WACKY TERBACCY—

County goes to pot

By RUTH HAMMOND

Two separate marijuana farms were found in Lincoln County over the weekend. Lincoln County Sheriff's officers found 167 marijuana plants east of White Oaks on Friday and another 183 plants in Nogal on Saturday.

Chief Deputy Charlie Cox placed the value of the 350 plants seized at $1,000 a plant, making the two day raid worth $350,000. Five persons were arrested and arraigned in the two separate drug cases.

Kenneth Crenshaw, 38, and Pam Nicodemus, 27, were arrested after the July 19 raid east of White Oaks in which the first 167 marijuana plants were seized. The plants were four to six feet tall.

The 183 plants found in Nogal July 20 were 18 inches to three feet tall. Arrested in that case were Tim Brazie, 28, and his parents Ted Brazie, 62, and Terry Brazie, 60.

After the White Oaks raid, the sheriff's office hired a helicopter to search for more marijuana plants. Lincoln National Forest helps fund a program named, "Detection and Eradication of Marijuana in National Forests and Surrounding Areas." Part of the White Oaks plants were found on private property and part on national forest land.

The plants were stripped, the leaves weighed, and the stems bundled. All will be kept for evidence when the suspects are brought to trial.

At a first hearing on Monday, district judge Richard Parsons lowered the amount of bond from $250,000 each to $100,000 each, with ten percent allowed.

Ted Brazie was charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, second offense. The other four were charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute. All five were out on bond Tuesday morning.

Sheriff Tom Sullivan said, "We will continue our aerial surveillance and continue our war on Lincoln County pot farmers."

SANTA RITA queen candidates have been busy with bake sales, raffles and dinners in their bid for queen. The winner will be announced and crowned during the Fiesta Mass on Saturday. Veronica, 15, is the daughter of Ted and Christine Zamora. Theresa, 16, is the daughter of Tommy and Martha Guevara.

SIX ENTRIES EXPECTED—

Pony Express update

Six entries are expected for the 1985 race. It will begin again at Double Crossing near Lincoln and finish at White Oaks at approximately 10:00 a.m. After the race there will be a horseshoe tournament followed by dinner. During the afternoon there will be a rodeo and at the Casino there will be music.

The Calcutta auction will be held at the Casino Friday night. An intermission will be taken at the dance at about 9:00 p.m. for the selling of the teams. The dance will continue until 12:00. The breakfast will start at the beginning point at about 6:00 a.m. August 3. Following the Saturday race and rodeo there will be a dance Saturday night also, to conclude festivities.

There will be a trail ride and camp fire supper at White Oaks this Saturday, July 27 to raise funds and make final preparations for the big race. The ride will begin at 7:00 p.m. and will be led out by Bud Crenshaw. Further information can be had by calling 648-2297.

Anyone wishing to mail a letter by Pony Express may take the letter to the Smokey Bear Museum in Capitan. Be sure to leave a two inch space in the lower left hand corner for the Final news will follow next week.

There will be another clean up and work day at the White Oaks Arena, Saturday, July 27. Bring scrap materials such as lumber, nails, wire, etc. and plenty of elbow grease. The reason - To get the arena ready for the "After the Race Rodeo" to be held following the Pony Express Race on August 3.

Election Monday

There will be an election in Capitan on Monday, July 29, between the hours of 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. The Lincoln County Fair Building is the voting place. At issue is a $600,000 General Obligation Bond.

The water bond question: "Shall the Village of Capitan, New Mexico be authorized to issue its general obligation bonds in one series or more in an amount not exceeding $600,000 for the purpose of constructing and purchasing a system for supplying water for the Village, said bonds to be payable from general (ad valorem) taxes (except to the extent other moneys are available therefor), and to bear interest and mature and to be issued upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Trustees may determine?"

The mayor and City Council urge all those who are eligible to get out and vote on this very important question.

commemorative stamp. Place the letter inside another envelope along with one dollar and place it in the box. If you cannot make it to the museum, just mail your letter (inside another envelope) to Pony Express Race, P. O. Box 234, Alto, NM 88316. Remember these will be carried by the riders and are a genuine part of the U.S. Mail.

Airport manager resigns

By RUTH HAMMOND

Carrizozo Municipal Airport Manager Mel Carl resigned during the July 23 Town Council meeting. Carl had earlier asked for a salary of $600 a month. He has been at the airport for more than a year with no salary, and living quarters with electric and water being provided.

