VOLUME 80, NUMBER 49 CARRIZOZO, NM 88301 THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1984 ESTABLISHED 1905

Ruidoso, NM — Arson is the fastest growing and costliest crime in America.

Annually, more than $1.5 billion worth of property is lost to arsonist's matches. An estimated 1,000 people are killed and 10,000 injured each year in arson-related fires.

This week New Mexico State Crime Stoppers and the Ruidoso Crime Stoppers are joining together in offering up to $1,000 for information that leads to the arrest and indictment on an arson in Alto, New Mexico.

On Monday, November 5, 1984, between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 9:05 a.m., someone entered the garage at John Hall's residence in Alto, and with the help of heavy accelerants started the garage on fire. Inside the garage was a new Porsche automobile and Halls two dogs. The fire destroyed the garage, an attached apartment, and took the lives of both dogs. Entry was gained through an unlocked door to the garage. The total estimated damage is $90,000.

If you have any information on this crime, or any other, call at 1-800-432-6933. All callers can remain anonymous

Winter wonderland snow in Lincoln County

ENCHANTED New Mexico is wearing a winter coat of white. This scene near Carrizozo Country Club shows the yucca bravely watching over drifts of snow. Much of the snow had melted at the lower elevations by Wednesday evening. Residents were expecting another storm this evening or tomorrow.

The snow in Lincoln County has been the cause of numerous accidents according to the sheriff's office.

Several vehicles have slipped off the roads and one accident with injuries was reported when an RV ran into a snowplow.

County road crews have kept busy plowing roads. Residents of the Ancho area said snow depth was eight to ten inches.

There were no reports of anyone being stranded.

The weatherman says another snowstorm may hit Lincoln County tonight or tomorrow.

JUDGE PAYNE RULES—

C'zozo animal ordinances invalid

By RUTH HAMMOND
Municipal Court Judge Billy Gene Payne ruled that the Carrizozo animal ordinances are invalid because of vagueness.

During Municipal Court on Nov. 29, Payne said, "I have ruled there is no ordinance as far as section 7 is concerned." Payne's decision came after hearing two animal cases.

Tom Ward had been charged with not applying for a permit to keep horses inside the city limits and for keeping the horses in a pen less than 100 yards from an inhabited dwelling.

Michael and Karen Brumlow were charged with letting a dog run at large. The penalty for the charges could be a fine of not more than $300 or 90 days in jail or both.

Payne told the defendants, "If either of you asks me to rule, I would say that this ordinance was not in effect for either the horses or the dog." He went on to say, "I will either rule null and void now or continue it."

After reading the ordinance, Payne said, "The whole section 7 is invalid at this point." He added that the ordinance ruling "Dogs running at large and cats is not in effect."

The town of Carrizozo is currently holding public hearings for input into an animal ordinance. Payne suggested that Ward and the Brumlows have some input into the new ordinance. Saying that the ordinance "stinks", Payne announced, "What I have done this evening will give them (the board of Trustees) incentive to write a new ordinance."

Payne also said, "If the board of Trustees does not act, then the state law will probably go in effect. The state is hard on dogs."

EDITORS NOTE: A public hearing will be held at city hall at 6 p.m. on Dec. 11 for input into the animal ordinance.

RESOLUTION 73-2 APPROVED—

P&Z sends letters

By RUTH HAMMOND
The Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission approved Resolution 73-2 at their regular meeting Nov. 29. The resolution requires that a subdivision application be filed ten working days prior to the regular meeting date so that a P & Z Commissioner may make an on site inspection of the proposed subdivision.

The commissioner can then relay the information as to terrain condition to the other P & Z members at the preliminary hearing. Acting Chairman Ben Hall explained that the on site visit would help the commission get an idea of the area before making a decision on the proposed subdivision.

P & Z members went into a closed executive session with Lincoln Historic Review Board members Ofelia Salas and Pat Ward to discuss violations of the Lincoln Historic Preservation Ordinance.

The board decided to send letters to 'certain individuals' in Lincoln to inform them that they are in violation of the old ordinance No. 17 as well as the new ordinance. By sending the letters, P & Z hopes there will be no cause for litigation.

The board also approved a motion made by Betty Schreengost to accept two fences that were constructed under the old ordinance No. 17. The fences are in no violation of either the old ordinance or the new ordinance.

In other business P & Z: —Approved final plat review of the Cedar Creek Ranchettes Subdivision. —Approved Johnson Stearns plat request. —Referred Tim Collins to the proper agencies for the preliminary plat review for Vista Grande Subdivision.

LOIS ALDRICH IS PRESIDENT—

FRWLC officers elected

Lois Aldrich of Capitan was elected president of Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County at their regular monthly meeting Nov. 27 at K-Bob's restaurant in Ruidoso.

