

COMMISSIONERS MEET TUESDAY—

Six public hearings on tap

By RUTH HAMMOND
There are six public hearings scheduled for the Lincoln County Commission meeting next Tuesday, Oct. 22.
Five of the hearings will be held at 9 a.m. Included will be the ordinance to prohibit the grazing of livestock in White Oaks, an ordinance to prohibit cutting of paved county roads, an ordinance to reduce the membership of the Lodger's Tax Committee, an ordinance to require mobile homes in Area "B" to conform to the appearance and architectural style set out in the Lincoln Historic Ordinance, and an ordinance regulating solid waste in Lincoln County.

The ordinance which would prohibit livestock grazing on certain portions of White Oaks townsite was drafted at the request of some of the major landowners in White Oaks.

A survey of erosion damage in White Oaks by the South Central Mountain RC&D and the local Soil Conservation Service determined that some small erosion control structures would help control active soil erosion now occurring.

The ordinance must be passed, approved and adopted before the erosion control structures can be built. These will be built at no cost to the residents.

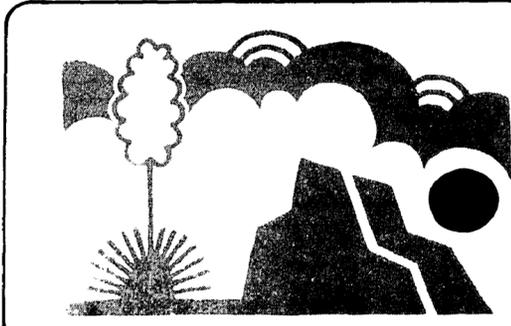

The ordinance to amend the definition of part time and temporary employees and to amend employee benefits for vacation and sick leave benefits will be held at 1 p.m.

After an executive session held Oct. 1, commissioners considered changing the personnel policy. Possible changes

Part time employees must hold working hours to not more than 20 hours per week not to exceed 40 hours per pay period. This is done because the county is not budgeted to match insurance or PERA.

Redefine vacation benefits in the personnel ordinance to read: Employees must work one full year to be eligible for one week vacation; two full years to be eligible for two weeks vacation; ten years to be eligible for three weeks vacation.

Commissioners also agreed, after the executive session, to increase the salary of Lincoln County Road Superintendent Earl Kreig from $24,500 to $28,000 effective October 1, 1985. Two road employees salaries were also increased $100 a month.

Hal Sims is co-chairman of NM Pharmaceutical Ass'n.

Hal Sims, owner of the Family Pharmacy in Carrizozo, has been elected co-chairman of the New Mexico Pharmaceutical Association.

Sims said, "I feel honored to be able to serve on this executive council and also am excited for the outlook of my pharmaceutical profession. I have always taken an active part to strive to keep the standards and ethics high among my colleagues. I am proud to be a part of such an honorable profession."

Hal earned his degree from the Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, OK in 1973. The school is ranked third in the nation as a pharmacy school.

Hal and his wife Mignon have two children and have lived in Carrizozo almost four years.

He will attend a special meeting of the executive council at the Amfac Hotel in Albuquerque on October 27. The association will discuss a program with a national buying group that is similar to buying groups in some other states. If the association decides to go with the program, it will increase the buying power and will translate to the consumer in lower prices.

State slaps fine on Mt'air

The State Corporation Commission has fined the Town of Mountainair a total of $4,000 for safety violations in its natural gas system.

In an order signed October 4 by all three commissioners, the town was assessed $1,000 immediately and $3,000 on December 2, 1985. The $3,000 may be suspended if the violations are corrected.

The order followed a hearing October 2 which was held to consider the town's request that the commission suspend enforcement of an earlier order.

Based on testimony and exhibits presented at that hearing, the order stated, "the commission finds that progress has been made in some areas but the Respondent Mountainair remains in violation of six safety regulations."

The violations date back at least a year. Last October the commission found the town in violation of five regulations concerning the control of pipeline corrosion to prevent gas leaks; two regulations regarding inadequate safety devices to prevent accidental overpressuring of the gas system; and failure to maintain the records necessary to administer a safety program. The town at that time was given until September 30, 1985, to bring its system into compliance or an automatic fine would be imposed.

The town requested the new hearing on September 24 when it was obvious that compliance could not be achieved by the deadline.

In the hearing October 2, it was found that the town is still in violation of four regulations concerning corrosion control and has not inspected and tested its pressure regulators as required by the state and federal safety rules. In addition, the commission said the town failed to set up a records system, and did not make efforts at training of town utilities personnel as originally ordered last year.

Another hearing has been scheduled for December 4, 1985, but may be cancelled if the town has achieved compliance by then.

Mark Delgado resigns school board seat

The Capitan Board of Education met Thursday night, Oct. 10 in regular session.

Mark Delgado, President of the Board, resigned from his position effective Nov. 13. Delgado presented a 13 paragraph letter to the board. Paragraph 10 states "As you all know, I was recently appointed to fill the Hospital Administrator's position at the Los Lunas Hospital and Training School. The decision to accept the position was an extremely difficult one to make, however, it was one of those 'once in a lifetime' career opportunities."

Sonnie Silva, cheerleader sponsor, appeared before the board to discuss activity transportation.

This is how things stand: "School vehicles other than a bus may be used for groups of less than nine students; however, only those students whose parent-guardian has signed a consent form may travel." "Use of private vehicles for activity travel is discouraged. Private vehicles may be used only with the written consent of the superintendent. Consent will be granted only when driver's name and driver's license number, vehicle description and license plate number, name of insurance company and policy number are furnished to the superintendent." All activity trips for nine or more students will be a minimum of $4,000. The former superintendent will be responsible for the school for future activity transportation work from various districts.