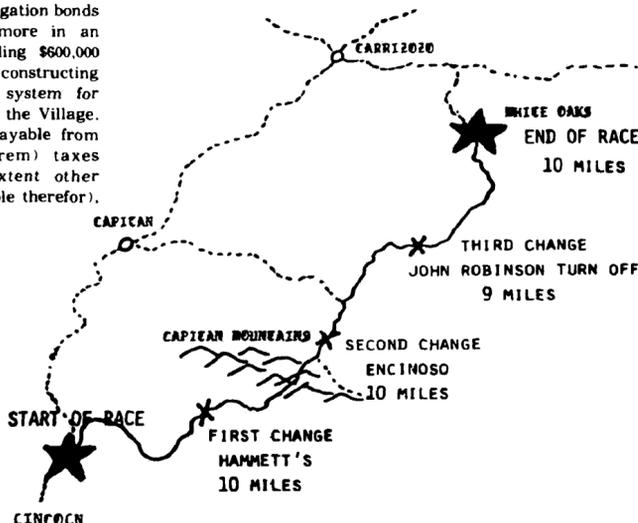

Carl told the council, "I was hired verbally and I will resign verbally." Then he read from a prepared statement, "Citizens of Carrizozo, Mayor Garcia, Councilmen: On behalf of my wife and myself, I would like to thank you for all the help you have given us in the upgrading of our fine airport in the last 14 months. My only disappointment is that you do not recognize the value of a properly managed airport to the future growth of our town or the value of my 25 years experience in aviation. Your failure to grant my request for a salary of $600 per month is the only reason I respectfully resign as manager of the Carrizozo Municipal Airport."

THIS MARIJUANA PLANT was one of 350 seized by the Lincoln County Sheriff's department over the weekend. The first 167 plants found east of White Oaks were four to six feet tall. The 183 plants found at Nogal were 18 inches to three feet tall. Five Lincoln County residents have been charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute.

LINCOLN COUNTY SHERIFF'S Deputy Max Watson and dispatcher-matron Maggie Bohks begin stripping a marijuana plant that was one of 350 plants found in Lincoln County over the weekend. Shown behind Watson are more of the marijuana plants that could have been used to make 'funny cigarettes' out of 'wacky terbacchy' had they not been discovered and seized by officials.

HOMETOWN VISITOR

Lt. Col. and Mrs. William R. Harman, Shaun, Stacy and David visited a week in the home of Roy Harman. The visiting Harmans are from Fort Lewis, WA. Roy accompanied his son and family on various trips around the county. William was born and raised in Carrizozo and graduated from high school here.

CALIFORNIA SIGHTS

Mariposa World, Santa Cruz Broadwalk, a San Jose huge flea market and some points around San Francisco were among the sights enjoyed by three Carrizozo women recently. Bella Killingbeck, daughter Virgie Otero and friend Bobo Canup drove to California for a two week vacation. They were visitors in the homes of the Larry Marlin and Ray Chavez families

Garcia found not guilty

District Judge Richard Parsons removed the authority of the jury and found Harold Garcia not guilty of felony charges of tampering with evidence and bribery of a witness. The surprise move by Parsons came on Tuesday after the state rested its case. Assistant District Attorney Harry Wilcox was the prosecutor.

Parsons told the jury, "The easy decision is to let the case continue." He also said, "I feel that it is incumbent on me to take the case away from you."

Parsons felt that the state did not have sufficient evidence to prove the charges beyond a reasonable doubt.

The charges stemmed from Garcia loaning his pick-up to two men who were involved in a hit and run accident north of Tularosa last September 20. Parts of the pick-up were removed and placed in the Fort Stanton landfill a few days after the accident.

all of Freemont.

Larry is the son of Virgie and grandson of Bella. Larry and wife Terri have two sons, Bruce Reyes, born this week and Larry Jr., who celebrated his 3rd birthday with a big party when the Carrizozo visitors were there.

A real good time was enjoyed by Bella, Virgie and Bobo. The Marlin and Chavez families were great hosts and tour guides. Ray and wife, Carmen are former Carrizozo residents and family friends of Virgie.

SOUND ADVICE

If you must speak ill of another - do not speak it - write it in the sand near the waters edge.

It's extremely important that parents with small children save something for a rainy day: their patience.

The best way for a homemaker to have a few minutes to herself is to start doing the dishes.

It's not whether you win or lose that counts, but how you place the blame.

CONCERNED CITIZENS

Last week I used excerpts from the State Law Enforcement Reporter regarding neighborhood safety. For the benefit of concerned citizens, this week I will borrow the publication's tips on how to distinguish emergency and non-emergency situations. I will follow these with local telephone numbers.

In even the most life-threatening situations when you call the police for help, try to remain as calm as possible. Concisely and clearly answer all the questions asked of you by the Communications Operator. Do not hang up unless told to do so. In many instances, you will be asked to stay on the line until the police reach the destination. Do not abuse the 911 emergency number. Know the difference between an emergency and a non-emergency. Below is listed some examples of emergency situations:

Dial 911 in these situations: (For Carrizozo and surrounding area with prefix 648, the 911 number is available.)

Someone calling for help or a person screaming; a loud explosion or gunshots; someone calling for the police; person injured or bleeding; person needing hospitalization or immediate rescue first-aid; stranger forcibly entering neighbor's house; anyone peering into residence windows or trying them to see if open; strangers carrying household articles, appliances, luggage, etc. from neighbor's house; someone trying to gain entrance into your house; automobile stopping to pick someone walking along the street who looks like he/she doesn't want to go - especially young children. (In Carrizozo the 911 number is answered at the Sheriff's Office.)

LOCAL POLICE

Dial the local police department-sheriff's dept.-state police agency non-emergency numbers in these situations:

Loiterers in dark or secluded areas; suspicious vehicles which drive slowly up and down your street as if "casing your neighborhood"; person loitering near school; persons offering merchandise at unusually low prices; smashed doors or windows in occupied homes or stores; abandoned vehicles on a street (not blocking travel for other vehicles); information and rumors of impending crimes; late discovery that valuables have been taken from your house.

