

McKNIGHT MURDERS—

Questions remain unanswered

By RUTH HAMMOND
Last November a brutal murder was committed in Lincoln County. Former County Commissioner Thomas "Cotton" McKnight and his wife Judy were found murdered in their home near Picacho.

Officials have been investigating the case for nine months. A spokesman for the Lincoln County Sheriff's office told the News, "On August 5, 1985, the Lincoln County Sheriff's office presented District Attorney

James Weldon with an investigative report in the McKnight murder case. At that time the Lincoln County Sheriff's office requested the approval of arrest affidavits for arrest warrants in the case. As of this date (Aug. 21, 1985) the sheriff's office has not heard from the district attorney in regard to the McKnight murder case." Terri Bussey, of Capitan, sister of Judy McKnight, will be circulating a petition in Lincoln County requesting a grand jury investigation into the case of the murders. She told the News, "The sheriff turned over to the district attorney information three weeks ago. I feel the district attorney is not doing his job." Terri said the petition has to be drawn up legally and will be ready in a few days. It will then be circulated for signatures. Her mother, Margaret Rickley of Fairfield, California, is with her at this time. Mrs. Rickley said, "I pray everyday that everything will be taken care of."

District Attorney James Weldon told the News on August 12, 1985, "We are working hard (on the case), we have leads on it, we expect to solve it." When contacted on Aug. 21, Weldon said, "We are proceeding with the investigation. I have nothing to hide from the proper authorities. The question of whether or not to proceed is my responsibility, which I take seriously.

Obviously the sheriff is trying to force me to do something. If we act hastily, any person who is accused, if the evidence is insufficient, the suspect will get off. As of right now, I am not certain we have a case."

The sheriff's office had no comment in regard to the calling of a grand jury investigation by the family.

Pancho McKnight, brother of Cotton McKnight, is working with Terri Bussey in preparing the petition. He was not available for comment at press time.

The case has been in the headlines since the first shocking news of the murders appeared. A suspect that refused a polygraph in December, 1984, laser prints being sent to the FBI in January, and the news in April that Weldon would be handling all releases have kept the public wondering, "When will this case be solved?"

Board member appointed

By LINDA CALDWELL
During its regular meeting last week, Corona School Board appointed a new board member and hired a math teacher. Milton Romans, local rancher and construction contractor, will fill the position left vacant by Stanley Sanders. His term will expire in March, 1987. Mrs. Joan Trotter of Ft. Sumner was hired to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of math teacher Bill Bryan.

In other action, the Board voted to increase the teacher salary schedules and to increase compensation to head teachers, junior and senior class sponsors, student council sponsor, and coaches. This was in consideration of extra time spent in fulfilling those various responsibilities.

At the request of Village Mayor Ernest Lueras and Village Council member Lee Mulkey, the Board voted to require teacherage tenants to pay their own water bills. Heretofore, water for the teacherages had been billed along with the school.

Aides who were hired last month are high school, Jan Starnes, migrant aide, Margaret Garcia, Chapter I aide, Jenetta Foster, and ESL (English as a Second Language) aide, Jeanne Rodriguez.

Allegations made against county clerk

By RUTH HAMMOND
Allegations of problems with voter registration in Lincoln County were taken to New Mexico Secretary of State (Cora Jones by Coleta Elliott and Charlotte Jarratt on Aug. 9. Elliott is president of the Lincoln County Democratic Women's Club and Jarratt is vice-president and past president. Elliott and Jarratt asked that the Attorney General's office conduct a full investigation on policies and procedures of the Lincoln County Clerk's office. Problems explained were, voters are encountering obstacles in registering, becoming deputy registrars, and in obtaining forms needed to register voters.

Fran Siddens, Lincoln County Clerk, said in response to the charges, "These allegations directed against me by Mrs. Charlotte Jarratt, who by the way, was my opponent in the General Election, and by Mrs. Coleta Elliott, are unjust and unfair to me personally as I feel it is an attack on my integrity."

Siddens went on to say, "I swore to uphold the duties of this office to the best of my ability and I feel I have done so—not for one party or the other—but for the people of Lincoln County." Later she said, "I am definitely bi-partisan. My chief deputy, Loree Vallejos, is a democrat. I have nothing to hide."

The Secretary of State attended the County Commissioners meeting on Tuesday. When she was asked if there was a problem in the county clerk's office, Mrs. Jones answered, "It is in the Attorney General's office at this time.

