

County Commissioners meet-

Historic Board is appointed

By RUTH HAMMOND
Lincoln County Commissioners accepted nominations for the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board at their meeting Tuesday. All nominations had to be made in writing. A total of 31 nominations were received. The Lincoln Historic Preservation Ordinance will go in effect July 10. The new board members appointments will become effective on that date also. Ofelia Salas and Leota Pfingsten were appointed for terms that will end Dec. 1984. Betty Schrecengost and James Beal, D.D.S. were appointed for terms that will end Dec. 1985. Pat Ward was appointed member-at-large. The member-at-large appointment will end Dec. 1985. After these expiration dates, all appointments will be for a two year term. Commissioners asked that the new board members appear at the next meeting, July 17. It will be the duty of the new board members to enforce the Lincoln Historic Preservation Ordinance. Other business conducted at the regular meeting: Jay Crouch, Jr. asked that county road B-022 be closed.

Clem Weindorf, Curtis Payne, and Walter Le Macher were appointed to a road committee to look into the possibility of closing the road. Frankie Silva was appointed alternate.

Bonner Bonnell Sand & Gravel had the low bid of $38,758 for chips.

Ordinance 84-2, known as the Lincoln County Live Music Security Ordinance was adopted. It requires organizers of dances, rodeos, parties, festivals, night club entertainment, or like endeavors in which alcoholic beverages are served and which is conducted for profit within Lincoln County, utilizing a live music band, provide adequate security for the area and duration of the event. Adequate security shall be no less than one uniformed, licensed and bonded security person for each one hundred people in attendance.

Ordinance no 84-3 was adopted. It regulates excavation requiring persons to give notice of intent to excavate, providing for emergency excavation, and providing penalties for violations. The ordinance was approved with the stipulation that Paul Crown be appointed as enforcement officer. Crown is enforcement officer for the utility council. The ordinance covers an area within five miles outside the corporate limits of the village of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs. Any person planning to dig in the area is required to notify the Utility Council at least 48 hours prior to excavation.

The joint powers agreement between Lincoln County and the city of Ruidoso for the housing and care of prisoners was approved.

A variance request from Rancho Ruidoso Valley Estates was tabled.

A letter was received from Durwood Jones, asking that a road in Red Cedar subdivision be paved and assessing the cost against the property. A letter received from W D Patterson concerning 17 miles of roads in Alto Village suggested establishing a taxing district which would be for the sole purpose of Alto Village. These letters were referred to county manager Suzanne Cox. It must be clarified which roads are involved, and an engineer's estimate on costs before letters will be sent to property owners asking their opinion.

The Soil and Water Conservation Division asked that the board of commissioners accept designation as the management agency responsible for planning and implementation of water quality management programs for sediment for Lincoln County.

Management agency designation has a threefold purpose: (1) that the designated management agency accepts responsibility for implementing specific plan strategies; (2) that it is determined that the management agency has adequate legal authority and administrative and financial capability for implementation; (3) that methods for reporting to and coordination with the Water Quality Control Commission are formally established.

Wolf Creek Estates and Wolf Springs subdivisions requested a variance for roads to be 25 feet wide instead of 28 feet wide. Planning and Zoning had approved with the stipulation that these roads can never be tied in to another subdivision. Commissioners agreed with their decision.

The replat of lots 25 through 30, Unit 4, Alto Village Deer Park Woods, Townhomes was approved.

Senior Citizens budget was approved.

The proposed amendments to subdivision regulations passed by the P & Z will be advertised and brought before commissioners at the next meeting.

County Road Superintendent Guy Henley gave a progress report and asked for temporary help until the chipping is completed. Commissioner Nosker asked if the county could hire high school students for flagmen for the temporary help. It takes

1st Annual-

Fly-In a great success

Carrizozo's first Fly-In was a 'Great success', according to airport manager Mel Carl and his wife Mame. Well over 200 people attended the event celebrating the re-opening of the airport after extensive renovation.

Airport committee chairman Dale Goad started frying donuts before 7 a.m. Saturday in anticipation of the 27 airplanes that arrived Goad said of the day, "It is the most fun I've had in a long time."

It was cloudy Saturday morning with patches of blue showing through. Two planes were in the air getting ready to land at 7:50. The first plane was on the ground at 7:53 and three planes were being tied down by 8 a.m.

Activities included skydivers, a sky writer, radio controlled miniature aircraft, flour bombing, spot landing, paper airplanes for the kids, and a free brunch.

Doug Benoit and Doug Gallow, from Alamogordo, made a spectacular entrance by jumping from a Cessna 182 at 10:15. Sky diving, as the sport is called, is where the divers jump from the plane at about 13,000 feet, reach a top speed of 120 miles per hour after 10 seconds of free falling, and continue to free fall for 40 seconds during which time they do aerobatics before opening their parachutes.

The colorful rectangular parachutes are shaped like an air mattress. Benoit said they are closer to being like a hang glider than the traditional round parachutes. A round parachute will fly at five miles per hour and very little wind is needed.

The rectangular parachute costs three times as much as the round one and will fly at 20 miles per hour. Landing is made at 20 miles per hour and wind is needed for a softer and easier landing. Benoit said if there had been any wind he would have made a one leg stand landing.

Both sky divers have been jumping eight years. Benoit made his first jump March 21, 1976. He was in the army based at White Sands Missile Range and was bored with nothing to do. Strangely enough, Benoit said he is afraid of heights. He does not like to be close to the edge of a tall building. He said that during the free fall phase of sky diving he is unaware of the height. When two divers lock hands and do their aerobatics, they see each other at a close range and that is their only reference point. They do not feel as if they are falling. He went on to say, "It is a feeling that can not be described."

