

Airport plans advance, but not without opposition

By RIGO CHAVEZ

While plans for the Sierra Blanca Airport atop Fort Stanton Mesa took a big leap forward last Friday with the transfer of 1,663 acres of federal land to the state, those opposed to the airport still believe they can stop the project.

Gov. Toney Anaya accepted a deed from Charles Luscher, state director of the Bureau of Land Management, for the land which is part of the Fort Stanton Military Reservation and lies about 15 miles northeast of Ruidoso.

"This day has been a long time in coming," Luscher said as he outlined the final events leading up to the transfer in a ceremony at Cree Meadows Country Club Friday afternoon.

Luscher noted that Congress had signed legislation authorizing the transfer in August 1955, but that the land had to be re-surveyed and the Federal Aviation Administration and New Mexico State University had to be consulted. The university was using the land as part of its research in agriculture.

In accepting the deed on behalf of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission, Anaya said he planned to do what he could to "help get this project moving."

"I brought a larger plane from Santa Fe so we'd have room for a back hoe and a bulldozer because we're ready to start work," Anaya said jokingly.

"We'll press ahead and maybe be ready to break ground on July 1," he said.

Anaya thanked the airport commission for their patience and diligence in getting the project underway. "It's an important project for the whole state because we are so dependent on tourism."

Following the presentation of the deed, airport commission chairman Fred Heckman honored the governor and some 30 other state and local officials with plaques bearing the BLM seal.

Heckman said the plaques were given in appreciation for the contributions so many had made in bringing about the airport and the transfer of the land.

Heroin seized, 3 charged

By RUTH HAMMOND

The Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept. seized five grams of heroin during a raid of the Jose Javier del Rio property in the Mesa Verde addition near Capitan on Tuesday.

An earlier raid on Saturday resulted in the finding of four guns, approximately $1,600 in cash, various drugs and drug paraphernalia.

The investigation leading to the arrest of Jose Javier del Rio, 37, and Betty Caroline Herrera, 23, and Tomas Soler, 30, was a joint effort between the sheriff's department, the state police, the Ruidoso police department and the FBI.

The suspects were arraigned in magistrate court. Javier was charged with possession of marijuana less than 1 oz.; possession of a controlled substance, to-wit heroin; trafficking of a controlled substance, to-wit heroin; and with being a fugitive from justice. Bond was set at $25,000, no 10 percent.

Betty Herrera was charged with possession of a controlled substance, to-wit Darvicet; and conspiracy to traffic a controlled substance, to-wit heroin. Bond was set at $15,000, no 10 percent.

Tomas Soler, was charged with conspiracy. He is an illegal alien living on the Javier place.

FIVE GRAMS OF heroin valued at $5,000 to $6,000 was seized by the Lincoln County Sheriff's department in a raid near Capitan on Tuesday. Chief Deputy Charlie Cox shows items that were seized at the same location on Saturday-drugs and drug paraphernalia, four guns and approximately $1,600 in cash. Another $390 was found with the heroin.

Vehicle search nets $400,000 in marijuana

By RUTH HAMMOND

State Policeman Bart Skelton on normal patrol duty on highway US 380 yesterday in Lincoln County stopped a vehicle for following too closely.

A search of the vehicle revealed bags of suspected marijuana, weighing approximately 250 pounds. According to Assistant District Attorney Harry G. Wilcox and arresting officer Skelton the value of the suspected marijuana is in excess of $400,000.

Wilcox stated that bond for the suspect, John A. Shields, 35, of Wichita, Kansas, was set by magistrate judge S. M. Ortiz at $100,000 no 10 percent.

Wilcox also stated that felony charges have been approved and that the suspect will remain incarcerated pending a first appearance hearing before Judge Ortiz.

Officer Skelton was recently nominated "Officer of the Quarter" by the 12th Judicial District Law Enforcement Association commending his outstanding police work resulting in the seizure of over $350,000 in illegal narcotics.

Bob Scribner

Bob Scribner of Alto, however, will not be receiving any honors from those in favor of the airport.

In an interview on Tuesday, Scribner said he had been against it "right from the start."

He said, "I see it as a complete waste of taxpayers' money. We can't support it economically. If the capital in Santa Fe can't generate enough traffic to support an airport with jet traffic, I don't see how we can."

Scribner added that the airport will lose money and those who say it won't "are running a sham on the citizens of this county."

Ruidoso Airport manager Tim Morris, however, disputes Scribner's claims. "We can increase traffic and we can make money with a new airport. One of the reasons we'll be able to make money is through reduced maintenance costs."

Morris said that if the present airport is not replaced within the next one-to-two years the runway will have to be resurfaced at a cost of $300,000.

Scribner, who with about 25 others who oppose the airport have written letters to New Mexico's congressional delegation, said he also believes claims about the danger of the present airport have been inflated.

A Marine pilot for more than 20 years, Scribner, 62, said he has flown in and out of the Ruidoso airport and airports all over the world. "For experienced pilots this airport should present no more problems than any other. The pilots need more training, we don't need a new airport."

Morris, who has been at the Ruidoso airport for 15 years, agreed that experienced pilots have no real difficulties with the present airport.

"The thing is that 85 percent of those who use this airport are novice pilots—weekend flyers who have not had that much experience with high altitude, high winds situations," Morris said.

Morris cited the most recent fatal accident at the high 7,000-foot airport. He said in the 1984 crash the pilot allowed the plane to drift too far to the east without rising. The plane crashed about a quarter mile from the airport killing one person and injuring three others.

"The accident was attributed to pilot error, but if he hadn't had to deal with the altitude and the high winds he probably would have made it with no problems," Morris said.

The airport manager added that he sees the Fort Stanton Mesa project as a way to move the airport away from populated areas. "If we have the opportunity to move it we should. Otherwise a crash on main street in Ruidoso is just an accident waiting to happen. It's only a matter of time."

Despite the apparent inevitability of the airport's construction, Scribner and his supporters seem undaunted. "I think if we can get the message to the people about how much the new airport will cost them, we can stop it."

CARRIZOZO ELECTION CANVASSED—

Hemphill lead cut to 3, Gross receipts tax wins

Magistrate Judge Montez of Capitan came to Carrizozo Thursday to conduct the canvassing of the votes that were cast in the municipal election held on March 4.

Bob Hemphill's lead was narrowed to three votes when Montez allowed three more of the write-in votes that were cast for write-in Cecilia Kuhnel.

Montez would not allow one vote he declared illegible. A total of five votes cast were not allowed. Two of the votes had the last name of Kuhnel with no first name or initial and are not allowed by state statute. One vote had the first name of Cecilia with no last name and is not allowed by state statute. One vote had "Yes" which was not allowed. The remaining vote was declared illegible by Judge Montez. It had also been declared illegible by the election judges on election night.

The surprise of the canvass was learning that the gross receipts tax did pass by 10 votes.

On election night, the totals from the voting machine for the two questions were announced in the wrong order. When put in the correct order, and added with the absentee ballots, the new totals show the gross receipts ordinance with the revenue dedicated to streets and alleys, to pass by 10 votes, and question

No. 2 on Sunday sales by the drink on the licensed premises of licensees failed by four votes.

The official vote on the two questions: Question No. 1: 126 for and 116 against. Question No. 2: 128 for and 132 against.

Ruidoso officials take oath

By RIGO CHAVEZ
"I do solemnly swear..." was the chorus as five new village officials were sworn into office Monday night in Ruidoso. The new mayor and councilors got right to work as they met in their first regular meeting Tuesday night.

Following their oaths of office, Mayor Lloyd Davis, and councilors Elmer Pirelli, Larry Simon, William "Dub" Holt and Victor Alonso spoke briefly to those in attendance Monday night.

Davis said that he would be as responsive as possible to the demands and needs of the citizens of Ruidoso. "Things will be met head on," he assured the audience. "I will listen to your concerns and try to help you as best I can. I hope that the village employees will also respond and help if they can."

Pirelli pledged "to represent everyone, even those who didn't vote for me."

Simon echoed Pirelli's sentiments and added that "anything I can do to help, I will be glad to do."

