Demos plan dance

A dance sponsored by the Lincoln County Democratic Women (LCDW) is scheduled from 8 p.m. to midnight, Saturday, June 8 at the Ruidoso Elks Lodge on Highway 70 west. The Country-western dance will feature "Sidekick," an Alamogordo based band.

Tickets at $5 singles or $8 per couple, are on sale now from LCDW members and will also be available at the door. Refreshments will be provided by the Elks, and a variety of door prizes will be awarded.

LCDW President Coleta Elliott emphasized that the dance is meant to be a bi-partisan evening of fun, as well as a fund raiser for the Democratic Women. "The dance is open to the public and everyone is welcome," she said.

Registrars will be at the dance to register new voters or make needed changes in current registrations.

COMMISSION APPROVES—

$3,804,781 budget

By RUTH HAMMOND

Lincoln County Commissioners approved the 1985-86 budget during the May 28 meeting.

County Manager Suzanne Cox said, "Overall, there was a three percent increase in expenditures in the budget and six percent increase in revenues." The revenues were increased mainly because of interest on county investments and also from correction fees that are designated for the jail.

Budgeted fund revenues totaled $3,351,097 and budgeted fund expenditures totaled $3,804,781. Revenue sharing amounted to $140,856. Revenue sharing was down 16 percent from last year.

Seven departments were budgeted the same amount this year as last year. Law enforcement, corrections-jail, recreation, predatory animal control, officer training, debt service, and Nogal water CDBG were not increased.

Law enforcement and the county road department took the biggest bite out of the budget even though there was no increase in the law enforcement fund and a decrease of 14 percent in the road department fund. Law enforcement is a 24 hour department and the road department has longer hours during bad weather.

In other business:
—Richard Baker has been hired as part-time temporary police officer.
—The bid for $2,500 was accepted from R & R Electric for the electrical work at the airport.
—Personnel Performance Evaluation Reports were adopted for city employees.
—A part time temporary employee will be hired for the parks department.
—Trustees discussed putting cable or some type of fence around Spencer to keep cars off the grass. This spring there have been ten sprinklers broken in the park and tire tracks across the park show that this is probably the reason for the broken sprinklers.

—Linda Gibson of Zozo Cable TV requested an increase of $1.43 plus tax per month for the cable service. Rates were $9.97 for basic cable or $19.43 with the movie channel. Basic rates will go to $11.50 on July 1.

—The last rate increase for cable was in 1979 for $2. Sometime this month, Zozo Cable TV will add 'Discovery' on channel 3, and change channel 9 from El Paso to WGN from Chicago. Linda said they had received requests to put WGN back on.

—The proposed lease of the recreation center was discussed. A meeting will be scheduled with Harold Shelby to review the contract.

—The joint powers agreement between Lincoln County and the Village of Ruidoso concerning the lodger's tax that will go in effect on July 1 was approved with County Attorney Steve Sanders recommendation that No. 5 of the agreement be changed to provide for a county member on the lodger's tax committee.

—The agreement provides for the cooperative administration, collection, and expenditure of lodger's tax monies; the money shall be deposited into and shall become a part of the Village's lodger's tax fund; and the membership of the Lincoln County Lodger's Tax Committee shall consist of persons who are currently serving on the Village's Lodger's Tax Committee so as to create a single Lodger's Tax Committee.

Commissioners will appoint a county representative to the Lodger's Tax Committee at the June 18 meeting.

Variance was granted on the cul de sacs in Rancho Ruidoso Valley Estates Subdivision subject to the following: The Disclosure statement be amended to read that the County of Lincoln will not maintain the cul de sac because they are not built to the specifications and the road department would have problems with equipment moving in and out. That all persons that have already bought lots be sent a copy of the Disclosure Statement, and that the cul de sacs remain at 100 feet driving diameter and the statement in item 5 is not a mistake. It was the intent when those road specifications were approved in the late 1970s that the cul de sacs be 100 feet because of school buses and road equipment.

The variance granted was recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission. The cul de sacs are 72 to 76 feet in diameter. Elliott said, "The problem is that they were not built to specifications."

—Lincoln Historic Preservation Board members Betty Schrecengost, David Lee, Pat Ward, Jerry Locke, and Dr. James Beal discussed the leasing of the building in Lincoln for a permanent home for monthly meetings and records. The lease was to begin June 1. The lease will continue because three of the five board members were in favor of leasing the building.

—Richardson Ford submitted the low bid for three police pursuit vehicles.

—Ed Black Chevrolet submitted the low bid for a 4x4 pickup, for the assessors office.

—Las Cruces Door submitted the low bid for three metal doors for the road department.

—The audit contract with Donald R. Wingfield, Certified Public Accountant was approved.

—Resolution 73-39 was accepted to establish rules and regulations governing certain transactions of county business.

—Earl Krieg was promoted from foreman to County Road Superintendent. The promotion became effective May 28. The road department is being reorganized with the county to be divided into three districts. A map will be displayed showing the districts and naming individual foreman for the districts at the June 18 meeting.

—Two of the nine engineers that submitted proposals for county engineer will be asked to attend the June 18 meeting for interviews with commissioners.

BURGLARY PREVENTION

At their May meeting Carrizozo Junior Sheriffs Deputies were introduced to the National Neighborhood Watch Program, designed to help individual citizens help themselves prevent crime. Neighborhood Watch focuses on the prevention of residential burglary.