Keep the following Carrizozo telephone numbers handy. Instruct your children on how to call for help in your absence:

Carrizozo Town Police (only during the day, Monday through Friday) 648-2351...Lincoln County Sheriff's Office (24-hours, everyday) 648-2341...New Mexico State Police (office) 648-2474, after hours the officers may be contacted at home. Officer Flores 648-2898 and Officer Skelton 648-2579.

"The price to become involved is little in comparison with the price to be paid for simply looking the other way", the State Law Enforcement Reporter article states. It ends with, "Meet your neighbors. You don't have to become busom-buddies". Simple extended courtesies, pleasantries, etc., will help to place more trust and strength among neighbors and, very possibly deter the criminal element who observes target of crime before preying upon them."

OPINION

Ernest V. Joiner

THOSE who seek justice no longer need hustle on behalf of Marxists in Nicaragua and El Salvador, go limp at federal building entrances over apartheid in South Africa, or berate the US for all those nuclear bombs cached in the Soviet Union, Perfect justice may yet live beyond picket lines and howling demonstrators. For in Colorado an inmate of the state prison has fled suit in federal court claiming his right to wear a cowboy hat is constitutionally protected. Paul Luna Vasquez, 29, serving 25 to 40 years for manslaughter and other villainous misdemeanors, charges his constitutional rights were perforated when prison authorities confiscated his cowboy hat.

MY already tangled heartstrings are further rent on behalf of Wesley A. Tittle, a murderer serving time in Utah State Prison. He escaped last Aug. 21 and was captured six months later. He is now suing the prison for trauma suffered while he was on the lam. Harken to his complaint: "Because of extreme fear of being shot to death, I was forced to swim several irrigation canals, attempted to swim a raging Jordan River and exposed myself to innumerable bites by many insects." He seeks $2 million in damages and "just punishment" for all "prison personnel involved in allowing (me) to escape."

BACK to apartheid, today's burning hypocrisy. Last week I pointed out that there are 15,962,000 blacks in South Africa. The Zulu tribe accounts for 5,421,000 of them, and is the most powerful and vocal of the several. In May, the chief of the Zulus presented a petition to the US Consul in Durban, South Africa. Here is what it said: "On behalf of black South Africa, we petition President Reagan, the Senators of the United States of America, and its Congressmen to reject pressures exerted on them to express abhorrence of apartheid through disinvestment in South Africa." Scant attention was given this message in the US press. If the welfare of South African blacks were a prime concern, why has Congress ignored this plan, and imposed sanctions that can only cost the jobs of 120,000 blacks employed by US firms doing business in South Africa? Nearly all these firms subscribe to the Sullivan Principle which calls for desegregation in the workplace, equal treatment and pay with whites. Liberal Americans are now committed to forcing the government of South Africa to end apartheid, whether South Africans, black and white, want it or not. If this is not ideological imperialism I know not its definition.

OUR leftists are in orgasmic delight at the prospect of President Reagan meeting with Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev this fall. They are certain they will come up with a treaty. Any old treaty will be hailed as a great victory for peace. I like enforcement of our old treaties with the Russians better. How about the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty to which we adhere but the Soviets do not? Or the Biological Weapons Convention the Soviets don't even want to talk about? Or the 1981 Conventional Weapons Convention which we observe and the Soviets do not? Or the Geneva Chemical Weapons Protocol of 1925, the Helsinki Accords of 1975, the Threshold Test Ban Treaty between the US and USSR, SALT I and SALT II? The Soviets have violated every one of these treaties. The US has not knowingly violated any of them, even though some have never been signed by us and remain unratified by the US Senate. We refuse to deal severely with the Soviets for breaking their treaties. The worst "retaliation" by the US has been for President Reagan to call the Soviet Union "an evil empire" and to refuse to sell wheat to them. If our befuddled Congress would deal with the Soviets as harshly as they are now dealing with South Africa, we might get better cooperation. Has anyone suggested that we stop loaning money to the Soviets? Has anyone demanded penalties of companies doing business with the Soviets? How long (if ever) has it been since the collegiate thundering herd demonstrated against human rights violations in Russia and its satellites, or is their angst reserved for one of the few African nations friendly to the US?

SANTA FE—In the quiet of a news-short summer, even garrulous reporters stop gabbling.

A silence descends on the land, in which a few sounds can be clearly perceived. In New Mexico, one of them is the clomp-clomp of cowboy boots.

That's ol' Bruce King approaching, on his way to throw himself into the race for governor next year.

Yes, the man who has already served more time in the governor's chair than any other—eight full years, to Ed Mechem's seven and eleven-twelfth years—thinks he'd like to return. Why he thinks that is not exactly clear. Boredom, maybe, or just getting so habituated to the job that anything else seems only half fulfilling.

CONTRAST: King is in no hurry to announce to us formally that this run is in his plans. He doesn't have to hurry; we all know him already, which is not true of any of the others aiming for the same job. But when he announces, New Mexicans will have something dramatic to measure Bruce's difference by. That criterion is Toney Anaya and his performance in the same job. Though the two men cannot run against one another, you can be sure it will be Toney and his record with which King will attempt to contrast himself at every juncture.

That's pretty smart. There is a sharp distinction between the two.

