LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS

Free paper to stop with this issue

After the July 17 issue residents of Lincoln County will no longer receive free distribution of the Lincoln County News/Recorded Times. After that date only paid subscribers to the county-wide newspaper will receive it. The paper has been sent free to all county addresses for the past six months.

The decision to stop the free distribution is based on unexpected postal requirements plus the fact that the newspaper while well received by readers has failed to gain support in the business community.

Readers who wish to continue reading this newspaper may fill out the subscription blank which appears on Page 12 in this issue.

Nominees sought for FmHA jobs

Eligible farmers in Lincoln and Otero counties are invited to become nominees for the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) County Committee, FmHA County Supervisor, Arthur D. Baca, announced today.

As a result of the 1985 Farm Bill, two of the three members of FmHA County Committees must be elected. The third member is designated by FmHA. The Lincoln and Otero County Committee assists the FmHA county office in determining the eligibility of applicants for certain types of FmHA loans.

Generally, farmers who are residents of the county but not FmHA borrowers are eligible to become nominees for the FmHA County Committee.

"Farmers in these counties, serving on the committee, play an important role by assisting in the process of loan applications and reviews," said Baca.

For this first election only, two members will be elected at the same time. One member will be elected for a term of one year, and one member will be elected for a two-year term. In the future, all terms of service will be for three years each on a staggered basis.

Nominating petitions must be returned to the FmHA Ruidoso County Office by July 29.

Additional information and application forms for those who are interested in becoming nominees for the county committee are available at the FmHA County Office, 1007 Mechem Drive, Ruidoso, or by calling 258-5294.

For new housing project

Trustees hear proposal

By RIGO CHAVEZ

Talk of street paving and a proposed housing development a 180-acre tract north and west of Ruidoso Downs Racetrack, dominated much of the Ruidoso Downs Board of Trustees meeting this week.

Meeting Monday night, the trustees heard a presentation by Vickie Burns, general counsel for C. L. Crowder Investments of Santa Theresa.

Burns said there were no "immediate" plans to develop the area, but the firm has discussed a residential development.

"We aren't far enough along in our planning that we have any timetable for development. We need to sit down and look at the feasibility. The density of housing is also yet to be determined," she said.

The attorney said she wanted to meet with the trustees to get some indication as to whether they would be willing to extend water and sewer lines to the development, which lies within the village limits.

Burns told the trustees the development company would be willing to bear the expense of extending the sewer and water lines and acquiring the easements needed.

"We can't move forward unless we have an indication that someday you could provide us with water and sewer," Burns said.

Trustee Conrad Buchanan said that the village might not have enough water rights to support a large residential development.

"The village is going to need more water rights to maintain its current area and would certainly need to acquire more for a subdivision of this size," he said, asking if the developers would help in obtaining more water rights.

Burns said her firm would be willing to work with the village to acquire additional water and that as far as she knew the land to be developed carried no water rights.

The trustees approved a resolution stating that the village would work with the developers in acquiring water and sewer service for the area.

Turning to street paving projects, village engineer Barrett Atkins said only McCarty Construction had submitted a bid for the work on DiPaolo Hill and the entrance to Highway 70.

McCarty's bid of $320,000 was higher than the $248,000 approved by the state highway department for the project.

The engineer said he had talked with representatives of the highway department in Roswell and they were reluctant to scale down the project.

"We can negotiate with McCarty because he was the only bidder. He had said he would look at ways of trimming his bid," Atkins said.

Mayor J. C. "Jake" Harris questioned Atkins about what would happen when a sewer was put in on DiPaolo Hill. "Won't we have to dig up the street?"

Atkins said that the easement was wide enough that digging up the paved street probably wouldn't be necessary. The sewer would be placed on whichever side of the street had more homes.

Harris also questioned the cost to the village to pave an additional section at the top of

Attorney general files suits

By RUTH HAMMOND

The attorney general's office filed three suits in district court in Lincoln County on July 9 alleging the creation of four illegal subdivisions near Capitan. The suits were filed against Truly Clark & Associates, High Mesa Investments and Mel-Rex Investments.

The suits allege that the defendants failed to comply with the Subdivision Act and request that the defendants not sell or transfer interest in the properties, that they comply with the Subdivision Act, penalties of $5,000 be assessed for each violation, and that rescission and restitution be made to purchasers involving any unfair deception or unconscionable trade practices.

Allegations against the defendants include failure to file plats certified by a registered licensed surveyor and approved by the Lincoln County Commission; failure to provide copies of all sales contracts, deeds and other documents to be used in conjunction with sales of lots in the property; failure to provide disclosure statements to the board of commissioners and prospective purchasers; failure to submit and obtain approval and construct the subdivisions in conformity with terrain management, surface drainage plan, a subsurface drainage plan; and compliance of roads.

It is further alleged that defendants did not disclose to prospective purchasers that there was no legal access to many lots, underground water was scarce, drilling for water was expensive and the water was of poor quality. They did not disclose that extension of telephone and electrical utilities was prohibitively high and construction or clearing of vegetation on neighboring lots could lead to severe erosion and drainage problems. Solid waste disposal and liquid waste disposal were also addressed in the suits.

At least 40 lots were sold between May 1979 and May 1982 in the four subdivisions.

Each lot was approximately five acres.

The suit states that the omission of disclosure tended to deceive and mislead each prospective purchaser and to take advantage of lack of knowledge, ability, experience or capacity to a grossly unfair degree.

The suit against Truly Clark & Associates, a general partnership, included Truly Clark, Dorothy Clark, Mel Glenn, Bonnie Glen, William E. Glenn, and 20 other unnamed defendants.

The suit against High Mesa Investments, a general partnership, included Ronnie Hemphill, Terri C. Hemphill, Mel Glenn, Bonnie Glenn, Rex E. Glenn, John Davis, Joseph Alexander, individually and as trustee of the Alexander Trust, LaVonne Alexander, individually and as trustee of the Alexander Trust, and another 20 unnamed defendants.

The suit against Mel-Rex Investments, a general partnership, included Mel Glenn, Bonnie Glenn, Rex E. Glenn, Sherry Glenn, and the unnamed defendants.

Corona School Board has yet to solve its problems

By LINDA CALDWELL

CORONA—After attending three consecutive Corona Board of Education meetings to air their concerns, some persons were dissatisfied with the board's response, a Lincoln County News survey revealed.

Most of those surveyed appreciated the board's patience in giving them the opportunity to air their concerns but felt that to at least some degree, the board did not satisfactorily address their grievances.

Considering the apparent gravity and quantity of the issues, the NEWS embarked on an investigative report to discover just exactly what the controversies are and what the rules and regulations apply to same.

Despite all their differences, every respondent to the survey expressed a desire to improve the educational system in Corona. Herewith some of the issues:

Graduation Requirements

Of importance to several parents was the issue of graduation requirements. Corona had required 22 credits, including 3½ in social studies and 1 in consumer education/family living whereas state requirements had been at 21. The issue of reducing local requirements to comply with those of the state was raised at the regular June meeting and reportedly tabled for further discussion.

At the July 8 meeting, however, discussion by the board did not center on exact compliance with current state requirements but rather on compliance with the new Education Reform Bill (SB 106) which requires 23 credits for students entering 9th grade this fall.

During discussion that indicated a desire to make that extra credit a solid, tough one, the board listened to a list of subjects recommended by the state: math, science, social studies, fine arts, vocational education, or languages other than English.

The board agreed to delete social studies from the list since Corona already required 3½ credits in that subject area. Then, upon motion to make requirements as read, Board president Ernest Copeland asked school secretary Brenda Marshall to read the list back. She listed science, math, computer literacy, vocational education, and languages other than English — with social studies deleted as per board wishes.

The motion was passed with comments to the effect the matter might be taken up again when more specific information would be obtained from the state.

In telephone interviews with three of the four board members present, none was aware that there was a discrepancy in what they discussed and what they actually voted on. All three agreed that the matter needed to be clarified; one said it actually was the board's intent to include computer literacy, but wasn't sure about the fine arts.

In the meantime, Mrs. Brenda Marshall reported that she had discovered the mistake and conferred with the high school head teacher and they decided that yes, computer literacy and fine arts should be on the list and was so included in the minutes.

In investigating the issue, the NEWS learned that SB 106 sets forth very specific guidelines for graduation re-

Night Watchman

My visit to Tinnie's Silver Dollar Restaurant was sort of like attending a family wedding reception where the music was good, but you were forced to dance with an aunt that kept stepping on your feet.

Tinnie served up an accomplished repertoire of food, but the servers were slightly out of step. Although we had reservations, we were told by the manager to wait for the hostess to return to the front desk. While we waited, another couple came in and the manager escorted them to their table. Ouch, that hurt, my toes were already starting to get tender.

