

COMMISSIONERS—

Karrville Subdivision action rescinded

By RUTH HAMMOND
Lincoln County Commissioners met Tuesday and rescinded an earlier decision on the Karrville subdivision. Residents of the area were on hand for the afternoon session with commissioners.

Commission Chairman Bill Elliott told the group that, "We as commissioners are put in a position to make decisions that affect people." He went on to explain, "We want to be fair and not create a hardship on anyone."

Commissioners then voted unanimously to rescind the previous action on the subdivision.

County Attorney Steve Sanders told the 35 people present that a letter was sent to counties from the Attorney General's office on illegal subdivisions. Anyone who sells over four parcels of land within a three year period is required to make out a plat and have it approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission and County Commissioners or be in violation of New Mexico law.

The Attorney General's office sent a representative to Carrizozo to assist the county in making subdividers comply with the law. There were 17 illegal subdivisions in Lincoln County and the subdividers were invited to a P & Z meeting. It was the purpose of the Attorney General's office and county officials to help the subdividers come into compliance as much as possible.

Johnson Stearns was one of the subdividers. Stearns had sold parcels west of Carrizozo. He filed the plat to comply with state subdivision regulations.

Sanders also explained, "We overlooked that owners of the property must sign the plat." He added, "The Attorney General's office didn't think of it and we didn't think of it."

Bill Payne, acting for some of the residents, asked that the minutes of the meeting be a matter of records in the County Clerks office.

The week before, residents had attended the P&Z meeting to raise objections about being classed as a subdivision. One of the main complaints was that the change in classification would raise their taxes. Subdivisions are taxed on a higher rate that includes a ten cent per road-foot levy for properties along county roads.

When asked about the action being rescinded, Elliott said, "It will go back to what it was before Dec. 11, 1984."

In other action, Commissioners tabled a road change request by Art Nunez, and adding County Road B-015 to the county maintenance system, and a New Mexico bridge replacement plan until commissioners can inspect the roads on April 3.

Bids received for road construction on school bus route, State Road 42 were rejected. The project was budgeted at $116,000 and the bids received were $134,648.10 and $135,720.

McCarty submitted the low bid of $13,330 for truck and labor to haul base course. The bid was accepted subject to certificate of disclosure and compliance with state laws.

Bids for emergency medical equipment will be evaluated and awarded at the next regular meeting.

An auction agreement was signed with Jim Woodridge, auctioneer, to sell county equipment at the Capitan Yard on April 13. Items to be sold include vehicles, typewriters, calculators, road department equipment, furniture, and miscellaneous.

A lease agreement between Lincoln Historic Preservation Board and the Lincoln County Heritage Trust was signed. The front room of Dr. Wood's Annex will be rented for $65 a month for the Historic Board to have a permanent home.

Funds were approved for three Lincoln National Historic Landmark Plaques to be placed in Lincoln.

A budget increase for the Carrizozo Health Center was tabled. The Health Center received $10,000 from the estate of Loren 'Pat' Dunning in her will. It was requested that income from $10,000 worth of stock be used for the care and maintenance of any needy elderly patients. It is the wish of her heirs that the $10,000 be used for capitol outlay. Commissioners want to meet with the heirs to discuss the will. They directed the treasurer to invest the money in a separate account until a decision is made.

A statement of assurance of compliance was signed. This is similar to revenue sharing and says the county will not discriminate.

A resolution will be presented at the next meeting to amend the subdivision ordinance to require that roads built in a subdivision that are dedicated private be built to county specifications and a form of security be pledged until the roads are completed and inspected. Even though some roads are private, they are used by the sheriff's department and ambulances.

Every property owner within the town plat of White Oaks will be polled in the form of a petition to see how many do want a White Oaks Ordinance.

RENTAL CARS are now available at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport. Two cars are there now and another car will be delivered soon. Airport Manager Mel Carl accepts the keys from Hertz agent Carl Scott.

Rental cars at airport

By RUTH HAMMOND
The Airport Committee met Tuesday to discuss the need for a larger fuel tank and security precautions.

Bob White, State Aviation Agency, was in Carrizozo and explained that an underground leak detector will be required under fuel tanks within 18 months. Some tanks in other areas have leaked into water levels.

The 98 afganistan pine trees will be planted this week. Railroad ties are needed to protect grass and shrubs and to block one ramp. By closing one ramp, all cars must come to the front drive in front of the lobby to drive onto the apron. This will help Airport Manager Mel Carl control security for cars and airplanes.

Rental cars are now available at the airport. Hertz has two rental cars at the airport and will bring another car soon. The cars may be rented by calling the Carrizozo Municipal Airport at 648-9996.

Plans are being made for the second annual Fly-In to be held June 29. The Fly-In will be advertised in the Flying Review.

The shirt pocket guides publicizing the Carrizozo airport are in and a rack is in the airport lobby with guides from other airports. A larger guide that will fit in pilot's notebooks are available, too. The guides have advertising from local merchants.

Local schools expect $$$ loss

The word was not good in Santa Fe earlier this week for area schools as the financial picture for current year and next year continues to be extremely bleak. The Governor's Office of Education alerted schools that substantial amounts of money would have to be shifted within school budgets immediately to help the State regain eligibility for Federal impact aid funds.

New Mexico became ineligible for impact aid earlier this year when Federal officials found New Mexico school districts had not followed several impact aid regulations since 1982. Selected revenue including earnings from investments and the local operational property tax (one half mill) must be now redistributed within district budgets.

Most New Mexico school districts, including Carrizozo, cannot comply with this immediate requirement without Legislative assistance. The Legislature adjourning on March 16 failed to design a remedy for this problem, and numerous Districts are faced with large deficits for the current year.

With the recent Legislative session, the Carrizozo Schools will receive considerably less funds for the 85-86 school year, including $37,000 fewer Operating funds, a $40,000 loss in building-maintenance funds, a $2000 loss in textbook funds, and cuts in other special areas. Many of these translate in to reduced purchasing in the Carrizozo business community.

In order to finish the current school year without a deficit, Superintendent Jim Miller announced this week a freeze on all school spending of any kind. Also announced was a proposed reduction in the school lunch program for 85-86 of an estimated $4300 before the Congress.

ON CAPITAN WATER SITUATION—

Citizens express opinions

Some 45 citizens of the Capitan community attended a special called meeting Mar. 25 of the Capitan City Council for the purpose of discussing the water problem. Opinions were expressed but no specific action taken.

Mayor Cummins explained that the first well drilled was not cost efficient. The present well being drilled east of Capitan as of Mar. 22 was at the 276 foot level. If this well does not make the grade Capitan will be forced to look for water near Ft. Stanton or closer to Lincoln. Capitan must have its own water supply. Capitan now borrows water from Alamogordo (from Bonita Lake) which it pays back when the demand is lower. The community also gets water from Eagle Creek which at times gets down to a trickle or even nothing at all.

Mayor Cummins feels that a set of priorities are needed. Monies spent should be used to upgrade the present system. Cummins also stated that a booster pump station is needed along with additional fire hydrants. In addition a system should be set up to isolate leaks.

What others had to say - a few selected items: Councilman Coker - Our storage is what our daily use is. We need storage. "We're going to need storage before this summer is out."

Van Norman - during a discussion of a proposed bond issue - felt that the State of New Mexico would help the communities who try to help themselves (if any help is forthcoming).

Blaine Miller (among other things) felt that local citizens with certain skills could do some of the work themselves.

Village Attorney Underwood wants a resolution that monies obtained from a proposed bond issue would be used for water.

Councilman Beavers - Village must find more water - Growth depends upon more water - when water is found it must be piped to town.

Councilman Renfro - "A proposed bond issue will not pass unless we designate where each dollar will go."

Pat Huey wanted to know if the engineer would get a finders fee. The answer, The engineer gets 10 percent of installing equipment.

Capitan residents are currently paying a tax of $29.94 per $1,000 of assessed value. A bond issue of $600,000 would cost $26.67 in added tax. This would bring the total to $56.61 per $1,000 assessed value. This does not include a school assessment voted last month by Capitan citizens.

If a proposed bond issue passes it would take 6 months to a year at the earliest before monies are realized. This depends on how quickly the bonds are sold. Then, projects must be let and other procedures taken. Time is getting short.

Other meetings will be called. Capitan citizens should make every effort to attend these meetings and help get the water problem resolved.

The Lincoln County Historic Review Board will meet April 1 at the Visitor's Center with a covered dish dinner at 7 p.m.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Tina VanDyke from the State Historic Preservation Office.

Bronze Stars Awarded

On Sunday, Mar. 24, Capitan Post No. 57, American Legion, hosted the District 5 Spring Conference at the Smokey Bear Restaurant. District 5 consists of Lincoln and Otero Counties.