Holt commended the voters of Ruidoso for showing their interest and concern by turning out in record numbers last Tuesday.

"If the enthusiasm continues, Ruidoso will be headed in the right direction," Holt said.

Alonso said he was appreciative of the confidence shown in him. "I'm proud to be a part of our system, a system that requires no blood shed in the transfer of power," he said.

Before adjourning the Monday night meeting, Davis recommended that the current appointed city officials all be retained.

So by the unanimous consent of the council, James Hine was retained as village manager and treasurer, Leon Eggleston as village clerk, John Underwood as village attorney and Richard Swenor as chief of police.

A short meeting on Tuesday night began with the proclamation by Mayor Davis of Girl Scout Week in Ruidoso. Members of the local scout troop presented the New Mexico and United States flags in a formal ceremony as the meeting commenced.

Unsuccessful village council candidate Al Junge addressed the council on problems in Tuesday's elections.

Saying he agreed that he had been "trounced by opponent Alonso," Junge told councilors of an incident in which a woman who had been voting for many years in Ruidoso had not been allowed to cast her ballot because of a registration mix-up.

"I wish there was some way that the laws could be changed to accommodate such people. The woman, Mrs. R. A. Bennett, was very upset," Junge said.

Barbara Duff, who was judge at last week's elections, said she had called the county clerk's office in Carrizozo when Mrs. Bennett's problem came up but she had been told nothing could be done.

Ms. Duff also apologized for any inconvenience voters may have suffered because of long lines at the Ruidoso Library, the village's only polling place last week. "What we plan to do next time is break-up the alphabet so we have four voters lists instead of two and we can cross voters' names off quicker."

Councilor Jerry Shaw was unanimously chosen mayor pro-tem for another term.

Before adjourning into executive session to discuss personnel matters, the council:

KUHNEL FILES SUIT—

Carrizozo election winds up in court

A complaint for contest of election was filed Thursday morning in the District Court of Lincoln County by Cecilia G. Kuhnel, a write-in candidate for Mayor of Carrizozo in the March 4 municipal election.

Her petition alleges that Robert E. Hemphill, the person to whom the Certificate of Election was issued, is not a resident of Carrizozo, and for that reason she should have been certified as winner of the mayor's race.

She lost the March 4 election by three votes. A second count set out in the petition filed yesterday alleges voting irregularities which, she told the NEWS, "destroyed the sanctity and secrecy of the ballot," and that there exist specific acts of voting irregularity in the nature of malfunctioning of the voting machine, refusal of election judges to render voter assistance, and the inability of voters to operate the write-in lever due to machine malfunction.

She asks that the court declare Cecilia G. Kuhnel the plural winner of the majority of the votes cast, entitling her to the Certificate of Election and the privileges, duties and emoluments of the office of mayor.

The petition also seeks impoundment of ballots. Purpose of the recount and recheck is to verify the counting and tallying of the votes cast on the voting machine, and of the votes shown on the voting machine.

Mel B. O'Reilly, attorney for Kuhnel, said the evidence is clear that the election judges "disregarded their duty" in conduct of the election.

Lifeline program may save lives

People living alone or who are alone for more than eight hours are eligible for a new service in Lincoln County that will give them immediate access to help if needed, even if the person is not near a phone.

The Hospital Emergency Lifeline Program (HELP) began when the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation gave a grant of $10,000 and the hospital auxiliary donated $20,000 to the program.

The first Lifeline in Carrizozo was installed in the home of Fred Current on March 5. Current will wear a pendant around his neck with a call button to push if he needs help and can not get to the phone. A base unit in the Ruidoso hospital will beep, alerting the attendant that there is a problem.

The attendant will place a call to Current and if there is no answer, the sheriff's office will be contacted. Someone will go to see about Current, and if necessary call an ambulance.

The telephone call from the hospital to the Current home is made first to make sure the button has not been pushed accidentally. The beeper in the hospital will sound any time the button is pushed or if the unit is not re-set each day.

There will be 13 Lifeline units installed in the Carrizozo-

Capitan-Coroga area. They are being installed by the Lions Club as a service project. John Booker and Bill Hasenbuehler installed Current's Lifeline.

Ellen Anderson, director for HELP, asks that anyone interested in more information about Lifeline contact her at the Ruidoso Hospital, Rosemary Zink at the Carrizozo Health Center, or Barbara Ward at ZIA Senior Citizens Center.

Free cancer screening clinics are available

By RUTH HAMMOND
Many cancers can be cured if found early.

The state provides a free cancer screening clinic that is available through the public health office in the courthouse in Carrizozo and the sub-office in Ruidoso.

These clinics are for high risk individuals as well as individuals who do not regularly go to the doctor for examinations and are for both men and women. Everyone is eligible.

The following groups of persons are at higher risk of developing cancers; Persons who have had cancer themselves; persons with a history of cancer among blood relatives; persons age 45 and over; and smokers.

If you are in one of the above groups or have not had a cancer check-up in the last three to five years, call the local public health office for more information and an appointment. Clients are seen by appointment only. Call 648-2412 in Carrizozo or 258-2252 in Ruidoso for more information.

Lorna Graben, family nurse practitioner from Hobbs, conducts the two clinics in Lincoln County as well as clinics in Artesia, Carlsbad, Roswell, Dexter, Hobbs, and Lovington. She has been working with the cancer screening clinics for three and a half years. The clinic in Carrizozo started in November 1985.

Cancer screening does not replace an annual physical examination by a physician. It does not check blood for cholesterol or diabetes, and it does not diagnose or treat illness.

Cancer screening consists of a collection of medical and family history, limited lab tests, and an examination for cancer of the head and neck, skin, breasts, and rectal for both men and women. In addition, women will be checked for cervical cancer (pap test) and men will be checked for cancer of the prostate.

Persons found to have suspicious findings are referred to appropriate physicians, clinics or hospitals for further evaluation or treatment. Graben also presents programs about the prevention of cancer to businesses and individuals. She said, "Cancer prevention is a matter of education."

OPINION

Ernest V. Joiner

● BEFORE I blow my top, two quotations to set the stage: "We have no commission from God to police the world," President Benjamin Harrison said that.

● NOW, "The history of failure in war can be summed up in two words: Too late. Too late in comprehending the deadly purpose of a potential enemy; too late in realizing the mortal danger; too late in preparedness; too late in uniting all possible forces for resistance; too late in standing with one's friends." Gen. Douglas MacArthur said that. Bearing these two pieces of wisdom in mind, let us to the barricades.

● IT is time someone discussed the one and only reason why the Reagan Administration should intervene, by whatever means, to overthrow the Marxist government of Nicaragua. There is a hostile Marxist takeover on our southern doorstep. It poses a serious threat to the security of the United States. It must be overthrown to guarantee the safety of this country.

● LET us can the baloney about human rights violation by the Contras or by anyone else down there. We don't give a damn about human rights in Nicaragua, any more than we give a damn about human rights violations in the Soviet Union, Afghanistan, Angola, China, Mozambique, Ethiopia, Iran, or in a dozen other countries basking in the tender care of Soviet surrogate governments.

● IT will be appreciated if liberal bleeders in the Big Media would cut their output of unmitigated crap about "death squad" atrocities by the Contras and others in Nicaragua. The American people don't give a hoot about people being killed, else we would be doling equally with the people of three-fourths of the earth who daily meet with torture and death by Marxist regimes within the Soviet orbit.

● BEAT your breasts and anguish if you must about the legitimacy of the "democratic" government of Nicaragua. The fact is, we don't give a damn about democracy anywhere else in the world, and we don't think much of it at home. If we cared about democracy, which is a lousy system anyway, we would nourish it better at home and not champion it selectively in Nicaragua, at the same time ignoring the lack of it elsewhere in the world.

