

ACTIVITIES FOR CITIZENS 60 AND OVER—

Three Zia centers in County

By RUTH HAMMOND
Zia Senior Citizen's Center, with centers in Capitan, Carrizozo, and Corona, is for everyone over the age of 60. Senior citizens are welcome to join in the activities at the centers, such as: picnics, card playing, pool playing, quilting, and fundraisers. Capitan has an exercise program.

Five vans, with two Carrizozo, two in Capitan, and one in Corona, are used to transport senior citizens for medical, dental, hospital, shopping, and recreational side trips.

Zia is sponsored by the Lincoln County Commission. The county acts as a fiscal agent only. All funds are deposited with the county treasurer and the county pays the bills with the funds.

Funding for the three centers is $112,212 per fiscal year. The Federal funds are $35,460, state funds $46,922, county funds $12,000 and the centers have to raise ten percent which is $17,830. Fund raisers such as enchilada suppers and frying doughnut holes are activities the senior citizens can enjoy helping with as well as helping the budget.

Services are mandated by the Older Americans Act. The program is designed specifically for social and economically deprived senior citizens age 60 and above with emphasis on minority participation.

Project Director Barbara Ward is charged with carrying out the intent of the Older American Act. Since the Senior Olympics is for persons age 55 and over, Mrs. Ward encourages people 55 and over to join in the activities at the centers as long as they don't take the place of a 60 year old or over.

The center in Carrizozo is in the fire department building. The center in Capitan is on the road to Ruidoso, adjacent to the county road department. The center in Corona is in the City Hall building. The program is getting into the Hondo Valley to San Patricio, Nogal, and Oscuro.

The Carrizozo center has a lunch program. Suggested donation for lunch is one dollar and food stamps are in place. Accepted as contributions for meals. The one dollar donation is not a charge for the meal and the privacy of each older person with respect to his or her contribution is protected. Contributions for meals are considered program income.

Congregate meals programs are ones which provide nutritionally sound and satisfying hot meals to older persons in a group setting. Home delivered meals are for persons aged 60 or older who are homebound by reason of illness, incapacitating disability, or otherwise isolated, if, according to the criteria determined by the area agency, receiving the meal is in the best interest of the homebound older person.

Mrs. Ward would like to have a meals program in Capitan. She plans to present a capital outlay program to the State Agency on Aging in Santa Fe for presentation to the legislature in January for funds for an addition to the building in Capitan. This can take years before it becomes a reality but a meals program is needed in Capitan.

Mrs. Ward said, "With the advent of change of administration in 1980, more emphasis has been placed on bringing the generations together. We encourage voluntary participation by younger individuals in the three communities."

Last spring school children took senior citizens to Spencer Park for a picnic and they all played ball. This is the sort of activity that is encouraged.

Area plans are required to assure that programs give preference to those people in the planning and service area with the greatest social and economic need.

Persons with the greatest economic need are defined as those people with income levels at or below the poverty level established by the Bureau of the Census.

Persons with the greatest social needs are defined as those people impacted by such non-economic factors as isolation, physical or mental limitations, racial or cultural obstacles, or other factors which restrict individual ability to carry out normal activities of daily living and which threaten an individual's capacity to live an independent life. Included in this definition are frail, minority, low income, isolated, impaired, handicapped and institutionalized older persons.

The Older Americans Act was first enacted in 1965 and has been amended several times. The 1978 amendments represented another evolutionary step in the process of establishing in each planning and service area a basic capacity to respond to the needs of older persons with a comprehensive service delivery system. What this means is that the centers are there to be used by persons 60 and over.

If you know of anyone in Lincoln County over the age of 60, please encourage them to visit Zia Senior Citizen's Center.

UNANNOUNCED MEETING—

Held at Fort

By RUTH HAMMOND
The 1984 Legislature recommended that Health and Environment Secretary Joe Goldberg appoint a task force to focus on the long term use of Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School as a facility for developmentally disabled people.

The task force held a day-long meeting Friday at Fort Stanton. The meeting had not been publicized. The NEWS learned of the meeting Friday afternoon.

Another meeting will be held Oct. 16 in Los Lunas and again on Nov. 8 before reports and recommendations for future use of Fort Stanton is submitted to the 1985 Legislature.

Advocates for the clients want to abandon Fort Stanton and use the $4.5 million in state and federal funds it receives annually to expand the community system for group homes.

State Rep. Maurice Hobson attended the day-long meeting and he said, "I am not for institutionalizing anyone who does not need it." He went on to say, "My thought is there has to be a place to give people respite care."

Families with a handicapped family member need respite care for the handicapped person during times of family emergency. It is estimated there are 300 developmentally disabled persons living at home or outside communities who need group home situations.

It is hoped that another meeting will be held at Fort Stanton and that it will be properly publicized in order for other interested parties from the southern part of the state to attend and have some input.

More on Fort Stanton on the Editorial page.

SITE OF BOMB EXPLOSION—

Trinity Site tour this Saturday

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, NM, Sept. 27—Officials at White Sands Missile Range have announced that the annual Trinity Site Open House on Oct. 6 will be changed this year. In addition to adding the George McDonald ranch house to the open house, procedures for getting onto the normally closed missile range have changed. This year's event offers a number of options designed to make it easier for the public to visit the Trinity Site National Historic Landmark.

The easiest way of getting into Trinity Site is through the Stallion Gate between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. During those hours the gate will be open to visitors to enter and leave as they desire and drive directly to and from Trinity Site. A shuttle bus service will be offered at Stallion to those who wish to park there and leave the driving to the Army Stallion gate is located five miles south of US Highway 380 and the turn off point is 12 miles east of San Antonio, NM and 53 miles west of Carrizozo, NM.

The other way of getting into White Sands is to drive in one of two escorted caravans which will be entering the range's Oscura gate. The first caravan forms in the K-Mart parking lot in Alamogordo and leaves there at 8 a.m. It will arrive at Trinity Site at about 10 a.m. and leave at 12:15 p.m. for the Oscura gate.