The hostess did seat us moments later, apologized for the delay, and offered to take our drink order immediately to make up for the inconvenience.

Later, a busboy brought our margaritas and when we were half finished, the hostess returned to tell us she had forgotten all about the drinks, but was glad to see we'd received them.

The restaurant is housed in an old mercantile store with wooden floors, high ceilings, beveled glass windows and a full complement of antique furniture.

Beef tenderloin, various fish dishes in cream sauce, chicken and a children's menu are featured as well as nightly steak and seafood specials prepared tableside flambe style.

Prices range from $7.75 for children's portions to $29.95 for a full serving of steak and lobster.

One of my companions chose the Cod Rockefeller from the special's list at $16.95, the other chose the Chicken Sesame Salad for $10.50, while I had the Veal Romana tender calf in a cream sauce for $16.95.

The cod was sauteed in a lemon butter sauce with a dash of white wine, while we watched ceremoniously from our table. Topped with hollandaise sauce, it was served with potatoes and carrots cooked in the same skillet once the fish was removed.

Tender and moist, the cod fillet was accompanied by fresh ground pepper.

There was only one flaw as the dancers missed a step again. The cod was finished 20 minutes before the rest of our order was brought to the table. We got to watch my friend eat.

Our waitress apologized profusely and offered to treat us to a chocolate gelato for dessert.

The chicken salad came with fettuccini noodles and fresh fruit. The fettuccini with cream and herbs was good.

The chicken salad, like that girl with the moustache that always asks you to dance, should be avoided at all costs. It was swimming in so much sesame oil that any flavor was smothered.

The flavorful rice pilaf served with my veal, like the rest of my meal, was impeccable.

The chocolate gelato—Italian ice cream—was the perfect accompaniment to the excellent coffee that ended our meal. I'm pretty sure Juan Valdez sent the coffee beans from Columbia personally.

A full complement of domestic and imported white, red and sparkling wines are offered. We had a nice, oaky California Chardonnay. —Rigo Chavez.

The Tinnie Silver Dollar is located on Highway 70 about 30 minutes east of Ruidoso. It is open daily for dinner from 5 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Reservations are recommended and most major credit cards are accepted.

All restaurants are reviewed anonymously with one or more guests to provide a broader sampling. All meals are paid for and restaurants receiving unfavorable reviews have been visited more than once.

IT SOUNDED GRAND: Chamber of Commerce Greeters (L-R) Mildred Crocker, Nancy Radzewicz, Melody Vulcich, Mayor Pro-tem Jerry Shaw, co-owners Ruth Shorter and David DMinton, and Clay Adams celebrated the opening of Ruidoso Music at 1507 Sudderth Dr. Shorter and Minton, both musicians, will offer a full line of musical instruments and music lessons. The shop is open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 3 p.m. on Sunday.

Homey elegance a Hallmark for Monjeau Shadows guests

By RIGO CHAVEZ

Howard Skeean once directed aircraft and guarded the safety of hundreds of passengers. Now he directs guests to the breakfast table at Monjeau Shadows and guards their palates.

Skeean and his wife Pauline have been managers of the bed and breakfast inn near Nogal, off Highway 37, since June 7.

Skeean had been an Albuquerque air traffic controller prior to the 1981 strike. "There aren't too many people who can say they were fired by the president," Skeean said with a smile.

He prides himself on his breakfasts that he describes as "family fare with a gourmet flair."

With her husband as the cook, Mrs. Skeean assumes cleaning duties at the 15-room Victorian style inn that was originally built by Jim Cantrell as a family home.

The five antique-filled guest rooms are still named for the family member that used to occupy them. They have Lisa's Room, Bryan's Room, Elaine's Room, and rooms for little Tony and Billy.

The inn opened last December and the managers are still working on developing a market. "They didn't have much snow last winter so there were only a few skiers," Skeean said, adding that they hope to attract guests year-round.

He said weekends in the remainder of July and August look promising with at least one reservation for each.

In the summer time, they boast cookouts and dining on the deck. For winter, there are three fireplaces and a game room with a pool table.

A single room goes for $40, a double for $50 and a two-room suite that sleeps four for $90. All prices include breakfast.

Guests are offered dinner on an American Plan for an additional $12.50.

"If they want steak and lobster, we can do that too," Skeean said. "But it will cost them more."

Mrs. Skeean worked in the linen department of American Furniture in Albuquerque for almost 11 years. When she told them she was quitting to come to run a bed and breakfast, they were a little incredulous.

"They really didn't know what to think. They didn't want me to leave," she said.

Her table at the inn can be set with the finest linens.

ANNIVERSARY DANCE FOR THE 'SWINGERS'

The Ruidoso Sierra Blanca Swingers will be having their third anniversary dance on Saturday, Aug. 2 at the Carrizo Lodge.

Dancing will be cued by Bob Klose beginning at 7:30 p.m., and Ken Kerby will call square dancing at 8 p.m. There will also be "mainstream" dancing with announced plus calls.

Waterford crystal and china. No paper plates. No plastic glasses.

"Guests have said this is the way they like to dine, and they don't really expect it out here," Mrs. Skeean said.

Although they can do elegance, it is a homey atmosphere the Skeeans try for and that most guests seem to want.

"We had 15 guests over July 4, and one woman who came down for breakfast the first day fully dressed and with all her make-up on. By the third day she came down in a bathrobe and with barefeet."

"She said she really felt at home. We don't want to be like a hotel, we want to be like home," Mrs. Skeean said.

The couple said that raising six children had prepared them well for running the inn.

"It's nothing to throw a couple more potatoes in a pot roast and add a couple more guests for dinner because that's the way we ran our home," he said.

Both said that the inn doesn't seem like work, but they admit it keeps them busy most of the time. They care for the yard, sweep, make beds and do shopping.

"This is exactly what I had pictured it would be like. No surprises yet and no recalcitrant guests either," Howard Skeean said.

"We'll know we've made it when we get our first return guest."

HOST AND HOSTESS: Howard and Pauline Skeean stand ready to serve at their bed and breakfast inn, Monjeau Shadows near Nogal.

Artisan's featuring Texas watercolorist

The work of watercolorist Michael Atkinson will be featured this weekend at the Artisan's Shop and Gallery in Ruidoso.

Atkinson of Austin, TX, will be honored at a reception July 18 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the gallery at 2342 Sudderth Dr. in Ruidoso. He will be on hand to sign posters on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Much of Atkinson's work focuses on architecture. A tendency explained by the fact that he holds a degree in the subject, taught it at Texas Tech University, and worked for his father's architectural firm before devoting full time to his art in 1974.

As a teacher he found that he enjoyed the design and painting aspects of his work more than the technical elements and decided to paint full time.

Today his paintings include architecture with nature, man with nature, man alone—different characters with different ages and moods.

Atkinson usually leaves almost half a watercolor without any color, a characteristic of his work that has become his style.

For the first few years, he worked exclusively in watercolor. Now he uses some acrylic, playing the opaque acrylics against the soft watercolors. His work also includes serigraphs and offset lithographs.

"I never paint the entire painting," he said in an interview published in Southwest Art. "I always try to have a center of interest, but across the room, you may not be able to tell what the subject is."

"Rather you see an almost abstract composition; some color, some line, white dark, that kind of thing. I tend to go in an abstract direction much more than I'll ever go towards realism."

Michael Atkinson's paintings can be found in the permanent collections of the Museum of Texas Tech, Western Texas College in Snyder, TX, and Lubbock National Bank.

Each winter he spends time painting in New Mexico.

Lincoln author published

Sunstone Press of Santa Fe has announced the publication of "Apache Shadows" by Albert R. Booky of Lincoln. Just off the press, the book is available in area bookstores.

"Apache Shadows" is an adventure story of two Mescalero Apache brothers who learn how to survive despite the encroachments of Mexicans and Americans in the 19th century.

Another western book by Booky is scheduled for 1987 by Sunstone Press. "Son of Manitou" will take readers into the life and times of Sam Sidwell, a mountain man.

A retired educator, Booky was with the Hondo Valley Public Schools in New Mexico. He now devotes his time to historical research and writing.

Husband/wife team teach at seminars

By MICHELLE DeBERGE

A husband and wife team of artists, Tom and Dorothy Notestine, will be teaching seminars at the Carrizo Lodge in Ruidoso through July 25.

Tom Notestine will teach art design with an emphasis on composition and light control. Mrs. Notestine's seminar will focus on colorist theory and free style painting.

Notestine's watercolors are said to be as varied and exciting as his background. His work has brought him recognition throughout Mexico, the United States and Central America.