Serving with her will be Jackie Rawlins of Ruidoso as first vice-president, Noema Page of Alto as second vice-president, Martha Proctor of Hondo as secretary and Fran Siddens of Carrizozo as treasurer.

They will be installed at the December Christmas party.

Mary Helen Skeen, wife of US Cong. Joe Skeen, reported on the Congressional wives' luncheon given for Nancy Reagan in Washington, DC. "There were 1500 guests," she said, "including Mrs. Reagan, Barbara Bush, wives of Congress members, the Cabinet and Supreme Court and their guests."

Mrs. Skeen's guest was Bebe Clements of Roswell, formerly of Hondo.

Pat Hume, Republican county chairman, thanked everyone who had worked during the recent campaigns and elections.

Yvonne Lanelli reported on the recent quarterly state board meeting of New Mexico Federation of Republican Women with whom the local group is affiliated.

Following the business meeting, the Ruidoso High School Show Choir under the direction of Churchill Cooke presented a musical program. The 17-member girls' choir sang a Christmas medley, "Puttin' on the Ritz," and "Blues in the Night." Student conductor McKenzie Green then led them in

"Stopping by the Woods on a Snowy Evening." Their final number, "Manger Boy," featured soloists Brenda Rue and Florence Lopez.

Next meeting will be Thursday, Dec. 13 at the Best Western Swiss Chalet.

CLOCK WORKS

J. N. "Snooks" McDaniel of Carrizozo is once again showing his clock art in the conference room of the administration building at the school. The wood used in the clock making is found in and around Carrizozo and includes juniper, red cedar, walnut, elm, locust and faded weather-beaten barn wood. Snooks puts the best precision hand movements in his clocks and some include pendulums.

The public may view the clocks Monday through Friday from 8 to 4 p.m. Some of the clocks have sold signs attached. He has been making the unique clocks for the past five years. A retiree, his job at the round house involved service and light repair to locomotives. He and other railroad employees (my father, Abe Sanchez, among them) worked on steam locomotives and then later the diesel.

The McDaniels are parents of two sons, Ronnie and Roger who are locomotive engineers stationed at El Paso and Tucson, AZ. Snooks works parttime as the county's voting machine programmer, a position for which he was recommended about 20 years ago by the late Glenn Bradley, former Lincoln County Sheriff.

C'zozo Masons' installation set

By BART McDONOUGH
The Masons of Carrizozo sought dispensation for a lodge in 1908. Grand Master Chester D. Stevens signed the dispensation and the lodge was set to work by Raleigh F. Hare on Jan. 22, 1909. William F. Gierke was the first Master.

About the time the lodge was formed Carrizozo was named the county seat of what remained of Lincoln County which once formed the whole southeastern corner of the state. Quite a number of the members of Carrizozo were former members at White Oaks which surrendered its charter when the gold mines failed. Carrizozo Lodge 41 also received furniture and paraphernalia from the defunct lodge.

The members of Carrizozo Lodge have met in the same lodge room for the past 75 years. This lodge room with its blue Carrizozo will be at the Zia Senior Citizen Center on Monday, Dec. 17 to join the seniors at a Christmas tree decorating party.

The Christmas Goodie Basket project is underway at the center. Donations of canned goods and other groceries are appreciated. The good basket raffle will include a turkey and a ham. A lucky raffle ticket holder will be announced Dec. 21 at which time the Center is planning a bake sale. The groceries are being gathered in a large laundry basket which will be given away along with the food.

COOKIE SWAPPING PARTY

Everyone likes to eat Christmas cookies but baking several different kinds can turn into a large project. Make it easy by holding a cookie-exchange party and inviting friends to the event.

Invite nine guests and ask them each to bring a batch of one type of cookie. At the party divide the cookies so that everyone leaves with ten different kinds of cookies, yours included.

If you would like to try out some taste-tested cookie recipes ask any Carrizozo Woman's Club member about their 1984 cookie cookbook - a collection of the club members favorite recipes. Among them are the recipes for baking Stacie Fuller's Candy Cane Cookies and Cheri Goad's Fruit Cake Cookies. The numerous recipes include the one for making 'Forgotten Cookies', a recipe that instructs the baker: "Place cookies in oven and immediately turn off oven. Leave in closed oven over night. Do not open oven to peep in as this would spoil the cookies." I have tasted Hazel English's 'Forgotten Cookies' and they are delicious.

FROM THE PAST
Many of America's favorite foods have names that originated in other times and other parts of the world. Take cookies - early Dutch settlers in "Nieuw Amsterdam" called their little cakes "koekjes". When the British took over the colony, they renamed the settlement New York, but the Dutch name for the little cakes has stuck to this day, just the spelling has changed.