A second caravan will form at the Oscura gate and leave there at 11 a.m. The turn off for the gate is 16 miles south of Carrizozo, NM and 30 miles north of Tularosa, NM. The gate is about eight miles west of US Highway 54. This group should arrive at Trinity Site about Noon and will leave to exit via Oscura gate at 2 p.m.

Mr. Robert Krohn will be the guest speaker at this year's open house. Krohn was an eyewitness to the explosion and will talk about his experiences at Trinity Site while working for the Manhattan Project. He is scheduled to speak at 11 a.m. at Ground Zero.

All visitors are reminded that photography is prohibited on White Sands Missile Range except at Trinity Site. Drinking water and portable toilets will be available for the convenience of visitors. There are no food services at Trinity Site and weather conditions can be harsh.

For more information contact the White Sands Missile Range Public Affairs Office, 678-1134-3700.

Charolette Hill accepts position

LAS CRUCES—Charolette Lea Hill, who has been serving as Lincoln County Extension Home Economist on a temporary basis, has been named to the permanent position.

Mrs. Hill was hired in January to take over some of the educational programs in Lincoln County when Home Economist Mary Ellen Payne accepted as a part-time job as a statewide Extension Homemakers project. Recently Mrs. Payne stepped into the role full time as director of the Family Community Leadership (FCL) Project.

Dr. John Oren, director of the New Mexico State University

Cooperative Extension Service, announced Mrs. Hill's permanent appointment.

Mrs. Hill is a graduate of West Fork High School, West Fork, Ark., and the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. She received a Bachelor of Science degree in home economics in 1971.

She worked in Fayetteville as a health director for the Washington County Health Department.

She and her husband, Roy Brackston Hill, own and manage the Hill Country Restaurant in Ruidoso. They have two children, Jason, 15, and Dawn, 11.

SENIOR CITIZENS Maggie Jump, Lucille Russell, Mary Shrum, driver John Jiron, project director Barbara Ward, Mariana Vega, Mac Lueras, and Jimmy Duncan are ready to board the one of the new vans recently acquired by Zia Senior Citizen's Center. This van is used for Carrizozo senior citizens for transportation for medical, dental, hospital, shopping and recreational side trips.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Lerry Bond was working in the Corona area Sept. 26 and was the first officer at the scene of this plane crash. Lt. Col. Pete Combs piloted the Cessna 180 that apparently crashed while attempting to make an emergency landing. Lincoln County Chief Deputy Charlie Cox said the weather definitely was a major factor. The airplane hit a cattle guard when it landed and flipped over. Combs was taken to the Ruidoso Hondo Valley Hospital.

WATERSAFETY CLASSES

Summer water safety instruction and drownproofing classes were completed by Brownie Scout Troop 12. The following girls participated under the direction of Mrs. Truman Spencer and Marcia Hefker: Shannon Miller, Heather Miller, Sarah Sidebottom, Nancie Vega, Karen Wells, Audrey Wells, Christi Brown, Micha Schlarb, Jennifer Mansell, Brea Pafford, Lynette Hernandez, Terri Rhue, Michelle Hasenbuhler and Casey Dean.

Lynette, Micha and Christi were awarded prizes for regular attendance. Other prizes went to Terri for best effort and to Audrey for most improved.

The members hope to complete their instruction for their scout swimming badge in the summer of 1985. Mrs. Gordon Brown is the troop leader.

ART CRITIC

Raphael Chavez, a fifth grader at Carrizozo schools accompanied his mother (me) to Sunday's art auction, sponsored by the Carrizozo Woman's Club. Raphael, who is interested in art, became an art critic by attending the event. He seriously studied prints by world renowned artists. He carefully previewed original oils, lithographs, etchings, serigraphs and sculpture by artists known and unknown.

With his regular punch in a champagne glass he roamed two rooms filled with art. Now and then he stopped to nibble at goodies. The club members used their best dip, cookie and other finger food recipes to make the delicious refreshments available to auction goers.

We sat in the front row so that we could see each piece of art as it was described by the auctioneer. Melody and Marcia Hefker, lovely daughters of the club president, assisted the New York art auction staff. Raphael followed the bidding of over 150 pieces of art by marking the progress in pencil on his program. Toulouse Lautrec $250... Norman Rockwell $275... Salvador Dali $550... The starting bids of the art by a variety of artists ranged from $10 to $550. Many beautifully framed works are now hanging in living rooms and bedrooms of local and surrounding area homes. There was a humorous moment when the skilled auctioneer went as low as $2 and passed his original starting bid of $35 by one dollar.

GOING ONCE
Although Raphael knew that we were merely observers at the event he chose his favorites - mostly wildlife pieces. "Make a check," he pleaded when 'Gray Fox' and 'Golden Eagle' were up for bid. I whispered to him that such a purchase was not in this month's budget.

When it was time for the door prizes he hoped that his number would be pulled. His donation at the door made him eligible for a door prize. The auctioneer asked Raphael to assist in the drawings. Raphael picked the numbers of Debbie and Pete King (King Food Mart) and Hattie Graves of Nopal Canyon.

The auctioneer warned Raphael, "You better pick your mother's number or you can't go home."

The last door prize number was '17' - mine. Raphael left the building proudly holding 'our' original enamel on copper by artist Karen Greene. The Autumn scene features a child flying a kite in a park with the trees in the stage of changing color. The starting bid on the elaborately framed piece was $65.

OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

According to last week's NEWS ad, Rita's Creative Hair Styles will celebrate a first year anniversary on Wednesday, Oct. 10 starting at 1:00 p.m. There will be refreshments and door prizes. Color analysis will be demonstrated by Stacy Wilson.

Stacy lives in Ancho. She is married to Alton Wilson. They are parents of Lenaa Shae, two and half years old.

COLOR CAREER

Stacy who underwent specialized training in personal color analysis will be at Rita's anniversary to introduce her work to those who are interested in knowing how color analysis goes with clothing style, wardrobe planning and cosmetic application.