Benoit's jump into Carrizozo was his 922nd jump. All jumps are logged and he is on his fifth log book. He has never broken any bones and still gets nervous on the first jump of the weekend. He owns the airplanes but is not interested in learning to fly.

Each sky diver packs his own parachute. They carry two chutes piggyback. The backup chute is packed by a FAA certified rigger. Whether or not they have been used, each backup parachute gets re-opened, checked, and re-packed every four months.

Benoit is vice president of a sky diving club at Holloman. About 20 members in the club jump weekends in Alamogordo. Last week a woman made her first jump and was thrilled. Sky divers start with round parachutes and after 30 or so jumps begin using the rectangular chutes.

Benoit still works at White Sands as an electronics engineer. He jumped into Carrizozo at the golf course on July 4, 1981. He hopes to get his 1,000th jump by September. When asked if he did not like landing in an airplane, he said, "I avoid it if at all possible."

Fellow jumper Doug Gallow is with the weather service at Holloman. Gallow and Benoit left Carrizozo before noon and planned to jump back into Alamogordo.

Maurice Morgan from Holloman AFB brought two miniature aircraft that were radio controlled. He said they prefer to not be called model airplanes. A transmitter is used to control the aircraft.

Morgan builds his own miniature aircraft from balsa wood. He had a yellow cub quarter scale and a smaller red aircraft. They are various sizes and use various sized engines. Fuel for the small planes is called glow fuel. It is a mixture of alcohol, a lubricant such as castor oil or synthetic oil, and a very small quantity of nitro.

Morgan has been active with miniature aircraft for 18 or 19 years. He belongs to a club and said club members have one million dollars worth of liability insurance. He said it is not often that claims are made against the insurance. He is a member of the Americal Modelers Association.

Capitan hires-

FB coach, elementary principal, counselor

Gary Thompson has been placed under contract by the Capitan Board of Education and will be the new head football coach for the 1984-85 school year.

Thompson has coached on the high school level in Nebraska, California, Iowa, and comes to Capitan from Cripple Creek, Colorado where he coached last year. He has also coached at the University of Northern Colorado at Greeley and Peru State College in Nebraska.

Coach Thompson will also assist with basketball and track. His other teaching duties will include health, social studies, and physical education.

The University of Nebraska awarded Thompson a scholarship but because of injury Thompson decided to attend Doane College in Crete, Nebraska. This school had a 29-0-2 record while Thompson was playing there.

Thompson is married and has two boys of high school age. He has a bachelor and a masters

The Charlie Russell (KHEY) Band will play for dances on both July 3 and July 4. There will be a big barbecue on July 4 beginning at 11:30 a.m. See the Queen of Lincoln County crowned on July 4 at 1:30 p.m.

The rodeo producer this year is the Edker Wilson Rodeo Company.

Rodeo books close at 12 p.m. on June 29. Walt Jones is the Rodeo secretary.

June 30 has been declared a workday at the fairgrounds in Capitan and volunteers are needed to get things ready for the big holiday.

PILOT MARY Mary Spencer, passengers Aaron Cooper and Ted Cooper prepare to take off to compete in spot landing and flour bombing contests at Saturday's fly-in. Cooper, standing outside the aircraft, was Spencer's flour bombing partner.

DEAR EDITOR- I visited your airport fly-in today, and was very impressed by the community wide effort that was evidenced.

This publication will run a feature on the event, your community and it's aviation oriented people in the next possible issue.

We will be sure to send a copy to the Lincoln County News. While at the airport I received excellent assistance from Ruth Hammond, Dr. Dale Goad, Mel and Mame Carl, their son Chuck, Scott Shafer and many others. I noticed your reporter-photographer, Polly Chavez, covering the event, and would appreciate your sending me a copy of your issue that includes the fly-in coverage.

BUSINESS AWARENESS

Three local youths were among the 160 students participating in Business Awareness Week (BAW) on the campus of New Mexico State University at Las Cruces. Chosen to represent Carrizozo High School were Zada Maxwell, Adrien Sanchez and Linda Garcia. The June 17 through June 23 event concluded with a banquet in NMSU's Corbett Center Ballroom for a celebration of the week's accomplishments.

The BAW program was arranged and taught almost exclusively by businessmen. Businesses, large and small, individuals and organizations across the state contributed to finance the week at NMSU.

The students competed in computer game, formed 'companies' and listened to talks such as 'What is Business', 'What Business Means to a Community' and 'Free Enterprise - Option or Necessity?'

Former Astronaut Harrison

"Jack" Schmitt gave the keynote address at Business Awareness Week. He has the extraordinarily varied experience of a geologist, scientist, astronaut, pilot, administrator, educator, writer, and United States Senator.

Senator Schmitt was a Senate leader in issues dealing with science and technology, energy, space, mission- and cost-effective defense, intelligence activities, health research and preventive medicine, education, deregulation, and savings and investment.

Harrison Schmitt is now consulting, speaking, and writing on a wide-range of business, nonprofit foundation, and government activities. He brings to the formulation of complex public and business policy issues, a unique breadth of experience ranging from the scientific to the practical and from the administrative to the political.

VISIT FRIENDS

Donna Shepperd was in town this week from Hemet, CA. She was with family friends and neighbors, Tom and Minnie Phillips who were on their way to Federalsburg, MD to visit Tom's relatives. Others who accompanied Donna on the cross-country trip were the Phillips' daughter and son, Starla and Eddie and their friends Mary Jo Brehm and Gray Hill.

While here Donna visited with former Zozo classmates. Donna and friend Starla are 1984 Heme; High graduates. The California travelers will make stops in Disney World in Florida and Washington, DC.