Toys made out of cookies in the shape of animals, people, castles and houses were popular Christmas gifts in Europe in the 1700s.

COOKIE TREE
New Mexico Magazine (December 1965) included the following item which sounds like an interesting holiday idea:

"A Christmas cookie tree featuring cutouts decorated to represent Biblical characters and the Nativity was used by Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe L. Champion of Albuquerque during the holidays last year."

"The ceiling-high tree carried Christmas ornaments and lights, as well as the (cookie) figures. Represented were the Christ Child, John the Baptist, the Three Wise Men, a cow, a sheep and other appropriate symbols of the Nativity, all cleverly delineated with colored frostings. Mrs. Champion prepared the tree as part of a progressive dinner held by her Sunday School class following the 'Las Posadas' custom observed in New Mexico."

On Nov. 29, Municipal Judge Billy Gene Payne ruled that all city animal ordinances are invalid because of vagueness.

Carrizozo needs an animal ordinance!

A public hearing will be held on Dec. 11 at 6 p.m. in city hall for input into an animal ordinance. The ordinance needs to be written with specific language to state what will or will not be allowed.

The purpose of the public hearing is to include the wishes of the majority of the residents in the writing of the new ordinance. Let's hope enough people show up for the public hearing to voice their opinions.

If you think a person should be allowed to keep a horse inside the city limits, attend the meeting.

If you think you should be allowed to keep pigs in your front yard, attend the meeting.

If you think livestock should be kept outside the city limits, attend the meeting.

If you think a leash law for dogs should be written, attend the meeting.

If you think cats should or should not be licensed, attend the meeting.

If you think domestic livestock should be kept a certain distance from food establishments, schools, and inhabited dwellings, attend the meeting.

If you think the permit fee of $25 is too high or too low for each species of animal, attend the meeting.

The public hearing is for you to have the opportunity to say what you think should or should not be a part of the ordinance. If you attend the meeting, you can help write the ordinance. If you don't attend the meeting, you have no gripes with the ordinance when it is written. Don't let someone else make the decisions for you. Attend the meeting.

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON — By LES KINSOLVING

NEA withdraws pro-sodomy book for children

WASHINGTON — The National Education Association is that gigantic (1,700,000 members) organization to which so many teachers belong.

Until Oct. 23, the NEA's professional library was distributing a book to be used in classrooms throughout the nation. This book promotes and defends the practice of sodomy. Its title: Homophobia and Education: How To Deal With Name Calling.

Last spring a copy of this book, published by an organization called The Council on Interracial Books for Children in New York, fell into the hands of syndicated columnist John ("Jugular John") Lofton. Mr. Lofton, a strong conservative with the memory and indignation of a bull elephant, noted among a number of passages in this book which the NEA was distributing to children, the following:

"It is not unnatural to have sexual relations with members of one's own sex, because this behavior is found in practically every culture throughout history."

Lofton noted that murder, rape and robbery have been similarly frequent in cultures throughout history.

"If we are to achieve true human and sexual liberation, lesbianism and male homosexuality should be presented as equally viable, visible and healthy alternatives to heterosexuality."

This, noted Lofton, is according to "a Boston lesbian."

An editorial in this booklet calls upon all non-homosexual teachers to help their homo colleagues to combat "heterosexism," which is defined as "a belief in the inherent superiority of one pattern of ruling over all others and thereby its right to dominance."

This claim no practitioner of bestiality or necrophilia would fail to oppose.

And further: —A "Howard University theologian" says of homosexuality: "Our condition is as honorable as it is to be black or white, or a woman, or a man."

(When the National Council of Churches seriously considered admitting a homosexual denomination into membership, one of the nation's largest black denominations joined the Greek Orthodox in serving notice that any such acceptance of a homosexual church would result in their walking out.)

—An editor of Ms. magazine denies that homosexuality is "harmful to its practitioners, or anyone else." (LOFTON: "Has she not heard of AIDS?")

There is much more of the same in this NEA-distributed booklet, but the aforementioned are the highlights, as reported by columnist Lofton in May.

By Oct. 28, the NEA announced: "We had a limited number of copies for sale. Parts of the press have grossly distorted the nature and purpose of this booklet. For that reason, to be sure the customers are not misled, we think they should order directly from the publisher."

This inane announcement did not come even close to fooling Jugular John:

"Limited copies? So order more. And what, pray tell, does ordering from the publisher have to do with people being misled by parts of the press?" More than apparently, Lofton's column exposing this NEA Pro-Sodomy-In-The-School-Room enraged so many parents — and sexually normal teachers — that the NEA professional library felt forced to get rid of this stuff.