It was noted that the school will remain in Class A for the next year.

A request for the school to be taken over by Elov and Elov was turned down.

A two year contract for school activity bus transportation to Frankie Silva was granted at $140 per mile this year. It will be negotiable next year.

Silva stated that he has a paid contractor in the state and he can prove it. He went on to say that the contractor was disposed of by the state. The contractor was disposed of by the state.

WALKING FOR PLEASURE

Margie Hobby of Polvadera recently wrote that when she read about the annual '9 mile walk-run' in Socorro through the local paper she registered because she thought she would enjoy being a participant.

And she was right. During the 9 miles she walked and visited with an inspiring family of three generations. Says Margie: "I learned that the grandmother, grandfather, daughter and granddaughter have traveled all over New Mexico for similar events as a way of sharing pleasant times together."

Margie and the female members of that family were walking "just for the pleasure of it." However, grandpa was in the running competition and placed second in his category.

All 118 run-walk participants received a '9 MILE' T-shirt for their efforts. "It sure was a beautiful way to spend the day," said Margie, former Lincoln County resident.

I'D RATHER WALK

"No thanks, I'd rather walk." I usually respond when I am offered rides during my walks to town. Rain, shine or snow I walk for pleasure and business. I check the mail, pay bills, buy groceries, etc. (Yes, I know how to drive a car, but I'd rather walk.)

You may not consider walking an exercise, but it can be. Walking at two miles an hour uses up 250 calories an hour.

Other walking facts: -Walking is one of the most efficient forms of exercise and one you can do all the years of your life with relative safety.

-Some research on this subject indicates that with exercise, bones do not lose mineral reserves as quickly and are less likely to break. Lungs keep their capacity and elasticity far longer.

-Walking helps circulation, stimulates the appetite and does much to prevent or correct obesity.

-If walking is increased slowly and steadily, even the arthritic and other physically impaired patients will benefit greatly.

-Start by walking every other day for the first few weeks to give your muscles a chance to adjust to the routine. After that walk five days a week or more. Go slowly and easily. Don't push too hard too soon. Over a period of weeks, build up pace and distance.

REFUSE TO ENTERCEDE

Sunday's drama about an organization called 'Toughlove,' is a TV movie that confronts the question: "How tough should you get with problem teen-agers?"

Toughlove was founded to help embattled parents cope with uncontrollable children. The family - support program consists of some 1500 chapters here and abroad. The TV drama, based on the theory and operation of Toughlove, was about a 17-year-old who has been getting into trouble at school, hanging out with the wrong crowd, turning on to drugs and covering up his behavior with lies. He is involved with a peer group of druggies.

As the family tensions mount and the son becomes increasingly rebellious, the parents turn to Toughlove. Toughlove's advice is to get tough: After one episode the son is locked out of the house and later goes to jail for burglary and the parents refuse to bail him out.

The organization offers group sessions wherein experiences and support are shared; its thesis is that understanding and forgiveness do not necessarily work with the child who is constantly in trouble, but that the setting and maintenance of rules of behavior may.

Other business of the meeting included a superintendent's question and answer period in which Superintendent Dennis Sidebottom explained the safety factor involved as a reason for limiting mid-school student play on the playground. The possibility for injury when 1st graders and 8th graders utilize the same play facilities is very high.

Speaker for the November 7 PFK meeting will be Dr. Birgit Le Mothe of Capitan Counseling and Consulting services who also provides countywide counseling services. The meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. in the school conference room.

Capitan News

This area received two inches of gentle rain this last week. There was none of it lost. Which is truly wonderful. The last three nights there has been light frosts. We now have fall colors and the leaves are falling. We do appreciate this moisture.

Please read and pay close attention to this: We have two lovely ladies in our community that have the same name and it causes them confusion in business, mail, etc. Perhaps if I explain it will help the situation. Lorene (Mrs. V. E. or Eugene Caywood) has a home here. She is here presently renovating, painting and cleaning, trying to get it ready to sell. She and her husband (V. E. or Eugene) moved to Cajon, CA, due to his failing health and their desire was to be near their children. They leased this property and moved their possessions with them. Since the place has been vacated, she has returned to get things in order. Her husband did pass away and she has dropped by each year since and taken a vacation and has stopped by each time of which I do appreciate. She is a good lady and it is a joy to see her.

The other lovely lady is Lorene (Larry) Caywood. She is a well known artist and art teacher in Capitan. She is still in business in Capitan at "Lorene's Hill Top Gallery" in the Mesa Verde addition. Larry Caywood (her husband) is a frame maker and is also in business at the Lorene "Hilltop Gallery." Their desire is never to leave Capitan. May God bless all of you.

From Oct. 7-13 there were 801 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum and State Park. A bus tour of 49 was there the 13th. That is great to know the interest in our Smokey.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Baker and family have moved to Chama, NM last week. Randy was with the NM State Forestry here in Capitan and has received a promotion. We will miss them. Barbara is a piano teacher. It is a great loss to us. I wish them lots of success and happiness in their new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wilson became the proud and happy parents of a son Jerod, born Sun., Oct. 8 at the Ruidoso hospital. His little brothers, Cody and Shawn, welcome him with open arms. They are nice little boys.

Wayne, Willie, Grady and Howard Hobbs went to Abernathy, TX last Friday evening to visit Willie's sister in a rest home in Hale Center, TX. They also took care of some business while there and returned Sunday afternoon.

The Halloween decorations at the gas office and Capitan Mart give such a cheerful and happy appearance as you enter. It does give life and joy to all.

The Capitan Band attended the Parade of Champions in Las Cruces last Saturday and they were 4th in Class A Division. The Music Boosters meeting was held at the school last Tuesday evening.