Information should be printed or typed for legibility. Make sure all names are spelled correctly. A photograph should be black and white if one is to be included with the engagement and-or wedding story.

ALUMNI GATHERING

Carrizozo High School Alumni Association have planned several activities for former students who will attend this weekend's annual reunion. The school library will be open for registration beginning at 1:00 p.m. until 4 this Saturday. Refreshments will be served. That evening a dance will be held at the Recreation Center. (See ad in this issue for details.)

Sunday, a potluck picnic will be held at Spencer Park. The association will furnish soft drinks. Proceeds of the dance are earmarked for the groups CHS Alumni scholarship. This year's recipient was 1984 graduate Stephanie Saucedo.

REMEMBER WHEN

The Class of 1959 received their diplomas 25 years ago. I thought it would be interesting to roll back the years by taking note of a few details of the event. Among the graduates were Marilyn Harkey, Joe Petty, Luis Sandoval, Patrick Aguilar, Tony Delgado, Angie Chavez, Lloyd Zumwalt, Aurelia Gutierrez, Rachael Najar, Clara Nell Burns, Jack Heffer, Andrea (Ventura) Guthrie, Mary Alice King, Ralph Petty Jr., Harry Rickerson, Maxie Saucedo, Pat Vigil, Eddie Bob Hemphill, Sonny Shrum, Julie Robinson and Buddy Duncan.

M. F. Stubbs of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology at Socorro was the commencement speaker. Opal McBrayer played the processional and recessional at the piano. The girls' chorus, under the direction of music teacher Richard Carabajal, sang 'He'.

Scholarship awards were made by Frank C. Wagner, high school principal, who presented the class to Ralph Petty Sr., president of the school board for award of diplomas. Marilyn Harkey was the valedictorian and Joe Petty the salutatorian.

PROUD MOMS

Four members of the class of 1959 were sons or daughters of former graduates of Carrizozo High. Those parents were invited to be platform guests at the commencement exercises. When the senior's name was called, the parent stepped forward to award the diploma. Mrs. Catheline Cornett, Mrs. Alice King, Mrs. Zane Petty and Mrs. Ruth Rickerson awarded diplomas to Eddie Bob Hemphill, Mary Alice King, Ralph Petty Jr., and Harry Rickerson.

New pastor at First Baptist Church

The Carrizozo First Baptist Church has a new pastor. He is John R. Torrison who arrived last week with his wife Trudy and daughter Jamie, age 6, who will be enrolled in the first grade here in the fall.

Pastor Torrison will receive his Associate of Divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, TX, on July 13, 1984. He was licensed to preach in 1981 by the First Baptist Church, Bosque Farms, NM, and ordained in 1982. The Carrizozo church will be his first full-time work as a minister. Prior to devoting his full-time to the ministry, Pastor Torrison worked at the Sandia Laboratory in Albuquerque as a Senior Pulse Power Technician for K-Tech Corp. He served in the US Navy from 1970-78.

Pastor Torrison has done extensive work with churches in Texas and New Mexico. He has supply preached at First Baptist Church in Bosque Farms; served as teacher and director in the Sunday School, Brotherhood and Christian discipleship program there, and was associate minister of Evangelism-discipleship and Adult I and II SS teacher at Wilshire Terrace Baptist Church, Euless, TX.

"My family and I are real excited to be here in Carrizozo and are looking forward to a good ministry in serving the church and community," Pastor Torrison said.

Summer jobs —

ALBUQUERQUE — Thirteen Lincoln County youth are working this summer because of a state Employment Security Department project, ESD Secretary Daniel Lopez said.

He said the project hires youth between the ages of 14 and 21, places them at job sites across the county, and pays them the federal hourly minimum wage of $3.35 per hour for 20 hours a week. He said the summer employment project will run for nine weeks.

"In addition to the summer jobs, we are also providing job counseling for the youth, and helping them prepare for jobs later on in their lives," Lopez said.

The program will pump more than $7,500 into the county's economy this summer, Lopez noted.

Where Are Those Certificates?

As the West was being settled up it wasn't unusual to find dug-outs, houses dug into the side of a hill and other types of habitations built to keep safe a man's family and his valuables.

But times change, families move and where are those certificates. The marriage certificate, birth certificates, army discharge, stock certificates. You remember distinctly putting some away, in the bureau drawer, in a shoe box on the highest closet shelf but wouldn't it be a much better idea to come to our bank and rent a safe deposit box? This would insure lasting safety to those valuable papers.

Please ask about SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES, at our banks in CARRIZOZO, VAUGHN and ESTANCIA. The various sizes of boxes will accommodate and keep safe those documents that all of our families need to keep.

This area did have nine tenths of an inch of good gentle rain last week. There are hot, humid days, then partly cloudy cool ones. Everything is so fresh and green. The nights have been cool.

The tourists are truly enjoying the Smokey Bear Museum. This last week there were 1,352 registered visitors, there in. One day there was a bus tour of 40 from different states which came from Albuquerque.

Last Friday there was a field trip of 31 from Ruidoso. Another was a group of 16 Royal Ambassadors from the Monterey Baptist Church in Lubbock, TX.

Sunday, June 24 Homer Pickens' daughter and family were the happy visitors. They seemed so happy and enjoyed it so much. Homer said he would be here for Smokey's Stampede Day. Homer was the assistant

Country Fair this Sunday

Activities start at 11 a.m. Fun events will include: horseshoe tournament, coin toss, log chopping contest, pie eating contest, frisbee toss, pie baking contest, homemade burritos, wet sponge contest, nachos, greased pig chase (followed by greased pig auction), snow cones, pretty baby contest, bingo, and volleyball games.