Any time there is a complaint, we turn it over to the Attorney General's office. We cannot investigate."

Confirmation has not been received from the Attorney General's office about an investigation.

Cancer device ordered

At the regular meeting of the Valley of Fires Lioness Club on August 13th, the club voted to purchase an early cancer detection device for women.

The device will be presented to the Lincoln County Health Office in memory of Hazel English. Hazel English was county health nurse for many years. The current county nurse, Wynona Stoltzfus, informed the club that this device is needed in her office to teach women how to detect early signs of breast cancer. This device will stay in the Carrizozo office and will be available to women of this community.

The public is invited to contribute to help buy this device in memory of Hazel English. Information is available at the health office, United New Mexico Bank or any member of the Valley of Fires Lioness Club.

WHO'S WHO

Carrizozo's school staff kicked off a new school year by meeting early Monday morning for a breakfast and get-acquainted session. School classes begin Wednesday.

Mr. Dennis Sidebottom told the school staff that he was "real enthused". He introduced new teachers as well as the "ancient faces", including cafeteria, maintenance, office staff, bus drivers and school board members. Sidebottom told them that they would soon be working with our greatest natural resource - children.

He asked the teachers: "What doors can you open for your kids (students) that nobody else can?" He concluded his talk with: "The only important thing we do here is educate kids (students). Nothing else matters. Education is our primary job."

On hand at Monday's gathering were Charlotte Archuleta, cafeteria manager; Flora Samora and Audra Wilson, cooks. The three prepared the sausage, eggs, biscuits, juice and coffee.

Judi Sidebottom modeled a shirt. The juniors are in charge of hosting the prom. See Patterson or a class member about the shirts.

Sidebottom recognized Ruth Hammond, who has done an outstanding job with school publicity and who plans to do a weekly teacher-of-the-week and student-of-the-week series.

EXCUSES, EXCUSES

The following humor item comes from another newspaper. Parts of the article appear to be typographical errors but are not. Carrizozo and surrounding area parents should proof read their 'excuse notes' to their child's teacher before they are sent to school.

"Traditional" excuses for being absent from school are still being received by teachers. A Greenville, SC teacher who received them passed the following along to the Fort Jackson Leader:

"Please excuse John for being absent on January 28, 29, 30, 32, 33."

"John has been absent because he has two teeth taken out of his face."

"Please excuse Gloria. She has been sick and under the doctor."

"Myson is under the doctor's car and should not take P.E. Please execute him."

"Please excuse Joey Monday. He had loose vowels."

"Please excuse Blanche from P.E. for a few days. Yesterday she fell out of a tree and misplaced her hip."

"Please excuse Joyce from JIM today. She is administrating."

"My daughter was absent yesterday because she was tired. She spent the weekend with the Marines." (?)

"Please excuse Jimmy for being. It was his father's fault."

"Please excuse Diana from being absent yesterday. She was in bed with Gramps."

"Please excuse Tom. I needed him at home because we had dirrea (sp) and I had my hands full."

GRAND CHAMPION LAMB—Jim Larremore's lamb brought $3.70 per pound and was bought by Roswell Wool & Mohair. The Lincoln County Fair was held last weekend in Capitan and as usual drew nice crowds.

NM Vo-Ag. TEACHER OF THE YEAR. Mike Gaines, Carrizozo Vo-ag teacher for the past five years was named NM Vo-Ag Teacher of the Year at the annual summer conference at Las Cruces. U.S.-Mexican Border: A Shared Problem

The international border between the United States and Mexico is the only place in the world where a developing country comes right up against the most industrialized nation on earth.

We not only share a 1,950-mile border with Mexico, but we also share all the opportunities and problems this situation creates.

The problems are considerable: illegal immigration, air and water pollution, violence, and drug trafficking, among others. But the opportunities are also considerable and just as important.

Trade between the United States and Mexico is rapidly growing. In fact, Mexico is now our third largest trading partner, after Canada and Japan, and 290,000 American jobs depend on U.S. exports to Mexico. But New Mexico has not yet benefited fully from this partnership, which now generates close to $30 billion in trade annually.

Our state has not fared well in this growing trade relationship for two important reasons.

First, no major port of entry exists in New Mexico, and our two small border crossings at Columbus and Antelope Wells are not sufficiently developed or capable of handling the large amounts of border traffic that goes along with modern, progressive commerce.