There will be no school Thursday, Oct. 24 from kindergarten thru 6th grade due to Parent-Teacher conference.

The Capitan fireman are sponsoring a Turkey Shoot Sunday, Oct. 29 at the Rifle Range east of Capitan.

Suzie Morton of Western Store has prepared for Christmas. Do go and see. It's great.

The Capitan Sacred Heart Church will show a movie Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. "Ten Commandments". There will be refreshments.

The Hotel Chango Restaurant does serve good meals. Their luncheon is 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Dinner 5 to 9.

Grinnell College, Iowa defeated Knox, IL, football game last Saturday 44-34. David Beavers attends Grinnell and he plays corner back for them. It gives his parents lots of joy and happiness. Keep up the good work, David.

Tommy Reynolds and his brothers are elk hunting in Colorado to date they have killed one.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Turman and 20-month old granddaughter, Menard, TX, are visiting their daughter, Glenda, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Booher and family, their son George; as well as Mr. and Mrs. (Dolly) Tim Proctor and family.

Happy birthdays to Cody Morton whose day was Oct. 12.

She and her friend Kyla Zumwalt celebrated that happy occasion by going roller skating that day. Glenda Booher, Oct. 12 and Dolly Proctor Oct. 15. My wishes for all of you are for many years of good health and happiness with birthdays galore.

One of our residents, Neil Layner, who was a big truck driver was killed Monday Oct. 14 in Colorado when his truck jack knifed on a road under construction. We are hurt and give his lovely family our most sincere sympathy. May God bless and comfort you. Our hearts are with you in sincere prayer.

Jimmy Stewart Ann Goodwin, appointed to fill vacancies

By BARTLEY McDONOUGH

The regular stated meeting of the Capitan City Council was held Monday evening, Oct. 14, with the following business being conducted: Ann Goodwin was appointed a trustee to fill a vacancy created earlier in the year by the resignation of Bill Allred. Jimmy Stewart was appointed Municipal Judge to fill a vacancy created when Judge Romero moved to Nevada this past summer. Mayor Cummins did not fill Stewart's former post as Alternate Judge.

Water supervisor Terry Cox reported on the present water situation. A valve went out last Friday near the Cora Dutton place probably causing another problem near the Stewart place. Cox and Troy Hard worked most of the weekend to see that the Village had water. A part was shipped out of California last Friday and could be installed by Wednesday, Oct. 16. Cox reported that the water is now being heavily treated with chlorine and that it will take time before the water is cleared up.

Mike Points appeared before the council to request a street light. Points was informed that the Village does not have the money now. This situation will be taken under consideration when the next budget is being planned.

Bids were opened on 4 vehicles owned by the Village. R. Hodges bid of $635.00 was high and the 1960 Michigan Loader was sold to him. This was the only vehicle sold. A bid of $475.00 on the 1960 Ford Fairmont was rejected by the council.

Airport report by Trustee Coker: The airport above Fort Stanton is planned in three phases. Phase I - Completion date Nov. 30, 1988 - Airport in use with 8,100 foot runway. Phase II - Runway extended to 9,200 feet. Phase III - Runway extended to 12,000 feet.

It is the council's intent to develop water wells east of Capitan. This would include a 12 inch transmission line 4 miles long. After a study by the council an engineering firm will be selected from the following: William Matotan & Associates of Albuquerque, Burton Engineers, Inc. of Albuquerque, Atkins-Landfair Inc. of Roswell, Andrews, Asbury & Robert, Inc. of Albuquerque, and Dennis Engineering of Socorro.

The Council adopted a resolution which states that when adjusting water rates the Village will at least recover the cost (to the Village) of the water lost.

The Village will proceed with legal aspects concerning water rights transfers. A tentative hearing date set for January probably in Santa Fe.

The Hall Brother's subdivision will be allowed to connect to the Village sewer system if approved by the environmentalists. Many aspects of this were discussed. It was pointed out that the present Capitan sewer system is very heavily overloaded.

Ordinance 85-1 - Brings local traffic code up to state specifications. Will publish for adoption.

Attorney Underwood recommended that the P & Z Commission consist of 5 members. The P & Z Ordinance will be published and hearings held.

Insurance costs have gone up. Budget transfers were necessary. Trustee Beavers wanted other parts of the budget "touched" instead of road maintenance to pay for these costs. The budget was modified to reflect this. Beavers feels that the two top priorities of the Council should be water and road maintenance.

The next stated meeting of the council falls on a legal holiday. Mayor Cummins informed everyone that this meeting will be held instead on Nov. 18.

OPINION

Ernest V. Joiner

● CHIEF Justice Rose Bird of the California Supreme Court was in fine fettle last week in San Diego when she told cheering members of the California Bar Association: "Crime is not welcome in California, and anyone who thinks otherwise is simply ignoring the facts." Perhaps she is talking about wife-beaters or pickpockets. A fact for her to remember is that since 1987, when the death penalty was last enforced, 40,000 innocent residents of this state have been murdered—but not one murderer has been executed! If 40,000 blacks had been murdered by South Africa's apartheid government, how differently the people of California would have reacted!

● BIRD and her radical comrades on the court (Joseph Grodin, Cruz Reynoso and Stanley Mosk) refuse to enforce the death penalty even though the people of California have voted for it overwhelmingly, two times. Since this Jerry Brown clone was appointed to the court, Bird has voted to reverse all 39 death sentences on which she has voted since the death penalty was reëd in 1977.

● IN her speech, Bird blamed society, naturally, for crimes people commit. She pointed to the persistence of "poverty and ignorance, two scourges of humanity that the American dream tried to end." She seems committed to the notion that it takes two to make a criminal—one individual and one society.

