (c) the stated effective interest rate in a stated percent. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Bid for General Obligation School Building Bonds of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Counties of Lincoln and Socorro, New Mexico", addressed to the Secretary of the Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7 at the School Administration Building, 800 D Avenue, Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301, Carrizozo, New Mexico. Only unconditional bids will be considered. Bids should be submitted on the official bid form which may be obtained from the District's financial consultant (see "INFORMATION" which appears hereafter).

BASIS OF AWARD
 Said bonds will be awarded to the highest and best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Board of Education to reject any and all bids and readvertise. The best bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The bonds will not be sold for less than par and accrued interest, nor shall any discount or commission be allowed or paid in the sale of such bonds. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

GOOD FAITH DEPOSIT
 All bids shall be sealed and, except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a good faith deposit of not less than $1,000 (i.e., two percent of the principal amount of the bonds) either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States and payable to "Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7." Such good faith check shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within thirty (30) days following the acceptance of the bid or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District as liquidated damages and in that event, the Board may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid. If all bids are rejected, the Board shall readvertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

TIME OF AWARD AND DELIVERY
 The Board of Education will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at some bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or Carrizozo, New Mexico or elsewhere at its request and at its expense, within 60 days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within 60 days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding 30 days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder, during said succeeding 30 days, the good faith deposit will be returned and such bidder shall be relieved of any further obligation. The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the District for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the District. It is anticipated that the delivery of the bonds will be on or about June 1, 1984.

INFORMATION
 Information concerning the bonds and the District may be obtained from the District's Financial Advisor Quinn & Co., Inc., 301 Central Avenue Northwest, P. O. Box 528, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87108; (telephones 505-842-1000).

TRANSCRIPT, PRINTED BONDS AND LEGAL OPINION
 The written approval of the New Mexico Attorney General of said bonds as to form and legality will be supplied. The legality of the bonds, in addition, will be approved by Messrs. Hutchison Price Boyle & Brooks, Attorneys at Law, Dallas, Texas and Messrs. Simons, Cuddy & Friedman, Attorneys at Law, Santa Fe, New Mexico, whose unqualified opinions approving the legality of the bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder at no cost to the successful bidder. The opinions will state in substance that the issue of the bonds in the amount aforesaid is valid and legally binding upon the District, and that all of the taxable property in the District is subject to the levy of a tax to pay the same without limitation of rate or amount. The successful bidder (without cost to such bidder) will also be furnished with the printed bonds (with the opinion of Messrs. Hutchison Price Boyle & Brooks printed thereon) and a complete transcript of the legal proceedings, including a no-litigation certificate which will state that no litigation is pending to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof as of the date of the delivery of the bonds affecting their validity or the levy or collection of such taxes for their payment.

The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

GOOD FAITH DEPOSIT
 All bids shall be sealed and, except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a good faith deposit of not less than $1,000 (i.e., two percent of the principal amount of the bonds) either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States and payable to "Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7." Such good faith check shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within thirty (30) days following the acceptance of the bid or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District as liquidated damages and in that event, the Board may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid. If all bids are rejected, the Board shall readvertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

TIME OF AWARD AND DELIVERY
 The Board of Education will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at some bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or Carrizozo, New Mexico or elsewhere at its request and at its expense, within 60 days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within 60 days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding 30 days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder, during said succeeding 30 days, the good faith deposit will be returned and such bidder shall be relieved of any further obligation. The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the District for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the District. It is anticipated that the delivery of the bonds will be on or about June 1, 1984.

INFORMATION
 Information concerning the bonds and the District may be obtained from the District's Financial Advisor Quinn & Co., Inc., 301 Central Avenue Northwest, P. O. Box 528, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87108; (telephones 505-842-1000).

TRANSCRIPT, PRINTED BONDS AND LEGAL OPINION
 The written approval of the New Mexico Attorney General of said bonds as to form and legality will be supplied. The legality of the bonds, in addition, will be approved by Messrs. Hutchison Price Boyle & Brooks, Attorneys at Law, Dallas, Texas and Messrs. Simons, Cuddy & Friedman, Attorneys at Law, Santa Fe, New Mexico, whose unqualified opinions approving the legality of the bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder at no cost to the successful bidder. The opinions will state in substance that the issue of the bonds in the amount aforesaid is valid and legally binding upon the District, and that all of the taxable property in the District is subject to the levy of a tax to pay the same without limitation of rate or amount. The successful bidder (without cost to such bidder) will also be furnished with the printed bonds (with the opinion of Messrs. Hutchison Price Boyle & Brooks printed thereon) and a complete transcript of the legal proceedings, including a no-litigation certificate which will state that no litigation is pending to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof as of the date of the delivery of the bonds affecting their validity or the levy or collection of such taxes for their payment.