For this, parents nationwide owe a debt of appreciation to John Lofton.

What the farmers and ranchers are thinking

By ERIK NESS

At the recent annual meeting of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau delegates debated, discussed and took action on more than 100 policy resolutions designed to guide the state's largest agricultural organization through this year and beyond. Many of these resolutions, in fact, reflect agriculture's legislative package for the upcoming 60 day session and many will become the law of the land. They also say a lot about the mood of this group.

As you might expect farmers and ranchers are concerned about a substantial number of issues and Farm Bureau members voted on resolutions pertaining to: taxes, volunteer fire departments, utility regulation, research, school funding, immigration, federal land acquisition, predator control, labor, high value crops, and of course water...just to name a few. These are some of the "ag-issues" that will surface this January in Santa Fe. Of crucial importance, as mentioned, is the continuing struggle to protect New Mexico's water resources with the major battle being against the city of El Paso, Texas.

While El Paso officials were attempting to lull New Mexicans to sleep, farmers and ranchers were voting to officially approve Farm Bureau's intervention in this four year old case. Voting delegates felt Farm Bureau's statewide scope and membership would add a new element to the case and put additional pressure on the West Texas water grabbers.

In addition, Farm Bureau members also voted to pursue legislation that would fund the various groups involved in the case from the Elephant Butte Irrigation District to New Mexico State University.

In what's bound to be a conservative session let's hope lawmakers will vote to continue our statewide fight against encroachment on our vital water resources. It ain't over yet...El Paso.

MY COMPLIMENTS!

EDITOR NOTE: Following is a statement by Senator Bingaman on the outcome of the balloting for Senate Majority Leader.

I compliment Senator Domenici on his efforts to be Senate Majority Leader. It is a tribute to him and to New Mexico that he was among the leading candidates for the post. Although he will not be serving in that capacity in the coming Congress, he will doubtless continue as chairman of the important Senate Budget Committee, a post he has held in the past with great distinction.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

EDITOR—The American people are being forced to subsidize the Soviets, through the Export-Import Bank, the Overseas Private Investment Corp., and other US government-supported agencies, through low interest loans and loan guarantees, all of which make the American people poorer and the Soviets richer.

It is only through these subsidies that the Soviets can afford to oppress their own people, export revolution to Latin America and engage in the reckless adventurism of the kind that killed Congressman Larry McDonald and 288 other helpless victims.

What can we do? First we can begin to recognize the Soviets for what they are - ruthless murderers who cannot be trusted. Second, we can end all American subsidies to all communist governments. Third, we can end all negotiations with the Soviets, and reduce diplomatic relations to a bare minimum.

Negotiations require trust, and we can only trust the Soviets to violate their own agreements, such as SALT I. Negotiations with the Soviet Union is like having a treaty with the Mafia.

BY FRED MCGAFFREY

SANTA FE—You can't deny Toney Anaya's ability as a campaigner.

Unfortunately, the characteristics which make him that do not make him a good governor.

Take that statement he issued last week, for instance, ordering state vehicles to use more ethanol blends in the gas tank, so as to help a burgeoning New Mexico industry.

First-class campaigning. If it had been made while he was seeking votes, the declaration would have made him highly popular on the East Side.

But he's already in office and can't use anybody's vote any more, so now the orders he put out have to be measured as a part of on-going government.

In that context, they leave much to be desired.

MEANING: For instance, exactly what does this particular executive order really command?

It says that 20 percent of the bulk buys of motor fuels for the state must hereafter be composed of unleaded ethanol.

Is that to be read to indicate that of the unleaded gasoline the state buys for its fleets 20 percent must be ethanol? Or does it mean that of the total of all gasoline, diesel fuel and other such substances the state purchases 20 percent must be ethanol?

There's a big difference between those two calculations, for both the state and the ethanol suppliers.

And what about those areas of the state in which ethanol is not readily available? Is a purchasing agent in such territory dispensed from the command, with the understanding that other state purchases, where the product is regularly on sale, will be adjusted to compensate, so that the amount purchased statewide will come exactly to that 20 percent the Governor has decreed is the desirable total?

Those are not just capacious questions. How are the buyers for the state to know how to proceed until they are answered?

The man who could answer them, of course, is not around. Shortly after he made the statement, he took off for the Far East, to whose business he has given much more attention than to that of the ethanol producers or any other New Mexico operators.

GRUMBLING: It just happens that on the very day the Governor was out making himself popular with the ethanol folks, the gasoline ones were here in town griping on that very topic.

They want the law which allows a deduction of 11 cents of the state tax from ethanol on sale to be amended to specify that to earn such a discount all the grain used to produce that ethanol must have been grown in New Mexico soil.