The situation is slated for improvement, at least in Columbus. On a recent trip along the border, I was assured by U.S. Customs officials that this port of entry would be remodeled and updated.

Second, no New Mexican communities have ever been part of the so called Foreign Commercial Zones. These zones are specially designated customs areas in which imported goods are delivered for transfer, distribution, and sale in the United States.

Border communities which are excluded from these zones have not grown or developed as they should have. For instance, Las Cruces, Deming, and Carlsbad have been losing out on many very important economic opportunities. By contrast, El Paso, which is included in a commercial zone, has enjoyed significant business development.

I will continue to assist local authorities in New Mexico with their efforts to expand the commercial zones to include these three cities in southern New Mexico. Recently, I co-sponsored legislation with Senators Phil Gramm and Pete Domenici which will assist in easing restriction on commercial trading across the border.

I am also seriously considering a plan to develop a Border Management Agency that will help combat illegal activities along the border, such as drug trafficking.

Presently, law enforcement along the border is handled by at least three different federal agencies: the Customs Bureau, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, and the Drug Enforcement Administration. The border agency would combine many of these functions now performed by these separate agencies, thereby strengthening law enforcement along the border. The Border Management Agency would also address the many other problems, such as water and boundary disputes, air and water quality, and health and sanitation.

Watch Over Washington

Senator Bill Bradley dribbles badly in South Dakota

WASHINGTON — Senator Bill Bradley, the New Jersey Democrat and former pro basketball star, has proposed that the United States give away one million three hundred thousand acres of federally owned land, predominantly a national forest, to what he defines as "The Sioux Nation." (This term suggests the first "nations" between Mexico and Canada since the Confederate States of America.)

Sen. Bradley proposes giving this land to the Sioux — in addition to the $105 million award to them ordered by the Supreme Court in 1980, when the Sioux sued to recover the Black Hills of South Dakota.

This million acres which Bradley wants to give away includes Mount Rushmore. But the Senator, you will be relieved to hear, has exempted Mount Rushmore. Therefore, if Bradley's incredible bill were ever passed, the people of the United States can rest assured that the giant heads of four of our greatest Presidents will not be dynamited in order to be replaced with Crazy Horse, Sitting Bull, Spotted Tail and Rain-In-The-Face. (But today, only a few miles from Rushmore, a sculptor is hard at work on a giant production of Crazy Horse, the conqueror of Custer.)

The New Jersey Senator filed the Senate Chamber and The Congressional Record with much the same kind of Noble Savage Rhetoric which typifies so many of the modern Indian Treasury raiders, and which made a best seller out of the book Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee. (Now widely known as Bury My Wallet At Wounded Knee.)

"Of the 7.3 million acres taken from the Sioux in 1877, this bill would return 1.3 million," declared Bradley — who, in a burst of charity, has not proposed the return of the other six million acres, on which are the homes, farms and ranches of hundreds of thousands of other South Dakotans beside Sioux.

By 1983, there were no less than one hundred million acres of land in the United States being claimed by Indians, assisted by clever lawyers and a widely subsisting Big Media. Such claims have developed into something of a major industry.

In upstate New York, the Oneidas claim that they are the rightful owners of five million acres — including the entire city of Binghamton. In South Carolina, the Catawba tribe is claiming land upon which are built the homes of 27,000 non-Catawba South Carolinians. In Maine, two thirds of the state was threatened by the claims of the Passamaquoddies and the Penobscots, until the Carter administration paid them a multi-million dollar settlement. (At which point, two Canadian tribes claimed that these two tribes had stolen the land from THEM.)

One very compelling factor, which Sen. Bradley appears to have overlooked, is this question as to who was the original and legal owner of these Black Hills.

Dr. Herman Viola, the Smithsonian's historian who specializes in the Plains Indian tribes, when asked about this, replied:

"That land was always contested, among the Sioux, the Crow and the Cheyenne. Probably the Crow were in the Black Hills before the Sioux, who came from Minnesota and pushed them out. If you ask a Crow, he is liable to contend that he is just as entitled to the Black Hills as the Sioux."

Bradley's bill, if it is not killed in committee, will be opposed by the entire South Dakota delegation. And in the capital city of Pierre, Governor Bill Janklow proposed that they introduce an amendment to the Bradley Bill: to give New Jersey back to the Indians who originally settled it. "But," added the governor, "my theory is that they probably wouldn't even want New Jersey in the shape it's in."