ACTION: Toney Anaya is—or at least he swept into office being—a certified activist. He was going to be a hands-on governor, involved in every action his administration took. By temperament, he is a workaholic and a mover-and-shaker. He wanted to change the face of the state in four short years, and so got his name into both the national newsmagazines and the history books.

Not so of Bruce. His forte is letting sleeping dogs lie. Though he may ride heavy in the saddle, his hand is light on the reins. Actually, though he does not seem so, Bruce is something of a gambler. He is content to leave things pretty much as he finds them and bet that, untouched, problems will work themselves out.

Both approaches have their own measure of legitimacy, but they are so contradictory that it is virtually impossible for a citizen to approve of each.

THE MEASURE: Next year may settle once for all the question of which type of governance the citizens of our state prefer. If they welcome Bruce back, there is an implied rejection of Anaya's methods.

Of course, they may simply say in effect that they don't think much of either of these two, and proceed to choose somebody who is totally different from both. That's what all the others in the race are counting on.

But simply because the two governors who have served between 1973 and 1987 have been stylistically so diverse, it's almost inevitable that the approach to government of all candidates next year will get a good examination.

Voters will inevitably be telling us something in the polling place about which methodology they prefer.

Let's hope they will also be making a careful choice of the style of government which the State of New Mexico needs at the time the man they choose takes over. The choice made on that basis is almost certainly more important than one based on personal preference alone.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR—Some 59 percent of the people polled chose the late John F. Kennedy as the greatest president in US history according to a recent Gallup Poll. He led Abraham Lincoln by eight percentage points; and he led George Washington by 31. When we recall President Kennedy's most decisive part in the Bay of Pigs fiasco; when we recall President Kennedy authorizing the dispatch of those first 7000 troops to Vietnam; it causes us to wonder if the people polled really understood the question.

RAYMOND C. WILSON
San Juan Bautista, CA

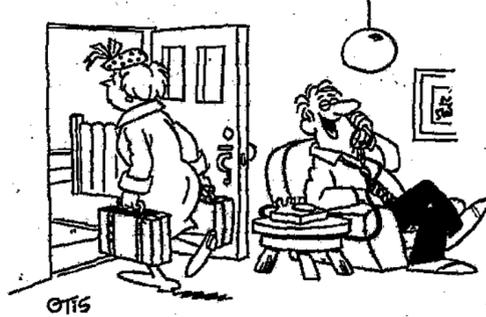

EDITOR—A bill to stop financing Communism was introduced in Congress by Congressman Phil Crane. A sound strategy for undermining and eventually routing Communism throughout the world is to institute a policy of benign neglect. If the West in general, and the United States through particular, were to stop building up Communist nations through aid and trade, were forcing the Red regimes to fend for themselves on the basis of their own oppressive and unproductive collectivist economic schemes, the worldwide military threat of the Soviet Union and its satrapies would rapidly recede in the wake of internal economic turmoil.

Congressman Crane's important bill, HR 97, would amend the Trade Act of 1974 and the Export-Import Act of 1945 to prohibit all extensions of credit, credit guarantees, or grants by any agency of the US government to any Communist country.

Alexander Solzhenitsyn warned us some time ago that if we continue to bolster the Marxist world, to bail out members out of their self-inflicted economic crisis — we will merely be "helping them to rearm...helping the Soviet police state."

The time has come for us to cease financing the inhuman and reprehensible activities of Communist countries with aid and loans from our official lending institutions and government agencies. Support of this bill by the American people would be a big step toward easing Soviet oppression of captive people and enhancing our own security. Write your Congressman now.

Shi'ites unimpressed by Reagan's words, vow more action against Americans

WASHINGTON — The time-honored principle that the best defense is an offense has apparently been discarded by the Reagan Administration, which has opted in favor of a three billion dollar program to strengthen the security at our embassies around the world.

This simply won't work, unless we're preparing to move our embassies way underground, like missile silos, and require that they be large enough for all US personnel to reside in such bunker embassies and never come above ground unless they're being smuggled out by armored car to return to the US.

What is essential is some fulfillment of the eloquent and ominous-sounding warnings which our President has been regularly issuing for more than four years. These warnings have been followed by little or no action — except by the terrorists, who, being very unimpressed by mere words, have redoubled their efforts.

There was, admittedly, one brief interval of something on the order of retaliation. It came after one of these Moslem kamikazes drove his bomb truck to the front door of the Marine barracks in Beirut and blew up 241 Americans. The battleship New Jersey fired several fusillades. And the comparison of this shelling from a distance with the terrorists' willingness for close-order engagement was not at all lost on a watching world.

It is surely not that our armed forces are lacking in well trained and thoroughly courageous special forces, who are more than willing to engage and destroy these despicable fanatics. It is just that their commander-in-chief, no doubt under the advice of the appeasement artists at the Department of State, has failed to give them any such orders — except Grenada, where there was impending danger but nothing like the death toll of Americans murdered in the Middle East.

The first week of July, however, saw the first fusillade in the Reagan War On Terrorism. It was an action that had all the effect of either a water pistol or a pop gun. This action was announced not at the Pentagon but, understandably, at the Department of State. Commander Reagan had struck back! — at Middle East Airlines!