At least one cut-rate distributor has been knocking the in-state gasoline distributors dead at the pump with sales of the lower-cost fuel, but the farmers making the money from the product are reportedly from the other side of the Texas line.

How anybody can tell the difference between Texas-grown and New Mexico-grown grain has not yet been specified.

But it all goes to show you how difficult it is to govern a state once you get yourself elected.

Toney should have thought of all that before he made his run for office.

Amber

Gem of the Ages!

Millions of years ago, stately conifers, giant trees larger than our Redwoods, grew in luxuriant splendor on the stormy Baltic seashores, which were then a part of the southern Mediterranean of today. Came the glacial age which swept this floral splendor into oblivion. Though this was long before the age of man, an eyewitness captured evidence of life in that era and that magnificent eyewitness was AMBER—the golden sap of those prehistoric trees.

AMBER is truly a window into the past. Fascination and excitement will be yours as you view the botanical debris of the great forests: the seeds and insects, such as fleas that bit dinosaurs, bees that pollinated prehistoric flowers, and tiny drops of water which were trapped forever like bits of golden sunshine.

AMBER occurs in shades from clear to black, golden transparent yellow, cloudy but-tercup yellow, rare blue and reds and antique browns.

We import amber from all over the world....

COL. STAPP being strapped into the rocket sled he rode in 1954 to a speed of 632 miles per hour; (US Army photo)

'Fastest man on earth' is speaker

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, NM, Nov. 28—Colonel John P. Stapp, "The Fastest Man on Earth," will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the White Sands Pioneer Group. Stapp will speak on Dec. 19 which marks the 30th anniversary of his record setting ride on a rocket sled at Holloman Air Force Base. The sled reached a speed of 632 miles per hour before being stopped and made Stapp the first human to travel beyond the speed of sound on the ground.

Stapp will speak at a luncheon which starts at 11:30 a.m. in the White Sands Missile Range Officers Club. The luncheon is open to all and will cost $4.75 per person. Reservations for the luncheon are required and can be made by calling Evie Jones, 678-6136; Ella Holcomb, 678-1113; or Mary Helen Costigan, 678-4505. The 74-year old Stapp was born in Brazil where his parents were working as missionaries. He holds a B.A. and M.S. in Zoology and Chemistry from

Baylor University, a doctorate in Biophysics from the University of Texas and a M.D. from the University of Minnesota. From 1946 to 1958 Stapp lead military research on the effects of mechanical forces on living organisms. He investigated the tolerances of various animals to the stress of great acceleration and deceleration forces. When Stapp rode the rocket sled himself, on Dec. 10, 1954, he was subjected to forces averaging 25 g's with peaks at 40 g's. During the ride the sled hit a top speed of 632 miles per hour but the real test was to see what happened when it was stopped in just 1.4 seconds. During that deceleration, Stapp was subjected to forces equal to 40 times his body weight. This work was important in the design of seat belts, crash helmets and other safety equipment. Stapp now lives in Alamogordo and works with the International Space Hall of Fame.

HONDO INVITATIONAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

BOYS' DIVISION DECEMBER 6-8, 1984

GIRLS DIVISION DECEMBER 7-8, 1984

1ST ANNUAL—

Hondo Invite starts today

The Hondo Invitational Basketball Tournament is scheduled for Dec. 6-8 in Hondo, NM. Four teams are entered in the Girl's Division. These teams are from Carrizozo, Lake Arthur, Corona, and the host team from Hondo High School. Lake Arthur is the favorite.

The eight teams entered in the Boy's Division are from Mosquero, Corona, Carrizozo, Quemado, Lake Arthur, Bethel Christian of Carlsbad, Jesus Chapel of El Paso, and the host team.

Hondo's Coach Montes

figures the Carrizozo Grizzlies as the favorite to win the tournament. He feels the size in the tournament belongs to the Corona Cardinals and the Grizzlies. Montes stated that Hondo is "small but quick." Hondo is returning four let-terms from a squad that had to practice in Ruidoso last year. The new gym is ready to go and this should be an excellent tournament.

The girl's championship game is scheduled for 6:30 Saturday evening. The boy's championship game follows at 8 p.m.

C'ZOZO GRIZZLY—

Basketball 'round' up

The Carrizozo varsity (boys) basketball team got their '84-85 season started by sweeping to a pair of victories on Friday and Saturday night.

The Grizzlies hosted the Bears from Cloudcroft on the season opener Friday and came away with a 58-43 victory. Coach Ron Becker's squad got balanced scoring from his starting five of James Guevara (14), Ken Crenshaw (13), Dominic Vega (12), Joe Candelaria (3) and reserve Gray Gallacher (8) — soph. center Tommy Escamilla chipped in with (5).