Stacy plans to provide the service to Lincoln County towns, including Carrizozo, Corona, Ruidoso and Capitan. She is also a Mary Kay representative, specializing in skin care and make-up artistry.

Color analysis is a method of determining harmony between eye, hair and skin color and clothing fashions. Through color analysis you can find out what 'season' you are (summer, winter, spring or autumn) and use color accordingly.

Stacy's instructor was Lucinda Breck who has been involved with color analysis for 18 years, long before the idea was in popular demand. Lucinda and her husband, a doctor reside in Cloudcroft.

This area did receive one inch of rain. It did take several showers. It was very foggy and cold all week with very little sun. One mile toward Ruidoso the fog was dense and mist with it. When one topped the mountain at Swiss Chalet the sun was shining. The cold weather and moisture was on our side of the mountain.

For the month of September there were 3,002 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum. That was great for that month.

Open house at school for the jr. high youngsters this past Wednesday, parents went by the student's schedule and attended classes for ten minutes, each class. The teachers explained their routine and what they expected of the student, grading procedures and goals for the year.

The Tigerette volleyball tournament was held last Saturday with several teams competing. Socorro, Elida, Carrizozo, Hondo, Ft. Sumner, Quemado and Capitan were participating. Elida won first place, Capitan won 2nd and Socorro won 3rd. Capitan won the sportsmanship award.

The Capitan girls participating were Shelia House, Tiffany Huey, Audrey Joiner, Michelle Otero, Bobby Rogers, Becky Huey, Tracy Herd, Joan Leslie, Chantelle Points, Stephanie Stowe, Becky Huey, Bobby Rogers and Audrey Joiner won all-tournament plaques. Mr. McVeigh and Dana Adams are the girls coaches.

I would like to mention at this point that Mrs. McKay is the coach of the Elida volleyball team. She and her husband Franklin and children were residents of Capitan a few years ago and they taught in our school. A wonderful couple that we did not want to lose. They lived on north hill and had purchased the old Province house. Mr. McKay is now superintendent of the Elida schools. It was great to have them with us last Saturday. I wish them both many years of success and happiness.

The 4-H meeting was held at the Fair Building last Tuesday October 2. The jr. high volleyball team played at Ruidoso Tuesday, Oct. 2. The Capitan football team plays at Dexter Friday Oct. 5. Do cheer them on. The Capitan marching band will be marching in the Aspencade Parade in Ruidoso Saturday, October 6.

The regular monthly meeting of the Capitan Boosters Club will be held in the Band room at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 9. Parents, please do attend.

On Monday, September 17 the Capitan Homemakers Extension Club made and put up curtains in the bathrooms at the Fair Building. This donation was to give everyone more privacy and to dress up the place. The next meeting will be Oct. 18, at 10:00 a.m. The meeting will be at the catholic church annex. Their program will be on "Safety Awareness." Everyone of the community is encouraged to attend.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met September 20, at the party room of the Smokey Bear Restaurant with Hattie Phillips as hostess. The table was beautifully decorated with dahlias from Jack Mayfield's flower garden and a bouquet of roses brought by Mary Dean. All members were present except Maurine Sullivan who is in Omaha, Nebraska. Smokey Bear served a delicious luncheon of roast beef with its accompaniments. Hattie's granddaughter Nancy baked and decorated a beautiful and delectable cake for the club, but especially for Beesie Jones, Frances Shaw and Frankie Tom's birthdays in September. A brief business meeting was conducted by the president Gladys Pew.

Liz Montoya of Capitan became a full time employee of the Ruidoso MVD office on September 27. She will surely be missed at Capitan City Hall. Until a replacement is hired for Liz, the MVD office at the City Hall will only be doing driver's licenses and registration renewal. No Title Transfers will be handled. Liz has done a good job and we have appreciated her and most certainly do wish her success at her new job in Ruidoso. She will do a good job as she is an earnest and hard worker. Good luck, dear lady.

Robert Runnels and crew had excellent luck antelope hunting last weekend. All hunters in the camp of approximately 10, all bagged nice bucks; with two of them possibly making the record books. Mike Keck of Tulsa, OK and Paul Martin of Claremore, OK killed antelope measuring right at 19 and 16 1/2 inches. All hunters sure were tickled with their hunt as always.

Linda Wright is one of our Avon representatives in Capitan. Good luck Linda. We are glad to have you.

Glenda Faye Booher and girl friend Karen of Western College in Silver City spent last weekend at home here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Olin Booher and family. Glenda Faye loves her school work and is truly enthused. She is doing well in her studies.

Lee Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne celebrated his 15th birthday September 29; I wish him many more happy healthy ones. I also joined Kay Strickland in her birthday wishes for her brother Jimmy Wright whose day is October 7.

Many motorcycles were on the highway this last weekend and their parade was special in Ruidoso last Saturday with a large crowd attending. There were some very beautiful large machines.

Ken, Pat and David Shear, Lisa and Dustin Martin and Rodney Dean traveled to Fort Bliss on Thursday to see Dean Shear. Dean graduated from Army Battery D 3d, ADA Training Battalion, 1st ADA Training Brigade, after completing a 12-week program. He received a Distinguished Graduate Award for being the soldier who displayed out-

● UNLESS Americans find something other than money to spend, they had better limit the terms of their legislators. Congressmen have been so faithful to the proposition that their services are so valuable to the nation they deserve to live out their miserable lives with their collective snouts in the moneytrough. Take, for example, Carl Albert of Oklahoma, former House Speaker. His annual pension now stands at $87,664 per year. When he retired as Speaker in 1977 he was earning only $85,600 a year. How come he is worth more out of Congress than in it? Is a non-Congressman worth more than an incumbent Congressman?

● THERE are now a total of 138 former Congressmen who are drawing more money in retirement than they earned while on active duty on Capitol Hill. The Office of Personnel Management reports that there are 374 Congressmen who have, since 1969, been paid pensions totaling $82,900,460.