They drafted a tweedy and hapless-looking ambassador (who may be identified only as a "Senior American Official") to announce that MEA will henceforth be denied the right to use its twice-weekly flight from the US to Beirut. Other airlines will be pressured not to use Beirut Airport.

When astounded reporters asked about the remaining seven American hostages still in the hands of these terrorists, this ambassador explained that we are depending on the Lebanese Government to retrieve these Americans for us and — get this — to apprehend and extradite the two hijackers who tortured and murdered US Navy Petty Officer Robert Stefham.

The "Lebanese Government" is what Winston Churchill once described as a "terminological inexactitude." It is a geographical expression designating the territory now occupied by Syria, along with several religious warlords. Somehow, out of all this, a Lebanese Airline exists. So the Reagan Administration retaliates against the airline of the same government upon which the State Department announced we are depending to recover seven captive Americans and two Moslem murderers. (One wonders what those people in Foggy Bottom have been smoking.)

From Beirut on Wednesday, July 3, there came news dispatches that the Shi'ites not only celebrated what they regard as "a great victory" over the Great Satan United States. They have also announced their intention of launching "more blows against the United States," which actions they intend to take on their own time schedule.

Their continued captivity of seven Americans is very likely to go on for months or even years. For these creatures perceive that by doing so, they have been able to avoid any United States retaliation. The result is that the captivity will be indefinitely extended. And because the Reagan Administration has been seen to have avoided any of the promised "swift and effective retribution," the lives of hundreds (or even thousands) more Americans will be endangered by more terrorism in the future. We are perceived as a people who are so paralyzed by the threats of these pirates to seven Americans, that we do nothing by way of retaliation for the kidnapping of 30 other Americans, including one who was tortured and murdered.

Long ago, our allies in Israel realized the disastrous futility of such a policy in their refusal to negotiate with terrorists. There is Israel's resolute determination to take the battle to the enemy; to pursue terrorists of Israel's women and children and civilian men, around the world if necessary; and to kill them without any reference to the Marquis of Queensbury.

The Israelis are well aware of the fact that you cannot possibly compete with the KGB and its subsidiaries with a Mossad indistinguishable from the Boy Scouts. But in the United States, the absolute carnage wrought upon our intelligence community by the left wing Democrats led by the late Senator Church, along with the media, is seen in Time magazine's recent interview with a number of former Directors of the CIA, much of whose counsel is pitiful. These included Admiral Stansfield Turner, who decimated so much of CIA's counterintelligence.

Meanwhile, the Big Media has been enjoying an absolute harvest of high ratings in its coverage of the kidnap crisis. Columnist Judy Mann has written an excellent satire for The Washington Post, which, amazingly, printed it:

"Here with us live by satellite from Germany, with an exclusive CBS interview, is Adolf Hitler, who has agreed to join us for the duration of the crisis to explain Germany's side of this dramatic story. Good evening, Mr. Fuehrer."

"Good evening, Dan."

"Mr. Fuehrer, could you tell the American people on this exclusive CBS interview, just what your armies are doing?"

"Certainly, Dan. It's very simple. We've taken Poland, but I want to assure the American people that Poland is all we want. I want to tell the world right now that we have no intention of antagonizing the international community by further military action. Poland is it!"

"Thank you Mr. Fuehrer for being so candid with the American people, and we look forward to further interviews with you, exclusively on CBS, as this crisis unfolds."

In Washington, also in The Post, a columnist named Richard Cohen wrote: "As a nation, we neither have been humiliated, nor do we feel that way." For "the American people know that sometimes, unfortunately, you

ETHIOPIA (part II):

We're not the world

WASHINGTON, VIRGINIA — What does it take to create a famine like the one in Ethiopia?

Cruel weather isn't enough; Ethiopians have been coping with food shortages for thousands of years. They have learned to hoard their surplus in times of plenty, or invest it in jewelry and other items that can be sold for food imported from elsewhere, or send their children to the cities to work, or move to areas where food is available.

This time, however, things are different. Ethiopia's 10-year-old communist government has outlawed such capitalist activities as hoarding and saving, and the government has set up committees to decide who gets to live where. There are price controls on agricultural products so that urban residents can get cheap food at the expense of farmers, and farmers must sell grain to the government at a whopping discount — barely at 72 percent below the market price, for example. The government can do nothing but take your lumps."

Maybe this is the way that Cohen and his fellow wimps at The Washington Post feel — that the United States should go on playing Uncle Sap The International Punching Bag. But it is doubtful indeed that most Americans are so defeatist and such saps for appeasement.

Another columnist, Norman Podhoretz, editor of Commentary magazine, deplores

President Reagan's claim that "America is standing tall" when he has become "a pitifully crippled hawk." Podhoretz notes that "We know very well who the criminals are and where they can be found. We see Nabhi Berri on TV every night, and the address of Hezbollah's headquarters has even been published in the papers." But so far, the Reagan Administration's response to the kidnapping and murder of hundreds of Americans has been talk. And the terrorists act...

sets production quotas and outlaws the use of hired labor. Farmers have little incentive to work, or move to areas where food is available.

practice soil-conservation measures such as planting trees, because they may be arbitrarily re-assigned to another farm at any time.