Crenshaw and Escamilla used their height to good advantage and helped the home team control the boards against the smaller Bears. Crenshaw had 12 boards and Escamilla had 7.

Becker and assistant coach Gary Vega were pleased with the response showed by their team after falling behind early in the 1st quarter 0-4; Carrizozo ended up outscoring the Bears 15-12 in the first stanza. The coaching staff was also complimentary on the passing game which found point-guard Joe Candelaria leading the way with 4 assists—Vega and Gallacher had 3 each. Candelaria also had 4 steals on the night.

The Grizzlies shot only 50 percent from the charity stripe—hitting only 6 of 12 throws.

Against Hondo on Saturday night Carrizozo jumped out to a 32-17 half-time lead and coasted to an easy 58-29 victory.

Crenshaw led the scoring with (19) and Candelaria also got in double digit figures with (10)

Guevara (6), Vega (6), Escamilla (5), A. Serna (4), H. Rousse, Gallacher (3) and D. Zamora (3) rounded out the night's scoring. For Hondo West had (11), Macs (8) and Romero (5).

Becker and Vega commended the teams defensive play which produced 13 steals, and the ability to keep turnovers to a minimum (9). Shot selection became a little suspect which created a poor 41 percent shooting performance — and free-throw shooting again plagued the Grizzlies as it stayed at 60 percent for the game.

Team 'goal for the week' — win the Hondo Tournament'.

Girls basketball action found the Grizzly varsity splitting their two games. Coach Ray Fron's charges dropped their season opener to Cloudcroft Friday but picked up their first victory of the season on Saturday against Hondo.

Cloudcroft center Susan Peek's 30-point performance was too much for the Bears prevailed 65-43. Scoring for Grizzlies: Anna Luera (15), Liz Beltran (13), Sylvia Archuleta (8), Judy Vega (4), Karen Baroz (4) and Lynda Ortiz (1).

On Saturday night the C'zozo girls overcame a 1-point deficit at the end of the first quarter and gained their first victory of the young season by the score of 38-21 over the girls from Hondo.

Scoring for C'zozo found Liz Beltran with (7), Judy Vega (6), Sylvia Archuleta (4), Julie Vega (4), Lynda Ortiz (4), Lynn Gallacher (3), Karen Baroz (2), Marcella Sandoval (2), Anna Luera, (2), and Karen Baroz (3).

For Hondo Tina Torres had (13), Patricia Chavez and Renae Monter with (3) each and Janice Sanchez (2).

Other action at Hondo Saturday night found the Carrizozo JV boys opening their season by dropping Hondo's JV 55-24. Gabriel Chavez leading the Grizzlies with a game high 20 points—Hal Rousse 12, Daniel Zamora 11, Robert Conners 6, Richard Guevara 4, Robert Guevara 1, and Anthony Serna 1. F. McTeigue led Hondo with 10—E. Polaco 7 and T. Chavez had 3.

The Tigers are in District 5A along with Cloudcroft, Weed, Hondo, Lake Arthur and Hagerman. Coach Lawlis feels that Cloudcroft and Weed are the teams to beat for the district title but says that the Tigers will be in there battling.

Returning lettermen include Troy and Dewey Keller, Robbie Runnels, Ronnie Sanchez, and Troy Padilla. Coming up from the Junior Varsity are Mike Lunn, Jay Eldridge, John Parker, and Andy Trujillo. Two seniors who should help the squad are Junior Mancha and John West. New faces looking good are Ty Paul, Trent Thompson, and Mike Valenzuela.

Ask Dr. Dan

What causes nosebleeds and how can I stop them? E. S.

There are many causes of nosebleeding but by far the most common is irritation of the lining of the nose. Hot dry air from furnaces in the winter will dry the lining and cause cracking and bleeding. Frequent nose blowing from a cold and picking at the septum (the divider between the two sides of the nose) are the two reasons for irritation.

Treatment is keeping the septum moist. Use a room vaporizer at nighttime in the bedroom. Rub a small amount of vaseline or bacitracin ointment onto the septum area with a fingertip several times daily. Blow the nose gently and avoid picking at it.

If nosebleeding persists, several methods can help stop it. Sit down, relax and firmly pinch the end of the nose together so that pressure is applied to the septum in the front part of the nose. Hold the pressure for 5 minutes. If bleeding stops, do not blow the nose for a while so that a firm clot will form. If bleeding continues, add pressure to the upper lip at the base of the nose with the side of a finger.