Responding to the requests of hundreds of local law enforcement agencies for assistance in developing crime prevention programs based on citizen participation, the National Sheriffs' Association organized the National Neighborhood Watch Program.

Studies by local law enforcement agencies and the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration have proved that burglaries can be prevented by deterrence, delay and detection.

Booklets were distributed to the Junior Deputies to aid them in inspecting their own homes for security. A brochure with 21 tips for protecting homes was also handed out.

POSITIVE STEPS

Over 75 percent of all burglaries require forcing a door or window to gain entry. Most houses and apartments are protected by simple and ineffective door and window locks. Modern hardware is available for door and window locks which will stop the amateur burglar and slow up the experienced burglar. Sound residential practices and good locks are a deterrent since they eliminate the opportunity for an easy burglary.

Delaying a burglar for four minutes is generally considered sufficient to prevent entry into a house or apartment. A burglar wants to avoid being caught, so the longer it takes to force a door or window the greater his risk. The burglar wants to avoid making noise - like breaking glass or smashing doors - and he wants to avoid attracting attention. It is nearly impossible to make a house or apartment impregnable, but it is relatively easy and inexpensive to make forced entry difficult and to delay the burglar.

The fear of detection is the third element of burglary prevention. The possibility of detection is increased if you can delay a burglar, if you can force him to work where he can be observed, and if he will have to make noise or attract attention. Alarms on doors and windows are the surest way to detect a burglar, but watchful neighbors alert to unusual activity who will notify law enforcement authorities are an effective means of detection.

Keeping in mind the principles of deterrence, delay and detection, citizens can take positive steps to decrease the likelihood that their house or apartment will be burglarized.

ANTICIPATED PROGRAMS

Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan was present at last month's Carrizozo Junior Sheriffs' Deputies meeting and led the group in their oath. Sullivan gave a talk on upcoming presentations and activities. Subsequent meetings will present education and training on a number of subjects. Among them: bicycle safety; gun safety; hunters safety; demonstrations of police cars and radios; tour of the various courts in Lincoln County; explanation of alcohol problems; explanation of drug abuse; training of older youth in traffic control such as during ball games and community functions; defensive driving for older youth and training for assisting in search and rescue.

Camping outings, mountain hikes and obstacle courses are activities that will be included in the youth program. NOTE: Carrizozo Junior Sheriffs' Deputies will not meet this month.

AGING TEST FOR DAD

The Chavez family was at Captain's B & L Pizza last Sunday evening. Manager Bonnie McEuen's newspaper clipping caught my eye:

AGING IS WHEN...WHEN...everything hurts and what doesn't hurt, doesn't work...the gleam in your eye is from the sun hitting your bifocals...you feel like the night after, and you haven't been anywhere...your little black book contains only names ending in M.D....you get winded playing chess...your children start looking middleaged...you join a health club and don't go...you begin to outlive enthusiasm...you decide to procrastinate but never get around to it...you're still chasing women but can't remember why...your mind makes contracts your body can't deliver.

AGING IS WHEN...a dripping faucet causes an uncontrollable bladder urge...you know all the answers, but nobody asks you the questions...you look forward to a dull evening...you walk with your head held high because you're trying to get used to your bifocals...your favorite part of the newspaper is 25 years ago today...you turn out the lights for economic reasons rather than romantic reasons...you sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going...your knees buckle but your belt won't...you regret all those mistakes resisting temptation...you're 17 around the neck, 42 around the waist, and 96 around the golf course...you stop looking forward to your birthday.

AGING IS WHEN...dialing long distance wears you out...you're startled the first time you are addressed as an old timer...you remember today that your wedding anniversary was yesterday...the best part of your day is over when your alarm clock goes off...you burn the midnight oil until 9 p.m....your back goes out more often than you do...a fortune teller offers to read your face...your pacemaker makes the garage door go up when a pretty girl goes by...the little grey haired lady you helped across the street is your wife...you get your exercise acting as a pallbearer for your friends who exercise...you sink your teeth into a steak and they stay there.

(By the way - the 'aging test' would make a good Father's Day quiz. Test takers should check off the responses that apply to him. The test is for men forty years of age and over. Wives or women friends are not allowed to help.)

1985 MARKS 50th—

Conservation agency anniversary

1985 marks the 50th anniversary of the US Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.

"Soil and water conservation districts have grown beside the Soil Conservation Service, bringing a better life and future to everyone," a local conservation leader said.

Bob Hemphill, Chairman of the Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District said the SCS has been giving technical help to landowners here since 1945.

The Carrizozo District, organized under State law in October, 1945, was created to help the landowners in Lincoln and Socorro Counties develop needed conservation measures. SCS assists the district under a jointly signed agreement.

"The Carrizozo District covers about 1.1 million acres with 86 operating units," stated Hemphill. "About seventy landowners are planning and applying conservation practices on their land with the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service." SCS conservation professionals assisting the Carrizozo District are Howard Harkey, Greg Haussler, Tom Roybal, and Sue Stearns. For more information about how the Carrizozo District and SCS can help you, call 648-2941. The assistance is free.

KEEP IN TOUCH

As you read newspapers and magazines, clip anything that would be of interest to children, grandchildren and other relatives. Enclose a short note when you mail the recipes, cartoons and news worthy items.

MECHANIC HANDS

If your hands are full of grease and grime after working on your car, try scrubbing up with baking soda instead of hand soap.