And many of the farmers have been drafted into the country's 300,000-man army, which is the largest in sub-Saharan Africa. Bulgarians, Libyans, North Koreans, East Germans, and some 20,000 Cuban legionnaires are among those stationed in Ethiopia to make sure that nothing bad happens to Comrade Mengistu.

Warned in 1982 about the coming famine, the dictator, Lt. Colonel Mengistu Haile Mariam, poured 46 percent of Ethiopia's gross national product into the military. When the famine began, Mengistu kept reporters away from refugee camps because he didn't want the publicity to spoil his anniversary party. He delayed the announcement of austerity measures until February, 1985.

In recent months, only about two-fifths of the food sent to Ethiopia has been distributed. At the Red Sea port of Assab, so much grain sits on the dock fermenting that it smells like a brewery. At one point, white food rotted at Assab, 200 people a day were dying at a refugee camp 200 miles away.

In January, the government seized $1.2 million worth of Australian grain and other relief supplies bound for rebel-held areas. Nobody knows what happened to the supplies.

At the camp at Korem, where there are some 50,000 refugees, the government does not allow the stockpiling of food because some of it might get to the rebels who control nearby areas. In January and February, 20,000 blankets sat in warehouses while people were dying of the cold, because — according to a relief official — the government didn't want people to get too comfortable; it wanted them to volunteer to be shipped away from rebel strongholds as part of the government's resettlement program.

The program loads people from the north into Soviet-built trucks and planes, and carries them off to the south. The land in the south is unquestionably better for farming, but farmers are given only five acres per household and are not allowed to own the land, only to farm it as tenants for the government. Meanwhile, medical supplies are hopelessly inadequate in a region plagued by malaria.

Much of the grain intended for the starving goes to these "socialist" (communist) settlements in the south. Some of it is sold to finance bombing raids on starving refugees in the rebel strongholds of Eritrea and Tigre. Soviet helicopter gunships are used to drive refugees out of Ethiopia across scorching desert into Sudan... an action that, incidentally, helped topple Sudan's pro-Western government last April.

The United Nations has promised to spend $75 million for a better UN building in Addis Ababa, and the Soviet Union has sold Ethiopia $3 billion worth of weapons, but it is the Western nations that have provided most of the aid to the hungry. More than half of the aid going to starving Ethiopians comes from the U.S.

But don't expect any gratitude. Mengistu's Labor Minister declared in December that "the current tragedy of death and starvation" is the fault of the West, and Ethiopian schoolchildren are taught that the Soviets and the East Germans are the principal donors of food for their country.

There is an important lesson in the tragedy of Ethiopia: that the greatest human suffering is made not by nature, but by men. There is no disaster that a man like Mengistu Haile Mariam cannot make worse, given absolute power under a communist system. That is why communism is inherently evil, because it unleashes the evil in the Mengistus of the world and protects them from justice...and because it kills people. The American system produces wealth enough for every citizen to live a decent life. Communism produces only enough to provide a bare subsistence for the average person, and sometimes — as in Ethiopia this year — it doesn't even do that.

As Americans and others in the West do what they can to help the starving, they must never forget who is to blame for the starvation. We're not the world, only the free part of it.

13 YEARS OF BUSINESS TO THE AREA

Capitan News

by MARGARET RENCH

Last week, Monday, July 15, that rain I mentioned did not give us but one-tenth of rain. This Monday, it has started the same way though only a trace. The cloudy atmosphere certainly is a great relief. Otherwise dry and hot and grasshoppers galore.

The Village of Capitan—General Obligation Water Bond Special Election—Monday, July 28, 1985. "Shall the Village of Capitan, NM, be authorized to issue its general obligation bonds, in one series or more, in an amount not exceeding $600,000 for the purpose of constructing and purchasing a system for supplying water for the Village, said bonds to be payable from general (ad valorem) taxes, and to bear interest and mature and to be issued upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Trustees may determine?"

Please exercise your right to vote! The Village urges you to vote FOR the bond issue...vote FOR water, now and for the future!

Remember—The city election is Monday, July 28, at the Fair Building on the Water Bond. It is very important that you vote and be sincere about for it is needed now and for the future. Let us go forward. We do live in the best place - peaceful, lovely and quiet with the most beautiful people. We need to get our water in right and in order now. See you at the election.

"The Old Corrals and Sagebrush" held their grand opening last Thursday July 25. More information on this later. You have no idea what a nice store it is and we are so very proud to have them with us.

It is with deep regret that I inform you that "Olin's Quick" closed Monday, July 22. We do need that business. Competition makes us grow and be broader minded. It is good for the community. We, then become better people. It is for safe.

The Smokey Bear State Park and Smokey Bear Museum had 1,879 registered visitors from July 15-21. Commander Les Joslin, US Navy of Washington, DC, a former US Forest Service Fire Control Aid on the Toiyabe National Forest, CA, researching Smokey the Bears history. He lives in Burke, Virginia and he visited the Smokey Bear Museum last week.

On July 16, Pastor Bob and Linda Schut of Dutch Reformed Church and a group of 23 children of Mesclero visited there and enjoyed the park and the museum. The new boardwalks are finished and look good and are easy for the public to get around. Mark Knapp did a great job in everything he did at the Park. We regret losing him and his lovely wife and daughter. Tuesday, Mark was transferred to the Caballo Lake State Park. They did leave that day. It is a great loss to us but a gain to that State Park and we wish them success as always and happiness.