He began painting at the age of 7, and by 9 he was designing his own greeting cards.

Notestine studied architecture at the University of Houston and later took painting full time.

Winner of many national and international awards, Notestine is listed in "Who's Who in American Art."

"He has a desire to pass on to others his knowledge of art that he knows so well," said his wife.

Western scenes, boats, houses, market scenes and the sea are among Notestine's favorite subjects.

He is currently director of the Coppini Academy of the Fine Arts in Texas.

Dorothy Notestine, who is proficient both in watercolor and oil, studied interior design at the University of Houston. It was her husband who encouraged her to paint.

Mobile home fire not arson-related

By P. E. CHAVEZ

Carrizozo Fire Chief Albert Najjar told the NEWS that the July 11 mobile home fire at the old Dotson iron mill site east of the overpass was believed to be arson-related. Najjar was expecting an investigation from the state fire marshal.

Najjar and two of his firemen were on department business out of town when four other volunteer firemen attempted to fight the blaze which was discovered shortly after midnight.

Town policeman Chris Gomez said he first learned of the fire at 12:05 a.m. from Robert M. Hemphill Jr., who personally contacted the officer. The officer wrote on his report that on his arrival in the area he noticed flames coming from the middle section of the trailer. "I then notified the sheriff's office."

Firemen had to break the lock on the gate to enter the premises.

"No water, no nothing," is noted at 12:20 a.m. by the sheriff's department dispatcher on the radio log.

Michael "Tiny" Monreal told the NEWS that the fire truck did not have sufficient water to fight the blaze that engulfed the 14x60 trailer house. The pumper's hoses could not reach a hydrant, but even if a connection had been made the structure was beyond saving due to the intensity and speed of the fire.

Nogal Fire Department arrived to help at 12:31 a.m. The fire was under control and contained at 1:36 a.m.

Monreal has prepared the written reports for the department for the past 10 years. He stated that Hemphill was the driver of the pumper and it was he who served as acting fire chief. The two other voluntary firemen who responded to the fire were Willie Swift and David Zamora.

Last Tuesday, Monreal and Chief of Police C. A. Morales accompanied Dan D. Wright, investigator for the New Mexico State Fire Marshal's Office, to the burn site. The NEWS asked and was given permission to observe the investigation, requested by owners of the property.

Wright learned that the trailer had been connected to propane up until the date of the fire and that the mobile house has been open to intruders.

Wright told the NEWS that the fire that destroyed the trailer was not arson-related.

Monreal was under the impression that a state investigation is only requested by property owners or insurance companies. Wright said that it is the fire department's responsibility to determine the cause of every fire and request a state fire marshal's inspection if necessary.

Wright cited an incident in which an insurance company filed suit against a fire department because the department had not ordered a state investigation.

Norman B. Bishop, Ruidoso, who oversees the bankrupted Zia Steel property, has the structures on the mill site insured, but will not apply for compensation, according to their representative.

Monreal was asked by Wright how much training his department conducts and Monreal replied, "Every Monday."

A 24-year-old Roswell driver was arrested by officer Gomez on Saturday, July 12. The arrest was the result of a 2:30 a.m. high speed attempt by the man to elude the officer, who had stopped the man after the officer noticed a stop sign violation at 8th and E Street.

Gomez chased Andrew Salcido several times around the block, after which Salcido headed towards the airport. Gomez pursued Salcido and found the 1985 Buick wrecked on the side of the road. The officer requested an ambulance and a wrecker, Morales was called to assist.

"Salcido told me just to take him to jail," states the officer's report. The man did not want to be medically checked or taken to a hospital.

Bond was set at $515 but was not posted. Salcido appeared before Municipal Judge S. M. Ortiz on Monday and was fined on the following charges: vehicle entering stop or yield intersection $10; fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer $25; reckless driving $80 and mandatory financial responsibility $55 plus a $40 court fee.

A German shepherd owned by Billie Payne bit a woman on July 14 at 12th Street. The woman, bitten on the calf, went in person at 6:23 a.m. to the sheriff's department to report the incident. Payne was given a dog-running-at-large warning notice.

Morales investigated a July 14 afternoon two-car accident. Vickie L. Vermillion, Carrizozo, driving a 1986 Toyota pickup, backed up from a parking position at Ruidoso State Bank (Carrizozo branch) into a 1966 Chevrolet driven by James R. Ortiz, Casper, WY.

Ortiz, who was driving into Jonnie's Outpost drive-up window, had no vehicle insurance, which Morales stated was not mandatory in Wyoming. Morales deduced that both drivers were at fault. No citations were issued.

Officer Adam Montez was dispatched July 14 at 8:46 p.m. by the sheriff's department to the Sands Motel in reference to a man with chest pains. The man, a traveler, was taken to Carrizozo Health Center for medical attention.

Monday, July 14, Montez was dispatched at 9:43 p.m. by the sheriff's department to the Four Winds Restaurant where the owner attempted to convince a juvenile not to drive a vehicle. Montez detected an order of alcohol on the youth's breath and offered to drive him home.

Enroute the juvenile told the officer that he would head back into town to "create problems." The juvenile was taken to the county jail and Montez called the juvenile probation officer, who works out of Ruidoso. The officer tried to locate next of kin. The JPO recommended that the juvenile be detained at the jail for detoxification purposes.

Kenneth Bell reported a hit and run accident on Thursday, July 10, to the sheriff's office. He later went to the city hall to file a report. According to the incident report, the accident occurred at approximately 4:30 p.m. the previous day while Bell was using the pay phone at the Texaco Gas Station.

The 1984 Nissan King Cab had been parked at the time of the accident approximately 15 feet away between the Crossroads Motel and the pay phone. Bell returned to the scene and found broken glass. The sheriff's department dispatcher called Morales at his residence in reference to a call from Mayor Robert Hemphill, who reported that a D Avenue resident was complaining about prowlers bothering her daughter and friends.

According to the report, Morales arrived at the residence at 11:29 p.m. and learned that Hemphill had talked to the young ladies. They said that as soon as the mayor left person or persons unknown threw a rock at the window and broke it. As Morales was conducting his investigation the mayor arrived on the scene a second time.

A resident on Maple Street contacted Morales to tell him that a renter had not paid his rent for three months. She asked if she could post a do-not-move sign on the man's van until the rent was paid. Morales is assisting the landlord with the problem.

Zia Senior Citizens

By BEULAH MOORE

The director of the state Agency on Aging, Rita Maes, visited the center at Carrizozo last week. With her was Benito Herrera, field representative for the state agency. Rita was very impressed with our center and the services we are offering to seniors on such a limited budget.

We have not had a potluck dinner here at the Carrizozo Center for quite a while. We will have a potluck on Friday, July 25, 6 p.m. There will be a variety of games, including card games, pool and table tennis. Everyone is welcome.

Annie has some extra help in the kitchen for the summer. Darlene Zamora is working through the Job Training Partnership Act. She is the daughter of Nazario and Mary Lee Zamora of Carrizozo.

We had a phone call last week from Golda Ward. She and Dawna made the trip to Oklahoma fine. She has been very busy taking care of her aging mother who has been in the hospital. She would appreciate hearing from her friends. Write: Golda Ward, 621 South H Street, Muskogee, OK 74403.

Visitors to the center this week were Otis and Naomi Horton from Commerce, TX. They had attended the Cavener family reunion in Cludcroft last weekend. Mrs. Horton's sister, Nina Lee Cavener, taught home economics in Carrizozo in 1940 and 1941.

Even though we had no "sidewalk solicitors", the pancake breakfast was a success. We were very happy to see June Straley able to be up and about after her illness. She was here with her two granddaughters and her great-granddaughter.

Glenn Ellison is still in the hospital in Alamogordo. He is learning to walk again this week.

Our valiant leader is surviving the visit of her two grandsons. Blood pressure is still normal. Dr. Amy says she wasn't sure of her survival the first week of her five-year-old's visit, but now that the end is in sight her blood pressure is back to normal.

Viola Vigil is now home from visiting her daughter, Carol Bucksath, in Portales.

Capitan News New participants at the center are Mrs. Ruth Denton and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Theford. Also, Roman and Tomasita Aragon from Ft. Stanton. Linda, Lucy, and Josie are doing a good job in getting new faces to come into the center.

Josie Trujillo is the new Title V (state-funded) employee here in Capitan. She will be assisting Linda and Lucy in Out-Reach, as well as maintaining the building and grounds.

The center will have a booth at the People's Market on July 27. We will be selling cookies and chances on the afghan.

Overheard one senior citizen saying when asked if he wanted another cup of coffee, "No, my kidneys won't wait and my feet won't hurry."