PAN SCOURER

Vinyl mesh bags that some vegetables come wrapped in are handy for scrubbing dirty pots and pans.

LOOSE SCREWS

Wind steel wool around the threads of screws then replace. Or dip screw in glue and then replace.

CORNSTARCH SHAKER

Keep cornstarch in a salt shaker. Sprinkle cornstarch on your hands before wearing rubber gloves. The gloves will slip on easy.

BRISK WALK

While dietary calcium supplements help slow age-related bone loss, regular walking actually enhances bone formation. To prevent osteoporosis, the degenerative bone disease, take a brisk stroll at least three times a week.

Moving to Farmington—

JIM MILLER DAY was June 3 with a community appreciation pot-luck dinner being held in Spencer Park to honor Jim and Lynn Miller and their family. Miller resigned after six years as Carrizozo School Superintendent and has accepted a position as Superintendent of Schools in Farmington. The evening included speeches by people telling of things Jim and Lynn have done for the community. Shown from left after the dinner are Mary Chavez, Debbie King, Jim Miller, and Tony Sanchez.

Notes on nutrition

Editor's note: Dr. Diane Wakat is Associate Professor, Department of Health Education at the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, and holds a Ph.D. and M.S. in Human Physiology from the University of Illinois. Dr. Wakat will answer questions concerning nutrition. Send any written questions to the Lincoln County News, P.O. Drawer 459, Carrizozo, NM 88301, to be forwarded to Dr. Wakat, for answer.

Adults have the same general need for milk and dairy products as children do, but there is a great deal of mis-information in this regard. Adults, particularly female adults, should be consuming two glasses or so of skim milk each day, in order to get the calcium. But we do know that some people are milk intolerant, and have some intestinal upset if they get too much milk. My suggestion to them is to use sharp cheese or yogurt to get their daily dairy and calcium needs. The reason these are good substitutes is that the lactose that is causing the problem has been changed to lactic acid in the fermenting process.

If you would like to ask more questions along these lines, send them to the Lincoln County News to be sent on to me.

Question: I've heard that adults "don't need milk" or other dairy products. Is this true?

Answer: That is a rumor that I've heard too. But I don't believe it! I'm beginning to think that every patriotic American citizen has a bowl of ice cream every night just before bedtime! Probably with chocolate sauce and peanuts!

June is Skin Cancer Awareness Month in New Mexico. Whether you work or just play in the sun, cover up with sunscreen and a wide brimmed hat or cap. Don't let the sun get the better of you.

Warmer weather is on its way to the southwest. The American Cancer Society and the New Mexico Skin Cancer Project remind you that too MUCH time in the sun causes prematurely wrinkled skin and can cause skin cancer. You can protect yourself and help prevent skin cancer by avoiding the sun between the hours of 11 and 3, by regularly using a sunscreen and wearing a wide brimmed hat or cap.

Give Dad a Real Treat

Father's Day, June 16, 1985 - something real Special for Dad on that day would be to prepare his favorite beef dish, either a good sized delicious steak or maybe a taste tempting beef roast. However and whatever beef cut it is, we believe Dad has found out again how much we really care for him.

Have you registered at King's Market or Shop Rite for the 10lb. beef roast to be given away. Be sure to on your next visit to either of these fine Carrizozo stores.

It won't be long now until Canyon Cowbells choose their Father of the year and the other Cowbelle organizations around the state will be doing likewise.

In our banks we think promotion of the beef industry is No. 1 priority not only because of the good food and nutrition we receive from beef products but also because on the ranches and rangelands of our banks' trade area, we all derive benefits from service jobs, helping to supply the rancher's needs and then enjoying the contributions made by all of the ranch families to our schools and other areas where we all work together to promote what is good for our communities.

Ernest V. Joiner

DOWN Lunacy Lane. Paul D. Grossman, attorney for the Department of Education (Office of Civil Rights) asked that the University of California at Berkeley remove all words such as "manpower," "grantmanship," "man-made" and "mankind" from its course catalog. One UC official, upon whom the gods must surely smile said he intends to make a study, after which he will "make a formal reply to Mr. Grossperson." Now that's funny.

wastebaskets." Top offenses in 1984 are listed as: "Rape, robbery, assault, burglary, arson, bombings, murder, suicide, absenteeism, vandalism, extortion, drug abuse, alcohol, gang warfare, pregnancies, abortions and venereal disease."

LUNACY Lane 2. Dr. C. M. Pierce, Harvard University, in a speech to 1,000 teachers, intones: "Every child in America entering school at the age of 5 is insane, because he comes to school with certain allegiances toward our founding fathers, toward our elected officials, toward his parents, toward a belief in a supernatural being, toward the sovereignty of this nation as a separate entity. It's up to you as teachers to make all of these sick children well, by creating the international children of the future." Rousing cheers from that Moral Colossus, the National Education Assn.

LUNACY Lane 10. Enrique Silberg of San Rafael has, for many years, been calling himself God. In April he applied to Marin Superior Court Judge David Menary to have his name legally changed to God. Informed that he must have a first name, and preferably a middle name, God bowed to judicial authority. His legal name is now Ubiquitous Perpetuity God. Let us pray.

LUNACY Lane 3. Ailanta Mayor Andrew Young, in that city's fight to banish prostitution, appointed prostitute Dolores French to a task force to stop it. French heads an organization called HERE (Hooking is Respectable Employment). Still, Andy is doing better than when he was misrepresenting the US as Ambassador to the United Nations.