An even more intriguing proposal came from South Dakota's Attorney General Mark Meierhenry. He called on South Dakota's Congressional delegation to introduce a bill to give New Jersey to Sicily.

"I think most of us recognize that Sicilians run and own New Jersey anyway," declared Meierhenry. "I think it would be in everybody's best interests that New Jersey become a Sicilian outpost. And I also propose a ban on professional basketball — for mental health reasons — seeing what it has done to the Senator from New Jersey; like prize fighting. It's sad."

Sen. Bradley played for the New York Knickerbockers, named for the original white

Anaya asks support for Jr. livestock sale

ALBUQUERQUE — The climax for many 4-H and FFA youngsters at the New Mexico State Fair is the Junior Livestock Sale, and Fair Manager Steven Anaya is asking for more support from the entire state.

The Junior Livestock Sale, which will take place Friday, Sept. 13 at 1 p.m. in the Dairy Barn, is where the top 108 calves, lambs, and swine are sold at auction. Their owners are 4-H and FFA members who have raised and cared for these animals and who are now having their efforts rewarded. The buyers consist of businesses, like banks and stores, individuals like farmers and ranchers, and even a politician or two. While many of these buyers probably get satisfaction from helping a youngster, the purchase is also tax deductible if the animal is donated to charity.

"Participation in the Junior Livestock Sale is perhaps one of the best ways to support agriculture in our state," Anaya.

said. "There's been a solid group of supporters in past years, but we need more buyers."

Anaya said buyer's clubs, like the one formed by Albuquerque businessman Tom Tinnin, are extremely helpful. He also encouraged the formation of clubs at the county level to help youngsters from their area get good prices for their animals.

A free barbecue for buyers or prospective buyers will be held prior to the Junior Livestock Sale compliments of Sunwest Bank.

The sale is under the direction of Chuck Stocks and Mahlon Love. Anyone with questions can contact Stocks, or Love, or can call the New Mexico State Fair.

SANTA FE — Jim Baca has lots of support in his race to be elected mayor of Albuquerque, but most of the people who want to see him get the job won't be able to vote for him.

That's because they don't live in the Duke City. They're offpatch people and ranching people, who want to see him give up his present post as Commissioner of Public Lands, where he has caused them extreme pain.

It's not just that he raised the fees they have to pay for use of state lands; it's also his "take it and be damned" attitude that makes him unpopular.

CHECKERED CAREER: Baca didn't start off wanting to be a political figure. He was originally a television newsman, who did a stint as a flack for both Harry Kinney and Bruce King during their campaigns, and then joined their staffs after they took office.

Bruce named him to head the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, principally, it seemed at the time, because the Governor had nobody else for the assignment. There Baca threw in with Les Houston, a state Senator looking for a cause to lead so he could get himself elected governor. The two pushed through a reform of the state liquor code that left them sharply disliked by those who had paid megabucks for liquor licenses.

Baca parlayed that "triumph," plus some weak opposition, into election to the Land Office, described by some oldtimers as the best elective job in state government.

They called it that because you don't have to make waves there, but Baca chose to go in just the opposite directions.

First he agitated for a larger annual salary, though he knew perfectly well what the pay was when he campaigned for the post. Then he talked about changing the Constitution so he and other elected officials could run for reelection.

But his popularity really plummeted when he got to tampering with the fees charged those who use state lands for a variety of purposes.

ANIMOSITY: Strictly on the merits, Baca's argument that he should attempt to get healthy return on the lands under his office's control is a sound one. The question, however, is just what "a healthy return" means in real life.

Besides many were offended by the way he went about doing what he did.

Baca is a great personalist. He barely stops short of referring to the land his office controls as "my land," and he uses "I," "me" and "mine" in every presentation he makes to an extent that is actually distracting.

In addition, he doesn't keep his promises.

That's what has ranchers particularly disturbed at him. They claim (backed by letters he wrote during the campaign) that he promised there would be no increase in grazing fees if they voted to elect him. Once he got into office, that time changed.

Recently, he made another boo-boo by setting an unrealistically early deadline for return of contracts on leased land that got the Cattle Growers Association literally outraged.