During the meeting John D. West of Capitan, Lelon Barnes of Carrizozo, and Ollin Roper (his brother Sam Roper of Carrizozo accepted the medal) were awarded the Bronze Star Medal. The inscription read as follows: "By authority of the Secretary of the Army you have been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for Meritorious service in the defense of the Philippines from 7 December 1941 to 10 May 1942."

Barnes was a Corporal in "B" Btry, 515th CA and West was a Corporal in "E" Btry, 200th CA. The medals were presented by Anthony P. (Tony) Genta, National Vice Chairman, Military Affairs Committee, American Legion.

FUN BINGO

Zia Senior Citizens Center in Carrizozo and its satellite centers in Capitan and Corona conduct Fun Bingo Days. Bingo players try their luck and become owners of some interesting stuff. Glassware, placemats, houseplants, tea pots, knick-knacks and handcrafts can be some of the bingo winnings. Just like bingo playing in the good old days.

In Carrizozo, seniors play Fun Bingo ever Friday after the noon meal. Friday, April 13 only, bingo will be held after the enchilada supper fundraiser. The public event is from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. followed by Fun Bingo also for public participation.

To make the bingo much more fun and interesting the center is accepting white elephant items from community members. Spring cleaning sessions will produce many new and almost new items that you may want to donate to the center in Carrizozo for the bingo games following the supper April 12. Local businesses have donated services or meals for the bingo.

COMPETITION AHEAD

Senior citizens are brushing up on their pool playing skills in preparation of an upcoming six-county tournament. Carrizozo will be hosting the big event in May at the Rec Center. Carrizozo seniors have been top pool winners in the past.

Another big event for senior citizens will be held in August at Highlands University, Las Vegas, NM. Women and men age 55 and over are eligible to participate in the senior olympics games. Carrizozo seniors have competed in the past two years.

It's not too soon for senior citizens to get those muscles and bones in shape for the contests. Walking, jogging, running should be good practice activity to take up now.

O.K. TO SAY 'NO'

Pam was using drugs when she entered an Albuquerque high school in 1979. It was remarkably easy to get anything she wanted there - pot, booze, pills. She wrote school themes about passing out and getting sick, about contemplating killing herself. But the teachers didn't comprehend her pain.

Pam was one of four teenagers who spoke to 150 people last Saturday in Albuquerque during the New Mexico Parents Conference on Drug Awareness. The young people talked of peer pressures, of feeling that they needed to drink liquor and, smoke marijuana to secure for themselves a place in school cliques.

They wanted to be popular. They talked about the loneliness and exclusion they felt if they refused.

"But it's OK to say no," said Lori. I used to think that the kids who smoked pot and drank were cool. Now I know that you can be even cooler if you don't."

TEENS NEEDING TEENS

Lori is part of the core of Teens Needing Teens, a fledgling program of drug education and prevention at Sandia High School. TNT is one of dozens of youth groups around the country whose membership is made up of young people wanting to reassure other teenagers and children that its OK not to use drugs.

The two-day drug awareness conference was sponsored by the state's Substance Abuse Bureau and Families in Action, an Albuquerque-based information and referral agency.

Teenagers talked to each other about their experiences. One girl started drinking in seventh grade. She and her friends filled fruit jars with liquor from their parents' stock and drank during school lunch periods.

Another said she's never used drugs, but some of her friends do. She tries to get them to attend TNT meetings with her. One teenager said that after she was arrested for drunkenness, her parents encouraged her to attend Alcoholics Anonymous meetings.

Hearing the veteran drinkers' horror stories about liquor's destructiveness sobered her for good. "And now," she said, "if I can stop just one kid from using, I'll be very, very happy."

PEACE QUILTERS

Sponsors of the 'National Peace Quilt' are hoping that each member of the US Senate will sleep under patchwork at some time in 1985.

"We want the entire US Senate to understand the depth and breadth of their nation's desire for a peaceful, secure future and we want them to examine their own personal responsibility for working toward this goal."

"How many senators will be able to refuse? After all, they all have to sleep sometime," the newsletter continued.

The National Peace Quilt is the idea of Diane Jones of Boise, Idaho. She has a network of volunteers across the country trying to persuade each senator to sleep under the 10 by 13 foot quilt, which has patches designed by children in each of the 50 states. Some 16 senators have either slept under the quilt or have agreed to.

The National Peace Quilt dream started in 1982, when a group of mothers in Boise sewed a friendship quilt and sent it to the Soviet Union as "a gesture of goodwill."

BABY SHOWER

Among the gifts at a March 17 baby shower were baby quilts made by Isabel Vega and Arsenia Narvaez, both members of the St. Rita Quilting Group.

The Sunday shower, attended by family and friends, was given for Ann Beltran. Isabel is Ann's grandmother. Hostesses for the event were Ann's sister, Cindy Verdugo and friends Sandra and Cynthia Morales, and Sandy Tawny. A cake decorated with baby blocks was enjoyed along with the rest of the refreshments, prepared by Carol Zamora, Ann's mother.

Party favors included baby booties, crocheted by Sandra and filled with assorted candies. A blanket, crocheted by Dolores Villegas was among the many gifts received.

FFA's feted at Canyon Cowbelle 'beef-burger fry'

The Carrizozo Canyon Cowbelle had a "Beef-burger Fry" at noon March 20 in the Ag Dept at the Carrizozo High School, for the FFA students, teachers and guests. The Capitan Corriente Cowbelle were invited but only three, Pat Ward, Inez Marr and Fern Sawyer were able to attend because of bad weather.

The Cowbelle spared no expense by importing a "Fry Chef", Charlie Glover of Las Cruces and assisted by Johnson Stearns, to cook the beef-burgers to the satisfaction of all attending. The dessert table was filled with an assortment of cakes, pies, cobblers, ice cream, whipped cream and fruit, and topped off with coffee or iced tea. Seconds and thirds were a common event for some of the students.

Knolene McDaniels reported that Beef Certificates are now available at the United New Mexico Bank of Carrizozo. These certificates are nice for Christmas or birthday gifts for anyone. The Canyon Cowbelle will donate six $10.00 certificates to the fourth place winners of the horse-shoe pitching contest on Buzzards Day, April 13-14.

A donation of $50 has been made to the Carrizozo FFA to help with expenses for the invitational judging event which is the largest in the state. Mr. Gaines said that any event of this size could not be successful without the help and support of the other teachers, parents, and the community, was lucky to have that support.

FFA president, Steve Stearns, introduced the student teachers from NMSU, Debbie Eyers of Ruidoso and Brian Mitchell of Mesquite. They will be here for several weeks helping with the teaching and the judging events.

Gaines explained the many and varied uses of the computer in the Ag. department as Steve Stearns fed information in and then passed around the read-out. The computer can tie into a toll free telephone and receive news, agricultural reports, weather, and other vital information from any place.

Maurice Hobson stopped by for a beef-burger and visit and talked for a few minutes. He said the legislative committee's work long and hard and got along fine with each other, but a few self-centered people vetoed some good bills on a minor point, and made it a very disappointing session.

Several Canyon Cowbelle plan to attend the district meeting of Cowbelle, in Ruidoso, Thursday, March 28 and hosted by Capitan.

PFK spelling bee April 11

The April 11 Spelling Bee sponsored by People For Kids was a main discussion topic at the recent PFK meeting. The Spelling Bee involves third and fourth graders and will be held in the old gym at 7:00 p.m.

Special guest Rosemary Zink discussed the CPR course offered periodically. A sign-up sheet was provided for interested persons. She also reported that a First Aid class will be offered on March 30 in the old gym.

A videotape about programming on PBS was presented by Lyn Miller, KNME advisory board member.

BY MARGARET RENCH

LEO A. Joiner and Mary Louise Hall, of Hondo, were married March 30, 1935 in Roswell, NM will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary this Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joiner have five children: Della Bunnell of Glencoe, Pat Joiner of Capitan, Patsy Racher of Hondo, Ruth Lawrence of Roswell, and Edith Lawrence of Carlisle, Iowa.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Joiner invite family and friends to attend a reception in honor of the couple's 50th wedding anniversary, March 30 at the Silver Dollar in Tinnie from 1 to 4 p.m.

Early last week we received 2 1/2 inches of wet snow followed by several days of spring-like weather and sunshine which was great. It was enjoyed so much by everyone. It does remind us that not to far in the distant future spring will arrive. All of this moisture should be great for our country.

Our school started Monday, March 25 after their spring break. It seems all did enjoy those days off. The Spring Band Concert will be Thursday night at the school. Saturday during the day, March 30, they are having a Solo and Ensemble Clinic. The students participating will be from the 5th grade thru the 12th. There are only nine weeks of school left.

The Capitan FFA traveled to Carrizozo this last weekend for a judging contest. Our chapter did very well, placing high in several categories. Carrizozo puts on a fine show every year.