● A pestiferous pox on our intellectual who persuade us via the New York Times and Washington Post media axis that the dictator of Nicaragua, Daniel Ortega, is not a Communist but just another "reformer" bringing the joys of democracy to his cheering multitudes. Media pundits thunder that Ortega is not a Communist, yet Ortega says he is. Liberal Congressmen say Ortega is not a Communist, and Ortega replies that he is indeed a Marxist-Leninist. Organized religions, up to their collective crotches in partisan politics, tell their congregations that Ortega is no Communist, and Ortega calls a press conference to let the world know that he is a Communist. Whom shall we believe? Why is Ortega having such difficulty in convincing the US that he is a Marxist? We believe everything else Ortega tells us; why can't we accept his word that he is a Communist?

● IT was Herbert Matthews of the New York Times who sold this nation the lie that Fidel Castro was the Abraham Lincoln of Cuba who abhorred Communism. So we traded Batista, a dictator but strong ally of the US, for Castro. The Shah of Iran was a dictator but a good friend of the US and not a friend of the media, so we had to trade him for Khomeini. Somoza was, as Harry Truman politely put it, "a son of a bitch, but our son of a bitch." With media help we traded our friend Somoza for our enemy Ortega in Nicaragua. Ferdinand Marcos, a tough dictator, but a friendly ally of the US, was toppled by Corazon Aquino, who's first official act was to release all Communist prisoners. I predict the Philippines will be Communist-controlled within two years and our strongest military outpost in the Pacific will be lost forever.

● BACK to the one and only reason why we should intervene, with military aid or all-out force, to depose Ortega. The security of this nation depends on driving any Communist regime from the Western Hemisphere. The Monroe Doctrine, which served the country and the world so well until that idiot Jimmy Carter trashed it, holds that the US will not tolerate the presence of a foreign ideology anywhere in the Western Hemisphere. Not to revive the Monroe Doctrine means the eventual fall of El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Guatemala and finally, Mexico. When that happens, we will be the last domino. We can't stop the enemy with stupid chatter about "love" and the delights of "negotiation." Such folly will not drive the Sandinistas and Contras into each other's loving arms. If we fail to intervene, this country will either surrender or face a savage war which the western world and its allies cannot win.

● SANDINISTAS are not my friends. I don't care if they have human rights, honest elections, or a sufficiency of ham sandwiches for the poor. I want them out of Nicaragua alive or in Nicaragua dead. My survival takes precedence over theirs. Custom, law, morality and common sense cry out for the use of force to repel the enemies of freedom.

● ENOUGH emotional tears have been shed over injecting brotherly love into practical politics. We have settled no wars by negotiation and we never will. "Talking to each other" is a liberal cliché, and it is as useless in settling power disputes as the welfare check is in ending poverty. Let us give massive military aid to the Contras now. If that doesn't work, unleash the Marines and get it over. "Horror," you say. "No more Vietnam!" Hell, no. This time the idea will be to win, not lose. The only reason we have this country is because somebody fought for it. No one embarrasses a power-mad thing by endless appeals about human rights. The enemy is not swayed by protestations of brotherly love. Things respect cannons, not compassion. You don't want this country any more? Fine. Continue the blathering about human rights, love and compassion as tools of diplomacy. Then your dream will come true. And you won't enjoy mining salt in Siberia any better than you enjoy being a free human being.

THE COST OF CONFINEMENT:

WATCH OVER WASHINGTON—

Spectacular smear job In Manila by US Big Media

By LES KINSOLVING
WASHINGTON — If you watched the pack journalists on CBS or ABC that morning, Sunday, Feb. 23 may have been one highwater mark of what columnist William Rusher described as the "spectacular smear job" that the Big Media did in the Philippines to yet another friend of the United States.

Mr. Rusher noted that our media's heroine, Corazon Aquino, has not the slightest qualification to serve as chief executive. In Philadelphia, one of my listeners from Bryn Mawr asked if her running mate, Salvador Laurel, isn't one of the Laurel family who collaborated with the Japanese and ran the puppet occupation government.

Adrian Lee of the Philadelphia Daily News decries the sleazy efforts to discredit the Distinguished Service Cross won by Ferdinand Marcos in fighting the Japanese invaders. And columnist Lee asks an especially burning question, as to how the Big Media Herd could possibly have tolerated Panama's dictator Col. Omar Torrijos — as they surely did.

Corazon Aquino reportedly has a marvelous plan to run the Philippines. She's thinking of turning over the decision-making to 50 advisers. Did you hear or read much about this brilliant political innovation? (I did not think you did.)

Did our Big Media Herd report even one instance of misconduct by Mrs. Aquino's supporters? Or are they really the Ivory Soap Party (99 and 44-100ths percent pure)?

On the bright side: Isn't it just grand to see how concerned the House of Representatives has suddenly become about election fraud? Will they welcome Filipino observers to examine the way they so recently stole an Indiana Congressional election from Republican Rich McIntyre and gave it to Frank McCloskey? Will Filipino observers also be welcomed to Chicago to look into the 1960 election in which enough "tombstones walked" that Richard Nixon lost the election to John Kennedy?

Or that Texas election in which "Landslide Lyndon" Johnson won election to the Senate — by 87 votes?

Is your stomach also turned by our Big Media's continuing insistence on identifying Marcos as "dictator" — while always identifying Gorbachev as "The Soviet Leader"?

Was there some fraud in the Philippine election? Almost certainly. But there are two questions that almost none of the media are asking:

(1) When in the history of the Philippines has there ever been an election without fraud and gunplay?

(2) When has US Big Media tabulated the number of countries receiving US aid — who never have elections or more than one party?

And there is one more question:

How many more friends of the United States do our left-wing-dominated Big Media plan to character-assassinate?

They have done it to Taiwan, to South Vietnam, to Rhodesia, to South Korea, to the Philippines, to Cuba, to Cambodia, to Iran, to Chile, to South Africa and to Nicaragua, among others, most of whose governments fell and were replaced by such humanitarian winners as the Ayatollah Khomeini, Fidel Castro, Pol Pot, Robert Mugabe and the Ortega Boys.

Consider the extensive roll call of friends of the United States who have perished and been replaced by far worse. Isn't there some evidence here of what Mr. Lenin predicted so long ago as the capitalist tendency to produce large numbers of what he called "useful idiots" — along with selling him the rope with which his people will hang us?

Useful idiocy, rather than extensive KGB penetration of our Big Media, is what I would hope can account for the striking similarity between the chronology of US Major Media maledictions and the goals of Kremlin foreign policy.

Whatever the final outcome in Manila and the Philippines in the weeks ahead, now that Aquino has replaced Marcos, let the American people beware of Big Media attempts to disestablish the governments of this nation's dwindling number of friends.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL—

This could be Cargo's 'Hurrah'

By FRED McCAFFREY

SANTA FE — Try this idea on for size: Reies Lopez Tixerina and David Cargo vs. Bill Richardson for a seat in the Congress of the United States.

The lady Cargo has frequently squired around since he returned from Oregon is the daughter of Tixerina (ne Tixerina), the Tiger of the North, who led, while Cargo was New Mexico's governor, an abortive raid on the Rio Arriba county courthouse.

Cargo, in case you just entered the room and have not been following the conversation, is being pushed into the fight against Richardson by a group of his fellow Republicans, while some Democrats stand on the sidelines and cheer them on. The members of the Grand Old Party involved in this caper are the kind who never in their wildest dreams pictured themselves being linked to Tixerina, even indirectly.

THOSE OTHER GUYS: Why would Democrats want to see Lonesome Dave get into race on the other side, you may be asking.

Easy. They don't like to see the voters bored to death.

Those folks up North, who know more about politics than anybody except veterans of Tammany Hall, have been worrying that if squeaky-clean

Ray Powell sets the tone for their party's campaign from the top of the ticket, the voters will not be charged up to turn out on election day.

If Cargo is in there, though, they hope, there will be fireworks and drama and laughs and plenty of action — and on Nov. 4, lots of citizens in their district will turn out to vote and put the coup de grace to Cargo's political career once for all.

Stranger. That's exactly what some of those putting up the money on the Republican side are hoping will happen.

LOSER: Some of this writer's brothers and sisters in the business of communication get confused about what their job is when they start putting down words about Cargo. They forget that he should be measured as a politician, not as an entertainer.