● WE HAVE created an elite class of professional politicians, not only in Washington, but in all the states. This is accomplished because legislators are allowed to vote themselves pensions for life, along with periodic cost-of-living increases. Does it make you feel any better to know that you and your fellow-taxpayers will have to support former Gov. Jerry Brown in comfort for the rest of his life, a reward for having wrecked the judicial and economic structure of California? California Assembly Speaker Willie Brown is guaranteed a fat pension for life once he collects enough Brownie Points to make his retirement pay exceed his working pay.

● AS A taxpayer and an above-average intellect (else you wouldn't be reading the Lincoln County News), can you provide one good reason why any legislator should receive a pension in order to protect him from the adversities he helped create; or to provide pensions that shield him from the responsibility of providing for his own retirement, as the rest of us must do? There is a ballot initiative being prepared to limit the terms of California legislators to two terms in office. Please stay alive (and solvent!) long enough to vote it into law.

● I HAVE a problem with Geraldine Ferraro. Last week she told Catholic Archbishop John J. O'Connor of New York that she is not misrepresenting the position of the Catholic Church on the abortion issue. Ferraro has said repeatedly that she is opposed to abortion but will not impose her beliefs on anyone else. But I have a copy of HR 5745 introduced in the House of Representatives on May 30. It is titled, "A bill to amend various provision of law to ensure that services related to abortion are made available in the same manner as are all other pregnancy-related services under Federally funded programs." Ferraro not only voted for this bill, she is listed as a sponsor along with sterling Americans such as California's Gold Dust Twins, Ron Dellums and Mervyn Dymally. By voting for this bill, isn't she imposing her beliefs on people other than herself?

● A FEW days earlier in New York, Ferraro told reporters, "I have never made a statement with reference to the church's teachings." If HR 5745 isn't a statement, and if that bill has no bearing on the church's teaching, then put me down as a Chinese stunt flyer.

● FERRARO denies she ever made a statement on abortion that conflicts with established dogma of the Catholic Church. But Archbishop O'Connor says she has misrepresented the Catholic position on the abortion issue. He called attention to a 1982 document that Ferraro signed on behalf of "Catholics for a Free Choice," a pro-abortion group, which states, "the Catholic position on abortion is not monolithic" and "there can be a range of personal and political responses to the issue." Archbishop O'Connor and Bishop James Timlin of Scranton, PA probably know Catholic doctrine better than Ferraro. Both call her position incompatible with Catholic doctrine and say her position is "dangerous" and "absurd."

● FERRARO'S voting record in Congress is pro-abortion — so much so that the National Abortion Rights Action League once sent her a $1,000 campaign contribution. There is no real need for her to take a public stand now. She already has.

● SB 1134 passed the Assembly last week. This bill permits homeowners to shoot forcible intruders into their homes without fear of criminal penalties. Rose Bird is upset, in seclusion and under sedation. Dr. Joseph Harrison Jackson, pastor of Oliver Baptist Church in Chicago and former president of the 7 million-member National Baptist Convention, has endorsed President Reagan's re-election bid. But The Rev. Jesse Jackson is upset, in seclusion and under sedation. A Swedish man claimed tax deductions of $2750 for visits to prostitutes on grounds such therapy improves his health. Deduction denied. Petitioner is upset, etc. Two longtime coroner's officials in Alameda County have been indicted for stealing from the dead, which is safer than stealing from the living. More than 300 police officers have filed claims worth $56 million against San Francisco because they say they lost some of their career opportunities. If any of you recall ever missing any opportunities to further your careers, you are entitled to sue somebody. Walter Mundane told the American Legion that on his first day as president he will issue a call for arms talks with the Russians. God help us, we'll all be dead — or upset, in seclusion and under sedation.

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON—

By LES KINSOLVING

Where is Reagan's swift and effective retribution in Beirut?

WASHINGTON — When President Reagan welcomed the US hostages on their return from Tehran, he declared what most Americans thought would be a definite policy:

The President said that the world should know that any further terrorism against Americans would be met with "swift and effective retribution."

That sounded impressive. For the state of Israel has found that this is the only language that terrorists understand.

What the terrorists in Lebanon have understood, however, is that this Reagan promise of "swift and effective retribution" has been nothing more than words in the Middle East — although there was such action when hundreds of US students were threatened in Grenada. And the vast majority of the American people cheered.

Where was the "swift and effective retribution" when our Embassy in Beirut was first blown up by Islamic terrorists in April of 1983?

Where was the "swift and effective retribution" when 269 of our Marines were blown up by another automobile kamikaze, driven by another Islamic terrorist last fall?

There was some talk that our military retaliated with air strikes. But the Pentagon never defined these strikes as the promised "swift and effective retribution" — unless the air strike has hit the people responsible.

That there has been no swift and effective retribution is evident. Last week another bomb blew up our Beirut Embassy — again.

What could President Reagan do? He is commander-in-chief of such highly trained and effective fighting units as the Army's Special Forces and the Navy's SEALs. He is also in command of the CIA.

If the CIA, with all its resources and personnel, cannot detect who is responsible for these terrorist murders of Americans — which is a very big and unpleasant "if" — Israel's CIA, the Mossad, surely can provide invaluable assistance in spotting these murderers of our diplomats.

Then, in the absence of any effective international law protecting our fellow Americans, we should retaliate. President Thomas Jefferson did against the Barbary Pirates, sending the US Navy and Marines to the shores of Tripoli. President Woodrow Wilson did in sending units of the US Army into Mexico under General Pershing in pursuit of Pancho Villa, who murdered a number of American citizens in Columbus, New Mexico.

But the appeasers in our State Department will probably prevail upon our President to continue making his "swift and effective retribution" promise inoperative. And the policy of the US Government will be another round of hand-wringing words and flag-covered caskets.

Can we imagine the Russians so reacting? Of course not. The Soviets would send in 1,000 KGB agents with loaded weapons and huge expense accounts. They would soon buy the information as to who was responsible. And there would be executions of murderers all over Beirut — which is one reason why they blow up Americans rather than Soviets.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

BY Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—You can see why some of the boards of regents of state-run universities took the trouble to sneakily select new presidents before the Governor could get involved in the process.