PLANS: Baca may be making his run for mayor of the state's largest city with the idea that if he doesn't get elected there (and he isn't likely to) he will try to displace Manuel Lujan in Congress.

If he tries that run, all those he has trampled on in his career to date will be there to get even.

9TH ANNUAL —

104 at Ward - Leslie reunion

104 family members attended the 9th annual Ward Leslie reunion Saturday, July 27 and Sunday, July 28, 1985 at the White Oaks school house. Hosting the reunion was Ollie and James Patterson, daughter of Mary Ward Walker, and Velma Riccardi, daughter of Bettie Ward Walker.

This annual reunion commemorates the memory of John Clayton and Namantha Vashti Ward and Robert and Elizabeth Ward Leslie and is traditionally held the last Saturday and Sunday in July.

Following a pot luck lunch, the business meeting began Saturday at 2 p.m. with a prayer said by James Patterson and a vocal presentation by Ken Ballinger, accompanied by Joan Griggs on the piano. All of the families were recognized and guests introduced. Corsages were presented to the senior Ward descendants and photographs taken of the occasion by Kenneth Morrison of Roswell. A special awards program honoring the eldest Ward member was presented to Edna Ward Littleton and the youngest to Robert Thomas Ward. Additional special awards were presented as follows: Early Bird Award went to Mary Burns; best memory to Inez Ballinger; perfect school attendance to Erin Griggs; youngest grandmother and grandfather awards to Ruth Ann and Wesley Whitworth; family member with most children to Charlene Ward; member travelling greatest distance to the reunion to Elmo and Ardythe Ward; child growing the most since last reunion to Joshua Ward; and the last person signing in to Marlene Ward. Recognition went to Ken Ballinger for his recent retirement from the University of Arkansas. Mary Ward Walker presented keepsake handkerchiefs to the grandchildren of Namantha Vashti Ward.

A drawing for a handmade pillow was won by Jim Leslie and the quilt top by Ed Ward. Following the meeting, an auction of handmade items donated by family members was held by Zane Leslie Jr. A youth activities program was conducted by Tammy and Bill Ward that kept the children entertained during the day. Group and family pictures were taken by Kenneth Morrison after the auction. A barbeque dinner highlighted the Saturday activities followed by a tremendous amount of visiting.

The Sunday program began with a breakfast followed by a tour of the Cedarvale Cemetery. Inez Ballinger read a scripture and Bill Ward led the group in singing "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot". A very informative historical presentation of White Oaks was given by Tommy and Alton Ward. Family members gathered around the gravesite of Namantha Vashti Ward for the dedication of a new headstone to Namantha and John Clayton Ward. A SUCCESSFUL WEIGHT CONTROL PROGRAM

Capitan News

by MARGARET RENCH

No moisture last week, although lots of clouds and threats. It was hot by day and very cool at night.

The Lincoln County Fair was a true success. Everyone worked for that. The exhibits were excellent and the livestock was great. Ronald Joiner thanks the Sun West Bank for the purchase of his first pig, and his sister Della expresses her gratitude to the Roswell Production Credit for purchasing her pig. All of the 4-H kids from Lincoln County say thanks to all buyers and their friends and families for all of the add' ons. It was greatly appreciated.

The Tiger Booster booth at the Lincoln County Fair was a success. The ice cold watermelon and "Tiger Tarts" were a welcome treat. The raffle was won by Dottie Boyd and Keith Page who won a cord of wood and $50 respectively. They thank all who came by and bought a ticket, ate some goodies, joined the "Tiger Boosters" or simply offered encouragement. Again they would like to invite everyone to come to the Tiger Boosters Pot Luck on August 30.

The volleyball team and Coach MacVeigh and football Coach Woodward will be there to talk to everyone. This is the night before the first football game. Do come, bring a dish and help get everyone enthused for the fall sports season. This will also be their membership drive meeting. Go and be a Tiger Booster.

At the Lincoln County Fair colonists who allegedly mulcted the Indians, by paying only $24 worth of trinkets for Manhattan Island. But Bradley has not (yet) proposed that this devious transaction be redeemed by return of the island to the Indians.

At the Italian Embassy here, Political Counselor Massimo Balstrochi, when asked about this development, made the following comment:

"If Senator Bradley is going to give South Dakota to the SYE-OOKS (Italian for Sioux), we will be very happy to receive New Jersey. I am cabling Rome today."