The Capitan varsity basketball team traveled to El Paso on Sunday, July 21, to attend the UTEP Basketball Camp put on by head coach Don Haskins of the UTEP Miners. As the brochure says, the players will be eating, sleeping and dreaming basketball. They will be playing against schools from all over the southwest and will play approximately 14 games during their five days at camp. This experience should be real beneficial to the basketball team for this coming season. The Tiger basketball players would like to thank the people of Capitan for their support in trying to earn money for the camp and their encouragement throughout the basketball season.

Gary Renfro is a new employee at the Capitan Carrizozo Natural Gas Company in Capitan. He and his lovely wife returned from Bryan, TX to make their home here several months ago. We do welcome them here and wish them years of happiness and success with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Renfro are stationed in San Diego, CA where he is in the US Navy and at sea at this time, though he soon will be stationed in Cuba.

This is a big item for New Mexico. Did you hear on July 16 three TV programs in El Paso on Pegasus Project-Fast Train Transit. Completely New??? It also was published in the El Paso papers. Lt. Governor says it is the greatest thing ever for New Mexico. Good News.

Mrs. Edna Littleton of Carrizozo fell several weeks ago and broke her hip. I wish her a good and complete recovery very soon and fast. Please do send her best wishes and get well thoughts. We do love her. She is a sweet and lovely lady.

Another Ranchmen's Camp Meeting on Nogal Mesa is over. Ended Sunday. Report is good with crowds of great enjoyment. I missed there this year though I do always enjoy all of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne, Lee, Guy and Amy attended the Leslie family reunion at White Oaks last Saturday and Sunday. The family members enjoyed barbecue dinner and a dance Saturday night at the old school house.

Dean and Glenn Wade of Houston, TX arrived Sunday July 14 for their vacation at their summer home near the Busy Bee. What a joy to me for their visit to me. I do thank you for that and also for the vegetables left in my door on Thursday. My sincere appreciation. Come again soon, please.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Merchant of Arkansas stayed at the Smokey Bear Motel last Friday and visited friends one of which was me while enroute to visit her mother, Mrs. Shaw in Alamogordo. I appreciated their visit. I knew them when they were children. I hope they did find Moss Maryfield. Wallace had not seen him in many years and wanted to visit him. They will attend the old class reunion Sat., July 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright attended the family reunion of his cousins and their families at Bonita Lake last weekend. They were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Chilton of Mountainair, Mr. and Mrs. Estal Cryer of Portales and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Wright of Loveland, TX.

Terry and Kay Strickland with their daughters Rhoda Kay and Melinda spent last weekend near Sacramento, visiting relatives from Hobbs who have a cabin there.

MUD PIES—This picture was taken in Capitan around 1945. Actually these boys are building a miniature adobe house. Do you recognize these people?

IN LINCOLN—

Courthouse Museum closes for renovation

On the 23rd of July the historic courthouse in Lincoln, NM, closes for major restoration. The large adobe building was constructed in 1873 to house L. G. Murphy's Mercantile. It was a jail from which Billy the Kid escaped in 1881, a high school in the 1920s, and a New Mexico State Monument after 1940.

"The old courthouse is one of the most important historic structures in the Southwest," says Michael Taylor, chief of structural preservation for the state monuments.

Renovation of the courthouse was funded by the New Mexico State Legislature, and is proceeding under the direction of the state monuments division and the Santa Fe architectural firm of Johnson and Nestor. Vantage Construction of Roswell was awarded the bid to do major structural work, reroofing, replastering, an electrical system update and restoration of a historic boardwalk and porch from the 1890s.

During this renovation exhibits from the courthouse may be seen in the nearby Tunstall Store, built in 1877. The store and courthouse are two of several properties overseen by the state monuments, including the San Juan Church and a "torreon," or fortified tower.

The town of Lincoln is about 200 miles south of Santa Fe in rolling hills along the Rio Bonito. Lincoln is a lively town with approximately 90 permanent residents and a strong feeling of the past. Each year the entire community presents the "Last Escape of Billy the Kid Pageant Weekend," with mock shootouts, parade and costumes. This year's pageant is August 2, 3 and 4.

For information about Lincoln and the other state monuments call 827-8940. The monuments are part of the Museum of New Mexico system, and include Coronado, Fort Selden, Fort Sumner, Jemez and Lincoln.

OLD LINCOLN DAYS AUG. 2-4—

New 'Billy' for pageant

By ROSALIE DUNLAP

Old Lincoln Days will be held Aug. 2-4 with plenty of entertainment, good parade and old time crafts to see and time to visit old friends and make new ones.

We have a new Billy the Kid, Ronnie Barone, who is 15 years old and has participated in the pageant the last several years. Dan Storm returns as 'Buckshot' Roberts. We have a good group of newcomers who are a great addition to the pageant.

The New Mex Volunteers with the Civil War re-enactment and the muzzel loaders will be featured again.

The fiddlers contest will be Saturday afternoon in the Lincoln Park. So come all you fiddlers and enjoy the fun.

The parade will be Sunday afternoon at 1:30 and will end at the pageant grounds.