Noting the chaos his office has been able to generate in connection with such choices at the University of New Mexico and Highlands University, you cannot fail to salute the wisdom of those who avoided it.

The Highlands situation is even more outlandish than the one at UNM, and that one sounds like something out of a pipedream.

REWRITING HISTORY: What happened at Highlands started out simply. The board of regents there voted, at a strangely long distance in time before his present contract ends, to extend the term of president John Aragon by two years.

Within a brief time after that took place, one of the regents resigned from the board. She later said she did that in response to recommitments originating in the Governor's office about her part in that contract extension.

Shirley Scarafioti, the specific gubernatorial assistant she accused of trying to muscle her, tells this department: "Linda Martinez knows what happens, I know what happened, and God knows what happened" but she fails to be any more specific than that. But whatever happened, the Governor had a vacant seat to fill on that board.

He filled it; and at the first meeting following that action the regents, without previous warning, took a bizarre step. They voted, not to rescind their previous extending of the president's contract, but to excise from the minutes any reference to that action.

They seemed to be more interested in editing the record than they were in actually changing it.

Their aim, however, was clear: They (or at least the majority of them) want to give notice to Aragon that he has no future at their university.

INTERWEAVING: And then there is the problem of how all these people's lives intertwine.

Just before the state chose as its new fiscal agent First National Bank in Albuquerque, for instance, the Governor felt he should read into the record the fact that this institution is controlled by the family of Colleen Maloof. She, of course, is one of the two regents at UNM who has consistently supported him in his complaints about procedures for choosing a president for that operation.

So far, nobody has mentioned the fact that Jim Starr, one of those on the Highlands board who keeps voting to do in Aragon, is also apparently an associate of Mrs. Scarafioti in property ownership around Santa Fe. (Their third partner in those situations is Judy Basham, and she happens to head the state's whole personnel department.)

There are, you might say, wheels within wheels in state government.

PROGNOSIS: It would be a pleasure to report that there are signs of such turmoil, generated from the fourth floor of the Roundhouse, declining as the Anaya people learn how our government should be run.

To do that, however, would be to concoct an untruth.

As the people at the top grow more paranoid from digs such as these, you can expect their performance to grow wilder.

Foor New Mexico. Things will get lots worse before they get better.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

OPEN LETTER—

Hon. Peter Domenici
Senate Office Building
4338 Dirksen
Washington, DC 20512

Dear Senator Domenici:
I am deeply concerned about the effects of the new imputed interest provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1984 and support without reservation the efforts of the National Association of Realtors in their effort to repeal or modify these unfair provisions. Enclosed is a copy of my opinion (Realtor News, September 17, 1984).

This legislation will have devastating effects on an important segment of our economy already severely hurt by high interest rates caused by record federal deficits. As a Realtor in the Ruidoso-Capitan area, these effects will be felt even more severely since we are agents for buyers and sellers in primarily a second home area. Without seller financing, in the face of high commercial interest rates, more than half of our transactions in the last 3 years simply would not have been completed. Commercial financing is not generally available for purchasers of vacant lots and land. Many small businesses and second homes could not have been sold. If this legislation passes as is, we might as well cancel most of our listings. Sellers won't be able to sell. Buyers won't be able to afford to buy. The trickle down effect will seriously damage our economy.

I don't believe the people that will be hurt by this legislation is its target. Certainly abuses exist, but, I believe such abuses are at a much higher level. Federal deficit caused high interest rates have wounded us. Is this the salt in the wound — for many, the coup de gras?

As a Realtor, you may look at my opposition to this legislation as self-serving and one-sided. I assure you it is. But, also as a Realtor, I represent as agent many buyers and sellers of real estate — the average American — that will be adversely affected by this legislation.

Senator, I urge your aggressive opposition to any change in the current imputed interest regulation — at least until more targeted legislation is proposed to get at the crux of the problem. AND, WE'RE NOT IT!

Sincerely yours,
Ronald N. Smith

IN RESPONSE—

EDITOR—This is in response to a letter received from a citizen of Carrizozo. The question was about U-turns and parallel parking.

Ordinance 12-6-55 Limitations on Turning Around - The driver of any vehicle shall not turn the vehicle so as to proceed in the opposite direction upon any street in a business district and shall not upon any other street so turn a vehicle unless the movement can be made in safety and without interfering with other traffic.

Ordinance 12-6-62 (A) Except as otherwise provided in this ordinance every vehicle stopped or parked upon a street where there are adjacent curbs, shall be so stopped or parked with the right-hand wheels of such vehicle parallel to and within eighteen (18) inches of the right-hand curb.

I thank this reader for their questions and welcome any other that the readers and citizens may have regarding the laws and ordinances of our community.

The fate of Fort Stanton is in question AGAIN. Residents of southern New Mexico and Lincoln County in particular have signed numerous petitions asking that Fort Stanton be left as it is, a viable part of our community. Last year certain people wanted to close Fort Stanton and turn it into an alcohol abuse center, even though state-run facilities were closing wings of alcohol abuse centers because of lack of use.

This year 'certain people' just want to close Fort Stanton. Advocates can make it sound like they are really trying to do what is best for the patient when they say that placement at Fort Stanton is not in the best interest of the clients. Courts have mandated that clients be placed in the "least restrictive environment" possible. The buzzwords here are "least restrictive".

Advocates say if the clients are in a group home the clients can do more for themselves. If the clients can dress themselves in a group home, why can't they do it at Fort Stanton? If clients are encouraged to pick out their clothes in a group home, why can't they do it at Fort Stanton? If clients are urged to bathe alone in a group home, why can't they do it at Fort Stanton?

Are the advocates really interested in the clients as individuals, or is their main concern the $4.5 slush fund that will be available once Fort Stanton is closed? Another important question is, "How many of the young people working for the group contracted to provide legal representation for clients also have a family member that is developmentally disabled?" Perhaps you don't think it matters, but it most certainly does. A man with two good feet does not know how it feels to have a leg cut off. He does not know the pain that the amputee goes through. He can only imagine.