Everyone is invited. For more information contact: Jerri Wilson, 354-2792.

state game warden at the time Smokey was rescued and he flew him to Washington DC.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met June 21 at the very pleasing and comfortable home of Maureen Sullivan. Members present were Frankie Tonn, who is in California and Gladys Pew, who is having problems with her broken wrist.

Maureen had the following guests: Elaine Beaudry, Iris Crane, Maudie Crockett, Louise Ferguson, Margie Gamots, Angie Provine and Pauline Whittaker. The hostess served Hawaiian Chicken, scalloped potatoes and her homemade bread. Members furnished the salads, vegetables and dessert.

A short business meeting was conducted by the vice-president Maureen Sullivan in the absence of Gladys Pew.

For the program Pauline Whittaker demonstrated the Hawaiian Hula dance. Her grass skirt made it very realistic. Following her dance Iris Crane showed pictures of Hawaii, also Alaska and Pauline Whittaker was the narrator.

Margie Gamots won the raffle. The next meeting will be at the home of Harriet McGinnis.

Robbie Runnels had a fine vacation in Tulsa, OK fishing with his grandfather. They caught quite a few very nice striped bass. Robbie also went to White Water in Oklahoma City, where they have the wave machine.

Everyone be sure to remember the Country Fair '84 at Sacred Heart Church in Capitan on Sunday afternoon. There will be lots of games, good food, and bunches of fun. Everyone is welcome regardless of age, sex, or religion. It's just a day of brotherhood and good times.

Congratulations to Shelley Eldridge, Grady Le Eldridge, and Tanya Payton, all of Capitan. They each won an event at the NMJRA Rodeo held in Capitan this past weekend. Shelley and Tanya each won their age group in goat tying, and Grady Le won the bull dogging and placed in calf roping and team roping. They were competing against young cowboys and cowgirls from all over the state of New Mexico. Gid Allen placed third in the bull dogging. Other Capitan youngsters competing were Jim Bob Allen, Jim Leslie, Rachel Lacy, Rhonda Mohtoya, Becky Barber, Brian Parker, and Cody Wilson. All did their best to represent Capitan. Also, thanks to Jack King and Mark Daugherty for their announcing job. It was Mark's first stab at it and he did great! Rick Richardson did a fine job of organizing everything and all the help from everyone involved was greatly appreciated. As usual...It was a good rodeo.

Remember the Pony Express Race on Aug. 4. Get those horses in shape, your dancing shoes polished, and your ropes limber for the race, dance, and rodeo! For information, call Robert at 354-2778 or Ginny at 338-8132.

Members of the Capitan 4-Horse Club went to Albuquerque June 11-14. These members were Jessica Livingston, Jay Eldridge, Jennifer Eldridge, Toni Crane, Chad Sealy, Kelly Witter, Nicki Ponder and sponsor Linda Ponder.

They schooled their horses in such things as leading, reining and basic showmanship. This was a very helpful clinic to them all and they had a great time.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Loomis and their son Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Loomis and family of Koss, TX visited friends in Capitan and this area all of last week. It was good to see them again. They lived in Capitan for many years and we have missed them.

Welcome to Joseph and Sonya Hamm of Ruidoso who became new residents of Capitan in the Mountain View subdivision. Happy birthday to Joseph whose birthday was June 23 and many more. We wish them many years of good health and happiness with us.

Georgia Maples birthday was June 22. I wish her many more healthy and happy years.

Paulette Crane and two daughters are vacationing in Huntington, TX at this time.

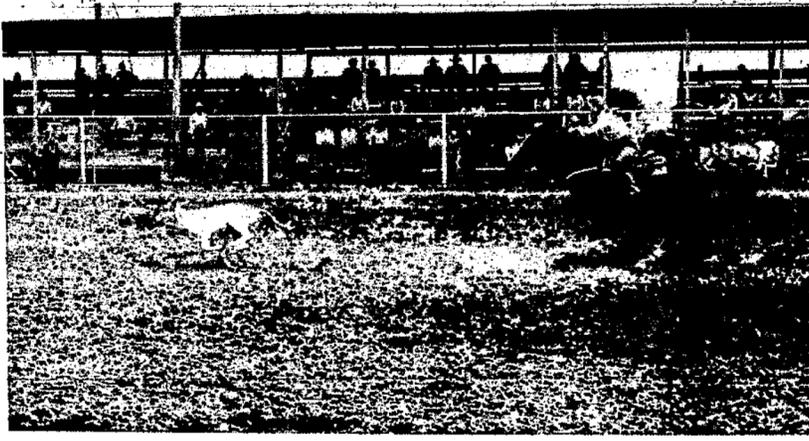

We were saddened with the news that Glen Whitter passed away in Albuquerque June 15 after a brief illness. He was laid to rest in Texas. They were new residents of Capitan. Mrs.

Whitter was a Hagee and was reared in Capitan in the 1930s. I do extend my heartfelt sympathy to her.

Lets give our Ann Goodwin encouragement in her work with the Lioness president work for she has done a complimentry job. Capitan is very proud of her. We do mean this. She received a notice of the final results of the auction which netted $50,000.00, $8,000 of which was from the goodies from Lincoln County. It stated that the big part of that was due to her and her hard working.

Ann felt that everyone would be interested in the final results of the auction. She wants everyone to know how much she appreciated their help. That was great work. You did a good job. Thank you, for sharing it with us. It does make us realize just how much we can help when we are called on little things that are needed and that are of no significance to us. Tell us when we are needed.

WATCH Over Washington

By LES KINSOLVING

WASHINGTON — QUESTION: "In your setting up this commission (on organized crime) under Judge (Irving) Kaufman of New York, you specified drugs. Are you at all concerned about Bob Woodward's report of widespread use of cocaine at The Washington Post? Or do you kind of shuff it off by explaining that it illustrates a lot about why The Post publishes some of the things it does?"