There will be a tour of 100 antique cars coming through Capitan sometime Thursday of this week who have notified the Smokey Bear Museum. Watch for them. They had lots of visitors during the spring break which they did appreciate. Last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bell of Las Cruces visited there. They were so happy to have them as each time they come he tells them something different about Smokey. He always brings so much sunshine and joy.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met March 21 at the pleasing and comfortable home of Gladys and Stanley Pew. Three members were absent: Frankie Tonn, Winifred Cozzens and Alice Traylor. Gladys Pew served delicious meatballs and scalloped potatoes. She also had rolls and orange muffins. Vegetables and salads were furnished by the other members. At the close of the meeting Marie Edgar won the raffle. The next meeting is planned to be with Harriet McGinnis.

Mrs. Willie Hobbs and Mrs. Gail Alston went to Texas last week. Willie's Foster father entered the nursing home at Hale Center, TX as he is unable to care for himself at home. They reported the weather was beautiful all of the way. The farmers are very happy.

Mark Knapp who has been at the Police Academy for six weeks training returned to his duties at the New Mexico State Smokey Bear Park. He passed all of his tests and was first in driving. We are proud of him. Glad to have you back. We have missed you.

Happy birthday to Ellen Faye Hammons and Betty King whose birthdays were on the same day, March 17. I wish you many more very happy and healthy birthdays.

Ellen Faye Hammons accompanied Angie Provine to Lubbock, TX this last weekend.

Howard and Maxine Wright spent one week at Del Rio, TX with sisters; Jake and Eileen Burkett of Portales, Joan DeBuck of LaPuente, CA, brother, Lowell Alright and daughter Carol of Squaw Valley, CA. They had a very good time and caught lots of fish. It was a great vacation.

Sister Dorothy Napper of Brownwood, TX did not make it due to the illness of her husband. They had everything ready including their boat to travel the night before and he endured a stroke. Therefore, the hospital. He is recovering nicely at this time at home. He must have the therapy. I do wish him the very best and complete recovery.

Linda Wright and two children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake McCarty in Animas, NM last week.

Glenda Faye Booher returned to Western College Sunday after spending the spring break at home with her parents and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Booher.

Donna Liles of Alamogordo spent spring break with Glenda Baird of Capitan. These youngsters had a fine time.

Ty Paul spent the spring break with his mother Addie Armstrong in Las Cruces. Ty lives with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Paul and attends school in Capitan. He likes it so much here. His grandfather works at the Diamond A Ranch. He was home this last week. Mrs. Paul spent last week at the ranch with him.

It seems people have been staying at home. In the morning there are many at the post office and after mail time all are gone and its quiet. Remember: Friends and neighbors we do need news if you have any, please come forward.

●HOW would you like to kick your country in the teeth while getting paid up to $800 a week, plus full fringe benefits, chances to travel, and perhaps to blow up the Pentagon? Such jobs exist, as witness these ads for "activists" which appeared in the Help Wanted columns of the San Francisco Sunday Chronicle-Examiner recently. Interest in such activities must be waning. Not long ago thousands of adde-pated, mangy Muscovites could be recruited to do the same jobs for nothing more than the thrill of being arrested and having their pictures on the front pages of cooperative media.

● AS publisher of this newspaper, I refuse to publish the asinine antics of odious scamps who masquerade as the Peace Movement. As I told one publicity-seeking Apostle of Dissidence, "The only way you're going to get publicity in this newspaper is for you to be found hanging by your neck from a Main Street utility pole." Unfortunately, he never accommodated me.

● PUBLICITY is the lifeblood of these activists. The day the media ceases to glorify their nefarious assaults on society, and upon our system of government, the protest movement will wither and die. Of course, those who would have us hang on every word these luncheads utter accused me of censoring the news - difficult to establish the media bust their collective gut to publicize their Dissent-of-the-Day. Freedom to publish also means freedom not to publish.

● PERHAPS you have wondered, as I have, where the money comes from to transport these malcontents all over the country. Who feeds, clothes, doctors their wounds and directs their assault on the social, economic and political structure of the country? It took some time, effort and money to find out. The entire protest movement, including the Peace Movement, is financed through government with our tax dollars; by private foundations such as the Ford and Rockefeller foundations; and by this nation's churches, both Protestant and Catholic. Surprised? Angered that our own tax money is being aborted? Probably not. But here are a few examples of how the US government spends our tax dollars to help destroy itself.

● THE radical Institute for Policy Studies, the chief think tank for the American Left, which preaches that democratic institutions are immoral and unworkable, in 1982 received more than $50,000 from VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America). VISTA is supported by the federal government and accepts tax-exempt grants. Ralph Nader's Public Interest Research Group (PIRG) received $1,000,000 in VISTA funds; Tom Hayden's Laurel Springs Institute is a training center for political activists, $200,000; and Midwest Academy, another training center for activists, $600,000.

● THE Western Action Training Institute, another training school teaching organized political activism of the Saul Alinsky (Communist) type, received $172,578 in 1979 from the US Department of Justice; the radical Citizens/Labor Energy Coalition received $200,000 from the US Community Services Administration; Nader's PIRG got additional hundreds of thousands of dollars from the US Department of Education, Federal Trade Commission and Environmental Protection Agency; Center for Community Change, a source of assistance to hundreds of activist groups, got $2 million from the Department of Labor, $600,000 from the Department of Housing & Urban Development and $1.5 million from the Department of Justice.

● THE National Council of Churches, affiliated with the World Peace Council, a radical group directly tied to Moscow, received half a million dollars a year for three years in a row under the Carter Administration - twice from the Department of Labor and once from Department of Energy. In 1980 the NCC spent $15,000 donated by the National Endowment for the Arts to make a film glorifying the Marxist regime of Mozambique.

● FRIENDS of the Earth received $30,000 in federal funds from the Department of Energy in 1979; the already rich, Sierra Club got $669,000 in federal funds through the Environmental Protection Agency between 1978 and 1980; in January 1981 the National Endowment for the Humanities gave $45,000 of our tax money to a radical activist group called AMCOM Productions to produce two 30-minute films extolling the virtues of the American Communist Party.

● FEDERAL subsidies to activist organizations seeking the downfall of US democratic institutions has continued under the Reagan Administration. The Department of Energy gave $68,500 to the aforementioned IPS's offshoot, the Conference on Alternative State and Local Public Policies, which seeks government

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON

By LES KINSOLVING

Napoleon McCallum—Navy Secretary Lehman's usufructuary midshipman

WASHINGTON — Secretary of the Navy John Lehman and the US Naval Academy's Superintendent, Rear Admiral Charles Larson were recently roasted by The Armed Forces Journal, a Washington-based monthly with a circulation of some 35,000, which claims to be the fourth oldest periodical in our nation's capital.

The Journal charged Lehman and Larson with "forgetting or subverting the mission of the Naval Academy" which is "to prepare midshipmen...to be professional officers in the naval service."

Focus of this editorial indictment is a first class midshipman (a senior) with the much-more-military-than-naval name of Napoleon McCallum. In addition to being an above average student, Nap is an athlete of absolutely spectacular proportions. For in 1983, McCallum "broke every all-purpose career yardage record at Navy" and "rushed for 1,887 yards" and "was a top contender for the Heisman Trophy"—the annual award for the nation's best college football player.

The Naval Academy authorities have allowed McCallum to be "redshirted," which is fully legitimate under the rules of the NCAA. If a college athlete is for some extenuating reason unable to play in more than twenty percent of any season, he may play the following season. The NCAA approved his petition, and the Naval Academy has allowed him to graduate in December of this year in the process of completing an academic double major.

But The Armed Forces Journal issued a "dart" to Secretary Lehman and Admiral Larson for allowing this, because:

"Lehman and Larson apparently think that the Academy's mission is to train professional athletes, set intercollegiate athletic records, or win Heisman Trophies."

But The Armed Forces Journal neglected to report what they could so easily have learned had they bothered to consult the Naval Academy's excellent Public Affairs Officer, Commander Kendall Pease. For Admiral Larson has taken the same action with regard to seventeen other midshipmen — none of whom played football during the additional time at Annapolis.

"The Brigade of Midshipmen is limited to a strength of 4,515 persons; thus McCallum's extension is using up a billet that might better be filled by someone else, who wants to be a naval officer, soon."

But The Armed Forces Journal neglected to note that when the Plebe (freshman) class enters, the Naval Academy never knows exactly how many will show up until the end of the first day when they take the oath, before which they are simply invited rather than under orders. Moreover, the Naval Academy has no way of knowing the exact rate of attrition. But there have always been enough resignations, or expulsions, so that Bancroft Hall has never been overcrowded.

This issue has been joined by Secretary Lehman, whose lust for Harma Way and whose skill at the satirical salvos suggests John Paul Jones married to Jonathon Swift's sister and producing a prodigy. For Lehman wrote The Journal something of a classic. For example:

"While I know that The Armed Forces Journal editorial positions are not influenced by the fact that its editor is a graduate of West Point, I should have hoped for a more expansive and benevolent attitude, in as much as West Point has just won — with a very fine performance — its normal allotment of one (football) game in every eight."