LUNACY Lane 11. I commend to the cowardly consciences of Democratic Congressmen, who recently rejected $14 million in aid to the Contras in Nicaragua, the immortal words of Interior Minister Tomas Borge of the Sandinista Government of Nicaragua: "We have Nicaragua, soon we will have El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Costa Rica and Mexico. One day, tomorrow or five years or 15 years from now, we're going to take 5 to 10 million Mexicans and they're going to have one thing on their mind—cross the border, go into Dallas, go into El Paso, go into Houston, go into New Mexico, go into San Diego, and each one has imbedded in his mind the idea of killing 10 Americans."—Washington Times, March 27, 1985.

LUNACY Lane 4. Audiences shell out $15,000 to hear Johnny Cash tell how he kicked the drug habit. Audiences pay Betty Ford $10,000 a lecture to hear her relate how she foreswore drinking. Audiences pay $7500 to hear Rosemary Clooney describe how she stopped being dependent on alcohol. But the best bargain would be for audiences to be enthralled by a $11.95 speech by Ernest V. Joiner on the agonies of staying heterosexual in a queer, queer world.

LUNACY Lane 12. "The show isn't over 'till the fat lady sings." In Albany, NY this fat lady (5' 6" and 248 pounds) was refused a job by Xerox Corp. because the company physician said she was too fat. The courts have awarded her more than $100,000 as a victim of discrimination. Just think what the award would have been had she been turned down for a dancing job with Radio City Music Hall's famed "Rockettes!"

LUNACY Lane 5. Oscar (Red) Dunn, 79, of Bartow, FL was convicted of murder for shooting his 31-year-old girlfriend when she told him she wanted to take a nap before having sex. Audiences should pay $25,000 just to see old Red walk across the stage. And probably will as soon as he gets out of jail.

LUNACY Lane 13. Andrea Stelzer, Miss South Africa, cannot take part in the Miss Universe pageant in Miami, FL in July because security officers cannot guarantee her safety.

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON

By LES KINSOLVING

How we buy off the KGB at our Moscow embassy

WASHINGTON — Of the nearly 500 diplomats and staff people which the Soviet Union employs in the largest embassy in Washington, only 12 are Americans.

By striking contrast, the United States taxpayer is providing US Embassy and consulate employment employment to more than 200 Soviet nationals in Moscow and Leningrad.

There is not just this incredible imbalance. There is also the fact that our Embassy in Moscow has been repeatedly bugged. From a bug behind the American eagle in the Great Seal of the United States to the latest skullduggery, the bugging of a dozen Embassy typewriters, this employment of Soviets has been a disaster.

Until recently, our incredible Department of State even had these Soviet citizens answering our Embassy's telephones.

Now, New Jersey Republican Congressman James Courter has amended the State Department's $2.8 billion authorization bill. His amendment, passed by the House, will require that as of 1986, all such Soviet employees be replaced with Americans.

Congressman Courter explains: "Our Foreign Service officers labor under difficult enough conditions in the Soviet Union without having to work among Soviets in the Embassy and the Consulate. The Soviets pose a needless counterintelligence burden and an unacceptable risk to the security of our personnel and operations."

Courter also noted: "They can watch all the goings-on at the Embassy. And this gives the people who are trained in intelligence the chance to get important information, not to mention physical access to plant 'bugs.'"

Congressman Courter had no sooner announced his intention to introduce this eminently sensible amendment than he was contacted by two State Department men, Lou Murray and Jim Shoemaker. They suggested that he withdraw his amendment "because the question is being studied."

"Being studied" at the State Department often means "being buried." So, we made some inquiries of Charles Sylvester, the press officer of the State Department's Richard Burt, Assistant Secretary of State for European and Canadian Affairs.

Spokesman Sylvester provided an explanation which is something of an economic eyeopener: "The reason why we hire so many Soviets," he declared, "is because we can't get many Americans who can speak the language and who are willing to do the menial work thousands of miles from home. We can get Soviets nationals for much less than it would cost us to hire Americans."

Spokesman Sylvester then made a statement that is particularly notable and newsworthy.

"We have an active KGB to contend with. We don't want an excessive number of Americans that can be worked over."

In other words, the State Department policy is to hire hundreds of Soviets because they're cheaper than paying American wages — and because this is a sort of tribute paid to the KGB. In this policy, it is hoped that if the United States pays the salaries of enough of the KGB agents who work in our Embassy, the KGB may not "work over" the comparatively few American foreign service officers we dare to send.

This is a national disgrace, which could be brought to an end by Congressman Courter's amendment. And if the KGB continues "working over" any of our diplomats, we should either close up our Moscow Embassy — or arrange to provide Soviet diplomats here with some reciprocal "working over."

We do something of the sort now. Whenever the Soviets expel one of our diplomats or reporters without just cause, the State Department retaliates by expelling theirs. This is the only language the Marxists understand.

But the policy of appeasing the KGB by hiring Soviets on the cheap instead of Americans — for fear of Americans being "worked over" — is an outrage which must provide enormous amusement and satisfaction to the Kremlin, just as it brings to the United States and international shame.

THE CONCLUSION---

SAGA OF THE VIOLENT LINCOLN COUNTY WAR

Then came the often recounted episode of the Kid's jail break in Lincoln — a perfect Houdini event — when he shot his way to freedom by killing a couple deputies.