Our developmentally disabled deserve to be represented by people that have some idea of what the client and their families go through.

I have a handicapped child and I know the pain that comes with having to place a family member outside the home. I know of the problems in trying to help bring a retarded child to a high level of competency. I also believe my child is better represented by someone who knows what it is like to have a family member that is handicapped.

Mark Delgado, Administrator of Fort Stanton has said, "We are trying to create a setting that is favorable for people who have to come here." This is true. Not only during the time our son was at Fort Stanton but since then Mark and other staff members continue to ask how Jerry is doing. They are genuinely concerned. Their care does not end at the end of a court case or the end of the day. I wonder how many of the 'advocates' continue to check or ask about clients after the case is out of their hands.

There are not enough group homes at this time. Not only do the 120 residents at Fort Stanton need to be considered, but it is estimated that there are 300 developmentally disabled persons at home or outside the community in need of group homes. It seems the needs of these persons should be met before the blanket rule of "close

Fort Stanton' is enforced. The task force says that Fort Stanton is not meeting the needs of the clients. Fort Stanton has 145 beds. We can't help but wonder why Fort Stanton has been singled out for closure since Los Lunas is much larger with 420 beds. Why isn't the task force looking at Los Lunas the same way it is looking at Fort Stanton?

Group homes are great if the clients are able to function in a group home. For those unable to interact and live in a group home, Fort Stanton has a more pleasant and home-like atmosphere. Some patients in group homes go through the motions of normal living, but the 'advocates' are not there to see for themselves if the clients are really doing for themselves.

State Rep. Maurice Hobson said that he understands that some group homes have not been visited by officials for two years. What the Department of Human Services is doing is dropping them off and forgetting about them.

It makes us ask the question, "Who really cares about our developmentally disabled?"

Life at Fort Stanton is not what a "normal" person would want. But life at Fort Stanton gives the residents a feeling of self-worth they cannot get anywhere else. When my son was at Fort Stanton, he walked alone from Sierra Cottage to the dining room. He was also allowed to go to the infirmary or administration building without someone going along to hold his hand. This made him feel like he was a 'normal' person. He could do something on his own.

Some of the clients at Fort Stanton need much more care. These are the clients that will be the losers if they are forced to leave the only home they have known. Some of these clients need constant medical attention. They will not be near enough to medical help to keep them alive long. And the clients that need constant supervision might just as well be put in a cell with bars. They cannot function in a group home setting unless they stay inside with the door locked. At least at Fort Stanton, they can get out in the fresh air, go back and forth between buildings and get the feeling they are 'real people.'

I know you have signed petitions. I know you think the 'certain' people know that you want to keep Fort Stanton as it is. I also know the 'certain' people are trying to wear away at our resistance. These 'certain' people think we won't make an effort to let officials know how we feel.

What I am asking everyone who agrees with me to do is please, mail this column to State Rep. Maurice Hobson, 807 Old Mesalero Road, Tularosa, NM 88352. Hobson wants to do it correctly and will open the letters all at once and count them before passing them on to the necessary officials.

Let us do all we can to keep the 'advocates' from railroading these clients into an unhappy situation. Let us do all we can to keep these clients at 'home' or at their home.

GIFT SUGGESTION

Need a birthday gift? Send a friend or family member a subscription of the Lincoln County News.

PAINT STORAGE

After a paint job, mark the level of leftover paint on the outside of the can. Next time you need paint you can easily tell without opening the can what color is available and how much.

NO DRYING OUT

Household cement should be stored in the tube in an empty mayonnaise jar with a screw-top lid. Close tightly.

CHILE STAINS

Dishwashing detergent sometimes does not remove red chile stains from plastic containers. Soak them for twenty minutes in warm soapy water to which a bit of bleach has been added. Wash and rinse as usual after treatment.

MOUSE BAIT

Bait your mousetrap with absorbent cotton. Mice will try to get the cotton to line their nests.

FOOTWEAR CLEANUP

Worn out powder puffs can be laundered and used for boot or shoe cleanup. One for waxing and one for polishing.

IN GRIZZLY 66-34 ROMP—

Scoreboard gets workout... stat man goes bananas

Carrizozo and Anthony lit up the new scoreboard at Laabs Field with an incredible 100 points Friday night in the Grizzlies homecoming game. The Grizzlies now (4-0) on the season rang up 66 of the points and the visitors chipped in with 34 pts. to account for the 100 pt. total.

Meanwhile the people trying to keep up with the stats (including the NEWS reporter) went bananas—ran out of paper—in and film during the almost 3 1/2 hour game. The Grizzly scoring went something like this: Running back Troy Hollis scored 2 touchdowns; running back Kenneth Creechaw scored 4 touchdowns and a 2-pt. PAT; quarterback James Guevara scored one touchdown; wide-receiver Joseph Candelaria had 1 touchdown; wide-receiver Hal Roueche chipped in with one TD and a 2-pt. PAT—and receiver Tommy Escamilla added a 2-pt. PAT reception. Add all this up and you come up with 60 points not 66—like we said—it was hard trying to keep up with stats.

Besides doing all this scoring the Grizzly offense also managed to lose six fumbles to the visiting team from Anthony. And the Carrizozo defense although giving up 34 points did manage to recover four fumbles—intercept five passes (2 by Candelaria, 2 by Guevara and 1 by Roueche); and blocked one punt. With the Anthony ground attack unable to do much against the Grizzly defense the visitors went to the air and put the ball in the air 35 times and managed to put 24 pts. on the scoreboard in the second half against mostly second string players for the Grizzlies, which picked up plenty of game type experience in the second half.

Carrizozo will open district play at Mountainair Friday night and coach Dennis Sidebottom guarantees a better performance from his team in basic football fundamentals which were lacking in the raggedly played game against Anthony last Friday.

In state rankings Reserve is ranked number 1 in class 'A', Carrizozo and Tatum tied for 2nd, Melrose and Texco are tied for 3rd. Melrose at 3-0, Reserve at 4-0 and Carrizozo at 4-0 remain undefeated. Showdown date is still three weeks away (Oct. 26).