If you look at his political record, you'll see this: The man served two terms in the New Mexico Legislature and then came out of nowhere to get himself elected governor. He did that twice, but since then, his luck has turned bad. He twice was turned down in New Mexico Republican primaries when he wanted to be the party candidate for the US Senate. After the second rebuff, he packed his things and moved up to Oregon. Up there, he waited modestly long before running again but when he did, for state treasurer, he ran third in a three-man race. After that, he packed it in up there and came home to New Mexico to see what he could accomplish here.

WINNER: Going against Richardson could be fun for Dave, but it could end up putting him into his fourth losing race in a row.

Richardson is a doughty campaigner who came within 5000 votes of plunging Manuel Lujan to defeat. In all the counties where Cargo will be running against him now in the third district, Richardson beat Manuel. He has since run two successful races there, while Cargo was still up in the rainy county of Oregon.

By getting into the run, David may provide all of us with some entertainment. What he may get himself for his troubles, however, is likely to be a Last Hurrah.

"So go ahead and sue it's just your computer's word against our computer's word."

Letters TO THE EDITOR

SAME OLD STORY . . .

EDITOR—Conspiracy watchers have much to watch as events unfold themselves in the Philippines, although it seems like watching re-runs.

The anti-communist President Marcos had to go. Marcos long ago outlawed the communists. The press said he was corrupt.

Marcos was replaced by the more liberal Cory Aquino, who sees no point in outlawing communists; she sees nothing wrong with them serving in her administration.

The actual election had no validity because Marcos got the most votes.

America's popular anti-communist president, Ronald Reagan, depended upon members of the Council on Foreign Relations to replace US policy; that would be, special presidential envoy Philip Habib and Secretary of State George Schultz.

Conservatives bitterly recall that back in 1980, then presidential candidate Ronald Reagan promised that his administration would not be another administration dominated by CFR members. Once elected, he promptly appointed around 80 members to key positions.

The press applauded those appointments even though both the press and the Gipper knew from past history that CFR members had a way of running the football in the wrong direction toward the wrong goal.

They assured us that Mao Tse-tung was a great agrarian reformer who was hardly a communist at all. Fidel Castro was portrayed as "the George Washington of Cuba," as the "Robin Hood of the Sierra Madres," and that, if anything he was an anti-communist.

The tactics change very little; the anti-communist is "corrupt," the revolutionary is as pure as the driven snow, and in no way Red.

It's still the same old story, the liberals get the glory, the conservatives can cry, but treachery abounds on high, as time goes by.

RAYMOND C. WILSON,
San Juan Bautista, CA

TO "SERVE & PROTECT" . . .

TO THE EDITOR—As is written in the Law Enforcement Code of Ethics, officers of the Ruidoso Police Dept. are sworn to "serve and protect." This premise is much more than a catchy cliché and/or obligatory oath taken by all law enforcement officers. It is the primary goal and objective of this department.

To many people, the job of a police officer is simply to "enforce the law." In reality our officers are actively involved in a myriad of diverse community activities. For example we support Students Against Drunk Drivers (SADD), Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD), the Police Athletic League (PAL), Neighborhood Watch and Crime Stoppers, to mention a few.

Officers maintain a close working relationship with the Ministerial Alliance, the Counseling Center, Alcoholics Anonymous, the Rape Crisis Center, Suicide Prevention, and other such organizations to provide coordination of quick-quality professional services to those in their moment of need.

I would like to take this opportunity to remind each of you that our officers are more than willing to answer questions you may have about the services we provide, and I encourage you to meet our officers on a one-on-one basis; to get to know them not only as the village's law enforcement officers but as fellow concerned members of the community as well.

Together with the newly elected Mayor and Village Council we are looking forward to an exciting year aimed at promoting the positive image of Ruidoso...reminding all of the fact that "tough times never last...but tough people do."

Ruidoso is indeed a community on the go, and we sincerely hope to encourage great numbers of out-of-town - out-of-state people to choose our relaxed and friendly atmosphere as their place for recreational enjoyment. Successfully fulfilling this goal as a service oriented agency and village may only be accomplished through positive interaction and with the whole-hearted support of the community.

Feel free to contact me in person at the Ruidoso Police Dept., 421 Wingfield Street, or call the police department administrative telephone number 257-7365 to express any comment or opinion.

CAPTAIN DAVE W. PFEFFER,
Operations Commander,

Small business attacks problems

Congressman Joe Skeen is encouraging all small business owners in New Mexico to participate in the White House Conference on Small Business that will be held in Albuquerque later this month.

The Albuquerque conference will be held on March 25 at the Albuquerque Regent Hotel as part of a nationwide effort to identify the problems and possible solutions needed to maintain and encourage the viability of small businesses in the country.

"This is a chance to speak and be heard," Skeen said. "The conference is set up so that small business owners can carry recommendations directly to the President and the Congress on how to solve problems facing small business."

Conference attendees will participate in a series of discussions centering on issues such as taxation, economic policy, regulation and paper work, and procurement. In addition, delegates will be elected to represent New Mexico at the National Conference in Washington, DC, in August 1986.

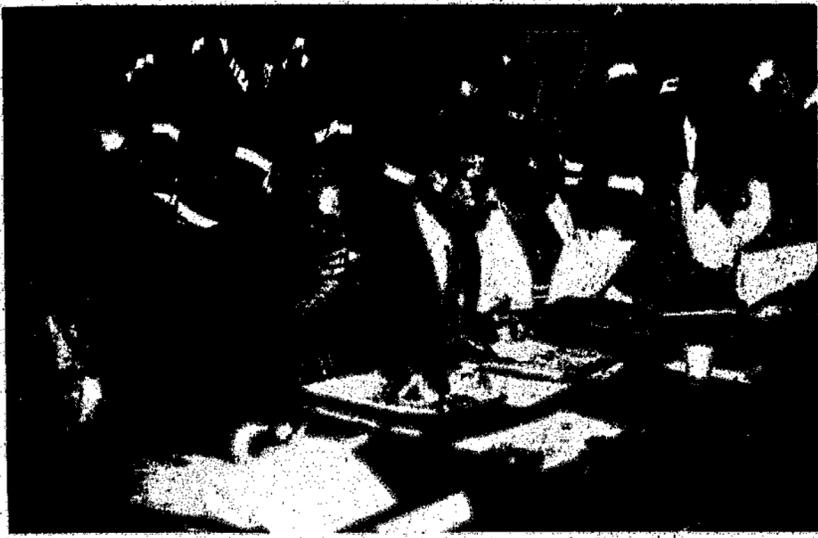

In Washington, delegates will make recommendations on how the federal government can assist small businesses in the state.

"In New Mexico, small business means jobs and opportunities for thousands of our citizens. It is extremely important that every step is taken to develop a healthy environment for the growth and expansion of small business in the state," Skeen said.

This is the second White House Conference on Small Business to be held. Sixty percent of the recommendations made at the first conference were enacted into legislation.

Ten delegates from the Albuquerque conference will be elected to represent New Mexico at the Washington conference to be held Aug. 17-21. Skeen has already named Shelby Miller of Alamogordo and Hotch Manning of Las Cruces as delegate and alternate, respectively, to the White House Conference on Small Business.

Registration forms for the Albuquerque conference are available in Skeen's Las Cruces and Roswell offices.

Hundreds protest ph. rates, service

Ruidoso and Lincoln County residents signing a petition opposing a rate increase request by Continental Telephone of the West (Contel) will know if their efforts paid off when the state Corporation Commission makes a final decision on the case March 31.

Don Hamilton of the Corporation Commission's communications division in Santa Fe said attorneys for Contel and the commission had been instructed to make final suggestions to the commission by Monday. A public hearing on the rate increase concluded last Thursday.

Charlotte Jarratt of Ruidoso presented the petitions with over 700 signatures at the Corporation Commission hearing in Santa Fe on March 4. "I spoke at the hearing and expressed our concern over the rate increase," Jarratt said. "I just wanted to make our opposition a matter of record."

Jarratt and other volunteers spent about three weeks collecting signatures on the petition, which was directed to the commission's chairman, Eric Serna.