At the US Military Academy, Major Mondragon of the Public Affairs Office promptly and gracefully rose to take this bit of titillating bait: "The official record discloses that Navy has 40 victories, while we have 38, and there have been seven ties. So I'll concede them two games — for the time being. Our quarterback, Nate Sassman, who gained over one thousand yards last fall, will be a second lieutenant of Infantry this June — in accordance with our purpose here at the Military Academy. It is, of course, the Naval Academy's business to do what they believe is right."

Secretary Lehman went on to quote what he termed "the great Russian reformer M. A. Bakunin who said: 'Man can be set free from the yoke of his own nature only by education. It alone can make it possible for him to subordinate the impulses of his body to the guidance of his mind.' Bakunin would have been much gratified to contemplate the new enrichments to the humanities curriculum at the Naval Academy that begin in September of this year. What a sad deprivation it would be for Napoleon McCallum to have come so close to these beneficial influences" instead of being "immersed in the humanities and other usufructs of the finest academic curriculum in the United States."

How sad, also, that Bakunin died in 1876, 14 years prior to the first of these enormously colorful Army-Navy (football) classics — for which, this year, McCallum will prepare by being immersed in Secretary Lehman's Usufructuary Humanities.

It is very doubtful, however, that Bakunin would have wanted to visit the Naval Academy's enrichments, however marvelous they are. Ut sit mens sana in corpore sano, to which classic Secretary Lehman also alluded. For Bakunin was a military academy graduate, who subsequently resigned his commission in the Czar's army, because, as he wrote his father: "I am consumed by boredom." So this "great Russian reformer" (as Lehman describes him) became Europe's most violent and revolutionary advocate of anarchy — in a lifelong struggle for control of the International with Karl Marx. (Bakunin would never be bored, however, in Lehman's Navy.)

Lehman's literary license also erupted with the following: "If he (McCallum) chooses to play football, so much the better."

This hypothesis ranks along with such uncertainties as death, taxes, the sunrise and the receding of the tides. But it would help significantly in selling out the 1985 Army-Navy Game.

take-over of banks, utilities, housing, etc.; $179,644 to the Environmental Action Foundation for studies attacking corporations; and $120,000 to the National Center for Appropriate Technology, another radical group. The America Friends Service Committee got $150,000 from the Department of Education in 1981 and another $150,000 from the National Endowment for the Humanities for a study to "prove" the US military presence in Puerto Rico has deformed all aspects of Puerto Rican life.

● THIS could continue for many pages. The figures are gained from the Heritage Foundation and from two excellent researchers, Rael Jean Isaac and Erich Isaac, authors of a new book, The Coercive Utopians. Rael Jean has a PhD from New York University and Erich a PhD from John Hopkins University.

● THESE few illustrations show how activists in this area, and all over the world, are being funded by tax dollars of American citizens through federal agencies dominated by liberal/left department heads.

● NEXT week I will list some foundations, such as the Rockefeller Foundation, that provide millions to keep peace marchers on the road; the millions that subsidize terrorist activities in Africa and elsewhere; and other millions funneled to activists determined to change the social, political and economic order to fit their Marxist beliefs.

● NOW, perhaps, you can understand how activists all over the country get the money to keep their disruptive movements afloat.

One more Mr. nice guy!

WASHINGTON, VIRGINIA — "Suppose," my friend said as he leaned across the table, "just suppose that Konstantin Chernenko died weeks ago, and we only found out about it later."

"Think about it. We were heading into arms talks, and everything was going our way. We had the Pershing IIs in place in Europe. Mondale had made opposition to Star Wars the centerpiece of his campaign and lost in a landslide. Reagan didn't have to worry about reelection anymore, so there wasn't much pressure for him to give in."

"Consider the importance of these negotiations to the Soviets. Their system simply can't perform the kind of high-tech research that would be necessary to keep up with the US in space — which means the USSR could be a minor power 40 years from now, unless they stop Star Wars before it's too late. Yet there they were, facing a US President at the height of his popularity while their own leader was too sick to appear in public."

"Let's say, Chernenko dies of disease — or maybe he dies from an icepick, that's how they killed Trotsky — and the KGB decides it has had it up to here with geriatric cases. It wants a new, young face — young by Russian standards — somebody who can compete with Ronald Reagan in charisma, or who at least doesn't look like a gangster."

"They decide they'll keep Chernenko's death a secret until the most propitious moment, of course. Remember what their spokesman said a few weeks ago when he was asked about Chernenko's health? He said that in the USSR, 'the private lives of the leadership... are not subject to discussion.'

"Anyway, the KGB's candidate, Gorbachev, gets the nod, and the Soviets parade him around with his pretty wife, except that maybe she's not his wife, maybe she's a phoney like Andropov's wife and Chernenko's wife supposedly were, maybe she's a recruit from KGB Central Casting. They even claim that she's a university teacher. Ah, a two-career family, just like in 'modern' America! Then they come up with a daughter and a cute little granddaughter to complete the illusion."

"As the arms talks are getting underway, they announce that Chernenko has just died. A few hours later, they announce an 'orderly transition of power' and volla! we have a new Soviet First Family."

"Why go to all this trouble to make Gorbachev seem like a nice fellow? Obviously, the point they're trying to make is that the Soviets are just like us. We may have a slight disagreement over politics, but other than that we're the same. The only reason we can't get along is that we don't understand each other. It's like that Dr. Seuss book where the two countries fight over which side of bread to butter. Why can't we all put aside our petty arguments and be friends?"

"He was being sarcastic, mimicking the arguments of people for whom the real horror of communism is beyond imagining."

Inside the Capitol

BY FRED McCAFFREY

SANTA FE—It was no surprise: This year's legislative session was one of the least productive ever. You can feel it moving that way while a session is going on, but it's hard to be sure; you're too occupied following the day-to-day developments. But when what you see before your eyes is hardly more than a 60-day dogfight, you know you're safe in predicting little positive in the way of accomplishment. It's not till after a session ends—and this one did even that in a bitter, unpleasant fashion—that you can sit down and objectively assess the damages. In 1985, they turned out to be great. THE NUMBERS: Even on quantity, these folks accomplished little. Lawmakers introduced a total of 1115 measures in the 30 days allowed for that purpose. That's just about what some of us were predicting (this writer said he expected 1200), but the number of those to pass both houses was much lower than normal. With that many proposed adoptions, we would ordinarily expect something like 370 to make it to the governor's desk. This year, the total, at 273, was more than a third less than we could normally look for. And the raw figures say nothing about the quality of the bills that made it. SERIOUSNESS AND FRIVOLITY: There were some good bills passed, of course; even the nineteenth-century philosophy of some of this year's leaders could not prevent that from happening. We got new laws on reporting child abuse, on child-visitation rights, on the hours at which our polls will be open and on the use of seatbelts in our automobiles. (The auto manufacturers want every state to have one of those laws so they won't have to install those clumsy airbags in 1989.) These measures and some others, may actually contribute to the public weal. (Con't on P. 5)

C'zozo FHA-HERO spring fashion show

The latest in teen spring clothing and accessories was introduced at a fashion show presented last Sunday by the Carrizozo FHA-HERO chapter.

The fashion collection included prom gowns with the traditional lace, ruffles and ribbon. Part of the spring fashion scene is the 'Madonna look' and includes pedal pushers and jumpsuits in neon color. The colorful outfits are inspired by 'Madonna' video rock group.

The show opened with fashions of past times. Kelly Sheehan headed the parade wearing a 50s style satin gown, pearls and bobby socks. The 60s fashion was modeled by Lynda Ortiz and featured dark glasses, floppy shirt, bell bottoms, and barefoot. The teen outfit of the 70s was exhibited by Kay Zumwalt in jeans, T-shirt and tennis shoes.

Fashions of the 1980s included...soft feminine colors that are light and soft. Pants are in style but the length is moving up! High waters and pedal pushers are back in style. This year's main fashion point is accessories! Jewelry, purses, scarfs, hats, and socks are the focal points of an outfit. Most of the spring fashion that were worn are of 100 percent cotton or a cotton blend. This provides for easy care and comfort for hot weather.

The models for this event include...Kay Zumwalt, Kelly Sheehan, Cindy Silva, Sylvia Archuleta, Cathy Najer, Connie Najer, Suzanne Saucedo, Lucy Vega, Lynda Ortiz, Anna Lueras, Carin Giordano, Denise Hill, Judy Vega, Marcella Sandoval, Clarica Carpenter, and Valerie Padilla.

Sunday's event at the Carrizozo Woman's Club building included a luncheon buffet. Door prizes were won by Charlotte Archuleta, Beatrice Ortiz, Peggy Najer, Ruth Silva, and Jean Davis.

Chapter advisor Susan Thornton served as commentator for the fashion show. Linda Johnson, school band director, was in charge of the recorded background music. The clothing for Sunday's show was provided by Emphasis, Stevensons, Sweetbriar's, J. C. Penny and Millers Rich Rags all of Alamogordo. Stacy Wilson of Ancho, color analyst, was in charge of facial make-up for the models.