Uncontrollable bleeding needs treatment by a doctor. Your doctor will look into the nose to determine the location of the bleeding. Bleeding from the front of the septum is usually easy to stop. Posterior bleeding (out of view by the doctor) is often difficult to control. A nasal pack may be required. These are uncomfortable and may compromise breathing. Hospital admission and pain medication

Holiday Parties In A Hurry

The winter holidays can be both the glory and despair of a host or hostess who loves to entertain. They raise the question of what to serve guests that is quick, satisfying and affordable at the most festive time of the year when impromptu gatherings are more frequent.

Dips of all kinds are one answer to the party fare dilemma. They're easy to assemble and serve, can often be prepared in advance and the most popular ones call for just a few "on-hand," inexpensive ingredients.

Start with a can of Cheddar cheese dip, new from Frito-Lay. Available in three robust flavors, unopened cans don't need refrigeration and will keep fresh up to one year. Delicious right from the can, they also combine well with a wide range of savory additions to provide fabulous party food.

Here are three ideas to get your holidays off to a glorious start. Serve any one or all three... they're that simple!

EASY CHEESE FONDUE

- 1 can (10 ounces) Frito-Lay's® brand Cheddar and Jalapeno Flavor Cheese Dip
- 1/4 cup tomato juice
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

In medium saucepot combine all ingredients; mix well. Bring to a boil. Serve hot in a fondue pot or on a hot tray. Use potato or corn chips or chunks of French bread as dippers. YIELD: About 1 1/2 cups.

CHEESE STUFFED TOMATOES

- 1 can (10 ounces) Frito-Lay's® brand Cheddar and Herb Flavor Cheese Dip
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed well-drained

FIESTA PARTY DIP

- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
- Dash hot pepper sauce
- 2 pints cherry tomatoes

In medium bowl combine cheese dip, spinach, onion, horseradish and hot pepper sauce; mix well. Cover. Chill several hours. Cut thin slice off top of tomato; scoop out, turn over to drain. Fill each tomato with cheese mixture.

YIELD: 1 1/2 cups. Enough to fill 2 pints cherry tomatoes.

FIESTA PARTY DIP

- 1 can (9 or 10 oz.) Frito-Lay's® brand Mild Cheddar Flavor Cheese Dip
- 1 can (9 or 10 1/2 oz.) Frito-Lay's® brand Jalapeno Bean Dip
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/2 cup chopped, green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped, fresh tomato

Combine all ingredients in a medium bowl. Serve immediately, or cover and allow to stand 1 hour to blend flavors.

YIELD: About 2 1/2 cups.

HEALTH BEAT

Children are, by nature, curious individuals, and it is this nature that may prove hazardous to them.

Paula Miller, district health educator with the Chaves County Health Office, 300 E. Chisum St., said children ages five and under are the most common victims of poisoning.

"Under the age of five is probably the most common age for poisonings all over. After five years old, children are really not quite as curious, and they have other things that interest them," Mrs. Miller said.

Leslie Jones, assistant director of the New Mexico Poison Center, a registered pharmacist, agrees with Mrs. Miller. "About 40 percent of all poisonings are in the preschool population."

The most common type of poisonings in general is plants, Miss Jones said. "People need to be aware of what type of plants they have and whether or not they are toxic."

If someone is not certain about a plant, a landscape or gardening center can identify it, according to a pamphlet from the NM Poison Control Center.

Some of the common household plants that are potentially toxic include the sap of the aloe vera, all parts of the English ivy, all parts of the philodendron, and the leaves, stem and sap of the poinsettia.

The health office can provide pamphlets with further listings on toxic and non-toxic plants.

Miss Jones said the 10 most common forms of poisoning in all age groups, in order of their frequency, are:

1. Plants.
2. Tylenol.
3. Aspirin products.
4. Alcohol (such as ethanol).
5. Cold and cough preparations.
6. Cosmetics.
7. Sedatives and hypnotic agents.
8. Hydrocarbons.
9. Vitamins.

10. Food poisonings.

Mrs. Miller said other common types of poisonings are things "found in a woman's purse. Some women will carry their birth control pills in their purses, and those can be hazardous if taken in large quantities."

"They may also carry aspirin or medications in their purse," she added.

"You should never take anything out of its original container. The back of the label, such as on an insecticide, will tell the ingredients. It will also tell how to counteract the poison and what to do," Mrs. Miller said.

The health office also offers a repeat poisoning follow-up program. "When the mother or family, calls the 900 number (for the poison control center), the center will ask them if it's all right to refer them to a nurse in their local area."

"A nurse here in the office will go see them, and do a home safety check. We take poison control stickers to them with the center's number on it, and we also take cabinets locks and outlet covers," Mrs. Miller explained.

The nurse will give the family information on how to make their home safer, and may even "move items to a cabinet, out of a child's reach, and lock it with a cabinet lock."