Then Pat Garrett, as Lincoln County sheriff, hounded the Kid's owlihood trail until the 14th day of July, 1881, when he shot the unarmed lad to death in Pete Maxwell's dark bedroom. The Kid, in his stocking feet, had come to Maxwell's gallery to cut off a steak for himself and his girl friend from a beef carcass which hung from the gallery ceiling.

With Billy the Kid dead and buried in the Fort Sumner grave yard, and the West mourning, the Lincoln County War ended.

These events might cause one to think that had not William H. Bonney, alias Billy the Kid, come along there wouldn't have been a Lincoln County war!

There's a question about the there have been a Lincoln County which was Lincoln. And also the boy and went overland with his deeper into the Western which catered to the rowdy for the losing lad, a job that Kid's defender got tangled up matter into violent action that eruption of the powder keg only.

Inside the Capitol

by FRED McCAFFREY

SANTA FE—Governor Anaya appears to count on New Mexicans to have had memories and brief attention spans.

He frequently announces projects with great fanfare (remember the Bullet Train?) and then allows them to fade into non-accomplishment while he moves on to other announcements and ever greater fanfares. The impression of the moment is what he strives to orchestrate, especially if it shores up his favorite image of himself as courageous Leader of Men.

But he often couldn't sell us his version of events if we took the trouble to remember.

MAN ON WHITE HORSE: At mid-point in 1985, for instance, he wants us to view him as the fearless fighter for honesty in politics—scrupling over whether to veto a campaign-reform act, he pushed to have passed, and issuing executive orders to keep top-ranking state employees out of political campaigns.

All that seems to be in large part a response to his perception of the public's disgust of offenses that followed directly upon their involvement in political fundraising.

Suddenly, the Governor is the champion of superclean political campaigning, because he now knows that is what the citizens want. But where was he when Phil Troutman and Ken Johnson, two men who stand in peril of going to the penitentiary for their sins, were doing what they were found guilty of?

He was in his office, accompanied by at least one top Democratic House member and one top Democratic Senator, planning, with Troutman and Johnson, the sale of tickets to the event that led to the downfall of those two misguided ticket-sellers.

There have even been suggestions, leaked by those concerned with the Troutman-Johnson trial, that he might have come close to being considered an unindicted co-conspirator by the grand jury which set that prosecution in motion.

Far from encouraging these two state employees to stay out of fundraising, it would appear the Governor may have been spurring them on in such efforts just about half a year before he became so firmly committed to political virtue.

THE OLD DAYS: Sometimes memories go back even further, as did the anonymous caller who left a message on this writer's phone-answering machine that simply said, "McCaffrey, it's about time to tell the story of the Chinese shipjumper."

That's a not particularly edifying episode in the previous career of Toney Anaya which took place while he was on the staff of US Senator Joseph M. Montoya. Chinese seamen at the time were jumping ship in US ports, after their homeland was taken over by the Communists. Senator Montoya was among the handful of members in the upper chamber who introduced private bills to speed the sailors' acquisition of US citizenship. Anaya, then a Montoya aide, told a Scripps-Howard reporter that it was actually he who put the bills for that purpose into the Senatorial hopper.

There was nothing wrong with that at the time—except for the persistent rumors, which went unproved, that money was being paid for the introduction of the bills.

As the phone call from the unidentified citizen suggests, there are still some here who remember those days—and wonder.

"Remember when I told you I was a pathological liar? Well, I lied."

C'ZOZO (CYC)—

Local youth attend conference

The campus of New Mexico State University was the site of the First Annual Youth and Young Adult Conference. The event, held May 31, June 1 and 2 in Las Cruces was attended by over 1,000 youth from New Mexico.

Carrizozo's Catholic Youth Council (CYC) members participated in the 3-day conference which included workshops, a barbecue at Young's Park, a talent contest and a Christian concert.

Bishop of Las Cruces, Ricardo Ramirez was honorary chairman. Hosts for the conference were members of the 1984-85 Youth Ministry Council, made up of Carlsbad, Copper, Las Cruces, Mesilla Valley, Roswell and Tularosa Basin vicariates. The Youth Ministry Council in the Tularosa Basin was represented by Gabriel Chavez, Carrizozo; Julie Rael, Alamogordo; Leroy Gomez, Ruidoso; and Zeke Balboa, Tularosa.

CYC members attending from Carrizozo were John Saucedo, Benji Herrera, Craig Collins, Lynda Ortiz, Angelo Vega, Peter Morales, Daniel Zamora and Gabriel Chavez. They were accompanied by CYC teacher Teresita Chavez. Anne Collins and Georgia Ortiz traveled with the group. CYC members raised money to attend the conference by conducting bake sales, raffles and rummage sales. The Carrizozo Knights of Columbus and the Women's Church Group each gave a donation to help the youth attend the event.

The conference theme, 'Take Me to Heart, the Heart of Jesus' called for the youth to focus on the heart of their Christian faith and Jesus' call.

Workshop topics included becoming a leader at school or church; a discussion of Christian values and how they influence the goals set by young adults; how the drug and alcohol scene in New Mexico compares with the national scene; and understanding the role of music in liturgy and a look at non-traditional forms of musical worship.

Father Johnny Tickle, assistant pastor at the Cathedral at Las Cruces was a workshop speaker. He is known throughout the country in youth ministry and religious education. Among the numerous speakers were Louie Burke and Dennis Borst. Burke is an ESPN junior lightweight boxing champion and member of Immaculate Heart of Mary Cathedral.