Thornton extended special thanks to Carrizozo Woman's Club, Linda Johnson, Stacy Wilson, Ms. Amba Manning, Mrs. Carol Zumwalt and Cruzita Agullar.

Capitol . . . (Con't from P. 4)

But did we really need legislation to allow buyers of "vanity" license plates to transfer them to the front of their cars after they have expired? Was it crucial to adopt a measure to permit us to keep and operate antique slot machines in our homes, as long as we do not do it for profit? Was it essential to provide for the licensing of sail and wind surfboards?

Those are a few of the relatively meaningless measures that make up the majority of those passed.

THE BIG "NO": The Governor has 20 days after the close of the session to decide which bills he will veto. This corner is betting the number of those he turns down will approach a hundred. (One year, Ed Mechem vetoed 120 bills, and the state managed to keep right on operating on an even keel anyway.)

Toney's reasons for his vetoes will not be pure as the driven snow, though his veto messages will make them sound that way. In many cases, he will be operating like the purely political creature he actually is.

Take the case of Senator Jim Caudell, who, with seven bills passed, has more measures he sponsored before the Governor than anyone else. Caudell is not popular with Anaya. He deliberately slowed down approval of Jerry Apodaca as a member of the board of regents at UNM, suggesting there was something faintly sinister about the former governor. Toney will not look upon his bills approvingly.

This will go some of even the few good bills that passed. Net gain to the state when the whole process has been completed will be so tiny you could, without discomfort, put it in your eye.

Viguerie . . . (Con't from P. 4)

I thought about my friend's theory as I read press accounts about the "pragmatist" Gorbachev who was "not so much interested in burying the West as in learning from it." He was a "collected, energetic, and decisive" man according to the West German chancellor. "He's truly in command and I think it augurs well for the future," said the prime minister of Canada. "World statesmen" were quoted as saying that he was "witty, charming, and refreshingly open."

And he had a "slim, stylish, English-speaking wife" who carried a Gucci handbag and shopped at Harrod's. The Reuters correspondent was struck by her "lively, independent spirit—not to mention a penchant for fashionable suede boots and pearl-drop earrings." She reminded people of Jackie Kennedy; the New York Daily News wrote of "Camelot'sid." She so charmed Western photographers covering her that they brought her some flowers.

I remembered how, shortly after he succeeded Brezhnev, Yuri Andropov was described in the major Western newspapers as a nice guy, sympathetic to dissidents, who spoke English, drank scotch, listened to jazz records, and read Jacqueline Susann novels. None of which was true. It took a while for people to realize that this was the same Yuri Andropov, the "Butcher of Budapest," who calmly ate dinner with Hungarian leaders before turning them over to the secret police (come into my parlor, said the spider to the fly...). It took a while for us to realize that good ol' Yuri had been head of the KGB when the KGB engineered the shooting of the Pope, and maybe he wasn't really so nice.

Gorbachev, I remembered with a jolt, was Andropov's assistant. He would have learned from the collapse of Andropov's p.r. campaign. He would probably have cursed under his breath as his boss' true background was revealed. And when he thought about his own future, he would have promised himself to do a much better job of bamboozling the West when his time came.

"Death had its jogle in claiming Konstantin Chernenko just before the Big Two arms control talks resumed," wrote columnist Joseph Kraft. Yes, but sometimes Death walks on two legs, and sometimes it is witty, charming, and refreshingly open.

Ask Doctor Dan . . .

I had a mole removed and the doctor said it was a malignant melanoma. He wants me to see a plastic surgeon for further surgery. Is this necessary? S. C.

Melanoma is a cancer arising from the pigment producing cells of the skin. This cancer has a tendency to spread rapidly throughout the body. Once it does this, cure is very difficult and requires chemotherapy (anticancer drugs).

Extensive studies have shown that depth of invasion into the skin correlates highly with spread elsewhere and survival. If the study of the removed mole shows it is likely to have spread, then a wide area about the original mole site needs to be removed. This is why your doctor recommends further surgery.

Melanoma has the country's highest rate in New Mexico.

Protection against the sun with hats, sunscreen and avoidance are your best ways to lower your risk from this deadly cancer.

USAGE PRICING

Beginning this month, Continental Telephone of the West will provide their Alto, Capitan, and Mescalero customers with a new way of paying for local telephone service which could save most users money on their monthly bill.

Called "Usage Pricing," it will provide customers more control of their monthly telephone costs.

Contel Ruidoso District Telephone Services Manager John Van Tussenbroek said, "Usage Pricing is a concept of 'paying for what you use' and is a replacement for the traditional 'flat rate' method of pricing.

"Because of changes in the telephone industry," Van Tussenbroek said, "rates are expected to increase. But customers who have Usage Pricing can control their bills and may not feel the impact of increased rates as much."

Under Usage Pricing as approved by the New Mexico State Corporation Commission, residential customers will choose from four plans, business customers from three.

The payment plans are designed for low, moderate, or heavy users of the telephone, with customers choosing the plan that is economically most advantageous.

"Under the old flat rate concept," Van Tussenbroek said, "customers paid one monthly price for being hooked up to the network and for using the telephone. Under Usage Pricing, customers pay a lower monthly fee for access to the local network (not to be confused with long-distance access charges recently inaugurated), then pay a usage charge which varies depending on how much or how little the telephone is used.

"All telephone companies are going to this method," Van Tussenbroek said, explaining it as a fairer way of charging. "If a person uses the phone very little, it doesn't seem right that he/she should pay the same as someone who uses it constantly, and it is those who use the phone constantly who cause the telephone companies to increase their plant capacities—more lines, more equipment, more people to maintain that equipment." He referred to Usage Pricing as a "cost cause—cost payer" concept.

He went on to state that studies nationwide in areas where Usage Pricing has been in effect, 60% of all customers, residence and business, end up either paying the same or less than they would otherwise pay.

Customers in the Alto, Capitan, and Mescalero areas have received comparative statements showing their usage over the past several months and what their bills would have been had the Usage Pricing plans been in effect. To begin the service as approved by the Commission, Contel will identify the plan most economical for the customer. The customer may stay with that plan or if he/she feels one of the others might be better, may have the telephone company switch to that choice with no service charge anytime within 90 days. After the 90-day period if a change is desired, a service charge would be levied. Post cards for making this change are in the mail to each customer.

Van Tussenbroek explained, "The Usage Pricing plan affects local calling only. Long-distance calling will remain the same." Further, he emphasized, "Usage Pricing charges are levied only for outgoing calls, not incoming calls."

Brochures and additional information are available at Contel's local payment office located at 2700 Suddarth Drive.

RUTH'S RESEARCH REVEALS—

Lincoln County Long Ago

By RUTH HAMMOND
The Nugal Nugget, H. L. Harris, publisher, was printed until Feb. 6, 1890. Price $2.00 per annum.
Jan. 2, 1890—The new disease, influenza, has crossed the Atlantic and broken out in Boston and Kansas City.
The delegates in congress of the various territories have united and introduced a bill providing for the admission as states of New Mexico, Idaho and Wyoming.
Twenty cases of boots and shoes just opened. Men's and women's arctic; our $2 latie's button shoes "takes the cake", J. C. DeLaney, Fort Stanton

La grippe, the new Russian disease, has struck St. Louis, and the doctors are discussing its nature in meeting.
The Agricultural College and Experiment Station of New Mexico, will open at Las Cruces on the 21st inst., with Prof. Hiram Hadley as president of an excellent faculty. Young men desirous of a thorough and practical education should address President Hadley for further information concerning this institution.
Pinos Altos is about to have a mineral war on account of two ore veins belonging to different companies coming together, and each contending for it.

The Christmas festivities are now over and our town is about to assume its old monotonous garb.
The new election law requires ballots to be printed, instead of written, so take warning, ye anxious candidates.
The fire in White Oaks last week consumed about $30,000 worth of property, Mr. Whiteman being the principal loser. No insurance.
Dr. M. G. Paden of White Oaks was a pleasant visitor to our town last Saturday, on professional business. He returned home just before his services were required in the accident which happened to Mr. Muncie.

Just received, one hundred cases and ten barrels of coal oil at prices to defy competition. J. D. DeLaney, Fort Stanton.
Jan. 16, 1890—Our citizens were thrown into a feverish excitement last Monday over the report that Mr. Dick Russell was down with small pox at the residence of his brother, R. C. Russell, who lives six or seven miles south of us. There is no doubt but that this loathsome disease will finally reach town, but we think with proper precaution and a liberal use of disinfectants its invasion can be retarded to a large extent. Let everybody stay at home, attend to their own affairs, tell no tales and the d-1 will perhaps not be so keen to contaminate us with his disease. Mr. Russell has the sympathy of everybody, and especially on account of his family.