New Mexico Heritage. Site 616, Mariana Mesa

By DAVID STUART (c) 1984

Incessant spring winds suck at the gritty floor of Horse Camp Canyon where a frantic jackrabbit, flushed by some rancher's shaggy, blue-eyed dog, darts unerringly between clumps of sage and sparse, wind-blown juniper bushes.

The canyon cuts abruptly through a hump-backed ridge of volcanic rubble, skirts a miniature plateau, then winds toward Route 17, the paved road to Quemado. Dust flying, the jack has made it safely to a maze of potholes dug into the plateau. These mark an area that was once the plaza of an impressive walled pueblo.

Seven hundred years ago the prehistoric occupants of this village, known as "Site 616", on the north flank of Mariana Mesa, abandoned their home, leaving behind nearly all of their possessions. No one has ever discovered why.

Like many other villages in the Zuni highlands, "Site 616" was founded about A.D. 1150. At that time people moved away from lower elevations in the Chaco Canyon district and into surrounding uplands. About 7,300 feet above sea level, easily defended and surrounded by forested mountains and mesas, "Site 616" was typical.

The village began modestly. First, several dugout pitrooms were excavated and roofed over with local timber. Later, linear blocks of cobble and adobe walled rooms were added, a few at a time. Eventually the village's outer walls completely enclosed a rectangle measuring 800 feet long by 650 feet wide. A modern football field would easily have fit inside the central plaza.

"Site 616" was constructed like a huge fort. No windows, doors, or city gates opened to its well-made exterior stone walls. By A.D. 1250 more than 500 rooms faced the plaza and many could be entered only from ladders to the roof. Unlike large towns built 150 years earlier at Chaco Canyon, "Site 616" was but one story in height. A huge "D" shaped kiva, or underground ceremonial room, similar to those found today in the Rio Grande Pueblos, was located in one corner of the plaza.

In another area investigators found a real rarity — a 30 foot oval had been excavated into the plaza's floor. This proved to be a spiral rampway and led down a dozen feet to a shallow well. "Site 616" had an emergency water supply in case of attack! At the well's bottom a dense layer of gray clay, overlaid by sand, trapped water seeping from the volcanic slope behind the pueblo. Clay from the well was also used to make much of the village's everyday cooking ware.

In prehistoric New Mexico, essential tools such as stone mauls, drills, or arrowheads had to be painstakingly manufactured by hand. Even roof timbers, hand cut with inefficient stone axes, were usually too valuable to abandon. So the inhabitants of most settlements took away nearly every usable item, including building materials, when they migrated to new farmsteads or fled from attackers. That is why most archeological sites yield only fragments of broken and discarded artifacts.

But "Site 616" was different. Huge quantities of prehistoric artifacts were found in place as if the populace had merely walked off one day, leaving behind all their possessions — a treasure trove of information about everyday life in the A.D. 1200's.

Several bushels of plant seeds were found. Most were from pigweed and cactus — corn itself was scarce. Pronghorn antelope, mule deer, bison, turkey, rabbit, and bighorn sheep were regularly eaten, unlike the meat-scarce diet of earlier Chaco and Mimbres villagers. Quantities of jewelry and semi-precious stones were found. Beetles, frogs, bats, and birds were created from shell, jet, turquoise, or reddish-jasper. Stone, bone, and shell beads were manufactured. Then, as now, fine cylindrically ground strands of "heishe" were highly prized. An ingenious variety of needles, awls, scrapers, whistles, finger rings, tubes, and figurines were fashioned from the bones of hunted animals.

Why would anyone walk away and leave all this? Only a few poignant clues remain. Near the well several of the inhabitants had fallen to violence, never buried. Nearby, charred roof beams attest to unchecked fires. Elsewhere a young girl had been killed with an axe-blow to her forehead, her right arm severed at the elbow, as she lingered on a roof top. The room below was then put to the torch. She fell, already dead, as the partly burned roof caved in, only to be rediscovered 700 years later — the remains of a delicate necklace of fine jet beads still at her throat. These beads are eloquent testimony that general looting, inevitably following the fall of so rich a village to armed victors, never came.

In the 13th century a stunning drought destroyed agriculture throughout the southwest and dozens of villages were abandoned nearly simultaneously, but most were stripped bare of valuables as folks drifted away. Was there simply no one left to claim "Site 616's" prized possessions? We will probably never know.