The petition read: "We, as witnessed by our signatures below, attest to the fact that we are concerned citizens in the Ruidoso and Lincoln County area serviced by Contel, and that we wish to record with the New Mexico Corporation Commission...our strong protest against the rate increase of $4 granted...on an interim basis, which took effect Nov. 1, 1985 and our equally strong protest of continuous rate increases. In the rural, mountainous areas of New Mexico, telephone service is a necessity—not a luxury."

Jarratt said that while volunteers were collecting signatures many of those signing the petition had complained about Contel service. "But, because many of the people had not contacted the phone company with their problems first, we didn't get into service problems. We just addressed the rate increase," she said, adding that she was doubtful the $4 rate increase would be rejected.

"I think the commission was pleased to see consumers represented, though," Jarratt concluded.

I am married and have five children. I have made my home in the Fawn Ridge Subdivision for the last 11 years. 258-4159.

New council moves swiftly to address community problems

By BARTLEY McDONOUGH
CAPITAN—Newly-elected Mayor Benny Coker was sworn in at 7 p.m. by Village Clerk Virginia Spall. Then followed new trustees Dave Strickland and Dr. David Rouleau. Finally, Mrs. Spall swore in Municipal Judge Jimmie Stewart.

The meeting was then recessed until 7:30 p.m. when the business part (as advertised) was scheduled to begin. Mayor Coker confirmed the employment of the following village employees: clerk-treasurer Virginia Spall, billing clerk Dona Runnels, motor vehicle department clerk Jean Lovelace (shows resignation is effective at the end of March), and animal control, John Fish.

In the water department—Terry Cox, Troy Herd and Manual Miller. Others re-appointed were Police Chief Randy Spear, Officer Tom Hammontree, village attorney John Underwood and streets superintendent Guy Henley.

Trustee Norman Renfro was appointed street commissioner. Rouleau will be the commissioner in charge of sanitation and waste water. Trustee Beavers will be the personnel commissioner and will continue in the area of planning and zoning. Dave Strickland is the new water commissioner. The council followed Mayor Coker's suggestion and elected Trustee Norman Renfro mayor pro tem.

Virginia Spall was authorized to pay village utility bills when they arrive (to avoid penalty payments) and certain bills up to $200.

Coker stated his meetings would be "very open." There will be some special meetings as needed, but he will try to hold Capitan council meetings to one a month if possible.

Spall gave a financial report. The estimated balance in the general fund as of March 30 is $15,500. A $35,000 certificate of deposit will also mature on this date. Guy Henley will have to wait a while for the oil necessary to patch up the potholes in the streets. Capitan needs to receive the 60-40 gravel co-op money from the state.

Near the end of the meeting, Coker called on council members for brief statements. This is a portion of what they had to say: Trustee Rouleau: A lot needs to be done in a short period of time, we need to get the maximum for the dollar, and we all need to work together. Trustee Renfro: All work together. "In a nutshell, make Capitan a better place to live." Trustee Beavers: Get filtering plant—well into town. Need to get subdivision ordinance working, and pay more attention to water and roads. Trustee Strickland: He would appreciate input from the public and would like to see everybody get involved.

Mayor Coker said he would like to see that the fire and water departments work together, get more input from the school; "I'm delighted with the people I have to work with."

Copies of the un-approved minutes of council meetings will be made available to the public.

Concerning the new well, the council will negotiate with Atkins-Landfair Engineers of Roswell. If the council does not get the satisfaction it is seeking from this firm it will select another firm.

Coker conducted a brisk, efficient meeting which adjourned at 8:20 o'clock with applause from the crowd.

Lincoln County helps host 4-H Leader Forum

Lincoln County 4H was represented at the 1986 Western Regional 4H Leaders Forum held in Albuquerque in February.

This was the first time New Mexico was to host the Forum in 13 years. New Mexico set a record for the largest forum to date. There were 13 western states, Canada and Guam represented.

There were 675 people registered, with New Mexico setting another record by having the largest number of host states' representatives present with 355 people.

From Lincoln County, Denise Byrd and Lee Sultemeler, 4H leaders in Corona area, hosted a Thursday luncheon in conjunction with representatives from Otero County. Charlotte Hill, Extension Home Economist and Sid Gordon, 4H agent, were on hand to assist. Scott Shafer, president of United New Mexico Bank in Carrizozo, was master of ceremonies. The luncheon was attended by 580 people.

These Leader Forums are important to 4H. They give people from different parts of the US a chance to get together and exchange ideas. This is not only helps the working relationship between different states but greatly improves the quality of subject matter available to 4H youth.

The Forums are planned and implemented by the host state's leaders in conjunction with the State 4H office at the land grant university and the Cooperative Extension field faculty.

Next year the forum will be in Hawaii.

A World War II Marine veteran, Rawlins has been owner and manager of the Ruidoso Lodge for six years. He is currently president of the Ruidoso Lodgers Association, a member of the Lodger's Tax Committee, and a director of the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce.

"I feel with my business and ranching background I can contribute something to county government," Rawlins said.

Rawlins is married, and he and his wife Jackie have four daughters. Rawlins and his family have owned or managed ranches in Socorro, Texas and spent 26 years in Brazil.

This is Rawlins first bid for public office.

Thank You

I want to thank the many voters who braved a balky election machine March 4 to cast their votes for me for the office of Mayor of Carrizozo.

We lost that election by three votes, but I don't give up that easy in the face of certain errors and irregularities apparent in the voting process. I hope you don't give up easily, either.

I am filing a formal complaint in District Court about these voting irregularities at the poll last week. If the court upholds my complaints, there will probably be a new election scheduled.

Either we fight for it now or the population will continue to dwindle. The battle isn't over. If the March 4 election is invalidated, another will be called.

Thank you for your support,

Corona Food Mart a community need

By LINDA CALDWELL. CORONA—A wider variety of food merchandise will soon be available in Corona at the Dempsey Food Mart, according to store owner Ida Dempsey.

Paperwork is now being processed which will facilitate weekly grocery deliveries by United Grocers of Albuquerque.

Ron and Ida Dempsey, owners of the Texaco Station where the Food Mart is housed, agreed that their inventory needed to be increased when the Corona Trading Co. closed recently. "We just had a few food items, but when the other store closed, we decided to increase our investment to try and help out the people down there," said Mrs. Dempsey in a telephone interview from her home in Mountainair.

The Dempseys plan to continue expanding "as long as people will support us and let us know what they need." Mrs. Dempsey said that anyone can ask store managers Hazel and Bob Burton to order specific items and they will be happy to keep it in stock. As an example, Mrs. Dempsey mentioned all the new babies in town. "We'll be glad to get formula, diapers, and other baby needs — the mothers will need to let us know what they want," she said.

The store is open from 8 to 6, Monday through Saturday, and 1 to 4 on Sundays.

Cemetery to be improved

By LINDA CALDWELL. CORONA—Corona Cemetery will be improved and expanded when plans now being formulated are carried out. A committee to co-ordinate the privately funded project was to be formed Tuesday evening.

Plans currently call for the existing 4.5 acre cemetery to be expanded to 10.85 acres on land already donated by the Bagley family. Doug Dobbs, registered surveyor, donated his services at cost to the project.

A chain link fence is to be installed and a stone archway gate is to be built at the entrance. Approximately 2800 feet of fence will be needed at a cost of about $8,000. Cost of materials for the archway had not yet been determined.

Griffin Brothers Construction of Tularosa has agreed to donate labor if materials for the project are furnished. Clarence Griffin, father of the construction company owners, was a Corona stone mason who promised to build the cemetery archway. He died and was buried in the Corona Cemetery before making good on the promise, and the sons are willing to fulfill that promise.

Anyone wanting to donate labor, materials, or money towards the project may contact Pete Porter, Lee Roy Owen, or Ernest Luera. Owen reported that less than $4,000 has been raised, although pledges for more have been received.

The completed project will be presented as a gift to the Village of Corona.

People with mental retardation Mental retardation cuts across the lines of race, educational, social and economic background, according to the Association for Retarded Citizens. CAPITAN CENTER

If you have never visited this center, you should. You will be pleasantly surprised. A lovely place and the people so friendly. The new pool table is going most of the time and the cards games are always a blast.