We suggest that our citizens get together and fix up a comfortable pest house, so that in case the small pox does visit us, we will be ready to receive it with open arms and take better care of its subjects. Its evidently bound to visit us and it wont do to delay preparations until it does come, as then the excitement will get the best of any arrangement. It will not cost much to put a house in proper shape and the Nugget suggests that steps be taken at once with that view.

Jan. 23, 1890—Dr. M. G. Paden of White Oaks, made Nugal a visit this week and while here vaccinated over 30 persons. The virus which he had on hand was all used by him, but he has more coming from the vaccine farm in the east.

Feb. 6, 1890—M. M. Acker of New York, has introduced a bill making slander a crime. Such a bill will play havoc with the editorial fraternity of New Mexico.
After repeated, unsuccessful efforts, at great expense, the Jicarilla company in Lincoln County have at last succeeded in striking water. Page B. Otero, who will arrive in Las Vegas shortly, writes that there are now 52 feet of water in their well, and it is still rising. -Optic.

LEGLALS

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF MEETING AND SALE

CARRIZO MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 7, COUNTIES OF LINCOLN AND SOCORRO, NEW MEXICO GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS SERIES MAY 1, 1985 $70,000

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Counties of Lincoln and Socorro, New Mexico will on Tuesday, the 16th day of April, 1985, at the hour of 7:30 p.m., at the School Administration Building, 800 D Avenue, Carrizozo, New Mexico, receive sealed bids and publicly open the same for the purchase of the District's General Obligation School Building Bonds, in the aggregate principal amount of $70,000. Such Board will hold an open regular meeting in the Conference Room of such School Administration Building, in Carrizozo, New Mexico at 7:30 p.m. Mountain Standard Time, on April 16, 1985 to consider such bids, will also award such bonds, adopt a bond resolution and consider such other matters as may properly come before such Board.

DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

Said bonds will be dated May 1, 1985, will be in the denomination of $5,000 each, and will mature serially in regular numerical order, on the first day of July in each of the years as follows:

Years Maturing	Amount
1989	$20,000
1990	25,000

both principal and interest being payable in lawful money of the United States of America, at United New Mexico Trust, Albuquerque, New Mexico. The bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the District on July 1, 1989 or any interest payment date thereafter at a price of par plus a premium of one percent of the principal amount of each bond so redeemed, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption. Said issue constitutes the remaining portion of the bonds which were authorized at an election held on February 7, 1984, are for the purpose of erecting, remodeling, making additions to and furnishing school buildings and purchasing and improving school grounds and will constitute the general obligation bonds of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, payable from general taxes which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

INTEREST RATE

The maximum net effective interest rate permitted on said bonds is twelve percent; provided, however, that if the net effective interest rate on such bonds is greater than ten percent per annum (based on the actual price to be paid to the District for said bonds, calculated to maturity according to the standard tables of bond values), such rate must be approved in writing by the New Mexico State Board of Finance, and the District may not issue the bonds before such approval is given. Interest on said bonds will be payable on January 1, 1986, and semiannually thereafter on the first day of July and January in each year until maturity or earlier redemption. It is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest, provided, however, that

- (1) no bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity;
- (2) the maximum coupon interest rate permitted is twelve percent per annum; and
- (3) each interest rate specified must be stated in a multiple of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent per annum.

BIDS

Bidders are required to submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest rate or rates of interest and premium, if any, at which such bidder will purchase such bonds. For informational purposes only, each bidder is requested to specify (b) the total net interest cost to the District in dollars and cents and (c) the stated effective interest rate in a stated percent. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Bid for General Obligation School Building Bonds of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Counties of Lincoln and Socorro, New Mexico", addressed to the Secretary of the Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7 at the School Administration Building, 800 D Avenue, Carrizozo, New Mexico 88801. Only unconditional bids will be considered. Bids should be submitted on the official bid form which may be obtained from the District's financial consultant (see "INFORMATION" which appears hereafter).

BASIS OF AWARD

Said bonds will be awarded to the highest and best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Board of Education to reject any and all bids and readvertise. The best bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The bonds will not be sold for less than par and accrued interest, nor shall any discount or commission be allowed or paid in the sale of such bonds. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

GOOD FAITH DEPOSIT

All bids shall be sealed and, except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a good faith deposit of not less than $1,400 (i.e., two percent of the principal amount of the bonds) either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check or, by certified check drawn on a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States and payable to "Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7." Such good faith check shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within thirty (30) days following the acceptance of the bid or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District as liquidated damages and in that event, the Board may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid. If all bids are rejected, the Board shall readvertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

TIME OF AWARD AND DELIVERY

The Board of Education will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at some bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or Carrizozo, New Mexico or elsewhere at its request and at its expense, within 60 days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within 60 days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding 30 days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder, during said succeeding 30 days, the good faith deposit will be returned and such bidder shall be relieved of any further obligation. The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the District for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the District. It is anticipated that the delivery of the bonds will be on or about May 22, 1985.

LEGLALS

INFORMATION

Information concerning the bonds and the District may be obtained from the District's Financial Advisor, Quinn & Co., Inc., 301 Central Avenue Northwest, P.O. Box 528, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87103. (telephone 505-842-1900)

TRANSCRIPT, PRINTED BONDS AND LEGAL OPINION

The written approval of the New Mexico Attorney General of said bonds as to form and legality will be supplied. The legality of the bonds, in addition, will be approved by Messrs. Hutchison Price Boyle & Brooks, Attorneys at Law, Dallas, Texas and Messrs. Simons, Cuddy & Friedman, Attorneys at Law, Santa Fe, New Mexico, whose unqualified opinions approving the legality of the bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder at no cost to the successful bidder. The opinions will state in substance that the issue of the bonds in the amount aforesaid is valid and legally binding upon the District, and that all of the taxable property in the District is subject to the levy of a tax to pay

APRIL SHOWERS

When driving in a light rain, use your windshield washer before you turn your wipers on. There may not be enough rainwater to wash the film off the windshield, resulting in streaking when you turn the wipers on. This can greatly reduce your vision.

COMMON FALLACY

It isn't necessary to warm up an engine before driving, even on the coldest of days. The new, improved quality of today's oils and lubricants makes it unnecessary. Just drive slowly for the first quarter mile.

ALCOHOL-IMPAIRED DRIVING

Though National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week was December 9-15, 1984, you should be aware of the dangers of alcohol impaired driving every day of the year.

WARM WATER WASH

Wash your vehicle at least once a week with warm water. Take it for a drive immediately afterward to flow water away from around moldings and other areas susceptible to rust.

PROTECTIVE WAX JOB

Wax your vehicle two to three times a year. This protects nicks and prevents salty water, humidity and tannic acid from bird droppings from getting into the car body.

PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT

By preserving your vehicle's original finish, you will maintain - and potentially increase - its value at resale time. Used car dealers look closely at paint to determine the condition of a car or truck body.

Plaintiff, vs.
CONCEPTION A MORALES and CONCEPTION MORALES, his wife, PIONEER SAVINGS & TRUST OF ROSWELL, STANLEY'S, STANLEY J. FRENCH, and SUNROCK ENTERPRISES, INC.,
 Defendants.

FINAL JUDGMENT AND DECREE OF FORECLOSURE

THIS MATTER having come before the Court as a stipulated matter, and the Court having considered the pleadings on file herein, the testimony of witnesses and the arguments of counsel and being fully advised in the premises, finds and orders as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. That the Court has jurisdiction over all the parties to this action.
 2. That the Defendants, Conception A. Morales and Conception Morales (hereinafter referred to jointly as Defendants Morales), are residents of Lincoln County, New Mexico.
 3. That the real property which is the subject matter of this action is located in Lincoln County and is more particularly described as follows:

LEGALS

Lots 1 through 14, Block 5, Highland Addition, Carrizozo, Lincoln County, New Mexico, as shown on the official plat thereof on file in the office of the County Clerk, Lincoln County, New Mexico.

4. That the Defendants Morales are indebted to the Plaintiff, Citicorp Person-to-Person Financial Center, Inc. (hereinafter Plaintiff Citicorp), by reason of a Promissory Installment Note dated on or about March 11, 1980, in the original amount of $62,100. A true and correct copy of the Note was attached to the Complaint as Exhibit "A". Said obligation is secured by a Mortgage on the real property described above, and a true and correct copy of said Mortgage was attached to the Complaint as Exhibit "B" and was filed for record in the Office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, in Book 97, Page 229, on March 13, 1980.

5. That the Defendants Morales are in default in the payment obligations to the Plaintiff Citicorp which has declared the Note in default and has elected to accelerate the indebtedness. The outstanding amount owned on said Promissory Note is the sum of $36,685.92, plus attorney's fees incurred to date of $2,378.68 and costs of this action in the amount of $75.99. Said obligation continues to bear interest at the rate of $6.99 per day after February 15, 1985.