Borst has worked in Federal Narcotics and Drug Enforcement for 14 years in Las Cruces and in New York. His experience in this field gives him an understanding of the "real situation."

Judge Jim Wheeler completes course

Reno, NV—Judge Jim Wheeler of the Magistrate Court in Ruidoso, New Mexico has completed the Non-Lawyer Judge, General course, May 5-17 at The National Judicial College on the campus of the University of Nevada-Reno.

Judges attending received a comprehensive review of the fundamental legal principles and procedures emphasizing criminal procedure before, during and after trial; elements of criminal offenses; arraignments and preliminary hearings; guilty pleas; search and seizure; and problems in traffic proceedings and sentencing techniques. Review of the law of evidence and the handling of objections were featured. Civil case law was discussed and further emphasized through a mock trial. The judge, his court and the community were considered through an examination of the role and ethics of judges; management of the court; and the judge's relationship with the public.

Judicial skills and technique were implemented through an introduction to legal research methods and communications techniques along with advanced skill development through workshops, small group discussions, demonstrations and problems solving sessions.

The course attracted 46 participants from 13 states.

The leading career judicial education and training institution in the nation, The National Judicial College is affiliated with the American Bar Association.

Last week gave us three hot days with terrific high winds daily and cold nights. There is still much to be thankful for. Soon all will straighten out and the growth will come.

How proud we are of our boys and girls selected for Boys and Girls State. The 1985 session of American Legion New Mexico Boys-Girls State will take place June 2-7, 1985. The boys 38th annual session will be held on the campus of the School of Mines, Socorro, NM. The girls 38th annual session will be held on the campus of the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, NM. Capitan High School will be represented by Robert Runnels, Jed Hall, Stephanie Stowe and Valerie Garner.

The purpose of Boys & Girls State are to provide citizenship training to both boys and girls of high school age; to afford them the opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens; to inform them of duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American Citizenship; so they may understand and participate in functions of government; and help them grasp the meaning of responsibilities; which they must assume when they become adults.

AA meetings are held every Wednesday and Thursday at 8:00 p.m. in the fair building in Capitan.

The total number of registered visitors for the month of May at the Smokey Bear Museum was 4,111, from 20 foreign countries and 49 states to date this year. Rhode Island is the only state that has not been represented. June 1-2, there were 360 people to visit there and the State Park.

Smokey Bear Museum appreciates very much the resurfacing of their parking area. When it rained or snowed it was always so muddy. Thanks a million. It certainly is ap-

The Chamber of Commerce remind everyone to get their entries in at once for the Stampede Parade held June 29. Call them and let them know your plans or Dorothy Smith, 354-2490, or write to Capitan Chamber of Commerce, Box 441, Capitan, NM 88316. They need to know if you are coming, etc., so please do cooperate. Let all of us do our part and now as the time is only three weeks away. The Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting Monday, June 3 at the Smokey Bear Restaurant. They are working hard to make this a success. We must do our part.

Roy and Sharon Horton who have lived in Capitan for nine years sold their property to Randy and Rose Ayhan's of Santa Barbara, CA. They've taken their possessions via truck and left Capitan Monday night,

May 27 for Mesa, AZ, where they will be close to their children, grandchildren, and old friends. They did a beautiful job here. They purchased the lots and built a nice home with lots of shrubs, etc., a very beautiful place on East Fourth Street. We loved them and will miss them but most certainly do wish them many years of happiness in their new home.

Earl Spohn who is hospitalized in the Medical Center in Roswell is slightly improved but did undergo surgery Monday morning, June 3. His wife Pearl is at his bedside constantly. I do wish him a good recovery.

Donna Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jr. Leslie, of Alamogordo and two of her sons Jeff and David, were in Capitan Monday morning and they hunted me up while I was working on news. Oh, how I did appreciate that for I took care of her for several years when she was a little girl. Her parents, Jr. and Grace are enjoying their retirement. Grace has taken up painting and doing a fine job. Thank you for the happiness you have given me. Donna has three daughters married and has two grandchildren and expecting another. She is a lovely lady and I certainly am proud of her. She has a beautiful family. She was an only child and always desired a large family. May God bless her always.

Jack and Beverly Walthall of Kosse, TX and Fred and Kathy Raby of Pasadena, TX were in Capitan to spend a few days with Dona and Robert Runnels.

Guests of Terry Strickland and Davis Stricklands last weekend were Bill Strickland, the Orville Trammell family of Hobbs, Sue Shrum of Midland, TX, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Strickland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Sparks and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Griffith and son, all of Lovington.

Trinity Site to open for 40th anniversary

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, NM, May 9 — The Trinity Site National Historic Landmark, where the first atomic bomb was exploded, will be open to the public on July 16, the 40th anniversary of the explosion. The landmark is in the northern end of White Sands Missile Range and is usually open to the public only once a year on the first Saturday in October.

There will be two ways of entering the missile range to get to Trinity Site. The range's Stallion Range Center gate will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Visitors will be able to enter and exit through the gate anytime during these hours and drive unescorted directly to and from the

There will be two ways of entering the missile range to get to Trinity Site. The range's Stallion Range Center gate will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Visitors will be able to enter and exit through the gate anytime during these hours and drive unescorted directly to and from Trinity Site. The Stallion gate is five miles south of Highway 380 which connects San Antonio and Carrizozo, NM. The turn-off is 12 miles east of San Antonio and 53 miles west of Carrizozo. Visitors will be greeted at the gate and given handouts with information about Trinity Site.