Legion, auxiliary to honor students

The Corona American Legion and Auxiliary of Beaver-Bond Post No. 35 will honor those who went to Girls and Boys State from both Corona and Vaughn with a covered dish dinner at 7 p.m., Tuesday, July 22 at the Corona Legion Building.

The Auxiliary sponsored two girls, Beverly Bell and Waynette Lindsey. The Legion sent two boys, Danny Cordova and Eric Wetzel.

The young people going from Vaughn were Terry Gallegos, Theresa Tenorio, Patrick Madrid, Albert Castillo and Edwin Aragon.

OPINION

● CITIZENS are outraged when they learn the Pentagon has published an 18-page specification report on baking a holiday fruitcake, a 22-page report on how to buy ground coffee, and a 17-page report on the virtues of Worcestershire sauce. Yet, in Carrizozo, NM the school computer required a broken part that cost $9.94, but the cost of installing it cost the school $922.42. The difference appears to be that the school needed the computer. Whether the Pentagon needed to circulate specifications on fruitcake, ground coffee and Worcestershire as being vital to the national defense is a cloudy issue. A less publicized assault on the taxpayers' pocketbook is that the town of Carrizozo is contemplating spending $57,000 for a street sweeper. A better ordering of priorities would be to pave some streets first, spend $57,000 to fill up existing potholes, and then think about a street sweeper. Too, what happened to the street sweeper the town owned in 1974.

● A 500-name petition was filed recently in district court asking for a special grand jury investigation into the performance of District Attorney James J. Weldon. The petition claims that Weldon has failed, neglected or refused to discharge the duties of his office. I only wish Lincoln County residents had had the opportunity to sign that petition as a means of getting rid of an unprofessional and incompetent district attorney who has managed to release criminals and other law violators with little more than slaps on the wrist. His assistant in Lincoln County, Harry Wilcox, is equally incompetent. Not long ago, replying to a Nogal resident's complaint that neighbors were killing his livestock and trespassing on his property screaming death threats at him and his family, the victim told the Lincoln County News that Wilcox asked him why he just didn't settle the matter with his fists! If people are advised by the district attorney's office to settle such matters in vigilante style, why do we need a district attorney, or even a court? It seems unseemly that a person sworn to uphold the law would advise breaking of the law. But that's how things go in Lincoln County.

● A prime example of the district attorney's incompetence has been his repeated opposition to a special grand jury to investigate the McKnight murders. Weldon claims there is no evidence upon which a grand jury can act. He was joined in this delusion by District Judge Richard Parsons, the New Mexico State Police and the Attorney General of New Mexico. It took a Supreme Court order to correct their collective error. A grand jury doesn't need evidence from the sheriff, the district attorney, the head of the state police, the district judge or the attorney general. The grand jury does its own investigations. It does not rely solely upon evidence or lack of evidence brought by any other law or judicial agency. The grand jury issues its own subpoenas and acts in secret. It is an independent investigatory body and can launch its own inquiry into crime whenever there is strong reason to suspect that its powers are being thwarted. It calls its own witnesses, makes its own investigations, and can make decisions adverse to those of the district attorney or any other outside influence.

● THE fact that the New Mexico Supreme Court had to order Judge Parsons to convene a grand jury in the McKnight case bolsters the belief of many residents that there is a conspiracy to cover up the McKnight murders. It is possible that the cover-up runs from the district attorney's office to the state police to the attorney general's office—and perhaps beyond. Only an impartial, independent grand jury investigation will lay the conspiracy ghost to rest.

● OOPS! The city council of Greenbelt, MD, just outside Washington, succumbed to ideological urgings of one of those "peace groups" to establish a "sister city" relationship with a Soviet city. The peaceniks believe that the Russian people are "just like us" and that if we only show our love, they will throw themselves into our arms and live happily ever after. Love does conquer all, doesn't it? Well, after two years of silence from Greenbelt's selection of Rezekne, in the Soviet Union, as its sister city, somebody offered a plausible explanation for the rejection of proffered love. Rezekne, according to a letter in the Washington Post, "is the site of both a slave labor camp and a KGB prison," both of which are part of the infamous Gulag's Latvian section, "which is specifically renowned for its brutality." Oh, dear.

● DEMOCRATS in Congress love the Marxist ruler of Nicaragua, Daniel Ortega, and his interior minister, Tomas Borge. They write them beautiful letters of support, and consistently vote down funds to the contras who oppose the Ortega/Borge regime. No matter that Borge has threatened to kill them all! "One day," Borge said in a major speech, "we're going to take five to 10 million Mexicans and they're going to have one thing on their mind—cross the border into Dallas, El Paso, Houston, New Mexico, San Diego, and each one has imbedded in his mind the idea of killing 10 Americans." Why is it Democrats believe the Marxists when they say they only want peace, but refuse to believe them when they say they're going to kill us?

● Import quotas and tariffs, imposed to protect US manufacturers from foreign competition, have been sought by nearly every industry in the United States. But the US dairy lobby has now outdone itself. The dairy industry wants the government to impose 50 percent import tariffs from foreign producers of a product that isn't even made in the USA. Casein is used in more than 400 products (baby foods, cakes, pharmaceuticals, glue, paper and animal feed). We import about 200-million pounds of casein a year. The dairy folks want to be protected from an industry that doesn't even exist! If granted, the tariff would raise the price of casein from $1 to $3 per pound. This would be passed on to domestic consumers of such products as named above, to the tune of $200 million a year—all to protect an industry that isn't. Figure that out.

Watch Over WASHINGTON

Which US secrets to sell?

—Les Kinsolving—

WASHINGTON — The current crop of espionage trials in and around our nation's Capital have made 1986 "The Year of the Spy."

And this, plus the CIA's efforts to get various Big Media Organizations indicted for publishing classified information, has evoked one of The Washington Post's rare bylined articles by famed Executive Editor Ben Bradlee. Mr. Bradlee, with characteristic macho that some would interpret as unbelievable arrogance, wrote:

"We don't allow the government — or anyone else — to decide what we should print. That is our job, and doing it responsibly is what a free press is all about."

As an example of what he regards as "responsible," Editor Bradlee wrote of "more than a dozen stories so far this year" that for national security reasons The Post did not publish. Moreover, this responsible refusal to publish is done "far more often than the public might think."

reporting:

—Fifty-six US government employees, who work in sensitive national security jobs, have declared bankruptcy in Baltimore Federal Court over the past five years.

—A "senior intelligence official," not otherwise identified by The Post, told them that such bankrupts are "sitting ducks" for the KGB, "because if a person is having financial problems, he is vulnerable."

—A survey revealed that such "sitting ducks" have included workers at the National Security Agency at Fort Meade, the Pentagon, the CIA and the State Department.

Editor Pruden also asks: "When debt-ridden intelligence officers, who are not driven by the rigid moral code that guides newspaper editors, decide for themselves when and whether to sell information to those who vow to destroy us, should we be surprised?"

"If you were Ronald Felton and you didn't know where your next car payment is coming from — and you saw The Washington Post deciding for itself whether it should peddle a few security secrets on page one, you might be tempted to do a little high-minded marketing yourself."

At The Post, Editor Bradlee refused to respond to this rather devastating critique by his fellow editor. And so did The Post's ombudsman (house critic), Joe Laitin.

Inside the Capitol

By Fred McCaffrey

Headed for bankruptcy

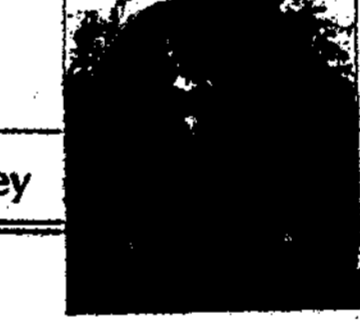

SANTA FE—New Mexico's next governor will operate under a veritable tyranny of urgency.

The way our system operates, every incoming chief executive is under the gun. He takes office on the first day of January, only to be faced by a 60-day legislative session that begins on the third Tuesday of that same month. In addition to making all major changes he plans in the make-up of government, he must in three weeks or less also produce a budget for consideration by the lawmakers.

In 1987, that pressure will be raised to the highest-ever power.

THE PROBLEM: Despite two meetings during this calendar year, lawmakers have failed signally to make the kind of changes in the way state government runs that are going to be necessary to solve the long-term problems of the state.

Our legislature didn't cut the cost of government nearly enough, nor did it raise enough in increased revenue to keep government operating in the foreseeable future. Since it is not likely to be convened again during the remainder of this year, one or both of those things has to be done during the legislative session which starts 1987.

magnified many times.

THE BATTLE: One of the results of that set of facts is that we don't have to wonder what will be the issues considered during this year's political campaign. Already, with the candidates for governor only just chosen, we know the one thing they must be prepared to tell us.