We tried repeatedly to reach Senator Bradley to obtain his reaction. But his press secretary, Liz Pettingill, replied that she would have to submit my request, along with all the others, for his consideration as to whether he will consider being questioned.

Senator Bradley is a very busy man. Some say he is already running for President.

Bob Hemphill of Carrizozo won the mountain sheep which was raffled off for the Capitan FFA. Proceeds were $50.

Jean Lovelace offers a reward for the 10-speed bicycle which disappeared from the fair grounds in Capitan.

The Capitan Roundtable Club met at the El Palsano Cafe Thursday with Winifred Cozzens as hostess. After lunch they went to Mary Deans' home for cake. A short business meeting was held and the rest of the afternoon was spent visiting. Due to the Lincoln County Fair and other activities there were only seven members present. The next meeting will be held at Hattie Phillips home, Sept. 19.

From Aug. 12-18, there were 2,248 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum and State Park. Twelve students and four staff members from the Texas Youth Commission in El Paso enjoyed it. Jim Ball donated two slabs of Mo. Cedar from the Mark Twain National Forest in Mo. Ozarks.

Floyd Fitzgerald of Graham, TX was there Aug. 18. His uncles were John and Dick Burch. He said his mother was a Burch and his family left here when he was about five years old.

It is of great interest to watch and enjoy all of the visitors. It means so much to this community.

That log cabin building fits with Smokey the Bear and should remain there. Tourists do enjoy that as well as the other state recreational building. Smokey's grave with all of the natural beauty makes it be alive. It is a national symbol with Smokey Bear at his birthplace and his resting place as well. We are proud of the New Mexico Smokey Bear State Park and all of its contents. Lets keep it going. Willie has done her part and it has paid off. We cannot lose her.

Milford and Joy Rankin of Elkhart, KS spent one week here in Capitan with their daughters, Sandra and Brenda.

Mr. and Mrs. John Underwood became proud and happy parents of baby daughter "Cheyenne" last week.

Sharon reports that Hotel Chango is growing and doing great. They have menu specials Thursday thru Saturday. So go in try one of your favorites whether it be the special or one of the items listed on the menu.

Ben Dalton is recovering very nicely after a seriously ill period of which pleases us. Keep up the good work, Ben, and continue getting strong and well.

Capitan School started

Monday, August 19. The Cafeteria was not completed there for they will have to brown bag it for a while.

I send my get well wishes to Charlie Pfingsten who is in the Ruidoso hospital.

Tom and Susie Matelan and two sons of Hobbs visited the Terry Stricklands for a short time last Saturday.

Capitan School News

The Capitan Schools opened the new school year August 19 and things went very smoothly. The enrollment is down a little but school officials expect this to pick up as time goes on.

There will be a meet the teachers night, Friday, Aug. 23, at the fairgrounds. This is scheduled for 6:30. School patrons are to bring a covered dish. The drinks and eating utensils will be provided.

School officials expected to receive 3 Minolta copiers and 12 Teal electric typewriters on August 20. Also on order are 4 Bernina sewing machines.

The Tigerette Volleyball Jamboree has been re-scheduled for August 31. There will be an inter-squad game on August 24.

A course entitled "Talents Unlimited" will be offered early in September. The course concerns meeting the needs of the gifted child in the regular classroom. Contact Capitan Elementary School Principal Jerry Newsom (354-2238) for more particulars.

Labor Day, September 2, will be a school holiday.

The lovely lady of Capitan who received the gift of a trip to Hawaii was Mrs. David (Clarice) Morris. Her son was Bill Hughes of California. I know they will feel better for this correction.

Old Corral and Sagebrush is going strong. Specials orders can be taken on your boot needs at any time. They have beautiful jewelry for your favorite gal. Go by and visit and check all of the store.

Pearl Spohn is home at this time convalescing from that hip surgery she under went some time ago. Keep up the good work Pearl. Her son in law now has his drivers license. He passed his written test and all other tests. He is one happy person. We are happy for him. Yes, Robert Bailey we are proud of you.

Let me tell you of the two

I understand that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanchez celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with a mass and wedding vows at the San Juan Church with their friends and family in attendance. May you have many more anniversaries to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Peg Pfingsten also celebrated their wedding anniversary recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Raphie Vance and girls of Nevada were recent houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Peg Pfingsten.