The nurse also provides health education, Mrs. Miller said.

Other precautions that may be taken include keeping Syrup of Ipecac on hand and out of the reach of children. This can also be harmful if taken wrong.

Parents should keep the Poison Control Center's number handy. The toll-free number in New Mexico is 1-800-432-6866.

When going out, Mrs. Miller said, parents should be sure the babysitter knows where the physician's number is, as well as the number for where the parents will be and the poison center's number.

"We have a booklet to give to those starting to babysit," Mrs. Miller said. "Basically this is all common sense. Kids can do things so fast, and you have to watch them."

The first thing to do in case of a suspected poisoning is to call a physician or the NM Poison Control Center.

 Gifts That Keep in Touch
 There's now less need to have to grope around for an inexpensive gift that keeps you in touch with a friend or loved one during the holidays. Gift experts have had their feelers out and have come up with an interesting selection.
 An inexpensive gift item is helping many elderly people stay in touch with family and friends.
 A lot can be said for "voice letters" which are a joy to send and receive. They can be made from a simple cassette and are a nice change of pace from regular letter writing.
 A "letter" that can be kept in sight is a photo story with accompanying text. These can be made inexpensively by using any of the low-price instant cameras and film.
 For those who have one of the popular video cassette recorders, now small portable cameras can take cassettes that can be mailed to make a "living letter."
 The telephone has long been the easiest and most popular way to keep in touch and a new gift idea that makes it convenient and inexpensive is ringing in a lot of cheers. It's a long distance gift certificate that can be applied directly to your phone bill. Available through AT&T, the Long Distance Certificates are available in denominations of $5, $10, and $25 and can be ideal for elderly relatives on fixed incomes and college students.
 Though the holiday season is the time to stay in touch, these interesting and inexpensive gift ideas can help make it easier to keep in touch throughout the year.

SAY "PEANUTS, PLEASE..." FOR COMFORT AND WARMTH

Peanut butter is a childhood favorite but it would be a pity to let children have all the fun! The versatility of peanut butter coupled with its universal appeal make it a wonderful base for a variety of grown-up treats.
 Here are three ideas for soothing the soul and pleasing the adult palate: a hearty vegetable soup, a sinfully rich popcorn, and a very adult soufflé.

Creamy Peanut Vegetable Soup, a meal in itself, features ingredients like peanuts and peanut butter, carrots, zucchini and cabbage.

PEANUT VEGETABLE SOUP
 1/4 cup butter
 1/2 cup julienne carrots
 1/2 cup julienne zucchini
 1/2 cup julienne red or green pepper
 1/2 cup shredded red cabbage
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 3 tablespoons flour
 5 cups chicken broth
 1 cup creamy peanut butter
 1 cup light cream or milk
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 Chopped salted peanuts

In a large saucepan or dutch oven, melt butter. Add carrots, zucchini, red pepper, cabbage and onion; saute 3 minutes. Add flour and stir until smooth. Gradually stir in chicken broth; bring to a boil. Stir in peanut butter; reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in cream, salt and pepper. Garnish with chopped peanuts. Makes 8-10 servings.

PEANUT BUTTER POPCORN
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 1/2 cup unpopped corn
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

4 tablespoons honey
 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
 Pop the corn in oil according to package directions; transfer to a large bowl. In a small saucepan, stir butter and honey over medium-low heat until melted. Add peanut butter; stir to blend. Bring to a simmer, remove from heat and pour over popcorn. Stir to coat evenly. Serve warm. Makes 2 1/2 quarts.

SUMPTUOUS SOUFFLE
 1 tablespoon butter
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 egg, separated
 1 tablespoon Corn-treat (optional)
 2 tablespoons water
 3 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
 1 1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar

Grease a 1 1/2 quart souffle dish. Sprinkle bottom and sides of dish with 1 tablespoon sugar.

Combine egg yolks, Corn-treat, water and 2 tablespoons sugar in top of double boiler. Beat constantly over hot, not boiling, water, until mixture is thick and forms like a ribbon. Remove from heat; continue beating until cooled slightly. Beat in 3 tablespoons peanut butter until smooth, beat egg whites with cream of tartar and remaining 1 tablespoon sugar until stiff but not dry. Fold whites into yolk mixture. Spoon into prepared souffle dish. Bake in a 350 F. oven for 25 minutes. Meanwhile prepare chocolate sauce. Serve at once with sauce. Makes 6 servings.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE
 8 oz. chocolate chips
 2 tablespoons hot water
 3 tablespoons rum
 1 tablespoon half and half

Mix all ingredients together in a sauce pan or double boiler and stir over very low heat until melted. If too thick, add more hot water.