No matter how many diversionary tactics the political advisers may recommend to Ray Powell and Garrey Carruthers, we need to hear from each of them their concrete, specific and detailed answers to certain questions:

—What taxes do you plan to raise? By how much?

—What expenses do you plan to cut? In what way?

Until and unless the gubernatorial candidates answer all of those questions, we shouldn't bother to pay any attention to any other things they say. Unless they are willing to deal with these in a forthright manner, neither man deserves to be governor.

At this point in our state's history, any other topic candidates choose to address is so much show biz. Maybe some years we don't know what the centerpiece of the whole year's campaign should be. This year we know without shadow of a doubt.

THE REST OF 'EM: Those questions, or some so like them as to be nearly identical, might not be bad points to raise also with all those who come around telling us how important they feel it is that they become members of our state legislature. Unless they too are willing to tell us exactly how they view those very same points, we should let them stay at home.

LETTERS

We welcome letters to the editor. Here are suggestions to expedite their publication. Letters should be brief as possible, and cover one topic or point of view only. If possible, limit them to 300 words. They are subject to editing for grammar, punctuation, brevity, and good taste. We do not publish third-party letters. All letters must be signed, and an address or telephone number included. Names of letter writers will be withheld only upon request.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

We love Communists

EDITOR—President Reagan has stated that "It is in the national interest" for the taxpayer funded Export-Import Bank to supply low-cost loans and guarantees of $66 million to Communist China for power generating equipment, $120 million to Communist Romania for nuclear steam turbines, and $68 million to Communist China to build a steel-making plant. Ex-Im Bank have also been supplied to Communist Yugoslavia for military training.

Former Congressman Ron Paul stated "through the Ex-Im Bank, we are right now financing Yugoslavia's purchase and development of advanced telecommunications systems, computers, sophisticated aircraft, even nuclear power plants—all of which could conceivably be used for military purposes."

This policy is suicidal and must be stopped.

Communist Romania enjoys Most-Favored-Nation status with the United States. According to American Way Features, thousands of bibles donated to Romania in the late 1970s have reportedly been diverted to paper mills and converted to toilet paper. The former ambassador to Romania David Funderbark, who resigned his position because of years of frustration, says he finds objectionable that a country that bulldozes churches, arrests religious leaders, even recycles bibles into toilet paper, still received the US Most Favored Nation status.

In the meantime our hypocritical government imposes sanctions against anti-Communist South Africa.

HOMER BOYCE,
Lodi, CA.

US supports African terrorists

EDITOR—They hang a gasoline drenched automobile tire around the victim's neck. After hacking off his hands and feet, they touch a match to the gasoline. Suffering excruciating pain, the mutilated victim takes about 20 minutes to die.

According to reports out of South Africa, this unbelievably cruel torture, euphemistically called, "a necklass," has been executed some 172 times recently. Keep in mind, this fiery lynching is almost always blacks murdering blacks.

This reign of terror is being led, executed, or agitated by a communist terrorist group called the African National Congress (ANC). There is a method to this madness. One South African Communist Party member explains it this way: "The main thrust of our present strategy remains a revolutionary seizure of power." (See, Washington Inquirer, page 1, June 27, 1986.)

Make no mistake about it, the communists want South Africa. They will use any means to get it.

With charges of apartheid always pushed to the front, the press passes over lightly Reagan administration demands that the South African government legalize the revolutionary ANC, a bunch long ago outlawed in South Africa because they openly advocate violent revolution.

So far, the South African government has refused to give in to the demands of the Reagan administration. After all, when your country is on fire, it seems insane to legalize the arsonists.

RAYMOND C. WILSON,
San Juan Bautista, CA.

Advice on running a newspaper

EDITOR—There is just one first thing I must say to Carrizozo's star reporter, Polly. Please include the whole scenario when you report things. You could have included (before my distasteful remarks) that after 45 minutes, logic did not penetrate, so I tried to get a point across in the vernacular that hopefully you would understand.

If you, and others like you, used as much vigor and energy helping your hometown as you do trying to run down those of us who do — maybe there would be hope of this town surviving.

PATSY SANCHEZ,
Carrizozo.

Polly Chavez replies: If all the "scenario" involved in discussions at town meetings were reported, the content of the article would require an entire edition of this newspaper. The matter of the public record law was not intelligibly clarified during the July 8 meeting. After her fellow trustees blotted an effort to get the point across, Trustee Sanchez's attempt via a hypothetical example created additional confusion. Let the tape of the recorded minutes of this meeting be judge and jury of the logic of the explanation, and length of time involved in the matter. In my position as town police reporter, I am pursuing (with opposition from the town officials) facts that are made available to other newspapers around the state and county. Sanchez's "star reporter" billing can only be bestowed by the publisher or editor. Thanks, anyway!

Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

Last week we had 10 of an inch of rain. Then hot burning sun and high winds; nights warm, too.

The state engineer issued an order on the proposed supplemental well at Ft. Stanton, approving total water rights of 75.0 acre feet per annum, with no other conditions of approval other than meter reports. The well may be used for any or all of the ground water rights held by the Village of Capitan. They were able to salvage the entire ground water rights which was previously unacceptable quality water.

The Motor Vehicle Department at City Hall in Capitan will be closed on Tuesday afternoon beginning July 22. The office will be able to perform any MVD transaction Monday through Friday from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and again from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m., except on Tuesday as mentioned above.

There were 50 veterans' graves decorated for the holidays. Lee Yobie enjoyed collecting the flags. The Capitan Cemetery Association has done much in the new fence, planting trees, and mounding the graves with no markers. As sponsors for the American Legions, "Hattie Lacy" and Mr. and Mrs. Marguerito Trujillo thank you for a job well done.

There were 1849 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum, July 7-13. One of the visitors was Edith Hobbs Malcolm. She grew up at Ft. Stanton, and is a sister of Marjorie Payton. She is glad to be home after living in Kansas, New York, and California. Another visitor was Charlotte Sedillo Herrera of Albuquerque, formerly of Capitan. She too grew up here and her mother was Cuca Sedillo. She also visited family members here and grandchildren Andrea and Tony Toledo. Thirteen people came in a group from the United Methodist Church of Olton, TX and 12 Boy Scouts from Lubbock. They were impressed with Smokey's home, Abby and Nair Chamberlain and sons Aaron and Bryant of Mt. View, WY arrived Wednesday to visit her father, Hap Allen and other relatives and left Monday for Denver. The S. M. Museum sends thanks to everyone who helped with the float for the Smokey Bear Museum and the State Park.

Jennifer Buff celebrated her 2nd birthday June 28 with all of her little friends joining her at her home. A clown helped them along in enjoyment.

A family of 14 from Texas who were camped on the Bonito and enjoyed a family reunion visited the Smokey Bear Museum. They were from various cities, and they picnicked at the park.

Willie Hobbs, accompanied by her granddaughter Sherry, went to Abernathy, TX on business and to visit her sister in a rest home at Hale Center. She returned last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Roybal, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huey and the Dale Nighberts hosted a family reunion for the Nighberts side of the family over the July 4 weekend. Relatives from Albuquerque, New Jersey, Florida, Texas and Idaho enjoyed a weekend of good food, swimming, fishing and all of the local attractions. The El Paisano did a wonderful super breakfast on Sunday morning for the 45 people attending. Everyone enjoyed the Capitan area very much and considered all who live here very fortunate.

Jimmy and Linda Wright and their two children enjoyed last weekend in Carlsbad.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne and family attended the 5th Annual Old Timers Reunion and Roping in Magdalena, NM Saturday. They also visited with their son Lee, who is working at the Adobe Ranch near Beaverhead, NM.

I join Curtis and Beverly Payne in wishing a happy birthday to his mother, Dorothy Payne of Carrizozo, whose day was Monday, July 14.

A letter from Loraine Cox informs me that her daughter Billie Jo died May 4 in Alamogordo. Her husband, Lloyd Albio, died last December. Her survivors are three daughters, Sarah Jean, Craig of Sulphur, OK, Debra Stawifer of High Rolls, and Tammy of Plantation, FL; two sisters, Peggy Wilson and Janet; one brother, Joe Wigley; her mother Sarah Loraine Cox of Roswell; and six grandchildren.

Billie Jo was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wigley of Capitan. A lovely family loved by everyone. Those children grew up here. I send my sympathy to Loraine Cox, and may God bless you and give you health, as well as Belle Wilson. Both of you strive to get well. I miss you.

Capitan

School begins August 19

CAPITAN--Fifth grade Education meets July 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the board room. The board room is located in the Old Elementary Building.

Dr. Leonard Hays, Mary Shanks, Ann and Jay Dark will attend a leadership training seminar in Ruidoso the week of July 21-25.