Young team struggles

By COACH ERIKA VENTURA

The Carrizozo girls' varsity volleyball season is well underway—with a season record of 2-4. The young, yet tenacious team is struggling through a tough schedule.

Senior Lynn Gallacher leads the team with her strong setting—while senior Vicki Vermillion stands strong as a middle blocker. Juniors Julie Vega and Liz Beltran strengthen the offense with their role as power hitters.

Kristi Askew is a strong addition to the offense along with Melissa Greer as outside hitter and Jamie Patterson as a strong up-and-coming middle blocker. Freshmen Grizzlies Judy Vega, Sylvia Archuleta and Luanna Zamora are all strong and are improving every game.

The schedule continues with a Saturday encounter at Magdalena against the Steers—and a Tuesday, Oct. 9 encounter against the Lady Foxes from Ft. Sumner (here).

Coach grades team

By COACH ROBERT FRON

GAME ONE: (vs. Mountainair) the team got off to a fast start and won the first game 15-10. Then fell apart and lost the last two games to lose the match 1 game to 2. The overall performance for the first match was graded out at a 'C'.

GAME TWO: The team was totally unprepared for the returning they received at the hands of the Vaughn Eagles. They lost the match in two straight sets and graded out at a 'D'.

GAME THREE: (vs. Hondo) the team came to life in Hondo. We chased the Eagles right out of their own gym with two straight wins. Led by spectacular serving from D'rese Aguilar and Sharon Portillo Carrizozo had no problems. Also playing a strong game were Marcia Hefker, Diane Najar, and Leah Patterson. The team graded out at a 'A'.

GAME FOUR: (vs. Capitan) the team charged to their second straight victory. Strong serving again was the key. Good front row play and team play was also exceptional. Team again graded out at an 'A'.

Next action for the team is scheduled for Sat., Oct. 6 at Magdalena and Tues., Oct. 9 at home against Ft. Sumner.

LIVING TRUSTS
By Sandra A. Grisham
Occasionally, people will put their property in their own name and that of a child or grandchild as joint tenants with the intent to avoid probate. Since joint tenancy property passes directly to the surviving tenant, this at first seems to make sense. In practice, however, it frequently backfires, causing legal problems far more complex than a simple probate.
Deeding real property into joint tenancy creates a co-owner immediately, and the original owner no longer controls the property. As long as the new co-owner is an adult and both owners co-operate, there is no problem. But any time there is a disagreement or the co-owner is a minor who is legally incapable of managing his or her interest in the property, problems abound. What was really needed from the beginning was what is known as an "intervivos" or "living" trust.
An intervivos trust is one of the least used but potentially most useful tools for managing various aspects of a person's affairs. Used with a durable power of attorney (see last week's article on Powers of Attorney), this type of trust can be used for numerous purposes: as a will substitute to avoid probate; as a way to appoint a standby conservator to take care of your affairs in the event that for some reason you are unable to manage them yourself; as an instrument to take care of your children's financial needs in the event of your death; and for many other things. It is truly the Swiss Army knife of legal documents.
A trust is a document whereby legal title to property is placed in the name of a trustee. You can even be the trustee of your own intervivos trust and name a successor trustee in the event anything happens to you. The reason why property that is in a trust is not subject to probate is because the trustee has legal title to the property and you don't. When you die, the trustee still owns the property. Only property to which you have legal title is included in your estate.
You can also reserve the power to amend or revoke the trust at any time until your death so that you maintain complete control over your assets. You state what the trustee is to do with your assets if you become disabled or upon your death. Where a power of attorney terminates upon your death, a trust continues. Therefore, in your trust you can say that the trustee will pay your debts, you can say to whom to give specific trust property, and you can specify when and for what reasons to release money or property to your children.
If you wish you can leave the trust basically unfunded, and then if you become disabled, you can have another person with a durable power of attorney (which we talked about last week) transfer property to the trust so that your trustee can manage it and use it for your benefit while you are disabled.
Through the use of an intervivos trust you can accomplish almost any type of asset plan that you would want in one document. In the event you should die without having transferred all of your property to your trust, you can have what is known as a pour-over will which will put the remainder of your estate to be managed in your trust. For those who have estate tax problems (another article), the intervivos trust can be drafted to take care of those estate planning needs.
Most people can use an intervivos trust to their advantage. Along with a durable power of attorney and a pour-over will, it is an extremely flexible tool. You should consult your own attorney to see if this type of trust would be appropriate for you.

12TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT COUNTY OF LINCOLN STATE OF NEW MEXICO CAUSE NO. CV-84-114 Division I

UNITED NEW MEXICO BANK AT VAUGHN, formerly Citizens State Bank, Plaintiff, vs. BOBBY J. BAROZ, aka BOBBY

BAROS, and GAYLE BAROZ, aka GAYLE BUSH, and THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Defendants.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER FORECLOSURE DECREE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, under and by virtue of the National Award for C'zozo schools

At a special presentation ceremony today at the Department of Energy in Washington, DC, Secretary of Energy Don Hodel and Under Secretary of Energy Pat Collins presented National Awards for Energy Innovation to seven winners from the State of New Mexico.

Projects receiving the National Awards for Energy Innovation were: the Sunland Park Elementary School Project submitted by Robert L. Torres & Assoc. of Albuquerque; the Energy Management at the University of New Mexico Project submitted by Larry Schuster of Albuquerque; the Renewable Energy Program for Highway Rest Stops Project submitted by the New Mexico State Highway Department of Santa Fe and the Energy Management Project at the Carrizozo Municipal Schools submitted by the Carrizozo Municipal Schools.

Additionally, the Energy Life Cycle Cost Analysis of New Municipal Localities Project submitted by the City of Albuquerque, Energy Management Division; the Solar Workshop Project submitted by the New Mexico State Energy Institute of Las Cruces and the Hydroelectric System on a Municipal Pipeline Project submitted by the New Mexico Solar Energy Institute were presented the "Special Awards" Certificate.