● ABOUT 300 district attorneys are actively opposing confirmation of Bird, Grodin, Reynoso and Mosk next year for another 12 years on the bench. Among them is Sonoma County District Attorney Gene L. Tunney. He recently received a letter from a Los Angeles law firm warning him not to oppose the Bird Court members up for confirmation on grounds that to do so is illegal.

● TUNNEY'S reply is a flag-waver, a delight to editorial writers and wordsmiths, and one I wish I had written. It is quoted here in its entirety:

● "THIS is to acknowledge receipt of your above-captioned letter, which is undoubtedly the most arrogantly stupid piece of correspondence ever received in this office. It is arrogant because it presumes to offer unsolicited legal advice to myself and the twenty-five deputy district attorneys in this office on the apparent assumption that we are not capable of understanding the Civil and Penal Codes of this State.

● "THE arrogance is further exemplified by the fact that the obvious purpose of the letter is to keep prosecutors in this County, and throughout the State, from informing the public as to the true record of Chief Justice Bird and her fellow Justices on the California Supreme Court who face election in November, 1986. The stupidity of your letter lies in your apparent belief that threats of this kind in any way are going to intimidate the prosecutors of this County and the State from continuing to pursue their goal of making certain that the public does know about Rose Bird and her friends.

● "To tell you the truth, when I first read your letter, I suspected that it might be a 'dirty trick' launched by some misguided opponent of Ms. Bird, because it seemed obvious to me that the effect of such a letter would be the opposite of its apparent intent. In other words, the letter is guaranteed to inspire a great deal more opposition toward the Supreme Court than had previously existed. If, in fact, you are actually supporters of the Chief Justice and the incumbent Supreme Court Justices, I suggest to you, gentlemen, that with friends like you, Rose Bird needs no enemies."

● BIRD'S compassion isn't restricted to murderers. By an overwhelming majority the people voted for Prop. 13. She declared it unconstitutional and since then has removed all the key protections against tax increases contained in Prop. 13. The people voted for the Victim's Bill of Rights, a tough anti-crime law. Her court voted to undermine and nullify all important provisions of this initiative. Her court's actions have, in the main, been soft on the criminal but tough on taxpayers. In view of her record, it is sheer hypocrisy for her to say: "Crime is not welcome in California."

● DON'T tell me California doesn't support its schools; 30 million lottery tickets were sold the first two days the lottery became legal. Schools get a percentage of lottery proceeds, so we now have about 15 million people as patrons of education we didn't have before. If this boom to aid education continues we can forget about taxes and just rely on an enlightened citizenry that always wanted to help the schools but didn't know how.

● JUST think. A few days back it was sinful, evil and illegal to participate in a lottery. Then, overnight, one really isn't concerned about the plight of the schools unless he buys lottery tickets. Surely, the best way to end an evil habit is to launder it through the state. California now has a virtual monopoly on the fruits of sin. While forbidding its citizens to engage in such things as racetrack betting, poker, booze, raffles, pornography, bingo and the lottery, the state has made them all respectable simply by licensing, controlling or owning such activities. Can a state-owned whorehouse be far behind?

● AMERICANS spend about $10 billion a year on games of chance, not including weddings. Most of it is illegal, therefore sinful. Government-run sin accounts for the rest, which is legal, and even patriotic. Old Al Capone put it in perspective: "When I sell liquor, it's called bootlegging; when my patrons serve it on silver trays on Lake Shore Drive, it's called hospitality." So did Xavier Hollander: "My method is basically the same as Masters and Johnson, only they charge thousands of dollars and it's called therapy. I charge $50 and it's called prostitution." Perhaps a portion of the school money derived from the lottery should go toward explaining to students why one man's sin is the government's virtue.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR—You can bet your last Krugerrand that the Soviets would like to see the present government of the Republic of South Africa fall. The Communist Party is outlawed in South Africa. This present South African government is one of the most anti-communist governments in the world.

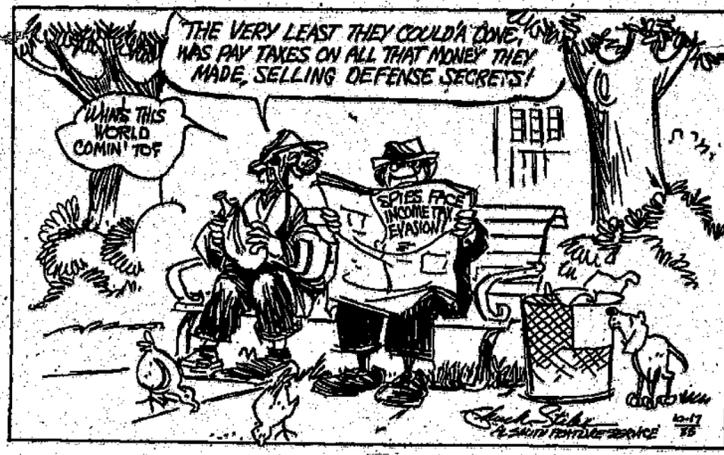

The Soviets are very much aware that America's high technological industrial might, her modern weaponry systems, depend critically upon strategic metals and minerals produced by South Africa's rich mining industry.

The Soviets further know that whoever controls the Cape of Good Hope, controls those shipping lanes from the Persian Gulf across the Indian Ocean. A great amount of the oil for western Europe, for Latin America, and for North America is transported through those shipping lanes. Strategically speaking, the Cape of Good Hope is one of the most important naval-military locations in the world.

The Soviets would like nothing better than to control it. They would like very much to see the present South African anti-communist government brought down, and replaced with one more friendly to the Soviets.