They have a potluck dinner the second Wednesday of each month. I was fortunate to partake of last month's dinner. Such good cooks.

The past chairman of the Capitan Advisory Council, Charlie Rhoades, is presently in the Alamogordo hospital. Josephine Cooper is very ill in the hospital in Las Cruces.

CORONA CENTER

The Corona Center had a booth in last weekend's Arts and Craft Show at the Rec. Center and report that they did very well. The ladies in Corona really work hard at their crafts and do such lovely work. These girls deserve a very special "Thank You."

The center wishes to welcome back Joe and Carl Hiner, who have been gone all winter.

The Corona Center is located at the City Hall, in the front part of the bowling alley.

Thank You,

I sincerely appreciate your concern over the recent municipal election and I want to thank the 379 voters for caring enough to make their vote count.

As your Mayor, I will continue to work for growth and progress in Carrizozo.

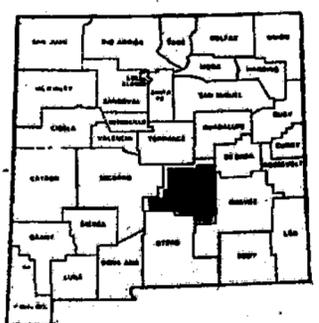

I will do my best to deserve the confidence of those who voted for me and to earn the confidence of those who did not. Again, I thank all of you for caring and invite your input at all times.

Mayor of Carrizozo

Electrical Safety

It's Important To You

We're here to Help

Supplying you with dependable electric service is a task that requires highly knowledgeable personnel. Because of this, our linemen and construction crews are rigorously trained to work with electricity safely.

Even though you and your family do not work with power lines, you should make it a practice to use electricity safely too. Here are a few guidelines:

- Replace worn or damaged electric cords.
- When working outdoors, avoid contact with overhead power lines. TV antennas, masts, tree pruners, ladders and other metal objects are extremely dangerous when used near power lines.
- If you see a downed power line, don't touch it. Call our office or a local law enforcement agency.

Electricity is the safest and cleanest power choice, but it has to be used properly. We're here to help with information about electrical safety.

RUIDOSO'S O. M. RUSSELL

In 1967 a little newspaper, Ruidoso Reporter, was distributed free in the Ruidoso area. I thoroughly enjoyed several of the newspapers I came across. If anyone remembers the late O. M. Russell I would like to know more about him and his very interesting style of newspaper writings and his unusual method of advertising businesses in the area.

The masthead listed Russell in all possible capacities: publisher, editor, reporter, advertising mgr., janitor, flunky and "whopping boy." Masthead information includes: "Looking over my shoulder - IRS, FBI, NAACP and my banker."

It was in 1967 that Russell decided to publish a small newspaper "on occasion." The idea behind the project was to advertise his own real estate listings. He wrote a year later that his intentions was not to get into the publishing business in a major way, but after 2 or 3 issues and "never having time to run any of my own ads", he decided he might like the business.

Not getting any encouragement in Hatch, NM he returned to Ruidoso and "decided to see how long it would take me to fold up." A year later he wrote, "Well, I'm still in business with no alternative but to continue."

He received plenty of support from everyone, "in spite of them and myself both knowing I don't know a cotton pickin' thing about publishing a newspaper." His aim was to develop his publication into a weekly county wide newspaper. He covered the county to a certain degree but admitted he did not have much county news but was rather looking for the most "interesting occurrences and more or less feature them in my off-beat manner."

"There will come a day when I will have to get in, or out, or if anything with more financial returns shows I will likely quit. If not, I have set next spring as my target date to set up a weekly operation with complete county coverage."

VANISHING AMERICANS

"This is a controversial publication" says Russell in his front page headlines in the March 5, 1968 issue: "Dedicated to the under-dogs who seldom win. To the many editors that have gotten themselves into trouble trying to help them. To the few lone wolves who wear shoes and keep their hair cut. To the vanishing American who still believes in individual dignity and is not afraid to speak up to other lost causes as they occur."

"Several people have told me that my language in the Reporter is terrible and my frequent use of the term S.O.B. should be discontinued. Frankly, I like it and if Harry Truman can use it so can I. Another good reason is I can spell it most of the time." - O.M. Russell in his column, "From the Bottom of the Deck."

A politician who had changed his views rather radically was congratulated by a colleague. "I'm glad you've seen the light," he said. "I didn't see the light" was the terse reply, "I felt the heat." - Ruidoso Reporter

"Since this is the last issue of the Reporter before the village election I might take a cue from a lot of papers across the nation and scream at everyone to be sure and vote. In fact I would imply that at least half the candidates very likely had communist leanings. The thing that has always disturbed me is why the papers have not tipped the people off before the last minute." - O. M. Russell in his editorial of Feb. 20, 1968.

"Notice in the new Lincoln County Economic Development pamphlet that there are two newspapers in Lincoln County. One in Carrizozo and one in Ruidoso. I didn't figure I could fool those folks but how I made their mailing list beats me? Oh well, I haven't promised anyone anything and they might be good witnesses if someone sees me claiming the Reporter is a newspaper." - O. M. Russell, Ruidoso Reporter.

"To date I have been offered an opportunity to endorse two of the presidential candidates but have declined fearing that someone would ask me for a good reason for my action. Frankly I suspect if you junked all three then tried to assemble one good candidate using the better parts from each that you would have ample parts for three buttons but be short for one good top." - O. M. Russell in his column, "From the Bottom of the Deck."

TIDBITS

Last week's "Tidbits" section of this column continues this week with tidbits borrowed from O. M. Russell's Ruidoso Reporter:

- Realtor Pippin says it's no trouble to get $500 an acre or more for good merrywanna land.

- O. M. Russell says you don't have to be a Christian Scientist to own a Volkswagon but it might help.

- Phoenix woman shot a burglar night 'fore last. She mistook him for her husband.

- If I don't have what you need, the first dark night I'll try to get it. (Ab's Antiques ad in the Ruidoso Reporter.)

- When you see a successful man you usually also see a proud wife...and a surprised mother-in-law.

- My Polk County uncle says he got rid of 180 pounds of ugly fat in a hurry. His wife ran off.

- If your business you'd like to mourn, just forget to blow your horn...advertise in the Reporter.

FIRE DESTROYED this work shop and storage sheds at the Bob Curtiss Ranch west of Carrizozo on Sunday. Bob Curtiss and Floyd Curtiss sift through the rubble that was left from the fire.

Fire at Curtiss ranch

A fire of unknown origin destroyed a work shop and storage sheds at the Curtiss Ranch west of Carrizozo on Sunday. Bob Curtiss said no value had been set on the tools, supplies and equipment lost in the fire as he is in the process of itemizing and assessing the damage.

The quick response of the Carrizozo fire department and units called in from Nogal and Capitan helped save the hay barn and other structures. Three units responded from Capitan and one fire truck came from Nogal.

Carrizozo Fire Chief Albert Najjar said that pagers would have helped shorten the response time for the volunteer firemen. Some of them could not hear the siren because of the noise from the high winds.

Buzzard Days gets help from chamber

The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce voted to support the 5th Annual Carrizozo Buzzard Days scheduled for April 28-27 and to donate $250 to help with expenses for the event.

Eileen Serna, a member of the local horseshoe pitching club the Buzzard Ringers, attended the March 11 chamber meeting to ask for not only money support but support by way of booths and community participation.

The annual celebration is getting bigger each year and this year a sanctioned horseshoe pitching contest will be held in conjunction with Buzzard Days.

Three Buzzard Ringer members are state horseshoe pitching champions. Included in the two-day event will be a free breakfast served by the Buzzard Ringers for all entrants on the second day.

In other business, Dale Goad announced the third annual Carrizozo Fly-In will be held the last Saturday in June.

The chamber is sponsoring a quarter-page ad in the Quarterhorse Journal for the six months of May through September. The ad will feature the Carrizozo Municipal Airport.