As part of the Department of Energy's Technology Transfer 80's Program, state and territorial energy offices were asked to submit 10 outstanding energy innovative projects from their jurisdiction to an interagency federal review panel for consideration for a national award.

Nearly 1000 applications were received and the most outstanding were forwarded to the Technology Transfer 80's Program. This is an ongoing program at the Department of Energy which strives to transfer research and development accomplishments to the private sector as early as possible. The scope of the programs submitted ranged from photovoltaic projects to energy-efficient land tillage techniques.

Four hundred attendees from across the country attended the awards ceremony and received congratulations and a certificate for their projects.

At the ceremony today, Secretary Hodel said: "The conservation and renewable energy programs which are represented by these award winners today serve to graphically illustrate that both conservation of energy and renewable energy technologies are important energy resources in this country."

Under Secretary of Energy Pat Collins said: "A minimal amount of money was spent for this program. The research and development that has been implemented in the many parts of the country represented by these awards could not have been duplicated by the government because the costs would have been prohibitive. It was the private sector, the entrepreneur, the municipality and the conservation-minded citizen who demonstrated the viability of these new technologies."

Amber Gem of the Ages!
Millions of years ago, stately conifers, giant trees larger than our Redwoods, grew in luxuriant splendor on the stormy Baltic seashores, which were warm as the Southern Mediterranean of today. Came the glacial age which swept this floral splendor into oblivion. Though this was long before the age of man, an eyewitness captured evidence of life in that era - and that magnificent eyewitness was AMBER - the golden sap of those prehistoric trees.
AMBER is truly a window into the past. Fascination and excitement will be yours as you view the botanical details of the great forests, the seeds and insects, such as fleas that bit dinosaurs, bees that pollinated prehistoric flowers, and tiny drops of water which were trapped forever like bits of golden sunshine.
AMBER occurs in shades from clear to black, golden transparent yellow, cloudy buttercup yellow, rare blue and reds and antique browns.
We import amber from all over the world.

The Carrizozo FFA chapter has been working on several projects lately and they include putting in horseshoe pits at the golf course this summer with the help of several members of the community.

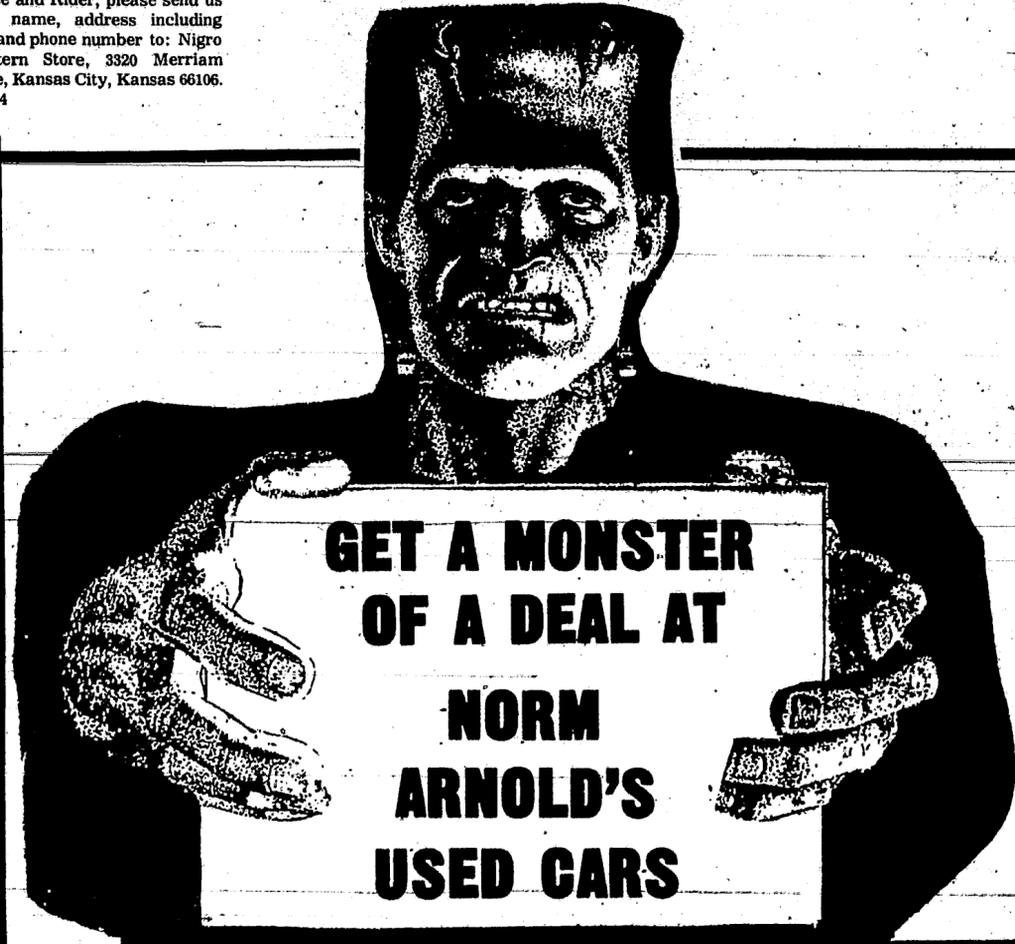

The past few weeks of school they have also been working hard on building panels for the livestock barns at the state fair. Ninety-two panels were built and taken to the fair.

Recently the members have been selling Carrizozo Grizzly jackets and caps. The prices of the jackets vary but the caps are $5 a piece and if you would like to purchase one get a hold of any FFA member.

On Saturday the 15th, nine FFA members traveled to the state fair to look at the livestock and have fun. They spent the whole day there and attended the rodeo that night. FFA member Mike Curtiss and his dad Bob Curtiss had some horses in competition at the fair this past week.

The chapter is getting ready for the upcoming Kansas City trip in November. The Agricultural mechanics team will be competing there, after their win at the state judging contest last spring.