Trinity visitors also can enter the missile range by travelling in a caravan sponsored by the Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce. The caravan will form at the Otero County Fairgrounds in Alamogordo and leave at 9 a.m. Visitors entering this way will travel the 86 miles to Trinity Site in an escorted caravan. The caravan should return to Alamogordo sometime after 2 p.m.

All visitors should insure their vehicles are in good operating condition. It probably will be very hot on the drive, with temperatures in excess of 100 degrees. There are no service facilities on the missile range. This is especially pertinent for those travelling in the caravan. Caravans usually travel at a slow speed which can cause engine overheating.

At 5:30 a.m. Mountain War Time on July 16, 1945 the scientists and military personnel working on the Manhattan Project found out an atomic explosion was possible. The blast was equivalent to 19,000 tons of TNT and shook windows throughout south central New Mexico. Later in the day President Truman was notified the bomb was a success and was faced with the question of its use against Japan. Ultimately the Trinity Site bomb design, using plutonium as the nuclear core, was used in the bomb dropped over Nagasaki.

At Trinity Site visitors will be able to visit Ground Zero and the George McDonald ranch house. The crater at Ground Zero was graded over soon after the explosion, but there is a small marker designating the spot. The missile range also will have historical photos on display within the area.

The McDonald ranch house, located two miles southeast of Ground Zero, is where the plutonium core to the bomb was assembled. Last year the house was restored to its 1945 condition through the cooperative effort of the US Army, Department of Energy and National Park Service. Buses will be used to transport visitors from the Ground Zero parking lot to the house and back. No reservations are required to enter the Stallion gate or join the Alamogordo caravan. For more information, contact the missile range Public Affairs Office at (505) 878-1134.

NEXT YEAR'S Grizzly girls high school team pause for a picture at the recent all-sports banquet. Pictured is the 1984-85 junior high basketball and volleyball team: Leah Patterson, Rachael Monreal, D'rese Agullar, Marcia Hefker, Jonna Gibson, Jeanna Sims, Suzanne Saucedo and Cathy Najaf. Monreal and Saucedo will be eighth graders.

Joseph also received the Holt Lovelace Memorial scholarship presented by Mr. Bill Bryan. Mr. Johnson Stearns, representing United New Mexico Bank, presented the Outstanding Citizen Award and a scholarship to Shawn Perkins. Corona Sr. Citizens—

Last week the Senior Citizens played games on Tuesday. They played horseshoes and forty-two. All had a good time. We need some good forty-two players to teach some of the ones that have never learned how to play.

The Seniors went to Carrizozo on Monday to go to the bank and to do some shopping. They ate at the Senior Citizens in Carrizozo and had a very good lunch.

The election of officers to the Advisory Council will be on the 10th, after a potluck dinner. After the election we will play Bingo. Please plan to attend and be sure to bring a bingo prize.

On the 13th, the Corona Senior Citizens will go to The Rio Grande Zoo in Albuquerque. We will take a sack lunch and picnic there. The cost will be $1.50 for persons 65 and older. We hope to have a bus full to take on this fun trip.

Ask Doctor Dan . . .

I keep getting hives and wonder if there is anything I can do to prevent them? V. C.

Hives are an allergic skin reaction. The areas affected will turn red, swell up and may itch intensely. They will usually disappear without treatment in a few hours to a day. Foods and drugs may cause this reaction. Exposure to certain chemicals may also cause hives. These chemicals may be in soaps, cosmetics, shampoos and other preparations applied to the skin. Some people develop hives upon exposure to cold. People allergic to bees, ants, and wasps may get hives after a bite. Some hives occur for no known cause.

If you are unable to eliminate the cause of your hives, treatment with oral antihistamines will often control these distressing outbreaks. Allergy injections may benefit some people. Consult your doctor about diagnosing the cause and treating this disorder.

Send questions to Dr. Dan, Box 8, Carrizozo, NM 88301.

(La Fiesta De San Juan De Bautista)

In the early 1850's and only four years after New Mexico became a Territory of the United States, a small group of Spanish-American families settled on the Rio Bonito some ten miles above where the river flowed into the Hondo. Jacals, or little picket log houses plastered with adobe clustered around the Torreon, a small round fortification built of stone, but large enough to protect the villagers from Indian raids. The settlement became known as La Placita del Rio Bonito-Placita for short; but later, in 1869 to be changed to Lincoln.

The narrow valley, fed by the Bonito, turned to a deep green during the summer months, in strange contrast to the arid hills that rolled away to the North and South. Gardens bloomed about the adobes and crops thrived on the irrigated fields. The little community cared, one for the other, and it was San Juan de Bautista that they chose as their patron saint.

St. John's Day, June 24, was always a day of special celebration, but in the early years after the turn of the century, it had become a colorful Fiesta with festivities enjoyed by Catholics and Protestants alike. By that time the "Anglos" had long been established in Lincoln. The Lincoln County War had come and passed, and the bell tower of the new church of San Juan de Bautista looked down on the rooftops of a "quiet" town.

For days before the Fiesta, the girls spent long hours shaping paper flowers that would decorate the altar; and they gathered and twisted the wild asparagus fern to form an arch that reached to the balcony at the rear of the church. The women washed the windows set deep in the adobe walls, and on their knees, they scrubbed the floor until "the boards turned white."