PRESIDENT REAGAN: "I can only say, in regard to that question, that you are tempting me almost beyond my strength."

This exchange between y'r lumble and obt. svt. and the President of the United States was nationally televised over four networks. It was quoted verbatim in The New York Times and reported in the daily USA Today, among other coverages.

For those who are foolish enough to depend on The Washington Post for their news, however, it was as if this never happened. For The Post refused to report President Reagan's undeniably newsworthy and hilarious response to this question about The Post's latest embarrassment.

This humiliation was due, once again, to the towering stupidity of Post Executive Editor Benjamin C. Bradlee, whose previous triumphs have included the Janet Cooke Scandal; the brawl over one comic strip and a serialized sex story; and the vulgar pseudo-apology to President Carter for publishing a rumor about the bugging of Blair House, when the Reagans were guests. (Not to mention Mrs. Bradlee's atrocious story about the allegedly unzipped fly of Zbigniew Brzezinski — which The Post promptly retracted.)

When we tried to reach Mr. Bradlee for comment, we were informed that he had someone in his office. That this someone was Post board chairman Katherine Graham, on the morning after this nationally televised Post embarrassment, suggests that the long-rumored Bradlee retirement may be close at hand.

The whole mess began on June 7 when Bob Woodward, The Washington Post's Assistant Managing Editor for Investigative Reporting and Pulitzer Prize-winning co-star of The Post's Watergate Triumph, appeared on CBS Morning News. Woodward was a guest in order to promote the sale of his book

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

BY Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Before he left for Europe, Governor Anaya named some people to high posts. After he did so, he criticized those of us in the media for not telling the story of those appointments in the right order.

He feels that naming a Cabinet Secretary in this case, Leo Griego to be head of the Department of Natural Resources—is more important than naming Bob Gold, already on the Governor's staff, to a higher position.

Most of the news people led with the Gold appointment, and only got to the Griego one deep in the story.

Here, as often, there was method in our madness.

SYMBOLISM: Most people who cover the capital regularly were not surprised at the Griego appointment. Leo was already acting as the head of the department which has now been put permanently into his hands, and it had become increasingly obvious that the Governor was not willing to name somebody else to the post. If he had been, the deed would have been done earlier.

So naming Leo was a sort of ho-hum, as far as we were concerned.

The Gold appointment was bigger news, some felt, because it created a whole new post in the Anaya administration.

So far, the Governor has only had two people who were designated as executive assistants. They are Bob McNeill, sometimes referred to as the chief of staff, and Harvey Fruinan, Anaya's longtime law partner.

Suddenly, he decided to take on a third, without telegraphing the punch to any of us.

Since these men are what you might call his senior counselors, we consider them of supreme importance, even if their titles (and maybe their paychecks) aren't as prepossessing as those of full-fledged Cabinet Secretaries.

To put it crudely, we think they have a lot more clout.

REALITY: It is simply true that the people who serve in the White House itself have more power than those whose offices are across the street in the Executive Office Building, not to mention Cabinet members who are spread all over the District of Columbia.

Proximity is worth a lot of points in the political game.

The closer you are to the ear, the closer you are to the mind, where the reason is, and the will, where the orders come from.

In addition, observers on the scene have long felt Anaya badly needed somebody of just Gold's qualifications sitting at his right hand. That position, as many see it, has been occupied too solely by attorneys, some of whom appreciate little or nothing about the workings of business.

BACKGROUND: Gold has a unique experience in that area. For 11 years he was executive secretary for the New Mexico Retail Association. In that job, he had to come to understand management problems in businesses from the very small mom-and-pop operation to those of the biggest chains operating in the state.

Having that knowledge available to Anaya may be a help, especially since the Governor himself keep saying in office will be what he does for the state's economy.

Gold can help there. That's why he matters.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Reverse discrimination

DEAR EDITOR—Re: The news in the paper about the Mexican aliens law that was passed and I believe if we are refusing the Mexicans from working in the United States we should stop all immigrants. This would include the Indians if they want to continue claiming that they are a sovereign nation (a foreign country).

The modern Indian is not the same Indian when the settlers came here, as they mixed ethnic and don't have to be more than 1/4 Indian to receive Indian rights.

So I would call this reverse discrimination for the non-Indians taxpayers to continue paying for their lawyers to lobby in Washington against the people of the United States to get the things they are asking for that is more than any other citizen gets.

They want to get rid of the BIA and receive the money directly so they can be on their own, but by the time all the big salaries are paid, there is not enough money left to help the welfare of all the people on the reservation.

So the non-Indian taxpayers are continuing to say that the reservations should come in under the jurisdiction of the states they reside in and have a government that is under the laws of the state as a whole.

They would find out that they could get more industries and businesses to come on the reservation if they just pay their taxes to the state and then it would be returned to each municipalities and counties in revenue sharing and they would have to learn what it is to be on their own and stay with a budget they can live with.

The way things are going, the old saying is that they want their cake and eat it too.

The Tribal Chairmen have stated that if he Indians would all trade on the reservation, the people off the reservation would starve to death, but it seems it is the other way around, if the non-Indian taxpayers withheld money that is going for the reservations, they would be the ones that would starve.

So it is time to decide whether the Indians want to stay on the reservations or become and act like all other American citizens.

To the story about the rattlesnake, I believe if you will go back to about 1935 or 36 you will find that there was a rattlesnake killed near the Manito volcano opening, and it was either six or seven feet. It was skinned and put on a board and was hung in Rollands Drug store for years.