If there were no racial unrest in South Africa, the Soviets could very well afford to stir some up. Enough racial violence could topple the incumbent government. Almost any new government in South Africa would be more friendly to the Soviets than the present one.

Watch Over Washington

Kennedy in '88 campaign staggered by new book in '85

By LES KINSOLVING

Washington—Which newspaper d'ya read in Boston?

If you read the Boston Globe on August 22, you would have learned from writer David Nyhan that Senator Teddy Kennedy:

"is convinced that the conservative tide has peaked and the political waters are now running back in his direction... His political action committee—Fund For A Democratic Majority—is the class of the Democratic PACS... He'll mail out three million fund raising letters this year, more next... He's been in Florida ten times since '81; he hits Texas again and again; he's got a fund-raising network going in California's Orange County, of all places..."

All of this exciting Boston Globular build up of Big Ted stands in striking (even smashing) contrast to the top of page one of the Boston Herald just three days later.

Headline: "TED DROVE JOAN TO DRINK, BOOK CLAIMS"

The jumpover headline on page 4 is similar, though more succinct:

"TED DROVE JOAN TO DRINK"

And one of the most delightful and voluminous of all the Les Kinsolving Auxiliary Press Corps, who sent these clippings from the Hub, added another headline: "AND DROVE ANOTHER INTO THE DRINK"

There is also some notable artword The Herald utilized to illustrate this latest epic on the extensive sex life of America's political royal family. For Big Ted, in a photograph resembling either an over-inflated soccer ball, or a sultan with his harem, is surrounded by beautiful and sensuous women: Amanda Burden, Helga Wagner—and his gorgeous ex-wife.

The book, published by Simon and Schuster, is entitled "Living With The Kennedys." It is written by Joan's former personal assistant and confidant, Marcia Chellis.

Chellis alleges that Joan was driven to drink by the Senator's allegedly inexhaustible sexual appetite for other women. Chellis also alleges that Joan's first knowledge of the Chappaquiddick affair came when she overheard Teddy discussing it with one of his girlfriends named Helga Wagner.

Chellis also alleges that Joan sought guidance and solace from her sister-in-law, Jackie Kennedy Onassis, who, she alleges, told Joan that with regard to assorted adulteries: "Kennedy men are like that. It doesn't mean a thing."

There was also, alleges Chellis, a straw that broke the back of an attempted reconciliation. For in the midst of a particularly enjoyable party at their home in McLean, Virginia, Big Ted informed Joan that they were flying immediately to Cape Cod. She obliged him—until they landed suddenly on Montauk Point at the eastern end of Long Island, where a car met him and he left her.

The book recalls Teddy's dramatic answer to Roger Mudd's question as to whether the Senator thinks anyone believes his version of what happened at Chappaquiddick, which was:

"Oh, there's—the problem is—from that night—I found the conduct, the er, ah, er, the behavior almost beyond belief myself. I mean that's why it has been—but I think that's, that's, that's the way it was. Now I find it as I have stated that I have, that the conduct that—that evening in, in, in this, as a result of the impact of the accident of the—and the sense of loss, the sense of hope and the, the sense of tragedy and the whole set of—circumstances, that this er-ah-behavior was inexplicable."

(Can you imagine a President Teddy address in a missile crisis?)

Ordinarily we are inclined to be dubious of inside reports from the secretaries and butlers or cooks who make money on their access to dirty laundry.

But there is Teddy's classic and unbelievable "explanation" of Chappaquiddick—along with Senator Hayakawa's response to a wicked Teddy needle about the need to get a bed for Hayakawa, who once fell asleep during a Senate hearing:

"Senator Kennedy has done some of his very best work in bed."

Sierra Maestra II . . .

WASHINGTON, VIRGINIA—In the January 17, 1959, New York Times, the newspaper's Latin American specialist, Herbert Matthews, wrote triumphantly about the Cuban revolution: "The hunted young man who for three hours whispered his passionate hopes and ideals into my ear in the gloomy jungle depths of the Sierra Maestra (mountains) at dawn on February 17, 1957, is now the chief power in Cuba. In the eyes of nearly all his compatriots, Dr. Fidel Castro is the greatest hero that their history has known."

Six months later, Matthews defended Castro against charges that he was a communist. "This is not a communist revolution in any sense of the word, and there are no communists in positions of control... The only power worth considering in Cuba is in the hands of Premier Castro, who is not only not communist but decidedly anti-communist." When Castro told the Overseas Press Club that he had been a communist since college and would remain one "until the day I die," Matthews denied the obvious: "Today Castro may believe he is a communist. But tomorrow he may believe something else."

Flash forward a quarter century and cross the Atlantic, to Pollsmoor Prison near Cape Town in South Africa. There you find Nelson Mandela, the Castro of the '80's.

Mandela first became famous as commander of the Spear of the Nation, the military wing of the African National Congress (the principal group fighting to overthrow the South African government). Since he was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1964, he has become the personification of the ANC. He is the hero of the revolution, respected by his adversaries and adored by his friends.