6. That Defendants, Stanley J. French and Sunrock Enterprises Inc., were duly served with process in this matter and have not answered or filed in any response to the Complaint in the time allotted for such answer, and this Court has previously granted a Default Judgment on May 29, 1984, foreclosing the interests of Defendants, Stanley J. French and Sunrock Enterprises, Inc.

7. That Postal Credit Union filed for record a Transcript of Judgment on May 26, 1983, in Book T of the Lien Records, Page 494, which Transcript of Judgment was released in Book V, Page 601 of the Lien Records of Lincoln County, New Mexico.

8. That the Defendants Morales are indebted to the Defendant, Pioneer Savings & Trust, F. A., f-k-a Pioneer Savings and Trust Association, by reason of a Promissory Note dated August 11, 1982, in the original amount of $5,977.08. A true and correct copy of said Promissory Note is attached to the Crossclaim of Defendant, Pioneer Savings & Trust, F. A., as Exhibit "A", which obligation was secured by a Mortgage on the real property described above, recorded on August 18, 1982, in Book 107, Page 497, of the mortgage records of Lincoln County, New Mexico. A true and correct copy of said Mortgage is attached to Defendant Pioneer's Crossclaim as Exhibit "B".

9. That the outstanding balance owed Defendant, Pioneer, by Defendants Morales on the Promissory Note referred to above is the sum of $5,267.88 through November 20, 1984; additionally Defendant Pioneer is entitled to recover attorneys' fees in the amount of $889.43 and its cost of this action in the amount of $130.84, plus per diem charges of $1.16 after November 20, 1984.

10. That the Defendants Morales are indebted to the Defendant Stanley's in the amount of $1,900.00 which amount is subject to a Claim of Lien filed for record on November 9, 1982, in Book V of the Lien Records, Page 1027 and 1028, of the records of Lincoln County, New Mexico.

11. That the amount of the indebtedness owed to Defendant Stanley's by Defendants Morales as more particularly described above, is the amount of $8,492.14 interest of $619.53 and attorneys' fees of $475.00, which amount bears interest at the per diem rate of $2.01 after December 4, 1984.

12. That the order of priority with respect to the Plaintiff Citicorp, Defendant Pioneer and Defendant Stanley's is as follows:

1. Citicorp Person to Person Financial Center, Inc.;
2. Pioneer Savings & Trust,

LEGALS

F. A.; and
 3. Stanley's, a partnership.
CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

A. That the Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter and the parties to this action.

B. That the Defendants Morales are wholly in default on the Promissory Note and Mortgage payable to the Plaintiff Citicorp; on the Promissory Note and Mortgage payable to Defendant Pioneer; and on the indebtedness to the Defendant Stanley's.

C. That the Plaintiff and Defendants, Pioneer and Stanley's, have the legal right to accelerate the Notes and obligations and to declare the entire unpaid principal balance immediately due and payable in accordance with the terms and conditions contained in the respective Notes, together with accrued interest, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees.

D. That the order of priority with respect to the Mortgages and other encumbrances of record are as follows:

1. Citicorp Person-to-Person Financial Center, Inc.;
2. Pioneer Savings & Trust, F. A.;
3. Stanley's, a partnership.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that:

A. Judgment is awarded as follows:
 1. To the holder of the first mortgage Plaintiff Citicorp against the real property described above in the amount of $36,685.92, which figure includes interest through February 15, 1985, plus accruing interest after that at the rate of $6.99 per day, plus reasonable attorneys' fees in the amount of $2,378.68, which the Court finds to be reasonable, and costs of this action in the amount of $75.99.

2. To the holder of the second mortgage Pioneer, against the real property described above, in the amount of $5,267.88 including interest through November 20, 1984, plus accruing interest thereafter at the rate of $1.16 per day, plus reasonable attorneys' fees in the amount of $889.43, which the Court finds to be reasonable, and costs of this action in the amount of $130.84.

3. To the Defendant Stanley's in the amount of $1,900.00.

4. That the monetary judgments awarded the Plaintiff Citicorp, Defendant Pioneer and Defendant Stanley's may be satisfied only from the sale of the real property described above belonging to the Defendants Morales by reason of the bankruptcy of the Defendants Morales. In the event the bankruptcy of the Defendants Morales is dismissed, then said parties are not limited to the source of collection of the judgments awarded each of them.

B. That the lens of all parties to this action are hereby foreclosed and that the real property described herein which is the subject of this action shall be sold at public auction according to the law and practice of this Court. Said sale shall be held on the 10th day of May, 1985, at the hour of 1:00 P.M., in the Lincoln County Courthouse, Carrizozo, New Mexico, and that notice of said sale shall be given as required by law.

C. That Patricia M. Marsh is hereby appointed as Special Master to sell at public auction for cash, the right, title and interest of all parties to this action in and to the subject real property.

D. That the Plaintiff Citicorp and the Defendants, Pioneer and Stanley's, are hereby allowed to bid the respective amounts of the respective monetary judgments to be applied toward the purchase price of the subject real property.

E. That upon the sale of the subject real property, the proceeds shall be distributed as follows:

1. The costs and expenses of foreclosure, including Special Master's fees and expenses of sale.
2. To the Lincoln County Treasurer for unpaid property taxes on the subject real property, if any.
3. To the Plaintiff Citicorp in the amount shown in A (1) above.
4. To the Defendant Pioneer in the amount shown in A (2) above.
5. To the Defendant Stanley's in the amount shown in A (3) above.
6. In the event any proceeds remain after the payment of the above, any remaining proceeds shall be paid to the Bankruptcy Trustee of the Defendants Morales.

F. That the Defendants Morales shall, after the foreclosure sale and by May 22, 1985, vacate the subject real property and if they do not do so, then a Writ of Assistance shall be forthwith be issued, directing the Sheriff of Lincoln County, New Mexico to use reasonable force to effect the recovery of the subject real property and deliver possession of the party bidding the highest amount at the foreclosure sale.

G. That upon the sale of the subject real property, the purchaser shall be vested with paramount title to the real property, free and clear of all rights of any of the parties to this action or any person claiming by, under or through them, subject only to the right of redemption provided in the mortgage to the Plaintiff, which period is one month.

Killings in Lincoln County

A man named Abeal kept a water tank on the Lincoln-White Oaks road. In mid-August he had a quarrel with some Pat Coghlan's men, who watered their stock at his tank but refused to pay his fee. When Abeal started for the justice of the peace he was killed by Adriano Gallegos.

In September one Wakin (Waken-Joaquin) stole three horses from Dr. Sutherland and Messrs. Horner and Thomas. He was arrested and placed in the custody of Sutherland and Judge Stone. On the night of October 4 a party of men carried off the prisoner, never to be seen alive again.

On January 19, 1882 Jose Miguel de Luna killed a woman named Bersefa at San Patricio. She was the wife of his nephew, but the reason for and for the killing is not a matter of record.

John Bolton shot and killed his son-in-law, J. DeForest, at White Oaks late in February or early in March. The cause was given as a family quarrel.

Jackson, a negro horse thief, was lynched at White Oaks, probably early in June.

of the Southwest Stage and Express Company at White Oaks on November 5, 1882. A political argument seems to have caused the trouble. The Jury ruled "Justified Homicide."

On the morning of January 20, 1883 an auction was held at Fort Stanton. Among those attending were William S. Pearl and Albert Frank. Following the auction, Frank engaged in a friendly wrestling match with Private John Downey, Company C, 13th Infantry. Seeing his friend getting the worst of it, Pearl, very drunk, shot the soldier. He attempted to escape, but was captured and jailed in Lincoln. About 2 o'clock on the morning of the 23rd, a party of soldiers battered down the door and lynched Pearl, House, Logwood, and one Swope, a common horse thief, were allowed to escape. All three of the men were eventually recaptured. House was found "not guilty" in the Chavez affair. In February, 1884 he was reportedly killed in Texas. Logwood was sentenced to five years for manslaughter.

Frank Kiser was fatally shot at White citizens of the county. He had a reputation for being quarrelsome when he was drinking, but took no active part in the fighting, even though he narrowly escaped death at the hands of William Campbell on February 19, 1879. His luck ran out on the night of April 9, 1884, when he was shot in Moore's saloon, Puerto de Luna, by Michael Erskine Maney. One story is that Maney had been hired to kill Patron because he knew too much about certain parties activities in the Lincoln County War; another is that Patron was drunk and had threatened to kill the cowboy. Maney was arrested but eventually escaped from jail and disappeared.

A Mexican fatally stabbed in Lincoln on the night of April 7 and died the next morning. His name is unknown.

The case of Lyman S. Allen is one of some perplexity. Late in May, 1884, the Santa Fe New Mexico Review reported that he had been found guilty of murder in the fourth degree and sentenced to one year in the county jail, but no details are given as to the case. In May of the following year he was in a saloon in White Oaks. While in a drunken condition he dropped his pistol. The weapon discharged and killed Sam Anderson, a bartender. This time Allen was found guilty of murder in the fifth degree and sent to the Territorial prison for five years. With him went James McCarthy, sentenced to seven years for murder. Who he killed is still unknown to this writer. Allen was pardoned by the governor on November 30, 1888, on the argument that the killing of Anderson was accidental.