I believe that the oldtimers that went to school with me will verify this as it was killed with a 22 rifle. (Lived in Carrizozo from 1927 to 1937).

Sheriff attends national conference

President Ronald Reagan was on hand to speak to 2,800 sheriffs during the annual conference of the National Sheriffs' Association (NSA) in Hartford, CT.

Among the sheriffs was Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan, president of the New Mexico Sheriffs' Association. Sullivan represented the state at the 44th annual convention held June 17-20.

Sullivan said that the highlight of the event was the presence of the president of the United States who supports pro law enforcement legislation. Reagan told the sheriffs that the appeals court has made a mockery out of our criminal justice system and that it was time to consider the rights of victims rather than the rights of criminals.

The conference sessions, seminars and committee meetings are part of the efforts of NSA, who has led the nation's sheriffs' search for excellence in the performance of law enforcement, corrections, and services to the courts. Sheriffs look to NSA for professional assistance, education and training. The annual informative conferences are the most important part of the NSA program for professional development.

This year 25 seminars on a variety of subjects were presented by recognized experts from sheriff's departments, federal agencies, and the private sector. The seminars, which offer opportunities for enhancing professional knowledge and skills, are certified by the National Association of State Directors of Law Enforcement Training for state and local use.

Seminars topics included 'Update on US Supreme Court Decisions', 'Family Support to the Officer Under Stress', 'Juvenile Removal from Adult

Jails', 'Psychological Profiling in Violent Crime Investigations', and 'Drug Abuse Prevention and Suppression.'

Sullivan said the conference was attended by some sheriffs who head thousands of deputies and some sheriffs who head a staff of six. The event offered sheriffs an insight on how other department - large and small - differ in their approach in handling situations.

Nearly 250 exhibits booths were part of the conference presentation of new ideas, techniques, services, and products. This year's exhibition was the largest and most varied. Among the 'tools of trade' displays were radar and drug detection equipment, jail stulles, weapons, cars, boats, attack dogs and even a robot.

The robot, 'ARES' (Auxiliary Robotic Educational System), is a remote controlled mobile robot that makes learning a fun experience and has proven to be an entertaining and effective method for communicating to children serious public safety messages.

The five foot, four inch police robots can be painted in department colors and each include a custom-designed travel trailer, also painted in the base color of the department. The 180 pound robot, affixed with hat, arm patches and a badge can carry a conversation and move at variable speeds. The robots feature a color TV monitor and video player.

If a sheriff's budget does not allow for a robot officer, the customized robot is often undertaken as a project of local businesses and service clubs at a cost of $14,750. Featured appearances of the robot at meetings and public places draw attention to the positive role that the law enforcement agency plays within the community.

IT'S THE LAW New Mexico State Police

compiled by officer randy thue

Now that I am back from a good vacation I will continue with the weekly article of IT'S THE LAW. I left off with STARTING FROM A PARKED POSITION and will continue with REQUIRED SIGNALS FOR TURNING.

66-7-325: TURNING MOVEMENTS AND REQUIRED SIGNALS:

A.) No person shall turn a vehicle at an intersection unless the vehicle is in proper position upon the roadway as required in section (66-7-322 already given), or turn a vehicle to enter a private road or driveway or otherwise turn a vehicle from a direct course or move right or left upon a roadway unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety. No person shall so turn any vehicle without giving an appropriate signal in the manner hereinafter provided in the event any other traffic may be affected by such movement.

B.) A signal of intention to turn right or left when required shall be given continuously during not less than the last one hundred (100) feet traveled by the vehicle before turning.

C.) No person shall stop or suddenly decrease the speed of a vehicle without first giving an appropriate signal in the manner provided herein to the driver of any vehicle immediately to the rear when there is opportunity to give such signal.

66-7-326: SIGNALS BY HAND AND ARM OR SIGNAL DEVICE:

A.) Any stop or turn signal when required herein shall be given either by means of the hand and arm or by a signal lamp or lamps or mechanical device except as otherwise provided in subsection b.

B.) Any motor vehicle in use on a highway shall be equipped with, and required signal shall be given by, a signal lamp or lamps or mechanical signal device when the distance from the center of the top of the steering post to the left outside limit of the body, cab or load of such motor vehicle exceeds twenty-four (24) inches, or when the distance from the center of the top of the steering post to the rear limit of the body or load thereof exceeds fourteen (14) feet. The latter measurement shall apply to any single vehicle also to any combination of vehicles.

Section 66-7-325 is pretty much self explanatory. Just remember that if you don't signal your intention to make a turn or change lanes of travel that the person behind or in front of you will not know that you are going to turn, and that may cause an accident.

Section 66-7-326 is just telling you that all vehicles are required to have some type of mechanical device to warn people of your intentions.

Please always remember to signal your turning to avoid possible accidents, because IT'S THE LAW!!!

Have a safe 4th of July

Fireworks consist of firecrackers, roman candles, sky rockets, torpedoes, blank cartridges or any other type or form of explosives commonly known as "fireworks", unless such item has been declared by the State Fire Marshall as not dangerous to persons or property.

The only exception is when a permit has been issued to a properly qualified person for giving a pyrotechnic display in a public park or other public place.

Any person found guilty of violating the fireworks ordinance can be fined up to $300 or by being sent to jail for up to 90 days.

Low rent housing applications taken

Region VI Housing Authority officials from Roswell were in Capitan and Carrizozo Tuesday accepting applications for the low rent housing projects currently under construction in Capitan and Carrizozo.

Seven applications were taken in Carrizozo. Extra forms have been left at City Hall for anyone interested in applying. The officials said they expected more people to be on hand to apply. One applicant, wanting to be first in line, was at City Hall before noon. Two others arrived at 12:30 and signed the waiting list. 18 units are available in Carrizozo.