A black South African writer tells Newsweek: "We all admire Bishop Tutu, but we call him the caretaker for Mandela"... Musician Stevie Wonder dedicates his Oscar to Mandela... The Mayor of Washington, DC, says he wants to name the street in front of the South African embassy after him... More than 200 US Congressmen call for his release from prison... ABC News calls him "the acknowledged leader of black South Africans"... White House spokesman Larry Speakes says Mandela is "an important South African black leader and a key figure in South Africa's political scene"... One of his lawyers says, "He sees himself as the man of destiny, waiting to be the leader of all South Africans."

him a "political prisoner," but he is no such thing. He was convicted of sabotage and of planning the manufacture of more than a quarter of a million hand grenades, pipe bombs, anti personnel mines, and other explosive devices. Mandela admitted that he planned sabotage, but explained that "I planned it as a result of a calm and sober assessment of the political situation..." He said his strategy, "influenced by Marxist thought," was to drive "foreign capital and foreign trade" away from South Africa, drain the economy, and bring down the government. In a word, his

Making More Harold Scotts

I have recently introduced into the Senate a bill that I hope will produce more Harold Scotts. Scott is from Alamogordo, the president of a small growth-minded company that is into bus air conditioning, truck refrigeration, and permanent magnet D.C. electric motors.

But what makes Scott different is that he is also into Bombay, India. He is an exporter. And we can all be proud of him, because he is doing his part to increase our exports, reduce the trade deficit, and make the country more competitive. It is no surprise that in March the Small Business Administration named him "Small Business Person of the Year for the State of New Mexico."

His company, Scott Air, Inc., also has substantial control of the large activity bus air systems market in both the U.S. and Canada. He knows how to find niches in markets nobody else is filling. That is what he found in Bombay when he started up his joint venture to export his bus air conditioning, truck refrigeration, and permanent magnet motors there. He is in the Third World now looking for more niches.

There are by good estimate some 11,000 small, export-capable U.S. firms that could be doing what Scott Air is doing, but aren't—exporting their products. And many of them are in New Mexico.

I am not alone in believing that hundreds of those could be persuaded to do what Harold Scott is doing if they were adequately helped and informed. Many of them simply lack information about export markets and how to get into them.

That is the problem my bill, the Export Promotion and Information Center Act, addresses. The legislation would establish a trade information center with a Director and a 16-person Policy Board. The center would monitor, gather, and organize export-related information and get it out to businesses and state and local agencies around the country. And it would encourage businesses to develop their own information gathering services.

The information flowing in and out of the center would include data about foreign economies, business practices, tariffs and trade barriers. It would identify potential customers, consultants, contacts and trade associations. And it would pass on information about market size, current opportunities, specifications and standards, competitors, and methods of distribution. Fifteen government agencies and 13 offices within the Commerce Department alone gather trade information. But little of it gets to people who really need it—the country's businesses. It is going to waste.

Figures I read tell me that there are too few Harold Scotts in New Mexico. California attributes 9.7 percent of its jobs to export-related businesses. In Texas the figure is 7.3 percent. New Mexico, on the other hand, ranks 48th in the nation as an exporter, with only 0.9 percent of its labor force in export-related jobs.

Scott would agree that it is a very large untapped niche. Hopefully the legislation will be passed and more New Mexico businesses, following his example, will be encouraged to help fill it.

Capitol . . .

ordering that would make him unpopular all over the state.

Instead, he wants to buck the problem to the lawmakers. Let them find the way to enact the savings and do it when they are in session in January, he says.

By then, of course, more than six months of the year will have gone by, and the whole savings program will have to be jammed into the last half of the year.

And during that Legislature set to start in January, legislators will also have to grapple with what to do about next year, when the shortage of funds is likely to be three times as bad.

Call Toney Anaya if you have an easy solution; he'll be glad to hear from you.

Viguerie . . .

strategy was: disinvestment.

Even the liberal human-rights organization Amnesty International refuses to recognize Mandela as a political prisoner, pointing out that he "was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1964 after acknowledging in open court his participation in the planning of acts of sabotage as a leader of the African National Congress." His confession was given freely; indeed, he and his supporters brag about the crimes he committed and promise more of the same.

The government has offered to release him if he will renounce violence, but Mandela refuses. He says that he would be back in prison "in a day" if he were released because he would simply pick up his campaign of violence where he left off. "I can't fold my arms," he said in an interview with columnists John Lofton and Cal Thomas. There is no alternative to taking up arms. There is no room for peaceful struggle. (His wife, Winnie, herself a powerful figure, says that the ANC is no longer interested even in talking with the Botha government expect to discuss "the handing over of power.")

Mandela told Lofton and Thomas that communism is preferable to apartheid because it "gives equal opportunity to everybody" and because, under communism, "everybody would be living better."

Newsweek reported: "To some, Mandela's espousal of violence and his tolerance of communism came as a surprise. . . . But, in fact, Mandela's basic message hasn't changed in years." Newsweek's point was that Mandela's liking for communism and violence wasn't news because it was common knowledge. If so, it was the kind of common knowledge that somehow never makes it into the evening news reports about Mandela The Man of Peace.

Nelson Mandela's prison cell is lined with books and open to the roof where he keeps a small garden. His home-away-from-home seems to have little in common with the mountainous jungles of Cuba. But for Mandela, his cell is a special place; when he walks through the gates of Pollsmoor Prison, it will be as the leader of a triumphant revolutionary army. When he marches into Pretoria, it will be as the ruler of South Africa, with authority second only to his Soviet "advisers." After all the years of waiting, it will be a sweet, sweet day for Nelson Mandela when, as Generalissimo Castro did many years before, he comes down from the Sierra Maestro.

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS—Head football coach Willie Gallegos named Richard Guevara, soph., running back and linebacker, and Tommy Escamilla, jr., tight end and defensive end, as 'Players of the Week' for their effort against Cloudercroft last week. The Grizzlies won 28-8.

DEFENSE SPARKLES—

Grizzlies get district win

A stout defense plus some fourth quarter heroics led Carrizo to a 28-8 win over district foe Cloudercroft last Friday night.

The host Bears were held to 101 yards rushing and but 86 yards passing by the aggressive Grizzly defense. The Grizzlies managed 195 yards on the ground and tacked on another 95 yards through the air.