Roy Dow announced the Lions Club will have a full day of activities at the Country Club on July 4 followed by a fireworks display.

Phyllis Schlegel reported that March is Mental Retardation Month and explained the Association for Retarded Citizens

(ARC) of Lincoln County. Dues are $5 per year, meetings are held quarterly, and the money benefits retarded citizens. Anyone interested may call 648-2983 or 648-2379 or write Box 758, Carrizozo, NM 88301.

Plans were made for People's Market held later in the summer.

Mental health services offered

Professional Counseling Associates is a private, non-profit corporation which provides mental health services to Ruidoso, Carrizozo and Capitan. They usually give one free consultation, but are asking support from the community.

Contracting from the state allows them to provide services on a sliding-fee scale. Services are based on income and they do not refuse services due to inability to pay, Dr. J. L. Wilson said.

The Counseling Associates deal with all types of problems, from people suffering major mental disorders to mental depression due to financial problems. They have two alcoholism counselors and three mental health counselors, Wilson said.

There has been an increase in problems with adolescents. This spring, Counseling Associates hopes to offer more services to the school systems.

The counseling sessions in Carrizozo are held at the Courthouse Annex in the nurse's office. In Capitan, they are held in Dr. Richard Farris' office located at 1st & Nogal St.

CARRIZOZO POLICE BEAT

By P. E. CHAVEZ

By P. E. CHAVEZ
Voters at the March 4 election will be interested in learning that Carrizozo's new mayor, Bob Hemphill, at Tuesday's council meeting re-appointed C. A. Morales as chief of police.

Sworn in last Monday, Hemphill, in his capacity as mayor, also re-appointed trustee Eddie O'Brien to serve as police commissioner.

Morales has been with the Carrizozo Police Dept. for 27 years. He has served as the department's head since 1959, when he was the only officer on the force. Hemphill boasted that the department is now staffed by two certified officers (including Morales) and one part-time certified officer, as required by the state of New Mexico.

O'Brien, who began his third year as a trustee on a 4-year term, agreed to continue to serve as overseer of the police department. According to Hemphill, O'Brien's duties as police commissioner include keeping in touch with Morales concerning police department matters; checking out law enforcement problems pointed out by citizens and keeping abreast of police training seminars available to police officers. Morales plans to send Officer Adam Montez for additional training at the police academy in Santa Fe.

Hemphill said that incidents regarding animal control is an example of problems that O'Brien will work closely with Morales. At Tuesday's meeting Arnold Boyce was present to bring to the attention of the council that dogs have been running at large in his neighborhood. He told the council that his turkeys have been killed by wild dogs and wanted permission to shoot the dogs.

"It's turkeys now, kids later," implying that the dogs' taste for poultry may change. Another resident of the same area, Clovis Perry, agreed that dogs are a problem in the neighborhood located south of Carrizozo.

For the council's approval at their March 1 meeting were copies of the police report and municipal judge's report for the month of February. (The March municipal judge's report will be submitted by S. M. Ortiz, elected March 4.)

The police report includes the following information: Morales' cases totalled 33 and 33 were closed; he made two arrests; issued one moving citation (speeding ticket); gave 15 verbal warnings; made 125 public appearances (talking to citizens regarding complaints); checked all commercial buildings and most houses; had one court case.

Officer Montez cleared eight cases of eight assigned; made three arrests; issued eight moving citations; gave five verbal warnings; made 56 public appearances; checked all commercial buildings and most houses; one escort; three criminal complaints.

Officer Richard Baker cleared 14 of 17 cases; gave one verbal warning; made 14 public appearances; investigated one non-injury accident; checked all commercial buildings and most houses; one door found open.

Mileage for all three police vehicles totalled 3,647 with 339 gallons of gas used.

Municipal court information: David C. Finzel, Taunton, MA, speeding, $15 penalty assessment (p.a.), $5 correction fee (c.f.)

Scott Zamora, Carrizozo, careless driving, $45 fine, $5 c.f.; driving without a license, later showed a valid license.

Alfonso Lucero, Carrizozo, parties to a crime, dismissed.

Minor, Carrizozo, disorderly conduct, $50 fine.

Paul Vasquez, Carrizozo, failure to obey stop sign, $5 p.m., $5 c.f.

Mary L. Doran, Alamogordo, speeding, $15 p.a., $5 c.f.

Robert Gano, Carrizozo, DWI, given 90 days to attend DWI school; driving without a license, $50 fine and $5 c.f.

William W. Dunmire, Carlsbad, speeding, $15 p.m., $5 c.f.

Wayne Wilson, Santa Fe, speeding, $15 p.a., $5 c.f.

David Thompson, Mt. Clemont, MI, failure to stop, $10 p.a., $5 c.f.

Barham named Chairman

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has named Mrs. Jan Barham as chairman of the spring Bike-A-Thon in Carrizozo.

According to Clifford Damstrom, Southwest regional director, the funding of cancer research programs and patient care is met primarily by contributions from individuals through programs such as Bike-A-Thons.

The ride will start at the Carrizozo School on April 12 at 9 a.m. Riders for the Wheels for Life Bike-A-Thon will be asking citizens to pledge a contribution for each mile they ride.

"Every mile our bikers go earns money bringing us closer to a cure for cancer. The life-saving study of childhood cancer at St. Jude has become critical to children all over the world," said Barham.

COUNTING CALORIES
When a recipe calls for cream, sweet or sour, substitute plain unflavored yogurt. It adds protein, calcium and B vitamins instead of excess fat.

HINT FOR COOKS
Here's a hint for cooks: there are three teaspoons in a tablespoon.

FRESH LONGER
Partially filled boxes of dried fruits (raisins, prunes, apricots) keep their freshness longer if stored in the freezer.

INSTANT COFFEE
One of the best ways to make instant coffee is to put it into boiling water and let the water come to a boil again. Then let the coffee sit a little before pouring it into cups.

FLOUR FOR GRAVY
An easy way to brown flour for gravy: put some flour in a custard cup and place in oven beside meat. When the meat is done the flour will be brown and ready to turn into gravy.

SWEET ORANGES
Pick a sweet orange by examining the navel. Choose the ones with the biggest holes.

4:30 p.m. Arnold Boyce, south of Carrizozo, was at the Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept. (LCSD) to say he needed an officer at his place where three stray dogs were seen. Chief of Police C. A. Morales did not see any dogs on his arrival at the scene. In the area he did find one black collie owned by Freddie Nava and a black female lab dog belonging to Adam Montez. Morales could not find Nava, but Montez picked up his dog and took her to the dog pound since he no longer wanted the dog, police records show. The third dog belonged to Louie Montano. All three dogs owners are to discuss with Boyce the value of the turkey killed.

8:25 p.m. Margaret Nickason reported to LCSD that kids were knocking at her residence on B Ave. Officer Richard Baker was unable to locate anyone.

11:17 p.m. An unknown person reported that a fire had been seen by the overpass. The fire department was called. It was believed to be a campfire left unattended by an illegal alien warding off the cold.

March 4
3:30 p.m. Margie Serna, secretary at Carrizozo High School, called the LCSD in reference to students gathering for a fight. Morales found the three girls involved. One girl was accused by the other two of spreading rumors. Morales advised the girls not to fight and if more problems come up that they should talk to the principal or superintendent in order to avoid violence.

March 5
7:25 p.m. Officer Montez was told by Morales that arrest warrants were out on two juveniles. Montes spotted both subjects by the high school and advised them about the warrants. The 15-year-old was placed under arrest and the 17-year-old fled and later turned himself in.

Charges of burglary were filed against the two minors. Court action is pending through children's court. The arrests result from an investigation conducted by Byron Baker, investigator for the Lincoln County Sheriff Dept. Baker and Sheriff's Deputy Max O. Watson recovered $1,300 worth of items reported missing in November 1985. By consent search at the homes of the two juveniles, the sheriff's officers found two television sets and three calculators, removed from a mobile home, Carrizo Lodge and Middle School, all located in the Ruidoso area.