Four applications were taken in Capitan. Extra forms may be obtained from Capitan City Hall, Capitan High School, or Capitan Senior Citizens Center. 14 units are available in Capitan.

To be eligible for the low rent housing, an applicant must be low income as established by the income limits set by the Department of Housing & Urban Development and meet at least one of the following requirements: (1) Be 62 or over; (2) Be disabled or handicapped; and/or (3) have dependents. All income must be reported, after which the housing authority will make adjustments according to a schedule. The cost of each person's rent will be 30 percent of adjusted income. A security deposit, figured on the adjusted income, will be charged and utilities will be paid by the renter.

The units are furnished with a stove, refrigerator, and hot water heater. Hook-ups for washing machines and dryers are in the units.

Geo. W. Coe homestead to celebrate founding

Twenty eight years before New Mexico became a state, George Washington Coe and his bride, Phoebe Brown Coe, homesteaded in the Ruidoso Valley. By 1884 Coe had already been in the New Mexico Territory for ten years before he settled on Lincoln County as the place where he wanted to put down roots.

George went in with two of his cousins, Frank and Jasper Coe, and formed one large homestead. Eventually, when the government surveyors got there, they found more than enough land to split into three homesteads. The three Coes built the first schoolhouse which did double duty as a school and church. They also ordered fruit trees from a nursery in Missouri and George made the 200 mile journey to Socorro, New Mexico to pick them up. Those seedlings were planted in orchards.

Eight children were born to George and Phoebe and he outlived all but one of them. This daughter, Mayme, married Elzy Perry in 1912. The Perrys had settled on the Bonita River in 1900, bringing 1800 head-of-fine haired goats with them from Texas. After Elzy and Mayme married, they eventually managed the ranch for George. Elzy also went into the water well drilling business, and drilled the first irrigation wells in the Ruidoso Valley. After his death in 1957, Mayme, known to her friends as "Aunt Mayme," kept the place together, raising apples and cattle. She was concerned about the breakup of family ranches, so in 1974 she formed a family corporation, the Perry Ranch Inc. That corporation, owned by her children, operates the ranch today. A great-grandchild of George Coe, Lowell Noster, is the ranch manager.

Other things have changed through the years. George Coe called the place the Golden Glow Ranch. It then became the Perry Fruit Farm and Ranch and today it is The Perry Ranch, Inc. The houses on it have changed as well. Fires destroyed three, along with many of the family pictures and furnishings. The current ranch house, built in the 1930s, was added onto extensively by Mayme Coe Perry. It is a sprawling, comfortable house where you can listen to the rain dance on the tin roof, stretch out on the floor to relax or head for one of the porches to just sit and visit.

A private family cemetery on the ranch includes the graves of George and Phoebe Coe plus many members of their extended family. It is a walk through history to read the dates on the tombstones. Coe was born in 1856 before the Civil War, and died in 1941, the beginning of World War II. He considered himself a frontiersman, a pioneer who came to the New Mexico Territory and made it his home. Before his marriage he was involved in the Lincoln County War and lived through some of the most turbulent periods in New Mexico's history. His autobiography, Frontier Fighter, relates his memories of those times.

The family George and Phoebe Coe started when they put down roots on the Ruidoso in 1884 numbers over 250 today. Many of the family will gather at the ranch in Glencoe the weekend of June 30 to celebrate the centennial of the founding of the homestead and pay homage to their pioneer ancestors.

La Junta meeting

The La Junta "Meet the Candidate" meeting was very successful. Everyone enjoyed the bountiful dinner followed by remarks of all the candidates present. A brief meeting was held after the candidates presentation at which Mary Ellen Payne, Lincoln County Extension Home Agent announced her resignation as of July to work full time at the NMSU with the Extension and FCL program. She will be back to help out Lincoln County until a new agent is hired.

Following is recent letter received by the pageant group May 29, 1984:

It was a thrill to read page 82 of the June 1984 Travel-Holiday. I'm glad to know the Pageant goes on!

I was a costumes extra in the 1949 presentation (I was only 10), and my stepfather Dr. R. E. Mitchell, then we lived at Ft. Stanton, purchased and donated a lot of the blank ammunition.

I passed through the area in the fall of 1970, having left there in January of 1951, and saw that the faded false front was still in place—as was the apple seller by the junction in Hondo. Some of my fondest memories are of my year plus in Lincoln County. I wish all children could have that kind of experience.

Somewhere I have a pink, faded Lincoln Days handbill. A dear treasure in my keepsakes.

I'm so glad the tradition lives on. It gives my faith in continuity a boost. Maybe someday I can bring my family back to see the re-enactment.

Thanks for keeping history alive and freshening a not so little girl's memories.

Lincoln Ramblings

Lincoln residents are getting ready for the pageant which comes up Aug. 3-5. The Pageant committee is meeting once a week at the Lincoln park with the first casting to be July 17. Betty Bennett of Ruidoso will be the director again this year. All interested are invited to come. We meet Sundays evenings at 6:30.

This coming Saturday, June 30, will be a busy one for lots of people. There is workday for the pageant grounds, the fairgrounds in Capitan, and the family reunion of the Perry-Coe families at Glencoe.

Harriet McGinnis, Hattie Phillips, Nancy Phillips, and Rosalie Dunlap attended the bridal shower for Tina Proctor at the lovely home of Laura Peters at Tinnie. The bride-to-be received many lovely gifts.

It is beginning to look like the long awaited renovation of the Lincolntown courthouse museum is about to begin. They have been taking soil tests this week around the structure. Also a new floor of the porch of the Watson house is in progress.

Mary Ward is planning on a trip to Hawaii soon with her daughter and granddaughter.