Lincoln is still having some rain. The lightning has been bad. It killed a cow of Peg Pfingsten. We could still use some more rain.

Old Lincoln Days was a great success with lots of activities going on. Ronnie Barone did a great job as Billy the Kid with Randy Barone as the voice. We all appreciated all the newcomers who helped put on the pageant this year. The group from Ruidoso really got in there and worked with the local group. A special thanks go to the Ruidoso Paint Co. for the donation of paint and to George St. Armand, Wayne Ward, Bob Smith, and Jerry Holden and their better halves for getting the painting done in spite of the rain. Our stage buildings looked great for the performances.

Becky Angel, our director this year did a great job, and everyone did their parts great in spite of being rained out nearly all our rehearsals. Plans are being made to make next year bigger and better.

Hattie McGinnis is very proud of her daughter, Nancy Vassar, of Big Springs, TX. Nancy was honored with a reception at the Malone-Hogan hospital Aug. 2 for winning the Dr. Frist Humanitarian award for 1985 for Texas. She will now be eligible in the nationwide competition between employees of Hospital Corp. of America (HCA) Malone-Hogans parent company.

This award is given to the hospital's employee who best reflects criteria set up by HCA as exemplary conduct on the part of employees. This criteria includes a positive attitude toward others, willing to go the second mile for others, having contributed significantly toward the improvement of patient care, being dependable and consistent and likely to be overlooked because of innate humility.

Nancy has worked for the Malone-Hogan since Mar. 21, 1982.

Corona

The 11th annual Corona Summer Festival was a marked success and the committee is to be congratulated. Crowds watched the parade, wandered through the booths on Main St. and in the auditorium, ate fried chicken with the Chaparral 4-H'ers, attended the play day, rodeo and dance. The festival was begun in 1975 as one of many activities planned to inaugurate the bicentennial year. A barbecue and dance followed ceremonies dedicating the park.

The parade this year was stopped midway so that Mayor Ernest Lueras could proclaim Saturday, August 10, Charles Hilburn Day and present him with the key to the village. Mr. Hilburn is the only surviving charter member of Beaver-Bond Post No. 35. Department Commander Ralph Vigil presented the golden certificate award for 55 years of continuous membership. Post Commander Nolan Vickrey handed Mr. Hilburn a receipt for his 1986 dues and a statement that the Post would continue to pay his annual dues.

Steve and Bob Hilburn, sons of the honored guest, marched in the parade as part of the color guard. The three Hilburns, all of Las Vegas, Nevada, Mr. Vigil and Mr. Vickrey were guests of Beaver-Bond Post at the 4-H dinner, where the Hilburns greeted many old friends.

Mr. Hilburn who will be 90 in October was a long time employee of the Southern Pacific, moved from Corona to Colorado and then to Las Vegas where his wife and he now reside and care for each other. His hand clasp is firm, his sense of humor always present, and his temper under control. And "Hello" to Kate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Collier, Angela and David, were here for the summer festival and were saying "goodbye" to friends. After 17 years in New Mexico they are returning to Ohio where he has accepted a position as a high school math teacher.

Tommy Worley came in Thursday to attend a cousin's wedding in Alamogordo. His parents and sister visited him recently in Douglas, AZ where he is in an aviation program.

Thirty-four members of the Robinson family enjoyed a reunion at the J. E. Robinson Ranch early this month. These included the Robinson sons and families and one brother, and several nephews. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Robinson, Odessa, TX; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Robinson, San Jose, CA; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Herron, El Paso, TX; Mr. and Mrs. Gale Robinson and four children, Orlando, FL.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McCord are in Albuquerque where he will undergo radiation treatments for four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Korges left Wednesday for their home in Menlo Park, CA. They spent a month in their home here and hope to return for the Christmas holidays in order for their sons, Martin and John, may enjoy skiing in the area. Coach Johnson will occupy the premises during the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Holleyman were in Rankin, TX last week to attend a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Walt Poague on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Tom Pounds was taken to an Albuquerque hospital Saturday.

Cedar Temple No. 26 met Monday afternoon in the Pythian Hall with MEC Gayle McCloud presiding. A special silver march was held to cover the insurance premium on the building, and plans were made to attend Grand Temple to be held in Albuquerque in early October.