March 7
9 a.m. Angie Richardson reported to police clerk Rosemary Gallegos at the Town Hall that two illegal aliens were knocking at her door. Morales was dispatched. The clerk called the LCSD, who informed the Southern Pacific. The woman saw two young men climb into a railroad "cart." The Border

Patrol came for the Mexican males the same day.

4:15 p.m. LCSD called Morales that Bill Lindsay, 5th Street, had complained about a stray dog at his residence. Lawn and flowers had been damaged, Lindsay told Morales. The dog's owner was traced to the Lee Roy Najjar residence. The owner was told to tie the dog and keep it confined in the yard or a citation would be issued. Morales was told that the dog is kept tied, but is let loose once in a while.

7:30 p.m. David Vega reported to LCSD about a prowler in the vicinity of his residence, south of Carrizozo. Officer Montez was dispatched to the area and did not find anything.

2:20 a.m. Leandro Vega Jr. reported a prowler in the same neighborhood. Again nothing was observed by the officer, who kept a close watch on both residences for the rest of his shift.

March 8

11:42 p.m. A report of a wrecked truck was received at LCSD. Montez was led to the accident scene by the driver of the vehicle and the driver's father. A Chevrolet pick-up truck was resting on its top. No one was injured and the driver was alone at the time of the accident, according to the officer's report. Benjamin Herrera Jr. was cited for careless driving. Police records show that the officer "took all procedural steps and completed the accident incident."

March 9

1:10 p.m. Bob Curtiss called the LCSD that his barn was on fire. Officer Richard Baker was on duty and headed to the Curtiss place, west of Carrizozo. The Carrizozo Fire Dept. arrived and later departments from neighboring communities provided backup support. The horse and hay barns were saved but a workshop and tools were destroyed. No animals were injured.

March 10
3 p.m. Helen Lock reported missing or stolen property to Morales. She had participated at the March 8 Arts and Craft Bazaar at the Rec Center. Next day she noticed that her travel organizer of Mary Kay cosmetics products had been left at the facility and could not be located. Total value of the items was $257.25.

4:15 p.m. A resident of Casa Manana reported to LCSD that the wind had blown over some dumpsters, that trash was scattered and that dogs were making matters worse. Morales responded to the report. He talked to a man he believed to be the owner of the dogs. The man said the animals were not his, "they just came to his house and have stayed there," the police log states.

'Lincoln County Long Ago'

What was news in 1889 was that Mr. Peters bought 163 dozen eggs, a good milk cow "went the way of all flesh," and that Eve was probably the only woman who could justly claim that she had "nothing to wear."

By RUTH HAMMOND

The Lincoln Independent, James Kibbee, Ed., and Pub., Official Paper of the County. Published at Lincoln, Lincoln County, New Mexico, every Friday.

November 1, 1889.

Nogal Nugge's
Plenty of deer reported in the Tucson mountains.

Mr. P. G. Peters bought 163 dozen eggs on Monday.

Nearly all Nogal is attending court at Lincoln this week.

Mr. T. H. Ray, of the Parsons mining company, returned from the northern cities Monday, apparently jubilant over the success of their enterprise.

Prof. W. L. Breece resigned his school here last Friday, owing to dissensions arising between him and the trustees, and moved back to his place on Eagle Creek. We understand the trustees are making efforts to secure another teacher and thus continue the school.

The Local Budge:

Col. D. J. M. A. Jewett, of White Oaks, passed a very brilliant examination upon the occasion of his application for admission to the bar. The Independent thinks that the Colonel will prove valuable acquisition to our legal fraternity.

A good milk cow belonging to Thornton and Curry, "went the way of all flesh" on Wednesday, despite all efforts to save her. She evidently got hold of poison of some kind, judging from the symptoms.

Geo. Williams, who used to be a merchant prince at Las Cruces, but who is now a cattle king of the Sacramento country, was in the city last week, along with several of his compadres. George has lost a good deal of his surplus flesh since he left Cruces, but seems to be in good health and as happy as ever.

Abundant supply of Hay and Grain, and the best attention paid to horses, at Whelan & Co's Stable.

The cases of the US against the saw mill men will be called at Las Cruces tomorrow, on the rule to show cause why the injunctions against them should not be sustained and receivers appointed. Several attorneys from Lincoln Co. are now at Cruces to attend the hearing.

The Silver City Sentinel reports that:

Mr. W. A. Hawkins has returned from Lincoln county and is so well pleased with that country that he has determined to make it his future home. He has accepted the position of counsel for several corporations in that county and will before long establish his office at Eddy, a new town on the Pecos river. Mr. Hawkins is an excellent lawyer, and will do well in any country.

County Commissioners

Proceedings
Special Meeting Co. Com. held Oct. 23d, 1889. Present: M. Cronin, Chairman; A. Green, Commissioner. Board Convened at 9 a. M.

Bill of L. W. Neatherlin for $300 balance on Assessment 1889, allowed.

Ordered that till further action and ruling of this Board that all county printing, such as blanks, bill heads ect., for the use of the board and the officials hereof, and for which Lincoln County is responsible for payment, is awarded to The Independent, a paper published in the town of Lincoln. There being no further business the board adjourned, sine die. Attest: George Curry, Clerk.

Personal Paragraphs
News has been received here that W. S. Talliaferro, who in former years one of the publishers of the Lincoln Golden out.

The New Mexico reports: The allotment of land in severalty to our Indians gives them the right to vote. They would be likely to vote together if this measure should prevail in New Mexico. The Navajoes, reduced to civilization and land holdings, would have about 8,000 votes. These would sensibly affect the fortunes of candidates for office, and the dear Indian would become an object of concern to them.

We Should Smile

Eve was probably the only woman who could justly claim "that she had" "nothing to wear."

The Optic made a statement that married people live longer than single people, and some fifty couple immediately hitched.

Leadville Wife—"What do you think is the matter with my husband, doctor?" Doctor, "I fear he has got water on the brain." Wife—"I'll bet he ain't." If it's anything it's whiskey."

Stockman Chapman of Grant Company hired a very inexperienced boy to help him about the ranch. One morning he told the lad to go and salt the calf over in the pasture. The boy took about a quart of salt, rubbed it all over the calf, working it into the hair. A gang of colts in the pasture scented the salt and got after the calf. They licked the hair all of the calf's back and tried to lick the hide off, too. Chapman tried to catch the calf to wash it, but the creature thinking he wanted to lick too, kept out of the way. The boy, calf and Chapman are all unhappy. The colts are the only ones that got any fun out of it.

If you could own either the Antarctic or the Arctic, which would you take? Bear in mind, the Antarctic is a body of land surrounded by water while the Arctic is a body of water surrounded by land.

Missionaries in 1831 set up a small educational institution now recognized as this nation's oldest school west of the Rocky Mountains—the Lahainaluna High School on the island of Maui.

Information You Can Use: A polar bear in summer gets overheated if it runs too far without jumping into the water now and then. So even when you're afoot, if you chase it inland, you can catch it.

RENT

Q. What's a typical monthly rent in Cuba?
A. Six percent of the renter's wages. Somebody making $300 a month pays $18.

How many actors who were athletes first can you bring to mind? Start with Fred Dryer and Ed Molinaro and go all the way back to Tom Mix and Douglas Fairbanks, Sr.

Q. Who was the general described by Abe Lincoln as "the only man who can snatch defeat from certain victory"?
A. Gen. Ambrose E. Burnside, the fellow who popularized those whiskers now known as sideburns.

Am told numerous dentists who like to go camping in remote places make a hobby out there of panning the creek beds for gold. Understandable. Gold buyers visit dentists' offices routinely.

HOUSEHOLD CHORES

Around the house, everything a man does less of, his wife does more of. So conclude social researchers after a study of people not affluent enough to hire fulltime palace help. And the more successful the man, the fewer home chores he tackles. It's a mistake, they say, to think a man relieves his wife of much housework as he becomes more successful. He relieves himself of home chores, rather, and thereby burdens his wife with more.

Q. Is it true one publisher puts out an alcohol-proof Bible you can use as a coaster for your whiskey glass?

A. It's not like that. Some Bibles put in hotel rooms are bound in liquor-proof covers, that's all.