Rosalie and Ralph Dunlap participated in the Farm and Ranch expo in Roswell by spinning and weaving in the NM Wool Growers booth.

We are still receiving the rains which everyone is so thankful.

By ROSALIE DUNLAP

Also being planned for Lincoln this year are two weekends of performances by the Ruidoso Little Theatre of "The Drunkard" and "Hanky Panky in Harmony Valley." The performances are tentatively scheduled for Aug. 9-11 and Aug. 16-18. It sounds like a lot of fun for everyone.

ASK DR. DAN

I am 55 years old and am on a 1200 calorie diet to lose weight. I am in good health but wonder if I need to take a vitamin or mineral supplement? V. T.

A very large number of factors can affect whether your body requires such supplements in your diet. A healthy individual with a daily intake of 1800 calories obtained by eating foods in the 4 main food groups will get enough of all the required nutrients. Different age groups have distinct needs that may require a supplement.

The elderly often have a poor diet due to a number of reasons. These include living alone, being crippled (and unable to prepare a balanced diet), insufficient money, loss of taste, poor fitting or no dentures, bowel problems and chronic disease. Medications can affect appetite and food absorption. Chronic alcohol abuse can cause deficits of nearly all vitamins and minerals. Adults on a low calorie diet will benefit from taking a daily supplement that contains from 50 percent to 100 percent of the recommended dietary allowance of the essential vitamins and minerals. Essential fat soluble vitamins are vitamin A, D, and E. Essential water soluble vitamins are vitamin B6 (pyridoxine), B12, C, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and folate. Important minerals include calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, iron, zinc, and rodnpe.

Pregnant women require increased amounts of protein, calories, iron and folate. If the women have a low calcium and protein intake, she will also need zinc and calcium supplements. These same requirements continue during breast feeding. Infants will deplete their iron stores by age 4 mos. and should be on iron-fortified formula or take iron supplements if breast feeding. Breast fed babies probably should start fluoride supplements (to improve their teeth) early after birth. If local water is non-fluoridated or low in fluoride, all children should have fluoride supplements. Premature infants have special nutritional problems and parents should consult their pediatrician before

If in doubt about the need for vitamins or mineral supplementation, consult your physician or a registered dietitian.

Send questions to Dr. Dan Blodgett, Box 8, Carrizozo, NM 88301.

about the self-induced drug death of comic John Belushi. But Woodward managed to make national news by telling this network audience:

"I suspect that there is a kind of paranoia in Washington that is greater than elsewhere. A number of people have said to me, and I guess I should be specific, that there are probably forty people at The Washington Post who use cocaine regularly. I don't know any of them. I don't know whether it's true. I've had people at The Post say that's the case, that's true."

At The Post, investigative editor Woodward was repeatedly unavailable for comment and he failed to return phone calls. We had hoped to have him elaborate on his observations regarding Washington paranoia. But Post Executive Editor Bradlee was available and provided an excellent illustration.

"I don't know what the hell Bob is talking about!" roared Mr. Bradlee, when contacted by a wire service reporter. "None of the editors knows what he is talking about. Cocaine is illegal, and if I hear of anyone using it around here, it's out the door — goodbye!"

Within 24 hours, Post Publisher Donald Graham had confirmed Mr. Bradlee's marvelous confession of ignorance as to what is actually going on at the newspaper of which he is supposed to be in charge. For Graham told a reporter for USA Today that the use of cocaine at The Post has actually resulted in firing from the staff of that newspaper. But Graham refused to say who, or how many, have been canned for cocaine. And Mr. Bradlee's reporters refused to report this news as well.

This is not the first involvement of The Washington Post with cocaine. For President Jimmy Carter's prescription-forging drug adviser, Dr. Peter Bourne, was reported by that newspaper to have been observed in the act of snorting cocaine. The Post reported that Bourne had been seen doing this by two people from The Washington Post, whom they have recurrently refused to identify.

Why don't these two Post observers of this criminal behavior notify the police? Could it be that they are among The Bob Woodward Forty?

One of The Post's columnists, an alleged wit named Richard Cohen, tried in his own bizarre way to make light of this scandal. He wrote:

"We have the statistically correct number of bisexuals, homosexuals, pederasts and coke heads."

We telephoned The Post repeatedly to try to ascertain whether either of the Grahams or editor Bradlee think this suggestion of child molesters and dope addicts on the Washington Post staff is very amusing. Columnist Cohen, like almost everybody else at The Post was unavailable for comment. And Post public relations director Virginia Rodriguez replied: "No comment" — a response which, coming from a newspaper like The Washington Post, is the equivalent of a sergeant telling his daughter never to go out with soldiers.

County Commissioners

14 men to run the chipping crew, four truck drivers, two flagmen, a loader-operator, a roller operator, a broom operator, two men on the oil distributor and two on the chip spreader, and a driver for the pilot car.

The road department will have only 14 employees after July 1 to try and keep up with the demands of 1,500 miles of maintenance. Four temporary employees hired for the school bus route improvement program were deleted from the county budget during the final budget hearing.

It will take approximately ten days to finish the chipping if the weather cooperates. Last week it rained before chips could be spread and rolled causing a loss when it was washed away. Pulling blade men out of their blade districts will put them behind in their work.

Chairman Hightower told Henley, "If you need the men, ok. Just remember it has to come out of the road department budget."

Dist. County Attorney Steve Sanders said the county has taxed the O-Bar-O $1,049.12 for the cost of depositions and witness fees. He also reported the case of George vs Carrizo Lodge, with discussion about a 90 day limit for residents of Carrizo Canyon to tie in the sewer line or whether it should be for a longer time, will come before the commission next meeting.