Cedarvale had its second reunion August 3-4. There were 337 who registered. They came from all corners of the nation and at least sixteen states. Many brought their RV's. Some stayed with friends or relatives and some stayed at motels in other towns. A large tent top was erected at the side of the Senior Citizen Center which gave shade and space for eating and visiting.

Nora Smith, whose 91 birthday was on Sunday, August 4, was an honored guest. A short program was given for her along with a birthday cake and many good wishes. Worship services were held following Nora's birthday wishes. A number of hymns were sung and a short talk given by Mary Margaret Hamilton Tyson.

The Beaver-Bond Post float won a trophy in the Summer

Festival parade. A pickup carried the honored guest, Charles S. Hilburn and pulled the float which was decorated in red, white and blue and bore the figures 68 for the 68th birthday of the American Legion, and 55 for the 55th birthday of the B-B Post. Some of the 53 members of the post were riding or marching. Members appreciate all the help and support received in preparing for their big day.

Mike Erramouspe, Santa Theresa, was the lucky winner of the 243 Remington rifle in the American Legion drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Tracey, Bala-Cynwyd, PA, were visiting his mother, Mrs. Edna Tracey, and other relatives here last week. The Traceys are planning a family reunion next year.

Colleen and Rick Thomas and sons, Jeremy and Jacob, left Sunday by plane from Albuquerque for their home in Newark, Ohio where Mrs. Thomas continues her employment in real estate loans and he with Allied Van Lines.

For the first time Anne and John Tracey had their children home at the same time. There were three birthdays to celebrate daughter Phoebe's, nephew Chris Hefner, Socorro, and granddaughter Sarah's 3rd. Those present included Kay and Larry Kent and four children, Coppales, Faith and Rex Dial and two children, Estancia, Amy and Randy Nicholson, Albuquerque, Phoebe Cogdill, Aztec, Jeanetta and Sarah Foster, Corona, and Mike and Joan Tracey and Nathan, Cotton City. Others were Marge, Lawrence and Chris Hefner, Socorro, Dee Simpson, Albuquerque, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sloan and three children, Artesia.

Snoopy was the theme of the August 3 luncheon honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Keelin on their 67th wedding anniversary.

Long tables were set in the school recreation room. An appropriately decorated "Snoopy" cake centered the dessert table. Each table was graced with hand crocheted flowers and butterflies.

The luncheon was the 7th annual event hosted by the Keelin children, who are, Thomas, retired from Southern Pacific Railroad Colton Ca. Paul who has a TV Repair Shop in Santa Fe, David who is retired from Mountain Bell, Albuquerque, Alvie a Supervisor Holloman AFB Sled Track, Peggy Owen retired from Mountain Bell, Alamogordo and Anita Harper, homemaker, Muleshoe, TX.

As in other years the gift presented to each of the Keelin children this year was a lovely set of colored towels.

CORONA GAS COMPANY WARNS . . .

Careless excavation could cause serious accidents

The Village of Corona Gas Company is appealing to the public to help prevent serious accidents caused by careless excavation.

"We're asking people not only to find out where the lines are before they dig, but to let us know of anyone digging in their area who might not have the lines located," company spokesman Mike Alirez said.

Alirez said nearly all the serious natural gas accidents in New Mexico in recent years have been the result of people hitting underground gas lines while digging.

"The State Corporation Commission estimates that there may be as many as 1,000 incidents a year statewide of excavators hitting gas lines. Alirez said. "We've been just plain fortunate so far that so few have resulted in serious accidents."

Alirez added, however, that leaks may occur far in the future as a result of seemingly minor damage to gas lines. He explained that damage to pipe wrapping or coating can concentrate corrosive energy in a single spot and, in effect, drill a hole right through the pipe.

Moreover, he continued an apparently minor dent can cause stresses that will crack a pipe in time. He cited a recent case in which a pipe cracked nearly 20 years after it was hit and the leaking gas "migrated" and exploded, injuring several people and demolishing a building.

Alirez said anyone planning on digging anywhere in the area

- whether for major construction of just to plant a fence post - should call the Village Utility Council at 849-5511 at least two days in advance. In most cases, only a single call is necessary to locate all buried facilities in the area, including pipes and electric cables.

Once a line is "spotted," he added, the excavator should not use mechanical equipment within 18 inches of the line's expected location. Any damage, however, minor, should be reported to the gas company.

Alirez said care in excavating is not only a matter of common sense, but is mandated in a state law which is enforced by the State Corporation Commission.