Carrizo scored a first quarter touchdown at the 3:43 mark after the defense had gained control of the football at the Cloudercroft 21 yard line on a fumble recovery. Sophomore running back Richard Guevara took it in for the score on the 9th play of the scoring drive to give Carrizo the early lead 6-0.

The 6-0 Carrizo advantage lasted the same through the second and third quarters...thanks to the defense...when they managed to stop the Bears at the one-foot line on a 4th-and-goal situation late in the third quarter.

A 99-yard scoring drive followed the goal-line stand...with Kerny Crenshaw going in from inches out at the 11:03 mark in final quarter.

The Grizzlies broke the game open after Cloudercroft muffed a fake reverse handoff on ensuing kickoff and were downed at their own 3 yard line by the Grizzly defense. After forcing a Bear punt the Grizzly offense took only three plays to add another score when Crenshaw went the final 3 yards to give Carrizo an 18-0 lead. A 2-pt. PAT conversion by Richard Guevara made it 20-0 with 6:49 left in the game.

Eighteen seconds later following the kickoff Crenshaw picked off a Bear pass at the 32 yard-line and returned it for his third TD of the night. A 2-pt. PAT pass from James to Tom Giordano made the score 28-0. The Bears finally got on the scoreboard when Glenn Denney returned the ensuing kickoff for a 82-yard return good for a TD. Bears added 2-pt. conversion for final 28-8 score.

Carrizo will travel to Hagerman this Friday (7:30 p.m. kickoff), before returning to district action against Reserve the following week.

Volleyball action finds the Grizzly A & B and Jr. Hi traveling to Ft. Sumner this Saturday, Oct. 19...and home on Tues., October 22 against Corona (A and Jr. Hi only).

Reserve remains No. 1 with win over Tigers

By BARTLEY McDONOUGH

The Reserve Mountaineers, number 1 Class A team in the state of New Mexico, visited Capitan last Friday night. The Tigers scored twice in the third quarter and narrowed Reserve's lead to 20-12. Many Tigers fans felt that this might be the big upset the Tigers needed so badly. The Mountaineers poured it on the Tigers in the 4th quarter and won going away 40-12.

Reserve scored 4 and a half minutes into the 1st quarter when senior Gary Zuniga - a 182 pound tailback - carried the ball in from the 7 yard line. Reserve could not convert and took a 6-0 lead. A Mountaineer tally near the end of the quarter was called back because of a penalty and the ensuing field goal attempt sailed wide.

Reserve continued a drive begun near the end of the 1st quarter ripping off big yardage. The TD came 1 minute into the second quarter. The visitors took a 12-0 lead at this point.

Later on a Reserve fumble and penalty put the Tigers in action on Reserve's 44 yard line. The Tigers needed to move the ball here but turned it over on a pass interception. On the next play the Mountaineers exploded on a 72 yard pass play adding the 2 extra points on another pass play. The half ended with Reserve out front 20-0.

With 8:42 showing on the clock in the 3rd quarter the Tigers started a drive on their own 27 yard line. A 20 yard pass play to Mike Lunn and a 53 yard pass play to Keller placed the Tigers in pay dirt. The Tigers couldn't add the extra point and the scoreboard showed a 20-6 score.

Later in the quarter the Tiger defense stiffened and the Mountaineers turned over the ball on an unsuccessful 4th down attempt. The Tigers were now on their own 36 yard line. Padilla ran for 9 yards and then passed to Chris Peralta who galloped on a 57 yard pass play for the Tiger's second touchdown.

The Tigers appeared to have a Mountaineer drive stopped in the 4th quarter but a roughing the kicker penalty gave the visitors a 1st down and an eventual TD.

The Mountaineers scored twice again in the 4th quarter and stopped a Tiger drive with a pass interception. Before this interception Padilla and Peralta had connected on a 27 yard pass play. The Tigers covered a fumble at the end of the game but time ran out. Reserve, the best team in Class A football, walked off the field with a 40-12 win.

District foe Cloudercroft visits Capitan Friday night for a game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Both teams have a 1-6 overall record. In district play the Bears are 0-2 and the Tigers 0-1. Tiger coach Zale Woodward informed the News that the Tigers are looking forward to finishing strongly and "salvaging something."

The Tigers travel to Ruidoso for a 6:30 game on Oct. 26 with their Junior Varsity. November 1 is the big game in Carrizo scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

IN 38-20 WIN OVER NMSD—

Copeland paces Cardinals

By LINDA CALDWELL
Corona opened District play with a 38-20 showing against NMSD last Saturday.

The Cardinals were "operating in slow motion during the first half", according to Coach Jamie Widner, but were able to come back with an all together act that demonstrated teamwork and individual effort during the 3rd and 4th quarters. That act included rolling up 150 yards rushing and 185 yards passing for a team total of 335 yards.

Steve Copeland earned Cardinal of the Week status by racking up 102 yards in 10 carries (including TD runs of 59, 14, & 5 yards) and 3 pass receptions for 94 yards in the air (including a 53 yarder TD pass reception). Copeland also managed an interception along with teammates Dan Bell, and Danny Cardova. Quarterback Travis Lightfoot turned in a respectable performance with 185 yards passing and an 8 for 21 record. He also recovered a Roadrunner fumble.

Tommy Mulkey turned in the remaining Corona scores with a 9 yard scamper across the goal line, a PAT worth 2 points, and an intercepted pass-30 yard-runback for the final tally.

Coach Widner commented that the team missed six opportunities to score during the contest. "Four passes were dropped where we could have gone on in for the score, and two other opportunities were missed when we were knocking on the door and couldn't get in. But other than that, they are to be commended for playing a really good game."