Principals Dark and Newsom, along with Hays, will attend a seminar at the end of July. The seminar will be put on by the National Academy of School Executives.

After the "smoke had cleared" Capitan teachers received a $2,200 raise in salary. This was their first increase in three years. Non-certified personnel received a 5 percent increase. The salary increases were mandated by law. There were no step increases.

Two foreign exchange students will be attending Capitan schools this year. One of these students is a German boy in the 11th or 12th grade. The other is a Rotary Exchange Student.

General information: All new students must have a complete shot record and a birth certificate. If students were in kindergarten last year in Capitan, this has already been done. Hays announced that students can enroll any time after July 21.

The Capitan Board of

FIRST PLACE FLOAT: This Capitan Chamber of Commerce Float won 1st place in the July 4 Smokey Bear Stamped Parade in Capitan. Mike Hainer is driving the tractor, Miss Liberty is Maarnle McDaniel.

Corona FFA members at annual campout

Several members of the Corona FFA chapter attended the 1986 State FFA Camp at Scott Able near Cloudcroft.

Marvin Pounds, recently elected FFA state secretary, was a group leader on the camp staff, as were other state officers.

Others attending from Corona were Tommy Mulkey, who won the sportsmanship award; Randy Leslie, who was one of the most improved campers; Tye Lightfoot, who was on the first place camp team; Shane Owen, and Dan Bell.

Campers attended workshops covering a variety of skills ranging from leadership and public speaking to etiquette and public relations. Camp activities also included competitive events such as camp olympics and the FFA Bowl, where they enjoyed meeting and working with the new 1986-87 state officers team.

State FFA Camp is an annual event sponsored by Past State Officers Alumni and New Mexico Association of FFA. Corona FFA sponsor Jamie Widner participated as a workshop leader on FFA Alumni.

Your Family—A Good Reason to Learn About Electrical Safety

Make sure your family learns to respect electricity and to avoid accidents that can be caused by coming into contact with it. It's easy to forget about the possible harm electricity can do if it is carelessly handled. Here are a few simple guidelines that can help:

1. Install child safety plugs in electrical outlets.
2. DO NOT install radio and television antennas near power lines.

3. Teach your children to fly kites or model airplanes away from power lines.
4. Teach your children to NEVER climb trees, poles or fences around power lines or utility company substations.
5. NEVER use any electrical appliance around sinks or bathtubs that are filled with water.

We're here to help with information about electrical safety — call us today.

MORAL RESPONSIBILITY

State prosecutors last week prepared about 10 more subpoenas for people who will be questioned by a grand jury investigating the cocaine-related death of Maryland basketball star Len Bias. State's attorney Arthur A. Marshall said that more than 70 prospective witnesses for the grand jury have been subpoenaed for the session beginning July 21.

Bias, young and talented — gone because of drugs. Don Rogers, another gifted athlete, sacrificed to cocaine.

It is too late for Bias and Rogers, but it is not too late to save others. Nancy Reagan implores that we be "unyielding, inflexible and outspoken" in opposition to drugs.

Reagan has been pursuing this goal for the last five years. In the beginning she felt the main task was to raise the level of awareness of the problem and make people more knowledgeable.

Reagan's headline of her latest opinion on drug abuse: "It is Past Time for Everyone to Join Fight Against Drugs."

The country's first lady writes, "The problem is this — most people don't feel that combating drugs has anything to do with them. It's for others to do, those who work in treatment centers or who have children on drugs or who live where drugs are openly traded on the street."

She continues: "I believe it's time to let people know that they have a personal, moral responsibility to fight drug abuse. Each of us has an obligation to take an individual stand against drugs. Each of us has a responsibility to be intolerant of drug use anywhere, anytime, by anybody." Mrs. Reagan has stated that everyone has an obligation to force the drug issue to the point it may make others uncomfortable and ourselves unpopular.

Mrs. Reagan tells of a time she was interviewed by a female magazine reporter who had attended a dinner where cocaine was passed around. The reporter told Mrs. Reagan that she had felt uneasy, but she didn't do anything.

"Well, she should have," Nancy said. "She should have gotten up from the table, told people what she thought and left."

would do nothing or ignore drug use must justify theirs," she wrote, a woman who cares even for the addict.

SOVIET PRESS

Almost 30 years after he was expelled from the Soviet leadership, Vyacheslav Molotov, once one of dictator Josef Stalin's closest associates, has been portrayed sympathetically in a Moscow newspaper as a 96-year-old great-grandfather enthusiastic about changes taking place in Soviet society.

The San Francisco Chronicle story said that the "quoted-as-having-said" report gave only the barest details of Molotov's career, and made no reference to his political downfall after he and other Stalinists tried unsuccessfully to oust Premier Nikita Khrushchew from office.

SOVIET TOUGHNESS

This Carriazo, NM newspaper columnist speculates that the Soviet press agency Tass is very leary of releasing too much information on controversial news items because it "makes the country" look bad.

One explanation for the publication of the grandfatherly Molotov article is that Molotov's age and the many years that have passed since the controversies and events in which he figured made him a natural candidate for a human-interest story.

The stolid, humorless diplomat (according to the San Francisco Chronicle reprinted article), helped Stalin assert Kremlin dominance in Eastern Europe and personified Soviet toughness in the postwar era.

GOOD 'OL USA

One Espanola ex-city police officer is no doubt glad that he is a US citizen with rights and all that goes with being an American.

David A. Gallegos sued the city in 1982 claiming he was wrongfully kept at entry-level pay during his stint as a city police officer, according to the Rio Grande Sun.

The lawsuit was settled recently for an undisclosed sum. Gallegos had claimed he was denied customary raises for political reasons — because he was the son of former Mayor Alex Gallegos.

The younger Gallegos had claimed the city of Espanola owed him $4,225.42 in back pay. He also sought $65,000 in punitive damages. Named in the suit were two former city managers, a former mayor and the city councilors serving at the time. All officials except one of the former city managers were dismissed as immune from the suit.

The ex-police officer said that when he was hired in 1979, terms of his employment included annual wage increases. However, he said he was passed over for the customary 5-percent salary hike after a year with the city. He also said he was excluded from a 10-percent wage increase given his co-workers in 1980.

Book collecting, publishing program by UTEP's press

Texas Western Press of El Paso will present a program on book collecting and publishing at 11:30 a.m. July 18 at the Copa de Oros Tea Room and Garden Patio in Ruidoso's Plaza de Oros.

A display of books will include the newest titles from the press, "The Spanish Mustang" by Don Worcester and the new revised edition of "Seven Keys to Texas" by T. R. Fehrenbach.

Nancy Hamilton, associate director, will tell about Texas Western Press, the publishing arm of the University of Texas at El Paso. It was founded 33 years ago by the late Carl Hertzog, a distinguished book designer.

Hamilton is a member of Western Writers of America and she writes a monthly book column for the group's magazine, she is a former book editor for the El Paso Times.

The book display will be arranged by Jeannette Bridler, sales manager.

Last fall, Dale L. Walker was named director of Texas Western Press. He was named to the Texas Institute of Letters in recognition of his achievements as an author.

Budget approved; paving funding being explored

Corona Village Council met July 10 with Mayor Ernest Lueras and council members Lee Mulkey, Minnie Davenport and Earl Roper present.

It was officially announced that Corona will receive $54,634 in State Highway Department Cooperative funds. These monies will be combined with $179,253 in Community Development Block Grant funds to implement Phase I of the street paving project wherein Thompson Avenue, DuBois Avenue (from Hwy 54 to Old Hwy 42), Kerr Avenue (from Hwy 54 to Summit Street), Old Hwy 42 (from Thompson to DuBois), Franklin (from Thompson to DuBois) and Summit Street (from Kerr to Thompson) will be paved.

issued in 1963 for $110,000, will be due in 2001 with $65,000 outstanding as of June 30, 1986.

The fire fund showed planned expenditures of $108,315 for new equipment including $91,466 fire fighting apparatus.

The Council approved the budget. Steve Massey from the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District conducted a public hearing to gather input from Corona residents concerning the needs of the town. He explained that CDBG funds are intended to benefit low and median income families and to prevent slum development and blight, and to assist communities in providing safe services to the citizenry.

resolution to that effect will be drawn up at a special session on July 24.

Council members informally discussed with surveyor Doug Dobbs and engineer Jake Vigil their concerns about proper drainage. Curbs and gutters were previously cut from the paving plans due to funding limitations, and council members want to be sure the new paving is not easily eroded by runoff after a few rain showers.