The Flying J Wranglers of the Flying J Ranch, Ruidoso, will be playing "good old foottapping music from 2:00 until 3:30 Sunday afternoon following the parade.

Governor candidate to speak

Joe Mercer, announced Republican candidate for governor, invites the voters of Lincoln County to meet him Thursday, July 25 to discuss the issues.

He will speak at 11 a.m. at Nottingham's Pub in Ruidoso. The public is invited.

Our sympathies and prayers go to the family of Bernard Rooney who passed away Sunday evening at Ruidoso. Chief Bernardo, as all his friends called him will be missed.

He had a restaurant west of Lincoln for a few years and loved Lincoln town. He built the home owners that are near the Torreon.

Lincoln received a nice 1/4" of rain a week ago. What a difference it made in garden and lawn.

Several area residents attended the Flamenco dance program at the Ruidoso High School Saturday night. Lilli del Castillo and her husband, guitarist Luis put on a marvelous program. Not only did they perform but they gave the history and background of the Flamenco dance and the music.

Mrs. Chris McKinley of Portales accompanied by Rosalie Dunlap attended the McKinley family reunion at Cloudcroft; then visited a longtime family friend, Margaret Hill at Boles Acres. Then back in time for the Flamenco program at Ruidoso.

The pageant grounds are being spruced up for the upcoming pageant Aug. 2-4.

Carl Shannon of Hondo passed away in the nursing home last week. Services were held at Hondo Thursday morning.

La Junta Extension Club met at the home of Louise Babers, San Patricio. Following the covered dish luncheon, Cleis Jordan of Lincoln gave a very interesting program on plants.

Due to absences the installation of officers was postponed until next month.

BEEF AWARD—4-H'er Steve Copeland, Lincoln County, left, is honored with the Beef Award at the New Mexico 4-H Conference banquet July 18 at New Mexico State University. With him is Glenda Price, scholarship chairman of the New Mexico CowBelles, which are sponsoring his trip this fall to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. (NMSU Ag. Info. photo)

CAPITAN SCHOOL BOARD—

School begins Aug. 19

By BARTLEY McDONOUGH

The Capitan School Board met July 18 and conducted the following business:

Architect Jim French reported the new building is on schedule. Plywood will be used in the weight room. Certain payments will be made when the bond money is received. The issue date for the bonds is July 15. The school will receive $750,000 less fees at this time.

Superintendent Hays proposed buying 3 Minolta Business Machines and 12 Japanese typewriters. The servicing of these machines was a major question. Another question: With declining enrollment and less money available would spending this much money at this time for these items be wise? School typewriters have a life expectancy of 5 to 6 years and some should be replaced every year. The school badly needs the copiers. Board members along with many other Americans favor US products. Superintendent Hays will contact the Xerox people.

Mary Mc Ilwain, formerly of Roswell, was employed for one year to teach the 3rd grade. Pam Noriega has taken leave of absence for one year to work on her doctorate.

The board accepted the resignations of Perry Zumwalt and Lavina Volquardsen. Inga Sedillo was hired as a new janitor.

The school employed Daniel Hitchcock as school nurse. Hitchcock will work 5 days a week - approximately two and a half hours a day.

"Chuck" Johnson was granted a leave of absence for one year. This position will be filled after being advertised.

Graduation for this year's seniors will be Saturday, May 24, 1986, at 5 p.m.

In order to earn an academic letter a Capitan student must maintain a 95 grade point average.

Other school news: Teacher in service is scheduled for August 16. The first day of school will be August 19.

Two Corona members

ATTEND FFA CAMP—Jim Stevenson (left) and Travis Lightfoot of the Corona Chapter of the Future Farmers of America were among the 94 members in attendance at the second annual New Mexico FFA Leadership Camp, held recently at the Scott Able Campgrounds near Cloudcroft. The camp attendees, representing chapters from across the state, participated in workshops ranging from effective public relations to the needed qualifications for becoming a state FFA officer, and enjoyed many recreational activities and inspirational programs. The camp was sponsored by the Past New Mexico State FFA Officers Alumni Association and the Collegiate FFA Chapter at New Mexico State University. Past state officers served as the camp's counselors and workshop teachers.

ACIDIC FOODS

Pineapple and tomatoes are relatively acidic foods. After opening a can the acid of the food exposed to air causes a reaction that turns the can lining black. The food is still good to use, but I store left overs of these foods in glass or plastic containers.

ASSEMBLE INGREDIENTS

Sometime ago half way into the baking stage I discovered that I had not used baking powder as the recipe called for. Avoid confusion when preparing food by assembling all the ingredients on the counter or table and put each ingredient away as soon as it is used.

SAVE A LIFE

You may have heard about the 'Heimlich Maneuver' to help victims of food-choking. It is well worth reviewing the method that could save a life:

If the victim is lying down, kneel astride his or her hips. With one hand on top of the other, place the heel of your bottom hand on victim's abdomen - above navel, below rib cage. Press into abdomen with quick upward thrust. Repeat if necessary.

If victim is standing or sitting, stand behind him or her waist. Grasp your fist with your other hand, than place it against the victim's abdomen - above navel and below rib cage. Press fist into abdomen with quick upward thrust. Repeat if necessary.

In both cases, after the food is dislodged, a doctor should check the victim.