Corona is now tied with Vaughn at 1-0 in District play. The Cardinals will meet Roy in their second District match this Friday at 1:30 at Roy.

The Captain Progress, A Journal Devoted to the Interests of Lincoln County, Capitan, Lincoln County, New Mexico, Friday, February 8, 1901

Patience rewarded. The El Paso & Northeastern includes Capitan in its service.

Monday night the El Paso & Northeastern ran its first regular train into Capitan. Instead of stopping at the coal camp as has been the custom the trains from now on will run into this place, bringing the mail and passengers. An agent will be stationed here in a short time, when all freight and express for this place will come on down here instead of being put off at the coal camp.

The people of Capitan have waited long and patiently for this, and already the good effects of the change is being manifested by restoring confidence to business men and the people generally. Capitan has grown to its present size entirely upon its own merits and in spite of the fact that the railway was two miles away but now that it will have the advantage of a daily train service, things generally will take on new life. It is also learned that work will begin soon on the necessary siding for the terminal yards when the engine yards will be moved down here from the camp and all work be done from here. It is also stated on good authority that the depot will be built inside of 90 days. The structure is to be a two story affair with living apartments above and will compare favorably with any depot building along the line.

Manchester was a small town seven miles west of White Oaks that flourished about twenty years ago during the mining big excitement in that section. After a while the town began to go backward and most of the inhabitants either moved to White Oaks or elsewhere, leaving the place depopulated, except by the coyote, jackrabbit and owl. Now, "Phoenix, like," Manchester is to arise from the ashes of its own destruction, and is destined to yet play an important part in the commercial history of Lincoln County. The place will be the closest railroad station to White Oaks town and that immediate section.

Work on the new laundry building and ice plant at Fort Stanton is progressing nicely. Fort Stanton is fast assuming metropolitan airs.

Lucian Dill, editor of the Pecos Valley Stockman, at Roswell, was in town this week in the capacity of deputy sheriff looking for the murder of Will Rainbolt.

The American Placer company, operating in the Jicarilla mountains, who have lately been prospecting for sufficient supply of water to run their large hydraulic machinery, have struck a good flow of water at a reasonable depth. A recent test of the well showed it would supply nearly 200 gallons per minute, which will be ample for all present demands.

Robert Hurt, the newly elected justice of the peace, held first court last Tuesday. Bob will make us a good officer as well as a dignified judge and portly mayor.

R. A. Hurt, our newly elected justice of the peace, held his first term of court Tuesday. The first case called was the Territory versus James Stewart, charged with the Larceny of a suit of clothes.

Capitan is practically free from petty thievery for a new town. Seldom that we hear of anything being stolen. But about the most cheeky piece of consummated gall in that line that we have heard of lately is the theft of chickens from Ben Renfrow's hen coop. Renfrow is a hard working man who labors hard to support his family, and a good honest citizen. Any one who would steal chickens from a hen roost is not a suitable person to remain a citizen of this thriving town. In such cases where the thief is caught a good coat of tar and feathers should be applied.

One of the greatest wonders of the southwest is the Great Mammoth Cave at Fort Stanton, five miles from Capitan. This cave has been explored for a distance of over seven miles. In many respects it out rivals the

It is said of Barnes, and the statement is substantiated by very strong circumstantial evidence, that he made this trip for purely business motives, and he will probably enter into partnership with Judge Hurt in a wood chipping contract for Doctor Luttrell at Mescalero.

Frude says that since the dance Barnes has been talking to himself and acting rather queer, just like a man does before committing matrimony.

A townsite has been laid out at Carrizozo and business of all kinds will soon be represented there.

SOMETHING TO DO

Ways to get the kids out of your hair include: Move a piece of furniture to open a fascinating new space for play; drape a blanket or sheet over a card table to make a cave; pull a step stool up to the kitchen sink, fill sink with kitchen utensils and plastic toys, turn cold-water faucet on; get older children to tape-record stories for younger children.

SAVING ENERGY

The dryer uses 40 cents per hour. Hang up heavy things to air dry. Before you turn up the thermostat, dress up warm.

A PENNY SAVED

Use it over, wear it out, make it do, do without.

CLEAN COFFEE POT

A clean pot makes good coffee. The coffee pot should be cleaned of old coffee oils and stains. Run your automatic coffee-maker through a perking cycle occasionally with water and baking soda in the pot. Clean afterwards to remove all traces of soda.

MILK FOR RECIPE

A cup of milk, called for in most recipes, can be made from half cup of evaporated milk plus half cup of water. Or from half cup nonfat dry milk combined with three-fourths cup water.

MOIST BROWN SUGAR

To keep brown sugar soft and moist, place a cut apple or a slice of bread in the container and cover it.

Tyke Posey sets marks

Tyke Posey, grandson of Ancho residents Sara and L. Y. Jackson, has established himself among the top 20 swimmers in the country in four separate swimming events. In the State Long Course Championship in Las Cruces, Tyke finished first in eight events to win the high point trophy for 9-10 year olds.

He previously earned nine state records in the 8-and-under age class, and has set four New Mexico Long Course 10-and-under marks.

After competing in the New Mexico events, Tyke went to the Western Zone Championships in Salt Lake City where he qualified for finals in eight out of ten events in his age division, setting five new state records, including breaking two of his own.

Swimming is a family tradition as Tyke was inspired and encouraged by his big brother, G. W., who has set his own records. He won the high point trophy for his age group (11 and 12 year olds) at the State Long course, and finished with eight first and one second in that competition.

The two young swimmers are the sons of Carrizozo High School graduate Dee Ann Jackson Posey and Gerald Posey who now reside in Farmington.