The cemetery fund lists an unaudited beginning cash balance of $3,346.63, estimated revenues of $600, budgeted fund expenditures of $600 leaving an estimated ending cash balance of $3,346.63. Revenues: opening of graves $500, lot sales $300 for the $600 total. Expenditures: operating expense of $600.

The sanitation fund has an unaudited beginning cash balance of $7,768.33, estimated revenues of $48,304, budgeted expenditures of $43,336 leaving an estimated ending cash balance of $7,716.33. Revenues: refuse removal charges $43,304. Expenditures: $43,356 operating of collection lease.

Water expenditures: salaries $41,094, employees benefits $6,504, equipment maintenance and operating $2,000, chemicals and treatment $2,000, fuel $3,000, supplies and expense $4,858, purchase of water $2,000, line expansion and replacement $2,500, meters $2,000, dues and miscellaneous $829, plant production and operating $18,000, audit fees $1,488, travel and training $3,000, uniforms and boots $912, for a total of $88,185 for water expenditures.

The grand total expenditures, including water sewer, utility administration and capital outlay for equipment is $126,507.

Carrizozo has nine full-time employees and three part-time employees. The budget for the 75th fiscal year includes $709,470 in revenues and $963,216 in expenditures.

The council reviewed the final budget as village clerk Beatrice Chavez informed those present that the proposed budget had been approved by the Department of Finance in Santa Fe. Chavez pointed out that revenue sharing funds have dropped from $2,468 last year to $1,106 this year. Of that amount, $300 will go to the Senior Citizen Center.

He listed eligible projects and announced that $4 million will be available statewide under the New Mexico Community Assistance Program and $6.8 million through CDBG.

Housing...

DiPaolo Hill.

The amount of the bid for the additional 6,500 square yards was $26,124 or about $4 per square yard, Atkins said. "The village will only have to come up with $18,000 because Rip Russell (owner of the Redman Club) is donating $10,000."

Ronnie Reed asked if the village could have another 60 feet paved and he would pay for it. The trustees agreed to put that in the contract with McCarty Construction.

Buchanan's motion to approve McCarty's bid was approved with only Trustee Laverne Cole voting against the motion.

In other business, the trustees:

-approved a motion to give a load of topsoil to Joe Wheatley who had his yard damaged in a flood due to recent heavy rains. Wheatley had been working with the village for 10 months to get the drainage problem in his River Park neighborhood alleviated. The village will also provide two community service workers to help Wheatley distribute the topsoil;

-approved the hiring of former police captain Charles Robinson as the code enforcement and grant administrative officer;

-approved the appointment of Alice Allison, Bernice Jones and Emma Carpenter as election judges in the Aug. 29 election to decide whether restaurants can sell liquor on Sunday.

Corona School Board...

quirements for students entering 9th grade this fall: 4 units in English, with major emphasis on grammar and literature; three units in mathematics; two units in science, one of which shall have a laboratory component; three units in social science, which shall include United States history and geography; world history and geography and government and economics; one unit in physical fitness; one unit in communication skills, with major emphasis on writing and speaking; and nine elective units, with only the following elective units being counted toward meeting the requirements for graduation: fine arts, practical arts, physical education, foreign language, speech, drama, vocational education, mathematics, science, English, ROTC, social science, and computer science.

In the meantime, the issue of making Corona's requirements comply exactly to state requirements for those students who will be in 10th, 11th, or 12th grades was not discussed by the board. However, the board did make family living/consumer education an elective — a move which most parents felt was in the right direction.

According to Jeanne Barck of the State Accreditation Unit in Santa Fe, state graduation requirements are generally considered the minimum, and it is not uncommon for local districts to require more.

Use of Non-Certified Personnel Although the board did not discuss or answer questions concerning the issue of aides teaching in the classroom, the NEWS learned that the practice is not an unusual one, especially in smaller districts.

According to Gilbert Martinez of the State Department of Education, aides have in-service training before being placed in the classroom. "We do have aides throughout the state, and most of them seem to be doing a good job with excellent results," he said. The local school board has the ultimate decision-making power, he added. "They can decide where best to utilize funding," said Martinez; the board makes its proposal accordingly and submits it to the state for approval.

However, the July 1985 edition of "Educational Standards for New Mexico Schools" clearly states: "Any person teaching, supervising an instructional program, counseling, or providing special instructional services in a public school shall hold a valid certificate authorizing the person to perform that function."

Teacher workloads Parents voiced concerns about teacher loads with specific references made to Corona High School head teacher Pat Perkins. In addition to teaching accounting, English, family living, study skills, and creative writing last school year, Mrs. Perkins was the counselor, head teacher, yearbook adviser, Student Council sponsor, and National Honor Society sponsor. Parents felt the load was more than anyone could handle effectively and asked the board to consider reductions.

Superintendent John Clem addressed the issue at the meeting by saying that Mrs. Perkins' duties had been significantly reduced and specifically mentioned that the yearbook advisory duties had been delegated elsewhere.

In a telephone interview, Mrs. Perkins declined to list what other duty reductions would be made in the coming school year and suggested that Clem be asked. Unfortunately, Clem had left town and was not available for comment.

Mrs. Perkins added that teacher load should, in her opinion, be assessed by the people involved in the activities and in the actual running of the school, not the parents. Jeanne Barck of the State Accreditation Unit in Santa Fe, agreed, citing "Educational Standards A.1.2.1: Functions of the Local Superintendent, (c): Make recommendations to the board of education on all official district business including... assignment of faculty and staff."

However, local board policy states, under "Duties of Superintendent, 2.06 E: To appoint, to assign, and to define the duties of all personnel, subject to approval of the board."

Local board policy does not specifically spell out duties of the head teacher, but rather calls for those duties to be worked out between the teacher and superintendent annually prior to the opening of school.

In any case, no discussion was held by board members on the issue, nor was any move made to take the issue under consideration for further study and possible action.

Public records Allegations that student work had or hadn't been assigned and completed were made. Although study skills seemed to be generally recognized by those present as a needed course, parents alleged that the course, when offered, was nothing more than a study hall. Study skills teacher Pat Perkins addressed the allegation by listing the study skills taught in the course and assuring parents and board members that, in fact, the papers were on file in her desk and could be seen by the parents.

Even so, in post-meeting interviews, parents continued to allege that the papers were not on file, that they had seen only a few, and were so interested in seeing some kind of classwork that they agreed to meet with a representative of the NEWS to verify their existence.

In a taped telephone interview, Mrs. Perkins said that the study skills papers were not on file; they had been destroyed at the end of school. Although no definite time has been set, Mrs. Perkins did agree to meet with a representative of the NEWS and parents when a board member and/or attorney could also be present.

Jeanne Barck with the State Department of Education noted that most student papers are, indeed, public record, as are lesson plans and curriculum guides. "Any document except personnel records and student records are considered public record," she said.

The board did not discuss the matter nor move to take it into consideration. The NEWS could find nothing in current local board policy which addresses itself to this particular controversy.

Discipline The issue of proper and consistent discipline procedures at both the elementary and high school levels was raised.

Supt. Clem addressed the issue by saying that it would be a difficult situation to work out an individual procedure for every kid in the school because everyone handles discipline differently and added, "I feel like we're going to have to allow the teachers to do the best job they can; I don't think we're going to agree with what they do, but I think for the most part they do a good job."

Some parents had asked if the disciplinary duties could be handled by the superintendent rather than the head teacher since these incidents sometimes took teachers out of their classrooms. Dr. Clem answered that he is required to attend a number of meetings during the year and that there needs to be a person in charge when he is gone.

Head teacher Perkins said in a telephone interview, "If the parents would back the discipline that is taken at the school, we would have a better educational system; but we don't always get the backing from the parents. But I also feel like the parents deserve to have an active interest in the school, too."

Local board policy addresses due process rights in cases of criminal acts but does not set forth guidelines for day-to-day disciplinary procedures.

School vehicle usage Evidently some controversy had developed over the seemingly inconsistent guidelines applied in the use of the school car.

Supt. Clem explained to the gathering that the state strongly advises against the use of vans and station wagons because they do not have roll bars and are not as safe as most school buses. He added that school insurance covers only "school sponsored" activities — those activities for which gas will be bought from the school budget.

Mike Yonkers, administrative assistant in the Transportation Division of the State Department of Education, verified that the structural integrity of vans, especially, results in the strong recommendation that they not be used.

However, because school trips are funded by the local district, Yonker said there is not much regulation that can be enforced by the state. The local board can make decisions on the use of vehicles that are not school buses, Yonkers said, and added, "It's not illegal to use them, but because of the liability factor, we strongly advise against their use." The state also strongly recommends that any driver of any vehicle being used on a school sponsored trip be a trained driver — one who has attended school bus driver school.