On the evening before the Fiesta, small wood fires or "luminarias" burned along each side of the main street. As many as twenty fires burned around the church, throwing a warm glow against the whitewashed walls, while the people gathered inside for Vespers.

After the service, the priest took the statue of San Juan from beside the altar. He gave it to the two Majordomos and took his place behind them. The altar boys followed, each with a lighted candle. Singing the Ave Maria, they carried the Cross down the aisle and out of the church with the people coming after. The procession moved slowly around the church, up and down the main street, and finally returned to place the statue once again beside the altar.

Early the next morning, families drove into town from many miles around. Mass was celebrated with the congregation seated on the floor-benches made and owned by parishioners were of little use on this day of Fiesta. The procession followed as before, but today the two new Majordomos, chosen by the priest and blessed during Mass, stood in the doorway to receive the statue of San Juan from the retiring couple as they reentered the church. Now the care of the church would be in their hands for the coming year.

Baseball, horseracing and Sacar el Gallo (Pulling the Rooster) were among the most popular activities of the afternoon. For the latter, the unfortunate rooster, feet tied, was buried in a hole to the neck, while contestants, on horses trained for the game, lined up some twenty feet away. On the signal a rider started forward. Half way to the rooster, however, another player laid a whip on the horse, which made it no easy task for the rider to grab the poor creature by the neck. (The game was abandoned in 1920.)

Dancing at the Courthouse to fiddle and guitar brought St. John's Day to an end. Children, sleeping soundly were lifted into wagons and buggies for the long ride home. Today the Fiesta is a memory, but mass is still celebrated in the Church of San Juan for the Patron saint of Lincoln.

GO WILD WITH ... Soil & water conservation

Go wild...with soil and water conservation practices for the benefit of wildlife. A single practice often helps, but the best approach is a conservation system that suits your operation, conserves soil and water, and meets the needs of wildlife.

Many practices that provide special needs of wildlife are discussed in a new publication, "Going Wild With Soil and Water Conservation." Program Aid Number 1363 prepared by the US Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service (SCS).
Greg Haussler - District

Conservationist with the SCS in Capitan, or Howard Harkey in Carrizozo can help you plan a conservation system and help determine the quality of wildlife habitat on your farm or ranch. He can offer you management assistance to conserve soil and water and to increase or improve the habitat for desired wildlife species. Plants which are locally adapted can be planted for erosion control as well as for wildlife food and cover.

Wildlife can benefit from many conservation practices, such as erosion control practices used on cropland. Practices include conservation tillage, cover and green manure crops, stripcropping, narrowbase or bench terraces, field windbreaks, and field borders. Also, you can manage for wildlife in areas that are difficult or too erodible to farm. Farming methods affect wildlife habitat in many ways. Growing the same crop year after year reduces the diversity of plant cover and the variety of wildlife. Fall plowing buries grain and other residues that can provide food or cover for wildlife. Overgrazing of rangeland results in less food and cover for wildlife, which must compete with domestic livestock for the food and cover that does remain.

Conservation tillage leaves crop residue on the surface and lowers the chances of destroying nests in the field. The residue may provide food for pheasants, doves, cranes, geese, and ducks as well as provide some cover. Of all methods of conservation tillage, no-till is most effective in reducing erosion and providing wildlife food and cover. All crop residue is left on the surface to support a greater number and diversity of nesting birds than in clean-tilled fields.

Cover and green manure crops, strips of small grain in stripcropping, terraces, and field windbreaks provide cover and attract pheasant, quail, dove and small animals.

Where an earthen pond can be constructed, it may serve to control gully erosion as well as a source of livestock water. A pond can provide food, water, and cover for waterfowl and other wildlife.

Through rangeland management, the quantity and quality of vegetation can be improved through practices such as proper grazing, deferred grazing, use of a range

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN

Daisy Meachem named

Members of Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County attended the county commissioners' meeting May 25 as part of their regular monthly meeting. "When our meeting date falls on the same date as theirs, we attend," said FRWLC president Lois Aldrich of Capitan.

Before the meeting began, Chairman Bill Elliott recognized the group and introduced them to the audience. During the meeting, member Alleen Lindamood spoke on behalf of the Carrizozo Health Center and member Yvonne Lanelli spoke on behalf of the Bonito Volunteer Fire Department budget. Lindamood is on the Health Center's Board of Directors and Lanelli is secretary of BVFD.

During the club's business meeting, following the commissioners' session, Pat Hume of Nogal, county Republican chairman, announced that Lincoln County was the first New Mexico county to have a Republican majority since the Depression. "Several counties were close," said Hume. "But we made it first!"

 Aldrich presented a report from the quarterly New Mexico Federation of Republican Women board meeting she attended in Roswell May 11. "Our club is known throughout the state as one of the most active," she said.

Members have begun selling tickets for a Christmas pine cone wreath handmade by member Nettie Rug of Alto to be given away at the group's November meeting.

FRWLC will sell cold drinks and cookies at their booth at Capitan's Smokey Bear Day Arts and Crafts Fair June 28-30. Voter registration will also be available at their booth.

Aldrich announced the appointment of Daisy Meachem of Nogal as publicity chairman. Former publicity chairman Yvonne Lanelli will assume the duties of historian.

Next meeting will be June 25 at a place to be announced later.

For further information, contact Aldrich at 354-2368 or Jackie Rawlins at 257-2510.