On August 15, E. W. Richards and one of his employees, Henry Lackey, were riding near White Oaks. They were shot from ambush by George Dickey, James T. Bennett, and Bennett's brother, first name unknown. The trouble originated in an argument over the fact that Dickey had made a water location which had shut off the water to Richards' ranch. The jury acquitted all three murderers.

John Buster closed out the year by fatally shooting William Holland over a game of cards at Seven Rivers in December.

FEATURE ABOUT LINCOLN COUNTY NEW MEXICO IN THE DAYS WHEN VIOLENCE WAS A WAY OF LIFE

George Washington is known to fame as one of McSween's negro servants during the Lincoln County War. His testimony at the Dudley Court of Inquiry has lately been presented in Arizona and The West (Summer 1970). George made the papers when the June 14, 1879 issue of the Mesilla Valley Independent carried the tidings that he had shot at a dog and accidentally killed his wife and their child. In June 1882, he made another fatal mistake—he eloped with Josefa Baca. Lincoln tradition says her father, Captain Saturnino Baca, overtook the couple, then brought Washington back to Lincoln, and hanged him in Baca's barn. The Rio Grande Republican reported that a negro horse thief (so far unidentified by the writer) was lynched at the same time, after which Lincoln County, and its active angel factory" was at rest.

On the night of July 11, 1882 Juan Chavez Y Pino and two other sheep herders were camped in the Nogal Mountains, near White Oaks, enroute to Fort Stanton with their animals. Two Americans rode into their camp and asked to spend the night with them. During the hours of darkness the two visitors shot Chavez and then rifled the camp. The other herders fled into the night. The murderers drove off the flock. Edward L. House, a prominent sheep buyer of Lincoln County, and William Logwood, a negro were arrested for the crime. We shall hear more of these men later on in this paper.

Ben Jacobs killed John Findley, a gent

Oaks by Peter Mackel in the spring of 1883. Details are lacking, but a quarrel over a woman seems to have been involved.

John S. Neal shot J. W. New on the Penasco on the 19th of June. Self-defense was claimed.

Benjamin G. Gibson, a fighter, was found at Seven Rivers with a ball in his chest in August.

S. E. Wilding had land troubles with one Terrell and killed him in February, 1884. The grand jury failed to indict.

On the ninth of that same month, Jose Gonzales killed a man, name unrecorded, at Tularosa.

Jack Wilson was holding some ranches near the headwaters of the Penasco for Milo L. Pierce. To assist him he hired Tomas Valentine. One of the ranches was jumped by Milton V. Nixon and John Sutton in February. On the 20th Wilson and Valentine rode up and allegedly fired on Nixon. Nixon fired back, hitting Valentine between the eyes. A coroner's jury found he had acted in self-defense. The verdict was not well received by the community. In mid-July Sutton induced John Jones' wife to elope with him. The citizens thereupon organized parties to hunt the two men down. Nixon was badly wounded at E. F. Henry's store in Penasco on the 15th, but he escaped into the brush. The following morning he was overtaken and killed. The citizens then pursued and killed Sutton.

JOE SKEEN SAYS . . .

55 mph perception is wrong

WASHINGTON, DC — The perception that the national 55 mile an hour speed limit saves

LUTHER C. JONES

Luther C. (Luke) Jones, 75, a former Carrizozo resident, died March 13 in an Albuquerque hospital after a lengthy illness. He had been a mechanic employed by Shafer Motor Co. while in Carrizozo.

A resident of Mountainair, he is survived by his wife, Merle, of the home, three daughters, Glenda Jones, San Antonio; Christine Miller, Dallas; Judy Eschberger, Mountainair; one son, Dudley C., San Antonio; a sister, Lucille Russell, Carrizozo; ten grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grand daughter. He was a member of the Assembly of God Church.

Services were held March 17 in the Harris-Hanlon Mortuary Chapel with Rev. Milt Lufer and Rev. Doris Jacques of the Community Church officiating in the Chapel.

Rev. Ray Wells, Pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Carrizozo, and Rev. Norman Lindsay of the First Assembly of God Church in Mountainair officiated at graveside services in Mountainair cemetery.

Pall bearers were: Vernie Wells, C.B. Anderson, Jimmy Sullinger, Earnest Mathews, C.H. Fulfer, and Frank Swope. Honorary pallbearers were: A.B. McKinley, Dr. Robert J. Saul, C.N. Fulfer, Bill Orr, Art Garrison, Bud Watts, and John Baca.

lives and fuel is plainly and simply wrong, Congressman Joe Skeen, R-NM, told a Congressional panel today.

"The perception is that the 55 mile an hour speed limit saves both fuel and lives. The reality is that it does neither," Skeen told the Transportation, Aviation and Materials Subcommittee of the Committee on Science and Technology. The panel met to consider a study entitled: "55: A Decade of Experience" published by the National Research Council.

Skeen noted that the study indicates that the nation uses 2 percent less fuel with the 55 mile an hour speed limit. "We could save that much if we saw to it that our tires were properly inflated," he said. "Why not just put air pumps at the rest stops along the Interstates?"

"Skeen said the study also shows that an additional 1 (B) billion manhours are spent on highways each year because of the lower speed limit.

Skeen told the panel that with today's more fuel efficient vehicles we could return to the speed limits of a decade ago and easily produce fuel savings.

So far as the savings of lives goes, Skeen noted that the number of traffic fatalities per 100 million miles driven began dropping in 1950, more than 20 years before the 55 mile an hour limit was imposed. It has continued to decline, he said, because of continued improvement in highway and vehicle safety features.

The Picacho Republican also said that traffic fatalities are tied directly to the type of enforcement practiced by traffic officers.

"When Joan Claybrook was head of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration," he said, "the emphasis was on enforcement of the 55 mile an hour limit. The year before she took over, 45,600 people died on the nation's highways. In her last year, 51,100 were wiped out. Yet in 1982, when Raymond Peck headed NHTSA, deaths dropped by 1,500 and appear to be declining further.

"The difference is that Peck has focused on helping states go after drunk drivers. It takes no genius to understand that drunk drivers kill more people than those driving faster than 55 miles an hour."

Sen. Pete Domenici Report:

Quality in education is a lot like the weather: Everybody talks about it, but nobody ever does anything about it.

One problem confronting education in America today is the severe shortage of qualified math and science teachers to teach our young people and encourage them to pursue a career in those fields. The problem is so critical that Congress stepped in last year and enacted the Education for Economic Security Act, a bill that provides incentives for quality math and science teachers to continue teaching through recognition, awards, and grants, and makes merit scholarships available to college students wishing to pursue a teaching career in math and science, or engineering.

There was still another problem confronting teachers. Many who taught young people did not have the latest information on the rapidly changing fields of high technology and science. It is a lot to ask of a math or science teacher to make their subject interesting, exciting and up-to-date when they do not have the necessary materials or knowledge to inform their students.

After discussing this problem with representatives of New Mexico's national laboratories and private sector high technology firms, I initiated in the spring of 1984 the Summer Math and Science Teacher Program. Coordinated by the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology, these industries and national laboratories hired junior high and high school mathematics and science teachers to work on research projects connected to their fields of science.

Since we started so late in the year for this program, only 24 New Mexico teachers were hired. Employers who responded included the Department of Energy, Sandia National Laboratories, NASA-White Sands, the Inhalation Toxicology Research Institute at Lovelace Medical Center, New Mexico Tech, BDM, GTE Network Systems, Gulton Industries, Signetics, The University of New Mexico and Public Service Company of New Mexico.

The teachers who participated and the industry sponsors were both surprised by the success of last year's program. The industries got a valuable summer employee and the teachers got the hands-on experience they needed in these rapidly expanding fields of science and mathematics. They were able to bring back this experience to their classrooms in the fall and passed on the knowledge of the opportunities available to young people who decide to pursue a career in those fields. They were able, with the help of these industries, to make their subjects come alive for their students.

This year we started earlier and the program plans to place 50 teachers in summer positions at New Mexico National Laboratories and high technology industries. More than 80 teachers have responded from throughout New Mexico and they have already placed 25 of them in positions for the summer, with 25 more still to be filled.

The program is still being coordinated by the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology which also offers a credit course in conjunction with the summer program, for those teachers who wish to sign up for it. Any math or science teacher in New Mexico who has not yet heard of the program and would like to sign up for it should immediately contact Dr. Clay Smith, P.O. Box K, Campus Station, New Mexico Tech, Socorro, New Mexico 87801. His phone number is 835-5525.

I encourage all junior high and high school math and science teachers to participate in this program and receive for themselves the in-depth information about what industries need and how science is being applied in today's high technology jobs.