NEWS BRIEF

The South Central Mountain RC&D Council will meet Tuesday, July 22, at the South Fork Campground of Bonito Lake. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. with a public lunch provided at noon. Cost is $2.50 per person. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

After lunch, a tour will be conducted to view the critical area treatment above the dam where work is beginning to correct damage caused by flooding the past several years. The RC&D meetings are open to the public regardless of race, creed, color, sex, or national origin. Further information may be obtained by calling the RC&D project office in Carrizozo, 648-2941.

Smokey Bear Parade praised by chamber

By BART McDONOUGH

The Capitan Chamber of Commerce announced Monday that it has donated $25 to help purchase New Mexico pins. The three Capitan Rotary Exchange Students will use these pins while overseas.

Trophies the chamber furnished for the 1986 Smokey Bear Stampede Parade cost $582.82. This year's parade was pronounced a success. A parade committee was appointed for next year. The committee at this point consists of Aggie Kingston, Joe David Cummins, Dorothy Smith, and new chairman, Carol Reamy. This year's parade superintendent Aggie Kingston was praised for her work.

The chamber's float won 1st place in the float division. Helping to build this float were Bonnie McEuen, Kay Strickland, Aggie Kingston, Willie Hobbs and Maxine Wright.

Chamber members noted that the recent clean-up day in Capitan was mentioned in the May publication of Beautifultion Briefs, Keep New Mexico Beautiful, Inc.

The next regular meeting of the Capitan Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Aug. 4. This meeting will take place at 11:30 a.m. at B & L

Pizza. Christmas decorations and other topics are sure to be discussed.

Bingo continues to be popular on Thursday nights. Meeting place is the fair building in Capitan, 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thomas

Couple to observe 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thomas will be honored with a reception on July 26, 2-4 p.m., at the Mountainair Assembly of God Church Fellowship Hall, to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The former Dorothy Ruth Flemings of Stamford, TX and Lee Thomas, born in Willard, NM, were married on July 24, 1936, in Los Lunas, NM. They farmed in the East Mesa community until 1955, when they moved to Corona, where they lived until 1961. They then moved back to the Mountainair community, where Lee retired from the Central New Mexico Electric Coop, and Dorothy Ruth retired from the US Postal Service in 1981.

Guests are asked to bring a picture, memento, or write a brief account of a time shared with Dorothy Ruth and Lee for their scrapbook. No other gifts, please.

All their friends are invited to attend the reception. Those who cannot attend may write to them at Box 56, Mountainair, NM 87036.

Lincoln County

'Long Ago'

By Ruth Hammond

The Lincoln Republican, Lincoln, New Mexico, Friday, May 13, 1892. James J. Dolan, Editor.

Mining News

We learn that Messrs. Watson & Peters have struck a streak of quartz, rich in gold on the 100 foot level in the "Eureka" in the Jicarillas, which is likely to reward them for the patient prospecting of the past years.

Brown and E. S. Comery of White Oaks are working the "Prince Albert" in the Jicarillas, stamping the rock at the Glass mill at White Oaks. They are reported to be making a good thing of it, which we hope is true.

No one thinks of Lincoln as a "mining town" never-the-less quite a number of our people are interested in mines and prospects in different parts of the county, some of which afford in the course of development, some of the belief, that we may at no distant date, number among our people, several "eminent miners," that is to say rich ones.

It is hardly known as yet even in White Oaks, that what may be called a new gold district is opening up in the Jicarilla mountains. Last fell one of our citizens of Lincoln made a discovery of gold float north and east of Jerry Hocradle's old ranch. The discovery has been followed up by him and others, and considerable development has been already made. The ore is identical in their characteristics with those of "Eureka" and "Prince Albert". The veins appear to be of the same geological age as those named; are well defined; enclosed in granitoid rocks, carry ores of good grade; and promise to develop into veins of considerable value.

These finds quite double the known extent of the Jicarilla mountain gold district and affect its prospective value in equal degree.

Miners and prospectors are watching with interest the prospective opening of the Mescalero Apache Reservation to settlement and exploration. Many discoveries actual-ing at least two mining camps of considerable importance will be built up within the Reservation upon mineral veins already known to exist.

The Local Budget Mr. Biggs, of saw-mill fame, was in Lincoln yesterday.

The VV round-up passed through town yesterday.

Jose Montana has gone to Las Vegas to sell his wool.

Not a Roberts in town—all on the wing for Tularosa.

A nine-pound boy came to the home of Mr. George Sens, on Sunday, May 8th.

Judge Cronin went to Roswell Wednesday. He may visit El Paso during his absence and return by way of White Oaks.

The saw-mill belonging to Baird & Lewis, on the lower Penasco, was burned last week. There is every reason to believe that the fire was the work of an incendiary. No insurance.

Friday, May 20, 1892 The Local Budget Mr. Geo. B. Barber made a flying trip to the Penasco, this week.

Mrs. George Sens is dangerously sick of fever. Mr. John Thornton has returned from the Jicarillas.

The music of the mowing machine is heard in the alfalfa fields around Lincoln.

W. M. Needham, of this place, is the inventor of a car-coupler, for which he has taken out a patent.

The Old Abe Eagle this week records the death, of congestion of the brain, of little Robert, aged six months, only child of H. L. Ross, editor of the Eagle. Mr. and Mrs. Ross have the sincere sympathy of the Republican in the loss of their bright and beautiful boy.

'Tips & Advice to Better Cooking'

by Willie Silva

To keep your meringue toppings from shrinking, spread the meringue over the filling so that it slightly overlaps the rim of the crust. That way, even if the topping shrinks, the filling will still be covered. The reason that meringue shrinks is that heat causes egg protein contract.

The reasons that some hard boiled eggs are hard to peel is because they are too fresh. An air cell forms between the shell membranes as the egg ages and separates the shell from the egg. In fresh eggs the air cell is small, about the width of a dime. In older eggs, it can be the width of a quarter. So for picnics and Easter Sunday, buy the eggs a few days before and leave out at room temperature the night before for dehydration.

If you are on a low-sodium diet, you should avoid foods with baking soda. Baking soda (sodium bicarbonate) is extremely high in sodium. It contains more than 1,000 milligrams per teaspoon. "Potassium bicarbonate", which is usually available at drug stores, is sodium free! Use this product in place of baking soda in all your recipes.

Old cast iron skillet have to be seasoned any time they begin to show rust. The best way to do this is: wipe the exterior with vegetable oil or unsalted solid vegetable shortening, making sure the surface is completely filmed, then add a layer of oil or shortening 1/4 inch deep. Warm the skillet over medium heat until the oil is thin and hot but not smoking. Transfer the skillet to a 250-degree preheated oven and bake one hour. Turn off the heat and leave the pan in the oven for at least 12 hours or overnight. Wipe off any excess oil with paper towels. Actually, the best way to prevent cast iron skillets from rusting and losing its seasoning is to never wash them in soap and then leave them to air dry. After each use, rinse in hot water and scrub with stiff brush. Salt can be used as an abrasive. Also, remember that large amounts of acidic foods, such as wine, tomatoes, vinegar or fruit juices, will remove the seasoned layer you worked hard to build up. Cook those foods in separate pans.

Lincoln Town

Ramblings

By Rosalie Dunlap

Lincoln was humming last week with news media covering the Bryon Summers "dowsing" the old McSween site.

He explained what he was doing, saying nearly everyone has the ability to do what he does but we haven't "developed our sensitivity" to do so.

He has to be told what they are looking for, such as bodies, guns, walls and piano in the McSween house.

He found what he considers to be two bodies, maybe one too old to be an occupant of the house; some guns, maybe the sounding board of the piano and a place where someone was in great suffering—perhaps where Hegnio Salazar was shot—and the location of the walls.

The locals, tourists and news media asked Summers several questions, and he had some bystanders try their hand at dowsing.

Mary Nickels, daughter of Bill Nickels of Carrizozo, was a visitor in Lincoln Sunday. She is going to NMSU furthering her education after working in Phoenix for several years.

Residents of Lincoln and surrounding area are gearing up for another Old Lincoln Days.

James Sanchez is parade chairman and is taking applications now. He can be contacted at 653-4821. The theme will be "Old Lincoln Days." Individuals on horseback, on foot, in costumes, antique cars (25 years or older), floats, and any other pertinent entry is encouraged to enter. Mass will be held at 4:15 p.m. on Saturday.

Rosina Locke and Jerry Pace recently celebrated their birthdays.

Nina Taylor is recovering nicely from a badly sprained ankle she suffered a month ago.

Cy Salas is steadily improving from his fall off a ladder.

Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor and daughter of California are home visiting relatives and friends.

The archeologists will begin the McSween dig Saturday, July 19. Lincoln town is expecting a lot of people over the weekend.
